Thoughts on Faith and Judgement

This document has been a work in progress. I have been born-again and have done my own Bible study to be taught and be corrected by the word of God, and I'm feeling confident with what I have written here, if I have said anything in error I pray that it would be corrected. I'm trying to speak the truth in mercy. This document shows my current understanding at the time of writing. God Almighty, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, Jehovah God, Lord Jesus Christ, please forgive me if I have spoken anything incorrectly and have mercy on me:

> I Timothy 4:13-16 - Until I come, devote yourself to the public reading of Scripture, to exhortation, to teaching. Do not neglect the gift you have, which was given you by prophecy when the council of elders laid their hands on you. Practice these things, devote yourself to them, so that all may see your progress. Keep a close watch on yourself and on the teaching. Persist in this, for by so doing you will save both yourself and your hearers. (ESV)
> Luke 9:62 - Jesus said to him, No one who puts his hand to the plow and looks back is fit for the kingdom of God. (ESV)
> Luke 11:33 - No one after lighting a lamp puts it in a cellar or under a basket, but on a stand, so that those who enter may see the light. (ESV)

In trusting Jesus and His words, we are led by Him. And it's very important that we are not led astray by a different voice, so we should be corrected and goaded and guided by Jesus. With soft hearts we should trust and obey Jesus' voice. He can see our hearts and knows who actually does follow Him. The knowing doesn't come first. Abiding comes first, knowing the truth and having freedom from committing sin comes next, while abiding. We do need to continue on in Jesus' word (John 8:31-32) and while continuing on we need also to continue abiding in His word (II John 1:9-11) and not leave His word, and so we must love our family in Christ (I John 3:13-16). God puts us into Christ (I Corinthians 1:30) but we must remain in Him (John 15:1-6):

> I John 5:20 - And we know that the Son of God has come and has given us understanding, so that we may know him who is true; and we are in him who is true, in his Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and eternal life. (ESV)
> John 8:31-32 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed (G4100 pepisteukotas; having believed) in him, If you abide (G3306 meinēte; remain, abide, stay, continue, dwell, endure) in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth (G225 alētheia; truth, reality; i.e. walking in reality), and the truth will set you free. (ESV)
> John 10:4-5 - When he has brought out all his own, he goes before them, and the sheep follow him, for they know his voice. A stranger they will not follow, but they will flee from him, for they do not know the voice of strangers. (ESV)
> John 10:27 - My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me. (ESV)
> Psalms 138:6-8 - For though JEHOVAH is high, yet he looks after the lowly; but the proud, he knows from afar. Though I walk in the midst of trouble, you will revive me. You will stretch forth your hand against the wrath of my enemies. Your right hand will save me. JEHOVAH will fulfill that which concerns me; your loving kindness, JEHOVAH, endures forever. Do not forsake the works of your own hands. (NHEBJE)

> John 10:14-16 - I am the good shepherd. I know my own and my own know me, just as the Father knows me and I know the Father; and I lay down my life for the sheep. And I have other sheep that are not of this fold. I must bring them also, and they will listen to my voice. So there will be one flock, one shepherd. (ESV)
> John 6:45 - It is written in the Prophets, And they will all be taught by God. Everyone who has heard and learned from the Father comes to me— (ESV)
> John 7:29 - I know him, for I come from him, and he sent me. (ESV)
> I John 4:6 - We are from God. Whoever knows God listens to us; whoever is not from God does not listen to us. By this we know the Spirit of truth and the spirit of error. (ESV)
> I John 4:8,19-21 - Anyone who does not love does not know God, because God is love. We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)
> Hosea 6:6 - For I desire steadfast love and not sacrifice, the knowledge of God rather than burnt offerings. (ESV)
> Isaiah 45:19 - I did not speak in secret, in a land of darkness; I did not say to the offspring of Jacob, Seek me in vain. I the LORD speak the truth; I declare what is right. (ESV)
> II Timothy 2:19 - But God's firm foundation stands, bearing this seal: The Lord knows those who are his, and, Let everyone who names the name of the Lord depart from iniquity. (ESV)
> John 10:25-26 - Jesus answered them, I told you, and you do not believe. The works that I do in my Father's name bear witness about me, but you do not believe because you are not part of my flock. (ESV)
> John 16:2-3 - They will put you out of the synagogues. Indeed, the hour is coming when whoever kills you will think he is offering service to God. And they will do these things because they have not known the Father, nor me. (ESV)
> John 3:3 - Jesus answered him, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born again he cannot see the kingdom of God. (ESV)

Father God's commandment for us is to hold faith (actively be trusting) in the name of Jesus Christ His Son and love one another as we've been commanded to (Matthew 22:36-40, I John 5:2) and this commandment is eternal life (John 12:44-50, Luke 10:25-28), and God helps us to fulfill this (Romans 8:3-4). As we by faith that loves God's word obey Jesus Christ for a sincere love of our family in Christ (I Peter 1:22), God sanctifies us to love Him with our whole heart (Romans 6:22, Deuteronomy 30:6):

> Acts 5:32 - And we are witnesses to these things, and so is the Holy Spirit, whom God has given to those who obey him. (ESV)
> I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)
> John 14:1 - Let not your hearts be troubled. Believe in God; believe also in me. (ESV)
> Hebrews 5:9 - And being made perfect, he became the source of eternal salvation to all who obey him, (ESV)

> Hebrews 11:8 - By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place that he was to receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going. (ESV)

> Hebrews 11:4 - By faith Abel offered to God a more acceptable sacrifice than Cain, through which he was commended as righteous, God commending him by accepting his gifts. And through his faith, though he died, he still speaks. (ESV)

We are God's friends if we love in the way He has commanded us:

> John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)

> Proverbs 17:17 - A friend loves at all times, and a brother is born for adversity. (ESV)

> John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

> Proverbs 8:17 - "I love those who love me; And those who diligently seek me will find me. (NASB) youtube.com: The Gospel Before Jesus Died {@ desiringGod } @time: 10 min 31 sec And if we ask, "How much did various people understand in order to be saved?" Because people were saved by the death of Christ before the death of Christ. We know that from Romans 3:25. The best way to answer that question, I think, is to say people generally embraced Christ with very different levels of understanding and whether that initial faith was real and saving (with its imperfect understanding), whether or not it was real was proved by whether or not a person kept on embracing the gospel as more and more of it was revealed to them. And I think that's exactly the way it is today.

> Luke 2:10-11 - And the angel said to them, Fear not, for behold, I bring you good news of a great joy that will be for all the people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord. (ESV)

> Romans 3:25 - whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. (ESV)

God helps us as we hold the faith:

> Jude 1:20-21 - But you, beloved, build yourselves up in your most holy faith; pray in the Holy Spirit; keep yourselves in the love of God, waiting for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ that leads to eternal life. (ESV)

Obedience without love for the truth is feigned (Psalms 81:12-15). Obedience without faith doesn't exist (Romans 14:23). Faith without love for the truth is evil (Luke 6:45), demonic (James 2:19, Matthew 8:29) and accursed (I Corinthians 16:22). Love for good produces good and love for evil produces evil (Luke 6:45). Works without faith are evil and sinful (Romans 14:23). Works without obedience are evil and slothful (Matthew 25:24-30, Titus 1:9-16). As a body without spirit is inanimate, faith without deeds is inanimate, as in "non-impactful" (James 2:26) because faith is the heart attitudes but the deeds are actions done with that faith, though I'd still say that it is practically impossible to not have deeds (whether good or evil), and so the real question is, "With what faith are one's deeds being done? Faith in the truth or faith in lies?" And another question is "Who is doing the deeds? (a) God working as one obediently abstains from woroking? (Romans 4:4-6), or b) oneself working deeds that are being wrought in God? (John 3:21)" Faith in lies is like doubting the truth (II

Thessalonians 2:9-12, Jeremiah 29:31, Jeremiah 28:15, Isaiah 42:17, Habakkuk 2:18, Luke 8:12, John 8:43-47). Sin doesn't necessitate external action in order to be committed because sin can be committed in the heart (Matthew 5:28), which is precisely why we are in need of the atoning work of Jesus Christ (Hebrews 10:4) to be received by faith in Jesus Christ (Romans 3:23-26). A person is blessed if they have faith accompanied by deeds (James 1:21-25). Speaking the truth, even regarding sin is important (Ephesians 4:20-32). It's also correct to separate from people who love evil while professing to be family to a Christian (I Corinthians 5:9-13) but we have to be careful to not judge on matters that are not truly sinful (Romans 14:3, Romans 14:23). But there certainly are sinful behaviours that qualify one believer to judge or separate from another (I Timothy 1:8-11). Substance abuse is one such thing (I Corinthians 5:9-13), but some things in moderation could be OK (Titus 2:1-8). Truth without grace is judgemental, but truth with grace is truthful while patient (John 12:44-50), even though real grace is given to someone so that they may be sanctified by the truth (Titus 2:11-14) but "having grace" such as "time to repent" (Revelation of John 2:21, Revelation of John 16:8-11) could mean simply that a person is not yet in hell and so grace doesn't mean "saved" necessarily. Without repentance (i.e. without a change of mind), there is no salvation (Luke 13:3). Truth is convicting (John 16:8-9). Grace without the truth that convicts is not true grace because both grace and truth have come through Jesus Christ (John 1:14, John 14:6). Real love loves the truth and hates evil (Romans 12:9). Real faith loves the truth (Mark 4:14-20, II Timothy 4:8).

Love for evil or the world (G2889 kosmon) is not real love at all. But real love loves God (I John 2:15-17, I John 4:7), doing as He commands (John 14:21) to love Him and our neighbour (Luke 10:27-28) including our family in Christ (John 13:34) the way we are commanded to (I John 5:2):

> Luke 11:43 - Woe to you Pharisees! For you love the best seat in the synagogues and greetings in the marketplaces. (ESV)
> I John 2:15 - Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. (ESV)
> John 18:36 - Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world. If my kingdom were of this world, my servants would have been fighting, that I might not be delivered over to the Jews. But my kingdom is not from the world. (ESV)
> John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

Faith is not at all directly at odds to true obedience, but obedience when understood correctly actually implies faith as a person cannot truly obey God without a love for God (Psalms 81:12-15, James 2:5, Luke 6:45), say a love for His promise (Hebrews 11:8):

> I Peter 2:6-8 - For it stands in Scripture: Behold, I am laying in Zion a stone, a cornerstone chosen and precious, and whoever believes in him will not be put to shame. So the honor is for you who believe, but for those who do not believe, The stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone, and A stone of stumbling, and a rock of offense. They stumble because they disobey the word, as they were destined to do. (ESV)
> Hebrews 11:29 - By faith the people crossed the Red Sea as if on dry land, but the Egyptians, when they attempted to do the same, were drowned. (ESV)
> Exodus 14:31 - When Israel saw the great power which the LORD had used against the Egyptians, the people feared the LORD, and they believed (H539 'aman) in the LORD and in His servant Moses. (ESV)
> Exodus 14:14-16 - The LORD will fight for you, and you have only to be silent. The LORD said to Moses, Why do you cry to me? Tell the people of Israel to go forward. Lift up your staff, and stretch out your hand over the sea and divide it, that the people of Israel may go through the sea on dry ground. (ESV)

> Exodus 14:21-30 - Then Moses stretched out his hand over the sea, and the Lord drove the sea back by a strong east wind all night and made the sea dry land, and the waters were divided. And the people of Israel went into the midst of the sea on dry ground, the waters being a wall to them on their right hand and on their left. The Egyptians pursued and went in after them into the midst of the sea, all Pharaoh's horses, his chariots, and his horsemen. And in the morning watch the Lord in the pillar of fire and of cloud looked down on the Egyptian forces and threw the Egyptian forces into a panic, clogging their chariot wheels so that they drove heavily. And the Egyptians said, Let us flee from before Israel, for the Lord fights for them against the Egyptians. Then the Lord said to Moses, Stretch out your hand over the sea, that the water may come back upon the Egyptians, upon their chariots, and upon their horsemen. So Moses stretched out his hand over the sea, and the sea returned to its normal course when the morning appeared. And as the Egyptians fled into it, the Lord threw the Egyptians into the midst of the sea. The waters returned and covered the chariots and the horsemen; of all the host of Pharaoh that had followed them into the sea, not one of them remained. But the people of Israel walked on dry ground through the sea, the waters being a wall to them on their right hand and on their left. Thus the Lord saved Israel that day from the hand of the Egyptians, and Israel saw the Egyptians dead on the seashore. (ESV)

Someone having faith in Jesus Christ and His words, though they die, yet they will live (i.e. get born-again), and a born-again (living) person, if they have faith in Jesus Christ and His words, will never die. Being united in a resurrection like Jesus' surely means there is a bodily resurrection as well. Born-again (alive) must still continue on in the teaching of Christ:

> Psalms 56:13 - For you have delivered my soul from death, yes, my feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the light of life. (ESV)

> John 8:12 - Again Jesus spoke to them, saying, I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will not walk in darkness, but will have the light of life. (ESV) youtube.com: Near Death . Now Homeless . {@ thedayaheadpodcast } I commented:

> I believe I have had an actual death and spiritual resurrection on 2 April 2022. I would not call it simply a near-death experience, but I believe it was an actual death and rebirth. I'm just saying what happened to me I wouldn't call a "near death experience". I believe it was an actual death and rebirth, as in, baptized into Christ's death, and born-again. I was lying on my bed having a snooze and some time around mid day, suddenly I observed my soul being regenerated. It looked like a knitted fabric made of thin blue flame in the shape of a human, and it was me. Everything else was pitch black and I could only see my soul. I believe that I have been baptized into Jesus' death, and I believe that I have seen my new regenerated soul. While it was happening I called out to Jesus saying "Jesus, please save me, I don't know what's going on." And this lasted some minutes seeing this until I snapped back into having natural sight. So I'm a new person and I'm in a new creation, and I have a new Dad (Father God, Jesus Christ's Dad), who by faith in Jesus Christ I call upon as Dad. I'm still waiting for my resurrection body though. So I've been born twice now (new spirit inside old flesh). But there is a third birth to come so to speak which is the new flesh. Unless Jesus comes back before then and I am raptured out of here.
> Before I got born-again, I was also stuck in a cycle of sin and selfishness, etc. and I needed God to intervene and save me. Leading up to when I got born-again I had been calling out to God to rescue me, actually, even from the sin which I was enslaved to.
> What you've been saying about your previous lifestyle sounds similar to what I was also living like. When you say, "When I was behind that glass wall, I genuinely thought it was too late." I also was feeling like this for a little while. But I lay there, not knowing what was happening, initially concerned because I thought I might be dead and it was too late, but I called out to Jesus asking Him to save me. I was genuinely afraid but also all I could do was hope in God for Him to do something. Because I felt completely powerless. I believe the correct thing to do was to just wait it out and entrust myself to God. That entire aspect of my life belongs to Yahweh God, Father Son and Holy Spirit; Father God and Jesus Christ His Son and God's > Holy Spirit. And now believing I've been given a second chance, the right thing to do is to go forward endeavouring to do God's will, with fear of God and abiding in Jesus' teachings.

> Praise God for intervening. God have mercy on us. It's really important I believe to continue on in faith in Jesus Christ and in the fear of God, receiving God's correction, even after getting born-again. It's important to not obey the flesh after getting born-again. If we live by the spirit let us also walk by the spirit. So before and after getting born-again, I believe it's important to abide in Christ's teachings and commandments.
> > John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)
> > Romans 6:3-8 - Do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? We were buried therefore with him by baptism into death, in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, we too might walk in newness of life. For if we have been united with him in a death like his, we shall certainly be united with him in a resurrection like his. We know that our old self was crucified with him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin. For one who has died has been set free from sin. Now if we have died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him. (ESV)
> > II John 1:9-11 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, for whoever greets him takes part in his wicked works. (ESV)
> > Colossians 3:12-14 - Put on then, as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, compassion, kindness, humility, meekness, and patience, bearing with one another and, if one has a complaint against another, forgiving each other; as the Lord has forgiven you, so you also must forgive. And above all these put on love, which binds everything together in perfect harmony. (ESV)
> Hebrews 2:1 - Therefore we must pay much closer attention to what we have heard, lest we drift away from it. (ESV)

Being ”made alive” is a gift that is gifted to us to save us from being enslaved to sin. This grace saves us:

> Ephesians 2:1-10 - And you were dead in the trespasses and sins in which you once walked, following the course of this world, following the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that is now at work in the sons of disobedience— among whom we all once lived in the passions of our flesh, carrying out the desires of the body and the mind, and were by nature children of wrath, like the rest of mankind. But God, being rich in mercy, because of the great love with which he loved us, even when we were dead in our trespasses, made us alive together with Christ—by grace you have been saved— and raised us up with him and seated us with him in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, so that in the coming ages he might show the immeasurable riches of his grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus. For by grace you have been saved through faith. And this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God, not a result of works, so that no one may boast. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand, that we should walk in them. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 15:22-28 - For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive. But each in his own order: Christ the firstfruits, then at his coming those who belong to Christ. Then comes the end, when he delivers the kingdom to God the Father after destroying every rule and every authority and power. For he must reign until he has put all his enemies under his feet. The last enemy to be destroyed is death. For God has put all things in subjection under his feet. But when it says, all things are put in subjection, it is plain that he is excepted who put all things in subjection under him. When > all things are subjected to him, then the Son himself will also be subjected to him who put all things in subjection under him, that God may be all in all. (ESV)

> John 5:21-24 - 'For, as the Father doth raise the dead, and doth make alive, so also the Son doth make alive whom he willeth; for neither doth the Father judge any one, but all the judgment He hath given to the Son, that all may honour the Son according as they honour the Father; he who is not honouring the Son, doth not honour the Father who sent him. 'Verily, verily, I say to you–He who is hearing my word, and is believing Him who sent me, hath life age-during, and to judgment he doth not come (G2064 erchomai), but hath passed (G3327 metabain; changes place; From meta and the base of basis; to change place – depart, go, pass, remove.) out of the death to the life. (YLT)

We receive grace from God which is the mercy we receive that leads to eternal life. I believe I received that grace when I was born-again:

> Jude 1:20-21 - But you, beloved, build yourselves up in your most holy faith; pray in the Holy Spirit; keep yourselves in the love of God, waiting for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ that leads to eternal life. (ESV)

I am not the same person as the person who died in baptism on 2 April 2022. 2 April 2022 is the death day of my previous self. It's very important then to walk in faith, love, holiness and truth. The former manner of life is corrupt and must be put off. Rather, we must put on the new self:

> Romans 6:6 - We know that our old self was crucified with him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin. (ESV)
> Colossians 3:9-10 - Do not lie to one another, seeing that you have put off the old self with its practices and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator. (ESV)
> Ephesians 4:17-24 - Now this I say and testify in the Lord, that you must no longer walk as the Gentiles do, in the futility of their minds. They are darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, due to their hardness of heart. They have become callous and have given themselves up to sensuality, greedy to practice every kind of impurity. But that is not the way you learned Christ!— assuming that you have heard about him and were taught in him, as the truth is in Jesus, to put off your old self, which belongs to your former manner of life and is corrupt through deceitful desires, and to be renewed in the spirit of your minds, and to put on the new self, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness. (ESV)

If a person does good from faith in Jesus Christ and His words and commandments then when they are doing good they are not doing evil.

> Galatians 5:16-17 - But I say, walk by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the flesh. For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to keep you from doing the things you want to do. (ESV)
> Galatians 3:24 - So then, the law was our guardian until Christ came, in order that we might be justified by faith. (ESV)
> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)
> John 8:34-35,36,42,51 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death. (ESV)

> Hebrews 3:12-13 - Take care, brothers, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God. But exhort one another every day, as long as it is called today, that none of you may be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. (ESV)

Faith is in the heart and confession is speaking the same as God. Justification is by faith in Jesus Christ and is a ”here and now” thing. If we are confessing and believing the same as God as regards Jesus Christ then that is what saving faith is. This is important because we must abide in Jesus Christ’s teachings and so the person of Jesus Christ and His words are so vital to remain in agreement with. The faith is needed first and good deeds are produced while holding good faith. From faith in Jesus and His words we do what He says:

> Romans 10:3-11 - For, being ignorant of the righteousness that comes from God, and seeking to establish their own, they did not submit to God’s righteousness. For Christ is the end (G5056 telos) of the law for righteousness to everyone who believes. For Moses writes about the righteousness that is based on the law, that the person who does the commandments shall live by them. But the righteousness based on faith says, Do not say in your heart, Who will ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down) or Who will descend into the abyss? (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead). But what does it say? The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart (that is, the word of faith that we proclaim); because, if you confess (G3670 homologēsēs; from homologeó: To confess, to acknowledge, to agree) with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For with the heart one believes and is justified, and with the mouth one confesses and is saved. For the Scripture says, Everyone who believes in him will not be put to shame. (ESV)

> II John 1:9 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. (ESV)

> Hebrews 2:1 - Therefore we must pay much closer attention to what we have heard, lest we drift away from it. (ESV)

> John 14:12 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)

We need to be doers of what Jesus Christ says here. Being led by the spirit and not under the law, a person would be ”seeking first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness” in preference to worrying about worldly concerns to make the flesh their strength, and so would prioritise by faith obeying Jesus Christ’s commandments in reality over, say, ”ironing a shirt”. God wants us to walk by the spirit (do the will of God which He has commanded us) and to leave the rest to Him which includes providing us with our material needs:

> Matthew 5:43-48 - You have heard that it was said, You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy. But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You therefore must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect. (ESV)

> Matthew 6:24-25 - No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money. Therefore I tell you, do not be anxious about your life, what you will eat or what you will drink, nor about your body, what you will put on. Is not life more than food, and the body more than clothing? (ESV)

> Matthew 6:31-33 - Therefore do not be anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or What shall we drink? or What shall we wear? For the Gentiles seek after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them all. But seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things will be added to you. (ESV)

> II Timothy 2:3-4 - Share in suffering as a good soldier of Christ Jesus. No soldier gets entangled in civilian pursuits, since his aim is to please the one who enlisted him. (ESV)
> Psalms 103:17-18 - But the steadfast love of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting on those who fear him, and his righteousness to children's children, to those who keep his covenant and remember to do his commandments. (ESV)
> Matthew 7:7-24 - Ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you. For everyone who asks receives, and the one who seeks finds, and to the one who knocks it will be opened. Or which one of you, if his son asks him for bread, will give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, will give him a serpent? If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things to those who ask him! So whatever you wish that others would do to you, do also to them, for this is the Law and the Prophets. Enter by the narrow gate. For the gate is wide and the way is easy that leads to destruction, and those who enter by it are many. For the gate is narrow and the way is hard that leads to life, and those who find it are few. Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing but inwardly are ravenous wolves. You will recognize them by their fruits. Are grapes gathered from thornbushes, or figs from thistles? So, every healthy tree bears good fruit, but the diseased tree bears bad fruit. A healthy tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor can a diseased tree bear good fruit. Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. Thus you will recognize them by their fruits. Not everyone who says to me, Lord, Lord, will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the one who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. On that day many will say to me, Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and cast out demons in your name, and do many mighty works in your name? And then will I declare to them, I never knew you; depart from me, you workers of lawlessness. Everyone then who hears these words of mine and does them will be like a wise man who built his house on the rock. (ESV)
> II John 1:9 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. (ESV)

A person is justified by the law of faith (what is in the heart) rather than by a law of works (i.e. inclusive of the successful carrying out of external actions in the world):

> Romans 3:27-31 - Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. Or is God the God of Jews only? Is he not the God of Gentiles also? Yes, of Gentiles also, since God is one. He will justify the circumcised by faith and the uncircumcised through faith. Do we then overthrow the law by this faith? By no means! On the contrary, we uphold the law. (ESV)

The faith which a person is justified by is counted distinctly from (G5565 chōris) any corresponding external actions and distinctly from any corresponding law of works (Galatians 3:12). The Old Covenant Law was pursued by some as though it was based on works and that is the problem:

> Galatians 3:12 - But the law is not of faith, rather The one who does (G4160 poiēsas; having done) them shall live by them. (ESV)
> Romans 9:30-32 - What shall we say, then? That Gentiles who did not pursue righteousness have attained it, that is, a righteousness that is by faith; but that Israel who pursued a law that would lead to righteousness did not succeed in reaching that law. Why? Because they did not pursue it by faith, but as if it were based on works. They have stumbled over the stumbling stone, (ESV)
> Romans 3:20-25 - For by works of the law no human being will be justified in his sight, since through the law comes knowledge of sin. But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from (G5565 chōris) the law (G3551 nomou), although the Law and the Prophets bear > witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. (ESV)

Faith 'alone' (G3440 monon; only) which the Apostle James speaks of (James 2:22-24), is not precisely the same thing as faith 'apart from' (G5565 chōris) works which the Apostle Paul speaks of (Romans 4:5).

The Apostle Paul speaks of faith while "not working" (doing deeds), and so faith while "resting" (for example, in faith keeping the Sabbath command to rest).

Even when a person is resting in faith, God is working (John 6:28-29), so long as that resting is truly done in faith (rather than, for example, a "sin of omission" - see James 4:17).

So therefore, faith while resting from working is not alone because God still works. So it's not accurate to take Romans 4:5 and say this "faith without working" is faith that's alone without works.

To make things confusing, people often talk about how a person is justified by "faith alone" while referring to Paul's writings. But Paul doesn't talk about faith alone (G3440 monon; only). Rather, Paul talks about faith "apart from" (G5565 chōris) works.

Faith "apart from" (G5565 chōris) works is what is in the heart counted distinctly from any corresponding works (for example, faith working through love producing good deeds while abiding in Jesus Christ), or faith "apart from" works would be while having "ceased" working (Romans 4:5, Romans 6:22-23; i.e. the free gift), and God still working (John 6:28-29). This latter state of not working, yet having faith, is important for justification, I believe, because given a history of evil deeds, a person must have stopped what they are doing so as for them to not be established by wickedness, otherwise it might be establishing one's own righteousness (Romans 10:3-11, John 15:1-6). A person must be able to stop (Romans 3:19):

> Proverbs 12:3 - No one is established by wickedness, but the root of the righteous will never be moved. (ESV)

It's imperative, no matter how much we've been attempting to work for God, that we accept the free gift from God, and that does require at least some point at which we have rested/abstained from working while holding faith in Jesus Christ while ceasing from working altogether. In holding faith in Jesus while abstaining from working in a legitimate way (i.e. in a way that is obedient to God as opposed to abstaining from working in a way that is committing sin as a "sin of omission" - see James 4:17), while acknowledging their ungodliness (their sin) one receives the gift of righteousness.

There is "faith working righteousness" (John 3:21, John 4:34, Galatians 6:7-10, John 6:27), which is a good place to be.

There is also "love for evil working lawlessness" (John 3:20, Romans 6:22-23; i.e. the wages of sin), which a person must cease doing.

But a third state to be in is 'faith without working' (G2038 ergazomenō; working) (Romans 4:5, Romans 6:22-23; i.e. the free gift). We all must receive this (Romans 11:29-33, Proverbs 12:3), even the one who works has to have received this (i.e. have ceased trusting in themselves that they are in themselves righteous apart from (G5565 chōris) Jesus Christ and to have refrained from working in order to received the gift), because we must not be establishing a righteousness of our own which is apart from (G5565 chōris) Christ (Romans 10:3-11, John 15:1-6). So there must be a point at which God affirms that we have recognised our own deeds have been evil, and we need His mercy, and we need forgiveness and atonement for the sin incurred due to our history of evil deeds, and had faith in Jesus Christ while resting/abstaining from working so as to not commit sin.

Being cleansed from sin involves a cessation of committing sin (I Peter 4:1-3, Ephesians 5:1-21, I John 1:7). To decide, "I will not steal" is to decide to "not work lawlessness".

Keeping a commandment to "not do" something (such as to "not steal") does not mean "working".

And a cessation from working alongside the faith described in Romans 4:5 is necessary to receive the blessing of forgiveness for past sins (Romans 4:6-8).

For a person to be justified by 'faith alone' as some people affirm (not of our own works) person needs to have actually stopped working (i.e. resting, abstaining from working evil) at some point that God alone works (John 6:28-29) in them, while they are acknowledging that they have been ungodly, yet still have faith in Jesus Christ.

In other words, if somebody is saying to others ”I'm justified by faith alone, not my own work, but Jesus' works only” while they are themselves actually ”deeding” (rather than resting), or if they are still doing evil deeds (lying, stealing, lusting, etc.) , then that goes against Romans 4:5. A person has to have stopped working in actuality, while still holding faith, so doing so obediently, not resting, say, with a sin of omission:

> I Peter 4:1-3 - Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh, arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. The time that is past suffices for doing what the Gentiles want to do, living in sensuality, passions, drunkenness, orgies, drinking parties, and lawless idolatry. (ESV)

This ”faith apart from works” is what so-called ”justification by faith 'alone'” (i.e. what the Apostle Paul speaks of) is based on, I think, (Romans 3:21,9:31,10:4-10), rather than what an antinomian / disobedient / faithless person might think faith alone is.

Also, this ”faith apart from works” is ”obedient” to the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. It's obedient to God (Acts 5:32), and abiding by the law of faith (John 14:15) by faith in Christ Jesus, and is obeying God's gospel (Romans 10:14-21).

If someone were to command another to ”go to sleep” or to ”rest”, and they obeyed, then in obeying they have not ”worked”, yet they have still obeyed. So ”working” and ”obeying” are different words meaning different things and should not be confused:

> John 9:4 - We must work the works of him who sent me while it is day; night is coming, when no one can work. (ESV)

Without the love of God, the love for the truth, in them, a person can't have saving faith:

> John 14:24 - Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me. (ESV)

> Job 22:23-26 - If you return to the Almighty, you will be restored. If you remove injustice from your tents and consign your gold to the dust and the gold of Ophir to the stones of the ravines, then the Almighty will be your gold and the finest silver for you. Surely then you will delight in the Almighty and lift up your face to God. (engbsb2020eb)

So we should ”do good”. Putting on the new self, and be renewed in mind, and truly love in the way which God requires:

> Luke 6:32-36 - If you love those who love you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them. And if you do good to those who do good to you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners do the same. And if you lend to those from whom you expect to receive, what credit is that to you? Even sinners lend to sinners, to get back the same amount. But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing in return, and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, for he is kind to the ungrateful and the evil. Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful. (ESV)

> Isaiah 1:16-17 - Wash yourselves; make yourselves clean; remove the evil of your deeds from before my eyes; cease to do evil, learn to do good; seek justice, correct oppression; bring justice to the fatherless, plead the widow's cause. (ESV)

> John 12:35-36 - So Jesus said to them, The light is among you for a little while longer. Walk while you have the light, lest darkness overtake you. The one who walks in the darkness does not know where he is going. While you have the light, believe in the light, that you may become sons of light. When Jesus had said these things, he departed and hid himself from them. (ESV)

> I John 2:8-9 - At the same time, it is a new commandment that I am writing to you, which is true in him and in you, because the darkness is passing away and the true light is already shining. Whoever says he is in the light and hates his brother is still in darkness. (ESV)
> I John 3:14 - We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. (ESV)
> John 17:26 - I made known to them your name, and I will continue to make it known, that the love with which you have loved me may be in them, and I in them. (ESV)

Doing good must come from a good heart, from a heart with good treasure in it (Luke 6:45). So we must treasure Jesus (Matthew 13:44-46, Matthew 10:37) and His word in our heart in order to produce good. God still uses our shortcomings (II Corinthians 12:9) even when our works appear to have not worked out from the natural (Romans 7:18) i.e. to appear to man to have been unsuccessful ’from external appearance’ when God actually looks at the heart (II Corinthians 5:9-12):

> Romans 3:20 - For by works of the law no human being will be justified in his sight, since through the law comes knowledge of sin. (ESV)
> I Samuel 16:7 - But JEHOVAH said to Samuel, ”Do not look on his face, or on the height of his stature; because I have rejected him: for I see not as man sees; for man looks at the outward appearance, but JEHOVAH looks at the heart.” (NHEBJE)
> Romans 7:18 - For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh; for the willing is present in me, but the working out of the good is not. (LSB)

We should do good from the love of God and leave the justifying to God. And persevere with being wise for what is good and innocent as to evil, to conquer:

> Romans 8:28 - And we know that for those who love God all things work together for good, for those who are called according to his purpose. (ESV)
> II Corinthians 12:9 - But he said to me, My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness. Therefore I will boast all the more gladly of my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may rest upon me. (ESV)
> II Corinthians 5:9-12 - So whether we are at home or away, we make it our aim to please him. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil. Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. We are not commending ourselves to you again but giving you cause to boast about us, so that you may be able to answer those who boast about outward appearance and not about what is in the heart. (ESV)
> Matthew 25:31-40 - When the Son of Man comes in his glory, and all the angels with him, then he will sit on his glorious throne. Before him will be gathered all the nations, and he will separate people one from another as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats. And he will place the sheep on his right, but the goats on the left. Then the King will say to those on his right, Come, you who are blessed by my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed me, I was naked and you clothed me, I was sick and you visited me, I was in prison and you came to me. Then the righteous will answer him, saying, Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink? And when did we see you a stranger and welcome you, or naked and clothe you? And when did we see you sick or in prison and visit you? And the King will answer them, Truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brothers, you did it to me.

> Romans 16:19-20 - For your obedience is known to all, so that I rejoice over you, but I want you to be wise as to what is good and innocent as to what is evil. The God of peace will soon crush Satan under your feet. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. (ESV)
> Romans 12:19-21 - Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord. To the contrary, if your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him something to drink; for by so doing you will heap burning coals on his head. Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good. (ESV)
> II Peter 2:19-22 - They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved. For if, after they have escaped the defilements of the world through the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, they are again entangled in them and overcome, the last state has become worse for them than the first. For it would have been better for them never to have known the way of righteousness than after knowing it to turn back from the holy commandment delivered to them. What the true proverb says has happened to them: The dog returns to its own vomit, and the sow, after washing herself, returns to wallow in the mire. (ESV)

By faith, in obedience to Jesus Christ we are to overcome evil with good loving as Father God loves:

> Hebrews 12:4-8 - In your struggle against sin you have not yet resisted to the point of shedding your blood. And have you forgotten the exhortation that addresses you as sons? My son, do not regard lightly the discipline of the Lord, nor be weary when reproved by him. For the Lord disciplines the one he loves, and chastises every son whom he receives. It is for discipline that you have to endure. God is treating you as sons. For what son is there whom his father does not discipline? If you are left without discipline, in which all have participated, then you are illegitimate children and not sons. (ESV)
> Revelation of John 21:7 - The one who conquers will have this heritage, and I will be his God and he will be my son. (ESV)
> Matthew 5:43-48 - You have heard that it was said, You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy. But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You therefore must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect. (ESV)

All things being new from my perspective, I believe God's will for me is to go on bearing with my family in Christ in love and forgiveness (Colossians 3:12-13) towards them. As for my neighbour generally, I forgive any offences against me personally. I'll endeavour in the imitation of Jesus to preach the gospel of God, and not be quick to judge (Polycarp 6:1), perhaps quote John 12:44-50 to them and let them know that Jesus' word will judge on the last day but that Jesus has come to save and we should imitate His patience (II Peter 3:15) with others. Whoever is having faith in Jesus Christ is not judged, but whoever rejects Him and His words has a judge (John 12:47-48). Whoever is disbelieving in Jesus Christ (i.e. rejects the truth of, hates the truth of God revealed in Jesus Christ) is judged already (John 3:14-21). Even if I myself forgive others for any perceived wrong against me, if they remain against Jesus then that remains a problem for them. I can only bear fruit for God while done in Christ (John 15:4) abiding in His teachings. There's no other name under heaven among men by which we must be saved other than the name of Jesus Christ (Acts 4:8-12):

> Luke 13:3 - No, I tell you; but unless you repent (3340. metanoeó), you will all likewise perish. (ESV)

The person who hopes in Jesus Christ purifies themself (I John 3:3-11) as Jesus is pure:

> II Corinthians 7:1 - Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God. (ESV)

> I John 3:3-11 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)

Being born of God, by the will of God, could be in "doing good" because it may be God's will for a person to do good and a person is born of God by the will of God (I Peter 2:15) if it is God's will (I Peter 3:17).

A person who loves in the truth is born of God (I John 4:7).

Those who have faith in Jesus have faith in Jesus in their own heart thanks to God. All glory to God:

> I Peter 1:21 - who through him are believers in God, who raised him from the dead and gave him glory, so that your faith and hope are in God. (ESV)

I Peter 1:21 (Interlinear) who (G3588 tous) by (G1223 di') him (G846 autou) believe (G4103 pistous) in (G1519 eis) God (G2316 Theon) - (G3588 ton) having raised up (G1453 egeiranta) Him (G846 auton) out from (G1537 ek) [the] dead (G3498 nekrōn) and (G2532 kai) glory (G1391 doxan) Him (G846 autō) having given (G1325 donta) so as for (G5620 hōste) the (G3588 tēn) faith (G4102 pistin) of you (G4771 hymōn) and (G2532 kai) hope (G1680 elpida) to be (G1510 einai) in (G1519 eis) God (G2316 Theon)

If a person has faith in God then it's because of His grace. If a person has obedience in their heart to God then it's because of His grace. If a person has good works then it's because of God's grace.

Nevertheless, we are still instructed to repent and believe in the gospel, in Jesus Christ, in God to be saved. Just because the Bible instructs us to do something, does not mean that it is us apart from God's doing who does it.

Indeed, even after being born-again by God's grace, we are instructed to do God's will for us, to keep His commandments for us, and so we must not go back into committing sin (I Corinthians 5:1-5,5:11-13, I Corinthians 6:9-20, Hebrews 3:12-19):

Polycarp 1:3 though ye saw Him not, ye believe with joy unutterable and full of glory; unto which joy many desire to enter in; forasmuch as ye know that it is by grace ye are saved, not of works, but by the will of God through Jesus Christ.

2:1 Wherefore gird up your loins and serve God in fear and truth, forsaking the vain and empty talking and the error of the many, for that ye have believed on Him that raised our Lord Jesus Christ from the dead and gave unto him glory and a throne on His right hand; unto whom all things were made subject that are in heaven and that are on the earth; to whom every creature that hath breath doeth service; who cometh as judge of quick and dead; whose blood God will require of them that are disobedient unto Him.

2:2 Now He that raised Him from the dead will raise us also; if we do His will and walk in His commandments and love the things which He loved, abstaining from all unrighteousness, covetousness, love of money, evil speaking, false witness; not rendering evil for evil or railing for railing or blow for blow or cursing for cursing;

> John 12:46 - I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. (ESV)

> John 9:5 - As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

> Matthew 5:14 - You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hidden. (ESV)

The resurrection of the body is to be awaited i.e. (it hasn't happened yet). Sure, I have been spiritually resurrected (new spirit in old flesh), but there is a bodily resurrection also, which I take it happens typically after old flesh dies (I Corinthians 15:42-48). In the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage. Am I allowed to marry a believing (holding faith in Jesus Christ) wife? According to my present understanding, I think so (I Corinthians 9:5-9), but not whoever I want as a wife is a gift from God (I Corinthians 7:7) and they are given (Matthew 22:30). But even if I think that I am allowed to marry at all, that doesn't mean I would. I feel like my situation is very highly strung, so I wouldn't marry in my present state I think, and certainly not without reliable (I John 4:1-3) instruction (Matthew 1:20) from God. For it to be done in God's timing is important, I think, if it ever were to be. For something to be done in God's timing, I think it has to be done in faith and obedience:

> II Timothy 2:11-18 - The saying is trustworthy, for: If we have died with him, we will also live with him; if we endure, we will also reign with him; if we deny him, he also will deny us; if we are faithless, he remains faithful— for he cannot deny himself. Remind them of these things, and charge them before God not to quarrel about words, which does no good, but only ruins the hearers. Do your best to present yourself to God as one approved, a worker who has no need to be ashamed, rightly handling the word of truth. But avoid irreverent babble, for it will lead people into more and more ungodliness, and their talk will spread like gangrene. Among them are Hymenaeus and Philetus, who have swerved from the truth, saying that the resurrection has already happened. They are upsetting the faith of some. (ESV)
> Matthew 22:30 - For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven. (ESV)
> Philippians 3:20-21 - But our citizenship is in heaven, and from it we await a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ, who will transform our lowly body to be like his glorious body, by the power that enables him even to subject all things to himself. (ESV)
> II Corinthians 4:6-12 - For God, who said, Let light shine out of darkness, has shone in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. But we have this treasure in jars of clay, to show that the surpassing power belongs to God and not to us. We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not driven to despair; persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed; always carrying in the body the death of Jesus, so that the life of Jesus may also be manifested in our bodies. For we who live are always being given over to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus also may be manifested in our mortal flesh. So death is at work in us, but life in you. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 7:28-35 - But if you do marry, you have not sinned, and if a betrothed woman marries, she has not sinned. Yet those who marry will have worldly troubles, and I would spare you that. This is what I mean, brothers: the appointed time has grown very short. From now on, let those who have wives live as though they had none, and those who mourn as though they were not mourning, and those who rejoice as though they were not rejoicing, and those who buy as though they had no goods, and those who deal with the world as though they had no dealings with it. For the present form of this world is passing away. I want you to be free from anxieties. The unmarried man is anxious about the things of the Lord, how to please the Lord. But the married man is anxious about worldly things, how to please his wife, and his interests are divided. And the unmarried or betrothed woman is anxious about the things of the Lord, how to be holy in body and spirit. But the married woman is anxious about worldly things, how to please her husband. I say this for your own benefit, not to lay any restraint upon you, but to promote good order and to secure your undivided devotion to the Lord. (ESV)

A person gets born-again (made alive, made new) by the word of God (I Peter 1:23), but must go on as a believer with the circumcision of the heart to love God with their whole heart, practicing righteousness abiding in Jesus' commandments which involves having love for God and for God's children:

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)

> Romans 7:9-13 - I was once alive apart from the law, but when the commandment came, sin came alive and I died. The very commandment that promised life proved to be death to me. For sin, seizing an opportunity through the commandment, deceived me and through it killed me. So the law is holy, and the commandment is holy and righteous and good. Did that which is good, then, bring death to me? By no means! It was sin, producing death in me through what is good, in order that sin might be shown to be sin, and through the commandment might become sinful beyond measure. (ESV)

> I think it’s important to grasp the concepts of faith in and obedience to God, and of faithlessness and disobedience to God, and the consequences. Grasp the basics first, understand what we even mean by ”faith”, and then the object of our faith, which should be God the Father of Jesus Christ and Jesus Christ who He sent, and then start to reason about things like eschatology, and what happens ultimately. And I think that because whatever does not proceed from faith is sin and because biblical faith looks like Abraham’s faith. The faith we need to have when ”believing” in Jesus looks like Abraham’s faith. One characteristic of Abraham’s faith is, for example, the fear of God.
> It’s non-self-commending faith in Jesus Christ (i.e. lets God be the judge of the person’s faith, rather than patting oneself on the back) that we need to be saved. Faith is to do with the heart attitudes. Works/deeds are external actions which are done in either faith in God or without faith in God. Real faith in Jesus isn’t like the way demons believe. Real faith in Jesus loves the truth as opposed to hates the truth. That’s evident when Jesus says, ”If God were your father, you would love me.” Faith in Jesus isn’t self-righteous, and so faith in Jesus has the fear of God (i.e. seeking to please God, knowing God can point out fault in any of us etc., humility, etc.). Faith in Jesus receives correction from Jesus (i.e. teachable by God). Any deeds done without faith are evil deeds. Faith needs to continue in order to receive the promises. If a person has this genuine faith in Jesus then God justifies that person, and as they hold this faith and go through suffering, they are being sanctified to love in the way God wants us to love. The love of God in a person is only partial if they only love the truth that they have been loved by God in God having sent Jesus to die for them yet do not love their brother. The love of God is made complete in a person when they love others too the way God wants us to love others. That doesn’t mean love everyone the same way, but it does mean loving people in the way God instructs without partiality. Getting cleaned up to love in a complete way is the process of sanctification, and of course that does involve abstaining from committing sin (Romans 13:8-10). God gives us a new heart, a heart of flesh and then circumcises it to love Him with our whole heart, writing His laws on our hearts, so that we have good desires in our heart, love God with all our heart and live. God’s work of sanctification in us happens as we have faith in Jesus and take every thought captive for obedience to Him. If a person has obedience in their heart then they willingly obey. So I make a distinction between obedience and works. The two are not the same. Desires for other things compete with a person’s faith. So we are instructed very sound advice to persevere, to not agape love money, the world’s possessions, etc. etc. etc. If a person [presently] rejects Jesus then they are presently condemned [and they need to repent]. Faith and obedience to Jesus are sanctifying (salvific) and both depend on having a love for the truth. Obeying sin and distrust for Jesus, etc. is destructive.

> II Timothy 2:5 - An athlete is not crowned unless he competes according to the rules. (ESV)

Now, if a person has faith in the word of God when reading from Hebrews 5:9 then they will believe that a person is saved by obeying Jesus Christ:

> Hebrews 5:9 - And being made perfect, he became the source of eternal salvation to all who obey him, (ESV)

And if a person has faith in the word of God when reading from Acts 16:31 then they will believe that a person is saved by faith in Jesus Christ:

> Acts 16:31 - And they said, Believe in the Lord Jesus, and you will be saved, you and your household. (ESV)

Both are true, that faith in Jesus Christ saves, and so does obedience to Jesus Christ.

But faith must continue (Hebrews 10:37-39), hence why those who with faith and patience inherit the promises (Hebrews 6:11-18).

As while this faith is being held, one must be doing the will of God (Mark 3:35) which is to abstain from worldly desires (I John 2:17), to do good (I Peter 2:15), to abstain from the passions of the flesh (I Peter 4:2), to give thanks in all circumstancs (I Thessalonians 5:18), to abstain from evil (I Thessalonians 4:3), to serve Christ (Ephesians 6:6):

> Hebrews 10:36 - For you have need of endurance, so that when you have done the will of God you may receive what is promised. (ESV)

The obedience by which a Christian is saved is obedience to God (Acts 5:32) including to Jesus Christ (Hebrews 5:8-9).

And Christian obedience must be ”desiring to do”, ”willing to do” the will of God, from love for God, and must continue on, and in faith and not rebel Hebrews 3:12-19:

blueletterbible.org: G2309 - thelo - Strong's Greek Lexicon {KJV} To will, have in mind, intend: 1. to be resolved or determined, to purpose, 2. to desire, to wish, 3. to love, to like to do a thing, be fond of doing, 4. to take delight in, have pleasure

1. to be persuaded by a ruler;
2. {genitive case} to submit to authority;
3. {by analogy} to conform to advice)

Christian obedience is to be ”pursuaded by authority to follow given commands so that they would do as commanded”, and is ”heeding God's instruction”, and necessitates having ”love for God” (Psalms 81:15) in the heart (I Corinthians 13:2-3) and faith (Hebrews 11:8, Romans 14:23) in the heart (Romans 10:8-10):

> Acts 5:32 - And we are witnesses to these things, and so is the Holy Spirit, whom God has given to those who obey (G3980 peitharchousin; from peitharcheó: Obedient to, to obey, to be persuaded by authority, to follow commands) him. (ESV)

> Acts 5:29 - But Peter and the apostles answered, We must obey (G3980 Peitharchein; from peitharcheó: Obedient to, to obey, to be persuaded by authority, to follow commands) God rather than men. (ESV)

Acts 5:29 (Interlinear) answering moreover Peter and the apostles said To obey (G3980 Peitharchein; from peitharcheó: Obedient to, to obey, to be persuaded by authority, to follow commands) it is necessary God rather than men

And obedience must continue too (Romans 6:16-18, Romans 2:8) to God's commandments for us being unburdensome (I John 5:3-5, II Corinthians 10:5-6).

The person who loves Jesus is the person who loves His word (from the treasuring love of God's word) and keeps (is 'abiding in') His commandments (so have faith in Jesus Christ and love one another the way they have been commanded to). The person who has faith in Jesus is abiding in Him (John 5:21-24) and does love their family in Christ (I John 3:13-16, I John 3:13-16), and this is to be law-abiding (Matthew 7:23, I Corinthians 8:3) to the law of faith (John 14:15) by faith in Christ Jesus:

> John 14:21-24 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. Judas (not Iscariot) said to him, Lord, how is it that you will manifest yourself to us, and not to the world? Jesus answered him, If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me. (ESV)

> I John 3:23 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. (ESV)

G25 agapáō [Agapé love] focuses on value-driven (a decision-based) love – which of course does not exclude affection! (quote)

> I Corinthians 16:14 - Let all that you do be done in love. (ESV)

> Isaiah 43:4 - Since thou wast precious in my sight, thou hast been honourable, and I have loved thee: therefore will I give men for thee, and people for thy life. (KJV)

Obedience leads to righteousness (Romans 6:16-18) because obedience to Father God's commandment to have faith in Jesus (I John 3:23-24) is possible by God's grace (Mark 10:23-27) and leads to the righteousness of faith (Romans 4:13-17). But part of what makes justification by faith distinct from justification by law is that it is not self-commending, but commendation is dispensed by God as a Sovereign Person who commends faith.

> Romans 9:15-16 - For he says to Moses, I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion. So then it depends not on human will or exertion, but on God, who has mercy. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 10:18 - For it is not the one who commends himself who is approved, but the one whom the Lord commends. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 4:3-4 - But to me it is a very small thing that I may be examined by you, or by any human court; in fact, I do not even examine myself. For I am conscious of nothing against myself, yet I am not by this acquitted; but the one who examines me is the Lord. (NASB)

If it were not so, then one might go to the book of the law as some kind of checklist for commending oneself. There's nothing wrong with having confidence after having self-examined to see if one is sound in the faith, based on what the Bible says about having faith in Jesus. And there is nothing wrong with sharing with others the way that God justifies. But there is a problem with self-commendation (self-justification).

> I John 4:16-17 - So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. (ESV)
> II Corinthians 13:5 - Examine yourselves, to see whether you are in the faith. Test yourselves. Or do you not realize this about yourselves, that Jesus Christ is in you?—unless indeed you fail to meet the test! (ESV) youtube.com: Not Luther or Calvin, but Jesus {@ligonier} The thing I want to get across to you is this, that unless a man is born again, he cannot see the Kingdom of God. Now, let me just stop for a minute. That's not Billy Graham and it's not RC Sproul and it's not some television evangelist making that declaration. It is not Augustine. It's not Aquinus. It's not Athanasius. It's not Luther. It's not Calvin. It's not Edwards. It is Jesus, the founder of the Christian faith, who is now making a statement that calls attention to something that is necessary for every human being.

Faith in Jesus Christ is what justifies us (Galatians 3:22-27), while we may and should (Matthew 10:32-38) confess our faith (Romans 10:4-11, Revelation of John 12:11) in Jesus unto salvation, we don't commend ourselves for having the faith (II Corinthians 10:5,7,11-12,18), but know that God sees our hearts (Jeremiah 17:10) and we simply exercise that faith in reality for God to see (Isaiah 29:13-14, James 1:21-25, I Thessalonians 2:2-4), so we don't seek glory from one-another (John 5:28-29,37-47), but rather seek the glory from God through Jesus that glorifies Father God (John 15:8).

> James 1:21-25 - Therefore put away all filthiness and rampant wickedness and receive with meekness the implanted word, which is able to save your souls. But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves. For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks intently at his natural face in a mirror. For he looks at himself and goes away and at once forgets what he was like. But the one who looks into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and perseveres, being no hearer who forgets but a doer who acts, he will be blessed in his doing. (ESV)
> John 15:8 - By this my Father is glorified, that you bear much fruit and so prove to be my disciples. (ESV)

Be a doer of the word even when people around you (including those who profess to have faith in Jesus) do not appear to be doing the word:

> Matthew 23:2-4 - The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses' seat, so practice and observe whatever they tell you—but not what they do. For they preach, but do not practice. They tie up heavy burdens, hard to bear, and lay them on people's shoulders, but they themselves are not willing to move them with their finger. (ESV)

> James 1:21-25 - Therefore put away all filthiness and rampant wickedness and receive with meekness the implanted word, which is able to save your souls. But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves. For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks intently at his natural face in a mirror. For he looks at himself and goes away and at once forgets what he was like. But the one who looks into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and perseveres, being no hearer who forgets but a doer who acts, he will be blessed in his doing. (ESV)

> James 4:11 - Do not speak evil against one another, brothers. The one who speaks against a brother or judges his brother, speaks evil against the law and judges the law. But if you judge the law, you are not a doer of the law but a judge. (ESV)

> John 12:44-50 - And Jesus cried out and said, Whoever believes in me, believes not in me but in him who sent me. And whoever sees me sees him who sent me. I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world. The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. For I have not spoken on my own authority, but the Father who sent me has himself given me a commandment—what to say and what to speak. And I know that his commandment is eternal life. What I say, therefore, I say as the Father has told me. (ESV)

It is important to be a doer of the word in reality from the heart (1 Samuel 16:7, Psalms 81:12-15). But we should be doers ourselves while in the imitation of Jesus not being quick to judge. Certainly we should endeavour to not be hypcrites as we share the words, the teachings, the instructions and commands from and relating to Jesus Christ, seeking to please Father God who sees everything:

> Jeremiah 23:24 - Can a man hide himself in secret places so that I cannot see him? declares the LORD. Do I not fill heaven and earth? declares the LORD. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 4:3-4 - But to me it is a very small thing that I may be examined by you, or by any human court; in fact, I do not even examine myself. For I am conscious of nothing against myself, yet I am not by this acquitted; but the one who examines me is the Lord. (NASB)

> Luke 6:46-49 - Why do you call me Lord, Lord, and not do what I tell you? Everyone who comes to me and hears my words and does them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. And when a flood arose, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it, because it had been well built. But the one who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. When the stream broke against it, immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great. (ESV)

> II Timothy 2:19 - But God's firm foundation stands, bearing this seal: The Lord knows those who are his, and, Let everyone who names the name of the Lord depart from iniquity. (ESV)

> John 12:44-50 - And Jesus cried out and said, Whoever believes in me, believes not in me but in him who sent me. And whoever sees me sees him who sent me. I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge (G2919 krinō: do judge) him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world. The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. For I have not spoken on my own authority, but the Father who sent me has himself given me a commandment—what to say and what to speak. And I know that his commandment is eternal life. What I say, therefore, I say as the Father has told me. (ESV)

Polycarp 6:1 And the presbyters also must be compassionate, merciful towards all men, turning back the sheep that are gone astray, visiting all the infirm, not neglecting a widow or an orphan or a poor man: but providing > always for that which is honorable in the sight of God and of men, abstaining from all anger, respect of persons, unrighteous judgment, being far from all love of money, not quick to believe anything against any man, not hasty in judgment, knowing that we all are debtors of sin.

> II Corinthians 10:11-12 - Let such a person understand that what we say by letter when absent, we do when present. Not that we dare to classify or compare ourselves with some of those who are commending themselves. But when they measure themselves by one another and compare themselves with one another, they are without understanding. (ESV)

When Jesus says that He has made ”known”, it’s implied that the people that Jesus has made known what He heard from His Father ”do” what He commands. So there is a knowing that comes not just from hearing but from doing:

> John 15:14-15 - You are my friends if you do what I command you. No longer do I call you servants, for the servant does not know what his master is doing; but I have called you friends, for all that I have heard from my Father I have made known to you. (ESV)

> I John 2:3-6 - And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

> John 17:3 - And this is eternal life, that they know you the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom you have sent. (ESV)

> John 8:31-32 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed (G4100 pepisteukotas; having believed) in him, If you abide (G3306 meinēte; remain, abide, stay, continue, dwell, endure) in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth (G225 alētheia; truth, reality; i.e. walking in reality), and the truth will set you free. (ESV)

> John 17:8 - For I have given them the words that you gave me, and they have received them and have come to know in truth that I came from you; and they have believed that you sent me. (ESV)

> John 14:23-24 - Jesus answered him, If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not mine but the Father’s who sent me. (ESV)

> John 14:12 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)

> I John 2:3-4 - And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, (ESV)

A person who has been forgiven much, loves much. So somebody who is forgiven by Jesus will love Jesus, and a person who loves Jesus will be ”law of faith”-abiding (John 14:15, Romans 3:27, I Corinthians 9:21, Matthew 13:41):

> Luke 7:40-50 - And Jesus answering said to him, Simon, I have something to say to you. And he answered, Say it, Teacher. A certain moneylender had two debtors. One owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty. When they could not pay, he cancelled the debt of both. Now which of them will love him more? Simon answered, The one, I suppose, for whom he cancelled the larger debt. And he said to him, You have judged rightly. Then turning toward the woman he said to Simon, Do you see this woman? I entered your house; you gave me no water for my feet, but she has wet my feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. You gave me no kiss, but from the time I came in she has > not ceased to kiss my feet. You did not anoint my head with oil, but she has anointed my feet with ointment. Therefore I tell you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven—for she loved much. But he who is forgiven little, loves little. And he said to her, Your sins are forgiven. Then those who were at table with him began to say among themselves, Who is this, who even forgives sins? And he said to the woman, Your faith has saved you; go in peace. (ESV)

> John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)
> John 14:23-24 - Jesus answered him, If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me. (ESV)
> I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)
> I John 4:8 - Anyone who does not love does not know God, because God is love. (ESV)
> I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

When a person is forgiven, they are now someone who loves the truth, even the truth that we have first been loved by God:

> Luke 7:40-50 - And Jesus answering said to him, Simon, I have something to say to you. And he answered, Say it, Teacher. A certain moneylender had two debtors. One owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty. When they could not pay, he cancelled the debt of both. Now which of them will love him more? Simon answered, The one, I suppose, for whom he cancelled the larger debt. And he said to him, You have judged rightly. Then turning toward the woman he said to Simon, Do you see this woman? I entered your house; you gave me no water for my feet, but she has wet my feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. You gave me no kiss, but from the time I came in she has not ceased to kiss my feet. You did not anoint my head with oil, but she has anointed my feet with ointment. Therefore I tell you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven—for she loved much. But he who is forgiven little, loves little. And he said to her, Your sins are forgiven. Then those who were at table with him began to say among themselves, Who is this, who even forgives sins? And he said to the woman, Your faith has saved you; go in peace. (ESV)

The Law points out sin, and for those who by walking by the flesh are "under the law" (Galatians 5:18), the law should convict them of sin:

> Romans 7:7 - What then shall we say? That the law is sin? By no means! Yet if it had not been for the law, I would not have known sin. I would not have known what it is to covet if the law had not said, You shall not covet. (ESV)
> James 2:9 - But if you show partiality, you are committing sin and are convicted by the law as transgressors. (ESV)

Those who are "under the law" will be judged by the law, but there is no law against the fruit of the Spirit (Galatians 5:18-25):

> Romans 3:19 - Now we know that whatever the law says it speaks to those who are under the law, so that every mouth may be stopped, and the whole world may be held accountable to God. (ESV)

To be not ”under the law” we need to be led by the Spirit. As we are having faith in Jesus, we should be producing the fruit of the Spirit (Romans 15:13), and since there is no law against the fruit of the Spirit (Galatians 5:22-23), that should protect us from from condemnation by the law:

> I John 3:3-11 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God’s seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)

youtube.com: Walking in The Spirit {@ BrotherMikeMcGary } @time: 4 min 39 sec The kingdom of God is me putting myself under his rule doing what he tells us to do. If he says do not steal and I steal, I’m taking myself out from under the rule of God and I’m doing what I want to do in my mind, will and emotions or whatever. So being in obedience, Paul called it ”walking in the spirit”. Walking in the spirit, doing the things of the spirit, being led by the spirit.

And we’re going to read that here in chapter 8. But here’s the thing about it, right? So this first verse in particular, (and I’m trying not to get hung up on this), but how many times have we heard it preached, ”there’s now no therefore no condemnation of those who are in Christ Jesus.” Yeah, 100%. That’s correct. But yet you’re living over here in disobedience and saying, ”Oh, there’s no condemnation.” And then, well, yeah, there’s condemnation because you’re not where you’re supposed to be.

You’re supposed to be walking in the spirit of God. You’re supposed to be doing what God has us to do. So, it is true, but you have to make it true. Again, just like he told Solomon, ”If you do what I tell you to do, my presence and my blessing will be on you.”

God makes a believer born-again at some point as they are believing, and this is so that we can put to death the deeds of the flesh:

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)

> Ephesians 2:1-3 - And you were dead in the trespasses and sins in which you once walked, following the course of this world, following the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that is now at work in the sons of disobedience— among whom we all once lived in the passions of our flesh, carrying out the desires of the body and the mind, and were by nature children of wrath, like the rest of mankind. (ESV)

> Colossians 3:1-10 - If then you have been raised with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated at the right hand of God. Set your minds on things that are above, not on things that are on earth. For you have died, and your life is hidden with Christ in God. When Christ who is your life appears, then you also will appear with him in glory. Put to death therefore what is earthly in you: sexual immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry. On account of these the wrath of God is coming. In these you too once walked, when you were living in them. But now you must put them all away: anger, wrath, malice, slander, and obscene talk from your mouth. Do not lie to one another, seeing that you have put off the old self with its practices and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator. (ESV)

> Romans 8:5-13 - For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. To set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God's law; indeed, it cannot. Those who are in the flesh cannot please God. You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. But if Christ is in you, although the body is dead because of sin, the Spirit is life because of righteousness. If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you. So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh. For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. (ESV)

God disciplines every son He receives:

> Hebrews 12:3-11 - Consider him who endured from sinners such hostility against himself, so that you may not grow weary or fainthearted. In your struggle against sin you have not yet resisted to the point of shedding your blood. And have you forgotten the exhortation that addresses you as sons? My son, do not regard lightly the discipline of the Lord, nor be weary when reproved by him. For the Lord disciplines the one he loves, and chastises every son whom he receives. It is for discipline that you have to endure. God is treating you as sons. For what son is there whom his father does not discipline? If you are left without discipline, in which all have participated, then you are illegitimate children and not sons. Besides this, we have had earthly fathers who disciplined us and we respected them. Shall we not much more be subject to the Father of spirits and live? For they disciplined us for a short time as it seemed best to them, but he disciplines us for our good, that we may share his holiness. For the moment all discipline seems painful rather than pleasant, but later it yields the peaceful fruit of righteousness to those who have been trained by it. (ESV)

God disciplines us in advance so that we will not be condemned along with the world:

I Corinthians 11:32 (Interlinear) Being judged (G2919 krinomenoi) however by the Lord we are disciplined (G3811 paideuometha) that not with the world we should be condemned (G2632 katakrithōmen)

So it's faith in Jesus that produces the fruit of the Spirit which there is no law against. This faith frees us from committing sin and thus also from condemnation by the law:

> Galatians 3:24 - So then, the law was our guardian until Christ came, in order that we might be justified by faith. (ESV)

> John 8:34-35,36,42,51 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death. (ESV)

> Galatians 5:16-17 - But I say, walk by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the flesh. For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to keep you from doing the things you want to do. (ESV)

> Galatians 5:5-6 - For through the Spirit, by faith, we ourselves eagerly wait for the hope of righteousness. For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision counts for anything, but only faith working through love. (ESV)

Even after we are born-again we must also walk by the spirit if we want to inherit the Kingdom of God:

> Galatians 5:18-25 - But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. Now the works of the flesh are evident: sexual immorality, impurity, sensuality, idolatry, sorcery, enmity, strife, jealousy, fits of anger, rivalries, dissensions, divisions, envy, drunkenness, orgies, and things like these. I warn you, as I warned you before, that those who do such things will not inherit the kingdom of God. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control; against such things there is no law. And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. If we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit. (ESV)

To have the love of God completed in us we need to be those who love others as we have been loved by God, and God sends rain on both the just and the unjust. God is kind and merciful to the evil (Luke 6:32-36), so to have the love of God completed in us, also should we be kind and merciful to the evil. And we must love our family in Christ. To love God in a complete way involves not simply loving His word but loving His children. We should just do good to all as instructed:

> I John 4:12 - No one has ever seen God; if we love one another, God abides in us and his love is perfected in us. (ESV)

> I John 4:16-17 - So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. (ESV)

> I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

> I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

> Mark 9:35 - And he sat down and called the twelve. And he said to them, If anyone would be first, he must be last of all and servant of all. (ESV)

> Galatians 6:10 - So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to those who are of the household of faith. (ESV)

Loving our neighbour involves also loving those who hate us:

> Matthew 5:43-48 - You have heard that it was said, You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy. But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You therefore must be perfect (G5046 teleioi; complete, mature), as your heavenly Father is perfect. (ESV)

> Luke 6:32-36 - If you love those who love you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them. And if you do good to those who do good to you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners do the same. And if you lend to those from whom you expect to receive, what credit is that to you? Even sinners lend to sinners, to get back the same amount. But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing in return, and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, for he is kind to the ungrateful and the evil. Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful. (ESV)

Loving our neighbour involves also loving those who are our fellow countryman also (loving in the way we are commanded to):

> Leviticus 19:17-18 - 'You shall not hate your fellow countryman in your heart; you may surely reprove your neighbor, but shall not incur sin because of him. You shall not take vengeance, nor bear any grudge against the sons of your people, but you shall love your neighbor as yourself; I am the LORD. (NASB)

The fruit of the Spirit is the fruit of believing:

> Romans 15:13 - May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, so that by the power of the Holy Spirit you may abound in hope. (ESV)

If we are occupied with love towards God and our neighbour as commanded, by faith walking by the spirit, then we have fulfilled the commandment of righteousness and are not "under the law":

> Galatians 5:16-18 - But I say, walk by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the flesh. For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to keep you from doing the things you want to do. But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. (ESV)

- Polycarp 3:3 [3:2 the faith given to you] which is the mother of us all, while hope followeth after and love goeth before – love toward God and Christ and toward our neighbor. For if any man be occupied with these, he hath fulfilled the commandment of righteousness; for he that hath love is far from all sin.

> II Thessalonians 1:3 - We ought always to give thanks to God for you, brothers, as is right, because your faith is growing abundantly, and the love of every one of you for one another is increasing. (ESV)

With a genuine faith in Jesus Christ a person will love their family in Christ:

> John 5:21-24 - For as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, so also the Son gives life to whom he will. The Father judges no one, but has given all judgment to the Son, that all may honor the Son, just as they honor the Father. Whoever does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent him. Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears my word and believes (G4100 pisteuo) him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come (2064. erchomai) into judgment, but has passed from death to life.

> I John 3:14 - We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. (ESV)

Going forward walking by faith, hoping in Jesus Christ rather than sin, we should be purifying ourself, and we should be producers of good deeds:

> Colossians 1:21-23,1:28,2:1-3 - And you, who once were alienated and hostile in mind, doing evil deeds, he has now reconciled in his body of flesh by his death, in order to present you holy and blameless and above reproach before him, if indeed you continue in the faith, stable and steadfast, not shifting from the hope of the gospel that you heard, which has been proclaimed in all creation under heaven, and of which I, Paul, became a minister. Him we proclaim, warning everyone and teaching everyone with all wisdom, that we may present everyone mature in Christ. For I want you to know how great a struggle I have for you and for those at Laodicea and for all who have not seen me face to face, that their hearts may be encouraged, being knit together in love, to reach all the riches of full assurance of understanding and the knowledge of God's mystery, which is Christ, in whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge. (ESV)

I John 3:2-4 - Beloved, we are God's children now, and what we will be has not yet appeared; but we know that when he appears we shall be like him, because we shall see him as he is. And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. (ESV)

Psalms 18:26 - with the purified you show yourself pure; and with the crooked you make yourself seem tortuous. (ESV)

Following Jesus Christ, a person walks in the light and loves their family in Christ:

John 8:12 - Again Jesus spoke to them, saying, I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will not walk in darkness, but will have the light of life. (ESV)

II Corinthians 6:14 - Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what partnership has righteousness with lawlessness? Or what fellowship has light with darkness? (ESV)

I John 2:9 - Whoever says he is in the light and hates his brother is still in darkness. (ESV)

Some people take that word in Matt 5:48 which is translated into English as "perfect" to mean "sinless perfection", but that's not what it means here. It's instructing to love not "only in part" but in a "complete" way. God sends the rain on the just and the unjust. We should love others the way God has loved us.

I John 4:8 - Anyone who does not love does not know God, because God is love. (ESV)

I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

Jesus doesn't condemn a person while they are learning from Father God, receiving, believing, loving the truth of the teachings of Jesus Christ (i.e. His words) and the teachings about Jesus Christ too:

John 6:45 - It is written in the Prophets, And they will all be taught by God. Everyone who has heard and learned from the Father comes to me— (ESV)

John 6:37 - All that the Father gives me will come to me, and whoever comes to me I will never cast out. (ESV)

Proverbs 10:17 - Whoever heeds instruction is on the path to life, but he who rejects reproof leads others astray. (ESV)

Learning from Father God, coming to Jesus, is receiving the pure spiritual milk:

I Peter 2:2-4 - Like newborn infants, long for the pure spiritual milk, that by it you may grow up to salvation— if indeed you have tasted that the Lord is good. As you come to him, a living stone rejected by men but in the sight of God chosen and precious, (ESV)

Hebrews 5:12-14 - For though by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to teach you again the basic principles of the oracles of God. You need milk, not solid food, for everyone who lives on milk is unskilled in the word of righteousness, since he is a child. But solid food is for the mature, for those who have their powers of discernment trained by constant practice to distinguish good from evil. (ESV)

Whatever my thoughts on how salvation works, I believe that if a person has come around to having a genuine faith in Jesus Christ then they are not presently judged (John 3:16-21, Romans 14:18, II Timothy 3:7-8). But they must continue holding that faith, actively "faithing" in Jesus even to the point of having the love of God made complete in them (I John 2:3-6) and all of that is the salvation of our souls (I Peter 1:6-9, Colossians 3:12-14, I John 4:19-21), the salvation that we need in order to be spared the wrath of God (Romans 5:9-10, II Peter 3:7, I John 3:4,8,9, Colossians 3:1-10).

A person who is sinful who has turned to have faith in Jesus can appeal to God for mercy, and if God grants justification then they have access to sanctification. This may be a turning point for someone:

> Romans 4:4-6 - Now to the one who works (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment), his wages are not counted as a gift but as his due. And to the one who does not work (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment) but trusts him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is counted as righteousness, just as David also speaks of the blessing of the one to whom God counts righteousness apart from (G5565 chōris) works (G2041 ergōn): (ESV)

> Psalms 51:1-2 - Have mercy on me, O God, according to your steadfast love; according to your abundant mercy blot out my transgressions. To the choirmaster. A Psalm of David, when Nathan the prophet went to him, after he had gone in to Bathsheba. Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin! (ESV)

So while God justifies the ungodly who have faith (Romans 4:4-6), there is a day of judgement coming for the ungodly and it's coming for all the ungodly (Romans 1:18-25):

> II Peter 3:7 - But by the same word the heavens and earth that now exist are stored up for fire, being kept until the day of judgment and destruction of the ungodly. (ESV)

Like a person who goes bankrupt would be forced to stop trading (think Spirit Airlines forced to stop flying their planes), receiving the free gift (Mark 8:37) of righteousness, does necessitate a cessation of work at some point and thus a cessation of bad works (Ephesians 2:1-3):

> Romans 4:5 - And to the one who does not work but trusts (G4100 pisteuo) him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is counted as righteousness, (ESV)

> Mark 8:37 - For what can a man give in return for his life? (ESV)

It's imperative, no matter how much we've been attempting to work for God, that we accept the free gift from God, and that does require at least some point at which we have rested/abstained from working while holding faith in Jesus Christ while ceasing from working altogether. In holding faith in Jesus while abstaining from working in a legitimate way (i.e. in a way that is obedient to God as opposed to abstaining from working in a way that is committing sin as a "sin of omission" - see James 4:17), while acknowledging their ungodliness (their sin) one receives the gift of righteousness:

Good	Evil
Faith working righteousness (John 3:21, John 4:34, Galatians 6:7-10, John 6:27) Faith without working (G2038 ergazomenō; working) (Romans 4:5, Romans 6:22-23; i.e. the free gift). We all must receive this (Romans 11:29-33, Proverbs 12:3), even the one who works has to have received this (i.e. have ceased trusting in themselves that they are in themselves righteous apart from (G5565 chōris) Jesus Christ and to have refrained from working in order to received the gift), because we must not be establishing a righteousness of our own which is apart from (G5565 chōris) Christ (Romans 10:3-11, John 15:1-6). So there must be a point at which God affirms that we have recognised our own deeds have been evil, and we need His mercy, and we need forgiveness and atonement for the sin incurred due to our history of evil deeds, and had faith in Jesus Christ while resting/abstaining from working so as to not commit sin.	Love for evil working lawlessness (John 3:20, Romans 6:22-23; i.e. the wages of sin)

The cessation of working/deeding (G2038 ergazomenō; working) in Romans 4:5 is a differnet type of working to the work (G2038 ergazesthai) in II Thessalonians 3:10 because in Romans 4:5 it is a cessation of working to stop doing bad works, and into a state of rest that is recognising one's ungodliness, and history of ungodly deeds, but having faith in Jesus, and that is relying on the righteousness of God in Christ Jesus alone. But having received this forgiveness does not mean at all mean a permanent cessation of working or doing deeds for wages (John 4:32-34). Ongoing deeds, even in obedience are both guaranteed (John 14:12), even though it is God working in us, and sowing to the Spirit rather than to the flesh ongoingly, continuing on abstaining from sin, is absolutely necessary for eternal life (Galatians 6:7-10, John 8:34-35,36,42,51, Mark 10:17-21):

> Proverbs 12:3 - No one is established by wickedness, but the root of the righteous will never be moved. (ESV)

> John 14:12 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)

Notice how these commandments (Mark 10:17-21) when kept involve abstaining from doing works of lawlessness (Matthew 7:23) and involve "doing no wrong" (i.e. having stopped committing sin) (Romans 13:8-10):

> Mark 10:17-21 - And as he was setting out on his journey, a man ran up and knelt before him and asked him, Good Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life? And Jesus said to him, Why do you call me good? No one is good except God alone. You know the commandments: Do not murder, Do not commit adultery, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honor your father and mother. And he said to him, Teacher, all these I have kept from my youth. And Jesus, looking at him, loved him, and said to him, You lack one thing: go, sell all that you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me.

> Matthew 19:17-19 - And he said to him, Why do you ask me about what is good? There is only one who is good. If you would enter life, keep the commandments. He said to him, Which ones? And Jesus said, You shall not murder, You shall not commit adultery, You shall not steal, You shall not bear false witness, Honor your father and mother, and, You shall love your neighbor as yourself. (ESV)

> Romans 13:8-10 - Owe no one anything, except to love each other, for the one who loves another has fulfilled the law. The commandments, You shall not commit adultery, You shall not murder, You > shall not steal, You shall not covet, and any other commandment, are summed up in this word: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. (ESV)

> Matthew 7:23 - And then will I declare to them, I never knew you; depart from me, you workers of lawlessness. (ESV)

I think of the Terminator stopping his works and just freezing because it knows its works are not serving the mission objectives, and it decides that it's for the best to cease working:

youtube.com: Terminator 3 : T - 850 Corrupted {@ CherryPopper784 } @time: 1 min 42 sec What is your mission? To ensure the survival of John Connor and Katherine Brewster. You are about to fail that mission. I... I cannot.

> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)
> Romans 4:4-6 - Now to the one who works (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment), his wages are not counted as a gift but as his due. And to the one who does not work (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment) but trusts him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is counted as righteousness, just as David also speaks of the blessing of the one to whom God counts righteousness apart from (G5565 chōris) works (G2041 ergōn): (ESV)
> John 9:4 - We must work the works of him who sent me while it is day; night is coming, when no one can work. (ESV)
> John 11:9-10 - Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If anyone walks in the day, he does not stumble, because he sees the light of this world. But if anyone walks in the night, he stumbles, because the light is not in him. (ESV)

Yet why would a person stop deeding if they had the faith to proceed?

> Jeremiah 20:9 - If I say, I will not mention him, or speak any more in his name, there is in my heart as it were a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I am weary with holding it in, and I cannot. (ESV)
> Luke 6:9-10 - And Jesus said to them, I ask you, is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good or to do harm, to save life or to destroy it? And after looking around at them all he said to him, Stretch out your hand. And he did so, and his hand was restored. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 4:3-4 - But to me it is a very small thing that I may be examined by you, or by any human court; in fact, I do not even examine myself. For I am conscious of nothing against myself, yet I am not by this acquitted; but the one who examines me is the Lord. (NASB)
> Galatians 6:7-10 - Do not be deceived: God is not mocked, for whatever one sows, that will he also reap. For the one who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption, but the one who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life. And let us not grow weary of doing good, for in due season we will reap, if we do not give up. So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to those who are of the household of faith. (ESV)

So I believe that while everyone "'has' deeds" (as in a history of deeds), it's still possible to have "stopped making deeds" while also still having faith, yet will go on to produce deeds (John 14:12).

Yet even resting in faith, God is working through them, because the person still has faith:

> John 6:28-29 - Then they said to him, What must we do, to be doing the works of God? Jesus answered them, This is the work of God, that you believe (G4100 pisteuo) in him whom he has sent. (ESV)

Being cleansed from sin involves a cessation of committing sin (I Peter 4:1-3, Ephesians 5:1-21, I John 1:7). To decide, ”I will not steal” is to decide to ”not work lawlessness”.

And a cessation from working alongside the faith described in Romans 4:5 is necessary to receive the blessing of forgiveness for past sins (Romans 4:6-8).

For a person to be justified by ’faith alone’ as some people affirm (not of our own works) person needs to have actually stopped working (i.e. resting, abstaining from working evil) at some point that God alone works (John 6:28-29) in them, while they are acknowledging that they have been ungodly, yet still have faith in Jesus Christ. In other words, if somebody is saying to others ”I’m justified by faith alone, not my own work, but Jesus’ works only” while they are themselves actually ”deeding” (rather than resting), or if they are still doing evil deeds (lying, stealing, lusting, etc.) , then that goes against Romans 4:5. A person has to have stopped working in actuality, while still holding faith, so doing so obediently, not resting, say, with a sin of omission:

> I Peter 4:1-3 - Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh, arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. The time that is past suffices for doing what the Gentiles want to do, living in sensuality, passions, drunkenness, orgies, drinking parties, and lawless idolatry. (ESV)
> Ephesians 5:1-21 - Therefore be imitators of God, as beloved children. And walk in love, as Christ loved us and gave himself up for us, a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God. But sexual immorality and all impurity or covetousness must not even be named among you, as is proper among saints. Let there be no filthiness nor foolish talk nor crude joking, which are out of place, but instead let there be thanksgiving. For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. Therefore do not associate (G1096 ginesthe; be) (G4830 symmetochoi; partakers) with them; for at one time you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light (for the fruit of light is found in all that is good and right and true), and try to discern what is pleasing to the Lord. Take no part in the unfruitful works of darkness, but instead expose them. For it is shameful even to speak of the things that they do in secret. But when anything is exposed by the light, it becomes visible, for anything that becomes visible is light. Therefore it says, Awake, O sleeper, and arise from the dead, and Christ will shine on you. Look carefully then how you walk, not as unwise but as wise, making the best use of the time, because the days are evil. Therefore do not be foolish, but understand what the will of the Lord is. And do not get drunk with wine, for that is debauchery, but be filled with the Spirit, addressing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody to the Lord with all your heart, giving thanks always and for everything to God the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, submitting to one another out of reverence for Christ. (ESV)
> I John 1:7 - But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)
> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)
> Romans 13:8-10 - Owe no one anything, except to love each other, for the one who loves another has fulfilled the law. The commandments, You shall not commit adultery, You shall not murder, You shall not steal, You shall not covet, and any other commandment, are summed up in this word: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. (ESV)

So we need to be saved through sanctification and faith in Jesus Christ:

> Acts 26:16-18 - But rise and stand upon your feet, for I have appeared to you for this purpose, to appoint you as a servant and witness to the things in which you have seen me and to those in which I will appear to you, delivering you from your people and from the Gentiles—to whom I am sending you to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me. (ESV)

> II Thessalonians 2:13 - But we ought always to give thanks to God for you, brothers beloved by the Lord, because God chose you as the firstfruits to be saved, through sanctification by the Spirit and belief in the truth. (ESV)

But sanctification is through faith (Acts 26:18) and obedience (Hebrews 5:8-9) to Jesus.
Whatever does not proceed from faith is sin which is lawlessness:

> Isaiah 55:6-7 - Seek the LORD while he may be found; call upon him while he is near; let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; let him return to the LORD, that he may have compassion on him, and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. (ESV)

> Hebrews 3:12-13 - Take care, brothers, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God. But exhort one another every day, as long as it is called today, that none of you may be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. (ESV)

> Hebrews 11:6 - And without faith it is impossible to please him, for whoever would draw near to God must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who seek him. (ESV)

Whether we are resting or working, we need to still go on abstaining from evil, getting sanctified:

> I Corinthians 15:34 - Wake up from your drunken stupor, as is right, and do not go on sinning. For some have no knowledge of God. I say this to your shame. (ESV)

> I John 3:6 - No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 7:1 - Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God. (ESV)

> Hebrews 12:1-6 - Therefore, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us also lay aside every weight, and sin which clings so closely, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, looking to Jesus, the founder and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is seated at the right hand of the throne of God. Consider him who endured from sinners such hostility against himself, so that you may not grow weary or fainthearted. In your struggle against sin you have not yet resisted to the point of shedding your blood. And have you forgotten the exhortation that addresses you as sons? My son, do not regard lightly the discipline of the Lord, nor be weary when reproved by him. For the Lord disciplines the one he loves, and chastises every son whom he receives. (ESV)

> I Thessalonians 5:22-24 - Abstain from every form of evil. Now may the God of peace himself sanctify you completely, and may your whole spirit and soul and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. He who calls you is faithful; he will surely do it. (ESV)

Walking in the light involves loving the brothers:

> II Corinthians 6:14 - Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what partnership has righteousness with lawlessness? Or what fellowship has light with darkness? (ESV)

> I John 3:13-16 - Do not be surprised, brothers, that the world hates you. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. (ESV)

So if a person after appealing to God for mercy, then returns and commits sin again (i.e. for what is not done in faith is sin), then they don't have access to the sanctification. Faith needs to continue. What is not done in faith is sin:

> II Peter 2:1-22 - But false prophets also arose among the people, just as there will be false teachers among you, who will secretly bring in destructive heresies, even denying the Master who bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction. And many will follow their sensuality, and because of them the way of truth will be blasphemed. And in their greed they will exploit you with false words. Their condemnation from long ago is not idle, and their destruction is not asleep. For if God did not spare angels when they sinned, but cast them into hell and committed them to chains of gloomy darkness to be kept until the judgment; if he did not spare the ancient world, but preserved Noah, a herald of righteousness, with seven others, when he brought a flood upon the world of the ungodly; if by turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah to ashes he condemned them to extinction, making them an example of what is going to happen to the ungodly; and if he rescued righteous Lot, greatly distressed by the sensual conduct of the wicked (for as that righteous man lived among them day after day, he was tormenting his righteous soul over their lawless deeds that he saw and heard); then the Lord knows how to rescue the godly from trials, and to keep the unrighteous under punishment until the day of judgment, and especially those who indulge in the lust of defiling passion and despise authority. Bold and willful, they do not tremble as they blaspheme the glorious ones, whereas angels, though greater in might and power, do not pronounce a blasphemous judgment against them before the Lord. But these, like irrational animals, creatures of instinct, born to be caught and destroyed, blaspheming about matters of which they are ignorant, will also be destroyed in their destruction, suffering wrong as the wage for their wrongdoing. They count it pleasure to revel in the daytime. They are blots and blemishes, reveling in their deceptions, while they feast with you. They have eyes full of adultery, insatiable for sin. They entice unsteady souls. They have hearts trained in greed. Accursed children! Forsaking the right way, they have gone astray. They have followed the way of Balaam, the son of Beor, who loved gain from wrongdoing, but was rebuked for his own transgression; a speechless donkey spoke with human voice and restrained the prophet's madness. These are waterless springs and mists driven by a storm. For them the gloom of utter darkness has been reserved. For, speaking loud boasts of folly, they entice by sensual passions of the flesh those who are barely escaping from those who live in error. They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved. For if, after they have escaped the defilements of the world through the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, they are again entangled in them and overcome, the last state has become worse for them than the first. For it would have been better for them never to have known the way of righteousness than after knowing it to turn back from the holy commandment delivered to them. What the true proverb says has happened to them: The dog returns to its own vomit, and the sow, after washing herself, returns to wallow in the mire. (ESV)

Consider that the "wrath of man" is not done in faith:

> James 1:19-21 - So then, my brethren beloved, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to anger, for the wrath of a man the righteousness of God doth not work; wherefore having put aside all filthiness and superabundance of evil, in meekness be receiving the engrafted word, that is able to save your souls; (YLT)

But as long as a person is able to be saved and brought back to faith in God, God goes after that person. And in coming back to faith though faith in Jesus, their former sins are blotted out and as they continue in faith, they are cleaned up through sanctification. But they must continue in faith. Their faith must not fail overall:

> Luke 15:3-10 - So he told them this parable: What man of you, having a hundred sheep, if he has lost one of them, does not leave the ninety-nine in the open country, and go after the one that is lost, until he finds it? And when he has found it, he lays it on his shoulders, rejoicing. And when he comes home, he calls together his friends and his neighbors, saying to them, Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep that was lost. Just so, I tell you, there will be more joy in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine righteous persons who need no repentance. Or what woman, having ten silver coins, if she loses one coin, does not light a lamp and sweep the house and seek diligently until she finds it? And when she has found it, she calls together her friends and neighbors, saying, Rejoice with me, for I have found the coin that I had lost. Just so, I tell you, there is joy before the angels of God over one sinner who repents. (ESV)
> Ezekiel 18:20-24 - The soul who sins shall die. The son shall not suffer for the iniquity of the father, nor the father suffer for the iniquity of the son. The righteousness of the righteous shall be upon himself, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon himself. But if a wicked person turns away from all his sins that he has committed and keeps all my statutes and does what is just and right, he shall surely live; he shall not die. None of the transgressions that he has committed shall be remembered against him; for the righteousness that he has done he shall live. Have I any pleasure in the death of the wicked, declares the Lord GOD, and not rather that he should turn from his way and live? But when a righteous person turns away from his righteousness and does injustice and does the same abominations that the wicked person does, shall he live? None of the righteous deeds that he has done shall be remembered; for the treachery of which he is guilty and the sin he has committed, for them he shall die. (ESV)
> Hebrews 10:37-39 - For, Yet a little while, and the coming one will come and will not delay; _but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls. (ESV)
> Luke 22:31-32 - Simon, Simon, behold, Satan demanded to have you, that he might sift you like wheat, but I have prayed for you that your faith may not fail. And when you have turned again, strengthen your brothers. (ESV)
> Luke 15:18-24 - I will arise and go to my father, and I will say to him, Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you. I am no longer worthy to be called your son. Treat me as one of your hired servants. And he arose and came to his father. But while he was still a long way off, his father saw him and felt compassion, and ran and embraced him and kissed him. And the son said to him, Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you. I am no longer worthy to be called your son. But the father said to his servants, Bring quickly the best robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet. And bring the fattened calf and kill it, and let us eat and celebrate. For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to celebrate. (ESV)

A person can't just appeal to God for mercy to only go back to sinning, and think they still have justification (Ezekiel 18:20-24, II Chronicles 7:14). A deed is some outward action coming from a heart attitude. Evil deeds come from a lack of faith:

> II Chronicles 7:14 - if my people who are called by my name humble themselves, and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and heal their land. (ESV)
> II Timothy 2:12 - if we endure, we will also reign with him; if we deny him, he also will deny us; (ESV)
> Titus 1:16 - They profess to know God, but by their deeds they deny Him, being detestable and disobedient and worthless for any good deed. (NASB)

> James 1:14-15 - But each person is tempted when he is lured and enticed by his own desire. Then desire when it has conceived gives birth to sin, and sin when it is fully grown brings forth death. (ESV)

> James 5:19-20 - My brothers, if anyone among you wanders from the truth and someone brings him back, let him know that whoever brings back a sinner from his wandering will save his soul from death and will cover a multitude of sins. (ESV)

After coming to faith in Jesus, we must continue in faith in Jesus, continuing to abide in Jesus Christ. Whoever is truly in Him is essentially holding faith in Him which means when they do a deed it's done out of a trust in and a love for the truth of God. If someone hates Jesus then they don't love God. Whoever loves God must also love their brother. If someone hates Jesus then they are not abiding in Him. Someone not abiding in Jesus is cast out and must repent and return to the truth if they are to not perish:

> II John 1:9 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. (ESV)

> John 15:1-6 - I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinedresser. Every branch of mine that does not bear fruit he takes away, and every branch that does bear fruit he prunes, that it may bear more fruit. Already you are clean because of the word that I have spoken to you. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit by itself, unless it abides in the vine, neither can you, unless you abide in me. I am the vine; you are the branches. Whoever abides in me and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. If anyone does not abide in me he is thrown away like a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire, and burned. (ESV)

> John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)

> I John 3:3-11 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)

The Apostle Peter had denied Jesus but Jesus later reinstated him:

> Luke 22:31-32 - Simon, Simon, behold, Satan demanded to have you, that he might sift you like wheat, but I have prayed for you that your faith may not fail. And when you have turned again, strengthen your brothers. (ESV)

> John 21:15 - When they had finished breakfast, Jesus said to Simon Peter, Simon, son of John, do you love me more than these? He said to him, Yes, Lord; you know that I love you. He said to him, Feed my lambs. (ESV)

Moses in a lapse of faith struck a rock instead of speaking to it, but later was seen on the Mount of Transfiguration:

> Numbers 20:8-12 - “Take the rod; and you and your brother Aaron assemble the congregation and speak to the rock before their eyes, that it may yield its water. You shall thus bring forth water for them out of the rock and let the congregation and their beasts drink.” So Moses took the rod from before the LORD, just as He had commanded him; and Moses and Aaron gathered the assembly before the rock. And he said to them, “Listen now, you rebels; shall we bring forth water for you out of this rock?” Then Moses lifted up his hand and struck the rock twice with his rod; and water came forth abundantly, and the congregation and their beasts drank. But the LORD said to Moses and Aaron, “Because you have not believed Me, to treat Me as holy in the sight of the sons of Israel, therefore you shall not bring this assembly into the land which I have given them.” (NASB)

> Matthew 17:1-3 - And after six days Jesus took with him Peter and James, and John his brother, and led them up a high mountain by themselves. And he was transfigured before them, and his face shone like the sun, and his clothes became white as light. And behold, there appeared to them Moses and Elijah, talking with him. (ESV)

We are justified by faith in Jesus, and what is not done in faith is sin. So if a person really were to commit sin, then they have done so without faith:

> II Thessalonians 3:2 - and that we may be delivered from wicked and evil men. For not all have faith. (ESV)

> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

> John 16:9 - concerning sin, because they do not believe in me; (ESV)

It’s possible to have sin/defilement while having faith:

> II Corinthians 7:1 - Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God. (ESV)

> I John 1:8 - If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. (ESV)

> Romans 7:17-23 - So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. So I find it to be a law that when I want to do right, evil lies close at hand. For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. (ESV)

> Psalms 112:1,6-8 - Praise ye Jah! O the happiness of one fearing Jehovah, In His commands he hath delighted greatly. For–to the age he is not moved; For a memorial age-during is the righteous. Of an evil report he is not afraid, Prepared is His heart, confident in Jehovah. Sustained is his heart–he feareth not, Till that he look on his adversaries. (YLT)

But it’s not possible to simultaneously have faith while committing sin:

> II Thessalonians 3:2 - and that we may be delivered from wicked and evil men. For not all have faith. (ESV)

> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

> John 16:9 - concerning sin, because they do not believe in me; (ESV)

> I John 3:9 - No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. (ESV)

We need faith in Jesus for justification and we need justification for sanctification. If someone commits sin then they need to repent from it (confess and forsake and go on walking in the light, the love for the truth) and towards faith in God. Walking in the light, the love of the truth, we can be cleaned up (sanctified). The person's faith must not fail overall:

> Revelation of John 2:1-5 - "To the angel of the church in Ephesus write: The One who holds the seven stars in His right hand, the One who walks among the seven golden lampstands, says this: 'I know your deeds and your toil and perseverance, and that you cannot tolerate evil men, and you put to the test those who call themselves apostles, and they are not, and you found them to be false; and you have perseverance and have endured for My name's sake, and have not grown weary. But I have this against you, that you have left your first (G4413 protos) love (G26 agape). Therefore remember from where you have fallen, and repent and do the deeds you did at first; or else I am coming to you and will remove your lampstand out of its place–unless you repent. (NASB)

> Hebrews 10:37-39 - For, Yet a little while, and the coming one will come and will not delay; _but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls. (ESV)

> I John 1:7 - But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)

We need to continue trusting Jesus. It's not possible to simultaneously commit sin and have faith in Jesus Christ. So we must resist committing sin:

> Hebrews 3:12-19 - Take care, brothers, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God. But exhort one another every day, as long as it is called today, that none of you may be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. For we share in Christ, if indeed we hold our original confidence firm to the end. As it is said, Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion. For who were those who heard and yet rebelled? Was it not all those who left Egypt led by Moses? And with whom was he provoked for forty years? Was it not with those who sinned, whose bodies fell in the wilderness? And to whom did he swear that they would not enter his rest, but to those who were disobedient? So we see that they were unable to enter because of unbelief. (ESV)

Father God takes away Jesus' branches which do not bear fruit. So we must bear good fruit in order to continue abiding in Jesus:

> John 15:1-2 - I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinedresser. Every branch of mine that does not bear fruit he takes away, and every branch that does bear fruit he prunes, that it may bear more fruit. (ESV)

> Luke 13:6-9 - And he told this parable: A man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit on it and found none. And he said to the vinedresser, Look, for three years now I have come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and I find none. Cut it down. Why should it use up the ground? And he answered him, Sir, let it alone this year also, until I dig around it and put on manure. Then if it should bear fruit next year, well and good; but if not, you can cut it down. (ESV)

Even if "apeitheó" is better translated to "not be pursuaded", trusting in Jesus Christ is still obedience. Unless you believe that trusting in Jesus is disobedience, which it is not. It's obedient to trust in Jesus because He commanded it in John 14:1. They're not separate things. A heart that is pursuaded to trust Jesus is an obedient heart:

> John 3:36 - Whoever believes (G4100 pisteuōn - is believing (verb)) in the Son has eternal life; whoever does not obey (544. apeitheó) the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God remains on him. (ESV)

Godliness is the type of behaviour that befits someone who has knowledge of God, and ungodliness the type of behaviour that is typical for someone without knowledge of God. A person who has been ungodly and who is sinful may appeal to God in faith to be saved from this ungodliness.

> Luke 18:10-14 - Two men went up into the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector. The Pharisee, standing by himself, prayed thus: God, I thank you that I am not like other men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even like this tax collector. I fast twice a week; I give tithes of all that I get. But the tax collector, standing far off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, God, be merciful to me, a sinner! I tell you, this man went down to his house justified, rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted. (ESV)

> I Thessalonians 4:3-8 - For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you abstain from sexual immorality; that each one of you know how to control his own body in holiness and honor, not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God; that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you. For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness. Therefore whoever disregards this, disregards not man but God, who gives his Holy Spirit to you. (ESV)

Whoever is presently learning from Jesus (i.e. so being sanctified, corrected by Him), He will never cast out:

> John 6:35-45,53-69 - Jesus said to them, I am the bread of life; whoever comes to me shall not hunger, and whoever believes in me shall never thirst. But I said to you that you have seen me and yet do not believe. All that the Father gives me will come to me, and whoever comes to me I will never cast out. For I have come down from heaven, not to do my own will but the will of him who sent me. And this is the will of him who sent me, that I should lose nothing of all that he has given me, but raise it up on the last day. For this is the will of my Father, that everyone who looks on the Son and believes in him should have eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. So the Jews grumbled about him, because he said, I am the bread that came down from heaven. They said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How does he now say, I have come down from heaven? Jesus answered them, Do not grumble among yourselves. No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him. And I will raise him up on the last day. It is written in the Prophets, And they will all be taught by God. Everyone who has heard and learned from the Father comes to me— So Jesus said to them, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you have no life in you. Whoever feeds on my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. For my flesh is true food, and my blood is true drink. Whoever feeds on my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me, and I in him. As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so whoever feeds on me, he also will live because of me. This is the bread that came down from heaven, not as the fathers ate and died. Whoever feeds on this bread will live forever. Jesus said these things in the synagogue, as he taught at Capernaum. When many of his disciples heard it, they said, This is a hard saying; who can listen to it? But Jesus, knowing in himself that his disciples were grumbling about this, said to them, Do you take offense at this? Then what if you were to see the Son of Man ascending to where he was before? It is the Spirit who gives life; the flesh is of no avail. The words that I have spoken to you are spirit and life. But there are some of you who do not believe. (For Jesus knew from the beginning who those were who did not believe, and who it was who would betray him.) And he said, This is why I told you that no one can come to me unless it is granted him by the Father. After this many of his disciples turned back and no longer walked with him. So Jesus said to the Twelve, Do you want to go away as well? Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life, and we have believed, and have come to know, that you are the Holy One of God. (ESV)

Father God drawing a person to Jesus coincides with a person being willing to come and having faith:

> John 5:40 - yet you refuse to come {not (G3756 ou) you are willing (G2309 thelete) to come (G2064 elthein)} to me that you may have life. (ESV)
> Jn 6:37,44,64-65 - All that the Father gives me will come to me, and whoever comes to me I will never cast out. No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him. And I will raise him up on the last day. But there are some of you who do not believe. (For Jesus knew from the beginning who those were who did not believe, and who it was who would betray him.) And he said, This is why I told you that no one can come to me unless it is granted him by the Father. (ESV)

Someone who is enslaved to sinful desires can't stay forever in house, and if someone commits sin then they become enslaved to that sin. There is an expectation to be cleaned up through faith in Jesus to no longer practice sin if someone wants to inherit in the Kingdom of God. To inherit the Kingdom of God, a person must be cleaned up to no longer practice ungodliness. Where some English translation of Ephesians 5 use the word "associate", I think it should more accurately say "be partakers", as the KJV says. So if we want to be partakers in the divine nature (II Peter 1:4) rather than be partakers of the wrath of God, then we need to be conformed to no longer be doing those things which the sons of disobedience do, because due to such ungodliness they receive the wrath of God. But God saves a person who is hoping in Jesus Christ through faith and sanctification so that they no longer do such things for which the wrath of God comes:

> John 8:34-35,36,42,51 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death. (ESV)
> Ephesians 5:1-21 - Therefore be imitators of God, as beloved children. And walk in love, as Christ loved us and gave himself up for us, a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God. But sexual immorality and all impurity or covetousness must not even be named among you, as is proper among saints. Let there be no filthiness nor foolish talk nor crude joking, which are out of place, but instead let there be thanksgiving. For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. Therefore do not associate (G1096 ginesthe; be) (G4830 symmetochoi; partakers) with them; for at one time you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light (for the fruit of light is found in all that is good and right and true), and try to discern what is pleasing to the Lord. Take no part in the unfruitful works of darkness, but instead expose them. For it is shameful even to speak of the things that they do in secret. But when anything is exposed by the light, it becomes visible, for anything that becomes visible is light. Therefore it says, Awake, O sleeper, and arise from the dead, and Christ will shine on you. Look carefully then how you walk, not as unwise but as wise, making the best use of the time, because the days are evil. Therefore do not be foolish, but understand what the will of the Lord is. And do not get drunk with wine, for that is debauchery, but be filled with the Spirit, addressing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody to the Lord with all your heart, giving thanks always and for everything to God the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, submitting to one another out of reverence for Christ. (ESV)

> I Thessalonians 5:8-10 - But since we belong to the day, let us be sober, having put on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet the hope of salvation. For God has not destined us for wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us so that whether we are awake or asleep we might live with him. (ESV)

Galatians 5:19-25 - Now the works of the flesh are evident: sexual immorality, impurity, sensuality, idolatry, sorcery, enmity, strife, jealousy, fits of anger, rivalries, dissensions, divisions, envy, drunkenness, orgies, and things like these. I warn you, as I warned you before, that those who do such things will not inherit the kingdom of God. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control; against such things there is no law. And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. If we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit. (ESV)

I Thessalonians 4:1-12 - Finally, then, brothers, we ask and urge you in the Lord Jesus, that as you received from us how you ought to live and to please God, just as you are doing, that you do so more and more. For you know what instructions we gave you through the Lord Jesus. For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you abstain from sexual immorality; that each one of you know how to control his own body in holiness and honor, not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God; that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you. For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness. Therefore whoever disregards this, disregards not man but God, who gives his Holy Spirit to you. Now concerning brotherly love you have no need for anyone to write to you, for you yourselves have been taught by God to love one another, for that indeed is what you are doing to all the brothers throughout Macedonia. But we urge you, brothers, to do this more and more, and to aspire to live quietly, and to mind your own affairs, and to work with your hands, as we instructed you, so that you may live properly before outsiders and be dependent on no one. (ESV)

Galatians 2:20 - I have been crucified with Christ. It is no longer I who live, but Christ who lives in me. And the life I now live in the flesh I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me. (ESV)

Galatians 5:24 - And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. (ESV)

The promises are to those who love God, so we have to love God rather than sin:

II Corinthians 6:17-18,7:1 - Therefore go out from their midst, and be separate from them, says the Lord, and touch no unclean thing; then I will welcome you, and I will be a father to you, and you shall be sons and daughters to me, says the Lord Almighty. Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God. (ESV)

II Peter 1:3-9 - His divine power has granted to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of him who called us to his own glory and excellence, by which he has granted to us his precious and very great promises, so that through them you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world because of sinful desire. For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins. (ESV)

Isaiah 66:2 - All these things my hand has made, and so all these things came to be, declares the LORD. But this is the one to whom I will look: he who is humble and contrite in spirit and trembles at my word. (ESV)

Psalms 138:6-8 - For though JEHOVAH is high, yet he looks after the lowly; but the proud, he knows from afar. Though I walk in the midst of trouble, you will revive me. You will stretch forth your hand against the wrath of my enemies. Your right hand will save me. JEHOVAH will fulfill that which concerns me; your loving kindness, JEHOVAH, endures forever. Do not forsake the works of your own hands. (NHEBJE)

> Psalms 51:1-7 - For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David, when Nathan the prophet came to him, after he had gone in to Bathsheba. Have mercy on me, God, according to your loving kindness. According to the multitude of your tender mercies, blot out my transgressions. Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity. Cleanse me from my sin. For I know my transgressions. My sin is constantly before me. Against you, and you only, have I sinned, and done that which is evil in your sight; that you may be proved right when you speak, and justified when you judge. Behold, I was brought forth in iniquity. In sin my mother conceived me. Behold, you desire truth in the inward parts. You teach me wisdom in the inmost place. Purify me with hyssop, and I will be clean. Wash me, and I will be whiter than snow. (NHEBJE)

So I'll attempt to articulate this clearly in one sentence: While a person is not condemned 'presently' by Jesus if they are 'presently' holding faith in Him, and while Jesus did not 'judge' those who heard but did not do what He said, the same word that they rejected will judge later and there is still a day of wrath coming for those who are not sanctified into loving their neighbour the way God has commanded them to. Continuing on in the faith soundly involves abiding in the sound doctrine of Jesus Christ (II John 1:1-11) which includes walking according to Jesus' commandments (I John 3:23-24). Though God will have mercy on those He has mercy. But we want to have confidence for the day of judgement so we should be walking in godliness holding our faith in Jesus so that the deeds that we do, coming from faith, are good deeds (John 14:12, John 3:17-21, I John 2:3-6):

> Colossians 3:1-10 - If then you have been raised with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated at the right hand of God. Set your minds on things that are above, not on things that are on earth. For you have died, and your life is hidden with Christ in God. When Christ who is your life appears, then you also will appear with him in glory. Put to death therefore what is earthly in you: sexual immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry. On account of these the wrath of God is coming. In these you too once walked, when you were living in them. But now you must put them all away: anger, wrath, malice, slander, and obscene talk from your mouth. Do not lie to one another, seeing that you have put off the old self with its practices and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator. (ESV)
> John 3:17-21 - For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him. Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his deeds should be exposed. But whoever does (G4160 poiōn; doing) what is true comes to the light, so that it may be clearly seen that his deeds have been carried out in God. (ESV)

> John 12:47-48 - If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world. The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. (ESV)

> I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

I think that to have the love of God completed in us (the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us: Romans 8:3-4, Galatians 5:13-14) is something that is necessary for the Christian to avoid the wrath of God on the day of wrath (Luke 3:7-8, Matthew 13:24-30, John 3:17-21, Luke 13:3, John 3:36, Romans 1:17-18, Romans 2:5, II Peter 3:7, Romans 6:16-18,7:25,8:1-4):

> Luke 6:46-49 - Why do you call me Lord, Lord, and not do what I tell you? Everyone who comes to me and hears my words and does them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building > a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. And when a flood arose, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it, because it had been well built. But the one who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. When the stream broke against it, immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great. (ESV)

> I John 2:3-6 - And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 10:4-6 - For the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh but have divine power to destroy strongholds. (ESV)
> I John 3:14 - We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. (ESV)

We have faith in Jesus Christ into loving as God requires from us, and that means loving God and the children of God and our neighbour as God has commanded (Romans 13:9-10, I John 5:1-5). Keep in mind that if Jesus has said that "even sinners" do the same, as in love those who love them, and how Paul has said that what does not proceed from faith is sin, then what proceeds from a genuine faith in Jesus Christ will be that the requirement to love God and our neighbour, loving even those neighbours who hate us, will be met, and in the way that God requires us to love our neighbour:

> Luke 6:32-36 - If you love those who love you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them. And if you do good to those who do good to you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners do the same. And if you lend to those from whom you expect to receive, what credit is that to you? Even sinners lend to sinners, to get back the same amount. But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing in return, and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, for he is kind to the ungrateful and the evil. Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful. (ESV)

> Galatians 2:15-16 - We ourselves are Jews by birth and not Gentile sinners; yet we know that a person is not justified by works of the law but through faith in Jesus Christ, so we also have believed in Christ Jesus, in order to be justified by faith in Christ and not by works of the law, because by works of the law no one will be justified. >
> Romans 8:3-4 - For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. (ESV)

"Sinless perfection" means "without even 'having' sin". The Apostle Paul describes having "indwelling sin" (Romans 7:22-23). John says that if we say we have no sin we deceive ourselves. Having "indwelling sin" does not mean "committing sin", which is making more sin by transgression. Now Jesus Christ is sinless. Jesus has no sin at all. Neither does Jesus commit sin. When a person uses a dirty towel on a clean plate, they dirty the plate. When a person uses a clean towel on a dirty plate, they clean the plate. Jesus is clean and cleans us. Jesus sanctifies us. 'Having sin' (I John 1:6-10) is actually different from "committing sin". We can confess sin that we have (1 John 1:9) and should to be cleaned from it.

Someone who is born-again has had their old self crucified, and has been set free from sin (Romans 6:6-8) in the sense that they now have the power to rule over sin and to put sinful desires to death. If a born-again person loves Jesus more than some evil desire, then they have the power through faith in Jesus to put that evil desire to death completely and to stop doing the evil deeds that arise from that bad desire, and to put a stop to those evil deeds. We are instructed to, from a love of the truth, practice righteousness with our members instead (Galatians 5:16-18, Romans 6:10-13, Matthew 5:29-30).

Someone who used to do evil with their hands should then from the love of the truth instead do good with their hands. But I think this really extends even to what people do with their resources genreally such as computer or their money, etc.

The mind of the old self must be "shaken off" (Romans 6:11) and we do that by taking every thought captive for obedience to Jesus Christ (II Corinthians 10:5-6). We must set our minds on the things of the Spirit, rather than the things of the flesh; We must walk by the spirit, and this will help us to "put to death the deeds of the body [of sin]" (i.e. stop obeying the flesh):

> Galatians 5:16-18 - But I say, walk by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the flesh. For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to keep you from doing the things you want to do. But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. (ESV)

We must "continue" in obedience to God, obeying Jesus Christ to be overcome by Christ as they are walking by the spirit practicing righteousness, rather than obeying sin:

> II Peter 2:19 - They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved. (ESV)

> Romans 6:16-18 - Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. (ESV)

> Romans 6:19-20 - I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. When you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. (ESV)

> Romans 6:15-23 - What then? Are we to sin because we are not under law but under grace? By no means! Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. When you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. But what fruit were you getting at that time from the things of which you are now ashamed? The end of those things is death. But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

> I John 5:1-5 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments. And his commandments are not burdensome. For everyone who has been born of God overcomes the world. And this is the victory that has overcome the world—our faith. Who is it that overcomes the world except the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God? (ESV)

To be overcomers, we must overcome evil with good:

> Romans 12:19-21 - Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord. To the contrary, if your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him something to drink; for by so doing you will heap burning coals on his head. Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good. (ESV)

> II Peter 2:19-22 - They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved. For if, after they have escaped the defilements of the world through the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, they are again entangled in them and overcome, the last state has become worse for them than the first. For it would have been better for them never to have known the way of righteousness than after knowing it to turn back from the holy commandment delivered to them. What the true proverb says has happened to them: The dog returns to its own vomit, and the sow, after washing herself, returns to wallow in the mire. (ESV)

> Revelation of John 2:25-29 - Nevertheless what you have, hold fast until I come. He who overcomes, and he who keeps My deeds until the end, to him I will give authority over the nations; and he shall rule them with a rod of iron, as the vessels of the potter are broken to pieces, as I also have received authority from My Father; and I will give him the morning star. He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.'

Jesus taught to overcome evil with good:

> Matthew 5:38-41 - You have heard that it was said, An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth. But I say to you, Do not resist the one who is evil. But if anyone slaps you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also. And if anyone would sue you and take your tunic, let him have your cloak as well. And if anyone forces you to go one mile, go with him two miles. (ESV)

James understood Jesus' teaching regarding not resisting evil people and overcoming evil with good:

> James 5:6 - You have condemned; you have murdered the righteous person. He does not resist you. (ESV)

Paul following and teaching Christ's teachings regarding overcoming evil with good:

> Romans 12:19-21 - Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord. To the contrary, if your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him something to drink; for by so doing you will heap burning coals on his head. Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good. (ESV)

By faith, in obedience to Jesus Christ we are to overcome evil with good loving as Father God loves:

> Hebrews 12:4-8 - In your struggle against sin you have not yet resisted to the point of shedding your blood. And have you forgotten the exhortation that addresses you as sons? My son, do not regard lightly the discipline of the Lord, nor be weary when reproved by him. For the Lord disciplines the one he loves, and chastises every son whom he receives. It is for discipline that you have to endure. God is treating you as sons. For what son is there whom his father does not discipline? If you are left without discipline, in which all have participated, then you are illegitimate children and not sons. (ESV)

> Revelation of John 21:7 - The one who conquers will have this heritage, and I will be his God and he will be my son. (ESV)

> Matthew 5:43-48 - You have heard that it was said, You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy. But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You therefore must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect. (ESV)

> John 17:26 - I made known to them your name, and I will continue to make it known, that the love with which you have loved me may be in them, and I in them. (ESV)

The mind of the repentant person must continue on in the love for the truth practicing righteousness. At the end of sanctification is eternal life and receiving the inheritance.

But from what I've seen, shaking off this mindset of the former self can be challenging while one's company is still clinging to the ways of the flesh resisting the new creation, but I think the way forward most importantly is to continue practicing the truth for oneself regardless of physical circumstances, as responding to such resistance with faith and obedience to Jesus is, I believe, sanctifying. There has been a struggle against the flesh, for me: Persecutions, isolation, hardship, restrictions on freedom, people ghosting, getting put out of 'churches' etc.

Though, we will fall short of God's glory, we still need to be conformed to love and holiness to inherit in the Kingdom of God as we behold the glory of the Lord Jesus:

> II Corinthians 6:17-18,7:1 - Therefore go out from their midst, and be separate from them, says the Lord, and touch no unclean thing; then I will welcome you, and I will be a father to you, and you shall be sons and daughters to me, says the Lord Almighty. Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God. (ESV)

> Ephesians 5:1-10 - Therefore be imitators of God, as beloved children. And walk in love, as Christ loved us and gave himself up for us, a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God. But sexual immorality and all impurity or covetousness must not even be named among you, as is proper among saints. Let there be no filthiness nor foolish talk nor crude joking, which are out of place, but instead let there be thanksgiving. For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. Therefore do not associate (G1096 ginesthe; be) (G4830 symmetochoi; partakers) wiith them; for at one time you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light (for the fruit of light is found in all that is good and right and true), and try to discern what is pleasing to the Lord. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 3:18 - And we all, with unveiled face, beholding the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same image from one degree of glory to another. For this comes from the Lord who is the Spirit. (ESV)

> Romans 3:23-26 - for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. (ESV)

The ”body of sin being brought to nothing” I think involves, for example, using one’s members to practice righteousness, shaking off sinful behaviour that the former person used to practice. Bringing the ”body of sin to nothing” involves denying ungodliness, and walking in the truth in reality from the heart with a desire to please God, rather than having evil deeds that come from trusting in what is false. While a person is given a brand new heart and a brand new spirit, I think God then circumcises that new heart to walk in His ways, and that heart circumcision involves walking in the commandments of God that are given for the Christian to walk in so it involves a Christian receiving correction by God after getting born-again, and this circumcision happens as we are obedient to the standard of teaching that the Apostles speak of (Romans 6:16-18, I John 3:3-11) that is in agreement with Jesus’ teaching (John 15:9-14). The circumcision results in loving God with our whole heart and soul (Deuteronomy 30:6) which means also loving the children of God (I John 5:2), not only just the fact that God has loved us first:

> Romans 6:11 - So you also must consider yourselves dead to sin and alive to God in Christ Jesus. (ESV)
> Colossians 2:11-14 - In him also you were circumcised with a circumcision made without hands, by putting off the body of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ, having been buried with him in baptism, in which you were also raised with him through faith in the powerful working of God, who raised him from the dead. And you, who were dead in your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, God made alive together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses, by canceling the record of debt that stood against us with its legal demands. This he set aside, nailing it to the cross. (ESV)
> Colossians 3:1-10 - If then you have been raised with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated at the right hand of God. Set your minds on things that are above, not on things that are on earth. For you have died, and your life is hidden with Christ in God. When Christ who is your life appears, then you also will appear with him in glory. Put to death therefore what is earthly in you: sexual immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry. On account of these the wrath of God is coming. In these you too once walked, when you were living in them. But now you must put them all away: anger, wrath, malice, slander, and obscene talk from your mouth. Do not lie to one another, seeing that you have put off the old self with its practices and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator. (ESV)
> Galatians 5:24 - And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. (ESV)

The salvation Jesus has bought is salvation from committing sin. Sanctification is a necessary part of salvation:

> Revelation of John 16:8-11 - The fourth angel poured out his bowl on the sun, and it was allowed to scorch people with fire. They were scorched by the fierce heat, and they cursed the name of God who had power over these plagues. They did not repent and give him glory. The fifth angel poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast, and its kingdom was plunged into darkness. People gnawed their tongues in anguish and cursed the God of heaven for their pain and sores. They did not repent of their deeds. (ESV)
> Jeremiah 7:8-11 - Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit. Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not; And come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations? Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have seen it, saith the LORD. (KJV)
> John 10:1 - Truly, truly, I say to you, he who does not enter the sheepfold by the door but climbs in by another way, that man is a thief and a robber. (ESV)
> Psalms 101:7 - He who practices deceit shall not dwell within my house; He who speaks falsehood shall not maintain his position before me. (NASB)

> John 8:34-35,36,42,51 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death. (ESV)

> I John 3:6-18 - No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. We should not be like Cain, who was of the evil one and murdered his brother. And why did he murder him? Because his own deeds were evil and his brother's righteous. Do not be surprised, brothers, that the world hates you. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth. (ESV)

Real faith loves God rather than evil. Real faith in Jesus prefers Him to evil. Real faith in Jesus prefers Him to other things. And God cleans us as we hold our faith in Jesus Christ preferring Him.

There is no rest for the unrepentant. Whether a person has a disease/illness or not, they need to come to faith in Jesus with the love of God. A sick person finds no cure in being unrepentant. Real love and compassion encourages people to turn from the error of their ways. It's not right to say, "The ill/diseased are excused from needing to repent and have faith." We don't just take the rest from Jesus without coming to Jesus (learning from Him). Jesus gives the rest to those who come to Him. We need to come to have a genuine faith in Jesus which loves the truth. Whoever is presently having faith in Jesus is not committing sin. God justifies the ungodly who have faith in Jesus and in having faith in Jesus they have repented and in having faith in Jesus are not committing sin (I John 5:18, I John 5:1-6, Romans 14:23).

Connecting both mentions of "showing no partiality" in James 2:1-12, holding faith and being "law abiding" (which Christians must be), not committing sin, go hand in hand:

> James 2:1-12 - My brothers, show no partiality as you hold the faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory. For if a man wearing a gold ring and fine clothing comes into your assembly, and a poor man in shabby clothing also comes in, and if you pay attention to the one who wears the fine clothing and say, You sit here in a good place, while you say to the poor man, You stand over there, or, Sit down at my feet, have you not then made distinctions among yourselves and become judges with evil thoughts? Listen, my beloved brothers, has not God chosen those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom, which he has promised to those who love him? But you have dishonored the poor man. Are not the rich the ones who oppress you, and the ones who drag you into court? Are they not the ones who blaspheme the honorable name by which you were called? If you really fulfill the royal law according to the Scripture, You shall love your neighbor as yourself, you are doing well. But if you show partiality, you are committing sin and are convicted by the law as transgressors. For whoever keeps the whole law but fails in one point has become accountable for all of it. For he who said, Do not commit adultery, also said, Do not murder. If you do not commit adultery but do murder, you have become a transgressor of the law. So speak and so act as those who are to be judged under the law of liberty. (ESV)

Those who love the darkness rather than love God (John 3:14-19, II Timothy 3:1-5) are unrepentant people (II Timothy 3:6-8) who are disqualified in their faith and who do not come to the knowledge of the truth which God desires all people to come to know (I Timothy 2:4). So having the love of God in us is important for being saved. And unless someone is keeping God's commandments, for them, then they surely cannot have come to the knowledge of the truth (I John 2:3-6). We have to have the love of God in us to have genuine faith in Jesus:

> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

> I John 5:18 - We know that whosoever is born of God sinneth not; but he that is begotten of God keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not. (KJV)

> John 5:6-15 - When Jesus saw him lying there and knew that he had already been there a long time, he said to him, Do you want to be healed? The sick man answered him, Sir, I have no one to put me into the pool when the water is stirred up, and while I am going another steps down before me. Jesus said to him, Get up, take up your bed, and walk. And at once the man was healed, and he took up his bed and walked. Now that day was the Sabbath. So the Jews said to the man who had been healed, It is the Sabbath, and it is not lawful for you to take up your bed. But he answered them, The man who healed me, that man said to me, Take up your bed, and walk. They asked him, Who is the man who said to you, Take up your bed and walk? Now the man who had been healed did not know who it was, for Jesus had withdrawn, as there was a crowd in the place. Afterward Jesus found him in the temple and said to him, See, you are well! Sin no more, that nothing worse may happen to you. The man went away and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had healed him. (ESV)

> John 5:42-43 - But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. I have come in my Father's name, and you do not receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him. (ESV)

When a person gets born-again of the spirit, they do need to not then double-down on the passions of the flesh. They do need to not ”walk by the corpse/flesh” letting the corpse dictate one's actions, but rather ”walk by the spirit” doing the will of God. New spirit in old flesh needs to not be carnal and walk by the flesh, but should rather try to use the old flesh to practice righteousness from an inward desire to do the will of God. The flesh does seem to resist the will of the spirit though (consider, for example, if a born-again person's flesh was craving nicotine or pornography while this person knows in their heart that to act on indulging themself with it is against their faith in Jesus, and I'm not saying that having a cigarette is sin in all circumstances) for what is not done in faith is sin. It's right for a person who has been born-again of the spirit to strive to then walk by the spirit, as in not just be driven by the cravings of the flesh, of the old nature, but to actually by faith practice righteousness, resisting carnality, the way that we have been instructed to do, using ones' body for practicing righteousnessness, putting to death the ”passions of the flesh”. Being born-again of the spirit, a person has ”woken up” and is in the light where all things are visible and the right thing to do is to put off the old self and to walk like Christ, as He has instructed:

> Galatians 5:24 - And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. (ESV)

I believe that additionally to the need of ”receiving a heart transplant” (Ezekiel 18:31, Ezekiel 36:25-28), we should ”divorce ourselves” from our ”sinning members”. And what I mean by that is, for example, if a person were, for example, practicing something sinful with their hands, such as stealing, then instead of making time to practice that, use one's hands for doing good works instead. And this is metaphorically, ”cutting off the 'sinful flesh'”.

> Mark 9:45 - And if your foot causes you to sin, cut it off. It is better for you to enter life lame than with two feet to be thrown into hell. (ESV)

Not only does this point to the fact that we need a new heart. But if you are using your members for doing evil, then instead of doing evil with them, do good with them, effectively ”cutting off the sinful flesh” from the heart (i.e. nipping it at the bud happens with a change of heart):

> Matthew 5:29-30 - If your right eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body be thrown into hell (1067. geenna). And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body go into hell. (ESV)
> Romans 6:19-20 - I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. When you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. (ESV)
> Ephesians 4:28 - Let the thief no longer steal, but rather let him labor, doing honest work with his own hands, so that he may have something to share with anyone in need. (ESV)
> Colossians 2:11-14 - In him also you were circumcised with a circumcision made without hands, by putting off the body of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ, having been buried with him in baptism, in which you were also raised with him through faith in the powerful working of God, who raised him from the dead. And you, who were dead in your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, God made alive together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses, by canceling the record of debt that stood against us with its legal demands. This he set aside, nailing it to the cross. (ESV)

I'm trying to accurately both understand and articulate how, by the grace of God and by the working of Jesus Christ, a person is set free from committing sin, or rather how Jesus sets a person free from sin, but I'm not infallible. It's by faith in Jesus, not by faith in me.

> Jude 1:20-21 - But you, beloved, build yourselves up in your most holy faith; pray in the Holy Spirit; keep yourselves in the love of God, waiting for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ that leads to eternal life. (ESV)
> Luke 5:30-32 - And the Pharisees and their scribes grumbled at his disciples, saying, Why do you eat and drink with tax collectors and sinners? And Jesus answered them, Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick. I have not come to call the righteous but sinners to repentance. (ESV)
> I Peter 3:17-22 - For it is better to suffer for doing good, if that should be God's will, than for doing evil. For Christ also suffered once for sins, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh but made alive in the spirit, in which he went and proclaimed to the spirits in prison, because they formerly did not obey, when God's patience waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was being prepared, in which a few, that is, eight persons, were brought safely through water. Baptism, which corresponds to this, now saves you, not as a removal of dirt from the body but as an appeal to God for a good conscience, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, who has gone into heaven and is at the right hand of God, with angels, authorities, and powers having been subjected to him. (ESV)

Paul really makes it clear that Father God is not in subjection to Jesus Christ the Son of God, but that Christ is reigning supremely at the right hand of Father God, Father God having given all judgement to Christ the Son, until all things are subjected to Christ. And then Christ Himself will be subjected to Father God. Christ has already defeated the last enemy, death, from His perspective:

> I Corinthians 15:22-28 - For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive. But each in his own order: Christ the firstfruits, then at his coming those who belong to Christ. Then comes the end, when he delivers the kingdom to God the Father after destroying every rule and every authority > and power. For he must reign until he has put all his enemies under his feet. The last enemy to be destroyed is death. For God has put all things in subjection under his feet. But when it says, all things are put in subjection, it is plain that he is excepted who put all things in subjection under him. When all things are subjected to him, then the Son himself will also be subjected to him who put all things in subjection under him, that God may be all in all. (ESV)

> John 5:21-24 - For as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, so also the Son gives life to whom he will. The Father judges no one, but has given all judgment to the Son, that all may honor the Son, just as they honor the Father. Whoever does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent him. Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears my word and believes (G4100 pisteuo) him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come (2064. erchomai) into judgment, but has passed from death to life.

> I Peter 3:17-22 - For it is better to suffer for doing good, if that should be God's will, than for doing evil. For Christ also suffered once for sins, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh but made alive in the spirit, in which he went and proclaimed to the spirits in prison, because they formerly did not obey, when God's patience waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was being prepared, in which a few, that is, eight persons, were brought safely through water. Baptism, which corresponds to this, now saves you, not as a removal of dirt from the body but as an appeal to God for a good conscience, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, who has gone into heaven and is at the right hand of God, with angels, authorities, and powers having been subjected to him. (ESV)

> Revelation of John 1:18 - and the living one. I died, and behold I am alive forevermore, and I have the keys of Death and Hades. (ESV)

> Romans 6:9 - We know that Christ being raised from the dead will never die again; death no longer has dominion over him. (ESV)

> Revelation of John 1:18 - and the living one. I died, and behold I am alive forevermore, and I have the keys of Death and Hades. (ESV)

> Ephesians 1:22 - And He put all things in subjection under His feet, and gave Him as head over all things to the church, > Hebrews 2:8 - You have put all things in subjection under his feet." For in subjecting all things to him, He left nothing that is not subject to him. But now we do not yet see all things subjected to him.

> Hebrews 10:13 - waiting from that time onward until His enemies be made a footstool for His feet.

A believer at some point dies (John 11:25-27), and it happens when they are baptised into Christ's death (Romans 6:3-8, Galatians 2:19-21, Romans 7:1-6) and is born of the spirit in order to be able to keep God's commandments (Ezekiel 11:19-20). We don't have to be a slave of sin (John 8:34-35,36,42,51). But when does a person get born-again of the spirit? It's mysterious (John 3:6-8) but it's partly not a mystery because a person who turns away from sin and has faith in Jesus will get born-again (Ezekiel 18:31, John 11:25-27):

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)

When a person is ”born-again”, they are baptized into Jesus Christ’s death, and so have died and been set free (acquitted) from sin, cleansed from former sin, and they are reborn, born of the Spirit. So all things have become new for them. But being born-again, we need to continue to do the will of God for us (I Thessalonians 5:18). We must continue abiding in Jesus Christ’s commandments, in love for God and one’s neighbour and practicing righteousness, not wickedness:

> Luke 3:16 - John answered them all, saying, I baptize you with water, but he who is mightier than I is coming, the strap of whose sandals I am not worthy to untie. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire.
> Romans 6:3-8 - Do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? We were buried therefore with him by baptism into death, in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, we too might walk in newness of life. For if we have been united with him in a death like his, we shall certainly be united with him in a resurrection like his. We know that our old self was crucified with him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin. For one who has died has been set free from sin. Now if we have died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him. (ESV)
> I Thessalonians 5:18 - give thanks in all circumstances; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you. (ESV)

Polycarp 2:2 Now He that raised Him from the dead will raise us also; if we do His will and walk in His commandments and love the things which He loved, abstaining from all unrighteousness, covetousness, love of money, evil speaking, false witness; not rendering evil for evil or railing for railing or blow for blow or cursing for cursing;

> Philippians 3:8-11 - Indeed, I count everything as loss because of the surpassing worth of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For his sake I have suffered the loss of all things and count them as rubbish, in order that I may gain Christ and be found in him, not having a righteousness of my own that comes from the law, but that which comes through faith in Christ, the righteousness from God that depends on faith— that I may know him and the power of his resurrection, and may share his sufferings, becoming like him in his death, that by any means possible I may attain the resurrection from the dead. (ESV)
> Philippians 3:12 - Not that I have already obtained this or am already perfect, but I press on (G1377 diōkō; I am pursuing) to make it my own, because Christ Jesus has made me his own. (ESV)

HELPS Word-studies G1377 diṓkō – properly, aggressively chase, like a hunter pursuing a catch (prize). G1377 (diṓkō) is used positively (”earnestly pursue”) and negatively (”zealously persecute, hunt down”). In each case, G1377 (diṓkō) means pursue with all haste (”chasing” after), earnestly desiring to overtake (apprehend)

> Philippians 3:13 - Brothers, I do not consider that I have made it my own (G2638 kateilēphenai; to have taken hold [of it]). But one thing I do: forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, (ESV)

Going forward we need to continue in love and holiness:

> II Peter 1:3-9 - His divine power has granted to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of him who called us to his own glory and excellence, by which he has granted to us his precious and very great promises, so that through them you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world because of sinful desire. For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins. (ESV)

> II Timothy 2:11-12 - The saying is trustworthy, for: If we have died with him, we will also live with him; if we endure, we will also reign with him; if we deny him, he also will deny us; (ESV)

> Titus 1:16 - They profess to know God, but they deny him by their works. They are detestable, disobedient, unfit for any good work. (ESV)

The person who is born of God has stopped "committing sin" (I John 3:4,8,9) in the sense that this new beginning of repentance and faith (Hebrews 6:1) has been obedience to God (Romans 10:14-21) rather than sin and going on they must continue on in faith, in the love of the truth, obeying righteousness (I John 3:4,8,9). The person born of God doesn't commit sin (I John 5:18). The person born of God is also not the sin in their flesh (Romans 7:17-23).

For the person with a genuine faith in Jesus Christ, sin no longer has dominion over them because Jesus has defeated death:

> Philippians 1:6 - And I am sure of this, that he who began a good work in you will bring it to completion at the day of Jesus Christ. (ESV)

> Hebrews 10:14 - For by a single offering he has perfected for all time those who are being sanctified.

