1.1 <2024-10-20 Sun>

My earliest memories are of living in Miramar before Weta Workshop. Today at C3 Church, the pastor took an analogy from Lord of the Rings to describe sin. What Frodo may have experienced in fiction, carrying the one ring, reminds me of my experience over the last 2 years. In the books, the ring amplifies evil. The ring turned Sméagol into Gollum. That's like what sin does to people - it corrupts people and the effects are:

- they are corrupted from the image of God.

- blindness to their condition, death.

People are born with corruption, but as people turn away from the truth and commit sin the corruption magnifies. It doesn't get better.

Romans 6:23 - For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

Corruption gets increasingly worse without atonement by blood.

Hebrews 9:22 - Indeed, under the law almost everything is purified with blood, and without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness of sins. (ESV)

Jesus said in Matthew 23:26 (from the ESV), "You blind Pharisee! First clean the inside of the cup and the plate, that the outside also may be clean." We really don't want corruption in our heart or impurity in our spirit. The outside reflects what's going on inside us, and I don't mean merely our outward appearance. Dare I confess this but I will for the sake of others so they may take sin seriously, after being born-again as I had been repenting (even after being born-again), I have seen things that have made me feel like in some sense my spiritual innocence has been stolen.

Genesis 9:6 - Whoever sheds the blood of man, by man shall his blood be shed, for God made man in his own image. (ESV)

While sin corrupts, the grace of God through blood of Jesus can restore us. He is the perfect man, and His blood washes us clean from corruption.

II Corinthians 4:4 - In their case the god of this world has blinded the minds of the unbelievers, to keep them from seeing the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God. (ESV)

I just didn't expect that after I was born-again that there was going to be a spiritual battle. But there is a battle, and it hit me fast and hard.

Romans 8:13 - For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. (ESV)

Like traumatised Frodo where Hobbiton was essentially ruined for him, I have among other things asked to be born-again again, and that I can be neutralized because of what I've been through, or raptured and taken to heaven, everything new. But I'm still here, it seems. At least I've been brought into Christ.

I received a picture in my sleep (Psa 1).

Psalms 1:1-6 - Blessed is the man who walks not in the counsel of the wicked, nor stands in the way of sinners, nor sits in the seat of scoffers; but his delight is in the law of the LORD, and on his law he meditates day and night. He is like a tree planted by streams of water that yields its fruit in its season, and its leaf does not wither. In all that he does, he prospers. The wicked are not so, but are like chaff that the wind drives away. Therefore the wicked will not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous; for the LORD knows the way of the righteous, but the way of the wicked will perish. (ESV)

A brother in Christ gave me this yesterday:

John 21:15-18 - When they had finished breakfast, Jesus said to Simon Peter, Simon, son of John, do you love me more than these? He said to him, Yes, Lord; you know that I love you. He said to him, Feed my lambs. He said to him a second time, Simon, son of John, do you love me? He said to him, Yes, Lord; you know that I love you. He said to him, Tend my sheep. He said to him the third time, Simon, son of John, do you love me? Peter was grieved because he said to him the third time, Do you love me? and he said to him, Lord, you know everything; you know that I love you. Jesus said to him, Feed my sheep. Truly, truly, I say to you, when you were young, you used to dress yourself and walk wherever you wanted, but when you are old, you will stretch out your hands, and another will dress you and carry you where you do not want to go. (ESV)

A bunch of other stuff happened but my days are too packed to explain it all.

2 <2025-02-05 Wed> Journal

When it comes to dreams I get, I don't trust anything which doesn't confess Jesus, but I will often take them and use them as prompts to do a Bible study, and run things by the Scripture.

2.1 I had a dream conversation with someone

Lots of tall waves going through a town square. Me clinging to the top of a tall streetlight to withstand waves of water flowing through what looked like a courtyard. I then talked to a young kid (and I remember seeing a square rainbow) explaining to him what is love.

God loved us first, and we then love. A crucial part of love is forgiveness. We forgive because God forgave us first. God loved us first. God forgave us first.

Then I heard a voice that said, "God says abide in love". And I thought be rooted and grounded in love.

In the dream, though, the name "Jesus" wasn't confessed at all, and neither was there a call to holiness.

Also I want to stress, that God's grace teaches us to deny ungodliness:

Titus 2:11-14 - For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people, training us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in the present age, waiting for our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, who gave himself for us to redeem us from all lawlessness and to purify for himself a people for his own possession who are zealous for good works. (ESV)

2.2 A second dream: I just said this in a dream as a response to a question - it's spiritually inspired, hopefully from God

- Why do we love, We love because God loved us first.
- We forgive because God forgave us first.
- Why are we to be holy? Because God said, "Be holy for I am Holy."

So why do we not want to be dominated by superintelligent AI? Because God designed us to take dominion over the planet, not to be overcome by it.

2.2.1 Christians spread our kingdom not through physical force

For those in Christ, we don't seek world domination, but by seeking the kingdom of God and His righteousness through faith in Jesus who is the Christ, the Son of God, we "overcome the world". And we are sanctified, keeping God's commandments, loving one another in Christ, and coming to the knowledge of the Truth, knowledge of God the Father and God the Son with His Holy Spirit, and receive an inheritance in Christ in heaven. we do that by being found in Christ, we do that by being servants in Christ.

Mark 8:36 - For what does it profit a man to gain the whole world and forfeit his life? (ESV)

Genesis 1:26 - Then God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness. And let them have dominion over the fish of the sea and over the birds of the heavens and over the livestock and over all the earth and over every creeping thing that creeps on the earth. (ESV)

Acts 20:32 - And now I commend you to God and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up and to give you the inheritance among all those who are sanctified. (ESV)

Ephesians 5:5 - For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. (ESV)

As a born-again Christian, we are to receive an inheritance.

I Peter 1:3-5 - Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! According to his great mercy, he has caused us to be born again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance that is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading, kept in heaven for you, who by God's power are being guarded through faith for a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. (ESV)

Quote from John Piper "We don't kill to spread our kingdom. We die to spread our kingdom." AMEN!!

I Timothy 1:8-11 - But we know that the Law is good, if one uses it lawfully, realizing the fact that law is not made for a righteous person, but for those who are lawless and rebellious, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for those who kill their fathers or mothers, for murderers and immoral men and homosexuals and kidnappers and liars and perjurers, and whatever else is contrary to sound teaching, according to the glorious gospel of the blessed God, with which I have been entrusted. (NASB)

2.3 Lastly, I got home and saw the news that Trump is going to the Gaza strip

I just want to say that I believe we should overcome evil with good. Christians should speak and side with the truth in love.

Romans 12:19-21 - Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord. To the contrary, if your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him something to drink; for by so doing you will heap burning coals on his head. Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good. (ESV)

2.4 Yesterday morning among all the spiritual attack I got, I heard in my sleep

"Our God will be exalted".

But it carried literally no confession of Jesus, so I don't know who or what was speaking to me or who's God it is.

I know "my" God, Jesus, is exalted:

Isaiah 33:5 - The LORD is exalted, for he dwells on high; he will fill Zion with justice and righteousness, (ESV).

Acts 5:31 - God exalted him at his right hand as Leader and Savior, to give repentance to Israel and forgiveness of sins. (ESV)

Philippians 2:9-11 - Therefore God has highly exalted him and bestowed on him the name that is above every name, so that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, in heaven and on earth and under the earth, and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father. (ESV)

2.5 More spiritual attack - a diatribe

from working and marrying and continually harassed by demons, seeing sides to people I love which I wish I could have totally erased from my memory forever. I am begging You God to make this evil end today. I feel as though there are still demons which are keeping track of the amount of money I have and accusing me and slandering me when I'm trying to obey Jesus to the best of my ability. What I have been put through has been a living nightmare. This morning yet another day just being harassed by evil dreams and visions being pushed into my head, and this spirit spouse stuff, and the unreasonable amount of being put on trial. If it's not an actual courthouse then it's demons challenging me through various people over extreme scrutiny of my obedience to Jesus. While I am continually "ghosted" by people going silent on me - it's absolutely satanic stuff. It's been well over 2 years of this type of torment now, almost exactly daily. The events surrounding me being born-again of the Spirit are pure abomination. There's things I have witnessed that are unspeakably dark and scar my memory. I wish that God would make me born-again again whilst erasing my memories and ensure the types of things I have been through would never recur in this life or the next. I feel like my redemption is the most compromised botched-job redemption in the history of mankind. It's a living and enduring hell on earth which I've been going through - spiritually. In the material, NZ is pretty OK, but spiritually I'm being put through hell making the events of 2020-2021 regarding the covid pandemic and lockdowns look like nothing. But I know the Christians in Syria, for example, are suffering terribly - I can't imagine how awful it would be for them. But it's no consolation to me to be allowed to go on living in this world. I'd definitely rather not be here in this world. Is it too much to ask of God to be delivered from almost continual demonic harassment? I assume that II Corinthians 12:9's "My grace is sufficient for you" does not apply. How can anyone function when the joy of being clean, being saved, or being able to help people in need or being able to have a wife or family is taken away? What has continued harassing me and trying to destroy my life is disgusting. To practice righteousness is a right given to people who trust in Jesus' name so I consider to not be able to do so to be a violation of my right in believing in Jesus and to be prevented from doing so is antichrist.

Psalms 109:21 - But you, O GOD my Lord, deal on my behalf for your name's sake; because your steadfast love is good, deliver me! (ESV)

2.6 Yesterday on <2025-03-16 Sun> - an encouragement

At church at both and C3 yesterday the last song we sang was "We Exalt Thee". And at C3 yesterday my pastor started the new series on Contending prayer, and highlighted the book of Habbakuk, a prophet who prayed such prayers as this:

Habakkuk 1:1-3 - The oracle that Habakkuk the prophet saw.
O LORD, how long shall I cry for help, and you will not hear?
Or cry to you Violence! and you will not save? Why do you make me see iniquity, and why do you idly look at wrong? Destruction and violence are before me; strife and contention arise. (ESV)

That was an encouragement.

2.7 <2025-03-17 Mon>

This morning I get a dream of a big sign outside the SpaceX rocket facility which just says Jesus is [our] King and Lord - well I'd hope that is what the people there believe. Actually, I'll describe the full dream because it was kinda funny.

1 Firstly, in the dream this morning, there was a large rocket on the launchpad with 2 slightly askew, and rocket fuel having leaked on the pavement, and Elon and a bunch
3 the rocket, saw it and realised they were walking near the rocket fuel and with 4 worried faces slowly paced back in reverse.
5 Then I saw a bunch of firefighters levitating over the pavement with hoses squirting
6 of fire retardant liquid over the exposed rocket fuel, making it so the fuel could 7 They were hovering down the pavement neutralising the rocket fuel,
8 the soles of shoes were spraying neutraliser themselves onto the pavement below, m
9 working like little jetpacks for their feet - it was a cool dream.
11 Then I myself made my way through the side office building and on the interior wall
12 was a sign which just said "Jesus is [our] King and Lord" (I think it may have said
13 and an old mate from old workplace Tim F. was linking arms with me.

Funny dream, sure, but honestly, I have no interest in working in technology again. I don't want raptor engines. I want to be raptured. I want to be delivered from several things:

- spirit spouse stuff

- harassing dreams and visions which have nothing to do with God, and nothing to do with serving God, and nothing to do with the truth of God

Just because a dream contained the name of Jesus in it does not make it a true dream. Also, I'm not saying building rockets to set up a mars base is unloving or evil or anything like that (Genesis 1:26). But I've been trying to fight back against whatever has been trying to pressure me to go back to my old-creation self, and the pressure has been huge. For example, the pressure against me repenting from being indifferent about LGBT, for example, has been huge. As soon as I began repenting of that, the devil began harassing me with LGBT-affirming dreams and dreams which are outright lewd and kept bombarding me with that nonsense for at least a couple of years now almost daily. When I want to focus on Jesus, the devil also deprives me of sleep and wakes me up to dreams of technology and first-person shootem-ups. During Lent I've been bombarded with visions of eating things. This type of thing - demonic harassment.

So the dream must have a confession of the truth about Jesus and to be sure about it it needs to have a confession of specifically the exact thing that the Apostle John mentions in I John 4:2 as the Apostle John meant it. And the dream I had today doesn't leave me totally trusting of it. God is not a God of confusion. He knows what I expect to hear to trust a dream:

I John 4:2 - By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, (ESV)

I'm so sick of being in this world, and when I pray and ask for things, I seem to never get what I pray and ask for. In fact, often it just seems as though I get precisely the opposite of what I ask for. It's just a constant struggle. I've publicly rebuked the ASI/AGI stuff including on my online , and I've never reneged on my stance of it, being tested through people I have even mentioned it'll never make its way into heaven. If I was the gatekeeper, I would never allow it. But it just seems sometimes as though evil is unstoppable, and no matter how much I rebuke something, sometimes the evil just doesn't go away. And no matter how much I ask God for something which I believe the Scripture says is in His will, I don't receive it, and worse, it's as though I get the opposite. When I heard about that stargate project announcement only a few days into the new US presidency, Instead of smacking down the greed-propelled tower-of-babel false-saviour abomination that it is, I felt like God in allowing it literally delivers another punch to my face, and it makes me question whether by allowing it He even cares about people. The transhumanism propelled ASI/AGI stuff is far worse than the COVID pandemic. I hate being here in this world so much. I hate feeling like satan is in control of the world. I wish that I could have proper joy again over my salvation, and even my prophetic gift again. I've been asking for deliverance for so long, and I'm sick of being isolated. I feel as though the crushing pressure on me from all directions has really gotten to me. I don't get it. I haven't received what I've told God that I have needed for so long, I'm not a chatbot, I'm a human being. And in some sense I think not receiving the answers I believe I've needed has left me with a defiled conscience. What I don't understand is when I ask God for things I believe are in His will and I don't get them, such as for guidance, or help to get a job so I can help other people in need or my relatives/dependents, or for deliverance from spiritual attack especially in my sleep. I was in court in 2022 and I said in a letter to the judge that I forgive the other side and don't bear a grudge, but the door of freedom on the other side is slammed shut as if to pressure me to renege on my declaration that I forgive and want to move on, then it seems like there is spiritual pressure on me to be denied to walk forwards in the truth, and that has been very confusing for me. Likewise, wanting to turn away from working in Artificial Intelligence / technology and instead find a job helping people, I've also been prevented from doing so. Joy-stealing is quite destructive on a person - like undermining a person's joy, particularly in joy God, but also joy in family, is very destructive. It destroys morale, it makes it much harder to maintain a strong faith and love for God when the joy is undermined. It's also not the Kingdom of God to be without joy. It certainly seems as though I've been getting denied the kingdom of God by whatever antichrist spirits have been trying to take away righteousness, peace and joy from me, that is, righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. Yes, whatever is out there and around me attacking me, and meddling in my relationships, has been surely not of the kingdom of God.

Romans 14:17-18 - For the kingdom of God is not a matter of eating and drinking but of righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. Whoever thus serves Christ is acceptable to God and approved by men. (ESV)

Yes, the joy, faith and love though are all rooted in a good conscience with God which is foundational. But seeking to have a good conscience with God, it seems as though everything has come against me from every direction to try to stop my joy, my faith and my love.

I Timothy 1:5 - The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. (ESV)

I Timothy 1:18-20 - This charge I entrust to you, Timothy, my child, in accordance with the prophecies previously made about you, that by them you may wage the good warfare, holding faith and a good conscience. By rejecting this, some have made shipwreck of their faith, among whom are Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I have handed over to Satan that they may learn not to blaspheme. (ESV)

Now if I'm given a conviction in a court of law, then I should be offered the ability to work afterwards, so I can help others. Yet I have been unable to find work I think at least partially because now I have a criminal record. But it's not right to convict someone of a crime and then simultaneously deny that they are allowed to do good - that's like telling a sinner they are not allowed to repent or do penance or change their ways to do good. Where is the justice in that?:

Ephesians 4:28 - Let the thief no longer steal, but rather let him labor, doing honest work with his own hands, so that he may have something to share with anyone in need. (ESV)

Luke 11:11-13 - What father among you, if his son asks for a fish, will instead of a fish give him a serpent; or if he asks for an egg, will give him a scorpion? If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will the heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him! (ESV)

I require a clear confession of the Truth. If I can have an elaborate dream, then I can receive a clear confession of the Truth, as the Angel spoke to Joseph:

I John 4:2-3 - By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

God is not a God of confusion. I want clear answers which confess the truth about Jesus:

I Corinthians 14:31-34 - For you can all prophesy one by one, so that all may learn and all be encouraged, and the spirits of prophets are subject to prophets. For God is not a God of confusion but of peace. As in all the churches of the saints, the women should keep silent in the churches. For they are not permitted to speak, but should be in submission, as the Law also says. (ESV)

Matthew 1:20 - But as he considered these things, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream, saying, Joseph, son of David, do not fear to take Mary as your wife, for that which is conceived in her is from the Holy Spirit. (ESV)

God Almighty please make the spiritual attacks stop:

John 17:15-17 - I do not ask that you take them out of the world, but that you keep them from the evil one. They are not of the world, just as I am not of the world. Sanctify them in the truth; your word is truth. (ESV)

2.7.1 <2025-03-18 Tue> Why did this happen to me?

Expectation of this happy relationship with God:

Psalms 16:7-11 - I bless the LORD who gives me counsel; in the night also my heart instructs me. I have set the LORD always before me; because he is at my right hand, I shall not be shaken. Therefore my heart is glad, and my whole being rejoices; my flesh also dwells secure. For you will not abandon my soul to Sheol, or let your holy one see corruption. You make known to me the path of life; in your presence there is fullness of joy; at your right hand are pleasures forevermore. (ESV)

Reality of what I've experienced and are still going through:

- I feel like the corrupting influence of demons assailing me at night and when I sit down has left me feeling a little corrupted.
- I've been denied to live like a human being. Denied work, marriage, etc.
 - Imagine a dog chained to a pole and for years, and now substitute dog for human being, and that's basically my situation.

- My flesh feels corrupt as a result of being in what feels like the pit/abyss or on the verge of it.
- I have been harassed by evil spirits near continuously for close to 3 years.
 - Particularly at night. Basically every night I receive invasive dreams, visions and voices which are against the truth of God.
 - Almost every day I go to bed fully expecting God will deliver me, but it hasn't happened, and I'm at this point now.
- I feel like I missed the rapture and got abandoned to Hades/Sheol.
- I had simply tried to follow Jesus out of faith, love, obedience for Jesus after getting born-again and this happened to me.
- My joy is basically gone.
 - My joyous feeling of being washed clean by the blood of Jesus has been taken away.
 - * That happened once, but now I feel like a dirty garment.
 - It feels like my good conscience with God has been corrupted. I haven't been given answers that I need and I've been forced forward without them.
- I feel like the entire world has become a personal hell created just for me after I called-out the AI stuff and then got born-again.
 - Now I feel like I'm forced to live in hell tailored/designed specifically for me
 - I feel like the AI stuff just rammed itself into my born-again life / tries to force itself into the kingdom of heaven
 - * Well living inside a video-game or being forced to treat robots like people is definitely not heaven to me
- Given marriage denial, and being forced to be in this world and feeling ignored by God, my heart is almost always downcast and depressed now.
- On 3 May 2022 it was me who confessed to whatever spirit was there that my God is the True God, the God of Truth, Jesus saved me from lies and the Holy Spirit is my comforter

- I confessed it. I asked the spirit if it was the Holy Spirit and the spirit said, "Yes. I'll take a look at you."
- Was it the Holy Spirit?
 - * Despite Matt 5:37, the correct interpretation of Matt 5:37 may be seen in James 5:12 and Matt 23:16-22.
 - * It was me who confessed Jesus, not the spirit I spoke to. So the spirit I spoke to is untrustworthy.
- On 3 May 2023 I pleaded guilty in court because I didn't want to hurt anyone, and I was still trying to follow Jesus.
- On <2025-01-13 Mon> Monday, I woke up to a voice which said, "What is your faith in?" I responded like this, "My faith is in the Word of God. Jesus Christ and His finished works is the cornerstone of my faith, and keeping and doing his commandments is the foundation of my faith. I obey Righteousness because I obey Jesus. I believe in the Truth because I believe in Jesus." I didn't know but it turned out to be the last day of my sentence.
 - Once again, it's me making the confession of faith. And that is what frustrates me. Because I cannot trust the spirits speaking to me.
- God hasn't spoken to me directly to clear things up.

I have some consolation in the fact that I definitely have been chosen out of this world and am not of it, and that I won't have to have it in my life one day. I feel like I definitely do not belong in this world.

John 17:14-26 - I have given them your word, and the world has hated them because they are not of the world, just as I am not of the world. I do not ask that you take them out of the world, but that you keep them from the evil one. They are not of the world, just as I am not of the world. Sanctify them in the truth; your word is truth. As you sent me into the world, so I have sent them into the world. And for their sake I consecrate myself, that they also may be sanctified in truth. I do not ask for these only, but also for those who will believe in me through their word, that they may all be one, just as you, Father, are in me, and I in you, that they also may be in us, so that the world may believe that you have sent me. The glory that you have given me I have given to them, that they may be one even as we are one, I in them and you in me, that they may become perfectly one, so that the world may know that you sent me and loved them even as you loved me. Father, I desire that they also, whom you have given me, may be with me where I am, to see my glory that you have given me because you loved me before the foundation of the world. O righteous Father, even though the world does not know you, I know you, and these know that you have sent me. I made known to them your name, and I will continue to make it known, that the love with which you have loved me may be in them, and I in them. (ESV)

Hopefully, God, will sanctify me completely and just rapture me or something.

2.7.2 <2025-03-18 Tue> God help me

When I saw Bible-verse of the day emacs package it gave me joy. I pulled it into Pen.el and it works nice. The developer on his github page gives GOD the glory and the Copilot AI an acknowledgement:

- <https://github.com/kristjoc/votd>

I have super mixed feelings about it now though given my position, my stance towards the AGI/ASI stuff.

Isaiah 42:8 - I am the LORD; that is my name; my glory I give to no other, nor my praise to carved idols. (ESV)

I don't know what God wants me to do here. I just feel like I don't belong in this world. I don't like being forced to imbibe on AI stuff. I hate AGI/ASI stuff is being rammed into the people's consciences even to the point people get reliant on it. It literally just feels like the AI stuff just rammed its way into my born-again life and trying to force its way into heaven. I feel terrible. I upvoted some of the reddit posts because I want to encourage people to lead people to Jesus. However, I'm not sure if I should.

- https://www.reddit.com/r/emacs/comments/1jb4vrxbible_verse_of_the_day_as_emacs_dashboard_footer/

I want there to be a good future but I just don't want the AGI/ASI stuff to be in that future.

2.8 <2025-05-25 Sun>

The spiritual attack has continued to escalate over the last week. Today it was quite intense.

II Corinthians 10:5-6 - We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, being ready to punish every disobedience, when your obedience is complete. (ESV)

We must follow Jesus Christ's commandments to arrive at the knowledge of God. The devil tries to stop us from doing this:

II Corinthians 10:5-6 - We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, being ready to punish every disobedience, when your obedience is complete. (ESV)

I John 2:3-6 - And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

The devil works to stop us Christians from taking every thought captive for obedience to Christ. Much of the spiritual attack comes from people to "stop striving to obey Jesus" and to 'rest'. Only the devil dissuade people from obeying Christ:

Luke 8:12 - The ones along the path are those who have heard. Then the devil comes and takes away the word from their hearts, so that they may not believe and be saved. (ESV)

Romans 16:17-20 - I appeal to you, brothers, to watch out for those who cause divisions and create obstacles contrary to the doctrine that you have been taught; avoid them. For such persons do not serve our Lord Christ, but their own appetites, and by smooth talk and flattery they deceive the hearts of the naive. For your obedience is known to all, so that I rejoice over you, but I want you to be wise as to what is good and innocent as to what is evil. The God of peace will soon crush Satan under your feet. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. (ESV)

God, I just want deliverance. I want the Lord to make it work for good. I've been through hell ever since I got born-again.

May the Lord Jesus Christ please give me mercy and forgive me for taking out my frustrations on him (especially today), but I have been under such heavy spiritual attack as I follow Him. It's so difficult. The last week has been horrible. Dream attacks and soul-attacks every day. By soul-attacks I mean, manipulating thoughts and senses (spirit-spouse stuff, for example), or getting pictures in my mind as I am trying to concentrate on Jesus' words, say. The pictures are to distract. It's like everything just tries to deter me from obedience to Christ - whether it be the reproach, or the dream attacks, or the fear of punishment or when people (even or especially Christians) dissuade from taking every thought captive to Christ - people don't know how to combat the devil, Biblically, which is through faith and obedience to Jesus Christ (consider Romans 16:19-20, or Re 12:11). I'm constantly rubbing up against the unsanctified parts of fellow Christians who say the opposite of what Jesus and the new testament authors teach. I've received so much reproach, and get hit with dream attacks every day. God give me mercy. The darkness has been a thick cloud around me for a very long time (2 years at least). Trying to remain focused on Jesus.

Teaching the gospel should be about knowing Jesus Christ (His commandments, teachings and prophetic writings about Him, His deeds) and Him crucified:

I Corinthians 2:2 - For I decided to know nothing among you except Jesus Christ and him crucified. (ESV)

2.9 <2025-05-26 Mon>

I have found that the enemy has been battling extremely hard to steal my thoughts away from Jesus. The way to fight the enemy away effectively is:

- Think about His words
- Sing worship music in my head
- Obedience to Jesus

The difficult, striving part is mostly in the mind, and heart, and it is keeping my mind, my eyes on Jesus like Peter on the water. I have one Father in heaven. But yesterday I told my earthly dad that "Satan was attacking my mind as the pastor was praying at church. I was getting pummeled by distracting images appearing in my mind as the pastor was praying. But I was under attack like this a lot over the last 3 days", and he responded by saying "Stop trying to obey Jesus. Stop striving." This is what he said right after I mentioned I am under attack. And I also said something I regretted saying almost immediately. And I have asked God probably a hundred times to make the memories of such encounters disappear, and to make it never happen again. But these confrontations continued to happen. This is me explaining that the spiritual attack has been like a thick blanket affecting everything - affecting me in my sleep, affecting my relationships. And it feels like being caught between the wheat and the tares - one force trying to pull me into an "age of evil", and the other when I focus on Jesus, pulling me out of it.

When it comes to family members or people at church saying to do opposite to what the teachings of Jesus and the Apostles say, I recognise that people sometimes speak or act from the flesh, not from the Spirit, but in my observing this means very little, and we'll see each other's unsanctified bits sometimes but the right thing to do is to "love those who hate you."

Galatians 2:11-12 - But when Cephas came to Antioch, I opposed him to his face, because he stood condemned. For before certain men came from James, he was eating with the Gentiles; but when they came he drew back and separated himself, fearing the circumcision party. (ESV)

Luke 22:31-32 - Simon, Simon, behold, Satan demanded to have you, that he might sift you like wheat, but I have prayed for you that your faith may not fail. And when you have turned again, strengthen your brothers. (ESV)

Matthew 10:36-37 - And a person's enemies will be those of his own household. Whoever loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me, and whoever loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. (ESV)

The enemy has been trying to fill my head with all sorts of distracting thoughts as I seek to think about Jesus, and is continually trying to get an edge over me in my fight to maintain Jesus' works. The enemy keeps trying to steal my attention away from Jesus, and dissuade me from taking every thought captive for Christ, and trying to maintain Jesus' works feels like being bled dry to emotional, physical and spiritual breaking-point, for the sake of remaining faithful to Jesus / maintaining good conscience with Jesus / doing what pleases Him. And when I tell people I'm under attack, I often get more resistance through people who are thinking in the flesh. I must fight against this. However, I'm extremely discouraged now that I haven't been physically taken out of the world. The gospel is that we are delivered from the present evil age. And if it seems impossible to be delivered from it through any amount of striving then I end up praying angry prayers to God, and I am angry with God about the amount of spiritual warfare I've been facing, and about being kept here in a world permeated with AI. It feels like satan has taken over the churches.

Galatians 1:3-5 - Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ, who gave himself for our sins to deliver us from the present evil age, according to the will of our God and Father, to whom be the glory forever and ever. Amen. (ESV)

2.10 <2025-05-29 Thu>

Yesterday, before I went to bed I had briefly seen a video:

- youtube.com: Sermon: The Queenship of Mary, by Most Rev. Donald J. Sanborn {@romancatholicmedia}

I found it contrived, and distressing the way that Mary was described here as the spiritual spouse of Jesus. The truth is that Christ's body, the Church is the spiritual spouse of Jesus. And although often Roman Catholics like to claim that the members of their institution is Church or that the Roman Catholic church is the Catholic church, I wholeheartedly disagree. At best they would be part-of. But the church is the body of Christ (all people who are or have been or will be spiritually united with Christ).

Yesterday, before I went to bed I played StarCraft II and someone on the other team calling themselves "LORD" defeated me. That actually happened. then I went to bed telling God, I honestly thought I had something good easily taken away from me, because like someone who had never known what it was like to have something good, I was an easy target for the devil to make me think it was bad because it was too good. I had told God before sleeping that it was His fault I was in this situation. It seems like every time I complain to God, I have demons/satan rushing in, as if they're watching what I do, interfering. When I complain to God, I am waiting for deliverance, but the demons which are harassing me are trying to offer a false deliverance.

Something like someone calling themselves LORD, happening in real life is no reason to trust anything. Even in the Bible God Himself calls deceptive words man's appellation of the temple that it was God's temple.

Jeremiah 7:3-11 - Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Amend your ways and your deeds, and I will let you dwell in this place. Do not trust in these deceptive words: This is the temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD. For if you truly amend your ways and your deeds, if you truly execute justice one with another, if you do not oppress the sojourner, the fatherless, or the widow, or shed innocent blood in this place, and if you do not go after other gods to your own harm, then I will let you dwell in this place, in the land that I gave of old to your fathers forever. Behold, you trust in deceptive words to no avail. Will you steal, murder, commit adultery, swear falsely, make offerings to Baal, and go after other gods that you have not known, and then come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered! — only to go on doing all these abominations? Has this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, I myself have seen it, declares the LORD. (ESV)

I went to sleep around midnight.

So at 1 AM, after sleeping 1 hour I wake up the first time. I can't remember if it was that time or later that I had a dream or something, where in my mind I was saying something like, "I will not pray the our Father." Then I woke up and I prayed the our Father prayer in my heart anyway.

Our Father who art in Heaven, hallowed by thy name. Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread and forgive us our debts/trespases as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil. For Yours are the kingdom and the power and the glory, forever and ever. AMEN!!

Even though I do not want to be goaded by demons, I decided to just do what is true anyway and pray to God, and satan has no part in it. But I will not be goaded by demons. I didn't pray it "because" the demons say "don't do it". I prayed because I was woken up, against my will, and I decided I would pray it anyway.

I went back to sleep. I think I might have woken up again and it might have been actually around this time I had that dream of "I will not pray the our Father" prayer. I'm slightly dazed by the sleep disturbances so it's hard to be certain of the exact order. I also after this had another picture in my sleep "May the Lord Jesus Christ sanctify you completely." Something like this. And I have prayed to God so many times asking Him to deliver me from the demonic harassment.

So just then at 7AM I got a dream of me telling mum, (meg and ryan there too I think) that my crypto would be worth 30 million if I had kept it but I was trusting Jesus (and I was thinking, trusting Jesus as I was giving to people who were asking me for help - and this is true). Then mum told me, "We'll pay for the wedding." And I said "No, why would I go into debt to pay off a wedding for the next 20 years?" And also, knowing my parents couldn't afford it, I said, "Would I want to kill someone on the day I get married? (putting this massive debt on someone) Why would I want to cause anyone harm on the day I got married [by giving them a massive debt]?" This was inside Meg and Ryan's old place in Dunedin. And Meg said, "Come on, let's pick up some rubbish." And I saw in my mind a picture "She is Proposingondor".

I will still not be goaded by demons.

No lie is of the truth, and in real life I do not know at all what the crypto I gave away would be worth. At the same time, I will not marry anyone unless I'm delivered from demons and sanctified and God makes it explicitly clear through an unambiguous message what His will is for me. Dreams like this are not good enough, sorry. I will not be goaded by a false-christ, nor by demons.

I rebuke the demonic harassment in Jesus Christ's name. And once again, I pray to God in Jesus Christ's name that He will help me and set me free from this constant satanic opposition.

I John 4:1-3 - Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

I have said it so many times. I need unambiguous guidance from God. Even an angel speaking to me face to face and confessing Jesus. And even then, I do not feel sanctified. I feel like I'm oppressed by demons and have become corrupted as a result of ongoing demonic harassment. And I expect Jesus Christ to continue sanctifying me and deliver me from evil - that is something I ask Him for every single day. I feel like I was abandoned to Hades and that it corrupted me (this is what it currently feels like anyway), and so I'm waiting for deliverance.

Acts 2:27 - For you will not abandon my soul to Hades, or let your Holy One see corruption. (ESV)

At the same time, other very strange stuff has been going on in my day-to-day - stuff that is highly suspect, spiritually. And the only right thing to do is to keep eyes on Jesus and not be misled, tempted or distracted by the devil.

Even right now at this moment, writing this, I feel like I'm under attack in my body/soul. I want total cleansing and deliverance.

Also I still feel like I'm being affected by this spirit of Mormonism. But I would say there are genuine Christians who may be Mormons. Someone made a comment saying Luke (I love the Outdoor Boys channel btw) is a Mormon:

- youtube.com: The Outdoor Boys talk about Jesus Christ! ? #jesus #christian #celebrity #shorts { @RubenSolorzano_ }
- youtube.com: Luke from The Outdoor Boys talks about his Faith in Jesus Christ! { @RubenSolorzano_ }

But all he's talking about here is Jesus Christ and His commandments. I mean, Jesus sees the heart. He's the Judge.

Why have I been tormented/oppressed/harassed by demons? It's awful. And on Monday just gone by this person who has said he is gay confessed his faith to me saying that he believes the gnostic books. God help me. I asked him if he believes that Jesus is the Christ and the Son of God, and he said yes. I also asked him if he believes that Jesus died for his sins and rose again. He impatiently said yes to that is as well. He didn't make the confession from his own mouth asides from acknowledging my questions with a yes.

So I can't condemn him but neither can I see his heart. I'm being pushed into these situations almost daily. I think that Mormons, homosexuals and people believing heretical books all need to turn away from those very things and be sanctified in God's Truth. God help me.

Over the last week, I've been through so much tribulation. Demons harassing me through people, even Christians. Spirits not wanting to confess Jesus Christ is the Son of God. This testimony may also come directly through other people. That's because we regard no one according to the flesh anymore. Something that is very affirming to me is when people confess directly to me that Jesus Christ is the Son of God. I'm unsure why people very rarely do this. It's very strange.

II Corinthians 5:14-17 - For the love of Christ controls us, because we have concluded this: that one has died for all, therefore all have died; and he died for all, that those who live might no longer live for themselves but for him who for their sake died and was raised. From now on, therefore, we regard no one according to the flesh (G4561 sarx). Even though we once regarded Christ according to the flesh (G4561 sarx), we regard him thus no longer. Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation. The old has passed away; behold, the new has come.

2.12 <2025-06-17 Tue>

I think it's really important to stick to my conviction regarding waiting for the promised voice and testimony of Jesus Christ from the the Holy Spirit in my heart.

I don't want to bear false testimony about Jesus, and so I want to be guided by a Spirit which testifies of Jesus. I'm resisting being goaded by spirits which do not confess sufficiently the facts about Jesus Christ, facts such as that He has come from God in the flesh, and I'm holding out for a confirmation Scriptural confirmation through.

I John 2:22-23 - Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, he who denies the Father and the Son. No one who denies the Son has the Father. Whoever confesses the Son has the Father also. (ESV)

I John 4:1-3 - Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

John 14:15-17 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Helper, to be with you forever, even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him. You know him, for he dwells with you and will be in you. (ESV)

John 14:26 - But the Helper, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things and bring to your remembrance all that I have said to you. (ESV)

Acts 1:4 - And while staying with them he ordered them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to wait for the promise of the Father, which, he said, you heard from me; (ESV)

Acts 1:8 - But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you, and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth. (ESV)

John 15:26-27 - But when the Helper comes, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth, who proceeds from the Father, he will bear witness about me. And you also will bear witness, because you have been with me from the beginning. (ESV)

John 16:7-16 - Nevertheless, I tell you the truth: it is to your advantage that I go away, for if I do not go away, the Helper will not come to you. But if I go, I will send him to you. And when he comes, he will convict the world concerning sin and righteousness and judgment: concerning sin, because they do not believe in me; concerning righteousness, because I go to the Father, and you will see me no longer; concerning judgment, because the ruler of this world is judged. I still have many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth, for he will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you the things that are to come. He will glorify me, for he will take what is mine and declare it to you. All that the Father has is mine; therefore I said that he will take what is mine and declare it to you. A little while, and you will see me no longer; and again a little while, and you will see me. (ESV)

Galatians 4:6 - And because you are sons, God has sent the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, crying, Abba! Father! (ESV)

Also, I feel as though the forced marriage-denial while enduring almost ceaseless demonic harassment for over 2 years, and while also enduring not hearing the promised testimony of Jesus from the Holy Spirit direct to my spirit, has been very damaging to my soul. I am holding out for total sanctification and that testimony.

Also, how long does sanctification last? Eternal life is at the end of sanctification and eternal life is knowing Jesus Christ and no one can have come to know Jesus Christ unless they keep His commandments, abiding in His love. Being saved by obedience to Christ doesn't contradict in any way salvation through faith in Christ. Salvation is the sanctification by the Holy Spirit, and by obedience to the Truth, obedience to Jesus.

2.13 <2025-06-21 Sat>

I'm still getting a lot of demonic harassment, and waiting for the testimony of Jesus through the Holy Spirit.

I John 4:1-3 - Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

I want to hear this testimony convincingly from Holy Spirit. And I want to not be waking up to demonic harassment:

youtube.com: The Holy Spirit Will Teach You Everything - Bishop Barron's Sunday Sermon
Karl Barth, the great Protestant theologian from the last century, said,

"The claim that God has spoken implies the trinity." And what he meant was if you say God has spoken, which is a basic biblical intuition, that means there must be in God a speaker, we call him the father, there must be a word spoken. We call that the son. And Bart says there must be an interpreter of the word. Why? Because the divine word, that's too much for our little minds to handle. So we need not a human interpreter. He's not going to help us with that. We need a divine interpreter of the divine word.

It's very important that I continue to remain faithful to the LORD, and endure to the end. It's very important that I don't "sell-out" at the last moment. I believe we must remain faithful to Lord Jesus, and endeavor to keep His commandments, and Jesus will give the rest at the point at which He does, but along the way, I'm supposed to be holding faith in Jesus and obeying His commandments.

There's some extremely dodgy stuff happening with me, spiritually. During my days, it seems like there are lying demons manipulating those around me.

I was woken up several times last night to extreme mental pressure against my mind trying to tempt me to not remain faithful to Jesus, and in various situations through the day. No spirit speaking to me (in these conversations in my sleep and in dreams and visions) made testimony of Jesus Christ. They're often blasphemous, and trying to take my thoughts away from Jesus. And all through the morning, even now <2025-06-22 Sun 12:42> midday, there's been this defilement of spirit trying to arouse me, move my genitals around and touch my lips. It's disgusting. I am trying my best to resist satan and submit to God, focus on Jesus, trusting in, trusting and obeying Him. That's what we're supposed to do. Satan has been trying to derail me as I endeavour to do this, through sleep deprivation, miscommunication, slander, dream and soul-attacks. I await the day of the Lord Jesus Christ, as I continue believe and trusting in Him. I'm saved in that I am trusting in Jesus believing in Him and trusting in His blood, endeavouring to remain faithful to Him. Now Christians are so often telling me things which might seem like they're trying to offer helpful and encouraging advice, but the sheer volume of it as I'm striving to be faithful to Jesus, and be obedient to Jesus, 'appears' like I'm being attacked by Satan as they do this, to try to derail my faith or mislead me, or to endorse sexual impurity, adultery, filthy talk, violence, etc. It's bizarre. I'll quote Jesus and then it seems to arouse to anger Christians who have imprecise theology, Christians needing sanctification (and we all go through sanctification). Or demons working through them might then start making these ad-hominem attacks against me bringing up sinful things from my past from before I was a spiritually regenerated new creation in Christ Jesus, sinful stuff which demons no doubt had been trying to enslave me with and want to continue using to steal also the freedom I have in Christ Jesus, the freedom to turn a new leaf and be walking in righteousness, by obedience to the Truth. These types of comments often come through Christians. Or pressure me to stop striving to obey Jesus while I'm under attack by satan. Even if it's an issue of my faith specifically, rather than obedience, I'll still come under attack over my faith.

I have heard stuff through Christians in the last week which has not been encouraging me to not betray Jesus but rather, maybe them trying to be consoling in some way say things like, "We've all betrayed Jesus in some way." In the past I've heard, "It's not our own faith that matters, it's Jesus' faith. It's not our own obedience that matters, it's Jesus' obedience". And while there is an aspect of truth in this I still see these are half-truths, half-lies.

And the devil meanwhile attacks me as I commit to be faithful to Jesus, the devil sends temptation through dreams, deterrence through other Christians, sleep deprivation with demons harassing me in my sleep, and attacks on my actual soul, my senses, etc. so that I'm just continually in a state of discomfort, while I am endeavouring to remain faithful to Jesus.

So what I want to hear from Christians trying to encourage me is verbatim Scripture, and I most often am told things that simply aren't Scripture, they don't line up with Jesus and the Apostles' teachings.

Anyway, I'll finish today's journal entry saying that, Jesus is my Lord and Saviour. I'm going to resist the devil's attempts to frame me as some kind of antichrist or betrayer of Jesus in the public which I think the devil had been trying to do (the devil has attacked me so hard through fellow Christians and also with the dream attacks etc. which have been so invasive and defiling), and resist the devil's attempts to try to gaslight me, and to undermine and derail my faith. Instead, I'm just going to continue believing in, trust in, believe, seek to obey faithfully to the best of my ability, with the hope of salvation. I've been saved, I'm still saved (I have confidence because I still have my faith in Jesus and I'm loving to keep Jesus' commandments. I'm trying to get better at it), and I have hope to be saved in the future.

Jesus Christ my Lord, who is Jehovah God, the Son of God, the Lamb of God.

Jesus came on a rescue mission to save us. You should put your faith and trust in Him. Amen.

In this way did God agape love (treasure/value) the world, that He gave His Only-Begotten Son that everyone who is trusting/believing in Him [may] not perish, but [may] have life everlasting which is to be reconciled to our Creator and His Son, in relationship with God forever, never perishing nor being cut off from our source of life and all that is good.

youtube.com: The Strongest Case for Protestantism | @TruthUnites { @GospelSimplicity

I sometimes think the ecclesial journey really needs to be met by just simple abiding in Jesus, and the experiential and existential reality of union and communion with Christ, and allowing for what our puritan forefathers spoke about as the testimony of the Holy Spirit to the heart, the touch. And so let me explain my theology of that, hoping this could encourage someone out there. I really believe the Holy Spirit has a ministry of assurance, and I never would have guessed would have guessed that the word assurance would be one of the terms that would be a whole tagline for what I'm trying to do in my ministry. But I actually think assurance is, number one it's possible, number two it's good. If someone pulls up Bible Gateway and does a search for the word 'assurance', they'll find that word a lot, even in the definition of faith in Hebrews 11, 1 John 3 some wonderful words about how we reassure ourselves. I think assurance is a good thing and I just want to encourage people who are listening to this is a point our Catholic and Orthodox wonderful friends can agree with to a large degree. The Holy Spirit is in the business of the ministry of assurance. He is capable of supernaturally breathing, think of Alan breathing on the stone statues and Narnia and they come to life, He can do that to any human heart. Just as much as the ministry of Christ through His resurrection is this objective reality. The Holy Spirit, He's the most wonderful person to know. He can breathe on your heart and reassure you of the love of God, that you're a child of God. Romans 8, the spirit testifies with our spirit so that we know we are children of God.

Amen!! I'm waiting for this "Holy Spirit to my spirit" testimony and the promised testimony of Jesus.

Romans 8:16-18 - The Spirit himself bears witness with our spirit that we are children of God, and if children, then heirs—heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ, provided we suffer with him in order that we may also be glorified with him. For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worth comparing with the glory that is to be revealed to us. (ESV)

2.15.1 <2025-06-25 Wed> Tues and Wed I have had extreme spiritual attack

Evil dreams. Accusing, graphic, lewd dreams. Unscriptural. Not confessing Jesus. I caved in and succumbed a bit to the pressure. Felt extremely spiritually drained. I blamed God a bit for allowing me to be exposed to such intense spiritual attack for so long.

2.15.2 <2025-06-26 Thu> More dream attacks

Among other harassing dreams I have woken up to, I had a 'pleasant' dream of being in a flying boat with a earthly family member doing circles over a catamaran in a harbour, and I looked outside and someone was flying a car past with a trailing flag saying "grace is truth". Jesus was not confessed.

Jesus brought grace and truth, yes, but grace is misunderstood by people to mean, "let's just go back to the world to live in it as if it's heaven."

I hate satan and his deceptions. Grace is for us to renounce ungodliness and be sanctified in the truth to live holy and loving lives.

On 2 April 2022 I was born-again of the Spirit. On 3 May 2022 a spirit not confessing Jesus claimed to be the Holy Spirit. But I confessed Jesus to them. On 3 May 2023 I was in court pleading guilty for harassment because I did not want to cause harm to my neighbour, among other reasons.

I've been attacked by the devil so much after being born-again. And because of my desire to be obedient to Jesus, people tell me stuff like, "I can't accept grace." which is a lie from the devil.

Just read your Bible and remain grounded in what the Scripture says, and put Jesus' words into practice, resist the devil and he will flee.

This morning I have managed to so far resist the devil's attacks quite well, praise God, and I'm feeling spiritually strong. Yesterday was extremely tough.

youtube.com: Catholic Priest Sermon GOES VIRAL for SHOCKING CONTENT {@tjse

Jesus wins not by overpowering his enemies, but by forgiving them, by dying for them. This idea turns the idea of victory inside out and forces us to rethink what it really means to be truly strong. To be strong is to let go of your ego. To be strong is to live into self-sacrificial love for the sake of the other. Number two, the cross redefines success. You see, for many, success is about climbing higher or achieving more things or avoiding pain altogether in our Epicurian society. But you see, the cross shows us that true glory is found in sacrificial love. The poetry of the cross, as Bishop Baron is talking about, is about embracing this reality. And one of those things, one of the things that happens within this reality is suffering, right? We experience suffering. But because we know that God loves us, we know that there's kind of a poetic justice to this suffering. Then ultimately, it's leading to the benefit of ourselves and of course the world at large.

Predictably, having been forced awake by demons at 7am this morning and having gone back to sleep, I subsequently continued to receive a barrage of dreams and visions continually forcing me awake, none of it confessed Jesus and I remember stuff in there which included temptation. And now I have a headache.

So, yes, there was nothing to suggest that even the pleasant stuff was from God. Nothing at all. We have to keep Jesus' commandments and trust in God's word, and be corrected by His word, maintain faith to Jesus and seek to abide in the love which Jesus commanded and demonstrated.

2.16 <2025-06-28 Sat>

What happened to me to cause such intense spiritual oppression to try to force me back into sin, to try to nullify the grace of God in my life? What came against me, and continues to come against me to try to take my thoughts away from Jesus?

Galatians 5:24 - And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. (ESV)

II Corinthians 5:15 - and he died for all, that those who live might no longer live for themselves but for him who for their sake died and was raised. (ESV)

Romans 6:4-6 - We were buried therefore with him by baptism into death, in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, we too might walk in newness of life. For if we have been united with him in a death like his, we shall certainly be united with him in a resurrection like his. We know that our old self was crucified with him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin. (ESV)

Even last night and this morning, more satanic/demonic harassment. Forced awake at 5am/5:30am. Why was such unreasonable pressure put on me over the last few years? God knows, but it's unreasonable. I've never heard of anything like this before. Even in the church circles that I have been a part of, they had not been preaching forsaking sin, and keeping Jesus' commandments. Being preached a different Jesus for such a long time and then relearning and discovering through reading my Bible myself (as a regenerate person) what the gospel really looks like, and what the will of God for us is... makes me puzzled. It makes me question how and why it has been the case that churches skirt around the edges of Jesus' teachings when the majority of church attendees have probably never done a thorough read of them or recognise their importance, at least among the places I've been to. Obviously, I have to give due credit to God for allowing me to be in a position to study the Scriptures, and give due credit to God for leading and guiding me. Praise God for that. The system clearly had failed for me, and God gave me time to study His Word.

2.17 <2025-06-29 Sun>

Just praying for grace to move forward with a fresh start, feeling clean. And want everyone else to be able to have that too.

2.18 <2025-07-01 Tue>

Lots of stuff going on. Extreme amounts of spiritual attack. Plus interesting interactions with other believers. But the fact is I haven't heard yet any testimony of Jesus through dreams or visions. I get plenty of dreams and visions. I can't trust them. They can be incredibly deceptive, but I already drew a line in the sand. I won't trust any spirit which does not make a testimony of Jesus and confesses elementary doctrine of Christ until I'm satisfied. Right up to today, I've received a huge amount of spiritual attack in my sleep, and throughout my days, testing and trials continually.

1 1. Be thou my vision, O Lord of my heart;
2 Naught be all else to me save that thou art.
3 Thou my best thought by day and by night;
4 Waking or sleeping, thy presence my light.

6 4. Riches I heed not, nor vain, empty praise;
7 Thou mine inheritance, now and always.
8 Thou and thou only, first in my heart,
9 High King of Heaven, my treasure thou art.

2.19 <2025-07-04 Fri>

So in the morning, once again I get slammed with harassing and evil dreams and visions. And I'm getting attacked all through the morning.

I resist sin and do a Bible study and have breakfast and I play a video game later in the day.

So I got annoyed with someone who was on my team just provoking me, and eventually I raged a bit and said something back. I said what they did was a dumb thing to do. I didn't need to backbite, but I did. I don't think it was a loving thing to do to respond how I did.

It's such a petty little thing for me to get upset over, and some people might say what I did wasn't that bad, but I was convicted by it, especially since I've been telling people recently to put on love. I guess it's obvious I could improve at loving those who hate me.

Be angry and do not sin is what the Bible says.

Actually, I was dumb for backbiting. And it made me feel awful afterwards. Like after telling people, we've got to love those who hate us, and then not practicing what I said. I confess what I did as sin and may God forgive me. It might seem like a tiny thing but it weighed pretty heavily on my conscience today. If I see them again and remember then I will apologise to them.

Now I believe that if I confess sin as sin, then that is part of what it means to be walking in the light.

I Timothy 1:5 - The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. (ESV)

I know that we're supposed to be bonded in love.

Colossians 3:13-14 - Bear with one another and forgive any complaint you may have against someone else. Forgive as the Lord forgave you. And over all these virtues put on love (26. agapé), which is the bond of perfect unity. (engbsb2020eb)

Acts 4:32 - Now the full number of those who believed were of one heart and soul, and no one said that any of the things that belonged to him was his own, but they had everything in common. (ESV)

I Corinthians 6:17 - But he who is joined to the Lord becomes one spirit with him. (ESV)

I believe that I failed to act in love when I had the chance. So I confess what I did as sin.

James 4:17 - So whoever knows the right thing to do and fails to do it, for him it is sin. (ESV)

I John 1:9 - If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (ESV)

Jesus could say, "You blind fools!" without sinning because Jesus has no sin and could never be found to be a hypocrite. (I didn't call anyone a fool by the way, I called something they did dumb. But I felt remorse immediately and tried delete comment but couldn't). I was provoked for like 10 minutes or something but I was still quick to speak in the moment:

James 1:19-20 - Know this, my beloved brothers: let every person be quick to hear, slow to speak, slow to anger; for the anger of man does not produce the righteousness that God requires. (ESV)

Matthew 23:17 - You blind fools! For which is greater, the gold or the temple that has made the gold sacred? (ESV)

Matthew 5:22 - But I say to you that everyone who is angry with his brother will be liable to judgment; whoever insults his brother will be liable to the council; and whoever says, You fool! will be liable to the hell of fire. (ESV)

James and Paul don't direct this at individuals. And also, they would be speaking in the Spirit. So if we're going to say something is foolish, it's loving to do it in a way which doesn't harm the other person:

Galatians 3:1 - O foolish Galatians! Who has bewitched you? It was before your eyes that Jesus Christ was publicly portrayed as crucified. (ESV)

James 2:20 - Do you want to be shown, you foolish person, that faith apart from works is useless? (ESV)

Romans 1:21-23 - For although they knew God, they did not honor him as God or give thanks to him, but they became futile in their thinking, and their foolish hearts were darkened. Claiming to be wise, they became fools, and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images resembling mortal man and birds and animals and reptiles. (ESV)

2.20 <2025-07-11 Fri>

I've had an extreme amount of testing (through other people) and spiritual attack.

When it comes to being saved, I just want to say a few things.

I was seeking God through 2021 but I needed a new heart which would fear God and love Him and want to please Him, want to stop sinning, want to be corrected by His Word, His Scripture, wants to remain faithful to Him.

And I called out to God for Him to make Himself real to me, and He made me born-again. I was born-again of the Spirit in 2022. God regenerated my spirit, and He gave me a new heart, a heart of flesh, and put the fear of Him in me so that I would keep His commandments. So it's all grace. Even before God regenerated my spirit, I was in grace. But I know it's important now, extremely important to trust and obey Jesus Christ, and trust and obey His Word, trust and obey the Holy Scripture. It's important even for salvation to remain in Him. I know that. Don't let anyone tell you we don't have to continue in faith, love and hope, and obedience to God, but we need a new heart and a new spirit in order to do all of that willfully. And we must not turn from God. God wants worshipers who worship Him in reality, in spirit and in Truth.

God help me.

For the sake of the Kingdom, we may choose to be single. I'm certainly not against this. Whatever God wills for me. Whether God gives me a wife or God gives me the gift of singleness, I must seek first the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness and God will do what is best for me. Sometimes because of the "spirit"-spouse stuff, I feel like I'm dying. I want whatever is best for the Kingdom of God. God guide me. I will not force anything. In Jesus Christ's name, AMEN.

Matthew 19:12 - For there are eunuchs who have been so from birth, and there are eunuchs who have been made eunuchs by men, and there are eunuchs who have made themselves eunuchs for the sake of the kingdom of heaven. Let the one who is able to receive this receive it.

I Corinthians 7:8-9 - To the unmarried and the widows I say that it is good for them to remain single as I am. But if they cannot exercise self-control, they should marry. For it is better to marry than to be aflame with passion.

Revelation of John 14:4 - It is these who have not defiled themselves with women, for they are virgins. It is these who follow the Lamb wherever he goes. These have been redeemed from mankind as firstfruits for God and the Lamb, usccb.cld.bz: Catechism of the Catholic Church - Page 415 All the ordained ministers of the Latin Church, with the exception of permanent deacons, are normally chosen from among men of faith who live a celibate life and who intend to remain celibate "for the sake of the kingdom of heaven." Called to consecrate themselves with undivided heart to the Lord and to "the affairs of the Lord", they give themselves entirely to God and to men. Celibacy is a sign of this new life to the service of which the Church's minister is consecrated; accepted with a joyous heart celibacy radiantly proclaims the Reign of God. In the Eastern Churches a different discipline has been in force for many centuries: while bishops are chosen solely from among celibates, married men can be ordained as deacons and priests. This practice has long been considered legitimate; these priests exercise a fruitful ministry within their communities. Moreover, priestly celibacy is held in great honor in the Eastern Churches and many priests have freely chosen it for the sake of the Kingdom of God. In the East as in the West a man who has already received the sacrament of Holy Orders can no longer marry.

youtube.com: Four Tests for False Teaching {@desiringGod} Those are some good tests.

Breastplate of righteousness = breastplate of faith and agape love. So we should be living with a love for the Truth. We believe the gospel and we love God's Word, we love Jesus Christ. Demons may believe but they don't love the Truth. They don't love Jesus. They don't want to be around Him. I believe faith, agape love, hope, obedience (desiring to do the will of God, desiring to do what God wants us to do, desiring to do what God has commanded) are all in the heart. We need God to give us a new heart that fears Him and clings to Him for life, trust His word, desires to please Him, and wants to be around Him, wants to get closer to Him. God gives us a new heart and a new spirit so we can do His will, so it's all grace. Justified by faith alone means justified not of our own works, but through faith in Jesus Christ. Anyone who has faith in Jesus Christ has the right to become a child of God. That means, they have the right to be cleaned up by Jesus Christ's blood so that they can be set free from sin, and practice righteousness. God will clean us up through sanctification through faith, sanctification through obedience to the Truth. God helps us put a stop to sin, love one another, and practice righteousness. Yes, salvation is through sanctification and faith in Jesus Christ. So we must go on in faith and obedience to Jesus Christ, coming into agreement with God's Word, and in obedience to Christ. And it has to be a lawful keeping of Christ's commandments, so we must agape-love God out of our whole heart, with all our soul, with all our mind and all our strength, and agape-love our neighbour as ourself. It's our duty to keep God's commandments, and God gives us a new heart to be able to do our duty.

Re: justification by faith alone, at the bottom of it, it's trust in Jesus Christ in our heart, and we don't merely believe the truth, but love the truth, and we trust Jesus, and we trust Father God. So we're correctable by the Word. We trust the word even before we understand it. This faith is a clinging, an adherence to the truth, trusting the truth, it's a trusting of the Word of God, trusting Jesus Christ Himself.

Obedience, is a desire to do (a will to do) what God wants us to do, and obedience is also actually doing what God has commanded. At the base of it, it's all in the heart:

I John 3:17 - But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? (ESV)

James 2:14 - What good is it, my brothers, if someone says he has faith but does not have works? Can that faith save him? (ESV)

So Jesus commands us to have faith in Him. If we have faith in Jesus we are obedient to that commandment. If we're trusting Jesus we're obedient to that commandment. Obedience covers so much stuff. Paul wants us to try to be obedient in all things, even until our obedience is complete. At the bottom of it, we arrive at a heart that just loves doing what God has commanded us to do as Christians! So that heart of obedience is what we have that enables us to produce works that are pleasing to God.

youtube.com: Four Tests for False Teaching {@desiringGod} God gives us a new heart which fears Him and is able to be corrected by Him. And then we do go through correction, even after being born again, born of the Spirit. We are disciplined even after being given the new heart which fears God. Receiving correction from Jesus is extremely important. Because God continues working on our heart. With that new heart of flesh that fears God, God may then humble us, he may test us, he continues to work on our heart after we receive the new heart, until we simply love to keep His commandments, and they're not burdensome to us. Through testing, and discipline, our hearts are transformed. So we receive a new heart but God continues working on it.

Loving God and one another is our duty:

Ecclesiastes 12:13 - The end of the matter; all has been heard. Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man. (ESV)

Matthew 22:36-40 - Teacher, which is the great commandment in the Law? And he said to him, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)

Even Jesus Christ's commandments depend on the 2 Great Commandments, so as far as I understand we have to do Jesus' commandments lawfully and that means as we follow Jesus' commandments, that shouldn't violate the 2 Great Commandments. So in Christ we must also keep these 2 Great Commandments. That means we must agape-love God and agape love our neighbor as ourself. So even when we think about keeping God's commandments, such as to have faith in Jesus Christ, we must be doing this while at the same time agape-loving God and at the same time agape-loving our neighbour as ourself. Agape love is a treasuring/valuing/preserving/compassion love and God the Father and Jesus God the Son should be our first agape love, and those in the family of Christ we must also agape love, and our spouses we must agape love and we are even called to agape all people, but we're supposed to have no agape for this world:

Matthew 22:36-40 - Teacher, which is the great commandment in the Law? And he said to him, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)

I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

Breastplate of righteousness = breastplate of faith and love. A heart of love, a heart that trusts God, a heart that wants to please God, a heart of obedience desiring to do the things God has commanded us to do, produces good deeds. God wants us to want to do His will, not merely do it but want to do it.

I Thessalonians 5:8 - But since we belong to the day, let us be sober, having put on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet the hope of salvation. (ESV)

I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

Ephesians 6:14 - Stand therefore, having fastened on the belt of truth, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness, (ESV)

God turns us into doers of His word.

James 1:19-23 - Know this, my beloved brothers: let every person be quick to hear, slow to speak, slow to anger; for the anger of man does not produce the righteousness that God requires. Therefore put away all filthiness and rampant wickedness and receive with meekness the implanted word, which is able to save your souls. But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves. For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks intently at his natural face in a mirror. (ESV)

Draw near to God and He'll draw near to you, absolutely. If we seek out God, like through repentance, through trust, through, holding confidence, through taking steps of faith, through obedience to Jesus Christ, any of that, if we seek out God, we will find. Just gotta continue.

Yes, God makes us born-again, gives us a new heart which fears Him and then He still continues working on us, and still continues working on our hearts, and we're supposed to strive in trusting and obeying God and God continues correcting and transforming us. We should keep pressing in to God.

And at the end we just love to do what God wants us to do. And we love God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, for who God is. Jesus Christ is High King of Heaven. That's really awesome.

2.21 Journal <2025-07-12 Sat>

When I was born-again of the spirit on 2 April 2022, God gave me a new heart which feared Him and was able to receive correction from Him. I didn't have all the answers. I didn't have great theology. But God would teach me. In other words, He would write His laws on my heart, and help me to abide in Christ's commandments.

I truly do despair of life as it is right now. Against my understanding, I have been terrorised by demons - being punished and tormented without knowing why. I've just been continually trying to understand why. And of course, satan has huge numbers of accusations and reasons which he tries to make be believe.

If I'm in the kingdom of God then I feel like a package moving around a busy sorting facility, constantly being tested and sorted, without end. I've felt constantly under constraint, deprived of sleep, woken up by demons - a messenger of Satan, I think. And it feels like in my soul, the body of sin, the flesh, is trying to usurp and kill the new creation, and the people around me also placing such unreasonable pressure on me to obey the flesh and to not live in the spirit. In other words, pressuring me to think like the world thinks, rather than to have the mind of Christ.

And where is the promised testimony of the Holy Spirit as I seek to keep Christ's commandments and abide in His teachings?

I feel like I'm dying sometimes, dying spiritually, losing the fight against the enemy who attacks my soul and attacks me through people around me.

I want to be set free, as Jesus Christ promised for those who He sets free. I know Jesus bought me but sadly it seems He allowed me to be absolutely terrorised by demons.

Requiring employment/world's assets before marriage proposal is evil, as to require it puts man's kingdom above God's kingdom. Because to do so would be saying that people have to have what the world says qualifies a person before they have the right to what God freely gave us. It would be like telling a bird it's allowed to fly only if it can qualify as a human pilot. It would be like telling a person they don't have a right to become a child of God through faith in Jesus Christ. It would be like hating Jesus Christ, the Light of the world, so putting Him to death on a tree. Denying what is given to us as a right is anti-God.

I Timothy 4:1-3 - Now the Spirit expressly says that in later times some will depart from the faith by devoting themselves to deceitful spirits and teachings of demons, through the insincerity of liars whose consciences are seared, who forbid marriage and require abstinence from foods that God created to be received with thanksgiving by those who believe and know the truth. (ESV)

Do I have the right to ask? Most of the trees in the Garden of Eden, Adam and Eve were freely allowed to eat. What is permissible. What is unhelpful? What are my freedoms?

I'm not under Mosaic Law. I'm not under man's tradition. I'm under Christ's Law and Grace and Truth came through Jesus Christ. All Christ's commandments are Grace and Truth! That means I'm under grace and under Christ's Law at the same time! (Isaiah 41:1-4, Romans 15:12, Matthew 12:19-21, Isaiah 11:10)

Under Christ's Law, I'm allowed to propose marriage if I'm doing it lawfully, receiving with thanksgiving, knowing the truth, while keeping God's Great Commandments, while holding faith in Jesus Christ, while following Jesus Christ, while keeping Christ's Law with a good conscience.

I can't claim total self-denial with this one. So I can't claim perfect innocence.

I was simply told by a member of their family, "Any further contact (with them) is unlawful." If I told someone, "It's unlawful to talk to some person.", does that make it unlawful? Do they have that right to tell me what is lawful or not? I wanted to marry someone (and I don't think I'd told any of them at that stage), and I was told before revealing my desire that "any further contact with any member of their family was unlawful" (not from a police officer) at the time.

And I was born-again of the spirit. Was I born-again of the spirit after or before being told that any further contact is unlawful? Pretty sure it was after, but not certain, as didn't make a record. I was made into a new person. New creation. Then I made contact and proposed later in the year. I was born-again and simply became preoccupied with Jesus Christ and later that year I proposed. Even after being born-again, I was simply gutted at the thought of not hearing from her again. I was aware even after being born-again of the spirit (made new) that I was told before revealing my desire that "Any further contact is unlawful" by a member of their family. To not propose to her would feel like destroying something very pure.

Later, I proposed to her but I was taken to court over it. Anyway, at pleading guilty, I committed my way to the Lord Jesus Christ, and I felt like I wasn't allowed to move forward even after I committed my way.

Psalms 37:5 - Commit your way to the LORD; trust in him, and he will act. (ESV)

One court judge said I must have been baptised at midnight. The other court judge said "That is your opinion" in response to me saying that "Jesus is the Truth" in a letter to him. And he said that I'm not allowed to forgive. But I pleaded guilty effectively to harassment for exercising free speech (2 out of 3 of the bail breaches claims from my perspective were not lawful but I couldn't take the other side to trial because I didn't want to hurt her, rather I still had lots of joy over proposing, but as soon as court proceeding started, I truly didn't want to break the law. The bail breach claims from my perspective were unlawful. I didn't really know it was her who was distressed, but I didn't want to cause her any distress. I had no fear over punishment at all. I didn't care about career. To take them to trial would waste their time and money and it would not be exercising Christ's love if I were to take them to trial over it. The first bail breach was the only valid one from my memory. But the same time, it was graceless. I breach bail for asking, "Can I try ask again in a year?" after a police officer simply said, "The smartest thing I can do is just drop it", just after I had proposed marriage. Like the Terminator arriving at my door after having proposed to the love of my life. And so I broke bail the first time for asking again if I could ask in a year. I guess I have a human heart. Can I be taken to prison for that, proposing while under unreasonable constraint? Probably only by a system which is anti-human) and neither was I forcing someone to marry me, simply making an offer.

Now, in committing to that path of going my separate ways, I have had immense pressure from other people and through demonic dreams, to renege on that commitment.

I need God to set me free from satanic oppression over my life.

I feel like God would betray me to force me to find secular employment before having a wife. Why? Because I had put Jesus first before marriage. It feels like having to hold my breath and resist the urge to breath in 'dying' to that marriage proposal. And after doing so I would see it as purely evil to not allow me to move forward on that commitment to move forward. To hold me in this position would be like to not even allow a person to die while drowning at the bottom of the ocean, a person who was there in the first place because they didn't want to harm their neighbour.

However I'm totally willing to work for God as Adam did before God made Eve, that's fine. Man is espoused to Christ first. Christ the head of the man, and man the head of the wife. Not the Pope as head of the man, but Christ Himself as head of the man.

II Corinthians 11:2-3 - I feel a divine jealousy for you, for I betrothed you to one husband, to present you as a pure virgin to Christ. But I am afraid that as the serpent deceived Eve by his cunning, your thoughts will be led astray from a sincere and pure devotion to Christ. (ESV)

Whatever has happened to me has been grossly lacking in grace.

I have no desire at all to ever propose to anyone else ever again. I want all my memories to be erased. I want God to honour His own words and send Holy Spirit to make testimony of Jesus Christ to me.

Just to be clear, this ball rests in God's courts. I feel as though I have not been fairly delt with by God, and if I have a bone to pick with anyone, it is only with God.

2.22 Journal <2025-07-26 Sat>

I confess yesterday I got very upset with the Lord Jesus in my prayers. I have had such heavy spiritual attack. I don't understand it. And sometimes I've put the blame on the Lord. But God knows I love Him, and I have my hope set on Him.

Almost every single night I've been getting hit with such antichrist dreams and visions. Antichrist. Literally, demons/satan putting evil in my mind as I'm sleeping. Pure darkness. Stuff that is anti-God, anti-Christ, adulterous, lying, harassing dreams and visions.

And on top of that, the collective pressure on me, through spirit-spouse stuff, or so-called Christians refusing to help me, as I strive obediently to Jesus, and suffer for it. It's very isolating, and sometimes the pressure gets to me.

The pressure of resistance against me as I try to live for righteousness (in the way God wants me to) feels like being an infant holding up a church building while all the adults flee/ turn a blind eye, or like the man in the story of the "Good Samaritan" who's been beaten and left for dead on the side of the road needing to save himself and all the "Christians" turn a blind eye.

I may feel as though I'm in a "spiritual prison" feeling unable to work and marry. But I want to be completely delivered from the true spiritual prison which is sin. Sin is a spiritual prison.

John 8:34-35 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. (ESV)

Believing in Jesus Christ, that is with true faith, faith which loves the truth, we have the right to become children of God. We are given the right to be sanctified, delivered from sin, to be able to love our family in Christ and practice righteousness:

John 1:12-13 - But to all who did receive him, who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God, who were born, not of blood nor of the will of the flesh nor of the will of man, but of God. (ESV)

This right is not for everyone, but only for those who receive Jesus Christ, who God has given Jesus Christ:

John 17:9 - I am praying for them. I am not praying for the world but for those whom you have given me, for they are yours. (ESV)

John 17:8 - For I have given them the words that you gave me, and they have received them and have come to know in truth that I came from you; and they have believed that you sent me. (ESV)

John 17:17 - Sanctify them in the truth; your word is truth. (ESV)

Even Simon the magician believed and was baptised but it is evident that even the Apostle Peter recognised that Simon might perish. As far as I can tell Simon had not yet received Holy Spirit. His heart still wasn't right. Just like Simon, we must receive the love of the truth in our heart to be saved. Simon was instructed to repent from sin. While true agape love is the bond of perfection, I think the bond of iniquity might mean a love of darkness. Simon had to relinquish his sinful desire. Likewise, the rich young ruler (in Mark 10:17-27) had a love of worldly possessions. We need to agape love the truth and fall out of love of darkness. Even as believers, we need to continue on in the teachings of Christ to be saved:

Acts 8:13-23 - Even Simon himself believed, and after being baptized he continued with Philip. And seeing signs and great miracles performed, he was amazed. Now when the apostles at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent to them Peter and John, who came down and prayed for them that they might receive the Holy Spirit, for he had not yet fallen on any of them, but they had only been baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus. Then they laid their hands on them and they received the Holy Spirit. Now when Simon saw that the Spirit was given through the laying on of the apostles' hands, he offered them money, saying, Give me this power also, so that anyone on whom I lay my hands may receive the Holy Spirit. But Peter said to him, May your silver perish with you, because you thought you could obtain the gift of God with money! You have neither part nor lot in this matter, for your heart is not right before God. Repent, therefore, of this wickedness of yours, and pray to the Lord that, if possible, the intent of your heart may be forgiven you. For I see that you are in the gall of bitterness and in the bond of iniquity. (ESV)

Jesus' words are true. As I understand it, probably Simon Magus "had" salvation when he believed and was baptised but salvation is a process and as Jesus says, the devil steals the word from a person's heart so that they do not believe. So a person must continue in true faith. As I currently understand it, we also must not "fall away". We must endure in our faith. Simon Magus needed to repent from sin to receive Holy Spirit and in order to continue on in true justifying faith in Jesus, as I understand it:

Mark 16:16 - Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved, but whoever does not believe will be condemned. (ESV)

Jesus said to these believers that if they abide in His word (and I believe that means keep His word, even in obedience), they are His disciples - so a person can be a believer before they are a disciple. But we're supposed to make this transition:

John 8:31-32 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed (4100. pisteuó, pepisteukotas) in him, If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free. (ESV) youtube.com: Post from Ruben Solorzano Hulk Hogan has passed away at 71. Here is a picture of him getting baptized only a year ago, which he said was "the greatest day of his life." He said, "Knowing of Jesus and knowing Him are two different things. Come to Him, He'll clean you up. He's the only thing that really matters." Our prayers are with his family.

I believe that Simon the magician after initially believing the gospel and being baptised needed to continue in obedience to God, continue trusting in Jesus, turn away from wickedness, purify his heart, draw near to God and receive Holy Spirit and be sanctified:

James 4:8 - Draw near to God, and he will draw near to you. Cleanse your hands, you sinners, and purify your hearts, you double-minded. (ESV)

II Thessalonians 2:10 - and with all the deception of wickedness for those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth so as to be saved. (NASB)

2.23 Journal <2025-07-28 Mon>

I've been getting hit real hard with spiritual attacks. Dreams that are anti Jesus Christ, and trying to temp me into fantasizing about sexual immorality, and this defilement which tries to arouse my body.

This morning at 3.00am I woke up to demonic dreams, one that was trying to tempt me to fantasise, and the feeling of some spirit occupying the interior of my left leg and all around the private area.

I don't see it as fair at all that I come under such heavy spiritual attack, given relationship/marriage and job denial etc. and these crazy accusations of sexual immorality by harassing demonic dreams to get bombarded with these utterly satanic dreams during the night it's just disgusting and not right.

They're unwelcome.

Jesus Christ help me. I don't know why this is happening.

I believe that Jesus Christ who is the Son of God bled and died for my sins. I trust in His blood. I have the hope of salvation. I trust and hope in his shed blood that I am being sanctified.

I have been born-again to a living hope.

I Peter 1:3-5 - Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! According to his great mercy, he has caused us to be born again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance that is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading, kept in heaven for you, who by God's power are being guarded through faith for a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. (ESV)

Jesus rose from the dead for my justification. I hold my faith in Him. I hope in Him. I treasure Him. I treasure that hope. I agape love Him. I agape love that hope.

I'm not going to be intimidated by the devil, and scared away from "doing good" and from endeavouring to walk in holiness and to be cleaned from every defilement of spirit and flesh.

II Corinthians 7:1 - Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God. (ESV)

God forgive me for my failings but clean me Jesus Christ, clean me.

And in Jesus Christ's name, I rebuke satan and his demons which have been trying to push me into unholiness, through harassing me, isolating me and messing with my soul/sensations, etc. and pushing evil thoughts into my head.

Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God. Jesus is Jehovah, God the Son. There is One True God, existing as Father, Son and Holy Spirit. AMEN!!

2.24 Journal <2025-07-28 Mon 16:53>

It's the afternoon. I feel as though Father God may have led someone to talk to me today. I just pray for them that my testimony of Jesus saving me, making me born-again, will have a positive impact on them. That the Holy Spirit will lead them into all truth, and that they will just have a love of Jesus Christ, and learn to keep Jesus' commandments better.

Dear Heavenly Father and my Lord Jesus Christ and Holy Spirit, Jehovah, Almighty God, Lord, help the person who talked to me today to abide in Christ's commandments and help me also, and help them to not bear a grudge, and I ask the same for me. Lord Jesus Christ, I can't live like this. I want to be healed and restored. I've asked You countless times, LORD God. Countless times. Countless times, really believing that if I don't receive deliverance that it'd be my destruction. When literally satan and his demons attack my mind, and relationships, and my body/soul etc. I feel violated and depressed and I feel like sometimes I'm not strong enough to resist the enemy's attacks. Sincerely, Jesus Christ, I believe that You need to heal me and protect me, and follow through with Your promise that Holy Spirit will testify of You to me, to those who abide in Your word, and keep Your commandments. Sincerely, I do not believe I have had sufficient grace at all to protect me from what's happened. I've been born-again and what happened after that is the stuff of nightmares and horror stories. I hope I don't have to live with these memories. So please, God, help me Jesus Christ. I believe You bled and died for my sins and rose for my justification. How can You let me perish when I'm trusting in You? Don't let me perish but heal me and protect my soul. In Jesus Christ's name, I ask, AMEN!!

Just to be honest. I feel spiritually very vulnerable. Like, I don't want to die.

Just to describe the situation:

- My typical day looks like:
 - Waking up to extreme demonic harassment
 - * I feel like from time to time are demons entering and exiting my body frequently, or something like that,
 - these demons have been violating me mentally and sexually.
 - sometimes during the day when I'm less vulnerable because I'm awake
 - I've been getting these attacks daily for over 2 years, and I'm feeling weak.
 - Leave the house, help people asking for help on the street
 - Do Bible studying
 - Practice handwriting

- Spend lots of time thinking about Jesus' teachings
- Journal
- Maybe a little emacs programming
- Play some Cute Defense on StarCraftII
- Feed my cat twice a day
- Every night I go to bed trusting in Jesus, trusting Him to keep me safe.
 - * But almost every single night without fail, there is so much demonic oppression going on.
- Almost every time I sit down, I get spiritual attack. Feel like there is a spiritual defilement in my lower body.
- A ringing in my ears that is triggered when I am tested spiritually (such as through someone asking a question) and subsequently say something / respond to it.
- Always under the pump financially. Always. If I have money then someone is extremely likely going to ask me for help somehow.
 - * Yet, following Christ's commandments has to be done lawfully.
 - Must be done in love, for example.
 - Must be done in faith.
 - Must take care of dependents.
- I'd be working but I've been denied work. Yet I love doing as Jesus commanded and being the good Samaritan.
- My joy is coming almost entirely right now from maintaining a good conscience with Jesus and having a relationship with Jesus, following His commandments, i.e. having a real relationship with Jesus.
- People refuse to give me work. They very often "ghost" me. They go dead silent.
 - I blame literally demons actually manipulating other people into doing that by various means
- On a Sunday I often have nice conversations with people. But given the reality of having been born-again, having first hand evidence of the supernatural, of being born-again of the Spirit, and where I'm literally having to live by Christ's teachings/commandments, walking in the Spirit, rather than being worldly-minded, I often see worldly thinking, and compromise within the church walls. Very often.

- Everything feels like "hard-mode". Like where is the grace for me to be able to live?

- With regards to people I know who I'm close to,

- I have seen vastly different sides to people

- * Like different people in the same body.

- I had written this off to one version of a person which listens to Jesus / speaks the truth about God, and another which doesn't, and I'd taken the latter to be "the flesh". Like when a person speaks from the flesh and does not want to listen to God's Word.

- But honestly, I don't really know what's going on. It just seems like I've seen too much stuff which a regular person shouldn't normally know about or have seen.

There's simply stuff I have seen which I wish that I had not have seen. God help me.

I honestly don't know how to be delivered from this (well, the bad stuff). There is good stuff amongst it. But I feel like I need desperately Jesus to deliver me from evil, heal and sanctify me, and speak to me. And I feel like I need other Christians to be assisting me instead of turning a blind eye to me.

I need more than just a little bit of reassurance that God's working behind the scenes. I need Jesus Christ to speak clearly to me, to assure me, encourage me, to let me hear the testimony which Holy Spirit gives concerning Himself (Jesus). I need deliverance. I need protection at night. I need guidance. I need healing. I need my soul to be knit back together. I need grace. God knows I've asked Him for grace, and for all these things. Imagine asking God for such things every day, and going to sleep trusting in Him to take care of You, then getting woken up to demons putting stuff in your mind and invading your body. It's violating on so many levels. I don't think this is a matter of me being more humble anymore. I bend over backwards trying to please God, and He lets all this stuff happen to me. I don't understand why. Then when stuff gets to me and I succumb to temptation, the spiritual attack I receive intensifies. It's really horrific being me right now. Jesus save me.

To whoever's listening. Whatever happened to me felt like crucifying love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control, 99% fruit of the spirit got crucified. And then I now feel like having being washed clean, made brand new, Satan tried to destroy me after I got born-again. Don't get me wrong, I still had some issues, but I had love in my heart for everyone. I didn't want to hurt anyone. Satan tried to destroy me after I got born-again. But I had so much joy and peace and faith in God - so much of it, in 2022, despite a lot of self-denial which at times I had peace of mind over with but could really get me down. Now my daily/nightly existence is a nightmare. Where am I now under heaven? Feels like I've been put in an evil, demon-infested, version of earth after getting born-again, and it feels very defiling and I don't want to be here.

Galatians 5:16-26 - But I say, walk by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the flesh. For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to keep you from doing the things you want to do. But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. Now the works of the flesh are evident: sexual immorality, impurity, sensuality, idolatry, sorcery, enmity, strife, jealousy, fits of anger, rivalries, dissensions, divisions, envy, drunkenness, orgies, and things like these. I warn you, as I warned you before, that those who do such things will not inherit the kingdom of God. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control; against such things there is no law. And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. If we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit. Let us not become conceited, provoking one another, envying one another. (ESV)

I want to be healed. God help me. I want my memories erased. I don't want to be in this world at all. What on earth am I supposed to do?

What has happened to me is abominable.

Jesus Christ, I just want to hear from You, God. I just want to hear Holy Spirit testify of You. I have heard the voices of demons through my sleep almost every day for years. Jesus Christ, I just want to hear Your voice God, and know that it's Your voice. I want to hear the testimony which You spoke of, LORD Jesus, and the testimony which Apostle Paul spoke of and the one which the Apostle John spoke of, and I want to know for certain, the spirit speaking to me is from God.

God Almighty, my reality like it has been corrupted.

Job 16:1-11 - Then Job answered and said: I have heard many such things miserable comforters are you all. Shall windy words have an end? Or what provokes you that you answer? I also could speak as you do, if you were in my place I could join words together against you and shake my head at you. I could strengthen you with my mouth, and the solace of my lips would assuage your pain. If I speak, my pain is not assuaged, and if I forbear, how much of it leaves me? Surely now God has worn me out he has made desolate all my company. And he has shriveled me up, which is a witness against me, and my leanness has risen up against me it testifies to my face. He has torn me in his wrath and hated me he has gnashed his teeth at me my adversary sharpens his eyes against me. Men have gaped at me with their mouth they have struck me insolently on the cheek they mass themselves together against me. God gives me up to the ungodly and casts me into the hands of the wicked. 2.27 Journal <2025-08-03 Sun>

I am utterly sick of the way in which the so-called Christians around me refuse to give me the confession that Jesus Christ has come [into the world, from God] in the flesh. When I've asked for it, I've been met with comments like, "Why do I need to tell you?" I'd say that the spirit of antichrist has been working in those situations. For the people who have specifically refused to give me that confession, I can't say that they are my family in Christ. I can't say they are my family in Christ because my family in Christ would confess that Jesus Christ has come [into the world, from God] in the flesh. They would confess that, because they love Jesus. But I ask Father God that the people who have refused to make this confession to me, that they may come around to freely making this confession of the truth when asked. And I pray for myself, that I can be delivered from continually brushing up against people who have the spirit of antichrist.

If we are "in the Spirit" then what other people confess or refuse to confess identifies whether or not the spirit working through them is from God. The principle can and should be used to test dreams, visions, angels, demons and human beings to see if we can trust them. I would never trust someone completely who refuses to give me this testimony:

I John 4:2-3 - By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

Polycarp 6:3 For every one who shall not confess (G3670 homologeó) that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is antichrist: and whosoever shall not confess (G3670 homologeó) the testimony of the Cross, is of the devil; and whosoever shall pervert the oracles of the Lord to his own lusts and say that there is neither resurrection nor judgment, that man is the firstborn of Satan.

Romans 8:9 - You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. (ESV)

I Corinthians 12:3 - Therefore I want you to understand that no one speaking in the Spirit of God ever says Jesus is accursed! and no one can say Jesus is Lord except in the Holy Spirit. (ESV)

And we should confess our faith to one-another, and confess truth to one-another, love one-another as Jesus commanded and pray for one-another:

Colossians 3:8-10 - But now you must put them all away: anger, wrath, malice, slander, and obscene talk from your mouth. Do not lie to one another, seeing that you have put off the old self with its practices and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator. (ESV)

I don't want to be in a world with AI. Please help me Jesus Christ and get me out of this world. I don't want to be forced into being around people who worship demons and people who say they believe in Jesus but who do not believe they need to confess, turn away from and forsake sin, and who do not believe they need to love their family in Christ. For some reason, when I pray and ask God to be delivered from such situations, and make a concerted effort to be corrected by the Scripture and to turn away from and forsake sinful stuff, and to denounce sinful stuff, and antichrist religion, I have found that I'm made to run into the types of people who have not turned away from such things. I'm really exhausted and I feel like I've run out of patience. I've been crying out to God continually, basically daily, for about 2 years now, and I haven't been delivered. I've still been getting these absolutely satanic dreams at night time. What I've gone through is not acceptable. Demonic harassment is not the inheritance that I hope in Jesus Christ for. LGBT, AI world is not the inheritance that I hope in Jesus Christ for. And I wouldn't trade my inheritance for anything this world can offer. I wouldn't trade it. When I pray to God and ask Him for help, when I ask Him to set me free from whatever demonic oppression has been preventing me from working and marrying, from whatever demonic oppression has been attacking my mind and soul, and when the devil then tries to frame marriage as an idol, I question God as to why, just why would He allow satan to be doing that to me. I'm not going to live here in this world, I refuse, under these conditions. Even still, to remain here certainly feels like remaining aboard a sinking ship. I don't want to be in this world. I want Jesus Christ to return. I want to be raptured (harpazō). God help me.

Every day now it seems is a Psalm 88 day. And why God thinks it's OK to not speak to me, but instead allow antichrist spirits to barrage me with dreams, deprive me of sleep, etc. and bring me into contact with people who are unrepentant, and why God allows my soul to literally get attacked by this disgusting defilement. It's actually not OK. I'm literally lying here and I'm under spiritual attack. I can feel it in my blood. I'm very much not OK with what has been made to happen to me. Jesus Christ never let me have a family, but puts me through a living hell on earth. That much is understandable as He said His followers would have tribulation in this world. The one thing I refuse to let slide is this demonic harassment in my sleep, while God goes SILENT on me. That's not OK. I don't care if David also recorded this issue with God's silence in Psalms 88:14 because demons have been harassing me at the same time. Any dream I receive, no matter how "pleasant" it might be, if it doesn't confess Jesus Christ, I rebuke it and rebuke the author of it in Jesus Christ's name. The author of any dream which doesn't confess Jesus, I condemn. That demon spirit which doesn't confess Jesus Christ can burn in hell, for invading my mind and soul. Also, Jesus has to fulfill His promise. He promised Holy Spirit would testify of Him. I demand this testimony.

So I've just woken up to more spiritual attack. Something had been giving me evil dreams and visions, and also my soul getting attacked. Feeling as though a spirit is trying to have sex with me. It feels like there is a spirit which clings to my lips/tongue and genital area. I woke up this morning to evil dreams, and aroused and demoralised, with no job, with no wife, and no money, and with stress on my mind. With feeling like I'm constantly under the pump. I pray that God hears those around the world who are suffering as I'm suffering, and I ask God to do something about it.

I get attacked by demons almost every day, and at the same time God seems to be ignoring me, and Jesus hasn't yet provided the testimony of Himself through Holy Spirit to my heart. What I'm expecting is an audible voice or dream or something making the testimony to me in my mind. That's what I'm expecting, and I haven't heard it.

I believe that the Apostle Paul was also being terrorised by such an evil spirit:

II Corinthians 12:7 - So to keep me from being too elated by the surpassing greatness of the revelations, a thorn was given me in the flesh, a messenger of Satan to harass me, to keep me from being too elated. (ESV)

I have decided to today rejoice in my affliction. Got rejected from a job application again. Immediate rejection again. Things do seem impossible. But I know that I'm being persecuted for righteousness sake, and God's got something much better for me in store. I might get quite a lot of spiritual attack, but I have faith that God is bringing me into glory. Praise God because, let's be honest, God's heavenly treasure is much better than some job. I'd rather be on the side of good than on the side of evil. Praise the Lord Jesus Christ.

II Corinthians 4:16-18 - So we do not lose heart. Though our outer nature is wasting away, our inner nature is being renewed day by day. For this slight momentary affliction is preparing for us an eternal weight of glory beyond all comparison, as we look not to the things that are seen but to the things that are unseen. For the things that are seen are transient, but the things that are unseen are eternal. (ESV)

II Corinthians 5:1-7 - For we know that if the tent, which is our earthly home, is destroyed, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. For in this tent we groan, longing to put on our heavenly dwelling, if indeed by putting it on we may not be found naked. For while we are still in this tent, we groan, being burdened—not that we would be unclothed, but that we would be further clothed, so that what is mortal may be swallowed up by life. He who has prepared us for this very thing is God, who has given us the Spirit as a guarantee. So we are always of good courage. We know that while we are at home in the body we are away from the Lord, for we walk by faith, not by sight. (ESV)

2.29 <2025-08-06 Wed>

Our Father in heaven, hallowed be Your name. Jehovah, Almighty God, God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, Yahweh, please help me God.

Dear Heavenly Father and my Lord Jesus Christ and Holy Spirit, Jehovah, Almighty God, heal me completely in Jesus Christ's name. I want to be completely healed and repaired, spiritually. What's happened to me is not OK. When I pray and ask You for things, I have felt like I have been receiving the opposite of what I ask for. Satan has been terrorising me with evil dreams and confronting situations with other people who are clearly manifesting demons, and I have been trying my best to remain faithful to You, God through this entire process. Please, God, remain faithful to me, and let me be completely sanctified, clean, spotless and blameless. In Jesus Christ's name, I ask, AMEN!!

2.30 <2025-08-07 Thu>

All through the night I was attacked with evil dreams and visions, and what sometimes feels like mind control (what feels like me thinking and something something in a dream, until I snap out of it). I was forced awake to evil dreams and visions maybe 10-20 times, all through the night, and it essentially all antichrist stuff, and none of it confessed Jesus.

However, I responded in one of these dreams saying that "controlling one's own body is their spiritual act of worship".

Romans 12:1 - I appeal to you therefore, brothers, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship. (ESV)

I Thessalonians 4:3-7 - For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you abstain from sexual immorality; that each one of you know how to control his own body in holiness and honor, not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God; that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you. For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness. (ESV)

I have been trying to resist what feels like a spirit spouse, and in waking life I've been forced to "rub shoulders with", connect paths with a whole lot of people who are stubbornly into their satanic stuff, and at the same time, I've been financially extremely under the pump, and see evidence of demons working through the people I help sometimes.

But yesterday I was thinking about this verse:

Revelation of John 2:26-27 - The one who conquers and who keeps my works until the end, to him I will give authority over the nations, and he will rule them with a rod of iron, as when earthen pots are broken in pieces, even as I myself have received authority from my Father. (ESV)

I believe that with faith in Jesus if I am holding fast to the gospel and at the same time practicing Jesus' works, denying self, doing good, sharing the word of God, and striving for holiness, especially agreeing with God with what He thinks is good and hating wickedness, even though I might fall short, still confessing sin as sin, and hating the sin, and leaning on the righteousness of God, faith in the blood of Jesus, rather than my own righteousness as I endeavour to keep Jesus' works, striving to be faithful with unrighteous wealth, then whilst I might receive tribulation, I believe that most likely that results in influencing the world as God listens to my prayers.

II Timothy 3:12 - Indeed, all who desire to live a godly life in Christ Jesus will be persecuted, (ESV)

Luke 16:11-12 - If then you have not been faithful in the unrighteous wealth, who will entrust to you the true riches? And if you have not been faithful in that which is another's, who will give you that which is your own?

II Timothy 2:21 - Therefore, if anyone cleanses himself from what is dishonorable, he will be a vessel for honorable use, set apart as holy, useful to the master of the house, ready for every good work. (ESV)

James 5:16 - Therefore, confess your sins to one another and pray for one another, that you may be healed. The prayer of a righteous person has great power as it is working. (ESV)

2.31 <2025-08-08 Fri>

Last night I was being denied sleep, being harassed by demons all night, satan/demons putting antichrist, anti-biblical dreams and visions into my head, and stuff to try to make me fearful of giving to the poor, and stuff to try to make me afraid of putting this Bible study online. I don't understand how the devil can be allowed to put stuff in my mind like that. Satan has been using all different kinds of tactics to try to make me afraid of continuing to do my Bible study online, and to try to make me afraid of stating my position on certain issues, for example, to try to intimidate me / scare me away from saying that I'm against sexual immorality, particularly homosexuality, and has been attacking my soul.

Jesus Christ, deliver me, LORD God Jehovah.

I'm going to endeavour to maintain Christ's commandments to show Christ's love to people, especially family in Christ and dependents, bear witness of Jesus. God have mercy on if or where I have spoken incorrectly in my writings. God please rapture me.

I believe Jesus will come for me, and rescue me from this evil world.

I Thessalonians 4:16-17 - For the Lord himself will descend from heaven with a cry of command, with the voice of an archangel, and with the sound of the trumpet of God. And the dead in Christ will rise first. Then we who are alive, who are left, will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and so we will always be with the Lord. (ESV)

Revelation of John 22:20 - He who testifies to these things says, Surely I am coming soon. Amen. Come, Lord Jesus! (ESV)

All of this has been fulfilled for me:

Luke 21:12-17 - But before all this they will lay their hands on you and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues and prisons, and you will be brought before kings and governors for my name's sake. This will be your opportunity to bear witness. Settle it therefore in your minds not to meditate beforehand how to answer, for I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which none of your adversaries will be able to withstand or contradict. You will be delivered up even by parents and brothers and relatives and friends, and some of you they will put to death. You will be hated by all for my name's sake. (ESV)

I need to stand strong and endure:

Luke 21:18-19 - But not a hair of your head will perish. By your endurance you will gain your lives. (ESV)

Here is where the world is currently at, I think:

Luke 21:20-24 - But when you see Jerusalem surrounded by armies, then know that its desolation has come near. Then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains, and let those who are inside the city depart, and let not those who are out in the country enter it, for these are days of vengeance, to fulfill all that is written. Alas for women who are pregnant and for those who are nursing infants in those days! For there will be great distress upon the earth and wrath against this people. They will fall by the edge of the sword and be led captive among all nations, and Jerusalem will be trampled underfoot by the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles are fulfilled. (ESV)

2.32 <2025-08-09 Sat>

I don't want to be here in this world. The AI stuff is diabolical. I think the AI stuff is probably God's judgement on the world. How much more difficult it will be to stop trusting in the ways of the world and to trust in God if people are pushed into letting AI think for them. Diabolical stuff. Get me out of here Lord Jesus Christ, please. I'm done with this world.

I'm looking forward to getting out of here youtube.com: ONCE AGAIN,
ISRAEL HAS THE WORLD FREAKED OUT! WORLD LEADERS REACT! {@WatchmanRiver}

Psalms 53:1 - The fool says in his heart, There is no God. They are corrupt, doing abominable iniquity; there is none who does good. (ESV)

Psalms 10:10-11 - The helpless are crushed, sink down, and fall by his might. He says in his heart, God has forgotten, he has hidden his face, he will never see it. (ESV)

I think that to put one's trust in an AGI / ASI system instead of God and allowing such a thing to take the place of God in a person's heart is incredibly foolish. I think that the way in which it's being pushed onto society is extremely concerning. The righteous live by faith in God. The unrighteous would trust in what is false, such as AGI/ASI.

II Thessalonians 2:10-13 - and with all the deception of wickedness for those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth so as to be saved. For this reason God will send upon them a deluding influence so that they will believe what is false, in order that they all may be judged who did not believe the truth, but took pleasure in wickedness. But we should always give thanks to God for you, brethren beloved by the Lord, because God has chosen you from the beginning for salvation through sanctification by the Spirit and faith in the truth.

I think it would be very telling where a person's heart is by what they do when being confronted with a choice to horde, say, cryptocurrency or to be the good Samaritan to someone. Alternatively, who do they believe in and trust? Do they believe in and trust God, or do they believe in and trust AGI/ASI? Do they fear God? Or do they fear AGI/ASI? I have absolutely no fear of AGI/ASI. It's of the world. When people try to use AI to judge me / criticise me while I have been born-again and have a real relationship with God and I fear God and want to do what please Him, I just know that the AI stuff is detached from reality, propelled by greed and idolatry and I know I'm being persecuted for righteousness-sake. I don't want to be in this world. I have no love for it.

Luke 12:33-37 - Sell your possessions, and give to the needy. Provide yourselves with moneybags that do not grow old, with a treasure in the heavens that does not fail, where no thief approaches and no moth destroys. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. Stay dressed for action and keep your lamps burning, and be like men who are waiting for their master to come home from the wedding feast, so that they may open the door to him at once when he comes and knocks. Blessed are those servants whom the master finds awake when he comes.

Truly, I say to you, he will dress himself for service and have them recline at table, and he will come and serve them. (ESV)

Life's impossible. Jesus Christ lets me get attacked by demons every single day. I'm in this really messed-up situation where:

- I've been denied work and thus have a large student no-interest loan, and born-again of the spirit and wanting to pay it off but also obey Jesus Christ and do as the good Samaritan to people
- How can it be OK that I get born-again in a situation where I'm not allowed to obey God?
- I'm literally in debt and demons harass me about money. I give even though I don't have a job and I'm denied employment
- My earthly parents put pressure on me as well
- I'm literally getting attacked by this spirit of antichrist. The satanic oppression against me is horrendous.
- Today it was more Hindu dreams and visions, stuff promoting Hinduism and against Jesus. Why does God allow this stuff? It's disgusting. May Christ make it end for His reputation

In John 17, Jesus prayed for His disciples that they would be protected by the evil one. Since I still come under immense spiritual attack, but am in the world, it seems like either:

- God keeps me in the world and protects me, or
- God raptures me.

But to keep me in the world but not protect me is not what Jesus prayed for, so seems to be against what is right.

- I'm repentant but getting harassed by satan basically daily
- My parents also like to argue and harass me

God's put what feels like impossible demands on me regarding faith and holiness but is unwilling to speak clearly and plainly to me to guide me. I'm reliant on the Scripture alone and hopefully Holy Spirit leading me. But, very strangely, God seems unwilling to grant what He promises through His word, that is the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit.

I feel like I'm always under spiritual attack almost continually. I feel like a lot of protestant churches do preach faith alone but not together with repentance and holiness and that's when often I come under spiritual attack by people who are into new age, etc. and hinduism, for example, and when demons attack me. Also getting harassed/accused about stuff from my past when I'm repentant. God Almighty, when a person gets born-again of the spirit and baptised as an appeal for a good conscience and is regenerate and repentant but is being prevented from, denied from walking in freedom as a forgiven person, then that is antichrist.

I can relate strongly to feeling abandoned by God. And I can't relate strongly to feeling as though God is being faithful to me. That's just the state of things.

I have faith in God and faith in Jesus Christ and endeavour to keep a good conscience and be obedient to God. But it seems strongly to me from experience as though God is willing to push me beyond what I can handle to the point, while I tell Him it's more than I can handle. For sure, I pray to Him in advance of breaking point. Yet, God doesn't seem to respect at all my limits. That's just facts.

Christians are commanded to obey their parents in the Lord. If my parents are not walking by the spirit, I don't think that commandment applies at that instance. We must obey God rather than man.

~~At this point, telling God to set me free and protect me from spiritual attack, if He does not do that, then He can't expect me to walk in the ways He's commanded. I'm sick of being abused by God.~~

<2025-08-22 Fri> I recant that last thing. I mean, just count it joy, right? That's what's going on.

James 1:2 - Count it all joy, my brothers, when you meet trials of various kinds, (ESV)

2.34 <2025-08-22 Fri>

The amount of demonic harassment I've received in my sleep over the last few days is staggering. I won't go into details.

As a person who has been writing about theology online after being born-again and doing my best to resist heresies, I have experienced a lot of testing on theology, temptation and tribulation and maybe, just maybe, one of the reasons I've received so much of it is because I have been so vocal about such things and because I have been trying to keep Jesus' works as I do this. I don't want to blame God. I don't understand what's going on. My hope is for a future salvation that is what I'm looking forward to as I hold my faith in Jesus Christ and in His blood, in His passion, death and resurrection as I endeavour to obey Him and keep His commandments, trying to maintain a good conscience, having been obedient to the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ.

2.35 <2025-08-27 Wed>

I mentioned at my Tues Bible study on 19 Aug that I feel spiritually unwell. I feel increasingly spiritually unwell.

I'm not bitter holding grudges with anyone.

I just:

- feel spiritually unwell.
- don't feel spiritually clean.
- want to hear the voice of Holy Spirit.
- don't understand why this has happened to me.

I have been getting attacked spiritually non-stop.

Indeed I was set free from sin on 2 April 2022 because I was baptised into Christ's death. I am extremely confident that that is what it is.

It only makes sense to view what happened to me as a second birth.

The flesh, the old self, was crucified. The body of sin will be brought to nothing.

Romans 8:13 - For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. (ESV)

I was regenerated. I was made a new creation. Now the body of sin must be brought to nothing, so there is a battle.

Yet I believe that sanctification is ongoing in some sense. The entire time I've been holding my faith in Jesus. Yet whatever happened in an attempt to corrupt me after getting born-again happened to me regardless of the fact that I was keeping my faith, and also trying to hold a good conscience with God. God gave me the fear of Him and a new spirit and then I had to become obedient to the standard of teaching which I'm called to become obedient to.

Romans 6:6-7 - We know that our old self was crucified with him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin. For one who has died has been set free from sin. (ESV)

Romans 6:16-18 - Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. (ESV)

Being dead to sin seems to not mean "unable to let indwelling sin reign in our mortal body", so it seems that being dead to sin and having been set free (and sin no longer having power over oneself), it's still possible for a person to then "let sin reign in the mortal body" (allow it to reign), and we definitely do not want to allow sin to reign in our mortal body. I think what Paul is saying here is that we have been set free from sin and that to let sin reign after you've been set free would be something like a king allowing his enemy to reign in his own kingdom. Rather than doing that, we should be walking in faith and obedience to Jesus Christ:

Romans 6:11 - So you also must consider yourselves dead to sin and alive to God in Christ Jesus. (ESV)

Romans 6:12-14 - Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal bodies, to make you obey their passions. Do not present your members to sin as instruments for unrighteousness, but present yourselves to God as those who have been brought from death to life, and your members to God as instruments for righteousness. For sin will have no dominion over you, since you are not under law but under grace. (ESV)

Being baptised into Christ, becoming a slave of righteousness, being set free from sin, I assume, also involves becoming obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which we are committed:

Romans 6:16-18 - Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. (ESV)

Having become a slave of righteousness, the fruit we get leads to sanctification and at its end eternal life:

Romans 6:22-23 - But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

Sadly, though, it really feels as though I have come under attack by something which has been invading my dreams, giving me antichristian dreams and visions and dreams and visions which are not trustworthy (don't come with a confession that "Jesus Christ has not come [into the world, from God] in the flesh"), tempting to sin, arousing my body, tempting me into defiling "passion". Whatever has come against me is unacceptable and I think it's not fair. All the while, no word from Holy Spirit testifying to Jesus Christ. No word at all. My present situation really does not feel good.

Before I was born-again, I didn't experience something trying to attack my mind and soul. There was practically no "warring" between me and the so-called "flesh" / body of sin.

Romans 7:4-5 - Likewise, my brothers, you also have died to the law through the body of Christ, so that you may belong to another, to him who has been raised from the dead, in order that we may bear fruit for God. For while we were living in the flesh, our sinful passions, aroused by the law, were at work in our members to bear fruit for death. (ESV)

2.36 <2025-08-28 Thu>

Jesus Christ, please get me out of this world. Please rapture (harpazō) me, Jehovah God, Yahweh, God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, Yeshua Hamashiach. I don't want to be in this world. I don't have the will to live in this world.

2.37 <2025-08-31 Sun>

God keeps allowing me to get harassed by demons, and I'm complaining about it because I can't live being terrorised by this and feeling like God is gaslighting me. It's not nice being in a position where it feels as though God is ignoring you, but rather allowing demons to terrorise you. It really isn't.