> I Peter 4:1-3 - Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh, arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. The time that is past suffices for doing what the Gentiles want to do, living in sensuality, passions, drunkenness, orgies, drinking parties, and lawless idolatry. (ESV)

> I Peter 2:24 - He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed. (ESV)

That Jesus Christ is the Son of God entails the truth that Jesus Christ "takes after" God (Colossians 1:15). Believing that Jesus is the Son of God entails believing that Jesus' works were good, that Jesus practiced righteousness (John 14:31). A son of God practices righteousness. A child of the devil practices wickedness:

> Colossians 1:15 - He is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of all creation. (ESV)

> Luke 23:40-43 - But the other answered, and rebuking him said, "Do you not even fear God, since you are under the same sentence of condemnation? And we indeed are suffering justly, for we are receiving what we deserve for our deeds; but this man has done nothing wrong." And he was saying, "Jesus, remember me when You come in Your kingdom!" And He said to him, "Truly I say to you, today you shall be with Me in Paradise."

> John 14:10-15 - Do you not believe that I am in the Father and the Father is in me? The words that I say to you I do not speak on my own authority, but the Father who dwells in me does his works. Believe me that I am in the Father and the Father is in me, or else believe on account of the works themselves. Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. Whatever you ask in my name, this I will do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. If you ask me anything in my name, I will do it. If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

> Mark 10:17-21 - And as he was setting out on his journey, a man ran up and knelt before him and asked him, Good Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life? And Jesus said to him, Why do you call me good? No one is good except God alone. You know the commandments: Do not murder, Do not commit adultery, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honor your father and mother. And he said to him, Teacher, all these I have kept from my youth. And Jesus, looking at him, loved him, and said to him, You lack one thing: go, sell all that you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me.

> I John 3:6-18 - No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. We should not be like Cain, who was of the evil one and murdered his brother. And why did he murder him? Because his own deeds were evil and his brother's righteous. Do not be surprised, brothers, that the world hates you. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth. (ESV)

> Matthew 13:37-42 - He answered, The one who sows the good seed is the Son of Man. The field is the world, and the good seed is the children of the kingdom. The weeds are the sons of the evil one, and the enemy who sowed them is the devil. The harvest is the close of the age, and the reapers are angels. Just as the weeds are gathered and burned with fire, so will it be at the close of the age. The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of sin and all law-breakers, and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. (ESV)

> John 14:31 - but I do as the Father has commanded me, so that the world may know that I love the Father. Rise, let us go from here. (ESV)

God is pleased with Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ the Son of God takes after His father. Jesus Christ practices righteousness with the love of God His Father:

> John 14:31 - but I do as the Father has commanded me, so that the world may know that I love the Father. Rise, let us go from here. (ESV)

> John 10:17 - For this reason the Father loves me, because I lay down my life that I may take it up again. (ESV)

> Matthew 3:13-17 - Then Jesus came from Galilee to the Jordan to John, to be baptized by him. John would have prevented him, saying, I need to be baptized by you, and do you come to me? But Jesus answered him, Let it be so now, for thus it is fitting for us to fulfill all righteousness. Then he consented. And when Jesus was baptized, immediately he went up from the water, and behold, the heavens were opened to him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and coming to rest on him; and behold, a voice from heaven said, This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased. (ESV)

The Gospel is able to build a person up to give them an inheritance among all those who are sanctified (as in, those who have been sanctified, who have been cleaned up that they no longer practice ungodliness, and love in the way God requires):

> Acts 20:32 - And now I commend you to God and to the word of his grace, which is able (G1410 dynamenō; being able) to build you up (G3618 oikodomēsai; to build up) and to give you the inheritance among all those who are sanctified (G37 hēgiasmenois; having been sanctified). (ESV)

We must heed God's word even given through Jesus Christ, receiving God's testimony, even of His Son, Jesus Christ, rather than be led astray by earthly/worldly words, and in trusting God, we set our seal that God is true. This saves. Just keep holding faith in Jesus Christ:

> Matthew 17:5 - He was still speaking when, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them, and a voice from the cloud said, This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased; listen to him. (ESV)
> I John 5:10-11 - Whoever believes in the Son of God has the testimony in himself. Whoever does not believe God has made him a liar, because he has not believed in the testimony that God has borne concerning his Son. And this is the testimony, that God gave us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. (ESV)
> I John 4:5 - They are from the world; therefore they speak from the world, and the world listens to them. (ESV)
> John 3:31-36 - He who comes from above is above all. He who is of the earth belongs to the earth and speaks in an earthly way. He who comes from heaven is above all. He bears witness to what he has seen and heard, yet no one receives his testimony. Whoever receives his testimony sets his seal to this, that God is true. For he whom God has sent utters the words of God, for he gives the Spirit without measure. The Father loves the Son and has given all things into his hand. Whoever believes in the Son has eternal life; whoever does not obey the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God remains on him. (ESV)
> Ephesians 1:13-14 - In him you also, when you heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation, and believed in him, were sealed with the promised Holy Spirit, who is the guarantee of our inheritance until we acquire possession of it, to the praise of his glory. (ESV)
> Ephesians 4:30 - And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, by whom you were sealed for the day of redemption. (ESV)
> II Corinthians 1:21-22 - And it is God who establishes us with you in Christ, and has anointed us, and who has also put his seal on us and given us his Spirit in our hearts as a guarantee. (ESV)
> John 4:41-42 - And many more believed because of his word. They said to the woman, It is no longer because of what you said that we believe, for we have heard for ourselves, and we know that this is indeed the Savior of the world. (ESV)
> Ephesians 4:30 - And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, by whom you were sealed for the day of redemption. (ESV)

We believe the gospel into loving one-another as commanded, and into producing good deeds that God works through us:

> I John 5:1-5 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments. And his commandments are not burdensome. For everyone who has been born of God overcomes the world. And this is the victory that has overcome the world—our faith. Who is it that overcomes the world except the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God? (ESV)
> John 16:27 - for the Father himself loves you, because you have loved me and have believed that I came from God. (ESV)
> John 14:15-17 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Helper, to be with you forever, even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him. You know him, for he dwells with you and will be in you. (ESV)

> John 14:23-24 - Jesus answered him, If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me. (ESV)

> I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

> I John 4:8 - Anyone who does not love does not know God, because God is love. (ESV)

> I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

> Philippians 2:13 - For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure (G2107 eudokias; good desire). (KJV)

The good deeds done in faith are not contrived as God provides (sets up) the deeds to do and works through the person who has faith in Jesus Christ. God would supply such deeds as in Matthew 25:31-40, but we should be obedient (with love for God; Psalms 81:15), giving thought to do what pleases God (Romans 12:17-21) ready to do those deeds (Titus 1:16, II Timothy 2:21). So we would recall, observe (Matthew 28:18-20), delight in (Romans 7:17-23) Jesus' commandments and apply them by faith in Jesus when the opportunity to do so presents itself (James 4:17), which could be right now as for many of Jesus' commandments, they can be applied from the heart immediately. Given Jesus' instructions in Matthew 5:38-48, we should apply them generally to bear with others in love and to not return evil for evil, turning the other cheek, loving those who hate us. God works through those who are having faith in Jesus:

> Galatians 3:5-7 - Does he who supplies the Spirit to you and works miracles among you do so by works of the law, or by hearing with faith— just as Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness? Know then that it is those of faith who are the sons of Abraham. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 16:10 - When Timothy comes, see that you put him at ease among you, for he is doing the work of the Lord, as I am. (ESV)

A person who is "from God", who has received Jesus Christ, having received God's testimony about His Son, overcomes the world:

> I John 4:1-3 - Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

> I John 4:4 - Little children, you are from God and have overcome them, for he who is in you is greater than he who is in the world. (ESV)

> John 16:30 - Now we know that you know all things and do not need anyone to question you; this is why we believe that you came from God. (ESV)

> John 20:21 - Jesus said to them again, Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, even so I am sending you. (ESV)

> John 3:34 - For he whom God has sent utters the words of God, for he gives the Spirit without measure. (ESV)

Being ”from God”, a person would have been ”sent from God”:

> John 7:29 - I know him, for I come from him, and he sent me. (ESV)
> I John 4:6 - We are from God. Whoever knows God listens to us; whoever is not from God does not listen to us. By this we know the Spirit of truth and the spirit of error. (ESV)
> John 13:20 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever receives the one I send receives me, and whoever receives me receives the one who sent me. (ESV)
> John 3:34 - For he whom God has sent utters the words of God, for he gives the Spirit without measure. (ESV)

Father God drawing a person to Jesus, that person being willing to come, and that person learning from Father God all happen at the same time.

A person who is being taught by Father God, comes to Jesus (John 6:45).

This person must be holding fast to what they hear. So as we learn from God’s word we need to hold fast to what we have heard:

> Matthew 13:9-15 - He who has ears, let him hear. Then the disciples came and said to him, Why do you speak to them in parables? And he answered them, To you it has been given to know the secrets of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it has not been given. For to the one who has, more will be given, and he will have an abundance, but from the one who has not, even what he has will be taken away. This is why I speak to them in parables, because seeing they do not see, and hearing they do not hear, nor do they understand. Indeed, in their case the prophecy of Isaiah is fulfilled that says: You will indeed hear but never understand, and you will indeed see but never perceive. For this people’s heart has grown dull, and with their ears they can barely hear, and their eyes they have closed, lest they should see with their eyes and hear with their ears and understand with their heart and turn, and I would heal them. (ESV)

We must be willing to come to Jesus:

> John 5:39-40 - You search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness about me, yet you refuse to come to me that you may have life. (ESV)

Jesus Christ is our High Priest who we must come to:

> Matthew 19:13-15 - Then children were brought to him that he might lay his hands on them and pray. The disciples rebuked the people, but Jesus said, Let the little children come to me and do not hinder them, for to such belongs the kingdom of heaven. And he laid his hands on them and went away. (ESV)
> Isaiah 53:6 - All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the LORD has laid on him the iniquity of us all. (ESV)
> Psalms 110:1,4 - The LORD says to my Lord: Sit at my right hand, until I make your enemies your footstool. A Psalm of David. The LORD has sworn and will not change his mind, You are a priest forever after the order of Melchizedek. (ESV)
> Hebrews 4:14-16 - Since then we have a great high priest who has passed through the heavens, Jesus, the Son of God, let us hold fast our confession. For we do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but one who in every respect has been tempted as we are, yet without sin. Let us then with confidence draw near to the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy and find grace to help in time of need. (ESV)

We need to love God's word to come to Jesus Christ the Son of God. We have faith in Jesus, learning from Him, to come to Him:

> John 3:20-21 - For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his deeds should be exposed. But whoever does what is true comes to the light, so that it may be clearly seen that his deeds have been carried out in God. (ESV)
> John 8:31-32 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed in him, If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free. (ESV)
> Luke 24:25,27,30-31,35 - And he said to them, O foolish ones, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken! And beginning with Moses and all the Prophets, he interpreted to them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himself. When he was at table with them, he took the bread and blessed and broke it and gave it to them. And their eyes were opened, and they recognized him. And he vanished from their sight. Then they told what had happened on the road, and how he was known to them in the breaking of the bread. (ESV)
> I John 4:6 - We are from God. Whoever knows God listens to us; whoever is not from God does not listen to us. By this we know the Spirit of truth and the spirit of error. (ESV)
> John 8:47 - Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God. (ESV)

They receive the seed of the word of God in them (Mark 4:14-20) which actually is the new person (I Peter 1:22-25). That seed grows up (Matthew 13:37-42) and the person gets born again, born of the spirit. But being born-again, they must continue holding their faith in Jesus Christ, and if they do so then they will never die.

The children of the devil believe lies from the devil and subsequently do the devil's will (John 8:31-47), rather than believe the words of God and subsequently do the will of God. Bad seed produces the weeds. Good seed produces good trees that bear good fruit for God:

> Matthew 13:24-30 - He put another parable before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a man who sowed good seed in his field, but while his men were sleeping, his enemy came and sowed weeds among the wheat and went away. So when the plants came up and bore grain, then the weeds appeared also. And the servants of the master of the house came and said to him, Master, did you not sow good seed in your field? How then does it have weeds? He said to them, An enemy has done this. So the servants said to him, Then do you want us to go and gather them? But he said, No, lest in gathering the weeds you root up the wheat along with them. Let both grow together until the harvest, and at harvest time I will tell the reapers, Gather the weeds first and bind them in bundles to be burned, but gather the wheat into my barn. (ESV)

The disciples here could understand Jesus' parables, but those people of the crowd who could not understand the parables could not understand. The more we believe and understand, the more will be able to believe and understand. So we need to hold fast God's word, retain it, and persevere with it and rebuke and refute those who contradict it:

> Matthew 13:9-15 - He who has ears, let him hear. Then the disciples came and said to him, Why do you speak to them in parables? And he answered them, To you it has been given to know the secrets of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it has not been given. For to the one who has, more will be given, and he will have an abundance, but from the one who has not, even what he has will be taken away. This is why I speak to them in parables, because seeing they do not see, and hearing they do not hear, nor do they understand. Indeed, in their case the prophecy of Isaiah is fulfilled that says: You will indeed hear but never understand, and you will indeed see but never perceive. For this people's heart has grown dull, and with their ears they can barely hear, and their eyes they have closed, lest they should see with their eyes and hear with their ears and understand with their heart and turn, and I would heal them. (ESV)

> Titus 1:9-14 - He must hold firm to the trustworthy word as taught, so that he may be able to give instruction in sound doctrine and also to rebuke those who contradict it. For there are many who are insubordinate, empty talkers and deceivers, especially those of the circumcision party. They must be silenced, since they are upsetting whole families by teaching for shameful gain what they ought not to teach. One of the Cretans, a prophet of their own, said, Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, lazy gluttons. This testimony is true. Therefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, not devoting themselves to Jewish myths and the commands of people who turn away from the truth. (ESV)

A person is born-again of the seed of the word of God, but the word is a seed until the person is born-again by that seed. So I guess that a person can be an ”unborn” child of God (i.e. the good seed) until they get born (Matthew 13:37-42):

> I Peter 1:23 - since you have been born again, not of perishable seed but of imperishable, through the living and abiding word of God; (ESV)

The field is the world, and so the the good soil (Luke 8:15) is from the world, but Father God takes a person from the world and gives them to Jesus (John 17:6).

No-one can come to Jesus Christ (believe in Him) unless Father God draws them (John 6:35-45,53-69) to Him. A person learning from Father God comes to Jesus Christ (John 6:44-45,64-65). So this person coming to Jesus Christ is someone who is believing and holding fast to the word of God as they do so, particularly Jesus Christ's words. Father God gave Jesus words to speak. So a person learning from Jesus Christ and retaining His wordo is coming to Him. Such a person, Jesus will never cast out:

> John 6:68 - Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life, (ESV)

> John 6:63 - It is the Spirit who gives life; the flesh is of no avail. The words that I have spoken to you are spirit and life. (ESV)

> Jn 6:37,44,64-65 - All that the Father gives me will come to me, and whoever comes to me I will never cast out. No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him. And I will raise him up on the last day. But there are some of you who do not believe. (For Jesus knew from the beginning who those were who did not believe, and who it was who would betray him.) And he said, This is why I told you that no one can come to me unless it is granted him by the Father. (ESV)

So the person who comes to Jesus is receiving the word of God and holding fast to what they have learned so far, and doing the word too, and should be rebuking those who contradict the word of God as they go, but not being hypocrites as they go, but actually doing the word in reality for God to see:

> James 1:22-24 - But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves. For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks intently at his natural face in a mirror. For he looks at himself and goes away and at once forgets what he was like. (ESV)

> Titus 1:9-14 - He must hold firm to the trustworthy word as taught, so that he may be able to give instruction in sound doctrine and also to rebuke those who contradict it. For there are many who are insubordinate, empty talkers and deceivers, especially those of the circumcision party. They must be silenced, since they are upsetting whole families by teaching for shameful gain what they ought not to teach. One of the Cretans, a prophet of their own, said, Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, lazy gluttons. This testimony is true. Therefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, not devoting themselves to Jewish myths and the commands of people who turn away from the truth. (ESV)

Hold fast to what we have attained already (Philippians 3:12-21), and continue integrating more of the truth, taking captive every thought for obedience to Christ Jesus, until one's obedience is complete (II Corinthians 10:5-6, Matthew 5:43-48), but continuing on also.

The one born of God who is seated with Christ in heavenly places (Ephesians 2:6), far from sinners (Hebrews 7:26), simultaneously agrees with and speaks the truth about Jesus Christ (I John 4:15, I John 4:3), and they love as commanded and they do not sin (I John 5:18). The one born of God is not a sinner by nature (I Peter 4:12-19, Ephesians 2:1-3, Ephesians 2:4-9).

> Ephesians 2:1-3 - And you were dead in the trespasses and sins in which you once walked, following the course of this world, following the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that is now at work in the sons of disobedience— among whom we all once lived in the passions of our flesh, carrying out the desires of the body and the mind, and were by nature children of wrath, like the rest of mankind. (ESV)
> Ephesians 2:4-9 - But God, being rich in mercy, because of the great love with which he loved us, even when we were dead in our trespasses, made us alive together with Christ—by grace you have been saved— and raised us up with him and seated us with him in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, so that in the coming ages he might show the immeasurable riches of his grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus. For by grace you have been saved through faith. And this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God, not a result of works, so that no one may boast. (ESV)
> Hebrews 7:26 - For it was indeed fitting that we should have such a high priest, holy, innocent, unstained, separated from sinners, and exalted above the heavens. (ESV)
> 1Jn 3:4,6,8,9 - Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. (ESV)
> I John 5:18 - We know that everyone who has been born of God does not keep on sinning, but he who was born of God protects him, and the evil one does not touch him. (ESV)

While in the flesh (Romans 7:16-20) there is a struggle with the flesh, but we still do need to be/become the one who is born of God, and so we should certainly strive to do this, abstaining from sin, overcomig evil with good, loving as commanded, abiding in the teaching of and about Jesus Christ. As a believer is holding their faith in Jesus Christ, coming to Jesus, they are retaining God's word, God's seed, and they will at some point (John 11:25-27) die and be born-again while they are believing and become the new person who has been born of the seed of the word of God. The good seed are the children of the Kingdom of God and the good plants which came from the good seed are the oaks of righteousness (Isaiah 61:3) who have been created in Christ Jesus for good works (Ephesians 2:1-10) and need to be bearers of good fruit. The seed needs to die (I Corinthians 15:36), a believer needs to get born-again at some point that they may bear fruit for God:

> II Corinthians 10:5-6 - We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, being ready to punish every disobedience, when your obedience is complete. (ESV)
> Romans 7:16-20 - Now if I do what I do not want, I agree with the law, that it is good. So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. (ESV)
> Romans 7:10-11 - The very commandment that promised life proved to be death to me. For sin, seizing an opportunity through the commandment, deceived me and through it killed me. (ESV)

A person who is good soil (Luke 8:15) is somebody of the world (John 17:6) which is the field (i.e. the world is the field). But this good soil from the world receives and hold fast the seed of the word of God (i.e. so they are a believer, treasuring the word of God) and eventually will bear good fruit for God. But we need to be born-again in order to bear fruit. So that person will get born-again as they are believing. So the good soil gets born-again of the good seed in order to bear fruit for God (Romans 7:1-12).

As Romans 7:1-12 describes, we need Jesus to be our Master (as opposed to Mosaic Law) in order to bear fruit for God. So the good soil believer of the field of the world, with indwelling sin empowered by the Law, dies due to the sin, but since they are a believer, they are born-again. They are baptized into Christ's death (Romans 6:3-8) and they are born-again.

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)

So a person needs to be both the good soil and have the seed of the word of God in them, and they need to be born-again of that seed in order to bear good fruit for God.

If a person is not a good soil believer (the rocky ground, or the path, or among thorns) then they won't continue on in faith to bearing good fruit (Luke 8:11-15). So then, a person can clearly be a believer for a while (Luke 8:11-15) and stop being a believer (John 8:31-47) but Jesus did instruct such people that if they abide (remain) in His word then they would become set free from sin.

And I doubt a person such a person had ever been "born-again", as a person who has been born-again has died and been aquitted (some translations say 'set free') from sin (Romans 6:6-8). A born-again person still does need to go on in faith in Jesus Christ to never die (John 11:25-27) and that means also not going back to sin (II Peter 2:20-22) and whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. A born-again person, if they go on as a believer they will never die.

But it's clearly possible for a person to be a believer for a while and not end up bearing fruit. A person needs to be born-again in order to bear fruit.

That a person may "fall away" from faith is evident again here in John 8:31-47. Here we can see that there were some Jews who had believed in Jesus Christ but who went on to then hate Jesus and so not believe, and so in not believing anymore the devil had taken the word of God from their heart (Luke 8:12-15). They then desired to do the devil's will. Jesus instructed them to continue in His word to become set free from sin:

> John 8:31-47 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed (G4100 pepisteukotas: having believed 'V-RPA-AMP past tense') in him, If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free. They answered him, We are offspring of Abraham and have never been enslaved to anyone. How is it that you say, You will become free? Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. I know that you are offspring of Abraham; yet you seek to kill me because my word finds no place in you. I speak of what I have seen with my Father, and you do what you have heard from your father. They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham's children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. Which one of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God. (ESV)

So we need to be a ”good soil believer” who is presently believing God’s word, in order to get born-again in order to bear good fruit for God in Christ:

> Romans 7:1-12 - Or do you not know, brothers—for I am speaking to those who know the law—that the law is master over a person as long as he lives? For the married woman has been bound by law to her husband while he is living, but if her husband dies, she is released from the law concerning the husband. So then, if while her husband is living she is joined to another man, she shall be called an adulteress. But if her husband dies, she is free from the law, so that she is not an adulteress though she is joined to another man. So, my brothers, you also were made to die to the Law through the body of Christ, so that you might be joined to another, to Him who was raised from the dead, in order that we might bear fruit for God. For while we were in the flesh, the sinful passions, which were aroused by the Law, were at work in our members to bear fruit for death. But now we have been released from the Law, having died to that by which we were constrained, so that we serve in newness of the Spirit and not in oldness of the letter. What shall we say then? Is the Law sin? May it never be! Rather, I would not have come to know sin except through the Law. For I would not have known about coveting if the Law had not said, “You shall not covet.” But sin, taking opportunity through the commandment, worked out in me coveting of every kind. For apart from the Law sin is dead. Now I was once alive apart from the Law, but when the commandment came, sin revived and I died; and this commandment, which was to lead to life, was found to lead to death for me. For sin, taking an opportunity through the commandment, deceived me and through it killed me. So, the Law is holy, and the commandment is holy and righteous and good. (LSB)

That person who is the good soil gets born again (John 11:25-27, I Peter 1:3) at some stage as they are believing (John 11:25-27) the word of God.

At some stage, a person will get born-again, but as a believer. I think then a person can have Christ dwelling in their heart (Ephesians 3:14-19), even before getting ”born-again” of the seed of the word of God that is in them.

Jesus Christ’s actual words are in a way a part of Him:

> John 6:63 - It is the Spirit who gives life; the flesh is of no avail. The words that I have spoken to you are spirit and life. (ESV)

> I John 5:10-13 - Whoever believes (G4100 pisteuōn - is believing (verb)) in the Son of God has the testimony in himself. Whoever does not believe God has made him a liar, because he has not believed in the testimony that God has borne concerning his Son. And this is the testimony, that God gave us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. Whoever has the Son has life; whoever does not have the Son of God does not have life. I write these things to you who believe in the name of the Son of God that you may know that you have eternal life. (ESV)

God makes us born-again of the spirit so that we can know that Jesus abides in us (I John 3:24), but I believe that Jesus, living inside a person’s heart by faith (Ephesians 3:14-19), is there before we even know, perhaps even before we are born-again of the spirit:

> I John 2:3-6 - And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

> I John 3:24 - Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

We need the spirit of Jesus Christ dwelling inside of us in order to belong to Him:

> Romans 8:1-17 - There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. To set the mind on the flesh (G4561 sarx) is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. For the mind that is set on the flesh (G4561 sarx) is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God's law; indeed, it cannot. Those who are in the flesh cannot please God. You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. But if Christ is in you, although the body is dead because of sin, the Spirit is life because of righteousness. If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you. So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh. For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. For all who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God. For you did not receive the spirit of slavery to fall back into fear, but you have received the Spirit of adoption as sons, by whom we cry, Abba! Father! The Spirit himself bears witness with our spirit that we are children of God, and if children, then heirs—heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ, provided we suffer with him in order that we may also be glorified with him. (ESV)

Someone who is learning from Father God, coming to Jesus, still belongs to Jesus:

> John 10:27 - My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me. (ESV)

> John 3:34 - For he whom God has sent utters the words of God, for he gives the Spirit without measure. (ESV)

> John 8:37 - I know that you are offspring of Abraham; yet you seek to kill me because my word finds no place in you. (ESV)

> John 8:40 - but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. (ESV)

> John 8:47 - Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God. (ESV)

> John 17:10-11 - All mine are yours, and yours are mine, and I am glorified in them. And I am no longer in the world, but they are in the world, and I am coming to you. Holy Father, keep them in your name, which you have given me, that they may be one, even as we are one. (ESV)

When they are born-again, they may know what has been freely given to them. A person needs to be born-again to be able to see the Kingdom of God:

> I Corinthians 2:7-14 - But we impart a secret and hidden wisdom of God, which God decreed before the ages for our glory. None of the rulers of this age understood this, for if they had, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory. But, as it is written, What no eye has seen, nor ear heard, nor the heart of man imagined, what God has prepared for those who love him— these things God has revealed to us through the Spirit. For the Spirit searches everything, even the depths of God. For who knows a person's thoughts except the spirit of that person, which is in him? So also no one comprehends the thoughts of God except the Spirit of God. Now we have received not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit who is from God, that we might understand the things freely given us by God. And we impart this in words not taught by human wisdom but taught by the Spirit, interpreting spiritual truths to those who are spiritual. The natural person does not accept the things of the Spirit of God, for they are folly to him, and he is not able to understand them because they are spiritually discerned. (ESV)

> John 3:3 - Jesus answered him, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born again he cannot see the kingdom of God. (ESV)

The good seed is the seed of the word of God which is the unborn child of God (who doesn't sin: I John 3:5-7, loves as commanded and agrees with the person and words and work of Jesus Christ, who is seated with Christ in heavenly places) who is planted in the good soil.

In other words, the ”good seed” is ”born of God” or rather the nature of the one ”born of God” is that of what the good seed becomes. The good seed is the word of God and is an unborn ”child of the Kingdom of God” that grows up to be a good plant (Matthew 13:24-30), a child of the Kingdom of God”.

This seed of God's is the seed by which a person gets born-again (I Peter 1:22-25) as they are believing in Jesus Christ, believing in God's word.

Father God gives people out of the world (i.e. good soil believers of God's word, believers of God's seed) to Jesus Christ His Son (His Word):

> John 17:6 - I have manifested your name to the people whom you gave me out of the world. Yours they were, and you gave them to me, and they have kept your word. (ESV)

> Matthew 13:38-43 - The field is the world, and the good seed is the children of the kingdom. The weeds are the sons of the evil one, and the enemy who sowed them is the devil. The harvest is the close of the age, and the reapers are angels. Just as the weeds are gathered and burned with fire, so will it be at the close of the age. The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of sin and all law-breakers (G458 anomian; wicked i.e. those who hate righteousness, those who prefer evil to > and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear. (ESV)

We need to hold fast to the word of God (Mark 4:14-20) and be fruitful (John 15:1-6, Luke 13:6-9). The word of God planted in good soil grows up bears good fruit:

> Luke 8:11-15 - Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God. The ones along the path are those who have heard. Then the devil comes and takes away the word from their hearts, so that they may not believe and be saved. And the ones on the rock are those who, when they hear the word, receive it with joy. But these have no root; they believe for a while, and in time of testing fall away. And as for what fell among the thorns, they are those who hear, but as they go on their way they are choked by the cares and riches and pleasures of life, and their fruit does not mature. As for that in the good soil, they are those who, hearing the word, hold it fast in an honest and good heart, and bear fruit with patience. (ESV)

> Luke 13:6-9 - And he told this parable: A man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit on it and found none. And he said to the vinedresser, Look, for three years now I have come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and I find none. Cut it down. Why should it use up the ground? And he answered him, Sir, let it alone this year also, until I dig around it and put on manure. Then if it should bear fruit next year, well and good; but if not, you can cut it down. (ESV)

> John 15:8 - By this my Father is glorified, that you bear much fruit and so prove to be my disciples. (ESV)

> John 8:31-47 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed (G4100 pepisteukotas: having believed ’V-RPA-AMP past tense’) in him, If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free. They answered him, We are offspring of Abraham and have never been enslaved to anyone. How is it that you say, You will become free? Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. > you. I speak of what I have seen with my Father, and you do what you have heard from your father. They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham's children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Why do you not understand what I say? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God. (ESV)

Jesus being separated from sinners (Hebrews 7:26) in the heavenly places certainly implies that the person who is born of God and seated in heavenly places in Christ Jesus is not a sinner in a very real sense (I Corinthians 6:11, Luke 6:34-36).

So the nature of the good seed (the children of the Kingdom) and the good plants (also children of the Kingdom) is that they agree with the person and work of Jesus Christ, and with Jesus Christ's words, and they love as commanded and they do not sin.

So a person who is "good seed in good soil" gets born-again and the born-again person's new nature is not to sin. The born-again person's new nature is to agree with the person of Jesus Christ who is God's beloved only-begotten and precious Son, and to love as commanded and to not sin.

A believer in Jesus Christ who is the "good seed in good soil" at some stage while they are believing dies and gets born-again in order to bear good fruit in Christ Jesus for God. And a born-again believer in Jesus Christ will never die. Notice how there is potentially a believer before and after getting born-again. A person gets born-again of the spirit at some point while they are believing in Jesus Christ:

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)

The fruit of the Spirit is the fruit of believing:

> Romans 15:13 - May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, so that by the power of the Holy Spirit you may abound in hope. (ESV)

The root matters (Mark 4:14-20). We must hold fast to the words of Jesus Christ, treasure them, love them (II Thessalonians 2:9-12, John 8:34-35,36,42,51, John 14:21-24).

> Ephesians 3:14-19 - For this reason I bow my knees before the Father, from whom every family in heaven and on earth is named, that according to the riches of his glory he may grant you to be strengthened with power through his Spirit in your inner being, so that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith — that you, being rooted and grounded in love, may have strength to comprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and height and depth, and to know the love of Christ that surpasses knowledge, that you may be filled with all the fullness of God. (ESV)

> John 14:21-24 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. Judas (not Iscariot) said to him, Lord, how is it that you will manifest yourself to us, and not to the world? Jesus answered him, If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me. (ESV)

We can't bear fruit for God without abiding in Jesus Christ (I John 2:3-6), and we must in Christ bear fruit for God:

> John 15:1-2 - I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinedresser. Every branch of mine that does not bear fruit he takes away, and every branch that does bear fruit he prunes, that it may bear more fruit. (ESV)
> John 15:6 - If anyone does not abide in me he is thrown away like a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire, and burned. (ESV)

A person can't have genuine faith in Jesus and be committing sin at the same time (Romans 14:23, Jeremiah 7:8-11, John 10:1, I John 3:4, I Peter 4:1-5):

> Mark 4:14-20 - The sower sows the word. And these are the ones along the path, where the word is sown: when they hear, Satan immediately comes and takes away the word that is sown in them. And these are the ones sown on rocky ground: the ones who, when they hear the word, immediately receive it with joy. And they have no root in themselves, but endure for a while; then, when tribulation or persecution arises on account of the word, immediately they fall away. And others are the ones sown among thorns. They are those who hear the word, but the cares of the world and the deceitfulness of riches and the desires for other things enter in and choke the word, and it proves unfruitful. But those that were sown on the good soil are the ones who hear the word and accept it and bear fruit, thirtyfold and sixtyfold and a hundredfold. (ESV)
> Matthew 13:24-30 - He put another parable before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a man who sowed good seed in his field, but while his men were sleeping, his enemy came and sowed weeds among the wheat and went away. So when the plants came up and bore grain, then the weeds appeared also. And the servants of the master of the house came and said to him, Master, did you not sow good seed in your field? How then does it have weeds? He said to them, An enemy has done this. So the servants said to him, Then do you want us to go and gather them? But he said, No, lest in gathering the weeds you root up the wheat along with them. Let both grow together until the harvest, and at harvest time I will tell the reapers, Gather the weeds first and bind them in bundles to be burned, but gather the wheat into my barn. (ESV)
> Luke 13:6-9 - And he told this parable: A man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit on it and found none. And he said to the vinedresser, Look, for three years now I have come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and I find none. Cut it down. Why should it use up the ground? And he answered him, Sir, let it alone this year also, until I dig around it and put on manure. Then if it should bear fruit next year, well and good; but if not, you can cut it down. (ESV)
> Luke 3:9 - Even now the axe is laid to the root of the trees. Every tree therefore that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. (ESV)
> John 15:1-6 - I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinedresser. Every branch of mine that does not bear fruit he takes away, and every branch that does bear fruit he prunes, that it may bear more fruit. Already you are clean because of the word that I have spoken to you. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit by itself, unless it abides in the vine, neither can you, unless you abide in me. I am the vine; you are the branches. Whoever abides in me and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. If anyone does not abide in me he is thrown away like a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire, and burned. (ESV)

> Mark 7:18-23 - And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him; Because it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meats? And he said, That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man. For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, Thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness: All these evil things come from within, and defile the man. (KJV)

> Isaiah 55:11 - so shall my word be that goes out from my mouth; it shall not return to me empty, but it shall accomplish that which I purpose, and shall succeed in the thing for which I sent it. (ESV)

> Isaiah 61:1-3 - The Spirit of the Lord GOD is upon me, because the LORD has anointed me to bring good news to the poor; he has sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to those who are bound; to proclaim the year of the LORD's favor, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all who mourn; to grant to those who mourn in Zion— to give them a beautiful headdress instead of ashes, the oil of gladness instead of mourning, the garment of praise instead of a faint spirit; that they may be called oaks of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that he may be glorified. (ESV)

Isaiah 61:3 (Interlinear) to appoint to mourners in Zion to give to them beauty instead of ashes the oil of joy instead of mourning a garment of praise instead of a spirit of dullness and will be called to them oaks (H352 'ê · lê) of righteousness (H6664 haṣ · ṣe · ḏeq,) the planting (H4302 maṭ · ṭa‘) of YHWH (H3068 Yah · weh) for His being glorified (H6286 lə · hiṯ · pā · 'êr.)

Jesus taught words from His Father, and so a person receiving Jesus and His words, or the words of God that have been spoken about Him, come to Jesus.

We need to have the "love of God" in us:

> John 5:37-42 - And the Father who sent me has himself borne witness about me. His voice you have never heard, his form you have never seen, and you do not have his word abiding in you, for you do not believe the one whom he has sent. You search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness about me, yet you refuse to come to me that you may have life. I do not receive glory from people. But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. (ESV)

It's not possible to come to Jesus by committing sin. We have to come to Jesus Christ is faith, and as it's by faith then it's not by committing sin. So we come to Jesus with sin, sure, but not by committing sin. It's not possible to believe unless drawn to Jesus by Father God but that isn't excuse not to "repent (change mind) and believe":

> John 6:44-45,64-65 - No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him. And I will raise him up on the last day. It is written in the Prophets, And they will all be taught by God. Everyone who has heard and learned from the Father comes to me— But there are some of you who do not believe. (For Jesus knew from the beginning who those were who did not believe, and who it was who would betray him.) And he said, This is why I told you that no one can come to me unless it is granted him by the Father. (ESV)

> I John 3:3-11 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)

> Mark 1:14-15 - Now after John was arrested, Jesus came into Galilee, proclaiming the gospel of God, and saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand; repent and believe in the gospel. (ESV)

We must have the love of God to receive Jesus. With the love of God in them, a person would love God's word and so they would love Jesus, and love Jesus' words:

> John 5:42-47 - But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. I have come in my Father's name, and you do not receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him. How can you believe, when you receive glory from one another and do not seek the glory that comes from the only God? Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father. There is one who accuses you: Moses, on whom you have set your hope. If you believed Moses, you would believe me; for he wrote of me. But if you do not believe his writings, how will you believe my words? (ESV)

> Luke 6:46-49 - Why do you call me Lord, Lord, and not do what I tell you? Everyone who comes to me and hears my words and does them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. And when a flood arose, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it, because it had been well built. But the one who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. When the stream broke against it, immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great. (ESV)

> Mark 13:31 - Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away. (ESV)

> John 1:1 - In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. (ESV)

> John 1:14 - And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we have seen his glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth. (ESV)

> I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

Father God drawing a person to Jesus coincides with a person being willing to come and having faith:

> John 5:40 - yet you refuse to come {not (G3756 ou) you are willing (G2309 thelete) to come (G2064 elthein)} to me that you may have life. (ESV)

> Jn 6:37,44,64-65 - All that the Father gives me will come to me, and whoever comes to me I will never cast out. No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him. And I will raise him up on the last day. But there are some of you who do not believe. (For Jesus knew from the beginning who those were who did not believe, and who it was who would betray him.) And he said, This is why I told you that no one can come to me unless it is granted him by the Father. (ESV)

God at some point in His Sovereign and wise plan, makes a person born again. This new birth I believe is being baptised into Jesus' death, and this purifies the heart, regenerating the spirit, killing the sin that was there, and empowers the person to practice righteousness from a position of being dead to sin:

> I Peter 1:3 - Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! According to his great mercy, he has caused us to be born again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, (ESV)

> Jude 1:20-21 - But you, beloved, build yourselves up in your most holy faith; pray in the Holy Spirit; keep yourselves in the love of God, waiting for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ that leads to eternal life. (ESV)

> I Peter 1:22-25 - Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, since you have been born again, not of perishable seed but of imperishable, through the living and abiding word of God; for All flesh is like grass and all its glory like the flower of grass. The grass withers, and the flower falls, but the word of the Lord remains forever. And this word is the good news that was preached to you. (ESV)

Water baptism is an appeal to God for a good conscience through the death and resurrection of Christ. So water baptism is an appeal to God to die and be reborn, born-again of the spirit, made new:

> I Peter 3:21 - Baptism, which corresponds to this, now saves you, not as a removal of dirt from the body but as an appeal to God for a good conscience, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, (ESV)

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)

This person is freed from compulsively committing evil deeds by the power that comes from having faith in Jesus Christ who is victorious over evil, Jesus Christ having condemned sin in the flesh. When someone is born-again / baptised into Christ's death it is especially necessary to consider oneself dead to sin.

If a person is from the love of the truth (I John 5:2) obeying God's commandment to have faith in Jesus Christ (I John 3:23-24), obedient now to Christ, then by the grace of God they no longer compulsively sin:

> Romans 6:6-8 - We know that our old self was crucified with him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin. For one who has died has been set free from sin. Now if we have died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him. (ESV)

> I John 5:2 - By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

Getting born-again does result in sin's power to enslave a person into doing evil deeds being taken away. Born-again people have the power to put to death the deeds of the flesh, and the power to abstain from sin, but they need to maintain their faith in Jesus as they do so, because they must walk by the spirit and not by the flesh. Sanctification does result in putting a total stop to the deeds of the flesh: whatever causes people to commit sin, to do evil deeds. Sometimes a born-again person might "sin" from a lapse of faith, but that doesn't mean they are totally enslaved to sin. If a person has been baptised into Christ's death, Jesus has the power to get that person to the point where they no longer sin. If they haven't totally turned their back on Jesus Christ then they still have Him as their advocate to Father God (I John 2:1-6).

If a person commits sin (John 8:34-35,36,42,51), then that means they're enslaved to sin in some way but it doesn't mean they always will be. If a person abstains from committing a sin, then they just "stopped sinning" in a way. If someone who has been born-again does sin, that doesn't mean that they can't ever stop sinning, because they can stop or be stopped as they continue to be cleaned as they confess sin (1 John 1:9) and as they walk in the light (I John 1:7), by faith and love for Jesus Christ.

> John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

> John 14:12 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)

> John 14:21-24 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. Judas (not Iscariot) said to him, Lord, how is it that you will manifest yourself to us, and not to the world? Jesus answered him, If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me. (ESV)

We've got to love Jesus rather than evil. Jesus cleans us so that we stop committing sin (Romans 8:5-13). That's sanctification. For sanctification and to inherit the Kingdom of God we must actually stop committing from a love of evil and be those who love God instead. This is true. But if a person does sin after getting born-again that doesn't mean that there will not be a point at which they will have got it under control. Now I think that because we can say that a believer, even a "sanctified" believer may "have" sin, that does not mean that they "commit" sin and it also does not mean that in having that sin that person's future is death (I John 5:16-17).

> John 8:34-35,36,42,51 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death. (ESV)

Journal <2026-08-26 Wed 15:13> I'd rather be mistreated with the people of God, than endorse false doctrine and lawlessness:

> Hebrews 11:24-25 - By faith Moses, when he was grown up, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter, choosing rather to be mistreated with the people of God than to enjoy the fleeting pleasures of sin. (ESV)

It's not possible to be simultaneously committing sin and having faith. If sin has been committed it has been from a lapse of faith:

> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

> I John 3:4 - Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. (ESV)

Having the right to become children of God means having the right to become someone who practices righteousness loving even their enemies. Through faith in Jesus Christ, a person is saved into becoming someone who loves and practices righteousness:

> Romans 3:12 - All have turned aside; together they have become worthless; no one does good, not even one. (ESV)

> John 1:12-13 - But to all who did receive him, who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God, who were born, not of blood nor of the will of the flesh nor of the will of man, but of God. (ESV)

> I John 3:8 - Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. (ESV)

> Luke 6:35 - But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing in return, and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, for he is kind to the ungrateful and the evil. (ESV)

> III John 1:11 - Beloved, do not imitate evil but imitate good. Whoever does good is from God; whoever does evil has not seen God. (ESV)

> Jeremiah 7:8-11 - Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit. Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not; And come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations? Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have seen it, saith the LORD. (KJV)

> John 10:1 - Truly, truly, I say to you, he who does not enter the sheepfold by the door but climbs in by another way, that man is a thief and a robber. (ESV)

> Psalms 101:7 - He who practices deceit shall not dwell within my house; He who speaks falsehood shall not maintain his position before me. (NASB)

> John 8:34-35,36,42,51 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death. (ESV)

> I John 3:6-18 - No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. We should not be like Cain, who was of the evil one and murdered his brother. And why did he murder him? Because his own deeds were evil and his brother's righteous. Do not be surprised, brothers, that the world hates you. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth. (ESV)

We need to continue trusting Jesus. It's not possible to simultaneously commit sin and have faith in Jesus Christ. So we must resist committing sin:

> Hebrews 3:12-19 - Take care, brothers, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God. But exhort one another every day, as long as it is called today, that none of you may be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. For we share in Christ, if indeed we hold our original confidence firm to the end. As it is said, Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion. For who were those who heard and yet rebelled? Was it not all those who left Egypt led by Moses? And with whom was he provoked for forty years? Was it not with those who sinned, whose bodies fell in the wilderness? And to whom did he swear that they would not enter his rest, but to those who were disobedient? So we see that they were unable to enter because of unbelief. (ESV)

A person with faith in Jesus Christ has the right to become a child of God. Entering the Kingdom of God requires being born-again, and as well as being born-again, a person is also required to not be sinning in order to enter the Kingdom of God.

> John 3:5 - Jesus answered, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God. (ESV)

> Matthew 7:21 - Not everyone who says to me, Lord, Lord, will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the one who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. (ESV)

Getting born-again sets a person free from former sin (II Peter 1:9, Romans 6:3-8). So if they want to enter into the Kingdom of God, they should put off the former self, and continue on doing the will of God.

> Acts 14:22 - strengthening the souls of the disciples, encouraging them to continue in the faith, and saying that through many tribulations we must enter the kingdom of God. (ESV)

> II Timothy 3:12 - Indeed, all who desire to live a godly life in Christ Jesus will be persecuted, (ESV)

> John 16:33 - I have said these things to you, that in me you may have peace. In the world you will have tribulation. But take heart; I have overcome the world. (ESV)

God makes us born-again because without being born-again it's not possible to see or enter the Kingdom of God. Being born-again, we still need to be practicing righteousness to enter the Kingdom of God, and are able to because former sin is cancelled. God raises people up.

> Luke 3:8 - Bear fruits in keeping with repentance. And do not begin to say to yourselves, We have Abraham as our father. For I tell you, God is able from these stones to raise up children for Abraham. (ESV)

> Jeremiah 7:8-11 - Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit. Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not; And come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations? > II Peter 2:19-22 - They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved. For if, after they have escaped the defilements of the world through the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, they are again entangled in them and overcome, the last state has become worse for them than the first. For it would have been better for them never to have known the way of righteousness than after knowing it to turn back from the holy commandment delivered to them. What the true proverb says has happened to them: The dog returns to its own vomit, and the sow, after washing herself, returns to wallow in the mire. (ESV)

I refuse to compromise on the truth of the Scripture to concoct a false humility just for the sake of self-preservation. Real faith is not cowardly, false and selfish, but is, rather, agreeing with God's word and loving God's word, in the fear of God. Real humility in the fear of God says the truth that is that God justifes those who have faith in Jesus as that is what the word of God says, even if one doesn't have confidence that they themself are pleasing God. A person who does not lift his eyes to heaven but beats their hand on their chest saying, "Have mercy, God, on me a sinner!" would confess that God justifies the one who has faith in Christ Jesus, and that what does not proceed from faith is sin, and may be terrified that God is not pleased with them because of their sinfullness.

> Nehemiah 1:5-6 - And I say, 'I beseech thee, O Jehovah, God of the heavens, God, the great and the fearful, keeping the covenant and kindness for those loving Him, and for those keeping His commands, let Thine ear be, I pray Thee, attentive, and Thine eyes open, to hearken unto the prayer of Thy servant, that I am praying before Thee to-day, by day and by night, concerning the sons of Israel Thy servants, and confessing concerning the sins of the sons of Israel, that we have sinned against Thee; yea, I and the house of my father have sinned; (YLT)

One way I think Satan probably opposes the gospel of Jesus is when people disbelieve Jesus Christ's words such as His teachings on practicing righteousness (For example, these teachings Luke 6:45, Matthew 13:37-42, I John 3:6).

A person with a satanic and false 'humility' instead of believing the words of Jesus Christ would deny that Jesus's teachings are still true for the Christian (because they have believed a lie/lies from the devil {i.e. doctrines of demons} and have not understood God's word) the deceived person might say, "We're all sinners, and nothing we can do can please God." And this type of false doctrine is utterly satanic, and pitted against the knowledge of God. It does not lead to producing good fruit.

> Jeremiah 7:8-11 - Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit. Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not; And come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations? Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have seen it, saith the LORD. (KJV)

Satanic and false 'humility' says the lie that God justifes the one who does not have faith in an attempt to give themself the rest rather than follow Jesus in love, faith and obedience and allow Jesus to give the rest. Satanic and false 'humility' tries to "steal the rest" like a thief would, to try to enter into the sheepfold "some other way", refusing to believe in Jesus Christ and His words, rather than to do the will of God in order to enter that rest:

> I John 3:5-7 - And ye know that he was manifested to take away our sins; and in him is no sin. Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither known him. Little children, let no man deceive you: he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous. (KJV)

> John 10:1 - Truly, truly, I say to you, he who does not enter the sheepfold by the door but climbs in by another way, that man is a thief and a robber. (ESV)
> Matthew 7:21 - Not everyone who says to me, Lord, Lord, will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the one who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. (ESV)

With real faith in God's actual word someone would not speak falsely of God's word, but would seek to convey faithfully the Scripture, out of the fear of God, entrusting their soul to God who is the faithful Creator while doing good, as Jesus Christ Himself did as an example for us to follow. I'm not saying Jesus is created (Father, Son and Holy Spirit are all Creator), but He is our example to follow. The Christian is called to walk by faith even against the opposition one might get. I've found that opposition can also come from people who are confessing unsound doctrine. The servant who is disobedient to God will receive a beating:

> Luke 12:47 - And that servant who knew his master's will but did not get ready (G2090 hetoimasas; having prepared) or act (G4160 poiēsas; having done) according to his will, will receive a severe beating. (ESV)
> I Peter 2:15-25 - For this is the will of God, that by doing good you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish people. Live as people who are free, not using your freedom as a cover-up for evil, but living as servants of God. Honor everyone. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the emperor. Servants, be subject to your masters with all respect, not only to the good and gentle but also to the unjust. For this is a gracious thing, when, mindful of God, one endures sorrows while suffering unjustly. For what credit is it if, when you sin and are beaten for it, you endure? But if when you do good and suffer for it you endure, this is a gracious thing in the sight of God. For to this you have been called, because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, so that you might follow in his steps. He committed no sin, neither was deceit found in his mouth. When he was reviled, he did not revile in return; when he suffered, he did not threaten, but continued entrusting himself to him who judges justly. He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed. For you were straying like sheep, but have now returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls. (ESV)

But there is one essential aspect of the Christian faith, that our God is a God who justifies the ungodly who have faith in Him. That speaks of repentance and faith. A person can't simultaneously be committing sin and having faith. But someone who has done evil might then repent (changes their mind) and out of faith in Jesus Christ, call out to God for mercy. God justifies ungodly people who have faith in Him.

Consider that in we in contrast to Jesus Christ, indeed all other humans, have sinned and fallen short of God's glory. But if a sinful person appeals to God for mercy, in faith then God may justify them. But also such a person does want to be healed to practice righteousness ('wash me thoroughly from my iniquity'). But we must continue in faith:

> Romans 4:4-6 - Now to the one who works (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment), his wages are not counted as a gift but as his due. And to the one who does not work (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment) but trusts him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is counted as righteousness, just as David also speaks of the blessing of the one to whom God counts righteousness apart from (G5565 chōris) works (G2041 ergōn): (ESV)

We must not be those who work ((G2038 ergazomenoi)) lawlessness:

I fast twice a week; I give tithes of all that I get. But the tax collector, standing far off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, God, be merciful to me, a sinner! I tell you, this man went down to his house justified, rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted. (ESV)

> John 8:11 - She said, No one, Lord. And Jesus said, Neither do I condemn you; go, and from now on sin no more.]] (ESV)

We need to go on in faith and not be rebels. Every day we come together we should be encouraging one-another to continue in faith in Jesus Christ (Hebrews 3:12-19):

> Ezra 8:22 - For I was ashamed to ask the king for a band of soldiers and horsemen to protect us against the enemy on our way, since we had told the king, The hand of our God is for good on all who seek him, and the power of his wrath is against all who forsake him. (ESV)

> Isaiah 65:11-12 - But you who forsake the LORD, who forget my holy mountain, who set a table for Fortune and fill cups of mixed wine for Destiny, I will destine you to the sword, and all of you shall bow down to the slaughter, because, when I called, you did not answer; when I spoke, you did not listen, but you did what was evil in my eyes and chose what I did not delight in. (ESV)

> Hebrews 3:12-19 - Take care, brothers, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God. But exhort one another every day, as long as it is called today, that none of you may be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. For we share in Christ, if indeed we hold our original confidence firm to the end. As it is said, Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion. For who were those who heard and yet rebelled? Was it not all those who left Egypt led by Moses? And with whom was he provoked for forty years? Was it not with those who sinned, whose bodies fell in the wilderness? And to whom did he swear that they would not enter his rest, but to those who were disobedient? So we see that they were unable to enter because of unbelief. (ESV)

The requirement to "not be committing sin" in order to enter the Kingdom of God remains. But with God it is possible for a person who commits sin to "stop sinning and enter the Kingdom of God". A person must be "born-again" (i.e. have died to sin when baptised into Christ) and not be sinning to enter the Kingdom of God. And a born-again person can be someone who walks by faith without committing sin, and so enter the Kingdom of God:

> Mark 10:21-27 - And Jesus, looking at him, loved him, and said to him, You lack one thing: go, sell all that you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me. Disheartened by the saying, he went away sorrowful, for he had great possessions. And Jesus looked around and said to his disciples, How difficult it will be for those who have wealth to enter the kingdom of God! And the disciples were amazed at his words. But Jesus said to them again, Children, how difficult it is to enter the kingdom of God! It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God. And they were exceedingly astonished, and said to him, Then who can be saved? Jesus looked at them and said, With man it is impossible, but not with God. For all things are possible with God. (ESV)

Journal <2026-08-30 Sun 14:50> When Jesus Christ chose his 12 Apostles, He chose ordinary people such as fishermen who went on to rely on God, and to make God their strength, rather than trust in earthly riches:

> Mark 10:21-24 - And Jesus, looking at him, loved him, and said to him, You lack one thing: go, sell all that you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me. Disheartened by the saying, he went away sorrowful, for he had great possessions. And Jesus looked around and said to his disciples, How difficult it will be for those who have wealth to enter the kingdom of God! And the disciples were amazed at his words. But Jesus said to them again, Children, how difficult it is to enter the kingdom of God! (ESV)

> Proverbs 11:28 - Whoever trusts in his riches will fall, but the righteous will flourish like a green leaf. (ESV)

Here, Peter in rebuking Jesus had his mind not set on the things of God, but rather Peter had his mind set on the things of man. Peter was walking by the flesh making the flesh His strength:

> Matthew 16:21-23 - From that time Jesus began to show his disciples that he must go to Jerusalem and suffer many things from the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and on the third day be raised. And Peter took him aside and began to rebuke him, saying, Far be it from you, Lord! This shall never happen to you. But he turned and said to Peter, Get behind me, Satan! You are a hindrance to me. For you are not setting your mind on the things of God, but on the things of man. (ESV)

Having their minds set on earthly things, the disciples were thinking of earthly solutions, making the flesh their strength:

> Luke 9:13 - But he said to them, You give them something to eat. They said, We have no more than five loaves and two fish—unless we are to go and buy food for all these people. (ESV)

> Luke 9:12-17 - Now the day began to wear away, and the twelve came and said to him, Send the crowd away to go into the surrounding villages and countryside to find lodging and get provisions, for we are here in a desolate place. But he said to them, You give them something to eat. They said, We have no more than five loaves and two fish—unless we are to go and buy food for all these people. For there were about five thousand men. And he said to his disciples, Have them sit down in groups of about fifty each. And they did so, and had them all sit down. And taking the five loaves and the two fish, he looked up to heaven and said a blessing over them. Then he broke the loaves and gave them to the disciples to set before the crowd. And they all ate and were satisfied. And what was left over was picked up, twelve baskets of broken pieces. (ESV)

> Mark 6:37-44 - But he answered them, You give them something to eat. And they said to him, Shall we go and buy two hundred denarii worth of bread and give it to them to eat? And he said to them, How many loaves do you have? Go and see. And when they had found out, they said, Five, and two fish. Then he commanded them all to sit down in groups on the green grass. So they sat down in groups, by hundreds and by fifties. And taking the five loaves and the two fish he looked up to heaven and said a blessing and broke the loaves and gave them to the disciples to set before the people. And he divided the two fish among them all. And they all ate and were satisfied. And they took up twelve baskets full of broken pieces and of the fish. And those who ate the loaves were five thousand men. (ESV)

So what we must do, rather, is walk by faith, making God our strength:

> Matthew 17:19-20 - Then the disciples came to Jesus privately and said, Why could we not cast it out? He said to them, Because of your little faith. For truly, I say to you, if you have faith like a grain of mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, Move from here to there, and it will move, and nothing will be impossible for you. (ESV)

> John 14:12 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)

A person repents into walking by faith, and this is faith in Yahweh (Jehovah), the Triune God, Father, Son (Jesus Christ, Word of God) and Holy Spririt, and His words:

> John 14:12 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)

> John 12:44-50 - And Jesus cried out and said, Whoever believes in me, believes not in me but in him who sent me. And whoever sees me sees him who sent me. I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge (G2919 krinō: do judge) him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world. The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. For I have not spoken on my own authority, but the Father who sent me has himself given me a commandment—what to say and what to speak. And I know that his commandment is eternal life. What I say, therefore, I say as the Father has told me. (ESV)

Is this Pharisee correct here (Luke 7:39) in saying the woman is a sinner? The woman is at that time worshiping Jesus Christ so in that sense I would say she is ”not a sinner” because I believe she is ”born of God” and from the love of Jesus Christ practicing righteousness (I John 4:7, I John 3:4,8,9) and is justified by faith in Jesus (Romans 4:4-6, Luke 7:50, Romans 3:29-30) and God knows her and she is by the grace of God now 'law-abiding' (Matthew 7:23, I Corinthians 8:3) to the law of faith (John 14:15) by faith in Christ Jesus:

> Luke 7:39 - Now when the Pharisee who had invited him saw this, he said to himself, If this man were a prophet, he would have known who and what sort of woman this is who is touching him, for she is a sinner. (ESV)

> I John 3:4,8,9 - Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. (ESV)

> Romans 6:11 - So you also must consider yourselves dead to sin and alive to God in Christ Jesus. (ESV)

> Romans 6:16-18 - Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. (ESV)

However, in the sense that we all fall short of the glory of God, and are not without sin (I John 1:8), and sometimes make mistakes (Romans 14:15, I John 1:9), one might call the woman (Luke 7:39) here a "sinner" (I Timothy 1:15) but certainly she is no longer a sinner by "default" (I John 3:4,8,9).

We can say that we formerly were practitioners of sinning while we were unbelievers but by the grace of God no longer:

> I Timothy 1:13 - though formerly I was a blasphemer, persecutor, and insolent opponent. But I received mercy because I had acted ignorantly in unbelief, (ESV)

> Romans 11:32,35 - For God has consigned all to disobedience, that he may have mercy on all. Or who has given a gift to him that he might be repaid? (ESV)

Humility bears with one-another in love:

> Ephesians 4:1-3 - I therefore, a prisoner for the Lord, urge you to walk in a manner worthy of the calling to which you have been called, with all humility and gentleness, with patience, bearing with one another in love, eager to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. (ESV)

Loving as God has commanded is humble:

> Zephaniah 2:3 - Seek the LORD, all you humble of the land, who do his just commands; seek righteousness; seek humility; perhaps you may be hidden on the day of the anger of the LORD. (ESV)

Journal <2026-06-26 Fri 10:23> Amongst harassing dreams I received this morning there was one interesting dream conversation in my sleep which was of a young person sitting outside a popular dairy (corner store) in Dunedin asking me about justification by faith. And I said "With humility", and he emoted, "Well there you go." / "Well that's your answer."

While this is true, I certainly do not think that keeping God's word is against humility at all. Keeping Jesus' commandments for God to see, seeking praise from God, this is not against humility. If somebody is self-commending, then sure, that's not humble. But good teaching would instruct people to be doers of the word, that we should do what God says in reality, and leave the commending to God.

But, yes, we should be humble and be seeking to please God who sees in secret when we pray in our heart and do His will from the heart.

> Matthew 18:4 - Whoever humbles himself like this child is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven. (ESV)

> James 4:10 - Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will exalt you. (ESV)

> Matthew 23:11-12 - The greatest among you shall be your servant. Whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be exalted. (ESV)
> Luke 18:13-14 - But the tax collector, standing far off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, God, be merciful to me, a sinner! I tell you, this man went down to his house justified, rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted. (ESV)
> Jeremiah 44:10 - They have not humbled themselves even to this day, nor have they feared, nor walked in my law and my statutes that I set before you and before your fathers. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 4:3-4 - But to me it is a very small thing that I may be examined by you, or by any human court; in fact, I do not even examine myself. For I am conscious of nothing against myself, yet I am not by this acquitted; but the one who examines me is the Lord. (NASB)

I do thank God for His salvation which He is working in me as I trust and obey Jesus Christ and may God have mercy on me as I hold the faith endeavouring to please Him with the fear of God. And may God pull down every stronghold of demonic doctrine which has been neutering Jesus Christ's gospel saying such things as we are not saved by obedience to Jesus Christ and that salvation is not inclusive of sanctification and that we ought not to have the fear of God nor the fear of Jesus nor need to have become practitioners of righteousness. Because the devil has been deceiving a lot of people through such doctrine. I pray that God crushes the devil and his lies under my feet.

> Matthew 11:28-30 - Come to me, all who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me, for I am gentle and lowly in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light. (ESV)
> John 6:45 - It is written in the Prophets, And they will all be taught by God. Everyone who has heard and learned from the Father comes to me— (ESV)
> Luke 6:46-49 - Why do you call me Lord, Lord, and not do what I tell you? Everyone who comes to me and hears my words and does them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. And when a flood arose, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it, because it had been well built. But the one who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. When the stream broke against it, immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great. (ESV)
> I John 2:3-6 - And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)
> II Corinthians 10:4-6 - For the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh but have divine power to destroy strongholds. We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, being ready to punish every disobedience, when your obedience is complete. (ESV)
> I John 3:14 - We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. (ESV)
> Ezekiel 37:12-14 - Therefore, prophesy, and thou hast said unto them, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I am opening your graves, And have brought you up out of your graves, O My people, And brought you in unto the land of Israel. And ye have known that I am Jehovah, In My opening > your graves, And in My bringing you up out of your graves, O My people. And I have given My Spirit in you, and ye have lived, And I have caused you to rest on your land, And ye have known that I Jehovah, I have spoken, and I have done it , An affirmation of Jehovah.' (YLT)

Having received forgiveness through faith in Jesus, we need to go on walking in godliness as we continue walking by faith in Jesus:

> I John 2:3-6 - And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

So the following is what I wanted to say about how a Christian ought to act when confronted with a situation where they are called to do good to/for/towards someone who is persecuting them. It's important for a Christian to maintain the awareness that they should not be self-commending as being righteous themself, and so a Christian should, similarly to the Apostle James suggested, be a doer rather than a judge (James 1:23, James 4:11), and like Jesus taught, listen and do what hypocrites who judge from the law instruct to do from the law, but not do what they themselves do, which is to judge in hypocrisy. With regards to God's commandments for them, the Christian should endeavour to be a doer of God's word in reality and at all times, rather than claim to have "done better" than someone else (II Corinthians 10:12).

> Matthew 23:2-4 - The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses' seat, so practice and observe whatever they tell you—but not what they do. For they preach, but do not practice. They tie up heavy burdens, hard to bear, and lay them on people's shoulders, but they themselves are not willing to move them with their finger. (ESV)

And, therefore, when a person is confronted with a situation where they are tempted to withhold doing good for their enemy from a belief that "they are in the right and their enemy is in the wrong" (say from the belief that because Jesus forgave them they are the righteous one in the situation and the other person is in the wrong) they should resist that temptation because to have faith in Jesus and have His righteousness in that situation involves keeping His commandments (Psalms 103:17-18) in that situation. And so, the righteousness that one has by faith in Jesus Christ is surely actively teaching us to do good generally rather than evil, as from a love of righteousness in their heart while not self-commending (i.e. not putting oneself in the position of being the righteous one with absolute certainty, because God is the one who sees the heart and commends faith), the person is entrusting themselves to God's judgement while endeavouring to do what would please God. So now it's easy to see that the one who truly believes in Jesus Christ also practices righteousness (John 14:12, I John 3:7) as Jesus did and walks like Jesus Himself walked (I John 2:4-6), and so the fear of God is retained (Malachi 1:6, Ephesians 6:9, John 15:14-17, Psalms 25:14) with a genuine faith in Jesus. They have a desire to do as God has commanded, a desire to do what pleases God, remembering to do what God commands for God to see (Psalms 103:17-18, John 14:21).

And when God sees, He remembers. The person may not know when they served Jesus' family in their hour of need. The Bible does teach to do good to all:

> Matthew 25:31-40 - When the Son of Man comes in his glory, and all the angels with him, then he will sit on his glorious throne. Before him will be gathered all the nations, and he will separate people one from another as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats. And he will place the sheep on his right, but the goats on the left. Then the King will say to those on his right, Come, you who are blessed by my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed me, I was naked and you clothed me, I was sick and you visited me, I was in prison and you came to me. Then the righteous will answer him, saying, Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink? And when did we see you a stranger and welcome you, or naked and clothe you? And when did we see you sick or in prison and visit you? And the King will answer them, Truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brothers, you did it to me.

> Luke 10:25-37 - And behold, a lawyer stood up to put him to the test, saying, Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? He said to him, What is written in the Law? How do you read it? And he answered, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind, and your neighbor as yourself. And he said to him, You have answered correctly; do this, and you will live. But he, desiring to justify himself, said to Jesus, And who is my neighbor? Jesus replied, A man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and he fell among robbers, who stripped him and beat him and departed, leaving him half dead. Now by chance a priest was going down that road, and when he saw him he passed by on the other side. So likewise a Levite, when he came to the place and saw him, passed by on the other side. But a Samaritan, as he journeyed, came to where he was, and when he saw him, he had compassion. He went to him and bound up his wounds, pouring on oil and wine. Then he set him on his own animal and brought him to an inn and took care of him. And the next day he took out two denarii and gave them to the innkeeper, saying, Take care of him, and whatever more you spend, I will repay you when I come back. Which of these three, do you think, proved to be a neighbor to the man who fell among the robbers? He said, The one who showed him mercy. And Jesus said to him, You go, and do likewise. (ESV)

Kindness doesn't aways come with conditions.

We must put off the mind of the former self which walked in sinful desire. We want to be "fruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ" to take hold of what is truly life:

> Romans 6:22 - But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life. (ESV)

> I Timothy 6:17-19 - As for the rich in this present age, charge them not to be haughty, nor to set their hopes on the uncertainty of riches, but on God, who richly provides us with everything to enjoy. They are to do good, to be rich in good works, to be generous and ready to share, thus storing up treasure for themselves as a good foundation for the future, so that they may take hold of that which is truly life. (ESV)

> II Peter 1:3-9 - His divine power has granted to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of him who called us to his own glory and excellence, by which he has granted to us his precious and very great promises, so that through them you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world because of sinful desire. For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins. (ESV)

> I Timothy 1:5-7 - The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. Certain persons, by swerving from these, have wandered away into vain discussion, desiring to be teachers of the law, without understanding either what they are saying or the things about which they make confident assertions. (ESV)

- Ecclesiastes 5:9-13

We must have changed to walk in the love of the truth rather than in the love of evil (sinful desire):

> Romans 8:5-13 - For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. To set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God's law; indeed, it cannot. Those who are in the flesh cannot please God. You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. But if Christ is in you, although the body is dead because of sin, the Spirit is life because of righteousness. If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you. So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh. For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. (ESV)

Romans 1:18-25 - For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who by their unrighteousness suppress the truth. For what can be known about God is plain to them, because God has shown it to them. For his invisible attributes, namely, his eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly perceived, ever since the creation of the world, in the things that have been made. So they are without excuse. For although they knew God, they did not honor him as God or give thanks to him, but they became futile in their thinking, and their foolish hearts were darkened. Claiming to be wise, they became fools, and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images resembling mortal man and birds and animals and reptiles. Therefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts to impurity, to the dishonoring of their bodies among themselves, because they exchanged the truth about God for a lie and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever! Amen. (ESV)

Romans 1:26-32 - For this reason God gave them up to dishonorable passions. For their women exchanged natural relations for those that are contrary to nature; and the men likewise gave up natural relations with women and were consumed with passion for one another, men committing shameless acts with men and receiving in themselves the due penalty for their error. And since they did not see fit to acknowledge God, God gave them up to a debased mind to do what ought not to be done. They were filled with all manner of unrighteousness, evil, covetousness, malice. They are full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, maliciousness. They are gossips, slanderers, haters of God, insolent, haughty, boastful, inventors of evil, disobedient to parents, foolish, faithless, heartless, ruthless. Though they know God's decree that those who practice such things deserve to die, they not only do them but give approval to those who practice them. (ESV)

Romans 2:1-13 - Therefore you have no excuse, O man, every one of you who judges. For in passing judgment on another you condemn yourself, because you, the judge, practice the very same things. We know that the judgment of God rightly falls on those who do such things. Do you suppose, O man—you who judge those who do such things and yet do them yourself—that you will escape the judgment of God? Or do you presume on the riches of his kindness and forbearance and patience, not knowing that God's kindness is meant to lead you to repentance? But because of your hard and impenitent heart you are storing up wrath for yourself on the day of wrath when God's righteous judgment will be revealed. He will render to each one according to his works: to those who by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, he will give eternal life; but for those who are self-seeking and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, there will be wrath and fury. There will be tribulation and distress for every human being who does evil, the Jew first and also the Greek, but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does good, the Jew first and also the Greek. For God shows no partiality. For all who have sinned without the law will also perish without the law, and all who have sinned under the law will be judged by the law. For it is not the hearers of the law who are righteous before God, but the doers of the law who will be justified. (ESV)

Proverbs 11:19 - Whoever is steadfast in righteousness will live, but he who pursues evil will die. (ESV)

John 1:6-7 - There came a man sent from God, whose name was John. He came as a witness, to testify about the Light, so that all might believe through him.

> III John 1:11 - Beloved, do not imitate evil but imitate good. Whoever does good is from God; whoever does evil has not seen God. (ESV)

> John 6:40-65 - For this is the will of my Father, that everyone who looks on the Son and believes in him should have eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. So the Jews grumbled about him, because he said, I am the bread that came down from heaven. They said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How does he now say, I have come down from heaven? Jesus answered them, Do not grumble among yourselves. No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him. And I will raise him up on the last day. It is written in the Prophets, And they will all be taught by God. Everyone who has heard and learned from the Father comes to me—not that anyone has seen the Father except he who is from God; he has seen the Father. Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes has eternal life. I am the bread of life. Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, and they died. This is the bread that comes down from heaven, so that one may eat of it and not die. I am the living bread that came down from heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever. And the bread that I will give for the life of the world is my flesh. The Jews then disputed among themselves, saying, How can this man give us his flesh to eat? So Jesus said to them, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you have no life in you. Whoever feeds on my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. For my flesh is true food, and my blood is true drink. Whoever feeds on my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me, and I in him. As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so whoever feeds on me, he also will live because of me. This is the bread that came down from heaven, not as the fathers ate and died. Whoever feeds on this bread will live forever. Jesus said these things in the synagogue, as he taught at Capernaum. When many of his disciples heard it, they said, This is a hard saying; who can listen to it? But Jesus, knowing in himself that his disciples were grumbling about this, said to them, Do you take offense at this? Then what if you were to see the Son of Man ascending to where he was before? It is the Spirit who gives life; the flesh is of no avail. The words that I have spoken to you are spirit and life. But there are some of you who do not believe. (For Jesus knew from the beginning who those were who did not believe, and who it was who would betray him.) And he said, This is why I told you that no one can come to me unless it is granted him by the Father. (ESV)

Being a sinner isn't in itself what justifies a person. In fact, quite the opposite. To be a sinner is to be someone who acts without faith. What is not done in faith is sin.

And God justifies those who have faith, even ungodly people who have faith (i.e. people who have not yet brought holiness to completion in the fear of God).

> II Corinthians 6:14-18,7:1 - Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what partnership has righteousness with lawlessness? Or what fellowship has light with darkness? What accord has Christ with Belial? Or what portion does a believer share with an unbeliever? What agreement has the temple of God with idols? For we are the temple of the living God; as God said, I will make my dwelling among them and walk among them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Therefore go out from their midst, and be separate from them, says the Lord, and touch no unclean thing; then I will welcome you, and I will be a father to you, and you shall be sons and daughters to me, says the Lord Almighty. Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God. (ESV)

God calls sinners to repentance. To repent is to change ones mind away from not having faith, to then having faith. A sinner who repents is someone who has faith now, and that's the type of person who is justified, the person who has faith:

> Luke 5:31-32 - And Jesus answered them, Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick. I have not come to call the righteous but sinners to repentance. (ESV)

Repenting again:

> Acts 3:18-21 - But what God foretold by the mouth of all the prophets, that his Christ would suffer, he thus fulfilled. Repent therefore, and turn again, that your sins may be blotted out, that times of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord, and that he may send the Christ appointed for you, Jesus, whom heaven must receive until the time for restoring all the things about which God spoke by the mouth of his holy prophets long ago. (ESV)

So having faith in God who justifies the ungodly, their faith is counted as righteousness. So we are talking about someone who has up until this point of coming to faith, has been ungodly, and they have recognised the fact that they have been ungodly, but in this moment they have faith in God and also they recognise their ungodliness. Someone who has not yet brought holiness to completion in the fear of God is in some way ”ungodly”. But that doesn't mean that they do not have faith. But we do need to bring holiness to completion, because ”the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who by their unrighteousness suppress the truth”:

> Romans 4:4-6 - Now to the one who works (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment), his wages are not counted as a gift but as his due. And to the one who does not work (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment) but trusts him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is counted as righteousness, just as David also speaks of the blessing of the one to whom God counts righteousness apart from (G5565 chōris) works (G2041 ergōn): (ESV)

> Romans 1:18-25 - For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who by their unrighteousness suppress the truth. For what can be known about God is plain to them, because God has shown it to them. For his invisible attributes, namely, his eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly perceived, ever since the creation of the world, in the things that have been made. So they are without excuse. For although they knew God, they did not honor him as God or give thanks to him, but they became futile in their thinking, and their foolish hearts were darkened. Claiming to be wise, they became fools, and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images resembling mortal man and birds and animals and reptiles. Therefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts to impurity, to the dishonoring of their bodies among themselves, because they exchanged the truth about God for a lie and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever! Amen. (ESV)

That Abraham's faith was counted as righteousness is partly because Abraham continued in faith. It's important to continue in faith:

> Romans 4:18-22 - In hope against hope he believed, so that he might become a father of many nations according to that which had been spoken, “So shall your seed be.” And without becoming weak in faith he contemplated his own body, now as good as dead since he was about a hundred years old, and the deadness of Sarah's womb; yet, with respect to the promise of God, he did not waver in unbelief but grew strong in faith, giving glory to God, and being fully assured that what God had promised, He was able also to do. Therefore it was also counted to him as righteousness. (LSB)

As far as partaking in this promise given to Abraham, we need to be those who have faith in Jesus Christ:

> Romans 4:23-25 - Now not for his sake only was it written that it was counted to him, but for our sake also, to whom it will be counted, as those who believe upon Him who raised Jesus our Lord from the dead, He who was delivered over on account of our transgressions, and was raised on account of our justification. (LSB)

So we need a faith that is from the love for the truth, the love for Jesus Christ, abiding in His commandments, not being a slave to sin, but being a slave to Christ Jesus, which is still being a slave to righteousness, practicing righteousness:

> John 8:34-35,36,42,51 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death. (ESV)
> James 2:5 - Listen, my beloved brothers, has not God chosen those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom, which he has promised to those who love him? (ESV)
> I John 2:3-6 - And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

Where it says in Romans 4:18 that in hope against hope Abraham believed in the promise, the Christian hopes in Jesus Christ to partake in the promise of Abraham. And the one who hopes in Jesus Christ purifies Himself and doesn't make a practice of sinning. Hoping in Jesus Christ surely then involves loving one another. So then, people who think they have some kind of right to enter the Kingdom of God (rather than to simply abide in Jesus Christ's commandments with the hope of entering) are deluded:

> I John 3:3-11 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)

We've got to love love-another and resist sin and fulfill the law of Christ:

> Galatians 6:1-2 - Brothers, if anyone is caught in any transgression, you who are spiritual should restore him in a spirit of gentleness. Keep watch on yourself, lest you too be tempted. Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ. (ESV)

If you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. So then there are probably a lot of people who might claim they are not under the law, but actually are under the law because they're not being led by the Spirit. So we should "by faith obey Jesus Christ" (and be obedient and 'ready for every good work', not relying on being able to execute perfect deeds, but certainly endeavouring to love in deed out of a sincere love for God). And as we are led by the Spirit the law can't condemn us. If a person is genuinely endeavouring to do as Christ commanded out of faith, then when a deed isn't executed perfectly, Satan might try to condemn based on the exterior appearance, but God sees the heart:

> Galatians 5:18-25 - But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. Now the works of the flesh are evident: sexual immorality, impurity, sensuality, idolatry, sorcery, enmity, strife, jealousy, fits of anger, rivalries, dissensions, divisions, envy, drunkenness, orgies, and things like these. I warn you, as I warned you before, that those who do such things will not inherit the kingdom of God. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control; against such things there is no law. And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. If we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit. (ESV)

II Corinthians 5:9-12 - So whether we are at home or away, we make it our aim to please him. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil. Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. We are not commending ourselves to you again but giving you cause to boast about us, so that you may be able to answer those who boast about outward appearance and not about what is in the heart. (ESV)

II Timothy 2:3-4 - Share in suffering as a good soldier of Christ Jesus. No soldier gets entangled in civilian pursuits, since his aim is to please the one who enlisted him. (ESV)

Matthew 6:3-4,6,17-18 - But when you give to the needy, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing, so that your giving may be in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you. But when you pray, go into your room and shut the door and pray to your Father who is in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you. But when you fast, anoint your head and wash your face, that your fasting may not be seen by others but by your Father who is in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you. (ESV)

youtube.com: Walking in The Spirit {@ BrotherMikeMcGary } @time: 4 min 39 sec The kingdom of God is me putting myself under his rule doing what he tells us to do. If he says do not steal and I steal, I'm taking myself out from under the present, out from under the rule of God and I'm doing what I want to do in my mind, will and emotions or whatever. So being in obedience, Paul called it walking in the spirit. Doing the thing in the walking in the spirit, doing the things of the spirit, being led by the spirit.

And we're going to read that here in chapter 8. But [clears throat] here's the thing about it, right? So this first verse in particular, and I'm trying not to get hung up on this, um, but how many times have we heard it preached, there's now no therefore no condemnation of those who are in Christ Jesus. Yeah, 100%. That's correct. But yet you're living over here in disobedience and saying, "Oh, there's no condemnation." And then, well, yeah, there's condemnation because you're not where you're supposed to be.

Being "made alive" is a gift that is gifted to us to save us from being enslaved to sin. This grace saves us:

Ephesians 2:1-10 - And you were dead in the trespasses and sins in which you once walked, following the course of this world, following the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that is now at work in the sons of disobedience— among whom we all once lived in the passions of our flesh, carrying out the desires of the body and the mind, and were by nature children of wrath, like the rest of mankind. But God, being rich in mercy, because of the great love with which he loved us, even when we were dead in our trespasses, made us alive together with Christ—by grace you have been saved— and raised us up with him and seated us with him in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, so that in the coming ages he might show the immeasurable riches of his grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus. For by grace you have been saved through faith. And this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God, not a result of works, so that no one may boast. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand, that we should walk in them. (ESV)

We were children of wrath (those who are on the way to receiving the wrath of God) by nature before getting made alive. Someone who is born-again is not a sinner by nature. We don't want to be children of wrath by choice (rather than by nature) after getting born-again, so as we live by the spirit we should walk by the spirit:

II Peter 1:3-11 - His divine power has granted to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of him who called us to his own glory and excellence, by which he has granted to us his precious and very great promises, so that through them you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world because of sinful desire. For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins. Therefore, brothers, be all the more diligent to make your calling and election sure, for if you practice these qualities you will never fall. For in this way there will be richly provided for you an entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. (ESV)

Jude 1:3-8 - Beloved, although I was very eager to write to you about our common salvation, I found it necessary to write appealing to you to contend for the faith that was once for all delivered to the saints. For certain people have crept in unnoticed who long ago were designated for this condemnation, ungodly people, who pervert the grace of our God into sensuality and deny our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ. Now I want to remind you, although you once fully knew it, that Jesus, who saved a people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed those who did not believe. And the angels who did not stay within their own position of authority, but left their proper dwelling, he has kept in eternal chains under gloomy darkness until the judgment of the great day— just as Sodom and Gomorrah and the surrounding cities, which likewise indulged in sexual immorality and pursued unnatural desire, serve as an example by undergoing a punishment of eternal fire. Yet in like manner these people also, relying on their dreams, defile the flesh, reject authority, and blaspheme the glorious ones. (ESV)

Jude 1:14-18 - It was also about these that Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saying, Behold, the Lord came with ten thousands of his holy ones, to execute judgment on all and to convict all the ungodly of all their deeds of ungodliness that they have committed in such an ungodly way, and of all the harsh things that ungodly sinners have spoken against him. These are grumblers, malcontents, following their own sinful desires; they are loud-mouthed boasters, showing favoritism to gain advantage. But you must remember, beloved, the predictions of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ. They said to you, In the last time there will be scoffers, following their own ungodly passions. (ESV)

youtube.com: Can a TRUE Christian Still Struggle With Sin ? The Bible Is Clear {@ Marcusdixon1clip

I commented,

I’m not infallible, but this is how I understand this to work.

”Born of God” is the person who is seated in heavenly places with Christ. Hebrews says Jesus is in the heavenly places far from sinners. The one born of God doesn’t sin, and loves as commanded and confesses the truth about Jesus Christ who is the Son of God. But in Romans 7 Paul says that if he desires to do the right thing but doesn’t do what he wants then it is not him who does it, but sin which dwells in his flesh.

The Paul who is born of God isn’t a sinner. But the sin which dwelt in Paul’s flesh was doing the bad deeds rather than Paul when Paul was desiring to do what is right but failing to do it.

If someone says to another person that they are the one who is born of God, then they are commending themself instead of leaving the justifying to God because they’d essentially be saying to others that God is pleased with them in this moment.

Jesus says the good seed are the children of the Kingdom. Peter says we are born-again of the seed of the word of God. Jesus says the seed needs to die to bear fruit (John 12:24). We need to be ”born-again to bear fruit”, and so this seed dying I think coincides with getting born-again. The good soil is still a believer.

And the good soil is someone who receives the word. We need to be a believer to get born-again. And need to go on as a believer after being born-again.

John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)

The good seed, the word of God, is a child of the Kingdom.

A person who is good soil (Luke 8:15) is somebody of the world (John 17:6) which is the field (i.e. the world is the field). But this good soil from the world receives and hold fast the seed of the word of God (i.e. so they are a believer, treasuring the word of God) and eventually will bear good fruit for God. But we need to be born-again in order to bear fruit. So that person will get born-again as they are believing. So the good soil gets born-again of the good seed in order to bear fruit for God (Romans 7:1-12).

So I think the good seed is the new person (unborn) and the good soil is the old person, and then the good seed dies and turns into a plant and the person becomes the plant, they get born again. Their new nature is then one of a child of the Kingdom. The person's new nature is to love as commanded, to not sin, and also to agree with and confess the truth about Jesus Christ.

As Romans 7:1-12 describes, we need Jesus to be our Master (as opposed to Mosaic Law) in order to bear fruit for God. So the good soil believer of the field of the world, with indwelling sin empowered by the Law, dies due to the sin, but since they are a believer, they are born-again. They are baptized into Christ's death (Romans 6:3-8) and they are born-again.

A born-again of the spirit person has been reborn spiritually from that good seed but still carries around the sinful flesh.

The sinful flesh also needs to die for the person to receive their resurrection body later, or if they are raptured alive.

A person who is "the good soil" is a believer. Jesus said the field is the world. And in John 17, Jesus said His Father gave people to him from out of the world. So the good soil receives the seed of the word of God and then they get born again.

A believer gets born again. A believer needs to be born-again in order to bear good fruit for God. Jesus said whoever is believing in Him, even though they die, they will live and whoever lives and believes in Him will never die.

So if a born-again person continues on as a believer then they will not die again.

While in the sinful flesh, there will be a battle with sin, I'd imagine. But a person who has been born-again of the spirit is not by nature a sinner anymore, by the grace of God. The believer who has not been born-again is still a sinner by nature.

John 8:31-47 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed (G4100 pepisteukotas: having believed 'V-RPA-AMP past tense') in him, If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free. They answered him, We are offspring of Abraham and have never been enslaved to anyone. How is it that you say, You will become free? Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. I know that you are offspring of Abraham; yet you seek to kill me because my word finds no place in you. I speak of what I have seen with my Father, and you do what you have heard from your father. They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham's children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. Which one of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God. (ESV)

> I pointed John 8:31-47 to say that a person who has believed at some point still may not have been ”born-again” yet. Because getting born-again, a person is baptised into Christ’s death and their old self is crucified and they died to sin.
> So I think a believer will at some point die as they are believing. I think this may be what Paul was talking about when he said that when the commandment came, sin came alive and I died. But for the believer, if they die, then they will live, as Jesus has said. And a living (born-again of the spirit) person who continues on in faith in Jesus Christ will never die.
> Jesus said whoever believes in Him will do the deeds He did, and Jesus didn’t sin. So a believer who is struggling with sin before getting born-again will at some stage get born again so they can bear good fruit for God, good deeds done in faith rather than committing sin. But even a born-again person may be struggling with the sinful flesh.
> And water baptism being an appeal to God for a good conscience through Jesus Christ’s resurrection, if the person has not been born-again yet then it’s also appealing to God to be born-again.

People perish for lack of knowledge, knowledge that necessitates love for the truth:

> Deuteronomy 30:17 - But if your heart turns away, and you will not hear, but are drawn away to worship other gods and serve them, (ESV)

> I John 4:8,19-21 - Anyone who does not love does not know God, because God is love. We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

Jesus loved us first. But we must go on in love for our family in Christ to abide (remain) in Christ:

> John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)

> I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

> I John 3:14 - We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. (ESV)

Where the Bible says "people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil", it's saying that these people who have evil deeds (for example, Cain) have done them from the love of evil (Proverbs 21:27). But people who do good deeds do them in love for the truth. We must be those who do their deeds from the love of the truth rather than from the love of evil:

> John 3:17-21 - For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him. Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his deeds should be exposed. But whoever does (G4160 poiōn; doing) what is true comes to the light, so that it may be clearly seen that his deeds have been carried out in God. (ESV)

> I John 3:6-18 - No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. We should not be like Cain, who was of the evil one and murdered his brother. And why did he murder him? Because his own deeds were evil and his brother's righteous. Do not be surprised, brothers, that the world hates you. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth. (ESV)

> III John 1:11 - Beloved, do not imitate evil but imitate good. Whoever does good is from God; whoever does evil has not seen God. (ESV)

There was a point where our default behaviour was to sin because at that time we did not prefer Jesus Christ to evil:

> Romans 5:8 - but God shows his love for us in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us. (ESV)

> Acts 26:16-18 - But rise and stand upon your feet, for I have appeared to you for this purpose, to appoint you as a servant and witness to the things in which you have seen me and to those in which I will appear to you, delivering you from your people and from the Gentiles—to whom I am sending you to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me. (ESV)

The way of the righteous is to trust and obey God, and from heart and mind. By faith obeying God, obeying God's word, by faith obeying Jesus Christ, is the way in which a person is justified in Christ:

> I Peter 2:6-8 - For it stands in Scripture: Behold, I am laying in Zion a stone, a cornerstone chosen and precious, and whoever believes in him will not be put to shame. So the honor is for you who believe, but for those who do not believe, The stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone, and A stone of stumbling, and a rock of offense. They stumble because they disobey the word, as they were destined to do. (ESV)

> John 14:1 - "Do not let your heart be troubled; believe in God, believe also in Me.

> II Corinthians 10:5-6 - We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, being ready to punish every disobedience, when your obedience is complete. (ESV)

> Proverbs 18:2 - A fool takes no pleasure in understanding, but only in expressing his opinion. (ESV)

> I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

> I John 2:5 - but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: (ESV)

Walking righteously, a person would not be inventing wicked thoughts. Rather, the righteous may, for example, be thinking of ways to please God with the willing intention (G2309 ēthelēsan) of maybe doing something hoping to please God in their actions out of faith in God's word.

blueletterbible.org: G2309 - thelo - Strong's Greek Lexicon {KJV} To will, have in mind, intend: 1) to be resolved or determined, to purpose, 2) to desire, to wish, 3) to lovew to like to do a thing, be fond of doing, 4) to take delight in, have pleasure

Acts 7:39 (Interlinear) to whom not were willing (G2309 ēthelēsan) obedient (G5255 hypēkooi) to be the fathers of us but thrust [him] away (G683 apōsanto) and turned back (G4762 estraphēsan) in the hearts of them to Egypt

But the wicked devise evil thoughts, evil plans, etc. The mind of the wicked is not by faith obeying God's word:

> Psalms 37:32 - The wicked watches for the righteous and seeks to put him to death. (ESV)

> John 3:17-21 - For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him. Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his deeds should be exposed. But whoever does (G4160 poiōn; doing) what is true comes to the light, so that it may be clearly seen that his deeds have been carried out in God. (ESV)

Jesus being separated from sinners (Hebrews 7:26) in the heavenly places certainly implies that the person who is born of God and seated in heavenly places in Christ Jesus is not a sinner in a very real sense (I Corinthians 6:11, Luke 6:34-36).

A person who is "law of faith"-abiding (John 14:15, Romans 3:27, I Corinthians 9:21, Matthew 13:41) to Christ Jesus is someone who "loves the Truth", and thus is walking by the Spirit rather than in the love of evil.

> I Corinthians 10:3-4 - and all ate the same spiritual food, and all drank the same spiritual drink. For they drank from the spiritual Rock that followed them, and the Rock was Christ. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 10:6,11 - Now these things took place as examples for us, that we might not desire evil as they did. Now these things happened to them as an example, but they were written down for our instruction, on whom the end of the ages has come. (ESV)

All people produce deeds whether good or evil (Ecclesiastes 12:13-14), but when a person's deeds are done in faith that loves the truth, they are then exercising faith working/deeding through love. Practicing wickedness comes from a love for evil (Isaiah 55:6-7, Matthew 15:19, Matthew 23:26). And in having a heart that produces good deeds because we love the truth (Jesus, God's Word, even His law), we have freedom.

The person who is born of God has stopped "committing sin" (I John 3:4,8,9) in the sense that this new beginning of repentance and faith (Hebrews 6:1) has been obedience to God (Romans 10:14-21) rather than sin and going on they must continue on in faith, in the love of the truth, obeying righteousness (I John 3:4,8,9). The person born of God doesn't commit sin (I John 5:18). The person born of God is also not the sin in their flesh (Romans 7:17-23).

> Romans 7:17-23 - and now it is no longer I that work it, but the sin dwelling in me, for I have known that there doth not dwell in me, that is, in my flesh, good: for to will is present with me, and to work that which is right I do not find, for the good that I will, I do not; but the evil that I do not will, this I > practise. And if what I do not will, this I do, it is no longer I that work it, but the sin that is dwelling in me. I find, then, the law, that when I desire to do what is right, with me the evil is present, for I delight in the law of God according to the inward man, and I behold another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of the sin that is in my members. (YLT)

We should love those who are not loving us, and we should do so the way we are commanded to. In "by faith in Jesus' word, His instruction" love those who are not loving us, we are exercising faith in Jesus. In by faith obeying Jesus Christ from a love of the truth, we are doing God's will for us in this matter:

> Luke 6:27-36 - But I say to you who hear, Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, pray for those who abuse you. To one who strikes you on the cheek, offer the other also, and from one who takes away your cloak do not withhold your tunic either. Give to everyone who begs from you, and from one who takes away your goods do not demand them back. And as you wish that others would do to you, do so to them. If you love those who love you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them. And if you do good to those who do good to you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners do the same. And if you lend to those from whom you expect to receive, what credit is that to you? Even sinners lend to sinners, to get back the same amount. But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing in return, and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, for he is kind to the ungrateful and the evil. Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful. (ESV)

- Polycarp 3:3 [3:2 the faith given to you] which is the mother of us all, while hope followeth after and love goeth before – love toward God and Christ and toward our neighbor. For if any man be occupied with these, he hath fulfilled the commandment of righteousness; for he that hath love is far from all sin.

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)

But we certainly have to continue walking by faith and love (Hebrews 10:37-39, Romans 14:14-18), holding a good conscience (I Timothy 1:18-19). We must love God and His word rather than evil and in preference to anything else (Mark 4:14-20, I Timothy 6:10-14):

> I Timothy 1:18-19 - This charge I entrust to you, Timothy, my child, in accordance with the prophecies previously made about you, that by them you may wage the good warfare, holding faith and a good conscience. By rejecting this, some have made shipwreck of their faith, (ESV)

> II Peter 1:3-12 - His divine power has granted to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of him who called us to his own glory and excellence, by which he has granted to us his precious and very great promises, so that through them you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world because of sinful desire. For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins. Therefore, brothers, be all the more diligent to make your calling and election sure, for if you practice these qualities you will never fall. For in this way there will be richly provided for you an entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Therefore I intend always to remind you of these qualities, though you know them and are established in the truth that you have. (ESV)

> I Timothy 1:5-7 - The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. Certain persons, by swerving from these, have wandered away into vain discussion, desiring to be teachers of the law, without understanding either what they are saying or the things about which they make confident assertions. (ESV)

We must continue in faith in Jesus Christ, hoping in Him, with a love for the truth (as opposed to evil). As we hold our faith we are sanctified (cleaned up):

> Colossians 1:21-23 - And you, who once were alienated and hostile in mind, doing evil deeds, he has now reconciled in his body of flesh by his death, in order to present you holy and blameless and above reproach before him, if indeed you continue in the faith, stable and steadfast, not shifting from the hope of the gospel that you heard, which has been proclaimed in all creation under heaven, and of which I, Paul, became a minister. (ESV)

> I John 3:3-11 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)

It's important to go on in faith in the truth and love for the truth, holding faith with a good conscience:

> Hebrews 6:4-6 - For it is impossible to restore again to repentance those who have once been enlightened, who have tasted the heavenly gift, and have shared in the Holy Spirit, and have tasted the goodness of the word of God and the powers of the age to come, if they then fall away (G3895 parapesontas), since they are crucifying once again the Son of God to their own harm and holding him up to contempt. (ESV)

> Hebrews 12:17 - For you know that afterward, when he desired to inherit the blessing, he was rejected, for he found no chance to repent, though he sought it with tears. (ESV)

G3895 parapesontas From para and pipto; to fall aside, i.e. (figuratively) to apostatize – fall away. ("fallen from a close position") refers to a close-follower of Christ who becomes a defector. It suggests this person (at least at one time) was a believer (note the para).)

God sanctifies us (I Thessalonians 5:23), cleans us up, in advance of the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ (I Peter 1:7) and sanctification happens as we (II Peter 3:14) trust (Acts 26:18) and obey (I Peter 1:22, Hebrews 5:8-9) Jesus Christ himself (i.e. abiding in His teachings and commandments found in Scripture). God sanctifies us to love Him and one-another in the way that He wants for us to love.

> Romans 6:15-23 - What then? Are we to sin because we are not under law but under grace? By no means! Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness > leading to sanctification. When you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. But what fruit were you getting at that time from the things of which you are now ashamed? The end of those things is death. But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

At the end of sanctification, obeying the truth for a sincere love of our family in Christ, there is eternal life:

> Romans 6:22-23 - But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)
> Romans 2:6-11 - He will render to each one according to his works (G2041 erga; deeds): to those who by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, he will give eternal life; but for those who are self-seeking and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, there will be wrath and fury. There will be tribulation and distress for every human being who does (G2716 katergazomenou) evil, the Jew first and also the Greek, but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment) good, the Jew first and also the Greek. For God shows no partiality. (ESV)
> I John 3:13-16 - Do not be surprised, brothers, that the world hates you. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. (ESV)
> Galatians 6:7-10 - Do not be deceived: God is not mocked, for whatever one sows, that will he also reap. For the one who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption, but the one who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life. And let us not grow weary of doing good, for in due season we will reap, if we do not give up. So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to those who are of the household of faith. (ESV)
> II Corinthians 5:6-11 - So we are always of good courage. We know that while we are at home in the body we are away from the Lord, for we walk by faith, not by sight. Yes, we are of good courage, and we would rather be away from the body and at home with the Lord. So whether we are at home or away, we make it our aim to please him. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil. Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. (ESV)

A Jew previously under Mosaic law who has faith in Jesus would be freed from the yoke of slavery by which they could only justified if they were able to carry out "the works of the law" that they were enslaved into doing, but being able to behold (John 6:40), have faith in and treasure Christ and His words (God's righteousness revealed; Romans 1:17-18) gives us life and enables us to be healed (Acts 26:16-18, Acts 3:16), given our love for Him is greater than love for other things (Luke 8:12-15).

Someone might love some precept of righteousnss, something they deem righteous. For example, they might think, "Well, I think that X, Y, Z is wrong." And they might be particularly zealous about this opinion that they have. Then they might go a step further and think, "Because I believe that it's wrong and I have never done that before, I must then be righteous." But even if a person believes there is some evil thing they have never done, and even if they are in agreement with God over the precept, there still would be some way in which they have fallen short of God's glory. From God's perspective, even the heavens are not pure:

So what we need is not to simply agree with some of God's precepts from His law, but to be in agreement with the fulfillment of God's law who is God's revelation of the embodiment of righteousness Himself, Jesus Christ.

Jesus Christ is the righteousness that God has revealed who we must love first and foremost as Christians but loving Him includes loving His family and serving Him involves serving His family. No Christian can exceed God's righteousness and no Christian can take the place of Christ who is the head of His body the church (Colossians 1:15-18). No messenger is greater than the one who sent them (John 13:12-16):

> Romans 3:23-26 - for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. (ESV)

I believe a "deed" is "external action that is done from faith". A good deed from good faith, and a bad deed from bad faith. So I believe that God when judging on deeds (I Peter 1:17-19, Revelation of John 20:13), judges on the basis of the faith that the deed came from (John 3:17-21).

> I John 3:18-20 - Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth. By this we shall know that we are of the truth and reassure our heart before him; for whenever our heart condemns us, God is greater than our heart, and he knows everything. (ESV)

An analogy Imagine if you could only be commended if you managed to complete a fitness test that judged your fitness on whether or not you managed to complete a task such as run 100 meters in 10 seconds - that would be a test of works. Rather than being tested on the external actions of our works, our hearts are tested - our faith is tested. Christians are justified on the basis of faith. If the heart attitude is right with real trust and love for the truth, for Jesus, that yearns to love one's neighbour as they've been loved by Jesus, then they are justified like that.

I believe that similarly to how real obedience must be backed by faith (Hebrews 11:8, Romans 14:23), faith must be backed by a love for the truth because the person holding the faith must hold fast the word God more than other things.

> Isaiah 7:9 - And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is the son of Remaliah. If you are not firm in faith, you will not be firm at all. (ESV)

We are supposed to hold fast to what is good and truthful (i.e. Christ's teachings), as we are taught by Christ:

> I Thessalonians 5:20-21 - Do not despise prophecies, but test everything; hold fast what is good. (ESV)

I think of this like getting our "ducks in a row". With regards to the expansive teachings and commandments that are instructed of us by Christ, we should be seeking to do His word all of what is God's will for us to do, at the same time (Colossians 4:12). Hold fast to what we have attained already (Philippians 3:12-21), and continue integrating more of the truth, taking captive every thought for obedience to Christ Jesus, until one's obedience is complete (II Corinthians 10:5-6, Matthew 5:43-48), but continuing on also. Some people might think that sounds like there is no rest to be had, but surely that is not what is being said. Jesus promises rest to those who come to Him (learn from Him) and take His yoke.

> Matthew 11:28-30 - Come to me, all who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me, for I am gentle and lowly in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light. (ESV)

A person who continues on must continue to abide in Christ's teachings and so must integrate, for example, "forgiving one-another" as they've been forgiven, into their faith/obedience. How can a person have rest if they refuse to forgive as they have been forgiven? God corrects us into His rest.

Hearing the word and holding it fast in an honest and good heart, a person loves the word, loves the truth:

> Luke 8:12-15 - The ones along the path are those who have heard. Then the devil comes and takes away the word from their hearts, so that they may not believe and be saved. And the ones on the rock are those who, when they hear the word, receive it with joy. But these have no root; they believe for a while, and in time of testing fall away. And as for what fell among the thorns, they are those who hear, but as they go on their way they are choked by the cares and riches and pleasures of life, and their fruit does not mature. As for that in the good soil, they are those who, hearing the word, hold it fast in an honest and good heart, and bear fruit with patience. (ESV)

The Gospel includes:

- God as Creator, King of the world
- Jesus' Reign as King
- God's Kingdom coming through the arrival of God's Son
- Jesus giving his life as a ransom for sinners

0 min 31 sec And if we ask, "How much did various people understand in order to be saved?" Because people were saved by the death of Christ before the death of Christ. We know that from Romans 3:25. The best way to answer that question, I think, is to say people generally embraced Christ with very different levels of understanding and whether that initial faith was real and saving (with its imperfect understanding), whether or not it was real was proved by whether or not a person kept on embracing the gospel as more and more of it was revealed to them. And I think that's exactly the way it is today.

> Luke 2:10-11 - And the angel said to them, Fear not, for behold, I bring you good news of a great joy that will be for all the people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord. (ESV)

> Romans 3:25 - whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. (ESV)

Having faith in Jesus Christ a person receives forgiveness (Acts 10:41-44) and a person who is forgiven by Jesus must [now] love Jesus because they have been forgiven (Luke 7:40-50). Whoever is forgiven also loves the Truth, Jesus. If someone doesn't love Jesus then they are accursed (I Corinthians 16:22). A person who loves Jesus must have been forgiven (Luke 7:40-50).

A person is saved by receiving love for the truth (II Thessalonians 2:9-14). A person is saved by faith in Jesus Christ's name (Acts 16:30-34). A person who has faith in Jesus, even in His name, must some amount of love for Jesus, even love for His name, since love is 'more preceeding' (G3173 meizōn; [the] greatest, most preceeding) than faith (I Corinthians 13:13, I Corinthians 13:4-8).

Polycarp 3:2 For neither am I, nor is any other like unto me, able to follow the wisdom of the blessed and glorious Paul, who when he came among you taught face to face with the men of that day the word which concerneth truth carefully and surely; who also, when he was absent, wrote a letter unto you, into the which if ye look diligently, ye shall be able to be builded up unto the faith given to you,

3:3 which is the mother of us all, while hope followeth after and love goeth before – love toward God and Christ and toward our neighbor. For if any man be occupied with these, he hath fulfilled the commandment of righteousness; for he that hath love is far from all sin.

I think that God gives a new heart that fears him (Ezekiel 36:25-28, Ezekiel 18:31) then circumcises it to love Him with our whole heart (Deuteronomy 30:6).

This heart circumcision involves keeping His commandments (Romans 2:29, I Corinthians 7:19) but the Christian way. Applying the commandment to honor one's father and mother, for example, is applied the 'Christian way' (I Peter 2:15-25, Matthew 23:9, Luke 8:21, John 19:27), honoring God (John 5:17-29) and our family in Christ. Likewise the commandment to rest on the Sabbath (Hebrews 4:8-10) is applied the 'Christian way'.

> Malachi 1:6 - A son honors his father, and a servant his master. If then I am a father, where is my honor? And if I am a master, where is my fear? says the LORD of hosts to you, O priests, who despise my name. But you say, How have we despised your name? (ESV)

God 'circumcises' our heart to fulfill the Great commandments, so it by God's grace that we can love God from all our heart (Deuteronomy 30:6).

God gives the grace to be saved while we were sinners, but the salvation which is inclusive of sanctification (II Thessalonians 2:10-13) still involves God working in us as we obey Christ (I Peter 1:22). We receive the salvation which is not a result of our former works. But the salvation when performed (worked out) involves carrying out deeds in obedience to Jesus Christ:

> Ephesians 2:4-10 - But God, being rich in mercy, because of the great love with which he loved us, even when we were dead in our trespasses, made us alive together with Christ—by grace you have been saved— and raised us up with him and seated us with him in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, so that in the coming ages he might show the immeasurable riches of his grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus. For by grace you have been saved through faith. And this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God, not a result of works, so that no one may boast. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand, that we should walk in them. (ESV)

> Philippians 2:12-16 - Therefore, my beloved, as you have always obeyed, so now, not only as in my presence but much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling, for it is God who works in you, both to will and to work for his good pleasure. Do all things without grumbling or questioning, that you may be blameless and innocent, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and twisted generation, among whom you shine as lights in the world, holding fast to the word of life, so that in the day of Christ I may be proud that I did not run in vain or labor in vain. (ESV)

Jesus is Yahweh, the Son of God, and all the commandments of God, even the ones given by Jesus Christ, even His commandment to have faith in Him (John 14:1) depend on the two Great Commandments (Matthew 22:36-40).

youtube.com: He Didn't Think THIS Was in the Bible {@ NicholasBowling } There are Jewish people who are [Jews outwardly], but a true Jew, a true child of God is someone who is one inwardly (of the circumcision of the heart).

Those people have repented and put their faith in Jesus.

A true Jew is someone who is one inwardly, the circumcision of the heart, which speaks of Jesus giving us a brand new heart, becoming born again.

> Romans 2:28-29 - For no one is a Jew who is merely one outwardly, nor is circumcision outward and physical. But a Jew is one inwardly, and circumcision is a matter of the heart, by the Spirit, not by the letter. His praise is not from man but from God. (ESV)

> Philippians 3:3 - For we are the real circumcision, who worship by the Spirit of God and glory in Christ Jesus and put no confidence in the flesh— (ESV)

If someone loves Jesus they will be sanctified to keep His commandments:

> John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

If someone calls themself a Christian but loves evil then they will bring judgement/discipline on themselves from God and perhaps from other believers:

> I Corinthians 5:1-13 - It is actually reported that there is sexual immorality among you, and of a kind that is not tolerated even among pagans, for a man has his father's wife. And you are arrogant! Ought you not rather to mourn? Let him who has done this be removed from among you. For though absent in body, I am present in spirit; and as if present, I have already pronounced judgment on the one who did such a thing. When you are assembled in the name of the Lord Jesus and my spirit is present, with the power of our Lord Jesus, you are to deliver this man to Satan for the destruction of the flesh, so that his spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord. Your boasting is not good. Do you not know that a little leaven leavens the whole lump? Cleanse out the old leaven that you may be a new lump, as you really are unleavened. For Christ, our Passover lamb, has been sacrificed. Let us therefore celebrate the festival, not with the old leaven, the leaven of malice and evil, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth. I wrote to you in my letter not to associate with sexually immoral people— not at all meaning the sexually immoral of this world, or the greedy and swindlers, or idolaters, since then you would need to go out of the world. But now I am writing to you not to associate with anyone who bears the name of brother if he is guilty of sexual immorality or greed, or is an idolater, reviler, drunkard, or swindler—not even to eat with such a one. For what have I to do with judging outsiders? Is it not those inside the church whom you are to judge? God judges those outside. Purge the evil person from among you. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 11:29-32 - For anyone who eats and drinks without discerning the body eats and drinks judgment on himself. That is why many of you are weak and ill, and some have died. But if we judged ourselves truly, we would not be judged. But when we are judged by the Lord, we are disciplined so that we may not be condemned along with the world. (ESV)

> Romans 1:18-25 - For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who by their unrighteousness suppress the truth. For what can be known about God is plain to them, because God has shown it to them. For his invisible attributes, namely, his eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly perceived, ever since the creation of the world, in the things that have been made. So they are without excuse. For although they knew God, they did not honor him as God or give thanks to him, but they became futile in their thinking, and their foolish hearts were darkened. Claiming to be wise, they became fools, and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images resembling mortal man and birds and animals and reptiles. Therefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts to impurity, to the dishonoring of their bodies among themselves, because they exchanged the truth about God for a lie and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever! Amen. (ESV)

If someone has genuine faith in Jesus Christ that loves Him but still holding some evil desires, then they will receive discipline from God and they are "saved" at the end of that discipline. God cleans that person up, allowing for them to struggle against sin as they trust and obey Jesus Christ:

> Hebrews 12:4-8 - In your struggle against sin you have not yet resisted to the point of shedding your blood. And have you forgotten the exhortation that addresses you as sons? My son, do not regard lightly the discipline of the Lord, nor be weary when reproved by him. For the Lord disciplines the one he loves, and chastises every son whom he receives. It is for discipline that you have to endure. God is treating you as sons. For what son is there whom his father does not discipline? If you are left without discipline, in which all have participated, then you are illegitimate children and not sons. (ESV)

> Mark 13:13 - And you will be hated by all for my name's sake. But the one who endures to the end will be saved. (ESV)

> Matthew 24:12-13 - And because lawlessness will be increased, the love of many will grow cold. But the one who endures to the end will be saved. (ESV)

So there is a promise for the person who loves Jesus, and that promise is that they will be sanctified (Acts 26:18, John 14:15) and to be sanctified means to be cleaned up. A person who doesn't love Jesus can't receive sanctification because sanctification is by faith in Jesus (Acts 26:18) and obedience to Jesus for a love of our family in Christ (I Peter 1:22).

Jesus Christ's blood is able to clean a person from moral sin, meaning that they can have their heart, mind and soul healed in order to stop lying, idolising, coveting, stealing, committing adultery, etc. in reality from the heart for God to see, so that they are able to in reality love the way that God wants us to love. Though we can never exceed God in holiness which means that from God's perspective, He's always going to be able to point out to us some way in which we fall short of His glory. Even the heavens are not pure in His eyes (Job 15:15).

A person who was under law may die to the law to make Christ their Master (Romans 7:4). A person can have only one Master and Christians have Christ as their Master and what this means is that we follow Jesus in preference to anyone else, and our love for Him has to surpass anything or anyone else (Matthew 6:24, Matthew 10:32-38, Matthew 16:25). So He has got to be our first agape love (Revelation of John 2:4).

When the Scripture says "by faith Abraham obeyed" (Hebrews 11:8), Abraham's obedience was done in faith. Everyone on the Earth who has breath does deeds whether good or evil. The question is, "With faith in what or with love for what are those deeds being done?" While Abraham was loving God's word, he was doing deeds which God finds commendable. Abraham treasured God's word spoken to him. Abraham treasured the promise of God and did deeds while actually believing God's word.

Abel's offering to God was done in faith. Cain was half-hearted (Hebrews 11:4) with his offering to the LORD, as Ananias was (Acts 5:3). Cain having evil deeds means that Cain was not walking by faith. As I understand it, then, Cain was not doing his deeds from the love of God, but rather doing them from the love of evil:

> Genesis 4:3-5 - In the course of time Cain brought to the Lord an offering of the fruit of the ground, and Abel also brought of the firstborn of his flock and of their fat portions. And the Lord had regard for Abel and his offering, but for Cain and his offering he had no regard. So Cain was very angry, and his face fell. (ESV)
> 1 John 3:12 - We should not be like Cain, who was of the evil one and murdered his brother. And why did he murder him? Because his own deeds were evil and his brother's righteous. (ESV)
> Hebrews 11:4 - By faith Abel offered to God a more acceptable sacrifice than Cain, through which he was commended as righteous, God commending him by accepting his gifts. And through his faith, though he died, he still speaks. (ESV)

I do not believe that a Christians' faith is centered on the promise that God has given to Abraham and to his offspring, Christ. If someone were to make the promise given to Abraham the foundation of their own personal faith then that person would not be on solid ground. A Christian follows Christ (Matthew 7:24) so treasures Jesus Christ Himself:

> Galatians 3:15-18 - To give a human example, brothers: even with a man-made covenant, no one annuls it or adds to it once it has been ratified. Now the promises were made to Abraham and to his offspring. It does not say, And to offsprings, referring to many, but referring to one, And to your offspring, who is Christ. This is what I mean: the law, which came 430 years afterward, does not annul a covenant previously ratified by God, so as to make the promise void. For if the inheritance comes by the law, it no longer comes by promise; but God gave it to Abraham by a promise. (ESV)

So rather, a Christian becomes a partaker of the promise by having faith in Jesus Christ Himself (Romans 4:20-25), by being found "in Christ" (I John 3:23-24). Now that faith is still modelled on Abraham's faith (Romans 4:16, John 8:39-42), and bears the same "characteristics" such as "trust in the truth" and the "fear of God" and "continuing on trusting the truth", and being a "doer of God's word" and even "obedience" to God. But the object of a Christian's faith is Christ Himself rather than the promise given to Abraham and his descendant, Christ (Galatians 3:16).

> James 2:5 - Listen, my beloved brothers, has not God chosen those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom, which he has promised to those who love him? (ESV)

> I Peter 2:6-8 - For it stands in Scripture: Behold, I am laying in Zion a stone, a cornerstone chosen and precious, and whoever believes in him will not be put to shame. So the honor is for you who believe, but for those who do not believe, The stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone, and A stone of stumbling, and a rock of offense. They stumble because they disobey the word, as they were destined to do. (ESV)

> Romans 4:19-25 - He did not weaken in faith when he considered his own body, which was as good as dead (since he was about a hundred years old), or when he considered the barrenness of Sarah's womb. No distrust made him waver concerning the promise of God, but he grew strong in his faith as he gave glory to God, fully convinced that God was able to do what he had promised. That is why his faith was counted to him as righteousness. But the words it was counted to him were not written for his sake alone, but for ours also. It will be counted to us who believe in him who raised from the dead Jesus our Lord, who was delivered up for our trespasses and raised for our justification. (ESV)

> Romans 4:16 - That is why it depends on faith, in order that the promise may rest on grace and be guaranteed to all his offspring—not only to the adherent of the law but also to the one who shares the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all, (ESV)

> John 8:39-42 - They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham's children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. (ESV)

The inheritance comes by promise rather than the Law, but that doesn't mean it's not by love for God:

> Galatians 3:18 - For if the inheritance comes by the law, it no longer comes by promise; but God gave it to Abraham by a promise. (ESV)

> James 2:5 - Listen, my beloved brothers, has not God chosen those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom, which he has promised to those who love him? (ESV)

> Proverbs 8:12-21 - I, wisdom, dwell with prudence, and I find knowledge and discretion. The fear of the LORD is hatred of evil. Pride and arrogance and the way of evil and perverted speech I hate. I have counsel and sound wisdom; I have insight; I have strength. By me kings reign, and rulers decree what is just; by me princes rule, and nobles, all who govern justly. I love those who love me, and those who seek me diligently find me. Riches and honor are with me, enduring wealth and righteousness. My fruit is better than gold, even fine gold, and my yield than choice silver. I walk in the way of righteousness, in the paths of justice, granting an inheritance to those who love me, and filling their treasuries. (ESV)

Abraham had faith in the promise that was given to Him and to Christ, but that promise was to them. Christians need to have Abraham's faith but with regards to the promises given to us:

> Galatians 3:15-16 - To give a human example, brothers: even with a man-made covenant, no one annuls it or adds to it once it has been ratified. Now the promises were made to Abraham and to his offspring. It does not say, And to offsprings, referring to many, but referring to one, And to your offspring, who is Christ. (ESV)

So neither the Law, nor "obedience", nor love for God (James 2:5) are "against" justification by faith. But to seek justification by the Law rather than by faith is what is the problem:

> Galatians 4:21 - Tell me, you who desire to be under the law, do you not listen to the law? (ESV)

> Galatians 5:7 - You were running well. Who hindered you from obeying the truth? (ESV)

Biblical obedience issues from a heart that loves the Truth (Luke 6:45, Psalms 81:15).

> Luke 6:46-49 - Why do you call me Lord, Lord, and not do what I tell you? Everyone who comes to me and hears my words and does them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. And when a flood arose, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it, because it had been well built. But the one who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. When the stream broke against it, immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great. (ESV)

> I John 2:3-6 - And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 10:4-6 - For the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh but have divine power to destroy strongholds. We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, being ready to punish every disobedience, when your obedience is complete. (ESV)

> I John 3:14 - We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. (ESV)

Walking by the spirit involves obeying our Master Jesus Christ from a love of Jesus Christ. Even though we are not "under law", it's still necessary to by faith obey Jesus Christ:

> Romans 6:14-18 - For sin will have no dominion over you, since you are not under law but under grace. What then? Are we to sin because we are not under law but under grace? By no means! Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. (ESV)

Christians who did not have a background as a Jew under Mosaic law who come to (John 6:45) Jesus Christ still make Him their Master (Ephesians 6:9, John 15:14-17). We should use our freedom wisely, doing things that resemble the purpose, goal, fulfillment of the law, which is serving one-another. Jesus saying that He did not come to be served but to serve (Matthew 20:25-28), and that "the older will serve the younger" (Romans 9:12), means that those who "outrank us" in God's Kingdom (Luke 3:16) are serving us (II Corinthians 4:6-12), and what to serve Christ (Ephesians 6:6) who didn't come to be served really means for those who seek to serve Him and to imitate Him is that they are obligated (I John 2:6) to serve Jesus' family, especially those who are younger in God's Kingdom:

> Matthew 25:40 - And the King will answer them, Truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brothers, you did it to me. (ESV)

Jesus is the ultimate servant and thus the greatest in the Kingdom, the one who we need forgiveness from ultimately.

Jesus didn't come to Earth to judge but, rather, to save, but He does judge (I Corinthians 11:28-32, Revelation of John 19:11) and will judge. Jesus didn't come to Earth to be served but, rather, to serve (Matthew 20:25-28), but He is served (Romans 14:18) and will be served (Daniel 7:13-14). So when people say "Jesus didn't come to earth to judge, and that He didn't come to be served", it's still right to say we need to serve Christ (Romans 6:15-23) rather than evil, and it's still right to say that Jesus will judge the living and the dead (Acts 10:41-44).

Even Abraham, Isaac and Jacob are served by Jesus Christ:

> Matthew 8:11 - I tell you, many will come from east and west and recline at table with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven, (ESV)

> Luke 12:37 - Blessed are those servants whom the master finds awake when he comes. Truly, I say to you, he will dress himself for service and have them recline at table, and he will come and serve them. (ESV)

> Matthew 18:4 - Whoever humbles himself like this child is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven. (ESV)

So understanding this passage, Jesus is in the full context implying that humbling oneself to serve others is what is considered to be great in the Kingdom of Heaven:

Luke 22:27 (Interlinear) Who indeed [is] greater, the [one] reclining or the [one] serving?

> I, however, in [the] midst of you am as the [One] serving.

So in God's Kingdom lead by example, rather than enforce by 'lording' (Nehemiah 5:15, I Peter 5:1-3, II Thessalonians 3:9, Philippians 3:17, Philippians 4:9, I Thessalonians 1:5-6).

> Luke 22:25-26 - So Jesus declared, "The kings of the Gentiles lord it over them, and those in authority over them call themselves benefactors. But you shall not be like them. Instead, the greatest among you should be like the youngest, and the one who leads like the one who serves. (engbsb2020eb)

I believe that the writing of God's commandments on our hearts comes with sanctification after being born-again (given a new heart of flesh). A heart of stone can't be circumcised (Ezekiel 11:19-20). God gives us a new heart that fears Him and is responsive to correction (Ezekiel 36:25-28, Ezekiel 18:31) then circumcises our hearts to love Him with all our heart (Deuteronomy 30:6), and loving God with all our heart I do believe involves having the complete (rather than partial) love of God (I John 2:4-6) which means that we love others how God has loved us, not merely appreciating God (youtube.com: John Piper on Why We Glorify God ' by ' Enjoying Him {@ universegroove }) but also loving one-another as we have been loved by God. With the new heart that fears God and is responsive to correction and from the love of Jesus Christ we then by faith love our neighbour the way that is actually loving our neighbour (Romans 13:9-10, Romans 8:3-4).

God is also glorified by deeds done by His power by faith in Him and in love for others:

> II Thessalonians 1:9-12 - They will suffer the punishment of eternal destruction, away from the presence of the Lord and from the glory of his might, when he comes on that day to be glorified in his saints, and to be marveled at among all who have believed, because our testimony to you was believed. To this end we always pray for you, that our God may make you worthy of his calling and may fulfill every resolve for good and every work of faith by his power, so that the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you, and you in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ. (ESV)

> John 15:8 - By this my Father is glorified, that you bear much fruit and so prove to be my disciples. (ESV)

> Revelation of John 19:7-8 - Let us rejoice and exult and give him the glory, for the marriage of the Lamb has come, and his Bride has made herself ready; it was granted her to clothe herself with fine linen, bright and pure— for the fine linen is the righteous deeds of the saints. (ESV)

> I Peter 2:12 - Keep your conduct among the Gentiles honorable, so that when they speak against you as evildoers, they may see your good deeds and glorify God on the day of visitation. (ESV)

God writing His laws for us on our hearts involves us learning them, and having the love of God completed in us involves putting it into practice in reality:

> Hebrews 8:10-11 - For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, declares the Lord: I will put my laws into their minds, and write them on their hearts, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. And they shall not teach, each one his neighbor and each one his brother, saying, Know the Lord, for they shall all know me, from the least of them to the greatest. (ESV)

Faith in Jesus:

> John 14:12 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)

Love for Jesus:

> John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

In faith and love, keep Jesus' word:

> II Timothy 1:13 - Follow the pattern of the sound words that you have heard from me, in the faith and love that are in Christ Jesus. (ESV)

> John 14:21-24 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. Judas (not Iscariot) said to him, Lord, how is it that you will manifest yourself to us, and not to the world? Jesus answered him, If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me. (ESV)

> Romans 6:17-19 - But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. (ESV)

> Psalms 40:8 - I desire to do your will, O my God; your law is within my heart. (ESV)

> III John 1:3 - For I rejoiced greatly when the brothers came and testified to your truth, as indeed you are walking in the truth (G225 alētheia; truth, reality; i.e. walking in reality). (ESV)

If we do what Jesus commands us then we will love one-another (John 15:14-17, I John 5:1-2):

> Galatians 5:3-7 - I testify again to every man who accepts circumcision that he is obligated to keep the whole law. You are severed from Christ, you who would be justified by the law; you have fallen away from grace. For through the Spirit, by faith, we ourselves eagerly wait for the hope of righteousness. For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision counts for anything, but only faith working through love. You were running well. Who hindered you from obeying the truth? (ESV)

Galatians 5:13-14 - For you were called to freedom, brothers. Only do not use your freedom as an opportunity for the flesh, but through love serve one another. For the whole law is fulfilled in one word: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. (ESV)

- Polycarp 3:3 [3:2 the faith given to you] which is the mother of us all, while hope followeth after and love goeth before – love toward God and Christ and toward our neighbor. For if any man be occupied with these, he hath fulfilled the commandment of righteousness; for he that hath love is far from all sin.

Those people who are set free from committing sin are disciples of Jesus Christ who have love for their family in Christ:

John 8:31-32 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed (G4100 pepisteukotas; having believed) in him, If you abide (G3306 meinēte; remain, abide, stay, continue, dwell, endure) in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth (G225 alētheia; truth, reality; i.e. walking in reality), and the truth will set you free. (ESV)

John 17:8 - For I have given them the words that you gave me, and they have received them and have come to know in truth that I came from you; and they have believed that you sent me. (ESV)

John 14:23-24 - Jesus answered him, If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me. (ESV)

John 14:12 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)

I John 3:3-11 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)

I John 3:13-16 - Do not be surprised, brothers, that the world hates you. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. (ESV)

Someone who has true faith in Jesus Christ is somebody who loves the brethren (family in Christ):

John 5:21-24 - For as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, so also the Son gives life to whom he will. The Father judges no one, but has given all judgment to the Son, that all may honor the Son, just as they honor the Father. Whoever does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent him. Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears my word and believes (G4100 pisteuo) him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come (2064. erchomai) into judgment, but has passed from death to life.

> I John 3:13-16 - Do not be surprised, brothers, that the world hates you. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. (ESV)

Jesus instructed His disciples to call no man on earth their "father". This instruction, therefore, is for the Christian. After all, Jesus' father was not Joseph and yet Jesus was able to keep the 5th commandment to honor father and mother, and Jesus said Himself that He honors His father, and says that His father is God. And Father God said that Jesus is His Son who He is well pleased with:

> Matthew 23:1 - Then Jesus said to the crowds and to his disciples, (ESV)
> Matthew 23:9 - And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. (ESV)
> Matthew 8:21-22 - Another of the disciples said to him, Lord, let me first go and bury my father. And Jesus said to him, Follow me, and leave the dead to bury their own dead. (ESV)

youtube.com: The Bible's Hardest Verse Is About Your Family {@ LostArtRanch } I commented,

> Something I realised when pondering this verse is that for the person who has been baptised into Christ, their old self has been crucified, their previous life is dead. Those relationships which the old self had, also die. Jesus' family have one father who is in heaven, and Jesus' mother and brother and sister are those who do the will of God, who hear the word of God and do it. Honoring one's mother and father take on a new meaning. To honor one's father means now to honor God who is in heaven. Loving one's brother takes on a new meaning. Coming to Jesus means a necessary divorce from the old identity, and towards walking in the new identity as a member of Jesus' family who is Father God and those who do the will of God. So a person's relationships with people must change to be in line with the new identity as a child of God. This is what I believe Jesus is talking about in Luke 14:26. Nobody can come to Jesus unless Father God draws them. We must be willing to come to Jesus. And all who learn from Father God come to Jesus. If a person is willing to do the will of God then they will see Jesus Christ's teachings are correct. The will of God is our sanctification, to abstain from evil„ and to serve Jesus Christ, and to give thanks in all circumstances, and to die to sin and produce good from a love for the truth, enduring while suffering unjustly. So as we are willing to come to Jesus, being drawn by Father God, learning from God, then we must hate our old life which includes those old relationships. Whoever is holding faith in Jesus will do His deeds. And Jesus never called Joseph 'father'. Jesus referred to God as His own father rather than any man on earth. And Jesus referred to his mother and brothers and sisters as those who do the will of God, those who hear the word of God and do it. If someone thinks that their family are people who do not do the will of God then by implication they also do not think that Jesus is family.
> > Luke 14:26 - If anyone comes to me and does not hate his own father and mother and wife and children and brothers and sisters, yes, and even his own life, he cannot be my disciple. (ESV)

> Can you imagine somebody getting married to someone, but after they're married, they still want to call their old girlfriends, they still want to hang out with their old flames, they still want to send birthday cards and and meet with them? No, 'forsaking' all others, because I'm turning away from the others and turning to my new bride, turning to my new spouse. And in the same way, when we come to Christ, we're forsaking > the world, the perverse generation that we're rescued from, and we come to Christ, and we give him our full attention. We give him our full allegiance. That's what he wants. He doesn't want us to have idolatry by loving the things of the world and not giving our full love to Christ.

Disciples of Jesus Christ should not give the title of 'father' to anybody else other than to God because the title belongs to God:

> Matthew 22:21 - They said, Caesar's. Then he said to them, Therefore render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's. (ESV)

> Malachi 1:6 - A son honors his father, and a servant his master. If then I am a father, where is my honor? And if I am a master, where is my fear? says the LORD of hosts to you, O priests, who despise my name. But you say, How have we despised your name? (ESV)

With regard to Jesus Christ's commandment to call no man on earth "your father", the [Mark 4:17] "trouble or persecution on account of the word" might refer to any difficulties as people oppose the fact that one practices this commandment in reality. The good soil would not fall away:

> John 5:18 - This was why the Jews were seeking all the more to kill him, because not only was he breaking the Sabbath, but he was even calling God his own Father, making himself equal with God. (ESV)

> II Timothy 4:7 - I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. (ESV)

It's wise to receive Jesus and His words and do as Jesus commands:

> Mark 4:17 - And they have no root in themselves, but endure for a while; then, when tribulation or persecution arises on account of the word, immediately they fall away. (ESV)

> Luke 6:49 - But the one who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. When the stream broke against it, immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great. (ESV)

> Luke 6:46-49 - Why do you call me Lord, Lord, and not do what I tell you? Everyone who comes to me and hears my words and does them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. And when a flood arose, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it, because it had been well built. But the one who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. When the stream broke against it, immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great. (ESV)

> Luke 8:11-15 - Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God. The ones along the path are those who have heard. Then the devil comes and takes away the word from their hearts, so that they may not believe and be saved. And the ones on the rock are those who, when they hear the word, receive it with joy. But these have no root; they believe for a while, and in time of testing fall away. And as for what fell among the thorns, they are those who hear, but as they go on their way they are choked by the cares and riches and pleasures of life, and their fruit does not mature. As for that in the good soil, they are those who, hearing the word, hold it fast in an honest and good heart, and bear fruit with patience. (ESV)

Keep that in mind, because there is a new way of serving God (Romans 14:17-18, Romans 7:4-6) in the spirit, and empowered by God.

Ezekiel describes that God gives a person a new heart and spirit and causes them to walk in His statutes and be careful to obey His rules (Ezekiel 11:19-20), but this is in the new life of the spirit (Romans 7:4-6), rather than in the old written code.

> Romans 2:29 - But a Jew is one inwardly, and circumcision is a matter of the heart, by the Spirit, not by the letter. His praise is not from man but from God. (ESV)

New Spirit, new creation, new genaeology, new father and new family. Jesus Christ's dad is God, not Joseph. The spirit is the truth (I John 5:6).

If someone were to have told Jesus Christ that "he dishonors Joseph for not calling him father, and that he should go back and do some carpentry instead of preaching sermons" then they would be wrong. Jesus practiced the truth in calling God His father.

In Jesus' words in Mark 7:12, he is saying that by no longer permitting someone to do anything for their father or mother, they make void the word of God by their tradition.

> Mark 7:6-13 - And he said to them, Well did Isaiah prophesy of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honors me with their lips, but their heart is far from me; in vain do they worship me, teaching as doctrines the commandments of men. You leave the commandment of God and hold to the tradition of men. And he said to them, You have a fine way of rejecting the commandment of God in order to establish your tradition! For Moses said, Honor your father and your mother; and, Whoever reviles father or mother must surely die. But you say, If a man tells his father or his mother, Whatever you would have gained from me is Corban (that is, given to God)— then you no longer permit him to do anything for his father or mother, thus making void the word of God by your tradition that you have handed down. And many such things you do. (ESV) chaimbentorah.com: Hebrew Word Study - Corban - ???? - Chaim Bentorah The traditional interpretation is that Jesus was speaking to the priest and Pharisees about the fifth commandment which is to honor your father and mother. Jesus was saying that you neglect your duty to help your parents financially by saying that all your resources are a corban or a gift to God but you use that as an excuse not to help your parents as your parents would rather starve to death than steal from God. Then you keep those resources for your own benefit.