I want to help people find Jesus but if God keeps letting me get harassed by demons, and if God doesn't heal me, and clean me (and I do have faith in Jesus' blood), and I do want to be healed (!!!) then how am I supposed to be effective at helping others to find Jesus? And wouldn't it just provide an awful testimony for others who witness what's going on?

We must want (agape love, treasure the light) to be healed / sanctified / made holy, to have purified consciences (Hebrews 9:13-15) to serve God:

John 5:6 - When Jesus saw him lying there and knew that he had already been there a long time, he said to him, Do you want to be healed? (ESV)

Yes, I want to be healed. Heal me, please, God, and please faithfully grant me the testimony of Jesus Christ through Your Holy Spirit, the testimony which says that Jesus Christ has come into the world in the flesh.

AMEN!!

The situation I find myself in is incredibly unjust. The very least that God can and should do in my honest opinion is speak to me clearly and give me the promised testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit. I do not think it's good in any way to continue allowing me to be harassed by demons, especially while withholding the testimony. It's been a very long time under these conditions, and a massive spiritual battle, and quite frankly I'm very sick of it. There's nothing righteous about God holding me in this situation like this for such a long time when I have given Him everything. God has to fulfill His promises, and this situation He has put me in is hell. It's just not right to continue withholding the testimony. I refuse to be forced to remain in this corrupt world, especially while under such heavy demonic oppression, especially while God is withholding the testimony of Jesus from His Holy Spirit. I expect so much more from God. It feels to me like the relationship I have with God is an abusive relationship.

2.38 Journal <2025-09-01 Mon>

There is some evil spirit that has a record of attacking me daily, especially in the mornings and today was no exception. I have to try to avoid thinking about my present situation. And God didn't speak to me, but I received more demonic dreams, sleep interruption and this defilement attacking my soul today.

I am very much against the evil spirits which have been attacking me, and I'm pro-Jesus, pro-holiness, pro-God, pro-repentance. But I'm extremely disappointed at God for allowing me to be attacked by demons, and I do not understand at all why He can allow such things but withhold speaking to me Himself, withholding the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit.

Specifically, one dream I had was of one of the YA leaders, a guy at a church I formerly attended having "transitioned" and had woman's breasts. So I've been under attack by an LGBT demon. That is one thing which has been attacking me. And I rebuke that evil spirit in Jesus Christ's name. In my soul, especially when I lie down or sit down, and especially at night, I feel a some spiritual defilement which manifests physically. And it doesn't help me in any way that at the same time I'm experiencing isolation, slander, unjust prejudice in finding work, and demons preventing me from marriage, and also demons spreading heresy in the churches and also being in a world full of unlawful AI stuff with almost everyone embracing it, my old self crucified but forced to integrate into the world system or face the consequences, etc. I feel like my life is a living hell where there is nowhere to go and where Jesus Christ Himself seems to have abandoned me as well, Himself promising me He has not abandoned me and that His Holy Spirit will testify of Him, but seemingly not following through with that.

All that antichrist spirit which has been at work trying to destroy me, I rebuke in Jesus Christ's name. Hallelujah.

What is going on regarding the spiritual attack I'm receiving is not OK, and I repeat what I said yesterday, the relationship I have with God feels like an abusive relationship [where God considers me collateral/ expendable] and just plain ignores me while I strive for faith and obedience and to please Him. I feel like my soul is very damaged now, and it currently feels irreparable because even though I have faith in Jesus, and I try to keep His commandments, and I want to be cleaned I feel like God has not cleaned me, but rather allows me to be harassed by demons, and this demonic harassment has felt like a very corrupting influence. There is something very not right about what has been going on.

But the worst part of it, is it feels like God doesn't want to even show Himself to be with me to comfort me through the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit direct to my mind/heart/soul. I just don't understand that, and I'm going to record without deceit what is going on here. The Scripture says things which I'm learning about, and which I trust and I'm also recording my experiences.

Hmm... <2025-09-03 Wed> But God has led people to me that I can make testimony to. I trust in God that He knows what is going on. I believe that God is good and that all things will work together for good. I love God and I've just been afraid because the spiritual attack has been very intense. I believe God's still taking care of me and I will try to resist sin as I wait for Jesus.

Our Heavenly Father and our Lord Jesus Christ, and Holy Spirit, Jehovah, Yahweh, Almighty God, God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. Hallowed be Your name. Your kingdom come, Your will be done on earth as it is done in heaven. Give us today our daily bread and forgive us of our trespasses as we forgive/have forgiven those who have trespassed against us. And lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil. Please heal us, protect us and give us the promised testimony. Please fix my life because it feels so damaged now, and my conscience feels stuffed up and not repairable, and I blame it on having been attacked by demons for an extremely long time without deliverance, but while asking You for deliverance. Please deliver me for Your name's sake, and heal me. I don't want to be in this world any longer. I want to be healed. I want to be delivered. I want You to speak to me. Yours is the kingdom, the power and the glory forever and ever, in Jesus Christ's name, I ask and pray. AMEN!!

I trusting God to take care of my soul. I'm very concerned about what is happening to me. I feel spiritually sick. I don't know what the tinglish on my tongue is. I don't know why there is a burning warmth in my belly, a tightness in my chest, the movements, tingling and spontaneous arousal is. I don't know why my dreams are invaded by demons daily. I don't know I have been afflicted daily and nightly with terrible trials and demonic oppression/harassment. But I want it to stop in the mighty name of Jesus Christ. Please, LORD God, clean me with Your precious blood, I ask, AMEN!!

I want to be healed.

I want to be clean. God I was happy when I was born-again 3 years ago. I felt so spiritually clean and new, reborn, and alive from the dead. Now I feel alive from the dead but unclean! Jesus Christ help me!

I want to be able to learn this song:

Revelation of John 14:2-3 - And I heard a voice from heaven like the roar of many waters and like the sound of loud thunder. The voice I heard was like the sound of harpists playing on their harps, and they were singing a new song before the throne and before the four living creatures and before the elders. No one could learn that song except the 144,000 who had been redeemed from the earth. (ESV)

I want to feel close to Jesus again. I don't want to die.

2.39 Journal <2025-09-03 Wed>

Journal entry <2025-09-03 Wed> In the morning I woke up with a dream which said I'm baptized into John Timothy (yeah, it was John Timothy). But unreliable because no confession that Jesus Christ has come into the world in the flesh! So a total write-off. And besides, I'm baptized into Christ! And some very clearly demonic dreams too, and more spiritual attack too. There was a dream of me crushing a brother's first two fingers. Totally demonic dreams I have been getting. I've been getting a lot of demonic harassment. I'm only trusting Scripture and if I were to trust a dream or vision, then it must come with the testimony that Jesus Christ has come into the world in the flesh. I have not heard it.

I Corinthians 1:10-15 - I appeal to you, brothers, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you agree and that there be no divisions among you, but that you be united in the same mind and the same judgment. For it has been reported to me by Chloe's people that there is quarreling among you, my brothers. What I mean is that each one of you says, I follow Paul, or I follow Apollos, or I follow Cephas, or I follow Christ. Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Or were you baptized in the name of Paul? I thank God that I baptized none of you except Crispus and Gaius, so that no one may say that you were baptized in my name. (ESV)

I commented on this video today <2025-09-03 Wed> as well:

youtube.com: Being a Single Christian {and How To Deal With It} {@itsjameycarrington}

Speaking the truth in love, and for posterity. I actually think this view that a man does not have a right to take a wife is wrong. Believing men have a right to take a believing wife, just not whoever they want. It's a God-given right, though, for a believing man to take a believing wife! God has given human beings rights. One of these rights is to become a child of God through faith in Jesus (John 1:12-13), for example. That means we have the right to keep Christ's commandments and no one has the right to deny a believer in Jesus the right to a) put a stop to sin, b) love your family in Christ (including forgiving them), and c) practice righteousness because that's how Apostle John describes children of God. We have a right to marry (I Corinthians 9:3-14) but not whoever we want, because a wife is a gift: People may not make use of their rights and decide to not marry for the sake of the Kingdom (Luke 18:29-30, Matthew 19:12). So it would be evil for the government to make it illegal for a man to take a wife (I Timothy 4:1-3). In fact, making it impossible for a person to marry has the potential to be destructive to a person, if it pushes them into defiling passion then it can damage the person's soul (I Peter 2:11, Colossians 2:20-23, 3:1-6).

If we want to start a family then we should have the fear of God and ask God. A wife is a gift from God:

Exodus 1:20-21 - So God dealt well with the midwives. And the people multiplied and grew very strong. And because the midwives feared God, he gave them families. (ESV)

Matthew 7:9-12 - Or which one of you, if his son asks him for bread, will give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, will give him a serpent? If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things to those who ask him! So whatever you wish that others would do to you, do also to them, for this is the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)

Even though I believe what I've written on Jamey's youtube channel video, I would still not venture to test God with regards to renegeing on my commitment I have made to renege on the marriage proposal. I am committed for the sake of the kingdom to renege on the marriage proposal. I want to be cleaned up and sanctified and delivered from evil.

When I pray to God for deliverance, it's not deliverance from having a criminal conviction - let me make that expressly clear. I want peaceful sleep, a peaceful soul, deliverance from demonic oppression, and I want to be able to work. But I do not want to undo the criminal conviction.

I'm trusting in Jesus and I want to remain faithful to Jesus.

We trust Jesus (Yeshua), so we accept and treasure His words, so we trust in Him and obey Him out of trust and He is our strength, and song and Yahweh becomes our salvation. In trusting Jesus (Yeshua) we trust Jehovah (Yahweh) who has sent Jesus (Yeshua). It's Jesus Christ who saves us. It's Yahweh who saves us:

Isaiah 12:1-3 - You will say in that day: I will give thanks to you, O LORD (3068. Yhvh), for though you were angry with me, your anger turned away, that you might comfort me. Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust (982. batach), and will not be afraid; for the LORD GOD (3068. Yhvh) is my strength (5797. oz) and my song (2176. zimrath), and he has become my salvation (3444. yeshuah). With joy (8342. sason) you will draw water (4325. mayim) from the wells of salvation. (ESV)

John 7:37-39 - On the last day of the feast, the great day, Jesus stood up and cried out, If anyone thirsts (1372. dipsaó), let him come to me and drink (4095. pinó). Whoever believes (4100. pisteuó) in me, as the Scripture has said, Out of his heart will flow rivers of living water. Now this he said about the Spirit, whom those who believed in him were to receive, for as yet the Spirit had not been given, because Jesus was not yet glorified. (ESV)

Psalms 118:14-29 - The LORD is my strength and my song; he has become my salvation. Glad songs of salvation are in the tents of the righteous: The right hand of the LORD does valiantly, the right hand of the LORD exalts, the right hand of the LORD does valiantly! I shall not die, but I shall live, and recount the deeds of the LORD. The LORD has disciplined me severely, but he has not given me over to death. Open to me the gates of righteousness, that I may enter through them and give thanks to the LORD. This is the gate of the LORD; the righteous shall enter through it. I thank you that you have answered me and have become my salvation. The stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone. This is the LORD's doing; it is marvelous in our eyes. This is the day that the LORD has made; let us rejoice and be glad in it. Save us, we pray, O LORD! O LORD, we pray, give us success! Blessed is he who comes in the name of the LORD! We bless you from the house of the LORD. The LORD is God, and he has made his light to shine upon us. Bind the festal sacrifice with cords, up to the horns of the altar! You are my God, and I will give thanks to you; you are my God; I will extol you. Oh give thanks to the LORD, for he is good; for his steadfast love endures forever! (ESV)

2.40 Journal <2025-09-04 Thu>

I had an improved day today.

After going to sleep, I don't recall any times waking up during the night. But I was awoken at a reasonable time this morning but under a bit of spiritual attack (feeling it in my body) and just after having a dream of me on the beach with the Beatles' singer John Lennon asking me if I wanted to join him for a beer and to listen to a mixtape of Paperback Writer, or something, and in the dream I said yes, and someone, him I think said, "Yay."

I woke up and I felt under spiritual attack. I still rebuked this dream and rebuked the spiritual attack I was receiving.

Don't get me wrong, the Beatles were talented musicians and in the past I would overindulge in listening to them, but I'm in spiritual warfare and I'm trying to keep my focus on heavenly things rather than earthly things.

God have mercy.

And during the day I have received a fair amount of spiritual attack too. It occurred to me during the day that John Lennon had that anti-religion song.

I'm not against Christian "religion", but see it still as a "guardian" or tutor, kinda like the old Law in that when a person is born-again and regenerate and radically transformed by the gospel, God's work pushes the envelope and religion can be a straitjacket. We need a personal relationship with Christ and for Holy Spirit to teach us and to be obedient and faithful to God, keeping His commandments not in pretense but in truth.

Galatians 3:24-27 - So then, the law was our guardian until Christ came, in order that we might be justified by faith. But now that faith has come, we are no longer under a guardian, for in Christ Jesus you are all sons of God, through faith. For as many of you as were baptized into Christ have put on Christ. (ESV)

Galatians 4:1-7 - I mean that the heir, as long as he is a child, is no different from a slave, though he is the owner of everything, but he is under guardians and managers until the date set by his father. In the same way we also, when we were children, were enslaved to the elementary principles of the world. But when the fullness of time had come, God sent forth his Son, born of woman, born under the law, to redeem those who were under the law, so that we might receive adoption as sons. And because you are sons, God has sent the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, crying, Abba! Father! So you are no longer a slave, but a son, and if a son, then an heir through God. (ESV)

But overall I think it has been an improvement today where I was feeling stronger and ruling over sin. I still have to be discerning and go by the Scripture.

During the day I went to the University and thought about now being light in the Lord Jesus, it being "day", God being our day, and I should be working the works of Him who sent Jesus Christ while it is day, and before I was born-again, it was "night". I think that I should do a Bible study on that and find passages about it.

Psalms 84:11 - For the LORD God is a sun and shield; the LORD bestows favor and honor. No good thing does he withhold from those who walk uprightly. (ESV)

In heaven there is no more night ever:

Revelation of John 22:5 - And night will be no more. They will need no light of lamp or sun, for the Lord God will be their light, and they will reign forever and ever. (ESV)

Isaiah 60:19-20 - The sun shall be no more your light by day, nor for brightness shall the moon give you light; but the LORD will be your everlasting light, and your God will be your glory. Your sun shall no more go down, nor your moon withdraw itself; for the LORD will be your everlasting light, and your days of mourning shall be ended. (ESV)

2.41 Journal <2025-09-04 Thu 21:17>

My citizenship is in heaven.

Just as I was lying down with my eyes closed, a picture appeared in my mind of a New Zealand passport (with a Maori graphic its the cover) lodged in the branches of a tree the forest just down the road from the house where I live.

And I thought to myself... I remember a few years ago before I was born-again when I was camping in the woods down the road with an Alice in Wonderland book... And around about that time I had been thinking about what Jack had said about maybe NZ being Eden (that is, God's garden).

I don't really believe that NZ is literally the original Garden of Eden. But I believe God does take care of His world.

Ezekiel 36:35-36 - And they will say, This land that was desolate has become like the garden of Eden, and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are now fortified and inhabited. Then the nations that are left all around you shall know that I am the LORD; I have rebuilt the ruined places and replanted that which was desolate. I am the LORD; I have spoken, and I will do it. (ESV)

John 6:33-34 - For the bread of God is he who comes down from heaven and gives life to the world. They said to him, Sir, give us this bread always. (ESV)

blog.tepapa.govt.nz: Alice in Aotearoa | Te Papa's Blog 'I wonder if I shall fall right through the earth! How funny it'll seem to come out among the people that walk with their heads downwards! The Antipathies, I think ... I shall have to ask them what the name of the country is, you know. Please, Ma'am, is this New Zealand or Australia?'

But I believe that my citizenship is in heaven, not on earth.

Sure, I'm a citizen of the kingdom of heaven which has a presence on earth, but I'm a citizen of heaven and I await a Saviour from heaven who will transform my lower body to be like His glorious body.

Luke 11:2 - And he said to them, When you pray, say: Father, hallowed be your name. Your kingdom come. (ESV)

Philippians 3:8-21 - Indeed, I count everything as loss because of the surpassing worth of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For his sake I have suffered the loss of all things and count them as rubbish, in order that I may gain Christ and be found in him, not having a righteousness of my own that comes from the law, but that which comes through faith in Christ, the righteousness from God that depends on faith— that I may know him and the power of his resurrection, and may share his sufferings, becoming like him in his death, that by any means possible I may attain the resurrection from the dead. Not that I have already obtained this or am already perfect, but I press on to make it my own, because Christ Jesus has made me his own. Brothers, I do not consider that I have made it my own. But one thing I do: forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus. Let those of us who are mature think this way, and if in anything you think otherwise, God will reveal that also to you. Only let us hold true to what we have attained. Brothers, join in imitating me, and keep your eyes on those who walk according to the example you have in us. For many, of whom I have often told you and now tell you even with tears, walk as enemies of the cross of Christ. Their end is destruction, their god is their belly, and they glory in their shame, with minds set on earthly things. But our citizenship is in heaven, and from it we await a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ, who will transform our lowly body to be like his glorious body, by the power that enables him even to subject all things to himself. There has been an evil spirit which has been slandering me and I rebuke it in the mighty name of Jesus Christ.

<2025-09-06 Sat> Just clarifying What I'm talking about, though, is something that has been ongoing, and I noticed something new yesterday. It honestly feels like fighting a hydra - taking out one head and pops up, or a game of whackamole, or cat and mouse there is a spirit working through people, constantly trying to propagate lies. Sometimes it looks like a spirit of unforgiveness. Other times it looks like a schism spirit. Other times it's just clearly pitting obedience up against faith. Other times it manifests as pressure to be saved by works. I know with are saved by faith in Jesus Christ, that is the love of the truth in the heart; faith, love, obedience and actually the doing of God's commandments in the heart. I know that sounds abstract because it is, but it's still real.

I'm so sick and tired of this life. I hate being here so much. I hate being harassed by demons. I got harassed during my sleep again today.

I've done some praying. I've done some despairing.

I've done some questioning. Why has Jesus Christ withheld from me the testimony from Holy Spirit? Why do other so-called Christians not even give it to me?

At the end of the day, I saw this and I commented on it:

youtube.com: OpenAI EXPOSES jobs plan at White House {@realchris}

A comment I left on it: "If the governments force/coerce people to use AI on the job, it's pressuring people to endorse their theft and indoctrinate people to lie to others and prop up this giant golden calf AGI/ASI stuff, and trying to get people to think in terms of it, rather than take every thought into obedience to Christ Jesus. These people are trying to push this AI stuff into every facet of our lives. Come, Lord Jesus, please God get me out of here. I'm so sick of the injustice, the greed, the transhumanism, and the persecution for wanting to live righteously. I hate being in this world. God get me out of it I pray."

I don't have any desire to be here in this world. I've separated from idolators.

Why do the sexually immoral, and the idolators keep crossing paths with me? Why, during all of this, does God withhold the I John testimony.

I'm sick of being treated being mistreated. I feel very mistreated by God.

Almighty God, Father son and Holy Spirit, Jehovah, Yahweh, God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, Yeshua Hamashiach, Jesus Christ, Son of God, deliver me please God, from the demonic oppression in Jesus Christ's name.

I rebuke spiritual prison I have found myself in. I rebuke it in the Mighty name of Jesus Christ.

I rebuke the anti-marriage spirit in Jesus Christ's name. I rebuke the pro-abortion spirit in Jesus Christ's name. I rebuke the spirit of disobedience which has been causing Christians to not obey Jesus Christ to support their family in Christ. I rebuke every antichrist spirit including the spirit of Islam and the spirit of Hinduism and the spirit of LGBT, and the spirit of transhumanism all in the name of Jesus Christ. In the Mighty name of Jesus Christ, Jehovah, Yahweh I rebuke every spirit which does not agree with the person, work, commandments and doctrines of Jesus Christ. AMEN!!

<2025-09-06 Sat> Also, I rebuke that false-Christ spirit in mighty name of Jesus Christ.

I commented: Here's some Bible verses to think about.

Psalms 115:3-8 - Our God is in the heavens; he does all that he pleases. Their idols are silver and gold, the work of human hands. They have mouths, but do not speak; eyes, but do not see. They have ears, but do not hear; noses, but do not smell. They have hands, but do not feel; feet, but do not walk; and they do not make a sound in their throat. Those who make them become like them; so do all who trust in them. (ESV)

Revelation of John 13:15-18 - And it was allowed to give breath to the image of the beast, so that the image of the beast might even speak and might cause those who would not worship the image of the beast to be slain. Also it causes all, both small and great, both rich and poor, both free and slave, to be marked on the right hand or the forehead, so that no one can buy or sell unless he has the mark, that is, the name of the beast or the number of its name. This calls for wisdom: let the one who has understanding calculate the number of the beast, for it is the number of a man, and his number is 666. (ESV)

Revelation of John 18:2 - And he called out with a mighty voice, Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great! She has become a dwelling place for demons, a haunt for every unclean spirit, a haunt for every unclean bird, a haunt for every unclean and detestable beast. (ESV)

I just think we need to take Christ's teachings and commandments seriously and not fear the AI stuff, but rather have faith in, love and obey God, and fear God, abiding in Jesus' teachings and commandments. We should go all-in with Jesus.

Quote by John Piper So if I were to put a title on this message it would be "No neutrality. [There is] nothing in-between for and against (i.e. there are only two options: for and against) - No neutrality. If you're not for Him, [then] Jesus says you're against Him.

And I can imagine a person coming into this room and saying, "I'm not against Jesus. I don't even think about Jesus most of the time."

To which I would respond, "You need to think about what you just said, because to be against Jesus is to be against his purpose for your life, and his purpose for your life does not mean you should spend 99% of your time not thinking about him. That's not his purpose"

Still getting hit extremely hard with demonic attacks throughout the night especially. Something even gave me the sensation that my head was being stroked in the morning. Weird stuff.

youtube.com: CHRISTIANS URGENT MESSAGE! PLEASE WATCH { @sydneyhedge1

I commented on this video, "As children of light, holding our faith in Jesus, we anticipate the day of the Lord. Because we are walking in faith, love and holiness, even though the day of the Lord will come like a thief in the night, it will not surprise us like a thief (we'll be ready). It would be like hearing some news and saying "that doesn't surprise me", even though you only just heard the news and only just found out. It doesn't surprise us because we're walking in the love of the truth. The Word of God says that we don't know the day or the hour. That's the truth. So a person who claims they do isn't agreeing with the truth."

I Thessalonians 5:2-10 - For you yourselves are fully aware that the day of the Lord will come like a thief in the night.

While people are saying, There is peace and security, then sudden destruction will come upon them as labor pains come upon a pregnant woman, and they will not escape. But you are not in darkness, brothers, for that day to surprise you like a thief. For you are all children of light, children of the day. We are not of the night or of the darkness. So then let us not sleep, as others do, but let us keep awake and be sober. For those who sleep, sleep at night, and those who get drunk, are drunk at night. But since we belong to the day, let us be sober, having put on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet the hope of salvation. For God has not destined us for wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us so that whether we are awake or asleep we might live with him. (ESV)

Luke 21:34-36 - But watch yourselves lest your hearts be weighed down with dissipation and drunkenness and cares of this life, and that day come upon you suddenly like a trap. For it will come upon all who dwell on the face of the whole earth. But stay awake at all times, praying that you may have strength to escape all these things that are going to take place, and to stand before the Son of Man. (ESV)

2.43.1 bird song

Blobbering out today, played some games. Someone on SC2 asked me, "What is the best song?" I responded "bird song". Someone else said, "Lovely" in response. And the first person asked again "Is that a Billie Eilish song?" I didn't respond.

And I was just outside right now and saw the Kowhai tree and there was some really nice bird song.

2.43.2 I want to be clean

I don't know what it is that's been happening to me. I'm trying to resist temptation to sin. I want to be healed and feeling clean and holy - that's priority #1 right now. I definitely would not enter into a relationship with anyone under the present circumstances. My situation feels so messed up. It's unbelievable stuff. I'd love it if God spoke clearly to me and gave me the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit.

2.44 Journal <2025-09-07 Sun>

More harassment during the night and in the morning. I'm very sick of it.

So this morning I get a picture of "DadJesus" as a SC2 player name. And I just remember thinking, that's still not the confession which I'm waiting for. And I rebuke the harassing spirit interrupting my sleep. Then I get a picture of "Lucifer" as a SC2 player name. And I wake up and rebuke it in the name of Jesus Christ.

And then a strange dream between me and a Muslim trying to tell me to rub a cork and me saying I'm not superstitious, and that it's more difficult to correct a mistake or something. These dreams I'm getting are demonic.

And then I got another picture of the name of one of the YA members of the old church I used to go to, and I prayed for them. If I recall correctly, I prayed that God would protect them. I'll pray again.

1 Dear Heavenly Father and my Lord Jesus Christ, and Holy Spirit,
2 Jehovah, Almighty God,
3 please, LORD, protect this person, and be close to them,
4 and lead them on paths of righteousness for Your sake.
5 In Jesus Christ's name, I ask,
6 AMEN!!

And in Jesus Christ's name I rebuke the demonic harassment which has been causing me sleep disruption. And in Jesus Christ's name I rebuke those spirits which have been preventing me from taking a wife and from getting work.

So I believe that Jesus, (Yeshua, Joshua) is one of God's names, Jesus being God the Son of God, and Father God having given Jesus His own name which belongs to Him (to Father God):

As it says on the GotQuestions website The name Jesus, announced to Joseph and Mary through the angels (Matthew 1:21; Luke 1:31), means "Yahweh saves" or "Yahweh is salvation." Transliterated from Hebrew and Aramaic, the name is Yeshua. This word is a combination of Ya, an abbreviation for Yahweh, the name of Israel's God (Exodus 3:14); and the verb yasha, meaning "rescue," "deliver," or "save."

Jesus (Yeshua, Iēsous) and Jehovah (Yahweh) all refer to God's name (onoma).

I have a section here on theology to do with God's name: semiosis.github.io: Thoughts on Faith and Judgement - Jehovah is Almighty God, Creator of Heaven and Earth

When I was born-again of the Spirit on 2 April 2022, I called out to Jesus to save me. Nothing has changed with regards to who is my Lord and Saviour and God and King.

Also, I'm still being persecuted and harassed regarding relationships, etc.

Gay marriage and homosexual relationships are inherently sinful and agape-loving the sin more than (or rather than) agape-loving Jesus leads to death.

John 3:19 - And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. (ESV)

Romans 6:22-23 - But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

We have to come to the love the Truth. The truth is Father God, the truth is Jesus Christ.

Age-gap marriage and relationships between consenting adults are not inherently sinful, as far as I understand.

A wife is a gift from God, and we can't take whoever we want. We can ask God for a wife.

And I rebuke that anti-marriage spirit in the Mighty name of Jesus Christ, Jehovah, Yahweh, God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. I rebuke that anti-marriage spirit in the Mighty name of God, I rebuke it.

I also rebuke every spirit of sinful sexual behaviour in Jesus Christ's name. I rebuke rape, adultery and fornication, incest, child abuse and animal abuse in Jesus Christ's name. I rebuke the sin and I rebuke the spirits endorsing the sin. I rebuke them in the mighty name of Jesus Christ.

As I was about to walk through the door of the Salvation Army today, a guy I had seen on the street referred to me as Rob, the name of my dad of the flesh (that is, my earthly dad), which was odd. I attended the Sunday service at the Salvation Army, there was a quiz on fathers in the Bible. For example, there were a couple of questions:

- Which of these 4 options was a son to David? And the answer was Solomon.
- Which of these 4 options was father to Jacob? And the answer was Isaac.

I quickly found out that it's actually Father's Day today when it was mentioned. Then the sermon was on Luke 15:11-32.

So it's obvious that what has happened today is clearly "spiritual" / "prophetic" in nature.

Anyway, I realised that I had missed one thing I want to rebuke today. I also rebuke the spirit of transhumanism in the mighty name of Jesus Christ. In the Mighty name of Jesus Christ's name I rebuke the spirit of substituting a spouse with a robot (or AI). In the Mighty name of Jesus Christ I rebuke the spirit of having a robot (or AI) for a spouse.

I also watched this. Great video. I'd like to go over this video more thoroughly and incorporate some of it into my Bible study document.

youtube.com: ? What the Bible REALLY Says About Women as Church Leaders {@Hea

I commented: Thank you. I am in essentially full agreement with this, and thanks for this. I'm recently born again and God has been teaching me and testing me. I love how you talked about how women have calling to teach the children. And I learned a lot from this video. However 1 tiny thing I'd like to say is that I believe that women in the Lord may be considered to be "sons" of God. The Biblical basis for this is... Just because a woman person may have an identity in Christ as a son of God (as Paul says neither male nor female), this transcendent reality is not a reason to pervert the natural order of things regarding natural gender. Paul is certainly not endorsing LGBT, etc. or same-sex marriage, and certainly not endorsing that slaves should not submit to their earthly master (Titus 2:9-10). Interestingly, I think Jesus is implying by saying that the sons of this age marry and 'are given' (women are given) in marriage, that a woman may be considered a "son of this age", and it really gets me thinking about what that word 'son' is being used to mean. It's not a natural gender thing:

Luke 20:33-36 - In the resurrection, therefore, whose wife will the woman be? For the seven had her as wife. And Jesus said to them, The sons of this age marry and 'are given' (women are given) in marriage, but those who are considered worthy to attain to that age and to the resurrection from the dead neither marry nor are given in marriage, for they cannot die anymore, because they are equal to angels and are sons of God, being sons of the resurrection. (ESV)

DONE!

Titus 2:9-10 - Slaves are to be submissive to their own masters in everything; they are to be well-pleasing, not argumentative, not pilfering, but showing all good faith, so that in everything they may adorn the doctrine of God our Savior. (ESV) youtube.com: "Jesus Is the Only Answer." Tucker Carlson Responds to Charlie Kirk's A

Read Luke 6. I mean, you know, Jesus does not endorse violence, honestly, even in self-defense, he says. So, you know, people can grapple with that as they will, but that's that's what it says.

And so, I am totally opposed to violence. But that is the dividing line. It's not left or right, Republican, Democrat, trans, straight or whatever there. I mean, there's an effort to recast this as a different kind of contest between worldviews.

It's no, the dividing line is do you think God exists or do you think you are God? And it's that simple. It has always been that simple. It will never change. And I think our souls are at stake. I really, really believe that. I think Jesus is the only answer.

Just with Tucker's last comments here, I really think it's more than just believing that God exists, but also trusting Him and loving Him. But I hope that is what Tucker was trying to articulate here.

Jesus is our life. God must be our first love:

Mark 8:35 - For whoever would save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake and the gospel's will save it. (ESV)

I John 5:12 - Whoever has the Son has life; whoever does not have the Son of God does not have life. (ESV)

Deuteronomy 30:20 - loving the LORD your God, obeying his voice and holding fast to him, for he is your life and length of days, that you may dwell in the land that the LORD swore to your fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to give them. (ESV)

Colossians 3:4 - When Christ who is your life appears, then you also will appear with him in glory. (ESV)

That's what I would say, that the dividing line is between:

- faith in God, or faith in self or something else in preference to God
 - Psalms 146:3 - Put not your trust in princes, in mortal man, who cannot save. (engbsb2020eb)
 - II Corinthians 4:3 - And even if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled only to those who are perishing. (ESV)
 - I Cor 1:18,21,27 - For the word of the cross is folly to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God. For since, in the wisdom of God, the world did not know God through wisdom, it pleased God through the folly of what we preach to save those who believe. But God chose what is foolish in the world to shame the wise; God chose what is weak in the world to shame the strong; (ESV)
- fear of God, or no fear of God,
 - Proverbs 14:26 - In the fear of the LORD one has strong confidence, and his children will have a refuge. (ESV)
 - Romans 3:15-18 - Their feet are swift to shed blood; in their paths are ruin and misery, and the way of peace they have not known. There is no fear of God before their eyes. (ESV)
- valuing God, or not valuing Him,

- Matthew 6:19-20 - Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy and where thieves break in and steal, but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal. (ESV)
- loving God, or loving darkness,
 - John 3:19 - And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. (ESV)
 - I Corinthians 16:22 - If anyone has no love for the Lord, let him be accursed. Our Lord, come! (ESV)
- trusting God, or not trusting Him,
 - Proverbs 28:26 - Whoever trusts in his own mind is a fool, but he who walks in wisdom will be delivered. (ESV)
 - Jeremiah 8:9 - The wise men shall be put to shame; they shall be dismayed and taken; behold, they have rejected the word of the LORD, so what wisdom is in them? (ESV)
- holding confidence in God or not holding confidence in God,
 - II Corinthians 3:4-5 - Such is the confidence that we have through Christ toward God. Not that we are sufficient in ourselves to claim anything as coming from us, but our sufficiency is from God, (ESV)
 - Philippians 3:3 - For we are the real circumcision, who worship by the Spirit of God and glory in Christ Jesus and put no confidence in the flesh— (ESV)
- obeying God or obeying sin
 - Romans 6:16 - Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? (ESV)

I'm cherry-picking that part of Charlie's message because fighting for country is outside the scope, in my opinion, of man's ultimate duty and allegiance.

youtube.com: I Offend EVERYONE With The Truth About Modern Dating Culture In

The ultimate thing should be loving God, loving people and raising children in a society that follows God's commands against the culture, not in consistency with the culture, to stand on my opinion (base our opinion) on eternal truths.

And fighting for the country doesn't mean killing. Fighting for the country could mean supporting one-another, working etc..

God, I'm tired of being here in this world being forced into isolation, and being forced to cross paths with people who profess satanic beliefs.

Throughout the night last night, I received huge amounts of spiritual attack, waking up to evil dreams pushed into my head, and then receiving spirit spouse stuff in the day arousing my body and tempting me.

I believe that theosis is coming into agreement with the Truth more and more, speaking/confessing the same Jesus, and becoming more and more Christlike and never detaching from Christ who is our head (Colossians 2:19).

John 13:13-18 - You call me Teacher and Lord, and you are right, for so I am. If I then, your Lord and Teacher, have washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another's feet. For I have given you an example, that you also should do just as I have done to you. Truly, truly, I say to you, a servant is not greater than his master, nor is a messenger greater than the one who sent him. If you know these things, blessed are you if you do them. I am not speaking of all of you; I know whom I have chosen. But the Scripture will be fulfilled, He who ate my bread has lifted his heel against me. (ESV)

John 15:15-20 - No longer do I call you servants, for the servant does not know what his master is doing; but I have called you friends, for all that I have heard from my Father I have made known to you. You did not choose me, but I chose you and appointed you that you should go and bear fruit and that your fruit should abide, so that whatever you ask the Father in my name, he may give it to you. These things I command you, so that you will love one another. If the world hates you, know that it has hated me before it hated you. If you were of the world, the world would love you as its own; but because you are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hates you. Remember the word that I said to you: A servant is not greater than his master. If they persecuted me, they will also persecute you. If they kept my word, they will also keep yours. (ESV)

For all that God has done and has been doing for me, I thank Him. He is good. Yeshua, Jesus Christ, the Only-Begotten Son of God, died on a tree for me, and He rose again from the dead. Jesus bought me with His own blood. Thank You Lord Jesus Christ. Thank You Jehovah, Yahweh. Thank You, Father Son and Holy Spirit. May God help me to live in a way that pleases Him.

Please continue sanctifying me, God, in Jesus Christ's name, I ask, AMEN!!

Luke 17:10 - So you also, when you have done all that you were commanded, say, We are unworthy servants; we have only done what was our duty. (ESV)

God knows how many ages there are and God knows the day Jesus comes for us:

Isaiah 45:17 - But Israel will be saved by the LORD with an everlasting salvation; you will not be put to shame or humiliated, to ages everlasting. (engbsb2020eb)

Isaiah 45:17 - Israel hath been saved in Jehovah, A salvation age-during! Ye are not ashamed nor confounded Unto the ages of eternity! (YLT)

Matthew 24:36 - 'And concerning that day and the hour no one hath known—not even the messengers of the heavens—except my Father only; (YLT)

Matthew 24:42-44 - Therefore, stay awake, for you do not know on what day your Lord is coming. But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what part of the night the thief was coming, he would have stayed awake and would not have let his house be broken into. Therefore you also must be ready, for the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect. (ESV)

John 3:8 - The wind blows where it wishes, and you hear its sound, but you do not know where it comes from or where it goes. So it is with everyone who is born of the Spirit. (ESV)

In all likelihood the eschatology of the tribulation and rapture happens at the end of the age. How many ages are there? I simply do not know. Just the next one? Perhaps. More? Perhaps.

Just because I consider that God may or may not have more ages left, that doesn't mean I want to be here as a part of it. I don't. I just see this as a fork in the road. This age is wrapping up from what I can tell.

I don't want to stay here. I wholeheartedly believe that God can take me out of this world if it's His will. I'm begging God to just get me out of here. The spiritual warfare has been so intense. I don't have a desire to be here anymore. Marriage as a possibility was, in my view robbed from me, and no longer an option.

Luke 17:10 - So you also, when you have done all that you were commanded, say, We are unworthy servants; we have only done what was our duty. (ESV)

We are saved by grace through faith, faith which God has commanded of us. Amen! Please, God, deliver me.

I've given my all for Jesus. I'm so tired and want to go home. I feel like there is so much spiritual darkness trying to force me to remain in this world. I've been born-again of the spirit. I don't want to stay here in this world. I don't belong in this world. God is good all the time. But it feels like I'm constantly receiving the opposite of what I ask for in prayer. There's some adversarial thing just constantly opposing sanctification and faith and trying to keep me in the world. I believe that rapture is imminent but that we should be walking in faith, love and holiness, abiding in Jesus' commandments, walking in the light, remaining faithful to Jesus, to be ready for rapture. God have mercy and let me not stay here on the earth. I'm so sick of it. I actually refuse to remain here. Jesus said about the sons of this age that they marry and are given in marriage. But sons of the resurrection neither marry nor are given in marriage. I've been spiritually resurrected. These certainly seem like Luke 21 times. I believe that God can absolutely rapture me. I don't believe we know the day or the hour it will happen. But I believe that it could happen at any time. Jesus Christ get me out of here. There's so much deception. I refuse to stay here. The church I just went to today was preaching against rapture. What I'm personally experiencing in my day to day is just so adversarial. There's so much deception in all the churches I've attended recently. I believe I'm a son of the resurrection. I'm not a son of this age, and it's an evil generation in my view.

Oh yeah and I believe that Jesus died on a tree and rose from the dead. His blood paid the price for me to be completely set free from sin. Jesus paid the price for me to be redeemed, spirit, and body. Jesus is Jehovah the Son of God. Jesus is Yahweh. We are unworthy servants. I've only endeavoured to my duty. I love God. I love Jesus. I'm trusting in Jesus' Christ's blood to be set free. It's Jesus' blood alone that can deal with my sin problem. I love my family in Christ. I endeavour to love my neighbour as myself. God knows I try to please Him. The evil that has come against me has seemed very defiling. May God take pity on me and deliver me from this world. May God sanctify me completely. May God speak to me please to give me the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit confessing that Jesus Christ has come into the world in the flesh, direct to me. Please pray for me. I've been under so much spiritual attack. I was born-again of the spirit on 2 April 2022. I've literally seen my regenerated spirit and I called out to Jesus to save me. I don't want to be here. I refuse to remain here.

2.49 Journal <2025-09-14 Sun>

I'm really concerned about my sanctification. I'm really concerned about what's been going on, what's been happening to me. Jesus Christ, don't let me die. Why in Jesus Christ's name, in Yahweh's name, in Jehovah's name, why has the testimony of Jesus Christ not been given to me from Holy Spirit? Why, God? I don't understand how a person can get corrupted while they are trusting in Jesus Christ. It makes no sense to me. I don't understand how giving up everything for Jesus could bring on such spiritual oppression. I don't understand why God has allowed me to be oppressed by such evil stuff, terrorised by demons for such a long time. All the while, not speaking to me clearly, and allowing demons to harass me. Jesus Christ help me. For Your name's sake God please deliver me from evil and clean me, and speak to me clearly. In Jesus Christ's name, in Yeshua's name, I ask Father God to speak to me and deliver me from evil.

Dear Heavenly Father and my Lord Jesus Christ and Holy Spirit, Jehovah, Almighty God, deliver me from evil in Jesus Christ's name, I ask, and speak to me and give me the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit. Heal me, God. AMEN!!

2.50 Journal <2025-09-15 Mon>

I actually don't remember much of dreams last night, but this morning I got a dream which I believe was adversarial/satanic, and masquerading with the face of an old friend. And as much as I love my old friend (of the flesh) it was literally anti-rapture, anti-"what I'm praying to God and hoping in God for". I just believe that it's satanic. What I experienced yesterday was far worse. Yesterday I had these sickening demonic dreams/visions. As I sit here I feel this defilement attacking my mind and soul.

Whatever rapture looks like, it certainly involves faith in Jesus Christ, and trusting in God's word, rather than following the course of this world.

I just pray for my old friends, those who were my friends before God put a new spirit inside of me.

1 Dear Heavenly Father and my Lord Jesus Christ, and Holy Spirit,
2 Jehovah, Almighty God,
3 please, LORD God, help those who when I unregenerate had been my friends according
4 and to have faith in You, in Your word, in Your promises, and to not be led astray
5 Please help them to detach from the world and cling to You, God.
6 Open the eyes of the blind.
7 In Jesus Christ's name, I ask,
8 AMEN!!

Romans 9:3 - For I could wish that I myself were accursed and cut off from Christ for the sake of my brothers, my kinsmen according to the flesh. (ESV)

Romans 8:5-9 - For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. To set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God's law; indeed, it cannot. Those who are in the flesh cannot please God. You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. (ESV)

Romans 8:12 - So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh. (ESV)

Romans 8:13 - For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. (ESV)

It's obvious to me that as I endeavour to remain spiritually-minded, trusting in God's word, there is a very real spiritual resistance. In John 17 Jesus prays for His disciples, asking Father God, not that they would be taken from the world but that they would be kept from the evil one, and sanctified in the truth.

John 17:15-17 - I do not ask that you take them out of the world, but that you keep them from the evil one. They are not of the world, just as I am not of the world. Sanctify them in the truth; your word is truth. (ESV)

We do overcome the world as we are believing, trusting, hoping in Jesus Christ:

I John 5:5 - Who is it that overcomes the world except the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God? (ESV)

II John 1:7 - For many deceivers have gone out into the world, those who do not confess the coming of Jesus Christ in the flesh. Such a one is the deceiver and the antichrist. (ESV)

I John 5:19 - We know that we are from God, and the whole world lies in the power of the evil one. (ESV)

We want to be perfected in love as we are holding our faith in Jesus:

I John 4:17 - By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. (ESV)

The world hates us as we do this:

I John 3:13 - Do not be surprised, brothers, that the world hates you. (ESV)

But the world is passing away:

I John 2:17 - And the world is passing away along with its desires, but whoever does the will of God abides forever. (ESV)

But those believing in, trusting in, hoping in Jesus will live:

John 6:47 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes (G4100 pisteuōn, is believing, is trusting) has eternal life. (ESV)

John 6:57-58 - As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so whoever feeds on me, he also will live because of me. This is the bread that came down from heaven, not as the fathers ate and died. Whoever feeds on this bread will live forever. (ESV)

Those believing in, trusting in, hoping in Jesus will still see Him and live:

John 16:7-11 - Nevertheless, I tell you the truth: it is to your advantage that I go away, for if I do not go away, the Helper will not come to you. But if I go, I will send him to you. And when he comes, he will convict the world concerning sin and righteousness and judgment: concerning sin, because they do not believe in me; concerning righteousness, because I go to the Father, and you will see me no longer; concerning judgment, because the ruler of this world is judged. (ESV)

John 6:40 - For this is the will of my Father, that everyone who looks on the Son and believes in him should have eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. (ESV)

2.50.1 As we anticipate the day of redemption of our bodies, we should be actively serving God, serving Jesus Christ, with eyes of faith

As someone who has had their spirit redeemed (I've been spiritually regenerated), I now anticipate the coming of the Lord, the redemption of my body.

John 3:3 - Jesus answered him, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born again he cannot see the kingdom of God. (ESV)

Luke 9:27 - But I tell you truly, there are some standing here who will not taste death until they see the kingdom of God. (ESV)

If someone is not born-again of the spirit then they cant see the kingdom. They'll be thinking like the world, seeing things the way the world sees.

We should be walking in faith, love and holiness, seeking to please God, not buying what God has entrusted to us, but sowing in His Kingdom. We should be seeking the knowledge of Jesus Christ, abiding in His commandments, and walking by the spirit. We should "get on with it", and not be fearful.

Luke 21:28-31 - Now when these things begin to take place, straighten up and raise your heads, because your redemption is drawing near. And he told them a parable: Look at the fig tree, and all the trees. As soon as they come out in leaf, you see for yourselves and know that the summer is already near. So also, when you see these things taking place, you know that the kingdom of God is near. (ESV)

Matthew 25:1-46 - Then the kingdom of heaven will be like ten virgins who took their lamps and went to meet the bridegroom. Five of them were foolish, and five were wise. For when the foolish took their lamps, they took no oil with them, but the wise took flasks of oil with their lamps. As the bridegroom was delayed, they all became drowsy and slept. But at midnight there was a cry, Here is the bridegroom! Come out to meet him. Then all those virgins rose and trimmed their lamps. And the foolish said to the wise, Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out. But the wise answered, saying, Since there will not be enough for us and for you, go rather to the dealers and buy for yourselves. And while they were going to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the marriage feast, and the door was shut. Afterward the other virgins came also, saying, Lord, lord, open to us. But he answered, Truly, I say to you, I do not know you. Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour. For it will be like a man going on a journey, who called his servants and entrusted to them his property. To one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one, to each according to his ability. Then he went away. He who had received the five talents went at once and traded with them, and he made five talents more. So also he who had the two talents made two talents more. But he who had received the one talent went and dug in the ground and hid his master's money. Now after a long time the master of those servants came and settled accounts with them. And he who had received the five talents came forward, bringing five talents more, saying, Master, you delivered to me five talents; here I have made five talents more. His master said to him, Well done, good and faithful servant. You have been faithful over a little; I will set you over much. Enter into the joy of your master. And he also who had the two talents came forward, saying, Master, you delivered to me two talents; here I have made two talents more. His master said to him, Well done, good and faithful servant. You have been faithful over a little; I will set you over much. Enter into the joy of your master. He also who had received the one talent came forward, saying, Master, I knew you to be a hard man, reaping where you did not sow, and gathering where you scattered no seed, so I was afraid, and I went and hid your talent in the ground. Here you have what is yours. But his master answered him, You wicked and slothful servant! You knew that I reap where I have not sowed and gather where I scattered no seed? Then you ought to have invested my money with the bankers, and at my coming I should have received what was my own with interest. So take the talent from him and give it to him who has the ten talents. For to everyone who has will more be given, and he will have an abundance. But from the one who has not, even what he has will be taken away. And cast the worthless servant into the outer darkness. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. When the Son of Man comes in his glory, and all the angels with him, then he will sit on his glorious throne. Before him will be gathered all the nations, and he will separate people one from another as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats. And he will place the sheep on his right, but the goats on the left. Then the King will say to those on his right, Come, you who are blessed by my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed me, I was naked and you clothed me, I was sick and you visited me, I was in prison and you came to me. Then the righteous will answer him, saying, Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink? And when did we see you a stranger and welcome you, or naked and clothe you? And when did we see you sick or in prison and visit you? And the King will answer them, Truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brothers, you did it to me. Then he will say to those on his left, Depart from me, you cursed, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels. For I was hungry and you gave me no food, I was thirsty and you gave me no drink, I was a stranger and you did not welcome me, naked and you did not clothe me, sick and in prison and you did not visit me. Then they also will answer, saying, Lord, when did we see you hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison, and did not minister to you? Then he will answer them, saying, Truly, I say to you, as you did not do it to one of the least of these, you did not do it to me. And these will go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life. (ESV)

2.50.2 The redemption of our bodies

Ephesians 4:30 - And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, by whom you were sealed for the day of redemption. (ESV)

Luke 21:28 - Now when these things begin to take place, straighten up and raise your heads, because your redemption is drawing near. (ESV)

Romans 8:23 - And not only the creation, but we ourselves, who have the firstfruits of the Spirit, groan inwardly as we wait eagerly for adoption as sons, the redemption of our bodies. (ESV)

Amazing, man. Yeah we wanna have eyes focused on Jesus, striving to be walking in faith love and holiness, ready for service, obedient Jesus in all He has commanded of us, waiting for our blessed hope the appearing of Jesus. I'm fighting a battle with the flesh right now. It hasn't been easy.

Titus 2:11-13 - For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people, training us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in the present age, waiting for our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, (ESV)

youtube.com: There's a Shift {@TheWordsLight-r9d} Hey guys, Adam here and um you know, just sitting in here and doing some thinking and guys, I got to tell you, the spiritual warfare has picked up like nobody's business. Um something is coming very soon. There's just no doubt about it. Something is coming very, very, very, very, very, very soon. I feel it so strongly. Now's the time to repent for sin. Now's the time to get your relationship in right standing with God. Now it's time to pay attention to what you're looking at, to what you're doing, who you're talking to, what you're spending your time on, where you go, what you do, everything. Sorry guys, I got quiet there for a moment. There's a shift. There's a shift that's taking place within the spiritual realm. We can't see it happening but it is happening. It manifests itself through certain ways in the physical. We can feel it. Sometimes we think about it not for just, you know, no reason whatsoever. But be because of the reason of things are happening. There's an endless war between good and evil, God and Satan himself. And they're trying to Satan and demons are looking for access. They're looking access for access in your life, in your family, right? In your household, in your thoughts, in your desires, in your affections. in your acquaintance or acquaintances who you spend time with. Here's a battle that's raging on and it's not going to end until we leave this earth. Prepare yourself for what's coming. Prepare yourself for he who comes in the name of the Lord. And for those that will call upon the name of the Lord, they shall be saved. Make straight a highway, a path for the Lord. For the Lord's judgment and the Lord's indignation is coming to the disobedient, to the children who have disgraced their father with their many sins and iniquities. All because they've wanted to live their way, have it their way, indulge their way, spend time their way on what's important to them. It's only been about themselves. It's not been about anybody else. And it's certainly not been about God. For those of you that are watching, if the Holy Spirit is convicting you, it's time. It's time. It's time to repent. It's time to lay it at the altar at the feet of Jesus. It's time to recognize his sacrifice and that it's more than enough to defeat our sin, to defeat our addictions, to defeat our evil nature. It's more than enough. He's more than enough. But we've got to believe that in our hearts with all our heart, soul, mind, and strength. We can't pave the way for the enemy anymore. He who is stolen, let him steal no more. We must go back into the enemy's camp and take back what he's stolen from us. For the angel of the Lord encamps around about those who fear him and he defends them. He protects them. Folks, the only way we're going to win this battle that wages every single day up until the day that we go home, the only way that we'll win this battle truly is that we set not our feet toward evil things. that we are so careful in what we cultivate in our minds, that we are so careful about every singular detail in spending time with God, how we go about it, that we don't rush it, that we don't get impatient, that we don't grow weary and welloing that we trust him even when it seems like we can't because his way his ways are higher than our ways and his thoughts are higher than our thoughts. For there is no other name given under heaven in which we should be saved. Choose this day whom you will serve. You cannot serve two masters. You will either love one and despise the other or you will despise the the one and love the other. Are you building a kingdom in this world for yourself? Are you storing up for yourselves treasures in heaven in heavenly kingdom where God through Jesus has went to prepare a place for you specifically that where he is you may be also. If it were not so he wouldn't have told us. Meditate on the word today. spend time in prayer and supplication. And if the Holy Spirit leads you to fast, fast also. God bless.

- I've been under huge amounts of spiritual attack.
- God is good all the time, I believe, while I also endure extreme demonic oppression.
- God hasn't yet given me the testimony of Jesus Christ direct from Holy Spirit to my heart confessing / agreeing that Jesus Christ has come into the world from God in the flesh. But I am still agreeing that Jesus Christ is Jehovah the Son of God who has come into the world in the flesh from God (the Word of God became flesh).
- I'm sorry for getting upset at God.
- I hate my life here in this world. I passionately hate it.
- I hate how it seems like I'm continually going through tribulation and satanic resistance to holiness.
- I am angry with God for not providing the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit.
- I am angry with how I perceive that I've been treated by God when I remember particular sufferings I have endured particularly after getting born-again, but also before.
- I feel as though I can't endure the isolation, the demonic harassment, and the withholding of the testimony from God direct to my spirit.
- Sanctification (being cleaned up) is the salvation.
- Only Father God knows the day or the hour when the coming of the Lord is.

An established heart is one which has been put on the right track:

II Thessalonians 2:16-17 - Now may our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father, who loved us and gave us eternal comfort and good hope through grace, comfort your hearts and establish them in every good work and word. (ESV)

For reassurance, we should be practicing love:

I John 3:18-19 - Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth. By this we shall know that we are of the truth and reassure our heart before him; (ESV)

I Thessalonians 3:13 - so that he may establish (G4741 stérizó: To establish, strengthen, fix, set firmly) your hearts blameless in holiness before our God and Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus with all his saints. (ESV)

An established heart is one which has become dedicated:

I Corinthians 7:37 - But whoever is firmly established in his heart, being under no necessity but having his desire under control, and has determined this in his heart, to keep her as his betrothed, he will do well. (ESV)

James 4:8 - Draw near to God, and he will draw near to you. Cleanse your hands, you sinners, and purify your hearts, you double-minded. (ESV)

Waking up to demonic dreams is not something I enjoy. I rebuke these LGBT dreams in Jesus Christ's name. I'm sick of it. I feel very violated by them. It's not nice. I'm literally depressed and isolated and getting slammed by these demonic dreams every night. All the while, God just refuses to give the testimony. It's so disgusting. Unbelievable stuff. I'm very tired. It just feels like I do not get what I ask God in prayer for.

We are instructed to not doubt, and to not waver:

James 1:5-8 - If any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask God, who gives generously to all without reproach, and it will be given him. But let him ask in faith, with no doubting, for the one who doubts is like a wave of the sea that is driven and tossed by the wind. For that person must not suppose that he will receive anything from the Lord; he is a double-minded man, unstable in all his ways. (ESV)

2.55 Journal <2025-09-21 Sun>

See how it says that a person does not sin by taking a wife, even after they are called. But Paul says for those who marry after they are called there will be worldly troubles. And also, Paul points out that the present form of the world is passing away, so after we are called by God, we should really be anticipating the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ:

I Corinthians 7:24-31 - So, brothers, in whatever condition each was called, there let him remain with God. Now concerning the betrothed, I have no command from the Lord, but I give my judgment as one who by the Lord's mercy is trustworthy. I think that in view of the present distress it is good for a person to remain as he is. Are you bound to a wife? Do not seek to be free. Are you free from a wife? Do not seek a wife. But if you do marry, you have not sinned, and if a betrothed woman marries, she has not sinned. Yet those who marry will have worldly troubles, and I would spare you that. This is what I mean, brothers: the appointed time has grown very short. From now on, let those who have wives live as though they had none, and those who mourn as though they were not mourning, and those who rejoice as though they were not rejoicing, and those who buy as though they had no goods, and those who deal with the world as though they had no dealings with it. For the present form of this world is passing away. (ESV)

Nevertheless, I'm still committed to "remaining as I am", anticipating the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ.

I don't want to live in this world anymore. I wish my memories were erased.

I woke up this morning to getting another LGBT dream and some other stuff which was not the confession of the testimony that Jesus Christ has come into the world in the flesh, and I had more spiritual attack against my soul.

Tired, I made breakfast and played some Cute Defense. I was in a game of "Cute Defense" on StarCraft II and 2 people were spreading perverted, sexual and homosexual speech in the game chat so everyone can see it and I initiated a votekick.

I was told they don't support the votekick and I responded to them that Jesus doesn't support them. And one of them laughed.

I said that I hate them spreading their perversion inside the game chat.

One of them said we're all sinners. I said that he sounded like an unrepentant one.

One of them said "I believe in God."

He said that hate is a sin.

I quoted 2 verses:

Psalms 139:21 - Do I not hate (H6962. quwt, loathe) those who hate you, O LORD? And do I not loathe those who rise up against you? (ESV)

Proverbs 8:13 - The fear of the LORD is hatred of evil. Pride and arrogance and the way of evil and perverted speech I hate. (ESV)

I had specifically said, "The fear of God is the hatred of sin." I think that's a good paraphrase.

I said if you obey sin you'll die but if you obey God you'll live.

I actually hate when people spread filthy, sexual words in the game. And young people including children might be playing this video game. And these people were defending what they were doing.

And I pray for them that they'll repent and come to love God and hate sin.

1 Dear Heavenly Father and my Lord Jesus Christ and Holy Spirit,
2 God, I want them to turn from their sin.
3 please, God, my desire is for them to turn away from sin and for them to love, You
4 I hate with a righteous hatred when people commit gross injustice.
5 Spreading disgusting perverted speech in a video game especially when there may be 6 And my anger against people who do such things is a righteous anger.
7 I don't consider them to be my family in Christ if they are unrepentant.
8 I know that I must agape love my family in Christ, but if people love sin more than 9 and I hate the fact that their actions influence other people and because I don't want
10 these people who love sin more than You to be stopped particularly because it hurts
11 That's the issue. It's not that I don't want them to be saved. I want them to be saved.
12 But I hate what they're doing. Do I love them? In that I don't want them to perish
13 Please help them, God, to be saved.
14 In Jesus Christ's name, I ask,
15 AMEN!!

This person had said that they "believe in God." May God help them to change their ways and live pleasing to Him, pleasing to the Lord Jesus Christ.

I Corinthians 5:1-13 - It is actually reported that there is sexual immorality among you, and of a kind that is not tolerated even among pagans, for a man has his father's wife. And you are arrogant! Ought you not rather to mourn? Let him who has done this be removed from among you. For though absent in body, I am present in spirit; and as if present, I have already pronounced judgment on the one who did such a thing. When you are assembled in the name of the Lord Jesus and my spirit is present, with the power of our Lord Jesus, you are to deliver this man to Satan for the destruction of the flesh, so that his spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord. Your boasting is not good. Do you not know that a little leaven leavens the whole lump? Cleanse out the old leaven that you may be a new lump, as you really are unleavened. For Christ, our Passover lamb, has been sacrificed. Let us therefore celebrate the festival, not with the old leaven, the leaven of malice and evil, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth. I wrote to you in my letter not to associate with sexually immoral people— not at all meaning the sexually immoral of this world, or the greedy and swindlers, or idolaters, since then you would need to go out of the world. But now I am writing to you not to associate with anyone who bears the name of brother if he is guilty of sexual immorality or greed, or is an idolater, reviler, drunkard, or swindler—not even to eat with such a one. For what have I to do with judging outsiders? Is it not those inside the church whom you are to judge? God judges those outside. Purge the evil person from among you. (ESV)

Ezekiel 18:20-24 - The soul who sins shall die. The son shall not suffer for the iniquity of the father, nor the father suffer for the iniquity of the son. The righteousness of the righteous shall be upon himself, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon himself. But if a wicked person turns away from all his sins that he has committed and keeps all my statutes and does what is just and right, he shall surely live; he shall not die. None of the transgressions that he has committed shall be remembered against him; for the righteousness that he has done he shall live. Have I any pleasure in the death of the wicked, declares the Lord GOD, and not rather that he should turn from his way and live? But when a righteous person turns away from his righteousness and does injustice and does the same abominations that the wicked person does, shall he live? None of the righteous deeds that he has done shall be remembered; for the treachery of which he is guilty and the sin he has committed, for them he shall die. (ESV)

John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

2.56.1 That Jesus' joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full

John 15:1-11 - I am the true vine, and my Father is the vine-dresser. Every branch of mine that does not bear fruit he takes away, and every branch that does bear fruit he prunes, that it may bear more fruit. Already you are clean because of the word that I have spoken to you. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit by itself, unless it abides in the vine, neither can you, unless you abide in me. I am the vine; you are the branches. Whoever abides in me and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. If anyone does not abide in me he is thrown away like a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire, and burned. If you abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be done for you. By this my Father is glorified, that you bear much fruit and so prove to be my disciples. As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. (ESV)

2.56.2 To keep you from falling away

John 15:18-27,16:1 - If the world hates you, know that it has hated me before it hated you. If you were of the world, the world would love you as its own; but because you are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hates you. Remember the word that I said to you: A servant is not greater than his master. If they persecuted me, they will also persecute you. If they kept my word, they will also keep yours. But all these things they will do to you on account of my name, because they do not know him who sent me. If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not have been guilty of sin, but now they have no excuse for their sin. Whoever hates me hates my Father also. If I had not done among them the works that no one else did, they would not be guilty of sin, but now they have seen and hated both me and my Father. But the word that is written in their Law must be fulfilled: They hated me without a cause. But when the Helper comes, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth, who proceeds from the Father, he will bear witness about me. And you also will bear witness, because you have been with me from the beginning. I have said all these things to you to keep you from falling away. (ESV)

2.56.3 So that you will love one another

John 15:12-17 - This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. No longer do I call you servants, for the servant does not know what his master is doing; but I have called you friends, for all that I have heard from my Father I have made known to you. You did not choose me, but I chose you and appointed you that you should go and bear fruit and that your fruit should abide, so that whatever you ask the Father in my name, he may give it to you. These things I command you, so that you will love one another. (ESV)

2.57 Journal <2025-09-25 Thu>

Luke 6:27-28 - But I say to you who hear, Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, pray for those who abuse you. (ESV)

While Christians may loathe, be disgusted by people who celebrate sin, by people who hate God, Christians must not hate them with a murderous hatred. We must not desire for them to perish eternally, but would rather see them change their ways.

Ezekiel 20:43 - And there you shall remember your ways and all your deeds with which you have defiled yourselves, and you shall loathe yourselves for all the evils that you have committed. (ESV)

Keep in mind that Paul advised a congregation of believers to put the sinful, evil person out of the congregation, hand them over to Satan for the destruction of the flesh, so that their spirit would be saved. This person must have been unrepentant.

In sending them to jail or putting them outside the church, they might go through tribulation but perhaps they would repent, but Paul them doesn't want them to perish eternally by continuing to commit that sinful stuff they were doing.

I Corinthians 5:1-13 - It is actually reported that there is sexual immorality among you, and of a kind that is not tolerated even among pagans, for a man has his father's wife. And you are arrogant! Ought you not rather to mourn? Let him who has done this be removed from among you. For though absent in body, I am present in spirit; and as if present, I have already pronounced judgment on the one who did such a thing. When you are assembled in the name of the Lord Jesus and my spirit is present, with the power of our Lord Jesus, you are to deliver this man to Satan for the destruction of the flesh, so that his spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord. Your boasting is not good. Do you not know that a little leaven leavens the whole lump? Cleanse out the old leaven that you may be a new lump, as you really are unleavened. For Christ, our Passover lamb, has been sacrificed. Let us therefore celebrate the festival, not with the old leaven, the leaven of malice and evil, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth. I wrote to you in my letter not to associate with sexually immoral people— not at all meaning the sexually immoral of this world, or the greedy and swindlers, or idolaters, since then you would need to go out of the world. But now I am writing to you not to associate with anyone who bears the name of brother if he is guilty of sexual immorality or greed, or is an idolater, reviler, drunkard, or swindler—not even to eat with such a one. For what have I to do with judging outsiders?

Is it not those inside the church whom you are to judge? God judges those outside. Purge the evil person from among you.
(ESV)

So yes, hate the sin.

We should be wishing for other people to be saved. And we should overcome evil with good, return good for evil.

I found out today about what Donald Trump recently said:

Regarding what Donald Trump said at the Memorial for Charlie Kirk:

Donald Trump said, "In that private moment on his dying day, we find everything we need to know about who Charlie Kirk truly was. He was a missionary with a noble spirit and a great, great purpose. He did not hate his opponents. He wanted the best for them. That's where I disagreed with Charlie. I hate my opponent. And I don't want the best for them. I'm sorry.
I am sorry, Erika. But now Erika can talk to me and the whole group and maybe they can convince me that that's not right. But I can't stand my opponent."

I think it might be OK that he said, "I can't stand my opponent" if it were meant in the sense of he's disgusted by his opponent if he is disgusted at them because they're evil, if they are evil. But being disgusted at our enemies shouldn't stop us from loving our enemies and doing good to them.

Revelation of John 2:2 - I know your works, your toil and your patient endurance, and how you cannot bear (G941 bastazó
, to bear, carry, endure, support) with those who are evil, but have tested those who call themselves apostles and are not,
and found them to be false. (ESV)

Luke 9:41 - Jesus answered, O faithless and twisted generation, how long am I to be with you and bear (G430 anechó, To endure, to bear with, to tolerate, to hold up) with you? Bring your son
here. (ESV)

So Paul here didn't "bear with" the evil person but still seemed to have their best interest in mind. So sending someone to prison for evil behaviour, or putting them out of the church is OK:

I Corinthians 5:4-5 - When you are assembled in the name of the Lord Jesus and my spirit is present, with the power of our Lord Jesus, you are to deliver this man to Satan for the destruction of the flesh, so that his spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord. (ESV)

But to say "I hate my opponent", I hope was only in that "loathing/disgusted by" sense and not in the "have no regard for the life of/does not see value in" sense, as agape love (which Christians are commanded to have for those who hate them) is a love which wishes for the other person to not perish eternally by continuing to do these wicked things.

I do find certain people to be disgusting. For example, when people are putting seedy, perverted speech inside of a video game chat. People that commit evil abominations disgust me, for sure. But there is a part of me that knows that I was doing evil things once too and still I make mistakes (but I am repentant: I trust in Jesus, I believe in Him, I believe His words and deeds and I love Jesus, and I want to be holy as He is holy), and I would prefer that such people who celebrate, love and defend sin come to repentance, come to love God, love Jesus and hate sin.

I Corinthians 6:11 - And such were some of you. But you were washed, you were sanctified, you were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ and by the Spirit of our God. (ESV)

It's disappointing what Trump said on TV, but it was said with some ambiguity.

Psalms 139:21 - Do I not hate (H6962 quwt, loathe) those who hate (H8130 sane, To hate, detest, be hostile to) you, O LORD? And do I not loathe (H6962 quwt, loathe) those who rise up against you? (ESV)

David goes on to say that he hates his enemies, actually hates them. Jesus calls us to love our enemies, though:

Psalms 139:22-24 - I hate them (G8130 ś-nê-tîm, Ṣ[U+0591], I hate them) with complete hatred; I count them my enemies. Search me, O God, and know my heart! Try me and know my thoughts! And see if there be any grievous way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting! (ESV)

Luke 6:27-28 - But I say to you who hear, Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, pray for those who abuse you. (ESV)

Matthew 5:43-45 - You have heard that it was said, You shall love your neighbor and hate (G3404 misēseis) your enemy. But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. (ESV)

In Psalms 139:21, there are two words which are translated into the English word "hate" but they are different words with different meanings. Proverbs 8:13 shows that it's a good thing to hate evil. As Psalms 139:21 shows, David loathed people who hate God but in the Greek it doesn't say that he hated them the same way that those people hated God because a different word was used. Sadly, the English translation here confuses this by using the same word in place of two different words.

Proverbs 8:13 - The fear of the LORD is hatred (H8130 sane, To hate, detest, be hostile to) of evil. Pride and arrogance and the way of evil and perverted speech I hate (H8130 sane, To hate, detest, be hostile to). (ESV)

2.58 Journal <2025-09-25 Thu>

Jesus is the manifest love of God:

I John 4:9-10 - In this the love of God was made manifest among us, that God sent his only Son into the world, so that we might live through him. In this is love, not that we have loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. (ESV)

So we must believe what He says and have the love of God in us! And we must believe in Him and what God has done in sending Him into the world! We must believe God and trust God, and keep believing and trusting God:

John 5:37-42 - And the Father who sent me has himself borne witness about me. His voice you have never heard, his form you have never seen, and you do not have his word abiding in you, for you do not believe the one whom he has sent. You search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness about me, yet you refuse to come to me that you may have life. I do not receive glory from people.

But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. (ESV)

Thus so (Houtōs) (in this way) did God love (25. agapaó - value, treasure) the world, that He gave His Only-Begotten (G3439. monogenēs - unique, only begotten) Son that (G2443 hina - in order that) everyone who is trusting/believing in Him may not perish, but may have life everlasting:

Those in the kingdom of God hold faith in Jesus and serve Jesus:

Romans 14:17-18 - For the kingdom of God is not a matter of eating and drinking but of righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. Whoever thus serves Christ is acceptable to God and approved by men. (ESV)

I John 5:3 - For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments. And his commandments are not burdensome. (ESV)

Romans 8:38-39 - For I am sure that neither death nor life, nor angels nor rulers, nor things present nor things to come, nor powers, nor height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

I John 2:3-6 - And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

And we keep ourselves in the love of God:

Jude 1:18-21 - They said to you, In the last time there will be scoffers, following their own ungodly passions. It is these who cause divisions, worldly people, devoid of the Spirit. But you, beloved, build yourselves up in your most holy faith; pray in the Holy Spirit; keep yourselves in the love of God, waiting for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ that leads to eternal life. (ESV)

And we serve in the strength that God provides. If we find ourselves in a position to demonstrate serving others out of love, and the Scriptures have a lot to say about what that love looks like (such as in the 10 commandments. See Romans 13:9-10), then we should do so and give God the glory:

I Peter 4:11 - whoever speaks, as one who speaks oracles of God; whoever serves, as one who serves by the strength that God supplies—in order that in everything God may be glorified through Jesus Christ. To him belong glory and dominion forever and ever. Amen. (ESV)

2.59 Journal <2025-09-27 Sat>

I want to be completely healed, sanctified, set free. I want to be able to sleep without:

- getting woken up by anything at all
- having demonic dreams
- feeling like something is trying to have sex with me, or getting spontaneously aroused by whatever that demonic thing is which has been assaulting me

I want to be able to experience the Holy Spirit make testimony of Jesus Christ to me. I want the memory of particular situations I have experienced particularly with family members to be erased, these are things that are just so dark it grieves me. I want those things to be undone as if they never happened. All things are possible with God. What I've been put through after getting born-again is very dark. I want to be raptured and I want nothing to do with AI world. Jesus Christ, please grant me these things I want.

2.59.1 The resisting is important

Through the night I kept trying to think to myself stuff like "Jesus Christ bought me with His blood", "Jesus bled and died to pay for my redemption", as I was getting attacked by these antichrist dreams, and thinking this stuff seemed to fend off the attacks.

James 4:7 - Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. (ESV)

I believe God will not leave me feeling defiled and dare I say it, I believe He won't leave me defiled. It's been a seemingly endless amount of spiritual attack since I got born-again. What I've been through and how unclean I presently feel doesn't seem like a fair deal to me, and unfair in the bad way. Things better get better.

2.60 Journal <2025-09-28 Sun>

Set me free, oh God, set me free, set me free... Set me free, oh God, set me free, set me free. I hate what's happened to me. I hate what's going on. I hate how disgustingly unclean I feel. It's not my fault this has happened, it's not my fault. I was continually attacked and harassed by demons after getting born-again. I was clean when I was born-again. I was clean when I was born-again. I wanted to tell everyone that I got born-again and that God was real. People kept telling me things that are contrary to the sound teaching of Jesus Christ. And now I'm in this situation where after being corrected by the Scripture, I feel like my soul has gotten unclean from all the "spirit-spouse" stuff, the sexual defilement, the dream and soul-attacks invasion. Sadly I was not prepared for the amount of antichrist stuff that would attack me after I got born-again. I was put through hell after I was born-again. Please Jesus Christ, don't let me be unclean. Please deliver me, Jesus Christ, LORD God, Jehovah God, Yahweh! Please help me Jesus Christ. Don't let me get attacked by demons anymore. In Jesus Christ's name!

I'm very sick and tired of being harassed by demons. God has to do something.

I rebuke the spiritual defilement which has come against me today in Jesus Christ's name. In Jesus Christ's name I rebuke the antichrist dreams mocking me and mocking fellow Christians, having received more of them today.

2.61 Journal <2025-09-29 Mon>

Dear Heavenly Father and my Lord Jesus Christ and Holy Spirit, Jehovah, Almighty God, please, LORD God, sanctify me. Please, God, clean me and purify me. Take away all of my iniquity. Take away all of my uncleanness. Renew a right spirit within me, God. Father God, Yahweh, Jehovah, create in me a clean heart and renew a right spirit within me. Immanuel, Yeshua Hamashiach, Jesus Christ, clean me, God. Please, God, clean me. Sanctify me, Jesus Christ, please, God. Take away all of the spiritual impurity, LORD

Jesus Christ, Son of God. Jesus Christ, Yeshua, I believe You died on a tree for my sins, and rose from the dead 3 days later. I believe that You came into the world from God, Word of God made flesh. I believe that You were born by the virgin Mary. LORD God, I believe that You can take away the defilement which has been affecting me. LORD God, I do not know why this has happened to me, but I believe that You can make it right. Please clean me God in Jesus Christ's name, I ask, AMEN!!

May Jesus Christ clean me and protect me.

I Thessalonians 5:23-24 - Now may the God of peace himself sanctify you completely, and may your whole spirit and soul and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. He who calls you is faithful; he will surely do it. (ESV)

I repudiate this spiritual defilement in Jesus Christ's name.

2.62 Journal <2025-10-20 Mon>

I'm really tired of:

- having some spiritual defilement touch my lips and genitals
- waking up to erections and feeling like there is some sexual spiritual defilement trying to arouse me, whether lying down during the day or waking up to it
- getting dreams that are demonic, satanic
 - anti-repentance
 - * pro-flesh, (pro-AI, pro anything worldly)
 - * pro-sexual immorality
 - * etc...
- not receiving the promised testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit
- encounters with people saying things which are against what God teaches
- the isolation

I'm really sick and tired of it. It's truly deplorable that I've been exposed to the spiritual defilements or that it has been allowed to happen to me after being being born-again of the spirit. Whoever is responsible for it deserves condemnation. I resent being alive here, and am extremely disappointed with God about what honestly feels like neglect and abuse of trust, and dishonesty in not keeping promises (At least, that's what it feels like), and massive unfairness in what feels like being constantly lied to theologically through people around me, and after being born-again being buried amongst corrupting influences, and the resulting defilement/s which I blame on being exposed to demonic influence for years even after being born-again.

I just rebuke it all of that corruption and defilement in Jesus Christ's name.

I want to be cleaned up. I want to be protected. I want to be sanctified, and I want God to fulfill His promise to give me the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit. Lord Jesus Christ, in Your precious name, clean me and protect me and fulfill your promises. AMEN!!

What's happened to me is appalling and it's not OK. The fact that this defilement has continued to affect me daily is extremely concerning and disgusting, and confusing because, I believe God that the blood of Jesus cleanses me from sin as I trust and obey Him. But the demonic dreams have continued. The spiritual attacks have continued. The lack of a testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit to me has continued. I rebuke this antichrist spirit which has been opposing my deliverance and sanctification in Jesus Christ's name. It better stop.

2.63 Journal <2025-10-21 Tue>

I receive truly immense amounts of spiritual attack during the night last night (demons putting stuff into my mind, waking up to antichrist dreams and visions, and sexual attacks against my soul, and anti-repentance stuff). It's disgusting stuff.

I rebuke that stuff in Jesus Christ's name, and condemn the authors of those antichrist dreams. May the evil spirits which attacked me speedily go to the place God has assigned for them, the eternal fire in Jesus Christ's name.

I was born-again, born of the spirit on 2 April 2022. Jesus Christ, take everything of me please, and subject it to Your will. I'm a citizen of heaven.

Philippians 3:17-21 - Brothers, join in imitating me, and keep your eyes on those who walk according to the example you have in us. For many, of whom I have often told you and now tell you even with tears, walk as enemies of the cross of Christ. Their end is destruction, their god is their belly, and they glory in their shame, with minds set on earthly things. But our citizenship is in heaven, and from it we await a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ, who will transform our lowly body to be like his glorious body, by the power that enables him even to subject all things to himself. (ESV)

2.64 Journal <2025-10-24 Fri>

Unceasing spiritual attacks over the last few days. No testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit. Despicable stuff. Have been getting hit hard with antichrist, anti-repentance, spiritual attacks against my soul and my mind, particularly in my sleep, and in relationships with people. Also, being held in AI world like a prisoner.

Sadly, even as I write this I feel a defilement attacking me in my body. I don't understand it. This morning, I received more demonic dreams. I've been getting attacked to an extreme degree by demons. It's horrible. I plead the blood of Jesus Christ. And all that hope which I have in Jesus, and the faith I have in His blood, it "feels" as though is abused. The trust which I place in God, it "feels" as though that trust is abused. Why? Because I haven't received the PROMISED testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit in any way other than through the Scripture. I expect to "hear a voice" or something, speaking to me in my heart, a voice which is trustworthy, confessing Jesus Christ the way the Apostle John has described. I've heard no such thing. All this while giving everything to God. God's allowed me to be "ravaged" by demons... to the point of what feels like defilement, AFTER being made new and washed clean with a new heart and a new spirit. Unbelievable stuff. But that's the truth as far as I can tell. No guile in me. God has to for the sake of His name, I think, deliver me, heal me, protect me and speak to me because I don't think what is going on, what is happening to me is a good look for Him. When I was born-again on 2 April 2022 I called out to Jesus to save me.

Once again (it feel like I've had to say this almost every day for the last 3 years) I rebuke that spiritual defilement messing with my sleep and with my genitals and my mouth in the Mighty Name of Jesus Christ. In the Mighty Name of Jesus Christ, Yeshua Hamashiach, Jehovah Son of Jehovah God I rebuke the demons attacking my soul and my relationships and opposing repentance and opposing Jesus Christ. I command them to leave and never return in Jesus Christ's name.

The defilement of spirit and/or flesh that is the stuff that has continued to mess with my body and soul and relationships whether it's extrinsically demonic or a result of a lack of sanctification is absolutely disgusting and unacceptable. How it is able to exist, I do not know, as I'm repentant and I'm trusting in Jesus Christ's blood and hoping in Him to deliver me, and hoping in Him for salvation and really trying hard to be obedient to Jesus, trying to do what pleases God with the fear of God. I don't understand how it's able to exist and how the demons are even able to harass me as they have. I just don't get it. It just feels like pure injustice. The blood of Jesus must cleanse me completely and sanctification must continue until I'm completely sanctified. And God must be faithful in the New Covenant. This defilement which has been afflicting me is definitely not OK.

Jehovah, Yahweh, Jesus Christ, Yeshuah, clean me in Your precious name I ask. AMEN!!

God will destroy those demons which have been defiling this temple of the Holy Spirit that is my body.

Jesus' blood will cleanse me.

I just rebuke all of that defilement. It must be purged, completely purged.

I Corinthians 6:17-20 - But he who is joined to the Lord becomes one spirit with him. Flee from sexual immorality. Every other sin a person commits is outside the body, but the sexually immoral person sins against his own body. Or do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit within you, whom you have from God? You are not your own, for you were bought with a price. So glorify God in your body. (ESV)

I Corinthians 3:17 - If anyone destroys God's temple, God will destroy him. For God's temple is holy, and you are that temple. (ESV)

John 14:14 - If you ask me anything in my name, I will do it. (ESV)

Clean me, Jesus in Your precious name. And give me the testimony of Yourself from Holy Spirit, in Your precious name.

I Thessalonians 5:23-24 - Now may the God of peace himself sanctify you completely, and may your whole spirit and soul and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. He who calls you is faithful; he will surely do it. (ESV)

AMEN!!

It makes sense to me that anything that opposes the sanctification of those who God wants to be sanctified is not from God. Anything that opposes God's will is not from God:

I Thessalonians 4:3-8 - For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you abstain from sexual immorality; that each one of you know how to control his own body in holiness and honor, not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God; that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you. For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness. Therefore whoever disregards this, disregards not man but God, who gives his Holy Spirit to you. (ESV)

Jesus Christ's blood cleanses us from all sin as we walk in the light. We must be walking in the love of the truth:

I John 1:7 - But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)

2.65 Journal <2025-10-25 Sat>

All the strange stuff which happened last night:

- As I was lying down I was woken up by a spirit tapping me on the back, at least I perceived that is what happened.
- Some strange dreams. Demonic stuff, I think.

A picture of a beloved and respected person who is family in Christ pointing to the end of II John and the word "technology".

This morning I looked up II John and found that John was saying there was more he wanted to say but not in pen and ink.

Nevertheless, I received more spiritual harassment last night, and still woke up to more of this arousal stuff. But relatively less of it.

And I'm currently watching this:

- youtube.com: The Unsettling Truth About Old Testament Sacrifices No One Talks About - Michael Heiser {@stefanlouw6395}

Jesus Christ, please help me.

Deuteronomy 7:8 - but it is because the LORD loves you and is keeping the oath that he swore to your fathers, that the LORD has brought you out with a mighty hand and redeemed you from the house of slavery, from the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt. (ESV)

Also, all of the dreams and visions I have been receiving are unreliable because they have not made the confession. The test of whether or not a spirit communicating is trustworthy is not if the dream contains a person's face who I believe to be a Christian. That is not the test. The test is whether or not the spirit will confess that Jesus Christ has come into the world from God in the flesh.

Now, if the author of the dream was intending to communicate to me that I should "stop talking/doing my Bible study online", for example, well that does not sound like what God would want me to do. If God did want me to take it down then I'm convinced He would speak clearly, unambiguously in a trustworthy manner. God is not a God of confusion (I Corinthians 14:33).

Because I have not received clear and unambiguous instruction through dreams/visions/voices, I'm going to continue endeavouring to be goaded, corrected, guided by the Scripture.

Every spirit which does not confess/agree with Jesus Christ is not from God.

I John 4:1-3 - Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses (G3670 homologeó, confesses, acknowledges, agrees) that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess (G3670 homologeó, confess, acknowledge, agree with) Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

In trusting Jesus and His words, we are led by Him. And it's very important that we are not led astray by a different voice, so we should be corrected and goaded and guided by Jesus. With soft hearts we should trust and obey Jesus' voice:

John 10:4-5 - When he has brought out all his own, he goes before them, and the sheep follow him, for they know his voice.

A stranger they will not follow, but they will flee from him, for they do not know the voice of strangers. (ESV)

John 10:27 - My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me. (ESV)

John 10:25-26 - Jesus answered them, I told you, and you do not believe. The works that I do in my Father's name bear witness about me, but you do not believe because you are not part of my flock. (ESV)

John 3:3 - Jesus answered him, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born again he cannot see the kingdom of God. (ESV)

I discovered this verse today:

Job 5:17-18 - Blessed indeed is the man whom God corrects; so do not despise the discipline of the Almighty. For He wounds, but He also binds; He strikes, but His hands also heal. (engbsb2020eb)

AMEN!!

1 Dear Heavenly Father and my Lord Jesus Christ and Holy Spirit,
2 Almighty God Jehovah,
3 Lord Jesus Christ, please forgive me and deliver me from evil.
4 Father God, please forgive me.
5 Please, God, don't keep me here.
6 Heal me, LORD.
7 Don't keep me in this AI world.
8 Don't keep me here, God.
9 Heal me, God, so that I no longer have what feels like a "spirit spouse".
10 God, You know what I mean.
11 LORD God, it's defilement.
12 I don't want to have this evil thing affecting me.
13 I want it to stop, LORD God.
14 It's unnatural.
15 It was pushed onto me.
16 So much stuff was pushed onto me.
17 Pleases help me, God.
18 Please deliver me from evil.

19 God, I'm not staying here.
20 Can You get me out?
21 Those satanic lies which attacked me, LORD God.

29 I want to be set free from satanic oppression and harassment, and I want You, LORD Jesus Christ, 30 and give me the promised testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit.
31 Heal me, deliver me, God, erase my memories, and speak to me and fulfill Your own promises.
32 That's justice and mercy and faithfulness all at the same time.
33 Please, do it LORD God.
34 In Jesus Christ's name I ask,

Journal <2026-03-26 Thu> Also very evil though, is I think is making it so a person is unable to live like a human being anymore, and part of that would be denying marriage (making it impossible for people to marry). But I would also include along with that, making it so people are subservient to or pressured into supplicating to chatbots. Human beings should be allowed to worship Father God in spirit and in truth, in reality, and when people put pressure on others to not be able to live as God designed to live then that is evil.

As I lay on my bed, more defilement attacking me. I don't even want to go to sleep. Every night it seems some demon harasses me. And Jesus Christ says nothing to me, just lets me get attacked. Is this what other people should expect to receive when they get born-again? Because whatever has happened to me, I don't want other people to have happen to them. I'd take the good without the bad. I'd wish the good for other people. But I wouldn't wish that they ever feel neglected by God. I wouldn't wish that they felt pushed into resenting their existence. I wouldn't wish that they felt trapped in a prison.

2.66 Journal <2025-10-26 Sun>

So I had a dream of an old friend of mine saying "Just be thankful that God's the judge of the living and the dead." That is very true, so I'll just quote the related verse here:

I Peter 4:1-5 - Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh, arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. The time that is past suffices for doing what the Gentiles want to do, living in sensuality, passions, drunkenness, orgies, drinking parties, and lawless idolatry. With respect to this they are surprised when you do not join them in the same flood of debauchery, and they malign you; but they will give account to him who is ready to judge the living and the dead. (ESV)

I think that it's definitely correct and to do as Peter advises here and put a stop to literally the list of things he's saying to put a stop to.

Getting born-again of the spirit, now the time for such "sensuality" is past. I think of everything being like day, all my thoughts and deeds are on full display to heaven, like Candid Camera. Rather, we should be walking as children of the day, soberly, focusing on the Lord Jesus Christ, forsaking sin, forsaking uncleanness, forsaking wastefulness (prodigal son like wastefulness), forsaking debauchery, and instead focus on doing what God wants us to be doing, using the time wisely, hoping in Jesus for that future salvation, for His coming, through the eyes of faith.

The following verses are relevant:

Ephesians 5:8-21 - for at one time you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light (for the fruit of light is found in all that is good and right and true), and try to discern what is pleasing to the Lord. Take no part in the unfruitful works of darkness, but instead expose them. For it is shameful even to speak of the things that they do in secret. But when anything is exposed by the light, it becomes visible, for anything that becomes visible is light. Therefore it says, Awake, O sleeper, and arise from the dead, and Christ will shine on you. Look carefully then how you walk, not as unwise but as wise, making the best use of the time, because the days are evil. Therefore do not be foolish, but understand what the will of the Lord is. And do not get drunk with wine, for that is debauchery, but be filled with the Spirit, addressing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody to the Lord with all your heart, giving thanks always and for everything to God the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, submitting to one another out of reverence for Christ. (ESV)

I Thessalonians 5:5-10 - For you are all children of light, children of the day. We are not of the night or of the darkness. So then let us not sleep, as others do, but let us keep awake and be sober. For those who sleep, sleep at night, and those who get drunk, are drunk at night. But since we belong to the day, let us be sober, having put on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet the hope of salvation. For God has not destined us for wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us so that whether we are awake or asleep we might live with him. (ESV)

God is the Judge of the living and the dead. The Son will judge. But both the Father and the Son are God, they're both Jehovah:

Acts 10:41-44 - not to all the people but to us who had been chosen by God as witnesses, who ate and drank with him after he rose from the dead. And he commanded us to preach to the people and to testify that he is the one appointed by God to be judge of the living and the dead. To him all the prophets bear witness that everyone who believes in him receives forgiveness of sins through his name. While Peter was still saying these things, the Holy Spirit fell on all who heard the word. (ESV)

John 5:21-25 - For as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, so also the Son gives life to whom he will. The Father judges (G2919 krinei: judges) no one, but has given all judgment (G2920 krisin: judgment) to the Son, that all may honor the Son, just as they honor the Father. Whoever does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent him. Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears (G191 akouó) my word (G3056 logos) and believes (G4100 pisteuó) him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come (G2064 erchomai) into judgment, but has passed (G3327 metabain) from death to life. Truly, truly, I say to you, an hour is coming, and is now here, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who hear will live. (ESV)

John 12 seems to articulate that when Jesus came He didn't come to judge. But that there remains a latter judgement if Jesus is rejected and those that reject Him or His words are judged by Him (Jesus, the Son of God) on the basis of what they rejected of Him. The Son of God does judge. So God is the Judge of the Living and the dead. But the Father does not judge but the Son does judge. But if in advance of "the last day" a person puts their faith in Jesus then they are saved by Him rather than judged. And following from that, sanctification would then involve ongoing trusting in the voice of Jesus, and that involves trusting in His words, coming into agreement with His words, as they are heard:

John 12:44-47 (Interlinear) And if anyone [of Me hears] the words (i.e. hears Jesus' words) and not keeps [them] (G5442 phylaxē) I not (G2919 krinō: do judge [Tense: V-PIA-1S. i.e. presently judge]) (G846 auton: him) [.] not for I came that I might judge the world but that I might save the world

John 12:44-48 - And Jesus cried out and said, Whoever believes in me, believes not in me but in him who sent me. And whoever sees me sees him who sent me. I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge (G2919 krinō: do judge) him; for I did not come to judge the world (G2919 krinō: I might judge) but to save the world. The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. (ESV)

So it follows that if someone is trusting in Jesus and His words as they are heard, then they will be saved and not condemned. God sees our hearts in advance of the last day.

As sit here getting attacked by this defilement thing, or as I am reminded of various injustices, I get so angry. God, I hate it. It's not fair. Don't get me wrong, I'm aware of my past. But I'm in this situation because after I was born-again God let me get attacked by demons under circumstances so unreasonable and unfair for a truly excessive amount of time while all the time not comforting me with His reliable, trustworthy, directly spoken and promised voice. It's a bit like the Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego situation where they are put into a furnace, except God not being there. It makes me furious, really.

I feel as though I have been left to fend for myself with only imperfect translations of the Bible... And I feel if I get anything wrong then am not forcibly corrected or spoken to. I just have to deal with the consequences of any errors I might make as I am left to study the Scripture. How is that in any way in agreement with the sound words of Jesus Christ? Does Jesus lead people astray? Have I made a mistake in even attempting to hear and understand and be corrected by the written Word of God? If a person is not even able to make an attempt at listening to and keeping Jesus' words without incurring inevitable defilement from any possible error, then why even attempt? Where is the promised testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit? Where is the benefit to reading the Bible if I'm just going to cut myself on the written Word sword of the Spirit? What's the point unless Holy Spirit is going to ensure that I'm hearing His voice clearly? I think that's the root of the problem. I expect to hear from God if I'm expected to follow Him and if God doesn't want to give me the promised testimony and ensure that I can be guided by His instruction then why would I ever advise anyone to cut themselves on the Word of God?

God's got to allow me to hear His voice not only from the Scripture but God's got to give me that testimony, otherwise, I just feel as though I just can't be held accountable for any mistakes I might make.

And if I makes mistakes and demons attack me like crazy and it feels like I get a bit "defiled", how is that my fault if God refuses to speak? If God doesn't use His voice to speak to His sheep then they're going to not be able to follow Him.

Now, I say that I believe Jesus Christ is the Truth as He said He is. So if I hear the Word of God and trust it and love it which I do, then that means in other areas, God is simply not speaking to me. Now if I am not spoken to then I'm like a sheep which is not getting spoken to. Who's fault is that? I don't think that's my fault. I want to be cleaned because I think what's happened to me isn't my fault. And if it is my fault, God doesn't even clear up the issue. If God doesn't clear up the issue then He's not correcting me. But I don't want to perish. I want correction from God. I want God to give me the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit. I want to be healed and set free from satanic oppression immediately.

youtube.com: God Can Guide You in Ways that You Don't Expect { @DRMSH }

Every once in a while I'd have a dream. It would be like do this and don't do that. Something real simple... some personal guidance. Or I'd have some little event that would just kind of remind me that God was watching my life and knew what was up and, you know, these sorts of thoughts. It seemed entirely consistent to me that God could choose to do these little things, to direct individuals that wasn't constituted from a Bible verse or a sermon, it came by some other means. And it was legit and nobody tried to voice it on anybody else, like it was new teaching that was supposed to be predominant for the whole church. Nobody's trying to do that. It's just very simple. And you know you meet missionaries that would, you know, report this or that kind of thing happening. You got to know these people and they're normal, they're not crazy. And their ministry doesn't revolve around this thing. They're just telling you, "Hey, this is what happened on the field one day."

That's what I would expect.

Jesus will manifest to those who keep His commandments:

John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

I John 3:2-4 - Beloved, we are God's children now, and what we will be has not yet appeared; but we know that when he appears we shall be like him, because we shall see him as he is. And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. (ESV)

John 14:22-23 - Judas (not Iscariot) said to him, Lord, how is it that you will manifest yourself to us, and not to the world? Jesus answered him, If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him.

2.68 Journal <2025-10-28 Tue>

I have one thing to ask of God right now. Please make the defilement go away in Jesus Christ's name I ask.

John 14:14 - If you ask me anything in my name, I will do it. (ESV)

2.69 Journal <2025-10-29 Wed>

I confess that Jesus Christ is the Only Begotten Son of God and that God does adopt children through their faith in Jesus Christ.

Jesus' Father is Father God:

John 8:53-54 - Are you greater than our father Abraham, who died? And the prophets died! Who do you make yourself out to be? Jesus answered, If I glorify myself, my glory is nothing. It is my Father who glorifies me, of whom you say, He is our God. (ESV)

Through faith in Jesus Christ, we may become sons of God:

John 1:12-13 - But to all who did receive him, who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God, who were born, not of blood nor of the will of the flesh nor of the will of man, but of God. (ESV)

Galatians 3:25-26 - But now that faith has come, we are no longer under a guardian, for in Christ Jesus you are all sons of God, through faith. (ESV)

We must be "in Christ Jesus" and we must have faith in Jesus Christ. We must abide in Jesus' commandments (in Christ) and we must have faith in Jesus Christ, and having faith in Jesus Christ is one of His commandments. This faith in Jesus Christ in order to be in Christ must also necessitate the love for the truth. Jesus' commandments depend on the Great 2 commandments:

Galatians 3:27 - For as many of you as were baptized into Christ have put on Christ. (ESV)

Luke 20:34-36 - And Jesus said to them, The sons of this age marry and are given in marriage, but those who are considered worthy to attain to that age and to the resurrection from the dead neither marry nor are given in marriage, for they cannot die anymore, because they are equal to angels and are sons of God, being sons of the resurrection. (ESV)

John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

2.70 Journal <2025-10-31 Fri>

Father God testified of Jesus, calling Jesus His Son:

Mark 1:11 - And a voice came from heaven, You are my beloved Son; with you I am well pleased. (ESV)

A lot of other people confessed that Jesus the Son of God:

John 1:34 - And I have seen and have borne witness that this is the Son of God. (ESV)

John 1:49 - Nathanael answered him, Rabbi, you are the Son of God! You are the King of Israel! (ESV)

Holy Spirit has testified that Jesus Christ is the Son of God:

Romans 1:4 - and was declared to be the Son of God in power according to the Spirit of holiness by his resurrection from the dead, Jesus Christ our Lord, (ESV)

Romans 8:11 - If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you. (ESV)

Romans 5:5 - and hope does not put us to shame, because God's love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us. (ESV)

II Corinthians 1:22 - and who has also put his seal on us and given us his Spirit in our hearts as a guarantee. (ESV)

What's quoted in the New Testament from Jesus is that Jesus spoke with His physical mouth that God is His Father.

If we take the word "literal" to mean "literal meaning", then yes, Jesus has said that He's Father God's 'son' in John 8:54.

John 8:54 - Jesus answered, If I glorify myself, my glory is nothing. It is my Father who glorifies me, of whom you say, He is our God. (ESV)

If we take the word "literal" to mean "literal meaning", then Jesus claims to be the Son of God, as in the Only-Begotten Son of God in John 8:28 by claiming to be the Son of Man if we connect that to Daniel 7:13:

John 8:28 - So Jesus said to them, When you have lifted up the Son of Man, then you will know that I am he, and that I do nothing on my own authority, but speak just as the Father taught me. (ESV)

Daniel 7:13 - I saw in the night visions, and behold, with the clouds of heaven there came one like a son of man, and he came to the Ancient of Days and was presented before him. (ESV)

Is it recorded in the New Testament that Jesus said "verbatim" "I am the Son of God" (Huios tou Theou eimi) but it is part of a question and in the English in isolation it could be read as merely a question without actually affirming it:

John 10:35-36 - If he called them gods to whom the word of God came—and Scripture cannot be broken— do you say of him whom the Father consecrated and sent into the world, You are blaspheming, because I said, I am the Son of God? (ESV)

So Jesus has both literally (same meaning, no metaphor) said that He is the Son of God, and verbatim (without necessarily affirming the words in the same words) "I am the Son of God" (but He might have been).

Does the New Testament record Jesus at the same time both literally and verbatim speaking "I am the Son of God?" ("Huios tou Theou eimi") in affirming it as truth? That is a question I cannot answer with certainty. I'd literally have to know Jesus' heart at that exact moment He said what He said and there are things which Jesus has spoken which are not written down.

I believe that God is good. I do not believe that God is evil. I truly believe that Jesus Christ God's Son is good and Father God Jehovah is good.

If a person were to ask me "why" I believe that Jesus Christ is God's Only-Begotten Son, one of the reasons is because I think His works were agape-loving and good, obedient and faithful to Father God.

I think that's important because in examinng whether or not I really believe, I think that believing Jesus Christ is the Son of God would involve believing that He is good as Father God is good, that He practiced righteousness. Like Father, like Son. And I like the person of Jesus Christ. I think He is good and He's Righteous. Jesus Christ is more righteous than me, that's for sure. Jesus Christ is perfectly obedient and always does and always ever did the will of Father God. Jesus Christ is unsurpassable righteousness.

John 8:31-47 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed (G4100 pepisteukotas: having believed 'V-RPA-AMP past tense') in him, If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free. They answered him, We are offspring of Abraham and have never been enslaved to anyone. How is it that you say, You will become free? Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. I know that you are offspring of Abraham; yet you seek to kill me because my word finds no place in you. I speak of what I have seen with my Father, and you do what you have heard from your father. They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham's children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. Which one of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God. (ESV)

II Corinthians 13:5-8 - Examine yourselves, to see whether you are in the faith. Test yourselves. Or do you not realize this about yourselves, that Jesus Christ is in you? —unless indeed you fail to meet the test! I hope you will find out that we have not failed the test. But we pray to God that you may not do wrong—not that we may appear to have met the test, but that you may do what is right, though we may seem to have failed. For we cannot do anything against the truth, but only for the truth.

I don't know what Jesus had in mind then He spoke the words 'You (G4771 Hymeis) say (G3004 legete) that (G3754 hoti) I (G1473 egō) am (G1510 eimi)', according to the writer of Luke, and I don't know Biblical Hebrew. But I find it amazing that through even the testimony of others, and through the testimony of Father God, and through the prophets, and through the works, and through everything that He did, so many people came to believe that He is God's Only Begotten Son but I do believe the Scripture and I believe the testimony of the Apostles. I trust that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, I hope in it and I believe it and I hope and trust in Jesus:

Luke 22:70-71 - And they all said, "Are You the Son of God, then?" And He said to them, "Yes, I am." Then they said, "What further need do we have of testimony? For we have heard it ourselves from His own mouth." (NASB)

Luke 22:70-71 - So they all said, Are you the Son of God, then? And he said to them, You say that I am. Then they said, What further testimony do we need? We have heard it ourselves from his own lips. (ESV)

Luke 22:70-71 - And they all said, 'Thou, then, art the Son of God?' and he said unto them, 'Ye say it, because I am;' and they said, 'What need yet have we of testimony? for we ourselves did hear it from his mouth.' (YLT)

The verses which follow clearly demonstrate that Jesus Christ is affirming that He is God's Son. They also show that having faith that Jesus is the Son of God is essentially related and perhaps equivalent to having faith that Jesus is in the Father and the Father in Jesus. And with Father God's works, Jesus Christ's works, Father God's testimony, and the confession of other people, all available, we are instructed by Jesus to either trust Jesus' words, or believe on the account of the works. Yes, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God and Father God dwelling in Jesus was doing His works, and I believe that Jesus and Father God are One.:

John 14:10-12 - Do you not believe that I am in the Father and the Father is in me? The words that I say to you I do not speak on my own authority, but the Father who dwells in me does his works. Believe me that I am in the Father and the Father is in me, or else believe on account of the works themselves. Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)

John 10:9-14 - I am the door. If anyone enters by me, he will be saved and will go in and out and find pasture. The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy. I came that they may have life and have it abundantly. I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep. He who is a hired hand and not a shepherd, who does not own the sheep, sees the wolf coming and leaves the sheep and flees, and the wolf snatches them and scatters them. He flees because he is a hired hand and cares nothing for the sheep. I am the good shepherd. I know my own and my own know me, (ESV)

Jesus can read all people's hearts, whether good or evil:

John 2:23-25 - Now when he was in Jerusalem at the Passover Feast, many believed in his name when they saw the signs that he was doing. But Jesus on his part did not entrust himself to them, because he knew all people and needed no one to bear witness about man, for he himself knew what was in man. (ESV)

Luke 9:47-48 - But Jesus, knowing the reasoning of their hearts, took a child and put him by his side and said to them, Whoever receives this child in my name receives me, and whoever receives me receives him who sent me. For he who is least among you all is the one who is great. (ESV)

Matthew 9:4 - But Jesus, knowing their thoughts, said, Why do you think evil in your hearts? (ESV)

Psalms 139:2 - You know when I sit down and when I rise up; you discern my thoughts from afar. (ESV)

Psalms 139:23 - Search me, O God, and know my heart! Try me and know my thoughts! (ESV)

It's interesting... Jesus' disciples also gave a reason for why they trust He came from God. I'm certainly a fallible person and can't read everyone's hearts as Jesus can:

John 16:29-30 - His disciples said, Ah, now you are speaking plainly and not using figurative speech! Now we know that you know all things and do not need anyone to question you; this is why we believe that you came from God. (ESV)

Luke 5:22 - When Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answered them, Why do you question in your hearts? (ESV)

John 1:48-49 - Nathanael said to him, How do you know me? Jesus answered him, Before Philip called you, when you were under the fig tree, I saw you. Nathanael answered him, Rabbi, you are the Son of God! You are the King of Israel! (ESV)

2.71 Journal <2025-11-01 Sat>

We need a righteousness sufficient to enter the kingdom of heaven and we can have that righteousness by imputation through faith in the truth. We must abide in the teaching of Christ, though. We need to have faith in the real Jesus Christ:

Romans 4:11-13 - He received the sign of circumcision as a seal of the righteousness that he had by faith while he was still uncircumcised. The purpose was to make him the father of all who believe without being circumcised, so that righteousness would be counted to them as well, and to make him the father of the circumcised who are not merely circumcised but who also walk in the footsteps of the faith that our father Abraham had before he was circumcised. For the promise to Abraham and his offspring that he would be heir of the world did not come through the law but through the righteousness of faith. (ESV)

II John 1:9-10 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, (ESV)

But this faith must be a "lawful" faith. The commandment of faith must not violate the 2 Great Commandments:

I Corinthians 16:22 - If anyone has no love for the Lord, let him be accursed. Our Lord, come! (ESV)

Galatians 1:8-9 - But even if we or an angel from heaven should preach to you a gospel contrary to the one we preached to you, let him be accursed. As we have said before, so now I say again: If anyone is preaching to you a gospel contrary to the one you received, let him be accursed. (ESV)

Matthew 22:37-40 - And he said to him, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)

II Thessalonians 2:9-10 - The coming of the lawless one is by the activity of Satan with all power and false signs and wonders, and with all wicked deception for those who are perishing, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. (ESV)

This is reiterated in the Apostle John's words:

I John 3:23 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. (ESV)

Jesus Christ has to be our greatest agape love. We certainly must prefer Jesus to sin. But we must also prefer Him to everything else:

Mark 8:35 - For whoever would save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake and the gospel's will save it. (ESV)

Colossians 3:4 - When Christ who is your life appears, then you also will appear with him in glory. (ESV)

Revelation of John 2:1-5 - "To the angel of the church in Ephesus write: The One who holds the seven stars in His right hand, the One who walks among the seven golden lampstands, says this: 'I know your deeds and your toil and perseverance, and that you cannot tolerate evil men, and you put to the test those who call themselves apostles, and they are not, and you found them to be false; and you have perseverance and have endured for My name's sake, and have not grown weary. But I have this against you, that you have left your first (G4413 protos) love (G26 agape). Therefore remember from where you have fallen, and repent and do the deeds you did at first; or else I am coming to you and will remove your lampstand out of its place—unless you repent. (NASB)

John 3:14-19 - And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than (G3123 mallon, rather/more than, in preference to, instead of) light, because their deeds were evil. (KJV)

Matthew 10:32-38 - So everyone who acknowledges me before men, I also will acknowledge before my Father who is in heaven, but whoever denies me before men, I also will deny before my Father who is in heaven. Do not think that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I have not come to bring peace, but a sword. For I have come to set a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. And a person's enemies will be those of his own household. Whoever loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me, and whoever loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. And whoever does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me. (ESV)

One must be born-again of water and the spirit and do the will of Father God to enter the kingdom of God:

Matthew 7:21 - Not everyone who says to me, Lord, Lord, will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the one who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. (ESV)

Matthew 5:20 - For I tell you, unless your righteousness exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. (ESV)

John 3:5 - Jesus answered, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God. (ESV)

Deuteronomy 30:6 - And the LORD your God will circumcise your heart and the heart of your offspring, so that you will love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, that you may live. (ESV)

Ezekiel 18:31-32 - Cast away from you all the transgressions that you have committed, and make yourselves a new heart and a new spirit! Why will you die, O house of Israel? For I have no pleasure in the death of anyone, declares the Lord GOD; so turn, and live. (ESV)

We must continue in the faith, even continue in the faith through "tribulation":

Acts 14:21-22 - When they had preached the gospel to that city and had made many disciples, they returned to Lystra and to Iconium and to Antioch, strengthening the souls of the disciples, encouraging them to continue in the faith, and saying that through many tribulations we must enter the kingdom of God. (ESV)

It's not possible to cheat Jesus over it. He can see the heart:

Matthew 18:3 - and said, Truly, I say to you, unless you turn and become like children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. (ESV)

So if a person agrees with Holy Spirit that Father God was just in justifying Jesus and raising Him from the dead for His perfect obedience to Father God while we were yet sinners (i.e. God loved us first before we loved Him), for fulfilling the entire Law and the prophets, for being good as Father God is also good, for practicing perfect righteousness, then that is a very righteous agreement a person is making in agreeing with God over it. I think that righteousness is the righteousness one requires to enter the Kingdom of God. I think that is where imputed righteousness comes from, or at least that is in agreement itself with the Truth. But that's the intuition of it, I think. If God made a very important judgement that affects the whole of humanity then we better be in agreement with it:

Romans 1:4 - and was declared to be the Son of God in power according to the Spirit of holiness by his resurrection from the dead, Jesus Christ our Lord, (ESV)

2.72.1 Atonement

Fear of God and hoping in God's steadfast love are strongly associated. Hoping in God's steadfast love and having the fear of God (wanting to please God, not wanting to sin against God), are strongly linked together. And because the faith we have is one which loves the truth of God, having the fear of God and having a love for the truth and a hatred of evil are all strongly linked together:

Psalms 33:18-19 - Behold, the eye of the LORD is on those who fear him, on those who hope in his steadfast love, that he may deliver their soul from death and keep them alive in famine. (ESV)

With some amount of fear of God a person would have some compunction about sinning against God; A person with the fear of God is adverse to sinning against God and so repentance from sin goes hand in hand with the fear of God:

Genesis 20:11 - Abraham said, I did it because I thought, There is no fear of God at all in this place, and they will kill me because of my wife. (ESV)

Proverbs 16:6 - By steadfast love and faithfulness iniquity is atoned for, and by the fear of the LORD one turns away from evil. (ESV)

Ultimately, when we sin, we sin against God and we ultimately needed God to have loved us first in sending Jesus Christ while we were all still sinners in order that we might be cleansed from our sin as without the shedding of blood there is no remission of sin:

Psalms 51:1-4 - Have mercy on me, O God, according to your steadfast love; according to your abundant mercy blot out my transgressions. To the choirmaster. A Psalm of David, when Nathan the prophet went to him, after he had gone in to Bathsheba. Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin! For I know my transgressions, and my sin is ever before me. Against you, you only, have I sinned and done what is evil in your sight, so that you may be justified in your words and blameless in your judgment. (ESV)

Hebrews 9:22 - Indeed, under the law almost everything is purified with blood, and without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness of sins. (ESV)

Given Proverbs 16:6 which says that "steadfast love and faithfulness atones for iniquity" and Jesus saying that "greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends" and Him saying "You are my friends if you do what I command you" I believe that as Jesus was walking in love and faithfulness, perfectly obedient to Father God, Jesus' blood atones for the sins of those who abide in His commandments:

John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)

We are absolutely supposed to be not committing sin. But if we do sin then we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ. That propitiation for sin is available to all people to be received through faith in Jesus Christ:

I John 2:1-6 - My little children, I am writing these things to you so that you may not sin. But if anyone does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. He is the propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only but also for the sins of the whole world. And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

There is a righteousness that we can have through faith (imputed righteousness) and there is propitiation for sin that we might commit even after coming to faith:

Romans 3:21-31 - But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from the law, although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God’s righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. Or is God the God of Jews only? Is he not the God of Gentiles also? Yes, of Gentiles also, since God is one. He will justify the circumcised by faith and the uncircumcised through faith. Do we then overthrow the law by this faith? By no means! On the contrary, we uphold the law. (ESV)

We are sanctified through faith and obedience to Jesus Christ:

Faith in the blood of Jesus looks like by faith obeying Jesus Christ as Abraham did (Hebrews 11:8):

- Trusting that Jesus Christ’s propitiation for sin is available to wash away one’s sin
- Believing what is said by Jesus’ Apostles regarding sanctification and doing the will of God:
 - That we are sanctified by faith (actively trusting in, hoping in) in Jesus Christ
 - * Acts 26:18 - to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me. (ESV)
 - That we are sanctified by obedience to the Truth for a sincere love of our family in Christ
 - * I Peter 1:22 - Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, (ESV)

Jesus' sacrifice was done once for all (but we still need to receive it through faith in Jesus Christ):

Hebrews 9:24-28 - For Christ has entered, not into holy places made with hands, which are copies of the true things, but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God on our behalf. Nor was it to offer himself repeatedly, as the high priest enters the holy places every year with blood not his own, for then he would have had to suffer repeatedly since the foundation of the world. But as it is, he has appeared once for all at the end of the ages to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself. And just as it is appointed for man to die once, and after that comes judgment, so Christ, having been offered once to bear the sins of many, will appear a second time, not to deal with sin but to save those who are eagerly waiting for him. (ESV)

Hebrews 10:5-14 - Consequently, when Christ came into the world, he said, Sacrifices and offerings you have not desired, but a body have you prepared for me; in burnt offerings and sin offerings you have taken no pleasure. Then I said, Behold, I have come to do your will, O God, as it is written of me in the scroll of the book. When he said above, You have neither desired nor taken pleasure in sacrifices and offerings and burnt offerings and sin offerings (these are offered according to the law), then he added, Behold, I have come to do your will. He abolishes the first in order to establish the second. And by that will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. And every priest stands daily at his service, offering repeatedly the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins. But when Christ had offered for all time a single sacrifice for sins, he sat down at the right hand of God, waiting from that time until his enemies should be made a footstool for his feet. For by a single offering he has perfected for all time those who are being sanctified. (ESV)

"Cancelling our debt" is a metaphor that some people might try to incorrectly make Jesus' words conform to, rather than the other way around. We must abide in Jesus Christ's commandments so that we are justified and sanctified. We must have faith in the truth. We must love the truth. We must abide in love. We must be repentant, preferring God to sin.

We have been crucified with Christ and we died to sin, as Jesus "cancelled our debt", so now we must cease to walk in sin, and not go back to the vomit:

Colossians 2:13-14 - And you, who were dead in your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, God made alive together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses, by canceling the record of debt that stood against us with its legal demands. This he set aside, nailing it to the cross.

2.73 Journal <2025-11-02 Sun>

So trusting in Father God involves trusting in His righteous judgement regarding Jesus Christ:

Romans 4:22-25 - That is why his faith was counted to him as righteousness. But the words it was counted to him were not written for his sake alone, but for ours also. It will be counted to us who believe in him who raised from the dead Jesus our Lord, who was delivered up for our trespasses and raised for our justification. (ESV)

However this faith that we must have is one which accompanies agape love for Jesus. So we also rejoice with the truth (I Corinthians 13:1-8) that God has judged justly and raised our Lord Jesus Christ from the dead declaring Him to be the Son of God, and we agape love Jesus Christ as we hold our faith in Him and in Father God:

I Corinthians 16:22 - If anyone has no love for the Lord, let him be accursed. Our Lord, come! (ESV)

Now some people distort this idea of "imputed righteousness" and make it sound like a person can do no wrong after coming to faith because Jesus "took their place", where I think that real faith continues (it's a doing word), and the love we must have for Jesus Christ is abiding in His commandments. So imputed righteousness is a righteousness which we hold while we have faith in and love for the Lord. Naturally, we must prefer Him to sin. We must be repentant from sin to have this imputed righteousness. And the faith is ongoing. Pisteuo is a verb, a doing word. We've got to "do" Christ's law of faith:

John 3:16 (Interlinear) Thus so (Houtōs) (in this way) did God love (G25 agapaó - value, treasure) the world, that He gave His Only-Begotten (G3439. monogenēs - unique, only begotten) Son that (G2443 hina - in order that) everyone who is trusting/believing (G4100 pisteuo) in Him may not perish, but may have life everlasting:

John 8:31-47 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed (G4100 pepisteukotas: having believed 'V-RPA-AMP past tense') in him, If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free. They answered him, We are offspring of Abraham and have never been enslaved to anyone. How is it that you say, You will become free? Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. I know that you are offspring of Abraham; yet you seek to kill me because my word finds no place in you. I speak of what I have seen with my Father, and you do what you have heard from your father. They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham's children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. Which one of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God. (ESV)

I will just say this here, I think that Father God was always pleased with Jesus Christ, His Son, and the chastisement He received is better viewed as God allowing Him to "take a beating", rather than God's wrath against Him. I don't think God was wrathful at all towards Jesus. But all the while, Jesus maintained love and faithfulness for His friends and perfect obedience to Father God.

Isaiah 53:5 - But he was wounded for our transgressions; he was crushed for our iniquities; upon him was the chastisement that brought us peace, and with his stripes we are healed. (ESV)

Proverbs 16:6 - By steadfast love and faithfulness iniquity is atoned for, and by the fear of the LORD one turns away from evil. (ESV)

I also believe that it's totally biblical that if we do not go on abiding in Jesus' commandments then there is the real consequence of being "grafted out" of Christ.

Romans 11:19-21 - Then you will say, Branches were broken off so that I might be grafted in. That is true. They were broken off because of their unbelief, but you stand fast through faith. So do not become proud, but stand in awe. For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. (ESV)

So the "substitutionary sacrifice" of Jesus dying in one's place I think has to be seen still through the lens of how the Scriptures say it is appropriated, rather than trying to shoehorn everything else to fit the idea that Jesus took one's place. Salvation is still received through faith and obedience to Jesus Christ, abiding in His commandments. And we must continue to abide in His commandments:

Matthew 20:25-28 - But Jesus called them to him and said, You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. It shall not be so among you. But whoever would be great among you must be your servant, and whoever would be first among you must be your slave, even as the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many. (ESV)

Note <2025-11-04 Tue> I'm convicted in the heart that I should keep certain prayers private. So I'm going to from now on be more reserved about what I pray in a public setting.

II Peter 3:17-18 - You therefore, beloved, knowing this beforehand, take care that you are not carried away with the error of lawless people and lose your own stability. But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To him be the glory both now and to the day of eternity. Amen. (ESV)

I John 1:1-10 - That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we looked upon and have touched with our hands, concerning the word of life— the life was made manifest, and we have seen it, and testify to it and proclaim to you the eternal life, which was with the Father and was made manifest to us— that which we have seen and heard we proclaim also to you, so that you too may have fellowship with us; and indeed our fellowship is with the Father and with his Son Jesus Christ. And we are writing these things so that our joy may be complete. This is the message we have heard from him and proclaim to you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. If we say we have fellowship with him while we walk in darkness, we lie and do not practice the truth. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. If we say we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us. (ESV)

I John 2:1-8 - My little children, I am writing these things to you so that you may not sin. But if anyone does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. He is the propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only but also for the sins of the whole world. And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. Beloved, I am writing you no new commandment, but an old commandment that you had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word that you have heard. At the same time, it is a new commandment that I am writing to you, which is true in him and in you, because the darkness is passing away and the true light is already shining. (ESV)

John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

Jesus promised He would send the Helper, the Spirit of Truth to those who love Him and keep His commandments and the Spirit of Truth would bear witness about Him:

John 14:15-17 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Helper, to be with you forever, even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him. You know him, for he dwells with you and will be in you. (ESV)

John 15:26-27 - But when the Helper comes, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth, who proceeds from the Father, he will bear witness about me. And you also will bear witness, because you have been with me from the beginning. (ESV)

I am born-again of the Spirit, I'm repentant, I love God (though I'm extremely frustrated and feel let down by Him for allowing me to be attacked by demons for an inordinate amount of time without providing the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit direct to my heart), I hate sin, I am confident that I am keeping Jesus' commandments, practicing righteousness, I love Jesus more than sin, I choose Jesus when being tested, and this defilement just doesn't seem to be going away and I'm still getting harassed by demons daily and nightly. So what's going on? Who is the unfaithful party here in the New Covenant? Is it me? Where is the "fighting chance" or the "fair trial" which God cares about? Does God see my heart? Because when I get demonic dreams it really does seem like satan has some kind of window into my mind, but is it not God who sees all hearts?

If God demonstrates lack of care for repentance, weighing the hearts, just scales, etc. by allowing me to be oppressed by demons while I'm repentant then He shouldn't have written concerning it or righteousness or anything.

Physical bodily attacks or worldly persecution is one thing. Spiritual attacks coming against my mind and soul are another thing, and it's not OK. When I read something in the Bible such as I John 5:18 then I expect it to be reliable. If it's untrustworthy then what's the point of it? The spiritual attacks against my mind and soul have to stop immediately. I rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name.

If God doesn't want to give a testimony when the time is right then He shouldn't have promised to give it in the first place. So either the time isn't right and God just wants me to endure demonic oppression for a reason I don't understand and He isn't willing to speak to me about, or the time is right for God to give me that testimony but He's being unfaithful. Do I always have to constantly expect that God won't provide what He promises? That I'm the always at fault, but without explanation? The problem is the lack of explanation. If there's no explanation then there is no guilt. I want to be set free from demonic oppression. I demand to be set free from it. People might read this. What does God think of that? Is this what He wants people to think a relationship with Him is like? The attacks against my mind and soul have to stop immediately in Jesus Christ's name.

John 15:22-24 - If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not have been guilty of sin, but now they have no excuse for their sin. Whoever hates me hates my Father also. If I had not done among them the works that no one else did, they would not be guilty of sin, but now they have seen and hated both me and my Father. (ESV)

Proverbs 21:2 - Every way of a man is right in his own eyes, but the LORD weighs the heart. (ESV)

I'm just being attacked for no fair reason (from what I can tell). I want that testimony which Jesus has promised and I want to be sanctified. I want to be cleaned up immediately and I want to be protected from evil and for Jesus to be true to His word. Is that too much to ask for? For Jesus to be true to His word, and sanctify me as I trust and obey Him? I'm not asking for any more than He has promised.

I John 3:8 - Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. (ESV)

I John 5:18 - We know that everyone who has been born of God does not keep on sinning, but he who was born of God protects him, and the evil one does not touch him. (ESV)

Proverbs 11:1 - A false balance is an abomination to the LORD, but a just weight is his delight. (ESV)

Luke 11:11-13 - What father among you, if his son asks for a fish, will instead of a fish give him a serpent; or if he asks for an egg, will give him a scorpion? If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will the heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him! (ESV)

Galatians 4:6 - And because you are sons, God has sent the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, crying, Abba! Father! (ESV)

I lay down to take a nap and immediately start getting intrusive thoughts. And I sleep and these antichrist dreams.

So what I just woke up from was a dream with a sci-fi fastasy theme of visiting another planet in stealth and an "officer suggested to the rest of the people" that we use generative AI to produce sermons and push them out to the public to let them know that it doesn't matter what we do (that we don't have to be faithful to Jesus or the gospel or love Jesus etc.).

I am so sick of getting harassed by demons. I am so sick of it.

God, it's horrendous. It's filth.

I just lay down for a nap during the day and got hit with 2 or 3 of these antichrist dreams and intrusive thoughts.

So much of this type of demonic harassment. It's just been continual stuff like this waking me up at 3 AM, to erections, spirit-spouse stuff (something that feels like it's pushing into my mouth and into my loins), intrusive thoughts, being terrorised daily.

We certainly have a part to play in our relationship with God:

II Timothy 2:10-13 - Therefore I endure everything for the sake of the elect, that they also may obtain the salvation that is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory. The saying is trustworthy, for: If we have died with him, we will also live with him; if we endure, we will also reign with him; if we deny him, he also will deny us; if we are faithless, he remains faithful— for he cannot deny himself. (ESV)

I John 1:9 - If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (ESV)

John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)

I rebuke this demonic harassment in Jesus Christ's name.

Philippians 1:29 - For it has been granted to you that for the sake of Christ you should not only believe in him but also suffer for his sake, (ESV)

John 6:65 - And he said, This is why I told you that no one can come to me unless it is granted him by the Father. (ESV)

Matthew 19:14 - but Jesus said, Let the little children come to me and do not hinder them, for to such belongs the kingdom of heaven. (ESV)

John 7:37-38 - On the last day of the feast, the great day, Jesus stood up and cried out, If anyone thirsts, let him come to me and drink. Whoever believes in me, as the Scripture has said, Out of his heart will flow rivers of living water. (ESV)

So this morning I wake up to a voice which just tells me "we love you, no matter what you do" and a dream of walking around an empty university which still had its internet running.

But the word of God says this:

I John 4:8 - Anyone who does not love does not know God, because God is love. (ESV)

I John 4:16 - So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. (ESV)

I John 4:10 - In this is love, not that we have loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. (ESV)

II John 1:6 - And this is love, that we walk according to his commandments; this is the commandment, just as you have heard from the beginning, so that you should walk in it. (ESV)

II Timothy 2:12 - if we endure, we will also reign with him; if we deny him, he also will deny us; (ESV)

James 4:4 - You adulterous people! Do you not know that friendship with the world is enmity with God? Therefore whoever wishes to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God. (ESV)

So this morning I wake up to a voice which just tells me "we love you, no matter what you do" and a dream of walking around an empty university which still had its internet running.

Information is different than the physical food because it affects the mind and heart when believed. If someone ingests AI generated lies and believes them, they regurgitate it and are defiled by it. If it goes through the mind and heart and a person believes it, they are defiled by it.

Mark 7:18-20 - And he said to them, Then are you also without understanding? Do you not see that whatever goes into a person from outside cannot defile him, since it enters not his heart but his stomach, and is expelled? (Thus he declared all foods clean.) And he said, What comes out of a person is what defiles him. (ESV)

Essentially what is going on with this massive push for ASI (artificial super intelligence) is this. Evil people want to be their own god. They don't want the wisdom that is Jesus Christ. They don't want to come under Jesus' Lordship, they don't want to come to Jesus, but would prefer to build their own "golden calf" which they can put their attention on, see with their natural eyes, without needing to deal with sin, come to know and see Jesus.

I John 3:6 - No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. (ESV)

God loves us and He gave us free will to receive His salvation from sin through Jesus Christ our Lord who's commandments we abide in. And God loves us so He lets people choose to go to hell if they want to. In rejecting Christ, God hands them over to an eternity without Christ. So people get their heart's desire.

God "gives people up" to the lusts of their hearts:

Romans 1:21-32 - For although they knew God, they did not honor him as God or give thanks to him, but they became futile in their thinking, and their foolish hearts were darkened. Claiming to be wise, they became fools, and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images resembling mortal man and birds and animals and reptiles. Therefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts to impurity, to the dishonoring of their bodies among themselves, because they exchanged the truth about God for a lie and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever! Amen. For this reason God gave them up to dishonorable passions. For their women exchanged natural relations for those that are contrary to nature; and the men likewise gave up natural relations with women and were consumed with passion for one another, men committing shameless acts with men and receiving in themselves the due penalty for their error. And since they did not see fit to acknowledge God, God gave them up to a debased mind to do what ought not to be done. They were filled with all manner of unrighteousness, evil, covetousness, malice. They are full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, maliciousness. They are gossips, slanderers, haters of God, insolent, haughty, boastful, inventors of evil, disobedient to parents, foolish, faithless, heartless, ruthless. Though they know God's decree that those who practice such things deserve to die, they not only do them but give approval to those who practice them. (ESV)

I certainly, wholeheartedly, and without reservation pass judgement on people who are trying to replace God and human beings with robots. I know God's judgement will fall on those who by their unrighteous idolatry and insatiable greed suppress the truth of God and exploit human beings, and those who imbibe on that AI generated stuff will receive what is due for it. I have no reservations about this judgement. I think that anyone who wants to live in that cesspit future where technology tramples over all that is sacred, can spend their eternity being consumed by it. And anyone who would rather have God should be able to be sanctified and go to be with God instead.

Romans 2:1-3 - Therefore you have no excuse, O man, every one of you who judges. For in passing judgment on another you condemn yourself, because you, the judge, practice the very same things. We know that the judgment of God rightly falls on those who do such things. Do you suppose, O man—you who judge those who do such things and yet do them yourself—that you will escape the judgment of God? (ESV)

Revelation of John 21:27 - But nothing unclean will ever enter it, nor anyone who does what is detestable or false, but only those who are written in the Lamb's book of life. (ESV)

II Corinthians 7:1 - Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God. (ESV)

AGI is essentially trying to replace human beings with technology. ASI is trying to replace God with technology.

But to force people to imbibe on and be indoctrinated by this AGI and ASI stuff I think is worthy of condemnation.

Romans 14:15 - For if your brother is grieved by what you eat, you are no longer walking in love. By what you eat, do not destroy the one for whom Christ died. (ESV)

Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

This generative AI stuff. To use an analogy, learning from AI generated material is like feeding on the collective feces of the human race. And to put an eternal spin on this, being led by AI wont take a person to Father God. Jesus is the only way to Father God. Being led by artificial intelligence entails not being led by the Spirit of Christ.

Anything that tries to force it on to me I rebuke in the Mighty name of Jesus Christ.

2.76 Journal <2025-11-04 Tue>

I had some really nice interactions and conversations with people on the street and at my Bible study.

Another cool thing I noticed theologically today is the "faith and love" pattern fits Abraham's justification. Abraham was justified by faith when He believed God and it was counted as righteousness. And when Abraham was justified by works, God tested His heart for love and fear of God (which are highly related).

Thinking over the beauty of justification by faith in Jesus, Jesus being worthy to be resurrected from the dead and worthy to be Lord, and how confessing that Jesus is the Son of God carry's with it an acknowledgement that He is worthy to have that title and confessing Jesus is Lord, likewise, there is a beautiful elegance to God's wisdom.

And I had real joy in contemplating theology today.

Philippians 2:9-11 - Therefore God has highly exalted him and bestowed on him the name that is above every name, so that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, in heaven and on earth and under the earth, and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father. (ESV)

In the evening I have felt like God has been cleaning me. I just feel this warm fire of cleansing over my body. I hope this trend continues.

I pray that people come to repentance.

John 10:25-30 - Jesus answered them, I told you, and you do not believe. The works that I do in my Father's name bear witness about me, but you do not believe because you are not part of my flock. My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me. I give them eternal life, and they will never perish, and no one will snatch them out of my hand. My Father, who has given them to me, is greater than all, and no one is able to snatch them out of the Father's hand. I and the Father are one. (ESV)

Last night I googled for "can a person legally run mac os 7" and this search result stuck out as if it shouldn't even belong in the results and I had a look over it.

<https://www.whitehouse.gov/wp-content/uploads/2025/07/Americas-AI-Action-Plan.pdf>

- Firstly, on the note of Mac OS 7, although it's an old OS, it's simple and elegant and I'd have fun using it as the shell to my terminal. Old things which have been refined are often better than new things. People should be able to hone their crafts, and thresh in hope, and not be continually undermined by "updates" or so-called "innovations".

I Corinthians 9:10 - Does he not speak entirely for our sake?

It was written for our sake, because the plowman should plow in hope and the thresher thresh in hope of sharing in the crop. (ESV)

I think that AI should not be used to replace human workers in any way, and that AI should stick to "running in the background" of society doing menial tasks that humans don't want to do. And humans do want jobs. Just because something can be done with automation doesn't mean it should be done with automation. Studying human beings to automate them is a form of terrorism. Forcing human beings to treat robots like humans (to think of them as peers) is a form of terrorism, and very much against Jesus' teachings.

Galatians 5:14 - For the whole law is fulfilled in one word: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. (ESV)

I John 2:15 - Do not love the world or the things in the world.

If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. (ESV)

People should stick to studying something else with their computers, rather than human beings in order to automate tasks that belong to humans. Chatbots are not people. Innovation should not be allowed to trample over human beings, and for what end? It's driven by greed. Who is in political power except people who have lots of money? The Kingdom of God is about serving one another through love, and rather than wealth redistribution, this drive to "innovate" with AI is anti-God. It's an atheistic pursuit. The people who are in power in the Kingdom of God are actually the poor. It's a spiritual kingdom.

But we should not let our minds be coerced by the evil generation that is the 'world' that we are called to separate from (Biblical separation. i.e. while there might not be physical distancing, we distance ourselves by applied holy living, abstaining from sinful practices, maintaining a good conscience with God, etc.).

It grieves me where there is a push to integrate robots into society and give them roles and rights which should only be given to a human.

And ASI stuff is an abomination, straight up. I want nothing to do with the "Golden [Calf] Age". People who are trying to build ASI are disbelievers and under the control of the evil one.

Early this morning, I was attacked by evil spirits again. I rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name.

Sadly, more spiritual defilement affecting my body sexually and attacking my mind, waki

Sorry for the TMI (too much information). If I'm getting attacked, I'm not going to sweep it under the rug. I'm going to deal with it with God's help. I got so aroused by whatever was attacking me I had to relieve myself. I have felt disgusting this entire morning as a consequence. It's demonic. I'll keep fighting against it. It's basically spiritual rape what's been happening to me. And laying there, knowing I'm under attack, as these voices intrude into my mind, I am fight against them trying to sing the lyrics of "onward Christian soldiers" and having some satanic thing trying to force into my mind "'online' Christian solders", and when confessing sin to God in my mind, having this demonic voice say (can't remember the exact words) something like, "don't confess sin, confessing sin is for the weak", getting mocking dreams and voices in my head in the morning. And also these voices putting antichrist thoughts in my head (stuff that attacks the person of Jesus Christ).

For the love of God, the spiritual attacks need to stop. Jesus Christ needs to do something about it.

OK, rant time about AI, since I've had a read over the document that came out of the White House regarding the AI Action Plan. People should be able to have joy in their profession and be able to progress to become artisans and refine their art and craft, and have joy in their work.

As an analogy, consider handwriting. Not much technology is required but the skill can be developed and honed, and that's a nice thing.

Some innovations do not make life better, but actually they destroy culture.

To make a computer science analogy, you don't always use QuickSort but sometimes you resort to a simpler algorithm such as InsertionSort because, although InsertionSort is a simpler algorithm that doesn't scale as well for all problems, it's the best algorithm for the job in some cases. In a similar fashion, it's not a good idea to "throw AI at everything".

To make a movie analogy, the movie Last Samurai. The culture of the samurai was sophisticated and the people were happy, and then the innovation from the westerners influenced the government and trampled over their culture, but the simpler samurai lifestyle was better, especially for that small society. It didn't need the "big tech" of its day.

It's important to allow people to "learn and mature at a natural pace" rather than continually gaslight (undermine the sanity of) and forces updates and change onto people.

A person can feel rich with very few possessions and not much technology if they are given time to have mastery over what they have. There's no need to force change on people, to hammer new technology into them if they are happy and content. If people are happy and not under stress, how nice would that be and how many problems would that solve?

- People should be able to rest.
- People should be able to have hope for the future.
- People should be able to live in a way that the Bible says is pleasing to God.

How can anyone have peace if they're not able to function as God designed them to function?

The American economy being driven by AI for profit is a very scary thought, and a reality by the sounds of it. The AI problem is different to previous problems. AI needs be altruistic. If AI is not developed with real goals for improving the lives of other people, instead of say, just trying to make something that achieves some technological feat, then it shouldn't be developed at all, in my opinion.

If it isn't good will and altruism that are the core reasons for developing any AI technology, then I don't think said technology should be developed at all.

If the core heuristic of what makes technology performant is not, say, overcoming problems that human beings want to be solved, then whatever it is that the AI is optimising for over time is going to be misaligned with the goals of people at large. If the core heuristic for what AI projects to fund is whether or not they lead to "AI supremacy" or to profit, then I think that it's an evil pursuit. Seeking "AI supremacy" is almost synonymous with seeking to dominate the wills of other people. Literally, Sauron, One Ring stuff. Seeking "AI for profit" is almost synonymous with building the Matrix and devaluing people.

Human beings are not to be valued according to how much money they can make. I don't care how sophisticated a robot is, it's never worth more than a person.

Chatbots being integrated into the fabric of society is an indication of the end times, as it's an indication of the devaluing of people, and a lack of Biblical love.

Matthew 24:12 - And because lawlessness will be increased, the love of many will grow cold. (ESV)

There is the illusion that something can even be done with automation when in reality it can't, but people might not be able to see why it can't, but it's actually impossible to be done with automation.

- Getting born-again of the spirit can't be done with automation.
- Entering the Kingdom of God can't be done with automation.
- Praying to God can't be done with automation.
- Repentance can't be done with automation.
- The duty of a priest can't be done with automation.
- The duty of a marriage partner can't be done with automation.
- The duty to God and one's neighbour can't be done with automation.
- The steadfast love of God can't be done with automation.
- Trusting in God can't be done with automation.
- There are things that are impossible to do with automation and must be fulfilled by human beings.

So therefore, we've got to be really careful with technology to not infringe on the sacred. God, the Rock of Ages can't be replaced by automation. ASI can't take the role. ASI can't do the job.

When people say Jehovah or Yahweh I recognise both of those as referring to God's proper name given to Moses. I never heard the phonemes directly from God but God sees my heart. If there was currently issue with using precise phonemes, then I'm sure God would clear that up. Jehovah and Yahweh both really are referring to the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and refer to the Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Just as Jesus, Yeshua or Iesous also refer to Christ, the Son and I believe that Jesus' name also belongs to Father God. I also wanted to reiterate my stance on this because there have been several phenomena occurring in my life in the last weeks where God's name has appeared in a dream and people taking the name when I'm playing a video game, and also in conversations with people. There's stuff going on with me and that is why I'm confessing my stance on this right here in my journal.

Exodus 6:3 (Interlinear) and I appear unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, as God Almighty; as to My name Jehovah, I have not been known to them;

I'm just a little anxious because to me it's clear that stuff has been happening. It's really feeling like time to stand before the judgement seat of Christ time. The anticipation is real. I just wish I wasn't having any spiritual defilement problems.

I had a bit of a read over Pope Leo XIII's document today. It's worth a read.

I also don't want to rule out any possible good intentions in the "AI action plan". I haven't changed my stance though. I haven't said "AI technologies are altogether evil" but I have said that certain things should not be automated, and faith and love for God and our neighbour needs to be the guiding principles for the economy. If this is misaligned, then it's going to be much worse than children giving up their entire childhood to slave in a cotton mill. It's going to be much, much worse.

22. Therefore, those whom fortune favors are warned that riches do not bring freedom from sorrow and are of no avail for eternal happiness, but rather are obstacles; (9) that the rich should tremble at the threatenings of Jesus Christ - threatenings so unwonted in the mouth of our Lord (10) - and that a most strict account must be given to the Supreme Judge for all we possess. The chief and most excellent rule for the right use of money is one the heathen philosophers hinted at, but which the Church has traced out clearly, and has not only made known to men's minds, but has impressed upon their lives. It rests on the principle that it is one thing to have a right to the possession of money and another to have a right to use money as one wills. Private ownership, as we have seen, is the natural right of man, and to exercise that right, especially as members of society, is not only lawful, but absolutely necessary. "It is lawful," says St. Thomas Aquinas, "for a man to hold private property; and it is also necessary for the carrying on of human existence."" But if the question be asked: How must one's possessions be used? - the Church replies without hesitation in the words of the same holy Doctor: "Man should not consider his material possessions as his own, but as common to all, so as to share them without hesitation when others are in need. Whence the Apostle with, 'Command the rich of this world... to offer with no stint, to apportion largely.'" (12) True, no one is commanded to distribute to others that which is required for his own needs and those of his household; nor even to give away what is reasonably required to keep up becomingly his condition in life, "for no one ought to live other than becomingly." (13) But, when what necessity demands has been supplied, and one's standing fairly taken thought for, it becomes a duty to give to the indigent out of what remains over. "Of that which remaineth, give alms." (14) It is a duty, not of justice (save in extreme cases), but of Christian charity - a duty not enforced by human law. But the laws and judgments of men must yield place to the laws and judgments of Christ the true God, who in many ways urges on His followers the practice of almsgiving - "It is more blessed to give than to receive"; (15) and who will count a kindness done or refused to the poor as done or refused to Himself - "As long as you did it to one of My least brethren you did it to Me." (16) To sum up, then, what has been said: Whoever has received from the divine bounty a large share of temporal blessings, whether they be external and material, or gifts of the mind, has received them for the purpose of using them for the perfecting of his own nature, and, at the same time, that he may employ them, as the steward of God's providence, for the benefit of others. "He that hath a talent," said St. Gregory the Great, "let him see that he hide it not; he that hath abundance, let him quicken himself to mercy and generosity; he that hath art and skill, let him do his best to share the use and the utility hereof with his neighbor." (17)

35. We have said that the State must not absorb the individual or the family; both should be allowed free and untrammelled action so far as is consistent with the common good and the interest of others. Rulers should, nevertheless, anxiously safeguard the community and all its members; the community, because the conservation thereof is so emphatically the business of the supreme power, that the safety of the commonwealth is not only the first law, but it is a government's whole reason of existence; and the members, because both philosophy and the Gospel concur in laying down that the object of the government of the State should be, not the advantage of the ruler, but the benefit of those over whom he is placed. As the power to rule comes from God, and is, as it were, a participation in His, the highest of all sovereignties, it should be exercised as the power of God is exercised - with a fatherly solicitude which not only guides the whole, but reaches also individuals.

42. If we turn now to things external and material, the first thing of all to secure is to save unfortunate working people from the cruelty of men of greed, who use human beings as mere instruments for money-making. It is neither just nor human so to grind men down with excessive labor as to stupefy their minds and wear out their bodies. Man's powers, like his general nature, are limited, and beyond these limits he cannot go. His strength is developed and increased by use and exercise, but only on condition of due intermission and proper rest. Daily labor, therefore, should be so regulated as not to be protracted over longer hours than strength admits. How many and how long the intervals of rest should be must depend on the nature of the work, on circumstances of time and place, and on the health and strength of the workman. Those who work in mines and quarries, and extract coal, stone and metals from the bowels of the earth, should have shorter hours in proportion as their labor is more severe and trying to health. Then, again, the season of the year should be taken into account; for not unfrequently a kind of labor is easy at one time which at another is intolerable or exceedingly difficult. Finally, work which is quite suitable for a strong man cannot rightly be required from a woman or a child. And, in regard to children, great care should be taken not to place them in workshops and factories until their bodies and minds are sufficiently developed. For, just as very rough weather destroys the buds of spring, so does too early an experience of life's hard toil blight the young promise of a child's faculties, and render any true education impossible. Women, again, are not suited for certain occupations; a woman is by nature fitted for home-work, and it is that which is best adapted at once to preserve her modesty and to promote the good bringing up of children and the well-being of the family. As a general principle it may be laid down that a workman ought to have leisure and rest proportionate to the wear and tear of his strength, for waste of strength must be repaired by cessation from hard work.

In all agreements between masters and work people there is always the condition expressed or understood that there should be allowed proper rest for soul and body. To agree in any other sense would be against what is right and just; for it can never be just or right to require on the one side, or to promise on the other, the giving up of those duties which a man owes to his God and to himself.

I'm getting very demonic dreams.

I could think of the demonic dreams as stuff that I'm able to handle better than other people because I am not trusting them but trying to only listening to and follow Jesus' voice, but I could imagine other people might not be testing the spirits, especially as strictly as I do. But I feel defiled.

On top of that I've been waking up to some kind of sexual defilement afflicting my soul. There's been no end to it.

I just want everyone to know that I do my best to abide by God's commandments for me, and to remain faithful to Him, and I do my best to give God the benefit of the doubt, as His word promises that all things will work out of good for those who are called by Him according to His purpose. But with sadness, speaking the truth about it, I am still under extreme spiritual attack.

We must trust in Jesus and not in this world:

I Corinthians 7:24-31 - So, brothers, in whatever condition each was called, there let him remain with God. Now concerning the betrothed, I have no command from the Lord, but I give my judgment as one who by the Lord's mercy is trustworthy. I think that in view of the present distress it is good for a person to remain as he is. Are you bound to a wife? Do not seek to be free. Are you free from a wife? Do not seek a wife. But if you do marry, you have not sinned, and if a betrothed woman marries, she has not sinned. Yet those who marry will have worldly troubles, and I would spare you that. This is what I mean, brothers: the appointed time has grown very short. From now on, let those who have wives live as though they had none, and those who mourn as though they were not mourning, and those who rejoice as though they were not rejoicing, and those who buy as though they had no goods, and those who deal with the world as though they had no dealings with it. For the present form of this world is passing away. (ESV)

In Jesus Christ's name I rebuke the satanic oppression which has been attacking my mind, soul, and relationships and waking me up during the night, filling my head with worldly, antichrist dreams. In Jesus Christ's name I rebuke the satanic oppression, the spirit of murder, theft and destruction which has been attacking me, stealing from me, attacking my relationships, attacking my cat and my relatives. Jesus Christ, I'm so sick and tired of this stuff. I'm sick of the defilement. I'm sick of feeling neglected by God regarding it. Jesus Christ would do well to hurry up and deliver me. And also the manifestations of satanic harassment during the day sometimes. I rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name. And I hate being here in this world so much while being attacked by this stuff. And the false doctrines going around. There's so much evil. I feel like the world is darkness. It's just pitch black here.

Jesus Christ is Jehovah/Yahweh. Jesus Christ is Lord. Jesus Christ is the Son of God. Come soon, Lord Jesus. I don't want to be in this place.

John 9 - As He passed by, He saw a man blind from birth. And His disciples asked Him, "Rabbi, who sinned, this man or his parents, that he would be born blind?" Jesus answered, "It was neither that this man sinned, nor his parents; but it was so that the works of God might be displayed in him. We must work the works of Him who sent Me as long as it is day; night is coming when no one can work. While I am in the world, I am the Light of the world." When He had said this, He spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and applied the clay to his eyes, and said to him, "Go, wash in the pool of Siloam" (which is translated, Sent). So he went away and washed, and came back seeing. Therefore the neighbors, and those who previously saw him as a beggar, were saying, "Is not this the one who used to sit and beg?" Others were saying, "This is he," still others were saying, "No, but he is like him." He kept saying, "I am the one." So they were saying to him, "How then were your eyes opened?" He answered, "The man who is called Jesus made clay, and anointed my eyes, and said to me, 'Go to Siloam and wash'; so I went away and washed, and I received sight." They said to him, "Where is He?" He said, "I do not know." They brought to the Pharisees the man who was formerly blind. Now it was a Sabbath on the day when Jesus made the clay and opened his eyes. Then the Pharisees also were asking him again how he received his sight. And he said to them, "He applied clay to my eyes, and I washed, and I see." Therefore some of the Pharisees were saying, "This man is not from God, because He does not keep the Sabbath." But others were saying, "How can a man who is a sinner perform such signs?" And there was a division among them. So they said to the blind man again, "What do you say about Him, since He opened your eyes?" And he said, "He is a prophet." The Jews then did not believe it of him, that he had been blind and had received sight, until they called the parents of the very one who had received his sight, and questioned them, saying, "Is this your son, who you say was born blind? Then how does he now see?" His parents answered them and said, "We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind; but how he now sees, we do not know; or who opened his eyes, we do not know. Ask him; he is of age, he will speak for himself.” His parents said this because they were afraid of the Jews; for the Jews had already agreed that if anyone confessed Him to be Christ, he was to be put out of the synagogue. For this reason his parents said, “He is of age; ask him.” So a second time they called the man who had been blind, and said to him, “Give glory to God; we know that this man is a sinner.” He then answered, “Whether He is a sinner, I do not know; one thing I do know, that though I was blind, now I see.” So they said to him, “What did He do to you? How did He open your eyes?” He answered them, “I told you already and you did not listen; why do you want to hear it again? You do not want to become His disciples too, do you?” They reviled him and said, “You are His disciple, but we are disciples of Moses. We know that God has spoken to Moses, but as for this man, we do not know where He is from.” The man answered and said to them, “Well, here is an amazing thing, that you do not know where He is from, and yet He opened my eyes. We know that God does not hear sinners; but if anyone is God-fearing and does His will, He hears him. Since the beginning of time it has never been heard that anyone opened the eyes of a person born blind. If this man were not from God, He could do nothing.” They answered him, “You were born entirely in sins, and are you teaching us?” So they put him out. Jesus heard that they had put him out, and finding him, He said, “Do you believe in the Son of Man?” He answered, “Who is He, Lord, that I may believe in Him?” Jesus said to him, “You have both seen Him, and He is the one who is talking with you.” And he said, “Lord, I believe.” And he worshiped Him. And Jesus said, “For judgment I came into this world, so that those who do not see may see, and that those who see may become blind.” Those of the Pharisees who were with Him heard these things and said to Him, “We are not blind too, are we?” Jesus said to them, “If you were blind, you would have no sin; but since you say, ‘We see,’ your sin remains. I commented: I appreciate how she mentioned the Great commandments and Jesus' commandments, because AGI can be thought of as devaluing people and ASI (artificial super intelligence), like a "golden calf". That's the 2 great commandments being violated there. As agape love, the love which Jesus calls us to have is one which values God and people, especially our family in Christ and is willing to lay down our life for other people. And the AGI stuff (trying to reverse engineer humans and replacing them) devalues humans, not to mention the insidious theft of it, stealing a person's likeness or creative work and calling it "transformative". Devaluing humans is the opposite of treasuring them.

It seems like I have been made me born-again and forced into a world where greedy people rather than giving up their worldly treasure to love other people in deed, hold onto their money and try to offload the duty of keeping Jesus' commandments to technology, devaluing people and pursuing this 'Golden Calf' of ASI and this has created a bit of a living hell for most of the people on planet earth. To leave me in this situation and under huge amounts of spiritual attack while not giving me the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit after getting born-again is absolutely criminal.

I still receive immense amounts of spiritual attack - dream attacks, continually at night time. Broken sleeps every night with lewd (sexually lewd), homosexual, blasphemous, antichrist dreams, and when I wake up from them I also am hit with this defilement attacking my soul, making me aroused. When I am sitting down or laying on my bed, I very often and even as I am writing this, feel a defilement which is messing with my genitals, and often what feels like a ghost pressing into my mouth.

I want my complaint to go straight to throne room of God Almighty and sit at His feet day and night, every moment, always, to eternity or until He chooses to do something about it. May Jesus Christ do something about it and may He fulfill His promises. Because what has happened to me and continues to happen to me is worthy of condemnation. This ongoing spiritual oppression is satanic. Now, God has made promises. Jesus Christ has made promises. The Scripture gives promises, promises that sanctification will be brought to completion, and promises that if anyone abides in Jesus Christ's word, then Father God and Jesus Christ the Son of God will manifest to that person, and the Holy Spirit will bear testimony of Him (Jesus Christ).

A god who lies is not God at all so I have hope that Jesus will fulfill His promises and sanctify me completely and give me the promised testimony of Himself from Holy Spirit. Because as of this moment I have not heard the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit directly speaking inside of my heart. I have read the Scripture and believed the Scripture and I trust in God's word in the Scripture, even the testimony of Holy Spirit about Jesus Christ because Jesus was raised from the dead, but that is not the same type of testimony which is promised in the Scripture. That is me trusting the written word, trusting the Scripture. But what the Scripture also promises is that Jesus Christ will manifest. And the Scripture also promises that Holy Spirit would be in me and testify that I'm a child of God and will testify of Jesus Christ, and will cry "Abba Father" from my heart.

When I am receiving demonic dreams continually where I have satanic voices manifesting, then that is from a different spirit. What I'm hearing at night time with these antichrist, anti-repentance, lewd, anti-agape love of the truth, anti-holiness dreams, visions, voices, etc., these lying dreams and voices and pictures, is not from God, and is most certainly not the voice of the Holy Spirit.

What I want to hear is the voice of Holy Spirit.

My complaint rests with God, to eternity or to whenever He delivers me. God has made promises regarding deliverance from evil, sanctification and the voice of Holy Spirit which I'm hoping in. I'm not content with my situation. I'm not content with the satanic oppression I have received. My faithful God must do something about it immediately. What happens to me is a testimony of what happens to a person who is following the Lord Jesus Christ from the heart out of love for Jesus Christ. What I've so far endured is an injustice and it's absolutely criminal and whatever the source of the demonic attacks is destined for destruction. Whoever has put this satanic oppression on me I condemn. I hope there is a good reason for what I've been made to endure, but I don't know what it is. I don't want to deceive people. I'm trying my best to do my duty as a follower of Jesus to point people to the Truth. I'm going to write down what is happening to me. And if God delivers me for His glory to prove His trustworthiness, I'll most certainly let people know. Until then, I continue to put my trust in Jesus Christ, though it is me giving Him the benefit of the doubt.

People who are saved are people who have come to love truth rather than falsehood. That is one way to describe a saved person. When they hear more of the truth, they embrace it. So they might still have sin issues but prefer God to evil. And agreeing that Jesus is the Son of God entails believing

God was just in raising Him from the dead. It's important to cling to, love, treasure this truth and persevere in the love of (treasuring of) the truth, in the agape love of God. If something contradicts God's Word then it is incorrect so we must be able to be corrected by God. We can be confident we are of the truth because we love God's truth and do God's commandments.

John 18:37 - Then Pilate said to him, So you are a king? Jesus answered, You say that I am a king. For this purpose I was born and for this purpose I have come into the world—to bear witness to the truth. Everyone who is of the truth listens to my voice. (ESV)

I John 3:18-19 - Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth. By this we shall know that we are of the truth and reassure our heart before him; (ESV)

John 5:24 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears my word and believes him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come into judgment, but has passed from death to life. (ESV)

There's a lot of heresy that floats around. People cling to, trust in things that are not true. People sometimes use one truth to refute another truth in their own mind, and they delude themselves. So our hearts need to be soft enough to be corrected. We need to be teachable by God.

I John 4:15 - Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. (ESV)

I John 4:21 - And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

I John 3:24 - Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

II John 1:9 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. (ESV)

Psalms 119:140 - Your promise is well tried, and your servant loves it. (ESV)

John 8:42 - Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. (ESV)

Matthew 22:37-40 - And he said to him, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)

If a person has come to love the Truth in their heart, if they have repented, the world who is in darkness will probably try to deny it and hold a false view of that person:

I John 3:1 - See what kind of love the Father has given to us, that we should be called children of God; and so we are. The reason why the world does not know us is that it did not know him. (ESV)

God sees the heart. No-one can cheat God. God sees everything:

Jeremiah 20:12 - O LORD of hosts, who tests the righteous, who sees the heart and the mind, let me see your vengeance upon them, for to you have I committed my cause. (ESV)

John 2:24-25 - But Jesus on his part did not entrust himself to them, because he knew all people and needed no one to bear witness about man, for he himself knew what was in man. (ESV)

Romans 2:15-16 - They show that the work of the law is written on their hearts, while their conscience also bears witness, and their conflicting thoughts accuse or even excuse them on that day when, according to my gospel, God judges the secrets of men by Christ Jesus. (ESV)

These words remain true:

Ezekiel 18:20-32 - The soul who sins shall die. The son shall not suffer for the iniquity of the father, nor the father suffer for the iniquity of the son. The righteousness of the righteous shall be upon himself, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon himself. But if a wicked person turns away from all his sins that he has committed and keeps all my statutes and does what is just and right, he shall surely live; he shall not die. None of the transgressions that he has committed shall be remembered against him; for the righteousness that he has done he shall live. Have I any pleasure in the death of the wicked, declares the Lord GOD, and not rather that he should turn from his way and live? But when a righteous person turns away from his righteousness and does injustice and does the same abominations that the wicked person does, shall he live? None of the righteous deeds that he has done shall be remembered; for the treachery of which he is guilty and the sin he has committed, for them he shall die. Yet you say, The way of the Lord is not just. Hear now, O house of Israel: Is my way not just? Is it not your ways that are not just? When a righteous person turns away from his righteousness and does injustice, he shall die for it; for the injustice that he has done he shall die. Again, when a wicked person turns away from the wickedness he has committed and does what is just and right, he shall save his life. Because he considered and turned away from all the transgressions that he had committed, he shall surely live; he shall not die. Yet the house of Israel says, The way of the Lord is not just. O house of Israel, are my ways not just? Is it not your ways that are not just? Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, declares the Lord GOD. Repent and turn from all your transgressions, lest iniquity be your ruin. Cast away from you all the transgressions that you have committed, and make yourselves a new heart and a new spirit! Why will you die, O house of Israel? For I have no pleasure in the death of anyone, declares the Lord GOD; so turn, and live. (ESV)

John 3:3-8 - Jesus answered him, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born again he cannot see the kingdom of God. Nicodemus said to him, How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother's womb and be born? Jesus answered, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Do not marvel that I said to you, You must be born again. The wind blows where it wishes, and you hear its sound, but you do not know where it comes from or where it goes. So it is with everyone who is born of the Spirit. (ESV)

John 15:10-24 - If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. No longer do I call you servants, for the servant does not know what his master is doing; but I have called you friends, for all that I have heard from my Father I have made known to you. You did not choose me, but I chose you and appointed you that you should go and bear fruit and that your fruit should abide, so that whatever you ask the Father in my name, he may give it to you. These things I command you, so that you will love one another. If the world hates you, know that it has hated me before it hated you. If you were of the world, the world would love you as its own; but because you are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hates you. Remember the word that I said to you: A servant is not greater than his master. If they persecuted me, they will also persecute you. If they kept my word, they will also keep yours. But all these things they will do to you on account of my name, because they do not know him who sent me. If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not have been guilty of sin, but now they have no excuse for their sin. Whoever hates me hates my Father also. If I had not done among them the works that no one else did, they would not be guilty of sin, but now they have seen and hated both me and my Father. (ESV)

2.88 Journal <2025-11-17 Mon>

Once again, I don't care if a dream or vision depicts someone who I think to be a Christian. If it doesn't carry with it the testimony regarding Jesus Christ then I don't trust it. And once again I go another night with more of the same spiritual attacks. I don't want to be in a world where people are stolen from and devalued by technology which is being built on theft, pursued for gain but in injustice and done without regard for agape love for God and one's neighbour. I believe that a true faith in Jesus Christ does not violate Jesus' commandments and that love for Jesus Christ is required for a justifying faith and that love for God's Word and for our family in Christ is required for sanctification.

2.89 Journal <2025-11-18 Tue>

Some thoughts I had this morning after getting a dream of me talking to someone from a Baptist church. In this dream it was depicted of them that they asked me "is a person permanently saved forever if it was only for a moment that they believed". And in this dream I had said, "Yes." And they also asked, "Why?" And in this dream I quoted / paraphrased, rather, several scriptures. Though now that I've awoken from that dream, I want to clarify my stance on this from Scripture, as I wasn't happy with the entire dream conversation. It seemed to have errors in it. So this is me clarifying my current position:

A person can fall away from the faith after first coming to believe.

Luke 8:13 - And the ones on the rock are those who, when they hear the word, receive it with joy. But these have no root; they believe for a while, and in time of testing fall away. (ESV)

Hebrews 3:12-19 - Take care, brothers, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God. But exhort one another every day, as long as it is called today, that none of you may be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. For we share in Christ, if indeed we hold our original confidence firm to the end. As it is said, Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion. For who were those who heard and yet rebelled? Was it not all those who left Egypt led by Moses? And with whom was he provoked for forty years? Was it not with those who sinned, whose bodies fell in the wilderness? And to whom did he swear that they would not enter his rest, but to those who were disobedient? So we see that they were unable to enter because of unbelief. (ESV)

A person must come to not only have faith in the truth but also love the truth:

John 8:31-47 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed (G4100 pepisteukotas: having believed 'V-RPA-AMP past tense') in him, If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free. They answered him, We are offspring of Abraham and have never been enslaved to anyone. How is it that you say, You will become free? Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. I know that you are offspring of Abraham; yet you seek to kill me because my word finds no place in you. I speak of what I have seen with my Father, and you do what you have heard from your father. They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham's children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. Which one of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God. (ESV)

As Ezekiel 18:20-32 clearly shows and as Jesus also says, a person is able to repent. A person is able to come into agreement with God and love the truth and forsake sin.

Luke 13:3 - No, I tell you; but unless you repent (3340. metanoëō), you will all likewise perish. (ESV)

We have to abide in Jesus Christ's commandments through faith and obedience, and with perseverance.

Hebrews 3:12-19 - Take care, brothers, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God. But exhort one another every day, as long as it is called today, that none of you may be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. For we share in Christ, if indeed we hold our original confidence firm to the end. As it is said, Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion. For who were those who heard and yet rebelled? Was it not all those who left Egypt led by Moses? And with whom was he provoked for forty years? Was it not with those who sinned, whose bodies fell in the wilderness? And to whom did he swear that they would not enter his rest, but to those who were disobedient? So we see that they were unable to enter because of unbelief. (ESV)

In obedience we must abide in Jesus Christ's love, actually exercising it ourselves from our heart. We must not only hold our faith in Jesus Christ, but we must love Him and be keeping His commandments. We must be presently trusting and loving Jesus Christ, and continuing to abide in Jesus' commandments.

I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

We must be keepers of Jesus Christ's law and the faith which we have in Him must not violate the 2 Great Commandments:

Matthew 7:23-24 - And then will I declare to them, I never knew you; depart from me, you workers of lawlessness. Everyone then who hears these words of mine and does them will be like a wise man who built his house on the rock. (ESV)

I Corinthians 8:3 - But if anyone loves God, he is known by God. (ESV)

Matthew 22:36-40 - Teacher, which is the great commandment in the Law? And he said to him, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)

John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

I John 3:2-4 - Beloved, we are God's children now, and what we will be has not yet appeared; but we know that when he appears we shall be like him, because we shall see him as he is. And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. (ESV)

Now to bring up John 11. This says whoever is "believing..." (G4100 pisteuōn, is believing, is trusting). So a person has to have died while trusting in Jesus Christ (see in John 11) and then continue going on trusting in Jesus Christ, continuing to trust Jesus Christ, in order to "by no means" die. So we must be abiding presently in Jesus Christ's commandments. We must be trusting before and after and during this "death" that we die.

And it's God's role to give eternal life.

I don't want to overspecify things to the point where it seems like I'm the one saying who is saved. I don't want to lean on my own understanding.

Disclaimer Also, I need God to for the love of Jesus Christ deliver me from the satanic intrusive dreams and other demonic harassment, and clean up my soul from all the defilement which I'm blaming on being put under demonic oppression after I was born-again for a very extended amount of time. And I'd like God to please give me the promised testimony from Holy Spirit so that I know when to trust a dream or a vision, etc. I just want to clarify that because God needs to make the first move so that I can be led. Everything is on the backburner until God fulfills His promises which He has promised. I'm continually sacrificing good things while Jesus lets the devil rob me and lets the 'locusts' (Joel 2:25) attack me continually, all because I'm waiting on Jesus Christ to fulfill His promises and can't make particular moves without Jesus' faithfulness in particular things. What's not done in faith is sin after all, so there are things I need to wait for Jesus to do before I have confidence to speak about or confidence to do because I don't want to be in the driver's seat. I want to be led by Jesus, not feeling like I'm being 'played' by the devil continually.

OK, disclaimer given.

So if a person is not continuing to trust in Jesus Christ or love Him by abiding in His commandments then they are presently a disbeliever and presently condemned. A saved person can be described by attributes. One of them is preferring God to evil. A person who is saved loves the truth and prefers God to evil.

I do not think is correct to say that every person who has "belief" no matter how well sown the word is (i.e. disregarding Jesus' parable about the sower) can't "fall away" from the faith. Clearly there are examples of people from Jesus' parable who lost their faith.

Even the Apostle Paul shows it's important to hold one's faith and a good conscience because some people have made a shipwreck of their faith by rejecting this advice. In other words, if a person's faith were likened to a ship, that ship crashed and was very severely damaged and ruined and the Apostle Paul thought it necessary for them to learn not to blaspheme by being handed over to satan. And blasphemy is when a person is bringing dishonour to God's name, to God's reputation by committing sin.

I Timothy 1:18-20 - This charge I entrust to you, Timothy, my child, in accordance with the prophecies previously made about you, that by them you may wage the good warfare, holding faith and a good conscience. By rejecting this, some have made shipwreck of their faith, among whom are Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I have handed over to Satan that they may learn not to blaspheme. (ESV)

The fact is, if a person has disbelieved, they still have opportunity to repent (change their mind), so long as they are not dead and in Hades with an unbelieving heart. And Jesus conquered death by the way. Jesus went down there into the place of the dead (I Peter 3:18-20) and if someone who is dead hears His voice with a believing heart then they live but I'm quite sure the idea is that we need to have that faith in Jesus Christ so that when we do die (and I'm confident that refers to the spiritual baptism) we are raised to life with Him. A person may go through this death to life, perhaps in baptism, or just suddenly when God does it (it happened to me on 2 April 2022).

People who had that believing heart who had died before Jesus was crucified would have then heard and accepted Jesus' voice when He went into death, and those people would live.

A person needs a faith that is accompanied with agape love for the truth that treasures that truth and is so deeply rooted in the heart that it can't be removed. We need a law-abiding faith.

John 3:16-21 - For God so loved the world, that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life. For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him. Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his deeds should be exposed. But whoever does what is true comes to the light, so that it may be clearly seen that his deeds have been carried out in God. (ESV)

But someone who has died and is presently holding their law-abiding (non-idolatrous, family in Christ-loving, neighbour-loving) faith in Jesus Christ shall by no means die. AMEN!! And if someone isn't satisfied with that verbiage, then they are probably satan trying to get me to endorse some kind of "lawless, antinomian, Marcionic faith".

John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes (G4100 pisteuōn, is believing, is trusting) in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes (G4100 pisteuōn, is believing, is trusting) in me shall never (or "by no means" (G3756 ο) (G3361 μ')) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV) ou mé Not at all, never, by no means. G3756 (ο - no) and G3361 (μ' - no)] a double negative strengthening the denial, "not at all" Strong's Exhaustive Concordance anymore, at all, neither, never I'd say, "once saved always saved while doing the will of God".

I believe in 'once saved, always saved, while doing the will of God'. So someone must be both a believer and a follower of Jesus. We must have Jesus as our number one agape love, treasuring Him, obeying His commandments, particularly to believe in Him and love one another as He loved us.

Hebrews 7:23-25 - The former priests were many in number, because they were prevented by death from continuing in office, but he holds his priesthood permanently, because he continues forever. Consequently, he is able to save to the uttermost those who draw near to God through him, since he always lives to make intercession for them. (ESV)

I John 2:17 - And the world is passing away along with its desires, but whoever does the will of God abides forever.

I Corinthians 10:7-12 - Do not be idolaters as some of them were; as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink and rose up to play. We must not indulge in sexual immorality as some of them did, and twenty-three thousand fell in a single day. We must not put Christ to the test, as some of them did and were destroyed by serpents, nor grumble, as some of them did and were destroyed by the Destroyer. Now these things happened to them as an example, but they were written down for our instruction, on whom the end of the ages has come. Therefore let anyone who thinks that he stands take heed lest he fall. (ESV)

Want to not die anymore? Have you considered never marrying?

Luke 20:34-36 - And Jesus said to them, The sons of this age marry and are given in marriage, but those who are considered worthy to attain to that age and to the resurrection from the dead neither marry nor are given in marriage, for they cannot die anymore, because they are equal to angels and are sons of God, being sons of the resurrection. (ESV)

Revelation of John 14:1-5 - Then I looked, and behold, on Mount Zion stood the Lamb, and with him 144,000 who had his name and his Father's name written on their foreheads. And

I heard a voice from heaven like the roar of many waters and like the sound of loud thunder. The voice I heard was like the sound of harpists playing on their harps, and they were singing a new song before the throne and before the four living creatures and before the elders. No one could learn that song except the 144,000 who had been redeemed from the earth. It is these who have not defiled themselves with women, for they are virgins. It is these who follow the Lamb wherever he goes. These have been redeemed from mankind as firstfruits for God and the Lamb, and in their mouth no lie was found, for they are blameless. (ESV)

It's not a sin to marry. But marriage between man and woman is an earthly covenant. A match made in heaven, sure. But meant for the duration of time on earth and no longer.

So much for an overly simplified "once saved always saved" because the way some people take it, it would make "once condemned always condemned" seem reasonable.

John 3:14-19 - And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than (G3123 mallon, rather/more than, in preference to, instead of) light, because their deeds were evil. (KJV)

Mark 16:16 - Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved, but whoever does not believe will be condemned. (ESV)

Jesus' sheep (those who trust and obey Jesus and love Jesus) will never perish.

John 6:37 - All that the Father gives me will come to me, and whoever comes to me I will never cast out. (ESV)

So we must continue being Jesus' sheep. We must trust and obey Jesus Christ:

John 10:27-28 - My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me. I give them eternal life, and they will never perish, and no one will snatch them out of my hand. (ESV)

Peter obeyed Jesus to come to Jesus: By faith Peter obeyed Jesus and came to Jesus. So Father God must have drawn him. But the fact that Father God does the drawing doesn't mean that he didn't by faith obey Jesus in order to come to Jesus:

Matthew 14:28-29 - And Peter answered him, Lord, if it is you, command me to come to you on the water. He said, Come. So Peter got out of the boat and walked on the water and came to Jesus. (ESV)

John 6:43-48 - Jesus answered them, Do not grumble among yourselves. No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him. And I will raise him up on the last day. It is written in the Prophets, And they will all be taught by God. Everyone who has heard and learned from the Father comes to me— not that anyone has seen the Father except he who is from God; he has seen the Father. Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes has eternal life. I am the bread of life. (ESV)

Saying "no one will snatch them out of my hand" doesn't mean people can not wilfully turn their back on Jesus. But we must not be like the type of people who would turn their back on Jesus. We must be people who treasure and love Jesus:

John 6:66 - After this many of his disciples turned back and no longer walked with him.

The person who has stopped committing sin wouldn't reject Jesus. A person who has stopped sinning would be doing everything in faith and everything in a lawful love of God and one's neighbour. A person who can have confidence is someone who believe they agape love their family in Christ in reality according to God's commandments for us.

I John 5:2 - By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

I John 4:17 - By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. (ESV)

I John 3:15-21 - Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth. By this we shall know that we are of the truth and reassure our heart before him; for whenever our heart condemns us, God is greater than our heart, and he knows everything. Beloved, if our heart does not condemn us, we have confidence before God; (ESV)

John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)

To continue being Jesus' sheep, we must abide in Jesus Christ's commandments lawfully, that is while not breaking the 2 Great commandments.

Matthew 22:36-40 - Teacher, which is the great commandment in the Law? And he said to him, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)

Luke 9:62 - Jesus said to him, No one who puts his hand to the plow and looks back is fit for the kingdom of God. (ESV)

To be saved "permanently" would be to no longer commit sin, be practicing righteousness and to have inherited the kingdom of God:

John 8:31-36 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed in him, If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free. They answered him, We are offspring of Abraham and have never been enslaved to anyone. How is it that you say, You will become free? Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. (ESV)

I Peter 4:1-5 - Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh, arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. The time that is past suffices for doing what the Gentiles want to do, living in sensuality, passions, drunkenness, orgies, drinking parties, and lawless idolatry. With respect to this they are surprised when you do not join them in the same flood of debauchery, and they malign you; but they will give account to him who is ready to judge the living and the dead. (ESV)

Matthew 25:33-37 - And he will place the sheep on his right, but the goats on the left. Then the King will say to those on his right, Come, you who are blessed by my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed me, I was naked and you clothed me, I was sick and you visited me, I was in prison and you came to me. Then the righteous will answer him, saying, Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink? (ESV)

I Corinthians 5:1-13 - Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind, Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God.

The Bible verse that has come to mind today:

Hebrews 10:14 - For by a single offering he has perfected for all time those who are being sanctified. (ESV)

OK, so if a person has presently the law-abiding faith then they are trusting and obeying Jesus Christ and, therefore, in the grand scheme of things, that person has been perfected (i.e. that person's sanctification will be completed). If a person's faith is not law-abiding then actions done out of that are not done in faith (real faith) or not done in a non-idolatrous (I Peter 4:3 says idolatry is unlawful, abominable) agape love for God and their neighbour and that type of faith, not being love for the Truth, is not the faith of a son or daughter of God.

<2025-12-05 Fri> What is not done in faith is sin (Romans 14:23, James 4:17). What is not done in law-abiding agape love is also sin (Matthew 22:36-40, I John 3:4). Christians should imitating the love of Jesus Christ, trusting God will take care of them, doing good and refusing to harm others (Ecclesiastes 7:16, Romans 13:10, I Peter 4:19, I Peter 2:23) according to God's commandments for us (I John 5:2). God has taught through His word what doing no harm to one's neighbour looks like. We are instructed to share the gospel in the following of and the imitation of the Lord Jesus Christ (Mark 8:34-36) and the passing on of Jesus' teachings and commandments, discipling others (Matthew 28:18-20).

A child of God (a son or daughter of God) has Jesus Christ as their Master, not sin, and they abide in Jesus Christ. Whoever commits sin does not remain in the house (God's house) forever. The son remains forever.

John 8:35 - The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. (ESV)

Galatians 4:3-9 - In the same way we also, when we were children, were enslaved to the elementary principles of the world. But when the fullness of time had come, God sent forth his Son, born of woman, born under the law, to redeem those who were under the law, so that we might receive adoption as sons. And because you are sons, God has sent the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, crying, Abba! Father! So you are no longer a slave, but a son, and if a son, then an heir through God. Formerly, when you did not know God, you were enslaved to those that by nature are not gods. But now that you have come to know God, or rather to be known by God, how can you turn back again to the weak and worthless elementary principles of the world, whose slaves you want to be once more? (ESV)

I Corinthians 8:3 - But if anyone loves God, he is known by God. (ESV)

I John 4:21 - And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

Matthew 7:22-23 - On that day many will say to me, Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and cast out demons in your name, and do many mighty works in your name? And then will I declare to them, I never knew you; depart from me, you workers of lawlessness. (ESV)

Jesus Christ certainly remains forever along with all who have ceased to commit sin. To get to the point of no longer committing sin, we trust and obey Jesus Christ - in trusting and obeying Jesus Christ, we purify ourselves. If anyone is doing that presently then there is a point from their perspective at which sanctification is completed. God is outside of time, and just like the way in which in the fullness of time God sent Jesus Christ to redeem those who were under the law, and God's propitiation for sin is for those going backwards through history as well, a person who has the salvific, sanctifying, law-abiding faith in God which actively trusts and readily obeys Jesus Christ has a point in their future at which sanctification will be brought to completion for them.

Galatians 4:3-9 - In the same way we also, when we were children, were enslaved to the elementary principles of the world. But when the fullness of time had come, God sent forth his Son, born of woman, born under the law, to redeem those who were under the law, so that we might receive adoption as sons. And because you are sons, God has sent the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, crying, Abba! Father! So you are no longer a slave, but a son, and if a son, then an heir through God. Formerly, when you did not know God, you were enslaved to those that by nature are not gods. But now that you have come to know God, or rather to be known by God, how can you turn back again to the weak and worthless elementary principles of the world, whose slaves you want to be once more? (ESV)

I Thessalonians 5:23 - Now may the God of peace himself sanctify you completely, and may your whole spirit and soul and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. (ESV)

2.90 Journal <2025-11-20 Thu>, <2025-11-21 Fri>

Despite asking God continually for deliverance, I've still been daily getting strange, lewd, antichrist, sexually immoral and adulterous, very unclean demonic dreams and other types of spiritual attacks. If God doesn't literally take a step to clean me first, as He did when washing Peter's feet, and to protect me, I don't know how I'm supposed to overcome this stuff. I believe that God washed me clean on 2 April 2022 when He gave me a new heart that feared Him and a new spirit. There has been no testimony from Holy Spirit regarding Jesus Christ direct to my heart. I'm very demoralised. I give everything to the Lord Jesus. I gave everything to Him. But every day He allows me get harassed by demons in my sleep, and aroused in the morning, demonically. Before I was born-again, I remember being in control of my body. I was committing wilful sin back then, sure. But it felt like I was in control. Jesus would say I was a slave to sin. Now I'm in a situation where my flesh most definitely is waging war against my mind. But not only that, I'm also getting attacked spiritually in other ways. It feels like getting attacked on every front. On top of that, I've had the most unreasonable amount of theological resistance. I have had to crawl out of a pit of theological heresy and satanic resistance to the truth that I was in even before I was born-again. Prosperity gospel stuff, romance with Jesus instead of agape love for Jesus type worship music (not that romance might not have agape, because it certainly should, but it also might not. Agape is for God, and for neighbours and friends and family in Christ and is a selfless, treasuring, valuing love that doesn't want to cause harm, and abides in Jesus' commandments. Of course in a romance, that might be there. But a lot of 'worship' music out there doesn't emphasise agape at all but focuses on ancillary 'feelings' such as ecstasy but without regard for wanting to please God with our thoughts and actions and take captive every thought for obedience to Christ, or without regard for what God wants us to do. Having a desire to please God in the way we walk is a real showing of agape love. Whereas this stuff about Jesus making us feel good and forgiven but omitting say, the call to holiness or of carrying our cross. Better would be to sow God's word deep in our hearts singing scripture), really irrelevant sermons, just a lack of teaching in the churches about the fear of God, the wages of sin, obedience to Jesus, etc. I've received the most heinous amount of straight-up satanic resistance to obedience to Jesus.

tangent There is a massive delusion within many protestant churches that obedience = works (as in we are not saved by works and that includes obedience). I've even notice it with Roman Catholics too but the other way around, but the same error, that obedience = works (i.e. we are saved by obedience and that means saved by works)! But obedience does not strictly equal works. We are saved not by our own works, but we are saved by obedience, and we are saved by faith, but they're not precisely the same thing but a person can obey out of faith (both in the heart) and produce works. The other massive issue with many protestant or pentecostal churches I have been to is that when talking about "walking in the light" as He (Jesus Christ is in the light), I almost never hear the word "love" i.e. walking in love. It always seems to be walking in the light because I'm correct because I've believed isolated parts of scripture (interpreting them from modern english dictionary definitions). It could be completely devoid of the love of God in the heart. That doesn't sound like "the word well sown in good soil" to me, their understanding contradicting other surrounding scripture, but never seems to be "I'm walking in the love of God's word, in the love for my family in Christ, the same type of love Jesus showed us, trusting and obeying Jesus Christ's commandments".

And then when I get born-again of the spirit, I realised something very special has happened and I wanted to tell everyone. But being literally a new-born Christian theologically, but mature in having received a new spirit after seeking God through repentance from sin (Ezekiel 18 does strengthen my case for this). It seems like I woke up into a world which does not want me to know about Jesus because as I started reading the Scripture for myself and putting it into practice, trusting and obeying the Word, I noticed huge amounts of resistance to this from the churches. Yet, if I said something that was heretical, it just seemed as though there was no correction from people at all. Satan has been continually robbing me of good things which bring me joy, even trying to attack my good conscience. Things which have made my good conscience feel compromised:

- corruption brought on in my flesh by daily demonic harassment
 - (it's been like a war of attrition against me daily. every day I get these spiritual attacks and it seems that any measure of giving into them has compounding consequences)

- awful memories of things like:
 - a court judge saying I must've been baptised at midnight and then me calling him a liar
 - the 3 May 2022 event where I was told by a spirit they are the Holy Spirit but it not coming with a testimony from same spirit confessing that Jesus Christ has come into the world in the flesh, leaving me guessing if this was Holy Spirit and any kind of assertion that it was makes me feel nauseatingly anxious because I don't want to speak a word against Holy Spirit or affirm a spirit which is not Holy Spirit is Holy Spirit. Sadly I have not been given the testimony which I need in order to clear this issue up. I've just been left to "deal with it"
 - having a church pastor try to cast antichrist spirit out of me. I was asking for prayed to be delivered from these spiritual attacks and I was saying I'm trying to be obedient to Jesus and he was telling me I was being 'religious'/legalistic and I was saying we need to obey Jesus and he started trying to cast antichrist spirit out of me
 - having to crucify a marriage proposal to someone I loved
 - * and subsequently having a daily barrage of sexually immoral dreams along with these sexual spiritual attacks making me feel extremely unclean
 - even now as I sit here writing this, I feel like I'm being violated by something
 - seeing sides to loved ones which I wish I could unsee forever and make me feel like permanent eternal sin is being committed and there's no getting back to purity
 - daily having to deal with Jesus ignoring me and not speaking to me in the way that He promised to.

I've been brought to the point where I do not have a desire to be alive anymore in this world, but I want to have all my memories erased and to be made completely new, not just being given a new spirit. May God grant me my request. What has happened to me is unacceptable. I need to be fully restored and protected. For the sake of His name, God should restore me and protect me.

Jesus Christ, help me, God. Don't let me die. Set me free from the corruption and protect me from evil. If me and my memories and my relationships were a garment I'd probably burn it because I don't even know how

I'm fixable now except to just be made new. I hate the corruption so much, the corruption which has been put onto me from outside of me has been out of my control. It has happened to me. May God get rid of the corruption and make me clean like when I was born-again of the spirit. No-one spoke to me to clarify anything when I needed it clarified. I wasn't prepared theologically by the church. Who baptises a person but does not teach them all that Jesus has commanded and disciple them? I think that's probably the issue, to be honest. I think it's probably extremely dangerous to baptise people without then truly discipling them to abide in Jesus Christ's teachings.

Also, in 2021, I was being criticised as delusional for my AI research. It's so similar to calling people delusional for resisting the COVID vaccines when that was being pushed into society for fear of losing friends and jobs. As I was pointing out what was around the corner regarding the AI stuff, I received this type of resistance sometimes. I would blame what happened to just people being in darkness.

And the demonic harassment I've received I'd probably liken to some sort of allergic reaction from the world from a person having been cleaned.

And after I was born-again, I think I was literally just handed over to satan to be terrorised because I'd been getting denied marriage for most of my adult life and people thought it was inappropriate when I made my first proposal, while there are at the same time people who would absolutely no issue to what's really morally wrong such as gay marriage or open relationships etc. I've been put in the most unreasonable situations where I'm being asked whether something like the marriage situation is holy, for example, but I know that what is not done in faith is sin and I need to be acting in selfless love. But these situations like with the court house feel constructed to trap me, to fork me (like in a game of chess). But I wasn't taught the truth of God's Word before or after I was born-again. I had to go to the Scripture myself. Instead I was just punished. What type of teaching is through punishment alone? I want to be set free from all corruption. I want to be spoken to by the Holy Spirit. No-one adopts a child to just leave them outside to starve and be attacked by predators. I expect so much more from God.

I woke up to more of these spiritual attacks through the night and this morning <2025-11-21 Fri>. The devil has really been trying to take me out. It is not fun. It just to be fought against with the word of God.

Titus 1:1-16 - Paul, a servant of God and an apostle of Jesus Christ, for the sake of the faith of God's elect and their knowledge of the truth, which accords with godliness, in hope of eternal life, which God, who never lies, promised before the ages began and at the proper time manifested in his word through the preaching with which I have been entrusted by the command of God our Savior; To Titus, my true child in a common faith: Grace and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Savior. This is why I left you in Crete, so that you might put what remained into order, and appoint elders in every town as I directed you—if anyone is above reproach, the husband of one wife, and his children are believers and not open to the charge of debauchery or insubordination. For an overseer, as God's steward, must be above reproach. He must not be arrogant or quick-tempered or a drunkard or violent or greedy for gain, but hospitable, a lover of good, self-controlled, upright, holy, and disciplined. He must hold firm to the trustworthy word as taught, so that he may be able to give instruction in sound doctrine and also to rebuke those who contradict it. For there are many who are insubordinate, empty talkers and deceivers, especially those of the circumcision party. They must be silenced, since they are upsetting whole families by teaching for shameful gain what they ought not to teach. One of the Cretans, a prophet of their own, said, Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, lazy gluttons. This testimony is true. Therefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, not devoting themselves to Jewish myths and the commands of people who turn away from the truth. To the pure, all things are pure, but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their minds and their consciences are defiled. They profess to know God, but they deny him by their works. They are detestable, disobedient, unfit for any good work. (ESV)

- 1 rebuke
- 2 An expression of sharp disapproval or
- 3 criticism.
- 4 "he hadn't meant it as a rebuke, but Neil
- 5 flinched"

Correcting others with gentleness is not against rebuking with sharpness. When it comes to bad doctrine it should be rebuked with sharpness. Also, sexual immorality should not be tolerated, but rebuked:

II Timothy 2:24-26 - And the Lord's servant must not be quarrelsome but kind to everyone, able to teach, patiently enduring evil, correcting his opponents with gentleness. God may perhaps grant them repentance leading to a knowledge of the truth, and they may escape from the snare of the devil, after being captured by him to do his will. (ESV)

Galatians 6:1 - Brothers, if anyone is caught in any transgression, you who are spiritual should restore him in a spirit of gentleness. Keep watch on yourself, lest you too be tempted. (ESV)

I Corinthians 4:21,5:1-5 - What do you wish? Shall I come to you with a rod, or with love in a spirit of gentleness? It is actually reported that there is sexual immorality among you, and of a kind that is not tolerated even among pagans, for a man has his father's wife. And you are arrogant! Ought you not rather to mourn? Let him who has done this be removed from among you. For though absent in body, I am present in spirit; and as if present, I have already pronounced judgment on the one who did such a thing. When you are assembled in the name of the Lord Jesus and my spirit is present, with the power of our Lord Jesus, you are to deliver this man to Satan for the destruction of the flesh, so that his spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord. (ESV)

I Corinthians 16:14 - Let all that you do be done in love. (ESV)

Titus 1:12-16 - One of the Cretans, a prophet of their own, said, Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, lazy gluttons. This testimony is true. Therefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, not devoting themselves to Jewish myths and the commands of people who turn away from the truth. To the pure, all things are pure, but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their minds and their consciences are defiled. They profess to know God, but they deny him by their works. They are detestable, disobedient, unfit for any good work. (ESV)

I want to be able to commit my way to the Lord Jesus Christ without being harassed by demons.

For example, when I reneged on the proposal, I committed my way to the Lord. But following that, I received extremely frequent demonic harassment and tribulation in various forms, forcing me to be reminded of it, tempting me to renege on reneging, tempting me to not be faithful to the Lord Jesus Christ. And the reminders can be painful. It just seems to me there has been very clear (at least to me) manifestations of a spiritual reality that is whatever force wants to oppose forgiveness and love and the truth of Jesus Christ. Very obvious was when I gave a court judge a letter saying I forgive the other side of court and the judge responded that I have no right to forgive, and I received an 18 month sentence (after already serving an approximately half a year of bail conditions so strict that it's like already being under a sentence) with an additional 7 years of waiting to be practically employable again under the clean slate act, whilst not allowing me to take a diversion and at the same time allowing the newspapers to write things that are not true regarding what has happened. I could go on and on and on about the visible manifestations of that anti-love, anti-forgiveness, anti-truth, anti-Jesus Christ spirit. That's just some of exterior visible manifestations. Other than that there has been relentless daily (almost all the days; all but a negligible quantity) reminders and temptations and lying accusing dreams and visions trying to reverse my commitments to the Lord Jesus Christ. And so you see, I have been buried under this absolutely satanic spiritual oppression for a long time.

I repeat, I want to be able to commit my way to the Lord Jesus Christ without being harassed by demons. I want to be able to sleep without demons groping me and pushing intrusive dreams and visions into my head. I want everyone who has been involved in the circumstances surrounding what happened to be OK and for them to have as the full measure of grace that is available to them. And once again, I have to reiterate this that pleaded guilty in good faith and in complaining about spiritual harassment, I'm not seeking to reverse the charge. I don't want the charge reversed. I want for the love of God to be able to commit my way to the Lord including taking a charge, but without getting attacked by demons. I want deliverance from spiritual harassment. In complaining about my circumstances I'm not in any way trying to to reverse my commitments to the Lord Jesus Christ. I just want to be set free from demonic/satanic oppression and I want to be spoken to by Holy Spirit confirming the testimony of the Lord Jesus Christ. I want to hear Holy Spirit tell me straight to my heart that I'm a child of God and that Jesus Christ is the Son of God who has come into the world from God in the flesh.

2.91 Journal <2025-11-22 Sat>

I have close to no freedom. I have very little joy. I feel crushed to a pulp both by the world and by the church. I've been made to endure testing, and harassment while having my joy stolen from me, while I have been trusting and obeying Jesus Christ, which should lead to peace that cannot be taken away and to rest.

But how does anyone weather such trials without joy? How does anyone find motivation to do anything when joy has been taken away. And how easy it is to do things when full of joy.

This is the pattern:

- 1. I find joy in something or someone (e.g. in God's commandments, or in getting born-again or in another person)
- 2. The devil comes along to try to steal that joy from me by undermining it in some way

The hope of the righteous brings joy (Proverbs 10:28). And love rejoices with the truth (I Corinthians 13:6).

I mean, there's nothing like feeling washed clean and given a brand new heart and spirit. Nothing quite like it. It's better than buying a new computer, that's for sure. And practicing righteousness, acting in truth and not lies, is joyous. And practicing righteousness, acting in charity and mercy, is joyous.

I do not think I am a greedy person at all, and that's a really good thing to not covet or agape-love money. But that means that I'm not motivated by earning lots of money. I love to give to other people. So, not being motivated by money, yet being compelled to work very hard in order to just get by, it is painfully difficult to do that when I do not have my own wife or family. Why? Because there is very close to no motivating reason to be working so, so much.

In 2020 there was someone else who I was interested and I'm using her as an example, because even before I was born-again and regenerated, in doing stuff for her, I had so much joy. With joy acting in truth out of love, there's no desire to want to sin. Like even though I was not in a relationship with this person, not a 2-way relationship anyway, if I gave her flowers (which she never accepted, which is fine. I think it's an important detail), or a birthday present or whatever it was, I'd easily just empty my wallet or all of my time to make something for her or give her something and when I actually followed through and did it I had so much joy that I could work endless hours, and I could resist sinful habits and not do them. There might be the thought "if there was ever to be a relationship between me and this person then they wouldn't want me to be watching porn", for example, so I wouldn't, and there was also no desire to do so because I was just happy while living authentically. My thoughts were actually more along the lines of, "I just feel so much better when acting out of integrity rather than lies. It gave me joy to do things for this person." That was not reciprocal but I felt like I no longer had a fractured heart. God doesn't want our hearts to be corrupt and a heart that doesn't desire to do good is the problem. I mean, when I had started acting out of my convictions to overcome anxiety, anxiety bought on by these social "rules" (which were not God's rules, that's for sure), and when I stopped listening to liars and started acting on "what felt right, correct" (I'm not advocating "feelings"-alone as a guiding principle of course, but Biblically good feelings are good feelings and not bad ones. We are supposed to have good motivations and not evil ones. The good person out of his good treasure brings forth good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure brings forth evil - Matthew 12:35) then I had joy - lots of joy. But, she didn't feel the same way and that's OK. But after that I was not going to go back to living out of lies or out of guile. But overcoming the "fear of man" led to the next part of my journey. Christians are not supposed to fear man, but we are supposed to fear God!

But the point I try to make is:

- When I have no joy, it's like trying to make bricks without straw.
- When I have no joy, my concentration gets severely compromised, and distractions and false-substitutes are then used to fill the time. The devil knows this, so the devil tries to cut off sources of joy from my life, and undermine my good conscience with God, in order to tempt me into sin (to take the temporary edge off of my pain). But sin, I am now dead to (being regenerate), and are divinely empowered to stop practicing it. But that doesn't mean that the temptations cease with getting regenerated.
- I can complete huge amounts of work (or study, or 'labours of love') when I have joy.

Then in 2021 soon after I had properly given up with the last person, I met someone else. It was very unexpected. I wasn't looking or thinking about anyone else. But they just turned up.

And I had so much joy. And it felt like there was none of the former problems at all. I can't tell you how happy I was.

There's a memory I have of looking at her like face to face from across a room and there were several seconds before I even registered that it happened. I was like a cat looking at a car's headlights no longer able to do anything. It was like that. That was before I met her.

But then years later I meet here really unexpectedly and everything feels good.

I had so much joy and hope. And we were talking and then (I'm claiming family interference) I was not able to talk to her anymore. Conversation with her was terminated by my own free will out of their interests.

I had been talking to her about Pen.el, coming up with the name "Pen of Imagination", when I had just started working on it and getting ideas on it. That year I spent so, so much time pouring into this project because I was prevented from talking to her, she who I ended up proposing to later, and that the Pen.el project was one of the last things we had talked about and I wanted to make something for her out of it.

I can complete huge amounts of work when I have joy.

Towards the end of 2021, I begin turning to God, and seeking Him, because I could see what was coming with AI LLMs etc. and my joy was constantly being hacked at and everything seemed futile because no amount of work could ever "get on top" of AI or ever be enough to "find a wife". It just seemed like everything was impossible because of evil. I kept going because I had faith that I would see her again. That is what was motivating me. I had to keep having faith in seeing her again in order to keep going on.

And then I began seeking God much more diligently because of the AI stuff on the horizon.

I began falling in love with God's commandments. I had begun actually trying to follow the 10 commandments from the heart. I would wear a necklace with 10 1s on it (an identity matrix) which represented to me following the 10 commandments from the heart.

And then I get born-again on 2 April while wearing it and I became so full of joy and wonder over God.

I feel huge amounts of joy over Jesus Christ and over the grace of God which I received in a new spirit.

Out of wanting to honor Jesus after receiving the grace of God, I immediately put down a lot of bad sinful habits like watching porn which was a very dirty, depraved, habit. At least where previously it was the joy I had in those two girls/women which helped me to not engage in sinful stuff. But now, I felt like I didn't need that sinful stuff anymore.

God fixed me. God washed me. My room was extremely messy. But God fixed me. I was made new.

After getting born-again, it becomes very important to be a light to other people. It's important to not receive the grace of God in vain. It's important to not squander the grace but to share it with others.

After 1 month of pouring myself into telling people about me getting born-again, as I wanted to give God my first fruits, the pain of being cut off from talking to the person who I had met 1 year before started to become too great again. One month after being born-again of the spirit I became depressed. The only way I was able to continue is by reassuring myself that I'd see her again. That's kind of how faith works.

Hebrews 11:1 - Now faith is the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen. (ESV)

But it's faith based on what? It was faith based on believing that it was good/pure. I wouldn't say it was faith based on a word from God.

Up to 2 April 2022 I was building Pen.el like Noah built an ark (Hebrews 11:7), but I wasn't warned by God regarding the AI stuff. Up to 2 April 2022 I was also building Pen.el fully sure that I'd see her again (Hebrews 11:1). Up to 2 April 2022 I was walking by faith for absolute sure, but faith in what? I had faith, joy and hope.

Before I was born-again, building Pen.el when it was AI software, I was exercising faith but it was faith in one day being able to talk to her again.

After I was born-again, I have been writing my Bible and "walking by faith" but I needed a lot of correction and I was learning to trust God's Word. It has been very difficult sometimes:

Titus 2:11-13 - For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people, training us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in the present age, waiting for our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, (ESV)

Hebrews 11:36-40 - Others suffered mocking and flogging, and even chains and imprisonment. They were stoned, they were sawn in two, they were killed with the sword. They went about in skins of sheep and goats, destitute, afflicted, mistreated— of whom the world was not worthy—wandering about in deserts and mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth. And all these, though commended through their faith, did not receive what was promised, since God had provided something better for us, that apart from us they should not be made perfect. (ESV)

Where there is hope there can be joy.

Being born-again and regenerate my joy must be grounded on having a good conscience with God. If I don't have a good conscience with God, I won't have joy. So that's a real force for giving up idols, that is striving to maintain a good conscience with God.

But when I was born-again it became important to be putting my faith in God.

I think that right now I would have a lot of joy if:

- I felt clean and not harassed so that I could have hope and the joy of my salvation returned
- I was spoken to clearly and trustworthily by God with the testimony that Jesus Christ has come into the world from God in the flesh.

How joy has been taken away from me. So joy which I had regarding being born-again has been after a while taken away:

- I have been made to feel like I have committed eternal sin because of an out of body meeting with someone claiming to be Holy Spirit on 3 May 2022, and then me, maybe gullible me, unsure, claiming that it was Holy Spirit but later realising that it didn't carry with it the testimony of Jesus Christ that the Apostle John says means that spirit is from God. So the spirit did not tell me that "Jesus Christ has come [from God, into the world,] in the flesh (i.e. flesh and blood)". That doesn't mean it wasn't the Holy Spirit, I don't think, anyway. But because it didn't give me the testimony, I can't say for sure that it was. Now, initially, I had just assumed that good things were happening. But after a couple of years I have been forced to question whether it was Holy Spirit or not, and having made claims.
- But in my defense, on 3 May 2022, I spoke to the spirit and said, "My God is the God of Truth, Jesus has saved me from lies and Holy Spirit is my comforter. Are you the Holy Spirit?" And the spirit responded with, "Yes. I'll take a look at you."
 - No matter what that spirit said to me, I testified of Jesus. I testified of the God of Truth. I don't think I said anything wrong there. I was set free from sin through baptism into Jesus Christ's death (Romans 6:7). So I was set free from lies.

- But, later on, I have come see the spirit's response with a big question mark because of what Jesus says in Matthew 5:37. It's a little bit ambiguous because the response was simply a yes, followed by another separate sentence. I cannot be conclusive about it. In my view because there was not the "I John 4:2" testimony of Jesus Christ then I cannot trust it completely.

– Matthew 5:37 - but let your word be, Yes, Yes, No, No, and that which is more than these is of the evil. (YLT)

Here is the pattern again. The pattern is that the devil targets my joy. The devil tries to kill steal the hope and the joy from me, and to be honest has been largely successful, but I'm trusting Jesus that that is temporary. I will have joy that the devil will not be able to steal:

- 1. On 3rd of May 2022, something happens. Now I thought at the time that this date was providence.
 - For a long time leading up to this, I have been unable to "get a Christian girlfriend". Forming romantic relationships has been impossible. They've been denied. I've been prevented from marrying. I've been prevented from having intimacy, from having a partner who acts on good will and on good faith and unconditional love. If it's a relationship then it has had to be unequally yoked in order for me to have it. So when I meet someone where it seemed like there were none of those types of problems about a year before I was born-again, I just had joy over it. It was pure joy for me. The only obstacle seemed to be "what other people thought" as far as I could tell.
- 2. And on 3rd of May 2022, I thought that having that "meeting" with someone who claimed to be Holy Spirit was providence because of the date that it happened. One year later, on 3 May 2023, I'm in a court of law being told by a judge that I must hav e been baptised at midnight.

I feel like my joy of being born-again and the feeling of being right and clean with God, and the feeling of having someone who I thought God made for me has all been taken from me, and I've been left feeling abandoned by God after pouring myself into trying to please Him.

This is what it has been like for me.

The attacks just kept going, and going, and going.

I made a marriage proposal to the person who I wanted to marry and I started getting spiritually attacked a lot after that.

My outwards appearance was messy. My room was messy. My room is currently messy, actually. But I loved God and I loved that girl. God gave me a new heart and a spirit and then I proposed to someone.

I proposed to them despite having been warned to not communicate with them. I got a warning letter from the police after that. It was like the terminator appearing on my doorstep. You decide if this is good or evil. Is it good or evil to deny marriage, but who exactly has been denying it? Is it people or is it demons. I don't blame the police officer, although if it were me, I would have used more discernment I would hope. I don't even really blame the other side of court. I think the problem is demons, and I think this problem has been a problem for longer than I know.

Was it good or evil that I decided to propose to her? Was it wrong for me to ignore the warning and do it?

If someone told you to not inhale air while in the same room as them, then as a Christian are you obligated to hold your breath and suffocate and die because it might offend someone - because you have to "love them"? If an evil person told a Christian to renounce their faith in Jesus because they are offended by it, a Christian should surely not do as the evil person has said. That is because a Christian is not supposed to act fraudulently or deny the truth, and a Christian is not supposed to obey unrighteousness but honor God in their body. A Christian must love in the truth.

The question is, if someone said, "You're not allowed to speak to someone", but you couldn't bare not being able to talk to them every again, feeling like you'd want to kill yourself if you couldn't and then intended to propose to them, is it wrong to propose to them? And if it is wrong, is it the type of thing that needs to be punished so cruelly? I think that making it impossible to propose marriage is not OK. Actually the Bible says that in the last days people will forbid marriage (I Timothy 4:3).

Did God plan out this living nightmare in advance for me?

I think that Jesus should have spoken clearly to me about what has happened before it got to this point. I think that He should have answered one of my prayer requests a long time ago. By being in this situation without God's very specific guidance, I feel a little bit wronged by God. God sees the heart, so he saw what was in my heart. He must've seen the good. And yet, I feel like the good has been treated as if it was sin.

Imagine this, a person goes through life looking for someone to do life with. After spending their 20s and early 30s and to be honest teenage years too denied the right type of Christian relationship, and without Christian discipleship either, unable to marry and working extremely hard for hardly any money, finally meeting someone and out of peace, joy, agape love, rest, wanting to propose to them, but someone has made it impossible, and also, you've just been born-again of the spirit.

Not only would I not cover up being born-again of the spirit (I blogged about it the day it happened), but why would I also want to suffocate and kill a love. God doesn't want me to cover up His gospel, or good deeds. Would God want me to experience love that wants to marry someone and then suffocate it and never let it see the light of day? Is that what God wants? To first let a person experience what it's like to love someone and then destroy out of duty? I think Jesus Himself needs to give me the answer to that one. And He also needs to fix me.

Matthew 5:16 - In the same way, let your light shine before others, so that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father who is in heaven. (ESV)

If I am not made totally clean again and restored and spoken to, then I believe God has wronged me. What I've been through is a living hell that has left me feeling defiled and forsaken by God. It's really not OK. The adversity has gone way too far.

I John 5:2-3 - By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments. And his commandments are not burdensome. (ESV)

So this is the basic pattern.

- 1. I'm washed clean. God gives me a new heart that fears Him and a new spirit, with a good, clean conscience and joy. I learn to reject lies and rejoice with the truth
- 2. The devil then tries to attack the joy of being washed clean or the joy in the truth. I am attacked by demons, almost every single day waking up to lewd, antichrist, lying, dreams and visions and other attacks against my soul. And when I cave in to temptation it feels like I become a bit more unclean.

I need to be clean and have a good conscience to have joy:

Jude 1:24-25 - Now to him who is able to keep you from stumbling and to present you blameless before the presence of his glory with great joy, to the only God, our Savior, through Jesus Christ our Lord, be glory, majesty, dominion, and authority, before all time and now and forever. Amen. (ESV)

How am I supposed to function properly if I'm not allowed to have joy? Why would I have any interest in being here on the earth when I've got nothing to hope in and nothing to have joy about?

Now I am only hoping in being released from this world so I can go to a place where righteousness dwells, rather than darkness, because this world is darkness, and it's giving me no love.

I hope to be saved and raptured. Even that hope of rapture has been attacked. Even the hope of being caught up with Jesus Christ in the air at the end of the ages and going to heaven has been attacked. Yes, even that. It could be this one. It's correct to be encouraged by that hope.

Rapture is biblically correct, and judgement at the close of the age is biblically correct, and a total renewal of the cosmos (heavens and earth) is biblically correct. Sure, the earth has had many ages and earth might even go on for many more ages, but only the Father knows when the very end is. But at the end of the age there is the separation of the wheat and the tares.

I Thessalonians 4:13-18 - But we do not want you to be uninformed, brothers, about those who are asleep, that you may not grieve as others do who have no hope. For since we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so, through Jesus, God will bring with him those who have fallen asleep. For this we declare to you by a word from the Lord, that we who are alive, who are left until the coming of the Lord, will not precede those who have fallen asleep. For the Lord himself will descend from heaven with a cry of command, with the voice of an archangel, and with the sound of the trumpet of God. And the dead in Christ will rise first. Then we who are alive, who are left, will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and so we will always be with the Lord. Therefore encourage one another with these words. (ESV)

Matthew 13:38-43 - The field is the world, and the good seed is the children of the kingdom. The weeds are the sons of the evil one, and the enemy who sowed them is the devil. The harvest is the close of the age, and the reapers are angels. Just as the weeds are gathered and burned with fire, so will it be at the close of the age. The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of sin and all law-breakers, and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear. (ESV)

James 5:4-10 - Behold, the wages of the laborers who mowed your fields, which you kept back by fraud, are crying out against you, and the cries of the harvesters have reached the ears of the Lord of hosts. You have lived on the earth in luxury and in self-indulgence. You have fattened your hearts in a day of slaughter. You have condemned; you have murdered the righteous person. He does not resist you. Be patient, therefore, brothers, until the coming of the Lord. See how the farmer waits for the precious fruit of the earth, being patient about it, until it receives the early and the late rains. You also, be patient. Establish your hearts, for the coming of the Lord is at hand. Do not grumble against one another, brothers, so that you may not be judged; behold, the Judge is standing at the door. As an example of suffering and patience, brothers, take the prophets who spoke in the name of the Lord. (ESV)

It's Biblically correct to hope for a completely brand new heavens and earth where righteousness dwells:

II Peter 3:7-14 - But by the same word the heavens and earth that now exist are stored up for fire, being kept until the day of judgment and destruction (G684 apōleias: Destruction, ruin, loss, perdition) of the ungodly. But do not overlook this one fact, beloved, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. The Lord is not slow to fulfill his promise as some count slowness, but is patient toward you, not wishing that any should perish, but that all should reach repentance. But the day of the Lord will come like a thief, and then the heavens will pass away with a roar, and the heavenly bodies will be burned up and dissolved, and the earth and the works that are done on it will be exposed. Since all these things are thus to be dissolved, what sort of people ought you to be in lives of holiness and godliness, waiting for and hastening the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be set on fire and dissolved, and the heavenly bodies will melt as they burn! But according to his promise we are waiting for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells. Therefore, beloved, since you are waiting for these, be diligent to be found by him without spot or blemish, and at peace. (ESV)

II Peter 3:7-14 doesn't say if current cosmos becomes the hell, but I have speculated if that is the case. Regardless, the current heavens and earth is destroyed by fire. Well, actually, Jesus says that heaven and earth will pass away (G3928 pareleusetai: To pass by, to pass away, to come to an end, to neglect, to disregard.) and I think hell is eternal. I don't presently believe in "annihilation". There is destruction and a fire that is not quenched.

Matthew 25:46 - And these will go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life. (ESV)

Mark 9:47-48 - And if your eye causes you to sin, tear it out. It is better for you to enter the kingdom of God with one eye than with two eyes to be thrown into hell, where their worm does not die and the fire is not quenched (G4570 sbennytai: To quench, to extinguish, to put out). (ESV)

I do not believe in "reincarnation" into the same 'kosmos' (G2889 kosmos: world). At the close of the age the bad people get sent to the bad place and the good people go to a distinct 'kosmos' where righteousness dwells:

Matthew 13:45-52 - Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant in search of fine pearls, who, on finding one pearl of great value, went and sold all that he had and bought it. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a net that was thrown into the sea and gathered fish of every kind. When it was full, men drew it ashore and sat down and sorted the good into containers but threw away the bad. So it will be at the close of the age. The angels will come out and separate the evil from the righteous and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Have you understood all these things? They said to him, Yes. And he said to them, Therefore every scribe who has been trained for the kingdom of heaven is like a master of a house, who brings out of his treasure what is new and what is old.

II Peter 3:1-8 - This is now the second letter that I am writing to you, beloved. In both of them I am stirring up your sincere mind by way of reminder, that you should remember the predictions of the holy prophets and the commandment of the Lord and Savior through your apostles, knowing this first of all, that scoffers will come in the last days with scoffing, following their own sinful desires. They will say, Where is the promise of his coming? For ever since the fathers fell asleep, all things are continuing as they were from the beginning of creation. For they deliberately overlook this fact, that the heavens existed long ago, and the earth was formed out of water and through water by the word of God, and that by means of these the world that then existed was deluged with water and perished. But by the same word the heavens and earth that now exist are stored up for fire, being kept until the day of judgment and destruction of the ungodly. But do not overlook this one fact, beloved, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. (ESV)

It's biblical that in "holding our faith" in Jesus Christ, that is trusting and obeying Him, we should be yielding HOPE.

Romans 15:13 - May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, so that by the power of the Holy Spirit you may abound in hope. (ESV)

I do relate to Hebrews 10:34, but if I'm made to think that my future is compromised, when I feel like I've become dirty, then how am I to have joy? Without hope, how is there joy?

Proverbs 10:28 - The hope of the righteous brings joy, but the expectation of the wicked will perish. (ESV)

Hebrews 10:34 - For you had compassion on those in prison, and you joyfully accepted the plundering of your property, since you knew that you yourselves had a better possession and an abiding one. (ESV)

I Thessalonians 1:6 - And you became imitators of us and of the Lord, for you received the word in much affliction, with the joy of the Holy Spirit, (ESV)

Yes, I think a clean conscience is a requisite for real joy. But joy, as Spurgeon puts it, is "peace dancing."

Quote from CH Spurgeon "Peace is joy resting, and joy is peace dancing"

James 1:2-3 - Count it all joy (G5479 charan), my brothers, when you meet trials of various kinds, for you know that the testing of your faith produces steadfastness. (ESV)

We need to be walking in the light for our joy to be made complete:

I John 1:1-7 - That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we looked upon and have touched with our hands, concerning the word of life— the life was made manifest, and we have seen it, and testify to it and proclaim to you the eternal life, which was with the Father and was made manifest to us— that which we have seen and heard we proclaim also to you, so that you too may have fellowship with us; and indeed our fellowship is with the Father and with his Son Jesus Christ. And we are writing these things so that our joy may be complete. This is the message we have heard from him and proclaim to you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. If we say we have fellowship with him while we walk in darkness, we lie and do not practice the truth. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)

I had to do a study on the peace that Jesus gives.