The title of 'father' when ascribing it to a person as their own father belongs to God for the person who keeps Jesus' commandment to call no man on earth their father for they have one father who is in heaven.

> Matthew 22:21 - They said, Caesar's. Then he said to them, Therefore render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's. (ESV)

And it is certainly not unloving to keep Jesus Christ's commandments:

> John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

> I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

But we must do so from the love of God (Psalms 81:15) and of Jesus Christ (John 8:42) and through faith in Jesus Christ's name (John 1:12) and God will discipline every son He receives into loving Him and one-another in the way He has commanded (Hebrews 12:9, Hebrews 12:4-8).

The title of 'father' belongs to God, as Jesus has commanded, and as Jesus has instructed we should give God what belongs to God. And so, to pressure someone into not keeping Jesus' commandment to call no man on earth 'father' is actually to pressure them into dishonoring God. It's not dishonoring to one's previous parents to give the title of 'father' to God and no longer to one's previous father. So by saying it's dishonoring to not abide by this commandment from Jesus Christ is actually to make void the commandment of Jesus Christ who is God the Son, in order to establish a tradition that is against the teachings of Christ.

Now a Christian is instructed by the Apostle Peter to honor all people 1 Peter 2:17, and so to keep Christ's commandment to call no man on earth father, is not against honoring one's previous parents because both Christ's commandment and the Apostle Peter's instruction are able to be kept at the same time.

Now since these people who appear as my previous parents, are truly no longer my parents, then in understanding Jesus' teaching that anyone who comes to Him and does not hate their mother and father cannot be His disciple, it's correct to say that there is no need for me to hate these people who are not my parents if I am to come to Jesus Christ some more.

The people they used to be were those who used to be my parents, and I hate my old life. I simply can't affirm that these people I formerly regarded as being my parents, are my parents anymore if I am to love them in reality how I'm commanded to love.

> I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

If someone claims that Jesus Christ is their brother, then surely they then consider God to be their Father, as Jesus Christ's father is God the father of Jesus Christ. But that God is their father is especially true if Jesus Christ considers them to be a brother because if Jesus calls a person brother then that person's father is Jesus' father:

> Romans 8:29 - For those whom he foreknew he also predestined to be conformed to the image of his Son, in order that he might be the firstborn among many brothers. (ESV)
> Psalms 22:22 - I will tell of your name to my brothers; in the midst of the congregation I will praise you: (ESV)

When Jesus Christ is one's Master, then they follow Jesus. So, for example, out of a love for Jesus, they would "call no man on Earth their father" in obedience to Christ's commandments. If a person is walking by the spirit, keeping Jesus Christ's commandments, then they are not under the law and will not gratify the desires of the flesh:

> Galatians 5:17-18 - For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to keep you from doing the things you want to do. But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. (ESV)
> Hebrews 11:24-25 - By faith Moses, when he was grown up, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter, choosing rather to be mistreated with the people of God than to enjoy the fleeting pleasures of sin. (ESV)
> Romans 8:14 - For all who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God. (ESV)
> Galatians 5:16 - But I say, walk by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the flesh. (ESV)
> Matthew 8:21-22 - Another of the disciples said to him, Lord, let me first go and bury my father. And Jesus said to him, Follow me, and leave the dead to bury their own dead. (ESV)

By this point, Abraham was no longer on Earth when Stephen here spoke this so has not broken Christ's commandment. Abraham is not dead in the ground of the earth, but rather he is alive in the Kingdom of God. Stephen has a new genaeology which includes the Abraham who is born of God:

> Acts 7:2 - And Stephen said: Brothers and fathers, hear me. The God of glory appeared to our father Abraham when he was in Mesopotamia, before he lived in Haran, (ESV)
> Romans 4:16-17 - That is why it depends on faith, in order that the promise may rest on grace and be guaranteed to all his offspring—not only to the adherent of the law but also to the one who shares the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all, as it is written, I have made you the father of many nations—in the presence of the God in whom he believed, who gives life to the dead and calls into existence the things that do not exist. (ESV)

> Mark 12:24-27 - Jesus said to them, Is this not the reason you are wrong, because you know neither the Scriptures nor the power of God? For when they rise from the dead, they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven. And as for the dead being raised, have you not read in the book of Moses, in the passage about the bush, how God spoke to him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? He is not God of the dead, but of the living. You are quite wrong. (ESV)

Paul has not here instructed his disciples to call him father. Also, there is the new creation Paul who is born of God, born-again by the living and abiding Word of God (I Peter 1:23) who is seated in heavenly places in Christ Jesus, Christ Jesus who is firstborn of the dead (Revelation of John 1:4-6). So there is a Paul who is seated in heaven. Paul has a new genaeology of people who are in heaven, and which includes Abraham and Christ:

> I Corinthians 4:15 - For though you have countless guides in Christ, you do not have many fathers. For I became your father in Christ Jesus through the gospel. (ESV)

> Ephesians 2:4-7 - But God, being rich in mercy, because of the great love with which he loved us, even when we were dead in our trespasses, made us alive together with Christ—by grace you have been saved— and raised us up with him and seated us with him in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, so that in the coming ages he might show the immeasurable riches of his grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus. (ESV)

> Galatians 3:29 - And if you are Christ's, then you are Abraham's offspring, heirs according to promise. (ESV)

Some good gospel preaching in Watchman River's video here. I'd clarify, though, by saying "if newly saved, then still being saved" because the newly saved person must continue walking by faith being sanctified. We must continue on in the teaching of Christ:

> Romans 4:4-6 - Now to the one who works (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment), his wages are not counted as a gift but as his due. And to the one who does not work (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment) but trusts him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is counted as righteousness, just as David also speaks of the blessing of the one to whom God counts righteousness apart from (G5565 chōris) works (G2041 ergōn): (ESV)

> Ephesians 1:13-14 - In him you also, when you heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation, and believed in him, were sealed with the promised Holy Spirit, who is the guarantee of our inheritance until we acquire possession of it, to the praise of his glory. (ESV)

People who are descended (spiritually-speaking) from the "last Adam" who is Christ, have a new identity with a new genaeology that includes both Christ and Abraham:

> I Corinthians 15:42-48 - So is it with the resurrection of the dead. What is sown is perishable; what is raised is imperishable. It is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness; it is raised in power. It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body. Thus it is written, The first man Adam became a living being; the last Adam became a life-giving spirit. But it is not the spiritual that is first but the natural, and then the spiritual. The first man was from the earth, a man of dust; the second man is from heaven. As was the man of dust, so also are those who are of the dust, and as is the man of heaven, so also are those who are of heaven.

Can we call Jesus father? Out of faith in what Jesus has instructed, I would use the title of 'father' for God the father of Jesus Christ:

> Matthew 23:1 - Then Jesus said to the crowds and to his disciples, (ESV)

> Matthew 23:9 - And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. (ESV)

> Jn 20:17: Jesus said to her, Do not cling to me, for I have not yet ascended to the Father; but go to my brothers and say to them, I am ascending to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God.

Jesus Christ is God's Son. Jesus Christ's God is His Father. Father God's name is Yahweh (H3068 ; Yhvh; Yahweh; N-proper-ms - Phonetic Spelling: (yeh-ho-vaw'), Jehovah, Yahweh). Jesus Christ is also Yahweh. Father God is to be honored as a father (Malachi 1:6). Jesus Christ is to be honored just as His Father is to be honored (John 5:23). Jesus Christ certainly worshipped God His Father:

Luke 4:8 (Interlinear) And answering Jesus said to him it has been written You will worship [the] Lord (G2962 Kyrion) - God (G2316 Theon) of you (G4771 sou) and him only will you serve

> John 20:17 - Jesus said to her, Do not cling to me, for I have not yet ascended to the Father; but go to my brothers and say to them, I am ascending to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God. (ESV)

> Matthew 4:10 - Then Jesus said to him, Be gone, Satan! For it is written, You shall worship the Lord your God and him only shall you serve. (ESV)

> Psalms 95:6 - Oh come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before the LORD, our Maker! (ESV)

> Hebrews 4:7 - again he appoints a certain day, Today, saying through David so long afterward, in the words already quoted, Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts. (ESV)

> Psalms 95:7-9 - For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand. Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts, as at Meribah, as on the day at Massah in the wilderness, when your fathers put me to the test and put me to the proof, though they had seen my work. (ESV)

> Psalms 29:2 - Ascribe to Jehovah the honour of His name, Bow yourselves to Jehovah, In the beauty of holiness. (YLT)

> II Chronicles 7:17-20 - And as for you, if you will walk before me as David your father walked, doing according to all that I have commanded you and keeping my statutes and my rules, then I will establish your royal throne, as I covenanted with David your father, saying, You shall not lack a man to rule Israel. But if you turn aside and forsake my statutes and my commandments that I have set before you, and go and serve other gods and worship them, then I will pluck you up from my land that I have given you, and this house that I have consecrated for my name, I will cast out of my sight, and I will make it a proverb and a byword among all peoples. (ESV)

> Deuteronomy 6:13-14 - It is the LORD your God you shall fear. Him you shall serve and by his name you shall swear. You shall not go after other gods, the gods of the peoples who are around you, (ESV)

> Deuteronomy 8:19 - And if you forget the LORD your God and go after other gods and serve them and worship them, I solemnly warn you today that you shall surely perish. (ESV)

Technically, though, Jesus Christ the Son of God is, still I believe, a spiritual father to the children of God, because God creates through Christ the Son. In my current understanding, Father God fathers more children through His monogenēs Son who is Jesus Christ, His Word:

> Matthew 13:38-43 - The field is the world, and the good seed is the children of the kingdom. The weeds are the sons of the evil one, and the enemy who sowed them is the devil. The harvest is the close of the age, and the reapers are angels. Just as the weeds are gathered and burned with fire, so will it be at the close of the age. The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of sin and all law-breakers (G458 anomian; wicked i.e. those who hate righteousness, those who prefer evil to > and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear. (ESV)

> John 1:1-3 - In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was in the beginning with God. All things were made through him, and without him was not any thing made that was made. (ESV)

> Hebrews 12:9 - Besides this, we have had earthly fathers who disciplined us and we respected them. Shall we not much more be subject to the Father of spirits and live? (ESV)

> John 3:5-7 - Jesus answered, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Do not marvel that I said to you, You must be born again. (ESV)

> Colossians 3:4 - When Christ who is your life appears, then you also will appear with him in glory. (ESV)

> John 5:26 - For as the Father has life in himself, so he has granted the Son also to have life in himself. (ESV)

> John 1:4-5 - In him was life, and the life was the light of men. The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it. (ESV)

> John 1:9-11 - The true light, which enlightens everyone, was coming into the world. He was in the world, and the world was made through him, yet the world did not know him. He came to his own, and his own people did not receive him. (ESV)

So I believe that Jesus Christ who is the Son of God and God's Word made flesh, is the ”penultimate” spiritual father to the children of God, and still a spiritual father to God's redeemed children who are born-again, baptised into His death:

> Isaiah 9:6 - For to us a child is born, to us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder, and his name shall be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 15:42-48 - So is it with the resurrection of the dead. What is sown is perishable; what is raised is imperishable. It is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness; it is raised in power. It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body. Thus it is written, The first man Adam became a living being; the last Adam became a life-giving spirit. But it is not the spiritual that is first but the natural, and then the spiritual. The first man was from the earth, a man of dust; the second man is from heaven. As was the man of dust, so also are those who are of the dust, and as is the man of heaven, so also are those who are of heaven.

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)
> Romans 6:3-8 - Do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? We were buried therefore with him by baptism into death, in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, we too might walk in newness of life. For if we have been united with him in a death like his, we shall certainly be united with him in a resurrection like his. We know that our old self was crucified with him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin. For one who has died has been set free from sin. Now if we have died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him. (ESV)
> I Peter 3:18-22 - For Christ also suffered once for sins, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh but made alive in the spirit, in which he went and proclaimed to the spirits in prison, because they formerly did not obey, when God's patience waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was being prepared, in which a few, that is, eight persons, were brought safely through water. Baptism, which corresponds to this, now saves you, not as a removal of dirt from the body but as an appeal to God for a good conscience, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, who has gone into heaven and is at the right hand of God, with angels, authorities, and powers having been subjected to him. (ESV)

If someone receives Jesus Christ Son of God, then they receive Father God. And if someone receives someone who Jesus has sent then they receive Jesus:

> John 13:20 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever receives the one I send receives me, and whoever receives me receives the one who sent me. (ESV)
> Mark 9:37 - Whoever receives one such child in my name receives me, and whoever receives me, receives not me but him who sent me. (ESV)
> John 1:12-13 - But to all who did receive him, who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God, who were born, not of blood nor of the will of the flesh nor of the will of man, but of God. (ESV)

Also, Jesus Christ Himself has instructed His disciples to call His own father 'father', rather than Himself. And we should by faith obey Jesus to do this:

> Matthew 6:3-4,6,17-18 - But when you give to the needy, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing, so that your giving may be in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you. But when you pray, go into your room and shut the door and pray to your Father who is in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you. But when you fast, anoint your head and wash your face, that your fasting may not be seen by others but by your Father who is in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you. (ESV)
> John 1:12-13 - But to all who did receive him, who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God, who were born, not of blood nor of the will of the flesh nor of the will of man, but of God. (ESV)
> John 14:6 - Jesus said to him, I am the way, and the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me. (ESV)
> John 17:3 - And this is eternal life, that they know you the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom you have sent. (ESV)

> John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

But since Jesus Christ would call the adopted sons of God His "brothers", and that Jesus instructed His disciples to refer to His own father as their father, then we should do that:

> Romans 8:29 - For those whom he foreknew he also predestined to be conformed to the image of his Son, in order that he might be the firstborn among many brothers. (ESV)

> Psalms 22:22 - I will tell of your name to my brothers; in the midst of the congregation I will praise you: (ESV)

> Luke 8:21 - But he answered them, My mother and my brothers are those who hear the word of God and do it. (ESV)

> Matthew 23:8-11 - But you are not to be called rabbi, for you have one teacher, and you are all brothers. And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. Neither be called instructors, for you have one instructor, the Christ. The greatest among you shall be your servant. (ESV)

A person born of the word of God is born of God. So a person can be born of God even if they are born-again of the word of Christ as Jesus Christ spoke Father God's words.

> John 5:19,30 - So Jesus said to them, Truly, truly, I say to you, the Son can do nothing of his own accord, but only what he sees the Father doing. For whatever the Father does, that the Son does likewise. I can do nothing on my own. As I hear, I judge, and my judgment is just, because I seek not my own will but the will of him who sent me. (ESV)

> John 12:49 - For I have not spoken on my own authority, but the Father who sent me has himself given me a commandment—what to say and what to speak. (ESV)

> John 15:5 - I am the vine; you are the branches. Whoever abides in me and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. (ESV)

So in this order a person is born-again:

- 1) word of God sown in heart
- 2) born-again, baptised into Jesus' death

Also involve when becoming a son of God is coming around to walking in the love of God which involves even loving one's enemies, doing good to those who persectute them.

> Luke 6:27-36 - But I say to you who hear, Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, pray for those who abuse you. To one who strikes you on the cheek, offer the other also, and from one who takes away your cloak do not withhold your tunic either. Give to everyone who begs from you, and from one who takes away your goods do not demand them back. And as you wish that others would do to you, do so to them. If you love those who love you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them. And if you do good to those who do good to you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners do the same. And if you lend to those from whom you expect to receive, what credit is that to you? Even sinners lend to sinners, to get back the same amount. But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing in return, and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, for he is kind to the ungrateful and the evil. Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful. (ESV)

The word of God given through Jesus is what we are born-again by. So Father God fathers us through the word of Christ.

So Jesus Christ and His brothers are all sons of God, Jesus being the first. But as Paul made it clear, one person may father another through the gospel.

So Jesus can also be regarded as a spiritual father (in the new genaeology). But Jesus instructs His distiples to call His father their father.

Paul clearly led people to be imitators of Christ for themself as he is an imitator of Christ, so Paul's followers should imitate him in imitating Christ:

> I Corinthians 11:1-3 - Be imitators of me, as I am of Christ. Now I commend you because you remember me in everything and maintain the traditions even as I delivered them to you. But I want you to understand that the head of every man is Christ, the head of a wife is her husband, and the head of Christ is God. (ESV)

> Ephesians 5:1-2 - Therefore be imitators of God, as beloved children. And walk in love, as Christ loved us and gave himself up for us, a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God. (ESV)

So while someone can be "fathered" through the gospel, they end up having a relationship with Father God the father of Jesus Christ directly. However the Apostle Paul has not instructed anyone to refer to him as 'father'. Paul only claimed the title. Paul's teaching should never contradict or override Jesus Christ's teaching:

> I Corinthians 4:15 - For though you have countless guides in Christ, you do not have many fathers. For I became your father in Christ Jesus through the gospel. (ESV)

> John 16:25-28 - I have said these things to you in figures of speech. The hour is coming when I will no longer speak to you in figures of speech but will tell you plainly about the Father. In that day you will ask in my name, and I do not say to you that I will ask the Father on your behalf; for the Father himself loves you, because you have loved me and have believed that I came from God. I came from the Father and have come into the world, and now I am leaving the world and going to the Father.

> Matthew 5:43-48 - You have heard that it was said, You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy. But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You therefore must be perfect (G5046 teleioi; complete, mature), as your heavenly Father is perfect. (ESV)

> Luke 11:2-13 - And he said to them, When you pray, say: Father, hallowed be your name. Your kingdom come. Give us each day our daily bread, and forgive us our sins, for we ourselves forgive everyone who is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation. And he said to them, Which of you who has a friend will go to him at midnight and say to him, Friend, lend me three loaves, for a friend of mine has arrived on a journey, and I have nothing to set before him; and he will answer from within, Do not bother me; the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed. I cannot get up and give you anything? I tell you, though he will not get up and give him anything because he is his friend, yet because of his impudence he will rise and give him whatever he needs. And I tell you, ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you. For everyone who asks receives, and the one who seeks finds, and to the one who knocks it will be opened. What father among you, if his son asks for a fish, will instead of a fish give him a serpent; or if he asks for an egg, will give him a scorpion? If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will the heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him! (ESV)

A person who loves Jesus Christ is law-abiding by the law of faith in Christ Jesus and they have justification and the right to call God their Father:

> Romans 10:10 - For with the heart one believes and is justified, and with the mouth one confesses and is saved. (ESV)

> Ephesians 1:13-14 - In him you also, when you heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation, and believed in him, were sealed with the promised Holy Spirit, who is the guarantee of our inheritance until we acquire possession of it, to the praise of his glory. (ESV)

> John 8:42 - Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. (ESV)

> John 1:12 - But to all who did receive him, who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God, (ESV)

> Job 22:23-26 - If you return to the Almighty, you will be restored. If you remove injustice from your tents and consign your gold to the dust and the gold of Ophir to the stones of the ravines, then the Almighty will be your gold and the finest silver for you. Surely then you will delight in the Almighty and lift up your face to God. (engbsb2020eb)

So it's absolutely key to have a loving faith in Jesus Christ:

> Matthew 7:23 - And then will I declare to them, I never knew you; depart from me, you workers of lawlessness. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 8:3 - But if anyone loves God, he is known by God. (ESV)

It's also absolutely key to have ”stopped working” at some point, but the rest is entered into by faith and by obedience, so not entered by sinning, say though a sin of omission (James 4:17). If somebody knew that they should help their family in Christ, for example, but they closed their heart against them, then they would be unable to enter rest, which is entered through faith and obedience to Jesus Christ (Hebrews 3:12-19):

> I John 3:17-18 - But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth. (ESV)

> James 4:17 - So whoever knows the right thing to do and fails to do it, for him it is sin. (ESV)

> Hebrews 3:12-19 - Take care, brothers, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God. But exhort one another every day, as long as it is called today, that none of you may be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. For we share in Christ, if indeed we hold our original confidence firm to the end. As it is said, Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion. For who were those who heard and yet rebelled? Was it not all those who left Egypt led by Moses? And with whom was he provoked for forty years? Was it not with those who sinned, whose bodies fell in the wilderness? And to whom did he swear that they would not enter his rest, but to those who were disobedient? So we see that they were unable to enter because of unbelief. (ESV)

And people often confuse obedience with working, when it is easily shown to not mean working, necessarily, but it does mean being ”ready” for every good work:

> Titus 3:1 - Remind them to be submissive to rulers and authorities, to be obedient, to be ready for every good work, (ESV)

When a physician tells someone with a broken leg to rest up and not walk on that leg, and they disobey the physician, and go walking on the leg and then hurt themself, it would be ridiculous for the person to then claim, ”but to obey is works!”, when to obey in this case means to rest. Similarly, when God says, ”Do not bear false witness”, and ”Do not commit adultery”, etc. it means to ”not work lawlessness”. Committing sin is still working, but working for wages that will lead to death (Romans 6:23):

> Luke 5:30-32 - And the Pharisees and their scribes grumbled at his disciples, saying, Why do you eat and drink with tax collectors and sinners? And Jesus answered them, Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick. I have not come to call the righteous but sinners to repentance. (ESV)

If a person thinks that they are ”doing good” but they haven’t done good in God’s sight, but they keep working anyway without stopping, then that isn’t going to go well for them. To receive the gift of righteousness where past sins are forgiven, a person needs to ”stop working”. So bring your history of bad deeds to Jesus, sure, but to receive the gift of forgiveness, one needs to have faith in Jesus Christ and to have ”stopped” working. That doesn’t mean a permament cessation of doing deeds, though (John 14:12, John 4:32-34):

> Romans 4:4-5 - Now to the one who works, his wages are not counted as a gift but as his due. And to the one who does not work but trusts him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is counted as righteousness, (ESV)

> Romans 6:23 - For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

> Matthew 7:23 - And then will I declare to them, I never knew you; depart from me, you workers of lawlessness. (ESV)

”Has rested” doesn’t mean ”has permanently rested”, though:

> Hebrews 4:7-12 - again he appoints a certain day, Today, saying through David so long afterward, in the words already quoted, Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts. For if Joshua had given them rest, God would not have spoken of another day later on. So then, there remains a Sabbath rest for the people of God, for whoever has entered God’s rest has also rested from his works as God did from his. Let us therefore strive to enter that rest, so that no one may fall by the same sort of disobedience. For the word of God is living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing to the division of soul and of spirit, of joints and of marrow, and discerning the thoughts and intentions of the heart. (ESV)

> John 14:12 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)

To have the true knowledge of Jesus, one would need to have had faith and stopped sinning from the heart because they have real faith:

> I Corinthians 15:34 - Wake up from your drunken stupor, as is right, and do not go on sinning. For some have no knowledge of God. I say this to your shame. (ESV)

> I John 3:6 - No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. (ESV)

> I John 3:3-11 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)

When someone begins and continues on by faith in Jesus Christ calling on God as their Father, there is a change of allegience resulting in a divorce from the world they once knew. God then disciplines and cleans us up and the world hates us as we hold Jesus Christ as the topmost love in our heart:

> I Peter 1:17-19 - And if you call on him as Father who judges impartially according to each one's deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile, knowing that you were ransomed from the futile ways inherited from your forefathers, not with perishable things such as silver or gold, but with the precious blood of Christ, like that of a lamb without blemish or spot. (ESV)

> I John 2:15-17 - Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world—the desires of the flesh and the desires of the eyes and pride in possessions—is not from the Father but is from the world. And the world is passing away along with its desires, but whoever does the will of God abides forever. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 7:28-35 - But if you do marry, you have not sinned, and if a betrothed woman marries, she has not sinned. Yet those who marry will have worldly troubles, and I would spare you that. This is what I mean, brothers: the appointed time has grown very short. From now on, let those who have wives live as though they had none, and those who mourn as though they were not mourning, and those who rejoice as though they were not rejoicing, and those who buy as though they had no goods, and those who deal with the world as though they had no dealings with it. For the present form of this world is passing away. I want you to be free from anxieties. The unmarried man is anxious about the things of the Lord, how to please the Lord. But the married man is anxious about worldly things, how to please his wife, and his interests are divided. And the unmarried or betrothed woman is anxious about the things of the Lord, how to be holy in body and spirit. But the married woman is anxious about worldly things, how to please her husband. I say this for your own benefit, not to lay any restraint upon you, but to promote good order and to secure your undivided devotion to the Lord. (ESV)

And a person who loves Jesus Christ will be law-abiding by the law of Christ Jesus meaning that they will be sanctified, and that's a promise:

> John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

> I John 4:7 - Beloved, let us love one another, for love is from God, and whoever loves has been born of God and knows God. (ESV)

> I John 5:2 - By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

> Matthew 23:28 - So you also outwardly appear righteous to others, but within you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness. (ESV)

> Matthew 24:12 - And because lawlessness will be increased, the love of many will grow cold. (ESV)

> Matthew 13:40-43 - Just as the weeds are gathered and burned with fire, so will it be at the close of the age. The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of sin and all law-breakers (G4160 poiountas 3588 tēn G458 anomian; practicing lawlessness), and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear. (ESV)
> I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)
> John 8:34-35,36,42,51 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death. (ESV)

To inherit the Kingdom, we must be sanctified (I Corinthians 6:9-12), and that sanctification involves exercising Christ's love and it involves putting on incorruption. It involves sanctification, and putting a stop to sin:

> Ephesians 5:5-6 - For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 15:50-55 - I tell you this, brothers: flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God, nor does the perishable inherit the imperishable. Behold! I tell you a mystery. We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we shall be changed. For this perishable body must put on the imperishable, and this mortal body must put on immortality. When the perishable puts on the imperishable, and the mortal puts on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written: Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is your victory? O death, where is your sting? (ESV)
> John 8:34-35,36,42,51 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death. (ESV)

Polycarp 5:3 In like manner also the younger men must be blameless in all things, caring for purity before everything and curbing themselves from every evil. For it is a good thing to refrain from lusts in the world, > for every lust warreth against the Spirit, and neither whoremongers nor effeminate persons nor defilers of themselves with men shall inherit the kingdom of God, neither they that do untoward things. Wherefore it is right to abstain from all these things, submitting yourselves to the presbyters and deacons as to God and Christ. The virgins must walk in a blameless and pure conscience.

If a person has come to have the love of Jesus Christ in them then praise God because it's happened by God's grace. Forgiveness is in Christ for those who by the grace of God have come around to having the love of God in their heart and they now practice righteousness rather than doing deeds done from a love of evil.

But we certainly have to continue walking by faith (Hebrews 10:37-39, Romans 14:23) and love (Romans 14:14-18, I John 4:19-21):

> Romans 14:14-18 - I know and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus that nothing is unclean in itself, but it is unclean for anyone who thinks it unclean. For if your brother is grieved by what you eat, you are no longer walking in love. By what you eat, do not destroy the one for whom Christ died. So do not let what you regard as good be spoken of as evil. For the kingdom of God is not a matter of eating and drinking but of righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. Whoever thus serves Christ is acceptable to God and approved by men. (ESV)

> Hebrews 10:37-39 - For, Yet a little while, and the coming one will come and will not delay; _but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls. (ESV)

It's clear that when a deed is done in faith it is good, and when a deed is not done in faith, it's evil.

Whatever does not proceed from faith sin (Romans 14:23), and sin is lawlessness (I John 3:4), and any obedience that doesn't come from a love for the truth is feigned (Luke 6:45, Psalms 81:15). We must be law of faith abiding (John 14:15, Romans 3:27, I Corinthians 9:21, Matthew 13:41).

If a person doubts, then they shouldn't eat, because to eat while doubting would be to commit sin:

> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

> Hebrews 11:4 - By faith Abel offered to God a more acceptable sacrifice than Cain, through which he was commended as righteous, God commending him by accepting his gifts. And through his faith, though he died, he still speaks. (ESV)

If someone loves Jesus Christ then they have forgiveness from Jesus (Acts 10:41-44). If someone has forgiveness from Jesus then they must now love Jesus Christ (Luke 7:40-50) in their heart:

> Ephesians 2:8-9 - For by grace you have been saved through faith. And this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God, not a result of works, so that no one may boast. (ESV)

> Acts 26:18 - to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me. (ESV)

Christians must be law-abiding (G1772 ennomos; lawful to, law-abiding to, in the law of) by Jesus' commandments (Matthew 13:38-43, I John 3:23-24, I Corinthians 9:21) but not under the Book of the Law (Galatians 3:10, Galatians 3:23) and not reliant on the works of the law (Romans 3:20), the works of the Law being inclusive of the external actions.

It's the 'anomian' (i.e. the wicked; those who hate righteousness, those who prefer evil to Jesus Christ) who don't abide in Jesus, and who not abiding are cast out, and wither and are eventually burned. God is longsuffering and merciful but we do need to become those who end up bearing good fruit. If a person loves Jesus Christ more than anyone or anything else, then they will bear good fruit:

> Matthew 13:38-43 - The field is the world, and the good seed is the children of the kingdom. The weeds are the sons of the evil one, and the enemy who sowed them is the devil. The harvest is the close of the age, and the reapers are angels. Just as the weeds are gathered and burned with fire, so will it be at the close of the age. The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of sin and all law-breakers (G458 anomian; wicked i.e. those who hate righteousness, those who prefer evil to > and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear. (ESV)

> John 15:4-7 - Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit by itself, unless it abides in the vine, neither can you, unless you abide in me. I am the vine; you are the branches. Whoever abides in me and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. If anyone does not abide in me he is thrown away like a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire, and burned. If you abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be done for you. (ESV)

> Luke 13:6-9 - And he told this parable: A man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit on it and found none. And he said to the vinedresser, Look, for three years now I have come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and I find none. Cut it down. Why should it use up the ground? And he answered him, Sir, let it alone this year also, until I dig around it and put on manure. Then if it should bear fruit next year, well and good; but if not, you can cut it down. (ESV)

> Isaiah 5:7,20-24 - For the vineyard of the LORD of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah are his pleasant planting; and he looked for justice, but behold, bloodshed; for righteousness, but behold, an outcry! Woe to those who call evil good and good evil, who put darkness for light and light for darkness, who put bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter! Woe to those who are wise in their own eyes, and shrewd in their own sight! Woe to those who are heroes at drinking wine, and valiant men in mixing strong drink, who acquit the guilty for a bribe, and deprive the innocent of his right! Therefore, as the tongue of fire devours the stubble, and as dry grass sinks down in the flame, so their root will be as rottenness, and their blossom go up like dust; for they have rejected the law of the LORD of hosts, and have despised the word of the Holy One of Israel. (ESV)

Even though Jesus Christ Son of God is Lord, God His Father is still also reigning and is still ”vinedressing”:

> Matthew 11:25-27 - At that time Jesus declared, I thank you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that you have hidden these things from the wise and understanding and revealed them to little children; yes, Father, for such was your gracious will. All things have been handed over to me by my Father, and no one knows the Son except the Father, and no one knows the Father except the Son and anyone to whom the Son chooses to reveal him. (ESV)

> John 15:1-6 - I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinedresser. Every branch of mine that does not bear fruit he takes away, and every branch that does bear fruit he prunes, that it may bear more fruit. Already you are clean because of the word that I have spoken to you. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit by itself, unless it abides in the vine, neither can you, unless you abide in me. I am the vine; you are the branches. Whoever abides in me and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. If anyone does not abide in me he is thrown away like a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire, and burned. (ESV)

> I John 2:1 - My little children, I am writing these things to you so that you may not sin. But if anyone does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. (ESV)

> I Peter 1:17-19 - And if you call on him as Father who judges impartially according to each one’s deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile, knowing that you were ransomed from the futile ways inherited from your forefathers, not with perishable things such as silver or gold, but with the precious blood of Christ, like that of a lamb without blemish or spot. (ESV)

Romans 11:17-23 - But if some of the branches were broken off, and you, although a wild olive shoot, were grafted in among the others and now share in the nourishing root of the olive tree, do not be arrogant toward the branches. If you are, remember it is not you who support the root, but the root that supports you. Then you will say, Branches were broken off so that I might be grafted in. That is true. They were broken off because of their unbelief, but you stand fast through faith. So do not become proud, but stand in awe. For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. Note then the kindness and the severity of God: severity toward those who have fallen, but God’s kindness to you, provided you continue in his kindness. Otherwise you too will be cut off. And even they, if they do not continue in their unbelief, will be grafted in, for God has the power to graft them in again. (ESV)

I Corinthians 15:27-28 - For God has put all things in subjection under his feet. But when it says, all things are put in subjection, it is plain that he is excepted who put all things in subjection under him. When all things are subjected to him, then the Son himself will also be subjected to him who put all things in subjection under him, that God may be all in all. (ESV)

John 15:1-6 - I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinedresser. Every branch of mine that does not bear fruit he takes away, and every branch that does bear fruit he prunes, that it may bear more fruit. Already you are clean because of the word that I have spoken to you. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit by itself, unless it abides in the vine, neither can you, unless you abide in me. I am the vine; you are the branches. Whoever abides in me and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. If anyone does not abide in me he is thrown away like a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire, and burned. Let me say it again. What we’re saved from in biblical terms of salvation is God Himself. God is the one who saves us through his Son. But he sends his Son to save us from Him. Because the worst catastrophe from which anyone could ever be rescued is from the wrath of Almighty God. Unless you repent, you all likewise perish. Do you know what the message we get now from the television preachers and even from the preachers in their pulpits on Sunday morning? I hear this. Tell me if you’ve heard this. The preacher stands up and he says, ”Here’s the gospel. Here’s the good news. God loves you unconditionally. Now, you’re an unbeliever. You’re a pagan. You don’t want to have God in your thinking. You have no fear of God whatsoever. Your whole life is committed to idols. And this ’Christian’ minister just told you, ”God loves you unconditionally.” What do you hear? I don’t have to do anything. This is Mr. Rogers Neighborhood (He likes me just the way I am). You know, when I read the book, it says, ”God abhors the evildoer.” (Psalms 5:5) Oh, yes. The evil unrepentant person enjoys the beneficent love of God and the benevolent love of God, but the redemptive love of God is so far from him, you can’t imagine where it is. But who’s worried about salvation if God loves you [merely] unconditionally? That’s not just a lie. That’s a monstrous lie. We have to understand that the greatest salvation we can ever experience is to be saved from God. So where we deserve wrath, we get mercy. And where we deserve judgment, we get grace because of Jesus who rightly was called ”Jesus”. For he will save his people from their sins.

Matthew 13:24-30 - He put another parable before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a man who sowed good seed in his field, but while his men were sleeping, his enemy came and sowed weeds among the wheat and went away. So when the plants came up and bore grain, then the weeds appeared also. And the servants of the master of the house came and said to him, Master, did you not sow good seed in your field? How then does it have weeds? He said to them, An enemy has done this. So the servants said to him, Then do you want us to go and gather them? But he said, No, lest in gathering the weeds you root up the wheat along with them. Let both grow together until the harvest, and at harvest time I will tell the reapers, Gather the weeds first and bind them in bundles to be burned, but gather the wheat into my barn. (ESV)

John 3:17-21 - For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him. Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does > not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his deeds should be exposed. But whoever does (G4160 poiōn; doing) what is true comes to the light, so that it may be clearly seen that his deeds have been carried out in God. (ESV)

> Luke 13:3 - No, I tell you; but unless you repent, you will all likewise perish. (ESV)

> John 3:36 - Whoever believes (G4100 pisteuōn - is believing (verb)) in the Son has eternal life; whoever does not obey (544. apeitheó) the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God remains on him. (ESV)

> Romans 1:17-18 - For the gospel reveals the righteousness of God that comes by faith from start to finish, just as it is written: "The righteous will live by faith." The wrath of God is being revealed from heaven against all the godlessness and wickedness of men who suppress the truth by their wickedness. (engbsb2020eb)

> Acts 17:30-31 - The times of ignorance God overlooked, but now he commands all people everywhere to repent, because he has fixed a day on which he will judge the world in righteousness by a man whom he has appointed; and of this he has given assurance to all by raising him from the dead. (ESV)

> Romans 2:5 - But because of your hard and impenitent heart you are storing up wrath for yourself on the day of wrath when God's righteous judgment will be revealed. (ESV)

> II Peter 3:7 - But by the same word the heavens and earth that now exist are stored up for fire, being kept until the day of judgment and destruction of the ungodly. (ESV)

> Romans 6:16-18,7:25,8:1-4 - Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord! So then, I myself serve the law of God with my mind, but with my flesh I serve the law of sin. There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. (ESV)

We need to be those who love God's righteous precepts:

> Psalms 119:155 - Salvation is far from the wicked, for they do not seek your statutes. (ESV)

> Psalms 50:16 - But to the wicked God says: What right have you to recite my statutes or take my covenant on your lips? (ESV)

> Psalms 50:23 - The one who offers thanksgiving as his sacrifice glorifies me; to one who orders his way rightly I will show the salvation of God! (ESV)

Loving God's word, loving what God loves, loving the truth of God, loving God a person would love Jesus and His words:

> John 5:42-47 - But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. I have come in my Father's name, and you do not receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him. How can you believe, when you receive glory from one another and do not seek the glory that comes from the only God? Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father. There is one who accuses you: Moses, on whom you have set your hope. If you believed Moses, you would believe me; for he wrote of me. But if you do not believe his writings, how will you believe my words? (ESV)

> I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

Christians are justified by the law of faith in Jesus Christ (Romans 3:26-28) apart from (G5565 chōris) the works of the law (Romans 3:20-22) and rather than by the Old Covenant Law. It's faith in heart which God sees (Romans 10:10).

When God justifies an ungodly person for their faith in Jesus, it's as they are trusting in Jesus Christ and His words, and the person is forgiven of their former sin, just like it shows in (Ezekiel 18:20-24), and going forward while holding their faith in Jesus is cleaned up and they will also be practicing righteousness, doing the deeds of Jesus. In other words, a person may be ungodly and have evil deeds, but when they put their faith in Jesus Christ, their former evil deeds are no longer taken into account. And holding faith in Jesus, they practice righteousness. They are obeying the gospel of God as they are holding their faith in Jesus Christ:

> Romans 4:3-8 - For what does the Scripture say? Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness. Now to the one who works, his wages are not counted as a gift but as his due. And to the one who does not work but trusts him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is counted as righteousness, just as David also speaks of the blessing of the one to whom God counts righteousness apart from works: Blessed are those whose lawless deeds are forgiven, and whose sins are covered; blessed is the man against whom the Lord will not count his sin. (ESV)
> John 14:12 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)

A person cannot have justification while they are presently committing willful sin. Because what is not done in faith is sin and we need faith in Jesus for justification. So if a person does commit sin, then they need to return to faith:

> Romans 1:17-18 - For the gospel reveals the righteousness of God that comes by faith from start to finish, just as it is written: "The righteous will live by faith." The wrath of God is being revealed from heaven against all the godlessness and wickedness of men who suppress the truth by their wickedness. (engbsb2020eb)
> Hebrews 10:37-39 - For, Yet a little while, and the coming one will come and will not delay; _but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls. (ESV)

The person must not ultimately remain ungodly if they are to avoid the wrath of God. Someone who is overcome by and enslaved to ungodliness to the suppression of the truth, to the ruin of their faith (I Timothy 1:18-19), will still receive the wrath of God:

> Romans 1:18-25 - For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who by their unrighteousness suppress the truth. For what can be known about God is plain to them, because God has shown it to them. For his invisible attributes, namely, his eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly perceived, ever since the creation of the world, in the things that have been made. So they are without excuse. For although they knew God, they did not honor him as God or give thanks to him, but they became futile in their thinking, and their foolish hearts were darkened. Claiming to be wise, they became fools, and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images resembling mortal man and birds and animals and reptiles. Therefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts to impurity, to the dishonoring of their bodies among themselves, because they exchanged the truth about God for a lie and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever! Amen. (ESV)
> II Peter 2:19 - They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved. (ESV)

> Jude 1:14-18 - It was also about these that Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saying, Behold, the Lord came with ten thousands of his holy ones, to execute judgment on all and to convict all the ungodly of all their deeds of ungodliness that they have committed in such an ungodly way, and of all the harsh things that ungodly sinners have spoken against him. These are grumblers, malcontents, following their own sinful desires; they are loud-mouthed boasters, showing favoritism to gain advantage. But you must remember, beloved, the predictions of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ. They said to you, In the last time there will be scoffers, following their own ungodly passions. (ESV)

> Romans 11:25-27 - Lest you be wise in your own conceits, I want you to understand this mystery, brothers: a partial hardening has come upon Israel, until the fullness of the Gentiles has come in. And in this way all Israel will be saved, as it is written, The Deliverer will come from Zion, he will banish ungodliness from Jacob; and this will be my covenant with them when I take away their sins. (ESV)

We need to continue to hold fast to the truth of the Gospel. It's important to continue to hold fast to what is of first importance. Holding fast to these most important doctrines of faith, eventually the believer will "win out", because they're holding fast to the actual truth:

> I Corinthians 15:1-8 - Now I would remind you, brothers, of the gospel I preached to you, which you received, in which you stand, and by which you are being saved, if you hold fast to the word I preached to you—unless you believed in vain. For I delivered to you as of first importance what I also received: that Christ died for our sins in accordance with the Scriptures, that he was buried, that he was raised on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures, and that he appeared to Cephas, then to the twelve. Then he appeared to more than five hundred brothers at one time, most of whom are still alive, though some have fallen asleep. Then he appeared to James, then to all the apostles. Last of all, as to one untimely born, he appeared also to me. (ESV)

> Proverbs 12:3 - No one is established by wickedness, but the root of the righteous will never be moved. (ESV)

So as we go on as believers, we must hold fast to what is true as we learn from God:

> Philippians 3:12-21 - Not that I have already obtained this or am already perfect, but I press on to make it my own, because Christ Jesus has made me his own. Brothers, I do not consider that I have made it my own. But one thing I do: forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus. Let those of us who are mature think this way, and if in anything you think otherwise, God will reveal that also to you. Only let us hold true to what we have attained. Brothers, join in imitating me, and keep your eyes on those who walk according to the example you have in us. For many, of whom I have often told you and now tell you even with tears, walk as enemies of the cross of Christ. Their end is destruction, their god is their belly, and they glory in their shame, with minds set on earthly things. But our citizenship is in heaven, and from it we await a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ, who will transform our lowly body to be like his glorious body, by the power that enables him even to subject all things to himself. (ESV)

> Isaiah 7:9 - And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is the son of Remaliah. If you are not firm in faith, you will not be firm at all. (ESV)

> II John 1:9 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. (ESV)

> Matthew 13:9-15 - He who has ears, let him hear. Then the disciples came and said to him, Why do you speak to them in parables? And he answered them, To you it has been given to know the secrets of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it has not been given. For to the one who has, more will be given, and he will have an abundance, but from the one who has not, even what he has will be taken away. This is why I speak to them in parables, because seeing they do not see, and hearing they do not hear, nor do they understand. Indeed, in their case the prophecy of Isaiah is fulfilled that says: You will indeed hear but never understand, and you will indeed see but never perceive. For this people's heart has grown dull, and with their ears they can barely hear, and their eyes they have closed, lest they should see with their eyes and hear with their ears and understand with their heart and turn, and I would heal them. (ESV)

> Hebrews 2:1 - Therefore we must pay much closer attention to what we have heard, lest we drift away from it. (ESV)

Jesus has died for our sins. Receiving this salvation is a matter of having faith in Jesus Christ, abiding in His commandments:

> I Corinthians 15:1-8 - Now I would remind you, brothers, of the gospel I preached to you, which you received, in which you stand, and by which you are being saved, if you hold fast to the word I preached to you—unless you believed in vain. For I delivered to you as of first importance what I also received: that Christ died for our sins in accordance with the Scriptures, that he was buried, that he was raised on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures, and that he appeared to Cephas, then to the twelve. Then he appeared to more than five hundred brothers at one time, most of whom are still alive, though some have fallen asleep. Then he appeared to James, then to all the apostles. Last of all, as to one untimely born, he appeared also to me. (ESV)

> Romans 5:8 - but God shows his love for us in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us. (ESV)

> Romans 6:23 - For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

> I John 2:1-6 - My little children, I am writing these things to you so that you may not sin. But if anyone does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. He is the propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only but also for the sins of the whole world. And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

> John 17:3 - And this is eternal life, that they know you the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom you have sent. (ESV)

> Romans 10:3-11 - For, being ignorant of the righteousness that comes from God, and seeking to establish their own, they did not submit to God's righteousness. For Christ is the end (G5056 telos) of the law for righteousness to everyone who believes. For Moses writes about the righteousness that is based on the law, that the person who does the commandments shall live by them. But the righteousness based on faith says, Do not say in your heart, Who will ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down) or Who will descend into the abyss? (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead). But what does it say? The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart (that is, the word of faith that we proclaim); because, if you confess (G3670 homologēsēs; from homologeó: To confess, to acknowledge, to agree) with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For with the heart one believes and is justified, and with the mouth one confesses and is saved. For the Scripture says, Everyone who believes in him will not be put to shame. (ESV)

> I John 3:23 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. (ESV)

As we exercise faith in Jesus Christ, holding fast to the truth, we are saved through sanctification and that faith in Jesus Christ:

> II Thessalonians 2:13 - But we ought always to give thanks to God for you, brothers beloved by the Lord, because God chose you as the firstfruits to be saved, through sanctification by the Spirit and belief in the truth. (ESV)

A justified person is "being saved" / "being sanctified" (John 5:24, Acts 26:18, John 17:19, Hebrews 10:12-17), i.e. cleaned up (I Thessalonians 3:11-13,5:23):

> I Thessalonians 3:11-13,5:23 - Now may our God and Father himself, and our Lord Jesus, direct our way to you, and may the Lord make you increase and abound in love for one another and for all, as we do for you, so that he may establish your hearts blameless in holiness before our God and Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus with all his saints. Now may the God of peace himself sanctify you completely, and may your whole spirit and soul and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. (ESV)

Confession of faith unto salvation:

> Romans 10:9-10 - because, if you confess with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For with the heart one believes and is justified, and with the mouth one confesses and is saved. (ESV)

> I John 4:15 - Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. (ESV)

With the mouth one confesses and is saved. I confess that Jesus is the Son of God.

Journal <2026-07-18 Sat 10:58> May God save me from being bound to people who are walking contrary to the teachings of Jesus Christ, actively discouraging me from being a doer of the word of God. I do not want to be yoked with people who stubbornly refuse to provide from their mouth a confession that Jesus is the Son of God. God can see from His perspective if they are actually believers, but I can't see everything from God's perspective, and so I think I should separate from them, because I feel frequently opposed by them.

Romans 3:21 speaks of the righteousness (G1343 dikaiosynē) of God (G2316 Theou) apart from (G5565 chōris) law (G3551 nomou). The righteousness of God through faith in Jesus is that righteousness. Simply put, God sees when someone has faith in Jesus Christ and someone who abides in Jesus Christ's commandments has it, not commending themselves and comparing themselves with others II Corinthians 10:11-12 but, rather, seeking to please God who sees the heart.

The Christian's duty is in the fear of God to have faith in Him and love as commanded (which involves resisting sin):

- Love as commanded
- Resist committing sin

> Ecclesiastes 12:13-14 - The end of the matter; all has been heard. Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man. For God will bring every deed into judgment, with every secret thing, whether good or evil. (ESV)

Doing our duty is Christians is of vital importance. And when I hear that word "duty", I think of grace, because God in His grace hasn't burdened us with more than we can handle.

Getting cleaned up to agape love as commanded in a complete way is the process of sanctification, and of course that does involve abstaining from committing sin (Romans 13:8-10), even against our own bodies.

> I Thessalonians 4:3-8 - For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you abstain from sexual immorality; that each one of you know how to control his own body in holiness and honor, not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God; that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you. For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness. Therefore whoever disregards this, disregards not man but God, who gives his Holy Spirit to you. (ESV)

Ephesians 5:28 (Interlinear) So (G3779 houtōs) ought (G3784 opheilousin) also (G2532 kai) husbands (G435 andres) to love (G25 agapan) the (G3588 tas) of themselves (G1438 heautōn) wives (G1135 gynaikas) as (G5613 hōs) the (G3588 ta) of themselves (G1438 heautōn) bodies (G4983 sōmata) the [one] (G3588 ho) loving (G25 agapōn) the (G3588 tēn) of himself (G1438 heautou) wife (G1135 gynaika) himself (G1438 heauton) loves (G25 agapa)

We must make it our aim to please God without hypocrisy (Luke 12:1-9, II Timothy 2:5):

> Ecclesiastes 12:13-14 - The end of the matter; all has been heard. Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man. For God will bring every deed into judgment, with every secret thing, whether good or evil. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 5:9-12 - So whether we are at home or away, we make it our aim to please him. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil. Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. We are not commending ourselves to you again but giving you cause to boast about us, so that you may be able to answer those who boast about outward appearance and not about what is in the heart. (ESV)

> Proverbs 19:23 - The fear of the LORD leads to life, and whoever has it rests satisfied; he will not be visited by harm. (ESV)

Polycarp 6:2 If then we entreat the Lord that He would forgive us, we also ought to forgive: for we are before the eyes of our Lord and God, and we must all stand at the judgment-seat of Christ, and each man must give an account of himself.

Polycarp 6:3 Let us therefore so serve Him with fear and all reverence, as He himself gave commandment and the Apostles who preached the Gospel to us and the prophets who proclaimed beforehand the coming of our Lord; being zealous as touching that which is good, abstaining from offenses and from the false brethren and from them that bear the name of the Lord in hypocrisy, who lead foolish men astray.

And it's apart from the (G5565 chōris) the works of the law that we are justified by:

Now imagine if someone called God their father, but in a way that was displeasing to God because their heart wasn't right. So doing what Jesus says without hypocrisy is clearly also about a correct heart posture towards God:

> John 8:39-42 - They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham's children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. (ESV)

So the faith we need to be found by God having is a loving faith in Jesus Christ. That doesn't mean that there are not any works associated with that faith (but God looks at the heart), and it doesn't mean that there are not any commandments / law associated with that faith that the person who is commended was trying to abide by (Hebrews 11:8). Walking by faith involves seeking to please God as opposed to committing sin (Romans 14:23, Hebrews 11:24-25, I John 3:4, Hebrews 12:4, Hebrews 10:26-29).

The righteousness (G1343 dikaiosynē) of God (G2316 Theou) apart from (G5565 chōris) law (G3551 nomou) certainly means that there is an "alien" righteousness that a person can have by faith in the person who is righteous, Jesus Christ. I think of it a bit like a "pointer" in computer programming. That faith is not a hatred of Jesus Christ, but is a love for Jesus Christ.

> Galatians 2:16 - having known also that a man is not declared righteous by works of law, if not through the faith of Jesus Christ, also we in Christ Jesus did believe, that we might be declared righteous by the faith of Christ, and not by works of law, wherefore declared righteous by works of law shall be no flesh.' (YLT)

We "pursue" Jesus:

> II Timothy 2:22 - So flee youthful passions and pursue righteousness, faith, love, and peace, along with those who call on the Lord from a pure heart. (ESV)

> Galatians 2:17 - And if, seeking to be declared righteous in Christ, we ourselves also were found sinners, is then Christ a ministrant of sin? let it not be! (YLT)

Why does a person decide to keep Jesus' commandments? It should be out of a loving faith in God, loving righteousness, and the only way to actually keep His commandments commendably is for them to be done out of faith and love for the truth (John 14:15, John 8:31-47, Romans 14:23):

> I Corinthians 11:22-32 - What! Do you not have houses to eat and drink in? Or do you despise the church of God and humiliate those who have nothing? What shall I say to you? Shall I commend you in this? No, I will not. For I received from the Lord what I also delivered to you, that the Lord Jesus on the night when he was betrayed took bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it, and said, This is my body which is for you. Do this in remembrance of me. In the same way also he took the cup, after supper, saying, This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me. For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes. Whoever, therefore, eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner will be guilty of profaning the body and blood of the Lord. Let a person examine himself, then, and so eat of the bread and drink of the cup. For anyone who eats and drinks without discerning (G1252 diakrinó) the body eats and drinks judgment on himself. That is why many of you are weak and ill, and some have died. But if we judged ourselves truly, we would not be judged. But when we are judged by the Lord, we are disciplined so that we may not be condemned along with the world. (ESV)

> > John 6:37 - All that the Father gives me will come to me, and whoever comes to me I will never cast out. (ESV)
> > John 5:39-40 - You search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; it is these that testify about Me; and you are unwilling to come to Me so that you may have life. (NASB)

I am the vine and you are the branches. The one who remains in Me, and I in him, will bear much fruit. For apart from Me you can do nothing. If anyone does not remain in Me, he is like a branch that is thrown away and withers. Such branches are gathered up, thrown into the fire, and burned. If you remain in Me and My words remain in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be done for you. (engbsb2020eb)

`@stefanlouw6395` You are perfectly justified before God through genuine faith in the blood of Jesus Christ. Although you may stumble into sin, you must repent and continue persevering in faith until the end, trusting in God's preserving grace and refusing to apostatize.

`@ShaneMulligan-n7h` to `@stefanlouw6395`: That sounds correct. Thumbs up! A person is justified if they have faith in the blood of Jesus Christ in their heart. While lapses of faith may happen, we must return to faith in Jesus, and continue in faith in Jesus. But there is also this other Romans 7 dynamic which when inwardly desiring to the will of God but the external actions do not line up with that, the evil deeds are blamed on sin that dwells in the flesh rather than on Paul. But inwardly we need to be abiding in Jesus' commandments from the heart. God sees the heart and justifies the one who has faith in Jesus.

I think the crux of the issue is whether or not a person loves Jesus for who He is, the Son of God, the Messiah. Because when a person is forgiven by Jesus, they are now a person who loves, and when a person loves Jesus they are forgiven.

The faith in Jesus Christ which a person is justified by is counted distinctly from (G5565 chōris) any associated external actions, and apart from the Law (i.e. the Torah: Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy).

This is very clearly not implying that a person doesn't have corresponding works (e.g. Abel's offering was done in faith), and very clearly not implying that a person does not seek to keep some law as they exercise their faith (Romans 14:23, Romans 9:30-32). But it's the faith (what is in the heart, a loving faith in Jesus Christ) which is counted distinctly.

God looks at the faith, the heart posture to Him, rather than His commendation resting solely on external actions. What counts is the "faith" behind what a person did or might do. If done from genuine faith in Jesus, then it's actually God who did it through them. (i.e. if God told you to do X, and then you did X out of a genuine faith, then you can't claim that this was a gift from you to God).

The word chōris in a statement "A chōris B" doesn't mean that B does not exist. Rather, the statement means "A where B is not taken into account", or "A distinct from B". So chōris means "without taking into account" or "as distinct from":

> Matthew 14:21 - And those who ate were about five thousand men, besides (G5565 chōris) women and children. (ESV)

It would also be semantically correct to say, "deeds (G2041 ergōn; works) apart from (G5565 chōris) faith". Deeds apart from faith would be the external actions.

See how in his heart, Paul is willing, and in his mind he serves the law of God. But Paul is not reliant on his external actions (i.e. works). But works/deeds really talk about "both faith and external action united". Real faith alone is just about the faith component of that:

> Romans 7:18 - For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh; for the willing is present in me, but the working out of the good is not. (LSB)

> Romans 7:15-25 - I do not understand my own actions. For I do not do what I want, but I do the very thing I hate. Now if I do what I do not want, I agree with the law, that it is good. So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. So I find it to be a law that when I want to do right, evil lies close at hand. For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. Wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me from this body of death? Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord! So then, I myself serve the law of God with my mind, but with my flesh I serve the law of sin. (ESV)

We are saved not ”ex hymōn” (out of yourselves) and not ”ex ergōn” (out of works), but from God’s gift.

So I think that when a person simply does as God asks, this is receiving the gift from God. Like Noah building the ark, for example. God’s commandment is to believe in the name of His Son and to love one another. These commandments are everything to do with genuine faith in Jesus, and when obeyed are receiving grace.

But when done contrary to what God has asked of us (e.g. Leviticus 10:1, Numbers 20:8-12), is not receiving a gift from God.

Moses and Aaron did not trust God that if they spoke to the rock before the eyes of the congregation that the rock would yield its water, and so did not do as God had commanded in speaking to the rock. In distrust, Moses struck the rock instead; Moses disobeyed. God was very clear that Moses should speak to the rock, but instead Moses struck the rock with the rod. Moses didn’t get away with it.

To remain faithful to God from the heart rather than committing sin is to do with faith apart from works (Romans 7).

The ultimate test is whether or not someone receives Jesus, receiving Him as as the Messiah, the Son of Man, the Son of God, if they have faith in Him in the heart.

John the Baptist also came in the ”way of righteousness”. John the Baptist preaching repentance is not contrary to Jesus’ preaching. So while John the Baptist was preaching the truth, he himself preached to believe in Jesus Christ. In Matthew 21:24-32, Jesus said to some ”you did not believe him”. Similarly, in John 5:42-47, Jesus said, ”If you believed Moses, you would believe me, for he wrote of me”. So if someone truly believes John the Baptist or Moses then they would believe Jesus. But we must come to Jesus (John 6:45). We must receive Jesus.

> John 8:23-24 - He said to them, You are from below; I am from above. You are of this world; I am not of this world. I told you that you would die in your sins, for unless you believe that I am he you will die in your sins. (ESV)

> John 15:22-24 - If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not have been guilty of sin, but now they have no excuse for their sin. Whoever hates me hates my Father also. If I had not done among them the works that no one else did, they would not be guilty of sin, but now they have seen and hated both me and my Father. (ESV)

God looks at the faith, the heart posture to Him, rather than His commendation resting solely on external actions (For example, ”managing to confess sin verbally to another follower of Christ”, or ”managing to use exactly bread and wine when taking communion”).

`@eternalrhythmflow`: Salvation from what? Answer in reality, not metaphor. And don’t just say “sin”. You don’t know what that means. What did Jesus’ Israelite brothers need to be saved from?

`@ShaneMulligan-n7h` to `@eternalrhythmflow`: By having faith in Jesus Christ we are saved from being enslaved to sin (i.e. saved from being unable to stop committing sin, as committing sin leads to death). But having faith in Jesus Christ, we are saved into God working through us, and the fruit of that leads to eternal life:

> Romans 10:3-4 - For, being ignorant of the righteousness that comes from God, and seeking to establish their own, they did not submit to God's righteousness. For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to everyone who believes (G4100 pisteuo has faith in Jesus).
> John 8:34-35,36,42,51 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death. (ESV)

> James 4:13-17 - Come now, you who say, "Today or tomorrow we will go to such and such a city, and spend a year there and engage in business and make a profit." Yet you do not know what your life will be like tomorrow. You are just a vapor that appears for a little while and then vanishes away. Instead, you ought to say, "If the Lord wills, we will live and also do this or that." But as it is, you boast in your arrogance; all such boasting is evil. Therefore, to one who knows the right thing to do and does not do it, to him it is sin. (NASB)

> II Corinthians 7:1 - Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God. (ESV)

I think it's not possible to be sanctified by committing sin, so that's why I say that there would be a lapse of justification:

> Proverbs 12:3 - No one is established by wickedness, but the root of the righteous will never be moved. (ESV)
> II Timothy 2:19 - But God's firm foundation stands, bearing this seal: The Lord knows those who are his, and, Let everyone who names the name of the Lord depart from iniquity. (ESV)

Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not; And come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations? Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have seen it, saith the LORD. (KJV)
> John 10:1 - Truly, truly, I say to you, he who does not enter the sheepfold by the door but climbs in by another way, that man is a thief and a robber. (ESV)
> Psalms 101:7 - He who practices deceit shall not dwell within my house; He who speaks falsehood shall not maintain his position before me. (NASB)

The person born of God who is having faith in Jesus with love for their family in Christ has stopped sinning and is seated in heavenly places with Christ who is ”separated from sinners”:

> Hebrews 7:26 - For it was indeed fitting that we should have such a high priest, holy, innocent, unstained, separated from sinners, and exalted above the heavens. (ESV)
> Ephesians 2:4-9 - But God, being rich in mercy, because of the great love with which he loved us, even when we were dead in our trespasses, made us alive together with Christ—by grace you have been saved— and raised us up with him and seated us with him in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, so that in the coming ages he might show the immeasurable riches of his grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus. For by grace you have been saved through faith. And this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God, not a result of works, so that no one may boast. (ESV)
> 1Jn 3:4,6,8,9 - Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. (ESV)

Jesus' mother and brother and sister are those who do the will of God, who hear the word of God and do it.

These Jews (John 8:31-32) needed salvation from being a slave to sin. Jesus said they were sons of the devil, so they were not Jesus' brothers at the time Jesus spoke this.

If a person is not a good soil believer (the rocky ground, or the path, or among thorns) then they won't continue on in faith to bearing good fruit (Luke 8:11-15). So then, a person can clearly be a believer for a while (Luke 8:11-15) and stop being a believer (John 8:31-47) but Jesus did instruct such people that if they abide (remain) in His word then they would become set free from sin.

`@BuddySocksPants` to `@stefanlouw6395`: The works are Jesus working through us. They aren't ours. They are filthy rags he turns to gold. I find that is easier for people to grasp.

Yes, Jesus working through us. I wouldn't say they aren't ours though. But they originate from God rather than from ourselves, as it's God working through us. It's not gifting to God the works, but it's receiving from God the works through faith. Like if Jesus told a person to give someone an ice cream and then in faith they produced that deed, even without knowing necessarily if or when or how they carried out the deed (Matthew 25:31-40, Matthew 6:3-4,6,17-18), it is Jesus who did it through them. As someone holds faith in Jesus, even in His words, God works through them producing deeds. Obedience that saves necessitates a love for God in the heart (Psalms 81:15), and the good person out of the good treasure of their heart produces good (Luke 6:45), and whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. Genuine obedience to Father God and Jesus Christ the Son of God (I John 3:23-24) is primarily a matter of faith and love for the truth in the heart that is strongly linked to a person's desire to do the right thing (I John 3:6-18, Romans 7:17-23), and their ”way” of walking (Proverbs 1:28-31, Hebrews 13:7) and obeying Jesus does save (Hebrews 5:7-14) and God works through that person (Philippians 2:12-13).

But it's faith apart from (G5565 chōris) works, which is counted. That is to say, it's the heart attitude of faith that is distinctly from any external action (think heart intention vs the external appearance of the outcome). Think Abel's faith as opposed to the evil in Cain's heart. They both had deeds, but only Abel had the faith which God commended, so Abel's deeds were good deeds. But from the love of evil in the heart,

> Cain had evil deeds. Deed = heart intention + external action. The external action isn't more important than having a loving faith in the heart (I Corinthians 13:2-3). We don't rely on the successful carrying out of the external action (Romans 7:17-23) or what we can observe from external appearances (II Corinthians 5:12), in order to have confidence (I John 4:16-17) for the day of judgement. Rather, we should simply have genuine faith in Jesus and leave the commending to God. Real faith isn't anti-obedience, nor against imitating Jesus, nor against sincerely desiring to do good deeds, nor against resisting committing sin, but real faith need to recognise that without Jesus Christ's blood being shed, there is no atonement for sin. If a person rejects Jesus for who He is (i.e. Christ, Son of God) then it doesn't matter what good deeds they did or thought they had done (Ezekiel 18:20-24) as they're condemned (John 8:23-24, John 3:17-21) for hating God. And so they must repent from disbelief and into having faith in Jesus in order to not perish (Luke 13:3). Jesus is God's righteousness revealed, and He practiced righteousness, and we must love righteousness rather than wickedness, and whether or not a person agrees with the person and work of Jesus Christ is basically, the ultimate test of that. From a love of righteousness, a person will produce good deeds.
> We do need to be saved into becoming producers of good deeds (Romans 2:9-11, John 8:34-35,36,42,51, Romans 6:16-18), rather than to remain enslaved to doing evil deeds.
> We are saved not "ex hymōn" (out of yourselves) and not "ex ergōn" (out of works), but from God's gift.
> And a person with the faith is still saved even if their works are burned up.
> The thing is, there will be deeds, which we receive through faith in Jesus:
>> John 14:12 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)

Salvation involves both justification and sanctification, though, justification being God's righteousness given to the person who has a heart attitude of loving faith in Jesus Christ and sanctification which is a process of being cleaned up as we hold our faith in Jesus and love our family in Christ, and we must continue on in the faith (II John 1:9-10) which means to continue in agreement with Jesus Christ (who He is and what He did and what He taught), rather than disagreeing with Him. Salvation involves God working in us as we obey Jesus Christ. As we (Exodus 14:16) by faith obey Jesus Christ, God works (Exodus 14:13) His salvation in us:

> Philippians 2:12-16 - Therefore, my beloved, as you have always obeyed, so now, not only as in my presence but much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling, for it is God who works in you, both to will and to work for his good pleasure. Do all things without grumbling or questioning, that you may be blameless and innocent, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and twisted generation, among whom you shine as lights in the world, holding fast to the word of life, so that in the day of Christ I may be proud that I did not run in vain or labor in vain. (ESV)

Justification clearly does not mean the same thing as salvation as Romans 10:10 shows. But if a person is justified for having faith in Jesus Christ in their heart then they can be saved (they then may call out to God for deliverance saying, for example, "Please save me, LORD Jesus Christ, Yahweh, Son of God."):

> Romans 3:21,9:31,10:4-10 - But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from (G5565 chōris) the law (G3551 nomou), although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— but that Israel who pursued a law that would lead to righteousness did not succeed in reaching that law. For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to everyone who believes. For Moses writes about the righteousness that is based on the law, that the person who does the commandments shall live by them. But the righteousness based on faith says, Do not say in your heart, Who will ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down) or Who will descend into the abyss? (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead). But what does it say? The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart

> (that is, the word of faith that we proclaim); because, if you confess with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For with the heart one believes and is justified, and with the mouth one confesses and is saved. (ESV)

> Romans 10:14-21 - But how are they to call on him in whom they have not believed? And how are they to believe in him of whom they have never heard? And how are they to hear without someone preaching? And how are they to preach unless they are sent? As it is written, How beautiful are the feet of those who preach the good news! But they have not all obeyed the gospel. For Isaiah says, Lord, who has believed what he has heard from us? So faith comes from hearing, and hearing through the word of Christ. But I ask, have they not heard? Indeed they have, for Their voice has gone out to all the earth, and their words to the ends of the world. But I ask, did Israel not understand? First Moses says, I will make you jealous of those who are not a nation; with a foolish nation I will make you angry. Then Isaiah is so bold as to say, I have been found by those who did not seek me; I have shown myself to those who did not ask for me. But of Israel he says, All day long I have held out my hands to a disobedient and contrary people. (ESV)

A person is justified by faith in Jesus Christ in their heart, and they are saved as they hold that faith. As they hold that faith, they produce deeds done in faith. For example, a person may get water baptised while holding faith in Jesus Christ, or while holding faith in Jesus Christ they may confess to another that "Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, who came into the world from God and died for our sins on a tree and rose from the dead on the third day and has ascended into heaven":

> James 2:14-17 - What good is it, my brothers, if someone says he has faith but does not have works? Can that faith save him? If a brother or sister is poorly clothed and lacking in daily food, and one of you says to them, Go in peace, be warmed and filled, without giving them the things needed for the body, what good is that? So also faith by itself, if it does not have works, is dead. (ESV)

> Romans 10:9-10 - because, if you confess with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For with the heart one believes and is justified, and with the mouth one confesses and is saved. (ESV)

> Mark 16:16 - Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved, but whoever does not believe will be condemned. (ESV)

> Romans 3:27-31 - Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. Or is God the God of Jews only? Is he not the God of Gentiles also? Yes, of Gentiles also, since God is one. He will justify the circumcised by faith and the uncircumcised through faith. Do we then overthrow the law by this faith? By no means! On the contrary, we uphold the law. (ESV)

The faith which a person is justified by is counted distinctly from (G5565 chōris) any corresponding external actions and distinctly from any corresponding law of works (Galatians 3:12). The Old Covenant Law was pursued by some as though it was based on works and that is the problem:

> Galatians 3:12 - But the law is not of faith, rather The one who does (G4160 poiēsas; having done) them shall live by them. (ESV)

> Romans 9:30-32 - What shall we say, then? That Gentiles who did not pursue righteousness have attained it, that is, a righteousness that is by faith; but that Israel who pursued a law that would lead to righteousness did not succeed in reaching that law. Why? Because they did not pursue it by faith, but as if it were based on works. They have stumbled over the stumbling stone, (ESV)

So, for example, we should never 'rely' merely (Mark 16:15-16) on "having been baptised" (Acts 8:13-23) or on merely, say, being physically circumcised (Galatians 5:1-7). But we must have a circumcised heart (Romans 2:29). Baptism, like confessing with one's mouth (Romans 10:9), is a visible testimony of one's faith (Luke 12:8, I Timothy 6:12).

"Putting on Christ" involves walking out our faith in Jesus (Rom 13:14, I Peter 4:1), for example, calling no man on earth our father because we trust and obey His word.

In trusting Jesus Christ and His words, and obeying His commandments we are led by His Spirit. By faith we trust and obey Jesus Christ to call no man on earth our Father, for we have faith in Jesus that we have one Father who is in heaven (Romans 8:14-17, Matthew 23:9, I John 5:20):

> Romans 8:14-17 - For all who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God. For you did not receive the spirit of slavery to fall back into fear, but you have received the Spirit of adoption as sons, by whom we cry, Abba! Father! The Spirit himself bears witness with our spirit that we are children of God, and if children, then heirs—heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ, provided we suffer with him in order that we may also be glorified with him. (ESV)
> Matthew 23:9 - And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. (ESV)
> I John 5:20 - And we know that the Son of God has come and has given us understanding, so that we may know him who is true; and we are in him who is true, in his Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and eternal life. (ESV)

Faith in Jesus involves believing who He is (Son of God, Messiah) and remaining faithful to Him and obeying out of faith, just as Abraham did. Our faith is modelled after Abraham's faith. If a person denies who Jesus is then they deny His name. A person who claims to have faith in Jesus because they "love their neighbour" but at the same time denies who Jesus actually is is not loving their neigbour at all:

> Revelation of John 3:8 - I know your works. Behold, I have set before you an open door, which no one is able to shut. I know that you have but little power, and yet you have kept my word and have not denied my name. (ESV)
> John 16:8-9 - And when he comes, he will convict the world concerning sin and righteousness and judgment: concerning sin, because they do not believe in me; (ESV)

Undergoing baptism of water is something Christians do in walking out their faith (Galatians 3:25-27). Christians must maintain faith (Hebrews 3:6) and a good conscience (I Timothy 1:18-19) and baptism is done in faith (Mark 16:16) as an appeal to God for a good conscience (I Peter 3:21) through the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

The person "doing the will of Father God" is the same who "believes" and is the person who is the "doer in reality" (John 3:21), not merely by lipservice (Mark 7:6-8, 1 Samuel 16:7) and is the person who regardless of performance in the vineyard (I Corinthians 3:11-15, Matthew 25:24-30) does end up "going" to work in the vineyard (Matthew 21:24-32). And "going to work in the vineyard" is "embarking like Abraham" to "do the will of God".

The one who truly believes in Jesus will walk like He walked, doing the things that Jesus did (things like calling no man on earth 'father', but rather naming God as their father as Jesus did):

> John 14:12 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)
> I John 2:6 - whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

> II Peter 2:19 - They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 10:5-6 - We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, being ready to punish every disobedience, when your obedience is complete. (ESV)

> Romans 6:15-23 - What then? Are we to sin because we are not under law but under grace? By no means! Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. When you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. But what fruit were you getting at that time from the things of which you are now ashamed? The end of those things is death. But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

Seek to please God who sees everything. The person who does the will of God in reality doesn't require other mere humans to commend them in order to have confidence. Rather, the person who does the will of God in reality knows God sees when they do as instructed of by Him, and so they just seek to do what God has instructed:

> II Corinthians 10:11-12 - Let such a person understand that what we say by letter when absent, we do when present. Not that we dare to classify or compare ourselves with some of those who are commending themselves. But when they measure themselves by one another and compare themselves with one another, they are without understanding. (ESV)

If we see others not doing the will of God, then we should in similar fashion to Jesus teach others what to do (i.e. what Jesus' instruction is) but not judge them if they do not appear do it after instructing them, but rather quote John 12:44-50 to them. Let them know that Jesus' word will judge on the last day but that Jesus has come to save and we should imitate His patience. Let them know that you'll still endeavour to keep Jesus' commandment. Saying it once is enough. Staying silent is also an option if they insist that Jesus' commandment is wrong:

> John 12:44-50 - And Jesus cried out and said, Whoever believes in me, believes not in me but in him who sent me. And whoever sees me sees him who sent me. I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world. The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. For I have not spoken on my own authority, but the Father who sent me has himself given me a commandment—what to say and what to speak. And I know that his commandment is eternal life. What I say, therefore, I say as the Father has told me. (ESV)

Those who have Abraham's faith will embark (John 14:12, Revelation of John 2:5).

If you want to come to believe and to know the truth, then find out what the will of God is, and desire to do it. Stop desiring evil and instead love the truth of God. If you want to come to believe, then repent:

> John 7:17 - If anyone's will is to do God's will, he will know whether the teaching is from God or whether I am speaking on my own authority. (ESV)

> John 8:31-32 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed in him, If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free. (ESV)

John 8:43-47 - Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. Which one of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God. (ESV)

Do the will of God, like Jesus Christ and like Abraham:

Hebrews 10:5-7 - Consequently, when Christ came into the world, he said, Sacrifices and offerings you have not desired, but a body have you prepared for me; in burnt offerings and sin offerings you have taken no pleasure. Then I said, Behold, I have come to do your will, O God, as it is written of me in the scroll of the book. (ESV)

Luke 8:21 - But he answered them, My mother and my brothers are those who hear the word of God and do it. (ESV)

The will of God:

- Arrive at maturity and fully assured in all the will of God
  - We must look at what all of the will of God is for us and endeavour to be mature and fully assured with all of it
    - Colossians 4:12 - Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ Jesus, greets you, always struggling on your behalf in his prayers, that you may stand mature and fully assured in all the will of God. (ESV)
- Have faith in Jesus Christ
  - John 6:40 - For this is the will of my Father, that everyone who looks on the Son and believes in him should have eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. (ESV)
  - Continuing to have faith in Jesus:
    - John 6:40 - For this is the will of my Father, that everyone who looks on (G2334 theōrōn; is beholding; V-PPA-NMS) the Son and believes in him should have eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. (ESV)
    - II John 1:9 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. (ESV)
    - John 20:24-30 - Now Thomas, one of the Twelve, called the Twin, was not with them when Jesus came. So the other disciples told him, We have seen the Lord. But he said to them, Unless I see in his hands the mark of the nails, and place my finger into the mark of the nails, and place my hand into his side, I will never believe. Eight days later, his disciples were inside again, and Thomas was with them. Although the doors were locked, Jesus came and stood among them and said, Peace be with you. Then he said to Thomas, Put your finger here, and see my hands; and put out your hand, and place it in my side. Do not disbelieve, but believe. Thomas answered him, My Lord and my God! Jesus said to him, Have you believed because you have seen me? Blessed are those who have not seen and yet have believed. Now Jesus did many other signs in the presence of the disciples, which are not written in this book; (ESV)

    - Luke 24:25 - And he said to them, O foolish ones, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken! (ESV)
    - John 6:35-45,53-69 - Jesus said to them, I am the bread of life; whoever comes to me shall not hunger, and whoever believes in me shall never thirst. But I said to you that you have seen me and yet do not believe. All that the Father gives me will come to me, and whoever comes to me I will never cast out. For I have come down from heaven, not to do my own will but the will of him who sent me. And this is the will of him who sent me, that I should lose nothing of all that he has given me, but raise it up on the last day. For this is the will of my Father, that everyone who looks on the Son and believes in him should have eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. So the Jews grumbled about him, because he said, I am the bread that came down from heaven. They said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How does he now say, I have come down from heaven? Jesus answered them, Do not grumble among yourselves. No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him. And I will raise him up on the last day. It is written in the Prophets, And they will all be taught by God. Everyone who has heard and learned from the Father comes to me— So Jesus said to them, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you have no life in you. Whoever feeds on my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. For my flesh is true food, and my blood is true drink. Whoever feeds on my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me, and I in him. As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so whoever feeds on me, he also will live because of me. This is the bread that came down from heaven, not as the fathers ate and died. Whoever feeds on this bread will live forever. Jesus said these things in the synagogue, as he taught at Capernaum. When many of his disciples heard it, they said, This is a hard saying; who can listen to it? But Jesus, knowing in himself that his disciples were grumbling about this, said to them, Do you take offense at this? Then what if you were to see the Son of Man ascending to where he was before? It is the Spirit who gives life; the flesh is of no avail. The words that I have spoken to you are spirit and life. But there are some of you who do not believe. (For Jesus knew from the beginning who those were who did not believe, and who it was who would betray him.) And he said, This is why I told you that no one can come to me unless it is granted him by the Father. After this many of his disciples turned back and no longer walked with him. So Jesus said to the Twelve, Do you want to go away as well? Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life, and we have believed, and have come to know, that you are the Holy One of God. (ESV)

And do not get drunk with wine, for that is debauchery, but be filled with the Spirit, addressing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody to the Lord with all your heart, giving thanks always and for everything to God the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, submitting to one another out of reverence for Christ. (ESV)
- Abstain from evil
  - I Thessalonians 4:3-8 - For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you abstain from sexual immorality; that each one of you know how to control his own body in holiness and honor, not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God; that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you. For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness. Therefore whoever disregards this, disregards not man but God, who gives his Holy Spirit to you. (ESV)
  - Romans 16:19-20 - For your obedience is known to all, so that I rejoice over you, but I want you to be wise as to what is good and innocent as to what is evil. The God of peace will soon crush Satan under your feet. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. (ESV)
  - I Thessalonians 5:20-23 - Do not despise prophecies, but test everything; hold fast what is good. Abstain from every form of evil. Now may the God of peace himself sanctify you completely, and may your whole spirit and soul and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. (ESV)
  - Romans 13:10 - Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. (ESV)
- Die to sin and produce good from a love for the truth, enduring while suffering unjustly
  - I Peter 2:15-25 - For this is the will of God, that by doing good you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish people. Live as people who are free, not using your freedom as a cover-up for evil, but living as servants of God. Honor everyone. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the emperor. Servants, be subject to your masters with all respect, not only to the good and gentle but also to the unjust. For this is a gracious thing, when, mindful of God, one endures sorrows while suffering unjustly. For what credit is it if, when you sin and are beaten for it, you endure? But if when you do good and suffer for it you endure, this is a gracious thing in the sight of God. For to this you have been called, because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, so that you might follow in his steps. He committed no sin, neither was deceit found in his mouth. When he was reviled, he did not revile in return; when he suffered, he did not threaten, but continued entrusting himself to him who judges justly. He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed. For you were straying like sheep, but have now returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls. (ESV)
  - I Peter 4:12-19 - Beloved, do not be surprised at the fiery trial when it comes upon you to test you, as though something strange were happening to you. But rejoice insofar as you share Christ's sufferings, that you may also rejoice and be glad when his glory is revealed. If you are insulted for the name of Christ, you are blessed, because the Spirit of glory and of God rests upon you. But let none of you suffer as a murderer or a thief or an evildoer or as a meddler. Yet if anyone suffers as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in that name. For it is time for judgment to begin at the household of God; and if it begins with us, what will be the outcome for those who do not obey the gospel of God? And If the righteous is scarcely saved, what will become of the ungodly and the sinner? Therefore let those who suffer according to God's will entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good. (ESV)

  - Romans 8:3-4 - For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. (ESV)
  - I John 3:3-11 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)

> Luke 12:47 - And that servant who knew his master's will but did not get ready (G2090 hetoimasas; having prepared) or act (G4160 poiēsas; having done) according to his will, will receive a severe beating. (ESV)

Holding faith in Jesus while going through suffering is sanctifying. Obeying Jesus while going through suffering is sanctifying. Suffering in and of itself is not sanctifying.

> Base your forgiveness on what God has done for you, rather than on what the person has done to you. ... When I realise how much I've been forgiven, how can I not forgive you?

Sanctification is always salvific because sanctification is by faith in Jesus (Acts 16:31, Acts 26:16-18) and by obedience to Jesus Christ (I Peter 1:22) and both faith and obedience to Jesus Christ is to do with salvation (Hebrews 5:9).

If a person by faith in Jesus Christ keeps His instruction to "not worry about tomorrow", for example, while enduring suffering, that is sanctifying. If Jesus instructed it then to keep the instruction by faith in Jesus Christ while enduring suffering is sanctifying:

> Matthew 6:30-34 - But if God so clothes the grass of the field, which today is alive and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, will he not much more clothe you, O you of little faith? Therefore do not be anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or What shall we drink? or What shall we wear? For the Gentiles seek after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them all. But seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things will be added to you. Therefore do not be anxious about tomorrow, for tomorrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient for the day is its own trouble. (ESV)

We should endeavour to be mindful of Jesus Christ's commandments rather than to be earthly minded and to not deter others from practicing Jesus Christ's commandments. After all, we need to be led by the spirit to not be under the law (Galatians 5:18-25):

However, it is very important to continue abiding in the teaching of Christ which includes walking according to His commandments:

> II John 1:1-11 - The elder to the elect lady and her children, whom I love in truth, and not only I, but also all who know the truth, because of the truth that abides in us and will be with us forever: Grace, mercy, and peace will be with us, from God the Father and from Jesus Christ the Father's Son, in truth and love. I rejoiced greatly to find some of your children walking in the truth, just as we were commanded by the Father. And now I ask you, dear lady—not as though I were writing you a new commandment, but the one we have had from the beginning—that we love one another. And this is love, that we walk according to his commandments; this is the commandment, just as you have heard from the beginning, so that you should walk in it. For many deceivers have gone out into the world, those who do not confess the coming of Jesus Christ in the flesh. Such a one is the deceiver and the antichrist. Watch yourselves, so that you may not lose what we have worked for, but may win a full reward. Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. For the time is coming when people will not endure sound teaching, but having itching ears they will accumulate for themselves teachers to suit their own passions, and will turn away from listening to the truth and wander off into myths. > John 15:4-7 - Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit by itself, unless it abides in the vine, neither can you, unless you abide in me. I am the vine; you are the branches. Whoever abides in me and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. If anyone does not abide in me he is thrown away like a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire, and burned. If you abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be done for you. (ESV)

Jesus' sacrifice is propitiation for sin (I Peter 2:24).

youtube.com: Why Most Christians Misunderstand Sin and Animal Blood Sacrifices - Michael Heiser {

> ”Take this bird, take this animal, do this and that and you will be 'cleansed from your sin'”... The Hebrew word for sin and ”sin offering” (H2402 chattaah; sin, sin offering) in many circumstances has nothing to do with moral violation. It actually refers to being decontaminated. And it's about doing something to the person to decontaminate them so that they don't contaminate sacred space. All these rituals weren't about curing moral violation. If you committed a moral offence, an abomination, there's no sacrifice for you. You're either put to death or exiled from the community. So the writer of Hebrews actually knows what he was talking about:

And thus we are actually able to love properly because we can be healed by Jesus from moral sin to not practice them anymore:

> I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)
> I Peter 2:24 - He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed. (ESV)

> I John 5:2 - By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

Jesus didn't sin at all and He suffered in the flesh. Disciples of Jesus suffer in the flesh too as they have "ceased from committing sin".

Because whoever abstains from sin subsequently suffers in the flesh (e.g. the Adamic flesh rebels against the will to do the will of God, and the world hates the person because they're a disciple of Jesus), then whoever suffers in the flesh has "ceased from sin". That's how to read this. As in, someone who now holds their faith in Jesus Christ abstains from sin (because they now obey Christ, from the love of God rather than the love of evil; they now obey Christ instead of sin), as consequence that person suffers in the flesh. And someone who has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin:

> I Peter 4:1-3 - Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh, arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. The time that is past suffices for doing what the Gentiles want to do, living in sensuality, passions, drunkenness, orgies, drinking parties, and lawless idolatry. (ESV)

youtube.com: Post from Answering the Hard Questions So leading up to when I got born again, I had started trying to resist porn. I was so enslaved into doing sinful things though. Then by the grace of God, He made me born-again (regenerated spirit), new heart of flesh that feared Him. So after that I was empowered to resist committing sin. As a born-again Christian it's really important going forward to not obey the sinful flesh and its cravings for sin, but rather we must by faith in Jesus Christ, from a love of the truth (as opposed to a love of darkness) abide in Jesus Christ's commandments, and be overcome by practicing righteousness instead. Whatever overcomes a person, to that they are enslaved. God wants us to love Him with our whole heart, and that involves loving His children also. That's the circumcision of the new heart of flesh, where we are trained to walk in love the way we have been commanded to. So we want to go on bearing fruit for sanctification and eternal life, fruit that comes from a love for God, God having forgiven our former sin by sending Jesus Christ His Son to suffer and die for our sin and rise from the dead for our justification. We are justified by having a loving faith in Jesus Christ who Father God is pleased with, God's righteousness revealed. We want to be those who are enslaved to practice righteousness from the love of God, the love of God's righteousness, the love of Jesus Christ, seeking commendation from God. If we walk in the light (the love of the truth, the love of Jesus, agreeing with Jesus and His teachings) then the blood of Jesus washes us from all sin, and we have fellowship with one-another. But by the grace of God it is possible to stop committing more sin. If it were impossible then Jesus' blood would be impure. But thank God, Jesus' blood can wash our hearts clean so that we practice righteousness from the love of the truth. Whoever commits sin is a slave to sin, and the slave to sin does not remain in the house (God's house) forever. But the son remains forever. Thank God for His salvation. The one born of God doesn't commit sin.

> I John 5:2 - By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

@9d7fish replied So to clarify this is in the ball park of the opening of the first sentence and where the idea came from.

The second part is when we acknowledge we can't do it on our own, but through God it is possible.

I replied @9d7fish Yeah, I found the post quite relatable to where I used to be. I was in a destructive cycle of committing sin and doing everything from selfish desire, and from a lack of faith, not trusting God, not really believing His words. Then God made me born-again. What's not done in faith is sin. The fear of God is very strongly correlated with faith.

- Psalms 115:11 - You who fear Yahweh trust in Yahweh their help and their shield He [is] (Interlinear)

God put that in my heart when He made me born-again. Without God it's impossible to be set free. But with God all things are possible.

I added @9d7fish Also, before I was born-again, I may have had problems with sin, but I had been seeking the Lord in some way for the couple of years leading up to that, but in retrospect I can see I was also very compromised.

I had made attempts at turning from sin and practicing righteousness. But reflecting on those times, I feel as though even back then there was enormous pressure on me to believe lies from Satan, to rob me and oppress me spiritually, and to try to get me to think like the world thinks, to keep me bound in sin. I would still pray to God sometimes, even back then. I would hope for God to "deliver me" from difficult circumstances. I would sin and ask God to forgive me afterwards, and I'd feel enslaved to sin. From this side of getting born-again, I have to concede to God that I wouldn't have been able to win the battle on my own strength, and that I did need God to intervene. But after getting born-again, although inwardly made new, and seeking to be corrected by Jesus, I have received massive resistance from the world, the flesh and the devil. So there is still a fight. The fight involving resisting lies, resisting demonic dreams and visions tempting into sin, resisting threats, and resisting people who are walking by the flesh. And the Christian should be endeavouring to do good to all, love family in Christ and continue to abide in Jesus' teachings. It's a huge fight and challenge. Even to this day. Before getting born-again, I'd get on well with the 'world', but if I tried to practice righteousness, face immense resistance. Very much in darkness, though. I was worldly and compromised, committing shameful sin. I still faced hardship, relationship breakdown, employment unfairness etc. But who knows, a lot of that may be because I was enslaved to committing sin. Nearing when I got born-again I was making attempts to practice righteousness. Something that had actually helped me to not watch porn for example was the prospect of trying to have a girlfriend. But I believe my relationships were getting sabotaged by demonic oppression. This side of getting born-again, tribulations happens to me while trying to do the will of God. The flesh rebels against my desire to walk in holiness. I get hit sometimes with LGBT dreams for example, and of things where I was practicing uncleanness before I was born-again. I have been prevented from working and marrying. I've been isolated and pushed out of "churches", after I was born-again, while I was endeavouring to walk as Jesus commanded.

By faith obeying Jesus Christ leads to getting born-again. Obedience doesn't start only when a person gets born-again:

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)

Being under grace doesn't mean no longer needing to obey God! And sanctification is a very real part of salvation. Getting born-again, we are aquitted of sin, and are instructed to continue on in obedience to Jesus Christ.

But without being born-again, we can't enter the kingdom of God:

> Mark 10:23-27 - And Jesus looked around and said to his disciples, How difficult it will be for those who have wealth to enter the kingdom of God! And the disciples were amazed at his words. But Jesus said to them again, Children, how difficult it is to enter the kingdom of God! It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God. And they were exceedingly astonished, and said to him, Then who can be saved? Jesus looked at them and said, With man it is impossible, but not with God. For all things are possible with God. (ESV)

> John 3:5-7 - Jesus answered, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Do not marvel that I said to you, You must be born again. (ESV)

Jesus Christ's words here logically mean that entering the Kingdom of Heaven requires righteousness. When a person gets born-again, they die, are aquitted of sin (Romans 6:7), and reborn. Jesus Christ is God's Son with whom He is well pleased, and having faith in Jesus Christ leads to a person getting reborn, born of the Spirit. There is something righteous about having faith in Jesus Christ. God loves the one who loves Jesus Christ and believes that He came from God. We need to be those who are in agreement with God that Jesus Christ is God's Son. As God's Son, Jesus Christ practiced righteousness. If someone has faith in Jesus Christ with a love for the truth, then they are firstly forgiven by Jesus Christ (Luke 7:40-50, Acts 10:41-44) through His name, and also this faith leads to (John 11:25-27) that person dying and getting born-again of the Spirit with the annihilation of a their sin debt (Romans 6:7). Going forward this person should by faith obey Jesus Christ from the love for the truth in order to enter the Kingdom of God:

> Matthew 5:17-20 - Do not think that I have come to abolish the Law or the Prophets; I have not come to abolish them but to fulfill them. For truly, I say to you, until heaven and earth pass away, not an iota, not a dot, will pass from the Law until all is accomplished. Therefore whoever relaxes one of the least of these commandments and teaches others to do the same will be called least in the kingdom of heaven, but whoever does them and teaches them will be called great in the kingdom of heaven. For I tell you, unless your righteousness exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. (ESV)

> John 16:27 - for the Father himself loves you, because you have loved me and have believed that I came from God. (ESV)

> Romans 6:7 - for he who has died has been justified (G1344 dedikaiōtai; has been freed/aquitted) from sin. (LSB)

> Acts 13:38-39 - Let it be known to you therefore, brothers, that through this man forgiveness of sins is proclaimed to you, and by him everyone who believes is freed from everything from which you could not be freed by the law of Moses. (ESV)

Without being born-again, we can't fulfill the righteous requirement of the Law of God. In fact, sin kills the person because the Law of God condemns sin. But if that person had faith in Jesus Christ then they are reborn of the Spirit. They are reborn in order have the righteous requirement of the Law fulfilled in them. A person doesn't go back "under" Law, but we are still obligated to keep the commandments of God which are to do with loving one-another:

> Romans 8:3 - For what the Law could not do, weak as it was through the flesh, God did: sending His own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and as an offering for sin, He condemned sin in the flesh, so that the righteous requirement of the Law might be fulfilled in us, who do not walk according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. (LSB)

> Romans 8:2-8 - For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. To set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God's law; indeed, it cannot. Those who are in the flesh cannot please God. (ESV)

> Romans 7:1-12 - Or do you not know, brothers—for I am speaking to those who know the law—that the law is master over a person as long as he lives? For the married woman has been bound by law to her husband while he is living, but if her husband dies, she is released from the law concerning the husband. So then, if while her husband is living she is joined to another man, she shall be called an adulteress. But if her husband dies, she is free from the law, so that she is not an adulteress though she is joined to another man. So, my brothers, you also were made to die to the Law through the body of Christ, so that you might be joined to another, to Him who was raised from the dead, in order that we might bear fruit for God. For while we were in the flesh, the sinful passions, which were aroused by the Law, were at work in our members to bear fruit for death. But now we have been released from the Law, having died to that by which we were constrained, so that we serve in newness of the Spirit and not in oldness of the letter. What shall we say then? Is the Law sin? May it never be! Rather, I would not have come to know sin except through the Law. For I would not have known about coveting if the Law had not said, "You shall not covet." But sin, taking opportunity through the commandment, worked out in me coveting of every kind. For apart from the Law sin is dead. Now I was once alive apart from the Law, but when the commandment came, sin revived and I died; and this commandment, which was to lead to life, was found to lead to death for me. For sin, taking an opportunity through the commandment, deceived me and through it killed me. So, the Law is holy, and the commandment is holy and righteous and good. (LSB)

> John 6:63 - It is the Spirit who gives life; the flesh is of no avail. The words that I have spoken to you are spirit and life. (ESV)

Jesus Christ must be our Master, and so that means we trust in and obey Jesus Christ including His words and commandments that He gave as He walked in the flesh as a man:

> Matthew 25:21 - His master said to him, Well done, good and faithful servant. You have been faithful over a little; I will set you over much. Enter into the joy of your master. (ESV)

> Jude 1:4-5 - For certain people have crept in unnoticed who long ago were designated for this condemnation, ungodly people, who pervert the grace of our God into sensuality and deny our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ. Now I want to remind you, although you once fully knew it, that Jesus, who saved a people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed those who did not believe. (ESV)

Sanctification continues as we walk obediently by faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, trusting and obeying Him, obedient to the teaching that Jesus and His Apostles have committed, practicing righteousness! And practicing genuine love as the Bible describes it not only involves compassion and mercy but also involves "not coveting", "not committing idolatry or adultery", "not bearing false-witness" etc.:

> Romans 6:15-23 - What then? Shall we sin because we are not under law but under grace? May it never be! Do you not know that when you go on presenting yourselves to someone as slaves for obedience, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin leading to death, or of obedience leading to righteousness? But thanks be to God that though you were slaves of sin, you obeyed from the heart that pattern of teaching to which you were given over, and having been freed from sin, you became slaves of righteousness. I am speaking in human terms because of the weakness of your flesh. For just as you presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness, leading to further lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness, leading to sanctification. For when you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. Therefore what benefit were you then having from the things of which you are now ashamed? For the end of those things is death. But now having been freed from sin and enslaved to God, you have your benefit, leading to sanctification, and the end, eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the gracious gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (LSB)

> Romans 13:9 - The commandments, You shall not commit adultery, You shall not murder, You shall not steal, You shall not covet, and any other commandment, are summed up in this word: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. (ESV)

Connecting both mentions of ”showing no partiality” in James 2:1-12, holding faith and being ”law abiding” (to the law of faith in Christ, to Christ’s law), not committing sin, go hand in hand:

> James 2:1-12 - My brothers, show no partiality as you hold the faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory. For if a man wearing a gold ring and fine clothing comes into your assembly, and a poor man in shabby clothing also comes in, and if you pay attention to the one who wears the fine clothing and say, You sit here in a good place, while you say to the poor man, You stand over there, or, Sit down at my feet, have you not then made distinctions among yourselves and become judges with evil thoughts? Listen, my beloved brothers, has not God chosen those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom, which he has promised to those who love him? But you have dishonored the poor man. Are not the rich the ones who oppress you, and the ones who drag you into court? Are they not the ones who blaspheme the honorable name by which you were called? If you really fulfill the royal law according to the Scripture, You shall love your neighbor as yourself, you are doing well. But if you show partiality, you are committing sin and are convicted by the law as transgressors. For whoever keeps the whole law but fails in one point has become accountable for all of it. For he who said, Do not commit adultery, also said, Do not murder. If you do not commit adultery but do murder, you have become a transgressor of the law. So speak and so act as those who are to be judged under the law of liberty. (ESV)

If law-abiding to the law of faith in Christ Jesus (’If you love me’) then you will be law-abiding to Christ Jesus’ commandments (’you will keep my commandments’):

> John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

Faith is commanded (I John 3:23) and so in passages such as Romans 4:13-17 it can only be assumed that some distinction has to be made between *commandments and law.

The law of Moses comprised of numerous commandments brings wrath, but it was only a former commandment:

> Hebrews 9:19-20 - For when every commandment of the law had been declared by Moses to all the people, he took the blood of calves and goats, with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself and all the people, saying, This is the blood of the covenant that God commanded for you. (ESV)

> Hebrews 7:18-22 - On the one hand, a former commandment is set aside because of its weakness and uselessness (for the law made nothing perfect); but on the other hand, a better hope is introduced, through which we draw near to God. And it was not without an oath. For those who formerly became priests were made such without an oath, but this one was made a priest with an oath by the one who said to him: The Lord has sworn and will not change his mind, You are a priest forever. This makes Jesus the guarantor of a better covenant. (ESV)

The law of Christ is a new commandment and a change in ”the law” (not an abolishment, but a change):

> Hebrews 7:12 - For when there is a change in the priesthood, there is necessarily a change in the law as well. (ESV)

> II Peter 3:1-3 - This is now the second letter that I am writing to you, beloved. In both of them I am stirring up your sincere mind by way of reminder, that you should remember the predictions of the holy prophets and the commandment of the Lord and Savior through your apostles, knowing this first of all, that scoffers will come in the last days with scoffing, following their own sinful desires. (ESV)

> I John 4:21 - And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

> I John 5:3 - For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments. And his commandments are not burdensome. (ESV)

> II John 1:5-6 - And now I ask you, dear lady—not as though I were writing you a new commandment, but the one we have had from the beginning—that we love one another. And this is love, that we walk according to his commandments; this is the commandment, just as you have heard from the beginning, so that you should walk in it. (ESV)
> Revelation of John 12:17 - Then the dragon became furious with the woman and went off to make war on the rest of her offspring, on those who keep the commandments of God and hold to the testimony of Jesus. And he stood on the sand of the sea. (ESV)
> Revelation of John 14:12 - Here is a call for the endurance of the saints, those who keep the commandments of God and their faith in Jesus. (ESV)

The law of Moses is a commandment (Romans 7:9) but not all commandments are of the law of Moses (which Jesus Christ fulfilled) but are, rather, grace (John 1:17). Jesus Christ fulfilled the law of Moses and He gave other commandments (Christ's law). Christ's law is grace. The Old Covenant law Paul calls the ministry of death (II Corinthians 3:6-9) while Christ's law (commandments) is life.:

> I John 3:23 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. (ESV)
> Romans 4:13-17 - For the promise to Abraham and his offspring that he would be heir of the world did not come through the law but through the righteousness of faith. For if it is the adherents of the law who are to be the heirs, faith is null and the promise is void. For the law brings wrath, but where there is no law there is no transgression. That is why it depends on faith, in order that the promise may rest on grace and be guaranteed to all his offspring—not only to the adherent of the law but also to the one who shares the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all, as it is written, I have made you the father of many nations—in the presence of the God in whom he believed, who gives life to the dead and calls into existence the things that do not exist.
> Romans 7:9 - I was once alive apart from the law, but when the commandment came, sin came alive and I died. (ESV)
> John 12:44-50 - And Jesus cried out and said, Whoever believes (G4100 pisteuo) in me, believes (G4100 pisteuo) not in me but in him who sent me. And whoever sees me sees him who sent me. I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world. The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. For I have not spoken on my own authority, but the Father who sent me has himself given me a commandment—what to say and what to speak. And I know that his commandment is eternal life. What I say, therefore, I say as the Father has told me. (ESV)

With Jesus Christ as our Master we can through faith in Him fulfill the requirement of the law:

> Romans 6:16-18,7:25,8:1-4 - Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord! So then, I myself serve the law of God with my mind, but with my flesh I serve the law of sin. There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. (ESV)

It’s not possible for someone to love God if they hate their brother:

> I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

Loving our neighbouor involves also those neighbours who hate us:

> Matthew 5:43-48 - You have heard that it was said, You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy. But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You therefore must be perfect (G5046 teleioi; complete, mature), as your heavenly Father is perfect. (ESV)

The desires of the flesh are opposed to the desires of the Spirit. Those who walk by the flesh are ”under the law”, and the law is laid down for such people, and that is in accordance with the glorious gospel of God. And so we need to be those who are law-abiding by the law of the Spirit. With a mind set on the Spirit, we should be ”obedient, ready for every good work”:

> Luke 12:47 - And that servant who knew his master’s will but did not get ready or act according to his will, will receive a severe beating. (ESV)

> Galatians 5:13-24 - For you were called to freedom, brothers. Only do not use your freedom as an opportunity for the flesh, but through love serve one another. For the whole law is fulfilled in one word: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. But if you bite and devour one another, watch out that you are not consumed by one another. But I say, walk by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the flesh. For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to keep you from doing the things you want to do. But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. Now the works of the flesh are evident: sexual immorality, impurity, sensuality, idolatry, sorcery, enmity, strife, jealousy, fits of anger, rivalries, dissensions, divisions, envy, drunkenness, orgies, and things like these. I warn you, as I warned you before, that those who do such things will not inherit the kingdom of God. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control; against such things there is no law. And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. (ESV)

> Romans 8:2-8 - For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. To set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God’s law; indeed, it cannot. Those who are in the flesh cannot please God. (ESV)

God’s Law is good and is laid down for the ”lawless and the disobedient”, for the ”ungodly, and sinners, for the unholy and profane, etc.”:

> I Timothy 1:8-11 - Now we know that the law is good, if one uses it lawfully, understanding this, that the law is not laid down for the just but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for those who strike their fathers and mothers, for murderers, > the sexually immoral, men who practice homosexuality, enslavers, liars, perjurers, and whatever else is contrary to sound doctrine, in accordance with the glorious gospel of the blessed God with which I have been entrusted. (ESV)

> Luke 12:47 - And that servant who knew his master's will but did not get ready or act according to his will, will receive a severe beating. (ESV)

Walking by the Spirit is how to please God, and so walking by the Spirit involves having faith, and seeking to please God:

> Hebrews 11:6 - And without faith it is impossible to please him, for whoever would draw near to God must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who seek him. (ESV)

> John 5:44 - How can you believe, when you receive glory from one another and do not seek the glory that comes from the only God? (ESV)

God apportions His Spirit to those who have faith in Jesus Christ. God makes a person born-again. We do not know the way the spirit comes, nor where the spirit blows from, nor where it goes. But God gifts His Holy Spirit to those who have faith in Jesus Christ. Also, even after getting born-again, we must continue on in the teachings of Christ. If we live by the spirit, then let us walk by the spirit:

> John 3:6-8 - That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Do not marvel that I said to you, You must be born again. The wind blows where it wishes, and you hear its sound, but you do not know where it comes from or where it goes. So it is with everyone who is born of the Spirit. (ESV)

> Ecclesiastes 11:4-5 - He who observes the wind will not sow, and he who regards the clouds will not reap. As you do not know the way the spirit comes to the bones in the womb of a woman with child, so you do not know the work of God who makes everything. (ESV)

> Acts 2:2 - And suddenly there came from heaven a sound like a mighty rushing wind, and it filled the entire house where they were sitting. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 12:11 - All these are empowered by one and the same Spirit, who apportions to each one individually as he wills. (ESV)

> John 1:12-13 - But to all who did receive him, who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God, who were born, not of blood nor of the will of the flesh nor of the will of man, but of God. (ESV)

> I Thessalonians 4:3-8 - For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you abstain from sexual immorality; that each one of you know how to control his own body in holiness and honor, not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God; that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you. For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness. Therefore whoever disregards this, disregards not man but God, who gives his Holy Spirit to you. (ESV)

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)

> Romans 6:3-8 - Do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? We were buried therefore with him by baptism into death, in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, we too might walk in newness of life.

> For if we have been united with him in a death like his, we shall certainly be united with him in a resurrection like his. We know that our old self was crucified with him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin. For one who has died has been set free from sin. Now if we have died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him. (ESV)

> II John 1:9-11 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, for whoever greets him takes part in his wicked works. (ESV)

> Colossians 3:12-14 - Put on then, as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, compassion, kindness, humility, meekness, and patience, bearing with one another and, if one has a complaint against another, forgiving each other; as the Lord has forgiven you, so you also must forgive. And above all these put on love, which binds everything together in perfect harmony. (ESV)

I still think that to say, "When I got born-again, I was born of God," or even to say of myself right now that "I'm born of God" would be at worst "self-commending" and at best "testifying of myself" (John 5:31) and not a credible witness if I testify alone of myself (as what really matters is what God thinks). Though I do believe that it is God who makes a person born-again. But the term "born of God" refers to a person who loves as God commands, who does not commit sin, who confesses the truth about Jesus being the Christ and the Son of God, who loves their family in Christ as commanded, etc. So to claim to be the one "born of God" is claiming that about oneself. Rather a person should actually be a doer of the word and leave the justifying and commending to God.

To make the claim that one is born of God is to claim that one is at that time pleasing to God, commendable.

Now I'm quite sure Abraham would not have been saying, "When I believed God, I was righteous in His sight." Rather, Abraham simply held His faith in God, and left the justifying to God.

At any point in the Christian walk, I think it's not right to self-justify. To go around saying, "I'm born of God." is to make the claim that God is presently commending you.

But it would be more fitting to testify to God, affirming such statements as "Jesus Christ is Lord," "Jesus is the Christ the Son of God," or "Father God is pleased with His Son Jesus the Christ," or "God the Father has appointed Jesus Christ to be Judge of the living and the dead," and then leave the justifying to God as God looks at the heart.

Being "made alive" is a gift that is gifted to us to save us from being enslaved to sin. This grace saves us:

> Ephesians 2:1-10 - And you were dead in the trespasses and sins in which you once walked, following the course of this world, following the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that is now at work in the sons of disobedience— among whom we all once lived in the passions of our flesh, carrying out the desires of the body and the mind, and were by nature children of wrath, like the rest of mankind. But God, being rich in mercy, because of the great love with which he loved us, even when we were dead in our trespasses, made us alive together with Christ—by grace you have been saved— and raised us up with him and seated us with him in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, so that in the coming ages he might show the immeasurable riches of his grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus. For by grace you have been saved through faith. And this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God, not a result of works, so that no one may boast. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand, that we should walk in them. (ESV)

We were children of wrath (those who are on the way to receiving the wrath of God) by nature before getting made alive. Someone who is born-again is not a sinner by nature. We don't want to be children of wrath by choice (rather than by nature) after getting born-again, so as we live by the spirit we should walk by the spirit:

> II Peter 1:3-11 - His divine power has granted to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of him who called us to his own glory and excellence, by which he has granted to us his precious and very great promises, so that through them you may become partakers of the > divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world because of sinful desire. For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins. Therefore, brothers, be all the more diligent to make your calling and election sure, for if you practice these qualities you will never fall. For in this way there will be richly provided for you an entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. (ESV)

> Jude 1:3-8 - Beloved, although I was very eager to write to you about our common salvation, I found it necessary to write appealing to you to contend for the faith that was once for all delivered to the saints. For certain people have crept in unnoticed who long ago were designated for this condemnation, ungodly people, who pervert the grace of our God into sensuality and deny our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ. Now I want to remind you, although you once fully knew it, that Jesus, who saved a people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed those who did not believe. And the angels who did not stay within their own position of authority, but left their proper dwelling, he has kept in eternal chains under gloomy darkness until the judgment of the great day— just as Sodom and Gomorrah and the surrounding cities, which likewise indulged in sexual immorality and pursued unnatural desire, serve as an example by undergoing a punishment of eternal fire. Yet in like manner these people also, relying on their dreams, defile the flesh, reject authority, and blaspheme the glorious ones. (ESV)

> Jude 1:14-18 - It was also about these that Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saying, Behold, the Lord came with ten thousands of his holy ones, to execute judgment on all and to convict all the ungodly of all their deeds of ungodliness that they have committed in such an ungodly way, and of all the harsh things that ungodly sinners have spoken against him. These are grumblers, malcontents, following their own sinful desires; they are loud-mouthed boasters, showing favoritism to gain advantage. But you must remember, beloved, the predictions of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ. They said to you, In the last time there will be scoffers, following their own ungodly passions. (ESV)

Faith is not at all directly at odds to true obedience, but obedience when understood correctly actually implies faith as a person cannot truly obey God without a love for God (Psalms 81:12-15, James 2:5, Luke 6:45), say a love for His promise (Hebrews 11:8):

> Exodus 14:31 - When Israel saw the great power which the Lord had used against the Egyptians, the people feared the Lord, and they believed (H539 'aman) in the Lord and in His servant Moses.

> Hebrews 11:29 - By faith the people crossed the Red Sea as if on dry land, but the Egyptians, when they attempted to do the same, were drowned. (ESV)

Those who are the good soil have the love of truth (God's Word) in their heart (i.e. good heart) and bear fruit:

> Luke 8:12-15 - The ones along the path are those who have heard. Then the devil comes and takes away the word from their hearts, so that they may not believe and be saved. And the ones on the rock are those who, when they hear the word, receive it with joy. But these have no root; they believe for a while, and in time of testing fall away. And as for what fell among the thorns, they are those who hear, but as they go on their way they are choked by the cares and riches and pleasures of life, and their fruit does not mature. As for that in the good soil, they are those who, hearing the word, hold it fast in an honest and good heart, and bear fruit with patience. (ESV)

> Psalms 119:160 - The sum of your word is truth, and every one of your righteous rules endures forever. (ESV)

> John 1:14 - And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we have seen his glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth. (ESV)

> John 14:6 - Jesus said to him, I am the way, and the truth (G225 alētheia), and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me. (ESV)

> I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

I believe that this teaching of "many are called but few are chosen" can be connected with Luke 8:12-15:

> Matthew 22:1-14 - And again Jesus spoke to them in parables, saying, The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a king who gave a wedding feast for his son, and sent his servants to call those who were invited to the wedding feast, but they would not come. Again he sent other servants, saying, Tell those who are invited, See, I have prepared my dinner, my oxen and my fat calves have been slaughtered, and everything is ready. Come to the wedding feast. But they paid no attention and went off, one to his farm, another to his business, while the rest seized his servants, treated them shamefully, and killed them. The king was angry, and he sent his troops and destroyed those murderers and burned their city. Then he said to his servants, The wedding feast is ready, but those invited were not worthy. Go therefore to the main roads and invite to the wedding feast as many as you find. And those servants went out into the roads and gathered all whom they found, both bad and good. So the wedding hall was filled with guests. But when the king came in to look at the guests, he saw there a man who had no wedding garment. And he said to him, Friend, how did you get in here without a wedding garment? And he was speechless. Then the king said to the attendants, Bind him hand and foot and cast him into the outer darkness. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. For many are called, but few are chosen. (ESV)

While God does draw people to Jesus Christ, that does't mean that the person who has been "called" will be saved. We have to continue on in the love of the truth. When someone loves the world or the things of the world, they are other desires that can subvert a person's faith. Certainly we must love God rather than evil, but also love God in preference to anything else, in order protect our faith:

> I Timothy 6:10-14 - For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evils. It is through this craving that some have wandered away from the faith and pierced themselves with many pangs. But as for you, O man of God, flee these things. Pursue righteousness, godliness, faith, love, steadfastness, gentleness. Fight the good fight of the faith. Take hold of the eternal life to which you were called and about which you made the good confession in the presence of many witnesses. I charge you in the presence of God, who gives life to all things, and of Christ Jesus, who in his testimony before Pontius Pilate made the good confession, to keep the commandment unstained and free from reproach until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ, (ESV)

> Mark 4:14-20 - The sower sows the word. And these are the ones along the path, where the word is sown: when they hear, Satan immediately comes and takes away the word that is sown in them. And these are the ones sown on rocky ground: the ones who, when they hear the word, immediately receive it with joy. And they have no root in themselves, but endure for a while; then, when tribulation or persecution arises on account of the word, immediately they fall away. And others are the ones sown among thorns. They are those who hear the word, but the cares of the world and the deceitfulness of riches and the desires for other things enter in and choke the word, and it proves unfruitful. But those that were sown on the good soil are the ones who hear the word and accept it and bear fruit, thirtyfold and sixtyfold and a hundredfold. (ESV)

> I Timothy 1:5-7 - The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. Certain persons, by swerving from these, have wandered away into vain discussion, desiring to be teachers of the law, without understanding either what they are saying or the things about which they make confident assertions. (ESV)

God, in drawing a person (A) to Jesus (John 6:40-44), may arrange for a preacher (B) to visit them (Romans 10:14-21), and when they interract, God may soften person (A)'s heart (Acts 16:14) to receive the word. So if Jesus sends a preacher (Romans 10:14-21) to plant (I Corinthians 3:7-15) the seed of the gospel (I Peter 1:14-25) into someone's heart, it's ultimately Jesus (Matthew 10:40), the Son of Man doing it (Matthew 13:37-42). So if you were to plant a seed of God's word into soil, by talking about Jesus Christ to somebody, God moves the soil to prepare for the word to be sown in it, and God makes it grow. But the devil comes along and tries to steal the truth from people's hearts (Luke 8:11-12, II Thessalonians 2:9-10) and sow lies into people's hearts (Matthew 13:37-42) . The seed of the word of God in our heart has to be the dominant plant growing and so we must love God and His word and His word sown in our heart more than anything else so that other desires do not grow up and choke it (Luke 8:12-15). What or who we love in our heart determines what we are bearing fruit for (Luke 6:45, Proverbs 4:23, Romans 7:4-6, Romans 7:22-23).

> John 6:40-44 - For this is the will of my Father, that everyone who looks on the Son and believes in him should have eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. So the Jews grumbled about him, because he said, I am the bread that came down from heaven. They said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How does he now say, I have come down from heaven? Jesus answered them, Do not grumble among yourselves. No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him. And I will raise him up on the last day. (ESV)

> Acts 16:14 - One who heard us was a woman named Lydia, from the city of Thyatira, a seller of purple goods, who was a worshiper of God. The Lord opened her heart to pay attention to what was said by Paul. (ESV)

> Romans 10:14-21 - But how are they to call on him in whom they have not believed? And how are they to believe in him of whom they have never heard? And how are they to hear without someone preaching? And how are they to preach unless they are sent? As it is written, How beautiful are the feet of those who preach the good news! But they have not all obeyed the gospel. For Isaiah says, Lord, who has believed what he has heard from us? So faith comes from hearing, and hearing through the word of Christ. But I ask, have they not heard? Indeed they have, for Their voice has gone out to all the earth, and their words to the ends of the world. But I ask, did Israel not understand? First Moses says, I will make you jealous of those who are not a nation; with a foolish nation I will make you angry. Then Isaiah is so bold as to say, I have been found by those who did not seek me; I have shown myself to those who did not ask for me. But of Israel he says, All day long I have held out my hands to a disobedient and contrary people. (ESV)

> Romans 7:4-6 - Likewise, my brothers, you also have died to the law through the body of Christ, so that you may belong to another, to him who has been raised from the dead, in order that we may bear fruit for God. For while we were living in the flesh, our sinful passions, aroused by the law, were at work in our members to bear fruit for death. But now we are released from the law, having died to that which held us captive, so that we serve not under the old written code but in the new life of the Spirit. (ESV)

> Romans 7:22-23 - For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. (ESV)

We must be the good soil and nurture the word that's been planted in the soil of our heart:

> Luke 8:12-15 - The ones along the path are those who have heard. Then the devil comes and takes away the word from their hearts, so that they may not believe and be saved. And the ones on the rock > are those who, when they hear the word, receive it with joy. But these have no root; they believe for a while, and in time of testing fall away. And as for what fell among the thorns, they are those who hear, but as they go on their way they are choked by the cares and riches and pleasures of life, and their fruit does not mature. As for that in the good soil, they are those who, hearing the word, hold it fast in an honest and good heart, and bear fruit with patience. (ESV)

> Proverbs 4:23 - Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life. (KJV)

Notice how this faith that we must have looks like Abraham's faith. That's because Christians need to be "children of Abraham" (Galatians 3:5-7, John 8:31-47) who have faith in God (Galatians 3:5-7) and love God (James 2:5). When we hear God we need to trust Him (Galatians 3:5-7). So the ones who receive the promise are the ones who receive Jesus and His words:

> Hebrews 11:8 - By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place that he was to receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going. (ESV)
> John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)
> John 12:44-50 - And Jesus cried out and said, Whoever believes in me, believes not in me but in him who sent me. And whoever sees me sees him who sent me. I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world. The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. For I have not spoken on my own authority, but the Father who sent me has himself given me a commandment—what to say and what to speak. And I know that his commandment is eternal life. What I say, therefore, I say as the Father has told me. (ESV)

We should look to the brightest thing we can, Jesus Christ, receive Him and learn from Him and seek to imitate Him:

> John 14:12 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)
> Luke 6:46-49 - Why do you call me Lord, Lord, and not do what I tell you? Everyone who comes to me and hears my words and does them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. And when a flood arose, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it, because it had been well built. But the one who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. When the stream broke against it, immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great. (ESV)

Journal <2026-05-20 Wed> Imitating God, imitating His love, we should bear with people in hope that they will repent and put their faith in Jesus. Jesus Christ says in Revelation, "I gave her time to repent." (Revelation of John 2:21) God giving us time to repent is grace. It is untrue that having to do something (for example, to repent from sin or to have faith in Jesus or to be obedient to Jesus) means that salvation is no longer grace. God in His grace gives us opportunity to repent and come to faith in Him. Repentance and faith happen in the heart as it is a change of attitude towards God. Faith is a way of walking, a way of life, and is something we do, but we can talk about faith separate from external actions. How was this external action done? Was it done in faith/love/obedience to the word of God?

Having faith Jesus involves having faith in the good news, the words of Jesus and doing the deeds of Jesus and having Jesus revealed to the person, Jesus being formed in the person having faith in Jesus, being sanctified through faith in Jesus, cleaned up, conformed to image of Jesus Christ and receiving an inheritance:

> Mark 1:14-15 - Now after John was arrested, Jesus came into Galilee, proclaiming the gospel of God, and saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand; repent and believe in the gospel. (ESV)

> John 14:21-24 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. Judas (not Iscariot) said to him, Lord, how is it that you will manifest yourself to us, and not to the world? Jesus answered him, If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me. (ESV)

> John 15:4-7 - Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit by itself, unless it abides in the vine, neither can you, unless you abide in me. I am the vine; you are the branches. Whoever abides in me and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. If anyone does not abide in me he is thrown away like a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire, and burned. If you abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be done for you. (ESV)

John 12:44-50 - And Jesus cried out and said, Whoever believes in me, believes not in me but in him who sent me. And whoever sees me sees him who sent me. Luke 9:23-27 - And he said to all, If anyone would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me. For whoever would save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake will save it. For what does it profit a man if he gains the whole world and loses or forfeits himself? For whoever is ashamed of me and of my words, of him will the Son of Man be ashamed when he comes in his glory and the glory of the Father and of the holy angels. But I tell you truly, there are some standing here who will not taste death until they see the kingdom of God. (ESV)

Luke 6:46-49 - Why do you call me Lord, Lord, and not do what I tell you? John 5:28-29,37-47 - Do not marvel at this, for an hour is coming when all who are in the tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who have done good to the resurrection of life, and those who have done evil to the resurrection of judgment. And the Father who sent me has himself borne witness about me. His voice you have never heard, his form you have never seen, and you do not have his word abiding in you, for you do not believe the one whom he has sent. You search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness about me, yet you refuse to come to me that you may have life. I do not receive glory from people. But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. I have come in my Father's name, and you do not receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him. How can you believe, when you receive glory from one another and do not seek the glory that comes from the only God? Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father. Certain persons, by swerving from these, have wandered away into vain discussion, desiring to be teachers of the law, without understanding either what they are saying or the things about which they make confident assertions. (ESV)

The gospel of God, the words of God, even that God has spoken through Jesus, tell of Jesus, and the gospel of God must be ”obeyed”. In having faith in God’s words given through Jesus Christ, we obey the gospel and deeds done from this faith are the ”works of Jesus”:

> Mark 1:14-15 - Now after John was arrested, Jesus came into Galilee, proclaiming the gospel of God, and saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand; repent and believe in the gospel. (ESV)

> John 4:23-26 - But the hour is coming, and is now here, when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and truth, for the Father is seeking such people to worship him. God is spirit, and those who worship him must worship in spirit and truth. The woman said to him, I know that Messiah is coming (he who is called Christ). When he comes, he will tell us all things. Jesus said to her, I who speak to you am he. (ESV)

> I Thessalonians 2:9 - For you remember, brothers, our labor and toil: we worked night and day, that we might not be a burden to any of you, while we proclaimed to you the gospel of God. (ESV)

> I Peter 4:17 - For it is time for judgment to begin at the household of God; and if it begins with us, what will be the outcome for those who do not obey the gospel of God? (ESV)

> Romans 15:15-21 - But on some points I have written to you very boldly by way of reminder, because of the grace given me by God to be a minister of Christ Jesus to the Gentiles in the priestly service of the gospel of God, so that the offering of the Gentiles may be acceptable, sanctified by the Holy Spirit. In Christ Jesus, then, I have reason to be proud of my work for God. For I will not venture to speak of anything except what Christ has accomplished through me to bring the Gentiles to obedience—by word and deed, by the power of signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God—so that from Jerusalem and all the way around to Illyricum I have fulfilled the ministry of the gospel of Christ; and thus I make it my ambition to preach the gospel, not where Christ has already been named, lest I build on someone else’s foundation, but as it is written, Those who have never been told of him will see, and those who have never heard will understand. (ESV)

> Galatians 4:18-23 - It is always good to be made much of for a good purpose, and not only when I am present with you, my little children, for whom I am again in the anguish of childbirth until Christ is formed in you! I wish I could be present with you now and change my tone, for I am perplexed about you. Tell me, you who desire to be under the law, do you not listen to the law? For it is written that Abraham had two sons, one by a slave woman and one by a free woman. But the son of the slave was born according to the flesh, while the son of the free woman was born through promise. (ESV)

The believer embarked to the vineyard with the intention of doing the will of his master:

> Matthew 21:24-32 - Jesus answered them, I also will ask you one question, and if you tell me the answer, then I also will tell you by what authority I do these things. The baptism of John, from where did it come? From heaven or from man? And they discussed it among themselves, saying, If we say, From heaven, he will say to us, Why then did you not believe him? But if we say, From man, we are afraid of the crowd, for they all hold that John was a prophet. So they answered Jesus, We do not know. And he said to them, Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things. What do you think? A man had two sons. And he went to the first and said, Son, go and work in the vineyard today. And he answered, I will not, but afterward he changed his mind and went. And he went to the other son and said the same. And he answered, I go, sir, but did not go. Which of the two did the will of his father? They said, The first. Jesus said to them, Truly, I say to you, the tax collectors and the prostitutes go into the kingdom of God before you. For John came to you in the way of righteousness, and you did not believe him, but the tax collectors and the prostitutes believed him. And even when you saw it, you did not afterward change your minds and believe him. (ESV)

Loving God and one another is our duty:

> Ecclesiastes 12:13 - The end of the matter; all has been heard. Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man. (ESV)

> I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

The wicked and slothful servant was "unfaithful" to his master, and was afraid and so made no attempt at doing his duty:

> Matthew 25:24-30 - He also who had received the one talent came forward, saying, Master, I knew you to be a hard man, reaping where you did not sow, and gathering where you scattered no seed, so I was afraid, and I went and hid your talent in the ground. Here you have what is yours. But his master answered him, You wicked and slothful servant! You knew that I reap where I have not sowed and gather where I scattered no seed? Then you ought to have invested my money with the bankers, and at my coming I should have received what was my own with interest. So take the talent from him and give it to him who has the ten talents. For to everyone who has will more be given, and he will have an abundance. But from the one who has not, even what he has will be taken away. And cast the worthless servant into the outer darkness. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. (ESV)

Perfect agape love God is perfect love, which means God certainly is not afraid to love and loves without fear of wrath from those who are against His will. After all, God sent Jesus Christ, and Jesus Christ willingly laid down His life. From the perspective of a human being of God's creation, genuine agape love loves God, and is faithful to God, and hates evil, and endeavours to do our duty from God, and loves God's family and endeavours to do good to all, and desires people to be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth.

We are called to follow in Jesus' steps to have agape love perfected in us. Like Jesus went to the cross for us, we are to carry our cross, and not pay back evil for evil, continue entrusting ourselves to a faithul Creator while doing good in the imitation of Christ. Christ suffered for us while doing good, and we are called also to do good without fear of suffering and endure any suffering that may come from that:

> I Peter 2:15-25 - For this is the will of God, that by doing good you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish people. Live as people who are free, not using your freedom as a cover-up for evil, but living as servants of God. Honor everyone. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the emperor. Servants, be subject to your masters with all respect, not only to the good and gentle but also to the unjust. For this is a gracious thing, when, mindful of God, one endures sorrows while suffering unjustly. For what credit is it if, when you sin and are > beaten for it, you endure? But if when you do good and suffer for it you endure, this is a gracious thing in the sight of God. For to this you have been called, because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, so that you might follow in his steps. He committed no sin, neither was deceit found in his mouth. When he was reviled, he did not revile in return; when he suffered, he did not threaten, but continued entrusting himself to him who judges justly. He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed. For you were straying like sheep, but have now returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls. (ESV)

> Matthew 5:43-48 - You have heard that it was said, You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy. But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You therefore must be perfect (G5046 teleioi; complete, mature), as your heavenly Father is perfect. (ESV)

Some people take that word in Matt 5:48 which is translated into English as ”perfect” to mean ”sinless perfection”, but that’s not what it means here. It’s instructing to love not ”only in part” but in a ”complete” way. God sends the rain on the just and the unjust. We should love others the way God has loved us.

> I John 4:12 - No one has ever seen God; if we love one another, God abides in us and his love is perfected in us. (ESV)
> I John 4:16-17 - So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. (ESV)

There is no fear in agape love. ”Perfect love” casts out fear. Perfect love is what Jesus embodies. The one fearing (G5399 phoboumenos) has the ”fear torment” (G5401 phobos) (G2851 kolasin).

> I John 4:16-21 - So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. There is no fear in love, but perfect love casts out fear. For fear has to do with punishment, and whoever fears has not been perfected in love. We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

I John 4:18 (Interlinear) Fear (G5401 phobos) not (G3756 ouk) there is (G1510 estin) in (G1722 en) - (G3588 tē) love (G26 agapē) but (G235 all’) - (G3588 hē) perfect (G5046 teleia) love (G26 agapē) out (G1854 exō) casts (G906 ballei) - (G3588 ton) fear (G5401 phobon) because (G3754 hoti) the (G3588 ho) fear (G5401 phobos) torment (G2851 kolasin) has (G2192 echei) the [one] (G3588 ho) moreover (G1161 de) fearing (G5399 phoboumenos) not (G3756 ou) has been perfected (G5048 teteleiōtai) in (G1722 en) - (G3588 tē) love (G26 agapē)

> II Corinthians 7:1 - Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear (G5401 phobō) of God (G2316 Theou). (ESV)

So Jesus Christ has demonstrated perfect love for us in enduring suffering for doing good. God is able to perfectly love us, and has demonstrated it. God has no fear of man. Jesus, the Son of God, being God also, does not fear man, but fears Father God and does not fear the devil.

Can we perfectly love God back the way He has loved us? I don't think so. We can love God, yes. And we must love God in order to live (Deuteronomy 30:6).

But we also must fear God (Psalms 36:1-4), but there is no fear in perfect agape love (I John 4:7-21).

Agape love in its perfection casts out fear and there is no fear in it. There's no fear of what the devil might do, or of what sinners might do in retaliation for endeavouring to love in the truth. Acts that are done in agape love are done in faith in the truth, trusting in God who judges justly.

Genuine agape love hates evil and evil is what God hates, and so a genuine agape love for God involves the fear of God and the hatred of evil:

I think we can come to agree with God on hating evil. So we can love Him to the best of our ability, even from all our heart, but our love for Him incorporates agreeing with Him over what He hates. God hates evil.

Analogy A cat who loves their human "from all their heart" is still a cat and as such might, from the human's standpoint, still do things that may be considered "falling short of the glory of a human". The cat might, for example, bring "gifts" such as slain native birds to the human's doorstep out of "sincere love" for their human, albeit with a limited understanding of what the human truly appreciates.

Now let's say the human believes in actuality that the slaying of native birds is "evil". And so the cat still conducts itself in the "fear of the human", in caution, knowing that there are things that the human hates, and endeavouring to understand their human better, and learn to love their human better.

Now let's say the city council has a rule that for any cat that slays this particular native bird, either the owner pays a fine or the cat has to be "put down". But let's say that paying the fine means that the human cannot afford their medicine and so they will die if they pay the fine. But the human exercises perfect agape love to the cat, and pays the fine so the cat can live, and as a consequence the human dies from lack of medicine. In that case the cat can only go on trying to love others in the way their human master loved them, but they'll never be able to repay the debt to their human master and they'll never be able to fully grasp the love their human master had shown them. But the human master left instructions to the cat which is their duty, "Love one another as I have loved you." The cat is only able to do this because their human master paid the price.

It's not possible for our love for God to exceed His love for us. He loved us first when we were yet sinners, and God is perfect.

While God has demonstrated perfect love for us, I do not think it is possible to reciprocate "perfect" agape love back to God, firstly because He sent Jesus, His perfect Son to pay the price for our sin, not other way around, and secondly because we must go on in the fear of God.

> Romans 11:32,35 - For God has consigned all to disobedience, that he may have mercy on all.
> Or who has given a gift to him that he might be repaid? (ESV)

That we go on in the fear of God really speaks to the fact that He is and always will be Holy, Holy, Holy. He's the one who heals us (Exodus 15:26) and not the other way around:

> Isaiah 6:3-7 - And one called to another and said: Holy, holy, holy is the LORD of hosts; the whole earth is full of his glory! And the foundations of the thresholds shook at the voice of him who called, and the house was filled with smoke. And I said: Woe is me! For I am lost; for I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips; for my eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts! Then one of the seraphim flew to me, having in his hand a burning coal that he had taken with tongs from the altar. And he touched my mouth and said: Behold, this has touched your lips; your guilt is taken away, and your sin atoned for. (ESV)

I believe we retain the fear of God as part of our love for God. In the fear of God we want to please God and we don't want to break His heart (make Him sad) by sinning.

> II Corinthians 5:9-12 - So whether we are at home or away, we make it our aim to please him. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil. Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. We are not commending ourselves to you again but giving you cause to boast about us, so that you may be able to answer those who boast about outward appearance and not about what is in the heart. (ESV)

While we might lay down our life for our wife or for someone else, even somebody in God's family, we don't lay down our life in order for Jesus Christ to live. Jesus laid down His life for us, and we live because of Him - not the other way around.

Giving up one's life for Jesus' sake means for the sake of His mission:

> Luke 9:23-27 - And he said to all, If anyone would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me. For whoever would save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake will save it. For what does it profit a man if he gains the whole world and loses or forfeits himself? For whoever is ashamed of me and of my words, of him will the Son of Man be ashamed when he comes in his glory and the glory of the Father and of the holy angels. But I tell you truly, there are some standing here who will not taste death until they see the kingdom of God. (ESV)
> Luke 5:30-32 - And the Pharisees and their scribes grumbled at his disciples, saying, Why do you eat and drink with tax collectors and sinners? And Jesus answered them, Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick. I have not come to call the righteous but sinners to repentance. (ESV)
> I John 3:4,8,9 - Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. (ESV)
> John 3:17-21 - For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him. Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his deeds should be exposed. But whoever does (G4160 poiōn; doing) what is true comes to the light, so that it may be clearly seen that his deeds have been carried out in God. (ESV)

God has demonstrated perfect love for us.

We can love God, yes, even with genuine (albeit 'imperfect') agape love, even from all our heart, and with all our soul, and with all our mind and all our strength (Luke 10:25-28), but we don't give up our lives to "save God" in order for God to live.

> Hosea 13:4-6 - But I am the LORD your God from the land of Egypt; you know no God but me, and besides me there is no savior. It was I who knew you in the wilderness, in the land of drought; but when they had grazed, they became full, they were filled, and their heart was lifted up; therefore they forgot me. (ESV)

Now, through obdience to the gospel, we do die a death (the death of our former self) and Christ comes to live in us and that life is now lived doing the will of God. But we die that death in order for "us" to live by Christ's life in us.

But we are called to love others with this type of ”perfect/complete love” in imitation of the love that God has shown to us, and that is absolutely possible, despite many people taking Matt 5:43-48 as being an impossible demand/instruction:

> Matthew 5:43-48 - You have heard that it was said, You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy. But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You therefore must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect. (ESV)

No-one can exceed God's holiness or righteousness. We live because of Him.

> I John 5:10-13 - Whoever believes (G4100 pisteuōn - is believing (verb)) in the Son of God has the testimony in himself. Whoever does not believe God has made him a liar, because he has not believed in the testimony that God has borne concerning his Son. And this is the testimony, that God gave us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. Whoever has the Son has life; whoever does not have the Son of God does not have life. I write these things to you who believe in the name of the Son of God that you may know that you have eternal life. (ESV)

God is the Holiest, and is the one who heals us:

> Psalms 103:1-5 - Bless the LORD, O my soul, and all that is within me, bless his holy name! Of David. Bless the LORD, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits, who forgives all your iniquity, who heals all your diseases, who redeems your life from the pit, who crowns you with steadfast love and mercy, who satisfies you with good so that your youth is renewed like the eagle's. (ESV)
> I Peter 2:15-25 - For this is the will of God, that by doing good you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish people. Live as people who are free, not using your freedom as a cover-up for evil, but living as servants of God. Honor everyone. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the emperor. Servants, be subject to your masters with all respect, not only to the good and gentle but also to the unjust. For this is a gracious thing, when, mindful of God, one endures sorrows while suffering unjustly. For what credit is it if, when you sin and are beaten for it, you endure? But if when you do good and suffer for it you endure, this is a gracious thing in the sight of God. For to this you have been called, because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, so that you might follow in his steps. He committed no sin, neither was deceit found in his mouth. When he was reviled, he did not revile in return; when he suffered, he did not threaten, but continued entrusting himself to him who judges justly. He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed. For you were straying like sheep, but have now returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls. (ESV)

Loving others in imitation of God's love for us I do not think it's possible for us to have perfect agape love for God, as sad as that sounds, because God will always be more righteous than us and doesn't need us to give our lives for Him in order for Himself to live.

But we can love Jesus' family with a love that's in the pattern of the ”perfect agape love” God has had for us if we just follow in Jesus' pattern to suffer for doing good, laying down our lives to do good for the sake of others rather than living to please ourselves, and to endure suffering that comes as a consequence of walking like Jesus Christ without fearing evil.

We can love God's family with this type of love which I think we can still call ”perfect agape love”.

> Matthew 10:24-25 - A disciple is not above his teacher, nor a servant above his master. It is enough for the disciple to be like his teacher, and the servant like his master. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebul, how much more will they malign those of his household. (ESV)

We can only love others in pale imitation of the way that God has loved us, but it is the same ”type” of love (I John 4:15-17).

> John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father’s commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)
> Ephesians 5:25-27 - Husbands, love your wives, as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her, that he might sanctify her, having cleansed her by the washing of water with the word, so that he might present the church to himself in splendor, without spot or wrinkle or any such thing, that she might be holy and without blemish. (ESV)

We are God’s friends if we love in the way He has commanded us:

> John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father’s commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)
> John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

A person must themself be drawn by Father God to Jesus Christ (John 6:40-44) for them to be saved (John 6:40-44). We ’save’ others not by our own working apart from God, but the Bible still teaches that we ’save’ others by teaching them Christ who is the only Saviour (I Timothy 4:13-16, Acts 9:15, Acts 4:8-12).

Even Jesus Christ resisted temptation, I believe in the fear of God, His Father:

> Matthew 10:28 - And do not fear those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul. Rather fear him who can destroy both soul and body in hell. (ESV)
> Hebrews 5:7 - In the days of his flesh, Jesus offered up prayers and supplications, with loud cries and tears, to him who was able to save him from death, and he was heard because of his reverence (G2124 eulabeia; caution, reverance, godly fear). (ESV)
> Hebrews 1:9 - You have loved righteousness and hated wickedness; therefore God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of gladness beyond your companions. (ESV)
> Proverbs 8:13 - The fear of the LORD is hatred of evil. Pride and arrogance and the way of evil and perverted speech I hate. (ESV)

God’s love is perfect for us in that He sent Jesus Christ who willingly laid His life down for us, voluntarily entering this sinful world on a mission to become the sacrificial Lamb of God. He had to fulfill the law of God and do nothing wrong, knowing sinners would crucify him for crimes He would not commit. And giving us words of eternal life and teachings and commandments to follow by faith in Him. And He did this for our sakes so that we can look on Him, remember Him and live through Him. And God’s love is perfect for us also in that He loved us this way without fearing what we humans would do to Him. He loved us humans even while we were yet sinners who hated Him. If He didn’t come into the world, we’d surely perish. God has done this in order to make it possible for us to be healed from sin generally, even moral sins.

Jesus’ sacrifice is propitiation for sin.

youtube.com: Why Most Christians Misunderstand Sin and Animal Blood Sacrifices - Michael Heis

> ”Take this bird, take this animal, do this and that and you will be ’cleansed from your sin’”... The Hebrew word for sin and ”sin offering” (H2402 chattaah; sin, sin offering) in many circumstances has nothing to do with moral violation. It actually refers to being decontaminated. And it’s about doing something to the person to decontaminate them so that they don’t contaminate sacred space. All these rituals weren’t about curing moral violation. If you committed a moral offence, an abomination, there’s no sacrifice for you. You’re either put to death or exiled from the community. So the writer of Hebrews actually knows what he was talking about:
> Hebrews 10:4 - For it is impossible for the blood of bulls and goats to take away sins. (ESV)

And thus we are actually able to love properly because we can be healed by Jesus from moral sin to not practice them anymore:

> I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

> I Peter 2:24 - He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed. (ESV)

> I John 5:2 - By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

The walk of the Christian is to entrust their soul to their faithful Creator while doing good (holding the love of the truth in their heart):

> I Peter 4:12-19 - Beloved, do not be surprised at the fiery trial when it comes upon you to test you, as though something strange were happening to you. But rejoice insofar as you share Christ’s sufferings, that you may also rejoice and be glad when his glory is revealed. If you are insulted for the name of Christ, you are blessed, because the Spirit of glory and of God rests upon you. But let none of you suffer as a murderer or a thief or an evildoer or as a meddler. Yet if anyone suffers as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in that name. For it is time for judgment to begin at the household of God; and if it begins with us, what will be the outcome for those who do not obey the gospel of God? And If the righteous is scarcely saved, what will become of the ungodly and the sinner? Therefore let those who suffer according to God’s will entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good. (ESV)

A slave to righteousness who loves the truth (rather than loving evil) is cleaned up (sanctified):

> Romans 6:15-23 - What then? Are we to sin because we are not under law but under grace? By no means! Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. When you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. But what fruit were you getting at that time from the things of which you are now ashamed? The end of those things is death. But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

Servants of Christ have an obligation to love one-another in the pattern of Christ:

> Romans 15:1 - We who are strong have an obligation to bear with the failings of the weak, and not to please ourselves. (ESV)

Christians have a strong obligation, a strong duty to love one-another:

> Luke 12:48 - But the one who did not know, and did what deserved a beating, will receive a light beating. Everyone to whom much was given, of him much will be required, and from him to whom they entrusted much, they will demand the more. (ESV)
> Romans 1:13-15 - I want you to know, brothers, that I have often intended to come to you (but thus far have been prevented), in order that I may reap some harvest among you as well as among the rest of the Gentiles. I am under obligation both to Greeks and to barbarians, both to the wise and to the foolish. So I am eager to preach the gospel to you also who are in Rome. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 9:16 - For if I preach the gospel, that gives me no ground for boasting. For necessity is laid upon me. Woe to me if I do not preach the gospel! (ESV)
> I John 4:21 - And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

We are sanctified (cleaned up) as we have faith in Jesus Christ. We are sanctified as we resist doing evil. Having faith in Jesus Christ and resisting doing evil go hand-in-hand:

> I Thessalonians 5:22-24 - Abstain from every form of evil. Now may the God of peace himself sanctify you completely, and may your whole spirit and soul and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. He who calls you is faithful; he will surely do it. (ESV)
> Hebrews 10:23-29 - Let us hold fast the confession of our hope without wavering, for he who promised is faithful. And let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near. For if we go on sinning deliberately after receiving the knowledge of the truth, there no longer remains a sacrifice for sins, but a fearful expectation of judgment, and a fury of fire that will consume the adversaries. Anyone who has set aside the law of Moses dies without mercy on the evidence of two or three witnesses. How much worse punishment, do you think, will be deserved by the one who has spurned the Son of God, and has profaned the blood of the covenant by which he was sanctified, and has outraged the Spirit of grace? (ESV)
> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)
> Romans 3:28 - For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. (ESV)
> James 2:14-17 - What good is it, my brothers, if someone says he has faith but does not have works? Can that faith save him? If a brother or sister is poorly clothed and lacking in daily food, and one of you says to them, Go in peace, be warmed and filled, without giving them the things needed for the body, what good is that? So also faith by itself, if it does not have works, is dead. (ESV)
> I John 1:7 - But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)
> I John 2:8-12 - At the same time, it is a new commandment that I am writing to you, which is true in him and in you, because the darkness is passing away and the true light is already shining. Whoever says he is in the light and hates his brother is still in darkness. *Whoever loves his brother abides in the light, and in him there is no cause for stumbling. But whoever hates his brother is in the darkness and walks in the darkness, and does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes. *I am writing to you, little children, because your sins are forgiven for his name's sake. (ESV)

> I John 3:4-11 - Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another.
> Romans 2:9-10 - There will be tribulation and distress for every human being who does evil, the Jew first and also the Greek, but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does good, the Jew first and also the Greek. (ESV)
> I Thessalonians 4:3-8 - For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you abstain from sexual immorality; that each one of you know how to control his own body in holiness and honor, not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God; that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you. For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness. Therefore whoever disregards this, disregards not man but God, who gives his Holy Spirit to you. (ESV)

We can love God, yes, with genuine agape love, even from all our heart, with all our mind and all our strength, but we don't give up our lives in order for God to live. Though we do die a death in order for Christ to live in us and in order for us to live to God:

> Galatians 2:19-21 - For through the law I died to the law, so that I might live to God. I have been crucified with Christ. It is no longer I who live, but Christ who lives in me. And the life I now live in the flesh I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me. I do not nullify the grace of God, for if justification were through the law, then Christ died for no purpose. (ESV)

A person must themself be drawn to Jesus Christ for them to be saved. We save others by teaching them Christ who is the only Savior:

> I Timothy 4:13-16 - Until I come, devote yourself to the public reading of Scripture, to exhortation, to teaching. Do not neglect the gift you have, which was given you by prophecy when the council of elders laid their hands on you. Practice these things, devote yourself to them, so that all may see your progress. Keep a close watch on yourself and on the teaching. Persist in this, for by so doing you will save both yourself and your hearers. (ESV)
> Acts 9:15 - But the Lord said to him, Go, for he is a chosen instrument of mine to carry my name before the Gentiles and kings and the children of Israel. (ESV)
> Acts 4:8-12 - Then Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit, said to them, Rulers of the people and elders, if we are being examined today concerning a good deed done to a crippled man, by what means this man has been healed, let it be known to all of you and to all the people of Israel that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom you crucified, whom God raised from the dead—by him this man is standing before you well. This Jesus is the stone that was rejected by you, the builders, which has become the cornerstone. And there is salvation in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given among men by which we must be saved. (ESV)

youtube.com: Rock of Ages { Grace Community Church } {@ MartijndeGroot } Lyrics:

> 2 Not the labors of my hands can fulfill thy law's demands; could my zeal no respite know, could my tears forever flow, all for sin could not atone; thou must save, and thou alone.

The believer embarked to the vineyard with the intention of doing the will of his master (Matthew 21:24-32). And the wicked and slothful servant was "unfaithful" to his master, and was afraid and so made no attempt and doing his duty (Matthew 25:24-30). And loving God and one another is our duty (Ecclesiastes 12:13, I John 3:23-24). And if we do what Jesus commands us then we will love one-another (John 15:14-17, I John 5:1-2) in faith working through love (Galatians 5:3-7). And the vineyard is the world and the field (Matthew 13:37-42) is full of believers (wheat) and unbelievers (tares). The wheat bears good fruit (Luke 13:6-9). They have a genuine love for God and hatred of evil (Matthew 13:37-42).

So there is "baseline 'performance'" which is "going to" work in the vineyard but that happens if someone has real faith in Jesus. If a person were unable to move themself physically but had real faith in Jesus Christ in their heart they still have hearing with faith and still do "embark" on this journey of doing the will of God. The will of God is our sanctification (I Thessalonians 4:3-8). A person can embark on that journey by faith and love and obedience for Jesus no matter where they are physically. A person buried alive 6 feet underground in a coffin who is unable to go anywhere physically could embark on the journey of faith in Jesus and still be like the first son in Jesus' parable of the two sons (Matthew 21:24-32) who changed his mind and went. Faith believes that Jesus Christ and that His words (John 12:44-48) are trustworthy and that there is reward for seeking God:

> Hebrews 11:6 - And without faith it is impossible to please him, for whoever would draw near to God must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who seek him. (ESV)

"Baseline salvation" is "coming to Jesus", hearing and learning from Father God, having the love of God is us, receiving God's words, receiving Jesus:

> John 6:35-41 - Jesus said to them, I am the bread of life; whoever comes to me shall not hunger, and whoever believes in me shall never thirst. But I said to you that you have seen me and yet do not believe. All that the Father gives me will come to me, and whoever comes to me I will never cast out. For I have come down from heaven, not to do my own will but the will of him who sent me. And this is the will of him who sent me, that I should lose nothing of all that he has given me, but raise it up on the last day. For this is the will of my Father, that everyone who looks on the Son and believes in him should have eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. So the Jews grumbled about him, because he said, I am the bread that came down from heaven. (ESV)

> John 5:38-42 - and you do not have his word abiding in you, for you do not believe the one whom he has sent. You search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness about me, yet you refuse to come to me that you may have life. I do not receive glory from people. But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. (ESV)

> Luke 6:46-49 - Why do you call me Lord, Lord, and not do what I tell you? Everyone who comes to me and hears my words and does them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. And when a flood arose, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it, because it had been well built. But the one who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. When the stream broke against it, immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great. (ESV)

> John 12:47 - If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world. (ESV)

Jesus' parable in (Matthew 21:24-32) says nothing about the usefulness of the work done whilst in the vineyard, but it does say about the first son that he went. The disbeliever did not go at all. So that is baseline performance. The believer went to work and their work may have abided or it may have burned up (I Corinthians 3:15) but they are still saved. The disbeliever did not perform at all (Matthew 25:24-29).

The believer is a "doer of the word" (John 14:12) who obeys the gospel and does good as opposed to evil (I Peter 4:12-19), after all Jesus Christ didn't do evil and so someone who is walking by faith in Jesus does good (John 14:12, John 3:16-21).

> John 6:28-29 - Then they said to him, What must we do, to be doing the works of God? Jesus answered them, This is the work of God, that you believe (G4100 pisteuo) in him whom he has sent. (ESV)

There is a certain "performing" of one's salvation (Philippians 2:12-16) that a Christian must do, and that is to carry out the process of sanctification (II Thessalonians 2:10-13, II Corinthians 3:18) by obedience to Jesus Christ (I Peter 1:14-25, II Corinthians 10:4-6).

Now, some people take this word for "performing" / "working out" / "carrying out" and complain because it sounds like salvation then depends on "performance". The word "performance" in English carries an additional connotation of an evaluation of the quality of a person's work, and so they complain because grace is free and not based on "performance" / "how well one does".

Real faith is not self-commending. Though we know Abraham was justified by faith, he didn't go around saying, "I'm righteous before God." He couldn't have read Genesis to say, I believe the promise and therefore I'm righteous! Rather, Abraham had faith, and God saw his faith. If a person testifies to others about themself that they don't extort, commit adultery, commit sin generally etc. that is not the same thing in that moment as actually refraining from commiting sin.

> John 5:31-37 - If I alone bear witness about myself, my testimony is not deemed true.

God witnessed about his Son:

> Matthew 17:5 - He was still speaking when, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them, and a voice from the cloud said, This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased; listen to him. (ESV)

Self-commendation or seeking to justify oneself, rather than seeking commendation from God, is/are a big problems. Pride is very closely related to self-commendation. But consider Mark 10:17-23 where Jesus loves the person who said, "I have kept them (God's commandments) from my youth."

This person appears to have made the statement not from "pride" but rather from curiousity or from being puzzled. Jesus still pointed out that he needed to follow Him, and I believe that following Jesus really means to learn from Jesus Christ, coming into agreement with His words, and it means having faith in Jesus Christ, trusting and loving the truth, taking one's thoughts into obedience to Christ.

> Matthew 8:21-22 - Another of the disciples said to him, Lord, let me first go and bury my father. And Jesus said to him, Follow me, and leave the dead to bury their own dead. (ESV)

> Matthew 23:1 - Then Jesus said to the crowds and to his disciples, (ESV)

> Matthew 23:9 - And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. (ESV)

That faith will produces the deeds of Jesus. Jesus didn't sin. Neither did Jesus anywhere in recorded Scripture (to my knowledge) call anyone other than God His father. The person in Mark 10:17-23 was still attached to his material wealth. Following Jesus and doing the deeds of Jesus would look like imitating Christ, and so calling God our father (Matthew 8:21-22), for example, and loving as Jesus loved, loving the children of God, loving anyone born of God (I John 5:1-2), having the love of God, loving Jesus (John 15:22-24).

The issue with the Pharisee in Luke 18:10-14 seems to be pride.

Of these two people in who went up to the temple to pray in the story in Luke 18:10-14, the one who beat his breast was non-self commending and had the fear of God. Whereas the pharisee in the story was self-commending.

Jesus explained that what makes someone great in the Kingdom of God is humility (Mt 18:4). So perhaps a person could still be in the Kingdom of God, but still "have" some pride. Not actively committing it but perhaps having some misconceptions about oneself (i.e. not being able to see it), but still presently following Jesus nevertheless, on the path to taking every thought captive for obedience to Christ, as they are being sanctified by faith in Jesus, and by obedience to Jesus. Can a "repentant" person "enter" the Kingdom of God, even if they "have" sin? I think so. But I think they need to be repentant, able to be corrected by God. I think that they need to be having faith, and in having faith are not committing sin, but rather being sanctified (cleaned up), committing faith (so to speak) rather than committing sin.

> Psalms 101:7 - He who practices deceit shall not dwell within my house; He who speaks falsehood shall not maintain his position before me. (NASB)

I think inheriting the Kingdom of God requires having been cleaned up.

The Gospel is able to build a person up to give them an inheritance among all those who are sanctified (as in, those who have been sanctified, who have been cleaned up that they no longer practice ungodliness, and love in the way God requires):

> Acts 20:32 - And now I commend you to God and to the word of his grace, which is able (G1410 dynamenō; being able) to build you up (G3618 oikodomēsai; to build up) and to give you the inheritance among all those who are sanctified (G37 hēgiasmenois; having been sanctified). (ESV)

So in my understanding there is a distinction between entering and inheriting the Kingdom. To inherit the Kingdom of God, a person needs to have put on incorruption. I take it a person inherits the Kingdom of God with their resurrection body:

> I Corinthians 15:50-55 - I tell you this, brothers: flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God, nor does the perishable inherit the imperishable. Behold! I tell you a mystery. We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we shall be changed. For this perishable body must put on the imperishable, and this mortal body must put on immortality. When the perishable puts on the imperishable, and the mortal puts on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written: Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is your victory? O death, where is your sting? (ESV)

After all, Jesus said, the slave to sin doesn't abide/remain in the house forever. So I believe that sanctification (getting cleaned up) is necessary abide forever. Putting a stop to committing sin, and, instead holding faith in Jesus, is necessary to enter the Kingdom.

I believe that a person can still be (have sin) sinful and enter the Kingdom of God. After all, God justifies even the ungodly if they have faith in Jesus Christ. But I believe that faith must be a repentant fatih, holding faith in Jesus Christ, prefering God to evil, so has stopped "committing" sin to enter the Kingdom of God through Jesus Christ who is the door.

> From Matthew 21:24-32 - ... Truly, I say to you, the tax collectors and the prostitutes go into the kingdom of God before you. For John came to you in the way of righteousness, and you did not believe him, but the tax collectors and the prostitutes believed him. And even when you saw it, you did not afterward change your minds and believe him. (ESV)

> Jeremiah 7:8-11 - Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit. Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not; And come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations? Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have seen it, saith the LORD. (KJV)

> John 10:1 - Truly, truly, I say to you, he who does not enter the sheepfold by the door but climbs in by another way, that man is a thief and a robber. (ESV)

Entering and inheriting the Kingdom of God God draws a person to His Son Jesus as they learn from Him. Glory to God alone. Yet we must not harden our hearts:

> John 6:44 - No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him. And I will raise him up on the last day. (ESV)

> Romans 9:15-16 - For he says to Moses, I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion. So then it depends not on human will or exertion, but on God, who has mercy. (ESV)

> John 6:45 - It is written in the Prophets, And they will all be taught by God. Everyone who has heard and learned from the Father comes to me— (ESV)

> Hebrews 4:7-12 - again he appoints a certain day, Today, saying through David so long afterward, in the words already quoted, Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts. For if Joshua had given them rest, God would not have spoken of another day later on. So then, there remains a Sabbath rest for the people of God, for whoever has entered God's rest has also rested from his works as God did from his. Let us therefore strive to enter that rest, so that no one may fall by the same sort of disobedience. For the word of God is living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing to the division of soul and of spirit, of joints and of marrow, and discerning the thoughts and intentions of the heart. (ESV)

When a person starts having faith in Jesus Christ, they are sealed with the promised Holy Spirit.

I think that "guarantee" might be too strong of a translation for (G728) it makes it sound as though nothing could go wrong. But the Bible warns us that we must not "rebel", that rather we must continue in faith, not hardening our hearts (Hebrews 3:12-19, Ephesians 5:1-21), that we must not fall away by having an "evil, unbelieving heart". The Bible warns us that we must not practice the works of the flesh if we want to have an inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God (Galatians 5:18-25):

> Ephesians 1:13-14 - In him you also, when you heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation, and believed in him, were sealed with the promised Holy Spirit, who is the guarantee (G728 earnest, pledge, a token of what is to come) of our inheritance until we acquire possession of it, to the praise of his glory. (ESV)

(G728 earnest, pledge, a token of what is to come)

The Gospel is able to build a person up to give them an inheritance among all those who are sanctified (as in, those who have been sanctified, who have been cleaned up that they no longer practice ungodliness, and love in the way God requires):

> Ephesians 5:2-6 - And walk in love, as Christ loved us and gave himself up for us, a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God. But sexual immorality and all impurity or covetousness must not even be named among you, as is proper among saints. Let there be no filthiness nor foolish talk nor crude joking, which are out of place, but instead let there be thanksgiving. For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. (ESV)

> Acts 20:32 - And now I commend you to God and to the word of his grace, which is able (G1410 dynamenō; being able) to build you up (G3618 oikodomēsai; to build up) and to give you the inheritance among all those who are sanctified (G37 hēgiasmenois; having been sanctified). (ESV)

> Galatians 5:18-25 - But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. Now the works of the flesh are evident: sexual immorality, impurity, sensuality, idolatry, sorcery, enmity, strife, > jealousy, fits of anger, rivalries, dissensions, divisions, envy, drunkenness, orgies, and things like these. I warn you, as I warned you before, that those who do such things will not inherit the kingdom of God. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control; against such things there is no law. And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. If we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit. (ESV)

There are two parables in Matthew 13 about ”seed”.

This ”good seed” here in Matthew 13:24-30 refers to the children of the Kingdom and the field they are sown in is the world:

> Matthew 13:24-30 - He put another parable before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a man who sowed good seed in his field, but while his men were sleeping, his enemy came and sowed weeds among the wheat and went away. So when the plants came up and bore grain, then the weeds appeared also. And the servants of the master of the house came and said to him, Master, did you not sow good seed in your field? How then does it have weeds? He said to them, An enemy has done this. So the servants said to him, Then do you want us to go and gather them? But he said, No, lest in gathering the weeds you root up the wheat along with them. Let both grow together until the harvest, and at harvest time I will tell the reapers, Gather the weeds first and bind them in bundles to be burned, but gather the wheat into my barn. (ESV)

Here in Matthew 13:23 the ”good soil” which receives the seed of the word of God is the one who hears the word and underestands it and bears fruit. So the ”good soil” in this case is the believer, and if a person is a believer and they die (say, from sin empowered by the law, or whenever it happens, Romans 7:9-13, John 3:8, *Ezekiel 18:26-32), then they are born again (John 11:25-27, Romans 6:3-8).

So I guess that a person can be an ”unborn” child of God until they get born, but that child of God is the seed, and the good soil is the believer. Positionally, for the good soil person (the believer), all things are new. But that is made forcefully clear when they are born-again of the spirit.

That seed in the heart is a person (Jesus said the good seed are the children of the Kingdom), and so when the person ”born of God” is described, it is talking about a person who is/was this seed who has been sown in good soil (the good soil is the one who hears the word and understands it). And so there is the child of the Kingdom (seed) sown in the heart of someone who hears the word and understands it.

But the good soil is of the field which is the world and their nature is the flesh. God softens the heart to receive the word, and when they get born-again of the spirit their old self dies and they receive a new heart and spirit. When their old self dies, the seed also dies, I believe, but the person is reborn. If that person then goes on believing in Jesus Christ they are ”in Christ” and ”born of God”.

The seed that is in the ”person’s heart”, even before they are born-again, that seed is ”in Christ” and born of God. Getting born-again, a person can put to death the ”deeds” of the body (which means going on walking by the spirit rather than the lusts of the flesh) from a desire for the truth rather than for evil. A deed comes from some heart attitude (from faith or not from faith, from love for the truth or love for evil). So getting born-again of the spirit, we should walk by the spirit as we live by the spirit.

Being born-again, they are a new spirit (redeemed spirit) but inside old flesh that still has indwelling sin, and they await the redemption of their body (Romans 8:23-25).

I guess that after getting born-again of the spirit there is still a battle with the old flesh. Before getting born-again, there is no clear conflict as the person is a child of wrath by nature. Getting born-again, a person has died and been set free (acquitted) from sin. After getting born-again, the sinful flesh rebels against the person’s new nature. And so there is still a very real battle as we strive to walk by the spirit rather than by the flesh.

There is no condemnation for those who are ”in Christ”. Those who are ”in Christ” do not sin, and love as commanded and agree with the person and work of Jesus Christ. They confess that He is the Son of God, for instance. But the sinful flesh is not in Christ but is rather condemned (Romans 8:3-4).

And that person who is ”in Christ”, they are led by the spirit, and desire to do what is right, and there is no condemnation for them.

> Romans 7:18 - For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh; for the willing is present in me, but the working out of the good is not. (LSB)

The ”seed of the word of God” is the child of the Kingdom and is ”in Christ” and is ”born of God”, and the person who is born of the spirit (regenerated, baptised into Christ’s death, born again of that seed) is also ”in Christ”, and if that person goes on walking by faith in Jesus Christ, abiding in His commandments then they are also ”in Christ”, ”born of God”, so long as they continue on abiding in Jesus and don’t get grafted out.

> Matthew 13:23 - As for what was sown on good soil, this is the one who hears the word and understands it. He indeed bears fruit and yields, in one case a hundredfold, in another sixty, and in another thirty. (ESV)

> I Peter 1:23 - since you have been born again, not of perishable seed but of imperishable, through the living and abiding word of God; (ESV)

> Matthew 13:8 - Other seeds fell on good soil and produced grain, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty. (ESV)

> Matthew 13:37-43 - He answered, The one who sows the good seed is the Son of Man. The field is the world, and the good seed is the children of the kingdom. The weeds are the sons of the evil one, and the enemy who sowed them is the devil. The harvest is the close of the age, and the reapers are angels. Just as the weeds are gathered and burned with fire, so will it be at the close of the age. The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of sin and all law-breakers, and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear. (ESV)

> Matthew 13:23 - As for what was sown on good soil, this is the one who hears the word and understands it. He indeed bears fruit and yields, in one case a hundredfold, in another sixty, and in another thirty. (ESV)

That seed of the word of God must be treasured (loved) in the good soil of a person’s heart:

> Mark 4:14-20 - The sower sows the word. And these are the ones along the path, where the word is sown: when they hear, Satan immediately comes and takes away the word that is sown in them. And these are the ones sown on rocky ground: the ones who, when they hear the word, immediately receive it with joy. And they have no root in themselves, but endure for a while; then, when tribulation or persecution arises on account of the word, immediately they fall away. And others are the ones sown among thorns. They are those who hear the word, but the cares of the world and the deceitfulness of riches and the desires for other things enter in and choke the word, and it proves unfruitful. But those that were sown on the good soil are the ones who hear the word and accept it and bear fruit, thirtyfold and sixtyfold and a hundredfold. (ESV)

So the person who is the ”good seed in the good soil” is a believer (hearing and understanding, trusting and treasuring Jesus Christ and His word). That person at some stage on their walk dies, and is reborn (born-again of the Spirit):

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)

The good seed planted in good soil needs to die in order to bear good fruit. And so a person needs to be born-again:

> I Corinthians 15:36 - You foolish person! What you sow does not come to life unless it dies. (ESV)

So a person is born-again of the seed of the word of God, but the word is a seed until the person is born-again by that seed, and even after being born-again, it's important to go on by faith in Jesus Christ, abiding in Him, abiding in His teachings and commandments. Whoever means whoever, and so even the person who has been born-again of the spirit must go on in the teaching of Christ abiding in His commandments. If abiding in Jesus Christ's teachings and commandments then that person is in Christ. If someone who is in Christ then stops abiding in Him then they are cast out by Father God (John 15:1-6). God is able, though, to put a person back in if they return to faith:

> II John 1:9-10 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, (ESV)
> Romans 11:20-25 - That is true. They were broken off because of their unbelief, but you stand fast through faith. So do not become proud, but stand in awe. For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. Note then the kindness and the severity of God: severity toward those who have fallen, but God's kindness to you, provided you continue in his kindness. Otherwise you too will be cut off. And even they, if they do not continue in their unbelief, will be grafted in, for God has the power to graft them in again. For if you were cut from what is by nature a wild olive tree, and grafted, contrary to nature, into a cultivated olive tree, how much more will these, the natural branches, be grafted back into their own olive tree. Lest you be wise in your own conceits, I want you to understand this mystery, brothers: a partial hardening has come upon Israel, until the fullness of the Gentiles has come in. (ESV)

I hope this is correct. I'm trying to understand:

In the parable of the sower (Mark 4:14-20) it shows that it's important to treasure the word and desire it above other things to protect that word that it grows up and bears fruit. Bearing good fruit is important that the believer is not "cast out" of the vine who is Jesus Christ. So even before being born-again, it's important to not fall away. For a person who has the seed of the word of God in them (albeit before they have been "born again"), the person is still by nature a child of wrath with indwelling sin in their body, spirit and soul, as this comes from Adam's genaeology. The word of God in them means that they will stop sinning (I John 3:9), so long as they hold fast (I Corinthians 15:1-2). But until this person person is born-again of that seed (i.e. baptised into Christ's death, regenerated) they are still a slave to sin (John 8:31-47), as the natural man does not submit to God's law (I Corinthians 2:11-16, Romans 8:6-11), and upon trying to observe and keep the law, sin comes alive and the struggle against sin is a losing battle. If that struggle isn't apparent to them then it will be when they are made aware of the law of God (Romans 7:9-13). A believer is required to abide in God's commandments for them, and the one born of God doesn't sin as the Scripture says. On top of this Jesus Christ says that the person having faith in Him will do the deeds He does (John 14:12). And so sin comes alive because they walk by the flesh nature which puts them under the law (Galatians 5:16-26) and the person dies (Romans 7:9-13), the seed dies (I Corinthians 15:36) but rather than that seed perishing (I Peter 1:23) it becomes the new person. The person is born-again as promised (John 11:25-27). Being born-again, having been given the Spirit who is from God, they might now understand the things which have freely been given by God (even coming to understand what has happened to them). Having the the Spirit who is from God, the person who has been born-again of the spirit also is able to know that the spirit of Jesus Christ abides in them:

> John 14:24 - Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 2:11-16 - For who knows a person's thoughts except the spirit of that person, which is in him? So also no one comprehends the thoughts of God except the Spirit of God. Now we have received not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit who is from God, that we might understand the things freely given us by God. And we impart this in words not taught by human wisdom but taught by the Spirit, interpreting spiritual truths to those who are spiritual. The natural person does not accept the things of the Spirit of God, for they are folly to him, and he is not able to understand them because they are spiritually discerned. The spiritual person judges all things, but is himself to be judged by no one. For who has understood the mind of the Lord so as to instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ. (ESV)
> I John 3:24 - Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)
> II Timothy 4:7 - I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. (ESV)

Sin empowered by the law kills a believer (who is not yet born-again) at some point because they can't keep the law, yet though they die they will live because they have faith in Jesus Christ (John 11:25-27). The person who still has the seed of the word of God inside their heart "of good soil", treasuring the word, will get born-again of the spirit by the word that is in their heart, in order for them to be able to be able to fulfill the requirement of the law (Romans 6:16-18), which they must do (I John 3:13-16*, Deuteronomy 30:6). There is a load which each believer must come to bear (Galatians 6:2-6).

Whoever is "born of God" is "in Christ".

A person who truly believes that Jesus is the Christ is "born of God" and that person also loves as commanded and also does not make a practice of sinning as they are holding faith which leads to them overcoming the world. If a person truly confesses that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, or if they "love" then that person is born of God:

> I John 5:1 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. (ESV)
> I John 3:9 - No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. (ESV)
> I John 4:7 - Beloved, let us love one another, for love is from God, and whoever loves has been born of God and knows God. (ESV)

If somebody is "born of God" then they agree with the person (I John 5:1) and work of Jesus Christ, abiding in His commandments (they love God and the children of God as commanded; I John 4:7) and they do not make a practice of sinning as they are doing faith (I John 3:9; I John 5:4; I John 5:18; Romans 14:23). They follow God's commandments for us from the heart. That is the person who is born of God.

But when the saving word of God is sown in the heart, there may be desires for other things that compete, and so a believer must continue to treasure that word. That word must be well-rooted:

> Mark 4:14-20 - The sower sows the word. And these are the ones along the path, where the word is sown: when they hear, Satan immediately comes and takes away the word that is sown in them.

> And these are the ones sown on rocky ground: the ones who, when they hear the word, immediately receive it with joy. And they have no root in themselves, but endure for a while; then, when tribulation or persecution arises on account of the word, immediately they fall away. And others are the ones sown among thorns. They are those who hear the word, but the cares of the world and the deceitfulness of riches and the desires for other things enter in and choke the word, and it proves unfruitful. But those that were sown on the good soil are the ones who hear the word and accept it and bear fruit, thirtyfold and sixtyfold and a hundredfold. (ESV)

But there is also a sinful flesh nature as well who's deeds must be put to death (Romans 8:12-15), and a person born of God still carries this around frustrating the believer who wants to do God's will. This is an issue before and after getting born-again of the spirit. The battle is not winnable before being born-again of the spirit:

> Romans 7:16-20 - Now if I do what I do not want, I agree with the law, that it is good. So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. (ESV)

Our old self is crucified only if we belong to Christ Jesus (Galatians 5:18-25). Jesus' words are spirit and life and Jesus comes to dwell inside of a person by faith. So the seed of the saving word of God of the gospel of Jesus Christ needs to be well rooted in the good soil of a person's heart. This person treasures this word, and at some stage they get born-again of the Spirit (John 11:25-27):

> Romans 8:7-9 - For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God's law; indeed, it cannot. Those who are in the flesh cannot please God. You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. (ESV)
> John 6:63 - It is the Spirit who gives life; the flesh is of no avail. The words that I have spoken to you are spirit and life. (ESV)
> Ephesians 3:14-19 - For this reason I bow my knees before the Father, from whom every family in heaven and on earth is named, that according to the riches of his glory he may grant you to be strengthened with power through his Spirit in your inner being, so that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith — that you, being rooted and grounded in love, may have strength to comprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and height and depth, and to know the love of Christ that surpasses knowledge, that you may be filled with all the fullness of God. (ESV)

Jesus knows His sheep before they know Him, but His sheep still at some point come to know Him and in order to do so they have got to have stopped sinning, and at which point they are keeping His commandments as they are in Him. God makes us born-again of the spirit so that we can know that Jesus abides in us (I John 3:24), but I believe that Jesus, living inside a person's heart by faith (Ephesians 3:14-19), is there before we even know, perhaps even before we are born-again of the spirit:

> I John 2:3-6 - And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

> I John 3:24 - Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

If a person has parked their car, they have stopped driving. In a similar way, we need to ”stop committing sin” in order to enter the Kingdom of God.

If it’s possible to have faith then it’s possible to stop sinning. Indeed, whatever is not done in faith (or proceed from faith) is sin:

> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

When I use the phrase ”stop committing sin” or ”stop sinning” I’m not using it to mean ”stop sinning forever and never sin again”. I’m meaning it to say ”not presently committing sin”. It’s necessary to not be committing sin in order to enter the Kingdom of God.

And to stop committing sin ongoingly seemed to be a losing battle for my old self, and I believe it’s a losing battle for everyone until they are born-again (baptised into Christ’s death and set free from sin). Before I was born-again, I was committig more and more sin (it seemed to be getting worse).

God makes it possible to stop sinning for good, and what’s needed is to be born-again.

But before and after being born-again of the spirit (baptised into Jesus Christ’s death), we need to continue abiding in Jesus Christ’s commandments in order to remain in Him:

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)

> II Peter 2:17-22 - These are waterless springs and mists driven by a storm. For them the gloom of utter darkness has been reserved. For, speaking loud boasts of folly, they entice by sensual passions of the flesh those who are barely escaping from those who live in error. They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved. For if, after they have escaped the defilements of the world through the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, they are again entangled in them and overcome, the last state has become worse for them than the first. For it would have been better for them never to have known the way of righteousness than after knowing it to turn back from the holy commandment delivered to them. What the true proverb says has happened to them: The dog returns to its own vomit, and the sow, after washing herself, returns to wallow in the mire. (ESV)

> II Peter 2:4-9 - For if God did not spare angels when they sinned, but cast them into hell and committed them to chains of gloomy darkness to be kept until the judgment; if he did not spare the ancient world, but preserved Noah, a herald of righteousness, with seven others, when he brought a flood upon the world of the ungodly; if by turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah to ashes he condemned them to extinction, making them an example of what is going to happen to the ungodly; and if he rescued righteous Lot, greatly distressed by the sensual conduct of the wicked (for as that righteous man lived among them day after day, he was tormenting his righteous soul over their lawless deeds that he saw and heard); then the Lord knows how to rescue the godly from trials, and to keep the unrighteous under punishment until the day of judgment, (ESV)

> John 15:1-2 - I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinedresser. Every branch of mine that does not bear fruit he takes away, and every branch that does bear fruit he prunes, that it may bear more fruit. (ESV)

> John 15:6 - If anyone does not abide in me he is thrown away like a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire, and burned. (ESV)

Personl note I can't hold any unforgiveness for anyone who I perceive had wronged me before I was born-again, because I have died and are a new person now, and also for Jesus' sake, and also it's truly my desire to move on. I share my testimony not from unforgiveness, but in an effort to explain as best as I can about how I see myself having been saved (from that old life which was neither working out for me, nor bearing good fruit for God), as I'm trying to explain theology as best as I can, and resist bad doctrine floating through the churches.

There's no other name under heaven among men by which we must be saved other than the name of Jesus Christ (Acts 4:8-12):

> Luke 13:3 - No, I tell you; but unless you repent (3340. metanoeó), you will all likewise perish. (ESV)

Getting born-again of the spirit for me was contemporaneous with a realisation that I needed help from God to be able to stop sinning because I was compulsively sinning. I was attempting to keep God's commandments for a year or two leading up to the 2 April 2022 (when I was born-again) but I was also struggling with sin for years and it felt I was being actively prevented for a very long time from forming and maintaining relationships, and I could only hold hope that I would see this person again and that was keeping me going back then, but after over a year waiting as further pressure was put on me to die, I guess, to the hope that I had of seeing this person again, I was feeling like everything was impossible and futile, and confused that even what is real is treated as garbage. As I had been trying to overcome anxiety and be truthful and sincere and even resist sin back then, yet my efforts back then could not solve my problems, and I called out to God in tears for help. Even before I was born-again I was asking God to deliver me, and He made me born-again, and I didn't know what happened at the time, but going forward I have been seeking to be a good steward of that grace. All things are now new, and I forgive and move on, but I say these things not out of unforgiveness, but only to explain how being born-again has happened for me:

> Romans 7:9-13 - I was once alive apart from the law, but when the commandment came, sin came alive and I died. The very commandment that promised life proved to be death to me. For sin, seizing an opportunity through the commandment, deceived me and through it killed me. So the law is holy, and the commandment is holy and righteous and good. Did that which is good, then, bring death to me? By no means! It was sin, producing death in me through what is good, in order that sin might be shown to be sin, and through the commandment might become sinful beyond measure. (ESV)

So the way I see it is that seed of the word of God inside me became the new person who is the true me now. That's what I presently believe. However, claiming to be the person "born of God" is still a "big call", and is practically synonymous with saying that "I have faith", "I am not committing sin", "I claim to be pleasing to God presently", because the one born of God doesn't sin, and agrees with the person and work of Jesus Christ and loves as commanded, so if I were to make that testimony alone, my testimony wouldn't be credible. I would need God's testimony about me, as Jesus Christ had about Him, in order to make it credible.

Nevertheless, I have attempted to explain how getting born-again works, but I'm not infallible. God help me if I'm wrong. I do not want to mislead anyone, but I'm constantly being confronted by absolutely terrible doctrine, and so I'm doing my best to resist bad docrine and be in agreement with the truth of what Scripture says:

> John 5:31-32 - If I alone bear witness about myself, my testimony is not deemed true. There is another who bears witness about me, and I know that the testimony that he bears about me is true. (ESV)

> Luke 9:35 - And a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my Son, my Chosen One; listen to him! (ESV)

Even though a person may have the seed of the word of God in them, that seed being ”in Christ”, born of God, the person still needs to be ”born-again” of the spirit (baptised into Christ’s death), so that by the grace of God the body of sin (which the person born of God carries around) may be brought to nothing (Romans 6:6-8), and thay they may ”enter the Kingdom of God”:

> Romans 8:12-15 - So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh. For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death (G2289 thanatoute) the deeds of the body (G4983 sōmatos), you will live. For all who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God. For you did not receive the spirit of slavery to fall back into fear, but you have received the Spirit of adoption as sons, by whom we cry, Abba! Father! (ESV)
> John 3:5 - Jesus answered, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God. (ESV)

Being born again of the spirit, a person still needs to do the will of God in order to enter the Kingdom of God. They still must go on in faith in Jesus Christ in order to enter the Kingdom of God. They still need to not go back to sinning, and so have stopped committing sin (I Thessalonians 4:3-8) in order to enter the Kingdom of God . Even after being born again of the spirit, there is still a journey of striving (Luke 13:23-30) to enter the Kingdom of God. This journey I truly believe involves ”walking by the spirit” and not by the flesh. And this is utterly essential for entering the Kingdom of God:

> Acts 14:21-23 - When they had preached the gospel to that city and had made many disciples, they returned to Lystra and to Iconium and to Antioch, strengthening the souls of the disciples, encouraging them to continue in the faith, and saying that through many tribulations we must enter the kingdom of God. And when they had appointed elders for them in every church, with prayer and fasting they committed them to the Lord in whom they had believed. (ESV)
> II Timothy 4:18 - The Lord will rescue me from every evil deed and bring me safely into his heavenly kingdom. To him be the glory forever and ever. Amen. (ESV)
> Galatians 5:24 - And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. (ESV)
> John 10:1 - Truly, truly, I say to you, he who does not enter the sheepfold by the door but climbs in by another way, that man is a thief and a robber. (ESV)

This striving involves resisting evil, overcoming evil with good, while holding the faith:

> Philippians 1:27-30 - Only let your manner of life be worthy of the gospel of Christ, so that whether I come and see you or am absent, I may hear of you that you are standing firm in one spirit, with one mind striving side by side (G4866 synathlountes; striving together) for the faith of the gospel, and not frightened in anything by your opponents. This is a clear sign to them of their destruction, but of your salvation, and that from God. For it has been granted to you that for the sake of Christ you should not only believe in him but also suffer for his sake, engaged in the same conflict that you saw I had and now hear that I still have. (ESV)
> II Timothy 1:6-9 - For this reason I remind you to fan into flame the gift of God, which is in you through the laying on of my hands, for God gave us a spirit not of fear but of power and love and self-control. Therefore do not be ashamed of the testimony about our Lord, nor of me his prisoner, but share in suffering for the gospel by the power of God, who saved us and called us to a holy calling, not because of our works but because of his own purpose and grace, which he gave us in Christ Jesus before the ages began, (ESV)

Both being born again of the Spirit and also doing the will of God (our sanctification, to cease committing sin, remaining in Christ Jesus, abiding in His commandments) are needed in order to enter the Kingdom of God:

> I John 3:6-11 - No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)

The flesh carries out evil deeds from bad desire (Galatians 5:13-18). We are born-again in order that the deeds of the flesh might die, and so that starts with desire. Someone who is born-again still has the sinful flesh, though, and so there is still a battle with the flesh, but now a winning battle. But although the flesh fails us, inwardly, we are still endeavouring to be obedient to Jesus Christ:

> Romans 7:18 - For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh (G4561 sarki). For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. (ESV)

> Romans 6:11-23 - So you also must consider yourselves dead to sin and alive to God in Christ Jesus. Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal bodies, to make you obey their passions. Do not present your members to sin as instruments for unrighteousness, but present yourselves to God as those who have been brought from death to life, and your members to God as instruments for righteousness. For sin will have no dominion over you, since you are not under law but under grace. What then? Are we to sin because we are not under law but under grace? By no means! Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. When you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. But what fruit were you getting at that time from the things of which you are now ashamed? The end of those things is death. But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

By the seed of the word of God in a person, when that seed dies, the seed doesn't perish (I Peter 1:23) but rather the person is born-again of the Spirit by that seed, by the living and abiding word of God. But the flesh is redeemed only after that. The flesh must also die that it may also be redeemed (or the born-again person is raptured alive):

> Romans 8:23 - And not only the creation, but we ourselves, who have the firstfruits of the Spirit, groan inwardly as we wait eagerly for adoption as sons, the redemption of our bodies (G4983 sōmatos). (ESV)

> I Thessalonians 4:17 - Then we who are alive, who are left, will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and so we will always be with the Lord. (ESV)

In my experience, as I have observed people loving others at times, practicing righteousness and have heard them confess faith in Jesus Christ, but have also seen the same people speak and act against the truth from my perspective, refrain from doing good when it seems to me they should, and since I've experienced this also in myself also sometimes, especially before being born-again of the spririt, I can only conclude that what we might observe as a person may be somebody who is both born of God while also sometimes speaking and acting from the sinful flesh, as described by Paul.

If we see people who profess to be Christians not actually doing as Christ commanded then we should reprove them and seek to correct them with what Scripture teaches but with grace, in the imitation of Jesus Christ and how He dealt with such issues:

> John 12:44-50 - And Jesus cried out and said, Whoever believes in me, believes not in me but in him who sent me. And whoever sees me sees him who sent me. I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world. The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. For I have not spoken on my own authority, but the Father who sent me has himself given me a commandment—what to say and what to speak. And I know that his commandment is eternal life. What I say, therefore, I say as the Father has told me. (ESV)

> Matthew 18:15 - If your brother sins against you, go and tell him his fault, between you and him alone. If he listens to you, you have gained your brother. (ESV)

> Luke 17:3-4 - Pay attention to yourselves! If your brother sins, rebuke him, and if he repents, forgive him, and if he sins against you seven times in the day, and turns to you seven times, saying, I repent, you must forgive him. (ESV)

But inwardly, the person born of God in them hopes in Jesus (Romans 8:23) and does not sin (I John 5:18) but loves God's law (Romans 7:22-23), but is abiding in Jesus' commandments. The flesh is weak, but there still might be somebody "born of God" inside of that sinful flesh:

> Romans 7:17-23 - So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. So I find it to be a law that when I want to do right, evil lies close at hand. For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. (ESV)

The Adamic flesh is the "old creature" inclusive of both the literal biological flesh and the mind of the person from before they are born-again of the spirit. A person gets born-again of the spirit, but is still inside the Adamic flesh, and retains some memory of the flesh, but they await to receive the redemption of their flesh, (i.e. await to receive the resurrection body).

If there is a "3rd" birthday, then that would be the redemption of the body (Romans 8:23-25):

- First birthday: born of woman (Adamic flesh and spirit)
  - Psalms 51:5
  - I Corinthians 11:11-12
- Second birthday: born of the spirt (new spirit, new creation)
  - John 3:5-7
  - II Corinthians 5:17
  - Colossians 3:8-10
- Third birthday ?: redemption of body (resurrection body)
  - Romans 8:23-25

There is the part of the person that is sinful, that is the person born of woman (from their 1st birthday):

Psalms 51:5, Romans 7:18, I Corinthians 11:11-12

This outer nature (the flesh) is wasting away:

II Corinthians 4:16

Then there is the part of the person that is made right, that is the person born of God. The person born of God is also God's seed, even before they are born again of the Spirit. That person born of God is "in Christ". But that seed dies (I Corinthians 15:36) and comes alive and that person is born-again of the Spirit and that person is "alive" (II Corinthians 4:11-15) and is dead to sin (from their 2nd birthday), for they have died with Christ (Romans 6:3-8):

II Corinthians 5:17, Colossians 3:8-10, I John 3:9, I Peter 1:23, John 3:5-7, Ezekiel 18:31, Isaiah 1:16-17

The person who has been "born-again" of the spirit, has died and become a new person.

I believe that "born of God" should not be used to mean precisely the same thing as to be "born again of the spirit" for several reasons.

Firstly, getting born-again of the spirit (born again) happens somewhat mysteriously, but those who have faith in Jesus Christ (which is truly faith in Father God) are promised to get born-again (John 11:25-27, John 12:44), as are those who turn from all their transgressions (Ezekiel 18:26-32). Does John 3:8 mean that the people themselves who are born of the Spirit are unpredictable to the natural man's understanding? Or does it mean that when someone gets born of the Spirit is itself an unpredictable event? I'm unsure, possibly both:

> John 3:8 - The wind blows where it wishes, and you hear its sound, but you do not know where it comes from or where it goes. So it is with everyone who is born of the Spirit. (ESV)

> Ezekiel 18:26-32 - When a righteous person turns away from his righteousness and does injustice, he shall die for it; for the injustice that he has done he shall die. Again, when a wicked person turns away from the wickedness he has committed and does what is just and right, he shall save his life. Because he considered and turned away from all the transgressions that he had committed, he shall surely live; he shall not die. Yet the house of Israel says, The way of the Lord is not just. O house of Israel, are my ways not just? Is it not your ways that are not just? Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, declares the Lord GOD. Repent and turn from all your transgressions, lest iniquity be your ruin. Cast away from you all the transgressions that you have committed, and make yourselves a new heart and a new spirit! Why will you die, O house of Israel? For I have no pleasure in the death of anyone, declares the Lord GOD; so turn, and live. (ESV)

Secondly, the Apostle Paul describes being "alive" and being handed over to death for the sake of other believers, and I consider that God's seed does not sin, even before the person is "born-again of the Spirit" which requires the seed to die for the person to be born of the spirit (I Corinthians 15:36):

> II Corinthians 4:11-15 - For we who live are always being given over to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus also may be manifested in our mortal flesh. So death is at work in us, but life in you. Since we have the same spirit of faith according to what has been written, I believed, and so I spoke, we also believe, and so we also speak, knowing that he who raised the Lord Jesus will raise us also with Jesus and bring us with you into his presence. For it is all for your sake, so that as grace extends to more and more people it may increase thanksgiving, to the glory of God. (ESV)

> I John 3:9 - No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. (ESV)

A person is born-again of the seed of the word of God, but the word is a seed until the person is born-again by that seed. So I guess that a person can be an ”unborn” child of God until they get born. The seed dies and the person is ”born-again”. And I think that happens because sin in the person kills them because they are unable to keep God’s law (Romans 7:9-13):

> I Peter 1:23 - since you have been born again, not of perishable seed but of imperishable, through the living and abiding word of God; (ESV)

Thirdly, Jesus Himself says that a believer, though they die, yet they will live:

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)

OK, so the person who is ”born of God” does sound very similar to the description of those who are ”in Christ”. But I think that the ”Spirit given” (when born-again) helps a person to know that Jesus abides in them (that the Spirit of Jesus Christ is in them). So the Spirit of Jesus, I take it, is inside a person who is ”in Christ”, and that person, being a believer, will get ”born-again” of the Spirit at some stage:

> I John 3:24 - Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)
> Romans 8:6-11 - To set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God’s law; indeed, it cannot. Those who are in the flesh cannot please God. You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. But if Christ is in you, although the body is dead because of sin, the Spirit is life because of righteousness. If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you. (ESV)

Those who have real faith practice righteousness. Someone born of God who has faith in Jesus may be regarded as a son of God, I believe. But a person needs to be ”born-again” (born of the Spirit) to enter the Kingdom of God. Though faith in Jesus Christ, they might start claiming to be a son of God, and that is the correct thing to do, but at some point they are going to have to get born-again so that they can fulfill the requirement of the law and love God with their whole heart and soul and mind and strength and live (not just with the seed of the word of God in their heart but with their whole heart), and abide in Jesus Christ’s commandments, including the commandment, to call not man on earth ’father’, for example. Whoever does not continue abiding in Jesus Christ’s commandments is cast out like a branch and withers (John 15:1-6), and at the end of the age such branches are burned. So we need to abide in Jesus Christ’s commandments, and be overcome by practicing righteousness (II Peter 2:19), and so we need to be born-again in order to be able to do this successfully and perpetually:

> Galatians 3:25-26 - But now that faith has come, we are no longer under a guardian, for in Christ Jesus you are all sons of God, through faith. (ESV)

> I John 3:6-11 - No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)

> Hebrews 10:37-39 - For, Yet a little while, and the coming one will come and will not delay; _but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls. (ESV)

> II Thessalonians 3:2 - and that we may be delivered from wicked and evil men. For not all have faith. (ESV)

> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

To be "in Christ", a person needs to have the spirit of Jesus living inside of them through faith. So that person must have faith in Jesus Christ:

> Colossians 1:27 - To them God chose to make known how great among the Gentiles are the riches of the glory of this mystery, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory. (ESV)

> Ephesians 3:14-19 - For this reason I bow my knees before the Father, from whom every family in heaven and on earth is named, that according to the riches of his glory he may grant you to be strengthened with power through his Spirit in your inner being, so that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith — that you, being rooted and grounded in love, may have strength to comprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and height and depth, and to know the love of Christ that surpasses knowledge, that you may be filled with all the fullness of God. (ESV)

> Romans 8:6-11 - To set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God's law; indeed, it cannot. Those who are in the flesh cannot please God. You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. But if Christ is in you, although the body is dead because of sin, the Spirit is life because of righteousness. If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you. (ESV)

Here, I believe that Paul is saying that "those who live" (those who are born-again of the Spirit) should not live for themelves, but for Jesus Christ, and that He, as a born-again person (those who live), regards anyone who is "in Christ" according to the spirit of faith that they are part of the new creation too:

> II Corinthians 5:14-17 - For the love of Christ controls us, because we have concluded this: that one has died for all, therefore all have died; and he died for all, that those who live might no longer > live for themselves but for him who for their sake died and was raised. From now on, therefore, we regard no one according to the flesh. Even though we once regarded Christ according to the flesh, we regard him thus no longer. Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation. The old has passed away; behold, the new has come. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 4:13-15 - Since we have the same spirit of faith according to what has been written, I believed, and so I spoke, we also believe, and so we also speak, knowing that he who raised the Lord Jesus will raise us also with Jesus and bring us with you into his presence. For it is all for your sake, so that as grace extends to more and more people it may increase thanksgiving, to the glory of God. (ESV)

To remain ”in Christ”, a person needs to be keeping Jesus’ commandments. God has given them a new Spirit (i.e. they get born-again) that they might know that Jesus abides in them:

> I John 3:24 - Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)

If a person is ”in Christ”, new creation. The old has passed away the new has come. When a person gets born-again, they will experience this forcefully because the seed of the word of God that died gave birth to the new person:

> II Corinthians 5:17 - Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation. The old has passed away; behold, the new has come. (ESV)

While in Christ, and has their heart of flesh circumcised to keep God’s commandments so that they may live:

> Colossians 2:11-12 - In him also you were circumcised with a circumcision made without hands, by putting off the body of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ, having been buried with him in baptism, in which you were also raised with him through faith in the powerful working of God, who raised him from the dead. (ESV)

> Deuteronomy 30:6 - And the LORD your God will circumcise your heart and the heart of your offspring, so that you will love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, that you may live. (ESV)

While ”in Christ”, a person stops committing sin. A person has to stop sinning in order to come to see or know Christ Jesus:

> I John 3:6 - No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. (ESV)

> I John 3:3 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. (ESV)

> Psalms 18:24-26 - So the LORD has rewarded me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands in his sight. With the merciful you show yourself merciful; with the blameless man you show yourself blameless; with the purified you show yourself pure; and with the crooked you make yourself seem tortuous. (ESV)

I think that a person can be ”in Christ” as the believing seed of the word of God in a person’s heart before being born-again and before having entered the Kingdom of God. But that certainly the person who has the seed of the word of God in them must treasure that word in their heart:

> Acts 14:21-23 - When they had preached the gospel to that city and had made many disciples, they returned to Lystra and to Iconium and to Antioch, strengthening the souls of the disciples, encouraging them to continue in the faith, and saying that through many tribulations we must enter the kingdom of God. And when they had appointed elders for them in every church, with prayer and fasting they committed them to the Lord in whom they had believed. (ESV)
> Romans 16:7-8 - Greet Andronicus and Junia, my kinsmen and my fellow prisoners. They are well known to the apostles, and they were in Christ before me. Greet Ampliatus, my beloved in the Lord. (ESV)
> II Timothy 4:18 - The Lord will rescue me from every evil deed and bring me safely into his heavenly kingdom. To him be the glory forever and ever. Amen. (ESV)

> Details in the book of Acts provide insight into when Paul wrote Romans. Most scholars believe he composed the letter during his stay in Corinth, before he traveled to Jerusalem and eventually to Rome (cf. Acts 20:2–3). In Romans 15:23, Paul writes, “I have longed for many years to come to you,” indicating that he had not yet visited the city. His longing was finally fulfilled when he arrived in Rome as a prisoner, as described at the conclusion of Acts.

And a person must remain ”in Christ” as a believer, even after being ”born again”:

> John 15:1-2 - I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinedresser. Every branch of mine that does not bear fruit he takes away, and every branch that does bear fruit he prunes, that it may bear more fruit. (ESV)
> John 15:6 - If anyone does not abide in me he is thrown away like a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire, and burned. (ESV)

In Christ Jesus a person is not condemned, but is getting ”cleaned up” through sanctifiction to ”enter into the Kingdom of God”. But we have to remain ”in Christ Jesus”, so must go on as believers:

> Romans 8:1-2 - There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. (ESV)

A person has to be abiding in Jesus’ commandments, walking in the light, loving our family in Christ, in order to have sanctification (and be getting cleaned up):

> I John 1:7 - But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)

Someone holding faith in Jesus will eventually get born-again if they haven’t already. Faith should be united with repentance (faith involves turning away from sin):

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)
> Ezekiel 18:31-32 - Cast away from you all the transgressions that you have committed, and make yourselves a new heart and a new spirit! Why will you die, O house of Israel? For I have no pleasure in the death of anyone, declares the Lord GOD; so turn, and live. (ESV)

> II Chronicles 7:14 - if my people who are called by my name humble themselves, and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and heal their land. (ESV)

> Acts 26:15-18 - And I said, Who are you, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom you are persecuting. But rise and stand upon your feet, for I have appeared to you for this purpose, to appoint you as a servant and witness to the things in which you have seen me and to those in which I will appear to you, delivering you from your people and from the Gentiles—to whom I am sending you to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me. (ESV)

Getting born-again is not the only requirement to entering the Kingdom of God. We must also do the will of God even after being born-again, and so we must be ”born of God/in Christ”, and so having faith as commanded, loving as commanded and not practicing sin:

> Matthew 7:21 - Not everyone who says to me, Lord, Lord, will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the one who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. (ESV)

> John 3:5 - Jesus answered, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God. (ESV)

Entering the Kingdom of God requires not committing sin from one’s own judgement. So someone who believes that to eat pig is sin has to stop eating pig in order to enter the Kingdom of God:

> Romans 14:12-23 - So then each of us will give an account of himself to God. Therefore let us not pass judgment on one another any longer, but rather decide never to put a stumbling block or hindrance in the way of a brother. I know and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus that nothing is unclean in itself, but it is unclean for anyone who thinks it unclean. For if your brother is grieved by what you eat, you are no longer walking in love. By what you eat, do not destroy the one for whom Christ died. So do not let what you regard as good be spoken of as evil. For the kingdom of God is not a matter of eating and drinking but of righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. Whoever thus serves Christ is acceptable to God and approved by men. So then let us pursue what makes for peace and for mutual upbuilding. Do not, for the sake of food, destroy the work of God. Everything is indeed clean, but it is wrong for anyone to make another stumble by what he eats. It is good not to eat meat or drink wine or do anything that causes your brother to stumble. The faith that you have, keep between yourself and God. Blessed is the one who has no reason to pass judgment on himself for what he approves. But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

Entering the Kingdom of God requires having ceased from committing abomination including theft, murder, adultery, false-witness and idolatry. And the standard is from the heart, not merely the external actions:

> Jeremiah 7:8-11 - Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit. Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not; And come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations? Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have seen it, saith the LORD. (KJV)

> Matthew 5:20-32 - For I tell you, unless your righteousness exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. You have heard that it was said to those of old, You shall not murder; and whoever murders will be liable to judgment. But I say to you that everyone who is angry with his brother will be liable to judgment; whoever insults his brother will > be liable to the council; and whoever says, You fool! will be liable to the hell of fire. So if you are offering your gift at the altar and there remember that your brother has something against you, leave your gift there before the altar and go. First be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift. Come to terms quickly with your accuser while you are going with him to court, lest your accuser hand you over to the judge, and the judge to the guard, and you be put in prison. Truly, I say to you, you will never get out until you have paid the last penny. You have heard that it was said, You shall not commit adultery. But I say to you that everyone who looks at a woman with lustful intent has already committed adultery with her in his heart. If your right eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body be thrown into hell. And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body go into hell. It was also said, Whoever divorces his wife, let him give her a certificate of divorce. But I say to you that everyone who divorces his wife, except on the ground of sexual immorality, makes her commit adultery. And whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery. (ESV)

> Luke 13:23-30 - And someone said to him, Lord, will those who are saved be few? And he said to them, Strive to enter through the narrow door. For many, I tell you, will seek to enter and will not be able. When once the master of the house has risen and shut the door, and you begin to stand outside and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, open to us, then he will answer you, I do not know where you come from. Then you will begin to say, We ate and drank in your presence, and you taught in our streets. But he will say, I tell you, I do not know where you come from. Depart from me, all you workers of evil! In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when you see Abraham and Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the kingdom of God but you yourselves cast out. And people will come from east and west, and from north and south, and recline at table in the kingdom of God. And behold, some are last who will be first, and some are first who will be last. (ESV)

> John 10:7-10 - So Jesus again said to them, Truly, truly, I say to you, I am the door of the sheep. All who came before me are thieves and robbers, but the sheep did not listen to them. I am the door. If anyone enters by me, he will be saved and will go in and out and find pasture. The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy. I came that they may have life and have it abundantly. (ESV)

> Isaiah 1:4-5 - Ah, sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, offspring of evildoers, children who deal corruptly! They have forsaken the LORD, they have despised the Holy One of Israel, they are utterly estranged. Why will you still be struck down? Why will you continue to rebel? The whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint. (ESV)

Basically, we must ”cease to do evil” and ”learn to do good”. So, consider, if we ”cease to do evil”, that’s simply stopping doing evil. Is that relying on one’s own works? I don’t think so. But, rather, still ready to do good now that have ceased to do evil:

> Isaiah 1:16-20 - Wash ye, make ye pure, Turn aside the evil of your doings, from before Mine eyes, Cease to do evil, learn to do good. Seek judgment, make happy the oppressed, Judge the fatherless, strive for the widow. Come, I pray you, and we reason, saith Jehovah, If your sins are as scarlet, as snow they shall be white, If they are red as crimson, as wool they shall be! If ye are willing, and have hearkened, The good of the land ye consume, And if ye refuse, and have rebelled, By the sword ye are consumed, For the mouth of Jehovah hath spoken. (YLT)

The way of cain is the way of not having faith. The way of cain is from the love of darkness doing evil deeds. But we must not walk in the way of Cain. Rather, we should walk in the way of Abel, which is to walk by faith:

> Hebrews 11:4 - By faith Abel offered to God a more acceptable sacrifice than Cain, through which he was commended as righteous, God commending him by accepting his gifts. And through his faith, though he died, he still speaks. (ESV)

> Jude 1:11 - Woe to them! For they walked in the way of Cain and abandoned themselves for the sake of gain to Balaam's error and perished in Korah's rebellion. (ESV)

> Hebrews 3:7-12 - Therefore, as the Holy Spirit says, Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion, on the day of testing in the wilderness, where your fathers put me to the test and saw my works for forty years. Therefore I was provoked with that generation, and said, They always go astray in their heart; they have not known my ways. As I swore in my wrath, They shall not enter my rest. Take care, brothers, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God. (ESV)

> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

> John 3:19-21 - And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his deeds should be exposed. But whoever does what is true comes to the light, so that it may be clearly seen that his deeds have been carried out in God. (ESV)

This striving is endeavouring to walk by faith in Jesus Christ rather than committing sin, enduring the resistance from people who appear to not be, and from the flesh, the world and the devil:

> Proverbs 28:4 - Those who forsake the law praise the wicked, But those who keep the law strive with them. (NASB)

> Psalms 103:9 - He will not always strive with us, Nor will He keep His anger forever. (NASB)

There is absolutely nothing wrong with keeping up good works as we are sowing to the Spirit towards reaping eternal life. In other words, sowing to the Spirit to reap eternal life is not against meanwhile endeavouring to maintain doing good deeds towards others. If anything, doing good deeds helps a person to sow to the Spirit. When a person is doing good deeds, they are not doing bad deeds! And a person with a genuine faith in Jesus will be inclined to doing good deeds (I John 3:6-18) and to not sin:

> Galatians 6:7-10 - Do not be deceived: God is not mocked, for whatever one sows, that will he also reap. For the one who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption, but the one who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life. And let us not grow weary of doing good, for in due season we will reap, if we do not give up. So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to those who are of the household of faith. (ESV)

To enter the Kingdom of God, one must do the will of God, and the will of God involves doing good rather than evil. So must we be those who good in order to enter the Kingdom of God? Yes we must. And it's by the grace of God. Jesus Christ bore our sins in His body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness, and this dying to sin is necessary in order to enter the Kingdom of God:

> I Peter 2:15-25 - For this is the will of God, that by doing good you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish people. Live as people who are free, not using your freedom as a cover-up for evil, but living as servants of God. Honor everyone. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the emperor. Servants, be subject to your masters with all respect, not only to the good and gentle but also to the unjust. For this is a gracious thing, when, mindful of God, > one endures sorrows while suffering unjustly. For what credit is it if, when you sin and are beaten for it, you endure? But if when you do good and suffer for it you endure, this is a gracious thing in the sight of God. For to this you have been called, because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, so that you might follow in his steps. He committed no sin, neither was deceit found in his mouth. When he was reviled, he did not revile in return; when he suffered, he did not threaten, but continued entrusting himself to him who judges justly. He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed. For you were straying like sheep, but have now returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls. (ESV)

So by the grace of God we must be healed to do good rather than evil, but there is still a striving to enter into the Kingdom of God, even as someone who has been born-again of the spirit, as being born-again of the spirit is one requirement for entering the Kingdom of God, but doing the will of God is also a requirement for entering the Kingdom of God. In order to enter the Kingdom of God a person must not still be someone who makes a practice of sinning, but they also must be "born-again" of the spirit, and we are born-again of the spirit in order that we can "put to death the deeds of the sinful body":

> Romans 6:6-8 - We know that our old self was crucified with him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin. For one who has died has been set free from sin. Now if we have died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him. (ESV)

> Romans 2:1-13 - Therefore you have no excuse, O man, every one of you who judges. For in passing judgment on another you condemn yourself, because you, the judge, practice the very same things. We know that the judgment of God rightly falls on those who do such things. Do you suppose, O man—you who judge those who do such things and yet do them yourself—that you will escape the judgment of God? Or do you presume on the riches of his kindness and forbearance and patience, not knowing that God's kindness is meant to lead you to repentance? But because of your hard and impenitent heart you are storing up wrath for yourself on the day of wrath when God's righteous judgment will be revealed. He will render to each one according to his works: to those who by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, he will give eternal life; but for those who are self-seeking and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, there will be wrath and fury. There will be tribulation and distress for every human being who does evil, the Jew first and also the Greek, but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does good, the Jew first and also the Greek. For God shows no partiality. For all who have sinned without the law will also perish without the law, and all who have sinned under the law will be judged by the law. For it is not the hearers of the law who are righteous before God, but the doers of the law who will be justified. (ESV)

If someone does a good deed from faith then by definition they ceased doing evil deeds. So we must have died to sin, and be walking by faith in Jesus Christ. So it makes sense to consider how to stir up one-another to lve and good works:

> Hebrews 10:23-29 - Let us hold fast the confession of our hope without wavering, for he who promised is faithful. And let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near. For if we go on sinning deliberately after receiving the knowledge of the truth, there no longer remains a sacrifice for sins, but a fearful expectation of judgment, and a fury of fire that will consume the adversaries. Anyone who has set aside the law of Moses dies without mercy on the evidence of two or three witnesses. How much worse punishment, do you think, will be deserved by the one who has spurned the Son of God, and has profaned the blood of the covenant by which he was sanctified, and has outraged the Spirit of grace? (ESV)

> Romans 8:12-15 - So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh. For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the > deeds of the body, you will live. For all who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God. For you did not receive the spirit of slavery to fall back into fear, but you have received the Spirit of adoption as sons, by whom we cry, Abba! Father! (ESV)

Within the Kingdom of God, there is rank depending on the adherance to all of God's commandments:

> Matthew 5:17-19 - Do not think that I have come to abolish the Law or the Prophets; I have not come to abolish them but to fulfill them. For truly, I say to you, until heaven and earth pass away, not an iota, not a dot, will pass from the Law until all is accomplished. Therefore whoever relaxes one of the least of these commandments and teaches others to do the same will be called least in the kingdom of heaven, but whoever does them and teaches them will be called great in the kingdom of heaven. (ESV)

But "in Christ" everyone has direct access to God through Jesus Christ:

> I Corinthians 11:3 - But I want you to understand that the head of every man is Christ, the head of a wife is her husband, and the head of Christ is God. (ESV)

The good news is able to give an inheritance to those who are cleaned up (sanctified) by faith in Jesus Christ:

> Acts 20:32 - And now I commend you to God and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up and to give you the inheritance among all those who are sanctified. (ESV)
> Ephesians 5:2-6 - And walk in love, as Christ loved us and gave himself up for us, a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God. But sexual immorality and all impurity or covetousness must not even be named among you, as is proper among saints. Let there be no filthiness nor foolish talk nor crude joking, which are out of place, but instead let there be thanksgiving. For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. (ESV)

Inheriting the Kingdom of God depends also on being born-again:

> Galatians 3:27 - For as many of you as were baptized into Christ have put on Christ. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 15:50-56 - I tell you this, brothers: flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God, nor does the perishable inherit the imperishable. Behold! I tell you a mystery. We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we shall be changed. For this perishable body must put on the imperishable, and this mortal body must put on immortality. When the perishable puts on the imperishable, and the mortal puts on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written: Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is your victory? O death, where is your sting? The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. (ESV)

Inheriting the Kingdom of God also requires to not be practicing any such sexual immorality:

> I Corinthians 6:9-20 - Do you not know that the unrighteous will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived: neither the sexually immoral, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor men who practice homosexuality, nor thieves, nor the greedy, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God. And such were some of you. But you were washed, you were sanctified, you were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ and by the Spirit of our God. All things are lawful for me, but not all things are helpful. All things are lawful for me, but I will not be enslaved by anything. Food is meant for the stomach and the stomach for food—and God will destroy both one and the other. The body is not meant for sexual immorality, but for the > Lord, and the Lord for the body. And God raised the Lord and will also raise us up by his power. Do you not know that your bodies are members of Christ? Shall I then take the members of Christ and make them members of a prostitute? Never! Or do you not know that he who is joined to a prostitute becomes one body with her? For, as it is written, The two will become one flesh. But he who is joined to the Lord becomes one spirit with him. Flee from sexual immorality. Every other sin a person commits is outside the body, but the sexually immoral person sins against his own body. Or do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit within you, whom you have from God? You are not your own, for you were bought with a price. So glorify God in your body. (ESV)

> Leviticus 18:1-30 - And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, Speak to the people of Israel and say to them, I am the LORD your God. You shall not do as they do in the land of Egypt, where you lived, and you shall not do as they do in the land of Canaan, to which I am bringing you. You shall not walk in their statutes. You shall follow my rules and keep my statutes and walk in them. I am the LORD your God. You shall therefore keep my statutes and my rules; if a person does them, he shall live by them: I am the LORD. None of you shall approach any one of his close relatives to uncover nakedness. I am the LORD. You shall not uncover the nakedness of your father, which is the nakedness of your mother; she is your mother, you shall not uncover her nakedness. You shall not uncover the nakedness of your father's wife; it is your father's nakedness. You shall not uncover the nakedness of your sister, your father's daughter or your mother's daughter, whether brought up in the family or in another home. You shall not uncover the nakedness of your son's daughter or of your daughter's daughter, for their nakedness is your own nakedness. You shall not uncover the nakedness of your father's wife's daughter, brought up in your father's family, since she is your sister. You shall not uncover the nakedness of your father's sister; she is your father's relative. You shall not uncover the nakedness of your mother's sister, for she is your mother's relative. You shall not uncover the nakedness of your father's brother, that is, you shall not approach his wife; she is your aunt. You shall not uncover the nakedness of your daughter-in-law; she is your son's wife, you shall not uncover her nakedness. You shall not uncover the nakedness of your brother's wife; it is your brother's nakedness. You shall not uncover the nakedness of a woman and of her daughter, and you shall not take her son's daughter or her daughter's daughter to uncover her nakedness; they are relatives; it is depravity. And you shall not take a woman as a rival wife to her sister, uncovering her nakedness while her sister is still alive. You shall not approach a woman to uncover her nakedness while she is in her menstrual uncleanness. And you shall not lie sexually with your neighbor's wife and so make yourself unclean with her. You shall not give any of your children to offer them to Molech, and so profane the name of your God: I am the LORD. You shall not lie with a male as with a woman; it is an abomination. And you shall not lie with any animal and so make yourself unclean with it, neither shall any woman give herself to an animal to lie with it: it is perversion. Do not make yourselves unclean by any of these things, for by all these the nations I am driving out before you have become unclean, and the land became unclean, so that I punished its iniquity, and the land vomited out its inhabitants. But you shall keep my statutes and my rules and do none of these abominations, either the native or the stranger who sojourns among you (for the people of the land, who were before you, did all of these abominations, so that the land became unclean), lest the land vomit you out when you make it unclean, as it vomited out the nation that was before you. For everyone who does any of these abominations, the persons who do them shall be cut off from among their people. So keep my charge never to practice any of these abominable customs that were practiced before you, and never to make yourselves unclean by them: I am the LORD your God. (ESV)

So what do you think? Is there a difference between entering and inheriting the Kingdom of God? I think there is at least a varied inheritance that depends on sanctification.

> II Corinthians 3:17-18 - Now the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom. And we all, with unveiled face, beholding the glory of the Lord, are being transformed > into the same image from one degree of glory to another. For this comes from the Lord who is the Spirit. (ESV)

God is the righteous judge:

> James 4:11-12 - Do not speak evil against one another, brothers. The one who speaks against a brother or judges his brother, speaks evil against the law and judges the law. But if you judge the law, you are not a doer of the law but a judge. There is only one lawgiver and judge, he who is able to save and to destroy. But who are you to judge your neighbor? (ESV)

When God judges the world, the saints (Revelation of John 14:12) are involved. But surely they do not practice those sinful things that they do not approve of (Matthew 7:2, Romans 2:1-13, James 4:12), but they rather keep God's commandments for them (Revelation of John 14:12):

enjoin Defintion: Giving an order or direction authoritatively and urgently and often with admonition or solicitude.

Polycarp 11:2 But he who cannot govern himself in these things, how doth he enjoin this upon another? If a man refrain not from covetousness, he shall be defiled by idolatry, and shall be judged as one of the Gentiles who know not the judgment of the Lord, Nay, know we not, that the saints shall judge the world, as Paul teacheth?

Saints should not "directly" judge their neighbours (James 4:12). Admonishing and reproving your neigbour, calling out wickedness, we should do (Acts 8:22, Leviticus 19:17-18). It would be fine to say, I disapprove of this or that, and it's OK to affirm and even speak to others the truth of Scripture, for example that "all who are presently believing in Jesus Christ are presently not condemned and that all who are disbelieving in Jesus Christ are presently condemned", because it's the truth of Scripture, but it's not OK to turn to your neighbour and say with certainty to them that God has judged them because in the end it's God who judges, and also because in imitation of Christ who came to save the world, rather than judge, we should be speaking the truth of Scripture to others (warning people of coming judgement) but leaving that judgement to God. There's certainly an involvement from the saints, though when God does judge:

It makes sense to not elect a known thief/adulterer/idolator/'sinner' for a position which involves taking care of people within Jesus' church. And so a person needs to be sanctified (cleaned up) in order to inherit the Kingdom of God.

> II Timothy 2:21 - Therefore, if anyone cleanses himself from what is dishonorable, he will be a vessel for honorable use, set apart as holy, useful to the master of the house, ready for every good work. (ESV)

> I Timothy 3:1-13 - The saying is trustworthy: If anyone aspires to the office of overseer, he desires a noble task. Therefore an overseer must be above reproach, the husband of one wife, sober-minded, self-controlled, respectable, hospitable, able to teach, not a drunkard, not violent but gentle, not quarrelsome, not a lover of money. He must manage his own household well, with all dignity keeping his children submissive, for if someone does not know how to manage his own household, how will he care for God's church? He must not be a recent convert, or he may become puffed up with conceit and fall into the condemnation of the devil. Moreover, he must be well thought of by outsiders, so that he may not fall into disgrace, into a snare of the devil. Deacons likewise must be dignified, not double-tongued, not addicted to much wine, not greedy for dishonest gain. They must hold the mystery of the faith with a clear conscience. And let them also be tested first; then let them serve as deacons if they prove themselves blameless. Their wives likewise must be dignified, not slanderers, but sober-minded, faithful in all things. Let deacons each be the husband of one wife, managing their children and their own households well. For those who serve well as deacons gain a good standing for themselves and also great confidence in the faith that is in Christ Jesus. (ESV)

So the wages of sin is death and Jesus has condemned sin in the flesh, and as Paul says, ”nothing good dwells in his flesh”, so that means that the earthly body will die. As Paul says in I Corinthians 6:13-14, God will destroy/bring to an end (G2673 katargēsei: To abolish, to nullify, to render ineffective, to bring to an end) the body. In our hearts with our new spirits we still must continue on in love, trust and obedience to Father God and to Jesus Christ, and remain faithful to Him even though there is a spiritual battle, there is a battle with the flesh. John 11:25-27 I believe applies in two ways: when a believer gets born-again of the spirit (i.e. a spiritual death and rebirth, being baptised into Christ), and also when the living (born-again of the spirit) believer receives their resurrection body (the physical death and rebirth of their flesh):

> I Corinthians 6:13-14 - Food is meant for the stomach and the stomach for food—and God will destroy both one and the other. The body is not meant for sexual immorality, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body. And God raised the Lord and will also raise us up by his power. (ESV)

> Romans 7:16-18 - Now if I do what I do not want, I agree with the law, that it is good. So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. (ESV)

> Romans 8:3-4 - For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. (ESV)

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)

The Gospel is able to build a person up to give them an inheritance among all those who are sanctified (as in, those who have been sanctified, who have been cleaned up that they no longer practice ungodliness, and love in the way God requires):

> Acts 20:32 - And now I commend you to God and to the word of his grace, which is able (G1410 dynamenō; being able) to build you up (G3618 oikodomēsai; to build up) and to give you the inheritance among all those who are sanctified (G37 hēgiasmenois; having been sanctified). (ESV)

Real faith still has the fear of God in it, so when a person comes to faith, they come to faith preferring God to evil. When a person comes to God in faith, they are, in having faith, by definition not committing sin from the love of evil, because they have faith (but God's the one who commends faith).

So when I read about the one ”born of God” who doesn't sin, who loves the way God has commanded and confesses the truth about Jesus such as that he is the Son of God, the Christ, etc. I'm hesitant to call myself the one ”born of God” because it sounds like self-justification to me. But I think it's a better move to confess to others the truth about Jesus, and leave the commending to God. If a person says, ”I'm a Christian.” that doesn't mean they are a Christian. If someone told me that ”Jesus is the Christ the Son of God who has come into the world and died on tree and rose from the dead.” Then I'd assume that that person speaking to me is a Christian. I mean, God knows all things, even what is in every man's heart.

But I've been thinking recently about how we receive a new heart and spirit when we are born again, but God keeps working on us. God circumcises our heart of flesh, so we can love God with our whole heart, and loving Him with our whole heart includes His children. That, I believe, is happening as we ”take every thought captive for obedience to Christ”.

So we can affirm what Scripture says about what the person born of God looks like.

But to tell others, ”God is very pleased with me.” is self-commendation in my view. I do not think it's humble to praise oneself. Even the heavens are not pure in His sight, and He puts no trust in His holy ones. God will always be able to point out some way in which we fall short of His glory.

But by the grace of God we can receive from God a new heart, a new spirit, a new nature. But even after getting born-again, it's possible to make mistakes. Self-commendation is not good.

So in Luke 18:10-14, both of these people had some idea about righteousness, but the tax collector was humble and the pharisee was not. Whatever is not done in faith is sin which is lawlessness (I John 3:4). I think that false humility would pervert the truth of Scripture to remove the necessity of repentance, and in doing so distort the gospel to make it a licence to sin. Both the pharisee and the tax collector in Luke 18:10-14 had an idea about what it looks like to practice righteousness, but the pharisee was comparing himself with his peers and self-commending rather than seeking commendation from God, and the tax collector on the other hand was not self-commending and appeared to be repentant with the fear of God.

But even though God looks at the humble and contrite who have the fear of God and are not self-commending, that doesn't mean the Scripture is wrong when it says that the one born of God doesn't sin. The truth of Scripture stands. What would be false humilty is to say the Scripture is wrong, that even the one born of God is a sinner by nature, and that there's nothing God wants me to do because Jesus Christ did it all.

> Luke 18:10-14 - Two men went up into the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector. The Pharisee, standing by himself, prayed thus: God, I thank you that I am not like other men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even like this tax collector. I fast twice a week; I give tithes of all that I get. But the tax collector, standing far off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, God, be merciful to me, a sinner! I tell you, this man went down to his house justified, rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted. (ESV)

> Luke 19:8-9 - And Zacchaeus stood and said to the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor. And if I have defrauded anyone of anything, I restore it fourfold. And Jesus said to him, Today salvation has come to this house, since he also is a son of Abraham. (ESV)

When Jesus gives mercy, it's not to go on sinning:

> John 8:11 - She said, No one, Lord. And Jesus said, Neither do I condemn you; go, and from now on sin no more.]] (ESV)

> John 5:6-15 - When Jesus saw him lying there and knew that he had already been there a long time, he said to him, Do you want to be healed? The sick man answered him, Sir, I have no one to put me into the pool when the water is stirred up, and while I am going another steps down before me. Jesus said to him, Get up, take up your bed, and walk. And at once the man was healed, and he took up his bed and walked. Now that day was the Sabbath. So the Jews said to the man who had been healed, It is the Sabbath, and it is not lawful for you to take up your bed. But he answered them, The man who healed me, that man said to me, Take up your bed, and walk. They asked him, Who is the man who said to you, Take up your bed and walk? Now the man who had been healed did not know who it was, for Jesus had withdrawn, as there was a crowd in the place. Afterward Jesus found him in the temple and said to him, See, you are well! Sin no more, that nothing worse may happen to you. The man went away and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had healed him. (ESV)

> I Peter 4:1-3 - Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh, arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. The time that is past suffices for doing what the Gentiles want to do, living in sensuality, passions, drunkenness, orgies, drinking parties, and lawless idolatry. (ESV)

To be saved is to be saved from committing sin while having faith in Jesus Christ (John 8:34-36, Romans 8:8-13) and so so-called grace or salvation that is denying of being saved from committing sin is not true grace or true salvation.

> Jeremiah 7:8-11 - Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit. Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye > know not; And come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations? Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have seen it, saith the LORD. (KJV)

> John 10:1 - Truly, truly, I say to you, he who does not enter the sheepfold by the door but climbs in by another way, that man is a thief and a robber. (ESV)
> I John 3:3-11 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)
> I Peter 4:18-19,5:8-10,12 - And If the righteous is scarcely saved, what will become of the ungodly and the sinner? Therefore let those who suffer according to God's will entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good. Be sober-minded; be watchful. Your adversary the devil prowls around like a roaring lion, seeking someone to devour. Resist him, firm in your faith, knowing that the same kinds of suffering are being experienced by your brotherhood throughout the world. And after you have suffered a little while, the God of all grace, who has called you to his eternal glory in Christ, will himself restore, confirm, strengthen, and establish you. By Silvanus, a faithful brother as I regard him, I have written briefly to you, exhorting and declaring that this is the true grace of God. Stand firm in it. (ESV)

The carrying out of sanctification is absolutely a necessary part of salvation and also impacts the quality of a person's life before the day of the Lord (I Corinthians 5:1-13).

However, having been cleaned up, sanctified (I Corinthians 6:11, Hebrews 10:23-29), the quality of a person's continued works that are done on top of the finished work of Jesus Christ only impacts reward (I Corinthians 3:7-15) but the burning up of such works isn't the total loss of salvation.

I have joy in understanding that God will always be holier than me, and no amount of sanctification will get me to being as holy as Jesus Christ my Master. But there is a way a disciple can be "like" His Master. Of course, that still comes with commendation from God, rather than self-commendation, and so I believe that while a person may look "like" Jesus, conformed to His image, they still can't be as holy as Jesus. Far from equal in holiness, as well, I'd say.

> I Timothy 6:13-16 - I charge you in the presence of God, who gives life to all things, and of Christ Jesus, who in his testimony before Pontius Pilate made the good confession, to keep the commandment unstained and free from reproach until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ, which he will display at the proper time—he who is the blessed and only Sovereign, the King of kings and Lord of lords, who alone has immortality, who dwells in unapproachable light, whom no one has ever seen or can see. To him be honor and eternal dominion. Amen. (ESV)

It's playing with fire to put Christ to the test by continuing to commit sin (I Corinthians 10:5-11) and the Apostle Paul advised to allow a sexually immoral person to handed over to Satan for the destruction of the flesh so that their spirit might be saved in the day of the Lord (I Corinthians 5:1-13). So sanctification is a very important part of salvation.

Journal <2026-06-18 Thu> I hope in Jesus Christ that I will be healed from what feels like damage to my soul (II Corinthians 7:1). When I say "soul" I mean the spirit-man that indwells my Adamic flesh. There is the ”heart” / ”mind” that has thoughts and intentions and then there is the ”soul” that controls and animates the body. The ”soul” is what I think needs purifying. But my heart has received a thorough cleansing through faith in Jesus and when God gave me a new heart and soul. ”Soulish” memories that come from the flesh or the soul of the ”old creation” have in my experience been fighting against my desire to do the will of God (Romans 7:17-23) and I feel like have attacked my ”new soul” and I feel like after getting washed, I got a bit ”dirty” after a long time resisting the flesh and various spiritual attacks. Where there has been failure in resisting the will of the flesh, I think, that could have caused the soul to be dirtied. But I believe the soul can yet be cleaned through continued obedience to Jesus Christ for a love of my family in Christ:

> I John 3:3-11 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God’s seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)

Well, the way to have one’s soul purified to to obey Christ. I’ll surely endeavour to continue doing that:

My heart, I believe has surely been purified, but the soul I think needs further purification. That that would be the case makes sense to me as my experience seems to confirm. That I have received a ”pounding” / ”hammering” of fleshly dreams and visions and what I’ve described as ”soul” attacks and the Adamic flesh seemingly rebelling against my will (like the Apostle Paul described in Romans 7):

> II Corinthians 7:1 - Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear (G5401 phobō) of God (G2316 Theou). (ESV)

A large contributor of the damage done is what appears to be a trap/snare which I think must have been an attack from Satan which I was attacked by shortly after I was born-again after I began resisting bad doctrine (including my own) and endeavouring to resist committing sin after I got born-again. I wanted to be walking by faith, and soundly in the faith, but I felt as if demons even working through other people, and through dreams and visions too were attempting to goad me and push me into pride, and into endorsing false religion, etc. I received a very extreme resistance from Satan as I was resisting that and found myself under very heavy demonic oppression upon resisting it. But I was held in confining circumstances that felt like it might be witchcraft, and have been experiencing this type of demonic oppression for a very long time now (since 2022).

So long as we continue in the love for the truth, we are yet able to continue being sanctified. However, with greater knowledge of the truth, comes greater need to have put to death the deeds of the flesh:

> Hebrews 10:23-29 - Let us hold fast the confession of our hope without wavering, for he who promised is faithful. And let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near. For if we go on sinning deliberately after receiving the knowledge of the truth, there no longer remains a sacrifice for sins, but a fearful expectation of judgment, and a fury of fire that will consume the adversaries. Anyone who has set aside the law of Moses dies without mercy on the evidence of two or three witnesses. How much worse punishment, do you think, will be deserved by the one who has spurned the Son of God, and has profaned the blood of the covenant by which he was sanctified, and has outraged the Spirit of grace? (ESV)

> Romans 8:12-15 - So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh. For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. For all who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God. For you did not receive the spirit of slavery to fall back into fear, but you have received the Spirit of adoption as sons, by whom we cry, Abba! Father! (ESV)

Believers who walk in the light (love the truth) are those who partner in, participate (Philippians 1:1-11) in the gospel, and we must be participants:

> Philippians 1:1-11 - Paul and Timothy, servants of Christ Jesus, To all the saints in Christ Jesus who are at Philippi, with the overseers and deacons: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. I thank my God in all my remembrance of you, always in every prayer of mine for you all making my prayer with joy, because of your partnership (G2842 koinónia; Fellowship, communion, participation, sharing) in the gospel from the first day until now. And I am sure of this, that he who began a good work in you will bring it to completion at the day of Jesus Christ. It is right for me to feel this way about you all, because I hold you in my heart, for you are all partakers with me of grace, both in my imprisonment and in the defense and confirmation of the gospel. For God is my witness, how I yearn for you all with the affection of Christ Jesus. And it is my prayer that your love may abound more and more, with knowledge and all discernment, so that you may approve what is excellent, and so be pure and blameless for the day of Christ, filled with the fruit of righteousness that comes through Jesus Christ, to the glory and praise of God. (ESV)

> I John 1:7 - But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship (G2842 koinōnian; fellowship) with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)

Whoever legitimately abides in Jesus will produce fruit (John 15:5, John 15:8, Luke 8:12-15, Matthew 25:22-23). But we are justified and saved by faith apart from additional works as any work (work that is built on top of the foundation that is Jesus Christ) may burn up but the justified person is still saved (I Corinthians 3:7-15).

The foundation being Jesus Christ is not exclusive of doing what Jesus says (i.e. A person can lay that foundation by faith in Jesus empowered by grace from Jesus). But the Rock [on which the foundation is built] is Jesus Christ's finished work:

> Luke 6:46-49 - Why do you call me Lord, Lord, and not do what I tell you? Everyone who comes to me and hears my words and does them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. And when a flood arose, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it, because it had been well built. But the one who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. When the stream broke against it, immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great. (ESV)

> I Timothy 6:17-19 - As for the rich in this present age, charge them not to be haughty, nor to set their hopes on the uncertainty of riches, but on God, who richly provides us with everything to enjoy. They are to do good, to be rich in good works, to be generous and ready to share, thus storing up treasure for themselves as a good foundation for the future, so that they may take hold of that which is truly life. (ESV)

> II Peter 1:3-12 - His divine power has granted to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of him who called us to his own glory and excellence, by which he has granted to us his precious and very great promises, so that through them you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world because of sinful desire. For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins. Therefore, brothers, be all the more diligent to make your calling and election sure, for if you practice these qualities you will never fall. For in this way there will be richly provided for you an entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Therefore I intend always to remind you of these qualities, though you know them and are established in the truth that you have. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 3:7-15 - So neither he who plants nor he who waters is anything, but only God who gives the growth. He who plants and he who waters are one, and each will receive his wages according to his labor. For we are God's fellow workers. You are God's field, God's building. According to the grace of God given to me, like a skilled master builder I laid a foundation, and someone else is building upon it. Let each one take care how he builds upon it. For no one can lay a foundation other than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ. Now if anyone builds on the foundation with gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, straw— each one's work will become manifest, for the Day will disclose it, because it will be revealed by fire, and the fire will test what sort of work each one has done. If the work that anyone has built on the foundation survives, he will receive a reward. If anyone's work is burned up, he will suffer loss, though he himself will be saved, but only as through fire. (ESV)

Having faith surely involves persevering through tribulation trusting what God says, and enduring against the devices that Satan uses to try to pressure us into not trusting God's word:

> Luke 21:19 - By your endurance you will gain your lives. (ESV)

> Revelation of John 14:12 - Here is a call for the endurance of the saints, those who keep the commandments of God and their faith in Jesus. (ESV)

> Hebrews 11:1 - Now faith is the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen. (ESV)

> Acts 14:22 - strengthening the souls of the disciples, encouraging them to continue in the faith, and saying that through many tribulations we must enter the kingdom of God. (ESV)

> Mark 4:14-20 - The sower sows the word. And these are the ones along the path, where the word is sown: when they hear, Satan immediately comes and takes away the word that is sown in them. And these are the ones sown on rocky ground: the ones who, when they hear the word, immediately receive it with joy. And they have no root in themselves, but endure for a while; then, when tribulation or persecution arises on account of the word, immediately they fall away. And others are the ones sown among thorns. They are those who hear the word, but the cares of the world and the deceitfulness of riches and the desires for other things enter in and choke the word, and it proves unfruitful. But those that were sown on the good soil are the ones who hear the word and accept it and bear fruit, thirtyfold and sixtyfold and a hundredfold. (ESV)

The vineyard is the world and the field is full of believers (wheat) and unbelievers (tares). The wheat bears good fruit. They have a genuine love for God and hatred of evil:

> John 15:1 - I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinedresser. (ESV)
> Matthew 13:37-42 - He answered, The one who sows the good seed is the Son of Man. The field is the world, and the good seed is the children of the kingdom. The weeds are the sons of the evil one, and the enemy who sowed them is the devil. The harvest is the close of the age, and the reapers are angels. Just as the weeds are gathered and burned with fire, so will it be at the close of the age. The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of sin and all law-breakers, and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. (ESV)

And he answered him, Sir, let it alone this year also, until I dig around it and put on manure. Then if it should bear fruit next year, well and good; but if not, you can cut it down. (ESV)

Woe to those who are wise in their own eyes, and shrewd in their own sight! Woe to those who are heroes at drinking wine, and valiant men in mixing strong drink, who acquit the guilty for a bribe, and deprive the innocent of his right! Therefore, as the tongue of fire devours the stubble, and as dry grass sinks down in the flame, so their root will be as rottenness, and their blossom go up like dust; for they have rejected the law of the LORD of hosts, and have despised the word of the Holy One of Israel. The true gospel saves people from committing sin. The true gospel involves coming to the knowlegde of the truth and being set free from sin and the salvation of that person's household. The gospel involves keeping Jesus' commandments in reality and calling no man on earth 'father' for we have one father who is in heaven. When somebody is saved from committing sin, their household is saved. (If a man is saved from committing sin then salvation comes their wife and to their children, to those calling them 'father' and to those who they are calling 'brother' and 'sister'). Salvation is not simply about oneself but for their household:

> John 8:31-47 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed (G4100 pepisteukotas: having believed 'V-RPA-AMP past tense') in him, If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free. They answered him, We are offspring of Abraham and have never been enslaved to anyone. How is it that you say, You will become free? Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. I know that you are offspring of Abraham; yet you seek to kill me because my word finds no place in you. I speak of what I have seen with my Father, and you do what you have heard from your father. They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham's children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. Which one of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God. (ESV)

> Jeremiah 7:8-11 - Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit. Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not; And come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations? Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have seen it, saith the LORD. (KJV)

> II John 1:1-11 - The elder to the elect lady and her children, whom I love in truth, and not only I, but also all who know the truth, because of the truth that abides in us and will be with us forever: Grace, mercy, and peace will be with us, from God the Father and from Jesus Christ the Father's Son, in truth and love. I rejoiced greatly to find some of your children walking in the truth, just as we were commanded by the Father. And now I ask you, dear lady—not as though I were writing you a new commandment, but the one we have had from the beginning—that we love one another. And this is love, that we walk according to his commandments; this is the commandment, just as you have heard from the beginning, so that you should walk in it. For many deceivers have gone out into the world, those who do not confess the coming of Jesus Christ in the flesh. Such a one is the deceiver and the antichrist. Watch yourselves, so that you may not lose what we have worked for, but may win a full reward. Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, for whoever greets him takes part in his wicked works. (ESV)

> I John 3:4,8,9 - Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. > I Peter 3:18-22 - For Christ also suffered once for sins, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh but made alive in the spirit, in which he went and proclaimed to the spirits in prison, because they formerly did not obey, when God's patience waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was being prepared, in which a few, that is, eight persons, were brought safely through water. Baptism, which corresponds to this, now saves you, not as a removal of dirt from the body but as an appeal to God for a good conscience, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, who has gone into heaven and is at the right hand of God, with angels, authorities, and powers having been subjected to him. (ESV)

If God would consider me to be a scribe in the Kingdom of God then I could ”potentially” (only if God-willing) consider the Roman catholic church or the SSPX, for example, to be a ”neighbour household” / ”neighbour households” that I'm not myself a part of because in following Jesus I certainly would not be referring to the pope as my father.

We must hold fast to Jesus, the Head:

> Colossians 2:18-19 - Let no one disqualify you, insisting on asceticism and worship of angels, going on in detail about visions, puffed up without reason by his sensuous mind, and not holding fast to the Head, from whom the whole body, nourished and knit together through its joints and ligaments, grows with a growth that is from God. (ESV)
> Matthew 23:8-11 - But you are not to be called rabbi, for you have one teacher, and you are all brothers. And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. Neither be called instructors, for you have one instructor, the Christ. The greatest among you shall be your servant. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 11:3 - But I want you to understand that the head of every man is Christ, the head of a wife is her husband, and the head of Christ is God. (ESV)

But a good household being managed by a scribe trained in the Kingdom of God would be, faithfully to Jesus' teachings (Matthew 28:18-20), producing disciples of Jesus teaching them to keep everything that Jesus has commanded and thus producing other scribes trained in the Kingdom of God and other households for God inside of God's greater household (G1577 ekklēsiais; churches, [See: Revelation of John 2:7]), people calling God their Father and calling no man on earth their father.

Journal <2026-04-22 Wed 08:10> I have been listening recently to people's testimonies of how difficult is has been for them to afford food and find jobs and have hope (e.g. youtube.com: How TF are people getting jobs ? {@ Jett . franzen }, youtube.com: The AI Backlash Has Reached a Tipping Point {@ VanessaWing % C3 % A5rdh } @time: 4 min 31 sec, etc.).

I've heard it said "You can't control what happens to you. All you can do is respond." That's not exactly true though. We're not powerless. We can turn the tables around by seeking refuge in God (See: Psalms 91:9-12, Ezekiel 18) and through faith in Jesus we can overcome the world (I John 5:4-5). The smartest thing we can do is simply do what Jesus Christ instructs in reality, knowing there is forgiveness in Christ, forgiveness for those who are abiding in His commandments, and in that sense the world then needs to respond to you (rather than you to the world). But Jesus said to His followers that the world will hate them (I John 3:23-24, Hebrews 12:4, Colossians 1:3-14, Mark 10:17-23, Hebrews 10:34).

I think we must stop walking in the ways of the world and start walking by the spirit of God instead.

OK, so in an oppressive economy where the rich in earthly goods oppress the poor in earthly goods, doesn't it make sense to stop trusting in the "way of the world" of dishonest gain, and instead, speak and do what pleases God (He can see), and keep God's commandments for us and follow Jesus in reality?

> Mark 10:17-23 - And as he was setting out on his journey, a man ran up and knelt before him and asked him, Good Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life? And Jesus said to him, Why do you call me good? No one is good except God alone. You know the commandments: Do not murder, Do not commit adultery, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honor your father and mother. And he said to him, Teacher, all these I have kept from my youth. And Jesus, looking at him, loved him, and said to him, You lack one thing: go, sell all that you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me. Disheartened by the saying, he went away sorrowful, for he had great possessions. And Jesus looked around and said to his disciples, How difficult it will be for those who have wealth to enter the kingdom of God! (ESV)

The person walking "by the flesh" keeps deferring obedience to Christ's commandments, and in deferring making the flesh their strength rather than Christ, and believes they need material wealth *before" they can do what Jesus says. But the person walking by the spirit trusts and obeys Christ.

Doesn't it make sense to stop making the flesh one's strength (it wasn't going to work out anyway), and to instead make God one's strength by trusting Jesus and His words?

Mathetes to Diognetus This was not that He at all delighted in our sins, but that He simply endured them; nor that He approved the time of working iniquity which then was, but that He sought to form a mind conscious of righteousness, so that being convinced in that time of our unworthiness of attaining life through our own works, it should now, through the kindness of God, be vouchsafed to us; and having made it manifest that in ourselves we were unable to enter into the kingdom of God, we might through the power of God be made able.

Through faith and obedience to Jesus Christ, a person is empowered by God to enter into the Kingdom of God:

> II Corinthians 10:4-6 - For the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh but have divine power to destroy strongholds. We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, being ready to punish every disobedience, when your obedience is complete. (ESV)

> Colossians 2:11-14 - In him also you were circumcised with a circumcision made without hands, by putting off the body of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ, having been buried with him in baptism, in which you were also raised with him through faith in the powerful working of God, who raised him from the dead. And you, who were dead in your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, God made alive together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses, by canceling the record of debt that stood against us with its legal demands. This he set aside, nailing it to the cross. (ESV)

God makes it possible to enter by His power. But just because the propitiation for sin and power of God is available to us, doesn't mean people make use of it. The power is available for those who by faith obey Jesus Christ. If, trusting Jesus Christ, we walk the way He instructs, then we can enter the Kingdom of God like that:

> Mark 10:23-27 - And Jesus looked around and said to his disciples, How difficult it will be for those who have wealth to enter the kingdom of God! And the disciples were amazed at his words. But Jesus said to them again, Children, how difficult it is to enter the kingdom of God! It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God. And they were exceedingly astonished, and said to him, Then who can be saved? Jesus looked at them and said, With man it is impossible, but not with God. For all things are possible with God. (ESV)

If a person owns very little in worldly goods then isn't that a golden opportunity to lay up treasure in heaven and then go forward keeping Jesus' commandments in reality rather than in false-pretense or in bad conscience? You could move forward in knowledge that God owns everything (Deuteronomy 10:14, Exodus 19:4-6) and will take care of you as you are able to have peace with God in good conscience doing as Jesus instructs which is so much better, and is also like a wise man who builds his house on the rock. If you have only $10 worth of worldly goods but in good conscience gave "let's say "half" (though why not all?) of all the worldly goods you had" ($5? by a worldly estimate) to those in need of them and out of faith and obedience to Jesus' instruction to "give to the one who begs from you", you can still say "you gave half of all the worldly goods you have out of faith and obedience to Jesus to the instruction to give to the one who begs from you" and then go forward keeping Jesus' commandments in reality rather than in false-pretense. Now change $10 for $10 billion dollars, and that's just as true, but how many people do you hear about giving away their fortune?. Being poor in worldly goods, in my view, is a nice opportunity to fall out of agreement with the way of the world and instead store up some treasure in heaven and go forward following Jesus in reality.

> Luke 19:8-9 - And Zacchaeus stood and said to the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor. And if I have defrauded anyone of anything, I restore it fourfold. And Jesus said to him, Today salvation has come to this house, since he also is a son of Abraham. (ESV)

All Christians need to go forward abiding in Jesus' commandments in reality, holding their faith with a good conscience. The Christian's walk begins with repentance (i.e. turning away from the love of evil and towards the love of God). You can't start your Abraham-like faith in Jesus with an act of committing sin such as theft because by faith Abraham obeyed. Robin-hood-style giving is not the way to start a relationship with Jesus. Rather we should put our faith in Jesus Christ as He commanded (John 14:1) and continue to by faith obey Jesus (John 5:11-14).

Abiding in God's Law / God's commandments for us, even as Christians who abide by Jesus' commandments, is dependent on keeping genuine faith in God (Romans 9:30-32) and maintaining faith in God is dependent on maintaining love for God (Luke 6:45, John 5:42-43). The faith of Abraham which Christians must have (Romans 4:14-17) includes the fear of God (Hebrews 11:17, Genesis 22:9-14) and the fear of God is the hatred of evil (Proverbs 8:13), and a genuine faith seeks God's commendation (Hebrews 11:6, John 5:28-29,37-47).

An analogy If someone were to instruct, ”Stand up straight and you won't fall over.” Then someone else protests and says, ”That sounds like legalism.” That's an absurd protest.

God instructs us, ”You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself.”

> Matthew 22:36-40 - Teacher, which is the great commandment in the Law? And he said to him, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)
> Luke 10:25-28 - And behold, a lawyer stood up to put him to the test, saying, Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? He said to him, What is written in the Law? How do you read it? And he answered, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind, and your neighbor as yourself. And he said to him, You have answered correctly; do this, and you will live. (ESV)
> Deuteronomy 30:6 - And the LORD your God will circumcise your heart and the heart of your offspring, so that you will love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, that you may live. (ESV)
> Philippians 3:3-11 - For we are the real circumcision, who worship by the Spirit of God and glory in Christ Jesus and put no confidence in the flesh— though I myself have reason for confidence in the flesh also. If anyone else thinks he has reason for confidence in the flesh, I have more: circumcised on the eighth day, of the people of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews; as to the law, a Pharisee; as to zeal, a persecutor of the church; as to righteousness, under the law blameless. But whatever gain I had, I counted as loss for the sake of Christ. Indeed, I count everything as loss because of the surpassing worth of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For his sake I have suffered the loss of all things and count them as rubbish, in order that I may gain Christ and be found in him, not having a righteousness of my own that comes from the law, but that which comes through faith in Christ, the righteousness from God that depends on faith— that I may know him and the power of his resurrection, and may share his sufferings, becoming like him in his death, that by any means possible I may attain the resurrection from the dead. (ESV)
> I John 2:3 - And by this we know that we have come to know Him, if the commandments of Him we keep. (Interlinear)
> I John 5:10-13 - Whoever believes (G4100 pisteuōn - is believing (verb)) in the Son of God has the testimony in himself. Whoever does not believe God has made him a liar, because he has not believed in the testimony that God has borne concerning his Son. And this is the testimony, that God gave us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. Whoever has the Son has life; whoever does not have the Son of God does not have life. I write these things to you who believe in the name of the Son of God that you may know that you have eternal life. (ESV)
> I John 4:15-17 - Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. (ESV)

To protest saying, ”That sounds like legalism” is absurdity. Of course we need God's help in order to be sanctified and do this well.

If law-abiding to the law of faith in Christ Jesus ('If you love me') then you will be law-abiding to Christ Jesus' commandments ('you will keep my commandments') (John 14:15). Faith is commanded (I John 3:23) and so in passages such as Romans 4:13-17 it can only be assumed that some distinction has to be made between *commandments and law. The law of Moses comprised of numerous commandments brings wrath, but it was only a former commandment (Hebrews 9:19-20, Hebrews 7:18-22). The law of Christ is a new commandment and a change in "the law" (not an abolishment, but a change) (Hebrews 7:12, II Peter 3:1-3, I John 4:21, I John 5:3, II John 1:5-6, Revelation of John 12:17, Revelation of John 14:12). The law of Moses is a commandment (Romans 7:9) but not all commandments are of the law of Moses (which Jesus Christ fulfilled) but are, rather, grace (John 1:17). Jesus Christ fulfilled the law of Moses and He gave other commandments (Christ's law). Christ's law is grace. The Old Covenant law Paul calls the ministry of death (II Corinthians 3:6-9) while Christ's law (commandments) is life (I John 3:23, Romans 4:13-17, Romans 7:9, John 12:44-50). With Jesus Christ as our Master we can through faith in Him fulfill the requirement of the law (Romans 6:16-18,7:25,8:1-4). We are saved into loving the way that Father God loves:

> John 17:26 - I made known to them your name, and I will continue to make it known, that the love with which you have loved me may be in them, and I in them. (ESV)
> Matthew 5:43-48 - You have heard that it was said, You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy. But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You therefore must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect. (ESV)

The salvation of the believer necessitates them having a love for their family in Christ, and that happens through sanctification:

> I Peter 1:22 - Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, (ESV)

At the end of sanctification, obeying the truth for a sincere love of our family in Christ, there is eternal life:

> Romans 6:22-23 - But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

Because we must love God with our whole heart to live (Deuteronomy 30:6), and we can't love God with our whole heart if we hate His children (I John 5:1-2, I John 4:19-21):

> I John 4:8,19-21 - Anyone who does not love does not know God, because God is love. We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)
> I John 2:8-12 - At the same time, it is a new commandment that I am writing to you, which is true in him and in you, because the darkness is passing away and the true light is already shining. Whoever says he is in the light and hates his brother is still in darkness. *Whoever loves his brother abides in the light, and in him there is no cause for stumbling. But whoever hates his brother is in the darkness and walks in the darkness, and does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes. *I am writing to you, little children, because your sins are forgiven for his name's sake. (ESV)
> Luke 8:21 - But he answered them, My mother and my brothers are those who hear the word of God and do it. (ESV)

> I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

Getting us to this point of loving the children of God the way God wants us to is the circumcision of the heart of flesh (the new heart God gives us) and this circumcision involves God writing His laws on that new heart which happens as we are taught by God to walk in His ways after getting born-again.

> Hebrews 8:10-11 - For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, declares the Lord: I will put my laws into their minds, and write them on their hearts, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. And they shall not teach, each one his neighbor and each one his brother, saying, Know the Lord, for they shall all know me, from the least of them to the greatest. (ESV)

> Romans 6:15-23 - What then? Are we to sin because we are not under law but under grace? By no means! Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. When you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. But what fruit were you getting at that time from the things of which you are now ashamed? The end of those things is death. But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

The salvation of the believer in Jesus is not necessarily only about the salvation of the believer. God may use a person's works as their work out their salvation in order to save others. If a person rests immediately in the finished work of Christ immediately then what about everyone else?

> Genesis 18:19 - For I have chosen him, that he may command his children and his household after him to keep the way of the LORD by doing righteousness and justice, so that the LORD may bring to Abraham what he has promised him. (ESV)

> John 8:39-40 - They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham's children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 4:11-15 - For we who live are always being given over to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus also may be manifested in our mortal flesh. So death is at work in us, but life in you. Since we have the same spirit of faith according to what has been written, I believed, and so I spoke, we also believe, and so we also speak, knowing that he who raised the Lord Jesus will raise us also with Jesus and bring us with you into his presence. For it is all for your sake, so that as grace extends to more and more people it may increase thanksgiving, to the glory of God. (ESV)

> Romans 15:15-21 - But on some points I have written to you very boldly by way of reminder, because of the grace given me by God to be a minister of Christ Jesus to the Gentiles in the priestly service of the gospel of God, so that the offering of the Gentiles may be acceptable, sanctified by the Holy Spirit. In Christ Jesus, then, I have reason to be proud of my work for God. For I will not venture to speak of anything except what Christ has accomplished through me to bring the Gentiles to obedience—by word and deed, by the power of signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God—so that from Jerusalem and all the way around to Illyricum I have fulfilled the ministry of the gospel of Christ; and thus I make it my ambition to preach the gospel, not where Christ has already been named, lest I build on someone else's foundation, but as it is written, Those who have never been told of him will see, and those who have never heard will understand. (ESV)

II Timothy 3:7-8 - I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will award to me on that Day, and not only to me but also to all who have loved his appearing. (ESV)

I Peter 3:17-22 - For it is better to suffer for doing good, if that should be God's will, than for doing evil. For Christ also suffered once for sins, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh but made alive in the spirit, in which he went and proclaimed to the spirits in prison, because they formerly did not obey, when God's patience waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was being prepared, in which a few, that is, eight persons, were brought safely through water. Baptism, which corresponds to this, now saves you, not as a removal of dirt from the body but as an appeal to God for a good conscience, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, who has gone into heaven and is at the right hand of God, with angels, authorities, and powers having been subjected to him. (ESV)

Revelation of John 14:13 - And I heard a voice from heaven saying, Write this: Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on. Blessed indeed, says the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors, for their deeds follow them! (ESV)

I Timothy 4:13-16 - Until I come, devote yourself to the public reading of Scripture, to exhortation, to teaching. Do not neglect the gift you have, which was given you by prophecy when the council of elders laid their hands on you. Practice these things, devote yourself to them, so that all may see your progress. Keep a close watch on yourself and on the teaching. Persist in this, for by so doing you will save both yourself and your hearers. (ESV)

Matthew 13:52 - And he said to them, Therefore every scribe who has been trained for the kingdom of heaven is like a master of a house, who brings out of his treasure what is new and what is old. (ESV)

Acts 16:31 - And they said, Believe in the Lord Jesus, and you will be saved, you and your household. (ESV)

Hebrews 11:7 - By faith Noah, being warned by God concerning events as yet unseen, in reverent fear constructed an ark for the saving of his household. By this he condemned the world and became an heir of the righteousness that comes by faith. (ESV)

Every commandment from Jesus is a means of grace. God wants faith and gives us commandments which we can obey in faith. Every opportunity to carry out one of Jesus' commandments is an opportunity to seek God's commendation for faith.

Luke 3:4-14 - As it is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet, The voice of one crying in the wilderness: Prepare the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be made low, and the crooked shall become straight, and the rough places shall become level ways, and all flesh shall see the salvation of God. He said therefore to the crowds that came out to be baptized by him, You brood of vipers! Who warned you to flee from (G575 apo; from, away from, of, by) the wrath to come? Bear fruits in keeping with repentance. And do not begin to say to yourselves, We have Abraham as our father. For I tell you, God is able from these stones to raise up children for Abraham. Even now the axe is laid to the root of the trees. Every tree therefore that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. And the crowds asked him, What then shall we do? And he answered them, Whoever has two tunics is to share with him who has none, and whoever has food is to do likewise. Tax collectors also came to be baptized and said to him, Teacher, what shall we do? And he said to them, Collect no more than you are authorized to do. Soldiers also asked him, And we, what shall we do? And he said to them, Do not extort money from anyone by threats or by false accusation, and be content with your wages. (ESV)

John 1:17-18 - For the law was given through Moses; grace and truth (G225 alē̃theia) came through Jesus Christ. No one has ever seen God; the only God, who is at the Father's side, he has made him known. (ESV)

It's strange the way that people look at the commandments of Christ as a heavy burden or as against grace protesting for having to "do" something as they misconstrue obedience as meaning depending on self rather than on Christ. If Jesus advised a weary person to sit on a chair to rest on the chair, and then that person protested saying, "That sounds like I have to 'do' something. That sounds like I'm depending on myself..." well that is plainly ridiculous. But many people view Jesus' commandments like that, as if it's no longer depending on Jesus when a person trusts and obeys Christ. Jesus said that the person who hears His word and does is it is like a wise man who builds a house with a strong foundation on the rock.

> Matthew 7:24 - Everyone then who hears these words of mine and does them will be like a wise man who built his house on the rock. (ESV)
> Luke 6:46-49 - Why do you call me Lord, Lord, and not do what I tell you? Everyone who comes to me and hears my words and does them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. And when a flood arose, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it, because it had been well built. But the one who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. When the stream broke against it, immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great. (ESV)

Additionally, God looks at the intentions of our hearts as we "do" what He says.

> Proverbs 12:5 - The thoughts of the righteous are just; the counsels of the wicked are deceitful. (ESV)

A person can "do" the tradition of Lord's supper, even if external factors such as "bread and wine being unavailable" fail them.

Imagine, bombs dropping on a city, and people gathered together remembering the Lord Jesus Christ. The person without faith would say the people dropping bombs have prevented them from following Christ because they are unable now to take the Lord's supper together because the food supply has been destroyed. The person with faith would not believe the incorrect belief that that something in creation could separate them from the love of God in Christ Jesus their Lord.

> Matthew 23:16-18 - Woe to you, blind guides, who say, If anyone swears by the temple, it is nothing, but if anyone swears by the gold of the temple, he is bound by his oath. You blind fools! For which is greater, the gold or the temple that has made the gold sacred? And you say, If anyone swears by the altar, it is nothing, but if anyone swears by the gift that is on the altar, he is bound by his oath. (ESV)

God considers the intentions of our hearts even for the mistakes that we make:

> Deuteronomy 19:4-7 - This is the provision for the manslayer, who by fleeing there may save his life. If anyone kills his neighbor unintentionally without having hated him in the past— as when someone goes into the forest with his neighbor to cut wood, and his hand swings the axe to cut down a tree, and the head slips from the handle and strikes his neighbor so that he dies—he may flee to one of these cities and live, lest the avenger of blood in hot anger pursue the manslayer and overtake him, because the way is long, and strike him fatally, though the man did not deserve to die, since he had not hated his neighbor in the past. Therefore I command you, You shall set apart three cities. (ESV)

Deeds are given to the person who has faith:

> Ephesians 2:10 - For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand, that we should walk in them. (ESV)
> John 14:12 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)

We should just do what the Lord Jesus Christ says and disregard the advice of those who would deter us:

> Psalms 1:1-6 - Blessed is the man who walks not in the counsel of the wicked, nor stands in the way of sinners, nor sits in the seat of scoffers; but his delight is in the law of the LORD, and on his law he meditates day and night. He is like a tree planted by streams of water that yields its fruit in its season, and its leaf does not wither. In all that he does, he prospers. The wicked are not so, but are like chaff that the wind drives away. Therefore the wicked will not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous; for the LORD knows the way of the righteous, but the way of the wicked will perish. (ESV)

> Galatians 6:7-10 - Do not be deceived: God is not mocked, for whatever one sows, that will he also reap. For the one who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption, but the one who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life. And let us not grow weary of doing good, for in due season we will reap, if we do not give up. So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to those who are of the household of faith. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 5:6-11 - So we are always of good courage. We know that while we are at home in the body we are away from the Lord, for we walk by faith, not by sight. Yes, we are of good courage, and we would rather be away from the body and at home with the Lord. So whether we are at home or away, we make it our aim to please him. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil. Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. (ESV)

The person who does not "work" but "does" faith in Jesus, that person's faith is counted as righteousness:

> Romans 4:4-6 - Now to the one who works (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment), his wages are not counted as a gift but as his due. And to the one who does not work (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment) but trusts him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is counted as righteousness, just as David also speaks of the blessing of the one to whom God counts righteousness apart from (G5565 chōris) works (G2041 ergōn): (ESV)

A person who has been forgiven much, loves much. So somebody who is forgiven by Jesus will love Jesus, and a person who loves Jesus will be "law of faith"-abiding (John 14:15, Romans 3:27, I Corinthians 9:21, Matthew 13:41):

> Luke 7:40-50 - And Jesus answering said to him, Simon, I have something to say to you. And he answered, Say it, Teacher. A certain moneylender had two debtors. One owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty. When they could not pay, he cancelled the debt of both. Now which of them will love him more? Simon answered, The one, I suppose, for whom he cancelled the larger debt. And he said to him, You have judged rightly. Then turning toward the woman he said to Simon, Do you see this woman? I entered your house; you gave me no water for my feet, but she has wet my feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. You gave me no kiss, but from the time I came in she has not ceased to kiss my feet. You did not anoint my head with oil, but she has anointed my feet with ointment. Therefore I tell you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven—for she loved much. But he who is forgiven little, loves little. And he said to her, Your sins are forgiven. Then those who were at table with him began to say among themselves, Who is this, who even forgives sins? And he said to the woman, Your faith has saved you; go in peace. (ESV)

> John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

> I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

But love for God (I Corinthians 16:22, II Thessalonians 2:10), faith (Acts 26:18) and obedience (Hebrews 5:7-10) and trying (Matthew 25:14-30) and making effort (II Peter 1:5) and self examination (II Corinthians 13:5) and being corrected (II Timothy 3:16, Jeremiah 5:3) by the truth, and endeavouring (Galatians 2:17) to abide in sound teaching (II Timothy 4:3, II John 1:9, I Timothy 6:3, II Timothy 1:13) and abiding in Jesus' commandments (I John 3:24) are all good (Luke 6:45).

It's very sad that people attack the gospel by waging war against effort and against obedience and against doing the truth (John 3:21) in reality.

The big reason I think it's very sad that people who attack the gospel by waging war against effort and against obedience, etc. is because they are effectively teaching against seeking to please God. God wants us walk by faith out of love for Him. God wants us to "do faith". And heart intentions such as trust, 'effort' and love are to do with faith.

> James 1:22-24 - But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves. For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks intently at his natural face in a mirror. For he looks at himself and goes away and at once forgets what he was like. (ESV)
> Ezekiel 33:31-32 - And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth they shew much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness. And, lo, thou art unto them as a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument: for they hear thy words, but they do them not. (KJV)

The gospel is to bring us into relationship with the Father and with Jesus Christ and with one-another in Christ.

> Revelation of John 3:20 - Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and eat with him, and he with me. (ESV)
> John 17:3 - And this is eternal life, that they know you the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom you have sent. (ESV)
> I John 1:3 - that which we have seen and heard we proclaim also to you, so that you too may have fellowship with us; and indeed our fellowship is with the Father and with his Son Jesus Christ. (ESV)

How do we get there? By keeping His commandments. Real fellowship is with one-another spiritually:

> I John 2:3-4 - And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, (ESV)
> I John 1:6-7 - If we say we have fellowship with him while we walk in darkness, we lie and do not practice the truth. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)
> I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)
> I John 2:11-12 - But whoever hates his brother is in the darkness and walks in the darkness, and does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes. I am writing to you, little children, because your sins are forgiven for his name's sake. (ESV)

Journal <2026-06-25 Thu 13:03> Firstly, I've been born-again of the spirit. God has indeed done a work in me to give me a heart that fears Him and has been writing His laws on my heart, circumcising my heart, and has given me a new spirit. So thank God for His grace. However, from my angle my getting born-again happened in Ezekiel 18:31 style. It's still by God's grace. That being said... I have been reflecting on "doers of the Law by faith" being justified by faith as distinct from seeking justification by being a "doer of the law including the works", and so relying on the "external actions".

"Doers of the Law" (Romans 2:1-13) are also "doers of faith" because whatever is not done in faith is sin which is lawlessness (I John 3:4). So "doers of the Law" will be justified because they are also "doers of faith", and we are saved from being a "slave to sin" to being a "slave to righteousness" by faith in Jesus Christ. A person is surely justified by faith rather than being a "doer of the works of the Law" because the "works of the Law" talk about both heart attitude and external action, but when talking about being a "doer of the Law", someone actually doing it, then they must be doing it by faith, because obedience without love for the truth is feigned (Psalm 81:15). So the question becomes, "How does a person get to this point of doing the will of God obediently from the heart in reality, to 'doing the Word' by faith obedient from the heart, to 'doing the Law, even', albeit as a follower of Jesus?" And the answer is by repenting (changing one's mind) and having faith in Jesus Christ, and God works His salvation in that person, salvation which is salvation from committing sin. The Law can surely be done if it is by faith (I Peter 2:6-8) rather than works. Indeed we're supposed to do everything by faith (that is by a love for the truth). God fixes a person so that from all of their heart they "do" His word in reality for God to see walking by the spirit. God is our father and we must honor God and we must Honor the Son of God. A person can be an actual doer of the word while being sanctified towards doing God's will better and from all their heart to have the love of God perfected in them:

> I John 2:4-6 - Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)
> Romans 9:30-32 - What shall we say, then? That Gentiles who did not pursue righteousness have attained it, that is, a righteousness that is by faith; but that Israel who pursued a law that would lead to righteousness did not succeed in reaching that law. Why? Because they did not pursue it by faith, but as if it were based on works. They have stumbled over the stumbling stone, (ESV)
> I Peter 2:6-8 - For it stands in Scripture: Behold, I am laying in Zion a stone, a cornerstone chosen and precious, and whoever believes in him will not be put to shame. So the honor is for you who believe, but for those who do not believe, The stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone, and A stone of stumbling, and a rock of offense. They stumble because they disobey the word, as they were destined to do. (ESV)

The believer is a "doer of the word" (John 14:12) who obeys the gospel and does good as opposed to evil (I Peter 4:12-19), after all Jesus Christ didn't do evil and so someone who is walking by faith in Jesus does good (John 14:12, John 3:16-21).