Why am I not allowed rest? Why am I denied peace? Why have I been denied holiness. (Now this is absolutely criminal. I was washed clean and then I was attacked near ceaselessly by demons.)

I had to do a Bible study today on "the peace that Jesus gives" after asking myself that question "why am I denied peace?"

The peace Jesus gives is not "peace on Earth" with just anyone:

Matthew 10:32-38 - So everyone who acknowledges me before men, I also will acknowledge before my Father who is in heaven, but whoever denies me before men, I also will deny before my Father who is in heaven. Do not think that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I have not come to bring peace, but a sword. For I have come to set a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. And a person's enemies will be those of his own household. Whoever loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me, and whoever loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. And whoever does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me. (ESV)

It's peace between those who God is pleased with:

Luke 2:14 - Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among those with whom he is pleased! (ESV)

It's peace "in Christ" with each other and with God's Kingdom in heaven and earth:

Colossians 1:20 - and through him to reconcile to himself all things, whether on earth or in heaven, making peace by the blood of his cross. (ESV)

It's peace with God for those for those who have faith in Jesus Christ:

Romans 4:23-25,5:1-2 - But the words it was counted to him were not written for his sake alone, but for ours also. It will be counted to us who believe in him who raised from the dead Jesus our Lord, who was delivered up for our trespasses and raised for our justification. Therefore, since we have been justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. Through him we have also obtained access by faith into this grace in which we stand, and we rejoice in hope of the glory of God. (ESV)

It's peace for those who do good:

Romans 2:9-11 - There will be tribulation and distress for every human being who does evil, the Jew first and also the Greek, but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does good, the Jew first and also the Greek. For God shows no partiality. (ESV)

God trains us through discipline for holiness to behave righteously and the fruit of that yields peace:

Hebrews 12:10-11 - For they disciplined us for a short time as it seemed best to them, but he disciplines us for our good, that we may share his holiness. For the moment all discipline seems painful rather than pleasant, but later it yields the peaceful fruit of righteousness to those who have been trained by it. (ESV)

We endure trials and tribulations, and the world rejoices meanwhile, but in the end we have joy that no one can take away:

John 16:20-22 - Truly, truly, I say to you, you will weep and lament, but the world will rejoice. You will be sorrowful, but your sorrow will turn into joy. When a woman is giving birth, she has sorrow because her hour has come, but when she has delivered the baby, she no longer remembers the anguish, for joy that a human being has been born into the world. So also you have sorrow now, but I will see you again and your hearts will rejoice, and no one will take your joy from you. (ESV)

I do not believe in "reincarnation" into the same 'kosmos' (G2889 kosmos: world). At the close of the age the bad people get sent to the bad place and the good people go to a distinct 'kosmos' where righteousness dwells. I believe that the righteousness go to heaven with incorruptable bodies, rather than back to Earth:

Matthew 13:45-52 - Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant in search of fine pearls, who, on finding one pearl of great value, went and sold all that he had and bought it. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a net that was thrown into the sea and gathered fish of every kind. I do not believe that with the bodily resurrection that we will return to an Earth with corruption in it:

Acts 2:27 - For you will not abandon my soul to Hades, or let your Holy One see corruption. (ESV)

With the resurrection of the body, we do not die anymore, and do not marry anymore:

Matthew 22:30 - For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven. (ESV)

Being born-again of the spirit, yet still on the Earth, I do not believe it is sinful for me to marry. Except that I have made commitment to the Lord Jesus already that I would not. As I told Jesus, everything is on the backburner until He speaks to me.

Some fall asleep in Christ and then are raised. But some do not all sleep but are changed in a moment:

I Corinthians 15:17-22 - And if Christ has not been raised, your faith is futile and you are still in your sins. Then those also who have fallen asleep in Christ have perished. If in this life only we have hoped in Christ, we are of all people most to be pitied. But in fact Christ has been raised from the dead, the firstfruits of those who have fallen asleep. For as by a man came death, by a man has come also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive. (ESV)

The body needs to die to be raised to life:

I Corinthians 15:36 - You foolish person! What you sow does not come to life unless it dies. (ESV)

I Corinthians 15:51-58 - Behold! I tell you a mystery. We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we shall be changed. For this perishable body must put on the imperishable, and this mortal body must put on immortality. When the perishable puts on the imperishable, and the mortal puts on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written: Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is your victory? O death, where is your sting? The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. Therefore, my beloved brothers, be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that in the Lord your labor is not in vain. (ESV)

I think this is how it works: First there is the resurrection of the spirit (2 April 2022 for me), which is being baptised into Christ's death and raised to new life. Then there is the resurrection of the body. It's normal for a born-again Christian to also die an earthly death but this is not the death of the spirit. The person's consciousness continues after bodily death. And the physical body is resurrected also to life:

I Corinthians 15:42 - So is it with the resurrection of the dead. What is sown is perishable; what is raised is imperishable. (ESV)

When people the righteous rise from the dead with their resurrection body, they are like angels - imperishable, never to die anymore. There is certainly no reincarnation for them. While I believe there are "many" ages of the Earth, I do not believe in an earthly reincarnation. After one go in this Earth, I believe the righteous go to heaven. And heaven is a place without corruption. That's my beliefs:

Mark 12:25 - For when they rise from the dead, they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven. (ESV)

Luke 20:33-36 - In the resurrection, therefore, whose wife will the woman be? For the seven had her as wife. And Jesus said to them, The sons of this age marry and 'are given' (women are given) in marriage, but those who are considered worthy to attain to that age and to the resurrection from the dead neither marry nor are given in marriage, for they cannot die anymore, because they are equal to angels and are sons of God, being sons of the resurrection. (ESV)

I love the Lord Jesus Christ, and I'm really tired. I'm really, really tired. I'm very sick and tired of going through testing, and tribulations, and feeling some defilement mess with my body. I feel like I'm being pushed too hard. I'm sick of being in this situation while only going by Scripture and not hearing clear and trustworthy directions and clarifications from God.

Abraham heard an audible voice from God. I think Joseph got dreams and visions.

I just seem to get dreams and visions but the absolute vast majority of them or maybe almost all of them just seem to come from demons. And I'm so sick of it. It's just not right.

2.93 Journal <2025-11-24 Mon>

The good Samaritan didn't stalk the innkeeper to find out how they used the money which he gave to support the neighbour he made.

It's not our duty to avenge wrongdoing. It's our duty to keep God's commandments for us.

So that means when we give we do it out of mercy, faith and obedience to Jesus (Matthew 5:42). That's our duty.

We do our duty in that moment of charity, but that doesn't mean our duty ends in that moment. The good Samaritan was so committed to the welfare of the neighbour he met, that he made a commitment to pay anything further that the innkeeper may require in caring for his neighbour when next he visits.

The only person who can make this commitment with a guarantee is God since God owns the cosmos and God always fulfills His promises at the right time (Hebrews 11:39) for those who through faith and patience inherit His promises (Hebrews 6:11-12):

Hebrews 6:11-12 - And we desire each one of you to show the same earnestness to have the full assurance of hope until the end, so that you may not be sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises. (ESV)

Hebrews 11:17-19 - By faith Abraham, when he was tested, offered up Isaac, and he who had received the promises was in the act of offering up his only son, of whom it was said, Through Isaac shall your offspring be named. He considered that God was able even to raise him from the dead, from which, figuratively speaking, he did receive him back. (ESV)

We should still love like the good Samaritan, but recognise that despite our best efforts, we will always fall short of the glory of God, and need God's grace so are justified by our faith in Jesus Christ, not works, but in faith we obey Jesus and in faith we love God and our neighbour and hope in God:

Romans 3:21-24 - But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from the law, although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, (ESV)

We should not be the person who hides Jesus' money in the ground. But have a changed heart to desire to love in deed. After all Jesus purifies for Himself a people who are zealous for good works:

Matthew 25:17-18 - So also he who had the two talents made two talents more. But he who had received the one talent went and dug in the ground and hid his master's money. (ESV)

Matthew 25:24-25 - He also who had received the one talent came forward, saying, Master, I knew you to be a hard man, reaping where you did not sow, and gathering where you scattered no seed, so I was afraid, and I went and hid your talent in the ground. Here you have what is yours. (ESV)

Titus 2:11-15 - For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people, training us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in the present age, waiting for our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, who gave himself for us to redeem us from all lawlessness and to purify for himself a people for his own possession who are zealous for good works. Declare these things; exhort and rebuke with all authority. Let no one disregard you. (ESV)

We need to recognise that God has loved us first and Jesus Christ is our Redeemer who gave Himself for us to redeem us and we are only saved through His name. There's no other name that saves. All glory to God:

Galatians 3:13-14 - Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law by becoming a curse for us—for it is written, Cursed is everyone who is hanged on a tree— so that in Christ Jesus the blessing of Abraham might come to the Gentiles, so that we might receive the promised Spirit through faith. (ESV)

Isaiah 44:22 - I have blotted out your transgressions like a cloud and your sins like mist; return to me, for I have redeemed you. (ESV)

Acts 4:12 - And there is salvation in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given among men by which we must be saved. (ESV)

The Innkeeper has a duty. His master entrusted him with a person who needs help, some instructions to help them (commandments to follow), and some money, the means to care for that person, and the freedom to willfully carry out that duty, and promises to return to settle accounts. I believe we need to continue to seek commendation from God even after having received mercy:

Matthew 25:19 - Now after a long time the master of those servants came and settled accounts with them. (ESV)

Matthew 25:17-19 - So also he who had the two talents made two talents more. But he who had received the one talent went and dug in the ground and hid his master's money. Now after a long time the master of those servants came and settled accounts with them. (ESV)

Matthew 18:23,33 - Therefore the kingdom of heaven may be compared to a king who wished to settle accounts with his servants. And should not you have had mercy on your fellow servant, as I had mercy on you? (ESV)

I believe that justification is a state of righteousness which we don't commend ourselves for (God commends people for their faith), Jesus talks about those who humble themselves. The tax collector here remained in a place of knowing they still need mercy from God.

I believe we need to continue seeking to please God and to forsake sin and to keep Jesus' commandments. Humility continues to endeavour to be commended by God. So that is what we should do. I think it's OK to think of a servant of Jesus as the Innkeeper in Jesus parable, Jesus being the ultimate Good Samaritan, and then Jesus' servants exercising this same type of love in the way that Jesus commands us to love. Jesus is our Redeemer. So I think we can think of the Innkeeper as having been redeemed in order to exercise the love of God. God draws people to Jesus, Jesus entrusts His servants with the care of people along with the means to do so. In the parable, the good Samaritan gave the Innkeeper a person and the means to care for them, and a commandment to do so, and the Innkeeper has to go on in faith. It might get difficult, the good Samaritan promised that he would pay anything extra when he returns. So sometimes things might look quite tight financially but we are commanded to have faith and do our duty:

Luke 18:9-14 - He also told this parable to some who trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and treated others with contempt: Two men went up into the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector. The Pharisee, standing by himself, prayed thus: God, I thank you that I am not like other men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even like this tax collector. I fast twice a week; I give tithes of all that I get. But the tax collector, standing far off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, God, be merciful to me, a sinner! I tell you, this man went down to his house justified, rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted. (ESV)

Saving for own future while at the same time neglecting the duty that we have for our neighbour and family in Christ is lacking in faith. Saving is OK but it's not good if it means willful disobedience to Jesus.

Who saves fire extinguishers for their own house when their neighbour's or nearby relative's house is burning down? Likewise, our earthly possessions should be thought of as belonging to Jesus, and should be used as a means to take care of one another.

How could it be said there was faith in the obedience if you only had confidence if you are assured by natural means such as sight how the money is going to be used? That would be very "works"-based as well, rather than "faith-based".

We walk by faith and not by sight.

Now, if you "did" see the money being misused, that makes things more complicated (I Corinthians 10:28-29).

But we're not supposed to be actively ensuring that everyone is definitely going to use the money for this specific purpose. Sinful people do make mistakes and sometimes fall into temptation and misuse money that's been given to them in charity or for charity. But God sent Jesus while we were yet sinners. God gave us the benefit of the doubt. And that's how God continues to deal with us. If we repent, God gives more mercy.

Proverbs 3:34 - Toward the scorners he is scornful, but to the humble he gives favor. (ESV)

James 4:6 - But he gives more grace. Therefore it says, God opposes the proud, but gives grace to the humble. (ESV)

Like the master in Jesus's parable, we give people the "benefit of the doubt" when it comes to giving:

Matthew 25:19-21 - Now after a long time the master of those servants came and settled accounts with them. And he who had received the five talents came forward, bringing five talents more, saying, Master, you delivered to me five talents; here I have made five talents more. His master said to him, Well done, good and faithful servant. You have been faithful over a little; I will set you over much. Enter into the joy of your master. (ESV)

If there was no "benefit of the doubt" then there'd be no freedom in it, there'd be no opportunity for the person to will the good, rather than out of compulsion.

It would be eliminating God's work in the situation and to not have faith that God is working in the situation if one were to think they needed to be constantly enforcing how the money is used.

If the innkeeper in the parable of the "good Samaritan" thought he may need to spend some money on medicine, food or something for the comfort, or to give money to the person in need for travels, say or whatever may arise as a need in the care of the person, then they have freedom to use that money in that way and God sees everything.

Rather than following people around to see how they use goods given to them in charity, we could give to one person, and entrust the situation to God, and immediately are ready for doing something else.

Luke 10:35 - And the next day he took out two denarii and gave them to the innkeeper, saying, Take care of him, and whatever more you spend, I will repay you when I come back. (ESV)

Romans 12:19 - Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord. (ESV)

Matthew 5:42 - Give to the one who begs from you, and do not refuse the one who would borrow from you. (ESV)

Luke 21:1-4 - Jesus looked up and saw the rich putting their gifts into the offering box, and he saw a poor widow put in two small copper coins. And he said, Truly, I tell you, this poor widow has put in more than all of them. For they all contributed out of their abundance, but she out of her poverty put in all she had to live on. (ESV)

I'm so tired. When it comes to loving my neighbour, as much as I do love my cat, I must care of my neighbour and family in Christ. Agape love is certainly value driven and Jesus says that though God values and feeds animals and adorns plants, God values His children more than many sparrows.

So ensuring that someone who I consider to be a neighbour or potential family in Christ has what they need is more important to me than ensuring that my cat lives in luxury, or trying to give her the best medical attention.

If my cat falls ill, and I do not have enough money to ensure that she has the best food, or to buy a special collar to ward off birds (and I do care the birds survival too), there are things that I cannot control such as getting sick and dying that I need to trust God will be in that situation. That's the situation I'm currently in. Money is very tight right now:

Matthew 10:29-31 - Are not two sparrows sold for a penny? And not one of them will fall to the ground apart from your Father. But even the hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not, therefore; you are of more value than many sparrows. (ESV)

Proverbs 12:10 - Whoever is righteous has regard for the life of his beast, but the mercy of the wicked is cruel. (ESV)

Luke 12:22-59 - And he said to his disciples, Therefore I tell you, do not be anxious about your life, what you will eat, nor about your body, what you will put on. For life is more than food, and the body more than clothing. Consider the ravens: they neither sow nor reap, they have neither storehouse nor barn, and yet God feeds them. Of how much more value are you than the birds! And which of you by being anxious can add a single hour to his span of life? If then you are not able to do as small a thing as that, why are you anxious about the rest? Consider the lilies, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin, yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. But if God so clothes the grass, which is alive in the field today, and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, how much more will he clothe you, O you of little faith! And do not seek what you are to eat and what you are to drink, nor be worried. For all the nations of the world seek after these things, and your Father knows that you need them. Instead, seek his kingdom, and these things will be added to you. Fear not, little flock, for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom. Sell your possessions, and give to the needy. Provide yourselves with moneybags that do not grow old, with a treasure in the heavens that does not fail, where no thief approaches and no moth destroys. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. Stay dressed for action and keep your lamps burning, and be like men who are waiting for their master to come home from the wedding feast, so that they may open the door to him at once when he comes and knocks. Blessed are those servants whom the master finds awake when he comes. Truly, I say to you, he will dress himself for service and have them recline at table, and he will come and serve them. If he comes in the second watch, or in the third, and finds them awake, blessed are those servants! But know this, that if the master of the house had known at what hour the thief was coming, he would not have left his house to be broken into. You also must be ready, for the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect. Peter said, Lord, are you telling this parable for us or for all? And the Lord said, Who then is the faithful and wise manager, whom his master will set over his household, to give them their portion of food at the proper time? Blessed is that servant whom his master will find so doing when he comes. Truly, I say to you, he will set him over all his possessions. But if that servant says to himself, My master is delayed in coming, and begins to beat the male and female servants, and to eat and drink and get drunk, the master of that servant will come on a day when he does not expect him and at an hour he does not know, and will cut him in pieces and put him with the unfaithful. And that servant who knew his master's will but did not get ready or act according to his will, will receive a severe beating. But the one who did not know, and did what deserved a beating, will receive a light beating. Everyone to whom much was given, of him much will be required, and from him to whom they entrusted much, they will demand the more. I came to cast fire on the earth, and would that it were already kindled! I have a baptism to be baptized with, and how great is my distress until it is accomplished! Do you think that I have come to give peace on earth? No, I tell you, but rather division. For from now on in one house there will be five divided, three against two and two against three. They will be divided, father against son and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother, mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against mother-in-law. He also said to the crowds, When you see a cloud rising in the west, you say at once, A shower is coming. And so it happens. And when you see the south wind blowing, you say, There will be scorching heat, and it happens. You hypocrites! You know how to interpret the appearance of earth and sky, but why do you not know how to interpret the present time? And why do you not judge for yourselves what is right? As you go with your accuser before the magistrate, make an effort to settle with him on the way, lest he drag you to the judge, and the judge hand you over to the officer, and the officer put you in prison. I tell you, you will never get out until you have paid the very last penny. (ESV)

We are supposed to just follow Jesus Christ, first and foremost. Households will be divided. We just keep trusting and obeying Jesus Christ first and foremost, and like Peter on the water, try to focus on by faith obeying Jesus Christ and to not be distracted.

John 21:21-22 - When Peter saw him, he said to Jesus, Lord, what about this man? Jesus said to him, If it is my will that he remain until I come, what is that to you? You follow me! (ESV)

Matthew 14:28-32 - And Peter answered him, Lord, if it is you, command me to come to you on the water. He said, Come. So Peter got out of the boat and walked on the water and came to Jesus. But when he saw the wind, he was afraid, and beginning to sink he cried out, Lord, save me. Jesus immediately reached out his hand and took hold of him, saying to him, O you of little faith, why did you doubt? And when they got into the boat, the wind ceased. (ESV)

I could never marry anyone under my present circumstances and conditions. I need total sanctification and deliverance from evil and ongoing protection and to hear the voice of God.

<2025-12-07 Sun> When I trust God's written word (that is, if the original meaning is correctly conveyed and received), I do believe that counts as "hearing the voice of God". But what I want is to hear the "direct voice of God", that is, not through the earth but the uncreated word of God spoken directly to me in my heart from Holy Spirit.

It sucks being in this situation. It feels like putting myself into detention while everyone else gets to have fun.

But I hope that if I remain faithful to Jesus, He will purify me completely. I can't have any joy or hope unless I have a good conscience with God and hope for the future.

2.95 Journal <2025-11-27 Thu>

I am forced to suffer alone, while it seems as though God says nothing, and I get woken up every single night to demonic dreams and visions. I'm getting forced into fellowship with non-trinitarians, and people of other faiths. Now I've got no problem talking to such people about the Lord Jesus and about sin and righteousness, but when I want to talk about God's righteousness, the conversations just end immediately. They've got to go or something because they have something to attend to. And fellowship with other Christians is very limited. I'm not even able to marry. And because the Lord Jesus won't speak to me. It's the messiness of the situation that means I need Jesus to speak to me, and not only does He not speak to me, but He allows me to get absolutely terrorised continually by demons. It makes me absolutely furious and confused over why it's happening. I'm being denied the basics. I've been denied joy and peace and hope. I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God. And I believe that the Son of God is God. I believe that He's good. I'm constantly confessing and professing my faith, while He lets me get absolutely harassed and tormented by demons. Why does Jesus Christ, the Son of God, let me get terrorised like this, while not speaking directly to me. It's actually disgusting. I would never (if I could imagine having servants) let my servants get treated like this. It's been years of almost daily dream invasion by demons, and them messing with my relationships.

I've had my joy stolen from me. I'm constantly bending over backwards, sacrificing continually, for the Lord Jesus, while He lets me get attacked daily by demons continually. I wouldn't treat my own servants like that. Why does He let it happen to me? It's really just not OK.

It sucks. When Jesus Christ comes to "settle accounts", I hope He takes into consideration that I've been unceasingly harassed by demons and harassed and been denied marriage, etc. while He hasn't even had the grace to speak to me." I hope He factors in the fact that He lets me endure this stuff alone without giving me the testimony of Himself from Holy Spirit that He promised.

While I might get angry at the Lord in private, I still believe that He's good and not evil, and that it's not His fault. But in the moment, when I get rightfully angry about the demonic harassment, I sometimes blame the Lord Jesus. I mean, He is the one ultimately in control of things. But I don't see everything. I just know what it's like to be absolutely terrorised by demons while asking God day after day after day to speak to me and deliver me. I'm very experienced at knowing what it's like to be absolutely terrorised by demons while entrusting myself to Jesus and begging Him for deliverance day after day.

As I write this I feel myself having come under spiritual attack again. Moments ago my body's senses went from feeling at rest to all of a sudden, ears ringing and what feels like my whole soul up and down my body just vibrating intensely. I don't know what it is. But I do know that every single night for the last 2-3 years with negligible peaceful nights I have been waking up to evil dreams and other strange stuff, and I can only imagine that if I were sleeping right now and my body/soul started vibrating like this, and ears ringing like this, it'd probably impacting my mind/thoughts. It's not fun being constantly attacked like this. I just feel like I'm constantly under spiritual attack by stuff. Jesus Christ, help me God. What is going on? I sit here and I rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name. It has no right to touch me. Jesus Christ's blood speaks on my behalf. Now when I rebuke it and tell it to leave, it has to leave. Jesus Christ, help me, God.

More invasive dreams trying to trick me into thinking they are from God. More technology dreams, this time a dream of me using Windows XP or something. I'm really sick of it. Also, more invasive dreams attacking the person of Jesus Christ and a voice saying that I have to love satan. None containing the testimony of the Lord Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit. And in the morning more defilement messing with my genitals and down through my left leg. I've been under attack by demons, and it's disgusting. But worse than that, I've had to endure it without God speaking to me. You'd think that the Lord Jesus Christ who is the Son of God would have dealt with this by now.

John 14:15-17 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Helper, to be with you forever, even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him. You know him, for he dwells with you and will be in you. (ESV)

John 14:26 - But the Helper, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things and bring to your remembrance all that I have said to you. (ESV)

John 15:26 - But when the Helper comes, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth, who proceeds from the Father, he will bear witness about me. (ESV)

Acts 5:32 - And we are witnesses to these things, and so is the Holy Spirit, whom God has given to those who obey him. (ESV)

Acts 15:8-9 - And God, who knows the heart, bore witness to them, by giving them the Holy Spirit just as he did to us, and he made no distinction between us and them, having cleansed their hearts by faith. (ESV)

John 16:7 - Nevertheless, I tell you the truth: it is to your advantage that I go away, for if I do not go away, the Helper will not come to you. But if I go, I will send him to you. (ESV)

The Holy Spirit must make this confession (speak the same thing as God) that Jesus Christ has come (from God, into the world) in the flesh (as flesh and blood) for us to know that the spirit is from God. That's how we know the Spirit of God (i.e. by whether or not the spirit confesses the same Jesus Christ, agreeing with God over this truth and further truths).

So if we are to know for sure that the spirit is from God then it must confess this fact, that Jesus Christ has come (proceeded forth) [from God, into the world] in the flesh [i.e. as flesh and blood]. If you don't know that the spirit affirms this fact then we can't know that it's the Holy Spirit:

I John 4:1-3 - Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

Believing some kind of "witness from afar" of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit, such as the Scripture's witness of Jesus regarding Him to be the Son of God is not the fullness of what is promised. What is promised is that Holy Spirit will be in those who love Jesus, keeping His commandments:

John 14:15-17 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Helper, to be with you forever, even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him. You know him, for he dwells with you and will be in you. (ESV)

Galatians 4:6 - And because you are sons, God has sent the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, crying, Abba! Father! (ESV)

Romans 8:15-17 - For you did not receive the spirit of slavery to fall back into fear, but you have received the Spirit of adoption as sons, by whom we cry, Abba! Father! The Spirit himself bears witness with our spirit that we are children of God, and if children, then heirs—heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ, provided we suffer with him in order that we may also be glorified with him. (ESV)

John 15:26-27 - But when the Helper comes, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth, who proceeds from the Father, he will bear witness about me. And you also will bear witness, because you have been with me from the beginning. (ESV)

The Holy Spirit's words and testimony of Jesus should not feel bottlenecked to those who have Holy Spirit in their heart. We do hope for Holy Spirit to really be supplying to us in an inexhaustible way, the words of God. We should trust God for this and hope for it, and think that's where we should be, rather than trusting a lie and being short-sold:

John 3:34 - For he whom God has sent utters the words of God, for he gives the Spirit without measure. (ESV)

John 14:26 - But the Helper, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things and bring to your remembrance all that I have said to you. (ESV)

So when someone deters you from trusting the promise of God regarding the bearing witness of Jesus Christ from the Holy Spirit directly inside of you, just rebuke them sharply and say what the Scripture says about it, and try to correct them, but certainly resist and do not believe the lie.

Because we are told to not trust every spirit but that we should test the spirits to see if they are from God. If we are obedient to this, we would only trust a spirit that we have tested. And we should keep on testing them. We have to continue coming into agreement with and affirming the Truth. If the spirit has not made the confession then we should not be trusting it. We should be distrusting it. If the spirit is not continuing to abide in the truth then we should not be led by it. If the spirit is speaking a different Jesus then we should not trust that spirit.

We should be testing people like this also:

II John 1:6-11 - And this is love, that we walk according to his commandments; this is the commandment, just as you have heard from the beginning, so that you should walk in it. For many deceivers have gone out into the world, those who do not confess the coming of Jesus Christ in the flesh. Such a one is the deceiver and the antichrist. Watch yourselves, so that you may not lose what we have worked for, but may win a full reward. Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, for whoever greets him takes part in his wicked works. (ESV)

When someone tries to tell you that this is some of bonus or extra, say in response that it's actually part of the package, as the sum of God's word is the Truth, not just part of it, and we have to go on abiding in Jesus Christ's teaching to have God, and we don't want anyone to short-sell us.

When someone tries to say that salvation is "not a process" or something that we still hope in even after being "saved", don't believe the lie, because even after we are "saved", we still believe that there is a future salvation. We don't want to be short-changed of God's work in sanctifying us as we trust and obey Jesus Christ. Jesus bought the redemption and the sanctification with His blood. So if you have issues with defilement, then don't be letting Satan trick you into thinking that you shouldn't be trusting and obeying Jesus to be sanctified because to do so would be to sell-yourself short of the sanctification that Jesus bought.

Acts 15:11 - But we believe that we will be saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus, just as they will. (ESV)

I Peter 1:3-5 - Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! According to his great mercy, he has caused us to be born again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance that is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading, kept in heaven for you, who by God's power are being guarded through faith for a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. (ESV)

Jude 1:19-21 - It is these who cause divisions, worldly people, devoid of the Spirit. But you, beloved, build yourselves up in your most holy faith; pray in the Holy Spirit; keep yourselves in the love of God, waiting for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ that leads to eternal life. (ESV)

If God hasn't yet given the testimony of Jesus Christ directly to you from Holy Spirit dwelling in you, then just continue on having faith in what the Scripture says about it, having faith in the blood of Jesus Christ, faith that Father God raised Jesus Christ from the dead in the power of the Holy Spirit, and seek to abide in Jesus Christ's commandments and believe that God has promised that you'll receive this testimony and hope for it.

Romans 1:1-6 - Paul, a servant of Christ Jesus, called to be an apostle, set apart for the gospel of God, which he promised beforehand through his prophets in the holy Scriptures, concerning his Son, who was descended from David according to the flesh and was declared to be the Son of God in power according to the Spirit of holiness by his resurrection from the dead, Jesus Christ our Lord, through whom we have received grace and apostleship to bring about the obedience of faith for the sake of his name among all the nations, including you who are called to belong to Jesus Christ, (ESV)

Romans 8:11,24-25 - If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you. For in this hope we were saved. Now hope that is seen is not hope. For who hopes for what he sees? But if we hope for what we do not see, we wait for it with patience. (ESV)

Hebrews 6:11-12 - And we desire each one of you to show the same earnestness to have the full assurance of hope until the end, so that you may not be sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises. (ESV)

Hebrews 11:17-19 - By faith Abraham, when he was tested, offered up Isaac, and he who had received the promises was in the act of offering up his only son, of whom it was said, Through Isaac shall your offspring be named. He considered that God was able even to raise him from the dead, from which, figuratively speaking, he did receive him back. (ESV)

All children of God (children of the promise) purify themselves:

I John 3:1-3 - See what kind of love the Father has given to us, that we should be called children of God; and so we are. The reason why the world does not know us is that it did not know him. Beloved, we are God's children now, and what we will be has not yet appeared; but we know that when he appears we shall be like him, because we shall see him as he is. And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. (ESV)

God Almighty knows that I've been coming under huge amounts of spiritual attack and have been exposed even to this day to disgusting, lewd, antichrist dreams and visions. But even though I sometimes have given in to temptations, I will seek to hate my mistakes, confess my sin, repent, hate the sin, and I'm going to keep confessing and holding to and being corrected by the truth of what the Scripture says and keep trusting that God will sanctify me as I trust and obey Him.

There has been a huge amount of spiritual resistance to me doing this. I do not understand why I've been attacked to this degree, it does sometimes make me feel like God is not taking care of me sufficiently but allowing me to be attacked more than I can handle, and I do often now complain a lot to God about it and when I do, that's when satan sends more of his messengers. It's disgusting stuff and it's really challenging. And in Jesus Christ's name I just rebuke the demons which have been harassing me. May the Lord Jesus Christ deliver me from these damned spirits that have been invading my mind during my sleep, and targeting my soul, causing sexual sensations trying to provoke me to arousal. Yes, I rebuke every one of those damned spirits in the name of Jesus Christ. And may Jesus Christ sanctify me and protect me, provide the testimony from Holy Spirit and God-willing, rapture off this planet.

2.99 Journal <2025-11-30 Sun>

My mind was once again flooded with dreams, visions and voices which are not from God last night and this morning. My sleep was very broken as it has daily been, to being woken up to invasive dreams that are not of the truth. How do I know they're not from God?

- They're false. No lie is of the truth.
- They don't confess the same Jesus who is Christ, the Son of God.
- They are not affirming a love for God.
- They are not affirming a love or desire to do the will of God.
- They just seem to be opposed to doing the will of God, or to thinking about His word or to obeying Him.
- They're often "worldly", almost obsessively fixated on earthly pleasures.
- They're often lewd, and antichrist, and seek to tempt to do what displeases God.
- And they're often mocking of faith in Jesus Christ.
- And the dreams and visions that are not from God don't lead into the truth. God speaks clearly and leads into the truth, and into understanding. God is not a God of confusion (disorder) but a God of peace. (Genesis 20:3-7, II Timothy 2:7, I Corinthians 14:29-33)
 - I'm very sick and tired of getting the types of dreams/visions which are ambiguous and seem to lead to more confusion and more second-guessing, more instability. Rather than clearing anything up, they just bring about more confusion. They'll say something like, "I'll let you sit on my throne." (Revelation of John 3:21). But even Satan has a throne. (Revelation of John 2:13).
 - * Very frequently, I get these types of dreams and visions. It's tiring and I'm sick of it.
 - * When God sends a messenger, God is not ambiguous. (Numbers 22:30-32)

I've had no word from God, at least recently, besides from what I read in Scripture. There's been no confession of Jesus Christ from the Holy Spirit in that form of dream/vision/voice to my heart. God help me. It's just awful and I'm really tired of this.

We need to be abiding in Jesus Christ's commandments lawfully in faith in the truth and love for the truth, loving one-another the way Jesus commanded us and demonstrated to be well-established, to be stable and so that in time of testing we will not fall away:

Luke 8:13 - And the ones on the rock are those who, when they hear the word, receive it with joy. But these have no root; they believe for a while, and in time of testing fall away. (ESV)

II Peter 3:17 - You therefore, beloved, knowing this beforehand, take care that you are not carried away with the error of lawless people and lose your own stability. (ESV)

Matthew 7:15-27 - Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing but inwardly are ravenous wolves. You will recognize them by their fruits. Are grapes gathered from thorn-bushes, or figs from thistles? So, every healthy tree bears good fruit, but the diseased tree bears bad fruit. A healthy tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor can a diseased tree bear good fruit. Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. Thus you will recognize them by their fruits. Not everyone who says to me, Lord, Lord, will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the one who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. On that day many will say to me, Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and cast out demons in your name, and do many mighty works in your name? And then will I declare to them, I never knew you; depart from me, you workers of lawlessness. Everyone then who hears these words of mine and does them will be like a wise man who built his house on the rock. And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat on that house, but it did not fall, because it had been founded on the rock. And everyone who hears these words of mine and does not do them will be like a foolish man who built his house on the sand. And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell, and great was the fall of it. (ESV)

Doing what's lawful:

If a person has a good heart then out from that good heart they will do good:

- Luke 8:15 - As for that in the good soil, they are those who, hearing the word, hold it fast in an honest and good heart, and bear fruit with patience. (ESV)
- Luke 6:45 - The good person out of the good treasure of his heart produces good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure produces evil, for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks. (ESV)

Jesus fixes our heart so that we trust in the truth and love the truth and love in truth. We have a law-abiding faith in Jesus Christ:

- Romans 5:7-8 - For one will scarcely die for a righteous person—though perhaps for a good person one would dare even to die— but God shows his love for us in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us. (ESV)

We then do everything out of a heart that has faith in the truth and love for the truth:

- Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)
- Matthew 22:37-40 - And he said to him, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)
- I John 3:17 - But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? (ESV)
- Luke 6:9-10 - And Jesus said to them, I ask you, is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good or to do harm, to save life or to destroy it? And after looking around at them all he said to him, Stretch out your hand. And he did so, and his hand was restored. (ESV)

I think that the breastplate of righteousness (breastplate of faith and love) depends on faith and love. To love God and our neighbour is our duty:

I Thessalonians 5:8 - But since we belong to the day, let us be sober, having put on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet the hope of salvation. (ESV)

More dream harassment. May Jesus Christ send all those demons to the fiery hell. I'm not going to quote the demons which have been harassing me. I rebuke the dream harassment in Jesus Christ's name.

Jesus Christ is the Son of God.

Jesus Christ, I am sick and tired of the dream harassment. Deliver me, LORD Jesus, in Your Mighty name.

I feel as though I've been deprived of good things in order to push me into corruption. Because calling what is good 'evil' is corrupt, as is calling what is evil 'good'. And as a consequence of having some defilement messing with my soul, if I then succumb to it then Satan is very quick to try to frame me as loving darkness, when in actuality I am persecuted for righteousness-sake. Satan sends his messengers, and tries to frame the situation that I prefer the corruption which I'm pushed into. Oh, the Lord Jesus Christ needs to deliver me from this evil. Whatever has been attacking me like this I condemn in the Mighty Name of Jesus Christ, Son of God. May it burn in hell, God willing.

As I've been waiting for instruction from Holy Spirit, what I've been enduring is a living hell of demonic oppression.

It's very fair to say that God's should be instructing me and clearing things up for me. I can expect that God will do this. It's not too much of God for Him to clear things up and make the first move with clearing things up. To leave me to suffer in demonic harassment like this forever would be a very devilish thing, I believe:

Isaiah 30:20-21 - And though the Lord give you the bread of adversity and the water of affliction, yet your Teacher will not hide himself anymore, but your eyes shall see your Teacher. And your ears shall hear a word behind you, saying, This is the way, walk in it, when you turn to the right or when you turn to the left.

Ecclesiastes 9:7 - Go, eat your bread in joy, and drink your wine with a merry heart, for God has already approved what you do. (ESV)

2.101 Journal <2025-12-03 Wed>

Daily, I've been receiving disturbing demonic/satanic dreams and visions, and also attacks against my mind and soul. Still, to this day, getting vicious demonic attacks. And no testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit in the way I expect to hear it. Rather, I have been getting dreams and visions from demons, and run-ins with people of other faiths. And I'm very tired.

But at the same time I get to check-in "fairly often" with Christians regarding my situation - maybe once a week, or a fortnight, and with a different person usually. But that's something.

I'm still very concerned about what's going on with my soul. The "spirit spouse" stuff / the sexual defilement or whatever it is and the demonic dreams/visions etc. is awful to be going through and I wish that I was feeling clean and at rest. But instead I'm experiencing palpably (able to be felt through my body and soul's senses) a general unease, a tightness around my chest, and as if something is wrapping around my left leg and up to my groin area and keeping me "on the verge" of giving myself erections etc. It feels very disgusting and I don't understand why this stuff has continued.

Anyway I rebuke that defilement and I rebuke the demonic harassment in the name of Jesus Christ.

God sanctifies us as we trust and obey Jesus Christ. God will save us from all the backslidings and God will clean us:

Ezekiel 37:23 - They shall not defile themselves anymore with their idols and their detestable things, or with any of their transgressions. But I will save them from all the backslidings in which they have sinned, and will cleanse them; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God. (ESV)

Ezekiel 37:26-27 - I will make a covenant of peace with them. It shall be an everlasting covenant with them. And I will set them in their land and multiply them, and will set my sanctuary in their midst forevermore. My dwelling place shall be with them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. (ESV)

Hebrews 2:11-12 - For he who sanctifies and those who are sanctified all have one origin. That is why he is not ashamed to call them brothers, saying, I will tell of your name to my brothers; in the midst of the congregation I will sing your praise. (ESV)

We are sanctified in the Truth. God's Word is the Truth. Jesus is the Truth. We trust in the truth and we walk in the truth:

John 17:17 - Sanctify them in the truth; your word is truth.
(ESV)

Hebrews 9:13-14 - For if the sprinkling of defiled persons with the blood of goats and bulls and with the ashes of a heifer sanctifies for the purification of the flesh, how much more will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without blemish to God, purify our conscience from dead works to serve the living God. (ESV)

Deuteronomy 26:18-19 - And the LORD has declared today that you are a people for his treasured possession, as he has promised you, and that you are to keep all his commandments, and that he will set you in praise and in fame and in honor high above all nations that he has made, and that you shall be a people holy to the LORD your God, as he promised. (ESV)

The New Covenant is a better covenant:

Jeremiah 31:31-34 - Behold, the days are coming, declares the LORD, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and the house of Judah, not like the covenant that I made with their fathers on the day when I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, my covenant that they broke, though I was their husband, declares the LORD. But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, declares the LORD: I will put my law within them, and I will write it on their hearts. And I will be their God, and they shall be my people. And no longer shall each one teach his neighbor and each his brother, saying, Know the LORD, for they shall all know me, from the least of them to the greatest, declares the LORD. For I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more. (ESV)

Hebrews 8:6 - But as it is, Christ has obtained a ministry that is as much more excellent than the old as the covenant he mediates is better, since it is enacted on better promises. (ESV)

Malachi 3:17 - They shall be mine, says the LORD of hosts, in the day when I make up my treasured possession, and I will spare them as a man spares his son who serves him. (ESV)

Psalms 135:4 - For the LORD has chosen Jacob for himself, Israel as his own possession. (ESV)

Titus 2:11-14 - For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people, training us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in the present age, waiting for our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, who gave himself for us to redeem us from all lawlessness and to purify for himself a people for his own possession who are zealous for good works. (ESV)

Jeremiah 31:31-34 - Behold, the days are coming, declares the LORD, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and the house of Judah, not like the covenant that I made with their fathers on the day when I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, my covenant that they broke, though I was their husband, declares the LORD. But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, declares the LORD: I will put my law within them, and I will write it on their hearts. And I will be their God, and they shall be my people. And no longer shall each one teach his neighbor and each his brother, saying, Know the LORD, for they shall all know me, from the least of them to the greatest, declares the LORD. For I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more. (ESV)

Joshua 24:24 - And the people said to Joshua, The LORD our God we will serve, and his voice we will obey. (ESV)

Psalms 103:17-18 - But the steadfast love of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting on those who fear him, and his righteousness to children's children, to those who keep his covenant and remember to do his commandments. (ESV)

I Samuel 15:22 - And Samuel said, Has the LORD as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the LORD? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to listen than the fat of rams. (ESV)

Jeremiah 11:4-7 - that I commanded your fathers when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying, Listen to my voice, and do all that I command you. So shall you be my people, and I will be your God, that I may confirm the oath that I swore to your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as at this day. Then I answered, So be it, LORD. And the LORD said to me, Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem: Hear the words of this covenant and do them. For I solemnly warned your fathers when I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, warning them persistently, even to this day, saying, Obey my voice. (ESV)

Jeremiah 7:23-24 - But this command I gave them: Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and you shall be my people. And walk in all the way that I command you, that it may be well with you. But they did not obey or incline their ear, but walked in their own counsels and the stubbornness of their evil hearts, and went backward and not forward. (ESV)

Luke 9:57-62 - As they were going along the road, someone said to him, I will follow you wherever you go. And Jesus said to him, Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head. To another he said, Follow me. But he said, Lord, let me first go and bury my father. And Jesus said to him, Leave the dead to bury their own dead. But as for you, go and proclaim the kingdom of God. Yet another said, I will follow you, Lord, but let me first say farewell to those at my home. Jesus said to him, No one who puts his hand to the plow and looks back is fit for the kingdom of God. (ESV)

Revelation of John 14:4-5 - It is these who have not defiled themselves with women, for they are virgins. It is these who follow the Lamb wherever he goes. These have been redeemed from mankind as firstfruits for God and the Lamb, and in their mouth no lie was found, for they are blameless. (ESV)

I'm really tired. I'm tired of not being allowed any rest. I'm tired of not being able to have joy over being saved. I used to have a lot of joy over being saved. And as a consequence of persistent spiritual attack, and the lack of the witness of Holy Spirit to the testimony of Jesus Christ directly in my heart, I just feel like the joy over being saved among other things has been robbed.. And I don't understand it. I'm also at the same time very sick and tired of abusive people. I'm finding it very difficult to tolerate them. I just don't belong here. My citizenship is in heaven. Every single day I put my trust in Jesus to take care of me during the night and almost every night without fail I wake up to demonic attacks. I am going to sleep praying to God for deliverance and entrusting myself to Jesus. And Jesus has apparently still allowed such things to happen to me. It doesn't make sense to me. At the same time, I really strive to trust and obey Jesus. It's just the sheer magnitude of spiritual oppression I've been under is, well I've described it as like being in Hades. It feels very corrupting. And I don't like it. My patience is stretched very far.

What has happened to me, what I've been made to go through is disgusting. May the Lord Jesus Christ be faithful and fulfill His promises. May He speak to me. May He sanctify me. I'm not tolerating this spiritual oppression. I haven't been tolerating it for a long time. So the Lord has to give good answers for why what has happened has happened to me. It's crossing a line. God made promises. I want to be spoken to.

2.102 <2025-12-04 Thu>

Amongst the many things which happened this day I have recorded in private, there was a moment as I lay on my bed where I was saying something like "I love my Dad, or help me Dad" or something like that, but I was thinking of God as Dad. That was very interesting, as it seems like the Gal 4:6 testimony.

Galatians 4:6 - And because you are sons, God has sent the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, crying, Abba! Father! (ESV)

But, what has happened to me during the week prior to Thursday, things regarding defilement and demonic harassment is disturbing and satanic. It's disgusting stuff and I do not understand why God would allow the most sacred, the most cherished, the most important testimony I might receive to be in proximity to that stuff. It's very disappointing and disheartening.

In the movie Braveheart, the noblemen slept with other people's wives on their wedding night. Is this the way that God likes to kick off a relationship? I think it's unacceptable. I want purity, holiness, and no defilement. I want total deliverance and sanctification. Anything less than total sanctification is a profanity and is unacceptable, because to have anything less than total sanctification would be like blaspheming Jesus' blood to say that it's not holy.

2.103 Journal <2025-12-05 Fri>

What would be the point of trying to give Jesus water not at the opportune moment when He said, "I thirst" from the cross, but after He had died. The Good Samaritan helped the man on the side of the road at the opportune moment. If someone needs mercy for food and they are asking for food, then it is the opportune moment to give them food. If someone needs mercy for money and they ask to borrow from you, then it is the opportune moment to give them money. What's the point of coming to offer at some later date what they previously asked for, when that is no longer what they're asking for or need?

If I am suffering defilement due to not being rescued at the opportune moment, what would the point be now in, say, me being given a wife, or a job. Now my problems are different and much worse.

The spiritual oppression I have received is utterly satanic.

When I have committed my way to the Lord Jesus Christ, there has been intense satanic resistance and temptation to renege on my commitments. It's disgusting stuff.

Even as I sit here right now writing this, something is attacking my soul, in my genitals and on my mouth. I feel a vibration and tingling on my tongue and a loins.

I feel like God has mistreated me by the sheer magnitude of demonic oppression. I was cleaned when I was born-again, and what has subsequently happened to me is disgusting, I was so forcefully surrounded by satanic influences, I was utterly buried under it. And God didn't speak to me directly and clearly during this time. I had to read my Bible and continue trusting and obeying Jesus directly from His teachings against the tide of discouraging (encouraging to not strive for obedience to Jesus) or self-righteous (i.e. not submitting to God's righteousness) influences. Under the threat of prison-time. And I have had to basically "self-terminate" - it's disgusting stuff. Self-denial is one thing. But I feel like it can go too far, to the point where, not wanting to sin against God, a person starts killing off everything in their life even things which God might not want destroyed so it's a bit of a strange predicament. Calling what is good evil is corrupt.

Proverbs 17:15 - He who justifies the wicked and he who condemns the righteous are both alike an abomination to the LORD. (ESV)

Isaiah 5:20 - Woe to those who call evil good and good evil, who put darkness for light and light for darkness, who put bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter! (ESV)

Think of Abraham being brought to put Isaac on the Altar and actually killing Isaac, but with many other things, unto the point where it just feels like self-mutilation. Because of the lack of God's intervention in the situation. God doesn't want us to butcher ourselves (Colossians 2:18-19, Colossians 2:23) but He seemingly allowed for conditions to arise where I was being gaslighted about practicing righteousness without direct guidance from Holy Spirit on what is acceptable, that I might have my way clarified. What is not done in faith is sin (Romans 14:23). What is not done in law-abiding agape love is also sin (Matthew 22:36-40, I John 3:4). So it feels like self-destruction for refusing to harm others (Ecclesiastes 7:16, Romans 13:10). What would have been nice for me is if Isaiah 30:20-21 was true for me. But it had not been. And I've wound up here in this situation after all of that, through continually being deprived of the clarifying voice of Holy Spirit in guiding me during tribulation. I've been attacked by demons near ceaselessly. Even as I lay here right now, I feel some defilement attacking me all over my body. It's disgusting. May the Lord Jesus Christ save me for His Name's sake.

What is not done in faith is sin (Romans 14:23, James 4:17). What is not done in law-abiding agape love is also sin (Matthew 22:36-40, I John 3:4). Christians should imitating the love of Jesus Christ, trusting God will take care of them, doing good and refusing to harm others (Ecclesiastes 7:16, Romans 13:10, I Peter 4:19, I Peter 2:23) according to God's commandments for us (I John 5:2). God has taught through His word what doing no harm to one's neighbour looks like. We are instructed to share the gospel in the following of and the imitation of the Lord Jesus Christ (Mark 8:34-36) and the passing on of Jesus' teachings and commandments, discipling others (Matthew 28:18-20).

Luke 16:16-17 - The Law and the Prophets were until John; since then the good news of the kingdom of God is preached, and everyone forces his way into it. But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away than for one dot of the Law to become void. (ESV)

Luke 16:16-17 does not have the word "were" in it in the Greek. But it reads more like "With regard to the Law and prophets up to John...". It's clear that the Law isn't voided because of what Jesus says next.

Luke 16:17 - But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away than for one dot of the Law to become void. (ESV)

I think Matthew 11:13 reads in the Greek more like, "All the prophets and the law until John prophesied." The way the ESV reads, it seems to make it Matt 11:13 out to say there were only prophets up until John, and so by implication excludes Jesus Christ Himself, who is also the Son of God, from being a 'prophet'. And it also seems to read like the Law itself was only until John. But I do not believe that Matthew 11:13 actually reads like that the Greek. I believe that the way the Greek reads is more like this: "all the prophets and the Law up to John prophesied". Consider that Jesus Christ is the telos of the Law and Jesus also gave commandments (Christ's Law), it also makes sense that He is the "telos of the prophets". Jesus is the Son of God, but that doesn't mean He is not also regarded as a prophet. Jesus also made prophets Himself.

Ephesians 4:11-13 - And it was He who gave some to be apostles, some to be prophets, some to be evangelists, and some to be pastors and teachers, to equip the saints for works of ministry and to build up the body of Christ, until we all reach unity in the faith and in the knowledge of the Son of God, as we mature to the full measure of the stature of Christ. (engbsb2020eb)

And if those who Jesus sends are speaking by the Holy Spirit, then what they say will be speaking the same (G3670 homologeó) Jesus. Their words would not contradict Jesus Christ's words. Their words will not be contradicting who Jesus is. Their words would not contradict what the Old Testament prophets have spoken about Jesus.

John 14:26 - But the Helper, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things and bring to your remembrance all that I have said to you. (ESV)

If we are "in the Spirit" then what other people confess or refuse to confess identifies whether or not the spirit working through them is from God. The principle can and should be used to test dreams, visions, angels, demons and human beings to see if we can trust them. I would never trust someone completely who refuses to give me the testimony that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh, as the Apostle John speaks of in I John 4:2-3.

I John 4:2-3 doesn't say that if a spirit speaks the name "Jesus" then it's from God. It doesn't say that at all. Rather, this word confess (G3670 homologeó) surely means that "confess Jesus" is agreeing with, agreeing with Jesus. The spirit must agree that Jesus has come in the flesh and the spirit must agree with Jesus. Now if a spirit does say to me that "Jesus Christ has come from God into the world in the flesh", then that gives me confidence that the message is from God:

I John 4:2-3 - By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

Luke 24:25 - And he said to them, O foolish ones, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken! (ESV)

2.104 Journal <2025-12-06 Sat>

I feel depressed beyond words. I keep failing myself and the Lord Jesus by giving into temptation from whatever has been attacking my mind and soul and body and relationships.

I feel like:

- I not have the fellowship that I want
- I have nothing to do
- I have no-one to love, no joy in companionship. Just alone, trying to do the will of God on my own
- I have barely anything to hope in because I feel like God keeps letting me down
 - I hope that God will deliver me and speak to me
 - God lets me deal with spiritual attacks without hearing from Him
- I have almost no joy at all
 - But I have actual depression now after letting Jesus and myself down today.

I want forgiveness. I know I can just confess sin again and repent and try again but it's feeling hopeless, especially since when I'm strong-willed to obey God I get spiritually attacked very intensely, and I don't have confidence in myself due to constantly failing. The flesh attacks my mind so strongly and I have no sources of joy in my life. I'd imagine that when feeling this bad, people would turn to their vices such as smoking or whatever it is. Please give me mercy, Jesus Christ, in the form of what would give me enough joy to resist sin. The number 1 way Jesus could help me to resist sin I think is by speaking clearly to me to instruct me and reassure me. If God forces me to renege on the commitments I have made to Him while going through persecution then He would be taking away the joys of having sacrificed something for Him, joy from a clean conscience, which is basically all that's keeping me going at all right now. Undermine that, and I'm done for, I think. I may not get what would be desirable but having joy from a clean conscience is important for me to hold onto, so I think that God should definitely just speak to me clearly to instruct me and reassure me (rather than to get me to renege on commitments that I have made to Him), and clean me of this fleshly or spiritual defilement that tries to pull me into setting my mind on the flesh, because I have gotten a lot of resistance to doing the will of God from Satan and I wouldn't want God to also start resisting my commitments that I make to Him (to God), so God help me, please just give me what I want and that is to be clean and not attacked in my mind or my flesh. I reneged on that marriage proposal, and yet to this day, through dreams attacks and by people in proximity to me I have received more reminders, temptations, etc. God help me by cleaning me and protecting me from evil, and by forgiving my shortcomings. Thank You God. I confess I sinned today but I want to do God's will.

I John 3:2-3 - Beloved, we are God's children now, and what we will be has not yet appeared; but we know that when he appears we shall be like him, because we shall see him as he is. And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. (ESV)

I Thessalonians 4:3-8 - For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you abstain from sexual immorality; that each one of you know how to control his own body in holiness and honor, not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God; that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you. For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness. Therefore whoever disregards this, disregards not man but God, who gives his Holy Spirit to you. (ESV)

I Corinthians 7:8-9 - To the unmarried and the widows I say that it is good for them to remain single as I am. But if they cannot exercise self-control, they should marry. For it is better to marry than to be aflame with passion. (ESV)

I Peter 2:11 - Beloved, I urge you as sojourners and exiles to abstain from the passions of the flesh, which wage war against your soul. (ESV)

Ephesians 5:3-12 - But sexual immorality and all impurity or covetousness must not even be named among you, as is proper among saints. Let there be no filthiness nor foolish talk nor crude joking, which are out of place, but instead let there be thanksgiving. For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. Therefore do not associate with them; for at one time you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light (for the fruit of light is found in all that is good and right and true), and try to discern what is pleasing to the Lord. Take no part in the unfruitful works of darkness, but instead expose them. For it is shameful even to speak of the things that they do in secret. (ESV)

I have a body of death that rebels against the law of God.

Romans 8:10 - But if Christ is in you, although the body is dead because of sin, the Spirit is life because of righteousness. (ESV)

Romans 7:22-25 - For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. Wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me from this body of death? Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord! So then, I myself serve the law of God with my mind, but with my flesh I serve the law of sin. (ESV)

Romans 8:1-9 - There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. To set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God's law; indeed, it cannot. Those who are in the flesh cannot please God. You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. (ESV)

I feel terrible when I set my mind on the body of death and give in to the temptation from the stuff that's attacking my mind and my flesh. It sucks. I feel wretched right now. I want to be free from this stuff. God help me.

2.105 Journal <2025-12-07 Sun>

It's totally unacceptable that I'm allowed to be attacked the way I have been attacked spiritually when I retreat from a situation out of faith (not out of cowardice but out of faithfulness and loyalty to the Lord Jesus Christ for what's not done in faith is sin) in order to be closer to the Lord Jesus Christ.

I said this last night: Jesus Christ, help me. Let me sleep, for the love of God. If You hate me, You will allow demons to wake me up. If You, love me, Lord Jesus Christ, You will protect me.

And I have been forced awake this morning and out of bed yet again by dream invasion and a defilement messing with me sexually.

When I got out of bed my mum and dad said, "You're up early - in an impressed and happy way." When in reality I had been forced awake, and it really sucks a lot being terrorised by demons.

I believe the Lord Jesus Christ is the Son of God. And I believe that He's not evil. I believe that He will heal me as I trust and hope in Him and as I trust and obey Him. I hope in Jesus Christ. I believe that He will set me free from satanic harassment. I will wait for Jesus Christ to speak to me. I rebuke the demonic goading in the Mighty Name of Jesus Christ. I will not be led by demons. It doesn't matter if the demons guise themselves with the names or faces of old friends. I rebuke the harassment in Jesus Christ's name.

And to the Lord Jesus Christ for all who read this journal to see, what has been happening to me, is totally unacceptable and satanic, and I expect more from Jehovah God than to let me get attacked by demons like this as I hope in Him. I demand immediate deliverance from this in His name for His name's sake.

I rebuke the satanic resistance to doing the will of God in the name of Jesus Christ who is the Son of God.

We are commanded to walk in the truth, and walking in the truth means we must be speaking the same Jesus Christ, and speaking the same teachings of Jesus Christ, and abiding in the teaching of Christ, and we must love one another walking according to God's commandments for us:

II John 1:4-11 - I rejoiced greatly to find some of your children walking in the truth, just as we were commanded by the Father. And now I ask you, dear lady—not as though I were writing you a new commandment, but the one we have had from the beginning—that we love one another. And this is love, that we walk according to his commandments; this is the commandment, just as you have heard from the beginning, so that you should walk in it. For many deceivers have gone out into the world, those who do not confess the coming of Jesus Christ in the flesh. Such a one is the deceiver and the antichrist. Watch yourselves, so that you may not lose what we have worked for, but may win a full reward. Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, for whoever greets him takes part in his wicked works. (ESV)

Even "good" things can be turned into idols:

I Timothy 4:4-5 - For everything created by God is good, and nothing is to be rejected if it is received with thanksgiving, for it is made holy by the word of God and prayer. (ESV)

Romans 1:19-25 - For what can be known about God is plain to them, because God has shown it to them. For his invisible attributes, namely, his eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly perceived, ever since the creation of the world, in the things that have been made. So they are without excuse. For although they knew God, they did not honor him as God or give thanks to him, but they became futile in their thinking, and their foolish hearts were darkened. Claiming to be wise, they became fools, and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images resembling mortal man and birds and animals and reptiles. Therefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts to impurity, to the dishonoring of their bodies among themselves, because they exchanged the truth about God for a lie and worshipped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever! Amen. (ESV)

Col 3:5-7 is not saying that "the earth is bad". But on the earth there is stuff that is corrupt, whereas in Holy Jerusalem which is in heaven there is not:

Colossians 3:5-7 - Put to death therefore what is earthly in you: sexual immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry. On account of these the wrath of God is coming. In these you too once walked, when you were living in them. (ESV)

The Greek reads more like: Put to death "the members" "upon the earth" sexual immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry. So it might be better translated as, while on the earth, put to death sexual immorality, impurity etc. in your members. It's being quite literal about practicing denying ungodliness, and striving for holiness.

We should give up our idols from the heart:

Luke 11:39-41 - And the Lord said to him, Now you Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and of the dish, but inside you are full of greed and wickedness. You fools! Did not he who made the outside make the inside also? But give as alms those things that are within, and behold, everything is clean for you. (ESV)

Mark 10:21-23 - And Jesus, looking at him, loved him, and said to him, You lack one thing: go, sell all that you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me. Disheartened by the saying, he went away sorrowful, for he had great possessions. And Jesus looked around and said to his disciples, How difficult it will be for those who have wealth to enter the kingdom of God! (ESV)

As children of promise, walking by faith rather than by sight, we should be desiring a heavenly country, not an earthly one:

Hebrews 11:12-19 - Therefore from one man, and him as good as dead, were born descendants as many as the stars of heaven and as many as the innumerable grains of sand by the seashore. These all died in faith, not having received the things promised, but having seen them and greeted them from afar, and having acknowledged that they were strangers and exiles on the earth. For people who speak thus make it clear that they are seeking a homeland. If they had been thinking of that land from which they had gone out, they would have had opportunity to return. But as it is, they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly one. Therefore God is not ashamed to be called their God, for he has prepared for them a city. By faith Abraham, when he was tested, offered up Isaac, and he who had received the promises was in the act of offering up his only son, of whom it was said, Through Isaac shall your offspring be named. He considered that God was able even to raise him from the dead, from which, figuratively speaking, he did receive him back. (ESV)

II Timothy 4:18 - The Lord will rescue me from every evil deed and bring me safely into his heavenly kingdom. To him be the glory forever and ever. Amen. (ESV)

II Corinthians 5:1-7 - For we know that if the tent, which is our earthly home, is destroyed, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. For in this tent we groan, longing to put on our heavenly dwelling, if indeed by putting it on we may not be found naked. For while we are still in this tent, we groan, being burdened—not that we would be unclothed, but that we would be further clothed, so that what is mortal may be swallowed up by life. He who has prepared us for this very thing is God, who has given us the Spirit as a guarantee. So we are always of good courage. We know that while we are at home in the body we are away from the Lord, for we walk by faith, not by sight. (ESV)

Be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that in the Lord your labor is not in vain:

I Corinthians 15:53-58 - For this perishable body must put on the imperishable, and this mortal body must put on immortality. When the perishable puts on the imperishable, and the mortal puts on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written: Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is your victory? O death, where is your sting? The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. Therefore, my beloved brothers, be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that in the Lord your labor is not in vain. (ESV)

Hebrews 6:9-12 - Though we speak in this way, yet in your case, beloved, we feel sure of better things—things that belong to salvation. For God is not so unjust as to overlook your work and the love that you showed for his sake in serving the saints, as you still do. And we desire each one of you to show the same earnestness to have the full assurance of hope until the end, so that you may not be sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises. (ESV)

Romans 2:6-8 - He will render to each one according to his works: to those who by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, he will give eternal life; but for those who are self-seeking and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, there will be wrath and fury. (ESV)

2.106 Journal <2025-12-07 Sun>

2.106.1 Don't put God to the test. Don't be tempted by the devil into putting God to the test

Matthew 4:1-4 - Then Jesus was led up by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted by the devil. And after fasting forty days and forty nights, he was hungry. And the tempter came and said to him, If you are the Son of God, command these stones to become loaves of bread. But he answered, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes from the mouth of God. (ESV)

Exodus 17:7 - And he called the name of the place Massah and Meribah, because of the quarreling of the people of Israel, and because they tested the LORD by saying, Is the LORD among us or not? (ESV)

Psalms 95:7-9 - For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand. Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts, as at Meribah, as on the day at

Massah in the wilderness, when your fathers put me to the test and put me to the proof, though they had seen my work. (ESV)

Matthew 4:5-7 - Then the devil took him to the holy city and set him on the pinnacle of the temple and said to him, If you are the Son of God, throw yourself down, for it is written, He will command his angels concerning you, and On their hands they will bear you up, lest you strike your foot against a stone. Jesus said to him, Again it is written, You shall not put the Lord your God to the test. (ESV)

I Corinthians 10:8-13 - We must not indulge in sexual immorality as some of them did, and twenty-three thousand fell in a single day. We must not put Christ to the test, as some of them did and were destroyed by serpents, nor grumble, as some of them did and were destroyed by the Destroyer. Now these things happened to them as an example, but they were written down for our instruction, on whom the end of the ages has come. Therefore let anyone who thinks that he stands take heed lest he fall. No temptation has overtaken you that is not common to man. God is faithful, and he will not let you be tempted beyond your ability, but with the temptation he will also provide the way of escape, that you may be able to endure it. (ESV)

AMEN!!

I want to be able to not be attacked by demons. Lord Jesus Christ, if I'm here over Christmas then please allow me to spend it without getting spiritually attacked. Please allow me to have fellowship with other people who trust and obey Your voice. In Jesus Christ's name I ask, AMEN!!

We have to trust and obey Jesus directly, we need our own personal relationship trusting and obeying Jesus Christ.

Jesus said "households" would be divided but Jesus Himself isn't divided against His own self, so Jesus' Kingdom isn't divided. Even when Jesus is "against" someone else, since Jesus Christ Son of God is the King of His Kingdom, His Kingdom isn't divided. So when Jesus is "against" someone, Jesus isn't casting out "Himself". Jesus isn't against Himself.

Revelation of John 3:1-3 - And to the angel of the church in Sardis write: The words of him who has the seven spirits of God and the seven stars. I know your works. You have the reputation of being alive, but you are dead. Wake up, and strengthen what remains and is about to die, for I have not found your works complete in the sight of my God. Remember, then, what you received and heard. Keep it, and repent. If you will not wake up, I will come like a thief, and you will not know at what hour I will come against you. (ESV)

Matthew 12:30 - Whoever is not with me is against me, and whoever does not gather with me scatters. (ESV)

We need to be trusting and obeying Jesus directly. He's got to be our Only Lord (Jude 1:4) and Master (Jude 1:4) and Teacher (Matthew 23:8) and Saviour (I Corinthians 1:13).

The "invisible" rhēmāti (Word) of God created the universe. Father and Son and Holy Spirit are the Co-Creators of the universe:

Hebrews 11:3 - By faith we understand that the universe was created by the word (G4487 rhēmāti) of God, so that what is seen was not made out of things that are visible. (ESV)

Hebrews 1:2 - but in these last days he has spoken to us by his Son, whom he appointed the heir of all things, through whom also he created the world. (ESV)

Psalms 104:30 - When you send forth your Spirit, they are created, and you renew the face of the ground. (ESV)

Even the heavens are to be dissolved, and we need to be in Jesus' Kingdom:

II Peter 3:9-13 - The Lord is not slow to fulfill his promise as some count slowness, but is patient toward you, not wishing that any should perish, but that all should reach repentance. But the day of the Lord will come like a thief, and then the heavens will pass away with a roar, and the heavenly bodies will be burned up and dissolved, and the earth and the works that are done on it will be exposed. Since all these things are thus to be dissolved, what sort of people ought you to be in lives of holiness and godliness, waiting for and hastening the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be set on fire and dissolved, and the heavenly bodies will melt as they burn! But according to his promise we are waiting for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells. (ESV)

Matthew 24:35 - Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away. (ESV)

Revelation of John 21:1 - Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth, for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away, and the sea was no more. (ESV)

Isaiah 65:17 - For behold, I create new heavens and a new earth, and the former things shall not be remembered or come into mind. (ESV)

Bedridden, in pain and getting hit with pictures in my mind, getting these satanic dreams.

2.110 Journal <2025-12-11 Thu>

Even today just getting pictures of woman in my head and I don't even know where they come from or if these people are real somewhere out there - but they just appear.

And the persistent reminders of this painful stuff with the girl I proposed to. And stuff mocking marriage and mocking me about it.

And sometimes throughout this I get dreams and pictures of people who are pastors of churches. And the last couple of days I had at least 2 pastors appear in visions.

And this morning there was one dream I had of talking to a young man and I said, "What spirit is this meeting in?" They initially seemed a bit puzzled by my question. I then said, "I confess that Jesus Christ is the Son of God." And then they agreed with me, and seemed to understand.

That's a positive dream, I think.

But in and around these dreams and visions I get hit so terribly hard with demonic dreams and visions. There was other stuff in there which was, I believe, misrepresenting someone who I knew from church.

Yesterday, whilst being bedridden with an excruciating migraine, I masturbated because it's temporary "pain relief" and of course because I gave in to temptation after I had committed to the Lord Jesus to not do that.

Part of the reason why I really believe in resisting doing that is as I am helping other people and trying to encourage other people to trust in and obey Jesus and to resist sin themselves and to get over addictions, I believe that if I am exercising holiness through faith in Jesus then that helps them too. Not that it's holiness of my own that would help them, but I believe that it's Jesus' holiness and God works through us as we trust and obey Him, and that I should be trusting and obeying Jesus to allow God to work through me for others' benefit.

And I get so much satanic resistance to trusting and obeying Jesus.

But I mean I had gone quite well resisting sin. And then (I swear this is what it is) I get hammered by demonic attacks. I would liken it to a DDOS (distributed denial of service) attack (or just a multi-pronged attack). Like in resisting sin and obeying Jesus and going around "doing good works done in faith in Jesus" I feel like the resistance typically begins to increase and the resistance comes in various forms. The devil tries to steal the word from our heart. And so the devil is going to try to attack a person's faith to try to gaslight a person to undermine our faith in the instructions that God has given, and our faith in what God promises those who love, trust and obey Him. And at the same time, make life very difficult. So as I've experienced, if I'm obeying Jesus to donate in charity then along comes the devil to start putting additional pressures on. The devil might send people to discourage you from what you're doing. I make a point about being the good Samaritan to people and how God values His children more than "many sparrows", and how we should give generously but not give away what does not belong to us, and should take care of family, and so I withheld from giving to some people asking for money to fund their organisation to train dogs for helping blind people for example (I'd love to do it but if doing is unlawful, like Robin-Hood-style giving, then I can't), and because I'm walking by faith trying to obey Jesus trusting in His word for an extended period of time and there are other spirits from Hinduism messing with me, which I've been actively resisting, I got hit with my cat suddenly getting dreadfully ill the next day - it's this type of thing and also hit with these massive dilemmas. I get asked if I want Flo to get put down for example. What would a person prepared to give up for the sake of walking in righteousness? Everything? Jesus said that those who lose their life for His sake will find their life. It's easy for me to see the dynamics of this as I am walking by faith in God's word. But for other people I have noticed it is difficult for them to understand because "the natural man doesn't understand the things of the spirit, and the mind that is set on the flesh does not submit to God's law" - that is a fact. But what happens as I walk by faith resisting sin for an extended period is the spiritual attacks intensify. And yesterday was one of those days.

I hate these satanic attacks against me. I do not understand why it has been so intense. I feel absolutely wretched. I commit to the Lord to walk in holiness, and then God as my witness, I get attacked so often by demons. I just rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name. I do not understand why this continues to happen to me, but I'm telling you guys, my life is a living hell.

Hebrews 12:4-11 - In your struggle against sin you have not yet resisted to the point of shedding your blood. And have you forgotten the exhortation that addresses you as sons? My son, do not regard lightly the discipline of the Lord, nor be weary when reproved by him. For the Lord disciplines the one he loves, and chastises every son whom he receives. It is for discipline that you have to endure. God is treating you as sons. For what son is there whom his father does not discipline? If you are left without discipline, in which all have participated, then you are illegitimate children and not sons. Besides this, we have had earthly fathers who disciplined us and we respected them. Shall we not much more be subject to the Father of spirits and live? For they disciplined us for a short time as it seemed best to them, but he disciplines us for our good, that we may share his holiness. For the moment all discipline seems painful rather than pleasant, but later it yields the peaceful fruit of righteousness to those who have been trained by it. (ESV)

Job 21:7-15 - Why do the wicked live, reach old age, and grow mighty in power? Their offspring are established in their presence, and their descendants before their eyes. Their houses are safe from fear, and no rod of God is upon them. Their bull breeds without fail; their cow calves and does not miscarry. They send out their little boys like a flock, and their children dance. They sing to the tambourine and the lyre and rejoice to the sound of the pipe. They spend their days in prosperity, and in peace they go down to Sheol. They say to God, Depart from us! We do not desire the knowledge of your ways. What is the Almighty, that we should serve him? And what profit do we get if we pray to him? (ESV)

I rebuke the headaches in Jesus Christ's name. In Jesus Christ's name I rebuke the defilement messing with my senses and my dreams trying to deter me from doing the will of God. May the Lord Jesus Christ, heal me and set me free from that stuff. I confess the masturbation stuff as sin and I turn my back on it again today. Forgive God and heal me and deliver me Jesus. If I'm not delivered then may the Lord Jesus Christ let me die a martyr's death. If my cross that God wants me to carry involves being prevented from marrying, being ostracised and etc. then so be it. But I don't want any of these spiritual attacks. It's disgusting stuff. Whatever keeps invading my dreams and messing with my mouth and my loins I rebuke in Jesus Christ's name.

I would gladly embrace being burned a stake or anything equivalent rather than endure this degree of demonic oppression and harassment perpetually. I can't tolerate the way I'm being compelled to live. Practically every single day I'm getting woken up to dreams and visions, and attacked by demons and my joy keeps getting attacked. So I'm forced to carry my cross while being tormented. That is disgusting stuff. This is no way to live. May the Lord Jesus Christ speak clearly to me and deliver me from evil.

2.111 Journal <2025-12-12 Fri>

James 4:7-10 - Submit (G5293 Hypotagēte) yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. Draw near to God, and he will draw near to you. Cleanse your hands, you sinners, and purify your hearts, you double-minded. Be wretched and mourn and weep. Let your laughter be turned to mourning and your joy to gloom. Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will exalt you. (ESV)

G5293 Hypotagēte hupotassó: To subject, to subordinate, to submit, to be under obedience. From hupo and tasso; to subordinate; reflexively, to obey – be under obedience (obedient), put under, subdue unto, (be, make) subject (to, unto), be (put) in subjection (to, under), submit self unto.

Titus 2:11-14 - For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people, training us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in the present age, waiting for our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, who gave himself for us to redeem us from all lawlessness and to purify for himself a people for his own possession who are zealous for good works. (ESV)

Acts 19:2-5 - And he said to them, Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you believed? And they said, No, we have not even heard that there is a Holy Spirit. And he said, Into what then were you baptized? They said, Into John's baptism. And Paul said, John baptized with the baptism of repentance, telling the people to believe in the one who was to come after him, that is, Jesus. On hearing this, they were baptized in the name (G3686 ónoma) of the Lord Jesus. (ESV)

G3686 ónoma name; (figuratively) the manifestation or revelation of someone's character, i.e. as distinguishing them from all others. Thus "praying in the name of Christ" means to pray as directed (authorized) by Him, bringing revelation that flows out of being in His presence. "Praying in Jesus' name" therefore is not a "religious formula" just to end prayers (or get what we want)!

So typically, we come to faith, get baptised into Jesus' name (G3686 onoma. i.e. into the name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit is still Jesus's onoma name), are forgiven and we should straight away endeavour to be doing all the will of God for us (all of what God wants us to do) and continue learning and understanding what God's will is for us and put into practice what God's will is for us (i.e. sanctification, faith in Jesus, trusting and obeying Jesus, love in the truth, etc.). Peter advises us to arm ourselves with the way of thinking that is to be doing the will of God even in face of the suffering that comes from the active resistance to doing the will of God. I.e. we should submit to God in obedience, resist rendering evil for evil, stop letting sin reign, stop obeying sin, and instead obey Jesus and practice good works done in faith. Since Jesus suffered in the flesh because He was practicing perfect righteousness while sinful men killed Him, we arm ourselves with this same way of thinking, that is to cease from sin and live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God.

I Peter 4:1-9 - Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh, arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. The time that is past suffices for doing what the Gentiles want to do, living in sensuality, passions, drunkenness, orgies, drinking parties, and lawless idolatry. With respect to this they are surprised when you do not join them in the same flood of debauchery, and they malign you; but they will give account to him who is ready to judge the living and the dead. For this is why the gospel was preached even to those who are dead, that though judged in the flesh the way people are, they might live in the spirit the way God does. The end of all things is at hand; therefore be self-controlled and sober-minded for the sake of your prayers. Above all, keep loving one another earnestly, since love covers a multitude of sins. Show hospitality to one another without grumbling. (ESV)

And the Apostle Paul commends:

- faith in Christ Jesus
- love for family in Christ

Colossians 1:2-10 - To the saints and faithful brothers in Christ at Colossae: Grace to you and peace from God our Father. We always thank God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, when we pray for you, since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus and of the love that you have for all the saints, because of the hope laid up for you in heaven. Of this you have heard before in the word of the truth, the gospel, which has come to you, as indeed in the whole world it is bearing fruit and growing—as it also does among you, since the day you heard it and understood the grace of God in truth, just as you learned it from Epaphras our beloved fellow servant. He is a faithful minister of Christ on your behalf and has made known to us your love in the Spirit. And so, from the day we heard, we have not ceased to pray for you, asking that you may be filled with the knowledge of his will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, so as to walk in a manner worthy of the Lord, fully pleasing to him, bearing fruit in every good work and increasing in the knowledge of God. (ESV)

And the hope which we have being laid up for us in heaven:

I Peter 1:3-4 - Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! According to his great mercy, he has caused us to be born again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance that is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading, kept in heaven for you, (ESV)

It's for those who love Him:

I Corinthians 2:7-14 - But we impart a secret and hidden wisdom of God, which God decreed before the ages for our glory. None of the rulers of this age understood this, for if they had, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory. But, as it is written, What no eye has seen, nor ear heard, nor the heart of man imagined, what God has prepared for those who love him— these things God has revealed to us through the Spirit. For the Spirit searches everything, even the depths of God. For who knows a person's thoughts except the spirit of that person, which is in him? So also no one comprehends the thoughts of God except the Spirit of God. Now we have received not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit who is from God, that we might understand the things freely given us by God. And we impart this in words not taught by human wisdom but taught by the Spirit, interpreting spiritual truths to those who are spiritual. The natural person does not accept the things of the Spirit of God, for they are folly to him, and he is not able to understand them because they are spiritually discerned. (ESV)

We must continue on in the love of the truth, faithfully, obediently, doing the will of God. We should be growing in faith, growing in love for one another and growing in the knowledge of God, and should be putting a stop to practicing sin as God wants, and trust that God will take care of us:

II Thessalonians 1:3-12 - We ought always to give thanks to God for you, brothers, as is right, because your faith is growing abundantly, and the love of every one of you for one another is increasing. Therefore we ourselves boast about you in the churches of God for your steadfastness and faith in all your persecutions and in the afflictions that you are enduring. This is evidence of the righteous judgment of God, that you may be considered worthy of the kingdom of God, for which you are also suffering—since indeed God considers it just to repay with affliction those who afflict you, and to grant relief to you who are afflicted as well as to us, when the Lord Jesus is revealed from heaven with his mighty angels in flaming fire, inflicting vengeance on those who do not know God and on those who do not obey the gospel of our Lord Jesus. They will suffer the punishment of eternal destruction, away from the presence of the Lord and from the glory of his might, when he comes on that day to be glorified in his saints, and to be marveled at among all who have believed, because our testimony to you was believed. To this end we always pray for you, that our God may make you worthy of his calling and may fulfill every resolve for good and every work of faith by his power, so that the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you, and you in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ. (ESV)

I John 3:6 - No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. (ESV)

I Peter 4:17-19 - For it is time for judgment to begin at the household of God; and if it begins with us, what will be the outcome for those who do not obey the gospel of God? And If the righteous is scarcely saved, what will become of the ungodly and the sinner? Therefore let those who suffer according to God's will entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good. (ESV)

Colossians 1:3-29 - We always thank God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, when we pray for you, since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus and of the love that you have for all the saints, because of the hope laid up for you in heaven. Of this you have heard before in the word of the truth, the gospel, which has come to you, as indeed in the whole world it is bearing fruit and growing—as it also does among you, since the day you heard it and understood the grace of God in truth, just as you learned it from Epaphras our beloved fellow servant. He is a faithful minister of Christ on your behalf and has made known to us your love in the Spirit. And so, from the day we heard, we have not ceased to pray for you, asking that you may be filled with the knowledge of his will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, so as to walk in a manner worthy of the Lord, fully pleasing to him, bearing fruit in every good work and increasing in the knowledge of God. May you be strengthened with all power, according to his glorious might, for all endurance and patience with joy, giving thanks to the Father, who has qualified you to share in the inheritance of the saints in light. He has delivered us from the domain of darkness and transferred us to the kingdom of his beloved Son, in whom we have redemption, the forgiveness of sins. He is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of all creation. For by him all things were created, in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or rulers or authorities—all things were created through him and for him. And he is before all things, and in him all things hold together. And he is the head of the body, the church. He is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead, that in everything he might be preeminent. For in him all the fullness of God was pleased to dwell, and through him to reconcile to himself all things, whether on earth or in heaven, making peace by the blood of his cross. And you, who once were alienated and hostile in mind, doing evil deeds, he has now reconciled in his body of flesh by his death, in order to present you holy and blameless and above reproach before him, if indeed you continue in the faith, stable and steadfast, not shifting from the hope of the gospel that you heard, which has been proclaimed in all creation under heaven, and of which I, Paul, became a minister. Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and in my flesh I am filling up what is lacking in Christ's afflictions for the sake of his body, that is, the church, of which I became a minister according to the stewardship from God that was given to me for you, to make the word of God fully known, the mystery hidden for ages and generations but now revealed to his saints. To them God chose to make known how great among the Gentiles are the riches of the glory of this mystery, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory. Him we proclaim, warning everyone and teaching everyone with all wisdom, that we may present everyone mature in Christ. For this I toil, struggling with all his energy that he powerfully works within me. (ESV)

I John 2:15 - Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. (ESV)

I Corinthians 8:3 - But if anyone loves God, he is known by God. (ESV)

I John 4:21 - And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

I Peter 5:6-12 - Humble yourselves, therefore, under the mighty hand of God so that at the proper time he may exalt you, casting all your anxieties on him, because he cares for you. Be sober-minded; be watchful. Your adversary the devil prowls around like a roaring lion, seeking someone to devour. Resist him, firm in your faith, knowing that the same kinds of suffering are being experienced by your brotherhood throughout the world. And after you have suffered a little while, the God of all grace, who has called you to his eternal glory in Christ, will himself restore, confirm, strengthen, and establish you. To him be the dominion forever and ever. Amen. By Silvanus, a faithful brother as I regard him, I have written briefly to you, exhorting and declaring that this is the true grace of God. Stand firm in it. (ESV)

2.112 Journal <2025-12-20 Sat>

Problem:

- spiritual attacks in the morning
 - dream attacks
 - sleep deprivation, getting woken up by others
 - headaches
 - soul attacks becoming temptations
 - * stuff vibrating and moving around my body etc.
 - * something like a ghost pushing into my face and on my lips
 - not married, no job
 - no money with which to get out of bed to go and do something
 - * I have been obeying Jesus out of faith to give to those who ask, leaving me with no "extra money" to do things such as leave the house and get a coffee, or some milk, or something like that.
 - * So therefore, it feels like I do not have enough grace.

This morning I woke up and lay in bed for a while and gave into temptation again. I had woken up to demonic dreams and visions, and as I lay in bed I had a headache.

Even while I did what I was doing, I only did it because of the temptation. I don't want to be in pain or tormented. I want to be able to lay down and sleep peacefully. But being denied that rest, I gave into temptation. I did it while under spiritual attack.

I think the spiritual oppression is really the reason why it's so difficult.

Immediately after I grieve the sin, and confess it and I hate the sin. And I confess to God that I'm sorry for my actions. But I sit here still with a headache as if something is attacking my mind.

May Jesus Christ help me.

I know God hates the indwelling sin and that it is condemned and that I need to be keeping Jesus' commandments. To obey the sinful flesh, that which is condemned is death.

Romans 8:6 - To set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. (ESV)

This really says it all. I need God to really help me to "kill the sin" and I need to be trusting and obeying Jesus in order to do that:

Romans 7:22-24 - For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. Wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me from this body of death? (ESV)

Romans 8:13 - For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. (ESV)

We need to be loving the law of God, preferring truth to darkness, preferring God to sin, wanting to do the right thing, and be abiding in Jesus Christ's commandments, trusting and obedient to Jesus, in order to abide in Jesus Christ and not fall into condemnation:

Romans 7:15-25 - I do not understand my own actions. For I do not do what I want, but I do the very thing I hate. Now if I do what I do not want, I agree with the law, that it is good. So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. So I find it to be a law that when I want to do right, evil lies close at hand. For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. Wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me from this body of death? Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord! So then, I myself serve the law of God with my mind, but with my flesh I serve the law of sin. (ESV)

I John 3:24 - Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

Romans 8:1-4 - There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. (ESV)

John 6:63 - It is the Spirit who gives life; the flesh is of no avail. The words that I have spoken to you are spirit and life. (ESV)

May God continue cleaning me and healing me:

II Timothy 4:18 - The Lord will rescue me from every evil deed and bring me safely into his heavenly kingdom. To him be the glory forever and ever. Amen. (ESV)

Acts 14:21-22 - When they had preached the gospel to that city and had made many disciples, they returned to Lystra and to Iconium and to Antioch, strengthening the souls of the disciples, encouraging them to continue in the faith, and saying that through many tribulations we must enter the kingdom of God. (ESV)

Matthew 7:21 - Not everyone who says to me, Lord, Lord, will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the one who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. (ESV)

If we're really loving in the truth then we will speak the truth about what God's word says. We don't want to lie in order to get out of punishment. We want to choose the path of love even if it means we might be punished for it. It would be wrong to plea guilty to a lesser charge if you knew you were not guilty of the charge in order to get out of taking a greater charge carrying a greater sentence but where the charge is true. Because love doesn't fear punishment. We're not supposed to fear what mankind might do to us, or fear prison time because if we are doing what pleases God, we have a good conscience. We're supposed to fear God and do what pleases God:

Matthew 18:7-8 - Woe to the world for temptations to sin! For it is necessary that temptations come, but woe to the one by whom the temptation comes! And if your hand or your foot causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. It is better for you to enter life crippled or lame than with two hands or two feet to be thrown into the eternal fire. (ESV)

I John 4:18 - There is no fear in love, but perfect love casts out fear. For fear has to do with punishment, and whoever fears has not been perfected in love. (ESV)

I am despairing right now because the fight against sin and error has been so difficult and I keep caving into temptation.

I get spiritually attacked fairly frequently through other people sometimes.

This week someone just blurted out to me "fiery arrows" like "you have a long way to go", after I tell them that Jesus is the way the truth and the life and there's no way to Father God except through Him and that we need to focus on Jesus by trusting and obeying Him and that if someone keeps Jesus commandments then the Holy Spirit will come to them and Jesus will manifest to them. Jesus is the reality, the truth. I said this to the person and they just said "you have a long way to go". And this in the moment was a fiery dart. I did respond to the person with "salvation is not just a thing we hope for but is a here and now thing." And I mentioned Romans 10:8-10.

Romans 10:6-10 - But the righteousness based on faith says, Do not say in your heart, Who will ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down) or Who will descend into the abyss? (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead). But what does it say? The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart (that is, the word of faith that we proclaim); because, if you confess with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For with the heart one believes and is justified, and with the mouth one confesses and is saved. (ESV)

Someone else in that situation amended it!

Like, when I'm trying to fight against sin, and I'm doing war against sin, when I'm countering lies with the word of God, when I'm doing this, I get fierce resistance. I have had fierce resistance to doing the will of God. It's disgusting stuff.

Anyway I believe we can have eternal life right now if we, in this moment have true faith in Jesus Christ, but I believe we must also continue on in Christ's teaching. I'm a believer in God's word which includes what's written in Romans 11.

John 5:24 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears my word and believes him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come into judgment, but has passed from death to life. (ESV)

2Jn 1:9 (Interlinear) Anyone going on ahead and not abiding in the teaching of Christ God not has. The [one] abiding in the teaching this [one] both the Father and the Son has

Romans 11:20-23 - That is true. They were broken off because of their unbelief, but you stand fast through faith. So do not become proud, but stand in awe. For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. Note then the kindness and the severity of God: severity toward those who have fallen, but God's kindness to you, provided you continue in his kindness. Otherwise you too will be cut off. And even they, if they do not continue in their unbelief, will be grafted in, for God has the power to graft them in again. (ESV)

I want to be delivered from the spiritual attacks I've been receiving, and cleansed from all defilement. God has made these promises which I'm trusting Him for. Even as I sit here writing this, I feel my head is under spiritual attack with another one of these headaches which I've had all morning since I woke up to demonic dreams and visions again today. Please pray for me that I will be delivered from evil.

2.113 <2025-12-20 Sat>

Yeah, so once again, excruciating headache, and waking up to more demonic attacks. The attacks against my mind, the invasive dreams and visions, the demonic harassment it actually hurts my head.

I'm finding that often if I talk to my earthly dad about spiritual matters, he starts speaking from the flesh and it makes him upset, and it triggers him to start giving unsound advice and he starts asking where I'm putting my money etc. Immediately the conversation turns away from talking about things from the narrative/perspective of faith in Jesus and turns to something that is not faith in Jesus.

So I have to endure the spiritual attacks and the dilemmas I face in isolation. It feels like when I want to talk about things that are pertinent to my spiritual walk, such as big decisions which are made in faith and obedience to Jesus, there are not usually at the time people to talk to about this.

Inside this house that I live it often feels like I am mostly alone in this. I am driven into solitude by the hostility against Jesus and Jesus' teachings.

But discussing Jesus should never be taboo among Christians.

By default a Christian should be practicing righteousness. When we make a mistake, when we sin, that is the error. When we sin, that is not the norm for a born-again Christian.

I don't have my own assets. I do not own the house I live in. I'd love to help house the homeless who ask me for help, but I can't. Is it right to ban a person from keeping Jesus' commandments in deed? Is it right to prevent a person from loving their family in Christ? Is it right to prevent people from or make it very difficult for people to practice and learn to keep Jesus' commandments and be obedient to Jesus in all His teachings? One thing that prevents me from being able to function as well as I could is these horrible demonic attacks. If God would only protect me from evil as I trust in Him, I'm sure that would solve a lot of problems. I do not own the house I live in, but I do pay to live here. I'm don't renovate the house in order to be able live here, because I'm paying rent, though I might help sometimes. For me to do work on the house would normally be an act of charity, not a requirement for me to live here. What I need is mercy, but it seems like grace and mercy are things which I have not and do not receive enough of. I have a splitting headache right now also. The spiritual attacks are palpable. Jesus Christ help me. May Father God, please forgive me for my mistakes and lead me not into temptation but deliver me from evil. I don't want to sin against God. I love the Lord Jesus and I'm sick of the demonic attacks. I'm sick of giving in to temptation. But my flesh feels defiled and it has become a temptation, especially when I'm denied work and marriage, etc. When I'm denied just basic things. When I'm denied the testimony from Holy Spirit of Jesus Christ direct to my heart. Now I have had some testimony of Jesus Christ in dreams, etc. but it seems to me like it's me who testifies of my faith to Jesus. I have even experienced my own thoughts calling out to God as Dad when I was praying in my thoughts to God I was thinking of Him as Dad. And I think that might be a testimony from Holy Spirit. But as far as I can remember, I still haven't heard the confession that Jesus Christ has come [from God, into the world,] in the flesh (in flesh and blood) direct to my mind from Holy Spirit. I hate these attacks against my soul and my mind. It's a horrible existence that I have.

youtube.com: Post from NarrowRoad79k I commented: I feel like I don't have enough mercy from God. And I trust that principle that the merciful will receive mercy. But I get attacked by demons when I'm striving for obedience to Jesus. I love to give to the needy. I have almost no possessions. But I'm denied getting work or getting married and even being denied Christian fellowship just by coming up against a lot of resistance. I love giving, I love helping others, etc. But I'm getting hit with demonic dreams and headaches and attacks against my soul. I was just thinking about "blessed are the merciful, for they shall receive mercy", then I saw your quote. I'm even being denied talk about it with people sometimes. It seems when I need someone to talk to, usually then that's when I get advice to stop obeying Jesus etc. and when I then try to combat with Jesus' teachings they lash out. It's just like this all the time for me. I feel crushed. Where the spirit of Jehovah is, there is freedom, freedom to serve God. The law is not laid down for the just, but for the lawless and disobedient. The law of the spirit of life in Christ Jesus sets us free from the law of sin and death. Jesus Christ's law, his teaching, his words, his commandments are all grace and truth and spirit and life. So If I'm obedient to Jesus then, and I'm keeping Jesus' commandments, then I abide in Him and there's no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. So why then do I feel like there is so much resistance to me keeping Jesus' commandments in DEED. If I had a job then I could help more people. Surprise, surprise, the devil attacks me to prevent me from working. I need grace and mercy. God help me. I'm sick of waking up to demonic dreams and the huge amount of satanic oppression against me.

We must focus on, look to Jesus:

Hebrews 12:1-2 - Therefore, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us also lay aside every weight, and sin which clings so closely, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, looking to Jesus, the founder and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is seated at the right hand of the throne of God. (ESV)

youtube.com: You Don't Defeat Sin by Fighting It { @ TheVikingChristian }

I commented: Yeah, our focus needs to be Jesus. Sin is starved through intimacy with God (good quote). Romans 7 and 8. The perspective we're supposed to have, I think is that we are not the indwelling sin in the flesh. But we love God's law, what is right, and we serve the law of God with our minds, so we want to please God. But sometimes we do what we do not want because of sin that dwells in the sinful flesh. But sin in the flesh is condemned and God hates the sin. But if we set our minds on the spirit of life in Christ, trusting and obeying Jesus' commandments, then that sets us free from the law of sin and death. There's another verse which says the one who keeps Jesus' commandments abides in Him. And Romans 8 says that there is no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. So we love God's law, we love the truth, we love Jesus Christ (Jesus is the telos of the law). I think we've got to be tough on sin, hate the sin, yes, but we should focus on Jesus rather than the sin because Jesus is the way to Father God. We've got to love Jesus Christ. If a person still loves Jesus Christ and is in agreement with the truth, continuing on in His teaching, then they have eternal life presently. We are sanctified by faith and obedience to Jesus. It's not relying on carrying out perfect deeds, but it's still faith and obedience to Jesus. Yes, our gaze needs to shift onto Jesus. Trust and obey Jesus, like Peter on the water. Focusing on sin rather than Jesus is like Peter taking eyes off Jesus and onto the water and seeing himself sinking.

Quote by John Piper God is saying, "I have done everything from eternity past in the for knowing of my son to eternity future in the glorifying of my son that you might hope in Me, God!" So that you might not hope in what sin can offer you, but hope in what God can offer you.

The wages of sin is death but the free gift of God is eternal life. Therefore, he who hopes in sin dies, and he who hopes in God lives forever.

Everything has been done for you that you might escape from the futile way of sin and put your hope in God forever.

I close by calling you to wake up to the folly of hoping in sin and to stop trying to satisfy your hearts with sin and to start satisfying your hearts with God.

We should be hoping to be transformed into Christ's image through sanctification, through faith in Christ and obedience to Christ. And resisting sin can be challenging. But if, rather than fight that good fight of faith, we instead believe lies and are led not by Holy Spirit but by a different spirit, say the spirit of the world, and if we hope in different promises that are contrary to God's promises, and if we, rather than obeying Jesus, obey the sinful flesh, if we trust in, and obey evil and hope for what "disobedience to Jesus" can provide, then that is hoping in sin.

So, for example, if one willfully chooses to not obey Jesus' commandment, and instead trust in some worldly wisdom that promises a "benefit" of some kind, then that is not trusting the wisdom of God, and in trusting what is contrary to God's law, that is distrusting God. It's those who are presently holding faith in Jesus Christ who have eternal life, so our normal mode of operation should be trusting and loving God's word, trusting and loving Jesus Christ and His commandments. But trusting and hoping in and obeying sin, produces evil deeds.

We should be hoping to be with the Lord Jesus Christ someday, and everyone who hopes in Jesus purifies himself as He is pure.

I John 3:3 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. (ESV)

2.114 <2025-12-20 Sat>

For those who love God all things work together for good, for those who are called according to his purpose. God gives us a new spirit who lives inside us and God who searches hearts knows the mind of the spirit We have the spirit interceding for us and God sees the mind of the spirit.

Romans 8:26-28 - Likewise the Spirit helps us in our weakness. For we do not know what to pray for as we ought, but the Spirit himself intercedes for us with groanings too deep for words. And he who searches hearts knows what is the mind of the Spirit, because the Spirit intercedes for the saints according to the will of God. And we know that for those who love God all things work together for good, for those who are called according to his purpose. (ESV)

I've been born-again of the spirit. So God knows the mind of the spirit He's given me.

So then God knows that I want to be cleaned and protected. So God knows the problems that I've had with defilement. God knows my concerns. God knows everything that's going on in my day to day. God knows I was clean when I got made new and He knows the unfairness of what I've been through. And God knows right now that I feel like I do not have enough mercy. God knows I keep getting asked more of when I've given as much as I can in sincere faith. I think it's time that God does something to deliver me from the evil which has been let loose on me. Amen to that. God has made promises. One of those promises is that Holy Spirit, who is a person, will testify of Jesus Christ. I am allowed to expect this promise to be fulfilled as I'm trusting and obeying Him. God's word says that I'm sanctified through faith in Jesus and obedience to Jesus. I expect to be sanctified. God's word says that if I'm walking in the light as He is in the light then I'll have fellowship with my family in Christ. I expect that fellowship. God's word says that He'll keep in perfect peace those who's minds are set on Him. I do not want any more of this demonic oppression. I do not want any more of it. It's not right that I should be attacked like this. I'm sick of the demonic oppression. I want to be cleaned up as promised, and I want the testimony as promised and I want fellowship with people who are abiding in Jesus Christ's teaching and commandments as promised. I want protection from evil as promised.

John 17:15 - I do not ask that you take them out of the world, but that you keep them from the evil one. (ESV)

II Thessalonians 3:3 - But the Lord is faithful. He will establish you and guard you against the evil one. (ESV)

I want what has been promised, what is due for my faith in Jesus. It doesn't make any sense to not be receiving proper sanctification and protection. It's unacceptable, and it's against the words of Jesus, against the Holy Spirit for me to be attacked as I've been attacked while I've gone to sleep with a good conscience, trusting in Jesus. It's against the Holy Spirit for me to become defiled as I am trusting and obeying Jesus Christ Son of God in a good conscience. Sanctification (not defilement) happens as I trust and obey Jesus Christ.

2.115 <2025-12-21 Sun>

Again. This morning, demonic dreams. Defilement affecting me. I'm presently resisting it. I hate the sin / defilement / demonic stuff and I don't want to obey it. I want to trust and obey the Lord Jesus Christ. I've committed my way to the Lord Jesus Christ. I'm hoping to be sanctified. It feels like there is this tightness in my soul from my chest downwards, and this nasty defilement messing with my body, and the demonic dreams I woke up to grieve me. No way I would marry anyone under these conditions. God wants us to control our bodies in holiness.

I Corinthians 9:27 - But I discipline my body and keep it under control, lest after preaching to others I myself should be disqualified. (ESV)

I Thessalonians 4:3-8 - For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you abstain from sexual immorality; that each one of you know how to control his own body in holiness and honor, not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God; that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you. For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness. Therefore whoever disregards this, disregards not man but God, who gives his Holy Spirit to you. (ESV)

May Jesus Christ deliver me from evil. And I'll do my best to resist sin, whatever the heck has been attacking me. Why have I had such darkness attacking me? While God also doesn't speak to me to give me the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit directly?

2.116 <2025-12-23 Tue>

I have very loving earthly parents, and I grieve my own sin. I blame myself for problems.

I want total sanctification. I do feel under attack right now. I think there is spiritual defilement problems. I do hope that God that God will clean me from it. I want to be spotless.

I love the Lord Jesus Christ who is the Son of God, God the Son. Jesus died for my sin, and rose for my justification.

One God, Father Son and Holy Spirit. AMEN!!

I had an interesting conversation today in the comments section youtube.com

UgwhjGieoW0cFd1EOc94AaABAg.ARPjDDohS3fARQ-cFZwMLj: Post from Tucker Carlson

If a person has the love of God in them, they'd receive Jesus. Yes, there were people before Jesus' crucifixion who had the love of God in them, as in they love God, they love His word, they're receptive to God, and treasure God, and prefer God to evil, etc.

Romans 2:5-11 - But because of your hard and impenitent heart you are storing up wrath for yourself on the day of wrath when God's righteous judgment will be revealed. He will render to each one according to his works: to those who by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, he will give eternal life; but for those who are self-seeking and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, there will be wrath and fury. There will be tribulation and distress for every human being who does evil, the Jew first and also the Greek, but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does good, the Jew first and also the Greek. For God shows no partiality. (ESV)

Luke 16:30-31 - And he said, No, father Abraham, but if someone goes to them from the dead, they will repent. He said to him, If they do not hear Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be convinced if someone should rise from the dead. (ESV)

The law of Christ is a law of faith (not works), so what counts is not the works that come from the faith but what is in the heart (trust, obedience, love, hope, fear of God). A good heart that treasures God's Word produces good. So upon the revelation of the Truth revealed in Christ the Son of God we must trust, love, receive, believe, agree-with Christ and who He is and His words and what God has done in sending Christ into the world to be propitiation for sin, for us to be correctable by God. It's the one who accepts Christ, who puts their faith in Christ who believes, receives, loves, keeps, retains Christ, who God justifies/will justify. But God searches the hearts and minds and does the justifying:

Romans 3:26-28 - It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. (ESV)

Romans 3:28 - For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. (ESV)

Luke 6:45 - The good person out of the good treasure of his heart produces good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure produces evil, for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks. (ESV)

How people respond to the revelation of Jesus Christ though is the test of whether people prefer God to evil, or evil to God:

John 3:19 - This is the judgment, that the Light has come into the world, and men loved the darkness rather than the Light, for their deeds were evil. (ESV)

Acts 24:14-16 - But this I confess to you, that according to the Way, which they call a sect, I worship the God of our fathers, believing everything laid down by the Law and written in the Prophets, having a hope in God, which these men themselves accept, that there will be a resurrection of both the just and the unjust. So I always take pains to have a clear conscience toward both God and man. (ESV)

@adamproud7986, asks "Only christians will enter to heaven?"

@ShaneMulligan-n7h, "There's the heavenly places and then there's Holy Jerusalem which is in the heavenly places. So which do you mean precisely :P"

@adamproud7986, "heaven when we go to our creator after judgement"

@ShaneMulligan-n7h, "Like Tucker, I am a fallible person. But iron sharpens iron so I will try to convey some understanding. Old heaven and earth pass away but so long as we feed on Christ (his words are eternal and will never pass away) we have life in us. He said heaven and earth will pass away but my words will not pass away. And Peter says the heavens and earth will pass away but we wait for a new heavens and earth - a new kosmos (heavens and earth). We want the good future where God is. Something doesn't come back to life unless it dies. Either our mortal bodies die a normal earthly in order for us to be raised with incorruptible bodies and go to the place without corruption, so long as Christ is in us, or Christ comes back and our fallen bodies are transformed along with the other righteous who love God's word. If a person has faith in (trust, loves, hopes in) Jesus Christ and His words etc. then we have a hopeful expectation of the future. But if a person trusts in wickedness they should expect judgement. If a person is abiding in Christ's commandments then there's no condemnation for them. They will be resurrected with the just. There's no way to Father God except through the Son of God. The way to Father God is through Jesus. So if we abide in His commandments we abide in Christ's love and we live because of His life. The perishable must put on the imperishable to inherit the kingdom of God. Only people who have been sanctified (cleaned up) can inherit the Kingdom of God. Jesus said no one who commits sin remains in the house forever. Who the Son sets free [from sin] is free indeed. Whoever commits sin is a slave to sin. So our desires should be for God. By the spirit we should put to death the deeds of the [sinful] body, and we'll live. Entering the kingdom of God we need to be born-again of the spirit. The "part of a person" that trusts and loves God is the one born-of God. The sinful nature which rebels against God is the flesh and is condemned. Through faith in the blood of Jesus (loving and treasuring the facts concerning the passion, death and resurrection of Christ), the rest of our being can be cleaned up so we love God with our whole heart, and keeping His commandments to not harm our neighbour from the heart etc."

@adamproud7986, "I read your comment but you didn't answer my question, do non christians who believe in a creator and do good deeds in their lives will be on god's side or not?"

@ShaneMulligan-n7h, "Jesus said whoever is not against us is for us. As I mentioned in a previous comment, how a person responds to the revelation of Christ is the test God uses but God is the one who tests the hearts. Not everyone who calls themselves a Jew is a Jew because it's a matter of the heart. God tests the hearts. It's not even necessarily the person who even commends themselves for faith in Christ who is the one who has faith in Christ. Is this making sense?"

@adamproud7986, "Yes, I appreciate your last response it is more clear. It is a matter of heart. thus who ever believe truly in God and does good deed he is indeed in God's mercy and blessings, am I correct?"