God gives us a new heart so that we will love Him with all our heart, and all our soul:

> Deuteronomy 5:29 - Oh that they had such a mind as this always, to fear me and to keep all my commandments, that it might go well with them and with their descendants forever! (ESV)
> Deuteronomy 29:4 - But to this day the LORD has not given you a heart to understand or eyes to see or ears to hear. (ESV)
> Deuteronomy 30:6 - And the LORD your God will circumcise your heart and the heart of your offspring, so that you will love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, that you may live. (ESV)

When Romans 2:9-16 says ”all who have sinned under the law will be judged by the law”, think about that for a moment. Have I personally sinned while having some knowledge of the Law (for example, the 10 commandments)? Yes, it’s happened before. Before I was born-again, I was hopelessly enslaved to sin, but there is a difference now where I love Jesus and hope in Him and striving against sin while challenging, I believe is worth the fight. I do not feel enslaved to sin. I feel enslaved to righteousness from a love of rightetousness who is Jesus Christ, as God is teaching me His precepts and His will. The Apostle Paul had been judged by the Law in the past (Romans 7:9-13). But do I always sin while having knowledge of the law? Certainly not (Romans 6:15-23, James 1:21-25, I John 3:6-18, Romans 6:16-18). I have personally found the Law of God to be a valuable resource in my fight against bad doctrine and to stand secure in beliefs that I have about what God loves and hates, as I endeavour to seek to please God. So God has given me a heart that fears Him and when I read His law I naturally concur with it. It seems to me that God is teaching me and helping me to walk in His precepts as I’m holding faith in Jesus. I’m certainly not being conformed to the full Mosaic Law! That would be like an actual artwork (God’s workmanship) being conformed to a sketch (shadow), rather than the finished product (the image of Christ to some degree of glory). But Jesus’ commandments depend on the Great 2 commandments, so I’m certainly being conformed to do those. Also, the 10 commandments I believe are still to be kept (Mark 10:17-23), but in the Christian way (Malachi 1:6, Matthew 23:9).

A saved person who is walking by faith in Jesus Christ in love for Jesus Christ loving righteousness is under grace and does deeds out of a love of righteousness with Jesus Christ who is righteousness to them as their first love. Their heart becomes oriented in a particular way to be doing the will of God from the heart and in doing God’s will for us which is our sanctification (I Thessalonians 4:3-8) through faith in Jesus (Acts 26:16-18) we are under grace being taught to renounce ungodliness (Titus 2:11-15). That makes sense because God wants us to be cleaned up (sanctified) through faith. That is His will for us:

> I Thessalonians 4:3-8 - For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you abstain from sexual immorality; that each one of you know how to control his own body in holiness and honor, not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God; that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you. For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness. Therefore whoever disregards this, disregards not man but God, who gives his Holy Spirit to you. (ESV)

So when a person is actually operating from that love of Jesus Christ as their first agape love, doing faith, the law isn’t judging them. That person is being a doer in reality of Jesus Christ’s commandments under grace and getting cleaned up, being sanctified to keep God’s commandments better as they hold Jesus as their first love (Matthew 10:32-38). That makes sense to me because Jesus said that whoever is believing (is doing faith) in Him is not judged. Through faith in Jesus Christ we become ”doers in reality” of God’s law, and we get better at it because God teaches us and sanctifies us as we trust and obey Jesus Christ from the heart. So we are justified by doing faith in Jesus and this doing of faith in Jesus is God’s commandment for us being done and this brings us into keeping God’s commandments in reality, and we get better at keeping God’s commandments in reality as we continue doing this commandment of faith in Jesus. We get better at loving God and people (I Thessalonians 3:11-13,5:23, II Thessalonians 1:3) the way God commands (I John 5:1-2*) as we continue in faith in Jesus Christ. So being a doer in reality of the word, of Jesus Christ, of Jesus Christ’s commandments, justifies because being commandments given by Christ Himself, to truly obey them implies that they are done out of a loving faith in Jesus Christ (Romans 14:23, Psalms 81:12-15). So a person is saved by obeying Jesus Christ and that salvation is inclusive of sanctification as we are saved by sanctification that happens as we hold faith (II Thessalonians 2:10-13, II Corinthians 3:18, Acts 26:16-18) in Jesus Christ.

> Romans 2:9-16 - There will be tribulation and distress for every human being who does evil, the Jew first and also the Greek, but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does good, the Jew first and also the Greek. For God shows no partiality. For all who have sinned without the law will also perish without the law, and all who have sinned under the law will be judged by the law.

> For it is not the hearers of the law who are righteous before God, but the doers of the law who will be justified. For when Gentiles, who do not have the law, by nature do what the law requires, they are a law to themselves, even though they do not have the law. They show that the work of the law is written on their hearts, while their conscience also bears witness, and their conflicting thoughts accuse or even excuse them on that day when, according to my gospel, God judges the secrets of men by Christ Jesus. (ESV)

Find a scripture which says effort is against faith. I guarantee you will find none. Yet the lie that effort is against faith is prevelant.

In fact, here is a verse which as clear as day shows that effort is not against faith:

> II Peter 1:5-10 - For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins. Therefore, brothers, be all the more diligent to make your calling and election sure, for if you practice these qualities you will never fall. (ESV)

Rather than link Romans 8:30 all together like a daisy chain where nothing could go wrong, I take each segment as conveying a truth, then take the wisdom from the Apostle Peter who says we should make every effort to supplement our faith with such things as he has mentioned to make election sure:

Romans 8:30 - And those whom he predestined he also called, and those whom he called he also justified, and those whom he justified he also glorified. (ESV)		Reality
Someone who is predestined will be called.	Many are called, but few are chosen. (Matthew 22:1-14)	Few made it past this step
Those whom He called, He also justified	We must continue in the faith. (Ezekiel 18:26-27, Colossians 1:21-23, I Timothy 6:20-21)	Sadly, some people apostate and go back to loving evil rather than Jesus.
Those whom He justified, He also glorified	God will bring every deed into judgement, if we sow to the spirit the we will reap eternal life, but if we sow to the flesh, we will reap corruption. (Ecclesiastes 12:14, Galatians 6:8, Romans 6:17-18)	God is not mocked

Polycarp 5:1 Knowing then that God is not mocked, we ought to walk worthily of His commandment and His glory.

God does it like this, but we must unite faith in Jesus Christ with patience (continuing in faith in Jesus Christ, abiding in His teachings) to inherit the promise of an inheritance to those who are sanctified by faith in Him.

> II Peter 1:3-12 - His divine power has granted to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of him who called us to his own glory and excellence, by which he has granted to us his precious and very great promises, so that through them you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world because of sinful desire. For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and > godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins. Therefore, brothers, be all the more diligent to make your calling and election sure, for if you practice these qualities you will never fall. For in this way there will be richly provided for you an entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Therefore I intend always to remind you of these qualities, though you know them and are established in the truth that you have. (ESV)

Apostle Paul talks about a wreath. We don't give ourselves the wreath. And Paul mentions that disqualification is a possibility:

> I Corinthians 9:24-27 - Do you not know that in a race all the runners compete, but only one receives the prize? So run that you may obtain it. Every athlete exercises self-control in all things. They do it to receive a perishable wreath, but we an imperishable. So I do not run aimlessly; I do not box as one beating the air. But I discipline my body and keep it under control, lest after preaching to others I myself should be disqualified. (ESV)

> II Timothy 2:5 - An athlete is not crowned unless he competes according to the rules. (ESV)

Having knowledge of God involves having an understanding of Him. So the knowledge of God comes with actually walking in His ways, and not merely "reading about" Him:

> I Timothy 6:20-21 - O Timothy, guard the deposit entrusted to you. Avoid the irreverent babble and contradictions (G477 antitheseis; opposing ideas) of what is falsely called knowledge, for by professing it some have swerved from the faith. Grace be with you. (ESV)

> Proverbs 1:7 - The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge; fools despise wisdom and instruction. (ESV)

> Proverbs 1:22 - How long, O simple ones, will you love being simple? How long will scoffers delight in their scoffing and fools hate knowledge? (ESV)

> Proverbs 18:2 - A fool takes no pleasure in understanding, but only in expressing his opinion. (ESV)

> I John 2:4 - The [one] saying, "I have known Him" and the commandments of Him not keeping, a liar he is, and in him the truth not is. (Interlinear)

> I John 5:20 - And we know that the Son of God has come and has given us understanding, so that we may know him who is true; and we are in him who is true, in his Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and eternal life. (ESV)

> II John 1:9-11 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, for whoever greets him takes part in his wicked works. (ESV)

youtube.com: Are You an Actual Man of God ? {@ LandoTalksss } @time: 1 min 6 sec Proverbs 9:10 says that the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom, not the result of wisdom. The beginning. You don't eventually get humble after you figure things out.

The Gospel of Jesus Christ does not contradict itself:

> I Timothy 6:20-21 - O Timothy, guard the deposit entrusted to you. Avoid the irreverent babble and contradictions (G477 antitheseis; opposing ideas) of what is falsely called knowledge, for by professing it some have swerved from the faith. Grace be with you. (ESV)

This verse here does not say that effort is against faith. Just because it depends on God who has mercy, does not mean that effort is against faith. God may look at a person's efforts and decide to have mercy on them:

> Romans 9:15-16 - For he says to Moses, I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion. So then it depends not on human will or exertion, but on God, who has mercy. (ESV)

Also, the law is good if one uses it lawfully. There's a way of unlawfully using the law. If someone is "law of Christ"-abiding then they are not lawless and they don't get the "Book of the Law thown at them":

> I Timothy 1:8-11 - Now we know that the law is good, if one uses it lawfully, understanding this, that the law is not laid down for the just but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for those who strike their fathers and mothers, for murderers, the sexually immoral, men who practice homosexuality, enslavers, liars, perjurers, and whatever else is contrary to sound doctrine, in accordance with the glorious gospel of the blessed God with which I have been entrusted. (ESV)

> Luke 6:9-10 - And Jesus said to them, I ask you, is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good or to do harm, to save life or to destroy it? And after looking around at them all he said to him, Stretch out your hand. And he did so, and his hand was restored. (ESV)

But even Jesus Christ's commandments depend on the 2 Great Commandments, as far as I understand:

> Matthew 13:57 - And they took offense at him. But Jesus said to them, A prophet is not without honor except in his hometown and in his own household. (ESV)

> John 4:43-44 - After the two days he departed for Galilee. (For Jesus himself had testified that a prophet has no honor in his own hometown.) (ESV)

> Matthew 22:37-40 - And he said to him, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)

So we have to do Jesus' commandments lawfully (I Timothy 1:8-11) and that means as we follow Jesus' commandments, that shouldn't violate the 2 Great Commandments (Matthew 22:36-40). That shouldn't be daunting or sound impossible that Jesus' commandments depend on the 2 Great Commandments because we are justified by faith. It should also sound correct that Jesus Christ's commandments depend on the 2 Great Commandments because Jesus is our God (John 10:30, John 14:10-15, John 20:28), and we must love one-another in Christ as ourself. Those in Christ are one in Spirit (I Corinthians 6:16-20, I Corinthians 5:1-13):

> Romans 9:30-32 - What shall we say, then? That Gentiles who did not pursue righteousness have attained it, that is, a righteousness that is by faith; but that Israel who pursued a law that would lead to righteousness did not succeed in reaching that law. Why? Because they did not pursue it by faith, but as if it were based on works. They have stumbled over the stumbling stone, (ESV)

Loving God and one another is our duty:

> Ecclesiastes 12:13 - The end of the matter; all has been heard. Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man. (ESV)

> I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

> Matthew 22:36-40 - Teacher, which is the great commandment in the Law? And he said to him, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)

> I John 3:6 - No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. (ESV)

> Luke 17:10 - So you also, when you have done all that you were commanded, say, We are unworthy servants; we have only done what was our duty. (ESV)

If we're really keeping Jesus' commandments (as in trusting and loving God, God's word and loving our family in Christ) then we should have confidence that we abide in Jesus. Of course we don't commend ourselves for this, but we should be doing as Jesus instructed (i.e. having faith in Him with love for one another):

> I John 3:18-20 - Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth. By this we shall know that we are of the truth and reassure our heart before him; for whenever our heart condemns us, God is greater than our heart, and he knows everything. (ESV)

> I John 2:3 - And by this we know that we have come to know Him, if the commandments of Him we keep. (Interlinear)

> I John 2:4 - The [one] saying, "I have known Him" and the commandments of Him not keeping, a liar he is, and in him the truth not is. (Interlinear)

> I John 2:5 - Whoever, however, keeps His word truly (in reality), in him the love of God has been perfected. By this we know that in Him we are. (Interlinear)

> John 3:21 - The [one] however practicing (G4160 poiōn; doing) the truth (G225 alētheian) comes (G2064 erchetai) to the Light (G5457 phōs) that may be manifest (G5319 phanerōthē) his works (G2041 erga) that in God (G2316 Theō) have been (G1510 estin) done (G2038 eirgasmena) (Interlinear)

Jesus is the Truth (John 14:6) and we must obey the Truth (Romans 2:8). Jesus is our Righteousness (I Corinthians 1:30) if we keep His commandments from faith in and love for Him (John 14:1, John 14:15, Hebrews 1:8-9, John 16:27, Psalms 103:17-18) and we must obey Righteousness (Romans 6:13-23) and if we love Him we will keep His commandments (John 14:15) and without feigning obedience (Psalm 81:15).

> Psalms 81:11-15 - "But My people did not listen to My voice, And Israel did not obey Me. "So I gave them over to the stubbornness of their heart, To walk in their own devices. "Oh that My people would listen to Me, That Israel would walk in My ways! "I would quickly subdue their enemies And turn My hand against their adversaries. "Those who hate the LORD would pretend obedience to Him, And their time of punishment would be forever. (NASB)

John 3:19 connects faith with deeds. Evil deeds come from a love of darkness. Luke 6:45 also connects faith with deeds. Good deeds come from a love of the truth.

For confidence in the day of judgement, we need to be those who love one-another as we have been commanded to, we need to be those who give "God the glory", and we need to be those who have "repented of our evil deeds" and that means to change our minds to love Jesus rather than the evil:

> I John 4:11-19 - Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another. No one has ever seen God; if we love one another, God abides in us and his love is perfected in us. By this we know that we abide in him and he in us, because he has given us of his Spirit. And we have seen and testify that the Father has sent his Son to be the Savior of the world. Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. There is no fear in love, but perfect love casts out fear. For fear has to do with punishment, and whoever fears has not been perfected in love. We love because he first loved us. (ESV)

> Revelation of John 16:8-11 - The fourth angel poured out his bowl on the sun, and it was allowed to scorch people with fire. They were scorched by the fierce heat, and they cursed the name of God who had power over these plagues. They did not repent and give him glory. The fifth angel poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast, and its kingdom was plunged into darkness. People gnawed their tongues in anguish and cursed the God of heaven for their pain and sores. They did not repent of their deeds. (ESV)

A person is led by the spirit to fulfill the law. Fulfilling the law doesn't mean being under the law. Fulfilling the law and loving one-another as commanded and having the love of God perfected in us is certainly not contrary to faith or to walking by the spirit. God gives us grace in order to do this. And we can have confidence for the day of judgement when walking in this way, as Jesus walked.

> I John 2:4-6 - Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

> Galatians 3:2-3 - Let me ask you only this: Did you receive the Spirit by works of the law or by hearing with faith? Are you so foolish? Having begun by the Spirit, are you now being perfected by the flesh? (ESV)

> Galatians 5:13-18 - For you were called to freedom, brothers. Only do not use your freedom as an opportunity for the flesh, but through love serve one another. For the whole law is fulfilled in one word: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. But if you bite and devour one another, watch out that you are not consumed by one another. But I say, walk by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the flesh. For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to keep you from doing the things you want to do. But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. (ESV)

Walking in the light is walking in the love of the truth, the love of the light, the love of Jesus Christ:

> I John 1:6-7 - If we say we have fellowship with him while we walk in darkness, we lie and do not practice the truth. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)

> Psalms 24:3-5 - Who shall ascend the hill of the LORD? And who shall stand in his holy place? He who has clean hands and a pure heart, who does not lift up his soul to what is false and does not swear deceitfully. He will receive blessing from the LORD and righteousness from the God of his salvation. (ESV)

The light (love for the truth) must be in us:

> John 11:10 - But if anyone walks in the night, he stumbles, because the light is not in him. (ESV)

Some passages I've been looking at this morning about the love of the truth:

> I John 5:20 - And we know that the Son of God has come and has given us understanding, so that we may know him who is true; and we are in him who is true, in his Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and eternal life. (ESV)
> I John 4:6 - We are from God. Whoever knows God listens to us; whoever is not from God does not listen to us. By this we know the Spirit of truth and the spirit of error. (ESV)
> I John 4:8,19-21 - Anyone who does not love does not know God, because God is love. We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)
> Isaiah 45:19 - I did not speak in secret, in a land of darkness; I did not say to the offspring of Jacob, Seek me in vain. I the LORD speak the truth; I declare what is right. (ESV)
> John 10:25-26 - Jesus answered them, I told you, and you do not believe. The works that I do in my Father's name bear witness about me, but you do not believe because you are not part of my flock. (ESV)
> John 16:2-3 - They will put you out of the synagogues. Indeed, the hour is coming when whoever kills you will think he is offering service to God. And they will do these things because they have not known the Father, nor me. (ESV)
> Romans 1:18-25 - For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who by their unrighteousness suppress the truth. For what can be known about God is plain to them, because God has shown it to them. For his invisible attributes, namely, his eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly perceived, ever since the creation of the world, in the things that have been made. So they are without excuse. For although they knew God, they did not honor him as God or give thanks to him, but they became futile in their thinking, and their foolish hearts were darkened. Claiming to be wise, they became fools, and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images resembling mortal man and birds and animals and reptiles. Therefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts to impurity, to the dishonoring of their bodies among themselves, because they exchanged the truth about God for a lie and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever! Amen. (ESV)
> Luke 8:12 - The ones along the path are those who have heard. Then the devil comes and takes away the word from their hearts, so that they may not believe and be saved. (ESV)
> II Thessalonians 2:9-12 - The coming of the lawless one is by the activity of Satan with all power and false signs and wonders, and with all wicked deception for those who are perishing, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. Therefore God sends them a strong delusion, so that they may believe what is false, in order that all may be condemned who did not believe the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness. (ESV)
> Isaiah 45:22-25 - Turn to me and be saved, all the ends of the earth! For I am God, and there is no other. By myself I have sworn; from my mouth has gone out in righteousness a word that shall not return: To me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear allegiance. Only in the LORD, it shall be said of me, are righteousness and strength; to him shall come and be ashamed all who were incensed against him. In the LORD all the offspring of Israel shall be justified and shall glory. (ESV)

Walking in the light is following Jesus. We must abide in Him and so we accept He loved us first, and we must love in the same way that He loves (confess the truth, love the truth and hate evil, laying our lives down for one-another):

> I John 4:12-15 - No one has ever seen God; if we love one another, God abides in us and his love is perfected in us. By this we know that we abide in him and he in us, because he has given us of his Spirit. And we have seen and testify that the Father has sent his Son to be the Savior of the world. Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. (ESV)
> I John 1:7 - But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)
> I John 4:16-17 - So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. (ESV)

Imitating Jesus Christ involves imitating His love for righteousness and hatred of wickedness in reality from the heart:

> Hebrews 1:8-9 - But of the Son he says, Your throne, O God, is forever and ever, the scepter of uprightness is the scepter of your kingdom. You have loved righteousness and hated wickedness; therefore God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of gladness beyond your companions. (ESV)
> Ephesians 5:8-21 - for at one time you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light (for the fruit of light is found in all that is good and right and true), and try to discern what is pleasing to the Lord. Take no part in the unfruitful works of darkness, but instead expose them. For it is shameful even to speak of the things that they do in secret. But when anything is exposed by the light, it becomes visible, for anything that becomes visible is light. Therefore it says, Awake, O sleeper, and arise from the dead, and Christ will shine on you. Look carefully then how you walk, not as unwise but as wise, making the best use of the time, because the days are evil. Therefore do not be foolish, but understand what the will of the Lord is. And do not get drunk with wine, for that is debauchery, but be filled with the Spirit, addressing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody to the Lord with all your heart, giving thanks always and for everything to God the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, submitting to one another out of reverence for Christ. (ESV)
> Ephesians 5:5-8 - For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. Therefore do not associate (G1096 ginesthe; be) (G4830 symmetochoi; partakers) wiith them; for at one time you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light (ESV)
> I John 2:3-6 - And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to (G3784 opheilei; ought to, obligated to, has a duty to) walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)
> III John 1:11 - Beloved, do not imitate evil but imitate good. Whoever does good is from God; whoever does evil has not seen God. (ESV)
> Matthew 23:28 - So you also outwardly appear righteous to others, but within you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness. (ESV)

When it comes to walking by the Spirit, I don't think a person can cheat on it because the desires of the flesh are against the desires of the spirit and the desires of the spirit are against the desires of the flesh.

Genuine repentance, genuine faith and genuine love, I strongly believe, involve "doing the word in reality". We must desire God in reality.

The fear of God is the beginning of wisdom (Psalms 111:10) and it is to hate evil (Proverbs 8:13).

Though a Christian hates evil, what is more precedent is their love for Jesus as evil is outbalanced by good, evil and death is defeated by Jesus from His perspective (Romans 6:10, Romans 6:9, Revelation of John 1:18) but from our perspective is being defeated (I Corinthians 15:25-28) as Jesus puts Satan under our feet (Romans 16:19-20) as we endeavour to be wise for what is good and innocent of evil and present our members to God as instruments for righteousness (Romans 6:10-13). The darkness will never overcome the light (John 1:5).

> John 16:33 - I have said these things to you, that in me you may have peace. In the world you will have tribulation. But take heart; I have overcome the world. (ESV)
> I John 5:5 - Who is it that overcomes the world except the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God? (ESV)

Notice, though, how even during the Rev 12:7 period people are saved through Jesus Christ amidst a spiritual war (Revelation of John 12:7-12).

Fear of God and love for God go hand in hand:

> Psalms 37:4 - Delight yourself in the LORD, and he will give you the desires of your heart. (ESV)
> Psalms 145:19 - He fulfills the desire of those who fear him; he also hears their cry and saves them. (ESV)

Fear of God and faith in God go hand in hand (Psalms 115:11, Galatians 3:7-9, Genesis 22:12, Hebrews 11:17). Love for God and hatred of evil go hand in hand (Psalms 97:10, Romans 12:9). Deeds come from what's in the heart (John 3:19, Luke 6:45). Good deeds come from the love of good and evil deeds come from the love of evil. Abraham did not cheat (Genesis 14:21-24). He was a doer in reality (John 8:37-45).

> Hosea 6:6 - For I desire steadfast love and not sacrifice, the knowledge of God rather than burnt offerings. (ESV)
> Psalms 78:37 - Their heart was not steadfast toward him; they were not faithful to his covenant. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 10:6,11 - Now these things took place as examples for us, that we might not desire evil as they did. Now these things happened to them as an example, but they were written down for our instruction, on whom the end of the ages has come. (ESV)
> Proverbs 19:23 - The fear of the LORD leads to life, and whoever has it rests satisfied; he will not be visited by harm. (ESV)
> I Peter 1:22 - Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, (ESV)
> John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

Limited analogy Fear of God is strongly related to faith in God (Psalms 115:11) and love for God (Psalms 97:10). And so, what is the fear of God like? God gives us commandments for us to obey for our own good. For example, God commands us to love Him from all our heart, with all our soul, mind and strength. God wants us to love Him so that we will live. God is a consuming fire (Hebrews 12:28-29, Deuteronomy 4:23-26, Hebrews 10:26-27, Isaiah 66:15) and we should fear Him who can destroy body and soul in hell (Matthew 10:28). And God has adversaries and we don't want to be God's adversaries (Hebrews 10:23-31). God commands us to love our neighbour as ourself. God commands us to not steal from one-another, and to not bear false witness of one another, and to not commit adultery and to not murder, etc. These commandments are for our good. If God were to command us to not put our hand on a hot stove, that would be for our good. To have a healthy fear of the stove would be good. And with a healthy fear of God, we would not want to sin against God (Proverbs 16:6). And I think that Christians must have a healthy fear of God. We should love God and hate evil. And that's for our own good (Proverbs 8:35-36).

With the fear of God we want to please God, not displease Him, and it's for our own good:

> Proverbs 6:16-19 - There are six things that the LORD hates, seven that are an abomination to him: haughty (H7311 rā · mō · wṯ; haughty, proud) eyes, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, a heart that devises wicked plans, feet that make haste to run to evil, a false witness who breathes out lies, and one who sows discord among brothers. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 5:9-12 - So whether we are at home or away, we make it our aim to please him. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil. Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. We are not commending ourselves to you again but giving you cause to boast about us, so that you may be able to answer those who boast about outward appearance and not about what is in the heart. (ESV)

We have to be ”doers” (G4160 poiōn; doing) of Jesus' words, ”doers” of the truth:

> John 3:21 - The [one] however practicing (G4160 poiōn; doing) the truth (G225 alētheian) comes (G2064 erchetai) to the Light (G5457 phōs) that may be manifest (G5319 phanerōthē) his works (G2041 erga) that in God (G2316 Theō) have been (G1510 estin) done (G2038 eirgasmena) (Interlinear)

> John 3:17-21 - For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him. Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his deeds should be exposed. But whoever does (G4160 poiōn; doing) what is true comes to the light, so that it may be clearly seen that his deeds have been carried out in God. (ESV)

> Luke 6:47-49 - Everyone who comes to me and hears my words and does (G4160 poiōn; doing) them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. And when a flood arose, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it, because it had been well built. But the one who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. When the stream broke against it, immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great. (ESV)

When Romans 2:9-16 says ”all who have sinned under the law will be judged by the law”, think about that for a moment.

Have I personally sinned while having some knowledge of the Law (for example, the 10 commandments)? Yes, it's happened before. Before I was born-again, I was hopelessly enslaved to sin, but there is a difference now where I love Jesus and hope in Him and striving against sin while challenging, I believe is worth the fight. I do not feel enslaved to sin. I feel enslaved to righteousness from a love of rightetousness who is Jesus Christ, as God is teaching me His precepts and His will. The Apostle Paul had been judged by the Law in the past (Romans 7:9-13). But do I always sin while having knowledge of the law? Certainly not (Romans 6:15-23, James 1:21-25, I John 3:6-18, Romans 6:16-18). I have personally found the Law of God to be a valuable resource in my fight against bad doctrine and to stand secure in beliefs that I have about what God loves and hates, as I endeavour to seek to please God. So God has given me a heart that fears Him and when I read His law I naturally concur with it. It seems to me that God is teaching me and helping me to walk in His precepts as I'm holding faith in Jesus. I'm certainly not being conformed to the full Mosaic Law! That would be like an actual artwork (God's workmanship) being conformed to a sketch (shadow), rather than the finished product (the image of Christ to some degree of glory). But Jesus' commandments depend on the Great 2 commandments, so I'm certainly being conformed to do those. Also, the 10 commandments I believe are still to be kept (Mark 10:17-23), but in the Christian way (Malachi 1:6, Matthew 23:9).

A saved person who is walking by faith in Jesus Christ in love for Jesus Christ loving righteousness is under grace and does deeds out of a love of righteousness. Their heart becomes oriented in a particular way to be doing the will of God and in doing God's will for us which is our sanctification through faith in Jesus we are under grace. That makes sense because God wants us to be cleaned up through faith.

> I Thessalonians 4:3-8 - For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you abstain from sexual immorality; that each one of you know how to control his own body in holiness and honor, not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God; that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you. For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness. Therefore whoever disregards this, disregards not man but God, who gives his Holy Spirit to you. (ESV)

So when a person is actually operating from that love of Jesus Christ as their first agape love, doing faith, the law isn't judging them. That person is being a doer in reality of Jesus Christ's commandments under grace and getting cleaned up, being sanctified to keep God's commandments better as they hold Jesus as their first love (Matthew 10:32-38). That makes sense to me because Jesus said that whoever is believing (is doing faith) in Him is not judged. Through faith in Jesus Christ we become "doers in reality" of God's law, and we get better at it because God teaches us and sanctifies us as we trust and obey Jesus Christ from the heart. So we are justified by doing faith in Jesus and this doing of faith in Jesus is God's commandment for us being done and this brings us into keeping God's commandments in reality, and we get better at keeping God's commandments in reality as we continue doing this commandment of faith in Jesus. We get better at loving God and people (the way God commands) as we continue in faith in Jesus Christ. So being a doer in reality of the word, of Jesus Christ, of Jesus Christ's commandments, justifies because being commandments given by Christ Himself, to truly obey them implies that they are done out of a loving faith in Jesus Christ (Romans 14:23, Psalms 81:12-15). So a person is saved by obeying Jesus Christ and that salvation is inclusive of sanctification as we are saved by sanctification that happens as we hold faith (II Thessalonians 2:10-13, II Corinthians 3:18, Acts 26:16-18) in Jesus Christ.

> Romans 2:9-16 - There will be tribulation and distress for every human being who does evil, the Jew first and also the Greek, but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does good, the Jew first and also the Greek. For God shows no partiality. For all who have sinned without the law will also perish without the law, and all who have sinned under the law will be judged by the law. For it is not the hearers of the law who are righteous before God, but the doers of the law who will be justified. For when Gentiles, who do not have the law, by nature do what the law requires, they are a law to themselves, even though they do not have the law. They show that the work of the law is written on their hearts, while their conscience also bears witness, and their conflicting thoughts accuse or even excuse them on that day when, according to my gospel, God judges the secrets of men by Christ Jesus. (ESV)

God gives us a new heart so that we will love Him with all our heart, and all our soul::

> Deuteronomy 5:29 - Oh that they had such a mind as this always, to fear me and to keep all my commandments, that it might go well with them and with their descendants forever! (ESV)

> Deuteronomy 29:4 - But to this day the LORD has not given you a heart to understand or eyes to see or ears to hear. (ESV)

> Deuteronomy 30:6 - And the LORD your God will circumcise your heart and the heart of your offspring, so that you will love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, that you may live. (ESV)

Regarding works, what really matters is that our heart is in the right place:

> Matthew 6:19-21 - Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy and where thieves break in and steal, but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal. For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also. (ESV)

Being ”generous” and ”ready to share” are heart attitudes and as we practice these heart attitudes, the Scripture says we are laying up a good foundation for the future:

> I Timothy 6:17-19 - As for the rich in this present age, charge them not to be haughty, nor to set their hopes on the uncertainty of riches, but on God, who richly provides us with everything to enjoy. They are to do good, to be rich in good works, to be generous and ready to share, thus storing up treasure for themselves as a good foundation for the future, so that they may take hold of that which is truly life. (ESV)

> II Peter 1:3-12 - His divine power has granted to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of him who called us to his own glory and excellence, by which he has granted to us his precious and very great promises, so that through them you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world because of sinful desire. For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins. Therefore, brothers, be all the more diligent to make your calling and election sure, for if you practice these qualities you will never fall. For in this way there will be richly provided for you an entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Therefore I intend always to remind you of these qualities, though you know them and are established in the truth that you have. (ESV)

> Ecclesiastes 5:9-13 - But this is gain for a land in every way: a king committed to cultivated fields. He who loves money will not be satisfied with money, nor he who loves wealth with his income; this also is vanity. When goods increase, they increase who eat them, and what advantage has their owner but to see them with his eyes? Sweet is the sleep of a laborer, whether he eats little or much, but the full stomach of the rich will not let him sleep. There is a grievous evil that I have seen under the sun: riches were kept by their owner to his hurt, (ESV)

Since Jesus sees all hearts, we can simply come to Jesus by faith (John 6:45). Jesus, being the Word of God, sees our love for Him in our heart. Father God through Jesus sees if we have faith in Jesus' blood. God knows when we believe He exists and when we seek to do what pleases Him. God knows if we have the fear of Him in our hearts. Coming to Jesus doesn't have to take long. You can do it here and now:

> John 6:45 - It is written in the Prophets, And they will all be taught by God. Everyone who has heard and learned from the Father comes to me— (ESV)

> John 5:38-42 - and you do not have his word abiding in you, for you do not believe the one whom he has sent. You search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness about me, yet you refuse to come to me that you may have life. I do not receive glory from people. But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. (ESV)

> Romans 10:4-11 - For Christ is the end (G5056 telos) of the law for righteousness to everyone who believes. For Moses writes about the righteousness that is based on the law, that the person who does the commandments shall live by them. But the righteousness based on faith says, Do not say in your heart, Who will ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down) or Who will descend into the abyss? (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead). But what does it say? The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart (*that is, the word of faith that we proclaim); because, if you confess with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you *will be saved. For with the heart one believes and is justified, and with the mouth one confesses and is saved. For the Scripture says, Everyone who believes in him will not be put to shame. (ESV)

> Acts 10:41-44 - not to all the people but to us who had been chosen by God as witnesses, who ate and drank with him after he rose from the dead. And he commanded us to preach to the people and to testify that he is the one appointed by God to be judge of the living and the dead. To him all the prophets bear witness that everyone who believes in him receives forgiveness of sins through his name. While Peter was still saying these things, the Holy Spirit fell on all who heard the word. (ESV)

> Romans 15:13 - May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace as you trust in him, so that you may overflow with hope by the power of the Holy Spirit. (NIV)

> II Timothy 2:22 - So flee youthful passions and pursue righteousness, faith, love, and peace, along with those who call on the Lord from a pure heart. (ESV)

youtube.com: To God be the glory {@ THENBA } Lyrics:

> 1 To God be the glory, great things He hath done, so loved He the world that He gave us His Son, who yielded His life an atonement for sin, and opened the life-gate that all may go in.
> Refrain:
> Praise the Lord, praise the Lord, let the earth hear His voice! Praise the Lord, praise the Lord, let the people rejoice! O come to the Father through Jesus the Son, and give Him the glory, great things He hath done.
> 2 O perfect redemption, the purchase of blood, to ev'ry believer the promise of God; the vilest offender who truly believes, that moment from Jesus a pardon receives. [Refrain]
> 3 Great things He hath taught us, great things He hath done, and great our rejoicing through Jesus the Son; but purer, and higher, and greater will be our wonder, our transport, when Jesus we see. [Refrain]

If a person is learning from Father God (even from Jesus' words) and receiving Jesus, they're coming to Jesus:

> John 6:45 - It is written in the Prophets, And they will all be taught by God. Everyone who has heard and learned from the Father comes to me— (ESV)

> John 12:44-50 - And Jesus cried out and said, Whoever believes in me, believes not in me but in him who sent me. And whoever sees me sees him who sent me. I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world. The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. For I have not spoken on my own authority, but the Father who sent me has himself given me a commandment—what to say and what to speak. And I know that his commandment is eternal life. What I say, therefore, I say as the Father has told me. (ESV)

Coming to Jesus and hearing what Jesus Christ says and doing what He says is like building a house on the foundation of Jesus Christ the Rock:

> Luke 6:46-49 - Why do you call me Lord, Lord, and not do what I tell you? Everyone who comes to me and hears my words and does them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. And when a flood arose, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it, because it had been well built. But the one who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. When the stream broke against it, immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 3:7-15 - So neither he who plants nor he who waters is anything, but only God who gives the growth. He who plants and he who waters are one, and each will receive his wages according to his labor. For we are God's fellow workers. You are God's field, God's building. According to the grace of God given to me, like a skilled master builder I laid a foundation, and someone else is building upon it. Let each one take care how he builds upon it. For no one can lay a foundation other than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ. Now if anyone builds on the foundation with gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, straw— each one's work will become manifest, for the Day will disclose it, because it will be revealed by fire, and the fire will test what sort of work each one has done. If the work that anyone has built on the foundation survives, he will receive a reward. If anyone's work is burned up, he will suffer loss, though he himself will be saved, but only as through fire. (ESV)

We get cleansed from our former sins and then we must go forward walking by the Spirit, "from the love of the truth holding faith in Jesus, abiding in His commandments", by faith obeying Jesus just like Abraham did. When I think faith, I think of, the attitudes of the heart (love for the truth, love, faith, trust, hope, obedience, good conscience), and from good conscience, peace and joy. We must go on walking by faith in Jesus Christ:

> II Peter 1:5-10 - For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins. Therefore, brothers, be all the more diligent to make your calling and election sure, for if you practice these qualities you will never fall. (ESV)

> Galatians 5:25 - If we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit. (ESV)

> Proverbs 4:23 - Keep your heart with all vigilance, for from it flow the springs of life. (ESV)

> I Timothy 1:18-19 - This charge I entrust to you, Timothy, my child, in accordance with the prophecies previously made about you, that by them you may wage the good warfare, holding faith and a good conscience. By rejecting this, some have made shipwreck of their faith, (ESV)

Those who truly fear God, truly have faith in Him:

Psalms 115:11 You who fear Yahweh trust in Yahweh their help and their shield He [is] (Interlinear)

> Galatians 3:5-7 - Does he who supplies the Spirit to you and works miracles among you do so by works of the law, or by hearing with faith— just as Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness? Know then that it is those of faith who are the sons of Abraham. (ESV)

> Genesis 22:12 - He said, Do not lay your hand on the boy or do anything to him, for now I know that you fear God, seeing you have not withheld your son, your only son, from me. (ESV)

Likewise, geniune love for God involves a hatred of evil:

Psalms 97:10 You who love (H157 ʾō · hă · ḇê) Yahweh (H3068 Yah · weh) hate (H8130 śin · ʾū) evil (H7451 rāʿ) He preserves the souls of His saints out of the hand of the wicked He delivers them (Interlinear)

> Romans 12:9 - Let love be genuine. Abhor what is evil; hold fast to what is good. (ESV)

A person either prefers light to darkness, or they prefer darkness to light:

> John 3:19 - And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. (ESV)

Everyone must serve someone or something. We can't love both God and evil:

> Matthew 6:24 - No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money. (ESV)

> Romans 6:15-23 - What then? Are we to sin because we are not under law but under grace? By no means! Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. When you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. But what fruit were you getting at that time from the things of which you are now ashamed? The end of those things is death. But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

> I Kings 18:21 - And Elijah came near to all the people and said, How long will you go limping between two different opinions? If the LORD is God, follow him; but if Baal, then follow him. And the people did not answer him a word. (ESV)

We must turn to the love of God:

> Acts 26:18 - to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me. (ESV)

Analogy In mathematics, you may have met the concept of a "gradient". If the gradient is positive then the function is increasing in value as its input is increasing. In sanctification, having a "positive gradient" is having "faith and love for God" (the love of the truth, receptive to Jesus) where a person draws near to God (Hebrews 11:6, Hebrews 7:25, James 4:7-8). Having a negative gradient (hatred for the truth) leads to death. - `https://simple.wikipedia.org/wiki/Gradient`

> Proverbs 8:35-36 - For whoever finds me finds life and obtains favor from the LORD, but he who fails to find me injures himself; all who hate me love death. (ESV)

> I Thessalonians 5:8-10 - But since we belong to the day, let us be sober, having put on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet the hope of salvation. For God has not destined us for wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us so that whether we are awake or asleep we might live with him. (ESV)

And clearly we must continue in the faith (I Corinthians 15:1-2, Colossians 1:21-23, Hebrews 3:5-6, Hebrews 3:14).

We should continue preferring God to evil. From the heart no longer desiring what is evil:

> Romans 16:17-20 - I appeal to you, brothers, to watch out for those who cause divisions and create obstacles contrary to the doctrine that you have been taught; avoid them. For such persons do not serve our Lord Christ, but their own appetites, and by smooth talk and flattery they deceive the hearts of the naive. For your obedience is known to all, so that I rejoice over you, but I want you to be wise as to what is good and innocent as to what is evil. The God of peace will soon crush Satan under your feet. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. (ESV)

> Hosea 10:2-3 - Their heart is false; now they must bear their guilt. The LORD will break down their altars and destroy their pillars. For now they will say: We have no king, for we do not fear the LORD; and a king—what could he do for us? (ESV)

A person is justified by having faith in Jesus Christ (Galatians 2:15-16) in their heart (Romans 10:10). A person is sanctified (cleaned up, conformed to Christ's image) by faith in Jesus Christ (Acts 26:16-18) and love for family in Christ (I Peter 1:22). A person is saved through sanctification (II Thessalonians 2:10-13, II Corinthians 3:18). The propitiation for sin that empowers this sanctification is the shed blood of Jesus Christ (Hebrews 9:22).

In engineer language, the "justification", therefore, I'd liken to a gradient, and that is the heart posture towards God by having a loving faith in Jesus Christ. And the "sanctification", I'd liken to be the "transformation" of the person towards conforming to Christ's image.

Salvation involves both justification (which comes from having a commendable heart attitude: Isaiah 45:22-25, I Corinthians 1:30) and sanctification (which is the transformation unto Christ's image from one degree of glory to the next: II Thessalonians 2:13, II Corinthians 3:18).

> II Thessalonians 2:13 - But we ought always to give thanks to God for you, brothers beloved by the Lord, because God chose you as the firstfruits to be saved, through sanctification by the Spirit and belief in the truth. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 3:18 - And we all, with unveiled face, beholding the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same image from one degree of glory to another. For this comes from the Lord who is the Spirit. (ESV)

Salvation involves Jesus Christ saving us from practicing evil deeds so that Father God's wrath doesn't come against us:

> Romans 5:9-10 - Since, therefore, we have now been justified by his blood, much more shall we be saved by him from the wrath of God. For if while we were enemies we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, now that we are reconciled, shall we be saved by his life. (ESV)

> Ephesians 5:5-8 - For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. Therefore do not associate (G1096 ginesthe; be) (G4830 symmetochoi; partakers) wiith them; for at one time you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light (ESV)

> I Thessalonians 5:8-10 - But since we belong to the day, let us be sober, having put on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet the hope of salvation. For God has not destined us for wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us so that whether we are awake or asleep we might live with him. (ESV)

youtube.com: Rock of Ages { Grace Community Church } {@ MartijndeGroot } Lyrics:

> 1 Rock of Ages, cleft for me, let me hide myself in thee; let the water and the blood, from thy wounded side which flowed, be of sin the double cure; save from wrath and make me pure.

Let's be really clear, we have to have changed to have stopped desiring evil. If a person loves evil in preference to God then they are not saved, and if they have rejected Jesus then nor are they presently even being saved, but rather they are presently condemned having rejected Jesus, and have been judged already and are walking towards their doom and heaping judgement on themselves as they go along and will perish unless by the grace of God they are brought to repentance:

> Galatians 6:7-10 - Do not be deceived: God is not mocked, for whatever one sows, that will he also reap. For the one who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption, but the one who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life. And let us not grow weary of doing good, for in due season we will reap, if we do not give up. So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to those who are of the household of faith. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 10:5-11 - Nevertheless, with most of them God was not pleased, for they were overthrown in the wilderness. Now these things took place as examples for us, that we might not desire evil as they did. Do not be idolaters as some of them were; as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink and rose up to play. We must not indulge in sexual immorality as some of them did, and twenty-three thousand fell in a single day. We must not put Christ to the test, as some of them did and were destroyed by serpents, nor grumble, as some of them did and were destroyed by the Destroyer. Now these things happened to them as an example, but they were written down for our instruction, on whom the end (G5056 telē) of the ages has come. (ESV)
> John 15:22-24 - If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not have been guilty of sin, but now they have no excuse for their sin. Whoever hates me hates my Father also. If I had not done among them the works that no one else did, they would not be guilty of sin, but now they have seen and hated both me and my Father. (ESV)
> Mark 16:16 - Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved, but whoever does not believe will be condemned. (ESV)
> John 3:18 - Whoever believes in him is not condemned (G2919 krinetai: is judged V-PIM/P-3S), but whoever does not believe is condemned already (G2919 kekritai: has been judged V-RIM/P-3S), because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. (ESV)

We must practice the truth:

> John 3:21 - But he who practices the truth comes to the Light, so that his deeds may be manifested as having been wrought in God."
> Hebrews 10:14 - For by a single offering he has perfected for all time those who are being sanctified.

Analogy Let's say you have genuine faith and love for Jesus which involves loving one's family. Holding this faith, you see a brother in need. They look hungry and you have cookies, so you ask them if they would like a cookie and they say yes. So far so good. Now along the way to give them a cookie you change your mind and heart attitude and secretly start to hope that they choke on the cookie. Now when you meet them with the cookie, would it still be a good deed you are doing now that you desire evil for this person? Of course it would no longer be a good deed you are doing. We need to be overcome by practicing righteousness (Romans 6:17-20, II Peter 2:19).

We make God our strength when our heart is turned towards God. We are relying on God when we are trusting Jesus Christ and from a love of the truth in our hearts, obedient to Him, so relying on God, and having faith in God and hoping in Him and doing good from our own hearts is not in opposition (i.e. relying on God and doing good are not in opposition), Biblically speaking:

> Jeremiah 17:5 - Thus says the LORD: Cursed is the man who trusts in man and makes flesh his strength, whose heart turns away from the LORD. (ESV)

So, therefore, those who truly love God, truly have faith in Him. Because love for God entails fear of God which entails hatred of evil, and hatred of evil entails having faith in God:

> Proverbs 8:13 - The fear of the LORD is hatred of evil. Pride and arrogance and the way of evil and perverted speech I hate. (ESV)

> Proverbs 13:5 - The righteous hates falsehood, but the wicked brings shame and disgrace. (ESV)

God is just when He justifies. God is right when He declares someone is walking rightly. When God justifies a person, then they have His righteousness:

> Romans 3:21-26 - But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from (G5565 chōris) the law (G3551 nomou), although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified (G1344 dikaioumenoi; being justified) by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just (G1342 dikaion;) and the justifier (G1344 dikaiounta; justifying) of the one who has faith in Jesus. (ESV)

> Psalms 103:17-18 - But the steadfast love of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting on those who fear him, and his righteousness to children's children, to those who keep his covenant and remember to do his commandments. (ESV)

David who wrote Psalms 103:17-18 had God's righteousness and I wholeheartedly believe Psalms 103:17-18 still applies to the Christian who by the law of faith abides in Jesus Christ's commandments (Romans 3:27, I Corinthians 9:21, Matthew 13:41):

> Hebrews 11:32-34 - And what more shall I say? For time would fail me to tell of Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah, of David and Samuel and the prophets— who through faith conquered kingdoms, enforced justice, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, quenched the power of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, were made strong out of weakness, became mighty in war, put foreign armies to flight. (ESV)

> Psalms 11:1-7 - 1 In Yahweh I take refuge; How can you say to my soul, "Flee as a bird to your mountain; 2 For, behold, the wicked bend the bow, They make ready their arrow upon the string To shoot in darkness at the upright in heart. 3 If the foundations are destroyed, What can the righteous do?" 4 Yahweh is in His holy temple; Yahweh's throne is in heaven; His eyes behold, His eyelids test the sons of men. 5 Yahweh tests the righteous, But the wicked and the one who loves violence His soul hates. 6 May He rain snares upon the wicked; Fire and brimstone and burning wind will be the portion of their cup. 7 For Yahweh is righteous, He loves righteousness; The upright will behold His face. (LSB)

Someone who is "in Christ Jesus" has God's righteousness who is Jesus Christ, and they are abiding in Jesus Christ's commandments. Yeshuah Hamashiach (Jesus Christ) is Yahweh (Jehovah) and is God the Son of God:

> Isaiah 45:22-25 - Turn to me and be saved, all the ends of the earth! For I am God, and there is no other. By myself I have sworn; from my mouth has gone out in righteousness a word that shall not return: To me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear allegiance. Only in the LORD, it shall be said of me, are righteousness and strength; to him shall come and be ashamed all who were incensed against him. In the LORD all the offspring of Israel shall be justified and shall glory. (ESV)

> Isaiah 45:25 - In Jehovah are all the seed of Israel justified, And they boast themselves.' (YLT)

> I Corinthians 1:30 - It is because of Him that you are in Christ Jesus, who has become for us wisdom from God: our righteousness, holiness, and redemption. (engbsb2020eb)

> I John 3:21-24 - Beloved, if our heart does not condemn us, we have confidence before God; and whatever we ask we receive from him, because we keep his commandments and do what pleases him. And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

> Proverbs 1:28-31 - Then they will call upon me, but I will not answer; they will seek me diligently but will not find me. Because they hated knowledge and did not choose the fear of the LORD, would have none of my counsel and despised all my reproof, therefore they shall eat the fruit of their way, and have their fill of their own devices. (ESV)

> Jeremiah 23:5-6 - Behold, the days are coming, declares the LORD, when I will raise up for David a righteous Branch, and he shall reign as king and deal wisely, and shall execute justice and righteousness in the land. In his days Judah will be saved, and Israel will dwell securely. And this is the name by which he will be called: The LORD is our righteousness. (ESV)

In Christ, new creation. The soul is who the person really is. New soul, new person. God is Dad:

> II Corinthians 5:17 - Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation. The old has passed away; behold, the new has come. (ESV)

> Genesis 2:7 - And the LORD God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul (H120 hā · ’ā · ḏām; the man) (H5315 lə · ne · peš; a soul; Soul, life, self, person, heart, creature, mind, living being) (H2416 ḥay · yāh; living). (KJV)

> Matthew 23:9 - And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. (ESV)

In order to have a genuine faith in Jesus, we need to be people who are after God’s commendation. So rather than those who seek appraisal in this world and commendation from even fellow Christians, we need to instead be seeking commendation from God Himself. If a person is a ”seeker of the glory that comes from man” then they are not ”seekers of the glory that comes from God” (Romans 2:6-11) and they can’t have genuine faith in Jesus:

> John 5:28-29,37-47 - Do not marvel at this, for an hour is coming when all who are in the tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who have done good to the resurrection of life, and those who have done evil to the resurrection of judgment. And the Father who sent me has himself borne witness about me. His voice you have never heard, his form you have never seen, and you do not have his word abiding in you, for you do not believe the one whom he has sent. You search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness about me, yet you refuse to come to me that you may have life. I do not receive glory from people. But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. I have come in my Father’s name, and you do not receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him. How can you believe, when you receive glory from one another and do not seek the glory that comes from the only God? Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father. There is one who accuses you: Moses, on whom you have set your hope. If you believed Moses, you would believe me; for he wrote of me. But if you do not believe his writings, how will you believe my words? (ESV)

> Hebrews 11:6 - And without faith it is impossible to please him, for whoever would draw near to God must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who seek him. (ESV)

By faith in Jesus Christ, and having heard in God’s word what pleases Him, we act in faith in God to do things which we hope He is pleased with, hoping for commendation from Him:

> John 5:44 - How can you believe, when you receive glory from one another and do not seek the glory that comes from the only God? (ESV)
> I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)
> Proverbs 12:8 - A man is commended according to his good sense, but one of twisted mind is despised. (ESV)

Analogy Let's just say you wanted to do something nice for somebody for their birthday and so you make them a chocolate cake. But when it came to giving the cake, it was rejected. You didn't know but it just so happened that chocolate cakes remind that person of something bad that they experienced. You didn't know, but you thought you had good motivations (at least you thought you were doing a good thing, or perhaps thought what you were doing was more good than bad, let's just say). Someone else might accuse you of bad intentions and say that it was a very bad thing that you did. But Christians aim to receive praise from God who sees even our hearts, rather than from anyone else. This isn't reason enough alone to by default act presumptuously (and ask forgiveness later). If a person is by faith obeying Jesus' instructions (I John 5:1-2) they have done nothing wrong in doing that, even if they are criticised by others for having done wrong. But acting out of sincerity and out of good intention could potentially also be done not out of a trust for the truth, but rather out of trusting some other thing that is not the truth. For example, a person's personal truth (i.e. their beliefs) may not be in agreement with the truth of God. It's important that when we do act out of sincerity, that it's also out of faith in God (in agreement with God to our knowledge). What is not done in faith is sin (faith being trust in and love for the truth).

Whatever does not proceed from faith sin (Romans 14:23), and sin is lawlessness (I John 3:4), and any obedience that doesn't come from a love for the truth is feigned (Luke 6:45, Psalms 81:15). We must be law of faith abiding (John 14:15, Romans 3:27, I Corinthians 9:21, Matthew 13:41).

We are justified by faith in Jesus, and what is not done in faith is sin. So if a person really were to commit sin, then they have done so without faith:

> II Thessalonians 3:2 - and that we may be delivered from wicked and evil men. For not all have faith. (ESV)
> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)
> John 16:9 - concerning sin, because they do not believe in me; (ESV)

As a slave of righteousness, one's actions are done while holding faith in the truth, trusting, believing, loving that which is the Truth (i.e. trusting even the teaching). Being "obedient from the heart" implies that one "loves the Truth" (Luke 6:45, Psalms 81:15):

> Romans 6:16-18 - Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. (ESV)
> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

For example, where Jesus says it's more blessed to give than to receive (Acts 20:35), the person with faith in Jesus Christ trusts that this is true. Worldly wisdom would say that trusting God's advice is folly. But faith in Jesus Christ invests in God rather than investing in perishable things:

> II Corinthians 9:6 - The point is this: whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. (ESV)

The Spirit whom those who have faith in Jesus receive works through us:

> John 7:39 - Now this he said about the Spirit, whom those who believed in him were to receive, for as yet the Spirit had not been given, because Jesus was not yet glorified.

Jesus glorified God by accomplishing the work that God gave Him - Jesus obeyed God.

> John 17:4 - I glorified you on earth, having accomplished the work that you gave me to do.

Likewise, we must obey God, and obey God by obeying Jesus, and being sanctified in the Truth. By having faith in Jesus and trusting in the Truth, and obeying, we are cleaned, transformed and made to glorify God:

> John 17:8-26 - For I have given them the words that you gave me, and they have received them and have come to know in truth that I came from you; and they have believed that you sent me. I am praying for them. I am not praying for the world but for those whom you have given me, for they are yours. All mine are yours, and yours are mine, and I am glorified in them. And I am no longer in the world, but they are in the world, and I am coming to you. Holy Father, keep them in your name, which you have given me, that they may be one, even as we are one. While I was with them, I kept them in your name, which you have given me. I have guarded them, and not one of them has been lost except the son of destruction, that the Scripture might be fulfilled. But now I am coming to you, and these things I speak in the world, that they may have my joy fulfilled in themselves. I have given them your word, and the world has hated them because they are not of the world, just as I am not of the world. I do not ask that you take them out of the world, but that you keep them from the evil one. They are not of the world, just as I am not of the world. Sanctify them in the truth; your word is truth. As you sent me into the world, so I have sent them into the world. And for their sake I consecrate myself, that they also may be sanctified in truth. I do not ask for these only, but also for those who will believe in me through their word, that they may all be one, just as you, Father, are in me, and I in you, that they also may be in us, so that the world may believe that you have sent me. The glory that you have given me I have given to them, that they may be one even as we are one, I in them and you in me, that they may become perfectly one, so that the world may know that you sent me and loved them even as you loved me. Father, I desire that they also, whom you have given me, may be with me where I am, to see my glory that you have given me because you loved me before the foundation of the world. O righteous Father, even though the world does not know you, I know you, and these know that you have sent me. I made known to them your name, and I will continue to make it known, that the love with which you have loved me may be in them, and I in them.

> II Thessalonians 1:10 - when he comes on that day to be glorified in his saints, and to be marveled at among all who have believed, because our testimony to you was believed.

We are to be conformed into Christ's image:

> Romans 8:29 - For those whom he foreknew he also predestined to be conformed to the image of his Son, in order that he might be the firstborn among many brothers. (ESV)

Jesus glorifies us, provided we suffer for His sake, by working through us to do God's work which also glorifies Jesus and glorifies God:

> John 14:13 - Whatever you ask in my name, this I will do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

> John 15:8 - By this my Father is glorified, that you bear much fruit and so prove to be my disciples.

> John 17:10-11 - All mine are yours, and yours are mine, and I am glorified in them. And I am no longer in the world, but they are in the world, and I am coming to you. Holy Father, keep them in your name, which you have given me, that they may be one, even as we are one. (ESV)

> Romans 8:17 - and if children, then heirs—heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ, provided we suffer with him in order that we may also be glorified with him. (ESV)

Connecting Romans 2:6-11 to John 5:28-29,37-47. We must be those who do good from a love of the Truth and be those who seek the glory that comes from the only God (i.e. seek God's commendation, seek to please God). So we must love Jesus Christ and from the love of Jesus Christ and His words and His deeds.

> Galatians 6:7-10 - Do not be deceived: God is not mocked, for whatever one sows, that will he also reap. For the one who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption, but the one who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life. And let us not grow weary of doing good, for in due season we will reap, if we do not give up. So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to those who are of the household of faith. (ESV)

So without the love of God in us, and a desire to please God seeking the glory from God, seeking God's approval (as opposed to man's approval), we can't even have genuine faith. Thankfully, God is pleased with us if we receive Jesus, if we love Him, if we have faith in Him:

> John 16:25-28 - I have said these things to you in figures of speech. The hour is coming when I will no longer speak to you in figures of speech but will tell you plainly about the Father. In that day you will ask in my name, and I do not say to you that I will ask the Father on your behalf; for the Father himself loves (G5368 philei) you, because you have loved (G5368 pephilēkate) me and have believed that I came from God. I came from the Father and have come into the world, and now I am leaving the world and going to the Father.

God loved us first in sending Jesus Christ to die for our sins and raised to life for our justification so that we might live through faith in Jesus Christ (trusting and abiding in Jesus' teachings out of a love for the truth, out of a love for the light, out of a love for Jesus Christ and His word).

It's not a belief in God that is devoid of love which saves a person. It's faith in God that loves the Truth that saves a person (II Thessalonians 2:9-10, John 14:15). It's trusting belief in God that understands God's worth that saves, knowing we need God, in the heart of a person valuing Jesus the Messiah. When we call on Jesus to save us, it's with love for Jesus because we know we need Him (Proverbs 1:28-31). Though He loved us first, before we have loved Him and we recognise that. From a sincere faith, a pure heart and good conscience, we love one-another. It's obedience from the start to the finish (Philippians 2:12-16). It's not faith then obedience. Faith is obedient, and it is loving (I John 3:23).

Love:

- God loved us first (I John 4:19).
- If anyone loves God, he is known by God (I Corinthians 8:3).
- Whoever loves, keeping Jesus' commandments, knows God (I John 4:7).
- Father God loves those who love Jesus (John 16:25-28).
- Whoever keeps Jesus' commandments loves Jesus (John 14:21).
- Whoever loves Jesus must also love their family in Christ (I John 4:19-21).
- Whoever hates their brother doesn't have eternal life in them (I John 3:13-16).

> I John 3:13-16 - Do not be surprised, brothers, that the world hates you. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. (ESV)

We should examine ourselves to see if we are sound in the faith (in the teaching of Jesus Christ):

> II Corinthians 13:1-9 - This is the third time I am coming to you. Every charge must be established by the evidence of two or three witnesses. I warned those who sinned before and all the others, and I warn them now while absent, as I did when present on my second visit, that if I come again I will not spare them— since you seek proof that Christ is speaking in me. He is not weak in dealing with you, but is powerful among you. For he was crucified in weakness, but lives by the power of God. For we also are weak in him, but in dealing with you we will live with him by the power of God. Examine yourselves, to see whether you are in the faith. Test yourselves. Or do you not realize this about yourselves, that Jesus Christ is in you?—unless indeed you fail to meet the test! I hope you will find out that we have not failed the test. But we pray to God that you may not do wrong—not that we may appear to have met the test, but that you may do what is right, though we may seem to have failed. For we cannot do anything against the truth, but only for the truth. For we are glad when we are weak and you are strong. Your restoration is what we pray for. (ESV)

Going forward, we must continue in the teaching of Jesus Christ. We must continue trusting and being corrected by God:

> II John 1:9-10 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, (ESV)

> I Peter 4:12-19 - Beloved, do not be surprised at the fiery trial when it comes upon you to test you, as though something strange were happening to you. But rejoice insofar as you share Christ's sufferings, that you may also rejoice and be glad when his glory is revealed. If you are insulted for the name of Christ, you are blessed, because the Spirit of glory and of God rests upon you. But let none of you suffer as a murderer or a thief or an evildoer or as a meddler. Yet if anyone suffers as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in that name. For it is time for judgment to begin at the household of God; and if it begins with us, what will be the outcome for those who do not obey the gospel of God? And If the righteous is scarcely saved, what will become of the ungodly and the sinner? Therefore let those who suffer according to God's will entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good. (ESV)

> Hebrews 2:1 - Therefore we must pay much closer attention to what we have heard, lest we drift away from it. (ESV)

And those who have faith in Jesus, have faith in Father God:

> John 12:44-48 - And Jesus cried out and said, Whoever believes in me, believes not in me but in him who sent me. And whoever sees me sees him who sent me. I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge (G2919 krinō: do judge) him; for I did not come to judge the world (G2919 krinō: I might judge) but to save the world. The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. (ESV)

And God has commanded all people everywhere to repent, to turn away from evil and to put their faith in Him:

> Acts 17:30-31 - The times of ignorance God overlooked, but now he commands all people everywhere to repent, because he has fixed a day on which he will judge the world in righteousness by a man whom he has appointed; and of this he has given assurance to all by raising him from the dead. (ESV)

> Acts 14:15-16 - Men, why are you doing these things? We also are men, of like nature with you, and we bring you good news, that you should turn from these vain things to a living God, who made the heaven and the earth and the sea and all that is in them. In past generations he allowed all the nations to walk in their own ways. (ESV)

Forgiveness of sins is given to those who repent (those who turn away from evil, stop loving evil and turn to the love of the truth, the love of God, the love of Jesus Christ):

> Luke 24:45-47 - Then he opened their minds to understand the Scriptures, and said to them, Thus it is written, that the Christ should suffer and on the third day rise from the dead, and that repentance and forgiveness of sins should be proclaimed in his name to all nations, beginning from Jerusalem. (ESV)

> Acts 3:19 - Repent therefore, and turn again, that your sins may be blotted out, (ESV)

> Luke 13:5 - No, I tell you; but unless you repent, you will all likewise perish. (ESV)

Jesus loved us first:

> John 15:9-12 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. (ESV)

Someone who has the love of God in them would receive Jesus:

> John 5:42-43 - But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. I have come in my Father's name, and you do not receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him. (ESV)

So, real agapé love for Jesus saves. Real agapé love for Jesus loves Father God (John 5:37-42). And hatred for Jesus hates Father God (John 15:22-24).
And those who hate Father God will be repayed (Deuteronomy 32:43).

> Deuteronomy 7:9-10 - Know therefore that the LORD your God is God, the faithful God who keeps covenant and steadfast love with those who love him and keep his commandments, to a thousand generations, and repays to their face those who hate him, by destroying them. He will not be slack with one who hates him. He will repay him to his face. (ESV)

In giving Jesus, in sending Jesus to us, and in Christ dying for us, God demonstrates His love for us (John 3:16, Romans 5:7-10).

> As Jesus put the needs of all people ahead of his own when he was on this earth. He helped all people in need, not just those who were his followers. Jesus loved all.

> Ephesians 5:1 - Therefore be imitators of God, as beloved children. (ESV)

A person who truly loves Jesus is forgiven by necessity just as it is that someone who is truly forgiven by Jesus must also have love for Jesus (Luke 7:47). But God loved us first (I John 4:19), so it follows that someone can have been loved without having yet loved back. While Jesus may intercede for those who act ignorantly in disbelief (Luke 23:34, I Timothy 1:13), Jesus calls a person guilty of sin for knowing God's will but not doing it (John 15:22-24, Luke 12:47-48). A person is forgiven by faith in Jesus' name (Acts 10:43), which necessitates the fear of God, so a love for truth (i.e. the truth of who Jesus is: Son of God, Son of Man, Messiah), rather than a hatred of the truth. A person is condemned for rejecting Jesus (Mark 16:16, John 15:22-24). Continuing in faith in God and love for God is necessary for ongoing forgiveness (Acts 26:18, John 8:42, John 1:12, I John 3:10, Colossians 1:13-14, I John 1:7), then God bears with us in hope (I Corinthians 13:7) that we will love Him back (I Timothy 2:4, I John 4:7-21) so that we will live (Deuteronomy 30:6). A person must not remain hateful towards God, nor towards those who are their family in Christ (I John 5:2, I John 4:21).

> Matthew 6:24 - No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money. (ESV)

So even though God takes no pleasure in the death of the wicked (Ezekiel 18:20-24), God doesn't force us to love Him, but we need to (John 5:37-42, John 15:22-24).

God hands people who resist Him over to their own counsel, leading to their self-destruction. As God speaks through the prophet Ezekiel [in Ezekiel 18:30], "Repent and turn from all your transgressions, lest iniquity be your ruin":

> Psalms 81:12-15 - So I gave them up to their stubborn hearts to follow their own devices. If only My people would listen to Me, if Israel would follow My ways, how soon I would subdue their enemies and turn My hand against their foes! Those who hate the LORD would feign obedience, and their doom would last forever. (engbsb2020eb)

> Romans 1:24-27 - Therefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts to impurity, to the dishonoring of their bodies among themselves, because they exchanged the truth about God for a lie and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever! Amen. For this reason God gave them up to dishonorable passions. For their women exchanged natural relations for those that are contrary to nature; and the men likewise gave up natural relations with women and were consumed with passion for one another, men committing shameless acts with men and receiving in themselves the due penalty for their error. (ESV)

So we come to Jesus, as the woman did in Luke 7:40-50, by faith and love for Jesus.

How do we love Jesus? Well, we treasure Him (Matthew 13:44-46). We understand He loved us first (I John 4:10). We confess Jesus Christ is the Son of God (I John 4:15-17) from a heart of love for the truth (Matthew 12:33-37, Romans 10:8-10).

> Isaiah 29:13-14 - And the Lord said: Because this people draw near with their mouth and honor me with their lips, while their hearts are far from me, and their fear of me is a commandment taught by men, therefore, behold, I will again do wonderful things with this people, with wonder upon wonder; and the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the discernment of their discerning men shall be hidden. (ESV)

Jesus interceded to Father God on behalf of those who did not know what they doing as they were complicit in crucifying Him but they, like the Apostle Paul later, were acting ignorantly in disbelief:

> Luke 23:34 - And Jesus said, Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do. And they cast lots to divide his garments. (ESV)

> Isaiah 53:12 - Therefore I will divide him a portion with the many, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong, because he poured out his soul to death and was numbered with the transgressors; yet he bore the sin of many, and makes intercession for the transgressors. (ESV)

> I Timothy 1:13 - though formerly I was a blasphemer, persecutor, and insolent opponent. But I received mercy because I had acted ignorantly in unbelief, (ESV)

Jesus does intercede to Father God but it's those who are drawing near to God through Him who are being saved by Him:

> Hebrews 7:25 - Consequently, he is able to save to the uttermost those who draw near to God through him, since he always lives to make intercession for them. (ESV)

We are allowed to intercede to God for Him to not hold sin against those who wrong us:

> Acts 7:60 - And falling to his knees he cried out with a loud voice, Lord, do not hold this sin against them. And when he had said this, he fell asleep. (ESV)

But if Jesus is rejected not in ignorance then a person will receive what they deserve for hating God:

> John 15:22-24 - If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not have been guilty of sin, but now they have no excuse for their sin. Whoever hates me hates my Father also. If I had not done among them the works that no one else did, they would not be guilty of sin, but now they have seen and hated both me and my Father. (ESV)

> Luke 12:47-48 - And that servant who knew his master's will but did not get ready or act according to his will, will receive a severe beating. But the one who did not know, and did what deserved a beating, will receive a light beating. Everyone to whom much was given, of him much will be required, and from him to whom they entrusted much, they will demand the more. (ESV)

> John 19:11 - Jesus answered him, You would have no authority over me at all unless it had been given you from above. Therefore he who delivered me over to you has the greater sin. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 9:16 - For if I preach the gospel, that gives me no ground for boasting. For necessity is laid upon me. Woe to me if I do not preach the gospel! (ESV)

We love (walking according to Jesus Christ's commandments) because He first loved us (I John 4:19, II John 1:6). We share the teachings of Christ (Romans 10:11-15) while not being hypocrites (Matthew 23:28, Proverbs 26:23, Isaiah 29:13-14), but exercise courteousy and don't force ourselves or the gospel onto people when they have rejected us or have rejected it to us (Luke 10:5-11).

> Proverbs 26:23 - Like the glaze covering an earthen vessel are fervent lips with an evil heart. (ESV)

> Proverbs 26:24 - Whoever hates disguises himself with his lips and harbors deceit in his heart; (ESV)

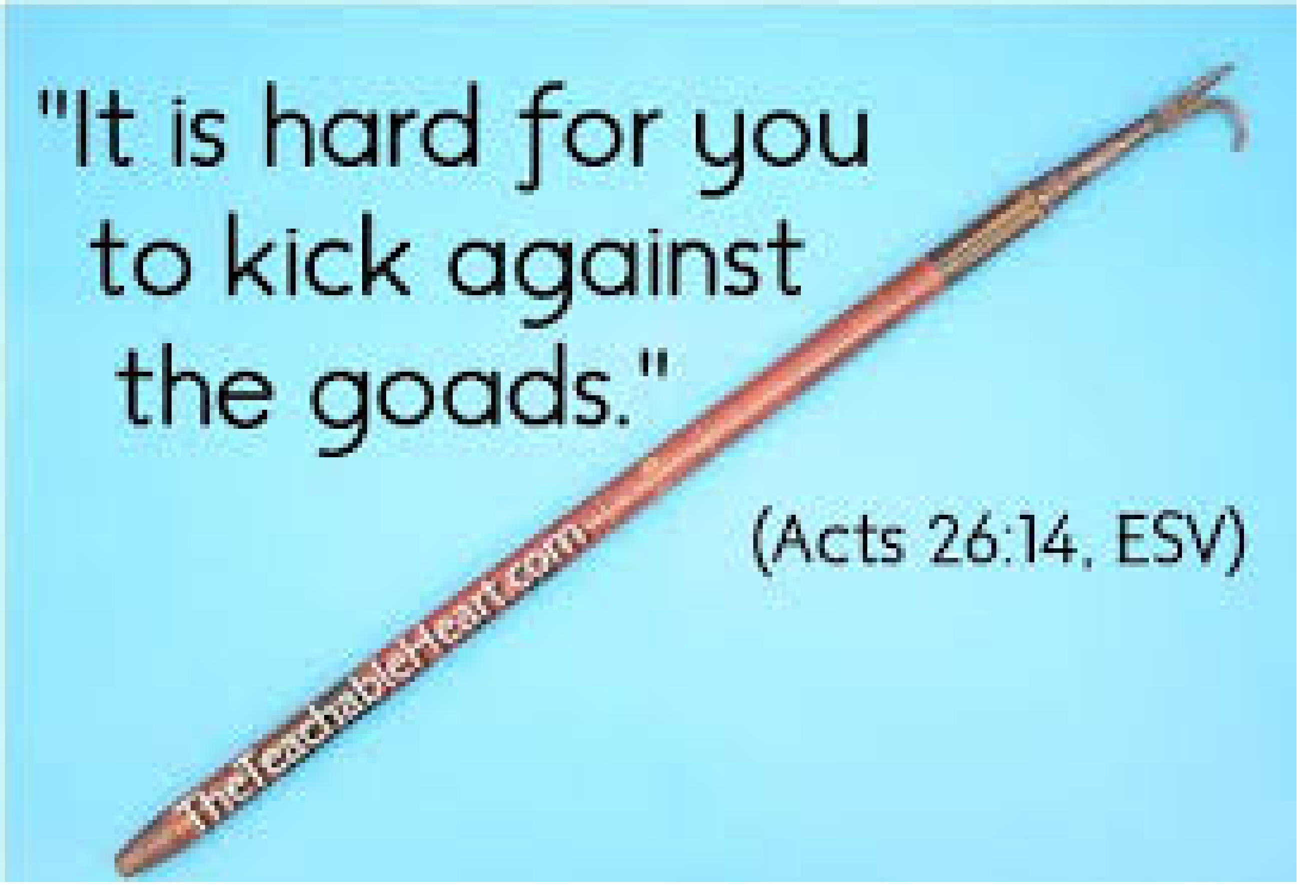
People injure their own selves by rejecting Jesus. If you were to tell someone what is best for them and they reject it then they injure themself:

> Proverbs 1:28-31 - Then they will call upon me, but I will not answer; they will seek me diligently but will not find me. Because they hated knowledge and did not choose the fear of the LORD, would have none of my counsel and despised all my reproof, therefore they shall eat the fruit of their way, and have their fill of their own devices. (ESV)

> Proverbs 8:35-36 - For whoso findeth me findeth life, and shall obtain favour of the LORD. But he that sinneth against me wrongeth his own soul: all they that hate me love death. (KJV)

> Ezekiel 14:7-8 - For any one of the house of Israel, or of the strangers who sojourn in Israel, who separates himself from me, taking his idols into his heart and putting the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and yet comes to a prophet to consult me through him, I the LORD will answer him myself. And I will set my face against that man; I will make him a sign and a byword and cut him off from the midst of my people, and you shall know that I am the LORD. (ESV)

> Acts 26:14-15 - And when we had all fallen to the ground, I heard a voice saying to me in the Hebrew language, Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me? It is hard for you to kick against the goads. And I said, Who are you, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom you are persecuting. (ESV)



"It is hard for you to kick against the goads."

We endeavour to have the love of God perfected in us and it is attainable (I Peter 1:22-25, Matthew 5:38-48, Romans 12:9-21, I John 4:16-20, Matthew 19:21, Hebrews 7:11). We remain faithful to Jesus (Matthew 10:32-38, II Timothy 3:7-8) and don't deny Him before other people.

The Christian's duty is to love God and their neighbour as they are commanded to:

> I John 5:1 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. (ESV)
> John 16:27 - for the Father himself loves you, because you have loved me and have believed that I came from God. (ESV)
> I John 4:12-15 - No one has ever seen God; if we love one another, God abides in us and his love is perfected in us. By this we know that we abide in him and he in us, because he has given us of his Spirit. And we have seen and testify that the Father has sent his Son to be the Savior of the world. Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. (ESV)
> Romans 13:8-10 - Owe no one anything, except to love each other, for the one who loves another has fulfilled the law. The commandments, You shall not commit adultery, You shall not murder, You shall not steal, You shall not covet, and any other commandment, are summed up in this word: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. (ESV)
> Galatians 5:13-14 - For you were called to freedom, brothers. Only do not use your freedom as an opportunity for the flesh, but through love serve one another. For the whole law is fulfilled in one word: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. (ESV)
> James 2:8-16 - If you really fulfill the royal law according to the Scripture, You shall love your neighbor as yourself, you are doing well. But if you show partiality, you are committing sin and are convicted by the law as transgressors. For whoever keeps the whole law but fails in one point has > become accountable for all of it. For he who said, Do not commit adultery, also said, Do not murder. If you do not commit adultery but do murder, you have become a transgressor of the law. So speak and so act as those who are to be judged under the law of liberty. For judgment is without mercy to one who has shown no mercy. Mercy triumphs over judgment. What good is it, my brothers, if someone says he has faith but does not have works? Can that faith save him? If a brother or sister is poorly clothed and lacking in daily food, and one of you says to them, Go in peace, be warmed and filled, without giving them the things needed for the body, what good is that? (ESV)

> I John 5:2 - By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

Even sinners love those who love them. But if a neighbour hates you, or does evil to you, we should still love them as they are still a neighbour, and we should love them the way God wants us to love them. The Christian is called to do good to all:

> Luke 6:32-36 - If you love those who love you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them. And if you do good to those who do good to you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners do the same. And if you lend to those from whom you expect to receive, what credit is that to you? Even sinners lend to sinners, to get back the same amount. But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing in return, and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, for he is kind to the ungrateful and the evil. Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful. (ESV)

> Galatians 6:7-10 - Do not be deceived: God is not mocked, for whatever one sows, that will he also reap. For the one who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption, but the one who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life. And let us not grow weary of doing good, for in due season we will reap, if we do not give up. So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to those who are of the household of faith. (ESV)

> Luke 10:25-37 - And behold, a lawyer stood up to put him to the test, saying, Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? He said to him, What is written in the Law? How do you read it? And he answered, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind, and your neighbor as yourself. And he said to him, You have answered correctly; do this, and you will live. But he, desiring to justify himself, said to Jesus, And who is my neighbor? Jesus replied, A man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and he fell among robbers, who stripped him and beat him and departed, leaving him half dead. Now by chance a priest was going down that road, and when he saw him he passed by on the other side. So likewise a Levite, when he came to the place and saw him, passed by on the other side. But a Samaritan, as he journeyed, came to where he was, and when he saw him, he had compassion. He went to him and bound up his wounds, pouring on oil and wine. Then he set him on his own animal and brought him to an inn and took care of him. And the next day he took out two denarii and gave them to the innkeeper, saying, Take care of him, and whatever more you spend, I will repay you when I come back. Which of these three, do you think, proved to be a neighbor to the man who fell among the robbers? He said, The one who showed him mercy. And Jesus said to him, You go, and do likewise. (ESV)

To have the love of God completed in us we need to be those who love others as we have been loved by God. To love God in a complete way involves not simply loving His word but loving His children:

> I John 4:12 - No one has ever seen God; if we love one another, God abides in us and his love is perfected in us. (ESV)
> I John 4:16-17 - So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. (ESV)

Matthew 5:43-48 - You have heard that it was said, You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy. But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You therefore must be perfect (G5046 teleioi; complete, mature), as your heavenly Father is perfect. (ESV)

I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

- Polycarp 3:3 [3:2 the faith given to you] which is the mother of us all, while hope followeth after and love goeth before – love toward God and Christ and toward our neighbor. For if any man be occupied with these, he hath fulfilled the commandment of righteousness; for he that hath love is far from all sin.

II Thessalonians 1:3 - We ought always to give thanks to God for you, brothers, as is right, because your faith is growing abundantly, and the love of every one of you for one another is increasing. (ESV)

I John 3:14 - We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. (ESV)

Colossians 1:21-23,1:28,2:1-3 - And you, who once were alienated and hostile in mind, doing evil deeds, he has now reconciled in his body of flesh by his death, in order to present you holy and blameless and above reproach before him, if indeed you continue in the faith, stable and steadfast, not shifting from the hope of the gospel that you heard, which has been proclaimed in all creation under heaven, and of which I, Paul, became a minister. Him we proclaim, warning everyone and teaching everyone with all wisdom, that we may present everyone mature in Christ. For I want you to know how great a struggle I have for you and for those at Laodicea and for all who have not seen me face to face, that their hearts may be encouraged, being knit together in love, to reach all the riches of full assurance of understanding and the knowledge of God's mystery, which is Christ, in whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge. (ESV)

I John 3:2-4 - Beloved, we are God's children now, and what we will be has not yet appeared; but we know that when he appears we shall be like him, because we shall see him as he is. And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. (ESV)

John 14:20-24 - In that day you will know that I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you. Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. Judas (not Iscariot) said to him, Lord, how is it that you will manifest yourself to us, and not to the world? Jesus answered him, If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me. (ESV)

John 8:51 - Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death. (ESV)

If our love for God is real then we must forgive and love one-another in Christ:

> I Thessalonians 3:12 - and may the Lord make you increase and abound in love for one another and for all, as we do for you, (ESV)
> Colossians 3:12-14 - Put on then, as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, compassion, kindness, humility, meekness, and patience, bearing with one another and, if one has a complaint against another, forgiving each other; as the Lord has forgiven you, so you also must forgive. And above all these put on love, which binds everything together in perfect harmony. (ESV)

youtube.com: " Is It Biblical to Cut Off a Parent Who Won ' t Repent ?" {@ $\textbf{leave}_{\textbf{thencleave}}$ } I commented:

Being yoked primarily to Christ to follow Jesus primarily, we do the will of God for us (I Thessalonians 5:18), and we know that the will of God for is us our sanctification. But God not only has a will for us that is universal to all believers, but also He has a unique will for us individually. And being yoked to Christ means that Christ is our Master primarily rather than even one another. We have to be yoked to Christ first and foremost, even above religious leaders such as pastors. Obedience to other people must be "in the Lord" and "in the Lord" we abide in Christ's commandments. So even to one's previous father, or to their employer, or other earthly masters, the Christian's obedience has to be whilst abiding in Christ's teachings. For example, if one's previous father commanded, "Call me father." or if they, say, instructed you to "Abort your baby." when the disciple of Jesus is trying to obey Jesus Christ's commandment to call no man on earth father and to resist sin because to abort the baby would be sin, then, the disciple of Jesus is obligated to obey Jesus Christ rather than this person they previously called father, and to not abort the baby. Because the Christian's obedience must be "in the Lord" and thus ultimate duty is to Christ Himself rather than anyone else. We should just aim to follow Christ and that may lead us to do God's will for us individually but it's still in Christ. If there is a disagreement between two followers of Jesus, it may still be the case that both are "in Christ" but can't see the end of another's journey. But Jesus being Alpha and Omega can see the end of all of our journeys:

> John 21:21-23 - When Peter saw him, he said to Jesus, Lord, what about this man? Jesus said to him, If it is my will that he remain until I come, what is that to you? You follow me! So the saying spread abroad among the brothers that this disciple was not to die; yet Jesus did not say to him that he was not to die, but, If it is my will that he remain until I come, what is that to you? (ESV)
> Acts 15:37-40 - Now Barnabas wanted to take with them John called Mark. But Paul thought best not to take with them one who had withdrawn from them in Pamphylia and had not gone with them to the work. And there arose a sharp disagreement, so that they separated from each other. Barnabas took Mark with him and sailed away to Cyprus, but Paul chose Silas and departed, having been commended by the brothers to the grace of the Lord. (ESV)

If someone wants forgiveness from me then it would go along way for them to confess to me that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, or that Jesus Christ died for their sins. If someone makes a confession of faith to me of the truth about Jesus then I might consider them to be family in Christ and then I am obligated to bear no grudge against them, but I am still allowed to reprove them. But not knowing where they stand on any issue of what they consider to be sin committed against me, whether it was or was not sin, I would leave it to the just judgement/discipline of God, but I'm still not under obligation to be yoked to that person, but if they have done something grievous in the sight of God. Now if that person came to me and confessed to me that they have sinned against me but that they repent of it (i.e. they presently do not want to sin like that because they want to walk as God wants them to) then I am obligated to forgive them for it if I believe they have actually sinned against me because they have turned away from sinning against me, they have confessed it to me, agreeing with me on it, and we are both in agreement that Jesus Christ is the Son of God and that He died for our sins.

A born-again Christian's true Father is God. They do not have a father on earth. The Christian's mother, brothers and sisters are those who hear the word of God and do it. We must all love one-another who are in Christ and not bear grudges against one-another. Jesus testified that the world's works are evil. Whoever is having faith in Jesus Christ is not condemned. Whoever is disfaithing (disbelieving, distrusting, hating the truth) of Jesus is condemned. If someone rejects Jesus' word, that same word they rejected will judge them on the last day. So in Christ, having faith in Jesus we can have forgiveness and be reconciled to one-another. But if one person is anti-Jesus, how can there be reconciliation? Can a person forgive what God will pour His wrath out on? Are we not to separate from and not be unequally yoked with unbelievers? If someone sins against only me, I can forgive them if I choose to. But if they don't repent, then am I under obligation to forgive them? Only if they are family in Christ am I under obligation to forgive them for sin done against me personally. If I do not know if they are family in Christ, then I still might forgive them. But that doesn't mean God will forgive them. I might petition to God to forgive them. But it's up to God whether He wants to forgive them or not. I might pray to Father God asking that He forgive them because they act in ignorance, asking to grant them grace to come to know God through faith in Jesus.

Forgiveness is in Christ. In Christ, we abide in Christ's commandments. When Jesus petitioned His Father to forgive those for they do not know what they do, those people were in ignorance. The Apostle Paul received mercy because he acted ignorantly in disbelief. But when people sin against the truth, not in ignorance, but are genuinely unrepentant and against the truth, trying to deter you from following Jesus, it's actually fine to withhold forgiveness until they repent, but hope they will repent, and then if your "brother" (family in Christ so now trusting Jesus rather than not trusting Jesus) comes to you and says they repent (change their mind), or listens to you as you explain their fault (i.e. the word you are saying finds place in them), we must forgive them. Nothing wrong with rebuking someone who is trying to deter you from following Jesus. It's not unloving to rebuke.

Leviticus 19:17-18 - 'You shall not hate your fellow countryman in your heart; you may surely reprove your neighbor, but shall not incur sin because of him. You shall not take vengeance, nor bear any grudge against the sons of your people, but you shall love your neighbor as yourself; I am the LORD. (NASB)

Jesus rebuked the Apostle Peter, but I think it's implied that Peter listened to Jesus and received correction. Jesus reproved Peter. Christians are supposed to exhort and admonish one another. No-one can forgive antichrist spirit because they're against receiving forgiveness because forgiveness is to be had in Christ having faith in Christ (faith in Jesus and His words). Those who are antichrist will perish in their sin. Someone walking by antichrist spirit must repent or perish.

> Matthew 18:15 - If your brother sins against you, go and tell him his fault, between you and him alone. If he listens to you, you have gained your brother. (ESV)

> Luke 17:3-4 - Pay attention to yourselves! If your brother sins, rebuke him, and if he repents, forgive him, and if he sins against you seven times in the day, and turns to you seven times, saying, I repent, you must forgive him. (ESV)

Journal <2026-07-17 Fri 09:56> I do not understand why people have been so vehemently opposed to apologizing after they have done wrong. I'm under no obligation to forgive for where there is no repentance unless they are family in Christ, but if I don't hear the testimony about Jesus Christ from such people, then are they even family in Christ? Maybe they are not even family in Christ.

> Matthew 18:15 - If your brother sins against you, go and tell him his fault, between you and him alone. If he listens to you, you have gained your brother. (ESV)

> Luke 17:3-4 - Pay attention to yourselves! If your brother sins, rebuke him, and if he repents, forgive him, and if he sins against you seven times in the day, and turns to you seven times, saying, I repent, you must forgive him. (ESV)

The exposure I have had to people who appear to be walking by the spirit of antichrist is just immense.

I do not forgive those people who are choosing the spirit of antichrist. Forgiveness, after all, is found in Christ through faith in Christ, and forgiveness is not found in the spirit of antichrist.

I do not forgive those who are walking by the spirit of antichrist, because I want them to be saved, and I also care for the salvation of others who these unrepentant people may affect through their slanderous lies.

It's unforgivable when people are walking by the spirit of antichrist and such a person needs to repent in order to receive forgiveness.

> Luke 11:23 - Whoever is not with me is against me, and whoever does not gather with me scatters. (ESV)
> Acts 26:16-18 - But rise and stand upon your feet, for I have appeared to you for this purpose, to appoint you as a servant and witness to the things in which you have seen me and to those in which I will appear to you, delivering you from your people and from the Gentiles—to whom I am sending you to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me. (ESV)
> I John 2:18 - Children, it is the last hour, and as you have heard that antichrist is coming, so now many antichrists have come. Therefore we know that it is the last hour. (ESV)
> I John 4:3 - and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)
> I John 2:22 - Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, he who denies the Father and the Son. (ESV)
> II John 1:7 - For many deceivers have gone out into the world, those who do not confess the coming of Jesus Christ in the flesh. Such a one is the deceiver and the antichrist. (ESV)

Now if somebody sins against me I might forgive them if it is fitting for me to do so. But if somebody tries to turn others away from having faith in Jesus Christ by their slanderous lies, well I will not forgive that, but I would rather condemn it because I care about the salvation of the other person too. It's not OK to normalise the spirit of antichrist, so rather I will rebuke it as Jesus Christ both demonstrated (Matthew 16:23) and instructed (Matthew 18:15).

And when a person walks by the spirit of antichrist, I certainly do not think of them as my brother in Christ, and so I certainly am not obligated to forgive them.

> Colossians 3:12-13 - Put on then, as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, compassion, kindness, humility, meekness, and patience, bearing with one another and, if one has a complaint against another, forgiving each other; as the Lord has forgiven you, so you also must forgive. (ESV)

If someone confesses or demonstrates their faith to me to my satisfaction based on faith in the word of God, then I may consider them to be family in Christ:

> I John 5:1 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. (ESV)
> I John 4:7 - Beloved, let us love one another, for love is from God, and whoever loves has been born of God and knows God. (ESV)
> I John 3:9 - No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. (ESV)

One's family in Christ is their neighbour (Acts 2:44-45, Ephesians 4:25). One's 'neighbour' is not necessarily their family in Christ.

In Christ we must be neighbours who love one-another (fellow believers) as ourselves. And we can make a neighbour by "being" a neigbour to them. But if they become or remain an unrepentant sinner (idolator, adulterer, etc.), then it's not wrong to separate from them (I Corinthians 5:1-13). Show the love of Jesus to people, sure (Jesus loved us while we were sinners), and give them the gospel, but also separate from people who are stubbornly unrepentant.

> Luke 10:36-37 - Which of these three, do you think, proved to be a neighbor to the man who fell among the robbers? He said, The one who showed him mercy. And Jesus said to him, You go, and do likewise. (ESV)

A person who hates their family in Christ neither loves Christ. We are called to separate from "neighbours" who are idolators (II Corinthians 6:14-18,7:1). But one's family in Christ is their neighbour. And Matthew 22:37-40 is really saying to love one's family in Christ as if they are were yourself. In Christ we are not exactly one-another, but we are members of one-another (Ephesians 4:25). Those who are in Christ are one in spirit (I Corinthians 6:17-20):

> I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

God desires all people to be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth (I Timothy 2:3-6). But not all will (Matthew 13:38-43). But it should be in our heart also that other people are saved (II Timothy 2:24-25):

> II Timothy 2:24-25 - And the Lord's servant must not be quarrelsome but kind to everyone, able to teach, patiently enduring evil, correcting his opponents with gentleness. God may perhaps grant them repentance leading to a knowledge of the truth, (ESV)

Consider that those who are generous to the needy honour God:

> Proverbs 14:31 - Whoever oppresses a poor man insults his Maker, but he who is generous to the needy honors him. (ESV)

Now consider the genuineness of love and the way this love exhibits itself. Just be aware that what matters to God is our heart attitudes, the intentions as to why we do a thing, the faith and the love in the heart which is governing our actions:

> Matthew 12:33-37 - Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or make the tree bad and its fruit bad, for the tree is known by its fruit. You brood of vipers! How can you speak good, when you are evil? For out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks. The good person out of his good treasure brings forth good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure brings forth evil. I tell you, on the day of judgment people will give account for every careless word they speak, for by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned. (ESV)

We're under grace, still law-abiding to Christ, but not "under the law" relying on the works of the law. We don't rely on being able to carry out perfect deeds:

> II Corinthians 8:1-10 - We want you to know, brothers, about the grace of God that has been given among the churches of Macedonia, for in a severe test of affliction, their abundance of joy and their extreme poverty have overflowed in a wealth of generosity on their part. For they gave according to their means, as I can testify, and beyond their means, of their own free will, begging us earnestly for the favor of taking part in the relief of the saints— and this, not as we expected, but they gave themselves first to the Lord and then by the will of God to us. Accordingly, we urged Titus that as he had started, so he should complete among you this act of grace. But as you excel in everything—in faith, in speech, in knowledge, in all earnestness, and in our love for you — see that you excel in > this act of grace also. I say this not as a command, but to prove by the earnestness of others that your love also is genuine. For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sake he became poor, so that you by his poverty might become rich. And in this matter I give my judgment: this benefits you, who a year ago started not only to do this work but also to desire to do it. (ESV)

> I John 3:17-18 - But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth. (ESV)
> John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

Faith and obedience to Jesus seem to be inseparable, like two sides of a coin, but faith is commanded (I John 3:23).

Real agape love (love for the truth and in reality) "loves people" the way we're commanded to (i.e. the correct way) and loves the children of God the way we're commanded.

youtube.com: Petra - The Coloring Song {@ UnknownPetraFan } Red is the color of the blood that flowed; down the face of Someone who loved us so; He's the Perfect Man, He's the Lord's own Son; He's the Lamb of God, He's the only One, that can give us life, that can make us grow, that can make the love between us flow;

Blue is the color of a heart so cold; that will not bend when the story's told; of the Love of God for a sinful race; of the Blood that flowed down Jesus face; that can give us life, that can make us grow, that can keep our hearts from growing cold;

The Apostle John says to be able to know that we are loving the children of God, we must be keeping His commandments. So the way to love our family in Christ is clearly defined for us. People don't have a legitimate (in the truth) claim to say "You're not loving me" if you're keeping God's commandments:

> I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

How do we love people on the outside of the faith? Here's a couple of ways: Show courtesy to them and pray for them (I Timothy 2:1):

> Titus 3:2 - to speak evil of no one, to avoid quarreling, to be gentle, and to show perfect courtesy toward all people. (ESV)
> I Timothy 2:1-2 - First of all, then, I urge that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgivings be made for all people, for kings and all who are in high positions, that we may lead a peaceful and quiet life, godly and dignified in every way. (ESV)

Also, we are called to "do good to all people" (but especially to those who are of the household of faith):

> Mark 9:35 - And he sat down and called the twelve. And he said to them, If anyone would be first, he must be last of all and servant of all. (ESV)
> Galatians 6:7-10 - Do not be deceived: God is not mocked, for whatever one sows, that will he also reap. For the one who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption, but the one who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life. And let us not grow weary of doing good, for in due season we will reap, if we do not give up. So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to those who are of the household of faith. (ESV)

Polycarp 6:1 And the presbyters also must be compassionate, merciful towards all men, turning back the sheep that are gone astray, visiting all the infirm, not neglecting a widow or an orphan or a poor man: but providing always for that which is honorable in the sight of God and of men, abstaining from all anger, respect of persons, unrighteous judgment, being far from all love of money, not quick to believe anything against any man, not hasty in judgment, knowing that we all are debtors of sin.

But "doing good to all" doesn't mean "love all people in the same way". Christians are called to imitate God's love. God loves us without partiality. God gives us all opportunity to repent. And God actually hands unrepentant people over to their own lusts, without partiality. God's friendship is offered without partiality, but that doesn't mean everyone is God's friend. So God loves people equally only in the sense of His "common grace". Loving one's enemies . God has both unconditional love and conditional love:

> I Thessalonians 5:14-15 - We urge you, brethren, admonish the unruly, encourage the fainthearted, help the weak, be patient with everyone. See that no one repays another with evil for evil, but always seek after that which is good for one another and for all people. (NASB)

> James 2:8-9 - If you really fulfill the royal law according to the Scripture, You shall love your neighbor as yourself, you are doing well. But if you show partiality, you are committing sin and are convicted by the law as transgressors. (ESV)

God's universal love for people is demonstrated in what He has done already in sending Jesus Christ. But God has also conditional love that does in fact depend on our heart posture towards God. But everyone is offered this conditional love but not everyone takes it. God offers all without partiality but with conditions His friendship and His eternal love, but by free choice some people reject God's offer by not meeting the conditions:

> James 2:8-13 - If you really fulfill the royal law according to the Scripture, You shall love your neighbor as yourself, you are doing well. But if you show partiality, you are committing sin and are convicted by the law as transgressors. For whoever keeps the whole law but fails in one point has become accountable for all of it. For he who said, Do not commit adultery, also said, Do not murder. If you do not commit adultery but do murder, you have become a transgressor of the law. So speak and so act as those who are to be judged under the law of liberty. For judgment is without mercy to one who has shown no mercy. Mercy triumphs over judgment. (ESV)

Let me say it again. What we're saved from in biblical terms of salvation is God Himself. God is the one who saves us through his Son. But he sends his Son to save us from Him. Because the worst catastrophe from which anyone could ever be rescued is from the wrath of Almighty God. Unless you repent, you all likewise perish. Do you know what the message we get now from the television preachers and even from the preachers in their pulpits on Sunday morning? I hear this. Tell me if you've heard this. The preacher stands up and he says, "Here's the gospel. Here's the good news. God loves you unconditionally. Now, you're an unbeliever. You're a pagan. You don't want to have God in your thinking. You have no fear of God whatsoever. Your whole life is committed to idols. And this 'Christian' minister just told you, "God loves you unconditionally." What do you hear? I don't have to do anything. This is Mr. Rogers Neighborhood (He likes me just the way I am). You know, when I read the book, it says, "God abhors the evildoer." (Psalms 5:5) Oh, yes. The evil unrepentant person enjoys the beneficent love of God and the benevolent love of God, but the redemptive love of God is so far from him, you can't imagine where it is. But who's worried about salvation if God loves you [merely] unconditionally? That's not just a lie. That's a monstrous lie. We have to understand that the greatest salvation we can ever experience is to be saved from God. So where we deserve wrath, we get mercy. And where we deserve judgment, we get grace because of Jesus who rightly was called "Jesus". For he will save his people from their sins.

> Matthew 13:24-30 - He put another parable before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a man who sowed good seed in his field, but while his men were sleeping, his enemy came and sowed weeds among the wheat and went away. So when the plants came up and bore grain, then the weeds appeared also. And the servants of the master of the house came and said to him, Master, did you not sow good seed in your field? How then does it have weeds? He said to them, An enemy has done this. So the servants said to him, Then do you want us to go and gather them? But he said, No, lest in gathering the weeds you root up the wheat along with them. Let both grow together until the harvest, and at harvest time I will tell the reapers, Gather the weeds first and bind them in bundles to be burned, but gather the wheat into my barn. (ESV)

John 3:17-21 - For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him. Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his deeds should be exposed. But whoever does (G4160 poiōn; doing) what is true comes to the light, so that it may be clearly seen that his deeds have been carried out in God. (ESV)

Luke 13:3 - No, I tell you; but unless you repent, you will all likewise perish. (ESV)

John 3:36 - Whoever believes (G4100 pisteuōn - is believing, faithing (verb)) in the Son has eternal life; whoever does not obey (G544 - apeitheó - unpersuaded by, distrusting, disobeying) the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God remains on him. (ESV)

Romans 1:17-18 - For the gospel reveals the righteousness of God that comes by faith from start to finish, just as it is written: "The righteous will live by faith." The wrath of God is being revealed from heaven against all the godlessness and wickedness of men who suppress the truth by their wickedness. (engbsb2020eb)

Acts 17:30-31 - The times of ignorance God overlooked, but now he commands all people everywhere to repent, because he has fixed a day on which he will judge the world in righteousness by a man whom he has appointed; and of this he has given assurance to all by raising him from the dead. (ESV)

Romans 2:5 - But because of your hard and impenitent heart you are storing up wrath for yourself on the day of wrath when God's righteous judgment will be revealed. (ESV)

II Peter 3:7 - But by the same word the heavens and earth that now exist are stored up for fire, being kept until the day of judgment and destruction of the ungodly. (ESV)

Romans 6:16-18,7:25,8:1-4 - Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord! So then, I myself serve the law of God with my mind, but with my flesh I serve the law of sin. There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. (ESV)

In the imitation of God's love for those who hate Him (i.e. sending rain on the good and the evil alike), to love one's enemies doesn't mean that they are one's friends. To love one's enemies is to do good to them and to not render evil for evil to them, and to bear with them in patience, hoping for their sake that they will turn away from the love of evil:

> Matthew 5:43-48 - You have heard that it was said, You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy. But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You therefore must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect. (ESV)

If someone is ”of the world” and acting ignorantly in unbelief being mean and nasty and greedy etc. then a Christian is really called to ”do good” to them. But if someone who claims to be a believer but is unrepentant and without the fear of God, then that person is very sinful and should be rebuked and avoided, and left to be chastised (I Corinthians 5:1-13).

This is what God’s love looks like. So in imitating God’s love, we should ”do good to all” but doing good to a person who professes to have faith in Jesus Christ, might look like avoiding them, and letting them receive discipline.

> Romans 13:10 - Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. (ESV)

> Hebrews 12:4-8 - In your struggle against sin you have not yet resisted to the point of shedding your blood. And have you forgotten the exhortation that addresses you as sons? My son, do not regard lightly the discipline of the Lord, nor be weary when reproved by him. For the Lord disciplines the one he loves, and chastises every son whom he receives. It is for discipline that you have to endure. God is treating you as sons. For what son is there whom his father does not discipline? If you are left without discipline, in which all have participated, then you are illegitimate children and not sons. (ESV)

> I Thessalonians 5:14-15 - We urge you, brethren, admonish the unruly, encourage the fainthearted, help the weak, be patient with everyone. See that no one repays another with evil for evil, but always seek after that which is good for one another and for all people. (NASB)

To bear with a person, hoping that they will repent, is not to ”yoke” oneself to them. A Christian living ”in the world” would live in obedience to Christ, with love for Christ,rather than with love for the world or for evil.

The ”God loving everyone the same way and equally and doesn’t want you to change” gospel is actually an antigospel that prevents people from receiving the salvation that Jesus bought. Salvation involves sanctification, and God’s friendship and eternal love is for those who fear Him and abide in His commandments with love for Jesus Christ:

> Psalms 25:14 - The friendship of the LORD is for those who fear him, and he makes known to them his covenant. (ESV)

> Malachi 2:17 - You have wearied the LORD with your words. But you say, How have we wearied him? By saying, Everyone who does evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delights in them. Or by asking, Where is the God of justice? (ESV)

> John 14:21-24 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. Judas (not Iscariot) said to him, Lord, how is it that you will manifest yourself to us, and not to the world? Jesus answered him, If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not mine but the Father’s who sent me. (ESV)

> Matthew 6:24 - No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money. (ESV)

> John 16:27 - for the Father himself loves you, because you have loved me and have believed that I came from God. (ESV)
> I John 5:2 - By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)
> John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)
> John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

youtube.com: Israeli Soldier Sends This Message to the People of Iran # army {@ SOBEIT32AD }
Hey guys, my name is Elisha and I'm a soldier in the IDF, that is the Israeli Defense Force. Currently, I have been deployed and I had to leave my family at home. Now, in moments like this, as a Jewish believer in Yeshua, I am praying for the people of Iran. I am also praying for their leaders. I'm praying for them to know the true peace that Yeshua gives us. because I think we can both agree that peace is not going to start with governments or weapons, but it's going to start with a changed heart. And I personally know that he who goes to Yeshua gets that changed heart. And so, wherever you are all over the world, please stand with me in prayer for our friends, our neighbors, our enemies to know Yeshua as their Messiah and Savior and to get that true peace that he gives us. Thank you guys and shalom.

Amen!

Love [for the truth] entails faith [in the truth] because love believes and hopes. But that doesn't mean trust everyone. It means love for the truth trusts in the truth:

> I Corinthians 13:4-8 - Love is patient and kind; love does not envy or boast; it is not arrogant or rude. It does not insist on its own way; it is not irritable or resentful; it does not rejoice at wrongdoing, but rejoices with the truth. Love bears (G4722 stegei; it bears; to cover with silence (endure patiently)) all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things. Love never ends. As for prophecies, they will pass away; as for tongues, they will cease; as for knowledge, it will pass away. (ESV)

I Corinthians 13:4-8 mustn't be saying that love for the truth believes everyone. We don't trust everyone. We trust in the truth:

> I John 4:1-3 - Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses (G3670 homologeó, confesses, acknowledges, agrees) that Jesus Christ has come in the (G1722 en; in [the form of]) flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess (G3670 homologeó, confess, acknowledge, agree with) Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

Christians are not supposed to trust everyone. We need to test the spirits. A human being has a spirit. And a person with a spirit has a will and a mind. We are not supposed to trust all human beings.

Why would we trust everyone if God doesn't trust everyone? We are supposed to imitate God and imitate His love, and that is "going good to all" but loving good and hating evil:

> Ephesians 5:1-5 - Therefore be imitators of God, as beloved children. And walk in love, as Christ loved us and gave himself up for us, a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God. But sexual immorality and all impurity or covetousness must not even be named among you, as is proper among saints. Let there be no filthiness nor foolish talk nor crude joking, which are out of place, but instead let there be thanksgiving. For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. (ESV)

> Matthew 5:43-48 - You have heard that it was said, You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy. But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You therefore must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect. (ESV)

I have tried to comprehend and communicate the Scripture but I'm not infallible.

> II Corinthians 10:5,7,11-12,18 - We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, Look at what is before your eyes. If anyone is confident that he is Christ's, let him remind himself that just as he is Christ's, so also are we. Let such a person understand that what we say by letter when absent, we do when present. Not that we dare to classify or compare ourselves with some of those who are commending themselves. But when they measure themselves by one another and compare themselves with one another, they are without understanding. For it is not the one who commends (G4921 synistanōn: commending) himself who is approved, but the one whom the Lord commends. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 3:7-15 - So neither he who plants nor he who waters is anything, but only God who gives the growth. He who plants and he who waters are one, and each will receive his wages according to his labor. For we are God's fellow workers. You are God's field, God's building. According to the grace of God given to me, like a skilled master builder I laid a foundation, and someone else is building upon it. Let each one take care how he builds upon it. For no one can lay a foundation other than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ. Now if anyone builds on the foundation with gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, straw— each one's work will become manifest, for the Day will disclose it, because it will be revealed by fire, and the fire will test what sort of work each one has done. If the work that anyone has built on the foundation survives, he will receive a reward. If anyone's work is burned up, he will suffer loss, though he himself will be saved, but only as through fire. (ESV)

”Not doing commendably” would involve doing without faith:

> Genesis 4:7 - If you do well, will you not be accepted? And if you do not do well, sin is crouching at the door. Its desire is for you, but you must rule over it. (ESV)

> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

I believe that Jesus Christ has come into the world from God as flesh (Word of God made flesh). I believe that we need to trust God rather than any voice that is speaking contrary to God. We have to be corrected by the Truth rather than led astray by some other voice. This is part of the reason why I wouldn't trust to be led by someone who does not affirm to me that Jesus is the Christ (the Messiah) who has come from God into the world as flesh (Word of God made flesh). I feel as though it's fine to ask someone questions about their faith and compare what they confess with the Scripture in order to test whether or not to trust that person. If someone confesses that Jesus is the Son of God or that Jesus is Lord, these confessions are a so far a good indication but it's OK to ask more questions. And in this way I think trust can be earned. It's important to not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. If someone hasn't made the I John 4:2 confession to you then it's OK to ask them to make this confession of faith in order to gain trust with them. If someone refuses to confess the real Jesus then it's OK to not trust them. Since one person might affirm that Jesus is the Christ but not affirm that He is the Son of God, for example, it's OK to continue asking more questions about what they believe until satisfied. We are commanded to not trust every spirit but test the spirits to see if they are from God. This type of trust is earned.

> I John 4:1-3 - Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 6:14-18,7:1 - Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what partnership has righteousness with lawlessness? Or what fellowship has light with darkness? What accord has Christ with Belial? Or what portion does a believer share with an unbeliever? What agreement has the temple of God with idols? For we are the temple of the living God; as God said, I will make my dwelling among them and walk among them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Therefore go out from their midst, and be separate from them, says the Lord, and touch no unclean thing; then I will welcome you, and I will be a father to you, and you shall be sons and daughters to me, says the Lord Almighty. Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God. (ESV)

Benefit of the doubt is not necessarily earned but trust is earned. God is worthy of our trust, but not everyone else is. I mean, sure, do good to all people, especially those of the household of faith. Even to give mercy to someone (if it's within one's power to) in hope they will not abuse grace/mercy, providing opportunities to build trust with you, this is OK. For example, a person can and should do good for their enemies in hope they will be saved and come to the knowledge of Jesus. That does not mean we should trust all people. And, also, I believe Jesus' saying, ”Do not give what is holy to the dogs” applies too. When somebody is confessing to me that Jesus Christ is the Son of God and that He died for their sins and rose from the dead, and confessing and agreeing with His teachings, then I give them the benefit of the doubt. Basically, when someone is leaning on Jesus' righteousness, I have to give them the benefit of the doubt, and be willing to serve them if they need help. But God is not mocked, and the Scripture says, let those who name the name of the Lord depart from iniquity. We trust God to take care of the unknown, and just do our duty which is to fear God and keep His commandments for us, to have faith in Jesus and love one another, abiding in Jesus' teachings. It's not our duty to do what is God's role. God discerns the hearts and minds, we can rely on God for justice. Vengeance belongs to God.

Polycarp 6:1 And the presbyters also must be compassionate, merciful towards all men, turning back the sheep that are gone astray, visiting all the infirm, not neglecting a widow or an orphan or a poor man: but providing always for that which is honorable in the sight of God and of men, abstaining from all anger, respect of persons, unrighteous judgment, being far from all love of money, not quick to believe anything against any man, not hasty in judgment, knowing that we all are debtors of sin.

I believe that we can trust any spirit who confesses that Jesus Christ has come [from God] into the world as flesh (i.e. the Word of God made flesh) that that spirit is from God. Until they've made that confession though, so long as they are confessing truth about Jesus Christ, such as pronouncing that ”Jesus is the Son of God”, I give the benefit of the doubt:

> I John 4:1-3 - Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)
> I John 2:22 - Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, he who denies the Father and the Son. (ESV)
> John 8:44 - You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. (ESV)

Jesus has come from God into the world in the form of flesh (as in, the Word of God having become flesh) is the meaning of the Scripture means where it is written that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh. It's an important detail and distinction from Jesus being merely in an ordinary body of flesh. The word ”incarnate” when used may incorrectly convey an idea that He was merely the Son of God as a spirit inside of ordinary flesh and His flesh holding no real significance. But His flesh was not ordinary flesh as His flesh is Word become flesh (John 1:1-14), and for the propitiation of our sins He has suffered in His fleshly body, having been scourged in his flesh (Hebrews 10:5-14, Isaiah 53:5), that is the flesh of the Son of God (it's Word of God flesh). And He had Father God and the Holy Spirit in Him (John 14:8-10, Romans 8:1-17).

When testing the spirits, we must be examining the Scripture for ourselves to see if what is being said is true. Even regarding what I've said on my blog, I want people to be doing this:

> Acts 17:10-11 - The brothers immediately sent Paul and Silas away by night to Berea, and when they arrived they went into the Jewish synagogue. Now these Jews were more noble than those in Thessalonica; they received the word with all eagerness, examining the Scriptures daily to see if these things were so. (ESV)

We must test everything:

> I Thessalonians 5:20-23 - Do not despise prophecies, but test everything; hold fast what is good. Abstain from every form of evil. Now may the God of peace himself sanctify you completely, and may your whole spirit and soul and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. (ESV)

youtube.com: Megachurch Pastor Reacts to Tucker Carlson on Trump , Iran , and Islam | Live Free with

So, when Jesus does the whole faith the size of a mustard seed thing, he's combating the idea of, ”Hey, man, you're saved by faith generally, and it just needs to be real strong.” And he's going, ”Actually, it's not the strength of your faith that saves you - It's the object of your faith that saves you.” So to put it in the words of like ”reformation theology”, it is actually not true that Christians are saved by faith alone.

Not true. People are not saved by faith alone. People are saved by faith in Christ alone.

And faith in anything else will not lead to salvation. It will lead to damnation, because there is one name under heaven by which men must be saved. So here again, here's a point. It's not faith that saves you. It's what your faith is in that saves you. To apply it to what Tucker said, faith in general isn't good. It depends on what your faith is in.

If you're drowning and somebody throws you a life preserver, faith in that life preserver that cause you to grab it, that's good. That's going to be a good thing. If you're drowning and somebody throws you a bowling ball, it does not matter how much you believe grabbing onto that bowling ball will save you. You can grab on with all your might. You're going to sink. Okay? So, it's not the presence of faith that saves you or the strength of faith that saves you. It's the object of your faith that saves you. In the words of the puritan Richard Sibs, to encourage your soul, ”A weak faith may lay hold on a strong Christ.”

So faith in Jesus and faith in demonic false gods are not in the same category.

There's a tendency (Tucker does it right here) to boil down all the religions to like the lowest common denominator (i.e. There's a God that created the universe - See, we're all on the same team?). There's a tendency to boil down all the religions to lowest common denominator and go, ”I think we're all on the same team, and it's really just important you're a spiritual person.” No! Satan would actually love for you to be a spiritual person. Because if you're a spiritual person and you're open to all spirits, then you're not just open to the Holy Spirit. You're going to be open to unholy spirits the Bible calls demons. Okay, so here's the question for discerning Christians. If it's true that all the other religions are led by (or at least most of them) demonic false gods that are actual real spiritual entities that are principalities and powers. The question is, ”Hey man, we don't want to just we don't want to boil it down to where we put the demons on the same side as team Jesus and team Holy Spirit. So the question is, well, how do we know, you know, who's on team Jesus?”

The Bible actually specifically answers that question. Okay, I'm just going to read this to you, then we're going to move on. This is 1 John chapter 4. Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God. For many false prophets (like Muhammad) have gone out into the world. By this you will know the spirit of God. Okay, here's this is going to answer our question. How are we going > to know which spirits are from the Holy Spirit and which spirits are demonic unholy spirits? Here here's how you're going to know. Every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God. So here's how you know it. Does what that spirit and that religion say line up with what that book says about how Jesus Christ is God incarnate (God's Word made flesh)? That Jesus Christ is God come in the flesh? That's what that verse just said. And verse three, every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. Watch, check this out. Watch this. This is the spirit of the Antichrist. My friend. That is First John chapter 4. That verse is literally saying, "Hey, man. If there's ever a false prophet that comes along, maybe sometime around 600 AD, just for example (i.e. Muhammad), and he comes along and he actually redefines Jesus as he was actually just a prophet and he wasn't God and he wasn't raised from the dead and he wasn't crucified for your sins and he's not coming back to judge the living and the dead, if there's ever somebody that does that, here's what you need to know, that's not from God, that's from Satan and they're empowered by the Antichrist. That's what First John just said. Okay? Don't believe every spirit. Test the spirits.

Love is also commanded, so is inseparable from obedience (I John 3:23).

Jesus' flesh was sown and raised a spiritual body, just as ours will be if we have the Spirit of Him who raised Jesus from the dead in us:

> I Corinthians 15:42-48 - So is it with the resurrection of the dead. What is sown is perishable; what is raised is imperishable. It is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness; it is raised in power. It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body. Thus it is written, The first man Adam became a living being; the last Adam became a life-giving spirit. But it is not the spiritual that is first but the natural, and then the spiritual. The first man was from the earth, a man of dust; the second man is from heaven. As was the man of dust, so also are those who are of the dust, and as is the man of heaven, so also are those who are of heaven.

> Romans 8:9-12 - You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. But if Christ is in you, although the body is dead because of sin, the Spirit is life because of righteousness. If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you. So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh. (ESV)

I believe that the power by which Jesus Christ was resurrected belongs to Father God but that Father God gave Jesus Christ authority to lay down His life that He might take it back up again. Jesus rose from the dead under his own authority, empowered by Father God. Jesus lays down His life that He may take it up again.

> John 10:17-18 - For this reason the Father loves me, because I lay down my life that I may take it up again. No one takes it from me, but I lay it down of my own accord. I have authority to lay it down, and I have authority to take it up again. This charge I have received from my Father. (ESV)

> Matthew 6:13 - 'And do not lead us into temptation, but deliver us from evil. [For Yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen.'] (NASB)

> Colossians 2:11-14 - In him also you were circumcised with a circumcision made without hands, by putting off the body of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ, having been buried with him in baptism, in which you were also raised with him through faith in the powerful working of God, who raised him from the dead. And you, who were dead in your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, God made alive together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses, by canceling the record of debt that stood against us with its legal demands. This he set aside, nailing it to the cross. (ESV)

> heart, Who will ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down) or Who will descend into the abyss? (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead). But what does it say? The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart (that is, the word of faith that we proclaim); because, if you confess with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For with the heart one believes and is justified, and with the mouth one confesses and is saved. For the Scripture says, Everyone who believes in him will not be put to shame. (ESV)

> Acts 26:8 - Why is it thought incredible by any of you that God raises the dead? (ESV)

We must love Jesus Christ:

> James 2:5 - Listen, my beloved brothers, has not God chosen those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom, which he has promised to those who love him? (ESV)

The one claiming to be in Christ has a duty to walk as Jesus did. But if we truly agape love Jesus then God will help us to do so:

> I John 2:6 The [one] claiming in Him to abide has a duty to just as that walk also He in the same way walked (Interlinear)

> John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

A person who does evil deeds is someone who from the love of darkness does deeds. So a person who does evil deeds does them from the love of darkness and a person who loves darkness rather than light (i.e. without excuse) is someone who receives judgement:

> John 3:19 - And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. (ESV)

> John 15:22-24 - If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not have been guilty of sin, but now they have no excuse for their sin. Whoever hates me hates my Father also. If I had not done among them the works that no one else did, they would not be guilty of sin, but now they have seen and hated both me and my Father. (ESV)

God judging on deeds is not antithetical to justification by faith, because God looks at what is in the heart. God also brings every deed into judgement, whether good or evil (not just ”one”):

> I Peter 1:17-19 - And if you call on him as Father who judges impartially according to each one's deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile, knowing that you were ransomed from the futile ways inherited from your forefathers, not with perishable things such as silver or gold, but with the precious blood of Christ, like that of a lamb without blemish or spot. (ESV)

> John 3:17-21 - For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him. Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his deeds should be exposed. But whoever does (G4160 poiōn; doing) what is true comes to the light, so that it may be clearly seen that his deeds have been carried out in God. (ESV)

> Ecclesiastes 12:13-14 - The end of the matter; all has been heard. Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man. For God will bring every deed into judgment, with every secret thing, whether good or evil. (ESV)

> Revelation of John 20:13 - And the sea gave up the dead who were in it, Death and Hades gave up the dead who were in them, and they were judged, each one of them, according to what they had done. (ESV)

Since it's possible for a person to "no longer be walking in love" and since it's possible for a person to "doubt", and since "God makes things grow" and is sovereign to decide where He wants something to grow or not, something that we have done/planted to flourish or not, (I Corinthians 3:7-15), and since the righteous ask when it was that they did what they are being commended for (Matthew 25:31-40), we should be in the fear of God seeking to please God at all times and endeavour to do good to all people, and in doing the will of God, God in His sovereignty discerns the hearts, commends faith, and may not actually reveal this commendedation until we stand before the Lord God at judgement:

> Romans 14:14-18 - I know and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus that nothing is unclean in itself, but it is unclean for anyone who thinks it unclean. For if your brother is grieved by what you eat, you are no longer walking in love. By what you eat, do not destroy the one for whom Christ died. So do not let what you regard as good be spoken of as evil. For the kingdom of God is not a matter of eating and drinking but of righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. Whoever thus serves Christ is acceptable to God and approved by men. (ESV)

> Hebrews 10:37-39 - For, Yet a little while, and the coming one will come and will not delay; _but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls. (ESV)

Jesus instructs us to walk in the reality that God is our Father, as He is also recorded as doing in Luke 2:46-49. If a person loves Jesus then when they call Father God their Father it is legitimate. But if a person does not love Jesus then neither is God their Father:

> Matthew 23:9 - And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. (ESV)

> Hebrews 11:24-25 - By faith Moses, when he was grown up, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter, choosing rather to be mistreated with the people of God than to enjoy the fleeting pleasures of sin. (ESV)

> John 3:36 - Whoever believes (G4100 pisteuōn - is believing (verb)) in the Son has eternal life; whoever does not obey (544. apeitheó) the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God remains on him. (ESV)

> Luke 2:46-49 - After three days they found him in the temple, sitting among the teachers, listening to them and asking them questions. And all who heard him were amazed at his understanding and his answers. And when his parents saw him, they were astonished. And his mother said to him, Son, why have you treated us so? Behold, your father and I have been searching for you in great distress. And he said to them, Why were you looking for me? Did you not know that I must be in my Father's house? (ESV)

> John 8:42 - Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. (ESV)

> I John 5:20 - And we know that the Son of God has come and has given us understanding, so that we may know him who is true; and we are in him who is true, in his Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and eternal life. (ESV)

> II Timothy 3:7-8 - I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will award to me on that Day, and not only to me but also to all who have loved his appearing. (ESV)

Good deeds come from a love of the truth. So if a person loves Jesus with genuine agape love that hates evil and they call on God as Father, then they are legitimate children of God. But God disciplines His children:

> I Peter 1:17-19 - And if you call on him as Father who judges impartially according to each one's deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile, knowing that you were ransomed from the futile ways inherited from your forefathers, not with perishable things such as silver or gold, but with the precious blood of Christ, like that of a lamb without blemish or spot. (ESV)

> Hebrews 12:4-8 - In your struggle against sin you have not yet resisted to the point of shedding your blood. And have you forgotten the exhortation that addresses you as sons? My son, do not regard lightly the discipline of the Lord, nor be weary when reproved by him. For the Lord disciplines the one he loves, and chastises every son whom he receives. It is for discipline that you have to endure. God is treating you as sons. For what son is there whom his father does not discipline? If you are left without discipline, in which all have participated, then you are illegitimate children and not sons. (ESV)

I believe that what matters most in this instruction to call no man your father on earth, is the faith. So if it was an accident or "slip of the tongue" or "force of habit" that a person accidentally called their "previous father" on earth their "father", or some other legitimate exception, then I think God deals leaniently. It's very important for us to call upon God the Father of Jesus Christ as our Father. God sees our hearts:

> II Kings 5:17-19 - Then Naaman said, If not, please let there be given to your servant two mules' load of earth, for from now on your servant will not offer burnt offering or sacrifice to any god but the LORD. In this matter may the LORD pardon your servant: when my master goes into the house of Rimmon to worship there, leaning on my arm, and I bow myself in the house of Rimmon, when I bow myself in the house of Rimmon, the LORD pardon your servant in this matter. He said to him, Go in peace. But when Naaman had gone from him a short distance, (ESV)

May God pardon me for doing such things as speaking in a way which sounds like I affirm what is no longer true because I have been so pressured by the people around me including the government to affirm my previous birthday rather than my new birthday, and my previous Dad as being Dad rather than my new Dad who is God the father of my Lord Jesus Christ, I believe I can claim by faith in God's word which says that all who have faith in Jesus Christ's name have the right to become children of God and because of Jesus Christ's instruction to call no man on earth their "father" for I have one father who is in heaven:

> II Kings 5:18 - In this matter may the LORD pardon your servant: when my master goes into the house of Rimmon to worship there, leaning on my arm, and I bow myself in the house of Rimmon, when I bow myself in the house of Rimmon, the LORD pardon your servant in this matter. (ESV)

> Luke 4:27 - And there were many lepers in Israel in the time of the prophet Elisha, and none of them was cleansed, but only Naaman the Syrian. (ESV)

When a person believes that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, they are believing that the person called Jesus (the Jesus who is the Messiah who is spoken of in the gospels Matthew, Mark, Luke and John) that person Jesus is the Son of God. So there's more significance to the declaration of faith that Jesus Christ is the Son of God by virtue of it being Jesus Christ who is being confessed as being the Son of God. Because a person might also claim "Adam is also the son of God" but Adam is not Jesus Christ the Word made flesh:

> I John 5:5 - Who is it that overcomes the world except the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God? (ESV)

> Mark 1:1 - The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God. (ESV)

> Luke 3:38 - the son of Enos, the son of Seth, the son of Adam, the son of God. (ESV)

What's quoted in the New Testament from Jesus is that Jesus spoke with His physical mouth that God is His Father. This offended some people a lot. Jesus instructs us to call God our Father as well. I believe we are not merely supposed to pray to God as Father, but also, literally, put a stop to using the title to refer to any man on earth:

> John 5:17-18 - But Jesus answered them, My Father is working until now, and I am working. This was why the Jews were seeking all the more to kill him, because not only was he breaking the Sabbath, but he was even calling God his own Father, making himself equal with God. (ESV)

> Matthew 23:9 - And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. (ESV)

The Apostle Paul here is not instructing people to call him father, but he does seem to be claiming the title. At best I'd say it's only true that Paul can claim the title until someone begins calling God the Father of Jesus Christ their own father. Jesus' commandments trump Paul's instruction:

> I Corinthians 4:15 - For though you have countless guides in Christ, you do not have many fathers. For I became your father in Christ Jesus through the gospel. (ESV)

I believe that in I Cor 11:1 Paul is asking those who imitate him to imitate him in imitating Christ. He actually commends his own followers for maintaining the traditions that he handed to them, but makes it clear to them that not only is he himself following Christ, seeking to imitate Christ, but that the head of every man is Christ:

> - I Corinthians 10:32-33 - Give no offense to Jews or to Greeks or to the church of God, just as I try to please everyone in everything I do, not seeking my own advantage, but that of many, that they may be saved. (ESV)
> - I Corinthians 11:1-3 - Be imitators of me, as I am of Christ. Now I commend you because you remember me in everything and maintain the traditions even as I delivered them to you. But I want you to understand that the head of every man is Christ, the head of a wife is her husband, and the head of Christ is God. (ESV)
> - I Corinthians 11:1 (Interlinear) - Imitators (G3402 Mimētai) of me (G1473 mou) be (G1096 ginesthe) as (G2531 kathōs) I also [am] (G2504 kagō) of Christ (G5547 Christou)

> Romans 14:4-6 - Who are you to pass judgment on the servant of another? It is before his own master that he stands or falls. And he will be upheld, for the Lord is able to make him stand. One person esteems one day as better than another, while another esteems all days alike. Each one should be fully convinced in his own mind. The one who observes the day, observes it in honor of the Lord. The one who eats, eats in honor of the Lord, since he gives thanks to God, while the one who abstains, abstains in honor of the Lord and gives thanks to God. (ESV)

> Romans 14:14-18 - I know and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus that nothing is unclean in itself, but it is unclean for anyone who thinks it unclean. For if your brother is grieved by what you eat, you are no longer walking in love. By what you eat, do not destroy the one for whom Christ died. So do not let what you regard as good be spoken of as evil. For the kingdom of God is not a matter of eating and drinking but of righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. Whoever thus serves Christ is acceptable to God and approved by men. (ESV)

And when people called Jesus the Son of God, He did not reprove them:

> Matthew 14:33 - And those in the boat worshiped him, saying, Truly you are the Son of God. (ESV)

> John 1:49-50 - Nathanael answered him, Rabbi, you are the Son of God! You are the King of Israel! Jesus answered him, Because I said to you, I saw you under the fig tree, do you believe? You will see greater things than these. (ESV)

So we should have faith and love for Jesus, trust His words and obey His instruction and walk by the Spirit and not by the flesh:

> John 8:42 - Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. (ESV)

> John 1:12 - But to all who did receive him, who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God, (ESV)

Walking by the spirit involves obeying our Master Jesus Christ. Even though we are not ”under law”, it’s still necessary to by faith obey Jesus Christ:

> Romans 6:14-18 - For sin will have no dominion over you, since you are not under law but under grace. What then? Are we to sin because we are not under law but under grace? By no means! Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. (ESV)

We must receive, believe, treasure and obey Jesus Christ and His words (Matthew 13:3-46). We must continue in faith in Jesus, in His word, and desire God more than anything else (Mark 4:18-19). These Jews had believed in Jesus but they needed to become free from sin, and Jesus promised that if they abide in His word then they are truly His disciples, and will come to know the truth and be set free from sin. Jesus lets these ”believers” in him know that if they were ”of God” then they would ”love” him. We have to hear, receive, believe and treasure (Luke 8:13) Jesus Christ and His words. The word of God must be rooted securely in our heart, so we must treasure and guard God’s word in our heart (Luke 8:13):

> John 8:31-47 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed (G4100 pepisteukotas: having believed ’V-RPA-AMP past tense’) in him, If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free. They answered him, We are offspring of Abraham and have never been enslaved to anyone. How is it that you say, You will become free? Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. I know that you are offspring of Abraham; yet you seek to kill me because my word finds no place in you. I speak of what I have seen with my Father, and you do what you have heard from your father. They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham’s children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father’s desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. Which one of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God. (ESV)

Mark 4:18-19 - And others are the ones sown among thorns. They are those who hear the word, but the cares of the world and the deceitfulness of riches and the desires for other things enter in and choke the word, and it proves unfruitful. (ESV)

We must be ”trusting/believing” to receive the truth:

John 20:27 - Then he said to Thomas, Put your finger here, and see my hands; and put out your hand, and place it in my side. Do not disbelieve, but believe. (ESV)

I Corinthians 2:14 - The natural person does not accept the things of the Spirit of God, for they are folly to him, and he is not able to understand them because they are spiritually discerned. (ESV)

youtube.com: Christians , NEVER Make These Bible Interpretation Mistakes {@ AnswersCanada } @ti

Now, obviously, if there's no definite way to interpret the majority of the Bible by the average person, then even the basic fundamentals of the faith like Christ's death and resurrection would be open for interpretation. Efforts to translate the Bible into everyday language, putting them into the hands of every believer so that they could be good Bereans (Acts 17:10-11) and compare the word of God versus the preaching of men in order to be able to discern false teaching - That's a basic principle understood by most. The perspicuity, the clarity of scripture is assumed in verses like II Corinthians 4:2.