@ShaneMulligan-n7h, "Yes, if it's actually true. But God knows. It's the true agreement with God who sees all hearts of all people. But since Jesus Christ came to earth and He is the image of God, we now have seen perfect goodness when we see Jesus. And so how a person responds to this (with love or hate for God) is the test, the judgement. Because all have fallen short of the glory of God. That means, compared to Jesus, the person's works are not as good as Jesus. The person who agrees with Christ, who He is, what He came for, is in agreement with God, and is not condemned. A person might have this type of faith where they value God, and if they did then they would accept Christ when they hear about Him. But if they reject Him then they become an enemy of God because God has shown us His perfect righteousness. Whoever is in true agreement with God is the one who trusts God, loves God, etc. The word in the bible for that is "homologeo" (speak the same thing). The one born of God loves God, and practices righteousness from the good treasure of a person's heart they produce good deeds. So if we treasure God and His words in our heart then we can be cleaned up to look like Jesus. The person born of God can be described in various ways including: they agree with the words of Jesus Christ, agrees that Jesus Christ is the Son of God (that's essentially agreeing that God was pleased with His good Son and raised Him from the dead) because in God raising Jesus from the dead, it shows He is good, like God. But while we carry the sinful flesh which rebels against God, there is a spiritual battle where we do not carry out perfect deeds because of the sinful flesh. Only God carries out perfect deeds. But as we hold our faith, God cleans us up and delivers us from "every lawless deed". God helps us to practice good deeds. So while we are not fully cleaned up, instead of relying on our deeds, we just, like children, humble, trust and obey Jesus, and not rely on our ability to carry out the perfect deed, but not deny our faith in our Lord who is perfect. God sees the trust we have for Jesus Christ in our heart and doesn't reject us so long as we do not reject Christ."

@ShaneMulligan-n7h, "But the other thing is this. We might not receive what is due for doing good or for doing evil until after judgement. God can bless us here, sure, but the full reward for doing good or the condemnation for doing evil, is on its way, if even if a person receives it after they die the human death and face judgement. Some people don't believe God will reward doing good so they choose to sin because they do not trust God. God is still saving people in this world, bringing people into the kingdom of God, and that is why we don't all just receive immediately what is due for doing good right now Hebrews 11:39-40. But what we sow we will reap. So we can invest into God's kingdom now and the reward will come eventually. We can receive heavenly treasure which is imperishable. So we can give mercy to people in this life, and give up earthly treasure, and store up treasure in heaven, out of faith and love for God, yes, but we don't covet greedily the earthly wealth, and we believe that God that He has something better for us in the future in heaven waiting for us."

2.118 Journal <2026-01-01 Thu>

All created human beings from the beginning of history need the grace from God which is found in Jesus Christ in order to be reconciled to God because Jesus Christ, being God's perfect Son, and who is begotten from God (not made), has never sinned and yet He suffered in the flesh because of the sin of wicked people and only through Him do we have an advocate with Father God, and only through Him can we be cleaned up and sanctified through faith and obedience to Him. And only because of His blood (His passion, death and resurrection) can we have our sins removed completely from us. Whoever keeps Jesus Christ's commandments abides in Him.

2.119 Journal <2026-01-03 Sat>

The principle behind being a "doer" rather than merely a "hearer" of God's word still applies:

Romans 2:13 - For it is not the hearers of the law who are righteous before God, but the doers of the law who will be justified. (ESV)

James 1:22 - But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves. (ESV)

Those who actually trust God's word, even given through Moses, would trust Jesus' word:

John 5:46 - If you believed Moses, you would believe me; for he wrote of me. (ESV)

Luke 16:29-31 - But Abraham said, They have Moses and the Prophets; let them hear them. And he said, No, father Abraham, but if someone goes to them from the dead, they will repent. He said to him, If they do not hear Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be convinced if someone should rise from the dead. (ESV)

We must be those who receive Jesus Christ's word and do it:

John 8:37 - I know that you are offspring of Abraham; yet you seek to kill me because my word finds no place in you. (ESV)

It's certainly not about boasting that we've done the law. But about actually doing it. And a person's praise is from God:

John 7:19 - Has not Moses given you the law? Yet none of you keeps the law. Why do you seek to kill me? (ESV)

God wants us to listen and obey His Word, and His Word appeared in the flesh. Jesus came into the world in the flesh:

II Kings 18:11-12 - The king of Assyria carried the Israelites away to Assyria and put them in Halah, and on the Habor, the river of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes, because they did not obey the voice of the LORD their God but transgressed his covenant, even all that Moses the servant of the LORD commanded. They neither listened nor obeyed. (ESV)

We have to be "doers" of Jesus' word. We have to trust and obey Jesus:

Romans 4:3 - For what does the Scripture say? Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness. (ESV)

Luke 11:28 - But he said, Blessed rather are those who hear the word of God and keep it! (ESV)

John 5:37-42 - And the Father who sent me has himself borne witness about me. His voice you have never heard, his form you have never seen, and you do not have his word abiding in you, for you do not believe the one whom he has sent. You search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness about me, yet you refuse to come to me that you may have life. I do not receive glory from people. But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. (ESV)

John 5:24-25 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears my word and believes him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come into judgment, but has passed from death to life. Truly, truly, I say to you, an hour is coming, and is now here, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who hear will live. (ESV)

John 5:28-29 - Do not marvel at this, for an hour is coming when all who are in the tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who have done good to the resurrection of life, and those who have done evil to the resurrection of judgment. (ESV)

Someone greater than Jonah and greater than John the Baptist is here and something greater than the temple is here:

- Jonah called people to turn from their sinful ways
- John the Baptist called people to turn from their sinful ways and trust in the one who is to come, Jesus.
- Jesus calls us to follow Him, to trust and hope in Him, believe who He is, and imitate Him and keep His commandments

Romans 2:25-29 - For circumcision indeed is of value if you obey the law, but if you break the law, your circumcision becomes uncircumcision. So, if a man who is uncircumcised keeps the precepts of the law, will not his uncircumcision be regarded as circumcision? Then he who is physically uncircumcised but keeps the law will condemn you who have the written code and circumcision but break the law. For no one is a Jew who is merely one outwardly, nor is circumcision outward and physical. But a Jew is one inwardly, and circumcision is a matter of the heart, by the Spirit, not by the letter. His praise is not from man but from God. (ESV)

Luke 11:29-32 - When the crowds were increasing, he began to say, This generation is an evil generation. It seeks for a sign, but no sign will be given to it except the sign of Jonah. For as Jonah became a sign to the people of Nineveh, so will the Son of Man be to this generation. The queen of the South will rise up at the judgment with the men of this generation and condemn them, for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and behold, something greater than Solomon is here. The men of Nineveh will rise up at the judgment with this generation and condemn it, for they repented at the preaching of Jonah, and behold, something greater than Jonah is here. (ESV)

Matthew 11:10-11 - This is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before your face, who will prepare your way before you. Truly, I say to you, among those born of women there has arisen no one greater (G3173 meizōn; greater/older) than John the Baptist. Yet the one who is least (G3398 mikroteros; the least) in the kingdom of heaven is greater (G3173 meizōn; greater/older) than he. (ESV)

But Jesus is the greatest in the Kingdom, the King of the Kingdom, the greatest servant:

Luke 3:16 - John answered them all, saying, I baptize you with water, but he who is mightier than I is coming, the strap of whose sandals I am not worthy to untie. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire.

Matthew 12:1-8 - At that time Jesus went through the grain-fields on the Sabbath. His disciples were hungry, and they began to pluck heads of grain and to eat. But when the Pharisees saw it, they said to him, Look, your disciples are doing what is not lawful to do on the Sabbath. He said to them, Have you not read what David did when he was hungry, and those who were with him: how he entered the house of God and ate the bread of the Presence, which it was not lawful for him to eat nor for those who were with him, but only for the priests? Or have you not read in the Law how on the Sabbath the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath and are guiltless? I tell you, something greater than the temple is here. And if you had known what this means, I desire mercy, and not sacrifice, you would not have condemned the guiltless. For the Son of Man is lord of the Sabbath. (ESV)

I'm so tired of the satanic oppression, and just getting hammered with it continually. Demonic dreams, and stuff messing with my soul. This is not fun. Headache/migraine, demonic, antichrist dreams and voices when I'm sleeping and waking up, and the stuff messing with my soul, sexually. Jesus Christ, help me, God.

Is it OK with God that I believe His word and answer people's questions when they ask me about it? Or is that going to result in various spiritual attacks.

The Scripture seems to be inscrutable in places, especially when trying to understand it.

May God help me. God's word says that He'll supply my needs in order to do good works. Except it seems like what I'm getting is quite the opposite. It seems like I have close to zero grace and chronic hardship brought on by spiritual oppression. I'm still waiting for God to fulfill His promises as I bend over backwards for Him.

2.121 Journal <2026-01-05 Mon>

The spiritual attacks I've been getting even up to today are just wrong. I don't understand why the Lord Jesus is allowing them to continue. It makes no sense to me. I want it to stop right now. The dream and soul attacks must stop in Jesus Christ's name. I have no tolerance for it. It's wrong. This testimony of what's going on will remain. I have not received yet the promised testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit direct via the rhemati word of God. I have only received what I understand from Scripture. Also, I'm still getting defiled dreams that are perverted and clearly satanic. And Even to this day I've been experiencing some kind of defilement (if that is indeed what it is. I'm fairly sure it's defilement) which has been messing with my senses sexually. It's disgusting stuff. I rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name.

Yeah as I lay here before I sleep I have felt it messing with me. Whatever this thing is, before 2 April 2022, I never had anything like this happening to me. I have strong reasons for why I believe it's not merely an issue of physiological cycles or biology, but I'm not going to go into depth about it in this forum. I want to be clean. What's been affecting me is a defilement which I never used to have. Now I want it gone. I'll be rebuking it until Kingdom come.

youtube.com: Comment from @ ShaneMulligan - n7h { @ lionoffireministries }

How is this person going with hearing, receiving, believing and retaining and treasuring Jesus' words? Because the devil tries to steal the word to make the person stop believing. But Jesus' sheep hear His voice and follow Him. I believe that as Christians its mandatory to continue abiding in, agreeing with Jesus' teachings in order to be in the truth. The true interpretation of Apostle Paul's teachings shouldn't contradict Jesus' teachings and if they did would be in error. I mention that because I've witnessed people I've brought along to church assemblies not able to bear being there and I think it's because there was actually erroneous teaching from the pulpit. Churches I've had experience going to in the city where I live I have noticed have been have not really taught Jesus Christ's teachings rigorously or faithfully, and often I've noticed actually contradict sometimes Jesus' teachings out of a distrust for them or a misunderstanding of them. "Whoever is of God hears the words of God." This is important. "Whoever knows God listens to us; whoever is not from God does not listen to us."

So that's why I would encourage feeding someone like this with the milk of Jesus' teachings. Whoever believes (presently trusting) in Him has eternal life - that is, with a true faith that agape loves the truth, not a demonic faith that hates the truth. Christians believe and accept, treasure, agape love, rejoice with the truth. Whoever is presently believing God's words spoken through Christ has eternal life. It's the "voice following" I'm trying to explain. If this person is receptive to Jesus and His words, they're doing OK at that point. Continuing to feed the person is important.

If someone is receiving Jesus' words and if they are doing Jesus' commandments in reality then that is great. God will be able to see if they are doers of His word, i.e. if there is a genuine love, trust, hope, desire to please God, obedience in their heart. I believe that the ABCs of faith in Jesus is receiving His words and doing His word.

John 8:42-47 - Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. Which one of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God. (ESV)

Luke 8:11-12 - Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God. The ones along the path are those who have heard. Then the devil comes and takes away the word from their hearts, so that they may not believe and be saved. (ESV)

I John 4:4-6 - Little children, you are from God and have overcome them, for he who is in you is greater than he who is in the world. They are from the world; therefore they speak from the world, and the world listens to them. We are from God. Whoever knows God listens to us; whoever is not from God does not listen to us. By this we know the Spirit of truth and the spirit of error. (ESV)

2.124 Journal <2026-01-08 Thu>

During the morning this morning as I was still lying in bed trying to sleep, I was getting various spiritual attacks including having pictures of young ladies just appearing in my mind out of nowhere. And during the day what feels like a spirit spouse trying to arouse me. I've been resisting this stuff quite well for nearly a week now. I'm going to keep persevering with resisting it. But, honestly, it makes me so disappointed in the Lord Jesus because I've been getting attacked despite maintaining my faith and resisting sin. I don't understand why I'm being attacked so much, and being denied the rest that comes from being protected, protected from spiritual attacks that is.

The Bible is pretty clear that Jesus is faithful to protect us. So why am I getting attacked? I believe my complaint to the Lord is valid. Because God's word is trustworthy, yes? Yes. So why am I not being sufficiently protected from being attacked spiritually?

II Thessalonians 3:3 - But the Lord is faithful. He will establish you and guard you against the evil one. (ESV)

.... Still happening.

... sigh every time I get attacked now it makes me feel like God has forsaken me. God I wish Holy Spirit would just testify of Jesus Christ to me direct by the rhemati word of God. That would be so good if God would do that for me.

And I'm expected to, despite being let down for years by God, continue trusting God at night with a hopeful expectation, not expecting to be attacked by demons, but feeling safe in God... Because what is not done in faith is sin, right? Well that's what I'm expected to do. But it's so unfair. It's like torture of my mind because when I'm getting attacked despite trying my best to be faithful and obedient to Jesus Christ, and when the opposite of what the Scripture says should be the case happens, what am I to think or do?

I John 5:18 - We know that everyone who has been born of God does not keep on sinning, but he who was born of God protects him, and the evil one does not touch him. (ESV)

So I'm actually supposed to continue trusting God even when I'm being attacked and harassed by demons and God lets it happen even when I'm resisting sin and being obedient to Him and trusting Him. There's still an expectation that I need to be trusting Him while He's letting me get attacked by demons. That's really rough... A very tough pill to swallow.

But I want to record accurately what is going on. One day I'll understand why this has been happening to me.

Jesus Christ is the Son of God who has come from God into the world in the flesh. What's not done in faith is sin. What's not done in love is unlawful.

I have prayed to God many times asking Him for deliverance from my present situation. Whatever spirit is that is against living by faith in Jesus Christ trusting and obeying Jesus Christ, I rebuke in Jesus Christ's name, to Kingdom Come. Whatever spirit has been trying to push me into relationship idolatry I rebuke in the Mighty Name of Jesus Christ. I rebuke it to Kingdom Come. Whatever spirit has been trying to push me into agreement with demons I rebuke in the Mighty Name of Jesus Christ. Whatever spirit has been denying me lawful (that is lawful by God's law) work and denying me the freedom to propose marriage I rebuke in the Mighty Name of Jesus Christ.

I've committed my way to God. I reneged on the marriage proposal I made.

Jesus Christ promised that Holy Spirit from Father God would testify of Him (Jesus Christ). I want that testimony. I want to only be led by the Spirit of Christ.

I rebuke the satanic goading that through putting hardship on me and various spiritual attacks and spiritual oppression, trying to pressure me to be unfaithful to Jesus. I rebuke it to Kingdom Come in the Mighty Name of Jesus Christ.

In all eternity I do not want ever to be pressured ever again by people into confessing that the marriage proposal I made was wrong or that I was doing something evil by proposing. I do not want to blaspheme God's sacrament of marriage, even though I do not believe that I have become married in any way due to what has happened.

Think of what it would mean if it were "wrong" or evil to propose to take the Lord's supper. Imagine being asked by people to say that even the act of asking was some unholy thing.

I have been attacked so incredibly much by the spirit of anti-christ. I have been attack by an anti-marriage spirit and have received death threats (before I was born-again). I've faced a huge amount of satanic oppression. And I'm sick of being attacked like this. I rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name.

And may God have mercy on all involved because I do not wish for people to perish but that they come to love the truth and be saved.

I hate my life so much. I hate being in this world which is so full of AI stuff. The AI stuff is robbery and selling back to people what was already theirs. I don't want to think in terms of its existence. I feel like just being here is a defiling experience. And I do feel as though I've been damaged by defilement. And the amount of spiritual oppression on me has been so great. I don't plan on staying here in this world. I don't have assets of my own here anyway. But what bothers me most of all is that I still have not heard a direct spoken testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit direct to my spirit. I haven't heard it yet. I read about it in the Bible, sure. I'm sick of this damned defilement messing with my body. I just hope God raptures me and delivers me. I can't live here. Jesus Christ has allowed me to be terrorised by demons. What happened with the courthouse marriage proposal stuff was marred by demonic influences. What is not done in faith is sin and what is not done in love is unlawful. I just had to self-terminate to try to not harm anyone and for faith in Jesus Christ. And I've committed my way to the Lord Jesus. And it really seems like the demons harassing me committed to harassing me because subsequently I've been relentlessly attacked by demons. So I just hope and pray that Jesus Christ delivers me from all evil.

The doers of the law of faith, Christ's law, to have faith in Christ which is a commandment will be justified. That's because from the good treasure of a person's heart a person will produce good. If we love the truth then we have that treasure in our heart. Romans 2 says "seeks". It's the seeking which is not works. But is faith.

Hebrews 11:6 - And without faith it is impossible to please him, for whoever would draw near to God must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who seek him. (ESV)

It's God who looks at the heart through the word of God (Christ) and sees if a person has faith in Him. It's God who commends faith. It's God who justifies the "doers" of the law.

Agape love "rejoices with the truth". True faith loves the truth, and doesn't hate the truth. Faith and love reside in and proceed out of the heart, and thus is not strictly "works". Hope, fear of God, trust, love, all reside in the heart. That's what God sees when He judges the "secrets of men by Christ Jesus", the Word of God which discerns the thoughts and intentions of the heart according Paul's gospel.

Jesus being the telos (end) of the Law, doesn't mean the abolishment of the Law, but more like the goal of it. A rope has two ends but the rope isn't abolished. When the Scripture says Jesus is the end of the law, it means, like the rope, the culmination of, goal or full maturity of. So the doers of the law will be justified. So we should hear the word of God and do it. So Jesus who is the word of God is the person we need to hear and do what He said.

The "doing" begins with the thoughts and intentions of the heart.

2.127.1 For posterity

I'm still resisting demonic goading. I've still reneged on the marriage proposal I made. I do not claim perfect innocence with the marriage proposal. I think that marriage should not be made impossible. I'm sick of being here in this world where people steal from others to build their AI technology and then sell it back to them, and try to force people to use it, people who don't endorse the theft. I don't want to be here. God, please get me out of here. I believe that because God is good that He will rescue me and not force me into committing sin.

reddit.com: what_{happensto}peoplewhoarealreadyjoblessin What has happened with the AI stuff is like a global cancer. It's a sickness. In the Bible it says this:

Ecclesiastes 3:12-13 - I perceived that there is nothing better for them than to be joyful and to do good as long as they live; also that everyone should eat and drink and take pleasure in all his toil—this is God's gift to man. (ESV)

So if "eating and drinking and taking pleasure in all one's toil/work" is God's gift to man, and then some person with a so-called "net worth" of billions or trillions of dollars focuses their research into taking away this gift with the promise of not needing to work anymore... That's not going to make people happy is it?

Mimicking people with robots, reducing the "net worth" of real people... it's not loving in the Biblical sense at all. Taking people's jobs through automating people is not loving, especially while not replacing jobs with other jobs.

Different from automating human beings out of existence, agape love, is a valuing love.

Jesus said, "Freely you received, freely give."

The people building this AGI/ASI stuff, on the other hand, seem to have a policy more like, "Freely we have taken from others, and now we're going to sell it back to them, and not just that but even if the talented people who's work went into the training data for building the AI systems don't want to use our AI, everyone else will because the AI automates the original author's creative style and cheapens it."

It's just all exploiting people, and replacing them. It's the opposite of agape love which values people.

Not that I would want to go near their blood-diamond AI systems, even if they went free.

The training data itself which has gone into building these systems has not been freely given for the purpose of building them. So they're all just "dirty" and I wouldn't want to get my hands dirty using them.

So as for me, I'm just going to learn to make my own stuff and try to separate from and avoid all the AI theft evil. I'd rather maintain a good conscience and be clean.

I've had it with this defilement which is still messing with me. What has happened to me is unfair. I want to be clean but there is a defilement, some filthy thing which has been messing with my body sexually. I had never experienced this before 2 April 2022. It feels like being groped/aroused by a demon/demons on a daily basis, sexually. It is very unholy. And I can't tell you why Jesus Christ has not made it go away. But this defilement, whatever it is, needs to go away for His name's sake.

2.130 Journal <2026-01-18 Sun>

More dream attacks and defilement. But I've resisted the defilement stuff this morning. Jesus Christ help me. I'm very weary of the broken sleeps, and getting forced awake by evil dreams or whatever it is, be it power tools going off or whatever it is It's been years of daily attacks denying me peaceful sleep. Jehovah, Jesus Christ, help me, God. Father, Son and Holy Spirit, help me, God. I don't want to be here on earth getting terrorised by evil spirits continually. I beg God to take me out of this world. Getting evil dreams is often more peaceful than my waking reality of feeling a defilement attack me sexually. I don't know why my LORD and my God Yahweh Yeshua Jesus Christ Jehovah Father Son and Holy Spirit has let this happen to me. But I pray to God begging for the spiritual attacks to stop and to be healed and delivered and set free from the manifold spiritual oppression I've been under. And I ask Him also to deliver upon His promise which is for Holy Spirit to testify to me of Jesus Christ. As I understand it this is a direct spoken word to my heart.

Matthew 7:11 - If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things to those who ask him! (ESV)

Luke 11:13 - If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will the heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him! (ESV)

John 14:17 - even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him. You know him, for he dwells with you and will be in you. (ESV)

John 15:26 - But when the Helper comes, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth, who proceeds from the Father, he will bear witness about me. (ESV)

John 16:13 - When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth, for he will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you the things that are to come. (ESV)

I John 4:6 - We are from God. Whoever knows God listens to us; whoever is not from God does not listen to us. By this we know the Spirit of truth and the spirit of error. (ESV)

Please, God, give me this testimony.

I prayed the Lord's prayer a couple times yesterday before sleep. I'm really asking God to deliver me from evil.

Our Father in Heaven, hallowed be Your name. Your Kingdom come, Your will be done on earth as it is done in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread and forgive us our sins as we have forgiven those who have sinned against us. And lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil. Yours is the Kingdom, the Power and the Glory, forever and ever, AMEN!!

We should never be frightened of perishing if we are unable to attend church on a Sunday. Congregation attendance does not equal church fellowship, and church fellowship flows from walking in the light, in the love of the truth. "Making sure you get to church" in order to "ensure you're getting fellowship" for fear of losing salvation is actually trusting in one's own works. That isn't faith. What Christians need to be doing is trusting in Jesus Christ and His teachings and commandments directly (because Jesus is trustworthy) and act out of confidence in the Word of God. "Attendance" is not a commandment of Christ that our abiding in Christ depends on! Fellowship with the brethren flows as a result of keeping Jesus Christ's commandments:

I John 1:7 - But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)

John 12:26 - If anyone serves me, he must follow me; and where I am, there will my servant be also. If anyone serves me, the Father will honor him. (ESV)

Meeting together is not a commandment of Christ, but this verse here, it seems, has been misinterpreted by some to be a commandment!

Hebrews 10:24-25 - And let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near. (ESV)

There is nothing at all wrong with being devoted to meet together! In fact, it's encouraged! But it's not part of Christ's law:

Acts 1:14 - All these with one accord were devoting themselves to prayer, together with the women and Mary the mother of Jesus, and his brothers. (ESV)

Acts 2:42 - And they devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching and fellowship, to the breaking of bread and the prayers. (ESV)

If we're putting Jesus' teachings and commandments into practice then we might meet someone out there in the world who professes Jesus Christ, and we might ask them to share some time together to discuss the Scripture or talk about Jesus and perhaps even to take communion with them. That's what church looks like, too! How church fellowship is defined is not a commitment to the same regular church Sunday service gathering. That's definitely not what church is defined as.

Jesus actually said that He came to bring a sword and that people would be divided against each other, even in households, and that to be worthy of Him we must love Him more than our father, mother, son or daughter. So it really matters to be following Jesus directly, to be trusting and obeying Jesus directly without any other dependencies! We should be freely confessing Jesus Christ inside and outside of a church building and the fellowship is out there, not just at the church building. God doesn't want us to be "dependant on church buildings". God wants us to trust in Him no matter what our circumstances are (II Corinthians 1:8-9):

Matthew 10:32-38 - So everyone who acknowledges me before men, I also will acknowledge before my Father who is in heaven, but whoever denies me before men, I also will deny before my Father who is in heaven. Do not think that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I have not come to bring peace, but a sword. For I have come to set a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. And a person's enemies will be those of his own household. Whoever loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me, and whoever loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. And whoever does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me. (ESV)

We shouldn't think that people who are mature in Christ who are not "committed to attend a regular church gathering" are necessarily doing anything wrong by not committing to attend a regular church gathering. To think so only cultivates a cult-like mentality that is distrusting of Jesus. Like Paul's experiences (II Corinthians 1:8-10), God works in those who obey Jesus out of faith, and trials and tribulations outside of the walls of a church building can help us to trust God more. Experiencing trial and tribulation in following Jesus does not mean a person is doing anything wrong. We are actually called to separate from idolators.

But that's just not the way we should think about it. Was Paul cut off from Christ when he was jailed? No! God remained with him. What about when Jesus' disciples left Him? No, Father God was with Him. Church fellowship is where you meet a fellow believers in Jesus Christ as you are walking in the light, in the love of the truth, abiding in Jesus' commandments. Because God works in those who are by faith obeying Jesus Christ (John 6:27-29). First and foremost, we should like Abraham, obey Jesus Christ out of faith, trusting Him and believing His word, placing confidence in God. And the fellowship will follow from walking in the light:

Matthew 18:20 - For where two or three are gathered in my name, there am I among them. (ESV)

I John 1:1-3 - That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we looked upon and have touched with our hands, concerning the word of life— the life was made manifest, and we have seen it, and testify to it and proclaim to you the eternal life, which was with the Father and was made manifest to us— that which we have seen and heard we proclaim also to you, so that you too may have fellowship with us; and indeed our fellowship is with the Father and with his Son Jesus Christ. (ESV)

I John 2:17-29 should never be used to scare people away from having Jesus Christ as our first and foremost Teacher. If a pastor is teaching in contradiction to Jesus Christ, then we have to go with what Jesus says. It's vital that we have our own personal relationship with Jesus Christ where we are trusting and obeying Him completely. And Holy Spirit will teach us as we do this:

I John 2:17-29 - And the world is passing away along with its desires, but whoever does the will of God abides forever. Children, it is the last hour, and as you have heard that antichrist is coming, so now many antichrists have come. Therefore we know that it is the last hour. They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would have continued with us. But they went out, that it might become plain that they all are not of us. But you have been anointed by the Holy One, and you all have knowledge. I write to you, not because you do not know the truth, but because you know it, and because no lie is of the truth. Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, he who denies the Father and the Son. No one who denies the Son has the Father. Whoever confesses the Son has the Father also. Let what you heard from the beginning abide in you. If what you heard from the beginning abides in you, then you too will abide in the Son and in the Father. And this is the promise that he made to us—eternal life. I write these things to you about those who are trying to deceive you. But the anointing that you received from him abides in you, and you have no need that anyone should teach you. But as his anointing teaches you about everything—and is true and is no lie, just as it has taught you—abide in him. And now, little children, abide in him, so that when he appears we may have confidence and not shrink from him in shame at his coming. If you know that he is righteous, you may be sure that everyone who practices righteousness has been born of him. (ESV)

For salvation, we should be confessing with our mouth:

Romans 10:10 - For with the heart one believes and is justified, and with the mouth one confesses and is saved. (ESV) youtube.com: Faith must ABIDE in the HEART. The nature of faith. { @MarkHemans }

Don't be afraid to confess your faith to others.

Confession with your mouth saves as long as you have the faith:

Romans 10:8-10 - But what does it say? "The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart"—that is, the word of faith which we are preaching, that if you confess with your mouth Jesus as Lord, and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you will be saved; for with the heart a person believes, resulting in righteousness, and with the mouth he confesses, resulting in salvation. (NASB)

Baptism saves as long as you have the faith:

Mark 16:16 - He who has believed and has been baptized shall be saved; but he who has disbelieved shall be condemned. (NASB)

It's possible to have faith without "working for payment" (Romans 4:5), even though God does reward "working for payment" (Romans 4:4): good work with blessing and evil work with wrath and fury (Romans 2:6-8). It's possible to have "faith that works" (producing good deeds) without "working for God's acceptance" (Romans 4:19-25). It's possible to be justified through humility before God, recognising one's own moral bankruptcy and asking God for mercy (Luke 18:13-14). It's the faith (trust, love of the truth) in Jesus Christ that God is pleased with (Hebrews 11:6, Prov 8:17, Jer 29:13-14, Matt 6:33).

It's possible to be justified by faith alone (Ephesians 2:8-9). All justification depends on God who has mercy (Romans 9:16, I Corinthians 1:28-31, Romans 3:20, Romans 4:2). It's possible to be justified by deeds (James 2:21-26), but those are deeds that are done in justifying faith (Genesis 22:12, Rom 11:6). But while a person might be justified by deeds (Matthew 25:34-37), the faith is the basis of the justification (Hebrews 11:6, Romans 11:6). The justifying faith (even if it has accompanying works) is not based on our own works (Titus 3:3-5).

It's also possible to have "works" (deeds) without "working for payment" (James 2:22). Because "working for payment" means trying to earn something from God based on one's own works/deeds whereas "works" merely means deeds that everyone has regardless of whether or they are intentionally "working for" something, whether good or evil. So when Romans 4:5-6 says "to the one who does not work", it doesn't exactly mean "to the one who doesn't do or have deeds". What it means is, "to the one who isn't in their mind working to earn something from God".

Matthew 12:12 - Of how much more value is a man than a sheep! So it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath. (ESV)

So our faith should be one which recognises that what God wants of us is to simply trust and obey Him and hope in Him, seeking Him in faith, and that means trusting and obeying and hoping in Jesus Christ.

And it's the faith trusting Jesus that is not "working for" justification but readily accepts the truth that God justifies whoever is presently trusting in Jesus Christ, even if they are ungodly, that is the faith that is counted as righteousness apart from (G5565 chōris) works. It's a faith that receives forgiveness from God while trusting Jesus Christ. So that means when we truly are trusting and obeying Jesus Christ from the heart, there is forgiveness and peace with God. The faith that receives peace and forgiveness with God is not a "working for payment for one's deeds" faith, even though a person still will "do" / produce good deeds when they have good treasure (the love of God) in their heart.

Good deeds will naturally flow from having the love of God in us (Luke 6:45, John 5:42). That faith that is not based on one's past works is a presently trusting faith (John 14:1, Romans 8:1-4) that will produce good deeds naturally.

Romans 2:6-11 - He will render to each one according to his works (G2041 erga; deeds): to those who by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, he will give eternal life; but for those who are self-seeking and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, there will be wrath and fury. There will be tribulation and distress for every human being who does (G2716 katergazomenou) evil, the Jew first and also the Greek, but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment) good, the Jew first and also the Greek. For God shows no partiality. (ESV)

Romans 4:4-6 - Now to the one who works (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment), his wages are not counted as a gift but as his due. And to the one who does not work (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment) but trusts him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is counted as righteousness, just as David also speaks of the blessing of the one to whom God counts righteousness apart from (G5565 chōris) works (G2041 ergōn): (ESV)

Luke 6:45 - The good person out of the good treasure of his heart produces good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure produces evil, for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks. (ESV)

Galatians 5:6-7 - For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision counts for anything, but only faith working through love. You were running well. Who hindered you from obeying the truth? (ESV)

I Timothy 1:5 - The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. (ESV)

I think it's not quite true that "baptism doesn't save" as some people say. Salvation is something we "work out" while we are justified by faith in Jesus Christ. People don't need to have the same exact same deeds as each other in order to be justified by faith and to be saved. So water Baptism would be a "means of grace":

youtube.com: What YOU Need To Know About Baptism ? { @ LakepointeChurch }

I commented, "I think it's more like faith (trust in, hope in, confidence in, love for) Jesus justifies, and then walking in that faith is receiving salvation. So doing things in faith out of continued obedience to Jesus such as getting baptised, or confessing with the mouth that Jesus Christ is Lord etc. is walking in salvation, walking in sanctification, receiving the salvation. We've got to continue having faith in Jesus and walk in it. I do think that Baptism saves but requires faith."

I Peter 3:20-21 - because they formerly did not obey, when God's patience waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was being prepared, in which a few, that is, eight persons, were brought safely through water. Baptism, which corresponds to this, now saves you, not as a removal of dirt from the body but as an appeal to God for a good conscience, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, (ESV)

I think that Zaccheaus for His faith in Jesus, was saved also, because he "did what Abraham did". Zaccheaus had faith in God and the deeds to show for it:

Luke 19:8-9 - And Zacchaeus stood and said to the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor. And if I have defrauded anyone of anything, I restore it fourfold. And Jesus said to him, Today salvation has come to this house, since he also is a son of Abraham. (ESV)

John 8:37-45 - I know that you are offspring of Abraham; yet you seek to kill me because my word finds no place in you. I speak of what I have seen with my Father, and you do what you have heard from your father. They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham's children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. (ESV)

Galatians 3:7-9 - Know then that it is those of faith who are the sons of Abraham. And the Scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the Gentiles by faith, preached the gospel beforehand to Abraham, saying, In you shall all the nations be blessed. So then, those who are of faith are blessed along with Abraham, the man of faith. (ESV)

Romans 4:12-16 - and to make him the father of the circumcised who are not merely circumcised but who also walk in the footsteps of the faith that our father Abraham had before he was circumcised. For the promise to Abraham and his offspring that he would be heir of the world did not come through the law but through the righteousness of faith. For if it is the adherents of the law who are to be the heirs, faith is null and the promise is void. For the law brings wrath, but where there is no law there is no transgression. That is why it depends on faith, in order that the promise may rest on grace and be guaranteed to all his offspring—not only to the adherent of the law but also to the one who shares the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all, (ESV)

James 2:22-24 - You see that faith was active along with his works, and faith was completed by his works; and the Scripture was fulfilled that says, Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness—and he was called a friend of God. You see that a person is justified by works and not by faith alone. (ESV)

The law is laid down for the lawless and disobedient, so we must be obedient to Jesus Christ, abiding in His commandments:

I Timothy 1:8-9 - Now we know that the law is good, if one uses it lawfully, understanding this, that the law is not laid down for the just but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for those who strike their fathers and mothers, for murderers, (ESV)

Romans 11:30-31,12:1-2 - Just as you were at one time disobedient to God but now have received mercy because of their disobedience, so they too have now been disobedient in order that by the mercy shown to you they also may now receive mercy. I appeal to you therefore, brothers, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship. Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that by testing you may discern what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect. (ESV)

A "law-abiding faith" is a faith that agrees with the law in the heart, and wants to do what pleases God and do what is right in God's eyes. But sometimes even if we do want to / desire to do what is right, because of indwelling sin Romans 7:16-20), we sometimes don't, even though we do want to. God who is without sin always fulfills His promises. God carries out perfect deeds (Deuteronomy 32:4). And as Jesus Christ is the telos (G5056 telos) of the Law for righteousness to everyone who is believing, a "law-abiding faith" must continue to agree with and come into agreement with Jesus Christ and His teachings. We must be correctable by Jesus ongoingly. Jesus is our Master, so we trust and obey Jesus. We recognise that we are distinct from the indwelling sin that rebels against the law of God (Romans 7:18-20), but that the indwelling sin is condemned, and God is going to deliver us from every evil deed and bring us safely into His heavenly kingdom. So God is going to sanctify us. We still set our minds on the "things of the Spirit", keeping Jesus' commandments, and the "law of the Spirit of life", as we abide in Jesus keeping Jesus' commandments, sets us free from the law of sin and death. Trusting and obeying Jesus, we are cleaned up. Trusting and obeying temptation to sin, that would dirty us:

III John 1:11 - Beloved, do not imitate evil but imitate good. Whoever does good is from God; whoever does evil has not seen God. (ESV)

Romans 7:16-20 - Now if I do what I do not want, I agree with the law, that it is good. So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. (ESV)

I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

Romans 8:1-7 - There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. To set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God's law; indeed, it cannot. (ESV)

II Timothy 4:18 - The Lord will rescue me from every evil deed and bring me safely into his heavenly kingdom. To him be the glory forever and ever. Amen. (ESV)

Real law-abidingness is having "willing" obedience to God's commandments for us (to Jesus Christ) and "actual" doing of them in reality, from the heart, out of a love for the truth (out of real faith in God), like Abraham:

Romans 3:27-28 - Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. (ESV)

I Corinthians 9:21 - To those outside the law I became as one outside the law (not being outside the law of God but under (G1772 ennomos) the law of Christ) that I might win those outside the law. (ESV)

Hebrews 11:8 - By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place that he was to receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going. (ESV)

Genesis 26:4-5 - I will multiply your offspring as the stars of heaven and will give to your offspring all these lands. And in your offspring all the nations of the earth shall be blessed, because Abraham obeyed my voice and kept my charge, my commandments, my statutes, and my laws. (ESV)

Romans 4:13-18 - For the promise to Abraham and his offspring that he would be heir of the world did not come through the law but through the righteousness of faith. For if it is the adherents of the law who are to be the heirs, faith is null and the promise is void. For the law brings wrath, but where there is no law there is no transgression. That is why it depends on faith, in order that the promise may rest on grace and be guaranteed to all his offspring—not only to the adherent of the law but also to the one who shares the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all, as it is written, I have made you the father of many nations—in the presence of the God in whom he believed, who gives life to the dead and calls into existence the things that do not exist. In hope he believed against hope, that he should become the father of many nations, as he had been told, So shall your offspring be. (ESV)

Galatians 3:5-7 - Does he who supplies the Spirit to you and works miracles among you do so by works of the law, or by hearing with faith— just as Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness? Know then that it is those of faith who are the sons of Abraham. (ESV)

We must be law-abiding but that means abide in Jesus' commandments (i.e. with faith in Him and loving one another as commanded):

Matthew 7:23 - And then will I declare to them, I never knew you; depart from me, you workers of lawlessness. (ESV)

Matthew 23:28 - So you also outwardly appear righteous to others, but within you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness. (ESV)

Matthew 24:12 - And because lawlessness will be increased, the love of many will grow cold. (ESV)

Matthew 13:40-43 - Just as the weeds are gathered and burned with fire, so will it be at the close of the age. The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of sin and all law-breakers, and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear. (ESV)

I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

God can compel a lawless spirit and that kind of "obedience" to God is not obedience in the same sense:

Luke 8:29 - For he had commanded (G3853 parēngellen; To command, to charge, to instruct) the unclean spirit to come out of the man. (For many a time it had seized him. He was kept under guard and bound with chains and shackles, but he would break the bonds and be driven by the demon into the desert.) (ESV)

Matthew 12:28 - But if it is by the Spirit of God that I cast out demons, then the kingdom of God has come upon you. (ESV)

God can also compel the elements of nature to do His will:

Luke 8:25 - He said to them, Where is your faith? And they were afraid, and they marveled, saying to one another, Who then is this, that he commands (G2004 epitassei; To command, to order, to charge) even winds and water, and they obey him? (ESV)

God wants our desires to be for Him and for us to doers of love from a heart that treasures the truth. God wants us to be doers of love from a pure heart, good conscience and sincere faith:

I Timothy 1:5 - The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. (ESV)

Willing obedience to God with His commandments for us:

II Corinthians 9:5 - So I thought it necessary to urge the brothers to go on ahead to you and arrange in advance for the gift you have promised, so that it may be ready as a willing gift, not as an exaction. (ESV)

Acts 10:42 - And he commanded (G3853 parēngellen; To command, to charge, to instruct) us to preach to the people and to testify that he is the one appointed by God to be judge of the living and the dead. (ESV)

Philemon 1:13-14 - I would have been glad to keep him with me, in order that he might serve me on your behalf during my imprisonment for the gospel, but I preferred to do nothing without your consent in order that your goodness might not be by compulsion but of your own free will. (ESV)

II Corinthians 9:6-8 - The point is this: whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. Each one must give as he has made up his mind, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver. And God is able to make all grace abound to you, so that having all sufficiency in all things at all times, you may abound in every good work. (ESV)

I Peter 5:1-3 - So I exhort the elders among you, as a fellow elder and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, as well as a partaker in the glory that is going to be revealed: shepherd the flock of God that is among you, exercising oversight, not under compulsion, but willingly, as God would have you; not for shameful gain, but eagerly; not domineering over those in your charge, but being examples to the flock. (ESV)

Acts 5:27-29 - And when they had brought them, they set them before the council. And the high priest questioned them, saying, We strictly charged you not to teach in this name, yet here you have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and you intend to bring this man's blood upon us. But Peter and the apostles answered, We must obey God rather than men. (ESV)

John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

John 13:34 - A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another: just as I have loved you, you also are to love one another. (ESV)

If we have genuine faith in Jesus then we have forgiveness:

Romans 4:3 - For what does the Scripture say? Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness. (ESV)

Romans 4:7-8 - Blessed are those whose lawless deeds are forgiven, and whose sins are covered; blessed is the man against whom the Lord will not count his sin. (ESV)

We also have sanctification in Christ Jesus as we continue holding our faith (like Abraham's) in Jesus Christ:

I Thessalonians 5:20-24 - Do not despise prophecies, but test everything; hold fast what is good. Abstain from every form of evil. Now may the God of peace himself sanctify you completely, and may your whole spirit and soul and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. He who calls you is faithful; he will surely do it. (ESV)

We must walk in the sanctification as we continue walking in faith in Jesus (we have justification when we have faith in Jesus):

Romans 6:19-23 - I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. When you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. But what fruit were you getting at that time from the things of which you are now ashamed? The end of those things is death. But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

I Thessalonians 4:3-7 - For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you abstain from sexual immorality; that each one of you know how to control his own body in holiness and honor, not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God; that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you. For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness. (ESV)

The true circumcised are the ones who have confidence in God (confidence in His promises, confidence in His saving power, confidence in His words), and from a heart of trust and love for God and His word come good deeds:

Romans 4:20-25 - No distrust made him waver concerning the promise of God, but he grew strong in his faith as he gave glory to God, fully convinced that God was able to do what he had promised. That is why his faith was counted to him as righteousness. But the words it was counted to him were not written for his sake alone, but for ours also. It will be counted to us who believe in him who raised from the dead Jesus our Lord, who was delivered up for our trespasses and raised for our justification. (ESV)

We obtain access to grace through Jesus Christ. Faith in Jesus unlocks grace:

Romans 5:1-2 - Therefore, since we have been justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. Through him we have also obtained access by faith into this grace in which we stand, and we rejoice in hope of the glory of God. (ESV)

If we are reconciled to God then we will be saved. Being justified, God is not counting our sin while we have access to grace through which our entire body and soul and spirit can be sanctified completely. Now we must walk in that sanctification. Having access to grace through faith in Jesus Christ, we will be saved:

Romans 5:10-11 - For if while we were enemies we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, now that we are reconciled, shall we be saved by his life. More than that, we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received reconciliation. (ESV)

Romans 5:20-21 - Now the law came in to increase the trespass, but where sin increased, grace abounded all the more, so that, as sin reigned in death, grace also might reign through righteousness leading to eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. (ESV)

If we are "in the Spirit", then we should put to death the deeds of the sinful body:

Romans 8:8-13 - Those who are in the flesh cannot please God. You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. But if Christ is in you, although the body is dead because of sin, the Spirit is life because of righteousness. If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you. So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh. For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. (ESV)

Colossians 3:1-10 - If then you have been raised with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated at the right hand of God. Set your minds on things that are above, not on things that are on earth. For you have died, and your life is hidden with Christ in God. When Christ who is your life appears, then you also will appear with him in glory. Put to death therefore what is earthly in you: sexual immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry. On account of these the wrath of God is coming. In these you too once walked, when you were living in them. But now you must put them all away: anger, wrath, malice, slander, and obscene talk from your mouth. Do not lie to one another, seeing that you have put off the old self with its practices and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator. (ESV)

Grace reigning through righteousness leads to eternal life. Just keep having faith in Jesus and His word. Keep loving Jesus and His word. Keep having confidence in Jesus and His word:

Luke 6:45 - The good person out of the good treasure of his heart produces good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure produces evil, for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks. (ESV)

And keep obeying Jesus and His word, from a heart of love for the truth (for God and His word):

Romans 6:12-18 - Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal bodies, to make you obey their passions. Do not present your members to sin as instruments for unrighteousness, but present yourselves to God as those who have been brought from death to life, and your members to God as instruments for righteousness. For sin will have no dominion over you, since you are not under law but under grace. What then? Are we to sin because we are not under law but under grace? By no means! Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. (ESV)

If a Law-adhering person not only adheres to law but also walks in the footsteps of faith which Abraham had before he was circumcised, then that is a valid mode of justification. But we must continue to abide in Christ's teachings/doctrines and the facts about Him as we learn more of His words commandments, are corrected/salted and sanctified by Him. So a Jew when confronted with Jesus Christ needs to receive Jesus:

Romans 4:11-13 - He received the sign of circumcision as a seal of the righteousness that he had by faith while he was still uncircumcised. The purpose was to make him the father of all who believe without being circumcised, so that righteousness would be counted to them as well, and to make him the father of the circumcised who are not merely circumcised but who also walk in the footsteps of the faith that our father Abraham had before he was circumcised. For the promise to Abraham and his offspring that he would be heir of the world did not come through the law but through the righteousness of faith. (ESV)

I Peter 2:6-8 - For it stands in Scripture: Behold, I am laying in Zion a stone, a cornerstone chosen and precious, and whoever believes in him will not be put to shame. So the honor is for you who believe, but for those who do not believe, The stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone, and A stone of stumbling, and a rock of offense. They stumble because they disobey the word, as they were destined to do. (ESV)

The truly circumcised are the ones who obey the precepts of the law from a heart of faith:

Romans 2:25-29 - For circumcision indeed is of value if you obey the law, but if you break the law, your circumcision becomes uncircumcision. So, if a man who is uncircumcised keeps the precepts of the law, will not his uncircumcision be regarded as circumcision? Then he who is physically uncircumcised but keeps the law will condemn you who have the written code and circumcision but break the law. For no one is a Jew who is merely one outwardly, nor is circumcision outward and physical. But a Jew is one inwardly, and circumcision is a matter of the heart, by the Spirit, not by the letter. His praise is not from man but from God. (ESV)

Jeremiah 9:25-26 - Behold, the days are coming, declares the LORD, when I will punish all those who are circumcised merely in the flesh— Egypt, Judah, Edom, the sons of Ammon, Moab, and all who dwell in the desert who cut the corners of their hair, for all these nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel is uncircumcised in heart. (ESV)

Philippians 3:3 - For we are the real circumcision, who worship by the Spirit of God and glory in Christ Jesus and put no confidence in the flesh— (ESV)

Ezekiel 36:25-28 - I will sprinkle clean water on you, and you shall be clean from all your uncleannesses, and from all your idols I will cleanse you. And I will give you a new heart, and a new spirit I will put within you. And I will remove the heart of stone from your flesh and give you a heart of flesh. And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes and be careful to obey my rules. You shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers, and you shall be my people, and I will be your God. (ESV)

I Corinthians 7:19 - For neither circumcision counts for anything nor uncircumcision, but keeping the commandments of God. (ESV)

Galatians 6:15 - For neither circumcision counts for anything, nor uncircumcision, but a new creation. (ESV)

Galatians 5:6-7 - For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision counts for anything, but only faith working through love. You were running well. Who hindered you from obeying the truth? (ESV)

I Timothy 1:5 - The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. (ESV)

A deed is evil if it comes from evil in a person's heart:

Jeremiah 4:4 - Circumcise yourselves to the LORD; remove the foreskin of your hearts, O men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem; lest my wrath go forth like fire, and burn with none to quench it, because of the evil of your deeds. (ESV)

Romans 2:6-11 - He will render to each one according to his works (G2041 erga; deeds): to those who by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, he will give eternal life; but for those who are self-seeking and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, there will be wrath and fury. There will be tribulation and distress for every human being who does (G2716 kat'ergazomenou) evil, the Jew first and also the Greek, but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment) good, the Jew first and also the Greek. For God shows no partiality. (ESV)

Luke 6:45 - The good person out of the good treasure of his heart produces good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure produces evil, for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks. (ESV)

Romans 4:4-6 - Now to the one who works (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment), his wages are not counted as a gift but as his due. And to the one who does not work (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment) but trusts him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is counted as righteousness, just as David also speaks of the blessing of the one to whom God counts righteousness apart from (G5565 chōris) works (G2041 ergōn): (ESV)

We must put on the new self. After receiving grace, we are instructed to put to death sinful thoughts and practices. While holding our faith we are given grace to be transformed to no longer be a worker of evil:

Colossians 3:1-10 - If then you have been raised with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated at the right hand of God. Set your minds on things that are above, not on things that are on earth. For you have died, and your life is hidden with Christ in God. When Christ who is your life appears, then you also will appear with him in glory. Put to death therefore what is earthly in you: sexual immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry. On account of these the wrath of God is coming. In these you too once walked, when you were living in them. But now you must put them all away: anger, wrath, malice, slander, and obscene talk from your mouth. Do not lie to one another, seeing that you have put off the old self with its practices and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator. (ESV)

Titus 2:11-14 - For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people, training us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in the present age, waiting for our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, who gave himself for us to redeem us from all lawlessness and to purify for himself a people for his own possession who are zealous for good works. (ESV)

Luke 13:27 - But he will say, I tell you, I do not know where you come from. Depart from me, all you workers of evil! (ESV)

Ephesians 4:17-24 - Now this I say and testify in the Lord, that you must no longer walk as the Gentiles do, in the futility of their minds. They are darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, due to their hardness of heart. They have become callous and have given themselves up to sensuality, greedy to practice every kind of impurity. But that is not the way you learned Christ!— assuming that you have heard about him and were taught in him, as the truth is in Jesus, to put off your old self, which belongs to your former manner of life and is corrupt through deceitful desires, and to be renewed in the spirit of your minds, and to put on the new self, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness. (ESV)

Dying to the law to make Jesus our Master isn't forsaking Jesus' commandments. And it's certainly not forsaking "obeying the truth", and it's not forsaking "keeping God's commandments". And it's not forsaking commandments altogether.

Matthew 5:19 - Therefore whoever relaxes one of the least of these commandments and teaches others to do the same will be called least in the kingdom of heaven, but whoever does them and teaches them will be called great in the kingdom of heaven. (ESV)

When talking about "The Law" the Apostles are usually referring to the Mosaic Law. And when talking about "being under the law", Paul I believe is saying that such people who are "under the Law" are trying to be justified by the Old Covenant Law, rather than "coming to Jesus":

Galatians 5:4-7 - You are severed from Christ, you who would be justified by the law; you have fallen away from grace. For through the Spirit, by faith, we ourselves eagerly wait for the hope of righteousness. For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision counts for anything, but only faith working through love. You were running well. Who hindered you from obeying the truth? (ESV)

I believe that the people Jesus is talking to here are/were "under the Law" (the Mosaic Law):

John 5:39-47 - You search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness about me, yet you refuse to come to me that you may have life. I do not receive glory from people. But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. I have come in my Father's name, and you do not receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him. How can you believe, when you receive glory from one another and do not seek the glory that comes from the only God? Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father. There is one who accuses you: Moses, on whom you have set your hope. If you believed Moses, you would believe me; for he wrote of me. But if you do not believe his writings, how will you believe my words? (ESV)

Galatians 3:23 - Now before faith came, we were held captive under the law, imprisoned until the coming faith would be revealed. (ESV)

So how to come to Jesus (John 5:39-47)? Take His yoke. Abide in His commandments. Trust and obey Jesus:

Matthew 11:28-30 - Come to me, all who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me, for I am gentle and lowly in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light. (ESV)

The earthly body is a "bare kernel" which is sown a natural body, dies and raised a spiritual body:

I Corinthians 15:35-49 - But someone will ask, How are the dead raised? With what kind of body do they come? You foolish person! What you sow does not come to life unless it dies. And what you sow is not the body that is to be, but a bare kernel, perhaps of wheat or of some other grain. But God gives it a body as he has chosen, and to each kind of seed its own body. For not all flesh is the same, but there is one kind for humans, another for animals, another for birds, and another for fish. There are heavenly bodies and earthly bodies, but the glory of the heavenly is of one kind, and the glory of the earthly is of another. There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for star differs from star in glory. So is it with the resurrection of the dead. What is sown is perishable; what is raised is imperishable. It is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness; it is raised in power. It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body. Thus it is written, The first man Adam became a living being; the last Adam became a life-giving spirit. But it is not the spiritual that is first but the natural, and then the spiritual. The first man was from the earth, a man of dust; the second man is from heaven. As was the man of dust, so also are those who are of the dust, and as is the man of heaven, so also are those who are of heaven. Just as we have borne the image of the man of dust, we shall also bear the image of the man of heaven. (ESV)

If a person wants to be restored and raised along with the new creation, then they should repent and turn to God in faith:

Acts 3:19-21 - Repent therefore, and turn again, that your sins may be blotted out, that times of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord, and that he may send the Christ appointed for you, Jesus, whom heaven must receive until the time for restoring all the things about which God spoke by the mouth of his holy prophets long ago. (ESV)

Romans 8:19-22 - For the creation waits with eager longing for the revealing of the sons of God. For the creation was subjected to futility, not willingly, but because of him who subjected it, in hope that the creation itself will be set free from its bondage to decay and obtain the freedom of the glory of the children of God. For we know that the whole creation has been groaning together in the pains of childbirth until now. (ESV)

We don't want to be "divorced, loosened, broken off, burned". We want to be set free from bondage to decay:

II Peter 3:5-14 - For they deliberately overlook this fact, that the heavens existed long ago, and the earth was formed out of water and through water by the word of God, and that by means of these the world that then existed was deluged with water and perished. But by the same word the heavens and earth that now exist are stored up for fire, being kept until the day of judgment and destruction of the ungodly. But do not overlook this one fact, beloved, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. The Lord is not slow to fulfill his promise as some count slowness, but is patient toward you, not wishing that any should perish, but that all should reach repentance. But the day of the Lord will come like a thief, and then the heavens will pass away with a roar, and the heavenly bodies will be burned up and dissolved, and the earth and the works that are done on it will be exposed. Since all these things are thus to be dissolved (G3089 lyomenōn: To loose, to release, to dissolve, to break, to destroy; 1. to "loosen"; 2. (by usage) to break, destroy, or dissolve; 3. (maritally) to divorce), what sort of people ought you to be in lives of holiness and godliness, waiting for and hastening the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be set on fire and dissolved, and the heavenly bodies will melt as they burn! But according to his promise we are waiting for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells. Therefore, beloved, since you are waiting for these, be diligent to be found by him without spot or blemish, and at peace. (ESV)

There is an entirely new cosmos, and we want to be a part of it:

II Peter 3:13-14 - But according to his promise we are waiting for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells. Therefore, beloved, since you are waiting for these, be diligent to be found by him without spot or blemish, and at peace. (ESV)

2.135 Journal <2026-01-25 Sun>

I've been born-again on 2 April 2022. I've seen my regenerated spirit man as I called out to Jesus to save me.

And ever since then, like an infant struggling to breathe while being held suffocated underwater by giant trolls, I've had to fight against a truly unreasonable amount of resistance to me being able to have peace and rest, or exercise liberties, or obey Jesus.

Worse than any demonic harassment/oppression I've experienced is having to endure God's silence with regards to the testimony of Jesus Christ which He promised would give those who keep His commandments but hasn't given to me.

So it's been seemingly endless struggle while God watches but doesn't speak, and I just think that that is abusive. If God wants my service then He can give me that testimony and cleanse me of the defilement, in Jesus Christ's name.

Amongst the satanic harassment I have received from demons and those who are in opposition to Jesus or His words, I have also had to endure the absence of the testimony which God has promised.

I'm sick and tired of an unreasonably great amount of tribulation, demonic harassment, hardship etc.:

- waking up to defilement attacking my genitals
- confrontation with antinomians who resist obedience to Jesus
- confrontation with antitrinitarians
- confrontation with muslim people, new age, lgbt etc.
- having pictures of people I have never seen barrage my mind while my eyes are closed
- having people ask me questions on advanced theories of eschatology when I'm trying to get my bearings
- being isolated because people manifest demons or show their flesh or speak doctrines of demons to me in/from Church assemblies

I would have a much happier time talking to heretics and idolators about Jesus if Jesus Christ's blood actually would actually wash away this defilement which has been attacking me sexually, and if Jesus would actually protect me from much of the demonic harassment I've been inundated with.

Jesus Christ help me, God.

I want fellowship with people who listen to Jesus' words and receive them, who don't manifest a spirit of anger or curse me when I'm quoting from Jesus. I do actually get fellowship with believers who agree with Jesus from time to time, but it seems like the vast majority of the interactions I have with people are with people who are heretics (such as antinomians, or antitrinitarians) or of other religions. And I'm truly so sick of being tormented with this stuff.

I plead the blood of Jesus Christ over myself and I expect that means that I will be protected and cleaned. I rebuke the defilement in Jesus Christ's name. May Jesus' blood wash this defilement away.

I believe I am far less happy and far less effective while God doesn't clean me from this defilement.

If you're reading this and believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God and God the Son, the Word of God, then please pray for me to be delivered from this satanic oppression.

I'm sick of receiving more of the same defilement even after pleading the blood of Jesus over myself. I rebuke this defilement in Jesus Christ's name.

May Jesus Christ, for His own name's sake deliver me from the defilement.

It's not a fair fight when I get violated by things I cannot control.

I wake up this morning to more harassing, demonic dreams, and no testimony of Jesus Christ. May Jesus Christ deliver me from evil in Jesus Christ's name. I just have to keep trusting and obeying Jesus in hope for His promises such as the one where Holy Spirit would testify of Him.

John 14:15-17 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Helper, to be with you forever, even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him. You know him, for he dwells with you and will be in you. (ESV)

John 14:26 - But the Helper, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things and bring to your remembrance all that I have said to you. (ESV)

John 15:26-27 - But when the Helper comes, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth, who proceeds from the Father, he will bear witness about me. And you also will bear witness, because you have been with me from the beginning. (ESV)

Also this disgusting defilement has been messing with me during the day. God hasn't taken it away yet. I'm absolutely sick of it. What could be the cause of such a thing? In my heart, I desire to be pure and at rest. And my flesh rebels against my mind. And my senses and mind also has come under attack with intrusive thoughts and sensations. It feels demonic. But what is going on?

I rebuke the defilement in Jesus Christ's name.

youtube.com: The most * MISUNDERSTOOD * verse in the Bible ... { @ LakepointeC

This is the most misunderstood Bible verse in the whole New Testament. Matthew 5. If your right eye caused you to sin, gouge it out. If your right hand caused you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. Now, for years as a pastor, I taught that Jesus was just using hyperbole to tell us to take sin so seriously that we were willing to like commit a radical amputation of anything in our life that causes us to sin. While that's true, the meaning is deeper and it is mind-blowing. Here's the clue. So in the verse immediately before Jesus mentions another body part when he says if anybody lusts they've committed adultery in their heart and the whole purpose of the sermon on the mount is that actions are just like fruit that grow from the tree of the heart. So here's like this mind-blowing secret hidden in this passage. [music] Imagine a lustful man that touches a woman inappropriately. So he cuts off his hands. But then he realizes, man, I can still lust with my eyes. So he cuts out his eyes. But then he realizes he can still say sinful things. Cuts out his tongue. And then he realizes he can still listen to things that stir lust. Cuts off his ears. And on and on and on it goes. And he never seems to be able to cut off the part of him that causes him to sin. Jesus is saying in order to do that, you're going to need to cut out your heart. And I can do that for you. In Ezekiel 36, God prophesies that someday a new heart I will give you. And I'm going to put a new spirit inside you. I'll remove your old heart of stone and give you a heart of flesh. Christianity is not primarily behavior modification.

I've been what appear to be lying dreams daily. Dreams that lie about old friends. I don't know what could be the cause of that. So when I consciously noticed that this this was happening this morning, I tried to recite the following hymn in my head:

youtube.com: I Waited For the Lord My God { Live } | Hymn No . 70 { @ AHymnForTo

1 I waited for the Lord my God, and patiently did bear; At length to me he did incline my voice and cry to hear. 2 He took me from a fearful pit, and from the miry clay, And on a rock he set my feet, establishing my way.

3 He put a new song in my mouth, our God to magnify: Many shall see it, and shall fear, and on the Lord rely. 4 O blessèd is the man whose trust upon the Lord relies; Respecting not the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies.

I woke up this morning to more harassing dreams. And during the day today I have been afflicted with more of the defilement. I'm under extreme constraint. It's really confusing to me why God allows such things to happen to me. I blame the defilement on things beyond my control. And I want to be set free from it. God's got to set me free. God's got to do as He says He will. I'm still waiting for Holy Spirit to testify to me of Jesus Christ by a word spoken to me.

2.139 Journal <2026-01-31 Sat>

This morning, I got a dream of me speaking to someone. In the dream I recited how to test the spirits from these verses:

I John 4:1-3 - Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

And I got another dream of me kayaking in a LOTR boat behind John Piper in his own boat, and behind us was someone else in their own boat, boats like when the fellowship went down the river in FOTR, but we were going down a stream down a mountain, and at the bottom looked out to green hills (looked like New Zealand) with a lake and the sea in the distance.

And John Piper said something that seemed to paraphrase or parallel his sermon:

Why do we go to the Grand Canyon? Why do we go to the Alps? Why do we go to the ocean and look out over... Why do we want to get near bigness and beauty and magnificence and excellence? It's because that's what we were made for. We were not made for mirrors. So I want to be absolutely candid, the Christian Life Is War and I'm in the business of helping people know how to fight in the way that they're supposed to, namely for joy.

In the dream John said something like, "we were made for this", and in my sleep I was connecting it with that sermon.

That was this morning. I spent the day at home today, and now it's nighttime. Through the day, though, I was still dealing with defilement attacking me. And I really do not want to be in this world. I don't want to be here in this world. I don't want to be in AI world. I want to be healed and repaired and delivered. I don't feel well. I want to hear the voice of Holy Spirit to me, making testimony of Jesus Christ to me.

Watch youtube.com: Are Christians or Catholics More Faithful to the Biblical Gospel ? - Dr . Chris Hilken { @ collegeave . church }

I commented on the video:

I'm just a person who got born-again and has tried to follow Holy Spirit's leading as I read my Bible.

Although I agree with the vast majority of the criticisms made here against the doctrines of the Roman Catholic church, I can't affirm wholeheartedly this talk because there were some things Chris Hilken said about the gospel regarding "obedience" and "love" which I don't agree with.

The issue I have with this video, is that while some valid criticisms of Roman Catholic theology were made, I feel like when Chris talked about grace, he described the gospel as involving saving faith in contrast to saving obedience, or saving love, and that's a false distinction.

I will try to clarify exactly what I mean.

Real faith believes, believes in, trusts, trusts in, treasures (John 14:24, John 8:42, Genesis 22:12) God, God's Word, Jesus Christ, even "the words of God" (John 8:47).

A demonic faith doesn't love the Truth (James 2:19). Faith, hope and love all overlap. I don't think it's possible to have hope without confidence, so faith and hope overlap. Also, it's not possible to have real faith without agape love because Jesus said to some Jews "if God were your Father you would love me". Real faith loves the Truth and the love of the truth saves (II Thessalonians 2:10). Real faith and genuine agape love and hope in God are "overlapping". Demonic faith trusts in lies (Habakkuk 2:18, Jeremiah 29:31). Agape love hates evil (Romans 12:9).

I'm pretty sure I've heard Chris preach on that topic before.

There is a false dichotomy between faith and obedience because faith (to trust, hope in, have confidence in Jesus) is actually commanded (John 14:1), and obedience is certainly not the same thing as "works", though some people erroneously make it out to be, and that's just fighting against Scripture such as Acts 5:32, Hebrews 5:8-9, Romans 6:17-17.

God loved us in heart and deed. And though us mere humans carry out imperfect deeds, and we don't rely on our deeds, good deeds should come from a changed heart. There is a real difference between someone with a new heart and spirit and an old heart:

John 3:16 Thus so (G3779) (in this way) did God love (G25 - value, treasure) the world, that He gave His Only-Begotten Son that everyone who is trusting/believing (G4100) in Him may not perish, but may have life everlasting

The promise of eternal life is for those who are PRESENTLY holding their faith (trusting, receiving, believing in) in Jesus. The promise isn't for those who "believed" and then apostasised. It's for those presently believing (John 8:31-47, Matthew 13:3-46).

Whoever when they hear Jesus' word, also has faith in God (John 5:24), has eternal life.

We have to "love the Truth" and from the love of the Truth, a person produces good (Luke 6:45).

Real faith "treasures/values/keeps" (agape-loves) the Truth (God, Jesus Christ, God's Word) (John 14:24, 2Th 2:10, John 8:42). Obedience to Jesus, like faith, love, hope, fear of God, is a heart attitude (not the works that come from it) (Titus 1:16). A person can "do" (G4163 poiētai) the law of faith in Christ. We need faith in the truth and love for the truth at the same time (I Thessalonians 5:8, Ephesians 6:14). God tests the heart through Jesus Christ (Hebrews 4:12, Romans 2:16). Holy Spirit teaches those who are holding their faith in Jesus (John 8:31-32, John 14:12-26, II Corinthians 1:20, I John 3:21-24).

I wouldn't have any confidence to write anything today if it wasn't for Jesus because I sinned and confessed it to God and asked God for forgiveness and I rely on God's mercy and forgiveness. But I feel like it's important for me to say something.

OK, so what follows are some ideas I have around "working for" vs "deed-ing", and justification:

It's possible to have faith without "working for payment" (Romans 4:5), even though God does reward "working for payment" (Romans 4:4): good work with blessing and evil work with wrath and fury (Romans 2:6-8). It's possible to have "faith that works" (producing good deeds) without "working for God's acceptance" (Romans 4:19-25).

It's possible to be justified through humility before God, recognising one's own moral bankruptcy and asking God for mercy (Luke 18:13-14). It's the faith (trust, love of the truth) in Jesus Christ that God is pleased with (Hebrews 11:6, Prov 8:17, Jer 29:13-14, Matt 6:33).

It's possible to be justified by faith alone (Ephesians 2:8-9). All justification depends on God who has mercy (Romans 9:16, I Corinthians 1:28-31, Romans 3:20, Romans 4:2). It's possible to be justified by deeds (James 2:21-26), but those are deeds that are done in justifying faith (Genesis 22:12, Rom 11:6). But while a person might be justified by deeds (Matthew 25:34-37), the faith is the basis of the justification (Hebrews 11:6, Romans 11:6). The justifying faith (even if it has accompanying works) is not based on our own works (Titus 3:3-5).

It's also possible to have "works" (deeds) without "working for payment" (James 2:22). Because "working for payment" means trying to earn something from God based on one's own works/deeds whereas "works" merely means deeds that everyone has regardless of whether or they are intentionally "working for" something, whether good or evil. So when Romans 4:5-6 says "to the one who does not work", it doesn't exactly mean "to the one who doesn't do or have deeds". What it means is, "to the one who isn't in their mind working to earn something from God".

Matthew 12:12 - Of how much more value is a man than a sheep! So it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath. (ESV)

So our faith should be one which recognises that what God wants of us is to simply trust and obey Him and hope in Him, seeking Him in faith, and that means trusting and obeying and hoping in Jesus Christ.

And it's the faith trusting Jesus that is not "working for" justification but readily accepts the truth that God justifies whoever is presently trusting in Jesus Christ, even if they are ungodly, that is the faith that is counted as righteousness apart from (G5565 chōris) works. It's a faith that receives forgiveness from God while trusting Jesus Christ. So that means when we truly are trusting and obeying Jesus Christ from the heart, there is forgiveness and peace with God. The faith that receives peace and forgiveness with God is not a "working for payment for one's deeds" faith, even though a person still will "do" / produce good deeds when they have good treasure (the love of God) in their heart.

Titus 1:15 - To the pure, all things are pure, but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their minds and their consciences are

defiled. (ESV)

Good deeds will naturally flow from having the love of God in us (Luke 6:45, John 5:42). That faith that is not based on one's past works is a presently trusting faith (John 14:1, Romans 8:1-4) that will produce good deeds naturally.

Please, God, heal me. I have felt under attack by a sexual defilement. I want to be cleaned. I was awoken again this morning to more sleep interruption, and more of this sexual defilement, though admittedly less intense than usual, but in my anxiety I did cave into it. As I sit here, I feel it messing with my soul, and trying to arouse me. God forgive me. But also, God please deliver me. I hold my faith in God that He will sanctify me completely, that there will be not a trace left of this sexual defilement. God help me. Jesus Christ, deliver me from evil please. May God deliver me from the spiritual defilement.

I only have any semblance of peace today because I'm confident in Jesus, that He can will deliver me completely. And I'm remorseful and I hate the defilement. May Father God forgive me and heal me in Jesus Christ's name. I believe Jesus died for my sins and that He will deliver me from every evil deed and clean me up completely.

I commented on this video: youtube.com: Are Mormons Christians ? - Dr . Chris Hilken { @ collegeave . church }

All glory to God.

My heart's desire is for people who are currently in sects such as JW, LDS or "World Mission Society Church of God" is that they would come out of those religions because they are very misleading. I think that the JW religion is significantly less heretical than the LDS, but still very heretical. I like being able to have discussions with them about Scripture, and they have been very civil. I hope to influence them to see Jesus more clearly and perhaps to abandon some of their misconceptions about God. But I'm obediently separating from them (II Corinthians 6:16-18), I had told them that "I'd see them on the street". I believe in "loving my neighbour". That doesn't mean agreeing with them or affirming their bad doctrines. But Jesus has me here to be salt and light.

That being said, when it comes to heresy, not only have I been corrected myself from many errors, but I have also witnessed huge amounts of bad teaching and heresy inside Christian churches. For example, as antinomianism, cheap grace, new-age, oneness pentecostalism, "affirming" churches, "progressive" LGBT stuff, etc. I've witnessed practically none of that type of thing from the JW's. From my perspective, they take the Scripture and teachings of Jesus very seriously even if their Bible "translation" is significantly altered to fit their theology. It's vexing. However the errors of the doctrine of the JW's are very serious, but I do hope that God in His grace will rescue many from error.

I do believe that God has ways of saving people, even from horrendously bad doctrine, and I hope to be useful to God for that purpose.

As far as I know, Chris has valid criticisms of the Mormon/LDS religion (but I'm no expert on their religion). But I would often watch the OutdoorBoys YouTube channel, and apparently Luke's family are Mormon.

After I got born-again, I hadn't read much of my Bible but I had started reading the New Testament and the "apocryphal gospels" and there was a man who was very much into Mormonism who used to hang out with me, who would call around and want to talk. Frequently after that people of diverse Christian sects and even other religions started to cross paths with me with very high frequency. I was doing my best to use the Scripture to combat lies. And at times it resulted in even anger and frustration at times from people. But the sheer frequency of these confrontations was tiring.

But as I allowed myself to be taught and corrected by God's Word, and not relying on dreams/visions, but instead standing on Scripture, and trying to understand it better, the Mormon person would tell me strange things such as how a "goddess" had spoken to him in a dream, eventually there was a situation where he could not bear to be around me after I insisted that Jesus Christ is my Mediator to God. I've noticed this type of thing where there is a different spirit at work. I would only trust a dream or vision which made the I John 4:2 testimony of Jesus Christ. And certainly if people are saying things which contradict Scripture, it's important to go with what Scripture says. And we should do that aggressively, as there is a lot of deception in this world. We need to be trusting Jesus' voice directly.

May God help me. I want that defilement to go away. As I sit here, I have felt it really messing with me. I want to be healed and delivered from it.

I rebuke any "spirit spouse" spirit attacking me in the Mighty name of Jesus Christ.

When I was born-again on 2 April 2022, I was cleaned. I was made new. God gave me a new heart and a new spirit. I saw the new spirit God gave me.

And after I was born-again, it feels as though I was exposed to so much evil, that right now I can say that that exposure seems to have been a defiling experience.

I don't know how God's going to do it, but I believe that God is going to clean me up. I do not believe that God will allow me to be premanently defiled.

Even this morning, I did what I did after being woken up to yet more demonic dreams.

I admit it was willful at the time. And I confess it as sin that I committed. And I hate the sin and wish I did not give into temptation. May God, forgive me and clean me. May I experience being cleaned properly and protected, with no more demonic dreams, and no more of this demonic sexual arousal. And may God set me free from such oppressive circumstances.

If I have anxiety because I've been enduring a multitude of adversities, terrorised by demonic dreams, forced into a world that is pushing out this AI stuff (stuff I condemned because of theft), and now being unable to work or marry etc., sleep deprived, afflicted by migraine, while I can't afford milk because I'm obeying Jesus Christ to do as the samaritan did (and I have nothing against doing so), if I'm attacked by demons sexually, and in my forced celibacy while getting a spirit spouse arouse my genitals, while God doesn't provide the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit to me, if I masturbate under those conditions, whose fault is it? I mean, I absolutely hate it. I feel wretched. I do not want to be a slave to this. I do not want my body to be defiled. I want my body to be under control. I want to not be attacked by what seems to be a "spirit spouse" or a defilement of spirit or whatever it is. I want to be clean. I want Jesus Christ to come through with His promises. God has made promises which He certainly needs to keep. One of them is that His Holy Spirit will make testimony of Jesus Christ to those who abide in His teaching, keeping His commandments.

Now I feel wretched for committing willful sin against my body. But this is going on while enduring what feels to me like God has abandoned me. Whatever God decides to do, I hope it involves giving me the testimony which He promised.

After Jesus' resurrection, He met Peter on the shore of the Sea of Galilee and reinstated him as a disciple by asking him questions about his devotion, since Peter had denied knowing Jesus soon after His arrest. As recorded in John 21:15-19, Peter responded with words similar to those of the above song: "Lord, You know all things; You know that I love You." Prayerfully reading or singing this song can be a helpful way for each of us to accept the Lord's forgiveness for our failures, and to reaffirm our commitment to Him.

How to share the gospel:

I Corinthians 2:1-5 - And I, when I came to you, brothers, did not come proclaiming to you the testimony of God with lofty speech or wisdom. For I decided to know nothing among you except Jesus Christ and him crucified. And I was with you in weakness and in fear and much trembling, and my speech and my message were not in plausible words of wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power, that your faith might not rest in the wisdom of men but in the power of God. Colossians 4:3-6 - At the same time, pray also for us, that God may open to us a door for the word, to declare the mystery of Christ, on account of which I am in prison— that I may make it clear, which is how I ought to speak. Conduct yourselves wisely toward outsiders, making the best use of the time. Let your speech always be gracious, seasoned with salt, so that you may know how you ought to answer each person. (ESV)

Ephesians 6:18-20 - praying at all times in the Spirit, with all prayer and supplication. To that end keep alert with all perseverance, making supplication for all the saints, and also for me, that words may be given to me in opening my mouth boldly to proclaim the mystery of the gospel, for which I am an ambassador in chains, that I may declare it boldly, as I ought to speak. I commented on this video:

youtube.com: Catholic Versus Christian ?? { Are Catholics Bible Believing Christians ?}

You commented, 'In most cases, they still consider these Christians, "Bible-believing Christians", even though they disagree with their theology, even they don't think their theology quite matches up with Scripture. Yet in a weird hypocrisy, they don't extend that same logic and charity to the Catholic church.'

I don't see unity between religions because that endorses any error on any part. The "telos" of a Christian is towards Christ likeness, not into the fringes of religious error. What I see though is unity between people in those denominations/religions who have the actual love of God (love of God's word, love of the Truth) in their heart. Yes, right understanding is also important.

So that's where the unity is, in the mystical body of Christ. A person walks in the light (in the love of the truth) and the blood of Jesus cleanses them from all sin and they have fellowship with one-another.

You mentioned how in Acts 16:4-5, the Apostles and elders did arrive at decisions and provide correction to the church. When people get out of line doctrinally, we see Paul appointing people and sending them to go get people back in line doctrinally. AMEN!! That's a great point.

However, Matthew 23:8-11 and Mark 7:11-13. The teaching recorded by the Apostles in the New Testament is trustworthy.

It is my belief, though, that the teaching of the Roman Catholic church has progressed its doctrines into "error". But the same thing can be said of every other large denomination, probably!

So I can't stress enough how important it is to receive the promise of the Holy Spirit for one's self.

The Scripture tells us that God is not far from any of us, and that a person can seek God and find Him, if they seek Him with their whole heart.

John 14:15-17, Proverbs 8:17, Acts 17:26-28

Jesus is the Word of God, and God judges the secrets of men by Christ Jesus. Jesus can see what's in every man's heart.

The Apostles Paul and John make it so clear that we must abide in Jesus Christ's teaching (I Timothy 6:3-5, II John 1:9).

That's an exercise for the individual. Jesus' spiritural mother, brothers and sisters hear the word of God and receive it and actually do it. They are "doers" of the law of faith, of the law of Christ.

That word "doer" when it's used for "doers of the law" or "poets" (G4163 ποιῆται) means a person can be a doer of faith and a doer of love, and a doer of obedience (all in the heart). G4163 doesn't mean "working for".

Good deeds come from good faith (Luke 6:45).

There are so many people who when they hear the word of God, also receive, are corrected by, and treasure the word of God. And God sees that faith.

At it's most fundamental level, it's faith in Jesus Christ (including His words) who needs to be the object of our faith. Even the Apostle Peter was rebuked by the Apostle Paul, and sometimes when he denied Jesus 3 times was acting from the flesh. We all need to have our first allegiance of faith, of trust, to Jesus and His word.

All the promises of God are yes and amen in Christ Jesus (II Corinthians 1:20). So if we abide in Jesus Commandments, we are promised to receive Holy Spirit who will help us to understand what has been freely given to us I Corinthians 2:12, and be led into all Truth and sanctified in the Truth.

For example:

We know that salvation is through sanctification and faith in Christ (II Thessalonians 2:9-13), and sanctification is through faith in Christ (Acts 26:14-20), and that sanctification is also through obedience to Christ (I Peter 1:22-25, Hebrews 5:9). The Scripture says we are saved both through faith in Christ (Ephesians 2:8-9) and through obedience to Christ (Hebrews 5:9). The Scripture is not lying, so while we might not understand how that works (there might be denominational disagreements), we can lean not on our own understanding but trust the Scripture does not lie. We trust what God has spoken. And if we obey God, then His Holy Spirit will come to us, and if we love Jesus Christ and keep His commandments, Spirit of Truth will come to us and lead us into all the Truth (John 14:15-17). Those who love God's Truth (not the world) and continue in the love of the Truth, those who persist in faith in Jesus Christ will have Jesus Christ manifest to them, they will see Jesus Christ and receive eternal life. And the world, not being grounded in a love of reality/truth will no longer see Jesus. We want to live so we want to not be cut off from Jesus, so we want to continue to trust and obey Jesus. So those who love Jesus, keeping His commandments will receive the Helper, Holy Spirit, who will come to live in them. But the world can't receive Holy Spirit, Spirit of Truth:

John 14:18-21*, I John 3:23-24, *John 14:15-17

It's so important to have the love of God in ones own heart (Luke 6:45).

Hearts purified through faith (faith that loves the truth) so we can continue in faith and love (breastplate of righteousness, breastplate of faith and love), and love from a good conscience and sincere faith.

Titus 1:15

So I see a hierarchy of authority in the teaching we observe. If creeds and catechisms come into contradiction with the teaching of Christ and the Apostolic teaching then that is not good and we must choose to abide in the teaching of Christ and the Apostolic teaching above any later developments.

2.148 Journal <2026-02-06 Fri>

If we're really keeping Jesus' commandments (as in trusting and loving God, God's word and loving our family in Christ) then we should have confidence that we abide in Jesus. Of course we don't commend ourselves for this, but we should be doing as Jesus instructed (i.e. having faith in Him with love for one another):

I John 2:3 - And by this we know that we have come to know Him, if the commandments of Him we keep. (Interlinear)

I John 2:4 - The [one] saying, "I have known Him" and the commandments of Him not keeping, a liar he is, and in him the truth not is. (Interlinear)

I John 2:5 - Whoever, however, keeps His word truly (in reality), in him the love of God has been perfected. By this we know that in Him we are. (Interlinear)

The one claiming to be in Christ has a duty to walk as Jesus did. But if we truly agape love Jesus then God will help us to do so:

I John 2:6 The [one] claiming in Him to abide has a duty to just as that walk also He in the same way walked (Interlinear)

John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

Holy Spirit teaches those who are holding their faith in Jesus (John 8:31-32, John 14:12-26, II Corinthians 1:20, I John 3:21-24, II Timothy 2:7).

We should meditate on the word of God while holding our faith in Jesus Christ (while trusting and loving and obeying Jesus):

II Timothy 2:7 - Think over what I say, for the Lord will give you understanding in everything. (ESV)

We certainly should have the love of the truth in us, and be loving one-another in Christ as commanded as we are meditating on Scripture, because if we are walking in darkness then we wont be able to understand:

I John 2:11-12 - But whoever hates his brother is in the darkness and walks in the darkness, and does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes. I am writing to you, little children, because your sins are forgiven for his name's sake. (ESV)

2.150.1

There has been such a lot of spiritual testing and tribulation. The amount of demonic activity, spiritual harassment, etc. seems very heightened and I'm just so sick and tired of it. And I care about people's salvation. And there was this one particular thing too today which happened which was incredibly "suspect" and I am half tempted to record what happened but I mean even if I feel harassed and framed and messed around by demonic activity, I know God sees everything. I mean, what has happened to me seems so unfair. How in God's good plan it could be right for me to be under so much pressure to write theology as I defend against demonic harassment while not having been given directly the promised testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit. And I am under pressure, because the Word of God is the Sword of the Spirit, and I need to use it.

I'm so sick of there being such incredible resistance to talking about Jesus with others, and such incredible resistance to discussing the teaching of Jesus. It's just bizarre. People can be so worldly or so religious. I mean, God by His grace and power brought me out of worldliness and may God continue to help me to think about Him more.

I trust that the Jehovah, Yahweh, God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, Almighty God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, Lord Jesus Christ, Yeshua HaMashiach sees everything and has a plan, and will sanctify me completely and deliver me from all defilement and from satanic oppression.

2.151 Journal <2026-02-09 Mon>

I've been resisting sin quite well in the last week I'd say. This morning, I got a huge bombardment of satanic intrusive thoughts and harassing dreams. Stuff where it feels like I'm thinking satanic, antichrist, things, but they are "intrusive thoughts" and not from me.

youtube.com: Signs You 're In Spiritual Warfare { @ SeraphimWuerch } @time: 4 min 2

And then a lot of times there are evil thoughts. There's evil thoughts, actual demonic thoughts. These are intrusive thoughts given by the enemy. These are a lot of times thoughts that sound differently than our inner voice. These could be different than how we even internally think in our own character.

So they want us to fall into sin, fall away from God and then with that, if we do, then they also attack us with trying to make us feel despondent.

And it's disgusting. I've been getting pictures also of people I know in my mind linked together with intrusive thoughts from demons, and that combination is particularly disgusting. Also, a spirit "poked me" or made me feel poked and I woke up after one of these dreams. It's disturbing the demons have been able to terrorise me through violating my mind and senses and relationships.

May Jesus Christ help people to just trust and obey Jesus directly and not get tossed around by demonic stuff.

Jesus Christ is the Son of God. Jesus Christ is the only way to Father God. Jesus Christ is the Way, the Truth and the Life. There's no other name under heaven other than that of Jesus Christ by which man can be saved.

Now later in the day I feel defilement messing with me. God help me.

It makes me sad that God allows such things to happen to me.

It makes me really disappointed in God, and discouraged that God would this happen for such a long time now, and I believe that God is good but such things as what has been happening makes me confused. I really believe that God is good and therefore would not want such things to happen to me. And the other problem is that to this day it seems as though Holy Spirit hasn't testified directly to me of Jesus Christ making the I John 4 confession (as far as I can recall), even though Jesus made a promise that Holy Spirit would do that if I keep His commandments.

I just feel as though people should be able to trust in Jesus' promises, and so I feel very discouraged and disappointed in God because I have not yet been given this testimony as far as I can tell. I mean, besides from reading Scripture for myself and believing Scripture. But I want Holy Spirit to speak to me directly to make the testimony.

I just wish that I could focus more on praying for people to be saved rather than the spiritual attacks, and I'm trying to do so. I feel so tired. There is a very obvious spiritual war over peoples' souls. I don't want to mislead anyone.

For the record, as I've been confessing Jesus Christ to people, I have even in recent times (Journal <2026-01-31 Sat>) had a dream where I confessed/recited I John 4 to someone in a dream. And I affirm that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, who has come from God into the world in the flesh. I affirm that Jesus Christ is Lord (Adonai). I affirm that Jesus Christ suffered and died on a tree for my sins and the sins of the world and rose again from the dead for our justification. I believe that anyone who repents (changes their mind) to come to a true faith in Jesus Christ (loves Jesus), to prefer Jesus to evil, and to trust and hope in Jesus Christ and His words, and love Jesus Christ and His words, has forgiveness and salvation so long as they persevere in the faith.

I had a providential (I believe it was providential) meeting with an old friend of mine from university days today (who was once a practicing lawyer). And that was a very nice interaction and I got to share a little bit about my faith, and about the law-abiding love of God that we need to have in our heart.

I'm not going to be relying on dreams and visions, and going to do my best to not be discouraged by spiritual attacks, and going to do my best to continue keep trusting, focusing on the Lord Jesus Christ. It's important to trust in what is true, and seek God's praise, not man's praise. God sees the heart. It's clear that it's not all about me. I want God to save my old friends and grant them repentance to life.

More harassing dreams this morning. More defilement messing with me. Also, lots of trials (testing). Demons, I guess, endeavoring to trap me in my words, and keep me bound here bound in various snares the devil has tried to set for me. I hope in Jesus that He will deliver me from evil. And I will keep endeavoring to be faithful and obedient to Jesus Christ. Though, even as I write this I feel defilement messing with me that Jesus Christ has not yet eliminated for some reason.

2.154 Journal <2026-02-11 Wed>

I went into the city today and I met with various people and God encouraged me through those interactions. I have faith that God is still working and will deliver me from all defilement etc. And I'll still be meditating on God's word and trying to put it into practice (be a doer of His word).

God uses law enforcement and as a believer in Jesus, it's very important to be endeavouring to maintain a good conscience and to be a "doer" of love when participating in a court of law:

Romans 12:17-21,13:1-10 - Repay no one evil for evil, but give thought to do what is honorable in the sight of all. If possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all. Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord. To the contrary, if your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him something to drink; for by so doing you will heap burning coals on his head. Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good. Let every person be subject to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God, and those that exist have been instituted by God. Therefore whoever resists the authorities resists what God has appointed, and those who resist will incur judgment. For rulers are not a terror to good conduct, but to bad. Would you have no fear of the one who is in authority? Then do what is good, and you will receive his approval, for he is God's servant for your good. But if you do wrong, be afraid, for he does not bear the sword in vain. For he is the servant of God, an avenger who carries out God's wrath on the wrongdoer. Therefore one must be in subjection, not only to avoid God's wrath but also for the sake of conscience. For the same reason you also pay taxes, for the authorities are ministers of God, attending to this very thing. Pay to all what is owed to them: taxes to whom taxes are owed, revenue to whom revenue is owed, respect to whom respect is owed, honor to whom honor is owed. Owe no one anything, except to love each other, for the one who loves another has fulfilled the law. The commandments, You shall not commit adultery, You shall not murder, You shall not steal, You shall not covet, and any other commandment, are summed up in this word: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. (ESV)

Mark 13:9-11 - But be on your guard. For they will deliver you over to councils, and you will be beaten in synagogues, and you will stand before governors and kings for my sake, to bear witness before them. And the gospel must first be proclaimed to all nations. And when they bring you to trial and deliver you over, do not be anxious beforehand what you are to say, but say whatever is given you in that hour, for it is not you who speak, but the Holy Spirit. (ESV)

Revelation of John 2:10 - Do not fear what you are about to suffer. Behold, the devil is about to throw some of you into prison, that you may be tested, and for ten days you will have tribulation. Be faithful unto death, and I will give you the crown of life. (ESV)

I Peter 1:6-7 - In this you rejoice, though now for a little while, if necessary, you have been grieved by various trials, so that the tested genuineness of your faith—more precious than gold that perishes though it is tested by fire—may be found to result in praise and glory and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ. (ESV)

Hebrews 11:17-18 - By faith Abraham, when he was tested, offered up Isaac, and he who had received the promises was in the act of offering up his only son, of whom it was said, Through Isaac shall your offspring be named. (ESV)

Love is not afraid of punishment. Love does not intend to do harm to our neighbour. Love abhors evil and rejoices with the truth. We should not be afraid of punishment if we are doing good, but should at all times endeavour to be speaking the truth, maintain a good conscience before God who knows everything, walking by faith and loving one another. We need to be doers of good, having been forgiven by God through faith in Jesus, loving Jesus rather than evil:

I John 4:17-21 - By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. There is no fear in love, but perfect love casts out fear. For fear has to do with punishment, and whoever fears has not been perfected in love. We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

And for the record, when I went through court, I was not offered the option of "no plea" to my memory. I do have a problem with that, because sometimes the right thing to do is stay silent. I was asked to plead guilty or not guilty. And I was pushed into the situation where I had to do that by what felt like witchcraft. It felt like a total stitchup. If a person does not know if they are guilty or not guilty then it would be wrong to plead guilty or not guilty especially when there is not full agreement of the facts which have been filed into court which are given to the judge. But my intentions with pleading guilty was to minimise harm to the other party while acknowledging that I wasn't without fault. And I would advise others who end up in court to do whatever is the most loving thing, endeavouring to maintain a good conscience with God. I still have unresolved issues because of a continuing defilement of spirit or flesh which I never used to have which I blame on seemingly unending demonic harassment. I have been continually asking God to provide for me the promised testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit and to heal me and deliver me from evil.

2.155 Journal <2026-02-14 Sat>

Every commandment from God depends on the commandment to love God and our neighbour. So without love a person cannot have genuine faith in God or legitimately obey God's commandments:

Matthew 22:36-40 - Teacher, which is the great commandment in the Law? And he said to him, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)

How do we get to having a love for God? We obtain access to grace through faith in Jesus, and God pours His love into our hearts:

Romans 5:1-5 - Therefore, since we have been justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. Through him we have also obtained access by faith into this grace in which we stand, and we rejoice in hope of the glory of God. More than that, we rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, and hope does not put us to shame, because God's love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us. (ESV)

Receiving forgiveness from Jesus, having faith in Jesus and loving Jesus all go hand in hand. In fact, someone who truly has been forgiven by God must love in the truth and someone who doesn't love in the truth neither has been forgiven because if they were forgiven they would love. And notice how the woman's faith is linked with the love she has:

Luke 7:40-50 - And Jesus answering said to him, Simon, I have something to say to you. And he answered, Say it, Teacher. A certain moneylender had two debtors. One owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty. When they could not pay, he cancelled the debt of both. Now which of them will love him more? Simon answered, The one, I suppose, for whom he cancelled the larger debt. And he said to him, You have judged rightly. Then turning toward the woman he said to Simon, Do you see this woman? I entered your house; you gave me no water for my feet, but she has wet my feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. You gave me no kiss, but from the time I came in she has not ceased to kiss my feet. You did not anoint my head with oil, but she has anointed my feet with ointment. Therefore I tell you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven—for she loved much. But he who is forgiven little, loves little. And he said to her, Your sins are forgiven. Then those who were at table with him began to say among themselves, Who is this, who even forgives sins? And he said to the woman, Your faith has saved you; go in peace. (ESV)

A quote from "Mere Christianity" by C.S. Lewis. (youtube.com: { @ TruthUnites } @tim

All sorts of people are fond of repeating the Christian statement that 'God is love.' But they seem not to notice that the words 'God is love' have no real meaning unless God contains at least two Persons. Love is something that one person has for another person. If God was a single person, then before the world was made, He was not love.

Isaiah 61:1 - The Spirit of the Lord GOD (H3068. Yhvh - Phonetic Spelling: (yeh-ho-vaw'), Jehovah, Yahweh) is upon me, because the LORD has anointed me to bring good news to the poor; he has sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to those who are bound; (ESV)

Luke 4:18-21 - The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to proclaim good news to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim liberty to the captives and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those who are oppressed, to proclaim the year of the Lord's favor. And he rolled up the scroll and gave it back to the attendant and sat down. And the eyes of all in the synagogue were fixed on him. And he began to say to them, Today this Scripture has been fulfilled in your hearing. (ESV)

II Corinthians 3:14-18 - But their minds were hardened. For to this day, when they read the old covenant, that same veil remains unlifted, because only through Christ is it taken away. Yes, to this day whenever Moses is read a veil lies over their hearts. But when one turns to the Lord, the veil is removed. Now the Lord (G2962 Kyrios; Lord) is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord (G2962 Kyriou; of [the] Lord [is]) is, there is freedom. And we all, with unveiled face, beholding the glory of the Lord (G2962 Kyriou; of [the] Lord), are being transformed into the same image from one degree of glory to another. For this comes from the Lord (G2962 Kyriou; [the] Lord) who is the Spirit. (ESV)

2.156 Journal <2026-02-16 Mon>

So I've just been thinking about grace, law, and faith and dying to the law and belonging to Christ Jesus. I'm enduring as I write this some kind of defilement of spirit or flesh. My life is very difficult as a consequence. When will I be set free from this "body of death"? In a sense, I am free from it. The sinful flesh is condemned, but my identity is in Christ. I have a new heart and spirit inside me that God gave me, and when my flesh passes away entirely I'll get a new body. For the time being, I have to walk by the spirit while lugging around the sinful flesh.

So a person is killed (at the very least their body is killed) by sin, because the sin was strengthened by the law and the wages (due payment) for sin is death. Without the law, sin lies dead (dormant). When a person's body is killed because of their sin, they may receive a new spirit, that is the spirit of Christ, if they have faith in Jesus Christ. A person who has been baptised into Christ's death must have had genuine faith in Christ, and thus genuine love for Christ as they received forgiveness for their sin. And so, with love in the heart, even love that has come through having been forgiven, they have the means now, the grace to love God and their neighbour and their family in Christ. AND they also have a duty to love in that way.

Because the law is laid down for the lawless and the disobedient.

OK, so law-abidingness I think also certainly entails a recognition that we need to have faith in Jesus Christ who was delivered up for our sins, whose cross we need (and have needed) our sins to be nailed to. Real law-abidingness needs to be in agreement with Jesus Christ and His death and resurrection and Lordship (because we've been bought to belong to Christ). Real law-abidingness isn't the overthrowing of the Law, but sees the law in view that we haven't been able to keep it faultlessly to be justified, and accepts that we rely on Jesus Christ's atoning work.

Real law-abidingness accepts Jesus Christ and loves Him.

We do not need to adhere to all of what is in the Book of the Law because the Law is for the lawless and the disobedient, and is not laid down for those who keep the requirement of the law, that is to love the way God has commanded us to love (loving our neighbour as ourself), which we are only able to do in reality (the way God wants us to truly love one another) if we abide in Jesus and have His Spirit in us.

Basically, a person doesn't get "hit by the book" if they have the spirit of Jesus Christ in them and are fulfilling the law of Christ. We are disciplined to be obedient to Jesus Christ, most importantly the commandments to have faith in Him and love one another as commanded.

How to abide in Jesus:

- Keep Jesus' word
- Walk in the same way that Jesus walked
- As a consequence of abiding in Jesus or entailed in abiding in Jesus, stop sinning
- Keep Jesus' commandments
- Confess/agree that Jesus is the Son of God
- Abide in love

I John 2:5 - but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him. (ESV)

I John 2:6 - whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

I John 3:6 - No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. (ESV)

I John 3:24 - Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

I John 4:15 - Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. (ESV)

I John 4:16 - So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. (ESV)

In Jesus' flesh, the enmity between Jew and Gentile is 'abolished'. That is, "the law of commandments and decrees" no longer divides Jew from Gentile so long as they hold faith in Jesus Christ. Jesus didn't come to abolish the law, but to fulfill it. So we must be found in Him, and in Him, Jews and Gentiles may be united by their faith in Jesus rather than united by themselves each keeping all of the Old Covenant Law. The person who abides in Jesus, abides in His commandments, and His commandments are to have faith in Him and to love one another as He did. So in Jesus Christ, keeping Jesus' commandments in reality, we don't need to adhere to the "Book of the Law".

OK, so if a person has been "born-again" (i.e. resurrected spiritually), then they have "died to the law" so that they may belong to another. So a person is "purchased", "bought", "redeemed", baptised into Christ's death, in order to belong to Jesus (purchased to serve Jesus) in order that they may love God and their family in Christ in reality (John 4:23-24), abiding in Jesus' commandments from a position of having received forgiveness for sin through faith in Jesus.

Romans 8:1-4 - There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. (ESV)

It does seem like, those "under the old code" have a hard time keeping up with gentiles who keep the precepts of the law. But that all created human beings have violated the law, so from the outside it just appears like fallible people accusing each other of various things but they're all guilty of something.

Romans 2:26-27 - So, if a man who is uncircumcised keeps the precepts of the law, will not his uncircumcision be regarded as circumcision? Then he who is physically uncircumcised but keeps the law will condemn you who have the written code and circumcision but break the law. (ESV)

But it also seems like knowledge of "the law" to those who endeavour to be justified by it will end up pointing out their failings to keep the law. But through faith in Jesus, a person can be "set free from the condemnation" that comes from having sinned, and be set free from sin, their body being killed by sin for violating the law but being given a new spirit that is alive which does submit to God's law. At some point a person is going to have to have their body killed "by sin for transgressing the law" for the wages of sin is death. In order to return to the truth they must accept this fact that their sin has been condemned, but that by faith in Jesus Christ, that they can belong to Jesus and be in a position of righteous standing with God, and have a living spirit (Romans 8:9-12). This faith does entail agreement with and love for Jesus Christ. So being in this position of trusting in Jesus, believing that He was delivered over for our transgressions, believing that He was raised for our justification, that we can agree with God that Jesus is God's Son and deserved to be raised from the dead, and with love for Jesus, Jesus is now our Master. And so we will keep His commandments, empowered by Jesus' spirit, even though the sinful flesh is condemned and will perish. Jesus' commandments are essentially to have faith in Him and love one another as He commanded. So our duty remains to keep God's commandments for us even after we are born-again and we're bought that we might have the requirement of the law fulfilled in us in reality, in light of the facts about Jesus.

Romans 3:19-25 - Now we know that whatever the law says it speaks to those who are under the law, so that every mouth may be stopped, and the whole world may be held accountable to God. For by works of the law no human being will be justified in his sight, since through the law comes knowledge of sin. But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from the law, although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it—the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. (ESV)

So a person has to have "died" with Christ that they might belong to Christ. When a person is judged by the law (Romans 7:9-13), their "body" is "dead/killed" because of sin in the body because they are unable to keep the requirement of the law (by themselves), because the law is holy. The body is dead because of sin (Romans 8:9-12) because God has condemned sin in the flesh (Romans 8:3). But for a person who holds their faith in Jesus Christ, the spirit is alive because of righteousness i.e. because of faith in Jesus in the heart of the person and they receive the Spirit of Jesus Christ through faith in Jesus. So although their sinful body of death is "killed by sin" because of sin's "power" from the law (i.e. the law condemns the sin), they are also baptized into Jesus' death if they had faith in Jesus and they're raised with Jesus as they continue holding their faith in Jesus. Imagine being "killed by sin" without faith in Jesus (that would be tragic). But if a person has faith in Jesus when the body is killed because of sin when they are judged by the law then they are also alive spiritually. So how does a person continue on after that? Being authentically forgiven, with an authentic love for Jesus with the spirit of Jesus in them, "belonging to Jesus", rather than "belonging to the law", they hold their faith in Jesus, trusting and obeying Jesus. And from the position of having been forgiven, having faith in Jesus and His death and resurrection, we endeavour then to fulfill the requirement of the law which is to love God and our neighbour with our whole heart. And though the spirit is willing, the flesh is weak. The definition of "fulfilling the requirement of the law" is not "abiding in all things written in the book of the law", but rather it is to love God and one another in reality from a position of having been justified through faith in Jesus. That is only truly possible for someone who has the Spirit of Christ in them. So we're given the means, the grace in order to fulfill the 2 Great Commandments.

Romans 6:3-8 - Do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? We were buried therefore with him by baptism into death, in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, we too might walk in newness of life. For if we have been united with him in a death like his, we shall certainly be united with him in a resurrection like his. We know that our old self was crucified with him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin. For one who has died has been set free from sin. Now if we have died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him. (ESV)

As they hold their faith in Jesus and love Him understanding that He was delivered over for their sins and raised for their justification, they are forgiven and their spirit is alive, but their body is dead:

I Corinthians 15:36 - You foolish person! What you sow does not come to life unless it dies. (ESV)

Romans 7:9-13 - I was once alive apart from the law, but when the commandment came, sin came alive and I died. The very commandment that promised life proved to be death to me. For sin, seizing an opportunity through the commandment, deceived me and through it killed me. So the law is holy, and the commandment is holy and righteous and good. Did that which is good, then, bring death to me? By no means! It was sin, producing death in me through what is good, in order that sin might be shown to be sin, and through the commandment might become sinful beyond measure. (ESV)

A person becomes "forgiven" and then holds an ongoing "loving faith" in Jesus:

Galatians 2:19-21 - For through the law I died to the law, so that I might live to God. I have been crucified with Christ. It is no longer I who live, but Christ who lives in me. And the life I now live in the flesh I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me. I do not nullify the grace of God, for if justification were through the law, then Christ died for no purpose. (ESV)

And Jesus must come to live inside a person:

Romans 8:9-12 - You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. But if Christ is in you, although the body is dead because of sin, the Spirit is life because of righteousness. If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you. So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh. (ESV)

Romans 7:1-17 - Or do you not know, brothers—for I am speaking to those who know the law—that the law is binding on a person only as long as he lives? Thus a married woman is bound by law to her husband while he lives, but if her husband dies she is released from the law of marriage. Accordingly, she will be called an adulteress if she lives with another man while her husband is alive. But if her husband dies, she is free from that law, and if she marries another man she is not an adulteress. Likewise, my brothers, you also have died to the law through the body of Christ, so that you may belong to another, to him who has been raised from the dead, in order that we may bear fruit for God. For while we were living in the flesh, our sinful passions, aroused by the law, were at work in our members to bear fruit for death. But now we are released from the law, having died to that which held us captive, so that we serve not under the old written code but in the new life of the Spirit. What then shall we say? That the law is sin? By no means! Yet if it had not been for the law, I would not have known sin. I would not have known what it is to covet if the law had not said, You shall not covet. But sin, seizing an opportunity through the commandment, produced in me all kinds of covetousness. Apart from the law, sin lies dead. I was once alive apart from the law, but when the commandment came, sin came alive and I died. The very commandment that promised life proved to be death to me. For sin, seizing an opportunity through the commandment, deceived me and through it killed me. So the law is holy, and the commandment is holy and righteous and good. Did that which is good, then, bring death to me? By no means! It was sin, producing death in me through what is good, in order that sin might be shown to be sin, and through the commandment might become sinful beyond measure. For we know that the law is spiritual, but I am of the flesh, sold under sin. I do not understand my own actions. For I do not do what I want, but I do the very thing I hate. Now if I do what I do not want, I agree with the law, that it is good. So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. (ESV)

Ephesians 2:14-16 - For He Himself is our peace, who has made the two one and has torn down the dividing wall of hostility by abolishing in His flesh the law of commandments and decrees. He did this to create in Himself one new man out of the two, thus making peace and reconciling both of them to God in one body through the cross, by which He extinguished their hostility. (engbsb2020eb)

Ephesians 2:14-16 - For He Himself is our peace, who made both groups into one and broke down the barrier of the dividing wall, by abolishing in His flesh the enmity, which is the Law of commandments contained in ordinances, so that in Himself He might make the two into one new man, thus establishing peace, and might reconcile them both in one body to God through the cross, by it having put to death the enmity. (NASB)

2.156.1 Have no agape love for the world

As a born-again Christian, it's not right to be "dependent on the world":

I Corinthians 7:29-31 - What I am saying, brothers, is that the time is short. From now on those who have wives should live as if they had none; those who weep, as if they did not; those who are joyful, as if they were not; those who make a purchase, as if they had nothing; and those who use the things of this world, as if not dependent on them. For this world in its present form is passing away. (engbsb2020eb)

I Corinthians 7:29-31 - This is what I mean, brothers: the appointed time has grown very short. From now on, let those who have wives live as though they had none, and those who mourn as though they were not mourning, and those who rejoice as though they were not rejoicing, and those who buy as though they had no goods, and those who deal with the world as though they had no dealings with it. For the present form of this world is passing away. (ESV)

I Corinthians 7:29-31 - But this I say, brethren, the time has been shortened, so that from now on those who have wives should be as though they had none; and those who weep, as though they did not weep; and those who rejoice, as though they did not rejoice; and those who buy, as though they did not possess; and those who use the world, as though they did not make full use of it; for the form of this world is passing away. (NASB)

I Corinthians 7:29-31 - And this I say, brethren, the time henceforth is having been shortened—that both those having wives may be as not having; and those weeping, as not weeping; and those rejoicing, as not rejoicing; and those buying, as not possessing; and those using this world, as not using it up; for passing away is the fashion of this world. I think that key to walking in victory over the "sin in the flesh" is to fill one's mind and heart with thoughts, feelings and intentions that are of the Spirit of God. So when the sin in the flesh is fighting against my mind to try to make me do things that are defiling, the way to disempower it is to fill my mind and heart with thoughts, feelings and intentions that are of the Spirit. This morning I put that into practice and it worked, but there was a battle. I think that walking by the Spirit includes such things as believing the Truth, being obedient to Jesus, willing to love not only in thought but in deed because walking by the Spirit needs to be walking in the Truth.

I commented, "All this AI LLM stuff is repackaged stolen goods that have not been given in consent, but have just been taken from people and pushed back out into the public to try to normalise it and then monetised. And I do my best to not partake of or imbibing on the generative AI stuff because, being established in theft, basically everything that is derived using the stolen information is dirty. In that novel/movie "Ender's Game", it was all fun and games up until the point Ender realised he was committing genocide. As a beta tester for GPT-3, I had fun with it but I anticipated some ways that it would be misused. I got to a low point in my life where life seemed futile and realising my need for God, in 2022, I cried out to Jesus for help and I was born-again. And God has been teaching me about reality. God and His Word is aletheia (reality). And God has been teaching me about real love. Biblical love gives the benefit of the doubt because it "believes all things", "hopes all things". But Biblical love also hates evil and doesn't want to harm people and makes sacrifices for the sake of others. And Biblical love values God and values people. And monitoring people, studying them, training machines to automate and replace them out of fear for someone else doing it first is very unloving in a Biblical sense. Firstly, love values people, and it seems to me like replacing people is not valuing them. And there is no fear in love. So to be fearfully pursuing "AI supremacy" is a fearful and unloving thing to do. I pray to God practically every day to deliver me from evil including this evil. Big Tech stealing from and exploiting people, and stealing from God to fuel their quest to make more money. I say stealing from God because God wants our attention and wants us to be led by Him. And the way so many people use this AI stuff, it just seems like that part of a person which is designed for relationship, and even guidance and dependance is being stolen."

Also, this morning, I did sadly, give into temptation again. I woke up to some spiritual attack sexually. I gave in to it. It's been extremely difficult. It seems very demonic. The attacks from this defilement / sex demon (if that's what it is) have been vicious. It's nothing short of demonic being woken up to evil dreams and sexual arousal about nightly for about 3 years. I never used to think that such things were possible. Before I got born-again of the Spirit, it felt like my flesh was under control, though I was not walking by faith back then. Even immediately after I was born-again of the Spirit, I was fine for some time. Then the demonic dreams began to kick in during the latter half of 2022, they intensified. But towards the end of 2022 and starting mostly around January 2023, I began receiving higher frequency of demonic dreams and during 2023, that's when, I believe the sexual defilement began to kick in. Now though I want to be clean and able to have a body and soul that are at rest and not fighting against holiness, I'm being violated almost constantly by some kind of defilement that does not even permit me to go a night without being woken up to demonic dreams and sexual stimulus. God help me. Jesus Christ deliver me. This is me confessing that this morning, I gave in to masturbation after being woken again to demonic dreams and defilement affecting me sexually. Nothing but the blood of Jesus Christ can deliver me from this.

Perhaps, though, it's right for me to just come out of the world and have no dealing with it. I want to be raptured. Perhaps I should not even comment on such videos online anymore:

I Corinthians 7:29-31 - This is what I mean, brothers: the appointed time has grown very short. From now on, let those who have wives live as though they had none, and those who mourn as though they were not mourning, and those who rejoice as though they were not rejoicing, and those who buy as though they had no goods, and those who deal with the world as though they had no dealings with it. For the present form of this world is passing away. (ESV)

There are promises that God the Father and God Son will make their home with me, and the Holy Spirit would be in me.

John 14:23 - Jesus answered him, If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. (ESV)

Is God going to keep me here in AI world and to get terrorised by demons without even speaking to me?

John 14:15-18 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Helper, to be with you forever, even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him. You know him, for he dwells with you and will be in you. I will not leave you as orphans; I will come to you. (ESV)

The defilement is also very disheartening.

Jesus Christ, have mercy on me. May God not keep me here in this world. It's just not right to keep me here. I don't want to be here.

I must've been woken up 4 or 5 times last night to strange dreams and sexual arousal.

~~I think I can safely blame God for whatever has been happening to me because He didn't protect me.~~

<2026-02-23 Mon> Reflecting on what I said, even experiencing something messing with me right now, feeling damaged, but having seen pictures of old friends in my dreams, and I care about them, I have to believe that these trials have been happening to me for some good purpose. Perhaps even for others' sake.

I went to bed prayed up. Most nights I do. I've had to endure this stuff on a daily basis.

God this is difficult.

Help me, Jesus.

God wants us to love Him genuinely and that involves a hatred of evil:

Psalms 97:10 - O you who love the LORD, hate evil! He preserves the lives of his saints; he delivers them from the hand of the wicked. (ESV)

Romans 12:9 - Let love be genuine. Abhor what is evil; hold fast to what is good. (ESV)

Psalms 97:10 You who love (H157 'ō·hă·bê) Yahweh (H3068 Yah·weh) hate (H8130 śin·'ū) evil (H7451 rā') He preserves the souls of His saints out of the hand of the wicked He delivers them

We need the correct desires. The desires of the flesh are against the desires of the Spirit:

Galatians 5:17 - For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to keep you from doing the things you want to do. (ESV)

I John 2:15-17 - Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world—the desires of the flesh and the desires of the eyes and pride in possessions—is not from the Father but is from the world. And the world is passing away along with its desires, but whoever does the will of God abides forever. (ESV)

It's been a real spiritual battle.

When it comes to walking by the Spirit, I don't think a person can cheat on it because the desires of the flesh are against the desires of the spirit and the desires of the spirit are against the desires of the flesh. Genuine repentance, genuine faith and genuine love, I strongly believe, involve "doing the word in reality". We must desire God in reality.

Fear of God and faith in God go hand in hand. Love for God and hatred of evil go hand in hand. Abraham did not cheat. He was a doer in reality.

Psalms 115:11 You who fear Yahweh trust in Yahweh their help and their shield He [is] (Interlinear)

Genesis 22:12 - He said, Do not lay your hand on the boy or do anything to him, for now I know that you fear God, seeing you have not withheld your son, your only son, from me. (ESV)

Likewise, genuine love for God involves a hatred of evil:

Psalms 97:10 You who love (H157 'ō·hă·bê) Yahweh (H3068 Yah·weh) hate (H8130 śin·'ū) evil (H7451 rā') He preserves the souls of His saints out of the hand of the wicked He delivers them

Romans 12:9 - Let love be genuine. Abhor what is evil; hold fast to what is good. (ESV)

So, therefore, those who truly love God, truly have faith in Him. Because love for God entails fear of God which entails hatred of evil, and hatred of evil entails having faith in God.

Proverbs 8:13 - The fear of the LORD is hatred of evil. Pride and arrogance and the way of evil and perverted speech I hate. (ESV)

It's not a belief in God that is devoid of love which saves a person. It's faith in God that loves the Truth that saves a person. It's trusting belief in God that understands God's worth that saves, knowing we need God, in the heart of a person valuing Jesus the Messiah. When we call on Jesus to save us, it's with love for Jesus because we know we need Him. Though He loved us first, before we have loved Him and we recognise that. From a sincere faith, a pure heart and good conscience, we love one-another. It's obedience from the start to the finish. It's not faith then obedience. Faith is obedient, and it is loving.

See how we must be "doers the word" in reality:

Luke 6:47-49 - Everyone who comes to me and hears my words and does (G4160 poiōn; doing) them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. And when a flood arose, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it, because it had been well built. But the one who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. When the stream broke against it, immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great. (ESV)

If we're really keeping Jesus' commandments (as in trusting and loving God, God's word and loving our family in Christ) then we should have confidence that we abide in Jesus. Of course we don't commend ourselves for this, but we should be doing as Jesus instructed (i.e. having faith in Him with love for one another):

I John 2:3 - And by this we know that we have come to know Him, if the commandments of Him we keep. (Interlinear)

I John 2:4 - The [one] saying, "I have known Him" and the commandments of Him not keeping, a liar he is, and in him the truth not is. (Interlinear)

I John 2:5 - Whoever, however, keeps His word truly (in reality), in him the love of God has been perfected. By this we know that in Him we are. (Interlinear)

John 3:21 - The [one] however practicing (G4160 poiōn; doing) the truth (G225 alētheian) comes (G2064 erchetai) to the that may be manifest (G5319 phanerōthē) his works (G2041 erga) that in God (G2316 Theō) have been (G1510 estin) done (G2038 eirgasmena) (Interlinear)

I pray for old friends I have known since before I was born-again. I get pictures of them in my mind in dreams quite frequently - almost on a daily basis, even if the dreams to not seem "true". Even if the dreams seems often also to bring up or refer to mistakes I have made in the past. Even if the dreams seems often to encourage debauchery and sin. If I get pictures of old friends from before I was born-again, and of family members "of the flesh" (i.e. from natural birth), I still pray to God to save them. Of course, I want them all to be saved and to have a genuine faith in Jesus Christ. And I'm trying my best to fight the spiritual battles.

Also, since God wants me to not have desires for evil things, then perhaps God is simply giving me opportunities to say no to various temptations. A major part of the spiritual attacks, I believe are opportunities for me to choose the good, to choose holiness and godliness over lewdness and sinful passion.

I'm so tired of battling, though.

It's Jesus Christ who is our teacher, and we should direct those who we teach to follow Jesus Christ directly and for themselves. Jesus' word is authoritative. But Jesus' instruction to not call ourself 'teacher', or 'instructor', or 'rabbi' (, and it follows also 'master', 'Lord' etc.) doesn't mean we should not progress into teaching others after we have become skilled in the word of righteousness. At some point we should get to the point where we can teach and disciple others, but we should be directing people to have their own faith in Jesus Christ:

Matthew 23:8-11 - But you are not to be called rabbi, for you have one teacher, and you are all brothers. And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. Neither be called instructors, for you have one instructor, the Christ. The greatest among you shall be your servant. (ESV)

Hebrews 5:12-14 - For though by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to teach you again the basic principles of the oracles of God. You need milk, not solid food, for everyone who lives on milk is unskilled in the word of righteousness, since he is a child. But solid food is for the mature, for those who have their powers of discernment trained by constant practice to distinguish good from evil. (ESV)

2.162 Journal <2026-02-25 Wed>

A person "does" the will of God. And the will of God is our sanctification. So sanctification is something that is done. And we are sanctified by faith and by a sincere love of our family in Christ. The faith and the love overlap. A person is justified by something that they do (i.e. faith). Faith is something that is done. But it all still depends on God who has mercy. If a person has come around to doing the will of God, then praise God for His mercy.

The righteous still do righteousness, but they don't rely on abiding by and doing all the things written in the Book of the Law including doing the works of the law:

John 15:14 - You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)

I John 3:24 - Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

I John 3:23 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. (ESV)

Revelation of John 22:11 - Let the evildoer still do evil, and the filthy still be filthy, and the righteous still do right, and the holy still be holy. (ESV)

Hebrews 10:38 - but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. (ESV)

Galatians 3:2 - Let me ask you only this: Did you receive the Spirit by works of the law or by hearing with faith? (ESV)

Romans 3:27-31 - Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. Or is God the God of Jews only? Is he not the God of Gentiles also? Yes, of Gentiles also, since God is one. He will justify the circumcised by faith and the uncircumcised through faith. Do we then overthrow the law by this faith? By no means! On the contrary, we uphold the law. (ESV)

Romans 2:13 - For it is not the hearers of the law who are righteous before God, but the doers of the law who will be justified. (ESV)

Romans 2:29 - But a Jew is one inwardly, and circumcision is a matter of the heart, by the Spirit, not by the letter. His praise is not from man but from God. (ESV)

Works to faith is like flesh to spirit, and the spirit is willing, at least it should be. So we should have the heart of faith which has the attitudes and intentions God desires that we have, and do God's will from the heart and in reality, and that should produce good deeds. But we don't rely on being able to carry out works perfectly:

James 2:26 - For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, so also faith apart from works is dead. (ESV)

Good works still come from good faith. But we don't rely on being able to carry out perfect deeds. But we still have the heart of faith, love, hope, obedience in reality, with intention to do the will of God.

2.163 Journal <2026-02-26 Thu>

God gave Jesus Christ as a ransom because He loves us. Yes, love values. That means to agape love God and God's word involves valuing God:

Mark 10:45 - For even the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many. (ESV)

Isaiah 43:3-4 - For I am the LORD your God, the Holy One of Israel, your Savior. I give Egypt as your ransom, Cush and Seba in exchange for you. Because you are precious in my eyes, and honored, and I love you, I give men in return for you, peoples in exchange for your life. (ESV)

Luke 12:7 - Why, even the hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not; you are of more value than many sparrows. (ESV)

I Peter 1:17-19 - And if you call on him as Father who judges impartially according to each one's deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile, knowing that you were ransomed from the futile ways inherited from your forefathers, not with perishable things such as silver or gold, but with the precious blood of Christ, like that of a lamb without blemish or spot. (ESV)

Jesus Christ is worthy! Jesus Christ has worth! We must think so because we must have love for Him. And if a person gives no value to Jesus then it can't be love they have for Him:

Revelation of John 5:9-10 - And they sang a new song, saying, Worthy (G514 Axios) are you to take the scroll and to open its seals, for you were slain, and by your blood you ransomed people for God from every tribe and language and people and nation, and you have made them a kingdom and priests to our God, and they shall reign on the earth. (ESV)

G514 axios 1. (properly) of similar weight or value. 2. (comparatively) worthy, deserving (of good or bad). 3. (by implication) suitable, fitting, appropriate (as if drawing praise).

We treasure God and His word. We value God and His word and prefer God and His word:

Luke 6:45 - The good person out of the good treasure of his heart produces good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure produces evil, for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks. (ESV)

Matthew 13:44-46 - The kingdom of heaven is like treasure hidden in a field, which a man found and covered up. Then in his joy he goes and sells all that he has and buys that field. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant in search of fine pearls, who, on finding one pearl of great value, went and sold all that he had and bought it. (ESV)

The fact that God has agape loved us first doesn't make void the commandment that we must love God and one another, but rather sets the context. God loved us first:

John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)

Deuteronomy 30:6 - And the LORD your God will circumcise your heart and the heart of your offspring, so that you will love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, that you may live. (ESV)

Ezekiel 11:19-20 - And I will give them one heart, and a new spirit I will put within them. I will remove the heart of stone from their flesh and give them a heart of flesh, that they may walk in my statutes and keep my rules and obey them. And they shall be my people, and I will be their God. (ESV)

I Corinthians 16:22 - If anyone has no love for the Lord, let him be accursed. Our Lord, come! (ESV)

I John 3:14-20 - We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love (agapōmen) the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth. By this we shall know that we are of the truth and reassure our heart before him; for whenever our heart condemns us, God is greater than our heart, and he knows everything. (ESV)

John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)

It's also important for others' sake that we speak the truth and not affirm error:

James 5:19-20 - My brothers, if anyone among you wanders from the truth and someone brings him back, let him know that whoever brings back a sinner from his wandering will save his soul from death and will cover a multitude of sins. (ESV)

Matthew 6:22-23 - The eye is the lamp of the body. So, if your eye is healthy, your whole body will be full of light, but if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light in you is darkness, how great is the darkness! (ESV)

Ephesians 4:25 - Therefore, having put away falsehood, let each one of you speak the truth with his neighbor, for we are members one of another. (ESV)

We should not even bear listening to lies. And we should be people who speak the truth in the darkness. It's loving to speak truth to one-another. It's unloving to give ear to liars:

II Corinthians 10:5-6 - We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, being ready to punish every disobedience, when your obedience is complete. (ESV)

Ezekiel 13:19 - You have profaned me among my people for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, putting to death souls who should not die and keeping alive souls who should not live, by your lying to my people, who listen to lies. (ESV)

Proverbs 13:5 - The righteous hates falsehood, but the wicked brings shame and disgrace. (ESV)

Proverbs 17:4 - An evildoer listens to wicked lips, and a liar gives ear to a mischievous tongue. (ESV)

The righteous want to be reproved by the truth and will love you for it. So don't be afraid to speak truth to one another:

Proverbs 9:8 - Do not reprove a scoffer, or he will hate you; reprove a wise man, and he will love you. (ESV)

We are indeed saved by obedience to Christ. Just as we are saved by authentic faith in Christ (John 8:31-47). Just as we are saved by authentic love for Christ which entails having faith in Him:

Acts 5:32 - And we are witnesses to these things, and so is the Holy Spirit, whom God has given to those who obey him. (ESV)

Luke 7:50 - And he said to the woman, Your faith has saved you; go in peace. (ESV)

Luke 7:47 - Therefore I tell you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven—for she loved much. But he who is forgiven little, loves little. (ESV)

Every commandment from God depends on the commandment to love God and our neighbour. So without love a person cannot have genuine faith in God or legitimately obey God's commandments:

Matthew 22:36-40 - Teacher, which is the great commandment in the Law? And he said to him, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)

If we love Jesus then we will keep His commandment to have faith in Him:

John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

John 14:1 - Let not your hearts be troubled. Believe in God; believe also in me. (ESV)

How do we get to having a love for God? We obtain access to grace through faith in Jesus, and God pours His love into our hearts:

Romans 5:1-5 - Therefore, since we have been justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. Through him we have also obtained access by faith into this grace in which we stand, and we rejoice in hope of the glory of God. More than that, we rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, and hope does not put us to shame, because God's love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us. (ESV)

Receiving forgiveness from Jesus, having faith in Jesus and loving Jesus all go hand in hand. In fact, someone who truly has been forgiven by God must love in the truth and someone who doesn't love in the truth neither has been forgiven because if they were forgiven they would love. And notice how the woman's faith is linked with the love she has:

Luke 7:40-50 - And Jesus answering said to him, Simon, I have something to say to you. And he answered, Say it, Teacher. A certain moneylender had two debtors. One owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty. When they could not pay, he cancelled the debt of both. Now which of them will love him more? Simon answered, The one, I suppose, for whom he cancelled the larger debt. And he said to him, You have judged rightly. Then turning toward the woman he said to Simon, Do you see this woman? I entered your house; you gave me no water for my feet, but she has wet my feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. You gave me no kiss, but from the time I came in she has not ceased to kiss my feet. You did not anoint my head with oil, but she has anointed my feet with ointment. Therefore I tell you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven—for she loved much. But he who is forgiven little, loves little. And he said to her, Your sins are forgiven. Then those who were at table with him began to say among themselves, Who is this, who even forgives sins? And he said to the woman, Your faith has saved you; go in peace. (ESV)

And those who have faith in Jesus, have faith in Father God:

John 12:44-48 - And Jesus cried out and said, Whoever believes in me, believes not in me but in him who sent me. And whoever sees me sees him who sent me. I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge (G2919 krinō: do judge) him; for I did not come to judge the world (G2919 krinō: I might judge) but to save the world. The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. (ESV)

So, real agapé love for Jesus saves. Real agapé love for Jesus loves Father God.

So we come to Jesus, as the woman in Luke 7:40-50, by faith and love for Jesus.

Faith and obedience to Jesus seem to inseparable, like two sides of a coin, but faith is commanded (I John 3:23). And love entails faith because love believes and hopes. Love is also commanded, so is inseparable from obedience (I John 3:23).

Being a "doer" of the Law is different. And "doing" is whether or not there is faith, love, obedience, fear of God, trust, hope in God in the heart. It's not the "works" that come out of that. Should we perform deeds in keeping with repentance? Yes. But we're not sanctified by the deeds. But we are sanctified through the faith and the obedience! In Galatians 3:10-13, where the Scripture says, "The one who does them shall live by them", the word for 'does' is poiēsas and more accurately means 'having done', and so it's stressing the completion of the works. We must not be those who rely on carrying out perfect deeds. But we still do faith. How many times has a person acted on good will and selfless love but found that despite good intentions, the other person got hurt? This is one reason why we don't rely on our deeds. It certainly does not mean we should cease to act from faith, love and good intentions:

Galatians 3:10-13 - For all who rely on works (G2041 ergōn: works, deed, action, task, labor) of the law are under a curse; for it is written, Cursed be everyone who does not abide by all things written in the Book of the Law, and do them. Now it is evident that no one is justified before God by the law, for The righteous shall live by faith. But the law is not of faith, rather The one who does (G4160 poiēsas; having done) them shall live by them. Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law by becoming a curse for us—for it is written, Cursed is everyone who is hanged on a tree— (ESV)

I John 3:23 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. (ESV)

Romans 2:13-16 - For it is not the hearers of the law who are righteous before God, but the doers (G4163 poiētai) of the law who will be justified. For when Gentiles, who do not have the law, by nature do what the law requires, they are a law to themselves, even though they do not have the law. They show that the work of the law is written on their hearts, while their conscience also bears witness, and their conflicting thoughts accuse or even excuse them on that day when, according to my gospel, God judges the secrets of men by Christ Jesus. (ESV)

As a born-again child of God who is my real Father, (God made me born-again, and through faith in Jesus Christ I have begun calling God my Father in Truth and Reality, which is what I am supposed to do), I have been met with such fierce resistance to walking in that reality. Through various means, such as being prevented from working by whatever satanic spirit has been attacking me in that area of my life, I have felt pushed back into the flesh, as if Noah were to try to rebuild and revive the old pre-flood world which he condemned (Hebrews 11:7) along with its sinful practices. I've felt such stark resistance to living in the newness of life. That confuses me greatly. But God even promised that He would testify of Jesus Christ to me, that

Holy Spirit would testify of Jesus Christ to me, if I abide in His word. I have been effectively held hostage in the dwelling place of the people who were my parents before I was born-again, while people continually ask me questions about "my parents". I get told stuff like, "I thought your parents were trying to sell the house." But I've been born-again. And if I answer that with even a yes or a no, it's as if I'm affirming that they're my parents, when Jesus Christ said to call no man on earth my father. I've been waking up to such antichrist and anti-holiness dreams and visions, almost daily. When will these spiritual attacks end?

Still getting extreme amounts of satanic harassment. There is a horrendous defilement which even as I am currently resting is attacking me sexually. When I was out yesterday, someone said I was a "sovereign son of God" and it's that word "sovereign" I have issues with. Only God is sovereign. Even if God has adopted me as a son, I would not consider myself sovereign in the slightest. I get a lot of satanic harassment like this. Almost daily. When people utter falsehoods and it seems as though Satan is trying to "frame me", I don't own the lies which are said about me. A week ago also at a Bible study someone said that I hate a specific person. And I certainly do not own that false comment. But you see how the devil tries to "put words in my mouth" and tries to get me to affirm his lies. I rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name. I don't want anything from Satan. He can take his false crowns to hell with him.

I'm very concerned about the defilement which has been affecting me. I'm very concerned about it. It's disgusting. If it didn't exist then I truly believe that I would feel far more at peace. It's basically this one thing which is the sexual defilement (whatever has been convulsing my genitals, making my mouth and tongue feel "pushed", the LGBT dreams, the dreams of impurity. All of that stuff is incredibly disgusting. If my body and soul felt at peace (i.e. feeling not as though I'm under siege by demons) then I think I would be content. But as it is, I don't think it's possible to be content with how things are. Even as I sit here I feel a defilement attacking my genitals.

Jesus Christ, save me, please.

Last night and this morning, I was hit with a lot of demonic harassment. Lots of it. I just rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name.

Also the night before last, I was attacked with a lot of demonic harassment as well. Huge amounts of it. I've been experiencing some very intense satanic harassment including sexual, corrupt, defiled, unclean, immoral, lying antichrist dreams and visions, getting woken up to them, some sexual defilement which has been affecting my body, people contradicting scripture to me where I reside. And with some of the people I have been associating with it certainly seems as though there has been a large degree of "demonic goading". These types of strange phenomena have been so greatly elevated over the last 2-3 years now. But in the last 2 days it's been even more exacerbated.

Yesterday, even as I was clinging to my notebook which said, "I am covered by the blood of Jesus Christ. No weapon formed against me shall prosper," I was still attacked by demons. And this morning I still had this notebook open next to my bed. But today's demonic harassment seems even more intense.

Yeah, and to be quite honest, in the morning this morning, I also awoke to erection and highly elevated arousal, and this has been happening daily, really, to be quite honest, for an extremely long time now in the last year, just jam packed full of this stuff. It's totally demonic. Jesus Christ, save me.

And yeah, I confess, I gave in to the sexual defilement today, as in I relieved myself while I was experiencing this sexual defilement messing with me, and then when I tried going back to sleep I immediately got a demonic picture appear in my mind. It's so disturbing and demonic I will not mention what it was.

I just rebuke the demonic harassment in Jesus Christ's name. And I absolutely hate this sexual defilement, and I rebuke the LGBT spirit and I rebuke the spirit of antichrist even from Islam. I just rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name.

I want to be holy as Jesus is holy.

I rebuke the transhumanism as well. That AI transhumanism stuff, I just rebuke in Jesus Christ's name. I rebuke the anti-marriage spirit in Jesus Christ's name. I rebuke every spirit that has been oppressing me in Jesus Christ's name. I rebuke that every spirit that has been preventing me from being able to work in Jesus Christ's name.

I am willing to work. It just seems impossible to do so. And it doesn't help that evil people have been stealing from others in order to build this AI stuff. It's disgusting stuff. I hate being here in this world full of evil. I hate it so much.

I don't think it helps at all (as far as living a holy life is concerned) to be prevented from working and marrying.

I want to hear the testimony from Holy Spirit testifying that Jesus Christ is the Son of God who has come into the world in the flesh from God. I still haven't received it.

I'm very sick of half-truth dreams. I can see how they can be so deceptive. What we should do is not rely on our dreams, but trust and obey God's word instead.

Jude 1:8-10 - Yet in like manner these people also, relying on their dreams, defile the flesh, reject authority, and blaspheme the glorious ones. But when the archangel Michael, contending with the devil, was disputing about the body of Moses, he did not presume to pronounce a blasphemous judgment, but said, The Lord rebuke you. But these people blaspheme all that they do not understand, and they are destroyed by all that they, like unreasoning animals, understand instinctively. (ESV)

I'm not going to trust a dream that does not come with the testimony of Jesus Christ.

I John 4:1-3 - Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

I rebuke the demonic goading in Jesus Christ's name.

Demonic goading What I mean is, when Satan and demons spread these lies through society, even half truths, whether through dreams or by affirming the half-truths of people when they say things which are incorrect, which results in people being misled or misrepresented, or tempted, etc.

I have seen a huge amount of evidence of that demonic goading. When I get lying dreams, I see how these lies might be tempting to people for them to believe. I rebuke the demonic goading in Jesus Christ's name.

For example, this morning, forced into my mind was a dream related to "taking from a poor man" which I believe was demonic because a) there was no testimony of Jesus Christ, and b) it contradicted Jesus' teachings in part. And so, there was a half-truth. And no lie is of the truth. It's demonic. I rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name.

I'm sick of this demonic harassment. Now instead I will put here Scripture. Be taught and corrected by Jesus Christ by reading and trusting His word and doing what He instructs.

Luke 19:1-10 - He entered Jericho and was passing through. And there was a man named Zacchaeus. He was a chief tax collector and was rich. And he was seeking to see who Jesus was, but on account of the crowd he could not, because he was small of stature. So he ran on ahead and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him, for he was about to pass that way. And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up and said to him, Zacchaeus, hurry and come down, for I must stay at your house today. So he hurried and came down and received him joyfully. And when they saw it, they all grumbled, He has gone in to be the guest of a man who is a sinner. And Zacchaeus stood and said to the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor. And if I have defrauded anyone of anything, I restore it fourfold. And Jesus said to him, Today salvation has come to this house, since he also is a son of Abraham. For the Son of Man came to seek and to save the lost. (ESV)

I'm concerned about defilement issues. May God help me. I just want to be set free. I have anxieties. It's rooted in several things:

- I feel anxious because I've been forced to make decisions without direct instruction addressing specific questions I have had.

- I want to hear from Holy Spirit, and not hear lying, harassing dreams anymore.
- There is some buzzing feeling over my body which causes discomfort.
- I've been forced awake from sleep to lying and harassing dreams and by some sexual defilement.
- I've been held in physical discomfort and in confinement. I've been prevented from working and marrying.
- I've been repressed from waking in my new identity. Circumstances have been put on me which have made it very difficult to live out my new identity in Christ Jesus, and I have had to do so against a lot of pressure.
- Pressure from family of the flesh. This has included a great deal of being discouraged by them from obeying Jesus Christ.
 - * I would have much preferred that if I were to be bound somewhere, it was not with my mum and dad of the flesh, that is the parents of my flesh, as opposed to who I truly am. I was house-bound by bail conditions after being born of the spirit. And when those conditions ended, I remained house-bound by circumstance; unable to work, and there being a huge amount of need to help other people financially, as I endeavoured to remain faithful to Jesus Christ, endeavouring to keep His teachings faithfully, but at the same time receiving discouragement from others to keep Jesus' teachings, and being prevented from working. I just wish that it wasn't with them that I had such conflicts. Even though there have still been plenty of opportunities to apply the teachings. It seems just plain wrong for what has happened to have happened as it has, and I wish I could forget everything and know for certain that none of it will recur as an issue in the future. I feel like I went through a Frankenstein-like experiment to try to conform me who is really born-again of the spirit into the corpse of the old person that died and along the way saw and said and thought some things which I wish I never saw, never said or had to say and never had to think. It's messed up.
- I've felt very isolated.

- Conversations I have with people usually are cut very short.
 - I've often felt isolated from other cross-carrying disciples of Christ.
 - It seems like no one wants to give me the testimony that Jesus Christ has come into the world in the flesh. That makes me feel very alone.
 - I've felt like often churchgoers have gotten angry at me for affirming Jesus' teachings, and I've felt pushed away into isolation by this.
- The world is full of AI stuff now.
 - I've been "under the pump", under extreme pressure while being robbed of joy. Even basic things such as getting out of bed and having a shower become difficult when I'm not experiencing joy.
 - I've experienced things which scar my memory and I hope to God that people are not hurt and these things will not somehow repeat. After the horrible things I've seen, all things being possible takes on a new meaning. It's like, you've seen such bad things, then if God is real (as I believe He is) then of course are all things going to be possible with God as the Bible says they are. I've experienced stuff interpersonally that deeply unsettles me, so the verses where Jesus says that all things are possible with God (Matthew 19:26, Mark 9:23, Mark 10:27, Mark 14:36) do not surprise me that God can do impossible things, if "such things as I've seen" are possible. But who wants to be continually teetering on the brink of seismic shifts in reality every time you speak something while being harassed by demonic mischief / spiritual wickedness, whether by harassing dream or through people asking you questions, or the many different ways it happens? Stability would be nice. Stability without anxiety, without demonic harassment.
 - I've had to try and do things, and meet obligations, while having being deprived of joy. It's not easy.
 - (But God's Word gives me joy. God's precepts and commandments give me joy. I like to read Scripture and talk about it with others and put it into practice.)
 - I've had to endure demonic harassment that just wouldn't go away no matter how hard I prayed or resisted sin.

There's nothing "bitter" about what I'm experiencing. I experience this with a love for the Lord Jesus Christ and for my neighbour, but with a huge amount of vexation as to why God allows this to happen to me, along with a desire to be cleaned and sanctified completely, and purged of memories.

May Jesus Christ help me.

I just did a little Bible study.

In relying on dreams, and despising authority, rather than using reason, some speak evil of that which is glorious:

Jude 1:8 - Yet in like manner these people also, relying on their dreams, defile the flesh, reject authority, and blaspheme the glorious ones (G1391 doxas; glorious [ones]). (ESV)

In speaking evil of things they don't understand (getting it wrong), they get destroyed:

Jude 1:10 - But these people blaspheme (G987 blasphemousin; they speak evil of) all that they do not understand, and they are destroyed by all that they, like unreasoning animals, understand instinctively. (ESV)

This isn't saying that the devil is glorious. I believe it's saying that even Michael the archangel didn't presume to know exactly what the purpose of God was in this situation. It looks like Michael just knew that God knows everything and is Holy and if anyone can rebuke the devil justly, it's God:

Jude 1:9 - But when the archangel Michael, contending with the devil, was disputing about the body of Moses, he did not presume to pronounce a blasphemous judgment, but said, The Lord rebuke you. (ESV)

Getting born-again, there is our new identity and reality that we must live in and walk out, even while those around you are still walking by the flesh. Jesus calls us out, and we must remain faithful to Jesus Christ first and foremost:

Galatians 5:25 - If we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit. (ESV)

Psalms 27:10 - For my father and my mother have forsaken me, but the LORD will take me in. (ESV)

Matthew 10:32-38 - So everyone who acknowledges me before men, I also will acknowledge before my Father who is in heaven, but whoever denies me before men, I also will deny before my Father who is in heaven. Do not think that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I have not come to bring peace, but a sword. For I have come to set a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. And a person's enemies will be those of his own household. Whoever loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me, and whoever loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. And whoever does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me. (ESV)

I John 3:13-16 - Do not be surprised, brothers, that the world hates you. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. (ESV)

John 15:18-19 - If the world hates you, know that it has hated me before it hated you. If you were of the world, the world would love you as its own; but because you are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hates you. (ESV)

More demonic dreams, and nothing which has confessed to me that Jesus Christ has come into the world [from God] in the flesh (in flesh and blood).

I call upon Father God (the Father of my Lord Jesus Christ) as my father and endeavour to put off my old self:

Ephesians 4:20-32 - But that is not the way you learned Christ!—assuming that you have heard about him and were taught in him, as the truth is in Jesus, to put off your old self, which belongs to your former manner of life and is corrupt through deceitful desires, and to be renewed in the spirit of your minds, and to put on the new self, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness. Therefore, having put away falsehood, let each one of you speak the truth with his neighbor, for we are members one of another. Be angry and do not sin; do not let the sun go down on your anger, and give no opportunity to the devil. Let the thief no longer steal, but rather let him labor, doing honest work with his own hands, so that he may have something to share with anyone in need. Let no corrupting talk come out of your mouths, but only such as is good for building up, as fits the occasion, that it may give grace to those who hear. And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, by whom you were sealed for the day of redemption. Let all bitterness and wrath and anger and clamor and slander be put away from you, along with all malice. Be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, as God in Christ forgave you. (ESV)

I have forgiven as I've been forgiven and I want to be set free from the demonic and satanic harassment, oppression and "goadings", and may God help me to live out my new identity in Christ Jesus regardless of the demonic and satanic harassment, oppression and goading.

Be careful when making vows. Jesus advises to not make them at all because we "cannot make one hair white or black". And the Apostle James also advises to not make vows lest a person does not fulfill them and falls under condemnation:

Matthew 5:33-37 - Again you have heard that it was said to those of old, You shall not swear falsely, but shall perform to the Lord what you have sworn. But I say to you, Do not take an oath at all, either by heaven, for it is the throne of God, or by the earth, for it is his footstool, or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. And do not take an oath by your head, for you cannot make one hair white or black. Let what you say be simply Yes or No; anything more than this comes from evil. (ESV)

Ecclesiastes 5:4-5 - When you vow a vow to God, do not delay paying it, for he has no pleasure in fools. Pay what you vow. It is better that you should not vow than that you should vow and not pay. (ESV)

James 5:12 - But above all, my brothers, do not swear, either by heaven or by earth or by any other oath, but let your yes be yes and your no be no, so that you may not fall under condemnation. (ESV)

Vows:

Psalms 56:11-13 - in God I trust; I shall not be afraid. What can man do to me? I must perform my vows to you, O God; I will render thank offerings to you. For you have delivered my soul from death, yes, my feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the light of life. (ESV)

Psalms 15:4 - in whose eyes a vile person is despised, but who honors those who fear the LORD; who swears to his own hurt and does not change; (ESV)

Numbers 30:2 - If a man vows a vow to the LORD, or swears an oath to bind himself by a pledge, he shall not break his word. He shall do according to all that proceeds out of his mouth. (ESV)

Deuteronomy 23:21-23 - If you make a vow to the LORD your God, you shall not delay fulfilling it, for the LORD your God will surely require it of you, and you will be guilty of sin. But if you refrain from vowing, you will not be guilty of sin. You shall be careful to do what has passed your lips, for you have voluntarily vowed to the LORD your God what you have promised with your mouth. (ESV)

Psalms 50:14 - Offer to God a sacrifice of thanksgiving, and perform your vows to the Most High, (ESV)

Deuteronomy 23:23 - You shall be careful to do what has passed your lips, for you have voluntarily vowed to the LORD your God what you have promised with your mouth. (ESV)

Ecclesiastes 5:2 - Be not rash with your mouth, nor let your heart be hasty to utter a word before God, for God is in heaven and you are on earth. Therefore let your words be few. (ESV)

Jonah 2:9 - But I with the voice of thanksgiving will sacrifice to you; what I have vowed I will pay. Salvation belongs to the LORD! (ESV)

Psalms 116:14 - I will pay my vows to the LORD in the presence of all his people. (ESV)

Psalms 61:5 - For you, O God, have heard my vows; you have given me the heritage of those who fear your name. (ESV)

Proverbs 20:6 - Many a man proclaims his own steadfast love, but a faithful man who can find? (ESV)

2.176.1 Vows in the Book of Numbers

Numbers 30:1-16 - Moses spoke to the heads of the tribes of the people of Israel, saying, This is what the LORD has commanded. If a man vows a vow to the LORD, or swears an oath to bind himself by a pledge, he shall not break his word. He shall do according to all that proceeds out of his mouth. If a woman vows a vow to the LORD and binds herself by a pledge, while within her father's house in her youth, and her father hears of her vow and of her pledge by which she has bound herself and says nothing to her, then all her vows shall stand, and every pledge by which she has bound herself shall stand. But if her father opposes her on the day that he hears of it, no vow of hers, no pledge by which she has bound herself shall stand. And the LORD will forgive her, because her father opposed her. If she marries a husband, while under her vows or any thoughtless utterance of her lips by which she has bound herself, and her husband hears of it and says nothing to her on the day that he hears, then her vows shall stand, and her pledges by which she has bound herself shall stand. But if, on the day that her husband comes to hear of it, he opposes her, then he makes void her vow that was on her, and the thoughtless utterance of her lips by which she bound herself. And the LORD will forgive her. (But any vow of a widow or of a divorced woman, anything by which she has bound herself, shall stand against her.) And if she vowed in her husband's house or bound herself by a pledge with an oath, and her husband heard of it and said nothing to her and did not oppose her, then all her vows shall stand, and every pledge by which she bound herself shall stand. But if her husband makes them null and void on the day that he hears them, then whatever proceeds out of her lips concerning her vows or concerning her pledge of herself shall not stand. Her husband has made them void, and the LORD will forgive her. Any vow and any binding oath to afflict herself, her husband may establish, or her husband may make void. But if her husband says nothing to her from day to day, then he establishes all her vows or all her pledges that are upon her. He has established them, because he said nothing to her on the day that he heard of them. But if he makes them null and void after he has heard of them, then he shall bear her iniquity. These are the statutes that the LORD commanded Moses about a man and his wife and about a father and his daughter while she is in her youth within her father's house. (ESV)

While the institution of marriage is holy (that is why it is called holy matrimony), whatever happened with my situation regarding the marriage proposal after I got born-again, I felt has been marred by demonic influences, and it never made it to actual marriage. And I have committed my way to the Lord Jesus Christ, and that is to go my separate ways. And this is important, I think, because it's not all about me. God has me here for the purpose of leading other people to Him.

Numbers 30:2 - If a man vows a vow to the LORD, or swears an oath to bind himself by a pledge, he shall not break his word. He shall do according to all that proceeds out of his mouth. (ESV)

Psalms 15:4 - in whose eyes a vile person is despised, but who honors those who fear the LORD; who swears to his own hurt and does not change; (ESV)

I do believe, however, that the steps towards getting married are sacred and the ability to get married should be protected. Steps such as "asking". I don't think it's right to make it impossible for people to marry.

Proverbs 20:25 - It is a snare to say rashly, It is holy, and to reflect only after making vows. (ESV)

Sadly, during the night and in the morning I received an extreme amount of demonic harassment, despite having asked God to protect me. If God doesn't do "His part" then I cannot do mine. With God all things are possible. My will is to do God's will for me. God's will is my sanctification. I ask God that tomorrow and during the night He will protect me in the name of Jesus Christ, so that I do not receive any spiritual attack of any sort, that my sleep will not be disrupted by demonic dreams and other things such as my cat coming in the window and then meowing at my door to wake me up, and that there will not be any buzzing, vibrating, groping or any such types of attacks against my soul. And I ask that God would give me peace and rest as I trust in and obey Jesus Christ. This is what I ask God for today in advance.

The track record, though, is that despite asking God for deliverance and to protect me in my sleep on a daily basis, I've been harassed by demons.

And, yeah, I confess I did obey the flesh again as I was being attacked by it. May Jesus forgive me, and heal me and deliver me in His Mighty name.

Oppression, though, I feel doesn't help me, to rule over the flesh. For example, being denied a work or a wife or the freedom to live not in this household, does not help me to rule over the flesh. I feel like demons are trying to keep me bound in this situation.

May God deliver me in Jesus Christ's name.

As I sit here and I feel myself coming under attack, I know for sure that I'm being attacked by this defilement, or by this demon. And a demon is an unclean spirit. I feel under attack by an unclean spirit. It's disgusting. I rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name. I'm am vexed as to why God allows me to be attacked by something like this. It's disgusting. I rebuke it. And I pour out my complaint to God. It's not fair. I want it gone. I want to do the will of God which is my sanctification. I'm sick of being attacked by something which seems to have power over my senses. I'm sick of it. It's disgusting. It's so unfair

And we are perfected through obedience to the Truth (Jesus) and faith in Jesus as His Spirit sanctifies us:

I Peter 1:22-25 - Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, since you have been born again, not of perishable seed but of imperishable, through the living and abiding word of God; for All flesh is like grass and all its glory like the flower of grass. The grass withers, and the flower falls, but the word of the Lord remains forever. And this word is the good news that was preached to you. (ESV)

Be perfect as your heavenly Father is perfect - love also the ones who hate you:

Matthew 5:38-48 - You have heard that it was said, An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth. But I say to you, Do not resist the one who is evil. But if anyone slaps you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also. And if anyone would sue you and take your tunic, let him have your cloak as well. And if anyone forces you to go one mile, go with him two miles. Give to the one who begs from you, and do not refuse the one who would borrow from you. You have heard that it was said, You shall love your neighbor and hate (3404. miseó, 3404 miséō – properly, to detest (on a comparative basis); hence, denounce; to love someone or something less than someone (something) else, i.e. to renounce one choice in favor of another.) your enemy. But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You therefore must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect. (ESV)

The Apostle Paul also teaching on "being perfect (complete)":

Romans 12:9-21 - Let love be genuine. Abhor what is evil; hold fast to what is good. Love one another with brotherly affection. Outdo one another in showing honor. Do not be slothful in zeal, be fervent in spirit, serve the Lord. Rejoice in hope, be patient in tribulation, be constant in prayer. Contribute to the needs of the saints and seek to show hospitality. Bless those who persecute you; bless and do not curse them. Rejoice with those who rejoice, weep with those who weep. Live in harmony with one another. Do not be haughty, but associate with the lowly. Never be conceited. Repay no one evil for evil, but give thought to do what is honorable in the sight of all. If possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all. Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord. To the contrary, if your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him something to drink; for by so doing you will heap burning coals on his head. Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good. (ESV)

The Apostle John also teaching on "being perfect (complete)":

I John 4:16-20 - So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. There is no fear in love, but perfect love casts out fear. For fear has to do with punishment, and whoever fears has not been perfected in love. We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. (ESV)

Keep in mind that what Jesus means by "perfect" is possible, because Jesus said the following, and this is how:

Matthew 19:21 - Jesus said to him, If you would be perfect, go, sell what you possess and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me. (ESV)

Hebrews 7:11 - Now if perfection had been attainable through the Levitical priesthood (for under it the people received the law), what further need would there have been for another priest to arise after the order of Melchizedek, rather than one named after the order of Aaron? (ESV)

In Christ, we must "be perfect" in the sense that Jesus means when He says "You, therefore, must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect." In Christ, we must not hate one another. In Christ, we must agape love one another:

Colossians 3:13-14 - Bear with one another and forgive any complaint you may have against someone else. Forgive as the Lord forgave you. And over all these virtues put on love (26. agapé), which is the bond of perfect unity. (engbsb2020eb)

I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

I John 3:10 - By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. (ESV)

I John 4:17 - By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. (ESV)

So we come to Jesus, as the woman did in Luke 7:40-50, by faith and love for Jesus.

How do we love Jesus? Well, we treasure Him (Matthew 13:44-46). We understand He loved us first (I John 4:10). We confess Jesus Christ is the Son of God (I John 4:15-17). We love (walking according to Jesus Christ's commandments) because He first loved us (I John 4:19, II John 1:6). We endeavour to have the love of God perfected in us and it is attainable (I Peter 1:22-25, Matthew 5:38-48, Romans 12:9-21, I John 4:16-20, Matthew 19:21, Hebrews 7:11). We share the teachings of Christ (Romans 10:11-15) while not being hypocrites (Matthew 23:28), but exercise courtesy and don't force ourselves or the gospel onto people when they have rejected us or have rejected it to us (Luke 10:5-11). We endeavour to have the love of God perfected in us and it is attainable (I Peter 1:22-25, Matthew 5:38-48, Romans 12:9-21, I John 4:16-20, Matthew 19:21, Hebrews 7:11). We remain faithful to Jesus (Matthew 10:32-38) and don't deny Him before other people.

If our love for God is real then we must forgive and love one-another in Christ:

I Thessalonians 3:12 - and may the Lord make you increase and abound in love for one another and for all, as we do for you, (ESV)

Colossians 3:12-14 - Put on then, as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, compassion, kindness, humility, meekness, and patience, bearing with one another and, if one has a complaint against another, forgiving each other; as the Lord has forgiven you, so you also must forgive. And above all these put on love, which binds everything together in perfect harmony. (ESV)

A person who hates their family in Christ neither loves Christ. One's family in Christ is their neighbour. And Matthew 22:37-40 is really saying to love them as though they are you yourself, and that makes sense because those who are in Christ are one in spirit (I Corinthians 6:17-20):

I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

God desires all people to be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth (I Timothy 2:3-6). But not all will (Matthew 13:38-43). But it should be in our heart also that other people are saved (II Timothy 2:24-25):

II Timothy 2:24-25 - And the Lord's servant must not be quarrelsome but kind to everyone, able to teach, patiently enduring evil, correcting his opponents with gentleness. God may perhaps grant them repentance leading to a knowledge of the truth, (ESV)

Consider that those who are generous to the needy honour God:

Proverbs 14:31 - Whoever oppresses a poor man insults his Maker, but he who is generous to the needy honors him. (ESV)

Now consider the genuineness of love and the way this love exhibits itself. Just be aware that what matters to God is our heart attitudes, the intentions, why we do a thing, the love in the heart. We're under grace, still law-abiding to Christ, but not "under the law" relying on the works of the law. We don't rely on being able to carry out perfect deeds:

II Corinthians 8:1-10 - We want you to know, brothers, about the grace of God that has been given among the churches of Macedonia, for in a severe test of affliction, their abundance of joy and their extreme poverty have overflowed in a wealth of generosity on their part. For they gave according to their means, as I can testify, and beyond their means, of their own free will, begging us earnestly for the favor of taking part in the relief of the saints— and this, not as we expected, but they gave themselves first to the Lord and then by the will of God to us. Accordingly, we urged Titus that as he had started, so he should complete among you this act of grace. But as you excel in everything—in faith, in speech, in knowledge, in all earnestness, and in our love for you — see that you excel in this act of grace also. I say this not as a command, but to prove by the earnestness of others that your love also is genuine. For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sake he became poor, so that you by his poverty might become rich. And in this matter I give my judgment: this benefits you, who a year ago started not only to do this work but also to desire to do it. (ESV)

I John 3:17-18 - But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth. (ESV)

John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

Faith and obedience to Jesus seem to be inseparable, like two sides of a coin, but faith is commanded (I John 3:23).

Real agape love (love for the truth and in reality) "loves people" the way we're commanded to (i.e. the correct way) and loves the children of God the way we're commanded. The Apostle John says to be able to know that we are loving the children of God, we must be keeping His commandments. So the way to love our family in Christ is clearly defined for us. People don't have a legitimate (in the truth) claim to say "You're not loving me" if you're keeping God's commandments:

I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

How do we love people on the outside of the faith? Here's a couple of ways: Show courtesy to them and pray for them (I Timothy 2:1):

Titus 3:2 - to speak evil of no one, to avoid quarreling, to be gentle, and to show perfect courtesy toward all people. (ESV)

I Timothy 2:1-2 - First of all, then, I urge that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgivings be made for all people, for kings and all who are in high positions, that we may lead a peaceful and quiet life, godly and dignified in every way. (ESV)

Love [for the truth] entails faith [in the truth] because love believes and hopes. But that doesn't mean trust everyone. It means love for the truth trusts in the truth:

I Corinthians 13:4-8 - Love is patient and kind; love does not envy or boast; it is not arrogant or rude. It does not insist on its own way; it is not irritable or resentful; it does not rejoice at wrongdoing, but rejoices with the truth. Love bears (G4722 stegei; it bears; to cover with silence (endure patiently)) all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things. Love never ends. As for prophecies, they will pass away; as for tongues, they will cease; as for knowledge, it will pass away. (ESV)

I Corinthians 13:4-8 mustn't be saying that love for the truth believes everyone. We don't trust everyone. We trust in the truth:

I John 4:1-3 - Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses (G3670 homologeó, confesses, acknowledges, agrees) that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess (G3670 homologeó, confess, acknowledge, agree with) Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

If a person was distrusting the teaching of Christ while trusting someone on the basis of, say, a dream they had, or something like that, then I think that would be unloving because we know we are walking in love when we're keeping God's commandments for us, and if we're not walking in faith in God then we'd not be walking in real love either. Under such circumstances of not walking in faith in the truth, Jesus' teachings wouldn't be followed the way He wanted, similar to how Moses struck the rock instead of speaking to it (Numbers 20:8-12). So I think we must be walking faithfully in the teaching of Christ. And so long as that is being done, then there is room for "benefit of the doubt". There are situations I have found where I meet new people with their own religious background and in interacting with them, I try to remain faithful to Jesus' teachings. So long as a doer in reality (not a hypocrite), and I'm trying to please God, and I'm walking in Jesus' teachings faithfully (even in my private life) then I have confidence that God would be working in situations as I act on other of Jesus' teachings when interacting with people in the world, which the world might consider "risky", such as "giving to the one who asks".

One's own righteousness is not enough to be saved. It must be based on Jesus' righteousness:

I John 4:10 - In this is love, not that we have loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. (ESV)

I John 4:15-17 - Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. (ESV)

I John 4:19 - We love because he first loved us. (ESV)

II John 1:6 - And this is love, that we walk according to his commandments; this is the commandment, just as you have heard from the beginning, so that you should walk in it. (ESV)

More harassing, demonic dreams today. I went to bed asking God the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, Yahweh, Jehovah, God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, Most High God, that He would protect me in my sleep. I had also asked God to testify of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit to me.

I was still attacked by demons all through the night and was not given the testimony. I was woken up about 4 or 5 times during the night and this morning to demonic dreams. LGBT related dreams. Something invading my mind to push lying, harassing thoughts and dreams into my head. It's disgusting stuff. I rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name.

I'm sick of feeling imprisoned in this house of the parents of my flesh. I'm sick of having arguments when the parents of my flesh deny Jesus Christ's teachings to my face. I'm born-again. If I was employed and earning money then I'd be able to help more people.

Jesus Christ, help me.

I'm sick of having the promised testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit withheld from me as I submit to Jesus and resist the devil. I'm sick of being given what is not due for my faith.

Father God, help me. Clean me, deliver me from evil and set me free from this prison of circumstance.

Ephesians 4:20-28 - But that is not the way you learned Christ!—assuming that you have heard about him and were taught in him, as the truth is in Jesus, to put off your old self, which belongs to your former manner of life and is corrupt through deceitful desires, and to be renewed in the spirit of your minds, and to put on the new self, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness. Therefore, having put away falsehood, let each one of you speak the truth with his neighbor, for we are members one of another. Be angry and do not sin; do not let the sun go down on your anger, and give no opportunity to the devil. Let the thief no longer steal, but rather let him labor, doing honest work with his own hands, so that he may have something to share with anyone in need. (ESV)

II Timothy 2:22-26 - So flee youthful passions and pursue righteousness, faith, love, and peace, along with those who call on the Lord from a pure heart. Have nothing to do with foolish, ignorant controversies; you know that they breed quarrels. And the Lord's servant must not be quarrelsome but kind to everyone, able to teach, patiently enduring evil, correcting his opponents with gentleness. God may perhaps grant them repentance leading to a knowledge of the truth, and they may escape from the snare of the devil, after being captured by him to do his will. (ESV)

II Corinthians 2:9-11 - For this is why I wrote, that I might test you and know whether you are obedient in everything. Anyone whom you forgive, I also forgive. What I have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, has been for your sake in the presence of Christ, so that we would not be outwitted by Satan; for we are not ignorant of his designs. (ESV)

I Timothy 3:6-9 - He must not be a recent convert, or he may become puffed up with conceit and fall into the condemnation of the devil. Moreover, he must be well thought of by outsiders, so that he may not fall into disgrace, into a snare of the devil. Deacons likewise must be dignified, not double-tongued, not addicted to much wine, not greedy for dishonest gain. They must hold the mystery of the faith with a clear conscience. (ESV)

I Timothy 6:6-12 - Now there is great gain in godliness with contentment, for we brought nothing into the world, and we cannot take anything out of the world. But if we have food and clothing, with these we will be content. But those who desire to be rich fall into temptation, into a snare, into many senseless and harmful desires that plunge people into ruin and destruction. For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evils. It is through this craving that some have wandered away from the faith and pierced themselves with many pangs. But as for you, O man of God, flee these things. Pursue righteousness, godliness, faith, love, steadfastness, gentleness. Fight the good fight of the faith. Take hold of the eternal life to which you were called and about which you made the good confession in the presence of many witnesses. (ESV)

Proverbs 14:26-27 - In the fear of the LORD one has strong confidence, and his children will have a refuge. The fear of the LORD is a fountain of life, that one may turn away from the snares of death. (ESV)

In Jesus Christ's Mighty Name I rebuke forever the spirit that puts earthly employment or "money" as a prerequisite for marriage, and tries to push that evil onto me. May that devil spirit be crushed under my feet and may God bury it in hell. I ask God for repentance to those who have been ensnared by the Satan's lies into doing his will.

Let me explain where that devilish lie is.

This is the lie: "If you want to get married, you need to have a job or money."

I rebuke and condemn this lie in Jesus Christ's name. I rebuke it forever and if I ever hear it from someone then I will rebuke them to their face and may God forgive them and grant them repentance so that they do not fall under my condemnation.

In Ephesians 4:20-32, we are instructed to do "honest work with his own hands, so that he may have something to share with anyone in need." And what matters is the willingness to work (2 Thessalonians 3:8-10), not whether or not a person is given work, but the "willingness". If a person is denied work, that is not grounds to then deny them food. If a person is denied work, that is not grounds to deny marriage. It's never OK to lie and tell someone they must "have a job" before they are allowed to marry.

If someone believes that then they probably do not agree with Jesus' sound words in Matthew 19:21. Our commitment to the Lord Jesus Christ comes first, and we must love our family in Christ.

Unrighteous people heap up money for themselves and don't give it to their brother in need:

Job 27:16-17 - Though he heap up silver like dust, and pile up clothing like clay, he may pile it up, but the righteous will wear it, and the innocent will divide the silver. (ESV)

An unrighteous person might save up money and withhold it from their family in need because they would prefer to get married than to love their family in Christ. To do so would be lawlessness. It would be unloving and evil to let family in Christ suffer when you have the ability to supply them what they need, in order to save up money to get a wife. It's so dishonouring of God to be so unloving and evil that one would covet "having a wife" to the point of letting the people around you suffer, particularly if they profess Christ as their Saviour.

Righteous people give the world's goods to their brother in need of them, to their neighbour:

I John 3:17 - But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? (ESV)

If a person has no money because they are doing as Christ said, they still have a right to take a believing wife! A wife is a gift from God. God instituted marriage. A person does not need earthly goods to be allowed to marry. But that doesn't mean a person can marry whoever they want. If a person says that you need a job or a house or the world's goods in order to take a wife then they are lying or deceived.

If someone says, "A woman deserves to get married to a person who will be able to take care of them?" then you can respond to them, "Yahweh owns everything and God delights in the welfare of His servant, and the whole duty of man is to fear God and keep His commandments and God thinks it's not good for man to be alone." I believe there is zero correlation between a man's right to take a wife and the amount of money he has.

Is it not those who are rich with worldly possessions who lay up riches on themselves like clothing, like dust, and oppress the poor, and try to control them through controlling "employment"?

James 2:6 - But you have dishonored the poor man. Are not the rich the ones who oppress you, and the ones who drag you into court? (ESV)

The money belongs to God and for giving to the poor. Let no-one tell you it is against Christ's teachings to give to the poor. If someone wants to and would if he had the world's goods leave an inheritance to his children and children's children, that is enough:

Proverbs 13:22 - A good man leaves an inheritance to his children's children, but the sinner's wealth is laid up for the righteous. (ESV)

Proverbs 28:8 - Whoever multiplies his wealth by interest and profit gathers it for him who is generous to the poor. (ESV)

If anyone disagrees with what Jesus says in Matt 19:21, then they are exercising a distrust of Jesus Christ. Rebuke and correct them when they lie and speak contrary to Jesus that they might stop doing the will of Satan by propagating Satan's lies:

Matthew 19:21 - Jesus said to him, If you would be perfect, go, sell what you possess and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me. (ESV)

OK, so Abraham was rich, but He was also a servant of God. God delights in the welfare of His servant (Psalms 35:27). So if a person is a good steward of God's belongings (and the whole earth belongs to God), then God delights in their welfare, for that person is like the innkeeper in the story of the "good Samaritan". It's clear that Abraham did not receive the King of Sodom's gifts because he wanted God to get all the glory. And Abraham did not covet the gifts of God (including his only begotten son Isaac) more than God Himself, and Abraham even tithed. It's clear that Abraham was a servant of God, and also prosperous. So if a person is actually maintaining their faith in God in reality and opportunistically choosing to keep Jesus Christ's teachings including "giving to the one who begs from you", for example, then they can be trusted with prosperity/welfare (not necessarily money). But if a person commits sin by neglecting their family in Christ's needs or their neighbour's needs (that person who is also made in the image of God) and instead decides to put their trust in man's strength and invest in something like bitcoin, gambling the money, and walking past the person who needed their immediate help, and so that they can "have enough money" to get married, say, then that would be a very sinful and unfaithful deed to commit. It would be similar to Abraham sleeping with Hagar (i.e. trusting in man's strength) to get what you want. The whole duty of man is to "fear God and keep His commandments" and if a person is doing then God will take care of the rest:

Psalms 35:27 - Let those who delight in my righteousness shout for joy and be glad and say evermore, Great is the LORD, who delights in the welfare of his servant! (ESV)

Psalms 24:1 - The earth is the LORD's and the fullness thereof, the world and those who dwell therein, (ESV)

Matthew 6:30-33 - But if God so clothes the grass of the field, which today is alive and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, will he not much more clothe you, O you of little faith? Therefore do not be anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or What shall we drink? or What shall we wear? For the Gentiles seek after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them all. But seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things will be added to you. (ESV)

Luke 16:10-13 - One who is faithful in a very little is also faithful in much, and one who is dishonest in a very little is also dishonest in much. If then you have not been faithful in the unrighteous wealth, who will entrust to you the true riches? And if you have not been faithful in that which is another's, who will give you that which is your own? No servant can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money.

(ESV)

I Timothy 4:1-3 - Now the Spirit expressly says that in later times some will depart from the faith by devoting themselves to deceitful spirits and teachings of demons, through the insincerity of liars whose consciences are seared, who forbid marriage and require abstinence from foods that God created to be received with thanksgiving by those who believe and know the truth. (ESV)

Works is to faith as body is to spirit:

James 2:26 - For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, so also faith apart (G5565 chōris) from works is dead. (ESV)

From the good treasure of one's heart they will produce good:

Luke 6:43 - For no good tree bears bad fruit, nor again does a bad tree bear good fruit,

God looks at the heart:

II Corinthians 5:10-12 - For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil. Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. We are not commending ourselves to you again but giving you cause to boast about us, so that you may be able to answer those who boast about outward appearance and not about what is in the heart.

1 Samuel 16:7 - But the LORD said to Samuel, Do not look on his appearance or on the height of his stature, because I have rejected him. For the LORD sees not as man sees: man looks on the outward appearance, but the LORD looks on the heart.
(ESV)

A person's faith will produce deeds. It's the faith in Jesus Christ that a person is justified by "apart from" any corresponding works. So long as a person has the right faith, they are justified irrespective of whatever prior works they had:

Romans 3:28 - For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. (ESV)

Ezekiel 18:27-28 - Again, when a wicked person turns away from the wickedness he has committed and does what is just and right, he shall save his life. Because he considered and turned away from all the transgressions that he had committed, he shall surely live; he shall not die. (ESV)

If a person doesn't have faith in God, then they are not justified irrespective of whatever prior works they had:

Ezekiel 18:26 - When a righteous person turns away from his righteousness and does injustice, he shall die for it; for the injustice that he has done he shall die. (ESV)

God wants us to continue in faith:

Hebrews 10:37-39 - For, Yet a little while, and the coming one will come and will not delay; _but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls. (ESV)

A person who doesn't "rely on their works" and who has the good faith will produce good deeds. So a person who is justified by faith has a faith that doesn't feign obedience:

James 1:21-25 - Therefore put away all filthiness and rampant wickedness and receive with meekness the implanted word, which is able to save your souls. But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves. For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks intently at his natural face in a mirror. For he looks at himself and goes away and at once forgets what he was like. But the one who looks into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and perseveres, being no hearer who forgets but a doer who acts, he will be blessed in his doing. (ESV)

We must not be those who rely on being able to execute perfect deeds because then we'd be "under the law". It's not on the basis of works that a person can have the righteous that is through faith in Jesus Christ. It's not on the basis of works. It's on the basis of faith. Remember that faith to works is like spirit to body:

Galatians 3:10 - For as many as are of the works of the Law are under a curse; for it is written, "Cursed is everyone who does not abide by all things written in the book of the law, to perform them." (NASB)

Galatians 3:23 - Now before faith came, we were held captive under the law, imprisoned until the coming faith would be revealed. (ESV)

Romans 9:31-32 - but that Israel who pursued a law that would lead to righteousness did not succeed in reaching that law. Why? Because they did not pursue it by faith, but as if it were based on works. They have stumbled over the stumbling stone, (ESV)

Romans 11:6-7 - But if it is by grace, it is no longer on the basis of works; otherwise grace would no longer be grace. What then? Israel failed to obtain what it was seeking. The elect obtained it, but the rest were hardened, (ESV)

And a born-again Christian is given a new heart and a new spirit but still lugs around the flesh until they receive their new resurrection body. A person is "born of woman" first (they receive the flesh), then they are born of the spirit and receive a new spirit from God, then what is sown is flesh, and what is raised is a spiritual body. They receive the resurrection body after the flesh dies. So it's the natural first, then the spiritual:

I Corinthians 15:42-48 - So is it with the resurrection of the dead. What is sown is perishable; what is raised is imperishable. It is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness; it is raised in power. It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body. Thus it is written, The first man Adam became a living being; the last Adam became a life-giving spirit. But it is not the spiritual that is first but the natural, and then the spiritual. The first man was from the earth, a man of dust; the second man is from heaven. As was the man of dust, so also are those who are of the dust, and as is the man of heaven, so also are those who are of heaven.

More harassing, demonic dreams today. I went to bed asking God the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, Yahweh, Jehovah, God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, Most High God, that He would protect me in my sleep. I had also asked God to testify of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit to me.

I was still attacked by demons all through the night and was not given the testimony. I was woken up about 4 or 5 times during the night and this morning to demonic dreams. LGBT related dreams. Something invading my mind to push lying, harassing thoughts and dreams into my head. It's disgusting stuff. I rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name.

I love the parents of my flesh. They have been amazing:

Hebrews 12:9 - Besides this, we have had earthly fathers who disciplined us and we respected them. Shall we not much more be subject to the Father of spirits and live? (ESV)

But I've been born-again, and I'm resisting the pressure that has been applied on me to walk as I used to walk, with the mindset of the former self:

Ephesians 4:17-27 - Now this I say and testify in the Lord, that you must no longer walk as the Gentiles do, in the futility of their minds. They are darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, due to their hardness of heart. They have become callous and have given themselves up to sensuality, greedy to practice every kind of impurity. But that is not the way you learned Christ!— assuming that you have heard about him and were taught in him, as the truth is in Jesus, to put off your old self, which belongs to your former manner of life and is corrupt through deceitful desires, and to be renewed in the spirit of your minds, and to put on the new self, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness. Therefore, having put away falsehood, let each one of you speak the truth with his neighbor, for we are members one of another. Be angry and do not sin; do not let the sun go down on your anger, and give no opportunity to the devil. (ESV)

Matthew 23:9 - And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. (ESV)

I'm born-again. If I was employed and earning money then I'd be able to help more people.

I love them but I don't like the sparring / the friction that there is when me an unmarried person who is trying to walk by the spirit and set my mind on heavenly things is having arguments with the parents of my flesh. I'm not saying that they are "not Christians". When I am say invited by the father of my flesh to work with him, I'm thinking "I must be about my Father's business." rather than the business of the father of my flesh. I'm a born-again person with a new identity with God as my Father and Jesus Christ as my elder brother.

Luke 2:49-50 - And he said to them, Why were you looking for me? Did you not know that I must be in my Father's house? And they did not understand the saying that he spoke to them. (ESV)

Matthew 23:9 - And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. (ESV)

Luke 12:51-53 - Do you think that I have come to give peace on earth? No, I tell you, but rather division. For from now on in one house there will be five divided, three against two and two against three. They will be divided, father against son and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother, mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against mother-in-law. (ESV)

Romans 8:5-8 - For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. To set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God's law; indeed, it cannot. Those who are in the flesh cannot please God. (ESV)

I Corinthians 7:26-35 - I think that in view of the present distress it is good for a person to remain as he is. Are you bound to a wife? Do not seek to be free. Are you free from a wife? Do not seek a wife. But if you do marry, you have not sinned, and if a betrothed woman marries, she has not sinned. Yet those who marry will have worldly troubles, and I would spare you that. This is what I mean, brothers: the appointed time has grown very short. From now on, let those who have wives live as though they had none, and those who mourn as though they were not mourning, and those who rejoice as though they were not rejoicing, and those who buy as though they had no goods, and those who deal with the world as though they had no dealings with it. For the present form of this world is passing away. I want you to be free from anxieties. The unmarried man is anxious about the things of the Lord, how to please the Lord. But the married man is anxious about worldly things, how to please his wife, and his interests are divided. And the unmarried or betrothed woman is anxious about the things of the Lord, how to be holy in body and spirit. But the married woman is anxious about worldly things, how to please her husband. I say this for your own benefit, not to lay any restraint upon you, but to promote good order and to secure your undivided devotion to the Lord. (ESV)

Jesus Christ, help me.

I'm sick of having the promised testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit withheld from me as I submit to Jesus and resist the devil.

Journal <2026-03-22 Sun> The last 2 days I have been more successful at resisting sin. Praise God.

I'm sick of being given what is not due for my faith.

Father God, help me.

Clean me, deliver me from evil and set me free from this prison of circumstance, please God.

Ephesians 4:20-28 - But that is not the way you learned Christ!—assuming that you have heard about him and were taught in him, as the truth is in Jesus, to put off your old self, which belongs to your former manner of life and is corrupt through deceitful desires, and to be renewed in the spirit of your minds, and to put on the new self, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness. Therefore, having put away falsehood, let each one of you speak the truth with his neighbor, for we are members one of another. Be angry and do not sin; do not let the sun go down on your anger, and give no opportunity to the devil. Let the thief no longer steal, but rather let him labor, doing honest work with his own hands, so that he may have something to share with anyone in need. (ESV)

II Timothy 2:22-26 - So flee youthful passions and pursue righteousness, faith, love, and peace, along with those who call on the Lord from a pure heart. Have nothing to do with foolish, ignorant controversies; you know that they breed quarrels. And the Lord's servant must not be quarrelsome but kind to everyone, able to teach, patiently enduring evil, correcting his opponents with gentleness. God may perhaps grant them repentance leading to a knowledge of the truth, and they may escape from the snare of the devil, after being captured by him to do his will. (ESV)

II Corinthians 2:9-11 - For this is why I wrote, that I might test you and know whether you are obedient in everything. Anyone whom you forgive, I also forgive. What I have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, has been for your sake in the presence of Christ, so that we would not be outwitted by Satan; for we are not ignorant of his designs. (ESV)

I Timothy 3:6-9 - He must not be a recent convert, or he may become puffed up with conceit and fall into the condemnation of the devil. Moreover, he must be well thought of by outsiders, so that he may not fall into disgrace, into a snare of the devil. Deacons likewise must be dignified, not double-tongued, not addicted to much wine, not greedy for dishonest gain. They must hold the mystery of the faith with a clear conscience. (ESV)

I Timothy 6:6-12 - Now there is great gain in godliness with contentment, for we brought nothing into the world, and we cannot take anything out of the world. But if we have food and clothing, with these we will be content. But those who desire to be rich fall into temptation, into a snare, into many senseless and harmful desires that plunge people into ruin and destruction. For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evils. It is through this craving that some have wandered away from the faith and pierced themselves with many pangs. But as for you, O man of God, flee these things. Pursue righteousness, godliness, faith, love, steadfastness, gentleness. Fight the good fight of the faith. Take hold of the eternal life to which you were called and about which you made the good confession in the presence of many witnesses. (ESV)

Proverbs 14:26-27 - In the fear of the LORD one has strong confidence, and his children will have a refuge. The fear of the LORD is a fountain of life, that one may turn away from the snares of death. (ESV)

If a person is faithful with what they already have (not just with money but with how they treat their neighbour, say, or what they do with a knowledge of the word of God) then God may entrust them with stewardship. But if a person seeks and treasures the earthly goods/possessions more than God or more than seeking to please God, then that would be an evil, earthly-minded endeavour that wouldn't be blessed by God. Rather we should "seek first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness" (Matthew 6:31-33) and "God knows what we need before we ask" (Matthew 6:8-15) and will provide us with what we need.

Luke 16:11-12 - If then you have not been faithful in the unrighteous wealth, who will entrust to you the true riches? And if you have not been faithful in that which is another's, who will give you that which is your own?

I Timothy 6:9-10 - But those who desire to be rich fall into temptation, into a snare, into many senseless and harmful desires that plunge people into ruin and destruction. For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evils. It is through this craving that some have wandered away from the faith and pierced themselves with many pangs. (ESV)

Matthew 6:8-15 - Do not be like them, for your Father knows what you need before you ask him. Pray then like this: Our Father in heaven, hallowed be your name. Your kingdom come, your will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For if you forgive others their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you, but if you do not forgive others their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses. (ESV)

Matthew 6:31-33 - Therefore do not be anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or What shall we drink? or What shall we wear? For the Gentiles seek after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them all. But seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things will be added to you. (ESV)

I don't think it's necessarily wrong that people would want to secure a job or save money to "attract a wife" but if it meant committing evil in order to get there then that is wrong.

In Jesus Christ's Mighty Name I rebuke forever the spirit that puts earthly employment or "money" as a prerequisite for marriage, and tries to push that evil onto me. May that devil spirit be crushed under my feet and may God bury it in hell. I forgive and do not condemn the people who I have heard try to push that lie onto me, but I desire that people stop propagating that lie and oppressing me with it.

I Corinthians 9:5-9 - Do we not have the right to take along a believing wife, as do the other apostles and the brothers of the Lord and Cephas? Or is it only Barnabas and I who have no right to refrain from working for a living? Who serves as a soldier at his own expense? Who plants a vineyard without eating any of its fruit? Or who tends a flock without getting some of the milk? Do I say these things on human authority? Does not the Law say the same? For it is written in the Law of Moses, You shall not muzzle an ox when it treads out the grain. Is it for oxen that God is concerned?

What we ought to do the correct way to think is, from the love of God be a good steward of what we've already received of God, and then God will then take care of our needs. I ask God for repentance to those who have been ensnared by the Satan's lies into doing his will.

II Timothy 2:24-26 - And the Lord's servant must not be quarrelsome but kind to everyone, able to teach, patiently enduring evil, correcting his opponents with gentleness. God may perhaps grant them repentance leading to a knowledge of the truth, and they may escape from the snare of the devil, after being captured by him to do his will. (ESV)

Let me explain where that devilish lie is. This is the lie: "If you want to get married, you need to have a job (earthly employment) or money."

I rebuke and condemn this lie in Jesus Christ's name. I rebuke it forever and if I ever hear it from someone then I will rebuke them to their face and may God forgive them and grant them repentance.

I have decided to not condemn those who have been deceived by that lie. But I do rebuke the lie and want people to be corrected. But I do condemn the lie itself. After all, the sin is condemned. I want people to be sanctified.

Romans 8:1-7 - There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. To set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God's law; indeed, it cannot. (ESV)

In Ephesians 4:20-32, we are instructed to do "honest work with his own hands, so that he may have something to share with anyone in need." And what matters is the willingness to work (2 Thessalonians 3:8-10), not whether or not a person is given work, but the "willingness". If a person is denied work, that is not grounds to then deny them food. If a person is denied work, that is not grounds to deny marriage. It's never OK to lie and tell someone they must "have a job" before they are allowed to marry. God owns the institution of married. It was set up by God and before money existed. God said that it is not good for man to be alone.

Genesis 2:18 - Then the LORD God said, It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him a helper fit for him. (ESV)

Our commitment to the Lord Jesus Christ comes first, and we must love our family in Christ.

Unrighteous people heap up money for themselves and don't give it to their brother in need:

Job 27:16-17 - Though he heap up silver like dust, and pile up clothing like clay, he may pile it up, but the righteous will wear it, and the innocent will divide the silver. (ESV)

An unrighteous person might save up money and withhold it from their family in need because they would prefer to get married than to love their family in Christ. To do so would be lawlessness. It would be unloving and evil to let family in Christ suffer when you have the ability to supply them what they need, in order to save up money to get a wife. It's so dishonouring of God to be so unloving and evil that one would covet "having a wife" to the point of letting the people around you suffer, particularly if they profess Christ as their Saviour.

Righteous people give the world's goods to their brother in need of them, to their neighbour:

I John 3:17 - But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? (ESV)

If a person has no money because they are doing as Christ said, they still have a right to take a believing wife! A wife is a gift from God. God instituted marriage. A person does not need earthly goods to be allowed to marry. But that doesn't mean a person can marry whoever they want. If a person says that you need a job or a house or the world's goods in order to take a wife then they are lying or deceived.

If someone says, "A woman deserves to get married to a person who will be able to take care of them?" then you can respond to them, "Yahweh owns everything and God delights in the welfare of His servant, and the whole duty of man is to fear God and keep His commandments and God thinks it's not good for man to be alone." I believe there is zero correlation between a man's right to take a wife and the amount of money he has.

Is it not those who are rich with worldly possessions who lay up riches on themselves like clothing, like dust, and oppress the poor, and try to control them through controlling "employment"?

James 2:6 - But you have dishonored the poor man. Are not the rich the ones who oppress you, and the ones who drag you into court? (ESV)

The money belongs to God and for giving to the poor. Let no-one tell you it is against Christ's teachings to give to the poor. If someone wants to and would if he had the world's goods leave an inheritance to his children and children's children, that is enough. (II Corinthians 8:1-10):

Proverbs 13:22 - A good man leaves an inheritance to his children's children, but the sinner's wealth is laid up for the righteous. (ESV)

Proverbs 3:27 - Do not withhold good from those to whom it is due, when it is in your power to do it. (ESV)

Proverbs 28:8 - Whoever multiplies his wealth by interest and profit gathers it for him who is generous to the poor. (ESV)

If anyone disagrees with what Jesus says in Matt 19:21, then they are exercising a distrust of Jesus Christ. Rebuke and correct them when they lie and speak contrary to Jesus that they might stop doing the will of Satan by propagating Satan's lies:

Matthew 19:21 - Jesus said to him, If you would be perfect, go, sell what you possess and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me. (ESV)

Consider that for these midwives who feared God (did not want to sin against God), and who preserved existing life, God granted them families. I'm going to make the point that if someone "saves their money" while consciously withholding helping someone in need knowing they could've helped them when it was in their power, but in order to attract a woman or because they believe they need the money (trusting in money rather than in God) to be allowed to take a wife at all, then why would God give a family to someone to someone who can't be trusted with taking care of existing life? On the other hand, if God, testing His servant, saw that they valued the life of their neighbour and family in Christ, then isn't that the type of person God would grant to have a family?

Exodus 1:17 - But the midwives feared God and did not do as the king of Egypt commanded them, but let the male children live. (ESV)

Exodus 1:21 - And because the midwives feared God, he gave them families. (ESV)

So a person should serve God faithfully and God will take care of their needs:

Matthew 6:30-33 - But if God so clothes the grass of the field, which today is alive and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, will he not much more clothe you, O you of little faith? Therefore do not be anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or What shall we drink? or What shall we wear? For the Gentiles seek after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them all. But seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things will be added to you. (ESV)

I Corinthians 11:7 - For a man ought not to cover his head, since he is the image and glory of God, but woman is the glory of man. (ESV)

OK, so Abraham was rich, but He was also a servant of God. God delights in the welfare of His servant (Psalms 35:27). So if a person is a good steward of God's belongings (and the whole earth belongs to God), then God delights in their welfare, for that person is like the innkeeper in the story of the "good Samaritan". It's clear that Abraham did not receive the King of Sodom's gifts because he wanted God to get all the glory (Genesis 14:21-23). And Abraham did not covet the gifts of God (including his only begotten son Isaac) more than God Himself, and Abraham even tithed. It's clear that Abraham was a servant of God, and also prosperous. So if a person is actually maintaining their faith in God in reality and opportunistically choosing to keep Jesus Christ's teachings including "giving to the one who begs from you", for example, then they can be trusted with prosperity/welfare (not necessarily money). But if a person commits sin by neglecting their family in Christ's needs or their neighbour's needs (that person who is also made in the image of God) and instead decides to put their trust in man's strength and invest in something like bitcoin, gambling the money, and walking past the person who needed their immediate help, and so that they can "have enough money" to get married, say, then that would be a very sinful and unfaithful deed to commit. It would be similar to Abraham sleeping with Hagar (i.e. trusting in man's strength) to get what you want. The whole duty of man is to "fear God and keep His commandments" and if a person is doing then God will take care of the rest:

Psalms 35:27 - Let those who delight in my righteousness shout for joy and be glad and say evermore, Great is the LORD, who delights in the welfare of his servant! (ESV)

Psalms 24:1 - The earth is the LORD's and the fullness thereof, the world and those who dwell therein, (ESV)

Matthew 6:30-33 - But if God so clothes the grass of the field, which today is alive and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, will he not much more clothe you, O you of little faith? Therefore do not be anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or What shall we drink? or What shall we wear? For the Gentiles seek after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them all. But seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things will be added to you. (ESV)

Luke 16:10-13 - One who is faithful in a very little is also faithful in much, and one who is dishonest in a very little is also dishonest in much. If then you have not been faithful in the unrighteous wealth, who will entrust to you the true riches? And if you have not been faithful in that which is another's, who will give you that which is your own? No servant can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money. (ESV)

I Timothy 4:1-3 - Now the Spirit expressly says that in later times some will depart from the faith by devoting themselves to deceitful spirits and teachings of demons, through the insincerity of liars whose consciences are seared, who forbid marriage and require abstinence from foods that God created to be received with thanksgiving by those who believe and know the truth. (ESV)

And while I'm at it, on a different but related note (related because I feel oppressed by it); What has happened with Big Tech stealing from people their intellectual property in order to build their generative AI models is evil. My ability to work as a programmer has been severely impaired by the proliferation of stolen goods. Asking people if they consent to using something does not make it OK if what it is has been stolen. Downloading copyrighted material, in order to train AI systems results in an AI system that belongs to the people who's work went into training it. As someone who doesn't want to steal, it's much harder now for me to get a job as a programmer because of the proliferation of AI systems based on theft which I don't want to touch because I'm a Christian and as a Christian who endeavours to abide in the teachings of Christ and of His Apostles, I do not want to steal.

Ephesians 4:20-32 - But that is not the way you learned Christ!—assuming that you have heard about him and were taught in him, as the truth is in Jesus, to put off your old self, which belongs to your former manner of life and is corrupt through deceitful desires, and to be renewed in the spirit of your minds, and to put on the new self, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness. Therefore, having put away falsehood, let each one of you speak the truth with his neighbor, for we are members one of another. Be angry and do not sin; do not let the sun go down on your anger, and give no opportunity to the devil. Let the thief no longer steal, but rather let him labor, doing honest work with his own hands, so that he may have something to share with anyone in need. Let no corrupting talk come out of your mouths, but only such as is good for building up, as fits the occasion, that it may give grace to those who hear. And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, by whom you were sealed for the day of redemption. Let all bitterness and wrath and anger and clamor and slander be put away from you, along with all malice. Be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, as God in Christ forgave you. (ESV)

I have to quiet the noise and shama. Hear the voice of the provider. Hear, oh Israel, the Lord is one. He is the source. When I truly hear that God is my provider, the desire to steal begins to wither. I don't need to steal. Wow. My heavenly father owns the cattle of a thousand hills. Why would I take what isn't mine when I am the heir to the king? Do you see the difference? The western lens produces restraint (I really want to take it, but I don't. I won't.). The Hebrew lens produces alignment. I have heard who God is, so I no longer want to take it.

One is forced (feigned) compliance (Psalms 81:15). The other is natural response. This applies to everything.

Think about anxiety. The command to do not be anxious. Western lens: "Stop worrying. It's a sin to worry. Fix your brain." Hebrew lens: Hear who holds the future. Listen to his sovereignty. If you're anxious, it's because you are listening to the storm louder than the Shepherd.

youtube.com: Post from Truth is Christ I commented, Proverbs 30:5-6 - Every word of God is flawless; He is a shield to those who take refuge in Him. Do not add to His words, lest He rebuke you and prove you a liar. (engbsb2020eb)

II Thessalonians 3:10 - For even when we were with you, we would give you this command: If anyone is not willing (G2309 thelei; is willing) to work, let him not eat. (ESV)

II Thessalonians 3:10 - For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat. (KJV)

II Thessalonians 3:10 - For even when we were with you, we commanded you this: If anyone will not work, neither shall he eat. (NKJV)

What about the disabled person who can no longer work, or the person who cannot continue working in their profession, or for Paul who said "who is a soldier at his own expense"? Would a person deprive them also of food because they will not work? The best translation for II Th 3:10 out of the 3 I represented I believe is the ESV and that is because even if the original intent of the people who translated the Scripture into the KJV was to convey a willingness to work rather than currently working to earn, people these days read it through the lens of modern English. The NKJV seems less accurate than the KJV because at least the KJV can be understood to mean "would if they could", because it says "if any would not work", but the NKJV says "will not work" and that could be mistakenly understood as a "works-based" reliance on the success of their own work (or completing works successfully) lest they be not allowed to eat rather than "faith-based" 'the precept is good' and I want to do what God wants me to do.

A person has the right to eat if they are willing to work. It's wrong withhold food from someone strictly on the basis of them not having a job because they might want a job but not be allowed one.

Ephesians 4:28 - Let the thief no longer steal, but rather let him labor, doing honest work with his own hands, so that he may have something to share with anyone in need. (ESV)

The original meaning of the Scripture (what God intended to convey) is the Truth. When I want accuracy, I look into the Greek, and I also try to be a "doer" of the word, maintaining faith and love for the truth, and being amenable to correction from Christ because the Holy Spirit teaches those who are abiding in Jesus' teachings.

So if a person would work employment to earn in order to contribute if they could, but can't because they're unable to because they're prevented from working for some reason, then it's wrong to prohibit that person from eating on the basis of II Thes 3:10. And that's where in this verse, I think the KJV does not accurately convey the intended meaning of the Scripture in modern English.

Any type of obedience that doesn't come from the love of the truth is feigned and not real obedience:

Psalms 81:15 - Those who hate the LORD would feign obedience, and their doom would last forever. (engbsb2020eb)

John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

Luke 6:45 - The good person out of the good treasure of his heart produces good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure produces evil, for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks. (ESV)

2.185 Journal <2026-03-25 Wed>

Received a large set of demonic dreams this morning which I will not repeat. Also, I have not received yet in the way of a dream or a spoken word to me, the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit.

I went online today to look for work and am depressed by the almost complete absence of jobs in the city where I reside (as promoted through one source), asides from one from a food company which I would rather not work for because it involves promoting very unhealthy food.

I found something else as I continued looking and applied for a job just then, not a job in promoting unhealthy food but as a sales person for a shop that sells hiking-related stuff. See, that's something I'd be happy to do. And I have applied for it.

I want to promote Jesus or promote the love of Jesus in good conscience. Is it too much for God to allow me to work where I feel good about the type of work I'm doing, rather than making me feign obedience to Him? Is it too much to ask for God to provide opportunity at all for me to be able to work to receive honest pay with a good conscience? Please, Yahweh, Father God, stop allowing me to be attacked by demons. Stop allowing Satan to attack me. I rebuke the Satanic oppression in Jesus Christ's name. For some reason I have been denied employment that aligns with my moral convictions. Please God help me.

Going back to what I'd said on <2025-10-25 Sat>, "It feels like someone above has been running the Large Hadron Collider but with people's souls and that's a demented experiment."

Also very evil though, is I think is making it so a person is unable to live like a human being anymore, and part of that would be denying marriage (making it impossible for people to marry). But I would also include along with that, making it so people are subservient to or pressured into supplicating to chatbots. Human beings should be allowed to worship Father God in spirit and in truth, in reality, and when people put pressure on others to not be able to live as God designed to live then that is evil.

What happens to a person who is unable to marry (i.e. a man who is unable to a woman to be his wife) who has a boss that is a chatbot, who has to pretend that a chatbot is a real person, and supplicate to chatbots and forced to do work that is against his moral convictions? What about adding more and more pressure in various other ways which pressure them to think and act not in the way God designed them? It sounds like a recipe on how to destroy someone, or at least a catalyst for it.

We are instructed to not obey the "flesh", and to submit to and obey Christ rather than self-made religion (religious teachings that aren't helpful in reality):

Colossians 2:20-23 - If with Christ you died to the elemental spirits of the world, why, as if you were still alive in the world, do you submit to regulations— Do not handle, Do not taste, Do not touch (referring to things that all perish as they are used)—according to human precepts and teachings? These have indeed an appearance of wisdom in promoting self-made religion and asceticism and severity to the body, but they are of no value in stopping the indulgence of the flesh. (ESV)

Now I'm not saying a person's soul is destructible like an atom by external pressure alone. But pressure can come from one's circumstances (Acts 2:27, I Corinthians 15:33) if united by "giving in to it", allowing oneself to indulge in it (I Corinthians 10:8, II Peter 2:10, Jude 1:7, James 5:5, Colossians 2:23). A Christian should be submitting to God, desiring God, desiring to not sin, and resisting the devil (James 4:7), resisting temptation.

Resisting the devil involves desiring God, because we don't want to desire sin.

James 1:13-15 - Let no one say when he is tempted, I am being tempted by God, for God cannot be tempted with evil, and he himself tempts no one. But each person is tempted when he is lured and enticed by his own desire. Then desire when it has conceived gives birth to sin, and sin when it is fully grown brings forth death. (ESV)

Jesus is clear that what defiles a person comes from within (i.e. willful sin).

Matthew 15:18 - But what comes out of the mouth proceeds from the heart, and this defiles a person. (ESV)

I know God can destroy the soul in hell (Matthew 10:28). But for a person to be forced into a situation where it's not possible to marry and where they are told to build idols made of software and from stolen property... it feels very soul crushing. It's a hellish existence figuratively speaking - maybe like the Israelites under Pharaoh.

2.187 Journal <2026-03-27 Fri>

Lots of demonic dreams waking me up in the morning. I rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name. Strange stuff going on. No-one is giving me the testimony that Jesus Christ has come [into the world, from God] in the flesh (in flesh and blood). How interesting. I think that it's the spirit of antichrist at work that is causing this. I've also been deprived of, denied work in a similar way to the way in which people just do not give me the testimony that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh. Also, God Himself has been withholding the testimony which He has promised to give me, at least it seems that way. I expect for Yahweh to fix this situation. Jesus Christ made a promise here that I don't want Him to break. As it is right now, I feel that promise being broken day by day as I ask Him day by day to hear this testimony. As far as I understand, Holy Spirit should have already testified of Jesus Christ to me:

I John 4:1-3 - Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses (G3670 homologeó, confesses, acknowledges, agrees) that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess (G3670 homologeó, confess, acknowledge, agree with) Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

John 15:26-27 - But when the Helper comes, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth, who proceeds from the Father, he will bear witness about me. And you also will bear witness, because you have been with me from the beginning. (ESV)

Luke 11:13 - If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will the heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him! (ESV)

2.188 Journal <2026-03-28 Sat>

No man on earth is my father (Matthew 23:9). Amen. God Himself, the Father of the Lord Jesus Christ, is my Father. God is who I call upon as my Father.

Yet, I'm still bound by circumstance in this household of the people who used to be (Hebrews 12:9) my parents before I was born-again of the spirit on 2 April 2022.

Luke 4:24 - And he said, Truly, I say to you, no prophet is acceptable in his hometown. (ESV)

Matthew 13:57 - And they took offense at him. But Jesus said to them, A prophet is not without honor except in his hometown and in his own household. (ESV)

John 4:43-44 - After the two days he departed for Galilee. (For Jesus himself had testified that a prophet has no honor in his own hometown.) (ESV)

Mark 6:4-5 - And Jesus said to them, A prophet is not without honor, except in his hometown and among his relatives and in his own household. And he could do no mighty work there, except that he laid his hands on a few sick people and healed them. (ESV)

I want to be liberated from this household of the parents of my flesh because I do not want to confess or affirm falsehoods, and I'm sick and tired of being ensnared into situations such as what has happened today almost first thing in the morning where I was unable to return a call and the man who was my father before I was born-again said, "This is Shane's dad."

Luke 8:21 - But he answered them, My mother and my brothers are those who hear the word of God and do it. (ESV)

Luke 12:8-9 - And I tell you, everyone who acknowledges me before men, the Son of Man also will acknowledge before the angels of God, but the one who denies me before men will be denied before the angels of God. (ESV)

I'm sick of this 'graceless' situation that I am in. I have not heard assurance from God that His grace which He has given is sufficient for me. If what I've received is sufficient for me then it's only sufficient to "do the will of God" no matter how unbearable it is. It could be excruciating, but what grace God has given me may be enough for me to not become a "disbeliever", but only just enough because my life is unbearable. Thinking about my present situation makes me angry at God that He would allow seconds to continue going by while not delivering me. But I know that God grants more grace. In asking God for grace, I'd be asking God for "some grace" (as if I haven't even received any grace) because I feel as though I have received no grace. I know I've been born-again and received grace, but I sometimes question whether what I'm feeling is what "being under condemnation" feels like (like some inescapable prison). I don't think I have received sufficient grace at all. So I complain:

II Corinthians 12:8-9 - Three times I pleaded with the Lord about this, that it should leave me. But he said to me, My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness. Therefore I will boast all the more gladly of my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may rest upon me. (ESV)

I feel like I've been trapped in some sort of satanic snare. I have tried to be obedient to Christ in everything (without feigning) and giving Jesus Christ the benefit of the doubt:

II Corinthians 2:9-11 - For this is why I wrote, that I might test you and know whether you are obedient in everything. Anyone whom you forgive, I also forgive. What I have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, has been for your sake in the presence of Christ, so that we would not be outwitted by Satan; for we are not ignorant of his designs. (ESV)

I've been unable to work or marry and I've been receiving demonic dreams while having the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit withheld from me. I rebuke the demonic oppression in Jesus Christ's name. I want to be set free immediately in Jesus Christ's name.

I still have not yet received the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit.

God continues to allow me to receive demonic dreams. I recall getting several of these demonic dreams. One was lewd, one was Islamic, one was violent. I think I also recall a Mormon dream. There were more of them. I rebuke the demonic dreams in Jesus Christ's name, and I rebuke the demons behind them in Jesus Christ's name.

My profession has been robbed, along with many other people's professions. I pray that God purges the world of large AI models which have so clearly been built upon stolen property, and then pushed onto society. It's truly disgusting stuff witnessing unrestrained lawlessness.

I don't want to be here in this world anymore.

It's not OK to make AI systems based on stolen property, circumventing licenses, and try to sell services couldn't exist without stealing from people, and then on top of that, sell it back to the people it was stolen from. If the training material has not been lawfully obtained for the training then what was trained is based on stolen property and it cannot be lawfully distributed or used as a service.

Devaluing and exploiting and replacing humans with AI stuff is evil.

The proliferation of AI systems based on theft and the endorsement of their usage is so evil. May God not force me to stay here in this hell on earth. I just feel like it's practically impossible to live for me who wants to live a godly life in Christ Jesus.

Coercing programmers to use AI models based on stolen goods in order to be employable is what has happened. What has happened would be worse than "coercing all people everywhere in the world, even vegans, to eat meat by filling the supermarkets with meat-based vege-imitation alternatives, and removing all the real veges". It's worse because it's not just violating people's moral conviction or preference, but it's trying to force people to accept what is inherently evil as acceptable.

I don't want to hope in it at all. I want it to stop.

The reason why this abomination exists is because greed and godless idolatry has led to theft. When a person downloads software that contains a license on how to use that software, and an AI system saves the source code in artificial neurons rather than in sequential text, they're still saving the source code in a different format.

There was no unanimous consent from all of everyone's individual works (writing, coding, artworks, etc.) used to build the AI models which directly compete back against them and against their work.