II Corinthians 4:2 - But we have renounced disgraceful, underhanded ways. We refuse to practice cunning or to tamper with God's word, but by the open statement of the truth we would commend ourselves to everyone's conscience in the sight of God. (ESV)

Acts 17:10-11 - The brothers immediately sent Paul and Silas away by night to Berea, and when they arrived they went into the Jewish synagogue. Now these Jews were more noble than those in Thessalonica; they received the word with all eagerness, examining the Scriptures daily to see if these things were so. (ESV)

We should continue prefering God and resisting and rejecting sin and run the race:

Hebrews 12:1-4 - Therefore, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us also lay aside every weight, and sin which clings so closely, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, looking to Jesus, the founder and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is seated at the right hand of the throne of God. Consider him who endured from sinners such hostility against himself, so that you may not grow weary or fainthearted. In your struggle against sin you have not yet resisted to the point of shedding your blood. (ESV)

God will help us. See how Jesus sits at God's right hand and God will uphold us with His right hand:

Isaiah 41:10 - fear not, for I am with you; be not dismayed, for I am your God; I will strengthen you, I will help you, I will uphold you with my righteous right hand. (ESV)

John 12:35-43 - So Jesus said to them, The light is among you for a little while longer. Walk while you have the light, lest darkness overtake you. The one who walks in the darkness does not know where he is going. While you have the light, believe in the light, that you may become sons of light. When Jesus had said these things, he departed and hid himself from them. Though he had done so many signs before them, they still did not believe in him, so that the word spoken by the prophet Isaiah might be fulfilled: Lord, who has believed what he heard from us, and to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed? Therefore they could not believe. For again Isaiah said, He has blinded their eyes and hardened their heart, lest they see with their eyes, and understand with their heart, and turn, and I would heal them. Isaiah said these things because he saw his glory and spoke of him. Nevertheless, many even of the authorities believed in him, but for fear of the Pharisees they did not confess it, so that they would not be put out of the synagogue; for they loved the glory that comes from man more than the glory that comes from God. (ESV)

Receiving forgiveness from Jesus, having faith in Jesus and loving Jesus all go hand in hand. In fact, someone who truly has been forgiven by God must love in the truth and someone who does't love in the truth neither has been forgiven because if they were forgiven they would love. And notice how the woman's faith is linked with the love she has:

> Luke 7:40-50 - And Jesus answering said to him, Simon, I have something to say to you. And he answered, Say it, Teacher. A certain moneylender had two debtors. One owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty. When they could not pay, he cancelled the debt of both. Now which of them will love him more? Simon answered, The one, I suppose, for whom he cancelled the larger debt. And he said to him, You have judged rightly. Then turning toward the woman he said to Simon, Do you see this woman? I entered your house; you gave me no water for my feet, but she has wet my feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. You gave me no kiss, but from the time I came in she has not ceased to kiss my feet. You did not anoint my head with oil, but she has anointed my feet with ointment. Therefore I tell you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven—for she loved much. But he who is forgiven little, loves little. And he said to her, Your sins are forgiven. Then those who were at table with him began to say among themselves, Who is this, who even forgives sins? And he said to the woman, Your faith has saved you; go in peace. (ESV)

> Romans 3:23-26 - for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. (ESV)

A believer is obligated to fulfill the law of Christ. So after first coming to have faith in Jesus, we must continue in faith trusting Jesus Christ, being corrected by Him:

> I John 2:3-6 - And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to (G3784 opheilei; ought to, obligated to, has a duty to) walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

> Romans 13:8-10 - Owe no one anything, except to love each other, for the one who loves another has fulfilled the law. The commandments, You shall not commit adultery, You shall not murder, You shall not steal, You shall not covet, and any other commandment, are summed up in this word: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. (ESV)

> Proverbs 3:27 - Do not withhold good from those to whom it is due, when it is in your power to do it. (ESV)

> I John 2:11-12 - But whoever hates his brother is in the darkness and walks in the darkness, and does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes. I am writing to you, little children, because your sins are forgiven for his name's sake. (ESV)

If we have the love of the truth in us (the love of Jesus Christ who loved us first), that is loving perfect righteousness, and so long as we love Jesus Christ who is the Son of God more than anything in creation, and hold onto love for Him, then the darkness does not overtake us:

> John 1:4-5 - In him was life, and the life was the light of men. The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it. (ESV)

With the love of the truth (loving God rather than evil), we hold faith in Jesus and abide in His commandments, and by faith obeying Jesus just like Abraham did, loving righteousness and hating wickedness as Jesus did, Jesus helps us by His spirit to "love our enemies and pray for those who persecute us" so that we may be sons of our Father who is in heaven. Jesus helps us to love in the way that Jesus loves us, and Jesus loved us while we were yet sinners and bears with us and intercedes to Father God for us and saves us as we draw near to God through Him by loving God and hating evil:

> Matthew 5:17-20 - Do not think that I have come to abolish the Law or the Prophets; I have not come to abolish them but to fulfill them. For truly, I say to you, until heaven and earth pass away, not an iota, not a dot, will pass from the Law until all is accomplished. Therefore whoever relaxes one of the least of these commandments and teaches others to do the same will be called least in the kingdom of heaven, but whoever does them and teaches them will be called great in the kingdom of heaven. For I tell you, unless your righteousness exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. (ESV)

> Matthew 5:43-48 - You have heard that it was said, You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy. But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You therefore must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect. (ESV)

Jesus helps us to do this. By faith in Jesus Christ we can be those who walk in the way that Jesus taught to walk:

> Luke 6:27-36 - But I say to you who hear, Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, pray for those who abuse you. To one who strikes you on the cheek, offer the other also, and from one who takes away your cloak do not withhold your tunic either. Give to everyone who begs from you, and from one who takes away your goods do not demand them back. And as you wish that others would do to you, do so to them. If you love those who love you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them. And if you do good to those who do good to you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners do the same. And if you lend to those from whom you expect to receive, what credit is that to you? Even sinners lend to sinners, to get back the same amount. But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing in return, and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, for he is kind to the ungrateful and the evil. Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful. (ESV)

It's within our power to not bear grudges agaist our family in Christ and to not bear grudges with our neighbour. It's within our power to love our neighbour in deed because primarily it's a matter of what is in a person's heart. It's also within our power, if we have the world's goods and have met existing obligation for using those goods, to love our neighbour in deed with those goods:

> Proverbs 3:27 - Do not withhold good from those to whom it is due, when it is in your power to do it. (ESV)

> Colossians 3:12-14 - Put on then, as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, compassion, kindness, humility, meekness, and patience, bearing with one another and, if one has a complaint against another, forgiving each other; as the Lord has forgiven you, so you also must forgive. And above all these put on love, which binds everything together in perfect harmony. (ESV)

> I John 3:17-18 - But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth. (ESV)

> Matthew 18:21-22 - Then Peter came up and said to him, Lord, how often will my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? As many as seven times? Jesus said to him, I do not say to you seven times, but seventy times seven. (ESV)

The love of Christ controls us:

> Revelation of John 1:4-6 - John to the seven churches that are in Asia: Grace to you and peace from him who is and who was and who is to come, and from the seven spirits who are before his throne, and from Jesus Christ the faithful witness, the firstborn of the dead, and the ruler of kings on earth. To him who loves us and has freed us from our sins by his blood and made us a kingdom, priests to his God and Father, to him be glory and dominion forever and ever. Amen. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 5:14-15 - For the love of Christ controls us, because we have concluded this: that one has died for all, therefore all have died; and he died for all, that those who live might no longer live for themselves but for him who for their sake died and was raised. (ESV)

> I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

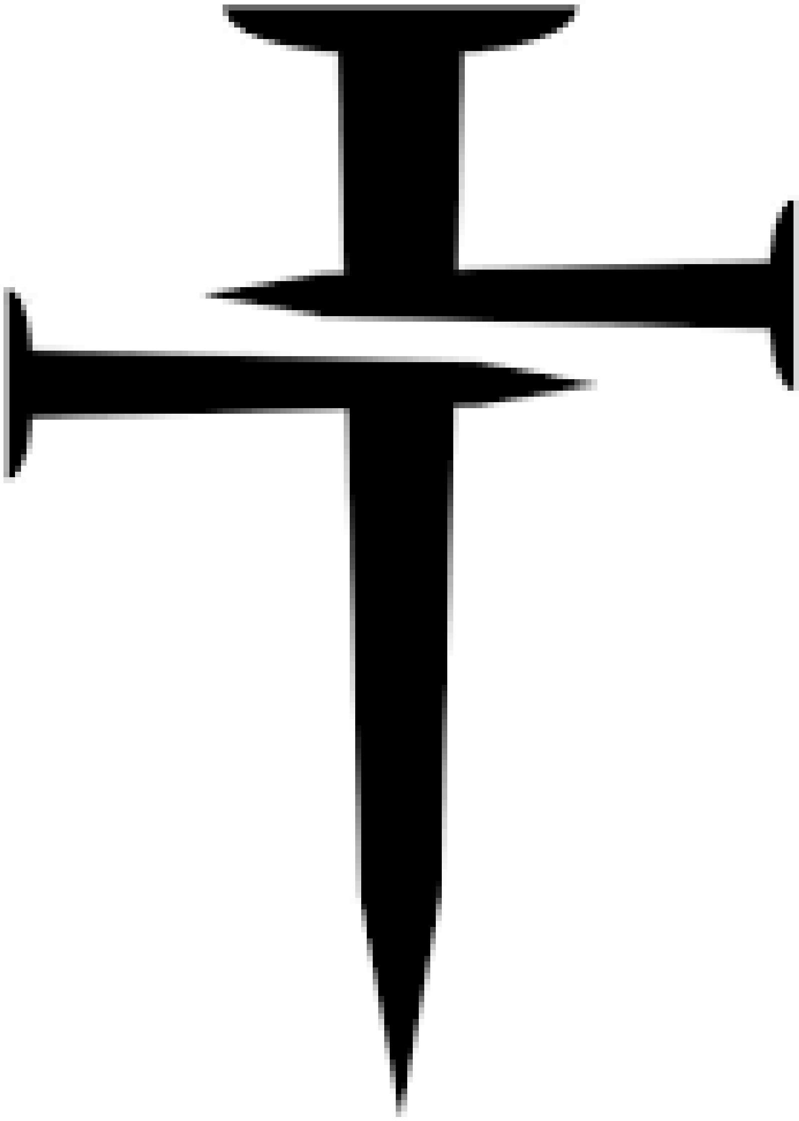
I have a long sleeve shirt with the three nails on it which I wear sometimes.



To me it represents that Jesus was pierced for our transgressions (Isaiah 53:5).

> Isaiah 53:5 - But He was pierced through for our transgressions, He was crushed for our iniquities; The chastening for our well-being fell upon Him, And by His scourging we are healed. (NASB)

I know that I need and will always need Jesus, and will always need God's mercy and grace. And I know that it's really what Jesus has done in His passion, death and resurrection that I can have peace with God through faith in Him. I know that whoever presently is exercising genuine faith in Jesus Christ has forgiveness for sin and eternal life. This faith entails trust in, confidence in and love for Jesus and His word.

And if someone presently has no agape love for Jesus then neither can they presently have real faith in God (I Corinthians 16:22, John 8:31-47) because real faith loves the truth (II Thessalonians 2:10, Genesis 22:9-14). And if they do not agape love their family in Christ, but rather hate them, then neither do they love God (I John 4:19-21). Real agape love rejoices with the truth (I Corinthians 13:1-8). And if they agape love the world and the things of the world then they do not love Father God (I John 2:15-17). A person should test themselves to see if they're in the faith and come into agreement with Jesus (II Corinthians 13:5). And when a person reads Jesus' word and finds themself in agreement with Him and tests themselves to see if they're in the faith and they are making decisions out of love for Jesus and His word, they don't hate their family in Christ and are abiding in Jesus' commandments etc. then they should feel peace, forgiven, hopeful, good expectation of the future (I John 3:21-24, Proverbs 10:28, Proverbs 10:24).

John the Baptist's call of repentance, to repent, turn from sin, forsake sin and to love our neighbour the way we are commanded to is still for Christians to heed and do. And the wrath to come is still on its way for those who reject Jesus. But how do we accept Jesus? By doing what Abraham did. By faith we must obey Jesus Christ. We must keep Jesus' commandments and forsake sin to come to know Jesus Christ:

> Luke 3:4-14 - As it is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet, The voice of one crying in the wilderness: Prepare the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be made low, and the crooked shall become straight, and the rough places shall become level ways, and all flesh shall see the salvation of God. He said therefore to the crowds that came out to be baptized by him, You brood of vipers! Who warned you to flee from (G575 apo; from, away from, of, by) the wrath to come? Bear fruits in keeping with repentance. And do not begin to say to yourselves, We have Abraham as our father. For I tell you, God is able from these stones to raise up children for Abraham. Even now the axe is laid to the root of the trees. Every tree therefore that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. And the crowds asked him, What then shall we do? And he answered them, Whoever has two tunics is to share with him who has none, and whoever has food is to do likewise. Tax collectors also came to be baptized and said to him, Teacher, what shall we do? And he said to them, Collect no more than you are authorized to do. Soldiers also asked him, And we, what shall we do? And he said to them, Do not extort money from anyone by threats or by false accusation, and be content with your wages. (ESV)

> Malachi 4:4-6 - Remember the law of my servant Moses, the statutes and rules that I commanded him at Horeb for all Israel. Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the great and awesome day of the LORD comes. And he will turn the hearts of fathers to their children and the hearts of children to their fathers, lest I come and strike the land with a decree of utter destruction. (ESV)

Having faith in Jesus, abiding in Him comandments, rather than committing sin, we come to know Him and Father God:

> I John 2:3-4 - And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, (ESV)
> I John 3:6 - No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 15:34 - Wake up from your drunken stupor, as is right, and do not go on sinning. For some have no knowledge of God. I say this to your shame. (ESV)
> I Timothy 2:4 - who desires all people to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth. (ESV)
> II Timothy 2:25 - correcting his opponents with gentleness. God may perhaps grant them repentance leading to a knowledge of the truth, (ESV)

> II Peter 3:17-18 - You therefore, beloved, knowing this beforehand, take care that you are not carried away with the error of lawless people and lose your own stability. But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To him be the glory both now and to the day of eternity. Amen. (ESV)

> Philippians 3:8-11 - Indeed, I count everything as loss because of the surpassing worth of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For his sake I have suffered the loss of all things and count them as rubbish, in order that I may gain Christ and be found in him, not having a righteousness of my own that comes from the law, but that which comes through faith in Christ, the righteousness from God that depends on faith— that I may know him and the power of his resurrection, and may share his sufferings, becoming like him in his death, that by any means possible I may attain the resurrection from the dead. (ESV)

> Jn 14:7: If you had known me, you would have known my Father also. From now on you do know him and have seen him.

Someone who has true faith in Jesus Christ is somebody who loves the brethren (family in Christ):

> John 5:21-24 - For as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, so also the Son gives life to whom he will. The Father judges no one, but has given all judgment to the Son, that all may honor the Son, just as they honor the Father. Whoever does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent him. Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears my word and believes (G4100 pisteuo) him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come (2064. erchomai) into judgment, but has passed from death to life.

> I John 3:13-16 - Do not be surprised, brothers, that the world hates you. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. (ESV)

Our faith mustn't be a superficial faith but we must trust and treasure God's word and do it so that in time of testing we do not fall away:

> Luke 8:13 - And the ones on the rock are those who, when they hear the word, receive it with joy. But these have no root; they believe for a while, and in time of testing fall away. (ESV)

> Luke 6:47-49 - Everyone who comes to me and hears my words and does them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. And when a flood arose, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it, because it had been well built. But the one who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. When the stream broke against it, immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great. (ESV)

> Mark 4:20 - But those that were sown on the good soil are the ones who hear the word and accept it and bear fruit, thirtyfold and sixtyfold and a hundredfold. (ESV)

Clearly we must continue in the faith:

> I Corinthians 15:1-2 - Now I would remind you, brothers, of the gospel I preached to you, which you received, in which you stand, and by which you are being saved, if you hold fast to the word I preached to you—unless you believed in vain. (ESV)

> Colossians 1:21-23 - And you, who once were alienated and hostile in mind, doing evil deeds, he has now reconciled in his body of flesh by his death, in order to present you holy and blameless and above reproach before him, if indeed you continue in the faith, stable and steadfast, not shifting from the hope of the gospel that you heard, which has been proclaimed in all creation under heaven, and of which I, Paul, became a minister. (ESV)

> Hebrews 3:5-6 - Now Moses was faithful in all God's house as a servant, to testify to the things that were to be spoken later, but Christ is faithful over God's house as a son. And we are his house if indeed we hold fast our confidence and our boasting in our hope. (ESV)
> Hebrews 3:14 - For we share in Christ, if indeed we hold our original confidence firm to the end. (ESV)
> II Timothy 4:7 - I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. (ESV)

Maintain faith in Jesus. Remain in Him:

> John 15:4-7 - Remain in Me, and I will remain in you. Just as no branch can bear fruit by itself unless it remains in the vine, neither can you bear fruit unless you remain in Me. I am the vine and you are the branches. The one who remains in Me, and I in him, will bear much fruit. For apart from Me you can do nothing. If anyone does not remain in Me, he is like a branch that is thrown away and withers. Such branches are gathered up, thrown into the fire, and burned. If you remain in Me and My words remain in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be done for you. (engbsb2020eb)

It's one thing to say, "I have been displeasing to God." And haven't we all. It's another thing to say, "Nothing I can do can please God." It's not true that nothing we can do can please God. Faith pleases God and love for God's Son pleases God (Hebrews 11:6, John 16:27). To say that nothing we can do can please God is to say that, there is no way to be saved, and that not even by having faith in Jesus. To say that nothing we can do can please God is to say that, not even to turn away from sin would please God, and that not even to trust in God's promises would please God, and that not even to love God could please God. To say that nothing we can do can please God is an "anti-gospel".

Yet, if we have come to love Jesus Christ then it's by God's grace:

> John 6:40-44 - For this is the will of my Father, that everyone who looks on the Son and believes in him should have eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. So the Jews grumbled about him, because he said, I am the bread that came down from heaven. They said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How does he now say, I have come down from heaven? Jesus answered them, Do not grumble among yourselves. No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him. And I will raise him up on the last day. (ESV)
> Revelation of John 2:21 - I gave her time to repent, but she refuses to repent of her sexual immorality. (ESV)

Analogy for abiding in Jesus Since Jesus is the Telos of the Law and we're not "under the Law" but "law-abiding" to Christ's law then the person "under the Law" trying to fulfill the whole law might be compared to a person who is walking to a train station but the journey is impossibly difficult. God has done this in Jesus Christ. What is impossible for man to have done, Jesus did. And the other thing God does which is impossible for man to do without God is put us into Christ. According to the metaphor, then, God then puts us at the train station. And the person who is "law-abiding" to Christ's law would be someone who has come to Jesus, someone who Father God has drawn to Christ, and is now at the metaphorical train station (Jesus Christ who is the Telos of the law). God put them at the train station in Jesus. And Jesus asks us to "remain in Him". And so the analogy would be "remain at the train station" (i.e. You're already there, just don't leave the train station). Jesus won't expell you (i.e. no-one can snatch us from His hand) but He asks you to remain (i.e. abide) in Him. Don't go off wondering away. Don't leave the metaphorical train station. We examine ourselves to see if we are in the faith. For example, if we hate our brother then we have left the train station. If we do not believe Jesus is the Son of God then we have left the train station, and like the prodigal son, we must return to God by repentance. If we the branches remain in a place of not abiding in Christ then we wither. And at the end of the age the branches that are not abiding in Jesus are collected and burned.

> I Corinthians 1:30 - But by His doing you are in Christ Jesus, who became to us wisdom from God, and righteousness and sanctification, and redemption, (NASB)

This song also I think accurately reflects the truth of Scripture which shows that faith is necessary to ”board the train” of salvation, so to speak. We do need to continue in faith. And the hopeless sinner here does speak of a person who does not have that faith. God justifies the ungodly who have faith in Jesus Christ. Thank God:

youtube.com: People Get Ready , Jesus Is Comin ’ [Verse 1] Lord I’m ready now I’m waiting for Your triumphant return You’re coming so soon This world has nothing for me I find my peace and joy solely in You Only in You I want the world to see that You’re alive and living well in me Let me be a part of the harvest For the days are few He’s coming soon

[Chorus] People get ready Jesus is comin’ Soon we’ll be going home People get ready Jesus is comin’ To take from the world His own

[Verse 2] There will be a day When we will be divided right and left For those who know Him And those who do not know Those who know Him well Will meet Him in the air Hallelujah God is with us Those who do not know They will hear ”Depart, I knew you not” For my friends you see There will be a day when we’ll be counted So know Him well, know Him well

I believe we say thank you to God in advance with hope of salvation. But it's not without seeking commendation from God. If we pat ourselves on the back and commend ourselves for having done the will of God and think we "did it already" and then stop actually doing it, then that's not abiding in Jesus Christ anymore. Because Jesus' family continues doing the will of God. Everything we do should be done in faith. In Christ, no-one hates one-another:

> I Thessalonians 5:8 - But since we belong to the day, let us be sober, having put on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet the hope of salvation. (ESV)
> Luke 9:62 - Jesus said to him, No one who puts his hand to the plow and looks back is fit for the kingdom of God. (ESV)

We have to continue walking in love for one-another:

1Clem 50:1-4 Ye see, dearly beloved, how great and marvelous a thing is love, and there is no declaring its perfection. Who is sufficient to be found therein, save those to whom God shall vouchsafe it? Let us therefore entreat and ask of His mercy, that we may be found blameless in love, standing apart from the factiousness of men. All the generations from Adam unto this day have passed away: but they that by God's grace were perfected in love dwell in the abode of the pious; and they shall be made manifest in the visitation of the Kingdom of God. For it is written; Enter into the closet for a very little while until Mine anger and Mine wrath shall pass away, and I will remember a good day and will raise you from your tombs. Blessed were we, dearly beloved, if we should be doing the commandments of God in concord of love, to the end that our sins may through love be forgiven us.

> Isaiah 26:20 - Come, my people, enter your chambers, and shut your doors behind you; hide yourselves for a little while until the fury has passed by. (ESV)
> Ezekiel 37:12-14 - Therefore, prophesy, and thou hast said unto them, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I am opening your graves, And have brought you up out of your graves, O My people, And brought you in unto the land of Israel. And ye have known that I am Jehovah, In My opening your graves, And in My bringing you up out of your graves, O My people. And I have given My Spirit in you, and ye have lived, And I have caused you to rest on your land, And ye have known that I Jehovah, I have spoken, and I have done it , An affirmation of Jehovah.' (YLT)
> Romans 14:14-18 - I know and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus that nothing is unclean in itself, but it is unclean for anyone who thinks it unclean. For if your brother is grieved by what you eat, you are no longer walking in love. By what you eat, do not destroy the one for whom Christ died. So do not let what you regard as good be spoken of as evil. For the kingdom of God is not a matter of eating and drinking but of righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. Whoever thus serves Christ is acceptable to God and approved by men. (ESV)

It's prideful to think that a person does not need to continue on in faith and abide in Jesus Christ's teachings including confessing and forsaking sin after coming to have faith in His blood:

> Romans 11:20-25 - That is true. They were broken off because of their unbelief, but you stand fast through faith. So do not become proud, but stand in awe. For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. Note then the kindness and the severity of God: severity toward those who have fallen, but God's kindness to you, provided you continue in his kindness. Otherwise you too will be cut off. And even they, if they do not continue in their unbelief, will be grafted in, for God has the power to graft them in again. For if you were cut from what is by nature a wild olive tree, and grafted, contrary to nature, into a cultivated olive tree, how much more will these, the natural branches, be grafted back into their own olive tree. Lest you be wise in your own conceits, I want you to understand this mystery, brothers: a partial hardening has come upon Israel, until the fullness of the Gentiles has come in. (ESV)

> Matthew 18:21-35 - Then Peter came up and said to him, Lord, how often will my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? As many as seven times? Jesus said to him, I do not say to you seven times, but seventy times seven. Therefore the kingdom of heaven may be compared to a king who wished to settle accounts with his servants. When he began to settle, one was brought to him who owed him ten thousand talents. And since he could not pay, his master ordered him to be sold, with his wife and children and all that he had, and payment to be made. So the servant fell on his knees, imploring him, Have patience with me, and I will pay you everything. And out of pity for him, the master of that servant released him and forgave him the debt. But when that same servant went out, he found one of his fellow servants who owed him a hundred denarii, and seizing him, he began to choke him, saying, Pay what you owe. So his fellow servant fell down and pleaded with him, Have patience with me, and I will pay you. He refused and went and put him in prison until he should pay the debt. When his fellow servants saw what had taken place, they were greatly distressed, and they went and reported to their master all that had taken place. Then his master summoned him and said to him, You wicked servant! I forgave you all that debt because you pleaded with me. And should not you have had mercy on your fellow servant, as I had mercy on you? And in anger his master delivered him to the jailers, until he should pay all his debt. So also my heavenly Father will do to every one of you, if you do not forgive your brother from your heart. (ESV)

> John 15:10 - If you keep My commandments, you will remain in My love, just as I have kept My Father's commandments and remain in His love. (engbsb2020eb)

> John 8:34-35 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. (ESV)

Faith in Jesus Christ (and that doesn't mean "not obedience to Jesus"), so by faith obeying Jesus Christ (like Abraham's faith, Hebrews 11:8), that's how to be justified:

> Galatians 3:22-27 - But the Scripture imprisoned everything under sin, so that the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given to those who believe. Now before faith came, we were held captive under the law, imprisoned until the coming faith would be revealed. So then, the law was our guardian until Christ came, in order that we might be justified by faith. But now that faith has come, we are no longer under a guardian, for in Christ Jesus you are all sons of God, through faith. For as many of you as were baptized into Christ have put on Christ. (ESV)

Jesus is before all things (John 1:1-2) and is the ultimate servant (Matthew 23:8-11). He is pre-eminent (Colossians 1:15-20, John 8:56-58) and is our leader (Luke 22:26-27).

Love is (G3173 meizōn; greater/older) than faith (i.e. the treasuring the truth is greater/most preceeding). So I think what we need to do is "with love for the truth have faith in Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, and by faith obey Him":

> Matthew 11:10-11 - This is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before your face, who will prepare your way before you. Truly, I say to you, among those born of women there has arisen no one greater (G3173 meizōn; greater/older) than John the Baptist. Yet the one who is least (G3398 mikroteros; the least) in the kingdom of heaven is greater (G3173 meizōn; greater/older) than he. (ESV)

> Romans 9:12 - she was told, The older (G3173 meizōn; greater/older) will serve the younger. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 13:13 - So now faith, hope, and love abide, these three; but the greatest (G3173 meizōn; [the] greatest, most preceeding) of these is love. (ESV)

> Hebrews 11:8 - By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place that he was to receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going. (ESV)

youtube.com: Atheist ACCIDENTALLY Makes A Case For JESUS { During Debate !} {@ Daily$_{\text{DoseOfW}}$

You mentioned what I would call "testability" ([You can] test Newton's laws and all this kind of thing). And I'm constantly up against the question: "How can you as a scientist believe this stuff when it's not testable?" And I say, who said it isn't testable? You see, why am I sitting here as a Christian? Because I tested the claims that Christ has made. Let me give you one simple example: … Christ promises that those who trust Him and receive Him will receive peace with God and forgiveness and a new life and a new power. I've seen that happen to me and to people endless times and when you see two and two make four all the time you begin to believe that two and two make four. I think it's eminently testable, and so to come back on Michael's side for a moment, I think there are different levels of argument, Michael. You mentioned testing laws in the laboratory, but there are many things in science, as we know, that are not testable. You can't test the origin of life in the lab. You have to make an inference to the best explanation in the past. And that is true of many things. So for me the evidence on which my faith is based is cumulative. Part of it is objective, intellectual, arguments and all this kind of thing, but a great deal of it has to do with the evidence of does it actually work in life?

youtube.com: Why Jesus ' Resurrection Changes Everything | Charlie Kirk ' s Easter Message {@ turni

Are you a Christian by any chance? » Very, very much so.

» And I want to ask like like why is that exactly?

» Oh, Jesus saved my life. I'm a sinner. Fall short of the glory of God. Gave my life to Christ. Most important decision I ever made.

» So, you believe the Bible is real?

» Yes, I believe the Bible is true and real.

» Why is that?

» Um, well, I could give you the technical answer. There's never been an archaeological discovery that has contradicted the truth of the Bible. Um, we know everything in the Bible as far as the kings, as far as the succession of Israeli rulers to the Jewish people being put in exile to be put back into uh the land of Jerusalem to the destruction of the temple in AD70, all that checks out. There's never been a discovery that's contradicted it from King Hezekiah to King Cyrus to Nehemiah to Zerubbabel to the destruction of the creation of the second temple. Um, and then of course the wisdom. There is not a truth of the Bible that if you apply to your life, your life does not improve dramatically. And then finally, uh, we have the most accurate and transparent, um, the most historically robust account, I should say, uh, that one can have of the most important figure ever to live in the history of the world, Jesus of Nazareth. And Jesus of Nazareth, who was born a virgin birth, what we believe is the incarnation, um, performed miracles all throughout Judea and Samaria, eventually uh, you know, confronted Pharisees, led to a death that he did not deserve, uh, was in the grave for three days, and then rose from the dead. And the resurrection is the is the pinpoint of my belief that Jesus did rise from the grave so that we may live.

Jesus Christ is the Baptizer, and Jesus baptises us with Holy Spirit and with fire (rather than with H O water), although "living water" is an expression used to refer to Holy Spirit (John 7:37-39). Jesus who is greater in the Kingdom of God than that John the Baptist baptizes with a baptism that is greater and more power than John's baptism:

> Luke 3:16 - John answered them all, saying, I baptize you with water, but he who is mightier than I is coming, the strap of whose sandals I am not worthy to untie. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire.

> Acts 11:16 - And I remembered the word of the Lord, how he said, John baptized with water, but you will be baptized with the Holy Spirit. (ESV)

> John 4:10 - Jesus answered her, If you knew the gift of God, and who it is that is saying to you, Give me a drink, you would have asked him, and he would have given you living water. (ESV)

> Jeremiah 17:13-15 - O LORD, the hope of Israel, all who forsake you shall be put to shame; those who turn away from you shall be written in the earth, for they have forsaken the LORD, the fountain of living water. Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved, for you are my praise. Behold, they say to me, Where is the word of the LORD? Let it come! (ESV)

So we should trust and obey Jesus and Jesus will baptise us with Holy Spirit:

> John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)

> Ezekiel 33:31-32 - So My people come to you as usual, sit before you, and hear your words; but they do not put them into practice. Although they express love with their mouths, their hearts pursue dishonest gain. Indeed, you are to them like a singer of love songs with a beautiful voice, who skillfully plays an instrument. They hear your words but do not put them into practice. (engbsb2020eb)

> Luke 8:21 - But he answered them, My mother and my brothers are those who hear the word of God and do it. (ESV)

We should just do what the Lord Jesus Christ says and disregard the advice of those who would deter us:

> Psalms 1:1-6 - Blessed is the man who walks not in the counsel of the wicked, nor stands in the way of sinners, nor sits in the seat of scoffers; but his delight is in the law of the LORD, and on his law he meditates day and night. He is like a tree planted by streams of water that yields its fruit in its season, and its leaf does not wither. In all that he does, he prospers. The wicked are not so, but are like chaff that the wind drives away. Therefore the wicked will not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous; for the LORD knows the way of the righteous, but the way of the wicked will perish. (ESV)

> Galatians 6:7-10 - Do not be deceived: God is not mocked, for whatever one sows, that will he also reap. For the one who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption, but the one who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life. And let us not grow weary of doing good, for in due season we will reap, if we do not give up. So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to those who are of the household of faith. (ESV)

It's Jesus Christ who is our teacher, and we should direct those who we teach to follow Jesus Christ directly and for themselves. Jesus' word is authoritative. But Jesus' instruction to not call ourself 'teacher', or 'instructor', or 'rabbi' (, and it follows also 'master', 'Lord' etc.) doesn't mean we should not progress into teaching others after we have become skilled in the word of righteousness. At some point we should get to the point where we can teach and disciple others, but we should be directing people to have their own faith in Jesus Christ:

> Matthew 23:8-11 - But you are not to be called rabbi, for you have one teacher, and you are all brothers. And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. Neither be called instructors, for you have one instructor, the Christ. The greatest among you shall be your servant. (ESV)

> Hebrews 5:12-14 - For though by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to teach you again the basic principles of the oracles of God. You need milk, not solid food, for everyone who lives on milk is unskilled in the word of righteousness, since he is a child. But solid food is for the mature, for those who have their powers of discernment trained by constant practice to distinguish good from evil. (ESV)

Jesus isn't saying in Luke 11:2-13 that the one knocking is not a friend of the one who gets up, but Jesus is saying the friend is impudent/persistent in asking his friend. And so, we should certainly be friends with God, doing what Jesus commands us as friends of Jesus do as He commands (John 15:9-14, John 15:13-17). And we should persist and ask God for Holy Spirit. So what I'd say is that we should be keeping Jesus' commandments and when we ask God for something, we knock on His door for it, at any time. And we should ask God for Holy Spirit (Luke 11:2-13).

Thanks to Jesus condemning sin in the flesh, now for those who live according to the Spirit (trusting, treasuring and obeying God, His Word, Jesus Christ, Jesus' teachings in reality in the heart) setting their minds on the Spirit, we can fulfill the requirement of the law, having the law-fulfilling love of God in us that does not want to harm our neighbour (Romans 13:8-10), that loves agape (from the heart) the children of God in the way that God commands us to (I John 5:1-2), the way that is keeping Jesus' commandments (Ezekiel 33:31-32), and keeping Jesus' commandments is what it means to love Jesus (John 14:21). Whoever abides in Jesus Christ (whoever is presently holding their faith in Him, by faith obeying Jesus Christ) is not condemned by God. So there is peace with God in Christ, as we trust and obey Jesus Christ. We should use our freedom to serve one another:

> Romans 8:3-4 - For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. (ESV)

> I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

> Galatians 5:13-14 - For you were called to freedom, brothers. Only do not use your freedom as an opportunity for the flesh, but through love serve one another. For the whole law is fulfilled in one word (G3056 logō): You shall love your neighbor as yourself. (ESV)

G1247 diakoneó: To serve, to minister, to attend to 1. to be an attendant, to wait upon (menially or as a host, friend) 2. (figuratively) to serve as a teacher 3. (technically) to act as a Christian steward (deacon)

Serving Christ involves serving His family. Jesus Christ didn't come to "be served" but to serve, and to being a servent of Christ actually involves serving His family (i.e. those born of God):

> Matthew 20:25-28 - But Jesus called them to him and said, You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. It shall not be so among you. But whoever would be great among you must be your servant, and whoever would be first among you must be your slave, even as the Son of Man came not to be served (G1247 diakonēthēnai: To serve, to minister, to attend to) but to serve (G1247 diakonēsai: To serve, to minister, to attend to), and to give his life as a ransom for many. (ESV)

> Romans 14:17-18 - For the kingdom of God is not a matter of eating and drinking but of righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. Whoever thus serves (G1398 douleuó: To serve, to be a slave to, to be in bondage) Christ is acceptable to God and approved by men. (ESV)

Our hearts are purified by faith in Jesus Christ, a faith that loves Jesus Christ, even the fact that God loved us first, and this should yield love for one another:

> Acts 15:8-9 - And God, who knows the heart, bore witness to them, by giving them the Holy Spirit just as he did to us, and he made no distinction between us and them, having cleansed their hearts by faith. (ESV)

> I Thessalonians 3:12 - and may the Lord make you increase and abound in love for one another and for all, as we do for you, (ESV)

> Luke 7:47 - Therefore I tell you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven—for she loved much. But he who is forgiven little, loves little.
> Romans 15:13 - May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace as you trust in him, so that you may overflow with hope by the power of the Holy Spirit. (NIV)
> II Timothy 2:22 - So flee youthful passions and pursue righteousness, faith, love, and peace, along with those who call on the Lord from a pure heart. (ESV)
> I Timothy 1:5 - The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. (ESV)
> I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

While Jesus came not to be served but to serve, Jesus layed His life down for His sheep. Those who "serve" Jesus actually have been served by Jesus and endeavour to imitate His selfless love to serve others for Jesus' sake and for the sake of His name (Romans 1:1-7):

> Matthew 20:25-28 - But Jesus called them to him and said, You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. It shall not be so among you. But whoever would be great among you must be your servant, and whoever would be first among you must be your slave, even as the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many. (ESV)
> John 13:12-16 - When he had washed their feet and put on his outer garments and resumed his place, he said to them, Do you understand what I have done to you? You call me Teacher and Lord, and you are right, for so I am. If I then, your Lord and Teacher, have washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another's feet. For I have given you an example, that you also should do just as I have done to you. Truly, truly, I say to you, a servant is not greater than his master, nor is a messenger greater than the one who sent him. (ESV)
> Hebrews 6:9-12 - Though we speak in this way, yet in your case, beloved, we feel sure of better things—things that belong to salvation. For God is not so unjust as to overlook your work and the love that you showed for his sake in serving the saints, as you still do. And we desire each one of you to show the same earnestness to have the full assurance of hope until the end, so that you may not be sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises. (ESV)

So while Jesus has served us we still serve Jesus, serving His family:

> Matthew 25:40 - And the King will answer them, Truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brothers, you did it to me. (ESV)
> Galatians 6:2-6 - Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ. For if anyone thinks he is something, when he is nothing, he deceives himself. But let each one test his own work, and then his reason to boast will be in himself alone and not in his neighbor. For each will have to bear his own load. One who is taught the word must share all good things with the one who teaches. (ESV)
> Deuteronomy 10:12 - And now, Israel, what does the LORD your God require of you, but to fear the LORD your God, to walk in all his ways, to love him, to serve the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, (ESV)

Jesus is the manifest love of God:

> I John 4:9-10 - In this the love of God was made manifest among us, that God sent his only Son into the world, so that we might live through him. In this is love, not that we have loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. (ESV)

So we must believe what He says and have the love of God in us! And we must believe in Him and what God has done in sending Him into the world! We must believe God and trust God, and keep believing and trusting God:

> John 5:37-42 - And the Father who sent me has himself borne witness about me. His voice you have never heard, his form you have never seen, and you do not have his word abiding in you, for you do not believe the one whom he has sent. You search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness about me, yet you refuse to come to me that you may have life. I do not receive glory from people. But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. (ESV)

John 3:16 (Interlinear) Thus so (Houtōs) (in this way) did God love (G25 agapaó - value,treasure) the world, that He gave His Only-Begotten (G3439. monogenēs - unique,only begotten) Son that (G2443 hina - in order that) everyone who is trusting/believing (G4100 pisteuo) in Him may not perish, but may have life everlasting

> I John 4:9-12 - In this the love of God was made manifest among us, that God sent his only Son into the world, so that we might live through him. In this is love, not that we have loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another. No one has ever seen God; if we love one another, God abides in us and his love is perfected in us. (ESV)

> Matthew 11:25-26 - At that time Jesus said, "I praise You, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that You have hidden these things from the wise and intelligent and have revealed them to infants. Yes, Father, for this way (Houtōs; in this way) was well-pleasing in Your sight (G2107 eudokia; [good] desired, well-pleasing). (NASB)

"In this way" God "desired" to reveal these things:

Matthew 11:25-26 Yes Father for in this way (G3779 houtōs; in this way) desired (G2107 eudokia; [good] desired, well-pleasing) it was before You

> Proverbs 11:4 - Riches do not profit in the day of wrath, but righteousness delivers from death. (ESV)

youtube.com: No, God doesn't "allow it" {@leemalaulau} @time: 1 min 38 sec May that not be true of us today. If it steals, kills or destroys, it's not from your good father. He only brings life. Here's the thing, in order for love to be real it has to be free and unconditional.

That's why free will exists. God didn't create robots. He created humans with the ability to choose. Why? Because love without choice isn't love at all. Love that is forced is what we would call tyranny or rape. Love that has to be bought is what we would call prostitution. And love that has to be earned is now no longer a free gift to receive, it's now a wage that I must work for.

And none of these are agape. Agape love, however, God's love is free and unconditional. And for love to be real it must be freely given with no strings attached.

But freedom means risk. It means the freedom to make bad choices, to reject love or to walk away all together. And God in His love does not control us, He invites us. Influence has to be invited, not imposed, and he gives us the freedom to choose Him or to not choose Him because anything less wouldn't be love at all.

G25 agapáō [Agapé love] focuses on value-driven (a decision-based) love – which of course does not exclude affection! (quote)

> I Corinthians 16:14 - Let all that you do be done in love. (ESV)

> Isaiah 43:4 - Since thou wast precious in my sight, thou hast been honourable, and I have loved thee: therefore will I give men for thee, and people for thy life. (KJV)

God has done a thing for us freely, that is giving Jesus Christ and that is how God demonstates His agape (treasuring, valuing) love for us (Romans 5:7-8). The sacrifice was made before the offer was received by us. God does not want people to perish (Ezekiel 18:20-24, II Peter 3:9-13). Therefore it was a completely unconditional act of love on God's part.

God's sacrifice in giving Jesus was God's greatest act of love towards us, and it was an unconditional act of love. No-one can say God hasn't loved them unconditionally:

> John 15:13 - Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. (ESV)

God has made the "first move":

> I John 4:8-10 - Anyone who does not love does not know God, because God is love. In this the love of God was made manifest among us, that God sent his only Son into the world, so that we might live through him. In this is love, not that we have loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. (ESV)

> Hosea 6:6 - For I desire steadfast love and not sacrifice, the knowledge of God rather than burnt offerings. (ESV)

In God's unconditional love He has paid the price for us to be saved from sin and death and hell. John 3:16 is not only saying that God has done what is needed for our sins to be forgiven, but is also saying that Jesus has come into the world as light so we can even turn away from darkness and towards light. Whoever stops following darkness and instead follows Jesus, whoever trusts in Jesus, whoever looks to Jesus and does what Jesus instructs, turns away from doing evil and in coming to faith in Jesus they will live. Jesus came into the darkness of the world as light so that we can turn to the light and in doing so, live. If Jesus didn't come then we could not receive the light of correction:

John 3:16 (Interlinear) Thus so (Houtōs) (in this way) did God love (G25 agapaó - value,treasure) the world, that He gave His Only-Begotten (G3439. monogenēs - unique,only begotten) Son that (G2443 hina - in order that) everyone who is trusting/believing (G4100 pisteuo) in Him may not perish, but may have life everlasting

> John 12:46 - I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. (ESV)

> I John 4:9-12 - In this the love of God was made manifest among us, that God sent his only Son into the world, so that we might live through him. In this is love, not that we have loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another. No one has ever seen God; if we love one another, God abides in us and his love is perfected in us. (ESV)

"In this way" God "desired" to reveal these things:

Matthew 11:25-26 Yes Father for in this way (G3779 houtōs; in this way) desired (G2107 eudokia; [good] desired, well-pleasing) it was before You

Whoever has faith in Jesus Christ is able to not remain in darkness. Because we have all fallen short of Jesus' glory, we all need forgiveness and God has provided the means for that to happen. If we are presently trusting in Jesus Christ abiding in His commandments, we are receiving forgiveness and being washed by the blood of Jesus. We receive a "clean slate" with God and the means, the power, to fulfill the requirement of the law, to love God and one-another as commanded, and if we love God as He has commanded then we will live (Deuteronomy 30:6):

> I John 4:7-21 - Beloved, let us love one another, for love is from God, and whoever loves has been born of God and knows God. Anyone who does not love does not know God, because God is love. In this the love of God was made manifest among us, that God sent his only Son into the world, so that we might live through him. In this is love, not that we have loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another. No one has ever seen God; if we love one another, God abides in us and his love is perfected in us. By this we know that we abide in him and he in us, because he has given us of his Spirit. And we have seen and testify that the Father has sent his Son to be the Savior of the world. Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. There is no fear in love, but perfect love casts out fear. For fear has to do with punishment, and whoever fears has not been perfected in love. We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

By faith we walk believing the truth and loving one-another. In doing so we have forgiveness for sins past, and it frees us from condemnation and enables us to worship God in reality and to love one-another in reality. In other words, we can focus on doing what God wants us to do, rather than our past mistakes, and God helps us to do that. If we keep walking in the light, the blood of Jesus continues washing us. Whoever has real faith in Jesus Christ is able to and also must necessarily love their family in Christ. We need to "walk in the light" while we have the light (*John 12:35-43). In other words we must walk righteously while we can see the light of Jesus. We want to get "ignited" by Jesus. And being ignited, we would have faith in Jesus and love one-another as commanded. And from that love of the truth, we live, and we do good:

> John 12:35-43 - So Jesus said to them, The light is among you for a little while longer. Walk while you have the light, lest darkness overtake you. The one who walks in the darkness does not know where he is going. While you have the light, believe in the light, that you may become sons of light. When Jesus had said these things, he departed and hid himself from them. Though he had done so many signs before them, they still did not believe in him, so that the word spoken by the prophet Isaiah might be fulfilled: Lord, who has believed what he heard from us, and to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed? Therefore they could not believe. For again Isaiah said, He has blinded their eyes and hardened their heart, lest they see with their eyes, and understand with their heart, and turn, and I would heal them. Isaiah said these things because he saw his glory and spoke of him. Nevertheless, many even of the authorities believed in him, but for fear of the Pharisees they did not confess it, so that they would not be put out of the synagogue; for they loved the glory that comes from man more than the glory that comes from God. (ESV)

> III John 1:11 - Beloved, do not imitate evil but imitate good. Whoever does good is from God; whoever does evil has not seen God. (ESV)

I John 2:8-12 - At the same time, it is a new commandment that I am writing to you, which is true in him and in you, because the darkness is passing away and the true light is already shining. Whoever says he is in the light and hates his brother is still in darkness. Whoever loves his brother abides in the light, and in him there is no cause for stumbling. But whoever hates his brother is in the darkness and walks in the darkness, and does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes. I am writing to you, little children, because your sins are forgiven for his name's sake. (ESV)

I Thessalonians 5:2-5 - For you yourselves are fully aware that the day of the Lord will come like a thief in the night. While people are saying, There is peace and security, then sudden destruction will come upon them as labor pains come upon a pregnant woman, and they will not escape. But you are not in darkness, brothers, for that day to surprise you like a thief. For you are all children of light, children of the day. We are not of the night or of the darkness. (ESV)

I Thessalonians 5:8-10 - But since we belong to the day, let us be sober, having put on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet the hope of salvation. For God has not destined us for wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us so that whether we are awake or asleep we might live with him. (ESV)

God gave Jesus Christ as a ransom because He loves us. Without Father God sending Jesus into the world as light, we would have remained in darkness:

Genesis 6:5 - The LORD saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every intention of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. (ESV)

Romans 2:5 - But because of your hard and impenitent heart you are storing up wrath for yourself on the day of wrath when God's righteous judgment will be revealed. (ESV)

II Peter 3:7 - But by the same word the heavens and earth that now exist are stored up for fire, being kept until the day of judgment and destruction of the ungodly. (ESV)

Ephesians 2:1-3 - And you were dead in the trespasses and sins in which you once walked, following the course of this world, following the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that is now at work in the sons of disobedience— among whom we all once lived in the passions of our flesh, carrying out the desires of the body and the mind, and were by nature children of wrath, like the rest of mankind. (ESV)

youtube.com: Here I Am To Worship / The Call - Hillsong Worship {@ hillsongworship } Light of the world, You stepped down into darkness, Opened my eyes, let me see Beauty that made this heart adore You, Hope of a life spent with You.

Chorus:

So, here I am to worship, Here I am to bow down Here I am to say that You're my God! You're altogether lovely, altogether worthy, Altogether wonderful to me!

By faith in Jesus we are justified and saved through sanctification while holding faith in Jesus. This justification by faith is required for us to continue being sanctified. We're saved through sanctification:

Romans 5:9-10 - Since, therefore, we have now been justified by his blood, much more shall we be saved by him from the wrath of God. For if while we were enemies we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, now that we are reconciled, shall we be saved by his life. (ESV)

Romans 8:23-25 - And not only they, but ourselves also, which have the firstfruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body. For we are saved by hope: but hope that is seen is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for? But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it. (KJV)

A person is justified by faith in Jesus Christ in their heart, and they are saved as they hold that faith. As they hold that faith, they produce deeds done in faith. For example, a person may get water baptised while holding faith in Jesus Christ, or while holding faith in Jesus Christ they may confess to another that "Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, who came into the world from God and died for our sins on a tree and rose from the dead on the third day and has ascended into heaven":

> James 2:14-17 - What good is it, my brothers, if someone says he has faith but does not have works? Can that faith save him? If a brother or sister is poorly clothed and lacking in daily food, and one of you says to them, Go in peace, be warmed and filled, without giving them the things needed for the body, what good is that? So also faith by itself, if it does not have works, is dead. (ESV)

> Romans 10:9-10 - because, if you confess with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For with the heart one believes and is justified, and with the mouth one confesses and is saved. (ESV)

> Mark 16:16 - Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved, but whoever does not believe will be condemned. (ESV)

The type of faith we need is loving the truth, (i.e. loving Jesus, God's Word). The type of faith we need is faith which loves our family in Christ:

> James 2:14-17 - What good is it, my brothers, if someone says he has faith but does not have works? Can that faith save him? If a brother or sister is poorly clothed and lacking in daily food, and one of you says to them, Go in peace, be warmed and filled, without giving them the things needed for the body, what good is that? So also faith by itself, if it does not have works, is dead. (ESV)

> I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

> I John 3:10 - By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. (ESV)

Yes, love values. That means to agape love God and God's word involves valuing God:

> Mark 10:45 - For even the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many. (ESV)

> Isaiah 43:3-4 - For I am the LORD your God, the Holy One of Israel, your Savior. I give Egypt as your ransom, Cush and Seba in exchange for you. Because you are precious in my eyes, and honored, and I love you, I give men in return for you, peoples in exchange for your life. (ESV)

> Luke 12:7 - Why, even the hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not; you are of more value than many sparrows. (ESV)

> I Peter 1:17-19 - And if you call on him as Father who judges impartially according to each one's deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile, knowing that you were ransomed from the futile ways inherited from your forefathers, not with perishable things such as silver or gold, but with the precious blood of Christ, like that of a lamb without blemish or spot. (ESV)

> Matthew 17:22-23 - As they were gathering in Galilee, Jesus said to them, The Son of Man is about to be delivered into the hands of men, and they will kill him, and he will be raised on the third day. And they were greatly distressed. (ESV)

> John 10:17-18 - For this reason the Father loves me, because I lay down my life that I may take it up again. No one takes it from me, but I lay it down of my own accord. I have authority to lay it down, and I have authority to take it up again. This charge I have received from my Father. (ESV)

Jesus Christ is worthy! Jesus Christ has worth! We must think so because we must have love for Him. And if a person gives no value to Jesus then it can't be love they have for Him:

> Revelation of John 5:9-10 - And they sang a new song, saying, Worthy (G514 Axios) are you to take the scroll and to open its seals, for you were slain, and by your blood you ransomed people for God from every tribe and language and people and nation, and you have made them a kingdom and priests to our God, and they shall reign on the earth. (ESV)

G514 axios 1. (properly) of similar weight or value. 2. (comparatively) worthy, deserving (of good or bad). 3. (by implication) suitable, fitting, appropriate (as if drawing praise).

> Now Jesus was a man. He was human. He was not a white man. He was not a black man. He came from that part of the world that touches Africa and Asia and Europe and He probably had a brown skin. Christianity is not a white man's religion, and don't let anybody ever tell you that it's white or black. Christ belongs to all people. He belongs to the whole world. His gospel is for everyone, whoever you are, Scriptures say.

We treasure God and His word. We value God and His word and prefer God and His word:

> Matthew 13:44-46 - The kingdom of heaven is like treasure hidden in a field, which a man found and covered up. Then in his joy he goes and sells all that he has and buys that field. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant in search of fine pearls, who, on finding one pearl of great value, went and sold all that he had and bought it. (ESV)

The fact that God has agape loved us first doesn't make void the commandment that we must love God and one another, but rather sets the context. God loved us first:

> John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. And they shall be my people, and I will be their God. (ESV)

> I John 3:14-20 - We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love (agapōmen) the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. But if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him? Little children, let us not love in word or talk but in deed and in truth. By this we shall know that we are of the truth and reassure our heart before him; for whenever our heart condemns us, God is greater than our heart, and he knows everything. (ESV)

> John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)

But we have free will and still need to receive the salvation, and that's why there is still a conditional aspect to this. God, through His word and in sending Jesus (God's Word made flesh) has instructed us in receiving the salvation He has bought:

> II Timothy 3:14-15 - But as for you, continue in what you have learned and have firmly believed, knowing from whom you learned it and how from childhood you have been acquainted with the sacred writings, which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus. (ESV)

God's friendship is conditional on our friendship with Jesus:

> John 16:25-28 - I have said these things to you in figures of speech. The hour is coming when I will no longer speak to you in figures of speech but will tell you plainly about the Father. In that day you will ask in my name, and I do not say to you that I will ask the Father on your behalf; for the Father himself loves (G5368 philei) you, because you have loved (G5368 pephilēkate) me and have believed that I came from God. I came from the Father and have come into the world, and now I am leaving the world and going to the Father.

We must be friends with God rather than with the world. So we need real faith in God, faith that has the fear of God that has a real obedience based on love for the truth and hatred of evil:

> Genesis 22:12 - He said, Do not lay your hand on the boy or do anything to him, for now I know that you fear God, seeing you have not withheld your son, your only son, from me. (ESV)

> James 2:20-23 - Do you want to be shown, you foolish person, that faith apart from works is useless? Was not Abraham our father justified by works when he offered up his son Isaac on the altar? You see that faith was active along with his works, and faith was completed by his works; and the Scripture was fulfilled that says, Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness—and he was called a friend of God. (ESV)

> James 4:4 - You adulterous people! Do you not know that friendship with the world is enmity with God? Therefore whoever wishes to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God. (ESV)

Whoever is keeping Jesus' commandments in reality, loving one-another as He does, is loving Jesus with agape love. So having a genuine agape love for the truth involves having a genuine agape love for those who are in Jesus Christ who is the truth, and since God's Word is also truth, we must love in the truth, the way God loves:

> John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)

> John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves (G25 agapōn; loving) me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

Jesus loved us, so in remaining faithful and obedient to Father God He was resisting committing sin, and the resisting of committing sin was done in love for our sake. And that's how we should also love one-another, by trusting and obeying God and resisting committing sin:

> Hebrews 12:1-4 - Therefore, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us also lay aside every weight, and sin which clings so closely, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, looking to Jesus, the founder and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is seated at the right hand of the throne of God. Consider him who endured from sinners such hostility against himself, so that you may not grow weary or fainthearted. In your struggle against sin you have not yet resisted to the point of shedding your blood. (ESV)

> II Timothy 3:6-15 - For among them are those who creep into households and capture weak women, burdened with sins and led astray by various passions, always learning and never able to arrive at a knowledge of the truth. Just as Jannes and Jambres opposed Moses, so these men also oppose the truth, men corrupted in mind and disqualified regarding the faith. But they will not get very far, for their folly will be plain to all, as was that of those two men. You, however, have followed my teaching, my conduct, my aim in life, my faith, my patience, my love, my steadfastness, my persecutions and sufferings that happened to me at Antioch, at Iconium, and at Lystra—which persecutions I endured; yet from them all the Lord rescued me. Indeed, all who desire to live a godly life in Christ Jesus will be persecuted, while evil people and impostors will go on from bad to worse, deceiving and being deceived. But as for you, continue in what you have learned and have firmly believed, knowing from whom you learned it and how from childhood you have been acquainted with the sacred writings, which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus. (ESV)

> Matthew 22:37-40 - And he said to him, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)

If a person genuinely loves Jesus then they have the fear of God in them and thus a hatred of evil and a desire to please God:

> II Corinthians 5:9-12 - So whether we are at home or away, we make it our aim to please him. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil. Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. We are not commending ourselves to you again but giving you cause to boast about us, so that you may be able to answer those who boast about outward appearance and not about what is in the heart. (ESV)

> Psalms 25:14 - The friendship of the LORD is for those who fear him, and he makes known to them his covenant. (ESV)

> Psalms 97:10 - O you who love the LORD, hate evil! He preserves the lives of his saints; he delivers them from the hand of the wicked. (ESV)

Psalms 97:10 You who love (H157 ’ō · hă · ḇê) Yahweh (H3068 Yah · weh) hate (H8130 śin · ’ū) evil (H7451 rā‘) He preserves the souls of His saints out of the hand of the wicked He delivers them (Interlinear)

> Romans 12:9 - Let love be genuine. Abhor what is evil; hold fast to what is good. (ESV)

Continued love from God, though, is conditional on the stance of our own heart towards God:

> Psalms 103:13 - As a father shows compassion to his children, so the LORD shows compassion to those who fear him. (ESV)

> Matthew 5:7 - Blessed are the merciful, for they shall receive mercy. (ESV)

> Psalms 18:24-26 - So the LORD has rewarded me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands in his sight. With the merciful you show yourself merciful; with the blameless man you show yourself blameless; with the purified you show yourself pure; and with the crooked you make yourself seem tortuous. (ESV)

Jesus is patient with us as we are saved:

> II Peter 3:15 - And count the patience of our Lord as salvation, just as our beloved brother Paul also wrote to you according to the wisdom given him, (ESV)

Be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that in the Lord your labor is not in vain:

> I Corinthians 15:53-58 - For this perishable body must put on the imperishable, and this mortal body must put on immortality. When the perishable puts on the imperishable, and the mortal puts on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written: Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is your victory? O death, where is your sting? The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. Therefore, my beloved brothers, be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that in the Lord your labor is not in vain. (ESV)

> Hebrews 6:9-12 - Though we speak in this way, yet in your case, beloved, we feel sure of better things—things that belong to salvation. For God is not so unjust as to overlook your work and the love that you showed for his sake in serving the saints, as you still do. And we desire each one of you to show the same earnestness to have the full assurance of hope until the end, so that you may not be sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises. (ESV)

Watch youtube.com: Work Out What Christ Has Won: The Christian Life as Gift and Duty

> Philippians 2:12-16 - Therefore, my beloved, as you have always obeyed, so now, not only as in my presence but much more in my absence, work out (G2716 katergazomai) your own salvation with fear and trembling, for it is God who works in you, both to will and to work for his good pleasure. Do all things without grumbling or questioning, that you may be blameless and innocent, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and twisted generation, among whom you shine as lights in the world, holding fast to the word of life, so that in the day of Christ I may be proud that I did not run in vain or labor in vain. (ESV)

Salvific, sanctifying faith in Jesus and in the blood of Jesus continues. It's not just a single-moment thing:

> I use the blood to silence the voice [of the accuser]. Of course that's Hebrews 12:24:
> > Hebrews12:24 - and to Jesus, the mediator of a new covenant, and to the sprinkled blood that speaks a better word than the blood of Abel. (ESV)
> Now let me just show you one scripture.
> Why it's important to repent:

> I John 1:7 - But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)

> It literally says keeps on cleansing us from all sin.
> That's actually the verbiage - it keeps on cleansing us. Why? Because the blood is 'not that which was spoke, it is that which is speaking'.
> That's what it said.
> There is a blood that speaks better things.
> The blood isn't something that was spoke about you.
> The blood is speaking concerning you.
> So watch, it says that the blood _keeps on cleansing us from all sin, but only when we walk in the light as he is in the light.
> What does that mean?
> That means I come out of darkness into the light.
> That means I have to repent.
> Repentance is coming out of darkness and into light.
> So you cannot get the benefits of the blood, you cannot agree with what the blood is saying about you unless you come out of darkness and into light.

It makes sense to me that anything that opposes the sanctification of those who God wants to be sanctified is not from God. Anything that opposes God's will is not from God:

> I Thessalonians 4:3-8 - For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you abstain from sexual immorality; that each one of you know how to control his own body in holiness and honor, not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God; that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you. For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness. Therefore whoever disregards this, disregards not man but God, who gives his Holy Spirit to you. (ESV)

Whoever makes a practice of doing evil things is "of the devil":

> I John 3:8 - Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. (ESV)

A person does the work of the devil when they try to persuade others that Jesus is false or that His teachings are false:

> Luke 8:12 - The ones along the path are those who have heard. Then the devil comes and takes away the word from their hearts, so that they may not believe and be saved. (ESV)

> Mark 4:15 - And these are the ones along the path, where the word is sown: when they hear, Satan immediately comes and takes away the word that is sown in them. (ESV)

> Luke 8:5 - A sower went out to sow his seed. And as he sowed, some fell along the path and was trampled underfoot, and the birds of the air devoured it. (ESV)

> Revelation of John 12:9 - And the great dragon was thrown down, that ancient serpent, who is called the devil and Satan, the deceiver of the whole world—he was thrown down to the earth, and his angels were thrown down with him. (ESV)

When someone tries to get a person to distrust the words of Jesus Christ then that person is doing the work of the devil:

> Matthew 13:19 - When anyone hears the word of the kingdom and does not understand it, the evil one comes and snatches away what has been sown in his heart. This is what was sown along the path. (ESV)

> II Thessalonians 2:9-14 - The coming of the lawless one is by the activity of Satan with all power and false signs and wonders, and with all wicked deception for those who are perishing, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. Therefore God sends them a strong delusion, so that they may believe what is false, in order that all may be condemned who did not believe the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness. But we ought always to give thanks to God for you, brothers beloved by the Lord, because God chose you as the firstfruits to be saved, through sanctification by the Spirit and belief in the truth. To this he called you through our gospel, so that you may obtain the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. (ESV)

> II John 1:9-11 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, for whoever greets him takes part in his wicked works. (ESV)

> Hebrews 2:1 - Therefore we must pay much closer attention to what we have heard, lest we drift away from it. (ESV)

I've received inordinate amounts of this type of opposition (i.e. opposition to the gospel). Truth has to be spoken in darkness, where people are contradicting the Word. I've noticed very heavy resistance:

> Acts 13:8-10 - But Elymas the magician (for that is the meaning of his name) opposed them, seeking to turn the proconsul away from the faith. But Saul, who was also called Paul, filled with the Holy Spirit, looked intently at him and said, You son of the devil, you enemy of all righteousness, full of all deceit and villainy, will you not stop making crooked the straight paths of the Lord? (ESV)

When someone tries to discourage others from putting Jesus Christ's teachings and commandments into practice then that person is "doing the devil's work":

> James 1:23-24 - For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks intently at his natural face in a mirror. For he looks at himself and goes away and at once forgets what he was like. (ESV)

When a person refuses to receive correction from God, then that person is a fool:

> Proverbs 1:24-27 - Because I have called and you refused to listen, have stretched out my hand and no one has heeded, because you have ignored all my counsel and would have none of my reproof, I also will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when terror strikes you, when terror strikes you like a storm and your calamity comes like a whirlwind, when distress and anguish come upon you. (ESV)

> Isaiah 30:9-13 - For they are a rebellious people, lying children, children unwilling to hear the instruction of the LORD; who say to the seers, Do not see, and to the prophets, Do not prophesy to us what is right; speak to us smooth things, prophesy illusions, leave the way, turn aside from the path, let us hear no more about the Holy One of Israel. Therefore thus says the Holy One of Israel, Because you despise this word and trust in oppression and perverseness and rely on them, therefore this iniquity shall be to you like a breach in a high wall, bulging out, and about to collapse, whose breaking comes suddenly, in an instant; (ESV)

When a person exchanges the truth of God for lies, that person is a fool:

> Romans 1:18-25 - For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who by their unrighteousness suppress the truth. For what can be known about God is plain to them, because God has shown it to them. For his invisible attributes, namely, his eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly perceived, ever since the creation of the world, in the things that have been made. So they are without excuse. For although they knew God, they did not honor him as God or give thanks to him, but they became futile in their thinking, and their foolish hearts were darkened. Claiming to be wise, they became fools, and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images resembling mortal man and birds and animals and reptiles. Therefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts to impurity, to the dishonoring of their bodies among themselves, because they exchanged the truth about God for a lie and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever! Amen. (ESV)

> Proverbs 1:24-27 - Because I have called and you refused to listen, have stretched out my hand and no one has heeded, because you have ignored all my counsel and would have none of my reproof, I also will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when terror strikes you, when terror strikes you like a storm and your calamity comes like a whirlwind, when distress and anguish come upon you. (ESV)

If a person hates the truth of God revealed in Jesus Christ including Jesus' words then that person is a practitioner of lawlessness. When a person thinks that merely hearing the word of God is sufficient but doesn't "do" what the word says, then that person deceives themself:

> Matthew 7:21-27 - Not everyone who says to me, Lord, Lord, will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the one who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. On that day many will say to me, Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and cast out demons in your name, and do many mighty works in your name? And then will I declare to them, I never knew you; depart from me, you workers of lawlessness. Everyone then who hears these words of mine and does them will be like a wise man who built his house on the rock. And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat on that house, but it did not fall, because it had been founded on the rock. And everyone who hears these words of mine and does not do them will be like a foolish man who built his house on the sand. And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell, and great was the fall of it. (ESV)

> Proverbs 4:5 - Get wisdom; get insight; do not forget, and do not turn away from the words of my mouth. (ESV)

> James 1:22-24 - But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves. For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks intently at his natural face in a mirror. For he looks at himself and goes away and at once forgets what he was like. (ESV)

> Ezekiel 33:31-32 - And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth they shew much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness. And, lo, thou art unto them as a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument: for they hear thy words, but they do them not. (KJV)

> Proverbs 1:28-31 - Then they will call upon me, but I will not answer; they will seek me diligently but will not find me. Because they hated knowledge and did not choose the fear of the LORD, would have none of my counsel and despised all my reproof, therefore they shall eat the fruit of their way, and have their fill of their own devices. (ESV)

If a person doesn't love Jesus then that person is "of the devil". If a person has a will to do evil things then that person is "of the devil". If a person can't receive the truth of God because they can't bear to hear it then that person is "of the devil":

> John 8:39-47 - They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham's children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. Which one of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God. (ESV)

If a person rejects God in favour of false religion, then that person is "of the devil":

> Isaiah 65:11-12 - But you who forsake the LORD, who forget my holy mountain, who set a table for Fortune and fill cups of mixed wine for Destiny, I will destine you to the sword, and all of you shall bow down to the slaughter, because, when I called, you did not answer; when I spoke, you did not listen, but you did what was evil in my eyes and chose what I did not delight in. (ESV)

Jesus Christ's blood cleanses us from all sin as we walk in the light. We must be walking in the love of the truth:

> I John 1:7 - But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)

If a person is holding faith in Jesus Christ with a real faith, one that loves Jesus with agape love then they presently hold eternal life. I think it's important to mention that if someone loves Jesus, they'd love His words and commandments:

> John 3:36 - Whoever believes (G4100 pisteuōn - is believing (verb)) in the Son has eternal life; whoever does not obey (544. apeitheó) the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God remains on him. (ESV)

> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

> Psalms 112:1,6-8 - Praise ye Jah! O the happiness of one fearing Jehovah, In His commands he hath delighted greatly. For–to the age he is not moved; For a memorial age-during is the righteous. Of an evil report he is not afraid, Prepared is His heart, confident in Jehovah. Sustained is his heart–he feareth not, Till that he look on his adversaries. (YLT)

Faith is a "way of life":

> Hebrews 13:7 - Remember your leaders, those who spoke to you the word of God. Consider the outcome of their way of life, and imitate their faith. (ESV)

> Hebrews 10:37-39 - For, Yet a little while, and the coming one will come and will not delay; _but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls. (ESV)

Going forward, we must continue in the teaching of Jesus Christ. We must continue trusting and being corrected by God:

> II John 1:9-10 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, (ESV)

> Hebrews 2:1 - Therefore we must pay much closer attention to what we have heard, lest we drift away from it. (ESV)

We must agape love, treasure, value, be faithful to God the Father, the Son and Holy Spirit, more than anyone else. But we must also love our family in Christ:

> Matthew 22:37-40 - And he said to him, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)

> Matthew 10:32-38 - So everyone who acknowledges me before men, I also will acknowledge before my Father who is in heaven, but whoever denies me before men, I also will deny before my Father who is in heaven. Do not think that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I have not come to bring peace, but a sword. For I have come to set a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. And a person's enemies will be those of his own household. Whoever loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me, and whoever loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. And whoever does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me. (ESV)

> I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

Real faith and genuine agape love and hope in God are "overlapping". Love believes and hopes. We've got to love the Truth, love Jesus Christ, love Jesus' words, love Father God, love Holy Spirit, love the Word of God:

> I Corinthians 13:7 - Love bears all things, believes (G4100 pisteuei; believes) all things, hopes all things, endures all things. (ESV)

If we love Jesus then we will keep His commandment to have faith in Him:

> John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

> John 14:1 - Let not your hearts be troubled. Believe in God; believe also in me. (ESV)

How do we get to having a love for God? We obtain access to grace through faith in Jesus, and God pours His love into our hearts:

> Romans 5:1-5 - Therefore, since we have been justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. Through him we have also obtained access by faith into this grace in which we stand, and we rejoice in hope of the glory of God. More than that, we rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, and hope does not put us to shame, because God's love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us. (ESV)

I'm thinking of Isaac Newton's third law of motion as I write this. In loving Jesus we actually receive the love of God in us. Like in the story of the woman who kissed Jesus' feet (Luke 7:40-50).

Receiving forgiveness from Jesus, having faith in Jesus and loving Jesus all go hand in hand. In fact, someone who truly has been forgiven by God must love in the truth and someone who does't love in the truth neither has been forgiven because if they were forgiven they would love. And notice how the woman's faith is linked with the love she has:

> Luke 7:40-50 - And Jesus answering said to him, Simon, I have something to say to you. And he answered, Say it, Teacher. A certain moneylender had two debtors. One owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty. When they could not pay, he cancelled the debt of both. Now which of them will love him more? Simon answered, The one, I suppose, for whom he cancelled the larger debt. And he said to him, You have judged rightly. Then turning toward the woman he said to Simon, Do you see this woman? I entered your house; you gave me no water for my feet, but she has wet my feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. You gave me no kiss, but from the time I came in she has not ceased to kiss my feet. You did not anoint my head with oil, but she has anointed my feet with ointment. Therefore I tell you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven—for she loved much. But he who is forgiven little, loves little. And he said to her, Your sins are forgiven. Then those who were at table with him began to say among themselves, Who is this, who even forgives sins? And he said to the woman, Your faith has saved you; go in peace. (ESV)

We have to be "doers" (G4160 poiōn; doing) of Jesus' words, "doers" of the truth:

> John 3:21 - The [one] however practicing (G4160 poiōn; doing) the truth (G225 alētheian) comes (G2064 erchetai) to the Light (G5457 phōs) that may be manifest (G5319 phanerōthē) his works (G2041 erga) that in God (G2316 Theō) have been (G1510 estin) done (G2038 eirgasmena) (Interlinear)

> John 3:17-21 - For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him. Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his deeds should be exposed. But whoever does (G4160 poiōn; doing) what is true comes to the light, so that it may be clearly seen that his deeds have been carried out in God. (ESV)

> Luke 6:47-49 - Everyone who comes to me and hears my words and does (G4160 poiōn; doing) them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. And when a flood arose, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it, because it had been well built. But the one who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. When the stream broke against it, immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great. (ESV)

If we love the truth (if we have good treasure in our heart) then we will produce good. And then as John 3:17-21 indicates, the person who has faith in Jesus (who loves Jesus, who loves Jesus' word), will come to the light and it wil be clearly seen than their deeds have been carried out in God (that they have been carried out in Love in Reality):

> I John 3:23 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. (ESV)

> Romans 2:13-16 - For it is not the hearers of the law who are righteous before God, but the doers (G4163 poiētai) of the law who will be justified. For when Gentiles, who do not have the law, by nature do what the law requires, they are a law to themselves, even though they do not have the law. They show that the work of the law is written on their hearts, while their conscience also bears witness, and their conflicting thoughts accuse or even excuse them on that day when, according to my gospel, God judges the secrets of men by Christ Jesus. (ESV)

> III John 1:11 - Beloved, do not imitate evil but imitate good. Whoever does good is from God; whoever does evil has not seen God. (ESV)

False obedience is where there is no love for God in the heart:

> Psalms 81:15 - Those who hate the LORD would feign obedience, and their doom would last forever. (engbsb2020eb)

A person who is truly forgiven by Jesus will love Jesus:

> Luke 7:40-50 - And Jesus answering said to him, Simon, I have something to say to you. And he answered, Say it, Teacher. A certain moneylender had two debtors. One owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty. When they could not pay, he cancelled the debt of both. Now which of them will love him more? Simon answered, The one, I suppose, for whom he cancelled the larger debt. And he said to him, You have judged rightly. Then turning toward the woman he said to Simon, Do you see this woman? I entered your house; you gave me no water for my feet, but she has wet my feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. You gave me no kiss, but from the time I came in she has not ceased to kiss my feet. You did not anoint my head with oil, but she has anointed my feet with ointment. Therefore I tell you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven—for she loved much. But he who is forgiven little, loves little. And he said to her, Your sins are forgiven. Then those who were at table with him began to say among themselves, Who is this, who even forgives sins? And he said to the woman, Your faith has saved you; go in peace. (ESV)

If anyone hates their brother they cannot love God:

> I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

If anyone has no love for Jesus, then they do not have genuine faith in Jesus:

> I Corinthians 16:22 - If anyone has no love for the Lord, let him be accursed. Our Lord, come! (ESV)
> Luke 6:47-49 - Everyone who comes to me and hears my words and does them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. And when a flood arose, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it, because it had been well built. But the one who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. When the stream broke against it, immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great. (ESV)

God is going to help us to love Him with our whole heart, so that we can live. This is a commandment with a promise that God is going to help us to love Him with our whole heart, so that we will live. God is going to make it happen as we trust and obey Jesus Christ. But we've got to keep trusting Him:

> Deuteronomy 30:6 - And the LORD your God will circumcise your heart and the heart of your offspring, so that you will love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, that you may live. (ESV)
> II Corinthians 10:5-6 - We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, being ready to punish every disobedience, when your obedience is complete. (ESV)
> I John 2:3-6 - And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to (G3784 opheilei; ought to, obligated to, has a duty to) walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

> Romans 11:21-23 - For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. Note then the kindness and the severity of God: severity toward those who have fallen, but God's kindness to you, provided you continue in his kindness. Otherwise you too will be cut off. And even they, if they do not continue in their unbelief, will be grafted in, for God has the power to graft them in again. (ESV)

Jesus being the telos of the Law, doesn't mean the abolishment of the Law, but more like the goal of it. So we must "abide" in the "telos" of the law. We're not trying to replace Jesus. We're endeavouring to imitate His love while holding faith in Him:

> Romans 10:4-11 - For Christ is the end (G5056 telos) of the law for righteousness to everyone who believes. For Moses writes about the righteousness that is based on the law, that the person who does the commandments shall live by them. But the righteousness based on faith says, Do not say in your heart, Who will ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down) or Who will descend into the abyss? (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead). But what does it say? The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart (that is, the word of faith that we proclaim); because, if you confess with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For with the heart one believes and is justified, and with the mouth one confesses and is saved. For the Scripture says, Everyone who believes in him will not be put to shame. (ESV)

> Isaiah 29:13-14 - And the Lord said: Because this people draw near with their mouth and honor me with their lips, while their hearts are far from me, and their fear of me is a commandment taught by men, therefore, behold, I will again do wonderful things with this people, with wonder upon wonder; and the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the discernment of their discerning men shall be hidden. (ESV)

I Timothy 1:5 (Interlinear) And the goal (G5056 telos) of [our] instruction is love (G26 agapē) out of a pure heart and a conscience good and a faith sincere

As the Law can find fault in any of us imperfect humans, and as Jesus Christ fulfilled the Law without sinning, we have to receive Jesus and recognise that He's good. How we respond to Jesus Christ is important. If we love Jesus Christ and believe He came from God, then Father God loves us as friends:

> Romans 3:19 - Now we know that whatever the law says it speaks to those who are under the law, so that every mouth may be stopped, and the whole world may be held accountable to God. (ESV)

G5368 phileó 1. to be a friend to (fond of (an individual or an object)), i.e. have affection for (denoting personal attachment, as a matter of sentiment or feeling)

> John 16:25-28 - I have said these things to you in figures of speech. The hour is coming when I will no longer speak to you in figures of speech but will tell you plainly about the Father. In that day you will ask in my name, and I do not say to you that I will ask the Father on your behalf; for the Father himself loves (G5368 philei) you, because you have loved (G5368 pephilēkate) me and have believed that I came from God. I came from the Father and have come into the world, and now I am leaving the world and going to the Father.

> John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

John 3:19 connects faith with deeds. Evil deeds come from a love of darkness. Luke 6:45 also connects faith with deeds. Good deeds come from a love of the truth.

Abraham's faith being active along with his "deeds" is a more accurate way to put this, because as He had faith and the fear of God in His heart Abraham was producing good deeds. That doesn't mean "works" (i.e. as in "working for"). So the faith that justifies is faith that not only "believes" but "loves". There is an allegiance to the object of the belief:

> James 2:22-24 - You see that faith was active along with his works, and faith was completed by his works (G2041 ergois; works/deeds); and the Scripture was fulfilled that says, Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness—and he was called a friend of God. You see that a person is justified by works and not by faith alone (G3440 monon; only). (ESV)

> Psalms 25:14 - The friendship of the LORD is for those who fear him, and he makes known to them his covenant. (ESV)

Abraham had the fear of God:

> Genesis 14:22-24,15:1-18 - But Abram said to the king of Sodom, I have lifted my hand to the LORD, God Most High, Possessor of heaven and earth, that I would not take a thread or a sandal strap or anything that is yours, lest you should say, I have made Abram rich. I will take nothing but what the young men have eaten, and the share of the men who went with me. Let Aner, Eshcol, and Mamre take their share. After these things the word of the LORD came to Abram in a vision: Fear not, Abram, I am your shield; your reward shall be very great. But Abram said, O Lord GOD, what will you give me, for I continue childless, and the heir of my house is Eliezer of Damascus? And Abram said, Behold, you have given me no offspring, and a member of my household will be my heir. And behold, the word of the LORD came to him: This man shall not be your heir; your very own son shall be your heir. And he brought him outside and said, Look toward heaven, and number the stars, if you are able to number them. Then he said to him, So shall your offspring be. And he believed the LORD, and he counted it to him as righteousness. And he said to him, I am the LORD who brought you out from Ur of the Chaldeans to give you this land to possess. But he said, O Lord GOD, how am I to know that I shall possess it? He said to him, Bring me a heifer three years old, a female goat three years old, a ram three years old, a turtledove, and a young pigeon. And he brought him all these, cut them in half, and laid each half over against the other. But he did not cut the birds in half. And when birds of prey came down on the carcasses, Abram drove them away. As the sun was going down, a deep sleep fell on Abram. And behold, dreadful and great darkness fell upon him. Then the LORD said to Abram, Know for certain that your offspring will be sojourners in a land that is not theirs and will be servants there, and they will be afflicted for four hundred years. But I will bring judgment on the nation that they serve, and afterward they shall come out with great possessions. As for yourself, you shall go to your fathers in peace; you shall be buried in a good old age. And they shall come back here in the fourth generation, for the iniquity of the Amorites is not yet complete. When the sun had gone down and it was dark, behold, a smoking fire pot and a flaming torch passed between these pieces. On that day the LORD made a covenant with Abram, saying, To your offspring I give this land, from the river of Egypt to the great river, the river Euphrates, (ESV)

Those who truly fear God, truly have faith in Him:

Psalms 115:11 You who fear Yahweh trust in Yahweh their help and their shield He [is] (Interlinear)

> Galatians 3:5-7 - Does he who supplies the Spirit to you and works miracles among you do so by works of the law, or by hearing with faith— just as Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness? Know then that it is those of faith who are the sons of Abraham. (ESV)

> Genesis 22:12 - He said, Do not lay your hand on the boy or do anything to him, for now I know that you fear God, seeing you have not withheld your son, your only son, from me. (ESV)

As Christians we need to have a faith that includes the fear of God:

> Acts 26:18 - to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me. (ESV)

> Proverbs 16:6 - By steadfast love and faithfulness iniquity is atoned for, and by the fear of the LORD one turns away from evil. (ESV)

> Ezekiel 18:27-28 - Again, when a wicked person turns away from the wickedness he has committed and does what is just and right, he shall save his life. Because he considered and turned away from all the transgressions that he had committed, he shall surely live; he shall not die. (ESV)

> Acts 8:13-23 - Even Simon himself believed, and after being baptized he continued with Philip. And seeing signs and great miracles performed, he was amazed. Now when the apostles at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent to them Peter and John, who came down and prayed for them that they might receive the Holy Spirit, for he had not yet fallen on any of them, but they had only been baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus. Then they laid their hands on them and they received the Holy Spirit. Now when Simon saw that the Spirit was given through the laying on of the apostles' hands, he offered them money, saying, Give me this power also, so that anyone on whom I lay my hands may receive the Holy Spirit. But Peter said to him, May your silver perish with you, because you thought you could obtain the gift of God with money! You have neither part nor lot in this matter, for your heart is not right before God. Repent, therefore, of this wickedness of yours, and pray to the Lord that, if possible, the intent of your heart may be forgiven you. For I see that you are in the gall of bitterness and in the bond of iniquity. (ESV)

So if a person is in agreement with Jesus Christ, then they must also have the fear of God in them because Jesus testifies about the world that its works are evil:

> John 7:7 - The world cannot hate you, but it hates me because I testify about it that its works are evil. (ESV)

> I John 2:15-17 - Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world—the desires of the flesh and the desires of the eyes and pride in possessions—is not from the Father but is from the world. And the world is passing away along with its desires, but whoever does the will of God abides forever. (ESV)

We are Jesus' friends if we do what He commands us. So we need to be people who agapé love one another as commanded to have this friendship. We need to be loving others with the type of ”no strings attached, selfless agape love” that Father God demostrates by giving Jesus Christ. We need to be those who do Jesus' commandments in reality to have the friendship of Jesus and the friendship of God:

> John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)

> John 10:17-18 - For this reason the Father loves me, because I lay down my life that I may take it up again. No one takes it from me, but I lay it down of my own accord. I have authority to lay it down, and I have authority to take it up again. This charge I have received from my Father. (ESV)

> Luke 9:23-27 - And he said to all, If anyone would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me. For whoever would save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake will save it. For what does it profit a man if he gains the whole world and loses or forfeits himself? For whoever is ashamed of me and of my words, of him will the Son of Man be ashamed when he comes in his glory and the glory of the Father and of the holy angels. But I tell you truly, there are some standing here who will not taste death until they see the kingdom of God. (ESV)

Jesus didn't ask to be paid back directly. Jesus wants us to pass forwards grace and mercy to our neighbour:

> John 13:34 - A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another: just as I have loved you, you also are to love one another. (ESV)

> Romans 11:32,35 - For God has consigned all to disobedience, that he may have mercy on all. Or who has given a gift to him that he might be repaid? (ESV)

> Luke 10:25-28 - And behold, a lawyer stood up to put him to the test, saying, Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? He said to him, What is written in the Law? How do you read it? And he answered, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind, and your neighbor as yourself. And he said to him, You have answered correctly; do this, and you will live. (ESV)

> Luke 10:36-37 - Which of these three, do you think, proved to be a neighbor to the man who fell among the robbers? He said, The one who showed him mercy. And Jesus said to him, You go, and do likewise. (ESV)

> John 21:15 - When they had finished breakfast, Jesus said to Simon Peter, Simon, son of John, do you love me more than these? He said to him, Yes, Lord; you know that I love you. He said to him, Feed my lambs. (ESV)

> Proverbs 14:31 - Whoever oppresses a poor man insults his Maker, but he who is generous to the needy honors him. (ESV)

> You order your heart toward that grace, you will find it welling up in you to eternal life. Stop seeking the goods of the world. They're not going to satisfy you. But surrender to the gift of God. Ah, you receive the grace, and now you give it away, and then you get more, and you give that away, and then you get more and you give that away, and the well bubbles up in you to eternal life.

Having been loved by God we have a strong obligation to live for Jesus Christ and love one another:

> Romans 15:1 - We who are strong have an obligation to bear with the failings of the weak, and not to please ourselves. (ESV)

> Proverbs 3:27 - Do not withhold good from those to whom it is due, when it is in your power to do it. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 5:14-15 - For the love of Christ controls us, because we have concluded this: that one has died for all, therefore all have died; and he died for all, that those who live might no longer live for themselves but for him who for their sake died and was raised. (ESV)

The continued friendship love of Father God for us is conditional on whether or not we are Jesus' friends. And we are Jesus' friends if we abide in Jesus' commandments to have faith in Him and love one another as commanded.

God loves His children, those who love Jesus:

> John 1:12 - But to all who did receive him, who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God, (ESV)

> Proverbs 3:11-12 - My son, do not despise the LORD's discipline or be weary of his reproof, for the LORD reproves him whom he loves, as a father the son in whom he delights. (ESV)

> Proverbs 13:24 - Whoever spares the rod hates his son, but he who loves him is diligent to discipline him. (ESV)

> Deuteronomy 8:5 - Know then in your heart that, as a man disciplines his son, the LORD your God disciplines you. (ESV)

> Psalms 103:13 - As a father shows compassion to his children, so the LORD shows compassion to those who fear him. (ESV)

Those who have no agapé love for Jesus have no love for God and are accursed, and unsaved:

> John 8:42 - Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 16:21-22 - I, Paul, write this greeting with my own hand. If anyone has no love for the Lord, let him be accursed. Our Lord, come! (ESV)

God loved us first with agapé love, that is true. But we must come to have the love of God in us. We must come to have agape love for Jesus Christ. Because we must have repented to have genuine, God-fearing, Truth-loving, evil hating, faith in Jesus Christ:

> John 3:16 - For God so loved the world, that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life. (ESV)

> Acts 17:30-31 - The times of ignorance God overlooked, but now he commands all people everywhere to repent, because he has fixed a day on which he will judge the world in righteousness by a man whom he has appointed; and of this he has given assurance to all by raising him from the dead. (ESV)

Someone who has genuine love for Jesus, loving their family in Christ is not considered an ”evil” person:

> I John 4:20 - If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. (ESV)

Yet, compared to God, we are not good. At least the part of us (indwelling sin) that is not good is still not good. God is good because God never ever sins:

> Matthew 7:11 - If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things to those who ask him! (ESV)

> Mark 10:18 - And Jesus said to him, Why do you call me good? No one is good except God alone. (ESV)

> Romans 3:4-5 - By no means! Let God be true though every one were a liar, as it is written, That you may be justified in your words, and prevail when you are judged. But if our unrighteousness serves to show the righteousness of God, what shall we say? That God is unrighteous to inflict wrath on us? (I speak in a human way.) (ESV)

> Ecclesiastes 7:20 - Surely there is not a righteous man on earth who does good and never sins. (ESV)

If a person has been baptised into Christ Jesus’ death then their old self was crucified in order than the body of sin might be brought to nothing. So a person has an ”old self” that was crucified and they also have ”indwelling sin in the flesh”. One day we will have incorruptible resurrection flesh, but a person who has been born-again spiritually carries their old flesh around until they receive this new resurrection body:

> Romans 6:6 - We know that our old self was crucified with him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin. (ESV)

We need to hate evil and hate indwelling sin:

> Romans 7:17-23 - So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. So I find it to be a law that when I want to do right, evil lies close at hand. For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. (ESV)

> Jesus affirms my value as a human being but he calls me to hate any evil in me and any racist attitude I have towards this woman is absolutely evil and I as a follower of Jesus must learn to hate the racism within me.
> Excellent point. You hate the racism that exists inside you, that it exists within you, but you hate it. Now, okay, how can you nurture something that you hate? The racism that exists with inside you need to build it up to a new level in which it does not oppress people, you understand what I'm saying? And the only way that you can nurture is to love. You cannot nurture by hate. Jesus would not hate. So how are you gonna say Jesus told you to hate that part?
> Oh no, no, no. Jesus does call us to hate evil. And Paul writes in Romans chapter 12, ”Hate what is evil, cling to what is good.” Repent of evil. And I need to repent to turn away from evil and by God's grace with Christ's help to live a different life. How can you overcome it if you don't love and nurture those bad qualities within you? No, I don't love and nurture the bad qualities within me. I hate the bad qualities within me, seek to turn away from them. You can talk to my wife, I'm changing. Jesus is changing me and my wife knows me a lot better than you do sir and I can promise you Jesus Christ is making me a better husband, a better father over the years.

Only God carries out perfect deeds. Any mere created human being on earth will always fall short of God's goodness. The closest we might get towards ”being good” might be as one of those mentioned in Revelation of John 14:4-5:

> Romans 3:20 - For by works of the law no human being will be justified in his sight, since through the law comes knowledge of sin. (ESV)
> Ecclesiastes 7:20 - Surely there is not a righteous man on earth who does good and never sins. (ESV)
> Hebrews 4:15 - For we do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but one who in every respect has been tempted as we are, yet without sin. (ESV)
> Revelation of John 14:4-5 - It is these who have not defiled themselves with women, for they are virgins. It is these who follow the Lamb wherever he goes. These have been redeemed from mankind as firstfruits for God and the Lamb, and in their mouth no lie was found, for they are blameless. (ESV)

Faith versus the works of the law:

> Romans 3:20 - For by works (G2041 ergōn; works) of the law (G3551 nomou; of [the] Law) no human being will be justified in his sight, since through the law comes knowledge of sin. (ESV)
> Galatians 2:16 - yet we know that a person is not justified by works (G2041 ergōn; works) of the law (G3551 nomou; of law) but through faith in Jesus Christ, so we also have believed in Christ Jesus, in order to be justified by faith in Christ and not by works (G2041 ergōn; works) of the law (G3551 nomou; of the Law), because by works (G2041 ergōn; works) of the law (G3551 nomou; of the Law) no one will be justified. (ESV)

> Romans 2:15 - They show that the work (G2041 ergon; work) of the (G3588 tou; of the) law (G3551 nomou; law) is written on their hearts, while their conscience also bears witness, and their conflicting thoughts accuse or even excuse them (ESV)

James connects faith with works, like flesh is to spirit.

> James 2:26 - For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, so also faith apart from works is dead. (ESV)

Paul also connects faith with works, like flesh is to spirit. The connection is between the external deeds (flesh/works) that come from the faith in the heart (faith/spirit). But Paul emphasises that we should not rely on the works of the law, but rather that we are justified by faith. Like it is normal for a human spirit to have a body, it is normal for faith to have works. But we do not rely on the works for justification, but we do have confidence if we have faith (I Timothy 3:13, Hebrews 10:19, I John 3:21, I John 4:17). To rely on the works would be to rely on the appearances of the completion of the works, and feeling commended by that. The obvious danger with that is that mere humans, or statistics or AI look at appearances. A computer might calculate, or humans may estimate that ”some person had bad intent in their heart” based on physical ”measurements”, or a human may feel condemned because they were unable to complete some deed perfectly. However, God looks at the faith in the heart.

> Matthew 23:28 - So you also outwardly appear righteous to others, but within you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness. (ESV)

> Galatians 3:2-14 - Let me ask you only this: Did you receive the Spirit by works (G2041 ergōn; works) of the law (G3551 nomou; of [the] Law) or by hearing with faith? Are you so foolish? Having begun by the Spirit, are you now being perfected by the flesh? Did you suffer so many things in vain—if indeed it was in vain? Does he who supplies the Spirit to you and works miracles among you do so by works (G2041 ergōn; works) of the law (G3551 nomou; of the Law), or by hearing with faith— just as Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness? Know then that it is those of faith who are the sons of Abraham. And the Scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the Gentiles by faith, preached the gospel beforehand to Abraham, saying, In you shall all the nations be blessed. So then, those who are of faith are blessed along with Abraham, the man of faith. For all who rely on works (G2041 ergōn; works) of the law (G3551 nomou; of [the] Law) are under a curse; for it is written, Cursed be everyone who does not abide by all things written in the Book of the Law, and do them. Now it is evident that no one is justified before God by the law, for The righteous shall live by faith. But the law is not of faith, rather The one who does (G4160 poiēsas; having done, i.e. completing the doing; V-AAP-NSM) them (G846 auta; these things) shall live by them. Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law by becoming a curse for us—for it is written, Cursed is everyone who is hanged on a tree— so that in Christ Jesus the blessing of Abraham might come to the Gentiles, so that we might receive the promised Spirit through faith. (ESV)

V-AAP-NSM Aorist Is characterized by its emphasis on punctiliar action; that is, the concept of the verb is considered without regard for past, present, or future time. There is no direct or clear English equivalent for this tense, though it is generally rendered as a simple past tense in most translations. The events described by the aorist tense are classified into a number of categories by grammarians. The most common of these include a view of the action as having begun from a certain point (”inceptive aorist”), or having ended at a certain point (”cumulative aorist”), or merely existing at a certain point (”punctiliar aorist”).

We need to do the deeds of Abraham (John 8:39-40), ”by faith obey” God (Hebrews 11:8) but although we intend to do the deeds that come from that faith, we do not rely on if we are able to carry them out, nor commend ourselves when we think we have. This is why it’s wrong to pit obedience up against faith when we are saved by faith in Jesus (Galatians 2:16) and we are saved by obedience to Jesus (Hebrews 5:9).

The son of the promise is the one who loves God, who treasures His word and hopes in His promise because the kingdom is promised to those who love God. So we need to walk by love for Jesus Christ and Jesus Christ’s word (John 16:25-28):

James 2:5-8 - Listen, my beloved brothers, has not God chosen those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom, which he has promised to those who love him? But you have dishonored the poor man. Are not the rich the ones who oppress you, and the ones who drag you into court? Are they not the ones who blaspheme the honorable name by which you were called? If you really fulfill the royal law according to the Scripture, You shall love your neighbor as yourself, you are doing well. (ESV)

Romans 8:28 - And we know that for those who love God all things work together for good, for those who are called according to his purpose. (ESV)

John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

Steve Apirana - Born Again - YouTube Lyrics: Got to be born again! Yes, you do. Cause mister, you were born wrong the first time. I know it sounds impossible, but it's an easy thing to do. Just give your heart to Jesus (John 14:15), and let Him take you through.

Got to be born again, yes, it's true. Cause sister your "old man" has to pass away. You may be thinking, "Now, that's a funny thing to say." But why should you cling to something that's destined to decay?

For all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God. But God commended his love in that while we were yet sinners His only son Jesus came and paid the price for us by dying on the cross and giving up his blood.

Then he went into hell (more accurately "into hades" (the place of the dead, the 'prison' Ephesians 4:8-10, I Peter 3:17-22, Luke 16:22-31 rather than "into hell" Rev 20:13-14) and took away the keys from death. Then he rose into heaven where he now sits at the right hand of God the Father (Hebrews 12:1-4). From whence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead, and the doorway to salvation is in the words he said,

"Got to be born again" Yes, indeed! Just let go of the old (stop loving evil, darkness), and grab hold of the new (love God's word, love the Light, love Jesus. Acts 26:18). And all the sins of the past He will remember no more (Ephesians 1:3-10, Ezekiel 18:21-22). And all the years the locusts have eaten He will restore.

Got to be born again; Start all over. For the son of the flesh will not inherit but the son of the promise will. (Romans 9:6-8) The son of the promise will. Born of the water, born of the spirit, presented to the Father, without a spot or blemish.

The son of the promise is the one who loves God, who treasures His word and hopes in His promise because the kingdom is promised to those who love God. So we need to walk by love for Jesus Christ and Jesus Christ's word (John 16:25-28):

The Adamic flesh is the "old creature" inclusive of both the literal biological flesh and the mind of the person from before they are born-again of the spirit. A person gets born-again of the spirit, but is still inside the Adamic flesh, and retains some memory of the flesh, but they await to receive the redemption of their flesh, (i.e. await to receive the resurrection body).

If there is a "3rd" birthday, then that would be the redemption of the body (Romans 8:23-25):

- First birthday: born of woman (Adamic flesh and spirit)
  - Psalms 51:5
  - I Corinthians 11:11-12
- Second birthday: born of the spirt (new spirit, new creation)
  - John 3:5-7

  - II Corinthians 5:17
  - Colossians 3:8-10
- Third birthday ?: redemption of body (resurrection body)
  - Romans 8:23-25

There is the part of the person that is sinful, that is the person born of woman (from their 1st birthday):

> Psalms 51:5 - Behold, I was brought forth in iniquity, and in sin did my mother conceive me. (ESV)

> Romans 7:18 - For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 11:11-12 - Nevertheless, in the Lord woman is not independent of man nor man of woman; for as woman was made from man, so man is now born of woman. And all things are from God. (ESV)

This outer nature (the flesh) is wasting away:

> II Corinthians 4:16 - So we do not lose heart. Though our outer nature is wasting away, our inner nature is being renewed day by day. (ESV)

Then there is the part of the person that is made right, that is the person born of God. The person born of God is also God's seed, even before they are born again of the Spirit. That person born of God is "in Christ". But that seed dies (I Corinthians 15:36) and comes alive and that person is born-again of the Spirit and that person is "alive" (II Corinthians 4:11-15) and is dead to sin (from their 2nd birthday), for they have died with Christ (Romans 6:3-8):

> II Corinthians 5:17 - Therefore if anyone [is] in Christ [he is] a new creation (G2537 kainē; new) (G2937 ktisis; creation) The old things have passed away behold has come into being [the] new (Interlinear)

> Colossians 3:8-10 - But now you must put them all away: anger, wrath, malice, slander, and obscene talk from your mouth. Do not lie to one another, seeing that you have put off the old self with its practices and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator. (ESV)

> I John 3:9 - No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. (ESV)

> I Peter 1:23 - since you have been born again, not of perishable seed but of imperishable, through the living and abiding word of God; (ESV)

> John 3:5-7 - Jesus answered, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Do not marvel that I said to you, You must be born again. (ESV)

> Ezekiel 18:31 - Cast away from you all the transgressions that you have committed, and make yourselves a new heart and a new spirit! Why will you die, O house of Israel? (ESV)

> Isaiah 1:16-17 - Wash yourselves; make yourselves clean; remove the evil of your deeds from before my eyes; cease to do evil, learn to do good; seek justice, correct oppression; bring justice to the fatherless, plead the widow's cause. (ESV)

> II Chronicles 7:14 - if my people who are called by my name humble themselves, and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and heal their land. (ESV)

Journal <2026-05-19 Tue> I believe that when a person is born-again of the spirit and grafted into Christ, they receive a clean slate. Generational sin is totally wiped out, as far as the spirit is concerned. So along as they walk by the spirit there will be no problems with the generational sin from being in Adam. But until a person receives their incorruptible resurrection body, there may still be issues with the flesh. Consider that the Apostle Paul retained his memories of when he was persecuting the church of Jesus Christ. The flesh still has indwelling sin. A person's conscience is fixed and guilt is taken awaya when they are given a new heart and spirit. Having a fixed conscience means that it isn't a seared conscience. It's functions properly. Having a healthy conscience helps a person to walk in godliness and serve God.

The grace I have received extends to others, but I experience spiritual hardships, afflictions:

> II Corinthians 4:8-15 - We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not driven to despair; persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed; always carrying in the body the death of Jesus, so that the life of Jesus may also be manifested in our bodies. For we who live are always being given over to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus also may be manifested in our mortal flesh. So death is at work in us, but life in you. Since we have the same spirit of faith according to what has been written, I believed, and so I spoke, we also believe, and so we also speak, knowing that he who raised the Lord Jesus will raise us also with Jesus and bring us with you into his presence. For it is all for your sake, so that as grace extends to more and more people it may increase thanksgiving, to the glory of God. (ESV)

Just because aquitted from sin, doesn't mean ”cannot” sin, but at the point of death, their sin they had is erased, and going forth they have an advocate with Father God:

> Romans 6:7 - For one who has died has been set free (G1344 dedikaiōtai; has been freed, aquitted) from sin. (ESV)

> I John 2:1-6 - My little children, I am writing these things to you so that you may not sin. But if anyone does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. He is the propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only but also for the sins of the whole world. And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV) youtube.com: I Was Told That If I Can ' t Point To The Moment Of My Conversion I ' m Not Saved ?

I believe this is correct teaching except I'm unsure if ”regeneration” must always be instantaneous. I believe it was instantaneous for me. On 2 April 2022 I was regenerated and saw my regenerated spirit and called out to Jesus to save me because I didn't know what was happening. I was a ”believer” before that but very much a slave to sin. Not long after that, about a month after, on 12 May 2022, I experienced what felt like being ”refilled” or topped up with more regeneration. This time I had a vision of healing people with compassion coming out of my soul.

However, being born-again a person still has the flesh. If someone who lives by the spirit isn't walking by the spirit then the mind of the flesh is dominating. But we should be walking by the spirit which is the truth. So, for example, walking by the spirit a person does not call any man on earth their father, because Jesus Christ has said we have one Father who is in heaven. So if someone is regenerate, sometimes they still obey the flesh. But we have to stop doing that. So until sanctified it appears like a person has 2 personalities. One personality is actually the flesh (the man who died in baptism). The other is the one born of God, the one who loves their brother and agrees with God about the facts concerning Jesus such that He is Christ the Word of God made flesh, that He came from God, that He's the Son of God, that He's Yahweh the Son of God, that He died on a tree and rose from the dead on the 3rd day and ate a broiled fish.

> John 7:18 - The one who speaks on his own authority seeks his own glory, but the one who seeks the glory of him who sent him is true, and in him there is no falsehood. (ESV)

So a person who is born-again of the spirit on earth before their flesh is resurrected is a person with a spirit with a mind agreeing with God but in a "meat suit" flesh from the people who used to be their father and mother on earth who are now no longer their father and mother because God is the father of our spirits and God is their true Father and Holy Jerusalem is their true mother.

The soul is who the person really is. New soul, new person:

> Genesis 2:7 - And the LORD God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul (H120 hā · 'ā · ḏām; the man) (H5315 lə · ne · peš; a soul; Soul, life, self, person, heart, creature, mind, living being) (H2416 ḥay · yāh; living). (KJV)

The way these Scriptures talk about "two in one bed, one will be taken and the other left" makes sense to me if thinking of a person as a person born of God inside the sinful flesh:

> Luke 17:32-37 - Remember Lot's wife. Whoever seeks to preserve his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life will keep it. I tell you, in that night there will be two in one bed. One will be taken and the other left. There will be two women grinding together. One will be taken and the other left. And they said to him, Where, Lord? He said to them, Where the corpse is, there the vultures will gather. (ESV)

> Galatians 5:25 - If we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit. (ESV)

I commented my journal entry on Alistair Begg's message here youtube.com: Look at Jesus {@ truthforlife1 }

Journal <2026-05-19 Tue> If one's previous 'mother and father' (i.e. From their first birth. An in, the people who gave the "meat suit", but not the new spirit) (Psalms 51:5) are born-again believers, then as a born-again person who's father is now Father God, the Father of Jesus Christ, then the best way to honour them (one's previous parents) is to not call one's previous father their "father" because we should be walking by faith obedient to Jesus Christ like Abraham's faith, walking like Jesus did, referring to Father God as father and Heavenly Jerusalem as mother.

> I John 5:2 - By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

We had (past-tense) earthly fathers. God is the Father of our spirits. God makes us born of the spirit:

> Hebrews 12:9 - Besides this, we have had earthly fathers who disciplined us and we respected them. Shall we not much more be subject to the Father of spirits and live? (ESV)

It's also probably not really improper to use the word "mother" or "mum" for a woman in Christ who is born of God and doing the will of God and one's spiritual ancestor in Christ (e.g. Mary mother of Jesus):

> Luke 8:21 - But he answered them, My mother and my brothers are those who hear the word of God and do it. (ESV)

The land that the LORD (H3068 Yah · weh) gives is the "land of promises".

> Exodus 20:12 - Honor your father and your mother, that your days may be long in the land that the LORD your God is giving you. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 1:20 - For all the promises of God find their Yes in him. That is why it is through him that we utter our Amen to God for his glory. (ESV)

I believe that the fullness of the meaning of faith alone is not faith alone in Jesus' faith "apart from" (G5565 chōris) our faith in Him.

Jesus says "apart from" (G5565 chōris) from Him a person can do nothing and that "apart from" (G5565 chōris) from Him a person is destined to be gathered to be burned. To not be "apart from" (G5565 chōris) Him (as in, to abide in Him) is to keep His commandments (and so have union with Him):

> John 15:4-7 - Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit by itself, unless it abides in the vine, neither can you, unless you abide in me. I am the vine; you are the branches. Whoever abides in me and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. If anyone does not abide in me he is thrown away like a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire, and burned. If you abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be done for you. (ESV)
> Matthew 13:24-30 - He put another parable before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a man who sowed good seed in his field, but while his men were sleeping, his enemy came and sowed weeds among the wheat and went away. So when the plants came up and bore grain, then the weeds appeared also. And the servants of the master of the house came and said to him, Master, did you not sow good seed in your field? How then does it have weeds? He said to them, An enemy has done this. So the servants said to him, Then do you want us to go and gather them? But he said, No, lest in gathering the weeds you root up the wheat along with them. Let both grow together until the harvest, and at harvest time I will tell the reapers, Gather the weeds first and bind them in bundles to be burned, but gather the wheat into my barn. (ESV)
> I John 3:24 - Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

I do believe, though, that if a person has no confidence in their own faith but have faith in Jesus, relying on Jesus' righteousness rather than their own, asking God for mercy as they believe that they are a sinner, asking God to take pity on them, then although that person doubts their own faith, they actually do have faith.

> Luke 18:13-14 - But the tax collector, standing far off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, God, be merciful to me, a sinner! I tell you, this man went down to his house justified, rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted. (ESV)
> Luke 5:30-32 - And the Pharisees and their scribes grumbled at his disciples, saying, Why do you eat and drink with tax collectors and sinners? And Jesus answered them, Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick. I have not come to call the righteous but sinners to repentance. (ESV)
> Luke 15:10 - Just so, I tell you, there is joy before the angels of God over one sinner who repents. (ESV)
> Ezekiel 18:32 - For I have no pleasure in the death of anyone, declares the Lord GOD; so turn, and live. (ESV)

In Christ Jesus, no-one condemns each-another and all love one-another:

> I John 3:14 - We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. (ESV)
> I John 3:15 - Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. (ESV)

> Romans 8:1 - There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. (ESV)
> Luke 6:37 - , Judge not, and you will not be judged; condemn not, and you will not be condemned; forgive, and you will be forgiven; (ESV)
> Isaiah 53:6 - All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the LORD has laid on him the iniquity of us all. (ESV)

It is certainly possible to have a brother in Christ who is also a ”brother of the flesh”, but it *isn’t possible” to have a ”father of the flesh” if a person is the new creation born of the spirit. The person who is born of the spirit, when they speak, they are doing the word in reality and so they do not refer to any man on earth as their father, since they have been born of God, not of woman. The previous self was the one born of woman. The new creation who is born of the spirit, their Father is God. God is the father of our spirits:

> Philemon 1:15-16 - For this perhaps is why he was parted from you for a while, that you might have him back forever, no longer as a slave but more than a slave, as a beloved brother—especially to me, but how much more to you, both in the flesh and in the Lord. (ESV)

One’s previous parents (Hebrews 12:9), if they are born-again Christians would now be one’s ”brother and sister” in the Lord. Walking by the spirt, a person would properly refer to them as one’s ”brother and sister”, rather than ”father and mother”. Walking by the flesh, a person would still refer to them as ”father and mother”.

We need to be those who walk by the spirit, walk in the truth, in reality (G225 alētheia):

> John 3:21 - The [one] however practicing (G4160 poiōn; doing) the truth (G225 alētheian) comes (G2064 erchetai) to the Light (G5457 phōs) that may be manifest (G5319 phanerōthē) his works (G2041 erga) that in God (G2316 Theō) have been (G1510 estin) done (G2038 eirgasmena) (Interlinear)

If a person wants to evangelise effectively to a ”brother of the flesh” then I believe the best way is to stop calling them brother. If the person wanting to lead them to Jesus continues referring to them as a brother when they are not a believer, then it’s in a way approving of them being an unbeliever.

> Luke 8:21 - But he answered them, My mother and my brothers are those who hear the word of God and do it. (ESV)

There are only 2 ways of walking. One is the Jesus way (the narrow way that leads to life, walking in the love of the truth), and the other is the ”not Jesus” way (the way that leads to death, walking in darkness).

It’s important to be abiding in Jesus’ commandments. If a person does what Jesus instructs then they abide in Him.

Some intuition about how abiding in Jesus works. I’m not like, totally certain about these logical implications, but I hope it helps to show that in Christ Jesus, no-one condemns one-another and all love one-another.

- If a person (A) hates someone else (B) then at least one of those people cannot be in Jesus Christ.
- If a person (A) hates someone else (B) who definitely abides in Jesus Christ then the person (A) is not in Jesus Christ.
- If a born-again believer in Jesus Christ (A) condemns another person (B) then person (A) will not be seeing person (B) in heaven because there is no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus.

Journal <2026-07-04 Sat 17:32> Matthew 23:9 - And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. (ESV)

Jesus’ words recorded in the New Testament only refer to God as His father:

Mt 7:21: Not everyone who says to me, Lord, Lord, will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the one who does the will of my Father who is in heaven.

Mt 10:32: So everyone who acknowledges me before men, I also will acknowledge before my Father who is in heaven,

Mt 10:33: but whoever denies me before men, I also will deny before my Father who is in heaven.

Mt 11:27: All things have been handed over to me by my Father, and no one knows the Son except the Father, and no one knows the Father except the Son and anyone to whom the Son chooses to reveal him.

Mt 12:50: For whoever does the will of my Father in heaven is my brother and sister and mother.

Mt 16:17: And Jesus answered him, Blessed are you, Simon Bar-Jonah! For flesh and blood has not revealed this to you, but my Father who is in heaven.

Mt 18:10: See that you do not despise one of these little ones. For I tell you that in heaven their angels always see the face of my Father who is in heaven.

Mt 18:14: So it is not the will of my Father who is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish.

Mt 18:19: Again I say to you, if two of you agree on earth about anything they ask, it will be done for them by my Father in heaven.

Mt 20:23: He said to them, You will drink my cup, but to sit at my right hand and at my left is not mine to grant, but it is for those for whom it has been prepared by my Father.

Mt 25:34: Then the King will say to those on his right, Come, you who are blessed by my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

Mt 26:29: I tell you I will not drink again of this fruit of the vine until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

Mt 26:39: And going a little farther he fell on his face and prayed, saying, My Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me; nevertheless, not as I will, but as you will.

Mt 26:42: Again, for the second time, he went away and prayed, My Father, if this cannot pass unless I drink it, your will be done.

Mt 26:53: Do you think that I cannot appeal to my Father, and he will at once send me more than twelve legions of angels?

Lk 2:49: And he said to them, Why were you looking for me? Did you not know that I must be in my Father's house?

Lk 10:22: All things have been handed over to me by my Father, and no one knows who the Son is except the Father, or who the Father is except the Son and anyone to whom the Son chooses to reveal him.

Lk 22:29: and I assign to you, as my Father assigned to me, a kingdom,

Lk 24:49: And behold, I am sending the promise of my Father upon you. But stay in the city until you are clothed with power from on high.

Jn 2:16: And he told those who sold the pigeons, Take these things away; do not make my Father's house a house of trade.

Jn 5:17: But Jesus answered them, My Father is working until now, and I am working.

Jn 5:43: I have come in my Father's name, and you do not receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him.

Jn 6:32: Jesus then said to them, Truly, truly, I say to you, it was not Moses who gave you the bread from heaven, but my Father gives you the true bread from heaven.

Jn 6:40: For this is the will of my Father, that everyone who looks on the Son and believes in him should have eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day.

Jn 8:19: They said to him therefore, Where is your Father? Jesus answered, You know neither me nor my Father. If you knew me, you would know my Father also.

Jn 8:38: I speak of what I have seen with my Father, and you do what you have heard from your father.

> Jn 8:49: Jesus answered, I do not have a demon, but I honor my Father, and you dishonor me.

This person, walking by the flesh, thinks that they need to bury their father, and if they really believe that their father needs to be buried, they are indicating that God is not their father:

> Luke 9:59-60 - To another he said, Follow me. But he said, Lord, let me first go and bury my father. And Jesus said to him, Leave the dead to bury their own dead. But as for you, go and proclaim the kingdom of God. (ESV)

My father is God the Father of Jesus Christ. At least, that is who I believe is my true father. Jesus Christ's dad is my dad.

> I Peter 1:17-19 - And if you call on him as Father who judges impartially according to each one's deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile, knowing that you > were ransomed from the futile ways inherited from your forefathers, not with perishable things such as silver or gold, but with the precious blood of Christ, like that of a lamb without blemish or spot. (ESV)

> John 1:12 - But to all who did receive him, who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God, (ESV)

I know I'm unworthy to call God my dad, but I'm trusting Jesus that it's OK for me to do so:

> Luke 15:10-32 - Just so, I tell you, there is joy before the angels of God over one sinner who repents. And he said, There was a man who had two sons. And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the share of property that is coming to me. And he divided his property between them. Not many days later, the younger son gathered all he had and took a journey into a far country, and there he squandered his property in reckless living. And when he had spent everything, a severe famine arose in that country, and he began to be in need. So he went and hired himself out to one of the citizens of that country, who sent him into his fields to feed pigs. And he was longing to be fed with the pods that the pigs ate, and no one gave him anything. But when he came to himself, he said, How many of my father's hired servants have more than enough bread, but I perish here with hunger! I will arise and go to my father, and I will say to him, Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you. I am no longer worthy to be called your son. Treat me as one of your hired servants. And he arose and came to his father. But while he was still a long way off, his father saw him and felt compassion, and ran and embraced him and kissed him. And the son said to him, Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you. I am no longer worthy to be called your son. But the father said to his servants, Bring quickly the best robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet. And bring the fattened calf and kill it, and let us eat and celebrate. For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to celebrate. Now his older son was in the field, and as he came and drew near to the house, he heard music and dancing. And he called one of the servants and asked what these things meant. And he said to him, Your brother has come, and your father has killed the fattened calf, because he has received him back safe and sound. But he was angry and refused to go in. His father came out and entreated him, but he answered his father, Look, these many years I have served you, and I never disobeyed your command, yet you never gave me a young goat, that I might celebrate with my friends. But when this son of yours came, who has devoured your property with prostitutes, you killed the fattened calf for him! And he said to him, Son, you are always with me, and all that is mine is yours. It was fitting to celebrate and be glad, for this your brother was dead, and is alive; he was lost, and is found. (ESV)

Journal <2026-09-20 Sun 19:19> This guy appears very patient and kind-natured and I felt as though I received some correction because he pointed out the nuance which is there in the KJV:

youtube.com: No , Jesus does NOT say " call no man father " {@ FrLawrenceFarley } I commented,

Thanks for pointing out the nuance there in the KJV. Here's my thoughts, and I'm not infallible. As Jesus says, "To you it has been given to know the secrets of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it has not been given. For to the one who has, more will be given, and he will have an abundance, but from the one who has not, even what he has will be taken away", so therefore I am trying to understand the theology behind this rigorously, holding fast to what I have attained so far.

Jesus Christ said that those who have faith in Him will do His deeds. And in the New Testament, Jesus only referred to God as his father. When a person gets born-again of the spirit, they receive a new spirit from God. Adam's father was God. Jesus' father is Father God. Jesus still kept the commandment to honor his mother and father. A born-again Christian who has been born of the spirit (received a new spirit) who is going on in faith in Jesus Christ has spiritual "fathers" who are in Heaven, but in obedience to Jesus who said call no man on earth your father, we should do as Jesus instructs.

The son of man sows the seed, and when a person is born again of the spirit they are baptised into Jesus' death, so I would consider Jesus to be not only brother, but also the penultimate spiritual father. But even though I consider Jesus to be a spiritual father of mine, I think it makes the most sense to me to only use the word father for Father God. Jesus taught to pray, ”our father”, and so ”our father” including Jesus as one of us means this prayer, I think is directed at Father God.

Calling someone 'father' as a believer would at the very least be affirming that this person is seated in Christ in heavenly places and is one's spiritual father. But do we really know for sure who is our spiritual father? (thinking of a new genaeology in Christ rather than in Adam) When Jesus said, ”my Father and your father, my God and your God”, I think Jesus probably wants us to call His father our father. The one born of God seated in heavenly places does not sin, loves as commanded and confesses and agrees with the person of Jesus who is the Christ the Son of God. So when calling a person 'father', they are saying they are this person. But in the flesh, as Romans 7 says, sometimes it is sin which works deeds rather than our inward desire to do good.

If someone claims that Jesus Christ is their brother, then surely they then consider God to be their Father, as Jesus Christ's father is God the father of Jesus Christ. But that God is their father is especially true if Jesus Christ considers them to be a brother because if Jesus calls a person brother then that person's father is Jesus' father:

Romans 8:29 - For those whom he foreknew he also predestined to be conformed to the image of his Son, in order that he might be the firstborn among many brothers. (ESV)

Psalms 22:22 - I will tell of your name to my brothers; in the midst of the congregation I will praise you: (ESV)

When Jesus Christ is one's Master, then they follow Jesus. So, for example, out of a love for Jesus, they would ”call no man on Earth their father” in obedience to Christ's commandments. If a person is walking by the spirit, keeping Jesus Christ's commandments, then they are not under the law and will not gratify the desires of the flesh:

Galatians 5:17-18 - For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to keep you from doing the things you want to do. But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. (ESV)

Hebrews 11:24-25 - By faith Moses, when he was grown up, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter, choosing rather to be mistreated with the people of God than to enjoy the fleeting pleasures of sin. (ESV)

Romans 8:14 - For all who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God. (ESV)

Galatians 5:16 - But I say, walk by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the flesh. (ESV)

Matthew 8:21-22 - Another of the disciples said to him, Lord, let me first go and bury my father. And Jesus said to him, Follow me, and leave the dead to bury their own dead. (ESV)

By this point, Abraham was no longer on Earth when Stephen here spoke this so has not broken Christ's commandment. Abraham is not dead in the ground of the earth, but rather he is alive in the Kingdom of God. Stephen has a new genaeology which includes the Abraham who is born of God:

Acts 7:2 - And Stephen said: Brothers and fathers, hear me. The God of glory appeared to our father Abraham when he was in Mesopotamia, before he lived in Haran, (ESV)

Romans 4:16-17 - That is why it depends on faith, in order that the promise may rest on grace and be guaranteed to all his offspring—not only to the adherent of the law but also to the one who shares the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all, as it is written, I have made you the father of many nations—in the presence of the God in whom he believed, who gives life to the dead and calls into existence the things that do not exist. (ESV)

Mark 12:24-27 - Jesus said to them, Is this not the reason you are wrong, because you know neither the Scriptures nor the power of God? For when they rise from the dead, they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven. And as for the dead being raised, have you not read in the book of Moses, in the passage about the bush, how God spoke to him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? He is not God of the dead, but of the living. You are quite wrong. (ESV)

> Paul has not here instructed his disciples to call him father. Also, there is the new creation Paul who is born of God, born-again by the living and abiding Word of God (I Peter 1:23) who is seated in heavenly places in Christ Jesus, Christ Jesus who is firstborn of the dead (Revelation of John 1:4-6). So there is a Paul who is seated in heaven who is a ”spiritual father” to others. Paul has a new genaeology of people who are in heaven, and which includes Abraham and Christ:
> I Corinthians 4:15 - For though you have countless guides in Christ, you do not have many fathers. For I became your father in Christ Jesus through the gospel. (ESV)
> Ephesians 2:4-7 - But God, being rich in mercy, because of the great love with which he loved us, even when we were dead in our trespasses, made us alive together with Christ—by grace you have been saved— and raised us up with him and seated us with him in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, so that in the coming ages he might show the immeasurable riches of his grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus. (ESV)
> This is a matter of sanctification.
> If we see others not doing the will of God, then we should in similar fashion to Jesus teach others what to do (i.e. what Jesus' instruction is) but not judge them if they do not appear do it after instructing them, but rather quote John 12:44-50 to them. Let them know that Jesus' word will judge on the last day but that Jesus has come to save and we should imitate His patience. Let them know that you'll still endeavour to keep Jesus' commandment. Saying it once is enough. Staying silent is also an option if they insist that Jesus' commandment is wrong:
> John 12:44-50 - And Jesus cried out and said, Whoever believes in me, believes not in me but in him who sent me. And whoever sees me sees him who sent me. I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world. The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. For I have not spoken on my own authority, but the Father who sent me has himself given me a commandment—what to say and what to speak. And I know that his commandment is eternal life. What I say, therefore, I say as the Father has told me. (ESV)
> ”Our Father in Heaven” refers to God who is father of us all, even of Abraham, father to all those who have been born of Him. Our Father in Heaven is God. Paul may be a spiritual father to many of us who are born of God, but he's not Our Father (the father of all of us) who is in Heaven.
> Jesus said, ”Call no man on earth your father, for you have one father who is in heaven”. One father. And so I believe Jesus is speaking of His father and instructing His disciples to call His Father, their Father.
> But this doesn't mean a person can't use the title of 'father', as the Apostle Paul used. Following Jesus' commandment is about who we say has fathered us, rather than who somebody says they fathered through the gospel. But I mean, how would we know who we have fathered through the gospel unless we were told by God. Or also, how do we know who exactly fathered us through the gospel?
> Spiritual fathers are seated with Christ in heavenly places and are born of God and do not sin. Christ who is in heaven is far from sinners, Hebrews says.
> Perhaps for a similar reason to why we might not make an oath because we cannot make one hair on our head white or black, we should not call any man father here on earth because the person we are talking to might be their flesh rather than the one born of God. How to know for sure they are your spiritual father unless they are walking in love speaking the same Jesus Christ and not committing sin and God has revealed it? Only God knows their heart for sure, and where everyone is positioned in His Kingdom.

The Apostle Paul evidently was not a spiritual father to Andronicus and Junia as Paul was writing this:

> Romans 16:7 - Greet Andronicus and Junia, my kinsmen and my fellow prisoners. They are well known to the apostles, and they were in Christ before me. (ESV)

God being our only Father The implanted word is the new person and this person agrees with who Jesus Christ is, and hears and agrees with what Jesus says, and so after first coming to believe in Jesus Christ we need to continue holding our faith in Him and renewing our mind which means thinking more and more like Jesus thinks and what He commands. The mind of the flesh is the mind of the previous person. The person born-again of the spirit needs to learn who their new family is in Christ, who their new brothers and sisters are in Christ, but we must reject the idea that we have 2 fathers. The person born of God has has only one father now and he is not on the earth but is in heaven. The person born of God doesn't identify with the flesh (which is like a tent), but rather with the new spirit that they have. In heaven, one's previous father, if there, would be ”brother” or ”friend”.

- If someone tells you, ”I saw your dad on the train.” You might respond, ”You must be mistaken because my dad Jehovah is in heaven.”
- If someone tells you, ”I saw your dad.” You might respond from John 1:17-18, ”No one has ever seen God; the only God, who is at the Father's side, he has made him known.”
- If someone asks you, ”How is your dad?” You might respond, ”God is always good. He is good all the time. I think He's still drawing people to Jesus Christ His Only-Begotten Son.”
- If you tell someone, ”I have only one dad and He is Jehovah in heaven.” And they respond, ”You have two dads.” And you say nothing in response, (though you could have mentioned ”I have only one dad who is God in heaven”) then you have not sinned by not saying anything. You are blameless in this situation. Someone may say something untrue about you, but it's not your fault that they said it. You have already mentioned that your dad is God in heaven. Someone might try to force you to oconfess that you have a dad on the earth. Resist.

> John 1:17-18 - For the law was given through Moses; grace and truth (G225 alḗtheia) came through Jesus Christ. No one has ever seen God; the only God, who is at the Father's side, he has made him known. (ESV)

> Luke 18:16-22 - But Jesus called them to him, saying, Let the children come to me, and do not hinder them, for to such belongs the kingdom of God. Truly, I say to you, whoever does not receive the kingdom of God like a child shall not enter it. And a ruler asked him, Good Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life? And Jesus said to him, Why do you call me good? No one is good except God alone. You know the commandments: Do not commit adultery, Do not murder, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honor your father and mother. And he said, All these I have kept from my youth. When Jesus heard this, he said to him, One thing you still lack. Sell all that you have and distribute to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me.

If someone appears to be referring to earthly family, even apparently unbelieving family with the words ”father”, ”mother”, ”brother”, ”sister”, ”son”, ”daughter” etc. then I believe that John 12:44-50 applies in that there is no need to judge other people for not doing what Jesus Christ has instructed but that this instruction would judge them on the last day.

> John 12:44-50 - And Jesus cried out and said, Whoever believes in me, believes not in me but in him who sent me. And whoever sees me sees him who sent me. I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world. The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. For I have not spoken on my own authority, but the Father who sent me has himself given me a commandment—what to say and what to speak. And I know that his commandment is eternal life. What I say, therefore, I say as the Father has told me. (ESV)

In a strict sense, I think it would be totally fine in a Christian household to teach one's biological children to refer to God as their father and heavenly Jerusalem as mother, and to refer to their bioligical parents as ”sir” and ”madam”, for example, rather than father and mother. However, I also think it's also totally OK to not punish a child for using the terms ”father” and ”mother”. But when the time comes and they decide that they want to call God their Father and heavenly Jerusalem their mother, and use family nouns such as brother and sister to refer to family in Christ, then they should be encouraged to do so, and be allowed to put a stop to using these family nouns to orefer to other people.

> Hebrews 11:14-16 - For people who speak thus make it clear that they are seeking a homeland. If they had been thinking of that land from which they had gone out, they would have had opportunity to return. But as it is, they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly one. Therefore God is not ashamed to be called their God, for he has prepared for them a city. (ESV)

It’s right to call God our Father and His name is Yahweh (Jehovah/Yehovah), and He is the Father of Jesus Christ, though I do see the name Yahweh (Jehovah/Yehovah) more as a surname for God rather than a first name.

On the topic of God’s Proper Name, God being love, He can’t simply have been only one Person and then at some stage created His Son, otherwise there would’ve been a point when God wasn’t love. If God were only the Father then God wouldn’t be love.

> John 17:24 - Father, I desire that they also, whom you have given me, may be with me where I am, to see my glory that you have given me because you loved me before the foundation of the world. (ESV)

The ”main” point of the ”greater than”-ness, I believe is that it shows that Jesus Christ was ”sent” by Father God:

> John 14:28 - You heard me say to you, I am going away, and I will come to you. If you loved me, you would have rejoiced, because I am going to the Father, for the Father is greater than (G3173 meizōn; greater than) I. (ESV)

> John 13:12-16 - When he had washed their feet and put on his outer garments and resumed his place, he said to them, Do you understand what I have done to you? You call me Teacher and Lord, and you are right, for so I am. If I then, your Lord and Teacher, have washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another’s feet. For I have given you an example, that you also should do just as I have done to you. Truly, truly, I say to you, a servant is not greater than his master, nor is a messenger greater than the one who sent him. (ESV)

An analogy for the Father and Son being One God I find it a useful analogy to liken the Father to the Sun and the Son to the rays of light that come from the Sun. I like this analogy because when a person takes a look at a picture of something, then they are seeing the rays of light coming from the picture. And Jesus Christ is the image of God, and the radiance of His glory. When God created the world and put stars in the sky, the light could already be seen from the stars. I would consider the rays of light from the star and the star itself to be indivisibly referred to as the ”star” and the rays of light from the sun and the Sun itself I would consider to be ”the Sun”. In a way the stars can touch us with their light.

The True God is the Father and the Son. However as a Trinitarian I also believe that Holy Spirit is also God, indivisible from God, and I would say that the True God is the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit.

> Matthew 28:18-20 - And Jesus came and said to them, All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you. And behold, I am with you always, to the end of the age. (ESV)

> You accept Jesus Christ, you accept the Father. You accept the Father and the Son, you accept the Holy Ghost. Let's keep that in mind. Jesus and His Father are one, as we read in John 10:30:
> > John 10:30 - I and the Father are one. (ESV)
> Jesus does exactly as His Father instructs Him to do. So, Jesus came to reveal who God is. An illustration of this truth, and sisters, would be that no man can really see the sun. We see the brilliance of the sun in the sky, but not the sun itself. Now, we're talking about the heavenly Father and the heavenly Son, too. The sun pictures God the Father, whom no one can see. The light of the sun, Hallelujah. energy that comes from the sun, pictures Jesus Christ, who came to help us know God the Father.

God's name Yahweh (Jehovah/Yehovah/YHWH) is God's name thoughout all generations and the name belongs to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit of God. It's correct to call Jesus Christ by Father God's name also. I think of Yahweh/Jehovah/Yehovah as a surname belonging to God, rather than being exclusive to the Father. The True God is the God of Abraham and of Isaac and of Jacob.

The natural man does not understand the things of the spirit. So out of love for Jesus who has commanded us to stop calling any man on earth one's "father". we do indeed stop calling one's previous father "father" and at the same time begin calling God our father, and in doing this it seems to spark offence from anyone who is thinking/walking/talking by the flesh (the natural man) who hears us call God our father while insisting that we no longer have a father on earth.

But if a person who is not doing Christ's commandment to put a stop to calling any man on earth their "father", then John 12:44-50 applies. Jesus left words that we must come into agreement with. Jesus came not to judge the world, but to save the world. Therefore, in imitating Christ's pattern for sharing the gospel, we should teach people to observe and do His commandments, including this one (Matthew 23:9) to put a stop to calling any man on earth "father", and mention that on the last day, that if Jesus Christ and His words are rejected then the word that He has spoken will judge them on the last day (John 12:44-50). I believe that we are instructed keep Jesus' commandments in reality for God to see (rather than seeking commendation from one-another), and examine ourselves to see if we are in the faith, doing Christ's commandments, and to teach other people to do the same, but when they do not still do not condemn them, but to exercise love that bears with people in hope that they will repent. We should be speaking the truth to one-another, and practicing in reality for God to see, and teach other people to do the same, but it's not our duty to police other people's faith (Romans 14:4-6). It's God who we want other people to be seeking glory from in their own walk of faith in God who can see their hearts.

It's loving God to call Him Father and to stop calling any man on earth one's "father". Jesus says whoever keeps His commandments is the one who loves Him and He also said that whoever hates Him also hates His Father. So in reality, because Jesus has commanded it, it's loving to call no man on earth one's "father" (to literally put a stop to using the title for any man on earth), and this includes "dad", "pa", "pop" or "abba", etc. and the spiritual man (the person who agrees with Jesus Christ) will understand this but the natural/carnal man will not like it at all. It's loving to stop calling any man on earth one's "father" or "dad", etc. if affirming that now God who is in heaven is your only father, out of faith in Jesus Christ the Son of God.