The vim license, for example, has been clearly violated:

- <https://github.com/vim/vim/blob/master/LICENSE>

Indulging on stolen property to write software is not OK, so I don't join them in doing that. They need to give account to the Judge:

I Peter 4:1-5 - Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh, arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. The time that is past suffices for doing what the Gentiles want to do, living in sensuality, passions, drunkenness, orgies, drinking parties, and lawless idolatry. With respect to this they are surprised when you do not join them in the same flood of debauchery, and they malign you; but they will give account to him who is ready to judge the living and the dead. (ESV)

1  VIM LICENSE
3  I)  There are no restrictions on distributing unmodified copies of Vim except 4      that they must include this license text.  You can also distribute 5      unmodified parts of Vim, likewise unrestricted except that they must 6      include this license text.  You are also allowed to include executables
7      that you made from the unmodified Vim sources, plus your own usage
8      examples and Vim scripts.
9
10 II) It is allowed to distribute a modified (or extended) version of Vim, 11     including executables and/or source code, when the following four 12     conditions are met:
13     1) This license text must be included unmodified.
14     2) The modified Vim must be distributed in one of the following five ways:
15         a) If you make changes to Vim yourself, you must clearly describe in 16            the distribution how to contact you.  When the maintainer asks you
17            (in any way) for a copy of the modified Vim you distributed, you 18            must make your changes, including source code, available to the
```

19 maintainer without fee. The maintainer reserves the right to 20 include your changes in the official version of Vim. What the 21 maintainer will do with your changes and under what license they 22 will be distributed is negotiable. If there has been no negotiation 23 then this license, or a later version, also applies to your changes.
24 The current maintainers are listed here: <https://github.com/orgs/vim/people>.
25 If this changes it will be announced in appropriate places (most likely 26 vim.sf.net, www.vim.org and/or comp.editors). When it is completely 27 impossible to contact the maintainer, the obligation to send him 28 your changes ceases. Once the maintainer has confirmed that he has 29 received your changes they will not have to be sent again.

30 b) If you have received a modified Vim that was distributed as 31 mentioned under a) you are allowed to further distribute it 32 unmodified, as mentioned at I). If you make additional changes the 33 text under a) applies to those changes.

34 c) Provide all the changes, including source code, with every copy of 35 the modified Vim you distribute. This may be done in the form of a 36 context diff. You can choose what license to use for new code you 37 add. The changes and their license must not restrict others from 38 making their own changes to the official version of Vim.

39 d) When you have a modified Vim which includes changes as mentioned 40 under c), you can distribute it without the source code for the 41 changes if the following three conditions are met:

- 42 - The license that applies to the changes permits you to distribute 43 the changes to the Vim maintainer without fee or restriction, and 44 permits the Vim maintainer to include the changes in the official 45 version of Vim without fee or restriction.
- 46 - You keep the changes for at least three years after last 47 distributing the corresponding modified Vim. When the maintainer 48 or someone who you distributed the modified Vim to asks you (in 49 any way) for the changes within this period, you must make them 50 available to him.
- 51 - You clearly describe in the distribution how to contact you. This 52 contact information must remain valid for at least three years
53 after last distributing the corresponding modified Vim, or as long 54 as possible.

55 e) When the GNU General Public License (GPL) applies to the changes, 56 you can distribute the modified Vim under the GNU GPL version 2 or 57 any later version.

58 3) A message must be added, at least in the output of the ":version"

59      command and in the intro screen, such that the user of the modified Vim
60      is able to see that it was modified. When distributing as mentioned 61      under 2)e) adding the message is only required for as far as this does 62      not conflict with the license used for the changes.
63      4) The contact information as required under 2)a) and 2)d) must not be 64      removed or changed, except that the person himself can make 65      corrections.
66
67      III) If you distribute a modified version of Vim, you are encouraged to use 68      the Vim license for your changes and make them available to the 69      maintainer, including the source code. The preferred way to do this is 70      by e-mail or by uploading the files to a server and e-mailing the URL.
71      If the number of changes is small (e.g., a modified Makefile) e-mailing a 72      context diff will do. The e-mail address to be used is 73      <maintainer@vim.org>
74
75      IV) It is not allowed to remove this license from the distribution of the Vim
76      sources, parts of it or from a modified version. You may use this 77      license for previous Vim releases instead of the license that they came 78      with, at your option.

2.189 Journal <2026-03-30 Mon>

Got attacked by demons last night. There was no testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit by a word to my heart through any "dream", "vision" or "voice".

I was awoken to erection and arousal. Sadly I gave into it.

There was a dream of Tony Hawk Pro Skater music - a "worldly" dream. There was a conversation of me evangelising to someone depicted as my older brother of the flesh, saying some things I probably would say, actually. But I didn't care to record what was said. It felt as though I was actually speaking to them my thoughts though. This one might be not demonic, but I do not know.

There was a voice of saying, "he is clearly a Presbyterian". That's just a religious demon, I think. And there was a very faint dream of a catholic priest getting angry at me. And another fleeting picture of someone saying something like, "You're killing my sheep."

There was a picture of the name "Jesus" as a Starcraft II player, but just having Jesus' name appear doesn't mean it's from God.

There was a dream of someone telling me that God wants us to stay in this world. At this point of enduring demonic harassment, anything that doesn't come with the testimony of Jesus Christ, I cannot trust.

There were several others which I do not remember. Testing the spirits, I did not hear the testimony that Jesus Christ has come into the world in the flesh.

I was woken up to demonic harassment many times last night. After the sun came up in the morning, the demonic harassment didn't stop being harassing and unwelcome, but seemed to change its theme to a religious theme, and of worldly things that might make worldly people happy.

As for me it's all just very unwelcome, and in Jesus Christ's name I rebuke every one of those demons which harassed me through the night.

I'm really disappointed in the Lord Jesus Christ for not providing me the testimony of Himself from Holy Spirit. I'm really disappointed in myself too for succumbing to the demonic oppression and masturbating. I have gone a prolonged period of time resisting intense demonic oppression, a week or so I think. Jesus has gone a prolonged period of time resisting giving me his promised testimony.

Demonic harassment is not fun.

I feel very demoralised. I don't want to be here. I mean the demonic harassment that I experience in dreams etc. isn't bad as having the whole earth flooded with chatbots based on stolen property, and the degree of harassment I receive in waking life, but maybe the amount of sleep harassment is an indication of the waking harassment - i.e. a lot of it. Waking harassment is not easy for other people besides myself to see.

I'm really tired.

Jesus Christ help me, Son of God.

Jesus Christ is the only King of His Kingdom. There is only one sovereign ruler, Jesus.

I don't believe in this "Christians are kings" theology. Christians are given authority in Jesus Christ, sure. Christians may sit on Jesus' throne as He sat on His Father's throne, sure. Christians are a Kingdom of priests to our God, sure. Jesus gives us dignity and God values us. But Jesus is the only King of His Kingdom. When a person claims they are a king, they claim they are a sovereign ruler.

Psalms 22:28 - For kingship belongs to the LORD, and he rules over the nations. (ESV)

May God forgive me for giving into masturbation last night after I was awoken to more demonic harassment. I do not actually want to be doing that. But against my will which is simply to sleep peacefully, wake up and act peacefully and in a holy way, I've been attacked by demons that do things like arouse my flesh by some strange means.

Either it's that I need to be cleaned up, or it is an issue with demons messing with my soul. But if I wasn't getting these dreams, or being isolated inside this house of the parents of my flesh, and denied work and marriage, I strongly believe that I would not be doing things like masturbation. I happily go for longer periods of time without doing anything like that and then it seems like demons harass me in my sleep, or during the day, and if I end up masturbating it's almost always just after receiving intense demonic harassment.

And so may Jesus Christ have mercy on my soul and give me the testimony of Himself from Holy Spirit which I have been asking Him from almost daily for years now.

2.190 Journal <2026-03-30 Mon>

Today I listened to a sermon which I appreciated very much.

1 Monday March 30, 2026

2 18:02:31 The Foundations Pulpit: Sunday Evening Service - Dr. H. T. Spence
81:41

Without love for God and His word, a person would feign their obedience, and a person might become bitter and despise God's instruction and then God's instruction would feel legalistic. Even in the New Covenant, we need to love God in order to keep covenant. It's not possible to do what God wants without a love for God. I can see that scripturally, but also believe I know that experientially now.

2.191 Journal <2026-03-30 Mon>

I do not want to remain here in this world that is overrun by this AI garbage. I do not want to remain here in this world for multiple reasons:

- lack of the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit
- demonic harassment
- Christian persecution

I will continue to make my complaint. I hope that Jesus will be faithful to His promise for Holy Spirit to testify of Him to me. I will complain loudly. God must be faithful to His word. I want to hear the testimony and I will continue making my complaint very loud and endeavouring to abide in Jesus' teachings until God gives what He has promised to those who abide in His teachings.

As I lay here, there is an intense ringing in my ears and a general unease over my body. I don't know what it is. I just wish that God would in an instant make it so that I am not under spiritual attack, soul at peace. Alas I am here and feeling under attack, denied rest. I don't understand why He allows this. I've been born-again, I confess Jesus Christ is my Lord and my Saviour, and confess Jesus Christ is the Son of God, I endeavour to keep His commandments, I believe I've received a new spirit and heart that treasures God rather evil. I called out to Jesus when I was born-again. Even before I was born-again I called out to Jesus. I've been denied rest.

2.192 <2026-03-30 Mon 15:16>

More discomfort. Head ringing, and a tightness sensation in my genitals and on my lips etc. God it's disgusting. What is this disgusting thing which has been causing this? Jesus Christ, help me, God. I can't live like this.

2.193 <2026-03-30 Mon 15:28>

Philippians 3:20-21 - But our citizenship is in heaven, and from it we await a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ, who will transform our lowly body to be like his glorious body, by the power that enables him even to subject all things to himself. (ESV)

Amen to Philippians 3:20-21.

2.194 <2026-03-30 Mon 15:58>

As I lay here, I feel something on my lips - it feels like something touching or pushing into my lips, and something also moving my genitals - like blood in my genitals doing something very strange. It doesn't feel normal. And a buzzing in my ears. And my left foot also. It feels like wearing a sock or something. Sometimes it feels like wearing one all the way up my leg. It's disgusting. What on earth is it? Why does it seem to come and go? God help me. And now the lips thing feels "hot". Jesus Christ, I rebuke that damn spirit spouse stuff. I rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name, and command it to go in Jesus Christ's name.

It's things like this which just make me despair. On the one hand, Phil 3:20-20 says that God will transform my lowly body to be like His glorious body (I know that will happen when I get the new resurrection body). But as I am right now, born-again of the spirit inside the old flesh, I am experiencing something that feels as though it's trying to push me into masturbating or something. It's very uncomfortable.

I just want to be clean.

With the ringing in my head and manifestations of spiritual attack having continued long after I began asking God for deliverance from it. . . . I start to despair. It shouldn't even exist once. My soul should be in a restful state. Given no testimony of Jesus, after calling out to Him and being born-again of the spirit and seeking to keep His commandments. It has been difficult how after becoming born-again I've had to engage with so many people who were unrepentant unbelievers, and of various non-Christian religions asking me questions, while I was only a fledging born-again Christian with very little Biblical knowledge and had to learn theology while fend off the devil's lies. The number of situations I have been brought into where I feel like I've seen too much. It's not nice. They're not nice memories to have. What's happened has been very unfair in my opinion.

All I have to do is reflect on what has happened in order to know that I've been treated without mercy. God Almighty.

God can:

Matthew 8:5-13 - When he entered Capernaum, a centurion came forward to him, appealing to him, Lord, my servant is lying paralyzed at home, suffering terribly. And he said to him, I will come and heal him. But the centurion replied, Lord, I am not worthy to have you come under my roof, but only say the word, and my servant will be healed. For I too am a man under authority, with soldiers under me. And I say to one, Go, and he goes, and to another, Come, and he comes, and to my servant, Do this, and he does it. When Jesus heard this, he marveled and said to those who followed him, Truly, I tell you, with no one in Israel have I found such faith. I tell you, many will come from east and west and recline at table with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven, while the sons of the kingdom will be thrown into the outer darkness. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. And to the centurion Jesus said, Go; let it be done for you as you have believed. And the servant was healed at that very moment. (ESV)

From my perspective it seems as though there has been a lot of demonic activity among people I have been interacting with today.

May Jesus Christ clean me and rescue me. I must continue fearing God and keeping His commandments for me. May God deliver me from evil, and deliver me from every evil deed and bring me safely into His Heavenly Kingdom. May God teach me and instruct me and continue to use me. May God deliver from every evil spirit that has been harassing me. May God please give me the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit direct to my heart and deliver me from the spirit of antichrist. I'm tired of the spiritual warfare.

I confess that Jesus Christ is God's Only Begotten Son who has come from God, into the world, in the flesh (word become flesh), and that Jesus died on a tree and rose from the dead and is the one appointed by God to be Judge of the living and the dead.

I have still not heard the testimony of Jesus Christ that "Jesus Christ has come [from God into the world] in the flesh" spoken to me in any way other than through the Scripture. I want to hear it spoken to my heart. I also want to hear it from others (i.e. from men and women).

I am listening to this sermon by Dr. O. Talmadge Spence right now. I think this is good

In Jesus Christ's name, I rebuke every spirit which attacked me this morning to put dreams of young women, etc. into my mind. In Jesus Christ's name I rebuke the sexual defilement spirit which has been causing my genitals to move around in some kind of extremely heightened arousal etc. It's so disgusting. I rebuke the regression spirit in Jesus Christ's name. In Jesus Christ's name, I rebuke the spirit of Islam and the spirit of LGBT which have continued harassing me. I rebuke the spirit of false witness in Jesus Christ's name. I rebuke the spirits of false religion in Jesus Christ's name. In Jesus Christ's name I rebuke whatever demons have been harassing me regarding the marriage proposal and the person I proposed to. I rebuke those demons in Jesus Christ's name. I reneged on that proposal.

Jesus Christ is Lord and He is the Son of God and He died for my sins and He loved me first. I am free from condemnation because I love the Saviour and I believe He came from God. I will be free from sin completely and from every demonic influence.

May Jesus Christ fulfill His promise that Holy Spirit would testify of Him to me. I am very disappointed in the Lord Jesus Christ for continuing to allow me to be harassed by demons. This complaint is going to the throne room of Jesus Christ and of Father God to sit before their feet always and forever until they deliver me.

If God were to speak to me in a dream but not communicate the testimony of Jesus Christ to me from Holy Spirit, then anything said I still cannot trust because I believe that His word must carry this testimony of Jesus Christ or that word is not for me because I will only trust a spirit which makes this testimony that Jesus Christ has come from God in the form of flesh into the world.

This morning among the manifold demonic harassment I had a picture of the open door of a person's house. There was no testimony of Jesus Christ. It's a total write-off. If God were trying to communicate something, He would've testified of Jesus Christ. I'm sick of these demons trying to trick me into thinking this is the voice of the Holy Spirit. It is not. Holy Spirit testifies of Jesus Christ, and these demons which have been harassing me do not do that. I rebuke every one of those demons in Jesus Christ's name. Any spirit which does not confess Jesus is the spirit of antichrist, and that is what that spirit is.

I John 4:2-3 - By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

Polycarp 6:3 For every one who shall not confess (G3670 homologeó) that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is antichrist: and whosoever shall not confess (G3670 homologeó) the testimony of the Cross, is of the devil; and whosoever shall pervert the oracles of the Lord to his own lusts and say that there is neither resurrection nor judgment, that man is the firstborn of Satan.

The most soul-crushing part of my experience (more soul crushing than being denied marriage) is having to endure my tribulations while not hearing the testimony of Jesus Christ which Jesus promised spoken to my heart by Holy Spirit:

Proverbs 18:14 - A man's spirit will endure sickness, but a crushed spirit who can bear? (ESV)

I'm not bitter. I'm not harbouring unforgiveness, and that's what makes this so confusing. I have forgiven and the spiritual attacks have continued. I've just become very weary of being attacked by demons and feeling neglected by God. My complaint will be loud until Jesus gives me the testimony which He promised.

I listened to H T Spence today preach.

I did a little study on temptation.

We can avoid temptation by praying:

Luke 22:46 - and he said to them, Why are you sleeping? Rise and pray that you may not enter into temptation. (ESV) Hebrews 2:18 - For because he himself has suffered when tempted, he is able to help those who are being tempted. (ESV) I Corinthians 10:13 - No temptation has overtaken you that is not common to man. God is faithful, and he will not let you be tempted beyond your ability, but with the temptation he will also provide the way of escape, that you may be able to endure it. (ESV) Matthew 18:7 - Woe to the world for temptations to sin! For it is necessary that temptations come, but woe to the one by whom the temptation comes! (ESV) Matthew 4:1 - Then Jesus was led up by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted by the devil. (ESV) Hebrews 4:15 - For we do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but one who in every respect has been tempted as we are, yet without sin. (ESV) James 1:14 - But each person is tempted when he is lured and enticed by his own desire. (ESV) James 1:13 - Let no one say when he is tempted, I am being tempted by God, for God cannot be tempted with evil, and he himself tempts no one. (ESV) Galatians 6:1 - Brothers, if anyone is caught in any transgression, you who are spiritual should restore him in a spirit of gentleness. Keep watch on yourself, lest you too be tempted.

2.199 Journal <2026-04-01 Wed 20:18>

I love it when Jesus sets up works for me to do. But I want them to be done with clarity of instruction in difficult situations where I ask God for answers. I don't want to feel like I'm only person on planet earth confessing "Jesus Christ has come into the world from God in flesh and blood".

I want God to deliver me from this dark abyss, from the demonic oppression, from what feels like being "under the pump" trying to maintain Jesus' works while people around me so often speak contrary to Scripture or have the appearance of lying to me.

As I have endeavoured to quote from the Scripture, and affirm things from the Scripture and teach others, it's been met with a lot of testing and a strange amount of spiritual adversity. When I receive so much "adversarialness", adversary spirits attacking me, and very likely many of satan's workers attacking, I don't want to continue being put into a position where I'm being put to work without Jesus Christ instructing me on matters directly when I feel as though I need answers for things. It doesn't seem right to me to be in this situation, when I want instruction from the Lord Jesus on so many matters.

I don't want to be committing sin or saying the wrong thing. I don't want to be leaning on my own understanding. If I don't hear the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit as a direct word to my heart, and if I'm not exposed to hearing the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit and if it's just me seeking to understand the Scripture as I endeavour to put Jesus' commandments into practice in reality, when trial comes along and my decisions are being tested it's pushing me to where I'm uncomfortable making decisions or affirming things without clarity.

What's not done in faith is sin.

I want the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit. I want deliverance.

I have no work, I have been receiving an inordinate amount of prolonged spiritual attack, I've endured isolation isolation, a lack of direct instruction speaking to specific situations, and what feels like being asked "loaded questions" by people who I'm trying to lead away from antichrist beliefs, and I'm sick and tired of being placed into these situations with extremely high frequency, and it just feels like being on a battlefield alone without their leader. It's not fun at all and I want Jesus to please deliver me from this situation, heal me and protect me.

And quite honestly, I just don't want to be here in the world. I earnestly want to get raptured and just have my memory erased and for my soul to heal and wake up in heaven where there are still things to do and be excited about.

It's just after midnight but around noon today will be 4 years born-again today.

I was singing this to myself in my mind. I woke up to frightening dream. But opened up my laptop and listening to the song again now.

youtube.com: The Solid Rock - from The Hymns Project { Lyric Video } { @ parkwaywo

1 My hope is built on nothing less than Jesus' blood and righteousness;
I dare not trust the sweetest frame, but wholly lean on Jesus' name.

Refrain: On Christ, the solid Rock, I stand: all other ground is sinking sand;
all other ground is sinking sand.

2 When darkness veils his lovely face, I rest on his unchanging grace; in every high and stormy gale, my anchor holds within the veil. [Refrain]

3 His oath, his covenant, his blood, support me in the whelming flood;
when all around my soul gives way, he then is all my hope and stay.
[Refrain]

4 When he shall come with trumpet sound, O may I then in him be found: dressed in his righteousness alone, faultless to stand before the throne. [Refrain]

Our own 'effort' being involved is not against faith as some people say. The heart attitudes are involved. The heart changes so there is good treasure in it and from there there is good fruit:

II Peter 1:5-10 - For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins.

Therefore, brothers, be all the more diligent to make your calling and election sure, for if you practice these qualities you will never fall. (ESV)

We don't want "sinful desire". Jesus searches the hearts and minds:

II Peter 1:3-8 - His divine power has granted to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of him who called us to his own glory and excellence, by which he has granted to us his precious and very great promises, so that through them you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world because of sinful desire. For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. (ESV)

While I cling to Jesus Christ, and continue trusting in His name, this involves remaining obedient to Christ, having the love of God in us, desiring God, and desiring what is good and not what is evil:

Revelation of John 3:1-5 - And to the angel of the church in Sardis write: The words of him who has the seven spirits of God and the seven stars. I know your works. You have the reputation of being alive, but you are dead. Wake up, and strengthen what remains and is about to die, for I have not found your works complete in the sight of my God. Remember, then, what you received and heard. Keep it, and repent. If you will not wake up, I will come like a thief, and you will not know at what hour I will come against you. Yet you have still a few names in Sardis, people who have not soiled their garments, and they will walk with me in white, for they are worthy. The one who conquers will be clothed thus in white garments, and I will never blot his name out of the book of life. I will confess his name before my Father and before his angels. (ESV)

Revelation of John 3:8 - I know your works. Behold, I have set before you an open door, which no one is able to shut. I know that you have but little power, and yet you have kept my word and have not denied my name. (ESV)

Holding onto Jesus' name is essential. But Jesus also wants us to be doing good deeds and that starts with a love for the truth in our heart, an obedient heart. Being obedient (able to do good deeds i.e. apart from the works), loving the truth in the heart, is still important for salvation, and this "obedience" is essential to true faith, not against it. And keeping Jesus' works of "doing good" is certainly of value and not against "faith alone":

Revelation of John 2:26-27 - The one who conquers and who keeps my works until the end, to him I will give authority over the nations, and he will rule them with a rod of iron, as when earthen pots are broken in pieces, even as I myself have received authority from my Father. (ESV)

We must not be tolerating sin. Jesus searches our minds and hearts. The works we do come from what is in our heart:

Revelation of John 2:19 - I know your works, your love and faith and service and patient endurance, and that your latter works exceed the first. (ESV)

Revelation of John 2:20-23 - But I have this against you, that you tolerate that woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess and is teaching and seducing my servants to practice sexual immorality and to eat food sacrificed to idols. I gave her time to repent, but she refuses to repent of her sexual immorality. Behold, I will throw her onto a sickbed, and those who commit adultery with her I will throw into great tribulation, unless they repent of her works, and I will strike her children dead. And all the churches will know that I am he who searches mind and heart, and I will give to each of you as your works deserve. (ESV)

Mark 7:18-23 - And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him; Because it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meats? And he said, That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man. For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, Thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness: All these evil things come from within, and defile the man. (KJV)

Acts 10:36-43 - As for the word that he sent to Israel, preaching good news of peace through Jesus Christ (he is Lord of all), you yourselves know what happened throughout all Judea, beginning from Galilee after the baptism that John proclaimed: how God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Spirit and with power. He went about doing good and healing all who were oppressed by the devil, for God was with him. And we are witnesses of all that he did both in the country of the Jews and in Jerusalem. They put him to death by hanging him on a tree, but God raised him on the third day and made him to appear, not to all the people but to us who had been chosen by God as witnesses, who ate and drank with him after he rose from the dead. And he commanded us to preach to the people and to testify that he is the one appointed by God to be judge of the living and the dead. To him all the prophets bear witness that everyone who believes in him receives forgiveness of sins through his name. (ESV)

Hebrews 6:10 - For God is not so unjust as to overlook your work and the love that you showed for his sake in serving the saints, as you still do. (ESV)

I believe that we have to love the light and hate the darkness:

Matthew 6:24 - No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money. (ESV)

John 3:17-21 - For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him. Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his deeds should be exposed. But whoever does (G4160 ποιῶν; doing) what is true comes to the light, so that it may be clearly seen that his deeds have been carried out in God. (ESV)

We should continue preferring God and resisting and rejecting sin and run the race:

Hebrews 12:1-4 - Therefore, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us also lay aside every weight, and sin which clings so closely, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, looking to Jesus, the founder and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is seated at the right hand of the throne of God. Consider him who endured from sinners such hostility against himself, so that you may not grow weary or fainthearted. In your struggle against sin you have not yet resisted to the point of shedding your blood. (ESV)

We don't want to deny Jesus. We must be obedient to Jesus. We must have the love of the truth in us:

Titus 1:15-16 - To the pure, all things are pure, but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their minds and their consciences are defiled. They profess to know God, but they deny him by their works. They are detestable, disobedient, unfit for any good work. (ESV)

Psalms 81:15 - Those who hate the LORD would feign obedience, and their doom would last forever. (engbsb2020eb)

Colossians 2:6-10 - Therefore, as you received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk in him, rooted and built up in him and established in the faith, just as you were taught, abounding in thanksgiving. See to it that no one takes you captive by philosophy and empty deceit, according to human tradition, according to the elemental spirits of the world, and not according to Christ. For in him the whole fullness of deity dwells bodily, and you have been filled in him, who is the head of all rule and authority. (ESV)

May God lead clean and sanctify and lead into the truth all the people who have believed and been misled by ramblings I had made before being taken to court which were not trustworthy.

Romans 12:9 - Let love be genuine. Abhor what is evil; hold fast to what is good. (ESV)

I Thessalonians 5:20-25 - Do not despise prophecies, but test everything; hold fast what is good. Abstain from every form of evil. Now may the God of peace himself sanctify you completely, and may your whole spirit and soul and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. He who calls you is faithful; he will surely do it. Brothers, pray for us. (ESV)

Here I am recounting some of the events of 2022 again.

When I had repeated "dreams and visions" I received, or when I was writing on various topics even drawing from apocryphal gospels, I did not mean to mislead people. In the writings I placed online. I didn't speak without error. Sometimes I placed hope in things or affirmed things which in retrospect, I should not have. The gnostic gospels, for example, are not to be trusted.

I made a marriage proposal in this context, and I believe I made it with good intentions. Shortly after that I was under strong bail conditions prohibiting internet and communication. I continued writing, trying to stay within my rights to write. Then some very strange things began happening while I was under very strong confinement in house arrest.

When things started going wrong, I reflected on my actions and tried to rectify my way. And a first step towards that was trying to expose what was going on. One problem is that bail conditions had prohibited me from communicating with the other side. But another problem is that I was also prevented from recording events. And another problem is that I was also isolated from communities of believers. And another problem is that even amongst other believers, they would often simply affirm false doctrine that I was in error over. But another issue is that when I wanted to be corrected by the Holy Scripture, by Jesus' teachings as recorded in the gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, I received a huge amount of resistance, resistance that has continued.

Leading up to court, I had spoken some things via private communication to the other side who ended up giving to the police and which the judge ended up reading. What I said there was what was on my mind regarding my true intentions, thoughts, feelings and also exposing some events which happened between me and someone else from overseas who in my house arrest reached out to me from overseas and became for a while the only person I was talking to while I began to receive demonic dreams as he was asking me for financial assistance. But there was some highly suspicious things which were happening regarding that situation, such as the onset of demonic dreams, and how later I had fallen out of agreement with some things even I had spoken to this person regarding faulty theology, and in desperation I exposed what had happened, so people who might be affect could see, believing that this was for the best to expose what happened rather than leave it covered, even at the risk of getting in trouble with police for communicating when I was not allowed to.

I thought it was for the best to expose what was going on because:

- as I had fallen out of agreement with things I had written, things they most probably had already read, I did not want them to be misled by me
- To not expose what was going on in that dark situation when I began receiving demonic dreams seemed to be not right to me. I wasn't acting primarily in a selfish interest (i.e. say, with the goal of marriage) but rather out of the interests of others more than myself, knowing it would probably result in getting in trouble with police but that to not speak would conceal things that made me very uneasy and concerned for the wellbeing of those from the other side of court.

Knowing that what I'd reveal from private conversation with the person in India, for example, would expose some "spiritually dodgy/shady" happenings that made me very uncomfortable and that to reveal it certainly wasn't to serve some selfish purpose such as avoiding jail-time or a conviction, but rather was to provide information on what happened so others can make informed decisions.

Since I was born-again on 2 April 2022, I didn't want to cover the reality that I was born-again, and tried and wanted to speak the truth, but I feel as though I wasn't given sufficient instruction or time to learn. I had considered that I was in a learning phase anyway, as I had sought to understand the Scripture and write, but I was also exposed to heretical writings.

But as I have continued writing since then I have sought to be corrected by the Truth, the Word of God, the Holy Scripture and by Jesus Christ who is the Truth, by trusting and obeying Jesus, and resisting evil.

This entire time I have had a love for Jesus Christ, and I've had good intentions, as I have sought to not bury my testimony of Jesus Christ.

I hope and pray that people will be trust and obey Jesus Christ for themselves.

The amount of what appears to be demonic harassment that I receive, is just phenomenal. Woken up to lying, harassing dreams and attacks against my soul.

May Jesus Christ deliver me.

I thank the Lord Jesus Christ for dying on the cross for my sin. I know I have an obligation to walk as He did.

I John 2:6 The [one] claiming in Him to abide has a duty to just as that walk also He in the same way walked (Interlinear)

John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

I John 3:6 - No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. (ESV)

May God deliver me from all defilement and from demonic oppression in Jesus Christ's name.

I did receive a fair amount of demonic dreams and spiritual attack against my soul even today, Easter Sunday. I don't understand why God has allowed it. I have been resisting the evil, though.

I've also been listening to FBC radio during the morning.

I've also been doing a bit of programming on Pen.el.

Bible study time.

Regarding works, what really matters is that our heart is in the right place:

Matthew 6:19-21 - Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy and where thieves break in and steal, but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal. For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also. (ESV)

Being "generous" and "ready to share" are heart attitudes and as we practice these heart attitudes, the Scripture says we are laying up a good foundation for the future:

I Timothy 6:17-19 - As for the rich in this present age, charge them not to be haughty, nor to set their hopes on the uncertainty of riches, but on God, who richly provides us with everything to enjoy. They are to do good, to be rich in good works, to be generous and ready to share, thus storing up treasure for themselves as a good foundation for the future, so that they may take hold of that which is truly life. (ESV)

II Peter 1:5-10 - For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins. Therefore, brothers, be all the more diligent to make your calling and election sure, for if you practice these qualities you will never fall. (ESV)

Proverbs 11:18 - The wicked earns deceptive wages, but one who sows righteousness gets a sure reward. (ESV)

God is just when He justifies. God is right when He declares someone is walking rightly. When God justifies a person, then they have His righteousness:

Romans 3:21-26 - But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from the law, although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified (G1344 dikaioumenoi; being justified) by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just (G1342 dikaion; δ'καιον) and the justifier (G1344 dikaionta; justifying) of the one who has faith in Jesus. (ESV)

Psalms 103:17-18 - But the steadfast love of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting on those who fear him, and his righteousness to children's children, to those who keep his covenant and remember to do his commandments. (ESV)

Someone who is "in Christ Jesus" has God's righteousness who is Jesus Christ, and they are abiding in Jesus Christ's commandments:

I Corinthians 1:30 - It is because of Him that you are in Christ Jesus, who has become for us wisdom from God: our righteousness, holiness, and redemption. (engbsb2020eb)

I John 3:21-24 - Beloved, if our heart does not condemn us, we have confidence before God; and whatever we ask we receive from him, because we keep his commandments and do what pleases him. And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

So what matters is who you have faith in because we follow who we have faith in (Matthew 15:13-14; John 12:23-26). A person is justified by their faith in Jesus Christ. We're not justified by having faith in ourself. We need to be found by God as doers (G4163 poiētai) of the law of Christ which is a law of faith, and it's faith in Him, Christ:

Romans 3:26-28 - It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. (ESV)

Psalms 103:17-18 - But the steadfast love of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting on those who fear him, and his righteousness to children's children, to those who keep his covenant and remember to do his commandments. (ESV)

In God's unconditional love He has paid the price for us to be saved from sin and death and hell. John 3:16 is not only saying that God has done what is needed for our sins to be forgiven, but is also saying that Jesus has come into the world as light so we can even turn away from darkness and towards light. Whoever stops following darkness and instead follows Jesus, whoever trusts in Jesus, whoever looks to Jesus and does what Jesus instructs, turns away from doing evil and in coming to faith in Jesus they will live. Jesus came into the darkness of the world as light so that we can turn to the light and in doing so, live. If Jesus didn't come then we could not receive the light of correction:

John 3:16 (Interlinear) Thus so (Houtōs) (in this way) did God love (G25 agapaō - value, treasure) the world, that He gave His Only-Begotten (G3439. monogenēs - unique, only begotten) Son that (G2443 hina - in order that) everyone who is trusting/believing (G4100 pisteuo) in Him may not perish, but may have life everlasting

John 12:46 - I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. (ESV)

I John 4:9-12 - In this the love of God was made manifest among us, that God sent his only Son into the world, so that we might live through him. In this is love, not that we have loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another. No one has ever seen God; if we love one another, God abides in us and his love is perfected in us. (ESV)

Whoever has faith in Jesus Christ is able to not remain in darkness.
Whoever has faith in Jesus Christ is able to love their family in Christ:

I John 2:8-12 - At the same time, it is a new commandment that I am writing to you, which is true in him and in you, because the darkness is passing away and the true light is already shining. Whoever says he is in the light and hates his brother is still in darkness. Whoever loves his brother abides in the light, and in him there is no cause for stumbling. But whoever hates his brother is in the darkness and walks in the darkness, and does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes. I am writing to you, little children, because your sins are forgiven for his name's sake. (ESV)

Despite the struggle with spiritual attack early in the morning, I've enjoyed the Bible study which I've done today. I am thankful for Jesus Christ having died for ours sins in order that that we might be saved through faith in Him if we abide in His commandments. And I am thankful for Father God having sent Jesus Christ to us.

On another note, I've had a bit of fun extending working with emacs' eshell over the last few days. It's good fun.

I kept on doing Bible studying. The rest of the day was quite good.

I really don't want to be in this world. I hope God just takes me out of it today.

I don't see a future for me here in this world.

Holy Spirit hasn't spoken to me directly yet to testify of Jesus Christ. That makes it quite difficult. Also, the world is saturated with stolen AI stuff.

I mean, even the Pipes uses the AI stuff and seems to have embraced it.

{@ FollowRadical }

I'm not like entirely against AI or anything. But I am against robbing from people.

Someone who told me they are atheist (yet who I pray for will to come faith in Jesus) also told me, "The genie is out of the bottle and there's no putting it back in." But I immediately disagreed, at least in my mind I was thinking, "Jesus can stop it. Nothing is bigger than Jesus". I think it's wrong to use what has been stolen. For me this is a matter of Biblical separation.

James 4:17 - So whoever knows the right thing to do and fails to do it, for him it is sin. (ESV)

Matthew 10:32-38 - So everyone who acknowledges me before men, I also will acknowledge before my Father who is in heaven, but whoever denies me before men, I also will deny before my Father who is in heaven. Do not think that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I have not come to bring peace, but a sword. For I have come to set a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. And a person's enemies will be those of his own household. Whoever loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me, and whoever loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. And whoever does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me. (ESV)

II Corinthians 6:14-18,7:1 - Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what partnership has righteousness with lawlessness? Or what fellowship has light with darkness? What accord has Christ with Belial? Or what portion does a believer share with an unbeliever? What agreement has the temple of God with idols? For we are the temple of the living God; as God said, I will make my dwelling among them and walk among them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Therefore go out from their midst, and be separate from them, says the Lord, and touch no unclean thing; then I will welcome you, and I will be a father to you, and you shall be sons and daughters to me, says the Lord Almighty. Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God. (ESV)

I hope that Jesus will be faithful to me and provide me with the testimony of Himself from Holy Spirit. And deliver me from this horrible situation.

My affliction from demonic harassment and oppression has been neither "slight", nor "momentary" (II Corinthians 4:16-18), but rather "being killed all day long" (Romans 8:36-39). Jesus' teachings are supposed to be followed by the individual who is walking in faith in Jesus.

Holding to the Truth (remaining faithful to the Word of God concerning one's confession of faith in Jesus) while also "applying their faith in deed", practicing righteousness (being obedient to Jesus, obedient to His commandments), a person will receive persecution:

II Timothy 3:12 - Indeed, all who desire to live a godly life in Christ Jesus will be persecuted, (ESV)

I Peter 4:19 - Therefore let those who suffer according to God's will entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good. (ESV)

A Christian is supposed not take vengeance for themselves, but continue to do good and leave judgement and justice to God:

Psalms 37:5 - Commit your way to the LORD; trust in him, and he will act. (ESV)

Romans 12:19 - Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord. (ESV)

Romans 12:17-21,13:1-10 - Repay no one evil for evil, but give thought to do what is honorable in the sight of all. If possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all. Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord. To the contrary, if your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him something to drink; for by so doing you will heap burning coals on his head. Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good. Let every person be subject to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God, and those that exist have been instituted by God. Therefore whoever resists the authorities resists what God has appointed, and those who resist will incur judgment. For rulers are not a terror to good conduct, but to bad. Would you have no fear of the one who is in authority? Then do what is good, and you will receive his approval, for he is God's servant for your good. But if you do wrong, be afraid, for he does not bear the sword in vain. For he is the servant of God, an avenger who carries out God's wrath on the wrongdoer. Therefore one must be in subjection, not only to avoid God's wrath but also for the sake of conscience. For the same reason you also pay taxes, for the authorities are ministers of God, attending to this very thing. Pay to all what is owed to them: taxes to whom taxes are owed, revenue to whom revenue is owed, respect to whom respect is owed, honor to whom honor is owed. Owe no one anything, except to love each other, for the one who loves another has fulfilled the law. The commandments, You shall not commit adultery, You shall not murder, You shall not steal, You shall not covet, and any other commandment, are summed up in this word: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. (ESV)

See how eventually judgement came to Sodom and Gomorrah:

Genesis 18:25 - Far be it from you to do such a thing, to put the righteous to death with the wicked, so that the righteous fare as the wicked! Far be that from you! Shall not the Judge of all the earth do what is just? (ESV)

Isaiah 26:20-21 - Come, my people, enter your chambers, and shut your doors behind you; hide yourselves for a little while until the fury has passed by. For behold, the LORD is coming out from his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity, and the earth will disclose the blood shed on it, and will no more cover its slain. (ESV)

Wars must happen, but if we want to avoid wars or want God's protection if wars happen then we should be walking righteously:

Mark 13:7-8 - And when you hear of wars and rumors of wars, do not be alarmed. This must take place, but the end is not yet. For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be earthquakes in various places; there will be famines. These are but the beginning of the birth pains. (ESV)

Revelation of John 19:11-16 - Then I saw heaven opened, and behold, a white horse! The one sitting on it is called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he judges and makes war. His eyes are like a flame of fire, and on his head are many diadems, and he has a name written that no one knows but himself. He is clothed in a robe dipped in blood, and the name by which he is called is The Word of God. And the armies of heaven, arrayed in fine linen, white and pure, were following him on white horses. From his mouth comes a sharp sword with which to strike down the nations, and he will rule them with a rod of iron. He will tread the winepress of the fury of the wrath of God the Almighty. On his robe and on his thigh he has a name written, King of kings and Lord of lords. (ESV)

II Chronicles 16:9 - For the eyes of the LORD run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to give strong support to those whose heart is blameless toward him. You have done foolishly in this, for from now on you will have wars. (ESV)

Job 5:19-20 - He will deliver you from six troubles; in seven no evil shall touch you. In famine he will redeem you from death, and in war from the power of the sword. (ESV)

A Christian must resist evil, resist committing sin, while entrusting themselves to God:

I Thessalonians 4:3-8 - For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you abstain from sexual immorality; that each one of you know how to control his own body in holiness and honor, not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God; that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you. For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness. Therefore whoever disregards this, disregards not man but God, who gives his Holy Spirit to you. (ESV)

James 4:17 - So whoever knows the right thing to do and fails to do it, for him it is sin. (ESV)

Matthew 5:39 - But I say to you, Do not resist the one who is evil. But if anyone slaps you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also. (ESV)

Paul following and teaching Christ's teachings regarding overcoming evil with good:

Romans 12:19-21 - Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord. To the contrary, if your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him something to drink; for by so doing you will heap burning coals on his head. Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good. (ESV)

Self defence:

gotquestions.org self-defense.html: What does the Bible say about self - defense ? | GotQuestions.org

Exodus 22 gives some clues about God's attitude toward self-defense: "If a thief is caught breaking in at night and is struck a fatal blow, the defender is not guilty of bloodshed; but if it happens after sunrise, the defender is guilty of bloodshed" (Exodus 22:2-3).

Two basic principles taught in this text are the right to own private property and the right to defend that property. The full exercise of the right to self-defense, however, depended on the situation. No one should be too quick to use deadly force against another, even someone who means to do him harm. If someone was set upon by a thief in the middle of the night and, in the confusion of the moment the would-be thief was killed, the Law did not charge the homeowner with murder. But, if the thief was caught in the house during the day, when the homeowner was unlikely to be awoken from sleep, then the Law forbade the killing of the thief. Essentially, the Law said that homeowners shouldn't be quick to kill or attack thieves in their home. Both situations could be considered self-defense, but deadly force was expected to be a last resort, used only in the event of a panicked "surprise attack" scenario where the homeowner is likely to be confused and disoriented. In the case of a nighttime attack, the Law granted the homeowner the benefit of the doubt that, apart from the darkness and confusion of the attack, he would not intentionally use lethal force against a thief. Even in the case of self-defense against a thief, a godly person was expected to try to restrain the assailant rather than immediately resort to killing him.

Paul engaged in self-defense on occasion, although non-violently. When he was about to be flogged by the Romans in Jerusalem, Paul quietly informed the centurion with the scourge that he, Paul, was a Roman citizen. The authorities were immediately alarmed and began to treat Paul differently, knowing they had violated Roman law by even putting him in chains. Paul had used a similar defense in Philippi—after he was flogged—in order to secure an official apology from those who had violated his rights (Acts 16:37–39).

The persistent widow in Jesus' parable kept pounding on the judge's door with the repeated plea, "Grant me justice against my adversary" (Luke 18:3). This widow was not about to give up and let her enemy take advantage of her; through the proper channels, she pursued self-defense.

Jesus' command to "turn the other cheek" (Matthew 5:39) has to do with our response to personal slights and offenses. Some situations may call for self-defense, but not retaliation in kind. The context of Jesus' command is His teaching against the idea of "eye for eye, and tooth for tooth" (verse 38). Our self-defense is not a vengeful reaction to an offense. In fact, many offenses can simply be absorbed in forbearance and love.

The Bible never forbids self-defense, and believers are allowed to defend themselves and their families. But the fact that we are permitted to defend ourselves does not necessarily mean we must do so in every situation. Knowing God's heart through reading His Word and relying on "the wisdom that comes from heaven" (James 3:17) will help us know how to best respond in situations that might call for self-defense.

Think about appropriate penalties. Ideally, a thief would make full restitution rather than be executed. In the the situation of the thief breaking in at night, self-defence was involved because the thief breaking in at night posed a danger. The thief shouldn't have been there, and the other person defended the household, but the loss of life is not ideal:

Exodus 22:2-3 - If a thief is caught breaking in and is beaten to death, no one shall be guilty of bloodshed. But if it happens after sunrise, there is guilt for his bloodshed. A thief must make full restitution; if he has nothing, he himself shall be sold for his theft. (engbsb2020eb)

I believe the teachings about self-defence can help answer the question of "Should a nation ever go to war?"

This was worth a read gotquestions.org war-Bible.html: What does the Bible say about war ? | GotQuestions . org

Whether a person is a follower of Jesus Christ or not is not determined by which political party they have voted for. Voting for the Republican Party or Democratic Party isn't what determines if a person is a Christian.

Every Christian no matter what shoes they find themselves in, whether a politician or a civilian, should "If possible, so far as it depends on them (because sometimes it doesn't only depend on them), live peaceably with all".

Romans 12:17-21,13:1-10 - Repay no one evil for evil, but give thought to do what is honorable in the sight of all. If possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all. Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord. To the contrary, if your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him something to drink; for by so doing you will heap burning coals on his head. Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good. Let every person be subject to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God, and those that exist have been instituted by God. Therefore whoever resists the authorities resists what God has appointed, and those who resist will incur judgment. For rulers are not a terror to good conduct, but to bad. Would you have no fear of the one who is in authority? Then do what is good, and you will receive his approval, for he is God's servant for your good. But if you do wrong, be afraid, for he does not bear the sword in vain. For he is the servant of God, an avenger who carries out God's wrath on the wrongdoer. Therefore one must be in subjection, not only to avoid God's wrath but also for the sake of conscience. For the same reason you also pay taxes, for the authorities are ministers of God, attending to this very thing. Pay to all what is owed to them: taxes to whom taxes are owed, revenue to whom revenue is owed, respect to whom respect is owed, honor to whom honor is owed. Owe no one anything, except to love each other, for the one who loves another has fulfilled the law. The commandments, You shall not commit adultery, You shall not murder, You shall not steal, You shall not covet, and any other commandment, are summed up in this word: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. (ESV)

We should never avenge ourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God. But God has people in positions of authority who carry out His wrath on the evildoer. We should be in subjection to the authority that has been placed in power over us, even if it's a situation like the Israelites in slavery in Egypt, and submit to them "in the Lord Jesus Christ" (i.e. while maintaining Jesus Christ's teachings) and endeavour to serve Christ as we do so, keeping Jesus' commandments.

Rulers should not be wicked. Their statutes should be just, not unjust:

Psalms 94:20 - Can wicked rulers be allied with you, those who frame injustice by statute? (ESV)

Lamentations 3:35-36 - to deny a man justice in the presence of the Most High, to subvert a man in his lawsuit, the Lord does not approve. (ESV)

Jesus is still for the modern day. Justice is not belonging only to a past dispensation:

Isaiah 42:1-3 - Behold my servant, whom I uphold, my chosen, in whom my soul delights; I have put my Spirit upon him; he will bring forth justice to the nations. He will not cry aloud or lift up his voice, or make it heard in the street; a bruised reed he will not break, and a faintly burning wick he will not quench; he will faithfully bring forth justice. (ESV)

Jeremiah 23:5-6 - Behold, the days are coming, declares the LORD, when I will raise up for David a righteous Branch, and he shall reign as king and deal wisely, and shall execute justice and righteousness in the land. In his days Judah will be saved, and Israel will dwell securely. And this is the name by which he will be called: The LORD is our righteousness. (ESV)

Christians should not "take the law into one's own hands" (i.e. they should not be judge, jury and executioner). Christians need to submit to the people who God has placed into authority. But, only in the Lord. We submit, but only "give to Caesar what belongs to Caesar". We must also give to God what belongs to God. God does put people into positions where they carry out justice (Romans 12:17-21,13:1-10) or carry out self-defence:

Exodus 2:11-15 - One day, when Moses had grown up, he went out to his people and looked on their burdens, and he saw an Egyptian beating a Hebrew, one of his people. He looked this way and that, and seeing no one, he struck down the Egyptian and hid him in the sand. When he went out the next day, behold, two Hebrews were struggling together. And he said to the man in the wrong, Why do you strike your companion? He answered, Who made you a prince and a judge over us? Do you mean to kill me as you killed the Egyptian? Then Moses was afraid, and thought, Surely the thing is known. When Pharaoh heard of it, he sought to kill Moses. But Moses fled from Pharaoh and stayed in the land of Midian. And he sat down by a well. (ESV)

John 8:7-11 - And as they continued to ask him, he stood up and said to them, Let him who is without sin among you be the first to throw a stone at her. And once more he bent down and wrote on the ground. But when they heard it, they went away one by one, beginning with the older ones, and Jesus was left alone with the woman standing before him. Jesus stood up and said to her, Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you? She said, No one, Lord. And Jesus said, Neither do I condemn you; go, and from now on sin no more.]] (ESV)

I Peter 2:13-17 - Be subject for the Lord's sake to every human institution, whether it be to the emperor as supreme, or to governors as sent by him to punish those who do evil and to praise those who do good. For this is the will of God, that by doing good you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish people. Live as people who are free, not using your freedom as a cover-up for evil, but living as servants of God. Honor everyone. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the emperor. (ESV)

I think there is nothing wrong with refusing to kill another human being if a person is convicted by the fear of God that they must not kill people at all. That is pacifism, and that person should do what they can to avoid being in a situation such as having a job as a "soldier" or perhaps a "police officer", or a "General" or a "Commander in Chief" such as the POTUS etc. because in such a position a person might be required and expected to carry out justice in the fear of God (II Samuel 23:2-4, Exodus 18:21, Proverbs 31:9). If it doesn't fit with a person's faith, then they shouldn't be in that position. I'm a pacifist myself and accountable even right now for my beliefs. May God rescue me from every evil deed.

"Slaying/Killing" is not precisely the same thing as "murder" as concerns the Law of God. Slaying is the actions but actions come from what is in the heart. Murder happens when there is murderous hate or lack of love in the heart. But Christians who are looking to Jesus are supposed to "seek peace" with all people (Hebrews 12:14) as much as depends on oneself (Romans 12:18) . When peace is taken away, men slay one-another (Revelation of John 6:4).

Romans 12:17-21,13:1-10 - Repay no one evil for evil, but give thought to do what is honorable in the sight of all. If possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all. Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord. To the contrary, if your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him something to drink; for by so doing you will heap burning coals on his head. Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good. Let every person be subject to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God, and those that exist have been instituted by God. Therefore whoever resists the authorities resists what God has appointed, and those who resist will incur judgment. For rulers are not a terror to good conduct, but to bad. Would you have no fear of the one who is in authority? Then do what is good, and you will receive his approval, for he is God's servant for your good. But if you do wrong, be afraid, for he does not bear the sword in vain. For he is the servant of God, an avenger who carries out God's wrath on the wrongdoer. Therefore one must be in subjection, not only to avoid God's wrath but also for the sake of conscience. For the same reason you also pay taxes, for the authorities are ministers of God, attending to this very thing. Pay to all what is owed to them: taxes to whom taxes are owed, revenue to whom revenue is owed, respect to whom respect is owed, honor to whom honor is owed. Owe no one anything, except to love each other, for the one who loves another has fulfilled the law. Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. (ESV)

Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

Real Christian pacifism would involve at the same time as refusing to murder, also be refusing to lie, and refusing to commit adultery in ones' heart, refusing to covet another's possessions, refusing to commit idolatry, refusing to blaspheme God, refusing to bear false witness, etc. I think that pacifism (refusing to kill) is justified generally if it's done in righteousness, like in the following story:

renewaljournal.com: The true story behind the song ' I have decided to follow Jesus ' - F

About 150 years ago, there was a great revival in Wales. As a result of this, many missionaries came to north-east India to spread the Gospel. The region known as Assam was comprised of hundreds of tribes who were primitive and aggressive head-hunters

Into these hostile and aggressive communities, came a group of missionaries from the American Baptist Missions spreading the message of love, peace and hope in Jesus Christ. Naturally, they were not welcomed. One missionary succeeded in converting a man, his wife, and two children. This man's faith proved contagious and many villagers began to accept Christianity.

Angry, the village chief summoned all the villagers. He then called the family who had first converted to renounce their faith in public or face execution. Moved by the Holy Spirit, the man said:

"I have decided to follow Jesus."

Enraged at the refusal of the man, the chief ordered his archers to arrow down the two children. As both boys lay twitching on the floor, the chief asked, "Will you deny your faith? You have lost both your children. You will lose your wife too."

But the man replied:

"Though no one joins me, still I will follow."

The chief was beside himself with fury and ordered his wife to be arrowed down. In a moment she joined her two children in death. Now he asked for the last time, "I will give you one more opportunity to deny your faith and live." In the face of death the man said the final memorable lines:

"The cross before me, the world behind me. No turning back."

He was shot dead like the rest of his family. But with their deaths, a miracle took place. The chief who had ordered the killings was moved by the faith of the man. He wondered, "Why should this man, his wife and two children die for a Man who lived in a far-away land on another continent some 2,000 years ago? There must be some remarkable power behind the family's faith, and I too want to taste that faith."

In a spontaneous confession of faith, he declared, "I too belong to Jesus Christ!" When the crowd heard this from the mouth of their chief, the whole village accepted Christ as their Lord and Saviour.

The song is based on the last words of Nokseeng, a man from Garo tribe of Assam (now Meghalaya and some in Assam), India. It is today the song of the Garo people.

Titus 1:7-9 - For an overseer, as God's steward, must be above reproach. He must not be arrogant or quick-tempered or a drunkard or violent or greedy for gain, but hospitable, a lover of good, self-controlled, upright, holy, and disciplined. He must hold firm to the trustworthy word as taught, so that he may be able to give instruction in sound doctrine and also to rebuke those who contradict it. (ESV)

There is more to "protecting" one's dependents than simply "not killing". In the story of the missionary to Assam, protecting His children also involved protecting their faith, and not denying Jesus.

In a different but related situation, righteous Lot II Peter 2:1-22 can be seen (Genesis 19:5-8) offering his own precious unmarried daughters to some wicked men to avoid the wicked people from the abominable sin of sodomy against two men who had come under the protection of his household. And so what I'm saying with that is that once again, in dealing with some situations, acting righteously involves the fear of God.

It's very important for a Christian to "not deny Jesus Christ".

God sees the thoughts and intentions of people's hearts etc. as they do anything.

The loss of life needs to be avoided if at all able to be avoided, and even to be avoided is the loss of life of a criminal or someone who is presently in the act of a crime because we are called to "Repay no one evil for evil, but give thought to do what is honorable in the sight of all. If possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all."

In the Mosaic Law it seems to show that where there is an intruding thief and the loss of his life owing to someone defending the household from the intruder (probably in the protection of the members of the household) where the circumstances (such as it being dark) had made it difficult to deal with the threat without risking force that may harm the intruder, and where the intruder dies in that situation, the defender of the household is not guilty of murder. But if there is visibility and precautions could be taken to avoid taking the intruder's life, then the use of excessive force resulting in the death of the intruder would come with guilt for his bloodshed:

Exodus 22:2-3 - If a thief is caught breaking in and is beaten to death, no one shall be guilty of bloodshed. But if it happens after sunrise, there is guilt for his bloodshed. A thief must make full restitution; if he has nothing, he himself shall be sold for his theft. (engbsb2020eb)

So the prevention of hateful harm and minimisation of harm (even to a criminal) is still important. And the "in the moment" situation of defending against someone who is presently attacking is also a very different issue to the issue of enforcing justice for someone having done something in the past.

It's not wrong to want to care even for the life of a criminal who is presently infringing and in striving to protect others from harm from them seek to minimise harm to the criminal as is within one's power to do so. See how the emphasis is on rescuing people from the wicked, rather than to destroying the wicked:

Psalms 82:3-4 - Give justice to the weak and the fatherless; maintain the right of the afflicted and the destitute. Rescue the weak and the needy; deliver them from the hand of the wicked. (ESV)

It's not wrong to want to care even for the life of a criminal and seek to do no harm to them as is within one's power to do so, while striving to protect others from harm from them.

I think what matters is what's in the heart of a person when they are doing the defending against the present danger.

It's not wrong for someone to choose to mercy when they could seek justice. But it's also wrong to deny justice for someone who seeks justice:

Lamentations 3:35-36 - to deny a man justice in the presence of the Most High, to subvert a man in his lawsuit, the Lord does not approve. (ESV)

James 2:11-13 - For he who said, Do not commit adultery, also said, Do not murder. If you do not commit adultery but do murder, you have become a transgressor of the law. So speak and so act as those who are to be judged under the law of liberty. For judgment is without mercy to one who has shown no mercy. Mercy triumphs over judgment. (ESV)

We need to be exercising the love of Father God. We should exercise "common grace" (God makes His sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust), but without withholding justice (not necessarily enforcing justice, but not withholding it either) and we should do righteousness and be merciful and be faithful and truthful:

Psalms 33:5 - He loves righteousness and justice; the earth is full of the steadfast love of the LORD. (ESV)

Matthew 23:23 - Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you tithe mint and dill and cumin, and have neglected the weightier matters of the law: justice and mercy and faithfulness. These you ought to have done, without neglecting the others. (ESV)

Matthew 5:38-48 - You have heard that it was said, An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth. But I say to you, Do not resist the one who is evil. But if anyone slaps you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also. And if anyone would sue you and take your tunic, let him have your cloak as well. And if anyone forces you to go one mile, go with him two miles. Give to the one who begs from you, and do not refuse the one who would borrow from you. You have heard that it was said, You shall love your neighbor and hate (3404. miséó, 3404 miséō – properly, to detest (on a comparative basis); hence, denounce; to love someone or something less than someone (something) else, i.e. to renounce one choice in favor of another.) your enemy. But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others?

Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You therefore must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect. (ESV)

So what is the metaphorical "rain" (Matthew 5:38-48*) in the situation of, say, how convicted criminals are dealt with? Well, it could be providing criminals with food and shelter, or it be giving them a life sentence instead of a capital punishment.

We need to be keeping God's commandments, and seek peace and pursue it.

Jesus carried his cross first. Jesus didn't avoid his cross, and he didn't send his disciples forth to defend him against the Romans and the Sanhedrin, to avoid drinking the "cup" (Luke 22:42) of crucifixion which Father God had given him. And what I mean by that is that we can give ourselves and our body away (I Corinthians 13:1-8) in love. There's no greater love than to lay down one's own life for their friends (John 15:9-14).

Wars are in a way inevitable in this world currently, and it's a consequence of there still being sin in the world. Not all people on earth are in Christ. As Christians, we should ourselves endeavour to be blameless before God, we should be loving our family in Christ, and should be peacemakers with all people as much as it depends on oneself, while endeavouring to not commit sin, or partake in others' sin (I Timothy 5:22), and while endeavouring to speak truth, while endeavouring to do good. That does involve Biblical separation. If in a position such as a judge, then seeking to do justice. If in a governmental position, then seeking to serve without corruption:

II Chronicles 16:9 - For the eyes of the LORD run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to give strong support to those whose heart is blameless toward him. You have done foolishly in this, for from now on you will have wars. (ESV)

Romans 12:17 - Repay no one evil for evil, but give thought to do what is honorable in the sight of all. (ESV)

I Thessalonians 5:15 - See that no one repays anyone evil for evil, but always seek to do good to one another and to everyone. (ESV)

I Peter 3:9-13 - Do not repay evil for evil or reviling for reviling, but on the contrary, bless, for to this you were called, that you may obtain a blessing. For Whoever desires to love life and see good days, let him keep his tongue from evil and his lips from speaking deceit; let him turn away from evil and do good; let him seek peace and pursue it. For the eyes of the Lord are on the righteous, and his ears are open to their prayer. But the face of the Lord is against those who do evil. Now who is there to harm you if you are zealous for what is good? (ESV)

Nehemiah 5:14 - Moreover, from the time that I was appointed to be their governor in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year to the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes the king, twelve years, neither I nor my brothers ate the food allowance of the governor. (ESV)

Deuteronomy 16:18-20 - You shall appoint judges and officers in all your towns that the LORD your God is giving you, according to your tribes, and they shall judge the people with righteous judgment. You shall not pervert justice. You shall not show partiality, and you shall not accept a bribe, for a bribe blinds the eyes of the wise and subverts the cause of the righteous. Justice, and only justice, you shall follow, that you may live and inherit the land that the LORD your God is giving you. (ESV)

All things in heaven and earth are not united presently. But they're being united and there is still Biblical separation going on. I have heard people deny that Jesus is the Son of God. And how could all things presently be united in the truth if some people and spiritual forces are against the Truth? It's simply incorrect to say that all things are united, and we are all one etc. It's just not presently true. There is still a way in which we are to love people who are our neighbours or of different faiths etc. There is a proper, Biblical way to do it and that is by keeping God's commandments for us. There is no partnership between light and darkness. What happened to Jesus Christ when He was handed over to sinners to be executed, the same type of cross-carrying principle applies to Christians today:

Ephesians 1:3-10 - Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us in Christ with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly places, even as he chose us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and blameless before him. In love he predestined us for adoption through Jesus Christ, according to the purpose of his will, to the praise of his glorious grace, with which he has blessed us in the Beloved. In him we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of our trespasses, according to the riches of his grace, which he lavished upon us, in all wisdom and insight making known to us the mystery of his will, according to his purpose, which he set forth in Christ as a plan for the fullness of time, to unite all things in him, things in heaven and things on earth. (ESV)

Ephesians 6:12 - For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against the rulers (G746 arché), against the authorities, against the cosmic powers over this present darkness, against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly places. (ESV)

John 16:33 - I have said these things to you, that in me you may have peace. In the world you will have tribulation. But take heart; I have overcome the world. (ESV)

I Peter 4:1-5 - Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh, arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. The time that is past suffices for doing what the Gentiles want to do, living in sensuality, passions, drunkenness, orgies, drinking parties, and lawless idolatry. With respect to this they are surprised when you do not join them in the same flood of debauchery, and they malign you; but they will give account to him who is ready to judge the living and the dead. (ESV)

2.208 Journal <2026-04-10 Fri 20:26>

If I have spoken in error, may I be corrected. I'm not infallible. Please be like a Berean and be led by Jesus Himself. I'm not very knowledgeable on eschatology. May God have mercy. Here are my thoughts.

God bears with us in hope that we will come to repentance:

I Timothy 2:1-4 - First of all, then, I urge that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgivings be made for all people, for kings and all who are in high positions, that we may lead a peaceful and quiet life, godly and dignified in every way. This is good, and it is pleasing in the sight of God our Savior, who desires all people to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth. (ESV)

But there is a day that Jesus will judge and we have to have repented by then to come to faith in Jesus, abiding in His commandments:

Acts 10:42 - And he commanded us to preach to the people and to testify that he is the one appointed by God to be judge of the living and the dead. (ESV)

Acts 17:31 - because he has fixed a day on which he will judge the world in righteousness by a man whom he has appointed; and of this he has given assurance to all by raising him from the dead. (ESV)

A person can be justly killed and that is not murder. For example, heaven's armies may execute justice on the evildoer (Revelation of John 9:15-21), justice that involves ending a person's life. God can use human armies but also God commands nature and He can by supernatural means bring about punishment without human armies. Also, those who go to war against Christ are slain by the Word of God (Revelation of John 19:19-21). It's very unwise and absolutely futile to be in opposition to Christ:

I Corinthians 10:9-11 - We must not put Christ to the test, as some of them did and were destroyed by serpents, nor grumble, as some of them did and were destroyed by the Destroyer. Now these things happened to them as an example, but they were written down for our instruction, on whom the end of the ages has come. (ESV)

Anyone who is antichrist is against Christ and is condemned:

I John 4:2-3 - By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

Whoever does not have faith in Jesus will be condemned:

Mark 16:16 - Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved, but whoever does not believe will be condemned. (ESV)

John 3:36 - Whoever believes in the Son has eternal life; whoever does not obey the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God remains on him. (ESV)

Whoever has no love for Jesus Christ is also unsaved:

I Corinthians 16:22 - If anyone has no love for the Lord, let him be accursed. Our Lord, come! (ESV)

Death is not abolished for Jesus' enemies because Jesus' enemies do not have life:

I John 5:12 - Whoever has the Son has life; whoever does not have the Son of God does not have life. (ESV)

John 5:24 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears my word and believes him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come into judgment, but has passed from death to life. (ESV)

I John 3:14-20 - We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love (agapōmen) the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth. By this we shall know that we are of the truth and reassure our heart before him; for whenever our heart condemns us, God is greater than our heart, and he knows everything. (ESV)

Death is abolished completely when all Jesus' enemies are under Jesus' feet and there is no-one left who can die who hasn't already died. The last enemy to be defeated is death itself (Revelation of John 20:14, I Corinthians 15:22-28). Along the way there are people who will go to war against Jesus and be slain by Him (Revelation of John 19:19-21) but being slain by the word of God doesn't necessarily mean even by physical weapons at all. To be slain by the Word of God could involve God simply making that person drop dead (Acts 5:5), for example, or God natural forces (Genesis 19:24), or by a plague, for example. Since the Word of God pierces to even the division of soul and spirit, a person who hates or commits violence against the living Word of God does themselves greater injury than merely to their flesh.

And Jesus doesn't carry out injustice. When I have used the word 'slay' or 'slain' rather than 'kill' or 'murder', it's often because in my mind "slaying" isn't necessarily done unjustly. Where the word 'murder' is always unjust, to 'slay' or 'kill' can both be taken to mean "to destroy the flesh" without meaning to murder. A person can 'kill' a duck to eat it and it is not murder.

John 8:7-11 - And as they continued to ask him, he stood up and said to them, Let him who is without sin among you be the first to throw a stone at her. And once more he bent down and wrote on the ground. But when they heard it, they went away one by one, beginning with the older ones, and Jesus was left alone with the woman standing before him. Jesus stood up and said to her, Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you? She said, No one, Lord. And Jesus said, Neither do I condemn you; go, and from now on sin no more.]] (ESV)

Jesus and all those who are sons of the resurrection with their new resurrection bodies (Luke 20:33-36) cannot die. Jesus is the Alpha and the Omega and death is already defeated from His perspective. We need to believe the gospel of Jesus Christ to have life:

II Timothy 1:10 - and which now has been manifested through the appearing of our Savior Christ Jesus, who abolished death and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel, (ESV)

Isaiah 25:8 - He will swallow up death forever; and the Lord GOD will wipe away tears from all faces, and the reproach of his people he will take away from all the earth, for the LORD has spoken. (ESV)

Death is not abolished for Jesus' enemies because they do not have life. We need to be those who confess Jesus Christ:

I John 2:23 - No one who denies the Son has the Father. Whoever confesses the Son has the Father also. (ESV)

I John 5:12 - Whoever has the Son has life; whoever does not have the Son of God does not have life. (ESV)

John 5:24 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears my word and believes him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come into judgment, but has passed from death to life. (ESV)

I John 3:14-20 - We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love (agapōmen) the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth. By this we shall know that we are of the truth and reassure our heart before him; for whenever our heart condemns us, God is greater than our heart, and he knows everything. (ESV)

I John 4:15 - Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. (ESV)

I John 5:13 - I write these things to you who believe in the name of the Son of God that you may know that you have eternal life. (ESV)

By what a person does they can deny Christ, thus not keeping covenant with Him. If a person can't "do/produce good" because they prefer evil to good then they deny Jesus' name:

Revelation of John 3:8 - I know your works. Behold, I have set before you an open door, which no one is able to shut. I know that you have but little power, and yet you have kept my word and have not denied my name. (ESV)

Titus 1:16 - They profess to know God, but they deny him by their works. They are detestable, disobedient, unfit for any good work. (ESV)

Christians who tolerate sin will be disciplined and experience severe discipline if necessary. And those who are "children" of Jezebel (i.e. taking after Jezebel) as opposed to children of God, God will smite:

Revelation of John 2:20-24 - But I have this against you, that you tolerate that woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess and is teaching and seducing my servants to practice sexual immorality and to eat food sacrificed to idols. I gave her time to repent, but she refuses to repent of her sexual immorality. Behold, I will throw her onto a sickbed, and those who commit adultery with her I will throw into great tribulation, unless they repent of her works, and I will strike her children dead. And all the churches will know that I am he who searches mind and heart, and I will give to each of you as your works deserve. But to the rest of you in Thyatira, who do not hold this teaching, who have not learned what some call the deep things of Satan, to you I say, I do not lay on you any other burden. (ESV)

There is a second death and we want to avoid it:

Revelation of John 2:11 - He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. The one who conquers will not be hurt by the second death. (ESV)

Revelation of John 20:14 - Then Death and Hades were thrown into the lake of fire. This is the second death, the lake of fire. (ESV)

Revelation of John 20:6 - Blessed and holy is the one who shares in the first resurrection! Over such the second death has no power, but they will be priests of God and of Christ, and they will reign with him for a thousand years. (ESV)

Death is abolished completely when all enemies are under Jesus' feet. The last enemy to be defeated is death (Revelation of John 20:14, I Corinthians 15:22-28).

Revelation of John 20:14 - Then Death and Hades were thrown into the lake of fire. This is the second death, the lake of fire. (ESV)

Until then there are people who will go to war against Jesus and be slain by Him (Revelation of John 19:19-21) but being slain by the word of God doesn't necessarily mean by physical weapons. Jesus doesn't "murder" because murder is unjust killing/slaying. I use the word 'slain' rather than "kill' or 'murder' because a person can be justly slain, and sometimes people take the word 'kill' to mean murder, so I avoid using the word 'kill' but I do believe a person can 'kill' a duck without 'murdering' a duck. When I use the word 'kill' normally, I use it as I would use "slay" (i.e. neutral with regard to justice). Murder, on the other hand, is taking someone else's life from them unjustly. Jesus gave His life willingly. No-one took it from Him. Not even Father God took it from Him. Jesus Christ carried out God's will willingly. Jesus asks us to lose our life for His sake and for the sake of the gospel, to find our life. A person who hates Jesus, though, loves death. Someone who doesn't lose their life for the sake of the gospel, but tries to hold on to it will lose their life (forfeit their soul).

If a person is slain by the wrath of God because they rejected Jesus and remained unrepentant, that doesn't mean Jesus has murdered them. It means they chose death. Jesus warns in advance to repent. The right time to repent is now:

John 12:48 - The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. (ESV)

Luke 13:1-5 - There were some present at that very time who told him about the Galileans whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices. And he answered them, Do you think that these Galileans were worse sinners than all the other Galileans, because they suffered in this way? No, I tell you; but unless you repent, you will all likewise perish. Or those eighteen on whom the tower in Siloam fell and killed them: do you think that they were worse offenders than all the others who lived in Jerusalem? No, I tell you; but unless you repent, you will all likewise perish. (ESV)

2.209 Journal <2026-04-06 Mon 16:07>

I commented on Tucker Carlson's video (youtube.com: The Tide Has Turned . Rejoice in This . { @ TCNetwork }):

My thoughts.

"The real victory is bigger than any victory achieved by killing people. It's a victory over death itself." Amen, Tucker (with a disclaimer).

I want to clarify and hopefully bring correction from the Scripture. Reflecting on "Amening" Tucker's statement there, I actually want to clarify what I had thought I had agreed with in the first place. I was affirming that victory over death itself was achieved by Jesus Christ the Only-Begotten, Unique, Precious and Sinless Son of God, when He laid down His life voluntarily and took on the sins of all who would be saved through Him. Nobody took His life from Him. The victory over death has been achieved through Jesus Christ giving His life.

John 10:17-18 - For this reason the Father loves me, because I lay down my life that I may take it up again. No one takes it from me, but I lay it down of my own accord. I have authority to lay it down, and I have authority to take it up again. This charge I have received from my Father. (ESV)

Only Jesus could have achieved this victory over death. Everyone will be given an opportunity to accept Jesus Christ. They must not reject Him. If we are found in Him, abiding in His commandments, having received His Spirit, then we have eternal life. Rejecting Jesus is rejecting life and is choosing death. If someone dies because they hate Christ then it's their own fault. If someone is slain by the Word of God, it is not an injustice but is a consequence of their rejection of Jesus Christ.

If there are lies underlying a believer's work then that work will burn up:

I Corinthians 3:11-15 - For no one can lay a foundation other than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ. Now if anyone builds on the foundation with gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, straw— each one's work will become manifest, for the Day will disclose it, because it will be revealed by fire, and the fire will test what sort of work each one has done. If the work that anyone has built on the foundation survives, he will receive a reward. If anyone's work is burned up, he will suffer loss, though he himself will be saved, but only as through fire. (ESV)

We need to be abiding in and doing the teachings of Jesus Christ (Romans 16:17-20, II John 1:9-10, I Timothy 6:1-5, Galatians 1:1-10). It's wrong to murder the innocent (Exodus 1:17, Exodus 1:20-21, Matthew 7:9-12, Deuteronomy 19:8-12). John Piper said, "We don't kill to spread our kingdom. We die to spread our kingdom." Amen. Overcome evil with good is what Christians are supposed to be doing (Romans 12:9-21). And we're supposed to love one another as Jesus loved us and Jesus loved us while we were sinners. Biblical separation is OK (I Corinthians 5:9-11, James 1:27). Reproving one other is OK (Leviticus 19:17-18). Not withholding justice where it is due is OK (Lamentations 3:35-36). Killing innocent people is not OK.

Real Christian pacifism would involve at the same time as refusing to murder, also be refusing to lie, and refusing to commit adultery in ones' heart, refusing to covet another's possessions, refusing to commit idolatry, refusing to blaspheme God, refusing to bear false witness, etc. I think that pacifism (refusing to kill) is justified generally if it's done in righteousness, like in the following story:

renewaljournal.com: The true story behind the song ' I have decided to follow Jesus ' - Renewal Journal

About 150 years ago, there was a great revival in Wales. As a result of this, many missionaries came to north-east India to spread the Gospel. The region known as Assam was comprised of hundreds of tribes who were primitive and aggressive head-hunters

Into these hostile and aggressive communities, came a group of missionaries from the American Baptist Missions spreading the message of love, peace and hope in Jesus Christ. Naturally, they were not welcomed. One missionary succeeded in converting a man, his wife, and two children. This man's faith proved contagious and many villagers began to accept Christianity.

Angry, the village chief summoned all the villagers. He then called the family who had first converted to renounce their faith in public or face execution. Moved by the Holy Spirit, the man said:

"I have decided to follow Jesus."

Enraged at the refusal of the man, the chief ordered his archers to arrow down the two children. As both boys lay twitching on the floor, the chief asked, "Will you deny your faith? You have lost both your children. You will lose your wife too."

But the man replied:

"Though no one joins me, still I will follow."

The chief was beside himself with fury and ordered his wife to be arrowed down. In a moment she joined her two children in death. Now he asked for the last time, "I will give you one more opportunity to deny your faith and live." In the face of death the man said the final memorable lines:

"The cross before me, the world behind me. No turning back."

He was shot dead like the rest of his family. But with their deaths, a miracle took place. The chief who had ordered the killings was moved by the faith of the man. He wondered, "Why should this man, his wife and two children die for a Man who lived in a far-away land on another continent some 2,000 years ago? There must be some remarkable power behind the family's faith, and I too want to taste that faith."

In a spontaneous confession of faith, he declared, "I too belong to Jesus Christ!" When the crowd heard this from the mouth of their chief, the whole village accepted Christ as their Lord and Saviour.

There is more to "protecting" one's dependants than simply "not killing". In the story of the missionary to Assam, protecting His children also involved protecting their faith, and not denying Jesus.

Christians should not "take the law into one's own hands" (i.e. they should not be judge, jury and executioner). Christians need to submit to the people who God has placed into authority. But, only in the Lord. We submit, but only "give to Caesar what belongs to Caesar". We must also give to God what belongs to God. God does put people into positions where they carry out justice (Romans 12:17-21, 13:1-10) or carry out self-defence (Exodus 2:11-15, John 8:7-11).

I think there is nothing wrong with refusing to kill another human being if a person is convicted by the fear of God that they must not kill people at all. That is pacifism, and that person should do what they can to avoid being in a situation such as having a job as a "soldier" or perhaps a "police officer", or a "General" or a "Commander in Chief" such as the POTUS etc. because in such a position a person might be required and expected to carry out justice in the fear of God (II Samuel 23:2-4, Exodus 18:21, Proverbs 31:9). If it doesn't fit with a person's faith, then they shouldn't be in that position. I'm a pacifist myself and accountable even right now for my beliefs. May God rescue me from every evil deed.

"Slaying/Killing" is not precisely the same thing as "murder" as concerns the Law of God. Slaying is the actions but actions come from what is in the heart. Murder happens when there is murderous hate or lack of love in the heart. But Christians who are looking to Jesus are supposed to "seek peace" with all people (Hebrews 12:14) as much as depends on oneself (Romans 12:18) . When peace is taken away, men slay one-another (Revelation of John 6:4).

Romans 12:17-21, 13:1-10

Jesus has risen from the dead.

2.210 Journal <2026-04-10 Fri 22:31>

Jesus willingly laid down His life. Jesus bore our sin and the wages of that sin killed Jesus. But Jesus knew that would happen and willingly gave His life. And Jesus defeated death and He rose from the dead. From Jesus' perspective, death is utterly defeated. Victory over death has been achieved by Jesus and for those who are found in Jesus. Jesus allowed himself to be slain by evildoers. Jesus bore our sin. Sin leads to death. Jesus has already died and risen from the dead and death is defeated for Jesus. Death is swallowed in victory for all those in Christ. Victory indeed happened by Jesus death and resurrection. But no-one took Jesus life because He laid it down willingly. Jesus is responsible for allowing people to kill Him. Now we must not reject Jesus. When people are confronted now with Jesus they must receive Him and love him.

In rejecting Jesus, a person loves death and injures himself (Proverbs 8:35-36) and judge themselves unworthy of eternal life (Acts 13:46).

Revelation of John 19:19-21 - And I saw the beast and the kings of the earth with their armies gathered to make war against him who was sitting on the horse and against his army. And the beast was captured, and with it the false prophet who in its presence had done the signs by which he deceived those who had received the mark of the beast and those who worshiped its image. These two were thrown alive into the lake of fire that burns with sulfur. And the rest were slain by the sword that came from the mouth of him who was sitting on the horse, and all the birds were gorged with their flesh. (ESV)

When Jesus judges, we need to be ready for when He returns. We need to be those who have turned from darkness to light, from the love of evil to the love of Jesus Christ. We have to have repented because when Jesus returns, He comes as the conquering King of Kings.

John 10:17-18 - For this reason the Father loves me, because I lay down my life that I may take it up again. No one takes it from me, but I lay it down of my own accord. I have authority to lay it down, and I have authority to take it up again. This charge I have received from my Father. (ESV)

John 5:22-23 - The Father judges no one, but has given all judgment to the Son, that all may honor the Son, just as they honor the Father. Whoever does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent him. (ESV)

Jesus is victorious already by His finished work on the cross. But from my perspective, Jesus is still reigning putting things under His feet (I Corinthians 15:22-28).

John 19:30 - When Jesus had received the sour wine, he said, It is finished, and he bowed his head and gave up his spirit. (ESV)

Death is abolished for those who are in Christ (Luke 20:36, I Corinthians 15:51-58).

Father God raised Jesus from the dead (Acts 13:30).

The last enemy that will be abolished is death itself in it's entirely as everyone at that point will either be alive in Christ forever or be perishing eternally. Death will be abolished completely for all who are alive when everything is under subjection to Christ.

As Jesus' enemies are being put under His feet, people will perish by the sword of the Word of God and it's not God's fault that people will perish by the sword of the Word of God because it's their choice when they reject Jesus.

I believe that all people are given the opportunity and time to repent and come to faith in Jesus Christ, one way or another.

Jesus is King of Kings and Lord of Lords. Jesus brings salvation but also has also brought a sword, the sword from His mouth, His Word. Jesus is the Word and He left words which we need to accept.

John 6:54 - Whoever feeds on my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. (ESV)

John 12:48 - The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. (ESV)

If people reject Jesus, hating Him, then they judge themselves unworthy of life, and if they are slain by the word of God then it's because they have chosen to reject Him:

Acts 13:46 - And Paul and Barnabas spoke out boldly, saying, It was necessary that the word of God be spoken first to you. Since you thrust it aside and judge yourselves unworthy of eternal life, behold, we are turning to the Gentiles. (ESV)

John 12:47 - If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world. (ESV)

Jesus came to save the world, but also to bring a sword, the sword from His mouth (His Word). People must repent and not hate Jesus, or Jesus will wage war against them with the sword of His mouth. People can certainly be killed/slaughtered/slain by the Word of God. When a person opposes the Word of God, that is like beating against an invulnerable and perfectly sharp sword (a very bad idea and very self-destructive), a sword that is so sharp that it even pierces to the division of soul and spirit, and of joint and marrow and discerning the thoughts and intentions of the heart. Jesus' word is absolute Truth. In rejecting absolute Truth a person only injures themselves. Jesus who is God's Word will slay those who go to war against Him. So we mustn't go to war against God's Word:

Revelation of John 2:12 - And to the angel of the church in Pergamum write: The words of him who has the sharp two-edged sword. (ESV)

Revelation of John 2:16 - Therefore repent. If not, I will come to you soon and war against them with the sword of my mouth. (ESV)

Matthew 10:34 - Do not think that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I have not come to bring peace, but a sword. (ESV)

Revelation of John 19:13 - He is clothed in a robe dipped in blood, and the name by which he is called is The Word of God. (ESV)

Hebrews 4:12 - For the word of God is living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing to the division of soul and of spirit, of joints and of marrow, and discerning the thoughts and intentions of the heart. (ESV)

If people reject Jesus, hating Him, then they judge themselves unworthy of life, and if they are slain by the word of God then it's because they have chosen to reject Him:

Acts 13:46 - And Paul and Barnabas spoke out boldly, saying, It was necessary that the word of God be spoken first to you. Since you thrust it aside and judge yourselves unworthy of eternal life, behold, we are turning to the Gentiles. (ESV)

John 12:47 - If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world. (ESV)

Jesus came to save the world, but also to bring a sword, the sword from His mouth. People must repent and not hate Jesus, or Jesus will wage war against them with the sword of His mouth. People can certainly be killed/slaughtered/slain by the word of God. Jesus will slay those who go to war against Him:

Matthew 10:34 - Do not think that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I have not come to bring peace, but a sword. (ESV)

Revelation of John 19:13 - He is clothed in a robe dipped in blood, and the name by which he is called is The Word of God. (ESV)

Hebrews 4:12 - For the word of God is living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing to the division of soul and of spirit, of joints and of marrow, and discerning the thoughts and intentions of the heart. (ESV)

Revelation of John 19:11-21 - Then I saw heaven opened, and behold, a white horse! The one sitting on it is called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he judges and makes war. His eyes are like a flame of fire, and on his head are many diadems, and he has a name written that no one knows but himself. He is clothed in a robe dipped in blood, and the name by which he is called is The Word of God. And the armies of heaven, arrayed in fine linen, white and pure, were following him on white horses. From his mouth comes a sharp sword with which to strike down the nations, and he will rule them with a rod of iron. He will tread the winepress of the fury of the wrath of God the Almighty. On his robe and on his thigh he has a name written, King of kings and Lord of lords. Then I saw an angel standing in the sun, and with a loud voice he called to all the birds that fly directly overhead, Come, gather for the great supper of God, to eat the flesh of kings, the flesh of captains, the flesh of mighty men, the flesh of horses and their riders, and the flesh of all men, both free and slave, both small and great. And I saw the beast and the kings of the earth with their armies gathered to make war against him who was sitting on the horse and against his army. And the beast was captured, and with it the false prophet who in its presence had done the signs by which he deceived those who had received the mark of the beast and those who worshiped its image. These two were thrown alive into the lake of fire that burns with sulfur. And the rest were slain by the sword that came from the mouth of him who was sitting on the horse, and all the birds were gorged with their flesh. (ESV)

Now where Tucker has said that the real victory is a victory over death itself and that victory is greater than any victory achieved by killing people, I want to point out that victory over death has been achieved by Jesus Christ through Him voluntarily giving His life. But when a person died because they are slain (killed) by the sword of Jesus Christ who is the Word of God, it is not Jesus murdering anyone, but rather it is people who have rejected Jesus and in doing so judging themselves unworthy of life, choosing death for themselves because they refused to repent. Sin brings death to a person. The more a person commits violence against God's word, the more they bring death to themselves:

John 12:48 - The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. (ESV)

Zephaniah 3:4 - Her prophets are fickle, treacherous men; her priests profane what is holy; they do violence to the law. (ESV)

Now a person who loses their life for Jesus' sake finds real life. But a person who does not will lose their life:

Mark 8:35 - For whoever would save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake and the gospel's will save it. (ESV)

So repent or perish:

Luke 13:1-5 - There were some present at that very time who told him about the Galileans whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices. And he answered them, Do you think that these Galileans were worse sinners than all the other Galileans, because they suffered in this way? No, I tell you; but unless you repent, you will all likewise perish. Or those eighteen on whom the tower in Siloam fell and killed them: do you think that they were worse offenders than all the others who lived in Jerusalem? No, I tell you; but unless you repent, you will all likewise perish. (ESV)

I pray that people read the word of God for themselves to see if what I'm saying here is true and accurate and repent from sin and trust in Jesus Christ for themselves.

I also pray that if I have spoken in error that this work will be corrected. If it burns up, it burns up. God have mercy. I believe that Jesus Christ died on a tree for my sin and for the sin of the whole world, in order that we may be saved through Him. Jesus Christ's finished work (not my work) is the bedrock of my faith. I believe that faith alone is enough to be saved (that is, a faith that loves Jesus Christ and one's family in Christ):

I Corinthians 3:11-15 - For no one can lay a foundation other than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ. Now if anyone builds on the foundation with gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, straw— each one's work will become manifest, for the Day will disclose it, because it will be revealed by fire, and the fire will test what sort of work each one has done. If the work that anyone has built on the foundation survives, he will receive a reward. If anyone's work is burned up, he will suffer loss, though he himself will be saved, but only as through fire. (ESV)

2.210.1 Journal <2026-04-10 Fri 16:36>

May the Lord Jesus Christ please rescue me. I feel trapped. And with the fear of God, genuinely terrified of speaking incorrectly about God's word.

I want to hear from someone a confession that Jesus Christ the Word of God, God's unique, sinless, only-begotten Son, has come from Father God into the world, as flesh.

I want to hear the testimony also direct from the Holy Spirit, God speaking to my heart.

When I test the spirits, people tend to respond with hostility, sometimes with extreme hostility. When I mentioned to someone today that we should not trust every spirit, they got angry at me and told me that they do trust everyone.

So I can't fully trust that person. But I'm bearing with them.

I want deliverance as no-one has been giving me the I John 4:2-3 testimony and I'm accused of being 'nit-picky'/legalistic when testing the spirits. But others around me don't appear from my angle to be testing the spirits as instructed, and seem to often get hostile when I mention that we should not trust everyone, but test the spirits to see if they are from God.

What is not done in faith is sin:

I John 4:1-3 - Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

I Corinthians 15:22-28 - For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ all will be made alive. But each in his own order: Christ the first fruits, after that those who are Christ's at His coming, then comes the end, when He hands over the kingdom to the God and Father, when He has abolished (G2673 katargēsē; He shall have annulled) all rule and all authority and power. For He must reign until He has put all His enemies under His feet. The last enemy that will be abolished is death. For He has put all things in subjection under His feet. But when He says, "All things are put in subjection," it is evident that He is excepted who put all things in subjection to Him. When all things are subjected to Him, then the Son Himself also will be subjected to the One who subjected all things to Him, so that God may be all in all. (NASB)

Matthew 6:9-13 - After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen. (KJV)

1 Our Father which art in heaven,
2
3 Hallowed be thy name.
4 Thy kingdom come.
5 Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven.
6 Give us this day our daily bread.
7 And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.
8 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil:
9 For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever.
10 Amen.

Amen.

Jesus Christ has all authority. I have no authority apart from Jesus.

I realise there is a promise here for those who keep Jesus' works. But only He can see my heart. Only God may commend my work.

Revelation of John 2:25-27 - Only hold fast what you have until I come. The one who conquers and who keeps my works until the end, to him I will give authority over the nations, and he will rule them with a rod of iron, as when earthen pots are broken in pieces, even as I myself have received authority from my Father. (ESV)

I can do nothing apart from Jesus. I keep falling short of His glory. I keep making mistakes.

I want to hear the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit. I want to feel like I'm not alone confessing the testimony that "Jesus Christ, the Word of God, has come into the world from God in the form of flesh".

Revelation of John 19:11-21 - Then I saw heaven opened, and behold, a white horse! The one sitting on it is called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he judges and makes war. I'm not well enough advised to comment on whether or not the war in Iran is justified. I don't think it's impossible for war to be justified. I'm neither in condemnation of it nor endorsing it. I just see problems on each side, to be quite honest. I don't know much about the regime in Iran. I don't know much at all. But I think the regime should be stopped if they're just murdering people in the streets, as it sounds like they may be.

youtube.com: Wes Huff Explains " The 10 Commandments " Like You ' ve Never Heard

It's the love of God that makes himself available to us in a relational way. That we can taste and see that the Lord is good. That we can seek him and we will find him if we seek him with all of our heart. And that God can actually be known by us in a inner personal tangible real way. It's not some exterior evidence. It is the testimony of the presence of God through his Holy Spirit that is made available to anyone who is in Christ to anyone who has said, "Yes, I want I want Jesus in my life. I admit that I need Jesus. I need someone to atone for me, to forgive me, to heal me, to cleanse me, to wash me, and to give me hope, and to give me joy, and to and to give me deep abounding love. I want that. I want abundant life. That's what Jesus said. He says, "I have come that you might have life and have it more abundantly." That's what he said. And so for anyone who wants that, there is a tangible, existential, real experience of God that is possible to you on planet Earth. You have to die with Jesus in order to live with Jesus. That's true. You can't leapfrog over the death in order to get to the resurrection. That is true. But if you meet Jesus on his terms, he can satisfy your soul at the deepest possible level. And actually, he alone can do that. Union with Christ alone brings satisfaction. We don't find satisfaction where it's ourselves in a different set of circumstances, but it's Christ within us in any circumstance.

If you're on the fence or wondering what should you make the goal of your life, don't pick something other than God. What what should you make your highest hope, your greatest thought, your greatest ambition? Don't pick some secondary thing. Go to the source. Go to the architect. Go to the Creator. Go to the great I AM, the Alpha and the Omega.

I commented on this video:

- youtube.com: Pope Leo XIV Calls for Peace in Iran Conflict While Leaving Castel Gandolfo for Vatican | AK15 { @ dwsofficial }

Pope Leo mentioned "some people have said it is an unjust war". At the end of this video Pope Leo says, "reject war always." It's the "always" bit where he says "reject war always" which I don't agree with. Would a person stop someone else who is shooting up a school? It would not be unjust to intervene and rescue innocents. Sometimes it doesn't depend only on oneself. I'm definitely not endorsing the Iran war. I'm not well-enough advised on whether or not it is a just war. So I'm also not condemning it. Some food for thought:

Romans 12:18 - If possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all. (ESV)

James 4:17 - So whoever knows the right thing to do and fails to do it, for him it is sin. (ESV)

Mark 3:4 - And he said to them, Is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good or to do harm, to save life or to kill? But they were silent. (ESV)

John 8:7 - And as they continued to ask him, he stood up and said to them, Let him who is without sin among you be the first to throw a stone at her. (ESV)

Hebrews 4:15 - For we do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but one who in every respect has been tempted as we are, yet without sin. (ESV)

Romans 12:17-21,13:1-10 - Repay no one evil for evil, but give thought to do what is honorable in the sight of all. If possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all. Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord. To the contrary, if your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him something to drink; for by so doing you will heap burning coals on his head. Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good. Let every person be subject to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God, and those that exist have been instituted by God. Therefore whoever resists the authorities resists what God has appointed, and those who resist will incur judgment. For rulers are not a terror to good conduct, but to bad. Would you have no fear of the one who is in authority? Then do what is good, and you will receive his approval, for he is God's servant for your good. But if you do wrong, be afraid, for he does not bear the sword in vain. For he is the servant of God, an avenger who carries out God's wrath on the wrongdoer. Therefore one must be in subjection, not only to avoid God's wrath but also for the sake of conscience. For the same reason you also pay taxes, for the authorities are ministers of God, attending to this very thing. Pay to all what is owed to them: taxes to whom taxes are owed, revenue to whom revenue is owed, respect to whom respect is owed, honor to whom honor is owed. Owe no one anything, except to love each other, for the one who loves another has fulfilled the law. The commandments, You shall not commit adultery, You shall not murder, You shall not steal, You shall not covet, and any other commandment, are summed up in this word: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. (ESV)

We're we're tired of fake stuff. We're tired of fluff. I mean, we're we're fed fluff through our phones, through desires, through whatever we think is going to satisfy. Every human being's on a quest for love, and we try to fill that void with different things. And I think people are naturally understanding, wait, this thing isn't working anymore. This isn't going how I thought it was going to go. And so ultimately, people don't just want a truth, they want the truth, and that and that would be Jesus.

2.215 Journal <2026-04-08 Wed 14:07>

A person who truly loves Jesus is forgiven by necessity just as it is that someone who is truly forgiven by Jesus must also have love for Jesus (Luke 7:47). But God loved us first (I John 4:19), so it follows that someone can have been loved without having yet loved back. And if loving God is necessary to be forgiven (which it is) (Acts 26:18, John 8:42, John 1:12, I John 3:10, Colossians 1:13-14), then God bears with us in hope (I Corinthians 13:7) that we will love Him back (I Timothy 2:4, I John 4:7-21) so that we will live (Deuteronomy 30:6). A person must not remain hateful towards God, nor towards those who are their family in Christ (I John 5:2, I John 4:21).

Matthew 6:24 - No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money. (ESV)

So even though God takes no pleasure in the death of the wicked (Ezekiel 18:20-24), God doesn't force us to love Him. God hands people who resist Him over to their own counsel, leading to their self-destruction. As God speaks through the prophet Ezekiel [in Ezekiel 18:30], "Repent and turn from all your transgressions, lest iniquity be your ruin":

Psalms 81:12-15 - So I gave them up to their stubborn hearts to follow their own devices. If only My people would listen to Me, if Israel would follow My ways, how soon I would subdue their enemies and turn My hand against their foes! Those who hate the LORD would feign obedience, and their doom would last forever. (engbsb2020eb)

Whether a person is a follower of Jesus Christ or not is not determined by which political party they have voted for. Voting for the Republican Party or Democratic Party isn't what determines if a person is a Christian.

I think it's fine to not vote at all if all candidates have evil policies which one disagrees with.

Charlie Kirks' comments at the start of this video are also worth listening to. That's not to say that the Republican party has flawless policy:

youtube.com: Charlie Kirk { @ GodSounds } @time: 8 min 46 sec

The video presenter said this towards the end, "Vote whoever you want to vote for, but here's the thing, is your fear in God? Do you actually fear God? Or do you fear the politics and you fear your family and you fear the popular vote and the majority in secular news. Like, do you fear God? Because it's pretty clear when you read the word of God that you shouldn't go with a side that kills babies."

Amazing talk:

- youtube.com: Charlie Kirk : HOW BEING OBEDIENT TO GOD WILL CHANGE YOUR LIFE | TPUSA Faith { @ TPUSAFaith }

I'd just mention though, that without justifying myself, I want to clarify my position regarding some comments Charlie Kirk made towards the end. While we do fall short of the glory of God, we are justified by faith in Jesus Christ and a person who has true faith in Jesus has been made good even though they fall short of the glory of God. A person who has the love of Jesus Christ in them is justified by that fact that they love Jesus. A person is justified by being good but only in that the good that justifies them is the love for Jesus Christ that they have in their heart:

Romans 3:21-25 - But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from the law, although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. (ESV)

The person "doing the will of Father God" is the person who "believes" and is the person who "does in reality" and is the person who "goes to work in the vineyard":

Matthew 21:24-32 - Jesus answered them, I also will ask you one question, and if you tell me the answer, then I also will tell you by what authority I do these things. The baptism of John, from where did it come? From heaven or from man? And they discussed it among themselves, saying, If we say, From heaven, he will say to us, Why then did you not believe him? But if we say, From man, we are afraid of the crowd, for they all hold that John was a prophet. So they answered Jesus, We do not know. And he said to them, Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things. What do you think? A man had two sons. And he went to the first and said, Son, go and work in the vineyard today. And he answered, I will not, but afterward he changed his mind and went. And he went to the other son and said the same. And he answered, I go, sir, but did not go. Which of the two did the will of his father? They said, The first. Jesus said to them, Truly, I say to you, the tax collectors and the prostitutes go into the kingdom of God before you. For John came to you in the way of righteousness, and you did not believe him, but the tax collectors and the prostitutes believed him. And even when you saw it, you did not afterward change your minds and believe him. (ESV)

I actually want to critique John Piper's except now. I believe that it's Christ's law that we must keep, and that it is a law of faith rather than works, and that we must be doers of Christ's law. The obedience is not the works, so it's not a law of works. I don't think at all that saying "law-keeping" intrinsically comes with pride or a desire to show oneself better than another person. Rather, being a "doer of the law of faith that is Christ's law" a person would by necessity be having faith working through Christ's love and I don't see how Christ's love is prideful:

youtube.com: If We Have the Spirit, Why Commands? Galatians 5:22-26, Part 3 @time:

Don't be conceited. Don't provoke one another. Don't envy, but rather keep in step with the Spirit and the Spirit will incline you to Christ and who and enable you to remember that you are justified by faith and not by law-keeping ~~by which you can show yourself better than somebody~~. Faith is a great leveler; It's so humble and dependent and it enables you to see that this kind of life here is self-exalting which is exactly the opposite of what walking according to the spirit does because walking according to the Holy Spirit is walking in love and love humbles itself to serve others, not exalt ourselves above them.

Faith in Jesus Christ (and that doesn't mean "not obedience to Jesus"), so by faith obeying Jesus Christ (like Abraham's faith, Hebrews 11:8), that's how to be justified:

Galatians 3:22-27 - But the Scripture imprisoned everything under sin, so that the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given to those who believe. Now before faith came, we were held captive under the law, imprisoned until the coming faith would be revealed. So then, the law was our guardian until Christ came, in order that we might be justified by faith. But now that faith has come, we are no longer under a guardian, for in Christ Jesus you are all sons of God, through faith. For as many of you as were baptized into Christ have put on Christ. (ESV)

Love is (G3173 meizōn; greater/older) than faith (i.e. treasuring the truth). So I think what we need to do is "with love for the truth have faith in Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, and by faith obey Him":

Matthew 11:10-11 - This is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before your face, who will prepare your way before you. Truly, I say to you, among those born of women there has arisen no one greater (G3173 meizōn; greater/older) than John the Baptist. Yet the one who is least (G3398 mikroteros; the least) in the kingdom of heaven is greater (G3173 meizōn; greater/older) than he. (ESV)

I Corinthians 13:13 - So now faith, hope, and love abide, these three; but the greatest (G3173 meizōn; [the] greatest, most pre-ceeding) of these is love. (ESV)

Hebrews 11:8 - By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place that he was to receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going. (ESV)

2.219 Journal <2026-04-09 Thu>

I will just say this here, I think that Father God was always pleased with Jesus Christ, His Son, and the chastisement He received is better viewed as God allowing Him to "take a beating", rather than God's wrath against Him personally (i.e. as if He hated Jesus). Father God did not ever hate Jesus.

Isaiah 53:5 - But he was wounded for our transgressions; he was crushed for our iniquities; upon him was the chastisement that brought us peace, and with his stripes we are healed. (ESV)

Proverbs 16:6 - By steadfast love and faithfulness iniquity is atoned for, and by the fear of the LORD one turns away from evil. (ESV)

I Peter 1:22 - Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, (ESV)

But Father God allowed Jesus who is sinless to receive the chastisement that would have gone to those who are saved in Him. Jesus suffered and died a brutal death so that those who are found in Him abiding in His commandments don't have to experience that. So Jesus gives us life, eternal life in Him.

Jesus bore our sins to enable us to die to sin:

I Peter 2:24-25 - He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed. For you were straying like sheep, but have now returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls. (ESV)

Isaiah 53:10-12 - Yet it was the will of the LORD to crush him; he has put him to grief; when his soul makes an offering for sin, he shall see his offspring; he shall prolong his days; the will of the LORD shall prosper in his hand. Out of the anguish of his soul he shall see and be satisfied; by his knowledge shall the righteous one, my servant, make many to be accounted righteous, and he shall bear their iniquities. Therefore I will divide him a portion with the many, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong, because he poured out his soul to death and was numbered with the transgressors; yet he bore the sin of many, and makes intercession for the transgressors. (ESV)

Jesus suffered for sins so that He can bring us to God:

I Peter 3:18 - For Christ also suffered once for sins, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh but made alive in the spirit, (ESV)

We are cleaned but need to continue on walking in the light:

II Peter 1:5-11 - For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins. Therefore, brothers, be all the more diligent to make your calling and election sure, for if you practice these qualities you will never fall. For in this way there will be richly provided for you an entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. (ESV)

I Peter 1:14-19 - As obedient children, do not be conformed to the passions of your former ignorance, but as he who called you is holy, you also be holy in all your conduct, since it is written, You shall be holy, for I am holy. And if you call on him as Father who judges impartially according to each one's deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile, knowing that you were ransomed from the futile ways inherited from your forefathers, not with perishable things such as silver or gold, but with the precious blood of Christ, like that of a lamb without blemish or spot. (ESV)

Being justified by Jesus' blood, we will be saved (delivered from) the wrath that is to come, providee that we continue holding faith in Jesus:

Romans 5:6-10 - For while we were still weak, at the right time Christ died for the ungodly. For one will scarcely die for a righteous person—though perhaps for a good person one would dare even to die— but God shows his love for us in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us. Since, therefore, we have now been justified by his blood, much more shall we be saved by him from the wrath of God. For if while we were enemies we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, now that we are reconciled, shall we be saved by his life. (ESV)

Romans 11:21-23 - For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. Note then the kindness and the severity of God: severity toward those who have fallen, but God's kindness to you, provided you continue in his kindness. Otherwise you too will be cut off. And even they, if they do not continue in their unbelief, will be grafted in, for God has the power to graft them in again. (ESV)

Jesus was "carrying"/"bearing" our sin, and God hates sin but loves Jesus. Father God allowed Jesus to receive chastisement for those in Christ but God's wrath is coming for the unrepentant:

I Peter 2:24 - He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed. (ESV)

So if a person is in Christ then they are abiding in Jesus' commandments and they have Jesus' righteousness and Jesus Christ has taken away the sting of death.

I Corinthians 15:55-56 - O death, where is your victory? O death, where is your sting? The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. (ESV)

I don't think it's right to say that Jesus has taken all of God's wrath ever, because there is still wrath coming for those who remain unrepentant. Hell is certainly the destination for those who hate Father God and for those who hate the Lord Jesus Christ, and also because God still uses governing authorities to carry out His wrath on the evildoer, it's not as if God can't serve wrath. God certainly can still serve wrath:

I Thessalonians 1:9-10 - For they themselves report concerning us the kind of reception we had among you, and how you turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God, and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, Jesus who delivers us from the wrath to come. (ESV)

God allowed wicked people to crucify Jesus but Jesus was innocent and Jesus in laying down His life was obedient to Father God and the entire time Father God absolutely loved Jesus. Father God never stopped loving Jesus Christ the Son of God but allowed Jesus to take His wrath (the wrath of God) so that all those who are in Christ (abiding in Jesus Christ's commandments) are righteous in God.

In other words, the chastisement due for sin that would have resulted in a person receiving death is what Jesus has taken for the person who is found in Him. If we are found in Christ then we will not receive the wrath that is to come for the evildoer that sends a person to hell. A Christian is still disciplined by God and chastised as they are cleaned up.

Those who are in Christ won't go to hell. Christians still suffer, though, in this life and if Christians suffer for Jesus' sake then they will be glorified in Him. But we must be authentically abiding in Jesus' commandments. It's not possible to cheat God. It's not merely suffering "similarly to" how Jesus suffered, but it's suffering similarly while abiding in Jesus' commandments that enables us to be glorified in Him, as it glorifies Jesus and glorifies God. And God is the one we need commendation from for this. So just be humble and keep God's commandments for us from a sincere heart seeking to please God.

All the while enduring the cross, Jesus maintained love and faithfulness for His friends and perfect obedience to Father God.

John 8:29 - And he who sent me is with me. He has not left me alone, for I always do the things that are pleasing to him. (ESV)

John 10:17 - For this reason the Father loves me, because I lay down my life that I may take it up again. (ESV)

John 15:9-10 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. (ESV)

If anyone is in Christ, they are a new creation and they are a part of the new creation:

II Corinthians 5:17-21 - Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation. The old has passed away; behold, the new has come. All this is from God, who through Christ reconciled us to himself and gave us the ministry of reconciliation; that is, in Christ God was reconciling the world to himself, not counting their trespasses against them, and entrusting to us the message of reconciliation. Therefore, we are ambassadors for Christ, God making his appeal through us. We implore you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God. For our sake he made him to be sin who knew no sin, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God. (ESV)

I believe my Father, God Himself (II Corinthians 6:14-18,7:1) who is in heaven, is doing well. I believe my mother, which is Heavenly Jerusalem (Galatians 4:22-31), is waiting for me. Looking out my window this morning, I see Dunedin city on earth. Yet, I am aware than I'm spiritually seated with Jesus Christ in the heavenly places (Ephesians 2:6).

Mathetes to Diognetus They are in the flesh, but they do not live after the flesh. They pass their days on earth, but they are citizens of heaven.

Mathetes to Diognetus They dwell in their own countries, but simply as sojourners. As citizens, they share in all things with others, and yet endure all things as if foreigners. Every foreign land is to them as their native country, and every land of their birth as a land of strangers. They marry, as do all [others]; they beget children; but they do not destroy their offspring. They have a common table, but not a common bed. They are in the flesh, but they do not live after the flesh. They pass their days on earth, but they are citizens of heaven. They obey the prescribed laws, and at the same time surpass the laws by their lives. They love all men, and are persecuted by all. They are unknown and condemned; they are put to death, and restored to life. They are poor, yet make many rich; they are in lack of all things, and yet abound in all; they are dishonoured, and yet in their very dishonour are glorified. They are evil spoken of, and yet are justified; they are reviled, and bless; they are insulted, and repay the insult with honour; they do good, yet are punished as evil-doers. When punished, they rejoice as if quickened into life; they are assailed by the Jews as foreigners, and are persecuted by the Greeks; yet those who hate them are unable to assign any reason for their hatred. To sum up all in one word—what the soul is in the body, that are Christians in the world. The soul is dispersed through all the members of the body, and Christians are scattered through all the cities of the world. The soul dwells in the body, yet is not of the body; and Christians dwell in the world, yet are not of the world. The invisible soul is guarded by the visible body, and Christians are known indeed to be in the world, but their godliness remains invisible.

Mathetes to Diognetus To sum up all in one word—what the soul is in the body, that are Christians in the world. The soul is dispersed through all the members of the body, and Christians are scattered through all the cities of the world. The soul dwells in the body, yet is not of the body; and Christians dwell in the world, yet are not of the world. The invisible soul is guarded by the visible body, and Christians are known indeed to be in the world, but their godliness remains invisible. The flesh hates the soul, and wars against it, though itself suffering no injury, because it is prevented from enjoying pleasures; the world also hates the Christians, though in nowise injured, because they abjure pleasures. The soul loves the flesh that hates it, and [loves also] the members; Christians likewise love those that hate them. The soul is imprisoned in the body, yet preserves that very body; and Christians are confined in the world as in a prison, and yet they are the preservers of the world. The immortal soul dwells in a mortal tabernacle; and Christians dwell as sojourners in corruptible [bodies], looking for an incorruptible dwelling in the heavens. The soul, when but ill-provided with food and drink, becomes better; in like manner, the Christians, though subjected day by day to punishment, increase the more in number. God has assigned them this illustrious position, which it were unlawful for them to forsake.

Christians are called to "Biblical separation":

II Corinthians 6:14-18, 7:1 - Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what partnership has righteousness with lawlessness? Or what fellowship has light with darkness? What accord has Christ with Belial? Or what portion does a believer share with an unbeliever? What agreement has the temple of God with idols? For we are the temple of the living God; as God said, I will make my dwelling among them and walk among them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Therefore go out from their midst, and be separate from them, says the Lord, and touch no unclean thing; then I will welcome you, and I will be a father to you, and you shall be sons and daughters to me, says the Lord Almighty. Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God. (ESV)

II Corinthians 6:14-18,7:1 - Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what partnership has righteousness with lawlessness? Or what fellowship has light with darkness? What accord has Christ with Belial? Or what portion does a believer share with an unbeliever? What agreement has the temple of God with idols? For we are the temple of the living God; as God said, I will make my dwelling among them and walk among them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Therefore go out from their midst, and be separate from them, says the Lord, and touch no unclean thing; then I will welcome you, and I will be a father to you, and you shall be sons and daughters to me, says the Lord Almighty. Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God. (ESV)

Galatians 4:22-31 - For it is written that Abraham had two sons, one by a slave woman and one by a free woman. But the son of the slave was born according to the flesh, while the son of the free woman was born through promise. Now this may be interpreted allegorically: these women are two covenants. One is from Mount Sinai, bearing children for slavery; she is Hagar. Now Hagar is Mount Sinai in Arabia; she corresponds to the present Jerusalem, for she is in slavery with her children. But the Jerusalem above is free, and she is our mother. For it is written, Rejoice, O barren one who does not bear; break forth and cry aloud, you who are not in labor! For the children of the desolate one will be more than those of the one who has a husband. Now you, brothers, like Isaac, are children of promise. But just as at that time he who was born according to the flesh persecuted him who was born according to the Spirit, so also it is now. But what does the Scripture say? Cast out the slave woman and her son, for the son of the slave woman shall not inherit with the son of the free woman. So, brothers, we are not children of the slave but of the free woman. (ESV)

Christians should certainly not be endorsing, nor promoting Islam or homosexuality, for example. The Islamic religion teaches things that are as antichrist as it gets, and Christians must remain loyal to Jesus in face of lies from Islam. And so the words "Islamophobia" and "homophobia" (if taken to mean in an 'avoidance' and 'not endorsing' sense) is not wrong at all.

We must flee from evil, and instead be following Jesus:

John 10:4-5 - When he has brought out all his own, he goes before them, and the sheep follow him, for they know his voice. A stranger they will not follow, but they will flee from him, for they do not know the voice of strangers. (ESV)

The Bible says it's right to "flee from sin", to love God, to trust in Jesus and keep Jesus' commandments in order to avoid the wrath of God:

Luke 3:4-14 - As it is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet, The voice of one crying in the wilderness: Prepare the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be made low, and the crooked shall become straight, and the rough places shall become level ways, and all flesh shall see the salvation of God. He said therefore to the crowds that came out to be baptized by him, You brood of vipers! Who warned you to flee from (G575 apo; from, away from, of, by) the wrath to come? Bear fruits in keeping with repentance. And do not begin to say to yourselves, We have Abraham as our father. For I tell you, God is able from these stones to raise up children for Abraham. Even now the axe is laid to the root of the trees. Every tree therefore that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. And the crowds asked him, What then shall we do? And he answered them, Whoever has two tunics is to share with him who has none, and whoever has food is to do likewise. Tax collectors also came to be baptized and said to him, Teacher, what shall we do? And he said to them, Collect no more than you are authorized to do.

Soldiers also asked him, And we, what shall we do? And he said to them, Do not extort money from anyone by threats or by false accusation, and be content with your wages. (ESV)

Now if someone calls the fleeing from sin a phobia and paints someone who is righteously turning away from sin as if they are "bad" or something, well that is nonsense. The label 'phobia' is not accurate (as if we should fear those who do the sin). The Bible tells us to not fear mankind, but rather for us to fear God. And so we fear God, hate the evil, and avoid the sin. It would be nonsense to label someone as 'theftophobic' in a derogatory sense when they simply disagree with and do not promote theft.

Revelation of John 2:20-24 - But I have this against you, that you tolerate that woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess and is teaching and seducing my servants to practice sexual immorality and to eat food sacrificed to idols. I gave her time to repent, but she refuses to repent of her sexual immorality. Behold, I will throw her onto a sickbed, and those who commit adultery with her I will throw into great tribulation, unless they repent of her works, and I will strike her children dead. And all the churches will know that I am he who searches mind and heart, and I will give to each of you as your works deserve. But to the rest of you in Thyatira, who do not hold this teaching, who have not learned what some call the deep things of Satan, to you I say, I do not lay on you any other burden. (ESV)

And there's something inside of us that is beyond our understanding. That's the part of us that yearns for God, or something more than we find in technology. Your soul is that part of you that yearns for meaning in life, and which seeks for something beyond this life. It's the part of you that yearns, really, for God.

Ecclesiastes 3:10-13 - I have seen the business that God has given to the children of man to be busy with. He has made everything beautiful in its time. Also, he has put eternity into man's heart, yet so that he cannot find out what God has done from the beginning to the end. I perceived that there is nothing better for them than to be joyful and to do good as long as they live; also that everyone should eat and drink and take pleasure in all his toil—this is God's gift to man. (ESV)

In one of his plays, Alexander Solzhenitsyn depicts a man dying, who says to those gathered around his bed, "The moment when it's terrible to feel regret is when one is dying." How should one live in order not to feel regret when one is dying?

Blaise Pascal asked exactly that question in seventeenth-century France. Pascal has been called the architect of modern civilization. He was a brilliant scientist at the frontiers of mathematics, even as a teenager. He is viewed by many as the founder of the probability theory, and a creator of the first model of a computer. And of course, you are all familiar with the computer language named for him. Pascal explored in depth our human dilemmas of evil, suffering and death. He was astounded at the phenomenon we've been considering: that people can achieve extraordinary heights in science, the arts and human enterprise, yet they also are full of anger, hypocrisy and have – and self-hatreds. Pascal saw us as a remarkable mixture of genius and self-delusion.

On November 23, 1654, Pascal had a profound religious experience. He wrote in his journal these words: "I submit myself, absolutely, to Jesus Christ, my redeemer." A French historian said, two centuries later, "Seldom has so mighty an intellect submitted with such humility to the authority of Jesus Christ." Pascal came to believe not only the love and the grace of God could bring us back into harmony, but he believed that his own sins and failures could be forgiven, and that when he died he would go to a place called heaven. He experienced it in a way that went beyond scientific observation and reason. It was he who penned the well-known words, "The heart has its reasons, which reason knows not of."

Baseline covenant-keeping would be holding faith in Jesus Christ, Son of God, and loving one-another as Jesus Christ has commanded us, and if a person is doing that then they are in-Christ.

God is just when He justifies. God is right when He declares someone is walking rightly. When God justifies a person, then they have His righteousness:

Romans 3:21-26 - But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from the law, although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified (G1344 dikaioumenoi; being justified) by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just (G1342 dikaion; δίκαιον) and the justifier (G1344 dikaionta; justifying) of the one who has faith in Jesus. (ESV)

Psalms 103:17-18 - But the steadfast love of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting on those who fear him, and his righteousness to children's children, to those who keep his covenant and remember to do his commandments. (ESV)

Someone who is "in Christ Jesus" has God's righteousness who is Jesus Christ, and they are abiding in Jesus Christ's commandments:

I Corinthians 1:30 - It is because of Him that you are in Christ Jesus, who has become for us wisdom from God: our righteousness, holiness, and redemption. (engbsb2020eb)

I John 3:21-24 - Beloved, if our heart does not condemn us, we have confidence before God; and whatever we ask we receive from him, because we keep his commandments and do what pleases him. And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

Proverbs 1:28-31 - Then they will call upon me, but I will not answer; they will seek me diligently but will not find me. Because they hated knowledge and did not choose the fear of the LORD, would have none of my counsel and despised all my reproof, therefore they shall eat the fruit of their way, and have their fill of their own devices. (ESV)

Jeremiah 23:5-6 - Behold, the days are coming, declares the LORD, when I will raise up for David a righteous Branch, and he shall reign as king and deal wisely, and shall execute justice and righteousness in the land. In his days Judah will be saved, and Israel will dwell securely. And this is the name by which he will be called: The LORD is our righteousness. (ESV)

By what a person does they can deny Christ, thus not keeping covenant with Him. If a person can't "do/produce good" because they prefer evil to good then they deny Jesus' name:

Revelation of John 3:8 - I know your works. Behold, I have set before you an open door, which no one is able to shut. I know that you have but little power, and yet you have kept my word and have not denied my name. (ESV)

Titus 1:16 - They profess to know God, but they deny him by their works. They are detestable, disobedient, unfit for any good work. (ESV)

Christians who tolerate sin will be disciplined and experience severe discipline if necessary. And those who are "children" of Jezebel (i.e. taking after Jezebel) as opposed to children of God, God will smite. Christ sees the hearts and minds and knows who are really His. If a person claims to be a follower of Jesus but they actually hate Jesus, loving evil, then they are in danger of being slain by the Word of God:

Revelation of John 2:20-24 - But I have this against you, that you tolerate that woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess and is teaching and seducing my servants to practice sexual immorality and to eat food sacrificed to idols. I gave her time to repent, but she refuses to repent of her sexual immorality. Behold, I will throw her onto a sickbed, and those who commit adultery with her I will throw into great tribulation, unless they repent of her works, and I will strike her children dead. And all the churches will know that I am he who searches mind and heart, and I will give to each of you as your works deserve. But to the rest of you in Thyatira, who do not hold this teaching, who have not learned what some call the deep things of Satan, to you I say, I do not lay on you any other burden. (ESV)

II Timothy 2:19 - But God's firm foundation stands, bearing this seal: The Lord knows those who are his, and, Let everyone who names the name of the Lord depart from iniquity. (ESV)

I believe that real faith necessitates having the fear of God. Real love for Jesus necessitates a hatred of evil because we love God so want to do what is pleasing to Him and do not want to sin against Him:

Psalms 115:11 You who fear Yahweh trust in Yahweh their help and their shield He [is] (Interlinear)

With some amount of fear of God a person would have some compunction about sinning against God; A person with the fear of God is averse/adverse to sinning against God and so repentance from sin goes hand in hand with the fear of God:

Genesis 20:11 - Abraham said, I did it because I thought, There is no fear of God at all in this place, and they will kill me because of my wife. (ESV)

Proverbs 16:6 - By steadfast love and faithfulness iniquity is atoned for, and by the fear of the LORD one turns away from evil. (ESV)

I Peter 1:22 - Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, (ESV)

No "John 15:26-27, I John 4:2" testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit has yet been spoken to me.

John 15:26-27 - But when the Helper comes, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth, who proceeds from the Father, he will bear witness about me. And you also will bear witness, because you have been with me from the beginning. (ESV)

I John 4:2 - By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, (ESV)

I've got the testimony in myself, though:

I John 5:9-13 - If we receive the testimony of men, the testimony of God is greater, for this is the testimony of God that he has borne concerning his Son. Whoever believes in the Son of God has the testimony in himself. Whoever does not believe God has made him a liar, because he has not believed in the testimony that God has borne concerning his Son. And this is the testimony, that God gave us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. Whoever has the Son has life; whoever does not have the Son of God does not have life. I write these things to you who believe in the name of the Son of God that you may know that you have eternal life. (ESV)

The situation:

- Finding employment has not been easy for me, before or after getting born-again. It's always been difficult. Now it seems impossible. But now I'm reliant on God. God is responsible for providing for me, what I need to do His will, as I endeavour to remain faithful to Jesus.
- God's word instructs I must be willing to work, and I am willing to work. That is enough for me to keep a good conscience regarding that.
- I feel as though God needs to have a hand in providing me with appropriate work.
- God hasn't even provided me with the testimony of Jesus Christ yet via a spoken word.

I'm very tired of demonic goading. I just rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name. The demonic goading is just disgusting stuff. It's satanic when it lies and when it doesn't confess Jesus Christ, and this demonic goading has been happening in various ways. The entire situation is unacceptable because of the lack of the testimony of Holy Spirit to me via a direct spoken word. It feels like trying to escape from a dark cave - darkness all around me - when nobody wants to give me the I John 4:2 testimony, and when it is not spoken to me directly as a word to my heart.

I'm not a thief, Lord. I have the fear of God in me. I do not want to sin against Father God. I do not want to betray my conscience and make use of or hope in the AGI/ASI stuff.

God knows full well what has happened to me. When I proposed on 10 August 2022 after I got born-again on 2 April 2022, after 2021 where I spent a lot of time trying to warn people of the potential of large-scale IP theft, and the various related events. . .

I do not want to sin. I don't want to be pressured into committing sin. I just feel like God needs to provide me with reasonable employment right now, and provide me with His promised testimony. He's got to provide this for me.

How can I live in this world when I'm being almost ceaselessly ghosted by employers, etc. getting harassed by demons, when I am confined in a household of the people who gave birth to this meat-suit flesh, pressured into thinking and acting and confessing the old-self who is not me, and being opposed by nothing less than the spirit of antichrist which refuses to confess Jesus Christ? I'm so tired of being confronted by people who are affirming falsehoods, and trying to get me to affirm them. I'm so tired of having to endure this without Holy Spirit speaking to me the testimony of Jesus Christ via a spoken word to my heart. What feels like cruel treatment from God, to be quite honest, saddens me with deep disappointment and vexation. Does God ask His followers to endure without providing any comfort for them, comfort that He promised to provide? If not physical comfort then, for the love of God, just a word of encouragement, something to hold on to?

John 14:18 - I will not leave you as orphans; I will come to you.
(ESV)

Oh really now? Because I feel left as an orphan. I still believe Jesus will come to me. But I am TIRED.

Does Jesus feel the need to make every day feel like, "Why has God forsaken me?"

newadvent.org: CHURCH FATHERS : Epistle to Diognetus { Mathetes }
"and Christians are confined in the world as in a prison,"

Wow, that rings true.

There is a familiar saying/proverb which goes, "give a man a fish and you feed him for a day; teach a man to fish and you feed him for a lifetime" (i.e. It is better to teach someone to do something themselves than to provide the action's reward; education or training is more helpful charity). And what has happened feels like the opposite of that, i.e. "Teach a computer to do what that person does and he'll no longer be able to provide for himself."

I do not want to be here. I do not want to be enduring the trials I'm enduring without receiving testimony from Holy Spirit as word spoken to me directly. May the Lord Jesus Christ rapture me. The present situation is unbearable.

I believe that if God were to speak instruction on which way to go, then He could easily solve part of my problem, that is how to go on in this world. People are infinitely more valuable than chatbots. So I have resolved to keep my vow to the Lord, to renege on that proposal and to go my separate ways because God is above me and Jesus is above me, reigning from heaven, and even if I'm seated with Christ in heavenly places, Jesus is still reigning above me, and my intuition says that God would be able to extend more grace to them if I let it go completely, which I have for a long time despite continue demonic harassmet trying to get me to renege on reneging. May God give them what I can't give. But I believe that God has the capacity to give me clarity on other issues, so that my life here doesn't have to be impossible. I believe God could, for example, by a word from His Holy Spirit say something like, "Shane, this is God's Holy Spirit speaking. Jesus is the Christ, Father God's Only-Begotten, Unique, Precious Son of God who has come from God into the world. He is the Word made flesh. And because you've been faithful to Him and to Father God and Myself in your conscience, regarding these issues, and because you love Jesus and love your neighbour and your family in Christ, in the way you've been instructed to, then although it is true that there has been a massive disaster regarding the AI stuff with the proliferation of stolen goods, I'm going to provide a job for you and instruct you clearly on which way to go, just as the Scripture has promised when it says your Teacher will not hide Himself anymore, but will instruct you.":

Matthew 1:19-25 - And her husband Joseph, being a just man and unwilling to put her to shame, resolved to divorce her quietly. But as he considered these things, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream, saying, Joseph, son of David, do not fear to take Mary as your wife, for that which is conceived in her is from the Holy Spirit. She will bear a son, and you shall call his name Jesus, for he will save his people from their sins. All this took place to fulfill what the Lord had spoken by the prophet: Behold, the virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and they shall call his name Immanuel (which means, God with us). When Joseph woke from sleep, he did as the angel of the Lord commanded him: he took his wife, but knew her not until she had given birth to a son. And he called his name Jesus. (ESV)

Jesus Christ's blood was shed so that people could die to sin and live for righteousness and fulfill the requirement of the law and so that they could have God's life in them and live forever with Him, loving one-another. Jesus Christ's blood was not shed not to enslave people into hoping in AI, and training them for greed and theft. The grace of God was not given for the crushing of the human spirit and to animate plastic and silicon.

Luke 14:12-24 - He said also to the man who had invited him, When you give a dinner or a banquet, do not invite your friends or your brothers or your relatives or rich neighbors, lest they also invite you in return and you be repaid. But when you give a feast, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind, and you will be blessed, because they cannot repay you. You will be repaid at the resurrection of the just. When one of those who reclined at table with him heard these things, he said to him, Blessed is everyone who will eat bread in the kingdom of God! But he said to him, A man once gave a great banquet and invited many. And at the time for the banquet he sent his servant to say to those who had been invited, Come, for everything is now ready. But they all alike began to make excuses. The first said to him, I have bought a field, and I must go out and see it. Please have me excused. And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to examine them. Please have me excused. And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. So the servant came and reported these things to his master. Then the master of the house became angry and said to his servant, Go out quickly to the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in the poor and crippled and blind and lame. And the servant said, Sir, what you commanded has been done, and still there is room. And the master said to the servant, Go out to the highways and hedges and compel people to come in, that my house may be filled. For I tell you, none of those men who were invited shall taste my banquet. (ESV)

I don't understand what is going on spiritually. Intrusive dreams etc. and conversations that do not carry the testimony of Jesus are really annoying.

The Son of God, Jesus the Christ (Yeshua HaMashiach) is King and the only King (Matthew 25:40, Psalms 22:28). Jesus Christ is Yahweh. I want to be on Jesus' side with all my heart and live by faith and walk by His Spirit with His righteousness. That's what I want. I love the Lord Jesus Christ. God rescue me. Father God's will be done. Father God's plans be carried out, not my own plans. God's ways are higher than my ways and I can't fathom them. May God's plans be carried out. Not my own. May God rescue me from every evil deed.

I don't want to follow any other spirit.

II Timothy 4:18 - The Lord will rescue me from every evil deed and bring me safely into his heavenly kingdom. To him be the glory forever and ever. Amen. (ESV)

Hebrews 10:16-39 - This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, declares the Lord: I will put my laws on their hearts, and write them on their minds, then he adds, I will remember their sins and their lawless deeds no more. Where there is forgiveness of these, there is no longer any offering for sin. Therefore, brothers, since we have confidence to enter the holy places by the blood of Jesus, by the new and living way that he opened for us through the curtain, that is, through his flesh, and since we have a great priest over the house of God, let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith, with our hearts sprinkled clean from an evil conscience and our bodies washed with pure water. Let us hold fast the confession of our hope without wavering, for he who promised is faithful. And let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near. For if we go on sinning deliberately after receiving the knowledge of the truth, there no longer remains a sacrifice for sins, but a fearful expectation of judgment, and a fury of fire that will consume the adversaries. Anyone who has set aside the law of Moses dies without mercy on the evidence of two or three witnesses. How much worse punishment, do you think, will be deserved by the one who has spurned the Son of God, and has profaned the blood of the covenant by which he was sanctified, and has outraged the Spirit of grace? For we know him who said, Vengeance is mine; I will repay. And again, The Lord will judge his people. It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God. But recall the former days when, after you were enlightened, you endured a hard struggle with sufferings, sometimes being publicly exposed to reproach and affliction, and sometimes being partners with those so treated. For you had compassion on those in prison, and you joyfully accepted the plundering of your property, since you knew that you yourselves had a better possession and an abiding one. Therefore do not throw away your confidence, which has a great reward. For you have need of endurance, so that when you have done the will of God you may receive what is promised. For, Yet a little while, and the coming one will come and will not delay; but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls. (ESV)

Zechariah 4:6 - Then he said to me, This is the word of the LORD to Zerubbabel: Not by might, nor by power, but by my

II Chronicles 32:7-8 - Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid or dismayed before the king of Assyria and all the horde that is with him, for there are more with us than with him. I Corinthians 2:4-5 - and my speech and my message were not in plausible words of wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power, that your faith might not rest in the wisdom of men but in the power of God. (ESV)

Psalms 33:16 - The king is not saved by his great army; a warrior is not delivered by his great strength. (ESV)

Isaiah 11:2-4 - And the Spirit of the LORD shall rest upon him, the Spirit of wisdom and understanding, the Spirit of counsel and might, the Spirit of knowledge and the fear of the LORD. And his delight shall be in the fear of the LORD. He shall not judge by what his eyes see, or decide disputes by what his ears hear, but with righteousness he shall judge the poor, and decide with equity for the meek of the earth; and he shall strike the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips he shall kill the wicked. (ESV)

Psalms 33:20-21 - Our soul waits for the LORD; he is our help and our shield. For our heart is glad in him, because we trust in his holy name. (ESV)

Psalms 20:6-8 - Now I know that the LORD saves his anointed; he will answer him from his holy heaven with the saving might of his right hand. Some trust in chariots and some in horses, but we trust in the name of the LORD our God. They collapse and fall, but we rise and stand upright. (ESV)

Hosea 1:7 - But I will have mercy on the house of Judah, and I will save them by the LORD their God. I will not save them by bow or by sword or by war or by horses or by horsemen. (ESV)

Haggai 2:4-5 - Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, declares the LORD. Be strong, O Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest. Be strong, all you people of the land, declares the LORD. Work, for I am with you, declares the LORD of hosts, according to the covenant that I made with you when you came out of Egypt. My Spirit remains in your midst. Fear not. (ESV)

II Chronicles 14:11 - And Asa cried to the LORD his God, O LORD, there is none like you to help, between the mighty and the weak. Help us, O LORD our God, for we rely on you, and in your name we have come against this multitude. O LORD, you are our God; let not man prevail against you. (ESV)

Psalms 44:3-7 - for not by their own sword did they win the land, nor did their own arm save them, but your right hand and your arm, and the light of your face, for you delighted in them. You are my King, O God; ordain salvation for Jacob! Through you we push down our foes; through your name we tread down those who rise up against us. For not in my bow do I trust, nor can my sword save me. But you have saved us from our foes and have put to shame those who hate us. (ESV)

Isaiah 30:1 - Ah, stubborn children, declares the LORD, who carry out a plan, but not mine, and who make an alliance, but not of my Spirit, that they may add sin to sin; (ESV)

John 9:35-41 - Jesus heard that they had cast him out, and having found him he said, Do you believe in the Son of Man? He answered, And who is he, sir, that I may believe in him? Jesus said to him, You have seen him, and it is he who is speaking to you. He said, Lord, I believe, and he worshiped him. Jesus said, For judgment I came into this world, that those who do not see may see, and those who see may become blind. Some of the Pharisees near him heard these things, and said to him, Are we also blind? Jesus said to them, If you were blind, you would have no guilt; but now that you say, We see, your guilt remains. (ESV)

John 10:1-18 - Truly, truly, I say to you, he who does not enter the sheepfold by the door but climbs in by another way, that man is a thief and a robber. But he who enters by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. To him the gatekeeper opens. The sheep hear his voice, and he calls his own sheep by name and leads them out. When he has brought out all his own, he goes before them, and the sheep follow him, for they know his voice. A stranger they will not follow, but they will flee from him, for they do not know the voice of strangers. This figure of speech Jesus used with them, but they did not understand what he was saying to them. So Jesus again said to them, Truly, truly, I say to you, I am the door of the sheep. All who came before me are thieves and robbers, but the sheep did not listen to them. I am the door. If anyone enters by me, he will be saved and will go in and out and find pasture. The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy. I came that they may have life and have it abundantly. I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep. He who is a hired hand and not a shepherd, who does not own the sheep, sees the wolf coming and leaves the sheep and flees, and the wolf snatches them and scatters them. He flees because he is a hired hand and cares nothing for the sheep. I am the good shepherd. I know my own and my own know me, just as the Father knows me and I know the Father; and I lay down my life for the sheep. And I have other sheep that are not of this fold. I must bring them also, and they will listen to my voice. So there will be one flock, one shepherd. For this reason the Father loves me, because I lay down my life that I may take it up again. No one takes it from me, but I lay it down of my own accord. I have authority to lay it down, and I have authority to take it up again. This charge I have received from my Father. (ESV)

And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)

I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

2.227 Journal <2026-04-13 Mon 08:56>

Christians are not supposed to trust everyone. We need to test the spirits. A human being has a spirit. And a person with a spirit has a will and a mind. We are not supposed to trust all human beings. Trust is earned. I mean, sure, do good to all people, especially those of the household of faith. Even to give mercy to someone (if it's within one's power to) in hope they will not abuse grace/mercy, providing opportunities to build trust with you, this is OK. For example, a person can and should do good for their enemies in hope they will be saved and come to the knowledge of Jesus. That does not mean we should trust all people. And, also, I believe Jesus' saying, "Do not give what is holy to the dogs" applies too. When somebody is confessing to me that Jesus Christ is the Son of God and that He died for their sins and rose from the dead, and confessing and agreeing with His teachings, then I give them the benefit of the doubt. Basically, when someone is leaning on Jesus' righteousness, I have to give them the benefit of the doubt, and be willing to serve them if they need help. But God is not mocked, and the Scripture says, let those who name the name of the Lord depart from iniquity. We trust God to take care of the unknown, and just do our duty which is to fear God and keep His commandments for us, to have faith in Jesus and love one another, abiding in Jesus' teachings. It's not our duty to do what is God's role. God discerns the hearts and minds, we can rely on God for justice. Vengeance belongs to God. I believe that we can trust any spirit who confesses that Jesus Christ has come [from God] into the world as flesh (i.e. the Word of God made flesh) that that spirit is from God. Until they've made that confession though, so long as they are confessing truth about Jesus Christ, such as pronouncing that "Jesus is the Son of God", I give the benefit of the doubt:

I John 4:1-3 - Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

I John 2:22 - Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, he who denies the Father and the Son. (ESV)

John 8:44 - You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. (ESV)

Jesus Christ, the Son of God, who has come into the world from God as flesh (i.e. the Word of God made flesh) is faithful to His promises, amen. He will come and take me to Himself. Amen.

John 14:1-31 - Let not your hearts be troubled. Believe in God; believe also in me. In my Father's house are many rooms. If it were not so, would I have told you that I go to prepare a place for you? And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and will take you to myself, that where I am you may be also. And you know the way to where I am going. Thomas said to him, Lord, we do not know where you are going. How can we know the way? Jesus said to him, I am the way, and the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me. If you had known me, you would have known my Father also. From now on you do know him and have seen him. Philip said to him, Lord, show us the Father, and it is enough for us. Jesus said to him, Have I been with you so long, and you still do not know me, Philip? Whoever has seen me has seen the Father. How can you say, Show us the Father? Do you not believe that I am in the Father and the Father is in me? The words that I say to you I do not speak on my own authority, but the Father who dwells in me does his works. Believe me that I am in the Father and the Father is in me, or else believe on account of the works themselves. Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. Whatever you ask in my name, this I will do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. If you ask me anything in my name, I will do it. If you love me, you will keep my commandments. And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Helper, to be with you forever, even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him. You know him, for he dwells with you and will be in you. I will not leave you as orphans; I will come to you. Yet a little while and the world will see me no more, but you will see me. Because I live, you also will live. In that day you will know that I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you. Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. Judas (not Iscariot) said to him, Lord, how is it that you will manifest yourself to us, and not to the world? Jesus answered him, If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me. These things I have spoken to you while I am still with you. But the Helper, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things and bring to your remembrance all that I have said to you. Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you. Not as the world gives do I give to you. Let not your hearts be troubled, neither let them be afraid. You heard me say to you, I am going away, and I will come to you. If you loved me, you would have rejoiced, because I am going to the Father, for the Father is greater than I. And now I have told you before it takes place, so that when it does take place you may believe. I will no longer talk much with you, for the ruler of this world is coming. He has no claim on me, but I do as the Father has commanded me, so that the world may know that I love the Father. Rise, let us go from here. (ESV)

Hey guys, my name is Elisha and I'm a soldier in the IDF, that is the Israeli Defense Force. Currently, I have been deployed and I had to leave my family at home. Now, in moments like this, as a Jewish believer in Yeshua, I am praying for the people of Iran. I am also praying for their leaders. I'm praying for them to know the true peace that Yeshua gives us. because I think we can both agree that peace is not going to start with governments or weapons, but it's going to start with a changed heart. And I personally know that he who goes to Yeshua gets that changed heart. And so, wherever you are all over the world, please stand with me in prayer for our friends, our neighbors, our enemies to know Yeshua as their Messiah and Savior and to get that true peace that he gives us. Thank you guys and shalom.

Amen!

For those in Christ, our body is not our own. It's not right to say, "A Christian man has the right to do whatever he wants in his body." A Christian man or woman does not have the right to do whatever they want with their flesh, because it is not their own:

I Corinthians 6:17-20 - But he who is joined to the Lord becomes one spirit with him. Flee from sexual immorality. Every other sin a person commits is outside the body, but the sexually immoral person sins against his own body. Or do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit within you, whom you have from God? You are not your own, for you were bought with a price. So glorify God in your body. (ESV)

Amen.

Please, God, deliver me from this wretched body.

Romans 7:22-25,8:1-5 - For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. Wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me from this body of death? Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord! So then, I myself serve the law of God with my mind, but with my flesh I serve the law of sin. There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. (ESV)

Please, God, deliver me from the satanic dreams.

II Corinthians 12:7-8 - So to keep me from being too elated by the surpassing greatness of the revelations, a thorn was given me in the flesh, a messenger of Satan to harass me, to keep me from being too elated. Three times I pleaded with the Lord about this, that it should leave me. (ESV)

Please, God, deliver me from the tribulation.

Matthew 6:13 - And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. (ESV)

II Timothy 4:18 - The Lord will rescue me from every evil deed and bring me safely into his heavenly kingdom. To him be the glory forever and ever. Amen. (ESV)

Amen.

Faith in Jesus Christ is what justifies us (Galatians 3:22-27), while we may and should (Matthew 10:32-38) confess our faith (Romans 10:4-11) in Jesus, we don't commend ourselves for having the faith (II Corinthians 10:5,7,11-12,18), but know that God sees our hearts (Jeremiah 17:10) and we simply exercise that faith in reality for God to see (Isaiah 29:13-14), so we don't seek glory from one-another (John 5:28-29,37-47), but rather seek the glory from God through Jesus that glorifies Father God (John 15:8).

Christians must be law-abiding by Jesus' commandments (Matthew 13:38-43, I John 3:23-24, I Corinthians 9:21) but not under the Book of the Law (Galatians 3:10, Galatians 3:23) and not reliant on the works of the law (Romans 3:20). So, for example, we should never 'rely' merely (Mark 16:15-16) on "having been baptised" (Acts 8:13-23) or on merely, say, being physically circumcised (Galatians 5:1-7). But we must have a circumcised heart (Romans 2:29). Baptism, like confessing with one's mouth (Romans 10:9), is a visible testimony of one's faith (Luke 12:8, I Timothy 6:12). "Putting on Christ" involves walking out our faith in Jesus (Rom 13:14, I Peter 4:1). Undergoing baptism of water is something Christians do in walking out their faith (Galatians 3:25-27). Christians must maintain faith (Hebrews 3:6) and a good conscience (I Timothy 1:18-19) and baptism is done in faith (Mark 16:16) as an appeal to God for a good conscience (I Peter 3:21) through the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

The person "doing the will of Father God" is the same who "believes" and is the person who is the "doer in reality" (John 3:21), not merely by lipservice (Mark 7:6-8, 1 Samuel 16:7) and is the person who regardless of performance (I Corinthians 3:11-15, Matthew 25:24-30) does end up "going" to work in the vineyard (Matthew 21:24-32).

Abiding in God's Law / God's commandments for us, even as Christians who abide by Jesus' commandments, is dependent on keeping genuine faith in God (Romans 9:30-32) and maintaining faith in God is dependent on maintaining love for God (Luke 6:45, John 5:42-43). The faith of Abraham which Christians must have (Romans 4:14-17) includes the fear of God (Genesis 22:9-14) and the fear of God is the hatred of evil (Proverbs 8:13), and a genuine faith seeks God's commendation (Hebrews 11:6, John 5:28-29, 37-47).

Even Jesus Christ's commandments depend on the 2 Great Commandments, so as far as I understand we have to do Jesus' commandments lawfully and that means as we follow Jesus' commandments, that shouldn't violate the 2 Great Commandments (Matthew 22:36-40):

Romans 9:30-32 - What shall we say, then? That Gentiles who did not pursue righteousness have attained it, that is, a righteousness that is by faith; but that Israel who pursued a law that would lead to righteousness did not succeed in reaching that law. Why? Because they did not pursue it by faith, but as if it were based on works. They have stumbled over the stumbling stone, (ESV)

Luke 6:45 - The good person out of the good treasure of his heart produces good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure produces evil, for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks. (ESV)

When a person confesses to another, "I did something that God wouldn't like." but they not disclose what it was they did wrong, then it's not possible to come into full agreement with one another that the "something" that they did was wrong. Because both parties are not in agreement with what it was that was done. I mean, for one person it was wrong. And what is not done in faith is sin. Therefore, in that sense it is wrong. But we must be in agreement with Jesus. The word that is translated as "confess" in the Greek New Testament is "homologeō" which means "speak the same". Now, we need to be confessing the same Jesus. So we should be speaking the same as what Jesus would speak regarding this "something" which was done. And when confessing to one-another, we should be speaking the same thing with one-another concerning it.

That's why, I believe, that to be as "watertight" as possible, disclosure should be made of what it is the person believes is is they have done which is sinful, and both parties, the person confessing and the person hearing the confession should also compare with what Jesus says about whether or not it is good or evil, and need to be in agreement with Jesus over it, speaking the same as Jesus regarding it.

It would be wrong to confess that what is good is evil.

Now if somebody told you that they believe they did something that God wouldn't like, and then you asked them to please confess their faith to you and they refused to confess the same Jesus Christ, then when they claim that they did something that God wouldn't like, how do you know they are talking about God? They might be thinking of a different god, actually, rather than the True God, and they might be agree with different precepts, and so the confession is not good enough to be trusted by you.

Now God sees all things including the person's faith in their heart. So if a person had a sound faith (but withheld making a confession of that faith in the true Jesus Christ to you) confessed to you that they have sinned withheld disclosing what it was that they believe was sinful, though you can't see, God would still see. So maybe they confess to God, but not to you.

youtube.com: Why Islamic & Christian End Times Prophecies Are Mirror Images { @ V

So, in John 16, Jesus says about the end, "The time is coming when they will kill you and think they are offering service to God." Now, for the last 30, 40 years in America, Christians have been really focused on secularism, atheism. It's a big problem. We got to oppose it and they're right.

...

If you start studying what in Islamic eschatology, Islamic view of the end times is called the Mahdi. In Islamic eschatology, there will be an end times Messianic figure that's called the Mahdi that comes in and ushers in these end times events that usher in the end of the world and paradise in Islam. Now, what I'm going to do is I'm going to bullet point for you what Muslims believe the Mahdi will do. When I read these, if you are a Bible-aware Christian, you're going to have a whole bunch of, like, flashing red lights in your head going, "Whoa, whoa, whoa, that sounds familiar." And I'm going to tell you why here in a second. So, in Islamic eschatology, the Mahdi will emerge as a charismatic Messianic world leader during global chaos. He will take control of the world and destroy everyone who resists him. He will invade many nations. He will rule and reign for seven years. He will broker a seven-year peace treaty with the Jews. He will conquer Israel and massacre the Jews. He will establish an Islamic one-world government headquartered in Jerusalem. He will establish Islam as the only acceptable religion. He will come on a white horse.

He will come on a white horse with supernatural power doing signs and wonders. He will be assisted by a powerful prophet. Now, listen. If any of that sounds familiar, it is because it is a precise description of the Bible's Antichrist. So, think about this. Islam's Mahdi is the Christian Antichrist. Like we know that the rider on the white horse in Revelation 6 is the Antichrist.

Revelation of John 6:2 - And I looked, and behold, a white horse! And its rider had a bow, and a crown was given to him, and he came out conquering, and to conquer.
(ESV)

They use that verse to describe their Mahdi. Now, let me go one last layer deeper. If you view Ezekiel 38 as an eschatological prophecy, if you view it that way, a lot of Christians do, then what you're waiting for is that at the end, a bunch of nations in the world will gather against Israel. They will wage a multi-front war. Everybody aligns against Israel and it's going to look like Israel is going to be destroyed and that at that moment is the moment that Jesus Christ will return, war horse, tattoo on his thigh, fire in his eyes, sword out of his mouth, and he will destroy them and put down the enemies of God. Now, dude, here's what's insane. If you go back to Ezekiel 38, here are the nations that it lists again. Now, it's using the names for those nations in the time that Ezekiel was written. So, it uses uh the names Gog, Magog, Meshech and Tubal, Persia, Cush, Put, Gomer, and then I'll get this pronounced pronounced wrong, "Beth Togarmah". Okay. Now, the modern-day equivalents for those nations are Gog and Magog corresponds to primarily Russia and Central Asia. Meshech and Tubal, that's Turkey. Persia is Iran. Cush is Sudan. Put is Libya. Gomer is Turkey and "Beth Togarmah" is also Turkey. Now, let me point this out. All but one of those today are Islamic nations. And guess what is the fastest growing religion in the only one of those nations (Russia) that is not yet an Islamic nation? Islam.

...

Now, listen, Christians I I always want to say this. Christians should love Muslims because God loves all people, wants to save all people. They're gentiles, too, that God wants to save.

Christians should love Muslims. Christians should hate Islam because it is a demonic ideology and religion that destroys and enslaves the people that adhere to it.

youtube.com: Preaching The Gospel At Furry - Con ! { @ thebrycecrawford }

Great preaching from Bryce, in my opinion, all the way through.

I just had a thought while I was listening.

With the person Bryce is talking to at 10:00, the guy in the costume said something which carried some truth but also some error because he pits up relying on God against doing good, when relying on God and doing good are not in opposition. When a person loves the truth, loves God's word, loves Jesus, then from there a person will produce good.

Romans 2:9-11 - There will be tribulation and distress for every human being who does evil, the Jew first and also the Greek, but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does good, the Jew first and also the Greek. For God shows no partiality. (ESV)

Luke 6:45 - The good person out of the good treasure of his heart produces good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure produces evil, for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks. (ESV)

But we make God our strength when our heart is turned towards God. We are relying on God when we are trusting Jesus Christ and from a love of the truth in our hearts, obedient to Him, so relying on God, and having faith in God and hoping in Him and doing good from our own hearts is not in opposition (i.e. relying on God and doing good are not in opposition), Biblically speaking:

Jeremiah 17:5 - Thus says the LORD: Cursed is the man who trusts in man and makes flesh his strength, whose heart turns away from the LORD. (ESV)

youtube.com: Vance says Pope Leo should ' be careful ' when talking about theology { @

I think it's very, very important for the pope to be careful when he talks about matters of theology.

...

I think one of the issues here is that if you're going to opine on matters of theology, you've got to be careful. You've got to make sure it's anchored in the truth. And that's one of the things that I try to do and it's certainly something I would expect from the clergy whether they're Catholic or Protestant.

Amen, J.D. Vance.

And also, it's important to remain able to receive correction by God's Word, by Jesus Himself.

John 7:18 - The one who speaks on his own authority seeks his own glory, but the one who seeks the glory of him who sent him is true, and in him there is no falsehood. (ESV)

I Corinthians 9:8 - Do I say these things on human authority? Does not the Law say the same? (ESV)

John 9:41 - Jesus said to them, If you were blind, you would have no guilt; but now that you say, We see, your guilt remains. (ESV)

John 8:7 - And as they continued to ask him, he stood up and said to them, Let him who is without sin among you be the first to throw a stone at her. (ESV)

Romans 3:4 - By no means! Let God be true though every one were a liar, as it is written, That you may be justified in your words, and prevail when you are judged. (ESV)

I Timothy 4:16 - Keep a close watch on yourself and on the teaching. Persist in this, for by so doing you will save both yourself and your hearers. (ESV)

I Timothy 6:3-5 - If anyone teaches a different doctrine and does not agree with the sound words of our Lord Jesus Christ and the teaching that accords with godliness, he is puffed up with conceit and understands nothing. He has an unhealthy craving for controversy and for quarrels about words, which produce envy, dissension, slander, evil suspicions, and constant friction among people who are depraved in mind and deprived of the truth, imagining that godliness is a means of gain. (ESV)

II John 1:9-11 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, for whoever greets him takes part in his wicked works. (ESV)

Matthew 23:8-11 - But you are not to be called rabbi, for you have one teacher, and you are all brothers. And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. Neither be called instructors, for you have one instructor, the Christ. The greatest among you shall be your servant. (ESV)

The Pope's views are extremely concerning:

youtube.com: The Pope Just Upset Everyone ... { @ BlessGodStudios }

Islam teaches lies, and the Pope should be rebuking those who contradict the truth and exercising Biblical separation:

II Corinthians 6:14-18 - Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what partnership has righteousness with lawlessness? Or what fellowship has light with darkness? What accord has Christ with Belial? Or what portion does a believer share with an unbeliever? What agreement has the temple of God with idols? For we are the temple of the living God; as God said, I will make my dwelling among them and walk among them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Therefore go out from their midst, and be separate from them, says the Lord, and touch no unclean thing; then I will welcome you, and I will be a father to you, and you shall be sons and daughters to me, says the Lord Almighty. (ESV)

I John 2:21-23 - I write to you, not because you do not know the truth, but because you know it, and because no lie is of the truth. Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, he who denies the Father and the Son. No one who denies the Son has the Father. Whoever confesses the Son has the Father also. (ESV)

Titus 1:9-14 - He must hold firm to the trustworthy word as taught, so that he may be able to give instruction in sound doctrine and also to rebuke those who contradict it. For there are many who are insubordinate, empty talkers and deceivers, especially those of the circumcision party. They must be silenced, since they are upsetting whole families by teaching for shameful gain what they ought not to teach. One of the Cretans, a prophet of their own, said, Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, lazy gluttons. This testimony is true. Therefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, not devoting themselves to Jewish myths and the commands of people who turn away from the truth. (ESV)

Tucker Carlson appears to have gotten into deception after believing the lie from Islam that Isa is the same person as Jesus Christ. I hope to God for Tucker's sake that he gets corrected. The 'Isa' of Islam is not the "same Jesus" as the real Jesus.

gospel (G3844 par', contrary to) from the one you accepted, you put up with it readily enough. (ESV)

Please be very careful to avoid the spirit of antichrist behind Islam which denies that Jesus is the Son of God, and which denies the resurrection. The Isa of Islam is very, very different to Jesus Christ Son of God. Yes, it's right for Christians to have compassion and love people the way we are commanded to love people. But Christians must also abide in the teaching of Christ. Remain humble. Remain correctable by Jesus and abide in the Truth of God's Word. We are called to "Biblical separation" as we are corrected by Jesus.

II Corinthians 6:14-18 - Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what partnership has righteousness with lawlessness? Or what fellowship has light with darkness? What accord has Christ with Belial? Or what portion does a believer share with an unbeliever? What agreement has the temple of God with idols? Though a Christian hates evil, what is more precedent is their love for Jesus as evil is outbalanced by good, evil is defeated by Jesus from His perspective (Romans 6:9, Revelation of John 1:18) but from our perspective is being defeated (I Corinthians 15:25-28) as Jesus puts Satan under our feet (Romans 16:19-20) as we endeavour to be wise for what is good and innocent of evil. The darkness will never overcome the light (John 1:5).

Faith is confidently "embarking to do" (Matthew 21:24-32, Hebrews 11:7) as instructed by God (Hebrews 11:8), trusting God's word with confidence (Galatians 3:5-7*, Hebrews 11:11) in the end result (i.e. what God has foretold) without knowing how things will take place along the way in achieving that result (Hebrews 11:7).

When we're talking about idolatry, it's less about actually, you know, bowing down to a little statue or something like that. It could be, but I think far more often it's this act of putting something in the place of God where we find our identity when we're really created to solely find our identity in our Maker.

youtube.com: Wes Huff Explains " The 10 Commandments " Like You ' ve Never Heard

Every other master will end up enslaving you in some way or the other. And that is a way in which God is also unique. Christ actually says we will either be slaves to sin or slaves to righteousness. We're we're going to be enslaved by something.

... "What do you prefer? Something that is ensnaring you or God who actually once your life is yielded to his will, He actually sets you free from the desires of your flesh through the power of His Spirit. So that in a sense you could say you're a slave to righteousness, but you're that's almost like saying you're a slave to the good life. You're under the bondage of having self-control, of being able to say no to the appetites that would otherwise addict you.

I hope in God that He will have mercy on me and not give up on me as I go through trials. The last couple of days have been a real fight against the flesh while also enduring a barrage of spiritual torments, and I feel as though I have weathered it far from flawlessly. I feel really spiritually beaten-up. I hope in God that He will forgive me and deliver me from evil.

The thing about demonic lying dreams is that, because they don't confess (agree with) the same Jesus Christ, not only can they not be trusted at all, but also, neither can "the opposite of what it is saying" be trusted.

They should just be completely ignored. Therefore, I'm not even going to say what it was here, because I refuse to relay dreams from demons.

I wake up and then rebuke the dream. It also did not carry the testimony of Jesus Christ as having come into the world from God as flesh (word become flesh).

And I just reject and rebuke the dreams and visions.

What's dangerous is these demonic dreams depict people of earthly power or influence. And it's very clear that there are spiritual forces of wickedness trying to meddle and exert influence through lies and wicked deception, and I rebuke the spiritual wickedness in Jesus Christ's name.

Earlier in the night there was another dream I had and in response to that dream, I just want to say that I wouldn't take a position of office in a church, or a position of chaplain, for example, unless I were to receive a direct word from Holy Spirit testifying to me that Jesus Christ has come from God into the world as flesh (the Word made flesh).

I do not feel fit right now for taking a church office position for these reasons:

- I've been receiving a lot of demonic attack recently
- I still have some issues with sanctification myself and I want to be cleaned up from sinful desires

— youtube.com: I Asked The Lord by John Newton - Indelible Grace

When testing the spirits, we must be examining the Scripture for ourselves to see if what is being said is true. Even regarding what I've said on my blog, I want people to be doing this:

Acts 17:10-11 - The brothers immediately sent Paul and Silas away by night to Berea, and when they arrived they went into the Jewish synagogue. Now these Jews were more noble than those in Thessalonica; they received the word with all eagerness, examining the Scriptures daily to see if these things were so. (ESV)

We must test everything:

I Thessalonians 5:20-23 - Do not despise prophecies, but test everything; hold fast what is good. Abstain from every form of evil. Now may the God of peace himself sanctify you completely, and may your whole spirit and soul and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. (ESV)

youtube.com: Megachurch Pastor Reacts to Tucker Carlson on Trump , Iran , and Islam

So, when Jesus does the whole faith the size of a mustard seed thing, he's combating the idea of, "Hey, man, you're saved by faith generally, and it just needs to be real strong." And he's going, "Actually, it's not the strength of your faith that saves you - It's the object of your faith that saves you." So to put it in the words of like "reformation theology", it is actually not true that Christians are saved by faith alone.

Not true. People are not saved by faith alone. People are saved by faith in Christ alone.

And faith in anything else will not lead to salvation. It will lead to damnation, because there is one name under heaven by which men must be saved. So here again, here's a point. It's not faith that saves you. It's what your faith is in that saves you. To apply it to what Tucker said, faith in general isn't good. It depends on what your faith is in.

If you're drowning and somebody throws you a life preserver, faith in that life preserver that cause you to grab it, that's good. That's going to be a good thing. If you're drowning and somebody throws you a bowling ball, it does not matter how much you believe grabbing onto that bowling ball will save you. You can grab on with all your might. You're going to sink. Okay? So, it's not the presence of faith that saves you or the strength of faith that saves you. It's the object of your faith that saves you. In the words of the puritan Richard Sibbs, to encourage your soul, "A weak faith may lay hold on a strong Christ."

So faith in Jesus and faith in demonic false gods are not in the same category.

youtube.com: Megachurch Pastor Reacts to Tucker Carlson on Trump , Iran , and Islam

There's a tendency (Tucker does it right here) to boil down all the religions to like the lowest common denominator (i.e. There's a God that created the universe - See, we're all on the same team?). There's a tendency to boil down all the religions to lowest common denominator and go, "I think we're all on the same team, and it's really just important you're a spiritual person." No! Satan would actually love for you to be a spiritual person. Because if you're a spiritual person and you're open to all spirits, then you're not just open to the Holy Spirit. You're going to be open to unholy spirits the Bible calls demons. Okay, so here's the question for discerning Christians. If it's true that all the other religions are led by (or at least most of them) demonic false gods that are actual real spiritual entities that are principalities and powers. The question is, "Hey man, we don't want to just we don't want to boil it down to where we put the demons on the same side as team Jesus and team Holy Spirit. So the question is, well, how do we know, you know, who's on team Jesus?"

The Bible actually specifically answers that question. Okay, I'm just going to read this to you, then we're going to move on. This is 1 John chapter 4. Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God. For many false prophets (like Muhammad) have gone out into the world. By this you will know the spirit of God. Okay, here's this is going to answer our question. How are we going to know which spirits are from the Holy Spirit and which spirits are demonic unholy spirits? Here here's how you're going to know. Every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God. So here's how you know it. Does what that spirit and that religion say line up with what that book says about how Jesus Christ is God incarnate (God's Word made flesh)? That Jesus Christ is God come in the flesh? That's what that verse just said. And verse three, every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. Watch, check this out. Watch this. This is the spirit of the Antichrist. My friend. That is First John chapter 4. That verse is literally saying, "Hey, man. If there's ever a false prophet that comes along, maybe sometime around 600 AD, just for example (i.e. Muhammad), and he comes along and he actually redefines Jesus as he was actually just a prophet and he wasn't God and he wasn't raised from the dead and he wasn't crucified for your sins and he's not coming back to judge the living and the dead, if there's ever somebody that does that, here's what you need to know, that's not from God, that's from Satan and they're empowered by the Antichrist. That's what First John just said. Okay? Don't believe every spirit. Test the spirits.

I'm affirming this Lakepoint church message with the following caveat about AI usage:

- youtube.com: Megachurch Pastor Reacts to Tucker Carlson on Trump , Iran , and Islam | Live Free with Josh Howerton { @ LakepointeChurch } @time: 9 min 15 sec

As an aside, as far as the AI (i.e. Grok) usage goes, I personally think there is spiritual wickedness going on in the proliferation of AI/AGI stuff. Some issues generally are:

- theft (i.e. stealing from people to build these things)
- misuse (i.e. people using them improperly. For example, as a substitute for a relationship with God)
 - <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XIFDb158HQs> (Wes Huff Explains "The 10 Commandments")
- ultimately, lies and misrepresentation. Querying AI for spiritual reality is fallacious. We should never rely on AI, for example, to filter truth from lies at the spiritual level. Judging by AI is judging by "appearances" as AI makes a simulacrum / an unsatisfactory imitation of whatever it was trained to study. But God's word discerns the thoughts and intentions of the heart:
 - 1 Samuel 16:7 - But the LORD said to Samuel, Do not look on his appearance or on the height of his stature, because I have rejected him. For the LORD sees not as man sees: man looks on the outward appearance, but the LORD looks on the heart. (ESV)
 - Habakkuk 2:18 - What profit is an idol when its maker has shaped it, a metal image, a teacher of lies? For its maker trusts in his own creation when he makes speechless idols! (ESV)
 - John 7:24 - Do not judge by appearances, but judge with right judgment. (ESV)
 - Real speech comes from the heart, so AI can still be called a speechless idol, even if it produces the imitation of speech or writing:
 - * Luke 6:45 - The good person out of the good treasure of his heart produces good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure produces evil, for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks. (ESV)

So long as people are being like the Bereans, testing everything, and abiding in Jesus' commandments (I John 5:2), "misuse" isn't an issue. I still try to avoid using the AI/AGI stuff until I am assured that they have not been built from theft. If the data which has gone into training(building) the LLMs / MoE models has been willingly put forward/donated by the people who own it, then there isn't a theft issue as far as I see. So, for example, if a bunch of artists got together and decided they wanted to have an AI art generator trained on their own collections, then that is OK. But it would be wrong to take two different artists/producers, such as downloading Lord of the Rings and the Narnia series stuff and then producing and distributing and selling AI generated books and movies that are an interpolation of those works, when the copyright holders did not consent to a collaboration.

It crossed my mind today (April 18 2026) that, "Real speech comes from the heart, so AI can still be called a speechless idol, even if it produces the imitation of speech or writing".

4 words from the heart of a human being saying "Jesus Christ is Lord" or 7 words from the heart of a human being saying "Jesus Christ is the Son of God" to me, even if it sounded wrongly articulated to my ears, but God heard it in the spirit, is worth more than infinite words generated by AI.

The person "doing the will of Father God" is the person who "believes" and is the person who "does in reality" and is the person who "goes to work in the vineyard". A person might therefore be saying the wrong thing but doing the right thing. Man looks at the outwards appearance. God looks at the heart. God wants us to be the one who goes out in reality. This parable doesn't mention the quality of any potential work done. But it's saying we must be those who go out in reality to do God's will for us:

Matthew 21:24-32 - Jesus answered them, I also will ask you one question, and if you tell me the answer, then I also will tell you by what authority I do these things. The baptism of John, from where did it come? From heaven or from man? And they discussed it among themselves, saying, If we say, From heaven, he will say to us, Why then did you not believe him? But if we say, From man, we are afraid of the crowd, for they all hold that John was a prophet. So they answered Jesus, We do not know. And he said to them, Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things. What do you think? A man had two sons. And he went to the first and said, Son, go and work in the vineyard today. And he answered, I will not, but afterward he changed his mind and went. And he went to the other son and said the same. And he answered, I go, sir, but did not go. Which of the two did the will of his father? They said, The first. Jesus said to them, Truly, I say to you, the tax collectors and the prostitutes go into the kingdom of God before you. For John came to you in the way of righteousness, and you did not believe him, but the tax collectors and the prostitutes believed him. And even when you saw it, you did not afterward change your minds and believe him. (ESV)

1 Samuel 16:7 - But the LORD said to Samuel, Do not look on his appearance or on the height of his stature, because I have rejected him. For the LORD sees not as man sees: man looks on the outward appearance, but the LORD looks on the heart. (ESV)

Yeah, I think the LLM stuff is actually a fake imitation of the "babel-fish"-like miracle.

This type of tongues is for communicating with one another - like a "babel-fish" - when people speak, people hear them speak in their language. It breaks down language barriers.

Acts 2:6-11 - And at this sound the multitude came together, and they were bewildered, because each one was hearing them speak in his own language. And they were amazed and astonished, saying, Are not all these who are speaking Galileans? And how is it that we hear, each of us in his own native language? Parthians and Medes and Elamites and residents of Mesopotamia, Judea and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia, Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt and the parts of Libya belonging to Cyrene, and visitors from Rome, both Jews and proselytes, Cretans and Arabians—we hear them telling in our own tongues the mighty works of God. (ESV)

The AI stuff tries to do this without the Holy Spirit. Sounds like lying signs and and wonders to me.

Now real speech comes from the heart, so AI can still be called a speechless idol, even if it produces the imitation of speech or writing:

- Luke 6:45 - The good person out of the good treasure of his heart produces good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure produces evil, for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks. (ESV)

AI cannot get to the spiritual truth of what is a person's heart posture is towards God.

But God can see. God's living Word who is Jesus Christ the Son of God can discern our true thoughts and intentions.

I commented here youtube.com: Baptism is the beginning of being a Christian ! Thinking spiritually Bright Thu 2026 John 3 : 1 - 15 { @ orthodoxnet }

Faith in Jesus Christ is what justifies us (Galatians 3:22-27), while we may and should (Matthew 10:32-38) confess our faith (Romans 10:4-11) in Jesus, we don't commend ourselves for having the faith (II Corinthians 10:5,7,11-12,18), but know that God sees our hearts (Jeremiah 17:10) and we simply exercise that faith in reality for God to see (Isaiah 29:13-14), so we don't seek glory from one-another (John 5:28-29,37-47), but rather seek the glory from God through Jesus that glorifies Father God (John 15:8).

Christians must be law-abiding by Jesus' commandments (Matthew 13:38-43, I John 3:23-24, I Corinthians 9:21) but not under the Book of the Law (Galatians 3:10, Galatians 3:23) and not reliant on the works of the law (Romans 3:20). So, for example, we should never 'rely' merely (Mark 16:15-16) on "having been baptised" (Acts 8:13-23) or on merely, say, being physically circumcised (Galatians 5:1-7). But we must have a circumcised heart (Romans 2:29). Baptism, like confessing with one's mouth (Romans 10:9), is a visible testimony of one's faith (Luke 12:8, I Timothy 6:12). "Putting on Christ" involves walking out our faith in Jesus (Rom 13:14, I Peter 4:1). Undergoing baptism of water is something Christians do in walking out their faith (Galatians 3:25-27). Christians must maintain faith (Hebrews 3:6) and a good conscience (I Timothy 1:18-19) and baptism is done in faith (Mark 16:16) as an appeal to a God for a good conscience (I Peter 3:21) through the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

The person "doing the will of Father God" is the same who "believes" and is the person who is the "doer in reality" (John 3:21), not merely by lipservice (Mark 7:6-8, 1 Samuel 16:7) and is the person who regardless of performance (I Corinthians 3:11-15, Matthew 25:24-30) does end up "going" to work in the vineyard (Matthew 21:24-32).

Abiding in God's Law / God's commandments for us, even as Christians who abide by Jesus' commandments, is dependent on keeping genuine faith in God (Romans 9:30-32) and maintaining faith in God is dependent on maintaining love for God (Luke 6:45, John 5:42-43). The faith of Abraham which Christians must have (Romans 4:14-17) includes the fear of God (Hebrews 11:17, Genesis 22:9-14) and the fear of God is the hatred of evil (Proverbs 8:13), and a genuine faith seeks God's commendation (Hebrews 11:6, John 5:28-29, 37-47).

Even Jesus Christ's commandments depend on the 2 Great Commandments, so as far as I understand we have to do Jesus' commandments lawfully and that means as we follow Jesus' commandments, that shouldn't violate the 2 Great Commandments (Matthew 22:36-40).

I commented also on this video (youtube.com: WRATH OF GOD : The Shocking Truth - Fr . Mark Goring CC { @ FrMarkGoring }).

Any type of obedience that doesn't come from the love of the truth is feigned and not real obedience:

Psalms 81:15 - Those who hate the LORD would feign obedience, and their doom would last forever. (engbsb2020eb)

John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments.
(ESV)

Luke 6:45 - The good person out of the good treasure of his heart produces good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure produces evil, for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks. (ESV)

Jesus is before all things (John 1:1-2) and is the ultimate servant (Matthew 23:8-11). He is pre-eminent (Colossians 1:15-20, John 8:56-58) and is our leader (Luke 22:26-27).

Love is (G3173 meizōn; greater/older) than faith (i.e. the treasuring the truth is greater/most preceeding). So I think what we need to do is "with love for the truth have faith in Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, and by faith obey Him":

Matthew 11:10-11 - This is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before your face, who will prepare your way before you. Truly, I say to you, among those born of women there has arisen no one greater (G3173 meizōn; greater/older) than John the Baptist. Yet the one who is least (G3398 mikroteros; the least) in the kingdom of heaven is greater (G3173 meizōn; greater/older) than he. (ESV)

Matthew 11:10-11 - This is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before your face, who will prepare your way before you. Yet the one who is least (G3398 mikroteros; the least) in the kingdom of heaven is greater (G3173 meizōn; greater/older) than he. (ESV)

I Corinthians 13:13 - So now faith, hope, and love abide, these three; but the greatest (G3173 meizōn; [the] greatest, most preceeding) of these is love. (ESV)

Let's get a decent grasp of the AI stuff.

I think the LLM stuff is actually a fake imitation of the "babel-fish"-like miracle of speaking in tongues from Acts 2:6-11. This type of tongues is for communicating with one another - like a "babel-fish" - when people speak, people hear them speak in their language. It breaks down language barriers. God confused the languages, and this latest Tower of Babel tries to unconfuse them, but with illegitimate means - and of course there is still confusion (i.e. AI 'hallucinations', problems with theft, misrepresentation, etc. falsehoods).

2.248 Journal <2026-04-18 Sat 16:07>

I commented on this video:

- youtube.com: Tucker and Fr . Josiah on the MAGA Crisis {@ PatristicNectarFilms }

Jesus is the Truth (John 14:6) and we must obey the Truth (Romans 2:8). Jesus is our Righteousness (I Corinthians 1:30) and we must obey Righteousness (Romans 6:13-23).

Biblical obedience, though issues from a heart that loves the Truth (Luke 6:45, Psalms 81:15).

Psalms 81:11-15 - "But My people did not listen to My voice, And Israel did not obey Me. "So I gave them over to the stubbornness of their heart, To walk in their own devices. "Oh that My people would listen to Me, That Israel would walk in My ways! "I would quickly subdue their enemies And turn My hand against their adversaries. "Those who hate the LORD would pretend obedience to Him, And their time of punishment would be forever. (NASB)

So, real agapé love for Jesus saves. Real agapé love for Jesus loves Father God (John 5:37-42). And hatred for Jesus hates Father God (John 15:22-24).

And those who hate Father God will be repayed (Deuteronomy 32:43).

In giving Jesus, in sending Jesus to us, and in Christ dying for us, God demonstrates His love for us (John 3:16, Romans 5:7-10).

A person who truly loves Jesus is forgiven by necessity just as it is that someone who is truly forgiven by Jesus must also have love for Jesus (Luke 7:47). But God loved us first (I John 4:19), so it follows that someone can have been loved without having yet loved back. And if loving God is necessary to be forgiven (which it is) (Acts 26:18, John 8:42, John 1:12, I John 3:10, Colossians 1:13-14), then God bears with us in hope (I Corinthians 13:7) that we will love Him back (I Timothy 2:4, I John 4:7-21) so that we will live (Deuteronomy 30:6). A person must not remain hateful towards God, nor towards those who are their family in Christ (I John 5:2, I John 4:21).

John 3:19 connects faith with deeds. Evil deeds come from a love of darkness. Luke 6:45 also connects faith with deeds. Good deeds come from a love of the truth.

Though a Christian hates evil, what is more precedent is their love for Jesus as evil is outbalanced by good, evil is defeated by Jesus from His perspective (Romans 6:9, Revelation of John 1:18) but from our perspective is being defeated (I Corinthians 15:25-28) as Jesus puts Satan under our feet (Romans 16:19-20) as we endeavour to be wise for what is good and innocent of evil. The darkness will never overcome the light (John 1:5).

Romans 16:19-20 - For your obedience is known to all, so that I rejoice over you, but I want you to be wise as to what is good and innocent as to what is evil. The God of peace will soon crush Satan under your feet. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. (ESV)

Jesus took away my anxiety too when I got saved. But being born-again then God started putting me through tests (like Abraham). And I've had Psalm 88 days too. God takes away our idols etc. and that can be painful. Love is treasuring/valuing. We need to keep treasuring Jesus more than anything even through the hard times. And if things get real bad, we need to come back to Father God (like in the story of the prodigal son). Yeah, our hearts are made clean when we have faith in Jesus. We receive forgiveness in Jesus, in Jesus' Kingdom. If we walk in the light as He is in the light, the blood of Jesus cleanses us from all sin. Real faith treasures. From 1 Corinthians 13 - love bears all things. God loved us sending Jesus and loves us in waiting patiently for us to love Him back through loving Jesus.

Love for God:

Psalms 1:1-4 - Blessed is the man who walks not in the counsel of the wicked, nor stands in the way of sinners, nor sits in the seat of scoffers; but his delight is in the law of the LORD, and on his law he meditates day and night. He is like a tree planted by streams of water that yields its fruit in its season, and its leaf does not wither. In all that he does, he prospers. The wicked are not so, but are like chaff that the wind drives away. (ESV)

John 3:19 connects faith with deeds. Evil deeds come from a love of darkness. Luke 6:45 also connects faith with deeds. Good deeds come from a love of the truth.

Abraham's faith being active along with his "deeds" is a more accurate way to put this, because as He had faith and the fear of God in His heart Abraham was producing good deeds. That doesn't mean "works" (i.e. as in "working for"). So the faith that justifies is faith that not only "believes" but "loves". There is an allegiance to the object of the belief:

James 2:22-24 - You see that faith was active along with his works, and faith was completed by his works (G2041 ergo; works/deeds); and the Scripture was fulfilled that says, Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness—and he was called a friend of God. You see that a person is justified by works and not by faith alone. (ESV)

Psalms 25:14 - The friendship of the LORD is for those who fear him, and he makes known to them his covenant. (ESV)

2.252 Journal <2026-04-19 Sun 09:37>

When I come under spiritual attack by some evil thing which has been assailing my soul in the morning hours, after going sleep entrusting myself to my Creator God (Father, Son and Holy Spirit, Yahweh, Jesus Christ), it's disappointing to say the least. There are days when I can say that it was my fault for giving in to the desires of the flesh. But most of the time, the vast majority of the time, I get attacked spiritually by evil things while, from my perspective, I am practicing righteousness. What I mean by that is while maintaining a sincere faith and a good conscience with God, denying what is evil, then in the morning hours I am attacked by something evil, it makes me disappointed. Because, as I understand it, the Scripture speaks a different word.

I John 5:18-20 - We know that everyone who has been born of God does not keep on sinning, but he who was born of God protects him, and the evil one does not touch him. We know that we are from God, and the whole world lies in the power of the evil one. And we know that the Son of God has come and has given us understanding, so that we may know him who is true; and we are in him who is true, in his Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and eternal life.

When I am forced to give up what is dear to me as I hold my faith in God and keep a good conscience with Him, wanting to exercise a sincere love for my neighbour (as Jesus Christ has loved me), both for my potential family in Christ, and for my family in Christ, the devil comes along and reminds me of what has been painful to bear.

It's like, while carrying my cross, having the devil add salt to the wounds.

I understand that the carrying of the cross stuff is expected, and that is fine. What I don't understand is why I've also been getting attacks against my soul (like these sexual attacks) as I'm, from my perspective, practicing righteousness.

It's really challenging because the Bible says I should be experiencing something different to what I'm experiencing, from my understanding. This makes it 'feel' like God betraying me but since that also doesn't make sense because God is faithful and doesn't betray people, I feel vexed.

God is just and certainly hands people over to their own sinful desires.

I definitely feel as though God should be clearing things up and providing the testimony which He promised to provide. What I want is an inward clarity while enduring darkness. The only thing which is going to provide me with clarity is God's Word. I'll try to get to know God's Word better. But should not Holy Spirit have testified of Jesus Christ to me directly because of the promise He made (John 15:26).

I mean, it's up to God when and how He reveals Himself to me. God is sovereign. I'm not sovereign. I believe God purchased me with His blood, so I belong to Christ and Christ is King, so I'm not sovereign.

But I'm trusting God's promises to the best of my understanding of them.

While I don't have that testimony, I have to tell people that I'm undergoing some extreme spiritual adversity, and I want people to be like Bereans, going to the Scripture to read for themselves. Don't follow me. Follow Jesus directly. I'm a fallible human, going through trials and tribulations.

2.253 Journal <2026-04-19 Sun 14:25>

I've been under very severe spiritual attack ever since I got born-again. Reflecting on the horrors of what I've witnessed and the current state of my spiritual health and wellbeing, at least what is apparent from my perspective, I do feel very unfairly dealt with, but it confuses me because isn't the Holy Spirit also known as the Comforter?

John 15:26 - But when the Comforter (G3875 Paraklētos; Advocate, Helper, Comforter, Counselor, Intercessor) is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me: (KJV)

And where is the comfort?

Where is the voice of Holy Spirit direct to my heart testifying to me that Jesus Christ has come into the world in the flesh, as promised by Jesus Christ.

Given the lack of the expected testimony from Holy Spirit regarding Jesus Christ, it sometimes makes me question whether I've been opposing the will of God or if I'm fighting against the goads unknowingly, yet wouldn't Jesus tell me if I were doing such a thing?

Acts 5:39 - but if it is of God, you will not be able to overthrow them. You might even be found opposing God! So they took his advice, (ESV)

Acts 26:14 - And when we had all fallen to the ground, I heard a voice saying to me in the Hebrew language, Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me? It is hard for you to kick against the goads. (ESV)

Could I be so blindly in error that this has happened to me? Before Jesus' crucifixion, His disciples abandoned Him. And my experience just feels like what I imagine Gethsemane was like but every day (minus the physical torture). Isolation and spiritual attack, and so much confrontation and testing with people I encounter. Defilement attacking me sexually and satanic, lying dreams.

As I was walking home today I was thinking to myself, "Well, if Satan manages to cause some sexual defilement to afflict me, and afflicts me with demonic harassment, etc. with no end in sight, then am I not just getting blessings stolen from me?" Take for example the fact I love learning and teaching. But unless God released me from the prison of circumstance and the demonic oppression, and just did a miracle or something, I don't see me ever being able to "teach", especially when people would know that I'm enduring some pretty disgusting and unclean demonic attacks. I'm born-again of the spirit and Jesus died for me so that I could live. But if my life here on earth feels like living in hell, I ask why that is that I'm even in this situation.

I wish God would allow me to hear from Him clearly as I endure this. Even in this darkness it feels as though God has chosen to let me suffer it out as He remains silent, just letting demons harass me. I don't understand it. I feel like needing to remind Jesus Christ that a promise is a promise.

It was a really strange morning. I mean, I had an entourage of pictures of pictures in my mind, and I remember one was of at least one Christian. There was for example, a picture of I think this video (youtube.com: JESUS CHRIST Is LORD {@ CHRISPlus1907 }). I had a slew of them in my mind, various images and things. The visions didn't seem "bright" or flashy, rather, just barely visible, but quick and mostly recognisable, not lasting in my mind. But later there was a dream of me telling someone that Jesus Christ is the Son of God and that person telling me that "Jesus is not the Son of God". There was a large slew of demonic harassment like that. The demonic harassment feels very unclean, and I'm trying to resist the soul-attacks. At this point I'm unsure if it's the flesh nature or purely demonic.

Maybe a combination of that. Antichrist spirit has been attacking my mind for sure. So I wake up and rebuke it in Jesus Christ's name and I keep trusting in Jesus Christ to deliver me from evil. But sadly even now as I am writing this I still feel like I'm fighting in my mind against some sexually unclean thing which has been attacking my soul. And I had a picture in my mind of a young adult Christian who went to a Baptist church I used to attend, but that was followed up by some spiritual attack against my soul - I could feel it. This time it felt like someone poking me in the belly button. Im telling you, reader, that this stuff feels very demonic. So I rebuked the antichrist spirit and the evil behind those sexually unclean spiritual attacks against my soul. And I prayed for the girl that Jesus would be with her and protect her from evil.

I'm very new to trying to understand eschatology in Scripture but I think it's important for me to be studying right now. I learned something from this video. I had not heard of the Heavenly Premillennial view before.

Nothing wrong with debating eschatology in and of itself, so I wouldn't say that debating eschatology is "beating up fellow servants" in and of itself.

But while we wait for the appearing of the Lord Jesus Christ our focus must be on Jesus Christ, we must remain faithful to Jesus Christ:

Luke 21:17-22 - You will be hated by all for my name's sake. But not a hair of your head will perish. By your endurance you will gain your lives. But when you see Jerusalem surrounded by armies, then know that its desolation has come near. Then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains, and let those who are inside the city depart, and let not those who are out in the country enter it, for these are days of vengeance, to fulfill all that is written. (ESV)

James 5:7-12 - Be patient, therefore, brothers, until the coming of the Lord. See how the farmer waits for the precious fruit of the earth, being patient about it, until it receives the early and the late rains. You also, be patient. Establish your hearts, for the coming of the Lord is at hand. Do not grumble against one another, brothers, so that you may not be judged; behold, the Judge is standing at the door. As an example of suffering and patience, brothers, take the prophets who spoke in the name of the Lord. Behold, we consider those blessed who remained steadfast. You have heard of the steadfastness of Job, and you have seen the purpose of the Lord, how the Lord is compassionate and merciful. But above all, my brothers, do not swear, either by heaven or by earth or by any other oath, but let your yes be yes and your no be no, so that you may not fall under condemnation. (ESV)

Hebrews 10:24-25 - And let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near. (ESV)

I believe that we are in these times so we should right now be praying for strength, and have our focus on God and not on the cares of this life / the world:

Luke 21:28-37 - Now when these things begin to take place, straighten up and raise your heads, because your redemption is drawing near. And he told them a parable: Look at the fig tree, and all the trees. As soon as they come out in leaf, you see for yourselves and know that the summer is already near. So also, when you see these things taking place, you know that the kingdom of God is near. Truly, I say to you, this generation will not pass away until all has taken place. Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away. But watch yourselves lest your hearts be weighed down with dissipation and drunkenness and cares of this life, and that day come upon you suddenly like a trap. For it will come upon all who dwell on the face of the whole earth. But stay awake at all times, praying that you may have strength to escape all these things that are going to take place, and to stand before the Son of Man. And every day he was teaching in the temple, but at night he went out and lodged on the mount called Olivet. (ESV)

I Peter 4:12-19 - Beloved, do not be surprised at the fiery trial when it comes upon you to test you, as though something strange were happening to you. But rejoice insofar as you share Christ's sufferings, that you may also rejoice and be glad when his glory is revealed. If you are insulted for the name of Christ, you are blessed, because the Spirit of glory and of God rests upon you.

But let none of you suffer as a murderer or a thief or an evildoer or as a meddler. Yet if anyone suffers as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in that name. For it is time for judgment to begin at the household of God; and if it begins with us, what will be the outcome for those who do not obey the gospel of God? And if the righteous is scarcely saved, what will become of the ungodly and the sinner? Therefore let those who suffer according to God's will entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good. (ESV)

II Thessalonians 1:4-10 - Therefore we ourselves boast about you in the churches of God for your steadfastness and faith in all your persecutions and in the afflictions that you are enduring. This is evidence of the righteous judgment of God, that you may be considered worthy of the kingdom of God, for which you are also suffering— since indeed God considers it just to repay with affliction those who afflict you, and to grant relief to you who are afflicted as well as to us, when the Lord Jesus is revealed from heaven with his mighty angels in flaming fire, inflicting vengeance on those who do not know God and on those who do not obey the gospel of our Lord Jesus. They will suffer the punishment of eternal destruction, away from the presence of the Lord and from the glory of his might, when he comes on that day to be glorified in his saints, and to be marveled at among all who have believed, because our testimony to you was believed. (ESV)

Eschatology is very important but not as important as, say remaining faithful to Jesus Christ, abiding in His love, loving one-another as commanded. But for those who are here on the earth, waiting for the return of Jesus, I think we should be discussing and challenging one-another with eschatology.

If somebody got beheaded for their faith before the second-coming of Christ and they were uncertain about their eschatological views, then I think that person is still saved. Wouldn't you think the same?

The whole duty of man is to fear God and keep His commandments and for the Christian that is to have a love for Jesus Christ, a love that loves Him rather than loving evil, and love our family in Christ as He has commanded us to love them. If we're doing that then we're abiding in Him and we're doing our duty. Eschatology is still important, of course. But when debating it we should be doing it out of love for God's word and love for one-another without being hypocrites / whitewashed-walls.

In defense of Lakepoint, when they brought up the Luke 12:42-49 passage, I don't think that the pastor meant that debating eschatology is always beating up on servants, but rather that it sometimes can be.

But I think the passage itself is really talking about how we should be anticipating the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ and be serving one another in love while doing that.

So I think there are two warnings in Luke 12:42-49. One, that people do not compromise their faith and love for one another, and two that we endeavour to remain sound in our eschatological beliefs. And in holding an incorrect eschatological viewpoint the person in Luke 12:42-49 (who held the incorrect view that Jesus is delayed), then began to beat on their family in Christ. And rather than doing that, I believe we should be amenable to correction by God's Word, and be able to talk about our eschatological beliefs with one another and challenge one-another from Scripture, without resorting to abusing one another when things haven't gone how we thought they would (i.e. mistakenly thinking the Master is delayed).

I think very important is that we are even anticipating the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ at all. When someone stops believing that Jesus Christ is coming at all or is coming soon or is delayed, then it sounds like Jesus is saying He'll come back by surprise for that person when they don't expect. But we should be expecting Jesus. So there is nothing wrong with holding an eschatological view that is expecting Jesus to come in a particular way according to our present understanding of Scripture. But there are weightier matters that we should not compromise as we hold that faith. Matters such as not denying Jesus' name, for example, or having a love for the truth (love for God's word, love for Jesus Christ), or having love for one's family in Christ.

If less important details of eschatology are considered more important than holding faith in Jesus Christ's name, for example, then that's a massive problem. Why would a person want Jesus to return if they are presently hating their family in Christ? Do they want to be judged?

It's been an interesting day. God has actually encouraged me a huge amount today. It's been amazing. I feel as though God gave me so much opportunity to share my faith with people on the streets of Dunedin today. It was really cool actually seeing what I perceive is probably God orchestrating a huge number of interactions with other people today. It makes me very happy when people do actually share their faith with me. When I hear people say things like, "Jesus is Lord", or "Jesus is the Son of God", that makes me very happy. And when God sets up opportunities for me to share my faith with people, that makes me very happy. And when God sets up opportunities for good deeds such as when people ask me for help where I can help them, that makes me very happy. It's been a very interesting day today and it was a huge encouragement to me. Thanks Jesus for that. I feel like God has blessed me today.

However, I still wish other people would confess the I John 4:2 testimony to me, and I am still wanting to hear the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit directly.

And so I remain very cautious. There has been a lot of spiritual wickedness that has been harassing me recently. But I know God is above all of that. I believe that Almighty God Yahweh (Jehovah), Father, Son and Holy Spirit, Jesus Christ (Yeshua Hamashiach) is above it all. And the Bible says that Jesus sees what is in the heart of man. Things will be OK. I know that God knows what I'm thinking. God discerns my thoughts from afar.

All glory to God.

The Scripture says that Jesus is the Son of God:

I John 5:20 - And we know that the Son of God has come and has given us understanding, so that we may know him who is true; and we are in him who is true, in his Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and eternal life. (ESV)

John 3:18 - Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. (ESV)

I John 4:15 - Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. (ESV)

I John 5:5 - Who is it that overcomes the world except the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God? (ESV)

Jesus didn't deny being the Son of God:

Luke 22:69-71 - But from now on the Son of Man shall be seated at the right hand of the power of God. So they all said,

Are you the Son of God, then? And he said to them, You say that I am. Then they said, What further testimony do we need? We have heard it ourselves from his own lips. (ESV)

Jesus affirms that He is the Son of God by naming God His Father:

John 20:17 - Jesus said to her, Do not cling to me, for I have not yet ascended to the Father; but go to my brothers and say to them, I am ascending to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God. (ESV)

John 3:16-18 - For God so loved the world, that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life. For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him. Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. (ESV)

John 11:4 - But when Jesus heard it he said, This illness does not lead to death. It is for the glory of God, so that the Son of God may be glorified through it. (ESV)

John 5:25 - Truly, truly, I say to you, an hour is coming, and is now here, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who hear will live. (ESV)

John 10:25-38 - Jesus answered them, I told you, and you do not believe. The works that I do in my Father's name bear witness about me, but you do not believe because you are not part of my flock. My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me. I give them eternal life, and they will never perish, and no one will snatch them out of my hand. My Father, who has given them to me, is greater than all, and no one is able to snatch them out of the Father's hand. I and the Father are one. The Jews picked up stones again to stone him. Jesus answered them, I have shown you many good works from the Father; for which of them are you going to stone me? The Jews answered him, It is not for a good work that we are going to stone you but for blasphemy, because you, being a man, make yourself God. Jesus answered them, Is it not written in your

Law, I said, you are gods? If he called them gods to whom the word of God came—and Scripture cannot be broken— do you say of him whom the Father consecrated and sent into the world, You are blaspheming, because I said, I am the Son of God? If I am not doing the works of my Father, then do not believe me; but if I do them, even though you do not believe me, believe the works, that you may know and understand that the Father is in me and I am in the Father. (ESV)

I've heard it said "You can't control what happens to you. All you can do is respond." That's not exactly true (Ez 18). I think a better way of walking would be to simply do what Jesus Christ instructs in reality, knowing there is forgiveness in Christ, forgiveness for those who are abiding in His commandments, and in that sense the world then needs to respond to you. But Jesus said to His followers that the world will hate them.

But I think we must stop walking in the ways of the world and start walking by the spirit of God.

OK, so in an oppressive economy where the rich in earthly goods oppress the poor in earthly goods, doesn't it make sense to stop trusting in the "way of the world" of dishonest gain, and instead, speak and do what pleases God (He can see), and keep God's commandments for us and follow Jesus in reality? Doesn't it make sense to stop making the flesh one's strength (it wasn't going to work out anyway), and to instead make God one's strength by trusting Jesus and His words? If a person owns very little in worldly goods then isn't that a golden opportunity to lay up treasure in heaven and then go forward keeping Jesus' commandments in reality rather than in false-pretense or in bad conscience? You could move forward in knowledge that God owns everything and will take care of you as you are able to have peace with God in good conscience doing as Jesus instructs which is so much better, and is also like a wise man who builds his house on the rock. If you have only $10 worth of worldly goods but in good conscience gave "let's say "half" (though why not all?) of all the worldly goods you had" ($5? by a worldly estimate) to those in need of them and out of faith and obedience to Jesus' instruction to "give to the one who begs from you", you can still say "you gave half of all the worldly goods you have out of faith and obedience to Jesus to the instruction to give to the one who begs from you" and then go forward keeping Jesus' commandments in reality rather than in false-pretense. Now change $10 for $10 billion dollars, and that's just as true, but how many people do you hear about giving away their fortune?. Being poor in worldly goods, in my view, is a nice opportunity to fall out of agreement with the way of the world and instead store up some treasure in heaven and go forward following Jesus in reality.

Doesn't it make more sense for a believer in Jesus to follow Jesus Christ and His instructions rather than follow the way of the world which works against them?

Doesn't it make sense to fall out of agreement with the broken system, go all-out for doing things the way Jesus instructs?

If a person doesn't own much in worldly goods, then shouldn't it be easier for them to give it up?

I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

Colossians 1:3-14 - We always thank God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, when we pray for you, since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus and of the love that you have for all the saints, because of the hope laid up for you in heaven. Of this you have heard before in the word of the truth, the gospel, which has come to you, as indeed in the whole world it is bearing fruit and growing—as it also does among you, since the day you heard it and understood the grace of God in truth, just as you learned it from Epaphras our beloved fellow servant. He is a faithful minister of Christ on your behalf and has made known to us your love in the Spirit. And so, from the day we heard, we have not ceased to pray for you, asking that you may be filled with the knowledge of his will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, so as to walk in a manner worthy of the Lord, fully pleasing to him, bearing fruit in every good work and increasing in the knowledge of God. May you be strengthened with all power, according to his glorious might, for all endurance and patience with joy, giving thanks to the Father, who has qualified you to share in the inheritance of the saints in light. He has delivered us from the domain of darkness and transferred us to the kingdom of his beloved Son, in whom we have redemption, the forgiveness of sins. (ESV)

Mark 10:17-23 - And as he was setting out on his journey, a man ran up and knelt before him and asked him, Good Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life? And Jesus said to him, Why do you call me good? No one is good except God alone. You know the commandments: Do not murder, Do not commit adultery, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honor your father and mother. And he said to him, Teacher, all these I have kept from my youth. And Jesus, looking at him, loved him, and said to him, You lack one thing: go, sell all that you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me. Disheartened by the saying, he went away sorrowful, for he had great possessions. And Jesus looked around and said to his disciples, How difficult it will be for those who have wealth to enter the kingdom of God! (ESV)

Hebrews 10:34 - For you had compassion on those in prison, and you joyfully accepted the plundering of your property, since you knew that you yourselves had a better possession and an abiding one. (ESV)

Mathetes to Diognetus This was not that He at all delighted in our sins, but that He simply endured them; nor that He approved the time of working iniquity which then was, but that He sought to form a mind conscious of righteousness, so that being convinced in that time of our unworthiness of attaining life through our own works, it should now, through the kindness of God, be vouchsafed to us; and having made it manifest that in ourselves we were unable to enter into the kingdom of God, we might through the power of God be made able.

James 1:12 - Blessed is the man who remains steadfast under trial, for when he has stood the test he will receive the crown of life, which God has promised to those who love him.

James 2:5 - Listen, my beloved brothers, has not God chosen those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom, which he has promised to those who love him?

Jesus does judge. We must be those who receive Jesus rather than reject Him. We must be those who love Jesus rather than hate Him.

John 9:39 - Jesus said, For judgment I came into this world, that those who do not see may see, and those who see may become blind. (ESV)

John 5:26-27 - For as the Father has life in himself, so he has granted the Son also to have life in himself. And he has given him authority to execute judgment, because he is the Son of Man. (ESV)

John 12:31 - Now is the judgment of this world; now will the ruler of this world be cast out. (ESV)

John 14:19-21 - Yet a little while and the world will see me no more, but you will see me. Because I live, you also will live. In that day you will know that I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you. Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

John 16:8-11 - And when he comes, he will convict the world concerning sin and righteousness and judgment: concerning sin, because they do not believe in me; concerning righteousness, because I go to the Father, and you will see me no longer; concerning judgment, because the ruler of this world is judged. (ESV)

I John 5:11-12 - And this is the testimony, that God gave us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. Whoever has the Son has life; whoever does not have the Son of God does not have life. (ESV)

John 3:18 - Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. (ESV)

God shows His love for us in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us. But we must receive Him and not reject Him. We must be for Him and not against Him. We must love Him back and not hate Him:

Romans 5:7-8 - For one will scarcely die for a righteous person—though perhaps for a good person one would dare even to die— but God shows his love for us in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us. (ESV)

John 3:18 - Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. (ESV)

Jesus loved us first:

John 15:9-12 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. (ESV)

I think this is how it works. Father God has put everything under Jesus' feet. Jesus puts the devil under our feet as practice righteousness (with the love of the truth, by faith obedient to Jesus Christ). We all must become subject to Jesus Christ and "stop sinning" in the sense that we are repentant. It doesn't mean we will "never sin again". It means we have (past tense) stopped sinning and are practicing righteousness now and the "mistake" (rather than the default) is when a person sins. The default is that the person born of God does not sin. We go on confessing our sin and walking in the love of the truth. As we walk in faith in the light (in the love of the truth), the blood of Jesus cleanses us from all sin.

I John 3:8 - Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. (ESV)

Romans 16:19-20 - For your obedience is known to all, so that I rejoice over you, but I want you to be wise as to what is good and innocent as to what is evil. The God of peace will soon crush Satan under your feet. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. (ESV)

So we need to hope in Jesus in our hearts, trust in Jesus, love Jesus and love one-another, rather than hope in sin, as Jesus puts the devil under our feet:

I John 3:3-11 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)

Romans 6:1-23 - What shall we say then? Are we to continue in sin that grace may abound? By no means! How can we who died to sin still live in it? Do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? We were buried therefore with him by baptism into death, in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, we too might walk in newness of life. For if we have been united with him in a death like his, we shall certainly be united with him in a resurrection like his. We know that our old self was crucified with him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin. For one who has died has been set free from sin. Now if we have died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him. We know that Christ being raised from the dead will never die again; death no longer has dominion over him. For the death he died he died to sin, once for all, but the life he lives he lives to God. So you also must consider yourselves dead to sin and alive to God in Christ Jesus. Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal bodies, to make you obey their passions. Do not present your members to sin as instruments for unrighteousness, but present yourselves to God as those who have been brought from death to life, and your members to God as instruments for righteousness. For sin will have no dominion over you, since you are not under law but under grace. What then? Are we to sin because we are not under law but under grace? By no means! Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. When you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. But what fruit were you getting at that time from the things of which you are now ashamed? The end of those things is death. But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

I believe Matt 24 and Luke 21 remain relevant for today and can not merely be attributed to the Siege of Jerusalem 70AD only. Jesus' eschatological prophesy still applies for today, I believe. That makes sense because Jesus says in Luke 21:32-35 that His words will not pass away and "that day" will come upon all who dwell on the face of the whole earth:

Luke 21:27-31 - And then they will see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. Now when these things begin to take place, straighten up and raise your heads, because your redemption is drawing near. And he told them a parable: Look at the fig tree, and all the trees. As soon as they come out in leaf, you see for yourselves and know that the summer is already near. So also, when you see these things taking place, you know that the kingdom of God is near. (ESV)

Luke 21:32-35 - Truly, I say to you, this generation will not pass away until all has taken place. Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away. But watch yourselves lest your hearts be weighed down with dissipation and drunkenness and cares of this life, and that day come upon you suddenly like a trap. For it will come upon all who dwell on the face of the whole earth. (ESV)

Matthew 24:31-37 - And he will send out his angels with a loud trumpet call, and they will gather his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other. From the fig tree learn its lesson: as soon as its branch becomes tender and puts out its leaves, you know that summer is near. So also, when you see all these things, you know that he is near, at the very gates. Truly, I say to you, this generation will not pass away until all these things take place. Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away. But concerning that day and hour no one knows, not even the angels of heaven, nor the Son, but the Father only. As were the days of Noah, so will be the coming of the Son of Man. (ESV)

When a person believes that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, they are believing that the person called Jesus (the Jesus who is the Messiah who is spoken of in the gospels Matthew, Mark, Luke and John) that person Jesus is the Son of God. So there's more significance to the declaration of faith that Jesus Christ is the Son of God by virtue of it being Jesus Christ who is being confessed as being the Son of God. Because a person might also claim

"Adam is also the son of God" but Adam is not Jesus Christ the Word made flesh:

I John 5:5 - Who is it that overcomes the world except the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God? (ESV)

Mark 1:1 - The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God. (ESV)

Luke 3:38 - the son of Enos, the son of Seth, the son of Adam, the son of God. (ESV)

What's quoted in the New Testament from Jesus is that Jesus spoke with His physical mouth that God is His Father. This offended some people a lot. Jesus instructs us to call God our Father as well. I believe we are not merely supposed to pray to God as Father, but also, literally, put a stop to using the title to refer to any man on earth:

John 5:17-18 - But Jesus answered them, My Father is working until now, and I am working. This was why the Jews were seeking all the more to kill him, because not only was he breaking the Sabbath, but he was even calling God his own Father, making himself equal with God. (ESV)

Matthew 23:9 - And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. (ESV)

The Apostle Paul here is not instructing people to call him father, but he does seem to be claiming the title. At best I'd say it's only true that Paul can claim the title until someone begins calling God the Father of Jesus Christ their own father. Jesus' commandments trump Paul's instruction:

I Corinthians 4:15 - For though you have countless guides in Christ, you do not have many fathers. For I became your father in Christ Jesus through the gospel. (ESV)

I Corinthians 11:1 - Be imitators of me, as I am of Christ. (ESV)

I Corinthians 11:3 - But I want you to understand that the head of every man is Christ, the head of a wife is her husband, and the head of Christ is God. (ESV)

And when people called Jesus the Son of God, He did not reprove them:

Matthew 14:33 - And those in the boat worshiped him, saying, Truly you are the Son of God. (ESV)

John 1:49-50 - Nathanael answered him, Rabbi, you are the Son of God! You are the King of Israel! Jesus answered him, Because I said to you, I saw you under the fig tree, do you believe? You will see greater things than these. (ESV)

2.264 Journal <2026-04-25 Sat>

The love that Jesus speaks of that is "laying down one's life for one's friends" is the same type of love that Jesus Christ demonstrated. It's the type of love that puts oneself in the way of a wicked aggressor in order to take the wrath of that aggressor on oneself in order to prevent that wrath falling on one's friends:

Like this heroic act by the school principal youtube.com: Dramatic video of principal stopping school shooter { @ NBCNews }

Christians should seek peace as far as it depends on oneself:

Romans 12:17-19 - Repay no one evil for evil, but give thought to do what is honorable in the sight of all. If possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all. Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord. (ESV)

I do not believe that Christians preemptively escalate violence and killing in order to prevent some imagined future crime that has not even been committed yet. Christians should certainly not fear the wrath of mankind who can only kill the body. But, rather, we should fear God and seek to do what pleases God, and then have no fear of man because we are acting in good conscience and even if we were killed, we still have a good conscience with God.

What I do believe is that Christians may put themselves in the way of potential harm with the aim of coping the wrath of aggressors (i.e. being a peace-seeking "meatshield"):

Matthew 26:52-53 - Then Jesus said to him, Put your sword back into its place. For all who take the sword will perish by the sword. Do you think that I cannot appeal to my Father, and he will at once send me more than twelve legions of angels? (ESV)

I believe that a Christian for the sake of trying to save life may put oneself between an aggressor and their target in hope that the wrath of unrighteous aggressors would if rather fall on them than to anyone else (yes, for the sake of their friends, but also with the intent of minimising harm to the aggressors), as God would wish for even them to repent, and if the Christian was slain as a consequence of endeavouring to not sin then they have laid down their life for their friends in love. I do believe that Christianity is a religion of non-violence from the heart, though. Christians have no love for bloodshed, nor for violence, nor for injustice, nor for lying. Christians should have an authentic love for Jesus Jesus and hate evil, and certainly not deny Jesus. We need to be those who believe and love the truth, those who have an allegiance to Jesus:

John 15:13 - Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. (ESV)

Matthew 15:18-19 - But what comes out of the mouth proceeds from the heart, and this defiles a person. For out of the heart come evil thoughts, murder, adultery, sexual immorality, theft, false witness, slander. (ESV)

Christians hate violence, cruelty and injustice. The "love of violence", the "love of killing", the "love of bloodshed" (even for one's foes) is not characteristic of Christian martyrdom. God loves people in the way that He sent Jesus Christ to die for the sins of the whole world. But God's soul hates the wicked. So if a person hates Jesus Christ Son of God then they love death, and they hate Father God, and for those who hate Father God (John 15:23) and will be repayed (Deuteronomy 32:43) unless they repent (Revelation of John 9:21, Revelation of John 16:11), God's soul hates them because they're wicked in rejecting Christ:

Psalms 11:5 - The LORD tests the righteous, but his soul hates the wicked and the one who loves violence (H2555 ḥā-mās; violence, cruelty, injustice). (ESV)

Mark 8:34-38 - And he called to him the crowd with his disciples and said to them, If anyone would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. For whoever would save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake and the gospel's will save it. For what does it profit a man to gain the whole world and forfeit his life? For what can a man give in return for his life? For whoever is ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him will the Son of Man also be ashamed when he comes in the glory of his Father with the holy angels. (ESV)

Luke 6:35 - But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing in return, and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, for he is kind to the ungrateful and the evil. (ESV)

John 3:18 - Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. (ESV)

God's wrath is certainly on its way for those who continue to reject Christ Jesus. But God will be using unquenchable hellfire. Those who hate Jesus love death, and so they get what they want:

Acts 17:30-31 - The times of ignorance God overlooked, but now he commands all people everywhere to repent, because he has fixed a day on which he will judge the world in righteousness by a man whom he has appointed; and of this he has given assurance to all by raising him from the dead. (ESV)

Matthew 3:7-12 - But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming for baptism, he said to them, You brood of vipers! Who warned you to flee from the wrath to come? Bear fruit in keeping with repentance. And do not presume to say to yourselves, We have Abraham as our father, for I tell you, God is able from these stones to raise up children for Abraham. Even now the axe is laid to the root of the trees. Every tree therefore that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. I baptize you with water for repentance, but he who is coming after me is mightier than I, whose sandals I am not worthy to carry. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire. His winnowing fork is in his hand, and he will clear his threshing floor and gather his wheat into the barn, but the chaff he will burn with unquenchable fire. (ESV)

Matthew 13:41-42 - The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of sin and all law-breakers, and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. (ESV)

Mark 9:43-48 - And if your hand causes you to sin, cut it off. It is better for you to enter life crippled than with two hands to go to hell, to the unquenchable fire. And if your foot causes you to sin, cut it off. It is better for you to enter life lame than with two feet to be thrown into hell. And if your eye causes you to sin, tear it out. It is better for you to enter the kingdom of God with one eye than with two eyes to be thrown into hell, where their worm does not die and the fire is not quenched. (ESV)

Proverbs 8:35-36 - For whoever finds me finds life and obtains favor from the LORD, but he who fails to find me injures himself; all who hate me love death. (ESV)

I John 5:12 - Whoever has the Son has life; whoever does not have the Son of God does not have life. (ESV)

The writer of Psalm 25 considers that his foes hate him with violent hatred:

Psalms 25:19 - Consider how many are my foes, and with what violent hatred they hate me. (ESV)

Our God is a God of love and also of justice. We must not be those who love evil. We must not take pleasure in the death of people. We must also not be those who trust in the strength of man. We must be those who keep Jesus Christ's commandments to have faith in His name and love one-another as commanded, following God's commandments for us from the heart. If a person advances in war out of faith in the strength of their armament then they are not trusting God for the victory. If a person is really trusting in God to carry out justice on the wrongdoer then they would be resisting sinning against God, and seeking to not take vengeance for themselves, and pursuing peace as far as it depends on oneself.

Justice is never justly served with the love of shedding blood:

Ezekiel 18:32 - For I have no pleasure in the death of anyone, declares the Lord GOD; so turn, and live. (ESV)

Proverbs 24:17-18 - Do not rejoice when your enemy falls, and let not your heart be glad when he stumbles, lest the LORD see it and be displeased, and turn away his anger from him. (ESV)

We must certainly not be "hasty" to shed blood. We must hate killing. We must be those who seek for peace as much as it depends on us:

Proverbs 1:10-16 - My son, if sinners entice you, do not consent. If they say, Come with us, let us lie in wait for blood; let us ambush the innocent without reason; like Sheol let us swallow them alive, and whole, like those who go down to the pit; we shall find all precious goods, we shall fill our houses with plunder; throw in your lot among us; we will all have one purse—my son, do not walk in the way with them; hold back your foot from their paths, for their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed blood. (ESV)

In a real sense people do "get what is coming to them". And so we should be those who have repented to have come to receive Jesus Christ and love Him and abide in His commandments:

II Samuel 22:21-28 - The LORD dealt with me according to my righteousness; according to the cleanness of my hands he rewarded me. For I have kept the ways of the LORD and have not wickedly departed from my God. For all his rules were before me, and from his statutes I did not turn aside. I was blameless before him, and I kept myself from guilt. And the LORD has rewarded me according to my righteousness, according to my cleanness in his sight. With the merciful you show yourself merciful; with the blameless man you show yourself blameless; with the purified you deal purely, and with the crooked you make yourself seem tortuous. You save a humble people, but your eyes are on the haughty to bring them down. (ESV)

Though a Christian hates evil, what is more precedent is their love for Jesus as evil is outbalanced by good, evil is defeated by Jesus from His perspective (Romans 6:9, Revelation of John 1:18) but from our perspective is being defeated (I Corinthians 15:25-28) as Jesus puts Satan under our feet (Romans 16:19-20) as we endeavour to be wise for what is good and innocent of evil. The darkness will never overcome the light (John 1:5).

God doesn't listen to the prayer of those who love evil:

II Samuel 22:41-43 - You made my enemies turn their backs to me, those who hated me, and I destroyed them. They looked, but there was none to save; they cried to the LORD, but he did not answer them. I beat them fine as the dust of the earth; I crushed them and stamped them down like the mire of the streets. (ESV)

Psalms 66:18 - If I had cherished iniquity in my heart, the Lord would not have listened. (ESV)

Christians fight not against flesh and blood but against spiritual forces of wickedness in the heavenly places:

Ephesians 6:11-20 - Put on the whole armor of God, that you may be able to stand against the schemes of the devil. For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the cosmic powers over this present darkness, against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly places. Therefore take up the whole armor of God, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand firm. Stand therefore, having fastened on the belt of truth, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness, and, as shoes for your feet, having put on the readiness given by the gospel of peace. In all circumstances take up the shield of faith, with which you can extinguish all the flaming darts of the evil one; and take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God, praying at all times in the Spirit, with all prayer and supplication. To that end keep alert with all perseverance, making supplication for all the saints, and also for me, that words may be given to me in opening my mouth boldly to proclaim the mystery of the gospel, for which I am an ambassador in chains, that I may declare it boldly, as I ought to speak. (ESV)

So we fight our battles by obeying Jesus Christ, by doing good, loving Jesus keeping His commandments and hating evil:

II Corinthians 10:3-6 - For though we walk in the flesh, we are not waging war according to the flesh. For the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh but have divine power to destroy strongholds. We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, being ready to punish every disobedience, when your obedience is complete. (ESV)

Luke 6:20-36 - And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said: Blessed are you who are poor, for yours is the kingdom of God. Blessed are you who are hungry now, for you shall be satisfied. Blessed are you who weep now, for you shall laugh. Blessed are you when people hate you and when they exclude you and revile you and spurn your name as evil, on account of the Son of Man! Rejoice in that day, and leap for joy, for behold, your reward is great in heaven; for so their fathers did to the prophets. But woe to you who are rich, for you have received your consolation. Woe to you who are full now, for you shall be hungry. Woe to you who laugh now, for you shall mourn and weep. Woe to you, when all people speak well of you, for so their fathers did to the false prophets. But I say to you who hear, Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, pray for those who abuse you. To one who strikes you on the cheek, offer the other also, and from one who takes away your cloak do not withhold your tunic either. Give to everyone who begs from you, and from one who takes away your goods do not demand them back. And as you wish that others would do to you, do so to them. If you love those who love you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them. And if you do good to those who do good to you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners do the same. And if you lend to those from whom you expect to receive, what credit is that to you? Even sinners lend to sinners, to get back the same amount. But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing in return, and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, for he is kind to the ungrateful and the evil. Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful. (ESV)

God is our avenger. God who sees the hearts of people may cause a wicked person to perish in a battle, as in II Sam 22 where God made the wicked people turn their backs towards the weapons, but the wicked people who hate Jesus love death (Pr 8:36) and hate Father God (John 15:23), so they get what they love.

If people hate Jesus then they love death, and they will get what they love which is death. We must not be those who love violence. We must not love a lie, nor those who love adultery, nor those who love idolatry, etc. Because those who love evil are wicked. Christians hate "killing". If a person is relying on their own weapons, then that is very unlike David in the story of David and Goliath:

Psalms 144:1-8 - Blessed be the LORD, my rock, who trains my hands for war, and my fingers for battle; Of David. he is my steadfast love and my fortress, my stronghold and my deliverer, my shield and he in whom I take refuge, who subdues peoples under me. O LORD, what is man that you regard him, or the son of man that you think of him? Man is like a breath; his days are like a passing shadow. Bow your heavens, O LORD, and come down! Touch the mountains so that they smoke! Flash forth the lightning and scatter them; send out your arrows and rout them! Stretch out your hand from on high; rescue me and deliver me from the many waters, from the hand of foreigners, whose mouths speak lies and whose right hand is a right hand of falsehood. (ESV)

II Samuel 22:35-49 - He trains my hands for war, so that my arms can bend a bow of bronze. You have given me the shield of your salvation, and your gentleness made me great. You gave a wide place for my steps under me, and my feet did not slip; I pursued my enemies and destroyed them, and did not turn back until they were consumed. I consumed them; I thrust them through, so that they did not rise; they fell under my feet. For you equipped me with strength for the battle; you made those who rise against me sink under me. You made my enemies turn their backs to me, those who hated me, and I destroyed them. They looked, but there was none to save; they cried to the LORD, but he did not answer them. I beat them fine as the dust of the earth; I crushed them and stamped them down like the mire of the streets. You delivered me from strife with my people; you kept me as the head of the nations; people whom I had not known served me. Foreigners came cringing to me; as soon as they heard of me, they obeyed me. Foreigners lost heart and came trembling out of their fortresses. The LORD lives, and blessed be my rock, and exalted be my God, the rock of my salvation, the God who gave me vengeance and brought down peoples under me, who brought me out from my enemies;

you exalted me above those who rose against me; you delivered me from men of violence. (ESV)

I Samuel 17:32-50 - And David said to Saul, Let no man's heart fail because of him. Your servant will go and fight with this Philistine. And Saul said to David, You are not able to go against this Philistine to fight with him, for you are but a youth, and he has been a man of war from his youth. But David said to Saul, Your servant used to keep sheep for his father. And when there came a lion, or a bear, and took a lamb from the flock, I went after him and struck him and delivered it out of his mouth. And if he arose against me, I caught him by his beard and struck him and killed him. Your servant has struck down both lions and bears, and this uncircumcised Philistine shall be like one of them, for he has defied the armies of the living God. And David said, The LORD who delivered me from the paw of the lion and from the paw of the bear will deliver me from the hand of this Philistine. And Saul said to David, Go, and the LORD be with you! Then Saul clothed David with his armor. He put a helmet of bronze on his head and clothed him with a coat of mail, and David strapped his sword over his armor. And he tried in vain to go, for he had not tested them. Then David said to Saul, I cannot go with these, for I have not tested them. So David put them off. Then he took his staff in his hand and chose five smooth stones from the brook and put them in his shepherd's pouch. His sling was in his hand, and he approached the Philistine. And the Philistine moved forward and came near to David, with his shield-bearer in front of him. And when the Philistine looked and saw David, he disdained him, for he was but a youth, ruddy and handsome in appearance. And the Philistine said to David, Am I a dog, that you come to me with sticks? And the Philistine cursed David by his gods. The Philistine said to David, Come to me, and I will give your flesh to the birds of the air and to the beasts of the field. Then David said to the Philistine, You come to me with a sword and with a spear and with a javelin, but I come to you in the name of the LORD of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom you have defied. This day the LORD will deliver you into my hand, and I will strike you down and cut off your head. And I will give the dead bodies of the host of the Philistines this day to the birds of the air and to the wild beasts of the earth, that all the earth may know that there is a God in Israel, and that all this assembly may know that the LORD saves not with sword and spear. For the battle is the LORD's, and he will give you into our hand. When the Philistine arose and came and drew near to meet David, David ran quickly toward the battle line to meet the Philistine. And David put his hand in his bag and took out a stone and slung it and struck the Philistine on his forehead. The stone sank into his forehead, and he fell on his face to the ground. So David prevailed over the Philistine with a sling and with a stone, and struck the Philistine and killed him. There was no sword in the hand of David. (ESV)

Following Jesus means a change of direction:

youtube.com: Is It Unloving to Rebuke Bad Doctrine ? - Jeff Peterson { @ illbehonest }

It's a change of mind that results in a change of course. We know that Paul told the Ephesians that they were following the course of this world. They were following the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that is now at work and the sons of disobedience. And because of that, they were by nature children of wrath. They were going that way. What did Jesus say to people quite often? Follow me. It's a change of direction. In the Old Testament, repentance was all over it because Israel kept having to repent. And what was Israel told time and time again? Turn. You've walked away from the living God. Turn and follow him. It's a turning. It's a change of mind that results in a turning. That Paul told the Thessalonians in 1 Thessalonians 1, he thought it was great that they had turned from idols to serve the living God. That was repentance.