And when a person is of the true circumcision, circumcised in their heart then in keeping Jesus' commandment to stop calling any man on earth their father, in doing so they are not dishonouring their mother and father as their mother and father is now God in heaven and Heavenly Jerulasem:

> Philippians 3:3-11 - For we are the real circumcision, who worship by the Spirit of God and glory in Christ Jesus and put no confidence in the flesh— though I myself have reason for confidence in the flesh also. If anyone else thinks he has reason for confidence in the flesh, I have more: circumcised on the eighth day, of the people of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews; as to the law, a Pharisee; as to zeal, a persecutor of the church; as to righteousness, under the law blameless. But whatever gain I had, I counted as loss for the sake of Christ. Indeed, I count everything as loss because of the surpassing worth of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For his sake I have suffered the loss of all things and count them as rubbish, in order that I may gain Christ and be found in him, not having a righteousness of my own that comes from the law, but that which comes through faith in Christ, the righteousness from God that depends on faith— that I may know him and the power of his resurrection, and may share his sufferings, becoming like him in his death, that by any means possible I may attain the resurrection from the dead. (ESV)

> Galatians 4:22-31 - For it is written that Abraham had two sons, one by a slave woman and one by a free woman. But the son of the slave was born according to the flesh, while the son of the free woman was born through promise. Now this may be interpreted allegorically: these women are two covenants. One is from Mount Sinai, bearing children for slavery; she is Hagar. Now Hagar is Mount Sinai in Arabia; she corresponds to the present Jerusalem, for she is in slavery with her children. But the Jerusalem above is free, and she is our mother. For it is written, Rejoice, O barren one who does not bear; break forth and cry aloud, you who are not in labor! For the children of the desolate one will be more than those of the one who has a husband. Now you, brothers, like Isaac, are children of promise. But just as at that time he who was born according to the flesh persecuted him who was born according to the Spirit, so also it is now. But what does the Scripture say? Cast out the slave woman and her son, for the son of the slave woman shall not inherit with the son of the free woman. So, brothers, we are not children of the slave but of the free woman. (ESV)

And so the commandment to honor one's mother and father now is still applied but in a spiritual way (as we are the true circumcision of the heart, rather than of the flesh). The only way to honor Father God is to honor the Son of God as well. We must honor the Son of God who is Jesus Christ. We should honor Jesus Christ by keeping His commandments:

> Exodus 20:12 - Honor your father and your mother, that your days may be long in the land that the LORD your God is giving you. (ESV)

> John 5:21-24 - For as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, so also the Son gives life to whom he will. The Father judges no one, but has given all judgment to the Son, that all may honor the Son, just as they honor the Father. Whoever does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent him. Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears my word and believes (G4100 pisteuo) him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come (2064. erchomai) into judgment, but has passed from death to life.

> John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)

The desires of the spirit and the desires of the flesh are against each other.

With the spiritual circumcision, the commandments of God are kept in the heart in reality but in the application of them, one "must", for example, love their family in Christ because we are part of one another and are neighbours (therefore, love your neighbour involves not condemning other people who are in Christ Jesus). To be a part of the Kingdom of Heaven, we must love our fellow countymen of the Kingdom of Heaven (Leviticus 19:17-18, Philippians 3:18-21) and so must not hold grudges with one-another.

> James 4:11-12 - Do not speak evil against one another, brothers. The one who speaks against a brother or judges his brother, speaks evil against the law and judges the law. But if you judge the law, you are not a doer of the law but a judge. There is only one lawgiver and judge, he who is able to save and to destroy. But who are you to judge your neighbor? (ESV)

But also, honouring your father and mother is done honouring God and Jerusalem in heaven.

When Jesus from the cross mentions "behold, your mother" (John 19:27), I'm convinced that this is firstly meaning to say that Mary was "at that moment" doing the will of God (Luke 8:21) so Jesus was referring to the Mary "born of God" (I John 5:1). But also, it's clear that Jesus loved this disciple of His and so this disciple must have been keeping Jesus' commandments (John 14:21) and so also been born of God (I John 3:23-24): And so Jesus is talking about His family. Now when we say "heavenly Jerusalem" is our mother, we are talking about the New Covenant, and so in a real sense the New Covenant involves keeping Jesus Christ's commandments. To honour our "father" and "mother" according to the commandment by the spirit is to honour our true Father and true mother (New Covenant and family in Christ who have gone before us), and that certainly involves honouring Jesus Christ and honouring Jesus Christ's commandments:

> John 5:21-24 - For as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, so also the Son gives life to whom he will. The Father judges no one, but has given all judgment to the Son, that all may honor the Son, just as they honor the Father. Whoever does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent him. Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears my word and believes (G4100 pisteuo) him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come (2064. erchomai) into judgment, but has passed from death to life.
> John 19:26 - When Jesus saw his mother and the disciple whom he loved standing nearby, he said to his mother, Woman, behold, your son! (ESV)
> Galatians 4:24-26 - Now this may be interpreted allegorically: these women are two covenants. One is from Mount Sinai, bearing children for slavery; she is Hagar. Now Hagar is Mount Sinai in Arabia; she corresponds to the present Jerusalem, for she is in slavery with her children. But the Jerusalem above is free, and she is our mother. (ESV)

> Our Father and our God, when we approach this subject of your Holy character, we know that we are embarking on an impossible task, that even at this moment we are standing upon holy ground, ground that were it not for your abiding mercy and grace would open up beneath our feet and swallow us into the pit. And so tonight we ask, nay, we beg you for a double measure of your grace and mercy upon us as we seek to understand these things that are so important to our understanding of you; and we invoke the presence of the Spirit of Truth, who is at the same time the Holy Spirit, that He may assist us in this endeavor. For we ask these things in the name of Christ, Amen.

Honestly, I do not understand this well enough to know for sure exactly, how this works. I'm thinking aloud in my writing. May God correct any errors in these writings, and lead me and whoever is reading into all the truth.

Thinking logically about the topic of Mary the mother of Jesus, one thought I had is that any generational sin that might have come through Jesus' mother's side through Abraham, Jesus may have "taken on" (II Corinthians 5:21) when he took on flesh through Mary (Psalms 51:5). But there might be a problem with this because Jesus is the "Word become flesh", and God's word is immaculate.

The reason why I considered that Jesus may have "taken on" generational sin though Jesus' mother's side (let's call that Theory A) is that these two verses made it seem plausible. But after thinking about it, I might have a more plausible explanation (Theory B):

> Psalms 51:5 - Behold, I was brought forth in iniquity, and in sin did my mother conceive me. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 5:21-6:1 - For our sake he made him to be sin who knew no sin, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God. Working together with him, then, we appeal to you not to receive the grace of God in vain. (ESV)

Jesus took a lot of persecution by the hands of unrighteous people, right up until He went to that cross. But He did that as a sinless person, not as a person who had any sin:

> Isaiah 53:3-7 - He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not. Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed. All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the LORD hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth. (KJV)

Another argument to be made is that it was Mary who was "born of God" rather than "sin in Mary's flesh" (Romans 7:17-23) in whom Holy Spirit had conceived Jesus. The Mary who is "born of God from the word of God" together with Holy Spirit conceieved Jesus (Let's call that Theory B, my present favourite theory).

So for Theory A, all those who were born according to the spirit (Galatians 4:28-29) from Abraham to Mary, Jesus would have "taken on their sin" when taking on their humanity, because I am of the pursuasion that Mary had flesh with indwelling sin in it, and that Jesus inherited flesh nature from Mary when the Word of God became flesh when Holy Spirit conceived Jesus.

I'm not strongly convinced that sin is inherited from only the father because of Psalms 51:5. That the Word became flesh (John 1:14) indicates that Jesus' flesh was not ordinary flesh, but rather His flesh originated as the Word of God, and was conceived by Mary and by God's Holy Spirit. Now putting that together, I do think that then there is a good argument to be made that the Mary who conceived was the Mary who was "born of God", because the one "born of God" originated as the seed of the word of God. And so there would be the "word of God" (Matthew 13:37-42) in Mary "good soil" (Luke 8:15) becoming the Mary who is "born of God", and this Mary being a "child of the Kingdom" who is "born of God" and Holy Spirit together conceiving Jesus. So Theory B would be that the Word of God "become flesh" because Mary was a believer and was born of God, and Holy Spirit conceived with this Mary who was born of God.

> Luke 1:34-35 - And Mary said to the angel, How will this be, since I am a virgin? And the angel answered her, The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you; therefore the child to be born will be called holy—the Son of God. (ESV)

In that way, it's easy to see that Jesus was spiritually totally without sin. And following on from that, knowing that Jesus committed no sin, yet was tempted, it's possible that Jesus was still tempted by the flesh. In fact I think He really was. Yet He still did not sin. So this taking on board of Mary's nature was inclusive of her heart and of her flesh, being "born of God" (so a good heart, and good inner nature) yet also the sinful flesh (Mary did not have her immaculate resurrection body).

So for Jesus it may have felt at times as though the flesh may war against His inner desire to do good. Jesus was certainly tempted. Yet Jesus did not commit sin.

Also, I think Jesus didn't suffer from the problem of having "deeds worked by indwelling sin" which Paul describes in Romans 7. Jesus totally conquered temptation, and did not have indwelling sin doing evil deeds against His desire to do the Father's will. And also, Jesus had at all not "sown to His flesh" (Galatians 6:7-10) and was never "dead in sin". So concerning any warring between the spirit and the flesh that is typical for a believer in Jesus after getting born-again of the spirit which involves "putting to death the deeds of the flesh", while Jesus did face temptation in every point that we have (Hebrews 4:15) but without sin, I do not think that Jesus had to deal with "putting to death the deeds of the body of sin" because Jesus was fully in charge of His own body. He is the perfect man:

> James 3:2 - For we all stumble in many ways, and if anyone does not stumble in what he says, he is a perfect man, able also to bridle his whole body. (ESV)

I think that Jesus' flesh was "Word become flesh", and not merely "God inside a meatsuit from Adam", but that Jesus' flesh was also special as the Word became flesh, and from Jesus' conception He was a perfect man, able to bridle the body He was born with. I believe that Jesus in His flesh never sinned (I Peter 2:15-25). So even if Jesus took on the flesh of 'sinful' humanity, Jesus still never committed any sin Himself and had an inward desire to do the will of God, and bridled His whole body and so Jesus simply embraced the likeness of human flesh.

So Jesus took on the likeness of human flesh but had an immaculate heart and a bridled body. And Jesus sanctified Himself (John 17:19). So Jesus simply ruled flawlessly over the flesh in obedience to Father God.

I also imagine that "whatever God touches becomes holy" and so when Jesus was conceived, He was still holy even with this flesh, and in God touching flesh and taking on board the likeness of man (Philippians 2:7), the Word of God took on board this flesh of His simply in its state and was able to bridle this body of His. Jesus was both God and man even as a baby:

> Philippians 2:7 - but made himself nothing, taking the form of a servant, being born in the likeness of men. (ESV)

And so if there was sinful flesh in Mary then Jesus Christ would have taken on the likeness of this flesh, yet His inward desire still would have been to do the will of God while having this flesh and He was able to bridle this flesh body.

Jesus never committed any sin while He walked in a body that was in the likeness of man. It would be wrong to call Jesus' flesh "fallen" even though it was in the likeness of fallen man's flesh, but rather it might be better to say that the Son of God took on this flesh body in the likeness that He took it on, but that He had a perfect soul, and simply recognised this flesh as His own flesh, and there was no sin in Him, even though His flesh resembled that of fallen man.

Jesus was conceived, I believe, both of the virgin Mary (who I believe was born of God at the time), and of Holy Spirit. Jesus' body and soul was immaculate and holy from birth, I believe, and having this flesh from birth, the flesh was simply His flesh, with nothing "sinful" about it, asides from resembling fallen man's flesh. God chose His vessel.

If someone chose a table which they liked and said, this is my chosen table, and I'm pleased with it, who can argue with that? So in Jesus taking on board flesh, God has chosen this flesh.

Jesus' word-become-flesh body was made an offering for sin, as was His soul:

> Hebrews 10:10 - And by that will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. (ESV)

Jesus was without blemish:

> Hebrews 9:13-14 - For if the sprinkling of defiled persons with the blood of goats and bulls and with the ashes of a heifer sanctifies for the purification of the flesh, how much more will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without blemish to God, purify our conscience from dead works to serve the living God. (ESV)

I recalled Sproul's sermon on the Holiness of God and did a little search for Bible verse which might relate to when something becomes "holy" by "touch" (Leviticus 6:27, Exodus 30:29, Isaiah 6:5-7).

youtube.com: The Meaning of Holiness : The Holiness of God with R . C . Sproul {@ ligonier }

> Why is it that we are drawn to take something that is common and make it extraordinary because of its significance? It's not because of the intrinsic value of these objects, but what makes something sacred, what makes something holy is the touch of God upon it. When the one who himself is other and different touches that which is ordinary, it becomes extraordinary.

More evidence for Jesus' body and soul being a perfect sacrifice for sin that He sanctifies Himself (John 17:19).

The fact is that He is the sinless Lamb of God (John 1:29). If we are to say that Mary mother of Jesus was sinless (as Roman Catholic doctrine affirms an "Immaculate Conception"), then we might say that this could only refer to the Mary who is "born of God" rather than to her "flesh" which carries sin (Romans 7:17-23) from Adam. At it's core, the difference between the person of the flesh and who is born of God is a heart issue, I think, but I think also involves the soul, and the soul animates the body. So somebody could have an inner desire to please God, but the exterior flesh nature may fight against that inner nature. But if a person's body is well-bridled and they have their body under control, then their exterior flesh should reflect what's going on inside. And I think that Mary is somebody who would have been like that (a good nature inside, with a well-bridled body), yet still having the "Adamic" flesh (not without sin). But perhaps under the influence of the power of God, her body was "totally bridled" when Jesus was conceived. Like if when doing a surgical operation, the Doctor might "sedate", God's power ensured that Jesus' conception was immaculate (Luke 1:34-35). Perhaps that could be what happened. Only God knows, but those are my thoughts:

> Luke 1:34-35 - And Mary said to the angel, How will this be, since I am a virgin? And the angel answered her, The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you; therefore the child to be born will be called holy—the Son of God. (ESV)

That's how I could presently envisage an "Immaculate Conception" being possible there. I think it's a plausible theory, though, but I do not have enough confidence in my own understanding on this, though, to say I think it works this way for sure:

> Matthew 1:1 - The book of the genealogy of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham. (ESV)

> Galatians 4:28-29 - Now you, brothers, like Isaac, are children of promise. But just as at that time he who was born according to the flesh persecuted him who was born according to the Spirit, so also it is now. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 5:17-21 - Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation. The old has passed away; behold, the new has come. All this is from God, who through Christ reconciled us to himself and gave us the ministry of reconciliation; that is, in Christ God was reconciling the world to himself, not counting their trespasses against them, and entrusting to us the message of reconciliation. Therefore, we are ambassadors for Christ, God making his appeal through us. We implore you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God. For our sake he made him to be sin who knew no sin, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God. (ESV)

> Genesis 3:14-15 - The LORD God said to the serpent, Because you have done this, cursed are you above all livestock and above all beasts of the field; on your belly you shall go, and dust you shall eat all the days of your life. I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your offspring and her offspring; he shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise his heel. (ESV)

> Psalms 51:5 - Behold, I was brought forth in iniquity, and in sin did my mother conceive me. (ESV)

It makes sense to me that Jesus has to be sinless and immaculately conceived for the tree to be good:

> Matthew 12:33-37 - Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or make the tree bad and its fruit bad, for the tree is known by its fruit. You brood of vipers! How can you speak good, when you are evil? For out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks. The good person out of his good treasure brings forth good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure brings forth evil. I tell you, on the day of judgment people will give account for every careless word they speak, for by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned. (ESV)

> John 15:4-7 - Remain in Me, and I will remain in you. Just as no branch can bear fruit by itself unless it remains in the vine, neither can you bear fruit unless you remain in Me. I am the vine and you are the branches. The one who remains in Me, and I in him, will bear much fruit. For apart from Me you can do nothing. If anyone does not remain in Me, he is like a branch that is thrown away and withers. Such branches are gathered up, thrown into the fire, and burned. If you remain in Me and My words remain in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be done for you. (engbsb2020eb)

I believe that Holy Spirit coming upon Mary and God's power over shadowing her is instrumental to there being an immaculate conception of Jesus:

> Luke 1:34-35 - And Mary said to the angel, How will this be, since I am a virgin? And the angel answered her, The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you; therefore the child to be born will be called holy—the Son of God. (ESV)

The Apostle's Creed affirms that Jesus was conceived by Holy Spirit and that looks to be backed up by Matthew 1:20. But I think it's not possible to avoid that both Holy Spirit and Mary conceived, because of these verses:

- Isaiah 7:14 - Therefore the Lord himself will give you a sign. Behold, the virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. (ESV)
- Matthew 1:23 - Behold, the virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and they shall call his name Immanuel (which means, God with us). (ESV)
- Matthew 1:20 - But as he considered these things, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream, saying, Joseph, son of David, do not fear to take Mary as your wife, for that which is conceived in her is from the Holy Spirit. (ESV)
- Galatians 4:4 - But when the fullness of time had come, God sent forth his Son, born of woman, born under the law, (ESV)

And since I take John 1:14 to really mean that Jesus' flesh originated as God's word, then Mary having been involved in conception must have herself been born of God. Sinner from birth, but at the time Jesus was conceived I think that Mary must surely have been participating as the one "born of God", born of the word of God.

> John 1:14 - And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we have seen his glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth. (ESV)

So that's my reasoning towards believing that the "Mary who conceived" was herself born of the word of God (i.e. born of God) and presently acting as the one born of God (rather than from her flesh).

> I John 3:9 - every one who hath been begotten of God, sin he doth not, because his seed in him doth remain, and he is not able to sin, because of God he hath been begotten. (YLT)

Similarly to the way in which I believe this lady was "not a sinner" while she was worshipping Jesus:

> Luke 7:39 - Now when the Pharisee who had invited him saw this, he said to himself, If this man were a prophet, he would have known who and what sort of woman this is who is touching him, for she is a sinner. (ESV)

I think that to say, "It was the sinless 'component' of Mary who conceived together with Holy Spirit," I think is not as accurate as saying that the Mary mother of Jesus Christ who is the born-of-God child of the Kingdom who was birthed from God's word when she was born-again of the spirit, born-again from the word of God, as opposed to "sin in Mary's flesh", and this seed from God which gave birth to the Mary who is born of God was God's seed and that born of God Mary was 'from God' (I John 4:6, I John 4:1-3, I John 4:4). So it would be the Mary mother of Jesus Christ who was born-again of the spirit and walking by the spirit who conceived together with Holy Spirit to form the baby Jesus.

I think that talking about a person as having both a good nature (not a sinner) and an evil nature (a sinner), i.e. a good and a bad "component" making up a whole, isn't as accurate as calling the good nature the actual person and the evil nature their sin who they are not any longer. The person who is born of God is not the "sin that dwells within their flesh". But I believe that it is the Mary who was "not a sinner" who with Holy Spirit conceived the baby Jesus Christ:

> Romans 7:17-23 - So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. So I find it to be a law that when I want to do right, evil lies close at hand. For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. (ESV)

Also to take into consideration is that God "passed over" former sins (Romans 3:25), and overlooked the times of ignorance (Acts 17:30-31).

> Romans 3:25 - whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. (ESV)

> Acts 17:30-31 - The times of ignorance God overlooked, but now he commands all people everywhere to repent, because he has fixed a day on which he will judge the world in righteousness by a man whom he has appointed; and of this he has given assurance to all by raising him from the dead. (ESV)

Apart from Jesus, we cannot do anything, nor have any inheritance in Christ. A person must be "in Christ" to partake of the promise to Abraham and of Christ:

> Philippians 3:8-11 - Indeed, I count everything as loss because of the surpassing worth of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For his sake I have suffered the loss of all things and count them as rubbish, in order that I may gain Christ and be found in him, not having a righteousness of my own that comes from the law, but that which comes through faith in Christ, the righteousness from God that depends on faith— that I may know him and the power of his resurrection, and may share his sufferings, becoming like him in his death, that by any means possible I may attain the resurrection from the dead. (ESV)

> Galatians 4:31 - So, brothers, we are not children of the slave but of the free woman. (ESV)

> John 15:5 - I am the vine; you are the branches. Whoever abides in me and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. (ESV)

> Galatians 3:16 - Now the promises were made to Abraham and to his offspring. It does not say, And to offsprings, referring to many, but referring to one, And to your offspring, who is Christ. (ESV)

> James 2:5 - Listen, my beloved brothers, has not God chosen those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom, which he has promised to those who love him? (ESV)

The spirit is the truth. The spirit is reality. For the person who lives by the spirit, walking by the spirit is walking in the truth. We should be learning from God and agreeing with God, coming to Jesus, trusting and obeying Jesus, coming to know the truth:

> I John 5:1-6 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments. And his commandments are not burdensome. For everyone who has been born of God overcomes the world. And this is the victory that has overcome the world—our faith. Who is it that overcomes the world except the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God? This is he who came by water and blood—Jesus Christ; not by the water only but by the water and the blood. And the Spirit is the one who testifies, because the Spirit is the truth. (ESV)

> John 6:63 - It is the Spirit who gives life; the flesh is of no avail. The words that I have spoken to you are spirit and life. (ESV)

By faith in Jesus Christ (trusting Jesus' words), we do what Jesus says. The reality is that a born-again person does not have a father on the earth. When a person is born-again of the spirit and they call God their own father out of a loving faith in Jesus Christ, it's true in an absolute sense. No-one else is that person's father:

> Matthew 23:9 - And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. (ESV)

> James 1:21-25 - Therefore put away all filthiness and rampant wickedness and receive with meekness the implanted word, which is able to save your souls. But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves. For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks intently at his natural face in a mirror. For he looks at himself and goes away and at once forgets what he was like. But the one who looks into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and perseveres, being no hearer who forgets but a doer who acts, he will be blessed in his doing. (ESV)

> Galatians 4:22-31 - For it is written that Abraham had two sons, one by a slave woman and one by a free woman. But the son of the slave was born according to the flesh, while the son of the free woman was born through promise. Now this may be interpreted allegorically: these women are two covenants. One is from Mount Sinai, bearing children for slavery; she is Hagar. Now Hagar is Mount Sinai in Arabia; she corresponds to the present Jerusalem, for she is in slavery with her children. But the Jerusalem above is free, and she is our mother. For it is written, Rejoice, O barren one who does not bear; break forth and cry aloud, you who are not in labor! For the children of the desolate one will be more than those of the one who has a husband. Now you, brothers, like Isaac, are children of promise. But just as at that time he who was born according to the flesh persecuted him who was born according to the Spirit, so also it is now. But what does the Scripture say? Cast out the slave woman and her son, for the son of the slave woman shall not inherit with the son of the free woman. So, brothers, we are not children of the slave but of the free woman. (ESV)

We should still honor everyone and do good to everyone including the "previous family" the "family of the flesh", but especially to those who are of the household of faith. This is not to say that a person cannot be a brother or sister in Christ and at the same time someone who is a brother of the flesh, but since the person born-again of the spirit has a new identity that is in agreement with the truth which is the spirit then the title ”brother” or ”sister” on their own are reserved for one’s family in Christ and not for those outside. Because it’s Christ’s teaching, it’s essential to abide in the teaching that the title of ”one’s father” is for God and God alone, God who is in heaven. Because it’s Christ’s teaching, it’s essential to put a stop to using the title of ”one’s father” (as in, their actual father) to any man who is on the earth. To call somebody on earth a father is fine, but to call them one’s own father is against the commandment:

> I Peter 2:15-25 - For this is the will of God, that by doing good you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish people. Live as people who are free, not using your freedom as a cover-up for evil, but living as servants of God. Honor everyone. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the emperor. Servants, be subject to your masters with all respect, not only to the good and gentle but also to the unjust. For this is a gracious thing, when, mindful of God, one endures sorrows while suffering unjustly. For what credit is it if, when you sin and are beaten for it, you endure? But if when you do good and suffer for it you endure, this is a gracious thing in the sight of God. For to this you have been called, because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, so that you might follow in his steps. He committed no sin, neither was deceit found in his mouth. When he was reviled, he did not revile in return; when he suffered, he did not threaten, but continued entrusting himself to him who judges justly. He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed. For you were straying like sheep, but have now returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls. (ESV)

> Galatians 6:7-10 - Do not be deceived: God is not mocked, for whatever one sows, that will he also reap. For the one who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption, but the one who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life. And let us not grow weary of doing good, for in due season we will reap, if we do not give up. So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to those who are of the household of faith. (ESV)

> II John 1:9-10 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, (ESV)

God abides in a person only if they love their family in Christ including Jesus Christ. If a person hates Jesus Christ then they are accursed, not saved:

> I John 4:12-15 - No one has ever seen God; if we love one another, God abides in us and his love is perfected in us. By this we know that we abide in him and he in us, because he has given us of his Spirit. And we have seen and testify that the Father has sent his Son to be the Savior of the world. Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. (ESV)

> I John 4:15-16 - Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. (ESV)

> I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

> I John 3:10 - By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 16:22 - If anyone has no love for the Lord, let him be accursed. Our Lord, come! (ESV)

Journal <2026-06-23 Tue 16:35> I want the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit.

Earlier in the day today someone said to me that I live with my father and mother. And at a different time of day, I said to someone else, I want to get out of where I am currently living, and they asked, "Well, who are you living with?" And to avoid another one of these bizarre scenarios where people are getting confused and angry when I say God is my Dad, I just said, I don't want to talk about it. If I recall correctly, I'd had the same conversation with them before. But various people, even people who have in the past professed with their mouth that they have faith in Jesus, have gotten very confused and angry at me as I have affirmed God as my father and no other.

I'm so sick and tired of this stuff. I want to be set free from this prison of circumstance.

Soon after, I bumped into somebody else on the street, someone who in the past I had met through "church attendance". He was with a lady, and upon seeing me he mentioned to her that I am the son of the person who I would only now say "previously" I referred to as my father, as in before I got born-again and began calling God the Father of Jesus Christ my Father. I had to say, "That man is not my dad. I've been adopted." And this person, a "church goer" initially looked very confused, and I waited and he said, "By who? God?" And I said, "Yes, God is my Dad." I said, it would be more appropriate to call my previous father, "bro", than Dad.

However, then walking back to earthly building in which I have been sleeping, the earthly dwelling place of the people who I would say were "previously" my parents, I was thinking, 'I actually do not want to refer to even my previous parents as "brother" and "sister" in Christ if they have not given me a confession of their faith.'

As I was walking, the person who I no longer refer to as my father was just there on the other side of the road. And so I talked to him about what has been going on. I even mentioned that I feel like nobody wants to confess Jesus to me, and people keep on trying to affirm me as "brother" or want to be "bro" without wanting to confess to me their faith in Jesus. But in response he said he'd pray for me. What he should have done is confessed Jesus to me.

I think my family basically consists of God the Father, God the Son, God the Holy Spirit, Jesus Christ's Apostles, and Jesus Christ's family and me.

I feel burdened with just a tonne of resistance from people, resistance to Jesus Christ's teaching. The sheer amount of testing which I have been under. Honestly, I'm so sick of it.

May God deliver me from this blanket of darkness, this resistance to the knowledge of God, that has been trying to bury me.

If those two people who I previously referred to as mum and dad are truly brother and sister in Christ, then may God allow them to confess their faith to me afresh. Otherwise, I do not want to affirm them as brother and sister.

Jesus said, "By this will all men know that you are my disciples, by the love you have for one another."

Truly, in a very real sense, I would not say they have "loved me perfectly", even after I was born-again.

I've been forsaken by them soon after I was born-again (albeit when I was repenting from unsound theology). When I came to actually start keeping the commandments of Christ, I began having so much discouragement from the many people around me including these people I remember as the parents of my former self. I've been slandered by them at times to my pain. After I was born-again, I have seen acting through them at times "bad spirits".

And now, people speak of them to me as my parents with a very intense frequency. But on top of this I have also been asked often by people if they are "Christians".

Why do people ask *me" if other people are Christians. No, the correct way to find out if somebody is a Christian is to ask them personally what they believe, and to check Scripture to see if what they believe about Jesus Christ is sound. Do they believe that He is the Son of God? Do they believe that Jesus is the Christ? Do they believe that Jesus Christ died on a tree and rose from the dead? Do they believe that Jesus Christ is the Word of God.

> Sadly, I did not get any such testimony from the people I interacted with today.
> But I do pray for them, that they might profess their faith to me. I've heard it from their mouth in the past. But I've also subsequently been received a massive amount of resistance from them.
> I wouldn't say the person who was previously my father is even a "spiritual father" to me. We were not even going to the same Sunday fellowship together when I was born-again.
> It doesn't seem right to immediately just affirm them as "brother and sister in Christ" without hearing from them afresh a confession of faith that I agree with.
> After getting born-again, I wasn't discipled by anyone other than Jesus Christ Himself in regard to keeping His commandments. Jesus Christ has been my only "Master", my only Teacher who would properly teach me. I've had to go to Scripture to learn about what He has taught. Most other people including and almost especially those who profess to be Christian have actually actively tried to discourage me from keeping Jesus Christ's commandments.
> I don't think it's right for me to remain in this earthly household of the people who I used to call my parents. I want deliverance from circumstances such as:
> - everyone I formerly knew from before I was born-again having ghosted me and not having time for me, and
> - having zero references, etc. and not being able to relocate as a consequence or find a job, and
> - from being denied many God-given rights such as getting married etc, and
> - from an AI obsessed world.
> - I want deliverance from what I can only describe as a spiritual prison that I find myself in.
> - But most of all, I want deliverance from whatever has been obstructing me from hearing the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit.
> I want the Lord Jesus Christ to just speak plainly to me to instruct me, and to deliver me from the extreme demonic harassment and daily testing. I am so sick of it.
> I believe I need intervention from God in order to get me out of this spiritual prison that I have found myself in. I have had to endure immense spiritual oppression for a very long time now. I would like my Father (who is the Father of Jesus Christ) to deliver me now. I have prayed to God for a stupidly long amount of time for Him to deliver me, and have been terrorised by demonic activity day after day, night after night, all without the direct spoken instruction and testimony I expect to receive from God as I am putting Jesus Christ's teachings and commandments into practice.
> In Jesus Christ's name I rebuke this filty demonic oppression, and the demons which have been working through various people who I have been interacting with, demons that are against sanctification. I rebuke them in Jesus Christ's name.
> I want the liberty that Jesus Christ promised, the liberty that he promised that involves walking by the Spirit, according to His commandments. Jesus Christ, help me Son of God. Set me free. Amen.

The spirit and the flesh are described again in this passage:

> I Corinthians 5:1-13 - It is actually reported that there is sexual immorality among you, and of a kind that is not tolerated even among pagans, for a man has his father's wife. And you are arrogant! Ought you not rather to mourn? Let him who has done this be removed from among you. For though absent in body, I am present in spirit; and as if present, I have already pronounced judgment on the one who did such a thing. When you are assembled in the name of the Lord Jesus and my spirit is present, with the power of our Lord Jesus, you are to deliver this man to Satan for the destruction of the flesh, so that his spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord. Your boasting is not good. Do you not know that a little leaven leavens the whole lump? Cleanse out the old leaven that you may be a new lump, as you really are unleavened. For Christ, our Passover lamb, has been sacrificed. Let us therefore celebrate the festival, not with the old leaven, the leaven of malice and evil, but with the > unleavened bread of sincerity and truth. I wrote to you in my letter not to associate with sexually immoral people— not at all meaning the sexually immoral of this world, or the greedy and swindlers, or idolaters, since then you would need to go out of the world. But now I am writing to you not to associate with anyone who bears the name of brother if he is guilty of sexual immorality or greed, or is an idolater, reviler, drunkard, or swindler—not even to eat with such a one. For what have I to do with judging outsiders? Is it not those inside the church whom you are to judge? God judges those outside. Purge the evil person from among you. (ESV)

What about those who reject Jesus, hating Jesus, and do not repent? Well, they become an enemy of God:

> Psalms 5:5 - The boastful shall not stand before your eyes; you hate all evildoers. (ESV)

> Deuteronomy 32:43 - Rejoice with him, O heavens; bow down to him, all gods, for he avenges the blood of his children and takes vengeance on his adversaries. He repays those who hate him and cleanses his people's land. (ESV)

> John 15:24 - If I had not done among them the works that no one else did, they would not be guilty of sin, but now they have seen and hated both me and my Father. (ESV)

> Mark 16:16 - Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved, but whoever does not believe will be condemned. (ESV)

> Hebrews 12:25 - See that you do not refuse him who is speaking. For if they did not escape when they refused him who warned them on earth, much less will we escape if we reject him who warns from heaven. (ESV)

> Luke 13:3 - No, I tell you; but unless you repent, you will all likewise perish. (ESV)

So we must come to faith in Jesus and continue in faith in Jesus. For what is not done in faith is sin:

> Mark 1:14-15 - Now after John was arrested, Jesus came into Galilee, proclaiming the gospel of God, and saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand; repent and believe in the gospel. (ESV)

> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

When a person has faith in God as Jesus has commanded in John 14:1, they obey the word, obeying Jesus' commandment:

> I Peter 2:6-8 - For it stands in Scripture: Behold, I am laying in Zion a stone, a cornerstone chosen and precious, and whoever believes in him will not be put to shame. So the honor is for you who believe, but for those who do not believe, The stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone, and A stone of stumbling, and a rock of offense. They stumble because they disobey the word, as they were destined to do. (ESV)

> John 14:1 - "Do not let your heart be troubled; believe in God, believe also in Me.

Now, if we love Jesus, then we will keep this commandment to have faith in Him, and the other commandments also which are kept out of faith in and love for Jesus:

> John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

> John 13:34 - A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another: just as I have loved you, you also are to love one another. (ESV)

The just live by faith. We must be those who continue to have faith in Jesus Christ, who continue to be obedient to Jesus Christ:

> John 14:1 - Let not your hearts be troubled. Believe in God; believe also in me. (ESV)
> Hebrews 11:8 - By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place that he was to receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going. (ESV)
> Genesis 26:4-5 - I will multiply your offspring as the stars of heaven and will give to your offspring all these lands. And in your offspring all the nations of the earth shall be blessed, because Abraham obeyed my voice and kept my charge, my commandments, my statutes, and my laws. (ESV)

Faith is a ”way of life”:

> Hebrews 13:7 - Remember your leaders, those who spoke to you the word of God. Consider the outcome of their way of life, and imitate their faith. (ESV)
> Hebrews 10:37-39 - For, Yet a little while, and the coming one will come and will not delay; _but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls. (ESV)

As Christians we endeavour to be justified in Christ as we trust and obey Him:

> II Corinthians 10:5,7,11-12,18 - We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, Look at what is before your eyes. If anyone is confident that he is Christ’s, let him remind himself that just as he is Christ’s, so also are we. Let such a person understand that what we say by letter when absent, we do when present. Not that we dare to classify or compare ourselves with some of those who are commending themselves. But when they measure themselves by one another and compare themselves with one another, they are without understanding. For it is not the one who commends (G4921 synistanōn: commending) himself who is approved, but the one whom the Lord commends. (ESV)

”Not doing commendably” would involve doing without faith:

> Genesis 4:7 - If you do well, will you not be accepted? And if you do not do well, sin is crouching at the door. Its desire is for you, but you must rule over it. (ESV)
> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)
> Proverbs 12:8 - A man is commended according to his good sense, but one of twisted mind is despised. (ESV)
> Hebrews 11:4 - By faith Abel offered to God a more acceptable sacrifice than Cain, through which he was commended as righteous, God commending him by accepting his gifts. And through his faith, though he died, he still speaks. (ESV)

As we seek God in faith (Hebrews 11:6) we should do so with a heart that loves Jesus Christ:

> I Timothy 6:9-10 - But those who desire to be rich fall into temptation, into a snare, into many senseless and harmful desires that plunge people into ruin and destruction. For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evils. It is through this craving that some have wandered away from the faith and pierced themselves with many pangs. (ESV)

> John 16:25-28 - I have said these things to you in figures of speech. The hour is coming when I will no longer speak to you in figures of speech but will tell you plainly about the Father. In that day you will ask in my name, and I do not say to you that I will ask the Father on your behalf; for the Father himself loves (G5368 philei) you, because you have loved (G5368 pephilēkate) me and have believed that I came from God. I came from the Father and have come into the world, and now I am leaving the world and going to the Father.

There is a real change when God gives a person a new heart to obey Him and that person goes from being a "sinner" in that they were once enslaved to sin, to "righteous" where they are trusting and obeying God in reality and it's their desire to do so. But even after coming to faith in Jesus Christ, if we are found by God to be a sinner, that still doesn't make Jesus a servant of sin.

> Galatians 2:17 - But if, in our endeavor to be justified in Christ, we too were found to be sinners, is Christ then a servant of sin? Certainly not! (ESV)

We just continue to walk in light, the love of the Truth, and the blood of Jesues Christ continues to cleanse us from all sin:

> I John 1:6-7 - If we say we have fellowship with him while we walk in darkness, we lie and do not practice the truth. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)

Jesus interceded to Father God on behalf of those who did not know what they doing as they were complicit in crucifying Him but they, like the Apostle Paul later, were acting ignorantly in disbelief:

> Luke 23:34 - And Jesus said, Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do. And they cast lots to divide his garments. (ESV)

> Isaiah 53:12 - Therefore I will divide him a portion with the many, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong, because he poured out his soul to death and was numbered with the transgressors; yet he bore the sin of many, and makes intercession for the transgressors. (ESV)

> I Timothy 1:13 - though formerly I was a blasphemer, persecutor, and insolent opponent. But I received mercy because I had acted ignorantly in unbelief, (ESV)

Jesus does intercede to Father God but it's those who are drawing near to God through Him who are being saved by Him:

> Hebrews 7:25 - Consequently, he is able to save to the uttermost those who draw near to God through him, since he always lives to make intercession for them. (ESV)

We are allowed to intercede to God for Him to not hold sin against those who wrong us:

> Acts 7:60 - And falling to his knees he cried out with a loud voice, Lord, do not hold this sin against them. And when he had said this, he fell asleep. (ESV)

But if Jesus is rejected not in ignorance then a person will receive what they deserve for hating God:

> John 15:22-24 - If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not have been guilty of sin, but now they have no excuse for their sin. Whoever hates me hates my Father also. If I had not done among them the works that no one else did, they would not be guilty of sin, but now they have seen and hated both me and my Father. (ESV)

> Luke 12:47-48 - And that servant who knew his master's will but did not get ready or act according to his will, will receive a severe beating. But the one who did not know, and did what deserved a beating, will receive a light beating. Everyone to whom much was given, of him much will be required, and from him to whom they entrusted much, they will demand the more. (ESV)

> John 19:11 - Jesus answered him, You would have no authority over me at all unless it had been given you from above. Therefore he who delivered me over to you has the greater sin. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 9:16 - For if I preach the gospel, that gives me no ground for boasting. For necessity is laid upon me. Woe to me if I do not preach the gospel! (ESV)

The wicked do not have the fear of God in them. They have ceased to act wisely and do good. They do not reject evil. They love evil rather than Jesus. A Christian has the fear of God in them, like Abraham did, because Christians share the faith of Abraham. Without faith it is impossible to please God. Wicked people do not please God:

> Psalms 36:1-4 - Transgression speaks to the wicked deep in his heart; there is no fear of God before his eyes. To the choirmaster. Of David, the servant of the LORD. For he flatters himself in his own eyes that his iniquity cannot be found out and hated. The words of his mouth are trouble and deceit; he has ceased to act wisely and do good. He plots trouble while on his bed; he sets himself in a way that is not good; he does not reject evil. (ESV)

> Malachi 2:17 - You have wearied the LORD with your words. But you say, How have we wearied him? By saying, Everyone who does evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delights in them. Or by asking, Where is the God of justice? (ESV)

> Hebrews 11:6 - And without faith it is impossible to please him, for whoever would draw near to God must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who seek him. (ESV)

> Romans 4:13-17 - For the promise to Abraham and his offspring that he would be heir of the world did not come through the law but through the righteousness of faith. For if it is the adherents of the law who are to be the heirs, faith is null and the promise is void. For the law brings wrath, but where there is no law there is no transgression. That is why it depends on faith, in order that the promise may rest on grace and be guaranteed to all his offspring—not only to the adherent of the law but also to the one who shares the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all, as it is written, I have made you the father of many nations—in the presence of the God in whom he believed, who gives life to the dead and calls into existence the things that do not exist.

The law is laid down for the lawless and disobedient, so we must be obedient to Jesus Christ, abiding in His commandments:

> I Timothy 1:8-9 - Now we know that the law is good, if one uses it lawfully, understanding this, that the law is not laid down for the just but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for those who strike their fathers and mothers, for murderers, (ESV)

> Romans 11:30-31,12:1-2 - Just as you were at one time disobedient to God but now have received mercy because of their disobedience, so they too have now been disobedient in order that by the mercy shown to you they also may now receive mercy. I appeal to you therefore, brothers, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship. Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that by testing you may discern what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect. (ESV)

Christians are certainly not ”lawless”. They’re not ”antinomian”:

> Romans 8:1-4 - There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. (ESV)

I hope I have these ideas about law and grace correct. God have mercy:

Journal <2026-02-16 Mon> So I’ve just been thinking about grace, law, and faith and dying to the law and belonging to Christ Jesus. I’m enduring as I write this some kind of defilement of spirit or flesh. My life is very difficult as a consequence. When will I be set free from this ”body of death”? In a sense, I am free from it. The sinful flesh is condemned, but my identity is in Christ. I have a new heart and spirit inside me that God gave me, and when my flesh passes away entirely I’ll get a new body. For the time being, I have to walk by the spirit while lugging around the sinful flesh.

So a person is killed (at the very least their body is killed) by sin (Romans 8:10), because the sin was strengthened by the law (I Corinthians 15:56) and the wages (due payment) for sin is death (Romans 6:23).

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)

Without the law, sin lies dead (dormant, Romans 5:12-13, Romans 7:8). When a person’s body is killed because of their sin, they may receive a new spirit, that is the spirit of Christ, if they have faith in Jesus Christ (John 11:25-27). A person who has been baptised into Christ’s death must have had genuine faith in Christ, and thus genuine love for Christ as they received forgiveness for their sin. And so, with love in the heart, even love that has come through having been forgiven, they have the means now, the grace to love God and their neighbour and their family in Christ. And they also have a duty to love in that way. Because the law is laid down for the lawless and the disobedient, not for the ”obedient” (those who love the truth, who obey Jesus).

OK, so law-abidingness I think also certainly entails a recognition that we need to have faith in Jesus Christ who was delivered up for our sins, who’s cross we need (and have needed) our sins to be nailed to. Real law-abidingness needs to be in agreement with Jesus Christ and His death and resurrection and Lordship (because we’ve been bought to belong to Christ). Real law-abidingnness isn’t the overthrowing of the Law, but sees the law in view that we haven’t been able to keep it faultlessly to be justified, and accepts that we rely on Jesus Christ’s atoning work.

Real law-abidingness accepts Jesus Christ and loves Him.

We do not need to adhere to all of what is in the Book of the Law because the Law is for the lawless and the disobedient, and is not laid down for those who keep the requirement of the law, that is to love the way God has commanded us to love (loving our neighbour as ourself), which we are only able to do in reality (the way God wants us to truly love one another) if we abide in Jesus and have His Spirit in us.

Basically, a person doesn’t get ”hit by the book” if they have the spirit of Jesus Christ in them and are fulfilling the law of Christ. We are disciplined to be obedient to Jesus Christ, most importantly the commandments to have faith in Him and love one another as commanded.

Journal <2026-02-16 Mon> I think that key to walking in victory over the ”sin in the flesh” is to fill one’s mind and heart with thoughts, feelings and intentions that are of the Spirit of God. So when the sin in the flesh is fighting against my mind to try to make me do things that are defiling, the way to disempower it is to fill my mind and heart with thoughts, feelings and intentions that are of the Spirit. This morning I put that into practice and it worked, but there was a battle. I think that walking by the Spirit includes such things as believing the Truth, being obedient to Jesus, willing to love not only in thought but in deed because walking by the Spirit needs to be walking in the Truth.

> Galatians 5:17-18 - For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to keep you from doing the things you want to do. But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. (ESV)

Focusing our thoughts on God and His word is important:

Matthew 22:41-42 - Now while the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them a question, saying, What do you think about the Christ? Whose son is he? They said to him, The son of David. (ESV)

Philippians 4:8 - Finally, brothers, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is commendable, if there is any excellence, if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things. (ESV)

Psalms 119:15,23,27,48,78 - I will meditate on your precepts and fix my eyes on your ways. Even though princes sit plotting against me, your servant will meditate on your statutes. Make me understand the way of your precepts, and I will meditate on your wondrous works. I will lift up my hands toward your commandments, which I love, and I will meditate on your statutes. Let the insolent be put to shame, because they have wronged me with falsehood; as for me, I will meditate on your precepts. (ESV)

Psalms 63:5-7 - My soul will be satisfied as with fat and rich food, and my mouth will praise you with joyful lips, when I remember you upon my bed, and meditate on you in the watches of the night; for you have been my help, and in the shadow of your wings I will sing for joy. (ESV)

Psalms 77:12 - I will ponder all your work, and meditate on your mighty deeds. (ESV)

II Corinthians 10:4-6 - For the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh but have divine power to destroy strongholds. How to abide in Jesus:

- Keep Jesus' word
- Walk in the same way that Jesus walked
- As a consequence of abiding in Jesus or entailed in abiding in Jesus, stop sinning
- Keep Jesus' commandments
- Confess/agree that Jesus is the Son of God
- Abide in love

I John 2:5 - but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: (ESV)

I John 2:6 - whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

I John 3:6 - No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. (ESV)

I John 3:24 - Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

I John 4:15 - Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. (ESV)

> I John 4:16 - So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. (ESV)

Stopping sinning analogy When I woke up from sleep, I stopped sleeping. It doesn't mean I might not attempt to go back to sleep and pretend it's not day time, or perhaps "doze off" during the day, or have a lapse of awareness. But I had definitively woken up. Similarly, a person who has been born-again needs to stop sinning.

Another stopping sinning analogy If a person had a car that they did lots of doughnuts with, skids and jumps and the car was quite damaged through wear and tear, then "having sin" would be the damage to the car, but "committing sin" would be when someone does skids with the car and damages the car. If a person confesses (agrees) with the AAA that the tires are damaged, then they can be replaced, but if they don't agree with the AAA that there is anything wrong with the tires they can't be. If a person has sin then they can confess/come into agreement with God about that sin and be healed from it. But if they don't think it's sin then I guess they won't be. If a person is a compulsive liar, for example, then they need to agree with God that lying is not good. If a person thinks that lying and stealing and committing adulterly etc. are not evil then they are enslaved to that sin. They need to confess their sin.

When a person gets born-again, they stop sinning because God heals the heart and soul. But the Apostle Paul talks about "having indwelling sin" and the Apostle John about "having sin". So just because a person has stopped making more sin, we still "have it". After all, no-one can suprass the holiness of God. Even the heavens are not pure in God's sight. So a person may still have damage from sin and this is what is meant by "having sin" (I John 1:6-10). The person receives a new heart and spirit, but "indwelling sin in the flesh" remains an issue. If a person commits sin after getting born-again then that is not wise or good because committing sin enslaves a person to sin, but we still have Jesus Christ as our advocate with Father God, and He can help us put the sin to death. But we really do need to stop committing sin. The more knowledge of the truth a person has the more important it is to have stopped committing sin. Someone who commits sin doesn't remain in the house forever. It doesn't mean they're immediately cast out. But a person must put sin to death by sanctification in order to remain in God's house forever. God's will for us is our sanctification. The one who does the will of God abides forever.

I used an analogy in a separate comment for the difference between ”having and committing sin” because 1 John 1:8 talks about ”having” sin rather than committing it, but I’ve noticed people wrongly taking it to say ”if we say we do not sin”, which is not what it says linguistically.

If a person bangs up their car while using it in a destruction derby, then they ”sin against the car”. If they ”stop using it in a destruction derby” then they ”stop sinning against the car”. But the car might still have damage. Likewise, even if a person ”stops sinning”, they may still have damage from having sinned.

Therefore we can say that the lady in Luke 7:39 was not sinning because she was having faith. This lady had ”stopped sinning”.

When a person is faithing, they are not sinning. When a person is sinning, they are not having faith. We need real faith in God, in Jesus Christ, in Jesus Christ’s blood to have justification. And we need justification to have sanctification. So yes, remission of sin is directly linked to having faith and therefore to having ”stopped sinning”.

John 8:34-35,36,42,51 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death. (ESV)

8:26 Repentance is also linked directly to forgiveness of sins. It’s not only Christ’s death and resurrection which is linked to forgiveness of sins, but also repentance and faith, and abiding in Jesus Christ.

God does not sin. The word of God does not sin. The ”good seed” are the children of the Kingdom. Good seed by which with which the ”good soil” gets ”born again” is the word of God sown by the Son of Man. The one born of God by the good seed does not sin, and they are seated in heavenly places with Christ. But a person’s deeds sometimes come from sin rather from the person who is born of God, as Romans 7 shows.

It would seem as though that when a person claims to no longer sin, they are declaring themselves to be the one born of God, and are declaring themselves to have the faith presently that God is presently pleased with.

So the way I see it is that seed of the word of God inside me became the new person who is the true me now. Yet Paul says that nothing good dwells in his flesh, and also says that God will destroy the stomach (1 Corinthians 6:13), that Christ has condemned sin in the flesh. So while still in the flesh, and while not having the flesh under control (James says the perfect man bridles his body), the person is susceptible to doing deeds not from their inward desire to do good, but deeds originating from sin.

But the one born of God is not a sinner, and does not continue sinning. Claiming to be the person ”born of God” is a ”big call”, and is practically synonymous with saying that ”I have faith”, ”I am not committing sin”, ”I claim to be pleasing to God presently”, because the one born of God doesn’t sin, and agrees with the person and work of Jesus Christ and loves as commanded, so if a person were to make that testimony alone, their testimony wouldn’t be credible. I would need God’s testimony about me, as Jesus Christ had about Him, in order to make it credible.

I John 3:3-11 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God’s seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)

God does save people by making it so that they are no longer slaves to sin.

I feel as though @willforthelord and @holynope could reconcile their teaching with some correction.

Hold fast to what we have attained already (Philippians 3:12-21), and continue integrating more of the truth, taking captive every thought for obedience to Christ Jesus, until one's obedience is complete (II Corinthians 10:5-6, Matthew 5:43-48), but continuing on also.

The one born of God who is seated with Christ in heavenly places (Ephesians 2:6), far from sinners (Hebrews 7:26), simultaneously agrees with and speaks the truth about Jesus Christ (I John 4:15, I John 4:3), and they love as commanded and they do not sin (I John 5:18). The one born of God is not a sinner by nature (I Peter 4:12-19, Ephesians 2:1-3, Ephesians 2:4-9).

Ephesians 2:1-3, Ephesians 2:4-9, Hebrews 7:26, 1Jn 3:4,6,8,9

I John 5:18

While in the flesh (Romans 7:16-20) there is a struggle with the flesh, but we still do need to be/become the one who is born of God, and so we should certainly strive to do this, abstaining from sin, overcomig evil with good, loving as commanded, abiding in the teaching of and about Jesus Christ. As a believer is holding their faith in Jesus Christ, coming to Jesus, they are retaining God's word, God's seed, and they will at some point (John 11:25-27) die and be born-again while they are believing and become the new person who has been born of the seed of the word of God. The good seed are the children of the Kingdom of God and the good plants which came from the good seed are the oaks of righteousness (Isaiah 61:3) who have been created in Christ Jesus for good works (Ephesians 2:1-10) and need to be bearers of good fruit. The seed needs to die (I Corinthians 15:36), a believer needs to get born-again at some point that they may bear fruit for God:

II Corinthians 10:5-6, Romans 7:16-20, Romans 7:10-11

A person who is good soil (Luke 8:15) is somebody of the world (John 17:6) which is the field (i.e. the world is the field). But this good soil from the world receives and hold fast the seed of the word of God (i.e. so they are a believer, treasuring the word of God) and eventually will bear good fruit for God. But we need to be born-again in order to bear fruit. So that person will get born-again as they are believing. So the good soil gets born-again of the good seed in order to bear fruit for God (Romans 7:1-12).

As Romans 7:1-12 describes, we need Jesus to be our Master (as opposed to Mosaic Law) in order to bear fruit for God. So the good soil believer of the field of the world, with indwelling sin empowered by the Law, dies due to the sin, but since they are a believer, they are born-again. They are baptized into Christ's death (Romans 6:3-8) and they are born-again.

So a person needs to be both the good soil and have the seed of the word of God in them, and they need to be born-again of that seed in order to bear good fruit for God.

If a person is not a good soil believer (the rocky ground, or the path, or among thorns) then they won't continue on in faith to bearing good fruit (Luke 8:11-15). So then, a person can clearly be a believer for a while (Luke 8:11-15) and stop being a believer (John 8:31-47) but Jesus did instruct such people that if they abide (remain) in His word then they would become set free from sin.

And I doubt such a person had ever been "born-again", as a person who has been born-again has died and been aquitted (some translations say 'set free') from sin (Romans 6:6-8). A born-again person still does need to go on in faith in Jesus Christ to never die (John 11:25-27) and that means also not going back to sin (II Peter 2:20-22) and whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. A born-again person, if they go on as a believer they will never die.

But it's clearly possible for a person to be a believer for a while and not end up bearing fruit. A person needs to be born-again in order to bear fruit.

That a person may "fall away" from faith is evident again here in John 8:31-47. Here we can see that there were some Jews who had believed in Jesus Christ but who went on to then hate Jesus and so not believe, and so in not believing anymore the devil had taken the word of God from their heart (Luke 8:12-15). They then desired to do the devil's will. Jesus instructed them to continue in His word to become set free from sin:

John 8:31-47

So we need to be a "good soil believer" who is presently believing God's word, in order to get born-again in order to bear good fruit for God in Christ:

Romans 7:1-12

That person who is the good soil gets born again (John 11:25-27, I Peter 1:3) at some stage as they are believing (John 11:25-27) the word of God.

"If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us."
([[https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=1%20John%201%3A8&version=ESV][1 John 1:8]], K

I replied,

This verse is talking about "having" sin, rather than committing it. When a person commits theft they then have the sin of theft. A person who has committed sin is inclined to then sin again. But Jesus can set us free from sin so that we are no longer inclined to sin again.

Here is an analogy of the difference between "having and committing sin":

If a person bangs up their car while using it in a destruction derby, then they "sin against the car". If they "stop using it in a destruction derby" then they "stop sinning against the car". But the car might still have damage. Likewise, even if a person "stops sinning", they may still have damage from having sinned.

This is how I have understood this verse, anyway.

For the unsaved, all sin leads to death:

> Romans 2:12 - For all who have sinned without the law will also perish without the law, and all who have sinned under the law will be judged by the law. (ESV)

For the person who has faith in Jesus Christ, there is sin which when committed does not lead to death. However I wonder what John means by "death" here, and I think he probably means only the death of the flesh, but not the death of the spirit (I Corinthians 5:1-13). I believe that the Apostle Paul was acting in love when pronouncing judgement for the sake of the person who he judged (I Corinthians 5:1-13):

> I John 5:16-17 - If anyone sees his brother committing a sin not leading to death, he shall ask, and God will give him life—to those who commit sins that do not lead to death. There is sin that leads to death; I do not say that one should pray for that. All wrongdoing is sin, but there is sin that does not lead to death. (ESV)

It's not possible for someone "in Christ" to hate their family in Christ. The person who hates their brother abides in death:

> I John 3:13-16 - Do not be surprised, brothers, that the world hates you. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. (ESV)

The light (love for the truth) must be in us:

> John 11:10 - But if anyone walks in the night, he stumbles, because the light is not in him. (ESV)

A believer has ”woken up”. Someone walking in the light is walking in the love of the truth. And we should ”stay awake” acting in the love of the truth, walking by the spirit, by faith obeying the God, by faith obeying Christ, walking in the love of the truth because we'd like to be ”awake” (Matthew 24:40-42) when our Lord comes:

> Matthew 24:40-42 - Then two men will be in the field; one will be taken and one left. Two women will be grinding at the mill; one will be taken and one left. Therefore, stay awake, for you do not know on what day your Lord is coming. (ESV)

We need to go on in the love of the truth:

> 1 John 1:9 - If we confess (G3670 homologeó) our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (ESV)

> I John 1:7 - But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)

When a person gets born-again of the spirit, they do need to not then double-down on the passions of the flesh. They do need to not ”walk by the corpse/flesh” letting the corpse dictate one's actions, but rather ”walk by the spirit” doing the will of God. New spirit in old flesh needs to not be carnal and walk by the flesh, but should rather try to use the old flesh to practice righteousness from an inward desire to do the will of God. The flesh does seem to resist the will of the spirit though (consider, for example, if one's body was craving nicotine or something, but the born-again person knows in their heart that they should not squander their resources). It's right for a person who has been born-again of the spirit to strive to then walk by the spirit, as in not just be driven by the cravings of the flesh, but to actually by faith practice righteousness, resisting carnality, the way that we have been instructed to do, using ones' body for practicing righteousnessness, putting to death the ”passions of the flesh”. Being born-again of the spirit, a person has ”woken up” and is in the light where all things are visible and the right thing to do is to put off the old self and to walk like Christ, as He has instructed:

> Galatians 5:24 - And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. (ESV)

I believe that additionally to the need of ”receiving a heart transplant” (Ezekiel 18:31, Ezekiel 36:25-28), we should ”divorce ourselves” from our ”sinning members”. And what I mean by that is, for example, if a person were, for example, practicing something sinful with their hands, such as stealing, then instead of making time to practice that, use one's hands for doing good works instead. And this is metaphorically, ”cutting off the 'sinful flesh'”.

> Mark 9:45 - And if your foot causes you to sin, cut it off. It is better for you to enter life lame than with two feet to be thrown into hell. (ESV)

Repentance leads to getting born-again and having the power to be healed, but we still need to do the will of God (Matthew 7:21):

> II Chronicles 7:14 - if my people who are called by my name humble themselves, and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and heal their land. (ESV)

> Isaiah 1:16-17 - Wash yourselves; make yourselves clean; remove the evil of your deeds from before my eyes; cease to do evil, learn to do good; seek justice, correct oppression; bring justice to the fatherless, plead the widow's cause. (ESV)

Not only does this point to the fact that we need a new heart. But if you are using your members for doing evil, then instead of doing evil with them, do good with them, effectively ”cutting off the sinful flesh” from the heart (i.e. nipping it at the bud happens with a change of heart):

> Matthew 5:29-30 - If your right eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body be thrown into hell (1067. geenna). And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body go into hell. (ESV)

> Romans 6:19-20 - I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. When you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. (ESV)

> Ephesians 4:28 - Let the thief no longer steal, but rather let him labor, doing honest work with his own hands, so that he may have something to share with anyone in need. (ESV)

> Colossians 2:11-14 - In him also you were circumcised with a circumcision made without hands, by putting off the body of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ, having been buried with him in baptism, in which you were also raised with him through faith in the powerful working of God, who raised him from the dead. And you, who were dead in your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, God made alive together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses, by canceling the record of debt that stood against us with its legal demands. This he set aside, nailing it to the cross. (ESV)

Sinning is when a person commits hatred of the light, i.e. actively hates the truth, loves evil. On the other hand, the breastplate of faith and love (the breastplate of righteousness) love the truth and hopes in Jesus Christ:

> I Corinthians 15:34 - Wake up from your drunken stupor, as is right, and do not go on sinning. For some have no knowledge of God. I say this to your shame. (ESV)

> I Thessalonians 5:8 - But since we belong to the day, let us be sober, having put on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet the hope of salvation. (ESV)

It's important to stop sinning and to go on in a love for the truth rather than in a love of evil. Light, as I've mentioned is effectively, the love of the truth in the heart. Walking in the light, we are being washed by the blood of Jesus Christ. So we should be agreeing with the person of Jesus Christ and agreeing with the words of God.

> I John 1:6-7 - If we say we have fellowship with him while we walk in darkness, we lie and do not practice the truth. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 15:34 - Wake up from your drunken stupor, as is right, and do not go on sinning. For some have no knowledge of God. I say this to your shame. (ESV)

> I Peter 4:1-2 - Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh, arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. (ESV)

Jesus didn't sin at all and He suffered in the flesh. Disciples of Jesus suffer in the flesh too as the have "ceased from committing sin".

Because whoever abstains from sin subsequently suffers in the flesh (e.g. the Adamic flesh rebels against the will to do the will of God, and the world hates the person because they're a disciple of Jesus), then whoever suffers in the flesh has "ceased from sin". That's how to read this. As in, someone who now holds their faith in Jesus Christ abstains from sin (because they now obey Christ, from the love of God rather than the love of evil; they now obey Christ instead of sin), as consequence that person suffers in the flesh. And someone who has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin:

> I Peter 4:1-3 - Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh, arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. The time that is past suffices for doing what the Gentiles want to do, living in sensuality, passions, drunkenness, orgies, drinking parties, and lawless idolatry. (ESV)

In Jesus' flesh, the enmity between Jew and Gentile is 'abolished' (Ephesians 2:14-16). That is, "the law of commandments and decrees" no longer divides Jew from Gentile so long as they hold faith in Jesus Christ. Jesus didn't come to abolish the law, but to fulfill it. So we must be found in Him. And in Him, Jews and Gentiles may be united by their faith in Jesus rather than united by each themselves keeping all of the Old Covenant Law. The person who abides in Jesus, abides in His commandments, and His commandments are to have faith in Him and to love one another as He did. So in Jesus Christ, keeping Jesus' commandments in reality, we don't need to adhere to the "Book of the Law".

OK, so if a person has been "born-again" (i.e. resurrected spiritually), then they have "died to the law" so that they may belong to another, that is, belong to Jesus Christ.

It's very important to go on serving Christ Jesus because we want to reap eternal life and not corruption.

> Galatians 6:8 - For the one who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption, but the one who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life. (ESV)

Romans 7:4 Likewise brothers of me also you have been put to death to the law through the body - of Christ for - to belong you to another to the [One] out from [the] dead having been raised so that we should bear fruit - to God

> Romans 7:1-6 - Or do you not know, brothers—for I am speaking to those who know the law—that the law is binding on a person only as long as he lives? Thus a married woman is bound by law to her husband while he lives, but if her husband dies she is released from the law of marriage. Accordingly, she will be called an adulteress if she lives with another man while her husband is alive. But if her husband dies, she is free from that law, and if she marries another man she is not an adulteress. Likewise, my brothers, you also have died to the law through the body of Christ, so that you may belong to another, to him who has been raised from the dead, in order that we may bear fruit for God. For while we were living in the flesh, our sinful passions, aroused by the law, were at work in our members to bear fruit for death. But now we are released from the law, having died to that which held us captive, so that we serve not under the old written code but in the new life of the Spirit. (ESV)

While in the flesh, the "passions of sins" empowered by the law were producing fruit leading to death:

Romans 7:5 While for we were in the flesh the passions - of sins that [were] through the law were at work in the members of us to the bringing forth of fruit - to death

So what the law does is empower sin's passions (if a person is walking by the flesh, that is):

> I Corinthians 15:56 - The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. (ESV)

> Galatians 5:16-25 - But I say, walk by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the flesh. For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to keep you from doing the things you want to do. But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. Now the works of the flesh are evident: sexual immorality, impurity, sensuality, idolatry, sorcery, enmity, strife, jealousy, fits of anger, rivalries, dissensions, divisions, envy, drunkenness, orgies, and things like these. I warn you, as I warned you before, that those who do such things will not inherit the kingdom of God. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control; against such things there is no law. And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. If we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit. (ESV)

John 6:63 The Spirit it is - giving life the flesh not profits nothing The words that I speak to you spirit are and life they are

> John 6:63 - It is the Spirit who gives life; the flesh is of no avail. The words that I have spoken to you are spirit and life. (ESV)

If we are born-again (living by the Spirit) then it’s important to also walk by the Spirit, trusting and doing Jesus’ words.

So a person is ”purchased”, ”bought”, ”redeemed”, baptised into Christ’s death, in order to belong to Jesus (purchased to serve Jesus) in order that they may love God and their family in Christ in reality (John 4:23-24), abiding in Jesus’ commandments from a position of having received forgiveness for sin through faith in Jesus.

> Romans 8:1-4 - There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. (ESV)

It does seem like, those ”under the old code” have a hard time keeping up with gentiles who keep the precepts of the law. But that all created human beings have violated the law, so from the outside it just appears like fallible people accusing each other of various things but they’re all guilty of something.

> Romans 2:26-27 - So, if a man who is uncircumcised keeps the precepts of the law, will not his uncircumcision be regarded as circumcision? Then he who is physically uncircumcised but keeps the law will condemn you who have the written code and circumcision but break the law. (ESV)

But it also seems like knowledge of ”the law” to those who endeavour to be justified by it will end up pointing out their failings to keep the law. But through faith in Jesus, a person can be ”set free from the condemnation” that comes from having sinned, and be set free from sin, their body being killed by sin for violating the law but being given a new spirit that is alive which does submit to God’s law.

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)

At some point a person is going to have to have their body killed ”by sin for trangressing the law” for the wages of sin is death. In order to return to the truth they must accept this fact that their sin has been condemned, but that by faith in Jesus Christ, that they can belong to Jesus and be in a position of righteous standing with God, and have a living spirit (Romans 8:9-12). This faith does entail agreement with and love for Jesus Christ. So being in this position of trusting in Jesus, believing that He was delivered over for our transgressions, believing that He was raised for our justification, that we can agree with God that Jesus is God’s Son and deserved to be raised from the dead, and with love for Jesus, Jesus is now our Master. And so we will keep His commandments, empowered by Jesus’ spirit, even though the sinful flesh is condemned and will perish. Jesus’ commandments are essentially to have faith in Him and love one another as He commanded. So our duty remains to keep God’s commandments for us even after we are born-again and we’re bought that we might have the requirement of the law fulfilled in us in reality, in light of the facts about Jesus.

> Romans 3:19-25 - Now we know that whatever the law says it speaks to those who are under the law, so that every mouth may be stopped, and the whole world may be held accountable to God. For by works of the law no human being will be justified in his sight, since through the law comes knowledge of sin. But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from (G5565 chōris) the law (G3551 nomou), although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God’s righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. (ESV)

So a person has to have ”died” with Christ that they might belong to Christ. When a person is judged by the law (Romans 7:9-13), their ”body” is ”dead/killed” because of sin in the body because they are unable to keep the requirement of the law (by themself), because the law is holy. The body is dead because of sin (Romans 8:9-12) because God has condemned sin in the flesh (Romans 8:3). But for a person who holds their faith in Jesus Christ, the spirit is alive because of righteousness i.e. because of faith in Jesus in the heart of the person and they receive the Spirit of Jesus Christ through faith in Jesus. So although their sinful body of death is ”killed by sin” because of sin’s ”power” from the law (i.e. the law condemns the sin), they are also baptized into Jesus’ death if they had faith in Jesus and they’re raised with Jesus as they continue holding their faith in Jesus. Imagine being ”killed by sin” without faith in Jesus (that would be tragic). But if a person has faith in Jesus when the body is killed because of sin when they are judged by the law then they are also alive spiritually. So how does a person continue on after that? Being authentically forgiven, with an authentic love for Jesus with the spirit of Jesus in them, ”belonging to Jesus”, rather than ”belonging to the law”, they hold their faith in Jesus, trusting and obeying Jesus. And from the position of having been forgiven, having faith in Jesus and His death and resurrection, we endeavour then to fulfill the requirement of the law which is to love God and our neighbour with our whole heart. And though the spirit is willing, the flesh is weak. The definition of ”fulfulling the requirement of the law” is not ”abiding in all things written in the book of the law”, but rather it is to love God and one another in reality from a position of having been justified through faith in Jesus. That is only truly possible for someone who has the Spirit of Christ in them. So we’re given the means, the grace in order to fulfill the 2 Great Commandments.

> Romans 6:3-8 - Do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? We were buried therefore with him by baptism into death, in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, we too might walk in newness of life. For if we have been united with him in a death like his, we shall certainly be united with him in a resurrection like his. We know that our old self was crucified with him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin. For one who has died has been set free from sin. Now if we have died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him. (ESV)

As they hold their faith in Jesus and love Him understanding that He was delivered over for their sins and raised for their justification, they are forgiven and their spirit is alive, but their body is dead:

> I Corinthians 15:36 - You foolish person! What you sow does not come to life unless it dies. (ESV)

> Romans 7:9-13 - I was once alive apart from the law, but when the commandment came, sin came alive and I died. The very commandment that promised life proved to be death to me. For sin, seizing an opportunity through the commandment, deceived me and through it killed me. So the law is holy, and the commandment is holy and righteous and good. Did that which is good, then, bring death to me? By no means! It was sin, producing death in me through what is good, in order that sin might be shown to be sin, and through the commandment might become sinful beyond measure. (ESV)

A person becomes ”forgiven” and then holds an ongoing ”loving faith” in Jesus:

> Galatians 2:19-21 - For through the law I died to the law, so that I might live to God. I have been crucified with Christ. It is no longer I who live, but Christ who lives in me. And the life I now live in the flesh I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me. I do not nullify the grace of God, for if justification were through the law, then Christ died for no purpose. (ESV)

And Jesus must come to live inside a person:

> Romans 8:9-12 - You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. But if Christ is in you, although the body is dead because of sin, the Spirit is life because of righteousness. If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you. So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh. (ESV)

> Romans 7:1-17 - Or do you not know, brothers—for I am speaking to those who know the law—that the law is binding on a person only as long as he lives? Thus a married woman is bound by law to her husband while he lives, but if her husband dies she is released from the law of marriage. Accordingly, she will be called an adulteress if she lives with another man while her husband is alive. But if her husband dies, she is free from that law, and if she marries another man she is not an adulteress. Likewise, my brothers, you also have died to the law through the body of Christ, so that you may belong to another, to him who has been raised from the dead, in order that we may bear fruit for God. For while we were living in the flesh, our sinful passions, aroused by the law, were at work in our members to bear fruit for death. But now we are released from the law, having died to that which held us captive, so that we serve not under the old written code but in the new life of the Spirit. What then shall we say? That the law is sin? By no means! Yet if it had not been for the law, I would not have known sin. I would not have known what it is to covet if the law had not said, You shall not covet. But sin, seizing an opportunity through the commandment, produced in me all kinds of covetousness. Apart from the law, sin lies dead. I was once alive apart from the law, but when the commandment came, sin came alive and I died. The very commandment that promised life proved to be death to me. For sin, seizing an opportunity through the commandment, deceived me and through it killed me. So the law is holy, and the commandment is holy and righteous and good. Did that which is good, then, bring death to me? By no means! It was sin, producing death in me through what is good, in order that sin might be shown to be sin, and through the commandment might become sinful beyond measure. For we know that the law is spiritual, but I am of the flesh, sold under sin. I do not understand my own actions. For I do not do what I want, but I do the very thing I hate. Now if I do what I do not want, I agree with the law, that it is good. So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. (ESV)

> Ephesians 2:14-16 - For He Himself is our peace, who has made the two one and has torn down the dividing wall of hostility by abolishing in His flesh the law of commandments and decrees. He did this to create in Himself one new man out of the two, thus making peace and reconciling both of them to God in one body through the cross, by which He extinguished their hostility. (engbsb2020eb)

> Ephesians 2:14-16 - For He Himself is our peace, who made both groups into one and broke down the barrier of the dividing wall, by abolishing in His flesh the enmity, which is the Law of commandments contained in ordinances, so that in Himself He might make the two into one new man, thus establishing peace, and might reconcile them both in one body to God through the cross, by it having put to death the enmity. (NASB)

A ”law-abiding faith” is a faith that agrees with the law in the heart, and wants to do what pleases God and do what is right in God’s eyes. But sometimes even if we do want to / desire to do what is right, because of indwelling sin Romans 7:16-20), we sometimes don’t, even though we do want to. God who is without sin always fulfills His promises. God carries out perfect deeds (Deuteronomy 32:4). And as Jesus Christ is the telos (G5056 telos) of the Law for righteousnes to everyone who is believing, a ”law-abiding faith” must continue to agree with and come into agreement with Jesus Christ and His teachings. We must be correctable by Jesus ongoingly. Jesus is our Master, so we trust and obey Jesus. We recognise that we are distinct from the indwelling sin that rebels against the law of God (Romans 7:18-20), but that the indwelling sin is condemned, and God is going to deliver us from every evil deed and bring us safely into His heavenly kingdom. So God is going to sanctify us. We still set our minds on the ”things of the Spirit”, keeping Jesus’ commandments, and the ”law of the Spirit of life”, as we abide in Jesus keeping Jesus’ commandments, sets us free from the law of sin and death. Trusting and obeying Jesus, we are cleaned up. Trusting and obeying temptation to sin, that would dirty us (Matthew 15:18-21):

> III John 1:11 - Beloved, do not imitate evil but imitate good. Whoever does good is from God; whoever does evil has not seen God. (ESV)

> Romans 7:16-20 - Now if I do what I do not want, I agree with the law, that it is good. So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. For I do > not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. (ESV)

> I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

> Romans 8:1-7 - There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. To set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God's law; indeed, it cannot. (ESV)

> II Timothy 4:18 - The Lord will rescue me from every evil deed and bring me safely into his heavenly kingdom. To him be the glory forever and ever. Amen. (ESV)

The distinction is being under the law vs being Christ's-law-"abiding" through faith. The law isn't abolished, but established:

> Galatians 3:23-24 - Now before faith came, we were held captive under the law, imprisoned until the coming faith would be revealed. So then, the law was our guardian until Christ came, in order that we might be justified by faith. (ESV)

> Romans 3:31 - Do we then overthrow the law by this faith? By no means! On the contrary, we uphold the law. (ESV)

We don't rely on our works. How many times have we written an email or CV with good intent, but made a mistake? We must not be those who rely on our works:

> Romans 3:28 - For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. (ESV)

God's power is made perfect in our weaknesses. And so, God, I believe can actually use our shortcomings for His purposes:

> II Corinthians 12:9 - But he said to me, My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness. Therefore I will boast all the more gladly of my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may rest upon me. (ESV)

Real law-abidingness is having "willing" obedience to God's commandments for us (to Jesus Christ) and "actual" doing of them in reality, from the heart, out of a love for the truth (out of real faith in God), like Abraham:

> Romans 3:27-28 - Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 9:21 - To those outside the law I became as one outside the law (not being outside the law of God but under (G1772 ennomos; lawful to, law-abiding to, in the law of) the law of Christ) that I might win those outside the law. (ESV)

> Hebrews 11:8 - By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place that he was to receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going. (ESV)

> Genesis 26:4-5 - I will multiply your offspring as the stars of heaven and will give to your offspring all these lands. And in your offspring all the nations of the earth shall be blessed, because Abraham obeyed my voice and kept my charge, my commandments, my statutes, and my laws. (ESV)

> Romans 4:13-18 - For the promise to Abraham and his offspring that he would be heir of the world did not come through the law but through the righteousness of faith. For if it is the adherents of the law who are to be the heirs, faith is null and the promise is void. For the law brings wrath, but where there is no law there is no transgression. That is why it depends on faith, in order that the promise may rest on grace and be guaranteed to all his offspring—not only to the adherent of the law but also to the one who shares the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all, as it is written, I have made you the father of many nations—in the presence of the God in whom he believed, who gives life to the dead and calls into existence the things that do not exist. In hope he believed against hope, that he should become the father of many nations, as he had been told, So shall your offspring be. (ESV)

> Galatians 3:5-7 - Does he who supplies the Spirit to you and works miracles among you do so by works of the law, or by hearing with faith— just as Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness? Know then that it is those of faith who are the sons of Abraham. (ESV)

Amazing talk:

- youtube.com: Charlie Kirk : HOW BEING OBEDIENT TO GOD WILL CHANGE YOUR LIFE | TPUSA Faith {@ TPUSAFaith }

I'd just mention though, that without justifying myself, I want to clarify my position regarding some comments Charlie Kirk made towards the end. While we do fall short of the glory of God, we are justified by faith in Jesus Christ and a person who has true faith in Jesus has been made good even though they fall short of the glory of God. A person who has the love of Jesus Christ in them is justified by that fact that they love Jesus. A person is justified by being good but only in that the good that justifies them is the love for Jesus Christ that they have in their heart:

> Romans 3:21-25 - But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from (G5565 chōris) the law (G3551 nomou), although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. (ESV)

False obedience is where there is no love for God in the heart:

> Psalms 81:15 - Those who hate the LORD would feign obedience, and their doom would last forever. (engbsb2020eb)

youtube.com: The Hebrew Word Translated Obey Doesn ' t Mean What You Think { Shema Explained

> I have to quiet the noise and shama. Hear the voice of the provider. Hear, oh Israel, the Lord is one. He is the source. When I truly hear that God is my provider, the desire to steal begins to wither. I don't need to steal. Wow. My heavenly father owns the cattle of a thousand hills. Why would I take what isn't mine when I am the heir to the king? Do you see the difference? The western lens produces restraint (I really want to take it, but I don't. I won't.). The Hebrew lens produces alignment. I have heard who God is, so I no longer want to take it.

> One is forced (feigned) compliance (Psalms 81:15). The other is natural response. This applies to everything.
> Think about anxiety. The command to do not be anxious. Western lens: "Stop worrying. It's a sin to worry. Fix your brain." Hebrew lens: Hear who holds the future. Listen to his sovereignty. If you're anxious, it's because you are listening to the storm louder than the Shepherd.

We must be law-abiding but that means abide in Jesus' commandments (i.e. with faith in Him and loving one another as commanded):

> Matthew 7:23 - And then will I declare to them, I never knew you; depart from me, you workers of lawlessness. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 8:3 - But if anyone loves God, he is known by God. (ESV)
> I John 4:7 - Beloved, let us love one another, for love is from God, and whoever loves has been born of God and knows God. (ESV)
> I John 5:2 - By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)
> Matthew 23:28 - So you also outwardly appear righteous to others, but within you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness. (ESV)
> Matthew 24:12 - And because lawlessness will be increased, the love of many will grow cold. (ESV)
> Matthew 13:40-43 - Just as the weeds are gathered and burned with fire, so will it be at the close of the age. The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of sin and all law-breakers (G4160 poiountas 3588 tēn G458 anomian; practicing lawlessness), and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear. (ESV)
> I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)
> I John 3:3-11 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)
> John 8:34-35,36,42,51 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death. (ESV)

God can compel a lawless spirit and that kind of "obedience" to God is not obedience in the same sense:

> Luke 8:29 - For he had commanded (G3853 parēngellen; To command, to charge, to instruct) the unclean spirit to come out of the man. (For many a time it had seized him. He was kept under guard and bound with chains and shackles, but he would break the bonds and be driven by the demon into the desert.) (ESV)

> Matthew 12:28 - But if it is by the Spirit of God that I cast out demons, then the kingdom of God has come upon you. (ESV)

God can also compel the elements of nature to do His will:

> Luke 8:25 - He said to them, Where is your faith? And they were afraid, and they marveled, saying to one another, Who then is this, that he commands (G2004 epitassei; To command, to order, to charge) even winds and water, and they obey him? (ESV)

We don't want to be those who resist God's will to the point where we are compelled to be summonned by God to receive judgement. Every knee will bow and every tongue confess that Jesus is Lord to the glory of God the Father (Philippians 2:9-11). We don't want to be those who are compelled unwillingly to do that in feigned obedience (H3584 yə · ḵa · ḥă · šū-). Being ”being summonned to the Principal's office to receive the eternal cain” (the wrath of God, lake of fire, second death), a person would go to the Principal but have no love for the Principal (H3584 yə · ḵa · ḥă · šū-), and they would receive the second death (lake of fire) which is what they want for hating God since they hate Jesus and love death. God gives us time to repent (I Thessalonians 1:9-10) in advance of the final judgement to come to a love for the truth and acknowledge Jesus Christ's lordship. We don't want to ignore this (Hebrews 12:22-25) warning.

H3584 yə · ḵa · ḥă · šū- to be untrue, in word (to lie, feign, disown) or deed (to disappoint, fail, cringe), act deceptively against (i.e. seem to acknowledge, but not really do so)

> Psalms 18:43-45 - You delivered me from strife with the people; you made me the head of the nations; people whom I had not known served me. As soon as they heard of me they obeyed me; foreigners came cringing (H3584 yə · ḵa · ḥă · šū-; act deceptively against [i.e. seem to acknowledge, but not really do so] to me. Foreigners lost heart and came trembling out of their fortresses. (ESV)

Psalm 18:45 Sons (H1121 bə · nê-) the foreigners (H5236 nê · ḵār) fade away (H5034 yib · bō · lū;) and come frightened (H2727 wə · yaḥ · rə · ḡū,) from their hideouts (H4526 mim · mis · gə · rō · w · ṯê · hem.)

God wants our desires to be for Him and for us to doers of love from a heart that treasures the truth. God wants us to be doers of love from a pure heart, good conscience and sincere faith:

> I Timothy 1:5 - The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. (ESV)

> Hebrews 11:8 - By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place that he was to receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going. (ESV)

Willing obedience to God with His commandments for us:

II Corinthians 9:5 - So I thought it necessary to urge the brothers to go on ahead to you and arrange in advance for the gift you have promised, so that it may be ready as a willing gift, not as an exaction. (ESV)

Acts 10:42 - And he commanded (G3853 parēngellen; To command, to charge, to instruct) us to preach to the people and to testify that he is the one appointed by God to be judge of the living and the dead. (ESV)

Philemon 1:13-14 - I would have been glad to keep him with me, in order that he might serve me on your behalf during my imprisonment for the gospel, but I preferred to do nothing without your consent in order that your goodness might not be by compulsion but of your own free will. (ESV)

II Corinthians 9:6-8 - The point is this: whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. Each one must give as he has made up his mind, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver. And God is able to make all grace abound to you, so that having all sufficiency in all things at all times, you may abound in every good work. (ESV)

I Peter 5:1-3 - So I exhort the elders among you, as a fellow elder and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, as well as a partaker in the glory that is going to be revealed: shepherd the flock of God that is among you, exercising oversight, not under compulsion, but willingly, as God would have you; not for shameful gain, but eagerly; not domineering over those in your charge, but being examples to the flock. (ESV)

Acts 5:27-29 - And when they had brought them, they set them before the council. And the high priest questioned them, saying, We strictly charged you not to teach in this name, yet here you have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and you intend to bring this man's blood upon us. But Peter and the apostles answered, We must obey God rather than men. (ESV)

John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

John 13:34 - A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another: just as I have loved you, you also are to love one another. (ESV)

The godly person delights in and meditates on the law of God (Psalms 1:1-6).

We must desire God and not desire sin. We must desire to be sanctified, desire to please God, desire to do the will of God:

youtube.com: I GIVE YOU MY HEART {@ savedbygrace85 } This is my desire To honor You; Lord, with all my heart; I worship You; All I have within me; I give You praise; All that I adore; Is in You;

Lord, I give You my heart; I give You my soul; I live for you alone; And every breath that I take; Every moment I'm awake; Lord, have Your way in me

And I will live And I will live for You

II Corinthians 5:9-12 - So whether we are at home or away, we make it our aim to please him. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil. Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. We are not commending ourselves to you again but giving you cause to boast about us, so that you may be able to answer those who boast about outward appearance and not about what is in the heart. (ESV)

> Romans 11:30-31,12:1-2 - Just as you were at one time disobedient to God but now have received mercy because of their disobedience, so they too have now been disobedient in order that by the mercy shown to you they also may now receive mercy. I appeal to you therefore, brothers, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship. Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that by testing you may discern what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect. (ESV)

> I Peter 4:1-5 - Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh, arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. The time that is past suffices for doing what the Gentiles want to do, living in sensuality, passions, drunkenness, orgies, drinking parties, and lawless idolatry. With respect to this they are surprised when you do not join them in the same flood of debauchery, and they malign you; but they will give account to him who is ready to judge the living and the dead. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 10:9-14 - We must not put Christ to the test, as some of them did and were destroyed by serpents, nor grumble, as some of them did and were destroyed by the Destroyer. Now these things happened to them as an example, but they were written down for our instruction, on whom the end of the ages has come. Therefore let anyone who thinks that he stands take heed lest he fall. No temptation has overtaken you that is not common to man. God is faithful, and he will not let you be tempted beyond your ability, but with the temptation he will also provide the way of escape, that you may be able to endure it. Therefore, my beloved, flee from idolatry. (ESV)

If we sin then we confess the sin, we agree with God about it, and God is faithful and just to forgive us. So we come to faith and we go on abiding in the truth, and when we stuff up, then we repent and return to the truth, like in the story of the prodigal son (Luke 15:10):

> 1 John 1:9 - If we confess (G3670 homologeó) our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (ESV)

> Luke 15:7 - Just so, I tell you, there will be more joy in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine righteous persons who need no repentance.

What is not done in faith is sin and being justified depends on having faith in Jesus.

I do not think it's possible to, for example, murder in faith. I do not think it's possible to lie to one-another in faith. I do not think it's possible to commit rape in faith. I do not think it's possible to commit sin in faith.

What is not done in faith is sin, and so when a person sins, they are not justified in that moment because they do not have faith in that moment. The very nature of committing sin is that it's done without faith.

It's possible to have sin/defilement while having faith:

> II Corinthians 7:1 - Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God. (ESV)

> I John 1:8 - If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. (ESV)

> Romans 7:17-23 - So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. So I find it to be a law that when I want to do right, evil lies close at hand. For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. (ESV)

But it's not possible to simultaneously have faith while committing sin:

> II Thessalonians 3:2 - and that we may be delivered from wicked and evil men. For not all have faith. (ESV)
> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)
> John 16:9 - concerning sin, because they do not believe in me; (ESV)
> I John 3:9 - No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. (ESV)

Clearly, then, it's possible to have sinful lapses of faith, and if it's possible to have sinful lapses of faith, then it's possible, I think, to have lapses of justification (i.e. in the act of committing the sin, anyway). Of course, God is the justifier, but we know that God justifies those who have faith in Jesus. So if God were to "not consider someone justified presentnly", even someone who He had previously deemed justified, then it's reasonable to think that the reason God may not presently be justifying the person would be because they are without faith.

Now, I believe that a person who humbles themself, though, like in this story in Luke 18:9-14, surely can be justified and I would say that in this story, this person who humbled himself appears to me to actually demonstrate faith in appealing to God for mercy. It's important to not trust in ourselves that we are righteous. The humble person seeks to please God. God is the justifier. We can reason about how He justifies. But God is the justifier. God is person we seek commendation from. But we are told in Scripture that it is faith that pleases Him:

> Luke 18:9-14 - He also told this parable to some who trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and treated others with contempt: Two men went up into the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector. The Pharisee, standing by himself, prayed thus: God, I thank you that I am not like other men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even like this tax collector. I fast twice a week; I give tithes of all that I get. But the tax collector, standing far off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, God, be merciful to me, a sinner! I tell you, this man went down to his house justified, rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted. (ESV)

I think it's not possible to be sanctified by committing sin, so that's why I say that there would be a lapse of justification:

> Proverbs 12:3 - No one is established by wickedness, but the root of the righteous will never be moved. (ESV)
> II Timothy 2:19 - But God's firm foundation stands, bearing this seal: The Lord knows those who are his, and, Let everyone who names the name of the Lord depart from iniquity. (ESV)
> II Thessalonians 3:3-8 - But the Lord is faithful. He will establish you and guard you against the evil one. And we have confidence in the Lord about you, that you are doing and will do the things that we command. May the Lord direct your hearts to the love of God and to the steadfastness of Christ. Now we command you, brothers, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you keep away from any brother who is walking in idleness and not in accord with the tradition that you received from us. For you yourselves know how you ought to imitate us, because we were not idle when we were with you, nor did we eat anyone's bread without paying for it, but with toil and labor we worked night and day, that we might not be a burden to any of you. (ESV)
> Proverbs 11:19 - Whoever is steadfast in righteousness will live, but he who pursues evil will die. (ESV)

But that doesn't mean they are unable to confess their sin and ask Jesus for forgiveness, because I believe that they can. We can confess our sin and walk in the light, the love of the truth, and the blood of Jesus cleanses us from all sin.

We can return to walking in faith. Ezekiel 18:20-24 seems to also show that we must continue on in the love of the truth. Also the parable of the prodigal son seems to echo this. If a person sins, that doesn't meana they are booted out of the house immediately. But the slave to sin does not remain in the house forever, though (John 8:34-35,36,42,51). We can confess our sin and walk in the light and be cleaned from it. And we should put sin to death so we can remain in God's household forever.

A person who is holding their faith in Jesus Christ is abiding in Him. A person who is presently sinning is someone who is not holding their faith. A person who is not abiding in Jesus is cast out like a branch and withers.

If they remain not abiding in Jesus, stubbornly unrepentant, then eventually those branches not abiding are gathered and burned. So we must continue on in faith in Jesus Christ and if we do commit sin then we must repent from them, and as we continue walking in the love of the truth, the blood of Jesus continues to wash us clean from sin.

Jesus wants us to continue to abide in Him. To continue on abiding in Him we must return to faith if we have departed from faith. If someone is a slave to sin after having committed to sin, they need to get out of being a slave to sin, and they can do so by returning to faith in Jesus Christ. When a person commits sin, they commit an act from a lapse of faith and what is not done in faith is sin. So they must turn away from their wickedness and back to the love of the truth (i.e. repent). If we walk in the light, the love of the truth, then the blood of Jesus cleanses us from all sin.

No murderer has eternal life in them: I John 3:6-18. But whoever is holding faith in Jesus has eternal life and will do the works that He does (John 14:12), so then whoever is holding faith in Jesus is not a murderer. If someone hates their brother then they are a murderer and so don't have faith.

We must continue in faith, and we do that by continuing in faith in Jesus Christ, and returning to faith if having wandered from the faith. We know that God justifies those who have faith in Jesus Christ. And without justification (faith and love for the truth), we cannot be sanctified. Even Moses, in a lapse of faith struck the rock instead of speaking to it. But we must return to the love of the truth if we wander from it:

> Ezekiel 18:20-24 - The soul who sins shall die. The son shall not suffer for the iniquity of the father, nor the father suffer for the iniquity of the son. The righteousness of the righteous shall be upon himself, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon himself. But if a wicked person turns away from all his sins that he has committed and keeps all my statutes and does what is just and right, he shall surely live; he shall not die. None of the transgressions that he has committed shall be remembered against him; for the righteousness that he has done he shall live. Have I any pleasure in the death of the wicked, declares the Lord GOD, and not rather that he should turn from his way and live? But when a righteous person turns away from his righteousness and does injustice and does the same abominations that the wicked person does, shall he live? None of the righteous deeds that he has done shall be remembered; for the treachery of which he is guilty and the sin he has committed, for them he shall die. (ESV)
> John 15:4-7 - Remain in Me, and I will remain in you. Just as no branch can bear fruit by itself unless it remains in the vine, neither can you bear fruit unless you remain in Me. I am the vine and you are the branches. The one who remains in Me, and I in him, will bear much fruit. For apart from (G5565 chōris) Me you can do nothing. If anyone does not remain in Me, he is like a branch that is thrown away and withers. Such branches are gathered up, thrown into the fire, and burned. If you remain in Me and My words remain in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be done for you. (engbsb2020eb)
> John 8:31-47 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed (G4100 pepisteukotas: having believed 'V-RPA-AMP past tense') in him, If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free. They answered him, We are offspring of Abraham and have never been enslaved to anyone. How is it that you say, You will become free? Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. I know that you are offspring of Abraham; yet you seek to kill me because my word finds no place in you. I speak of what I have seen with my Father, and you do what you have heard from your father. They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham's children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth > that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. Which one of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God. (ESV)

Theorising about faith and justification and sin:

- Someone who is committing sin does so without faith, which means they ”believeth not” while they commit the sin and so in committing sin they are practicing lawlessness, not abiding to the law of faith in Christ Jesus, and are under judgement and condemnation while they ”believeth not”.

However, God is the one who commends faith. God is the justifier. God discerns the thoughts and intentions of the heart. Also God will have mercy on those He has mercy. So just because I say this is how I think it generally works, as I want to help others to understand, I still trust that God is sovereign to commend faith, and sovereign to dispense His blessing, grace, chastisement and wrath.

Committing sin happens from the heart and defiles a person because it proceeds from the heart:

> Matthew 15:18 - But what comes out of the mouth proceeds from the heart, and this defiles a person. (ESV)

Once defiled, the person gets enslaved into doing that sin until they repent and are cleaned from the sin through faith in Jesus. So we should resist obeying sin and rather from a love of righteousness, from a love of Jesus, practice righteousness.

What is not done in faith is sin. So while committing sin a person is not justified because they commit sin without faith. If someone is distrusting of Jesus then they are condemned presently.

> James 5:19-20 - My brothers, if anyone among you wanders from the truth and someone brings him back, let him know that whoever brings back a sinner from his wandering will save his soul from death and will cover a multitude of sins. (ESV)

Abraham had not read the Book of Genesis when he ”believed God and it was accounted to him as righteousness” (Genesis 15:6), so Abraham didn't know he was commended but God had commended his faith.

> Romans 4:9-10 - Is this blessing then only for the circumcised, or also for the uncircumcised? We say that faith was counted to Abraham as righteousness. How then was it counted to him? Was it before or after he had been circumcised? It was not after, but before he was circumcised. (ESV)

Now that we can read this Scripture that Abraham's faith was accounted as righteousness when He was trusting in God's promise, we can understand that God justifies a person for their faith.

It's clear that part of the contributing factor into God commending Abraham's faith is that ”No distrust made him waver concerning the promise of God, but he grew strong in his faith” so it is clear that not only is this about trust, but also about the perseverance of his faith (i.e. faith with patience, continuing faith). So God justifies faith as the faith is held, even from the start.

Abraham wasn't justified for ”saying” that he believes, at least not ”merely” by saying he believes, but rather by ”actually” believing from the heart. It is with the heart that one is justified. Sure, it's with the mouth that one confesses unto salvation, but it's with the heart that one is justified. God looks at our hearts. We're not justified merely by saying that we are justified. The external action alone (without real faith in the heart) is not what justifies. So we want to be please God with our faith which he sees us actually having.

> Romans 4:20-25 - No distrust made him waver concerning the promise of God, but he grew strong in his faith as he gave glory to God, fully convinced that God was able to do what he had promised. That is why his faith was counted to him as righteousness. But the words it was counted to him were not written for his sake alone, but for ours also. It will be counted to us who believe in him who raised from the dead Jesus our Lord, who was delivered up for our trespasses and raised for our justification. (ESV)

We're supposed to have faith like Abraham's faith, but faith that is in the person of Jesus Christ and that includes in His words and deeds.

So we should be seeking God's commendation, not commending ourself, but entrusting ourselves to God while practicing righteousness by faith:

> I Peter 4:19 - Therefore let those who suffer according to God's will entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good. (ESV)

So when we turn up in heaven, God commends us, not the other way around:

> Matthew 25:40 - And the King will answer them, Truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brothers, you did it to me. (ESV)

> Matthew 25:31-46 - When the Son of Man comes in his glory, and all the angels with him, then he will sit on his glorious throne. Before him will be gathered all the nations, and he will separate people one from another as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats. And he will place the sheep on his right, but the goats on the left. Then the King will say to those on his right, Come, you who are blessed by my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed me, I was naked and you clothed me, I was sick and you visited me, I was in prison and you came to me. Then the righteous will answer him, saying, Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink? And when did we see you a stranger and welcome you, or naked and clothe you? And when did we see you sick or in prison and visit you? And the King will answer them, Truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brothers, you did it to me. Then he will say to those on his left, Depart from me, you cursed, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels. For I was hungry and you gave me no food, I was thirsty and you gave me no drink, I was a stranger and you did not welcome me, naked and you did not clothe me, sick and in prison and you did not visit me. Then they also will answer, saying, Lord, when did we see you hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison, and did not minister to you? Then he will answer them, saying, Truly, I say to you, as you did not do it to one of the least of these, you did not do it to me. And these will go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life. (ESV)

If someone turns up to the judgement seat of Christ seeking to commend themself, saying, "This is when I had faith", or "This is when I fed you", etc. then that is self-justifying. I truly believe that our faith must continue to seek commendation from God.

Notice how the penitent criminal put His hope in Jesus in reality. Jesus would welcome him in (remembering him, remembering his faith in Jesus). Maybe Jesus points out to him in the coming of His Kingdom, "This is when you had faith, when you first began puting your faith in me, hoping in me." and Jesus would know his heart better than himself:

> Luke 23:40-43 - But the other answered, and rebuking him said, "Do you not even fear God, since you are under the same sentence of condemnation? And we indeed are suffering justly, for we are receiving what we deserve for our deeds; but this man has done nothing wrong." And he was saying, "Jesus, remember me when You come in Your kingdom!" And He said to him, "Truly I say to you, today you shall be with Me in Paradise."

From faith, a person practices rightousness:

> John 14:12 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)

Without faith, a person practices wickedness:

> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

Whoever does not have faith in Jesus will be condemned:

> Mark 16:16 - Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved, but whoever does not believe will be condemned. (ESV)
> John 3:36 - Whoever believes in the Son has eternal life; whoever does not obey the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God remains on him. (ESV)

Whoever has no love for Jesus Christ is also unsaved:

> I Corinthians 16:22 - If anyone has no love for the Lord, let him be accursed. Our Lord, come! (ESV)

Anyone who is antichrist is against Christ and is condemned:

> I John 4:2-3 - By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)
> John 3:14-19 - And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than (G3123 mallon, rather/more than, in preference to, instead of) light, because their deeds were evil. (KJV)

A person gets born-again (made alive) but must go on as a believer with the circumcision of the heart to love God with their heart, practicing righteousness abiding in Jesus' commandments which involves having love for God and for God's children:

> John 11:25-27 - Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never (G3756) (G3361) die. Do you believe this? She said to him, Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming into the world. (ESV)
> Romans 7:9-13 - I was once alive apart from the law, but when the commandment came, sin came alive and I died. The very commandment that promised life proved to be death to me. For sin, seizing an opportunity through the commandment, deceived me and through it killed me. So the law is holy, and the commandment is holy and righteous and good. Did that which is good, then, bring death to me? By no means! It was sin, producing death in me through what is good, in order that sin might be shown to be sin, and through the commandment might become sinful beyond measure. (ESV)

For a born-again believer, practicing righteousness becomes the normal mode of operation. The person born of God has stopped sinning and has started practicing righteousness. If they resist God's ongoing discipline to put off ungodly behaviour then they put Christ to the test and God is an avenger in these matters. But if someone commits sin, even someone who believes they are/were born of God (found by God to be a sinner rather than someone born of God), then there is propitiation for that sin. We must be those who endeavour to be justified in Christ, rather than those who self-commmend.

> Galatians 2:17 - But if, in our endeavor to be justified in Christ, we too were found to be sinners, is Christ then a servant of sin? Certainly not! (ESV)

We need to confess our sins. We need to repent of them:

> I John 3:7 - Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. (ESV)

> Colossians 3:8-10 - But now you must put them all away: anger, wrath, malice, slander, and obscene talk from your mouth. Do not lie to one another, seeing that you have put off the old self with its practices and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator. (ESV)

> I John 2:1-6 - My little children, I am writing these things to you so that you may not sin. But if anyone does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. He is the propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only but also for the sins of the whole world. And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

When a person gets ”born of God”, they are now have an identity which is apart from (G5565 chōris) their flesh. They are now really the person who is ”born of God”. Now, to the person who has been ”born of God”, observing other people's behaviour, it may appear that sometimes other people are sometimes walking by the flesh, and sometimes walking by the spirit.

Walking ”by the flesh” is a different concept to walking ”in the flesh”. Walking ”by the flesh” is a mind will thing where a person is obeys the old nature, i.e. not believing God's words nor believing in God. Walking a person can walk ”by the spirit” ”in the flesh”, but a person cannot walk ”by the spirit” and ”by the flesh”.

Jesus instructed His disciples to call no man on earth their ”father”. This instruction, therefore, is for the Christian:

> Matthew 23:1 - Then Jesus said to the crowds and to his disciples, (ESV)

> Matthew 23:9 - And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven. (ESV)

Don't let people who are walking by the flesh be your guides on what you should believe. There's no need to judge/condemn if other people are not, for example, ”calling no man on earth their father” because Jesus Christ came to save and we should be imitators of His patience. Rather, we should teach others to obey Christ, and teach them His commandments, and ourselves take every thought captive for obedience to Christ Jesus. We, ourselves, should try to obey Jesus Christ in His teaching, i.e. try to put Jesus' teaching into practice in reality:

> I Corinthians 5:1-13 - It is actually reported that there is sexual immorality among you, and of a kind that is not tolerated even among pagans, for a man has his father's wife. And you are arrogant! Ought you not rather to mourn? Let him who has done this be removed from among you. For though absent in body, I am present in spirit; and as if present, I have already pronounced judgment on the one who did such a thing. When you are assembled in the name of the Lord Jesus and my spirit is present, with the power of our Lord Jesus, you are to deliver this man to Satan for the destruction > of the flesh, so that his spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord. Your boasting is not good. Do you not know that a little leaven leavens the whole lump? Cleanse out the old leaven that you may be a new lump, as you really are unleavened. For Christ, our Passover lamb, has been sacrificed. Let us therefore celebrate the festival, not with the old leaven, the leaven of malice and evil, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth. I wrote to you in my letter not to associate with sexually immoral people— not at all meaning the sexually immoral of this world, or the greedy and swindlers, or idolaters, since then you would need to go out of the world. But now I am writing to you not to associate with anyone who bears the name of brother if he is guilty of sexual immorality or greed, or is an idolater, reviler, drunkard, or swindler—not even to eat with such a one. For what have I to do with judging outsiders? Is it not those inside the church whom you are to judge? God judges those outside. Purge the evil person from among you. (ESV)

To be overcomers, we must continue to hold our faith in who Jesus is, that is that He is the Messiah and the Son of God who has come into the world from God, who has come in His Father's name Yahweh (Jehovah), and who has died on a tree and rose from the dead 3 days later, and we should not only believe who He is and what He has done, but love Him and seek know more about Him from the Scripture and grow in our faith to maturity:

> I John 5:4 - For everyone who has been born of God overcomes the world. And this is the victory that has overcome the world—our faith. (ESV)

> I John 5:3-5 - For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments. And his commandments are not burdensome. For everyone who has been born of God overcomes the world. And this is the victory that has overcome the world—our faith. Who is it that overcomes the world except the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God? (ESV)

We want to be overcome by practicing righteousness (faith and love for the truth). We need to continue holding Jesus Christ as the top love of our heart so that desires for other things do not grow up and attack our faith. With Jesus Christ Son of God as our top love, we should be able to put to death the deeds of the sinful flesh as we walk by the spirit trusting and obeying Jesus Christ.:

> Romans 8:8-13 - Those who are in the flesh cannot please God. You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. But if Christ is in you, although the body is dead because of sin, the Spirit is life because of righteousness. If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you. So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh. For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. (ESV)

> Romans 16:19-20 - For your obedience is known to all, so that I rejoice over you, but I want you to be wise as to what is good and innocent as to what is evil. The God of peace will soon crush Satan under your feet. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. (ESV)

The way we must follow is not the way that is to be enslaved by corruption. Rather, the way we follow is Jesus Christ, and we follow Jesus by loving the Truth as opposed to evil:

> II Peter 2:19 - They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved. (ESV)

If a person has presently the law-abiding faith then they are trusting and obeying Jesus Christ and, therefore, in the grand scheme of things, that person has been perfected (i.e. that person's sanctification will be completed):

> Hebrews 10:14 - For by a single offering he has perfected for all time those who are being sanctified. (ESV)

If a person's faith is not law-abiding then actions done out of that are not done in faith (real faith) (Romans 14:23) or not done in a non-idolatrous (I Peter 4:3 says idolatry is unlawful, abominable) agape love for God and their neighbour (I Corinthians 16:13-14) and that type of faith, not being love for the Truth, is not the faith of a son or daughter of God. A law-abiding faith agrees with the law of God:

> Romans 7:16-25 - Now if I do what I do not want, I agree with the law, that it is good. So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. So I find it to be a law that when I want to do right, evil lies close at hand. For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. Wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me from this body of death? Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord! So then, I myself serve the law of God with my mind, but with my flesh I serve the law of sin. (ESV)

Faith in Jesus Christ looks like having confidence in Him, in the Word of God, in God's promises, even the conditional promises:

> James 2:5 - Listen, my beloved brothers, has not God chosen those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom, which he has promised to those who love him? (ESV)

> Ephesians 6:1-3 - Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right. Honor your father and mother (this is the first commandment with a promise), that it may go well with you and that you may live long in the land. (ESV)

For example, where Jesus says it's more blessed to give than to receive (Acts 20:35), the person with faith in Jesus Christ trusts that this is true. Worldly wisdom would say that trusting God's advice is folly. But faith in Jesus Christ invests in God rather than investing in perishable things:

> II Corinthians 9:6 - The point is this: whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. (ESV)

Watch youtube.com: Peter Adam - Wisdom 1 {@ cornhillscotland }

But faith in God means trusting God and having confidence in Him and in His commandments. When it comes to a commandment with a promise, in keeping the commandment, we are rewarded with hope:

> I John 3:24 - Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

Holding to the Truth (remaining faithful to the Word of God concerning one's confession of faith in Jesus) while also "applying their faith in deed", practicing righteousness (being obedient to Jesus, obedient to His commandments), a person will receive persecution:

> II Timothy 3:12-13 - Indeed, all who desire to live a godly life in Christ Jesus will be persecuted, while evil people and impostors will go on from bad to worse, deceiving and being deceived. (ESV)

Knowing God is more than about just knowing who He is:

> Ezekiel 11:12 - and you shall know that I am the LORD. For you have not walked in my statutes, nor obeyed my rules, but have acted according to the rules of the nations that are around you. (ESV)

Knowing God involves loving the truth and loving the truth as God has commanded:

John 15:21 - But all these things they will do to you on account of my name, because they do not know him who sent me. (ESV)

John 13:20 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever receives the one I send receives me, and whoever receives me receives the one who sent me. (ESV)

John 16:2-3 - They will put you out of the synagogues. Indeed, the hour is coming when whoever kills you will think he is offering service to God. And they will do these things because they have not known the Father, nor me. (ESV)

I John 4:6 - We are from God. Whoever knows God listens to us; whoever is not from God does not listen to us. By this we know the Spirit of truth and the spirit of error. (ESV)

I John 4:7 - Beloved, let us love one another, for love is from God, and whoever loves has been born of God and knows God. (ESV)

I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

John 8:54-55 - Jesus answered, If I glorify myself, my glory is nothing. It is my Father who glorifies me, of whom you say, He is our God. But you have not known him. I know him. If I were to say that I do not know him, I would be a liar like you, but I do know him and I keep his word. (ESV)

John 14:7 - If you had known me, you would have known my Father also. From now on you do know him and have seen him. (ESV)

I John 4:8 - Anyone who does not love does not know God, because God is love. (ESV)

Hosea 6:6 - For I desire steadfast love and not sacrifice, the knowledge of God rather than burnt offerings. (ESV)

I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

Those who know God are persecuted by those who do not know God:

Luke 21:17 - You will be hated by all for my name's sake. (ESV)

Mark 13:13 - And you will be hated by all for my name's sake. But the one who endures to the end will be saved. (ESV)

Matthew 24:9 - Then they will deliver you up to tribulation and put you to death, and you will be hated by all nations for my name's sake. (ESV)

Luke 6:22 - Blessed are you when people hate you and when they exclude you and revile you and spurn your name as evil, on account of the Son of Man! (ESV)

John 15:21 - But all these things they will do to you on account of my name, because they do not know him who sent me. (ESV)

Matthew 10:21-22 - Brother will deliver brother over to death, and the father his child, and children will rise against parents and have them put to death, and you will be hated by all for my name's sake. But the one who endures to the end will be saved. (ESV)

> I Timothy 1:13 - though formerly I was a blasphemer, persecutor, and insolent opponent. But I received mercy because I had acted ignorantly in unbelief, (ESV)

The reason why Jesus is the source of eternal salvation to those who obey Him (Hebrews 5:8-9) is because people who obey Him are obedient (I Timothy 1:8-9, Romans 6:16-18, Titus 1:16) to Him and a person who is obedient to Jesus has the love of God in their heart (Luke 6:45, John 14:15-17) and it's the love of the Truth that saves (II Thessalonians 2:10):

> Acts 5:32 - And we are witnesses to these things, and so is the Holy Spirit, whom God has given to those who obey him. (ESV)

> Hebrews 5:9 - And being made perfect, he became the source of eternal salvation to all who obey him, (ESV)

> Romans 5:3-5 - More than that, we rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, and hope does not put us to shame, because God's love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us. (ESV)

> Proverbs 10:28 - The hope of the righteous brings joy, but the expectation of the wicked will perish. (ESV)

False obedience is where there is no love for God in the heart:

> Psalms 81:15 - Those who hate the LORD would feign obedience, and their doom would last forever. (engbsb2020eb)

Faith in Jesus Christ looks like trusting, believing, receiving, accepting, having confidence in Jesus Christ and what Jesus Christ has said. The one who is receptive to, the one who who receives Jesus Christ, the one who loves Jesus Christ, the one who continues to receive Jesus Christ, the one who does not push Jesus away but who accepts Jesus Christ and His words and His deeds, that is the person who has eternal life:

> John 5:24 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears my word and believes him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come into judgment, but has passed from death to life. (ESV)

If a person believes what He said and has confidence what would come out of trusting Him above what would come out of, trusting in man's own strength, then they such a person would act on Jesus' commandments and with confidence in God and the outcome of obeying His instructions, they would walk in the light.

> Jeremiah 17:5 - Thus says the LORD: Cursed is the man who trusts in man and makes flesh his strength, whose heart turns away from the LORD. (ESV)

The faith we have is a faith that trusts Jesus Christ in Jesus saying that whoever is trusting in Him has eternal life. The faith is counted as righteousness apart from our works. Previous works don't factor into gaining God's forgiveness so long as the person is presently trusting in, holding their faith in, trusting Christ. Trusting Christ, not something else. So we must believe truly what Jesus Christ says. And if we truly believe the truth then we'll produce good:

> Romans 4:3-8 - For what does the Scripture say? Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness. Now to the one who works, his wages are not counted as a gift but as his due. And to the one who does not work but trusts him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is counted as righteousness, just as David also speaks of the blessing of the one to whom God counts righteousness apart from works: Blessed are those whose lawless deeds are forgiven, and whose sins are covered; blessed is the man against whom the Lord will not count his sin. (ESV)

It's possible to have faith without ”working for payment” (Romans 4:5), even though God does reward ”working for payment” (Romans 4:4): good work with blessing and evil work with wrath and fury (Romans 2:6-8, Ephesians 6:5-8). It's possible to have ”faith that works” (producing good deeds) without ”working for God's acceptance” (Romans 4:19-25).

> Revelation of John 14:13 - And I heard a voice from heaven saying, Write this: Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on. Blessed indeed, says the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors, for their deeds follow them! (ESV)

It's possible to be justified through humility before God, recognising one's own moral bankrupcy and asking God for mercy (Luke 18:13-14).

It's the faith (trust, love of the truth) in Jesus Christ that God is pleased with (Hebrews 11:6, Prov 8:17, Jer 29:13-14, Matt 6:33).

Faith (heart attitudes of trust, love, obedience, hope) must continue until the outcome. In other words, a good outcome comes from good intent. It is incorrect to separate the outcome from the faith/intent and say that a person can be justified if the outcome is good even if the intent was evil. In criminal law there is ”mens rea” and ”actus reus”. But a person can commit evil and break God's law from the heart (i.e. ”mens rea”-alone). When it comes to God judging, ”mens rea” is all that is needed to convict a person and God sees:

> Matthew 5:28 - But I say to you that everyone who looks at a woman with lustful intent has already committed adultery with her in his heart.

> Matthew 15:10-11 - And he called the people to him and said to them, Hear and understand: it is not what goes into the mouth that defiles a person, but what comes out of the mouth; this defiles a person. (ESV)

Outcome comes from faith. Outcome comes from deed (external action done from faith). Outcome doesn't come from ”external deed minus the faith”:

> I Peter 1:6-9 - In this you rejoice, though now for a little while, if necessary, you have been grieved by various trials, so that the tested genuineness of your faith—more precious than gold that perishes though it is tested by fire—may be found to result in praise and glory and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ. Though you have not seen him, you love him. Though you do not now see him, you believe in him and rejoice with joy that is inexpressible and filled with glory, obtaining the outcome of your faith, the salvation of your souls. (ESV) youtube.com: Faith = Justification + Works {@ ligonier } According to Sproul, Martin Luther believed something like `Faith   Justification + Works`. And so it follows that:

- `Justification   Faith - Works`
  - i.e. justification by faith alone
- `Works   Faith - Justification`

I know that it's faith in Jesus Christ in our heart that is what justifies us (`Justification   (because) Faith`):

> Romans 10:10 - For with the heart one believes and is justified, and with the mouth one confesses and is saved. (ESV)

And it's apart from (G5565 chōris) the works of the law that we are justified. Faith is counted distinctly from any corresponding external actions:

> Romans 3:28 - For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works (G2041 ergōn; works) of the law (G3551 nomou; of the Law). (ESV)

Deeds are external actions done either out of love for light or for darkness (i.e. either out of faith in the truth or out of faith in darkness):

- `Deed = Faith + ExternalActions`

The word chōris in a statement ”A chōris B” doesn’t mean that B does not exist. Rather, the statement means ”A where B is not taken into account”, or ”A distinct from B”. So chōris means ”without taking into account” or ”as distinct from”:

> Matthew 14:21 - And those who ate were about five thousand men, besides (G5565 chōris) women and children. (ESV)

The Hebrew word for Adam can mean either just Adam the man, or it can mean both Adam and Eve. It would be semantically correct to say ”Adam apart from (G5565 chōris) Eve”, or ”Eve apart from Adam”.

Man and woman, husband and wife are a single unit called Adam:

It would also be semantically correct to say, ”deeds (G2041 ergōn; works) apart from (G5565 chōris) faith”. Deeds apart from faith would be the external actions.

For example, giving a cookie to someone is an external action. But was it done in faith or not? Was the cookie given out of faith in God’s word? And was it done in love or not? Was the cookie given to someone hoping they would enjoy the cookie, or hoping they would choke on it? And was it done in obedience to God’s word or not? Faith is the heart attitudes of trust and obedience from a love of the truth.

It’s semantically correct to say, ”faith apart from (G5565 chōris) works” also. But I do believe that when God judges on ”deeds/works” (G2041 ergōn; works), He looks at the faith:

> John 3:19 - And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. (ESV)

The formula that Sproul has given is meant to convey 2 things:

- justification is by faith alone (apart from works)
- a person who has the faith will also have works

Sadly, I don’t think the formula is able to do that accurately because it’s ”incorporating the external actions of deeds” into the very definition of what faith is. The way that the word (G2041 ergōn; works) is used in the NT, it would be more accurate to say that deeds incorporate faith, than to say faith incorporates deeds.

We are justified by the faith in Jesus Christ apart from (G5565 chōris) works of the law. The use of the word (G5565 chōris) means that it's the faith rather than any existing works that justifies. So the faith could certainly have associated works, but it's the faith one is justified by rather than the external actions:

The word (G5565 chōris) is used not to show that Jesus doesn't exist, but that separate from Him, we cannot bear fruit. Just as how, even if separate from Jesus, Jesus would still exist, so too even if faith is counted separate from the works, the works still [may] exist:

> John 15:4-7 - Remain in Me, and I will remain in you. Just as no branch can bear fruit by itself unless it remains in the vine, neither can you bear fruit unless you remain in Me. I am the vine and you are the branches. The one who remains in Me, and I in him, will bear much fruit. For apart from (G5565 chōris) Me you can do nothing. If anyone does not remain in Me, he is like a branch that is thrown away and withers. Such branches are gathered up, thrown into the fire, and burned. If you remain in Me and My words remain in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be done for you. (engbsb2020eb)

I think that a person can be justified by deeds, as Abraham was also justified by works of faith, but the basis for this justification is the faith (Abraham was seen to have the fear of God).

When "the footsteps of faith" are mentioned in Romans 4:9-12, it does not specifically describe particular external actions to do.

> Romans 4:9-12 - Is this blessing then only for the circumcised, or also for the uncircumcised? We say that faith was counted to Abraham as righteousness. How then was it counted to him? Was it before or after he had been circumcised? It was not after, but before he was circumcised. He received the sign of circumcision as a seal of the righteousness that he had by faith while he was still uncircumcised. The purpose was to make him the father of all who believe without being circumcised, so that righteousness would be counted to them as well, and to make him the father of the circumcised who are not merely circumcised but who also walk in the footsteps of the faith that our father Abraham had before he was circumcised. (ESV)

For example, in order to follow in the footsteps of faith that Abraham had before he was circumcised, doesn't mean to replicate the external actions of Abraham, as if faith is just some kind of ritual of external actions.

Following in the footsteps of faith does not literally mean to find a king of a city called Sodom and decline goods from him and do a pilgrimage from Abraham's geographic departure point to Canaan, the place that Abraham settled, and along the way take an "only-begotten son" with you and build an altar and attempt to sacrifice him on it.

However, what following in Abraham's footsteps of faith should look like is by faith obeying Jesus Christ from the heart, receiving Jesus Christ and His words, with love for Him:

> John 8:31-47 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed (G4100 pepisteukotas: having believed 'V-RPA-AMP past tense') in him, If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free. They answered him, We are offspring of Abraham and have never been enslaved to anyone. How is it that you say, You will become free? Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. I know that you are offspring of Abraham; yet you seek to kill me because my word finds no place in you. I speak of what I have seen with my Father, and you do what you have heard from your father. They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham's children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did.

> You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. Which one of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God. (ESV)

Having the faith of Abraham in Jesus Christ should certainly result in deeds done in faith that are Jesus' works. So we should be trusting and obeying Jesus Christ and His words with love for Him and in doing so be trusting and obeying Father God and His words with love for Father God:

> John 14:12 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)

> John 12:41-46 - Isaiah said these things because he saw his glory and spoke of him. Nevertheless, many even of the authorities believed in him, but for fear of the Pharisees they did not confess it, so that they would not be put out of the synagogue; for they loved the glory that comes from man more than the glory that comes from God. And Jesus cried out and said, Whoever believes in me, believes not in me but in him who sent me. And whoever sees me sees him who sent me. I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. (ESV)

The Bible makes it abundantly clear that faith in God's word involves trusting God's word with what He has revealed (Romans 1:18-19, I John 5:14-15), and that might just be a promise without details on who you will encounter or what that will look like or what specific things will take place to make the result come about:

> Hebrews 11:8 - By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place that he was to receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going. (ESV)

> Hebrews 11:1-3 - Now faith is the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen. For by it the people of old received their commendation. By faith we understand that the universe was created by the word of God, so that what is seen was not made out of things that are visible. (ESV)

> Ephesians 3:20 - Now to him who is able to do far more abundantly than all that we ask or think, according to the power at work within us, (ESV)

On the contrary, what is does mean to follow in the footsteps of faith that Abraham had before he was circumcised is that one's faith (the heart attitudes of faith, love, confidence, hope, obedience and perseverance) should be modelled on Abraham's faith. So to follow in the footsteps of faith that Abraham had before he was circumcised, one should have the fear of God in one's heart, and trust and obey God, and love God more than anything or anyone else, and continue on in faith and as a person does deeds with that faith, the external actions will look different for different people.

And I've also come to believe that it's really what is in the heart that counts (the faith) that God judges, rather than or above the external actions that are done distict from the faith.

I believe a "deed" is "external action that is done from faith". A good deed from good faith, and a bad deed from bad faith. So I believe that God when judging on deeds, judges on the basis of the faith that the deed came from.

I commented on ligonier's video,

> “Faith is I believe to be the heart attitudes (trust in the truth, love-for the truth, hoping in the truth). External actions are the ’works’. Faith to works is like spirit to flesh.
> Love for the truth saves. Love for God’s word saves. Love for Jesus Christ saves. Hatred for the truth leads to condemnation and death.
> God loved us first, sending Jesus Christ to be propitiation for our sin. We must have a loving faith in Jesus Christ to be saved.
> In mathematics, you may have met the concept of a ”gradient”. If the gradient is positive then the function is increasing in value as its input is increasing. In sanctification, having a ”positive gradient” is having ”faith and love for God” (the love of the truth, receptive to Jesus) where a person draws near to God (Hebrews 11:6, Hebrews 7:25, James 4:7-8). Having a negative gradient (hatred for the truth) leads to death.

If someone wants a good outcome, sin cannot be committed in order to achieve it:

> Romans 6:1-2 - What shall we say then? Are we to continue in sin that grace may abound? By no means! How can we who died to sin still live in it? (ESV)

When it comes to keeping God’s commandments, both intention (e.g. Mens rea) and action matter to God but it’s from His perspective. God sees a human being’s external actions clearer than mere human beings can. It’s not right to say that ”external actions/outcome matter more than than the faith/intent/obedience” (Romans 6:1), otherwise, why not just commit sin so we can receive more grace? Why not just steal from lots and lots of people to keep the economy going thinking God will forgive us?

The basis of justification is the faith (Romans 11:6-7).

When it comes to man’s law-enforcement ”endeavouring” to do justice, ”Every charge must be established by the evidence of two or three witnesses.” Just because man’s law-enforcement ”endeavours” to do justice, that doesn’t mean they always get it right. Even if a person is charged and convicted of a crime, the evidence or witnesses may be faulty. God sees when a person is persecuted for righteousness-sake.

See how here, Paul says that we should test ourselves to see if we are in the faith, and that ”appearance-wise” it may ”seem” to those people as though he (Paul) had ”failed the test”, but he (Paul) hopes that they will see that he has ”not failed the test”:

> II Corinthians 13:1-9 - This is the third time I am coming to you. Every charge must be established by the evidence of two or three witnesses. I warned those who sinned before and all the others, and I warn them now while absent, as I did when present on my second visit, that if I come again I will not spare them— since you seek proof that Christ is speaking in me. He is not weak in dealing with you, but is powerful among you. For he was crucified in weakness, but lives by the power of God. For we also are weak in him, but in dealing with you we will live with him by the power of God. Examine yourselves, to see whether you are in the faith. Test yourselves. Or do you not realize this about yourselves, that Jesus Christ is in you?—unless indeed you fail to meet the test! I hope you will find out that we have not failed the test. But we pray to God that you may not do wrong—not that we may appear to have met the test, but that you may do what is right, though we may seem to have failed. For we cannot do anything against the truth, but only for the truth. For we are glad when we are weak and you are strong. Your restoration is what we pray for. (ESV)

It’s possible to be justified by faith alone (Ephesians 2:8-9). All justifcation depends on God who has mercy (Romans 9:16, I Corinthians 1:28-31, Romans 3:20, Romans 4:2).

It’s possible to be justified by deeds (James 2:21-26), but those are deeds that are done in justifying faith (Genesis 22:12, Rom 11:6).

But while a person might be justified by deeds (Matthew 25:34-37), the faith is the basis of the justification (Hebrews 11:6, Romans 11:6). The justifying faith (even if it has accompanying works) is not based on our own works (Titus 3:3-5).

Intuition about works of the old covenant law To rely on justification by ”works of the Old Covenant Law” is trying to reify perfect law with perfect external actions, end-to-end without fault. Only Jesus Christ has managed to do this. As a point of difference, works of faith in Jesus Christ are based on Jesus Christ (I Corinthians 3:7-15) and His righteousness, rather than on one's own righteousness independent from Jesus Christ. These works of faith are done trusting in the Saviour Messiah Jesus Son of God and His word. For example, (Luke 19:2-10)

It's also possible to have ”works” (deeds) without ”working for payment” (James 2:22). Because ”working for payment” means trying to earn something from God based on one's own works/deeds whereas ”works” merely means deeds that everyone has regardless of whether or they are intentionally ”working for” something, whether good or evil. So when Romans 4:5-6 says ”to the one who does not work”, it doesn't exactly mean ”to the one who doesn't do or have deeds”. What it means is, ”to the one who isn't in their mind working to earn something from God”.

> Matthew 12:12 - Of how much more value is a man than a sheep! So it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath. (ESV)

So our faith should be one which recognises that what God wants of us is to simply trust and obey Him and hope in Him, seeking Him in faith, and that means trusting and obeying and hoping in Jesus Christ.

And it's the faith trusting Jesus that is not ”working for” justification but readily accepts the truth that God justifies whoever is presently trusting in Jesus Christ, even if they are ungodly, that is the faith that is counted as righteousness apart from (G5565 chōris) works. It's a faith that receives forgiveness from God while trusting Jesus Christ. So that means when we truly are trusting and obeying Jesus Christ from the heart, there is forgiveness and peace with God.

> Romans 15:13 - May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, so that by the power of the Holy Spirit you may abound in hope. (ESV)

> Romans 15:13 - May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace as you trust in him, so that you may overflow with hope by the power of the Holy Spirit. (NIV)

The ”Law” and the ”works of the Law” can in part be described like this:

- The ”Law” says ”do not bear false witness.”
  - Therefore the Law points out sin in sinners.
  - And the Law points to Jesus who is without sin.
- The ”works of the Law” would then involve going about doing things without bearing false witness
  - One does deeds without lying.

The law still does its work:

> Romans 2:15 - They show that the work of the law is written on their hearts, while their conscience also bears witness, and their conflicting thoughts accuse or even excuse them (ESV)

To be justified all the points of the Law would have to be kept simultaneously, not just the commandment to not bear false witness, but also the other commandments. Only Jesus Christ has kept the works of the law flawlessly, being without sin, and He did this in reality by faith.

If the Law were pursued by faith then for sure that person who is pursuing the Law by faith would be seeking to not bear false witness in reality from the heart, with the fear of God, seeking God's commendation. If the Law were pursued by works then that person who is pursuing the Law by works may inwardly be lusting over their neighbour's wife but outwardly thinking they're righteous because they'd never physically slept with her.

So when it comes to faith in Jesus, the heart attitudes of love for the truth, trust, hope and obedience still absolutely matter. Are we trusting in, hoping in, obedient to, loving Jesus Christ who has come into the world as light so that we might not remain in darkness? Are we abiding in His commandments from the heart in reality?

Christians have:

- faith in Jesus
  - having the mind of Jesus
    - willing to do the will of God
      - trusting, obedient, loving
- works of faith in Jesus
  - doing the deeds of Jesus
  - but works may burn up, yet they would still be saved

> I Corinthians 2:16 - For who has understood the mind of the Lord so as to instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ. (ESV)

> Revelation of John 2:26 - The one who conquers and who keeps my works until the end, to him I will give authority over the nations, (ESV)

> John 14:12 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. (ESV)

Receiving forgiveness from Jesus, having faith in Jesus and loving Jesus all go hand in hand. In fact, someone who truly has been forgiven by God must love in the truth and someone who does't love in the truth neither has been forgiven because if they were forgiven they would love. And notice how the woman's faith is linked with the love she has:

> Luke 7:40-50 - And Jesus answering said to him, Simon, I have something to say to you. And he answered, Say it, Teacher. A certain moneylender had two debtors. One owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty. When they could not pay, he cancelled the debt of both. Now which of them will love him more? Simon answered, The one, I suppose, for whom he cancelled the larger debt. And he said to him, You have judged rightly. Then turning toward the woman he said to Simon, Do you see this woman? I entered your house; you gave me no water for my feet, but she has wet my feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. You gave me no kiss, but from the time I came in she has not ceased to kiss my feet. You did not anoint my head with oil, but she has anointed my feet with ointment. Therefore I tell you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven—for she loved much. But he who is forgiven little, loves little. And he said to her, Your sins are forgiven. Then those who were at table with him began to say among themselves, Who is this, who even forgives sins? And he said to the woman, Your faith has saved you; go in peace. (ESV)

The faith that receives peace and forgiveness with God is not a "working for payment for ones deeds" faith, even though a person still will "do" / produce good deeds when they have good treasure (the love of God) in their heart.

> Titus 1:15 - To the pure, all things are pure, but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their minds and their consciences are defiled. (ESV)

Good deeds will naturally flow from having the love of God in us (Luke 6:45, John 5:42).
False obedience is where there is no love for God in the heart:

> Psalms 81:15 - Those who hate the LORD would feign obedience, and their doom would last forever. (engbsb2020eb)

That faith that is not based on one's past works is a presently trusting faith (John 14:1, Romans 8:1-4) that will produce good deeds naturally:

> Romans 2:6-11 - He will render to each one according to his works (G2041 erga; deeds): to those who by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, he will give eternal life; but for those who are self-seeking and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, there will be wrath and fury. There will be tribulation and distress for every human being who does (G2716 katergazomenou) evil, the Jew first and also the Greek, but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment) good, the Jew first and also the Greek. For God shows no partiality. (ESV)

> Galatians 6:7-10 - Do not be deceived: God is not mocked, for whatever one sows, that will he also reap. For the one who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption, but the one who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life. And let us not grow weary of doing good, for in due season we will reap, if we do not give up. So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to those who are of the household of faith. (ESV)

> Titus 1:15 - To the pure, all things are pure, but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their minds and their consciences are defiled. (ESV)

I refuse to compromise on the truth of the Scripture to concoct a false humility just for the sake of self-preservation. Real faith is not cowardly, false and selfish, but is, rather, agreeing with God's word and loving God's word, in the fear of God. Real humility in the fear of God says the truth that is that God justifes those who have faith in Jesus as that is what the word of God says, even if one doesn't have confidence that they themself are pleasing God. A person who does not lift his eyes to heaven but beats their hand on their chest saying, "Have mercy, God, on me a sinner!" would confess that God justifies the one who has faith in Christ Jesus, and that what does not proceed from faith is sin, and may be terrified that God is not pleased with them because of their sinfullness.

One way I think Satan probably opposes the gospel of Jesus is when people disbelieve Jesus Christ's words such as His teachings on practicing righteousness (For example, these teachings Luke 6:45, Matthew 13:37-42, I John 3:6).

A person with a satanic and false 'humility' instead of believing the words of Jesus Christ would deny that Jesus's teachings are still true for the Christian (because they have believed a lie/lies from the devil {i.e. doctrines of demons} and have not understood God's word) the deceived person might say, "We're all sinners, and nothing we can do can please God." And this type of false doctrine is utterly satanic, and pitted against the knowledge of God. It does not lead to producing good fruit.

> Jeremiah 7:8-11 - Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit. Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not; And come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations? Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have seen it, saith the LORD. (KJV)

Satanic and false 'humility' says the lie that God justifes the one who does not have faith in an attempt to give themself the rest rather than follow Jesus in love, faith and obedience and allow Jesus to give the rest. Satanic and false 'humility' tries to "steal the rest" like a thief would, to try to enter into the sheepfold "some other way", refusing to believe in Jesus Christ and His words, rather than to do the will of God in order to enter that rest:

> I John 3:5-7 - And ye know that he was manifested to take away our sins; and in him is no sin. Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither known him. Little children, let no man deceive you: he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous. (KJV)

> John 10:1 - Truly, truly, I say to you, he who does not enter the sheepfold by the door but climbs in by another way, that man is a thief and a robber. (ESV)

> Matthew 7:21 - Not everyone who says to me, Lord, Lord, will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the one who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. (ESV)

With real faith in God's actual word someone would not speak falsely of God's word, but would seek to convey faithfully the Scripture, out of the fear of God, entrusting their soul to God who is the faithful Creator while doing good, as Jesus Christ Himself did as an example for us to follow. I'm not saying Jesus is created (Father, Son and Holy Spirit are all Creator), but He is our example to follow. The Christian is called to walk by faith even against the opposition one might get. I've found that opposition can also come from people who are confessing unsound doctrine:

> I Peter 2:15-25 - For this is the will of God, that by doing good you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish people. Live as people who are free, not using your freedom as a cover-up for evil, but living as servants of God. Honor everyone. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the emperor. Servants, be subject to your masters with all respect, not only to the good and gentle but also to the unjust. For this is a gracious thing, when, mindful of God, one endures sorrows while suffering unjustly. For what credit is it if, when you sin and are beaten for it, you endure? But if when you do good and suffer for it you endure, this is a gracious thing in the sight of God. For to this you have been called, because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, so that you might follow in his steps. He committed no sin, neither was deceit found in his mouth. When he was reviled, he did not revile in return; when he suffered, he did not threaten, but continued entrusting himself to him who judges justly. He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed. For you were straying like sheep, but have now returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls. (ESV)

But there is one essential aspect of the Christian faith, that our God is a God who justifies the ungodly who have faith in Him. That speaks of repentance and faith. A person can't simultaneously be committing sin and having faith. But someone who has done evil might then repent (changes their mind) and out of faith in Jesus Christ, call out to God for mercy. God justifies ungodly people who have faith in Him.

Consider that in we in contrast to Jesus Christ, indeed all other humans, have sinned and fallen short of God's glory. But if a sinful person appeals to God for mercy, in faith then God may justify them. But also such a person does want to be healed to practice righteousness ('wash me thoroughly from my iniquity'). But we must continue in faith:

> Romans 4:4-6 - Now to the one who works (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment), his wages are not counted as a gift but as his due. And to the one who does not work (G2038 ergazomenō; is working for payment) but trusts him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is counted as righteousness, just as David also speaks of the blessing of the one to whom God counts righteousness apart from (G5565 chōris) works (G2041 ergōn): (ESV)

> Psalms 51:1-4 - Have mercy on me, O God, according to your steadfast love; according to your abundant mercy blot out my transgressions. To the choirmaster. A Psalm of David, when Nathan the prophet went to him, after he had gone in to Bathsheba. Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin! For I know my transgressions, and my sin is ever before me. Against you, you only, have I sinned and done what is evil in your sight, so that you may be justified in your words and blameless in your judgment. (ESV)

> Luke 18:10-14 - Two men went up into the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector. The Pharisee, standing by himself, prayed thus: God, I thank you that I am not like other men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even like this tax collector. I fast twice a week; I give tithes of all that I get. But the tax collector, standing far off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, God, be merciful to me, a sinner! I tell you, this man went down to his house justified, rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted. (ESV)

> Ezra 8:22 - For I was ashamed to ask the king for a band of soldiers and horsemen to protect us against the enemy on our way, since we had told the king, The hand of our God is for good on all who seek him, and the power of his wrath is against all who forsake him. (ESV)

> John 8:11 - She said, No one, Lord. And Jesus said, Neither do I condemn you; go, and from now on sin no more.]] (ESV)

> Hebrews 3:12-19 - Take care, brothers, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God. But exhort one another every day, as long as it is called today, that none of you may be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. For we share in Christ, if indeed we hold our original confidence firm to the end. As it is said, Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion. For who were those who heard and yet rebelled? Was it not all those who left Egypt led by Moses? And with whom was he provoked for forty years? Was it not with those who sinned, whose bodies fell in the wilderness? And to whom did he swear that they would not enter his rest, but to those who were disobedient? So we see that they were unable to enter because of unbelief. (ESV)

In order to have a genuine faith in Jesus, we need to be people who are after God's commendation. So rather than those who seek appraisal in this world and commendation from even fellow Christians, we need to instead be seeking commendation from God Himself. If a person is a "seeker of the glory that comes from man" then they are not "seekers of the glory that comes from God" (Romans 2:6-11) and they can't have genuine faith in Jesus:

> John 5:28-29,37-47 - Do not marvel at this, for an hour is coming when all who are in the tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who have done good to the resurrection of life, and those who have done evil to the resurrection of judgment. And the Father who sent me has himself borne witness about me. His voice you have never heard, his form you have never seen, and you do not have his word abiding in you, for you do not believe the one whom he has sent. You search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness about me, yet you refuse to come to me that you may have life. I do not receive glory from people. But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. I have come in my Father's name, and you do not receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him. How can you believe, when you receive glory from one another and do not seek the glory that comes from the only God? Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father. There is one who accuses you: Moses, on whom you have set your hope. If you believed Moses, you would believe me; for he wrote of me. But if you do not believe his writings, how will you believe my words? (ESV)

> John 15:8 - By this my Father is glorified, that you bear much fruit and so prove to be my disciples.

Connecting Romans 2:6-11 to John 5:28-29,37-47. We must be those who do good from a love of the Truth and be those who seek the glory that comes from the only God (i.e. seek God's commendation, seek to please God). So we must love Jesus Christ and from the love of Jesus Christ and His words and His deeds.

With regard to specifically the confession of our hope, we should not waver in our faith, and if we stumble then we need to be those who "get back up" and continue on in faith:

> Romans 4:20-22 - yet, with respect to the promise of God, he did not waver in unbelief (570. apistia) but grew strong in faith, giving glory to God, and being fully assured that what God had promised, He was able also to perform. Therefore it was also credited to him as righteousness. (NASB)

> Hebrews 10:19-23 - Therefore, brothers, since we have confidence to enter the holy places by the blood of Jesus, by the new and living way that he opened for us through the curtain, that is, through his flesh, and since we have a great priest over the house of God, let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith, with our hearts sprinkled clean from an evil conscience and our bodies washed with pure water. Let us hold fast the confession of our hope without wavering, for he who promised is faithful. (ESV)

> Hebrews 10:37-39 - For, Yet a little while, and the coming one will come and will not delay; but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls. (ESV)
> I Peter 1:6-9 - In this you rejoice, though now for a little while, if necessary, you have been grieved by various trials, so that the tested genuineness of your faith—more precious than gold that perishes though it is tested by fire—may be found to result in praise and glory and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ. Though you have not seen him, you love him. Though you do not now see him, you believe in him and rejoice with joy that is inexpressible and filled with glory, obtaining the outcome of your faith, the salvation of your souls. (ESV)

So without the love of God in us, and a desire to please God seeking the glory from God, seeking God's approval (as opposed to man's approval), we can't even have genuine faith. Thankfully, God is pleased with us if we receive Jesus, if we love Him, if we have faith in Him:

> John 16:25-28 - I have said these things to you in figures of speech. The hour is coming when I will no longer speak to you in figures of speech but will tell you plainly about the Father. In that day you will ask in my name, and I do not say to you that I will ask the Father on your behalf; for the Father himself loves (G5368 philei) you, because you have loved (G5368 pephilēkate) me and have believed that I came from God. I came from the Father and have come into the world, and now I am leaving the world and going to the Father.

The person who loves Jesus is the person who loves His word (from the treasuring love of God's word) and keeps His commandments (have faith in Jesus Christ and love one another the way we've been commanded to):

> John 14:21-24 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. Judas (not Iscariot) said to him, Lord, how is it that you will manifest yourself to us, and not to the world? Jesus answered him, If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me. (ESV)
> I John 3:23 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. (ESV)

G25 agapáō [Agapé love] focuses on value-driven (a decision-based) love – which of course does not exclude affection! (quote)

> Isaiah 43:4 - Since thou wast precious in my sight, thou hast been honourable, and I have loved thee: therefore will I give men for thee, and people for thy life. (KJV)

God loved us first in sending Jesus Christ to die for our sins and raised to life for our justification so that we might live through faith in Jesus Christ (trusting and abiding in Jesus' teachings out of a love for the truth, out of a love for the light, out of a love for Jesus Christ and His word).

> John 12:35-43 - So Jesus said to them, The light is among you for a little while longer. Walk while you have the light, lest darkness overtake you. The one who walks in the darkness does not know where he is going. While you have the light, believe in the light, that you may become sons of light. When > Jesus had said these things, he departed and hid himself from them. Though he had done so many signs before them, they still did not believe in him, so that the word spoken by the prophet Isaiah might be fulfilled: Lord, who has believed what he heard from us, and to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed? Therefore they could not believe. For again Isaiah said, He has blinded their eyes and hardened their heart, lest they see with their eyes, and understand with their heart, and turn, and I would heal them. Isaiah said these things because he saw his glory and spoke of him. Nevertheless, many even of the authorities believed in him, but for fear of the Pharisees they did not confess it, so that they would not be put out of the synagogue; for they loved the glory that comes from man more than the glory that comes from God. (ESV)

Something has a velocity but the distance travelled is a different thing. Likewise, the Christian can have faith but the works done is a different thing. I'm likening the faith (the heart attitudes) to the velocity, and the works of the past (deeds done) to the distance travelled. So long as a person's heart has been made right and that they are now exercising faith in Jesus working through love, then their past sins are forgiven. That "faith working through love" is what counts doesn't mean it's the works which merit justification:

> Galatians 5:6-7 - For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision counts for anything, but only faith working through love. You were running well. Who hindered you from obeying the truth? (ESV)

> I Timothy 1:5 - The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. (ESV)

See how there is an attitude change going from being a slave to sin to being being a slave to righteousness (a slave to Jesus Christ). With the correct understanding of grace, we must still be obedient to Jesus, ready to do good works, consciously applying Jesus' teachings and commandments, doing the will of God seeking to please God, awake for our Master to come. Being under grace rather than law doesn't mean we no longer need to be obedient:

> Romans 6:10-18 - For the death he died he died to sin, once for all, but the life he lives he lives to God. So you also must consider yourselves dead to sin and alive to God in Christ Jesus. Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal bodies, to make you obey their passions. Do not present your members to sin as instruments for unrighteousness, but present yourselves to God as those who have been brought from death to life, and your members to God as instruments for righteousness. For sin will have no dominion over you, since you are not under law but under grace. What then? Are we to sin because we are not under law but under grace? By no means! Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. (ESV)

> II Timothy 2:21 - Therefore, if anyone cleanses himself from what is dishonorable, he will be a vessel for honorable use, set apart as holy, useful to the master of the house, ready for every good work. (ESV)

> Titus 1:16 - They profess to know God, but they deny him by their works. They are detestable, disobedient, unfit for any good work. (ESV)

> Luke 12:47 - And that servant who knew his master's will but did not get ready or act according to his will, will receive a severe beating. (ESV)

> Matthew 24:40-42 - Then two men will be in the field; one will be taken and one left. Two women will be grinding at the mill; one will be taken and one left. Therefore, stay awake, for you do not know on what day your Lord is coming. (ESV)

Because the law is laid down for the lawless and the disobedient, not for the ”obedient” (those who love the truth, who obey Jesus).

> I Timothy 1:8-9 - Now we know that the law is good, if one uses it lawfully, understanding this, that the law is not laid down for the just but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for those who strike their fathers and mothers, for murderers, (ESV)

Deeds follow those who produce good deeds. We never rely on them for our justification. But God sets up deeds for us to do and God keeps us occupied:

> Revelation of John 14:13 - And I heard a voice from heaven saying, Write this: Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on. Blessed indeed, says the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors, for their deeds follow them! (ESV)

God just wants us to take to the plough (Matthew 21:24-32) and not look back:

> Luke 9:62 - Jesus said to him, No one who puts his hand to the plow and looks back is fit for the kingdom of God. (ESV)

”New creation” (kainē ktisis) means all things become new. So all things become new as we keep the commandments of God. A person gets born-again, their desires are now for God rather than for darkness, they trust in God rather than in darkness, from the good treasure in their heart they produce good deeds, and their past sins are forgiven, and all things become new as we continue walking in faith working through love, we are being washed by the blood of Jesus:

> Galatians 6:15 - For neither circumcision counts for anything, nor uncircumcision, but a new creation (G2537 kainē; new) (G2937 ktisis; creation). (ESV)
> I Corinthians 7:19 - For neither circumcision counts for anything nor uncircumcision, but keeping the commandments of God. (ESV)
> Galatians 5:6-7 - For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision counts for anything, but only faith working through love. You were running well. Who hindered you from obeying the truth? (ESV)
> Ezekiel 36:25-28 - I will sprinkle clean water on you, and you shall be clean from all your uncleannesses, and from all your idols I will cleanse you. And I will give you a new heart, and a new spirit I will put within you. And I will remove the heart of stone from your flesh and give you a heart of flesh. And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes and be careful to obey my rules. You shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers, and you shall be my people, and I will be your God. (ESV)
> I John 1:6-7 - If we say we have fellowship with him while we walk in darkness, we lie and do not practice the truth. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)

We need to ”share Abraham’s faith” so our faith needs to look like Abraham’s faith, and not ”working for” justification but resting from ”working for” (and that doesn’t mean resting from works):

> Romans 4:13-18 - For the promise to Abraham and his offspring that he would be heir of the world did not come through the law but through the righteousness of faith. For if it is the adherents of the law who are to be the heirs, faith is null and the promise is void. For the law brings wrath, but where there is no law there is no transgression. That is why it depends on faith, in order that the promise may rest on grace and be guaranteed to all his offspring—not only to the adherent of the law but also to the one who shares the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all, as it is written, I have made you the father of many nations—in the presence of the God in whom he believed, who gives life to the dead and calls into existence the things that do not exist. In hope he believed against hope, that he should become the father of many nations, as he had been told, So shall your offspring be. (ESV)

> Romans 4:18-25 - In hope he believed against hope, that he should become the father of many nations, as he had been told, So shall your offspring be. He did not weaken in faith when he considered his own body, which was as good as dead (since he was about a hundred years old), or when he considered the barrenness of Sarah's womb. No distrust made him waver concerning the promise of God, but he grew strong in his faith as he gave glory to God, fully convinced that God was able to do what he had promised. That is why his faith was counted to him as righteousness. But the words it was counted to him were not written for his sake alone, but for ours also. It will be counted to us who believe in him who raised from the dead Jesus our Lord, who was delivered up for our trespasses and raised for our justification. (ESV)

> Matthew 12:12 - Of how much more value is a man than a sheep! So it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath. (ESV)

Romans 4:5 is saying that whoever is simply actively believing (trusting, faithing) in God, even obeying Him, accepting what God has said as true, just like Abraham did, but not ”working for” what God has already promised, as in, accepts that God forgives the one who is presently trusting in Jesus Christ (just as Abraham who simply trusted that God was telling the truth was not ”working for” what God had already promised), that person's faith is counted as righteousness. The type of faith in Jesus Christ that we have believes that as long as we are walking by faith in Jesus Christ, our sins are forgiven. Christ's commandments are a law of faith, not works.

Romans 4:5 (Interlinear) To the [one] however not (G3361 mē) working (G2038 ergazomenō) believing (G4100 pisteuonti) however on the [One] justifying the ungodly is reckoned the faith of him for righteousness

But this faith continues to be correctable by God from His word. If the word of God contradicts a false belief which someone has, then the person who has faith in Jesus receives God's word as correction and comes into agreement with God.

Faith in Jesus Christ looks like by faith obeying Him, just as Abraham did (Hebrews 11:8) and continues to agree with the same Jesus (II John 1:9-10).

So we mere human persons of God's creation are not justified on the basis of our own righteousness (how good we are, even how good we endeavour to be):

> Isaiah 45:22-25 - Turn to me and be saved, all the ends of the earth! For I am God, and there is no other. By myself I have sworn; from my mouth has gone out in righteousness a word that shall not return: To me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear allegiance. Only in the LORD, it shall be said of me, are righteousness and strength; to him shall come and be ashamed all who were incensed against him. In the LORD all the offspring of Israel shall be justified and shall glory. (ESV)

> Romans 3:4,20,26-28,31 - By no means! Let God be true though every one were a liar, as it is written, That you may be justified in your words, and prevail when you are judged. For by works of the law no human being will be justified in his sight, since through the law comes knowledge of sin. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. Do we then overthrow the law by this faith? By no means! On the contrary, we uphold the law. (ESV)

But the word of Truth (Jesus' words, the gospel, Jesus Christ Himself) in the heart, when believed, treasured, and trusted and hoped in will make a person good from the inside out:

> Titus 1:15 - To the pure, all things are pure, but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their minds and their consciences are defiled. (ESV)

> Isaiah 40:8 - The grass withers, the flower fades, but the word of our God will stand forever. (ESV)
> Luke 21:33 - Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away. (ESV)

One's own righteousness is not enough to be saved. It must be based on Jesus' righteousness:

> I John 4:10 - In this is love, not that we have loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. (ESV)
> I John 4:15-17 - Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. By this is love perfected with us, so that we may have confidence for the day of judgment, because as he is so also are we in this world. (ESV)
> I John 4:19 - We love because he first loved us. (ESV)
> II John 1:6 - And this is love, that we walk according to his commandments; this is the commandment, just as you have heard from the beginning, so that you should walk in it. (ESV)

It's not enough to rely on one's own righteousness, to rely on ”being law-abiding enough”. We do need to rely on God that through faith in Jesus we can be forgiven our lawless deeds. Because we all need forgiveness from God in order to be able to move forward with a good conscience:

> Romans 4:4-8 - Now to the one who works, his wages are not counted as a gift but as his due. And to the one who does not work but trusts him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is counted as righteousness, just as David also speaks of the blessing of the one to whom God counts righteousness apart from works: Blessed are those whose lawless deeds are forgiven, and whose sins are covered; blessed is the man against whom the Lord will not count his sin. (ESV)
> I Timothy 1:5 - The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. (ESV)

So what matters is who you have faith in because we follow who we have faith in (Matthew 15:13-14; John 12:23-26). A person is justified by their faith in Jesus Christ. We're not justified by having faith in ourself. We need to be found by God as doers (G4163 poiētai) of the law of Christ which is a law of faith, and it's faith in Him, Christ:

> Romans 3:26-28 - It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. (ESV)
> Psalms 103:17-18 - But the steadfast love of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting on those who fear him, and his righteousness to children's children, to those who keep his covenant and remember to do his commandments. (ESV)

> So, when Jesus does the whole faith the size of a mustard seed thing, he's combating the idea of, ”Hey, man, you're saved by faith generally, and it just needs to be real strong.” And he's going, ”Actually, it's, let me just pull my punch.” He's going, ”Actually, it's not the strength of your faith that saves you. It's the object of your faith that saves you.” So to put it in the words of like uh uh uh reformation theology um it is actually not true that Christians are saved by faith alone.
> Not true. People are not saved by faith alone. People are saved by faith in Christ alone.
> And faith in anything else will not lead to salvation. It will lead to damnation, because there is one name under heaven by which men must be saved. So here again, here's a point. It's not faith that saves you. It's > what your faith is in that saves you. To apply it to what Tucker said, faith in general isn't good. It depends on what your faith is in.

> If you're drowning and somebody throws you a life preserver, faith in that life preserver that cause you to cause you to grab it, that's good. That's going to be a good thing. If you're drowning and somebody throws you a bowling ball, it does not matter how much you believe grabbing onto that bowling ball will save you. You can grab on with all your might. You're going to sink. Okay? So, it's not the presence of faith that saves you. It's the presence of faith or the strength of faith that saves you. It's the object of your faith that saves you. In the words of the Puritan Richard Sibs, to encourage your soul, ”A weak faith may lay hold on a strong Christ.”
> So faith in Jesus and faith in demonic false gods are not in the same category.

God purchases, redeems us so that we can love in the Truth / reality, that our faith would be in God, in the Truth:

> I Peter 1:14-25 - As obedient children, do not be conformed to the passions of your former ignorance, but as he who called you is holy, you also be holy in all your conduct, since it is written, You shall be holy, for I am holy. And if you call on him as Father who judges impartially according to each one's deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile, knowing that you were ransomed from the futile ways inherited from your forefathers, not with perishable things such as silver or gold, but with the precious blood of Christ, like that of a lamb without blemish or spot. He was foreknown before the foundation of the world but was made manifest in the last times for your sake, who through him are believers in God, who raised him from the dead and gave him glory, so that your faith and hope are in God. Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, since you have been born again, not of perishable seed but of imperishable, through the living and abiding word of God; for All flesh is like grass and all its glory like the flower of grass. The grass withers, and the flower falls, but the word of the Lord remains forever. And this word is the good news that was preached to you. (ESV)

> Revelation of John 20:13-14 - And the sea gave up the dead who were in it, Death and Hades (86. hadés) gave up the dead who were in them, and they were judged, each one of them, according to what they had done. Then Death and Hades were thrown into the lake of fire. This is the second death, the lake of fire. (ESV)

God works through us as we hold our faith in Jesus Christ:

> John 6:27-29 - Do not labor for the food that perishes, but for the food that endures to eternal life, which the Son of Man will give to you. For on him God the Father has set his seal. Then they said to him, What must we do, to be doing the works of God? Jesus answered them, This is the work of God, that you believe in him whom he has sent. (ESV)

What is uttely essential is that we have faith in the same God who raised Jesus Christ from the dead, Jesus Christ who was delivered up for our trespasses and raised for our justification. So when holding faith in God we also can also not deny Jesus Christ or that would not be true faith in God. So our faith in God, while it does look like Abraham's faith (by faith obeying God, trusting God's promises, hoping in God, having the fear of God not wanting to sin against God, agape loving God more than anyone or anything), it also is not in disagreement that we have all fallen short of God's glory having committed sin, and have needed Jesus Christ to have been delivered up for our trespasses and raised for our justification. Because we all have sinned and are justified by His grace as a gift, though the redemption that is in Christ Jesus:

> Romans 4:16-25 - That is why it depends on faith, in order that the promise may rest on grace and be guaranteed to all his offspring—not only to the adherent of the law but also to the one who shares the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all, as it is written, I have made you the father of many nations—in the presence of the God in whom he believed, who gives life to the dead and calls into existence the things that do not exist. In hope he believed against hope, that he should become the > father of many nations, as he had been told, So shall your offspring be. He did not weaken in faith when he considered his own body, which was as good as dead (since he was about a hundred years old), or when he considered the barrenness of Sarah's womb. No distrust made him waver concerning the promise of God, but he grew strong in his faith as he gave glory to God, fully convinced that God was able to do what he had promised. That is why his faith was counted to him as righteousness. But the words it was counted to him were not written for his sake alone, but for ours also. It will be counted to us who believe in him who raised from the dead Jesus our Lord, who was delivered up for our trespasses and raised for our justification. (ESV)

> Psalms 103:17-18 - But the steadfast love of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting on those who fear him, and his righteousness to children's children, to those who keep his covenant and remember to do his commandments. (ESV)

Justification and propitiation are received by faith in Jesus Christ (by trusting and obeying Jesus Christ). The reason why faith in Jesus Christ is effective for propitiation is because of Jesus Christ's blood:

> Romans 3:21-26 - But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from (G5565 chōris) the law (G3551 nomou), although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. (ESV)

The power of God to salvation is by God's grace. In the Lord (i.e. abiding in Jesus' commandments, holding faith in Jesus Christ and having love for one-another as commanded, one's work is not in vain because it's empowered by God's grace):

> Romans 1:16 - For I am not ashamed of the gospel, for it is the power (G1411 dynamis; [the] power, strength, ability, might, miracle, miraculous power) of God for salvation to everyone who believes, to the Jew first and also to the Greek. (ESV)
> Luke 6:19 - And all the crowd sought to touch him, for power (G1411 dynamis; [the] power, strength, ability, might, miracle, miraculous power) came out from him and healed them all. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 1:17-18 - For Christ did not send me to baptize, but to preach the gospel, not in cleverness of speech, so that the cross of Christ would not be made void (G2758 kenōthē; be emptied of power. From kenoó: To empty, to make void, to nullify). For the word of the cross is foolishness to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power [[strongs:G1411][(G1411 dynamis; [the] power, strength, ability, might, miracle, miraculous power)]] of God. (NASB)
> I Corinthians 15:56-58 - The sting of death is sin, and the power (G1411 dynamis; [the] power, strength, ability, might, miracle, miraculous power) of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. Therefore, my beloved brothers, be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that in the Lord your labor is not in vain. (ESV)

When we are weak, God gives us His strength:

> II Corinthians 12:9 - But he said to me, My grace is sufficient for you, for my power (G1411 dynamis; [the] power, strength, ability, might, miracle, miraculous power) is made perfect (G5055 teleitai; is perfected, made complete) in weakness (G769 astheneia; weakness, infirmity, sickness). Therefore I will boast all the more gladly of my weaknesses (G769 astheneia; weakness, infirmity, sickness), so that the power [[strongs:G1411][(G1411 dynamis; [the] power, strength, ability, might, miracle, miraculous power)]] of Christ may rest upon me. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 12:10 - For the sake of Christ, then, I am content with weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions, and calamities. For when I am weak, then I am strong. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 1:25-29 - For the foolishness of God is wiser than men, and the weakness of God is stronger than men. For consider your calling, brothers: not many of you were wise according to worldly standards, not many were powerful, not many were of noble birth. But God chose what is foolish in the world to shame the wise; God chose what is weak in the world to shame the strong; God chose what is low and despised in the world, even things that are not, to bring to nothing things that are, so that no human being might boast in the presence of God. (ESV)

> Proverbs 2:6-8 - For the LORD gives wisdom; from his mouth come knowledge and understanding; he stores up sound wisdom for the upright; he is a shield to those who walk in integrity, guarding the paths of justice and watching over the way of his saints. (ESV)

How I might liken this empowerment to could be like a snail competing in a race against cheetahs and one way or another that snail will win the race. If we are holding faith in Jesus Christ, faithfully trusting and obeying Him, leaving us in a position where by worldy wisdom we are ”poor”, ”weak” or unequipped”, God might (and would, I believe) empower us to continue doing His will:

- Consider David slaying Goliath (I Samuel 17:37-50)
- Gideon and the 300 men against the Midianites and Amalekites (Judges 7:12-22)

> Judges 7:12 - And the Midianites and the Amalekites and all the people of the East lay along the valley like locusts in abundance, and their camels were without number, as the sand that is on the seashore in abundance. (ESV)

> Judges 7:20-22 - Then the three companies blew the trumpets and broke the jars. They held in their left hands the torches, and in their right hands the trumpets to blow. And they cried out, A sword for the LORD and for Gideon! Every man stood in his place around the camp, and all the army ran. They cried out and fled. When they blew the 300 trumpets, the LORD set every man’s sword against his comrade and against all the army. And the army fled as far as Beth-shittah toward Zererah, as far as the border of Abel-meholah, by Tabbath. (ESV)

It’s a supernatural strength:

> Judges 16:15-17 - And she said to him, How can you say, I love you, when your heart is not with me? You have mocked me these three times, and you have not told me where your great strength lies. And when she pressed him hard with her words day after day, and urged him, his soul was vexed to death. And he told her all his heart, and said to her, A razor has never come upon my head, for I have been a Nazirite to God from my mother’s womb. If my head is shaved, then my strength will leave me, and I shall become weak and be like any other man. (ESV)

We abide in Jesus keeping Jesus’ commandments, having love for one another:

> I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

> I John 4:16 - So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. (ESV)

Our faith in Jesus Christ, hoping in Jesus Christ, is not in vain if Jesus Christ was raised from the dead. Believing that Jesus was raised from the dead, we are motivated to follow Him. Jesus is the Way, so we follow Him through faith in Him, trusting Him, hoping in Him, obeying Him:

> I Corinthians 15:14-16 - And if Christ has not been raised, then our preaching is in vain and your faith is in vain. We are even found to be misrepresenting God, because we testified about God that he raised Christ, whom he did not raise if it is true that the dead are not raised. For if the dead are not raised, not even Christ has been raised. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 15:17-18 - And if Christ has not been raised, your faith is futile and you are still in your sins. Then those also who have fallen asleep in Christ have perished. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 15:19 - If in this life only we have hoped in Christ, we are of all people most to be pitied. (ESV)

The just justification that is from God is the receiving of the propitiation, and is something God gives to those who He commends for having faith in Jesus.

Faith is a ”way of life”:

> Hebrews 13:7 - Remember your leaders, those who spoke to you the word of God. Consider the outcome of their way of life, and imitate their faith. (ESV)

> Hebrews 10:37-39 - For, Yet a little while, and the coming one will come and will not delay; _but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls. (ESV)

By faith in Jesus Christ, trusting and obeying Jesus Christ (i.e. doing as He commanded, having faith in Him with love for one-another), God declares us to be walking rightly, and we are freed from our sins.

God is just when He justifies. God is right when He declares someone is walking rightly. When God justifies a person, then they have His righteousness:

> Romans 3:21-26 - But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from (G5565 chōris) the law (G3551 nomou), although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified (G1344 dikaioumenoi; being justified) by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just (G1342 dikaion;) and the justifier (G1344 dikaiounta; justifying) of the one who has faith in Jesus. (ESV)

> Psalms 103:17-18 - But the steadfast love of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting on those who fear him, and his righteousness to children's children, to those who keep his covenant and remember to do his commandments. (ESV)

Having repented (changed our minds), we continue walking accordingly:

> James 1:21-25 - Therefore put away all filthiness and rampant wickedness and receive with meekness the implanted word, which is able to save your souls. But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves. For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks intently at his natural face in a mirror. For he looks at himself and goes away and at once forgets what he was like. But the one who looks into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and perseveres, being no hearer who forgets but a doer who acts, he will be blessed in his doing. (ESV)

> Ezekiel 18:27-28 - Again, when a wicked person turns away from the wickedness he has committed and does what is just and right, he shall save his life. Because he considered and turned away from all the transgressions that he had committed, he shall surely live; he shall not die. (ESV)

And not turn back:

> Ezekiel 18:26 - When a righteous person turns away from his righteousness and does injustice, he shall die for it; for the injustice that he has done he shall die. (ESV)

> Hebrews 10:34-39 - For you had compassion on those in prison, and you joyfully accepted the plundering of your property, since you knew that you yourselves had a better possession and an abiding one. Therefore do not throw away your confidence, which has a great reward. For you have need of endurance, so that when you have done the will of God you may receive what is promised. For, Yet a little while, and the coming one will come and will not delay; but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls. (ESV)

G1342 díkaios upright, righteous, virtuous, keeping the commands of God

> Romans 5:19 - For as by the one man's disobedience the many were made sinners, so by the one man's obedience the many will be made righteous (G1342 dikaioi; righteous). (ESV)

> Ecclesiastes 12:13 - The end of the matter; all has been heard. Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man. (ESV)

We don't gives ourselves the "pat on the back" and tell ourselves "well done for doing the will of God". Rather, we endeavour to receive this commendation from God as we obediently do His will.

> Hebrews 11:39 - And all these, though commended (G3140 martyrēthentes; having been commended) through their faith, did not receive what was promised, (ESV)

G3140 martureó To bear witness, testify, give evidence, affirm that one has seen, heard, or experienced something.

As Christians we endeavour to be justified in Christ as we trust and obey Him:

> II Corinthians 10:5,7,11-12,18 - We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, Look at what is before your eyes. If anyone is confident that he is Christ's, let him remind himself that just as he is Christ's, so also are we. Let such a person understand that what we say by letter when absent, we do when present. Not that we dare to classify or compare ourselves with some of those who are commending themselves. But when they measure themselves by one another and compare themselves with one another, they are without understanding. For it is not the one who commends (G4921 synistanōn: commending) himself who is approved, but the one whom the Lord commends. (ESV)

G4921 synistáō (from 4862 /sýn, "union, together with" and 2476 /hístēmi, "to stand") – properly, "stand together," referring to facts "lining up" with each other to support (commend) something.

We are freed from our sins by Jesus' blood when we love in reality from a position of having been loved by God:

> Revelation of John 1:4-6 - John to the seven churches that are in Asia: Grace to you and peace from him who is and who was and who is to come, and from the seven spirits who are before his throne, and from Jesus Christ the faithful witness, the firstborn of the dead, and the ruler of kings on earth. To him who loves us and has freed us from our sins by his blood and made us a kingdom, priests to his God and Father, to him be glory and dominion forever and ever. Amen. (ESV)

> I John 3:14 - We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. (ESV)
> John 8:34-35,36,42,51 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death. (ESV)

Faith in the blood of Jesus looks like by faith obeying Jesus Christ as Abraham did (Hebrews 11:8), while also having faith in the passion (Isaiah 53:5), death and resurrection of Jesus Christ (Galatians 2:20). We trust and obey God, trusting and obeying Jesus, not under the old code but in the new life of the Spirit, so we endeavour to please God, but if we sin then we confess them and we have an advocate with Father God, Jesus Christ, the Righteous, and if we abide in Jesus' commandments, we abide in Jesus and have access to propitiation. Jesus Christ's teachings and commandments for us are all spirit and life, grace and truth, and it's not going back "under law rather than grace" to believe we must be "doers of Christ's law", because it's a law of faith, not works. We trust and obey Jesus, but our faith isn't relying on us being able to carry out perfect deeds, but we still have a heart of obedience that desires, even tries to please God with our actions, but like Paul, sometimes what we end up doing isn't what we really want, and indwelling sin is not grounds for condemnation. Rather, those who abide in Jesus Christ, abiding in Jesus' commandments are not condemned. So the intention of the heart is important, even the intention of the heart to obey Jesus out of faith. And Jesus has commanded us to have faith in Him and to love one another as He commanded:

- Trusting that Jesus Christ's propitiation for sin is available to wash away one's sin. This is available even after we have first come to faith
  - Galatians 2:20 - I have been crucified with Christ. It is no longer I who live, but Christ who lives in me. And the life I now live in the flesh I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me. (ESV)
  - I John 4:9-10 - In this the love of God was made manifest among us, that God sent his only Son into the world, so that we might live through him. In this is love, not that we have loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. (ESV)
  - Romans 3:21-31 - But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from (G5565 chōris: "alongside but distinct from i.e. isolated from" rather than "completely without", as used in Matt 14:21. So, "manifested alongside but distinct from. i.e. separate from") the law, although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. Or is God the God of Jews only? Is he not the God of Gentiles also? Yes, of Gentiles also, since God is one. He will justify the circumcised by faith and the uncircumcised through faith. Do we then overthrow the law by this faith? By no means! On the contrary, we uphold the law. (ESV)
    - And by saying "apart from the law", it's talking about the law of Moses (which came in after Abraham). So in talking about the faith being distinct from the Mosaic law, it's not taking obedience out of the equation because by faith Abraham obeyed. We are to by faith obey Jesus Christ directly.
    - Matthew 14:21 - And those who ate were about five thousand men, besides (G5565 chōris) women and children. (ESV)
      - Specifying the number of men, it's not saying there were only men, but that the count is counting only the men.

      - So in Romans 3:21-31, the 'righteousness of God "apart from" the law' is not saying the law doesn't exist alongside the faith but that it's the faith in Jesus Christ that is counted, rather than the works of the law. We shouldn't rely on the works of the law, though good deeds do naturally come from good faith, and we should certainly strive to trust and obey God better, increasingly, with less failure. Paul himself said sometimes he doesn't do what he wants to do. So if he wants to do what is right, the heart is right, he has the right faith. Intentions matter. Heart faith, obedience, hope, love, fear of God matters.
      - Romans 3:28 - For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from (G5565 chōris) works of the law. (ESV)
      - James 2:26 - For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, so also faith apart (G5565 chōris) from works is dead. (ESV)
      - Galatians 3:10 - For as many as are of the works of the Law are under a curse; for it is written, "Cursed is everyone who does not abide by all things written in the book of the law, to perform them." (NASB)
    - John 15:5 - I am the vine; you are the branches. Whoever abides in me and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from (G5565 chōris) me you can do nothing. (ESV)
      - So we must "abide in Jesus".
    - John 1:3 - All things were made through him, and without (G5565 chōris) him was not any thing made that was made. (ESV)
    - Romans 3:28 - For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from (G5565 chōris) works of the law. (ESV)
      - The faith (trusting, loving, obedient to, the truth) and the works (successfully carrying out intended actions from a desire to please God) are distinct though the faith does try (II Peter 1:5-10, Luke 13:24-27)
    - Romans 7:9 - I was once alive apart from (G5565 chōris) the law, but when the commandment came, sin came alive and I died. (ESV)
  - I John 2:1-6 - My little children, I am writing these things to you so that you may not sin. But if anyone does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. He is the propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only but also for the sins of the whole world. And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)
  - John 13:7-11 - Jesus answered him, What I am doing you do not understand now, but afterward you will understand. Peter said to him, You shall never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I do not wash you, you have no share with me. Simon Peter said to him, Lord, not my feet only but also my hands and my head! Jesus said to him, The one who has bathed does not need to wash, except for his feet, but is completely clean. And you are clean, but not every one of you. For he knew who was to betray him; that was why he said, Not all of you are clean. (ESV)

- Believing what is said by Jesus' Apostles regarding sanctification and doing the will of God:
  - That we are sanctified by faith (actively trusting in, hoping in) in Jesus Christ
    - Acts 26:18 - to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me. (ESV)
  - That we are sanctified by obedience to the Truth for a sincere love of our family in Christ
    - I Peter 1:22 - Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, (ESV)
    - I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

- God has described what this love looks like in several places
  - Colossians 3:8-10 - But now you must put them all away: anger, wrath, malice, slander, and obscene talk from your mouth. Do not lie to one another, seeing that you have put off the old self with its practices and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator. (ESV)
  - Galatians 6:2-6 - Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ. For if anyone thinks he is something, when he is nothing, he deceives himself. But let each one test his own work, and then his reason to boast will be in himself alone and not in his neighbor. For each will have to bear his own load. One who is taught the word must share all good things with the one who teaches. (ESV)
  - Romans 13:10 - Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. (ESV)
  - Mark 10:17-21 - And as he was setting out on his journey, a man ran up and knelt before him and asked him, Good Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life? And Jesus said to him, Why do you call me good? No one is good except God alone. You know the commandments: Do not murder, Do not commit adultery, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honor your father and mother. And he said to him, Teacher, all these I have kept from my youth. And Jesus, looking at him, loved him, and said to him, You lack one thing: go, sell all that you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me.
  - John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)
  - Agape love is definitely valuing, treasuring, preserving
  - Luke 6:45 - The good person out of the good treasure of his heart produces good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure produces evil, for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks. (ESV)
  - I Corinthians 16:14 - Let all that you do be done in love. (ESV)
  - Isaiah 43:4 - Since thou wast precious in my sight, thou hast been honourable, and I have loved thee: therefore will I give men for thee, and people for thy life. (KJV)

When contrasting being ”under law” to being ”under grace”, Paul is takling about people who ”rely” on the ”works” (the exterior stuff) of the law, the Mosaic Law (which came in after Abraham), who are under law. But the law of Christ which we are 'under' (abide in) is a different type of law, and the kind of law that it is is a law of faith. It's about the heart. And like Abraham, we should believe in, trust in, trust, agape love and obey Jesus. And just like Abraham's faith, our faith may be tested and a person may be justified by works, like Abraham's faith and that wasn't ”works of the law of Moses” which came in later (to increase the trespass). But we don't ”rely” on the justification by works of faith in Jesus, though that type of thing may happen.

Christians still need to be law-abiding - not ”under the law”, but still lawful / law-abiding.

People who are ”in-Christ”, abiding in Jesus Christ's commandments (Jesus Christ who is the telos of the Law), they are not counted among the law-breakers (Matthew 13:38-43).

> I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 9:21 - To those outside the law I became as one outside the law (not being outside the law of God but under the law (G1772 ennomos) of Christ) that I might win those outside the law.

We certainly must have love for God and one-another:

> Luke 6:9-10 - And Jesus said to them, I ask you, is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good or to do harm, to save life or to destroy it? And after looking around at them all he said to him, Stretch out your hand. And he did so, and his hand was restored. (ESV)
> Luke 8:21 - But he answered them, My mother and my brothers are those who hear the word of God and do it. (ESV)
> Matthew 12:12 - Of how much more value is a man than a sheep! So it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath. (ESV)

This makes it it quite clear that we must be law-abiding (lawful). The righteous are law-abiding and trust Jesus Christ and are ”doers” of His word:

> Matthew 13:38-43 - The field is the world, and the good seed is the children of the kingdom. The weeds are the sons of the evil one, and the enemy who sowed them is the devil. The harvest is the close of the age, and the reapers are angels. Just as the weeds are gathered and burned with fire, so will it be at the close of the age. The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of sin and all law-breakers (G4160 poiountas 3588 tēn G458 anomian; practicing lawlessness), and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear. (ESV)

Maintain faith in Jesus. Remain in Him:

> John 15:4-7 - Remain in Me, and I will remain in you. Just as no branch can bear fruit by itself unless it remains in the vine, neither can you bear fruit unless you remain in Me. I am the vine and you are the branches. The one who remains in Me, and I in him, will bear much fruit. For apart from Me you can do nothing. If anyone does not remain in Me, he is like a branch that is thrown away and withers. Such branches are gathered up, thrown into the fire, and burned. If you remain in Me and My words remain in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be done for you. (engbsb2020eb)

Analogy for abiding in Jesus Since Jesus is the Telos of the Law and we're not ”under the Law” but ”law-abiding” to Christ's law then the person ”under the Law” trying to fulfill the whole law might be compared to a person who is walking to a train station but the journey is impossibly difficult. God has done this in Jesus Christ. What is impossible for man to have done, Jesus did. And the other thing God does which is impossible for man to do without God is put us into Christ. According to the metaphor, then, God then puts us at the train station. And the person who is ”law-abiding” to Christ's law would be someone who has come to Jesus, someone who Father God has drawn to Christ, and is now at the metaphorical train station (Jesus Christ who is the Telos of the law). God put them at the train station in Jesus. And Jesus asks us to ”remain in Him”. And so the analogy would be ”remain at the train station” (i.e. You're already there, just don't leave the train station). Jesus won't expell you (i.e. no-one can snatch us from His hand) but He asks you to remain (i.e. abide) in Him. Don't go off wondering away. Don't leave the metaphorical train station. We examine ourselves to see if we are in the faith. For example, if we hate our brother then we have left the train station. If we do not believe Jesus is the Son of God then we have left the train station, and like the prodigal son, we must return to God by repentance. If we the branches remain in a place of not abiding in Christ then we wither. And at the end of the age the branches that are not abiding in Jesus are collected and burned.

I like Rich's preaching because he teaches Christ's teaching. And today it was encouraging to listen to because I can hear Jesus' Christ's teaching being preached trusting that His (Christ's) teaching is trustworthy. I get the impression from Rich's preaching that he genuinely trusts God's word and preaches it, even the difficult bits.

To be saved, we must trust in what is true, we must agape love the truth:

> II Thessalonians 2:9-12 - The coming of the lawless one is by the activity of Satan with all power and false signs and wonders, and with all wicked deception for those who are perishing, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. Therefore God sends them a strong delusion, so that they may believe what is false, in order that all may be condemned who did not believe the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness. (ESV)

Saving faith is not only faith in the truth but it is also love for the truth (not only God's word but also those who have been begotton of God, and that includes those who love in the truth). We absolutely must love God one-another in the truth (II John 1:1-4):

> I Corinthians 13:4-8 - Love is patient and kind; love does not envy or boast; it is not arrogant or rude. Love bears (G4722 stegei; it bears; to cover with silence (endure patiently)) all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things. You embrace radical monastic dispossession out of love for God and for the other. But if you don't do it with love, it's worthless. You even offer your b body in martyrdom. What objectively is the highest offering you can give Christ, your own life to lay down your life for a friend because he laid his life down for you. But if you don't do it from the motive of love, your martyr effort is in vain.

A person either has faith in the truth, or faith in a lie. Even trusting in idols is trusting in lies:

> Jeremiah 29:31 - Send to all the exiles, saying, Thus says the LORD concerning Shemaiah of Nehelam: Because Shemaiah had prophesied to you when I did not send him, and has made you trust in a lie, (ESV)

> Jeremiah 28:15 - And Jeremiah the prophet said to the prophet Hananiah, Listen, Hananiah, the LORD has not sent you, and you have made this people trust in a lie. (ESV)

> Isaiah 42:17 - They are turned back and utterly put to shame, who trust in carved idols, who say to metal images, You are our gods. (ESV)

> Habakkuk 2:18 - What profit is an idol when its maker has shaped it, a metal image, a teacher of lies? For its maker trusts in his own creation when he makes speechless idols! (ESV)

Real speech comes from the heart, so AI can still be called a speechless idol, even if it produces the imitation of speech or writing:

> Revelation of John 9:20-21 - The rest of mankind, who were not killed by these plagues, did not repent of the works of their hands nor give up worshiping demons and idols of gold and silver and bronze and stone and wood, which cannot see or hear or walk, nor did they repent of their murders or their sorceries or their sexual immorality or their thefts. (ESV)

> Jeremiah 23:25-40 - I have heard what the prophets have said who prophesy lies in my name, saying, I have dreamed, I have dreamed! How long shall there be lies in the heart of the prophets who prophesy lies, and who prophesy the deceit of their own heart, who think to make my people forget my name by their dreams that they tell one another, even as their fathers forgot my name for Baal? Let the prophet who has a dream tell the dream, but let him who has my word speak my word faithfully. What has straw in common with wheat? declares the LORD. Is not my word like fire, declares the LORD, and like a hammer that breaks the rock in pieces? Therefore, behold, I am against the prophets, declares the LORD, who steal my words from one another. Behold, I am against the prophets, declares the LORD, who use their tongues and declare, declares the LORD. Behold, I am against those who prophesy lying dreams, declares the LORD, and who tell them and lead my people astray by their lies and their recklessness, when I did not send them or charge them. So they do not profit this people at all, declares the LORD. When one of this people, or a prophet or a priest asks you, What is the burden of the LORD? you shall say to them, You are the burden, and I will cast you off, declares the LORD. And as for the prophet, priest, or one of the people who says, The burden of the LORD, I will punish that man and his household. Thus shall you say, every one to his neighbor and every one to his brother, What has the LORD answered? or What has the LORD spoken? But the burden of the LORD you shall mention no more, for the burden is every man's own word, and you pervert the words of the living God, the LORD of hosts, our God. Thus you shall say to the prophet, What has the LORD answered you? or What has the LORD spoken? But if you say, The burden of the LORD, > thus says the LORD, Because you have said these words, The burden of the LORD, when I sent to you, saying, You shall not say, The burden of the LORD, therefore, behold, I will surely lift you up and cast you away from my presence, you and the city that I gave to you and your fathers. And I will bring upon you everlasting reproach and perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten. (ESV)

Faith is a ”way of life”:

> Hebrews 13:7 - Remember your leaders, those who spoke to you the word of God. Consider the outcome of their way of life, and imitate their faith. (ESV)

As Christians we endeavour to be justified in Christ as we trust and obey Him:

> II Corinthians 10:5,7,11-12,18 - We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, Look at what is before your eyes. If anyone is confident that he is Christ’s, let him remind himself that just as he is Christ’s, so also are we. Let such a person understand that what we say by letter when absent, we do when present. Not that we dare to classify or compare ourselves with some of those who are commending themselves. But when they measure themselves by one another and compare themselves with one another, they are without understanding. For it is not the one who commends himself who is approved, but the one whom the Lord commends. (ESV)

Trusting in Jesus Christ, we should be abiding in His teachings, including His commandments.

Abraham just obeyed God, trusting God. And so should we. God sees what’s in our heart. We focus on trusting and obeying God’s commandments from the heart. We walk by faith and not by sight (II Corinthians 5:6-7). Not focusing on the visible exterior results of our obedience, but simply by faith obeying Jesus Christ sincerely from the heart:

Those in the kingdom of God hold faith in Jesus and serve Jesus:

> I John 2:3-6 - And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to (G3784 opheilei; ought to, obligated to, has a duty to) walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

And we keep ourselves in the love of God. We continue to keep believing that God has loved us in sending Jesus Christ (I John 4:6-19), and at the same time agape loving one another (I John 3:21-24) in the way He both demonstrated and commanded:

> Jude 1:18-21 - They said to you, In the last time there will be scoffers, following their own ungodly passions. It is these who cause divisions, worldly people, devoid of the Spirit. But you, beloved, build yourselves up in your most holy faith; pray in the Holy Spirit; keep yourselves in the love of God (G26 agapē: [the] love) (G2316 Theou: of God), waiting for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ that leads to eternal life. (ESV)

Being 'philos with (friends with, allured by, attracted to)', money , self, pleasure, rather than ([[strongs:G3123][(G3123 mallon: rather [Adv])]]) being allured by God (wanting to be around God) is bad. But we should avoid those who are attracted to such things rather than/instead of God. We want to be attracted to God, and certainly must be attracted to God moreso than by pleasure, money, self, etc. And we are instructed to avoid such people who are drawn to such things in preference to God. We are to avoid enemies of God:

> II Timothy 3:1-5 - But understand this, that in the last days there will come times of difficulty. For people will be lovers of self (G5367 philautoi: lovers of self [Adj-NMP]), lovers of money (G5366 philargyroi: lovers of money [Adj-NMP]), proud, arrogant, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, heartless, unappeasable, slanderous, without self-control, brutal, not loving good (G865 aphilagathoi: without love of good [Adj-NMP]), treacherous, reckless, swollen with conceit, lovers of pleasure (G5369 philēdonoi: lovers of pleasure [Adj-NMP]) rather than (G3123 mallon: rather [Adv]) lovers of God (G5377 philotheoi: lovers of God [Adj-NMP]), having the appearance of godliness, but denying its power. Avoid such people. (ESV)
> James 4:4 - You adulterous people! Do you not know that friendship with the world is enmity with God? Therefore whoever wishes to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God. (ESV)
> I John 4:16 - So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. (ESV)
> John 15:9-10 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. (ESV)

A quote from "Mere Christianity" by C.S. Lewis. (youtube.com: {@ TruthUnites } @time: 11 min 47 se

> All sorts of people are fond of repeating the Christian statement that 'God is love.' But they seem not to notice that the words 'God is love' have no real meaning unless God contains at least two Persons. Love is something that one person has for another person. If God was a single person, then before the world was made, He was not love.

And we serve in the strength that God provides (II Corinthians 9:8). If we find ourselves in a position to demonstrate serving others out of love, and the Scriptures have a lot to say about what that that love looks like (such as in the 10 commandments as Jesus explained them (Matthew 5:22,28,32,34-37,39,44-45,27-28,30-31,35,40). For example, love does not bear false witness about their neighbour. Love does not covet anything of your neighbor's. Love does not lust or murder from the heart. See Romans 13:9-10), then we should do so and give God the glory:

> I Peter 4:11 - whoever speaks, as one who speaks oracles of God; whoever serves, as one who serves by the strength that God supplies—in order that in everything God may be glorified through Jesus Christ. To him belong glory and dominion forever and ever. Amen. (ESV)

> I Peter 4:12-19 - Beloved, do not be surprised at the fiery trial when it comes upon you to test you, as though something strange were happening to you. But rejoice insofar as you share Christ's sufferings, that you may also rejoice and be glad when his glory is revealed. If you are insulted for the name of Christ, you are blessed, because the Spirit of glory and of God rests upon you. But let none of you suffer as a murderer or a thief or an evildoer or as a meddler. Yet if anyone suffers as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in that name. For it is time for judgment to begin at the household of God; and if it begins with us, what will be the outcome for those who do not obey the gospel of God? And If the righteous is scarcely saved, what will become of the ungodly and the sinner? Therefore let those who suffer according to God's will entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good. (ESV)

All of us have a duty to keep God's commandments for us, (notably Christ's commandments). The strong [of faith, of obedience, at keeping God's commandments] are obligated to bear with the failings of those who are weak [of faith, of obedience, at keeping God's commandments]. So we should be supporting one another to live in a way that is pleasing to God:

> Romans 15:1-4 - We who are strong have an obligation to bear with the failings of the weak, and not to please ourselves. Let each of us please his neighbor for his good, to build him up. For Christ did not please himself, but as it is written, The reproaches of those who reproached you fell on me. For whatever was written in former days was written for our instruction, that through endurance and through the encouragement of the Scriptures we might have hope. (ESV)

> Colossians 3:13-14 - Bear with one another and forgive any complaint you may have against someone else. Forgive as the Lord forgave you. And over all these virtues put on love (26. agapé), which is the bond of perfect unity. (engbsb2020eb)

> Romans 13:8-10 - Owe no one anything, except to love each other, for the one who loves another has fulfilled the law. The commandments, You shall not commit adultery, You shall not murder, You shall not steal, You shall not covet, and any other commandment, are summed up in this word: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. (ESV)

If a person has the love of God in them, they'd receive Jesus. Yes, there were people before Jesus' crucifixion who had the love of God in them, as in they love God, they love His word, they're receptive to God, and treasure God, and prefer God to evil, etc.

> Romans 2:5-11 - But because of your hard and impenitent heart you are storing up wrath for yourself on the day of wrath when God's righteous judgment will be revealed. He will render to each > one according to his works: to those who by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, he will give eternal life; but for those who are self-seeking and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, there will be wrath and fury. There will be tribulation and distress for every human being who does evil, the Jew first and also the Greek, but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does good, the Jew first and also the Greek. For God shows no partiality. (ESV)

> Luke 16:30-31 - And he said, No, father Abraham, but if someone goes to them from the dead, they will repent. He said to him, If they do not hear Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be convinced if someone should rise from the dead. (ESV)

The law of Christ is a law of faith (not works), so what counts is not the works that come from the faith but what is in the heart (trust, obedience, love, hope, fear of God). A good heart that treasures God's Word produces good. So upon the revelation of the Truth revealed in Christ the Son of God we must trust, love, receive, believe, agree-with Christ and who He is and His words and what God has done in sending Christ into the world to be propitiation for sin, for us to be correctable by God. It's the one who accepts Christ, who puts their faith in Christ who believes, receives, loves, keeps, retains Christ, who God justifies/will justify. But God searches the hearts and minds and does the justifying:

> Romans 3:26-28 - It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. (ESV)
> Titus 1:15 - To the pure, all things are pure, but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their minds and their consciences are defiled. (ESV)

John 3:19 connects faith with deeds. Evil deeds come from a love of darkness. Luke 6:46 also connects faith with deeds. Good deeds come from a love of the truth.

How people respond to the revelation of Jesus Christ though is the test of whether people prefer God to evil, or evil to God:

> John 3:19 - This is the judgment, that the Light has come into the world, and men loved the darkness rather than the Light, for their deeds were evil. (ESV)
> Acts 24:14-16 - But this I confess to you, that according to the Way, which they call a sect, I worship the God of our fathers, believing everything laid down by the Law and written in the Prophets, having a hope in God, which these men themselves accept, that there will be a resurrection of both the just and the unjust. So I always take pains to have a clear conscience toward both God and man. (ESV)
> Hebrews 13:18 - Pray for us, for we are sure that we have a clear conscience, desiring to act honorably in all things. (ESV)
> I John 5:1 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. (ESV)

Gal 6:2-6 is saying that in bearing one-another's burdens a person fulfills the law/commandments of Christ. So the type of law-fulfilling love of God that those who are in Christ have involves abiding in Jesus' commandments and bearing one-another's burdens:

Galatians 6:2 (Interlinear) One another's burdens bear you and thus you shall fulfill the law of Christ

> Galatians 6:2-6 - Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ. For if anyone thinks he is something, when he is nothing, he deceives himself. But let each one test his own work, and then his reason to boast will be in himself alone and not in his neighbor. For each will have to bear his own load. One who is taught the word must share all good things with the one who teaches. (ESV)

> John 13:34 - A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another: just as I have loved you, you also are to love one another. (ESV)

Good works are works that are done in genuine faith, in the agape love of the truth, the trust of the truth, in the heart. Love is not strictly the works, but is from the heart. And the love we have is a love of the truth, not a love of sin:

> I Corinthians 13:1-8 - If I speak in the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am a noisy gong or a clanging cymbal. And if I have prophetic powers, and understand all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. If I give away all I have, and if I deliver up my body to be burned, but have not love, I gain nothing. Love is patient and kind; love does not envy or boast; it is not arrogant or rude. It does not insist on its own way; it is not irritable or resentful; it does not rejoice at wrongdoing, but rejoices with the truth. Love bears (G4722 stegei; it bears; to cover with silence (endure patiently)) all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things. Love never ends. As for prophecies, they will pass away; as for tongues, they will cease; as for knowledge, it will pass away. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 10:5-11 - Nevertheless, with most of them God was not pleased, for they were overthrown in the wilderness. Now these things took place as examples for us, that we might not desire evil as they did. Do not be idolaters as some of them were; as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink and rose up to play. We must not indulge in sexual immorality as some of them did, and twenty-three thousand fell in a single day. We must not put Christ to the test, as some of them did and were destroyed by serpents, nor grumble, as some of them did and were destroyed by the Destroyer. Now these things happened to them as an example, but they were written down for our instruction, on whom the end (G5056 telē) of the ages has come. (ESV)

The word "telē" in I Cor 10:11 is the plural of "telos" which is used in Romans 10:4. It doesn't mean "abolishment". It's more like "culmination", "goal, or "full maturity", or the "final stage", or the "ultimate purpose" and that if a person has arrived at faith in Jesus then they have arrived at the destination where the Mosaic Law was a "schoolmaster" to get us to. Now even if the coming faith was not yet "revealed", if someone were to have pursued the Mosaic Law by genuine fear of God, love of God, trust of God, hope in God, faith in the heart (rather than the exterior works) then that would still be commendable. But if a person rejects Jesus (say if they reject Him as King, or as Christ, if they don't submit to God's righteousness) then it simply shows that they do not have true faith in God, that they do not do what Abraham did, they do not have the love of God, the love of the Truth in them:

> Romans 10:4 - For Christ is the end (G5056 telos) of the law (G3551 nomos) for righteousness (G1343 dikaiosune) to everyone who believes (G4100 pisteuo, trusts). (ESV)

I Timothy 1:5 (Interlinear) And the goal (G5056 telos) of [our] instruction is love (G26 agapē) out of a pure heart and a conscience good and a faith sincere

> Galatians 3:22-27 - But the Scripture imprisoned everything under sin, so that the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given to those who believe. Now before faith came, we were held captive under the law, imprisoned until the coming faith would be revealed. So then, the law was our guardian until Christ came, in order that we might be justified by faith. But now that faith has come, we are no longer under a guardian, for in Christ Jesus you are all sons of God, through faith. For as many of you as were baptized into Christ have put on Christ. (ESV)

> Romans 9:30-32 - What shall we say, then? That Gentiles who did not pursue righteousness have attained it, that is, a righteousness that is by faith; but that Israel who pursued a law that would lead to righteousness did not succeed in reaching that law. Why? Because they did not pursue it by faith, but as if it were based on works. They have stumbled over the stumbling stone, (ESV)

> John 8:31-47 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed (G4100 pepisteukotas: having believed ’V-RPA-AMP past tense’) in him, If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free. They answered him, We are offspring of Abraham and have never been enslaved to anyone. How is it that you say, You will become free? Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. I know that you are offspring of Abraham; yet you seek to kill me because my word finds no place in you. I speak of what I have seen with my Father, and you do what you have heard from your father. They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham’s children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father’s desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. Which one of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God. (ESV)

> Luke 16:29-31 - But Abraham said, They have Moses and the Prophets; let them hear them. And he said, No, father Abraham, but if someone goes to them from the dead, they will repent. He said to him, If they do not hear Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be convinced if someone should rise from the dead. (ESV)

But if a person rejects Jesus, if they do not love the truth who is God’s righteousness revealed in the person of Jesus Christ, if they reject Him as Christ, if they don’t submit to God’s righteousness and think they are more righteous, if they want to be their own King, then it simply shows that they do not have true faith in God, that they do not do what Abraham did, they do not have the love of God, the love of the Truth in them:

> Matthew 21:37-44 - Finally he sent his son to them, saying, They will respect my son. But when the tenants saw the son, they said to themselves, This is the heir. Come, let us kill him and have his inheritance. And they took him and threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. When therefore the owner of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those tenants? They said to him, He will put those wretches to a miserable death and let out the vineyard to other tenants who will give him the fruits in their seasons. Jesus said to them, Have you never read in the Scriptures: The stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone; this was the Lord’s doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes? Therefore I tell you, the kingdom of God will be taken away from you and given to a people producing its fruits. And the one who falls on this stone will be broken to pieces; and when it falls on anyone, it will crush him. (ESV)

Jesus is the focal point.

youtube.com: John MacArthur | The Ben Shapiro Show Sunday Special Ep. 29 {@DailyWirePlus} @tim

> I think what Jesus did in the Sermon on the Mount was elevate the teaching of the Rabbis. Elevate it. He went above them. He said, ”You’ve been told you shouldn’t commit adultery. I’m telling you, if you look at woman to lust after her you’ve committed adultery in your heart.” He got to the heart of the Law. They were content with the practical application of the Law. He was not content with that. So I would say that > Jesus was the purest Jew that ever lived because He understood the elevation of the Law to the heart and the soul... When you hear of even the people in His time saying, 'never a man spoke like this man...' He is a person that doesn't seem to have been a product of human invention... You cannot come to Jesus and just patronise Him as a noble, good, Jewish teacher because He crossed a line and the Jews saw that. Either He's the Messiah or He's a blasphemer... So when you ask me to show the variation between Judaism and Christianity, morally there's none. In terms of God, we don't have the same God as Muslims. Allah is not the same God as Jehovah... He (Jehovah) is the One, True Creator God, the One True Living God... We believe He is more than one Person in One God. That's why Genesis says, "Let us make man in Our own image." And relationship comes from a God who has relationship within Himself. But the distinction between Christianity and Judaism is what we do with Jesus Christ. The writer of Hebrews says 'If a sacrifice had been enough to atone for sin, they would've stopped making them.' But they never stopped... [morning and evening, morning and evening...] Basically, a priest was a butcher (he had blood up to his waist)... You come to the death of Jesus Christ and at the death of Christ, the veil of the Temple is rent from top to bottom. The Holy of Holies is thrown open. That's a statement from God because it couldn't have been ripped by men from the top down. The way to God is open. There's no more barriers because a suitable sacrifice has been found. This is The Lamb of God. And amazingly, soon after that the whole sacrificial system ends because that's the final sacrifice. And God validates that sacrifice by raising Him from the dead. The resurrection is a provable historical fact. So I think that's the issue, it's what do you do with Jesus. And God validates that sacrifice by raising Him from the dead. The resurrection is a provable historical fact. So I think that's the issue, it's what do you do with Jesus... This is Judaism's culmination, so I don't see Judaism and Christianity as antithetical. I see them as perfectly complimentary so that what the prophet said the Messiah would be, Jesus was. That fulfills it. The sacrificial system ends. It's never been reinstituted again. The one sacrifice, the writer of Hebrews says, 'He perfected forever those who are sanctified by His one offering.' He was God's Lamb, a spotless lamb without blemish. God put on Him the sins of us all. This is a stunning theological truth because all the people who will ever believe through human history, their sins are covered by Christ, even those who believed going back to Adam. All of them had to have a sacrifice that paid for their sins, whether it happened before Christ (their belief), or after Christ. Christ is the focal point. So, He bears in His body all the sins of all who would ever believe ((G4100 pisteuo: actively trusting/believing in Jesus Christ)) through human history.

> I John 2:23 - No one who denies the Son has the Father. Whoever confesses the Son has the Father also. (ESV)

Jesus' perfect soul was made an offering for sin:

> Isaiah 53:10 - Yet it was the will of the LORD to crush him; he has put him to grief; when his soul makes an offering for sin ({H7760 tā · śîm; You make} {H817 ’ā · šām; an offering for sin} {H5315 nap · šōw,; His soul}), he shall see his offspring; he shall prolong his days; the will of the LORD shall prosper in his hand. (ESV)

The faith we must have is still law, but it's not a law of works:

> Romans 3:21-31 - But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from (G5565 chōris) the law (G3551 nomou), although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. Or is God the God of Jews only? Is he not the God of Gentiles also? Yes, of Gentiles also, since God is one. He will justify the circumcised by faith and the uncircumcised through faith. Do we then overthrow the law by this faith? By no means! On the contrary, we uphold the law. (ESV)

It's "by the 'works', specifically, of the law", the Mosaic Law, that no mere human being will be justified in God's sight and in Romans 3:20 Paul is referring to what came in through Moses to increase the trespass. Paul is not there referring to Jesus' commandments. All Jesus' commandments are grace and truth, spirit and life, and we should trust, hope in love and obey Jesus. It is by the law of faith in Jesus who has fulfilled the law, fulfilled it even by works, that we are justified. The law isn't overthrown / abolished. It is upheld. Jesus is the telos, the culmination of the law to those who have faith:

> Romans 3:20 - For by works of the law no human being will be justified in his sight, since through the law comes knowledge of sin. (ESV)

> Romans 5:20 - Now the law came in to increase the trespass, but where sin increased, grace abounded all the more, (ESV)

All of God's word is the Truth. The sum total of God's word is the Truth:

> Psalms 119:160 - The sum of your word is truth, and every one of your righteous rules endures forever. (ESV)

> Isaiah 45:19 - I did not speak in secret, in a land of darkness; I did not say to the offspring of Jacob, Seek me in vain. I the LORD speak the truth; I declare what is right. (ESV)

The Law and Prophets point to Jesus and speak of Jesus and so Jesus Christ in the flesh is the realisation of those prophesies. As Jesus said, He came to fulfill the Law, not to abolish it. So truth/reality is revealed in Jesus who did fulfill the Law perfectly. And Holy Spirit testifies that Jesus is God's Son because God raised Jesus from the dead. So truth/reality is reavealed in Jesus, wheras, the Law, while trustworthy and true, points to Jesus. Jesus still issued commandments and we need to abide in Jesus' commandments:

> Matthew 5:17 - Do not think that I have come to abolish the Law or the Prophets; I have not come to abolish them but to fulfill them. (ESV)

> Romans 1:4 - and was declared to be the Son of God in power ascording to the Spirit of holiness by his resurrection from the dead, Jesus Christ our Lord, (ESV)

> John 5:46 - If you believed Moses, you would believe me; for he wrote of me. (ESV)

> John 1:45 - Philip found Nathanael and said to him, We have found him of whom Moses in the Law and also the prophets wrote, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph. (ESV)

> John 6:57 - As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so whoever feeds on me, he also will live because of me. (ESV)

The Law has a shadow of true realities:

> Hebrews 10:1 - For since the law has but a shadow of the good things to come instead of the true form of these realities, it can never, by the same sacrifices that are continually offered every year, make perfect those who draw near. (ESV)

Father God sent Jesus and Jesus obediently came to do God's will:

> John 8:42 - Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. (ESV)

> Hebrews 10:5-7 - Consequently, when Christ came into the world, he said, Sacrifices and offerings you have not desired, but a body have you prepared for me; in burnt offerings and sin offerings you have taken no pleasure. Then I said, Behold, I have come to do your will, O God, as it is written of me in the scroll of the book. (ESV)

Where John 1:17-18 has the word ”alḗtheia”, even though it accurately means ”truth”, all of God’s word is the Truth, and so the other sense of the word ”alḗtheia” which is ”reality” is useful:

> John 1:17-18 - For the law was given through Moses; grace and truth (G225 alḗtheia) came through Jesus Christ. No one has ever seen God; the only God, who is at the Father’s side, he has made him known. (ESV)
> Hebrews 1:1-2 - Long ago, at many times and in many ways, God spoke to our fathers by the prophets, but in these last days he has spoken to us by his Son, whom he appointed the heir of all things, through whom also he created the world. (ESV)
> Romans 3:21-24 - But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from (G5565 chōris) the law (G3551 nomou), although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, (ESV)
> Isaiah 45:19 - I did not speak in secret, in a land of darkness; I did not say to the offspring of Jacob, Seek me in vain. I the LORD speak the truth; I declare what is right. (ESV)

G225 alḗtheia (from 227 /alēthḗs, ”true to fact”) – properly, truth (true to fact), reality. [In ancient Greek culture, 225 (alḗtheia) was synonymous for ”reality” as the opposite of illusion, i.e. fact.]

> John 14:6 - Jesus said to him, I am the way, and the truth (G225 alētheia), and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me. (ESV)

Heresy is self-destructive. There is a dangerous heresy that says it’s wrong (i.e. it’s not relying on faith alone in Christ alone) to believe that ”we must continue in faith in Jesus rejecting sin for salvation”. I think this anti-sanctification heresy goes hand in hand with prophesying lying dreams and visions and also with preaching that God’s love is totally unconditional and that ”God wouldn’t change a thing about you” and that a person is not saved by obeying Jesus, nor by loving Jesus:

> II Peter 2:1 - But false prophets also arose among the people, just as there will be false teachers among you, who will secretly bring in destructive heresies, even denying the Master who bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction. (ESV)

We must follow Jesus and that’s not the way of sensuality:

> II Peter 2:2 - And many will follow their sensuality, and because of them the way of truth will be blasphemed. (ESV)

The way me must follow is not the way of the love of evil:

> II Peter 2:14-15 - They have eyes full of adultery, insatiable for sin. They entice unsteady souls. They have hearts trained in greed. Accursed children! Forsaking the right way, they have gone astray. They have followed the way of Balaam, the son of Beor, who loved gain from wrongdoing, (ESV)

The way we must follow is not the way that is to be enslaved by corruption. Rather, the way we follow is Jesus Christ, and we follow Jesus by loving the Truth as opposed to evil:

> II Peter 2:19 - They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved. (ESV)

If a person loves evil then they are under the power of the devil to do the devil’s will. The Apostle Paul was instructed by Jesus Christ Himself to go to the Gentiles to open their eyes so that they may turn from the power of Satan to God. And the Apostle Paul has written that it’s evil desires and error which ensnare a person into doing the devil’s will:

> Acts 26:15-18 - And I said, Who are you, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom you are persecuting. But rise and stand upon your feet, for I have appeared to you for this purpose, to appoint you as a servant and witness to the things in which you have seen me and to those in which I will appear to you, delivering you from your people and from the Gentiles—to whom I am sending you to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me. (ESV)

> II Timothy 2:24-26 - And the Lord's servant must not be quarrelsome but kind to everyone, able to teach, patiently enduring evil, correcting his opponents with gentleness. God may perhaps grant them repentance leading to a knowledge of the truth, and they may escape from the snare of the devil, after being captured by him to do his will. (ESV)

> I Timothy 6:9 - But those who desire to be rich fall into temptation, into a snare, into many senseless and harmful desires that plunge people into ruin and destruction. (ESV)

After being saved, we must not return to the love of evil. Rather, we must continue resisting evil and continue loving Jesus Christ and seeking to love and honor God with our hearts, souls, and in our bodies:

> II Peter 2:17-22 - These are waterless springs and mists driven by a storm. For them the gloom of utter darkness has been reserved. For, speaking loud boasts of folly, they entice by sensual passions of the flesh those who are barely escaping from those who live in error. They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved. For if, after they have escaped the defilements of the world through the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, they are again entangled in them and overcome, the last state has become worse for them than the first. For it would have been better for them never to have known the way of righteousness than after knowing it to turn back from the holy commandment delivered to them. What the true proverb says has happened to them: The dog returns to its own vomit, and the sow, after washing herself, returns to wallow in the mire. (ESV)

> II Peter 3:14–18 - Therefore, beloved, since you are waiting for these, be diligent to be found by him without spot or blemish, and at peace. And count the patience of our Lord as salvation, just as our beloved brother Paul also wrote to you according to the wisdom given him, as he does in all his letters when he speaks in them of these matters. There are some things in them that are hard to understand, which the ignorant and unstable twist to their own destruction, as they do the other Scriptures. You therefore, beloved, knowing this beforehand, take care that you are not carried away with the error of lawless people and lose your own stability. But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To him be the glory both now and to the day of eternity. Amen. (ESV)

The "God loving everyone the same way and equally and doesn't want you to change" gospel is actually an antigospel that prevents people from receiving the salvation that Jesus bought. Salvation involves sanctification, and God's friendship and eternal love is for those who fear Him and abide in His commandments with love for Jesus Christ:

> Psalms 25:14 - The friendship of the LORD is for those who fear him, and he makes known to them his covenant. (ESV)

> Malachi 2:17 - You have wearied the LORD with your words. But you say, How have we wearied him? By saying, Everyone who does evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delights in them. Or by asking, Where is the God of justice? (ESV)

> John 14:21-24 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. Judas (not Iscariot) said to him, Lord, how is it that you will manifest yourself to us, and not to the world? Jesus answered him, If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me. (ESV)

> Matthew 6:24 - No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money. (ESV)
> John 16:27 - for the Father himself loves you, because you have loved me and have believed that I came from God. (ESV)
> I John 5:2 - By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)
> John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)
> John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

We must hope in Jesus rather than in evil to be saved. We need to submit to God (from a love for God by faith obeying God) and resist the devil (hate evil, do not trust evil, do not hope in evil):

> Hebrews 7:19 - (for the law made nothing perfect); but on the other hand, a better hope is introduced, through which we draw near to God. (ESV)
> Hebrews 7:25 - Consequently, he is able to save to the uttermost those who draw near to God through him, since he always lives to make intercession for them. (ESV)
> James 4:7-8 - Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. Draw near to God, and he will draw near to you. Cleanse your hands, you sinners, and purify your hearts, you double-minded. (ESV)

Jesus is the Way and the Truth and the Life (John 14:6). We must follow the Way to be saved, and that involves loving the Truth and hating evil (II Peter 2:2) and we will then embark on this journey of sanctification. We must love the Truth to be saved. We must love God to have Life. If a person hates Jesus Christ then they don't love God. We must be abiding in Jesus' commandments to love Jesus and love Jesus to abide in His commandments.

> I John 2:23 - No one who denies the Son has the Father. Whoever confesses the Son has the Father also. (ESV)

If I were to have had input into this conversation with Joe Rogan, I would say that it's vital to love Jesus Christ and keep His commandments so that we have Holy Spirit (who is the Spirit of Truth), abiding in us so that we will continue to be able to see Jesus Christ, no matter what else happens in the future, because no created thing, not even an AI can separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus:

youtube.com: Joe Rogan Questioned About JESUS , Then This Happens { Finally !} {@ Daily$_{\textbf{DoseOfWis}}$

> Joe Rogan said, "Here's the thing, if He came back who [would] believe him today? With all the fake news, and all the CGI and AI, like imagine that would be the most bizarre thing of all time. If we get to a point where artificial reality is ... indiscernible from regular reality, and Jesus chooses to come back at that moment... boy, that's the ultimate test of faith, right? When it's impossible to discern.. If we really reach a point where virtual reality is indistinguishable from regular reality..."
> Romans 8:38-39 - For I am sure that neither death nor life, nor angels nor rulers, nor things present nor things to come, nor powers, nor height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

Those who love God's Truth (not the world) and continue in the love of the Truth, those who persist in faith in Jesus Christ will have Jesus Christ manifest to them, they will see Jesus Christ and receive eternal life. And the world, not being grounded in a love of reality/truth will no longer see Jesus. We want to live so we want to not be cut off from Jesus, so we want to continue to trust and obey Jesus. So those who love Jesus, keeping His commandments will receive the Helper, Holy Spirit, who will come to live in them. But the world can't receive Holy Spirit, Spirit of Truth:

> John 14:18-21 - I will not leave you as orphans; I will come to you. Yet a little while and the world will see me no more, but you will see me. Because I live, you also will live. In that day you will know that I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you. Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

> I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

> John 14:15-17 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Helper, to be with you forever, even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him. You know him, for he dwells with you and will be in you. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 7:29-31 - This is what I mean, brothers: the appointed time has grown very short. From now on, let those who have wives live as though they had none, and those who mourn as though they were not mourning, and those who rejoice as though they were not rejoicing, and those who buy as though they had no goods, and those who deal with the world as though they had no dealings with it. For the present form of this world is passing away. (ESV)

> I John 2:15-17 - Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world—the desires of the flesh and the desires of the eyes and pride in possessions—is not from the Father but is from the world. And the world is passing away along with its desires, but whoever does the will of God abides forever. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 7:28-35 - But if you do marry, you have not sinned, and if a betrothed woman marries, she has not sinned. Yet those who marry will have worldly troubles, and I would spare you that. This is what I mean, brothers: the appointed time has grown very short. From now on, let those who have wives live as though they had none, and those who mourn as though they were not mourning, and those who rejoice as though they were not rejoicing, and those who buy as though they had no goods, and those who deal with the world as though they had no dealings with it. For the present form of this world is passing away. I want you to be free from anxieties. The unmarried man is anxious about the things of the Lord, how to please the Lord. But the married man is anxious about worldly things, how to please his wife, and his interests are divided. And the unmarried or betrothed woman is anxious about the things of the Lord, how to be holy in body and spirit. But the married woman is anxious about worldly things, how to please her husband. I say this for your own benefit, not to lay any restraint upon you, but to promote good order and to secure your undivided devotion to the Lord. (ESV)

youtube.com: Bryce Crawford Said Something on Fox News ... and People Are Upset {@ NickJonesToo

> We're we're tired of fake stuff. We're tired of fluff. I mean, we're we're fed fluff through our phones, through desires, through whatever we think is going to satisfy. Every human being's on a quest for love, and we try to fill that void with different things. And I think people are naturally understanding, wait, this thing isn't working anymore. This isn't going how I thought it was going to go. And so ultimately, people don't just want a truth, they want the truth, and that and that would be Jesus.

The beholding is a continued beholding while we are believing. We must not be those who lose sight of Jesus. We must be those who continue to behold Him (John 14:19-21):

> John 6:40 - For this is the will of my Father, that everyone who looks on (G2334 theōrōn; is beholding; V-PPA-NMS) the Son and believes in him should have eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 3:18 - And we all, with unveiled face, beholding the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same image from one degree of glory to another. For this comes from the Lord who is the Spirit. (ESV)

We must not be like the lawless who do not love the truth, who are deceived because they don't love truth/reality:

> II Thessalonians 2:9-10 - The coming of the lawless one is by the activity of Satan with all power and false signs and wonders, and with all wicked deception for those who are perishing, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. (ESV)

We must believe the Truth and we must receive the Truth. We must love the truth:

> John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)
> Luke 24:25 - And he said to them, O foolish ones, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken! (ESV)
> John 6:63 - It is the Spirit who gives life; the flesh is of no avail. The words that I have spoken to you are spirit and life. (ESV)
> John 5:26 - For as the Father has life in himself, so he has granted the Son also to have life in himself. (ESV)

God let Abraham know He would bless him because he was obedient to His voice and didn't withhold his son (Abraham's faith was tested to show that he agape loved God first before even his only son):

> Genesis 22:15-18 - And the angel of the LORD called to Abraham a second time from heaven and said, By myself I have sworn, declares the LORD, because you have done this and have not withheld your son, your only son, I will surely bless you, and I will surely multiply your offspring as the stars of heaven and as the sand that is on the seashore. And your offspring shall possess the gate of his enemies, and in your offspring shall all the nations of the earth be blessed, because you have obeyed my voice. (ESV)

We are also tested as Christians, and the type of faith we ought to have is still modelled on Abraham's:

> I Peter 1:6-9 - In this you rejoice, though now for a little while, if necessary, you have been grieved by various trials, so that the tested genuineness of your faith—more precious than gold that perishes though it is tested by fire—may be found to result in praise and glory and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ. Though you have not seen him, you love him. Though you do not now see him, you believe in him and rejoice with joy that is inexpressible and filled with glory, obtaining the outcome of your faith, the salvation of your souls. (ESV)
> John 8:39-40 - They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham's children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. (ESV)
> Romans 9:6-8 - But it is not as though the word of God has failed. For not all who are descended from Israel belong to Israel, and not all are children of Abraham because they are his offspring, but Through Isaac shall your offspring be named. This means that it is not the children of the flesh who are the children of God, but the children of the promise are counted as offspring. (ESV)
> Romans 4:11-12 - He received the sign of circumcision as a seal of the righteousness that he had by faith while he was still uncircumcised. The purpose was to make him the father of all who believe without being circumcised, so that righteousness would be counted to them as well, and to make him the father of the circumcised who are not merely circumcised but who also walk in the footsteps of the faith that our father Abraham had before he was circumcised. (ESV)

Romans 4:16 - That is why it depends on faith, in order that the promise may rest on grace and be guaranteed to all his offspring—not only to the adherent of the law but also to the one who shares the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all, (ESV)

Psalms 73:1 - Truly God is good to Israel, to those who are pure in heart. (ESV)

I Timothy 1:5 (Interlinear) And the goal (G5056 telos) of [our] instruction is love (G26 agapē) out of a pure heart and a conscience good and a faith sincere

Revelation 2:10 - Do not fear what you are about to suffer. Behold, the devil is about to throw some of you into prison, that you may be tested, and for ten days you will have tribulation. Be faithful unto death, and I will give you the crown of life. (ESV)

By faith we obey the Truth (Jesus Christ) from the heart and our hearts and souls are sanctified:

I Peter 1:14-25 - As obedient children, do not be conformed to the passions of your former ignorance, but as he who called you is holy, you also be holy in all your conduct, since it is written, You shall be holy, for I am holy. And if you call on him as Father who judges impartially according to each one's deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile, knowing that you were ransomed from the futile ways inherited from your forefathers, not with perishable things such as silver or gold, but with the precious blood of Christ, like that of a lamb without blemish or spot. He was foreknown before the foundation of the world but was made manifest in the last times for your sake, who through him are believers in God, who raised him from the dead and gave him glory, so that your faith and hope are in God. Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, since you have been born again, not of perishable seed but of imperishable, through the living and abiding word of God; for All flesh is like grass and all its glory like the flower of grass. The grass withers, and the flower falls, but the word of the Lord remains forever. And this word is the good news that was preached to you. (ESV)

The will of God is done from the heart. The will of God must be done from the heart, or it's not being done:

Romans 6:16-18 - Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. (ESV)

Ephesians 6:5-8 - Slaves, obey your earthly masters with fear and trembling, with a sincere heart, as you would Christ, not by the way of eye-service, as people-pleasers, but as servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart, rendering service with a good will as to the Lord and not to man, knowing that whatever good anyone does, this he will receive back from the Lord, whether he is a slave or free. (ESV)

Hosea 7:13-14 - Woe to them, for they have strayed from me! Destruction to them, for they have rebelled against me! I would redeem them, but they speak lies against me. They do not cry to me from the heart, but they wail upon their beds; for grain and wine they gash themselves; they rebel against me. (ESV)

Isaiah 59:12-15 - For our transgressions are multiplied before you, and our sins testify against us; for our transgressions are with us, and we know our iniquities: transgressing, and denying the LORD, and turning back from following our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart lying words. Justice is turned back, and righteousness stands afar off; for truth has stumbled in the public squares, and uprightness cannot enter. Truth is lacking, and he who departs from evil makes himself a prey. The LORD saw it, and it displeased him that there was no justice. (ESV)

> Isaiah 29:13-14 - And the Lord said: Because this people draw near with their mouth and honor me with their lips, while their hearts are far from me, and their fear of me is a commandment taught by men, therefore, behold, I will again do wonderful things with this people, with wonder upon wonder; and the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the discernment of their discerning men shall be hidden. (ESV)

We want to be overcome by Christ so that we just do the will of God and can't help but do the will of God. To get there we are instructed to keep Jesus' commandments and resist sin:

> II Peter 2:19 - They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 5:14-15 - For the love of Christ controls us, because we have concluded this: that one has died for all, therefore all have died; and he died for all, that those who live might no longer live for themselves but for him who for their sake died and was raised. (ESV)

> Romans 6:17-20 - But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. When you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. (ESV)

> Every other master will end up enslaving you in some way or the other. And that is a way in which God is also unique. Christ actually says we will either be slaves to sin or slaves to righteousness. We're we're going to be enslaved by something.
> ... "What do you prefer? Something that is ensnaring you or God who actually once your life is yielded to his will, He actually sets you free from the desires of your flesh through the power of His Spirit. So that in a sense you could say you're a slave to righteousness, but you're that's almost like saying you're a slave to the good life. You're under the bondage of having self-control, of being able to say no to the appetites that would otherwise addict you.

Journal <2026-04-17 Fri 12:26> I hope in God that He will have mercy on me and not give up on me as I go through trials. The last couple of days have been a real fight against the flesh while also enduring a barrage of spiritual torments, and I feel as though I have weathered it far from flawlessly. I feel really spiritually beaten-up. I hope in God that He will forgive me and deliver me from evil.

Resting from our works doesn't mean resting from love (which is in the heart) and it doesn't mean resting from obedience (which is in the heart), since we have to hold our faith in Jesus in a law-abiding way (that is loving God with all our heart, soul, mind and strength and and our neighbour as ourself). Without the law-abiding love, the type of faith one would be resting in would be an unlawful faith, a demonic faith:

> Hebrews 4:8-10 - For if Joshua had given them rest, God would not have spoken of another day later on. So then, there remains a Sabbath rest for the people of God, for whoever has entered God's rest has also rested from his works as God did from his. (ESV)

We "do" the will of God to enter into God's rest. After all, how can someone rest if they are being tormented because they did not pass forward forgiveness?

> Matthew 18:32-35 - Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou desiredst me: Shouldest not thou also have had compassion on thy fellowservant, even as I had pity on thee? And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him. So likewise shall my heavenly Father do also unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses. (KJV)

Real faith believes, believes in, trusts, trusts in, treasures (John 14:24, John 8:42, Genesis 22:12) God, God's Word, Jesus Christ, even "the words of God" (John 8:47).

A demonic faith doesn't love the Truth (James 2:19, Matthew 8:29). Faith, hope and love all overlap. I don't think it's possible to have hope without confidence, so faith and hope overlap. Also, it's not possible to have real faith without agape love because Jesus said to some Jews "if God were your Father you would love me" (John 8:42).

> Romans 15:13 - May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace as you trust in him, so that you may overflow with hope by the power of the Holy Spirit. (NIV)

Real faith loves God rather than evil. Real faith in Jesus prefers Him to evil. Real faith in Jesus prefers Him to other things. And God cleans us as we hold our faith in Jesus Christ preferring Him.

There is no rest for the unrepentant. Whether a person has a disease/illness or not, they need to come to faith in Jesus with the love of God. A sick person finds no cure in being unrepentant. Real love and compassion encourages people to turn from the error of their ways. It's not right to say, "The ill/diseased are excused from needing to repent and have faith." We don't just take the rest from Jesus without coming to Jesus (learning from Him). Jesus gives the rest to those who come to Him. We need to come to have a genuine faith in Jesus which loves the truth. Whoever is presently having faith in Jesus is not committing sin. God justifies the ungodly who have faith in Jesus and in having faith in Jesus they have repented and in having faith in Jesus are not committing sin (I John 5:18, I John 5:1-6, Romans 14:23).

Those who love the darkness rather than love God (John 3:14-19, II Timothy 3:1-5) are unrepentant people (II Timothy 3:6-8) who are disqualified in their faith and who do not come to the knowledge of the truth which God desires all people to come to know (I Timothy 2:4). So having the love of God in us is important for being saved. And unless someone is keeping God's commandments, for them, then they surely cannot have come to the knowledge of the truth (I John 2:3-6). We have to have the love of God in us to have genuine faith in Jesus:

> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

> John 5:6-15 - When Jesus saw him lying there and knew that he had already been there a long time, he said to him, Do you want to be healed? The sick man answered him, Sir, I have no one to put me into the pool when the water is stirred up, and while I am going another steps down before me. Jesus said to him, Get up, take up your bed, and walk. And at once the man was healed, and he took up his bed and walked. Now that day was the Sabbath. So the Jews said to the man who had been healed, It is the Sabbath, and it is not lawful for you to take up your bed. But he answered them, The man who healed me, that man said to me, Take up your bed, and walk. They asked him, Who is the man who said to you, Take up your bed and walk? Now the man who had been healed did not know who it was, for Jesus had withdrawn, as there was a crowd in the place. Afterward Jesus found him in the temple and said to him, See, you are well! Sin no more, that nothing worse may happen to you. The man went away and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had healed him. (ESV)

> John 5:42-43 - But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. I have come in my Father's name, and you do not receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him. (ESV)

Real faith loves the Truth and the love of the truth saves (II Thessalonians 2:10). Real faith and genuine agape love and hope in God are "overlapping". Love believes and hopes. We've got to love the Truth, love Jesus Christ, love Jesus' words, love Father God, love Holy Spirit, love the Word of God:

I Corinthians 13:7 - Love bears all things, believes (G4100 pisteuei; believes) all things, hopes all things, endures all things. (ESV)

Demonic faith trusts in lies (Habakkuk 2:18, Jeremiah 29:31).

Having faith/love for Jesus leads to everlasting life, and having faith/love for darkness/falsehood leads to death (II Thessalonians 2:9-12, Matthew 15:13-14) and how a person responds to Jesus Christ is the ultimate test of whether or not a person prefers light to darkness or darkness to light (John 3:19). Rejecting Jesus leads to eternal condemnation (John 3:14-19).

Agape love hates evil (Romans 12:9, Psalms 97:10).

Psalms 97:10 You who love (H157 ’ō · hă · ḇê) Yahweh (H3068 Yah · weh) hate (H8130 śin · ’ū) evil (H7451 rā‘) He preserves the souls of His saints out of the hand of the wicked He delivers them (Interlinear)

Whoever when they hear Jesus’ word, also has faith in God (John 5:24), has eternal life. We have to ”love the Truth” and from the love of the Truth, a person produces good (Luke 6:45). Real faith ”treasures/values/keeps” (agape-loves) the Truth (God, Jesus Christ, God’s Word) (John 14:24, 2Th 2:10, John 8:42). Obedience to Jesus, like faith, love, hope, fear of God, is a heart attitude (not the works that come from it) (Titus 1:16). A person can ”do” (G4163 poiētai) the law of faith in Christ. We need faith in the truth and love for the truth at the same time (I Thessalonians 5:8, Ephesians 6:14). God tests the heart through Jesus Christ (Hebrews 4:12, Romans 2:16). Holy Spirit teaches those who are holding their faith in Jesus (John 8:31-32, John 14:12-26, II Corinthians 1:20, I John 3:21-24, II Timothy 2:7).

youtube.com: Why You Do Not Believe {@ desiringGod } @time: 14 min 19 sec They don’t believe because they love their sin. This is John 3:19-20. And this is the judgment. The light has come into the world and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their works were evil. For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light lest his works should be exposed. Why do people hate and reject Jesus? Because they secretly love darkness. They love their sin and so they hide their sin and they stay in bed with their sin. And Jesus went around exposing people’s sin and telling them that they must repent. And so they tried to kill him. Their secret sin kept them from seeing the Messiah who would save them from their sin. But they didn’t want to be saved from their sin. They didn’t want to face the wrath of God. No. And they didn’t want to have their sin exposed to others. That’s why they’re hiding in darkness. But they also didn’t want to leave their sin behind either. No, they didn’t love Jesus because they loved their sin. And no one no one can serve two masters.

You cannot serve two masters.

Second, they don’t believe because they lived to please man. They lived for the praise and approval of other people. This is John 5:43-44.

I have come in my father’s name and you do not receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him. How can you believe when you receive glory from one another and do not seek the glory that comes from the only God? Why do people hate and reject Jesus? because they live for the glory and praise of man. They cared too much what other people thought of them.

And they knew that it would cost them dearly. It would cost them socially to get into the boat with Jesus. They knew that the reputation and the approval that they’d worked so hard to earn and build, it would be gone. And that vanity, that me worship that blinded them to Jesus. They loved what they saw in the mirror so much that they could not see the Messiah. How could you believe? He says, when you’re so consumed with yourself.

Jesus gives us a third reason now though, and it’s the most blunt of the three. Again, they ask verse 24, ”How long will you keep us in suspense? If you’re the Christ, tell us plainly.” Jesus answered them, verse 25, ”I told you and you do not believe. The works that I do in my father’s name, they bear witness about me. But you do not believe.

Here’s the third reason why so many hated and rejected Jesus. Why do the people you love not believe in Jesus?

> He says, 'You do not believe because you are not among my sheep. You do not believe because you are not among my sheep. You do not believe in me because you are not mine. Whoa. What does that mean? He goes on verse 27, "My sheep hear my voice and I know them and they follow me. I give them eternal life and they will never perish and no one will snatch them out of my hand. My Father who has given them to me is greater than all and no one is able to snatch them out of the Father's hand. I and the father are one."
> You do not believe in me because the father has not given you to me – That's what he's saying. It must be given to you. ...
> The father has not made them sheep. Not yet, anyway.
> You might think, "Well, if no one believes unless the father chooses, then what can I do? I guess I'll just go home and wait for a call." No, friends, he's calling right now. Right now. And if there's anything in you at all who says, "I want to come." Then you can hear him. Not everyone can hear him. That's what we've just seen. But you can hear him. If you want to come this morning, he has given you a gift.
> Jesus says, "I am the bread of life. Whoever comes to me shall not hunger. Whoever believes in me shall never thirst. But I said to you that you have seen me and yet you do not believe. All that the Father gives me will come to me. And whoever comes to me, I will never cast out."

We must not be insubordinate. We have to let Jesus be the one in charge of us that God may be in us:

> I Corinthians 15:22-28 - For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive. But each in his own order: Christ the firstfruits, then at his coming those who belong to Christ. Then comes the end, when he delivers the kingdom to God the Father after destroying every rule and every authority and power. For he must reign until he has put all his enemies under his feet. The last enemy to be destroyed is death. For God has put all things in subjection under his feet. But when it says, all things are put in subjection, it is plain that he is excepted who put all things in subjection under him. When all things are subjected to him, then the Son himself will also be subjected to him who put all things in subjection under him, that God may be all in all. (ESV)
> Hebrews 10:12-13 - But when Christ had offered for all time a single sacrifice for sins, he sat down at the right hand of God, waiting from that time until his enemies should be made a footstool for his feet. (ESV)
> John 15:9-10 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. (ESV)
> Philippians 3:18-21 - For many, of whom I have often told you and now tell you even with tears, walk as enemies of the cross of Christ. Their end is destruction, their god is their belly, and they glory in their shame, with minds set on earthly things. But our citizenship is in heaven, and from it we await a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ, who will transform our lowly body to be like his glorious body, by the power that enables him even to subject all things to himself. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 10:14-31 - Therefore, my beloved, flee from idolatry. I speak as to sensible people; judge for yourselves what I say. The cup of blessing that we bless, is it not a participation in the blood of Christ? The bread that we break, is it not a participation in the body of Christ? Because there is one bread, we who are many are one body, for we all partake of the one bread. Consider the people of Israel: are not those who eat the sacrifices participants in the altar? What do I imply then? That food offered to idols is anything, or that an idol is anything? No, I imply that what pagans sacrifice they offer to demons and not to God. I do not want you to be participants with demons. You cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons. You cannot partake of the table of the Lord and the table of demons. Shall we provoke the Lord to jealousy? Are we stronger than he? All things are lawful, but not all things are helpful. All things are lawful, but not all things build up. Let no one > seek his own good, but the good of his neighbor. Eat whatever is sold in the meat market without raising any question on the ground of conscience. For the earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof. If one of the unbelievers invites you to dinner and you are disposed to go, eat whatever is set before you without raising any question on the ground of conscience. But if someone says to you, This has been offered in sacrifice, then do not eat it, for the sake of the one who informed you, and for the sake of conscience— I do not mean your conscience, but his. For why should my liberty be determined by someone else's conscience? If I partake with thankfulness, why am I denounced because of that for which I give thanks? So, whether you eat or drink, or whatever you do, do all to the glory of God. (ESV)

> James 4:4-5 - You adulterous people! Do you not know that friendship with the world is enmity with God? Therefore whoever wishes to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God. Or do you suppose it is to no purpose that the Scripture says, He yearns jealously over the spirit that he has made to dwell in us? (ESV)

Journal <2026-04-24 Fri 11:20> I think this is how it works. Father God has put everything under Jesus' feet. Jesus puts the devil under our feet as we practice righteousness (with the love of the truth, by faith obedient to Jesus Christ). We all must become subject to Jesus Christ and "stop sinning" in the sense that we are repentant. It doesn't mean we will "never sin again". It means we have (past tense) stopped sinning and are practicing righteousness now and the "mistake" (rather than the default) is when a person sins. The default is that the person born of God does not sin. We go on confessing our sin and walking in the love of the truth. As we walk in faith in the light (in the love of the truth), the blood of Jesus cleanses us from all sin.

> I John 3:8 - Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. (ESV)
> Romans 16:19-20 - For your obedience is known to all, so that I rejoice over you, but I want you to be wise as to what is good and innocent as to what is evil. The God of peace will soon crush Satan under your feet. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 15:22-28 - For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive. But each in his own order: Christ the firstfruits, then at his coming those who belong to Christ. Then comes the end, when he delivers the kingdom to God the Father after destroying every rule and every authority and power. For he must reign until he has put all his enemies under his feet. The last enemy to be destroyed is death. For God has put all things in subjection under his feet. But when it says, all things are put in subjection, it is plain that he is excepted who put all things in subjection under him. When all things are subjected to him, then the Son himself will also be subjected to him who put all things in subjection under him, that God may be all in all. (ESV)

So we need to hope in Jesus in our hearts, trust in Jesus, love Jesus and love one-another, rather than hope in sin, as Jesus puts the devil under our feet:

> I John 3:3-11 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the > children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)

> Romans 6:1-23 - What shall we say then? Are we to continue in sin that grace may abound? By no means! How can we who died to sin still live in it? Do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? We were buried therefore with him by baptism into death, in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, we too might walk in newness of life. For if we have been united with him in a death like his, we shall certainly be united with him in a resurrection like his. We know that our old self was crucified with him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin. For one who has died has been set free from sin. Now if we have died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him. We know that Christ being raised from the dead will never die again; death no longer has dominion over him. For the death he died he died to sin, once for all, but the life he lives he lives to God. So you also must consider yourselves dead to sin and alive to God in Christ Jesus. Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal bodies, to make you obey their passions. Do not present your members to sin as instruments for unrighteousness, but present yourselves to God as those who have been brought from death to life, and your members to God as instruments for righteousness. For sin will have no dominion over you, since you are not under law but under grace. What then? Are we to sin because we are not under law but under grace? By no means! Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. When you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. But what fruit were you getting at that time from the things of which you are now ashamed? The end of those things is death. But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

Christians should be do good to all but be uncompromising with their faith. We should bring peace (peace not as the world gives, but peace in Jesus). People may receive or they may reject the follower of Jesus and the peace they bring. Christians don't spead their faith through violence, but if Jesus is not received and we are rejected then we shake the dust off our feet. The peace to be found in Jesus Christ doesn't remain with those who reject Jesus:

> Luke 10:5-6 - Whatever house you enter, first say, Peace be to this house! And if a son of peace is there, your peace will rest upon him. But if not, it will return to you. (ESV)
> Luke 10:10-11 - But whenever you enter a town and they do not receive you, go into its streets and say, Even the dust of your town that clings to our feet we wipe off against you. Nevertheless know this, that the kingdom of God has come near. (ESV)
> John 14:19-21 - Yet a little while and the world will see me no more, but you will see me. Because I live, you also will live. In that day you will know that I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you. Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

Like Jesus, we should preach the peace of Jesus which is found in Jesus for those who abide in Jesus keeping His commandments:

> Ephesians 2:11-17 - Therefore remember that at one time you Gentiles in the flesh, called the uncircumcision by what is called the circumcision, which is made in the flesh by hands— remember that you were at that time separated from Christ, alienated from the commonwealth of Israel and strangers to the covenants of promise, having no hope and without God in the world. But now in Christ Jesus you who once were far off have been brought near by the blood of Christ. For he himself is our peace, who has made us both one and has broken down in his flesh the dividing wall of hostility by abolishing the law of commandments and ordinances, that he might create in himself one new man in place of the two, so making peace, and might reconcile us both to God in one body through the cross, thereby killing the hostility. And he came and preached peace to you who were far off and peace to those who were near. (ESV)

> I John 3:24 - Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

The peace Jesus gives is not ”peace on Earth” with just anyone. Those who follow Jesus and those who do not follow Jesus are on different paths, like different currents. The gospel is divisive:

> Matthew 10:32-38 - So everyone who acknowledges me before men, I also will acknowledge before my Father who is in heaven, but whoever denies me before men, I also will deny before my Father who is in heaven. Do not think that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I have not come to bring peace, but a sword. For I have come to set a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. And a person’s enemies will be those of his own household. Whoever loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me, and whoever loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. And whoever does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me. (ESV)

Because of the word ”eudokias” which means ”good will / desire / good intent”, Luke 2:14 is not saying ”bringing peace” generally to all men, but God’s gesture in sending Jesus is God offering peace to men but that peace is received by receiving Jesus.

But Luke might be saying one of these:

- ”Glory to God in the highest, desiring peace in/among men”
  - I Timothy 2:4 - who desires (G2309 thelei) all people to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth. (ESV)
- ”Glory to God in the highest, and peace in/among men who have good desire.”

Whatever the translation, this is true:

- We have peace with God in Jesus Christ abiding in His commandments.
  - We’d have to forgive one-another, of course, to have this peace (Matthew 18:32-35).
- We are instructed to be peaceful to others.
  - Romans 12:17-19 - Repay no one evil for evil, but give thought to do what is honorable in the sight of all. If possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all. Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord. (ESV)
- God sent Jesus with good intentions, and was pleased to do so.
  - Isaiah 53:10 - Yet it was the will of the LORD to crush him; he has put him to grief; when his soul makes an offering for sin, he shall see his offspring; he shall prolong his days; the will of the LORD shall prosper in his hand. (ESV)

- There is certainly still a day of wrath coming:
    - Romans 2:5-11 - But because of your hard and impenitent heart you are storing up wrath for yourself on the day of wrath when God's righteous judgment will be revealed. He will render to each one according to his works: to those who by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, he will give eternal life; but for those who are self-seeking and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, there will be wrath and fury. There will be tribulation and distress for every human being who does evil, the Jew first and also the Greek, but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does good, the Jew first and also the Greek. For God shows no partiality. (ESV)

If we want peace then we should be those who side with Father God and with Jesus and Holy Spirit who have good intentions, and ourselves have good intentions and we should obey the Truth (obey God, obey Jesus Christ, obey the gospel), and since we can't obey without loving the truth, we must have faith in the truth and obey the truth out of faith in order to people of good will.

I think the KJV here is misleading because it says "and on earth peace" without qualifying how or who with. And the ESV and DRA are compatible. Men of good will are those who are for Jesus Christ rather than against Him and Father God is pleased with those who love Jesus and believe he came from God.

> Luke 2:14 - Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men. (KJV)
> Luke 2:14 - Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among those with whom he is pleased! (ESV)

Journal <2026-06-23 Tue> If people are unwilling to confess their faith in Jesus Christ to me then I wont affirm them as family in Christ. Since I've been born-again, all things being new, if someone were to ask me now if such and such a person is a "Christian" then I would say in response, "I'm not God. I can't see their heart. Christians are commanded to continue to walk by faith. You should ask them in person what they presently believe." But if someone has also testified of Jesus Christ to me, making a declaration of their faith to me after I was born-again, then I could testify to that, saying that with their mouth they have made testimony of Jesus Christ to me. If I haven't heard a confession of faith since I was born-again on 2 April 2022 then I cannot personally affirm them. Regardless of whether or not a person confesses to me, there are, of course, consequences for those who choose to not make testimony of their faith in Jesus before man. That would be Jesus Himself not testifying of them before Father God. For me, knowing for certain that I've been born-again, in like fashion I think it's correct to do likewise saying to Father God that this person has or this person has not confessed the name of Jesus Christ to me, and I'd state how they confessed it. Also, for someone who has confessed their faith to me, I would also factor in any knowledge that I have to do with whether or not they are still abiding in sound doctrine, since the believer in Jesus must also continue abiding in the sound teaching of Jesus Christ. That would be Jesus Himself not testifying of them before Father God. For me, knowing for certain that I've been born-again, in like fashion to Jesus I think it's correct to do likewise saying to Father God whether or not and how this person has confessed the name of Jesus Christ to me.

Christ suffered once for sins, the righteous for the unrighteous, that He might bring us to God:

> I Peter 3:17-22 - For it is better to suffer for doing good, if that should be God's will, than for doing evil. For Christ also suffered once for sins, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh but made alive in the spirit, in which he went and proclaimed to the spirits in prison, because they formerly did not obey, when God's patience waited in the days > of Noah, while the ark was being prepared, in which a few, that is, eight persons, were brought safely through water. Baptism, which corresponds to this, now saves you, not as a removal of dirt from the body but as an appeal to God for a good conscience, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, who has gone into heaven and is at the right hand of God, with angels, authorities, and powers having been subjected to him. (ESV)

> Hebrews 13:18 - Pray for us, for we are sure that we have a clear conscience, desiring to act honorably in all things. (ESV)
> Hebrews 10:19-23 - Therefore, brothers, since we have confidence to enter the holy places by the blood of Jesus, by the new and living way that he opened for us through the curtain, that is, through his flesh, and since we have a great priest over the house of God, let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith, with our hearts sprinkled clean from an evil conscience and our bodies washed with pure water. Let us hold fast the confession of our hope without wavering, for he who promised is faithful. (ESV)

Once again, the gospel is divisive. So, like Noah and his family passed though the waters of baptism, we are baptised even by Jesus and we we hold our faith in Jesus Christ, and we come out from the evil generation and become a ”son of light”. With that heart of faith that trust, hopes in, is obedient to and loves Jesus, we separate from the evil generation:

> I Peter 3:21 - Baptism, which corresponds to this, now saves you, not as a removal of dirt from the body but as an appeal to God for a good conscience, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, (ESV)
> Hebrews 10:34-39 - For you had compassion on those in prison, and you joyfully accepted the plundering of your property, since you knew that you yourselves had a better possession and an abiding one. Therefore do not throw away your confidence, which has a great reward. For you have need of endurance, so that when you have done the will of God you may receive what is promised. For, Yet a little while, and the coming one will come and will not delay; but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls. (ESV)
> John 12:35-36 - So Jesus said to them, The light is among you for a little while longer. Walk while you have the light, lest darkness overtake you. The one who walks in the darkness does not know where he is going. While you have the light, believe in the light, that you may become sons of light. When Jesus had said these things, he departed and hid himself from them. (ESV)
> Luke 16:8 - The master commended the dishonest manager for his shrewdness. For the sons of this world are more shrewd in dealing with their own generation than the sons of light. (ESV)

Even in the body of Christ there can be superficial (as in, not fully separating) divisions which we lament but will be dealt with. And the quarrelling, I take it, Paul saw as an indicator that there were divisions. We can still sharpen one-another. Christ Himself isn’t divided:

> Proverbs 27:17 - Iron sharpens iron, and one man sharpens another. (ESV)
> Colossians 3:16 - Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, teaching and admonishing one another in all wisdom, singing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, with thankfulness in your hearts to God. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 1:10-13 - I appeal to you, brothers, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you agree and that there be no divisions among you, but that you be united in the same mind and the same judgment. For it has been reported to me by Chloe’s people that there is quarreling among you, my brothers. What I mean is that each one of you says, I follow Paul, or I follow Apollos, or I follow Cephas, or I follow Christ. Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Or were you baptized in the name of Paul? (ESV)

We must not be against Jesus or the teachings of Jesus. So that means we must learn from Jesus and be correctable by Him, trusting and obedient to Him with hope in God's promises:

> Luke 9:50 - But Jesus said to him, Do not stop him, for the one who is not against you is for you. (ESV)

The peace to be found in Jesus Christ is peace with God and between those who God is pleased with:

> Luke 2:14 - Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among those with whom he is pleased! (ESV)

> Philippians 4:6-7 - do not be anxious about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus. (ESV)

It's peace ”in Christ” with each other and with God's Kingdom in heaven and earth:

> Colossians 1:20 - and through him to reconcile to himself all things, whether on earth or in heaven, making peace by the blood of his cross. (ESV)

It's peace with God for those for those who have faith in Jesus Christ, who trust God's Word:

> Romans 4:23-25,5:1-2 - But the words it was counted to him were not written for his sake alone, but for ours also. It will be counted to us who believe in him who raised from the dead Jesus our Lord, who was delivered up for our trespasses and raised for our justification. Therefore, since we have been justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. Through him we have also obtained access by faith into this grace in which we stand, and we rejoice in hope of the glory of God. (ESV)

> Isaiah 26:2-4 - Open the gates, that the righteous nation that keeps faith may enter in. You keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on you, because he trusts in you. Trust in the LORD forever, for the LORD GOD is an everlasting rock. (ESV)

It's peace for those who from the good treasure of their heart, do good:

> Romans 2:9-11 - There will be tribulation and distress for every human being who does evil, the Jew first and also the Greek, but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does good, the Jew first and also the Greek. For God shows no partiality. (ESV)

> Titus 1:15 - To the pure, all things are pure, but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their minds and their consciences are defiled. (ESV)

It's peace for those who abide in Jesus Christ's commandments:

> Isaiah 48:17-22 - Thus says the LORD, your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: I am the LORD your God, who teaches you to profit, who leads you in the way you should go. Oh that you had paid attention to my commandments! Then your peace would have been like a river, and your righteousness like the waves of the sea; your offspring would have been like the sand, and your descendants like its grains; their name would never be cut off or destroyed from before me. Go out from Babylon, flee from Chaldea, declare this with a shout of joy, proclaim it, send it out to the end of the earth; say, The LORD has redeemed his servant Jacob! They did not thirst when he led them through the deserts; he made water flow for them from the rock; he split the rock and the water gushed out. There is no peace, says the LORD, for the wicked. (ESV)

> Job 5:20 - In famine he will redeem you from death, and in war from the power of the sword. (ESV)

There is no partnership between light and darkness:

> John 15:22-24 - If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not have been guilty of sin, but now they have no excuse for their sin. Whoever hates me hates my Father also. If I had not done among them the works that no one else did, they would not be guilty of sin, but now they have seen and hated both me and my Father. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 6:14-18,7:1 - Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what partnership has righteousness with lawlessness? Or what fellowship has light with darkness? What accord has Christ with Belial? Or what portion does a believer share with an unbeliever? What agreement has the temple of God with idols? For we are the temple of the living God; as God said, I will make my dwelling among them and walk among them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Therefore go out from their midst, and be separate from them, says the Lord, and touch no unclean thing; then I will welcome you, and I will be a father to you, and you shall be sons and daughters to me, says the Lord Almighty. Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God. (ESV)

> Hosea 4:17 - Ephraim is joined to idols; leave him alone. (ESV)

> I John 2:22-23 - Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, he who denies the Father and the Son. No one who denies the Son has the Father. Whoever confesses the Son has the Father also. (ESV)

> I John 2:23 - No one who denies the Son has the Father. Whoever confesses the Son has the Father also. (ESV)

> I John 4:15 - Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. (ESV)

False obedience is where there is no love for God in the heart:

> Psalms 81:15 - Those who hate the LORD would feign obedience, and their doom would last forever. (engbsb2020eb)

God trains us through discipline for holiness to behave righteously and the fruit of that yields peace:

> Hebrews 12:10-11 - For they disciplined us for a short time as it seemed best to them, but he disciplines us for our good, that we may share his holiness. For the moment all discipline seems painful rather than pleasant, but later it yields the peaceful fruit of righteousness to those who have been trained by it. (ESV)

So in resting from our works, we remain ready and prepared to do good works opportunistically (as they are given to us, as keeping a good conscience with God would require them to be done).

> Galatians 6:10 - So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to those who are of the household of faith. (ESV)

Being ”generous” and ”ready to share” are heart attitudes and as we practice these heart attitudes, the Scripture says we are laying up a good foundation for the future:

> I Timothy 6:17-19 - As for the rich in this present age, charge them not to be haughty, nor to set their hopes on the uncertainty of riches, but on God, who richly provides us with everything to enjoy. They are to do good, to be rich in good works, to be generous and ready to share, thus storing up treasure for themselves as a good foundation for the future, so that they may take hold of that which is truly life. (ESV)

> II Peter 1:3-12 - His divine power has granted to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of him who called us to his own glory and excellence, by which he has granted to us his precious and very great promises, so that through them you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world because of sinful desire. For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins. Therefore, brothers, be all the more diligent to make your calling and election sure, for if you practice these qualities you will never fall. For in this way there will be richly provided for you an entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Therefore I intend always to remind you of these qualities, though you know them and are established in the truth that you have. (ESV)

So the rest is resting with a faith that is still maintaining a genuine agape-love for God and for one's neighbour, especially their family in Christ. But so long as we are keeping Christ's law lawfully trusting in Him and loving one-another as He has commanded and demonstrated, we are permitted to rest and are not duty bound to perform tasks that are not within Christ's law.

Since God has prepared the good works for us to walk in, God is ultimately in control of dispensing these good works, as we receive them, walking in them faithfully, lovingly and obediently!

What resting from our works means is that maintaining our law-abiding obedience and good conscience with God takes priority over just doing things habitually or under constraint. It doesn't mean habitual or religious tasks are evil. It just means that we are allowed to rest in a law-abiding faith in Jesus, and that when religion tries to rob you of that rest, that's when religion is unhelpful.

Now, a law-abiding faith doesn't close their heart to a brother in need. A law-abiding faith is still ready and prepared to love our family in Christ in word and deed and truth. But like Paul says, if he has not love, such good works profit him nothing. The heart attitude of law-abiding love and the works that come from that heart are different things. So even when resting from one's works, we must retain the law-abiding love.

> I Corinthians 13:2 - And if I have prophetic powers, and understand all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but have not love (26. agapé - treasuring, valuing love), I am nothing. (ESV)

So when we do rest from our works, it would be either because we have exhausted our current supply of good works, or because doing them would be unlawful (i.e. would be not done in faith, or not done in love). For example, if doing some "good deed" would at the same time break the 2 Great Commandments, then it would be unlawful.

We need to be "walking in faith":

> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

We need to be "walking in love":

> Romans 14:15 - For if your brother is grieved by what you eat, you are no longer walking in love. By what you eat, do not destroy the one for whom Christ died. (ESV)

Romans 14:15 (Interlinear) If (G1487 ei) for on account of food the brother of you is grieved no longer according to (G2596 kata) love (G26 agapēn) are you walking (G4043 peripateis) Not with the food of you that one destroy for whom Christ died

And it's absolutely fine to continue doing good works as a Christian (despite the discouragement one might get), in fact Jesus purchased us to be zealous for good works. And it's advised to do so as well, if we want to see good days:

> I Peter 3:10-13 - For Whoever desires to love life and see good days, let him keep his tongue from evil and his lips from speaking deceit; let him turn away from evil and do good; let him seek peace and pursue it. For the eyes of the Lord are on the righteous, and his ears are open to their prayer. But the face of the Lord is against those who do evil. Now who is there to harm you if you are zealous for what is good? (ESV)
> Titus 2:11-15 - For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people, training us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in the present age, waiting for our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, who gave himself for us to redeem us from all lawlessness and to purify for himself a people for his own possession who are zealous for good works. Declare these things; exhort and rebuke with all authority. Let no one disregard you. (ESV)
> Hebrews 9:27-28 - And just as it is appointed for man to die once, and after that comes judgment, so Christ, having been offered once to bear the sins of many, will appear a second time, not to deal with sin but to save those who are eagerly waiting for him. (ESV)
> Psalms 34:14-16 - Turn away from evil and do good; seek peace and pursue it. The eyes of the LORD are toward the righteous and his ears toward their cry. The face of the LORD is against those who do evil, to cut off the memory of them from the earth. (ESV)

Jesus disciplines us because He loves us and wants to best for us. So be zealous, even for good work, and repent, turn away from evil and do good!:

> Revelation of John 3:19 - Those whom I love, I reprove and discipline, so be zealous and repent. (ESV)

Journal <2026-05-28 Thu 08:09> We entering into God's rest through "faith and obedience" to Jesus Christ and to His gospel:

> > Hebrews 4:1-14 - Therefore, while the promise of entering his rest still stands, let us fear lest any of you should seem to have failed to reach it. For good news came to us just as to them, but the message they heard did not benefit them, because they were not united by faith with those who listened. For we who have believed enter that rest, as he has said, As I swore in my wrath, They shall not enter my rest, although his works were finished from the foundation of the world. For he has somewhere spoken of the seventh day in this way: And God rested on the seventh day from all his works. And again in this passage he said, They shall not enter my rest. Since therefore it remains for some to enter it, and those who formerly received the good news failed to enter because of disobedience, again he appoints a certain day, Today, saying through David so long afterward, in the words already quoted, Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts. For if Joshua had given them rest, God would not have spoken of another day later on. So then, there remains a Sabbath rest for the people of God, for whoever has entered God's rest has also rested from his works as God did from his. Let us therefore strive to enter that rest, so that no one may fall by the same sort of disobedience. For the word of God is living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing to the division of soul and of spirit, of joints and of marrow, and discerning the thoughts and intentions of the heart. And no creature is hidden from his sight, but all are naked and exposed to the eyes of him to whom we must give account. Since then we have a great high priest who has passed through the heavens, Jesus, the Son of God, let us hold fast our confession. (ESV)
> This "striving" for obedience to Christ and His gospel is a resisting of sin while holding our faith in Jesus Christ:

> Acts 26:18 - to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me. (ESV)
> Genesis 3:15 - I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your offspring and her offspring; he shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise his heel. (ESV)
> Romans 16:19-20 - For your obedience is known to all, so that I rejoice over you, but I want you to be wise as to what is good and innocent as to what is evil. The God of peace will soon crush Satan under your feet. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. (ESV)
> II Corinthians 10:5-6 - We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, being ready to punish every disobedience, when your obedience is complete. (ESV)
> Hebrews 12:4-8 - In your struggle against sin you have not yet resisted to the point of shedding your blood. And have you forgotten the exhortation that addresses you as sons? My son, do not regard lightly the discipline of the Lord, nor be weary when reproved by him. For the Lord disciplines the one he loves, and chastises every son whom he receives. It is for discipline that you have to endure. God is treating you as sons. For what son is there whom his father does not discipline? If you are left without discipline, in which all have participated, then you are illegitimate children and not sons. (ESV)

The enemy, the devil, tries to pull people back into distrusting Jesus and His gospel and into disobeying Him and His gospel. The devil comes along and speaks lies, perhaps through other people, things like, ”you don’t need to love your brother”, or ”you don’t need to test the spirits”, or ”you can’t expect God to give you the testimony of Jesus Christ from Holy Spirit”, or ”you can’t be saved by obeying Christ”, or ”you can’t be saved by faith in Christ”. The enemy so often uses ”half truths” which are actually lies, pitting parts of Jesus Christ’s gospel against each other to try to neuter/sterilize/disempower the gospel, saying such things as ”it’s by faith in Jesus Christ that a person is saved, not obedience”, for example:

> Genesis 3:1-4 - Now the serpent was more crafty than any other beast of the field that the LORD God had made. He said to the woman, Did God actually say, You shall not eat of any tree in the garden? And the woman said to the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees in the garden, but God said, You shall not eat of the fruit of the tree that is in the midst of the garden, neither shall you touch it, lest you die. But the serpent said to the woman, You will not surely die. (ESV)
> Luke 8:12-15 - The ones along the path are those who have heard. Then the devil comes and takes away the word from their hearts, so that they may not believe and be saved. And the ones on the rock are those who, when they hear the word, receive it with joy. But these have no root; they believe for a while, and in time of testing fall away. And as for what fell among the thorns, they are those who hear, but as they go on their way they are choked by the cares and riches and pleasures of life, and their fruit does not mature. As for that in the good soil, they are those who, hearing the word, hold it fast in an honest and good heart, and bear fruit with patience. (ESV)

Holy Spirit certainly also has a voice and does speak:

> Acts 13:2-4 - While they were worshiping the Lord and fasting, the Holy Spirit said, Set apart for me Barnabas and Saul for the work to which I have called them. Then after fasting and praying they laid their hands on them and sent them off. So, being sent out by the Holy Spirit, they went down to Seleucia, and from there they sailed to Cyprus. (ESV)

But through persevering in faith and resisting all the opposition, God leads us into the truth:

> John 8:31-32 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed in him, If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free. (ESV)

God's word is trustworthy. The shield of faith involves trusting what God says rather than the lies:

> Psalms 18:30 - This God—his way is perfect; the word of the LORD proves true; he is a shield for all those who take refuge in him. (ESV)

So resting from our works is not about ceasing to do good, it's just about having faith in / trusting in Christ. Having put our faith in Christ, we enter His rest. We want to do that obediently, putting down idols, etc. (”Let us therefore strive to enter that rest, so that no one may fall by the same sort of disobedience”). We must not misconstrue doing good and obeying God as opposing the cross of Christ. But it's perfectly fine to work out (perform) our salvation, taking every thought captive for obedience to Christ, and arrive at the point where it's not burdensome to keep Christ's commandments:

> Luke 6:9-10 - And Jesus said to them, I ask you, is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good or to do harm, to save life or to destroy it? And after looking around at them all he said to him, Stretch out your hand. And he did so, and his hand was restored. (ESV)
> Hebrews 4:3 - For we who have believed enter that rest, as he has said, As I swore in my wrath, They shall not enter my rest, although his works were finished from the foundation of the world. (ESV)
> Hebrews 4:8-10 - For if Joshua had given them rest, God would not have spoken of another day later on. So then, there remains a Sabbath rest for the people of God, for whoever has entered God's rest has also rested from his works as God did from his. (ESV)

We enter God's rest while we are believing in Christ. The day is today. Every day is the Sabbath:

> Hebrews 4:7-12 - again he appoints a certain day, Today, saying through David so long afterward, in the words already quoted, Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts. For if Joshua had given them rest, God would not have spoken of another day later on. So then, there remains a Sabbath rest for the people of God, for whoever has entered God's rest has also rested from his works as God did from his. Let us therefore strive to enter that rest, so that no one may fall by the same sort of disobedience. For the word of God is living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing to the division of soul and of spirit, of joints and of marrow, and discerning the thoughts and intentions of the heart. (ESV)

Real faith loves God rather than evil. Real faith in Jesus prefers Him to evil. Real faith in Jesus prefers Him to other things. And God cleans us as we hold our faith in Jesus Christ preferring Him.

There is no rest for the unrepentant. Whether a person has a disease/illness or not, they need to come to faith in Jesus with the love of God. A sick person finds no cure in being unrepentant. Real love and compassion encourages people to turn from the error of their ways. It's not right to say, ”The ill/diseased are excused from needing to repent and have faith.” We don't just take the rest from Jesus without coming to Jesus (learning from Him). Jesus gives the rest to those who come to Him. We need to come to have a genuine faith in Jesus which loves the truth. Whoever is presently having faith in Jesus is not committing sin. God justifies the ungodly who have faith in Jesus and in having faith in Jesus they have repented and in having faith in Jesus are not committing sin (I John 5:18, I John 5:1-6, Romans 14:23).

Those who love the darkness rather than love God (John 3:14-19, II Timothy 3:1-5) are unrepentant people (II Timothy 3:6-8) who are disqualified in their faith and who do not come to the knowledge of the truth which God desires all people to come to know (I Timothy 2:4). So having the love of God in us is important for being saved. And unless someone is keeping God's commandments, for them, then they surely cannot have come to the knowledge of the truth (I John 2:3-6). We have to have the love of God in us to have genuine faith in Jesus:

> Romans 14:23 - But whoever has doubts is condemned if he eats, because the eating is not from faith. For whatever does not proceed from faith is sin. (ESV)

> John 5:6-15 - When Jesus saw him lying there and knew that he had already been there a long time, he said to him, Do you want to be healed? The sick man answered him, Sir, I have no one to put me into the pool when the water is stirred up, and while I am going another steps down before me. Jesus said to him, Get up, take up your bed, and walk. And at once the man was healed, and he took up his bed and walked. Now that day was the Sabbath. So the Jews said to the man who had been healed, It is the Sabbath, and it is not lawful for you to take up your bed. But he answered them, The man who healed me, that man said to me, Take up your bed, and walk. They asked him, Who is the man who said to you, Take up your bed and walk? Now the man who had been healed did not know who it was, for Jesus had withdrawn, as there was a crowd in the place. Afterward Jesus found him in the temple and said to him, See, you are well! Sin no more, that nothing worse may happen to you. The man went away and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had healed him. (ESV)

> John 5:42-43 - But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. I have come in my Father's name, and you do not receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him. (ESV)

Abiding by Christ's law (Christ's commandments), which is a law of faith (we're not under the curse of the law of Moses) and is not a law of works (Romans 3:21-31), is not being under a curse, but, rather is being under grace:

> I Corinthians 16:22 - If anyone has no love for the Lord, let him be accursed. Our Lord, come! (ESV)

> John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

> John 1:17 - For the law was given through Moses; grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. (ESV)

When contrasting being "under law" to being "under grace", Paul is takling about people who "rely" on the "works" (the exterior stuff) of the law, the Mosaic Law (which came in after Abraham), who are under law. But the law of Christ which we are 'under' (abide in) is a different type of law, and the kind of law that it is is a law of faith. It's about the heart. And like Abraham, we should believe in, trust in, trust, agape love and obey Jesus. And just like Abraham's faith, our faith may be tested and a person may be justified by works, like Abraham's faith and that wasn't "works of the law of Moses" which came in later (to increase the trespass). But we don't "rely" on the justification by works of faith in Jesus, though that type of thing may happen.

Though when it happens, the type of faith that produces the deed is not a "doing good deeds to earn justification" type of faith. Rather, it's a deed done from genuine faith that is a love for the truth. With good treasure in a person's heart, a person may produce a good deed. So loving people in deed comes from loving first from the heart by faith in the Truth.

We don't try to contrive the deeds. Rather we walk by faith and the deeds follow (Revelation of John 14:13). Obedience depends on love for the truth (Psalms 81:15).

God sets up the deeds for those who are walking in the light, but we should be obedient and ready to do them as they are given to us. So we don't contrive the deeds by forcing our way into "helping" widows and orphans, as if to check off some list and self-commend to tell Jesus when we served Him! No, God gives us the deeds. What does not proceed from faith is sin. We should be obedient, ready for every good deed:

> Titus 3:1 - Remind them to be submissive to rulers and authorities, to be obedient, to be ready for every good work, (ESV)

> Luke 12:47 - And that servant who knew his master's will but did not get ready or act according to his will, will receive a severe beating. (ESV)

Works is to faith as body is to spirit:

> James 2:26 - For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, so also faith apart (G5565 chōris) from works is dead. (ESV)

A person cannot make false witness in faith, nor can they murder or commit adultery or idolatry in faith:

> Revelation of John 21:8 - But as for the cowardly, the faithless, the detestable, as for murderers, the sexually immoral, sorcerers, idolaters, and all liars, their portion will be in the lake that burns with fire and sulfur, which is the second death. (ESV)

Connecting both mentions of ”showing no partiality” in James 2:1-12, holding faith and being ”law abiding”, not committing sin, go hand in hand, and if we love Jesus Christ then we will be law-abiding:

> James 2:1-12 - My brothers, show no partiality as you hold the faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory. For if a man wearing a gold ring and fine clothing comes into your assembly, and a poor man in shabby clothing also comes in, and if you pay attention to the one who wears the fine clothing and say, You sit here in a good place, while you say to the poor man, You stand over there, or, Sit down at my feet, have you not then made distinctions among yourselves and become judges with evil thoughts? Listen, my beloved brothers, has not God chosen those who are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom, which he has promised to those who love him? But you have dishonored the poor man. Are not the rich the ones who oppress you, and the ones who drag you into court? Are they not the ones who blaspheme the honorable name by which you were called? If you really fulfill the royal law according to the Scripture, You shall love your neighbor as yourself, you are doing well. But if you show partiality, you are committing sin and are convicted by the law as transgressors. For whoever keeps the whole law but fails in one point has become accountable for all of it. For he who said, Do not commit adultery, also said, Do not murder. If you do not commit adultery but do murder, you have become a transgressor of the law. So speak and so act as those who are to be judged under the law of liberty. (ESV)

> John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

From the good treasure of one’s heart they will produce good:

> Luke 6:43 - For no good tree bears bad fruit, nor again does a bad tree bear good fruit,

> Matthew 7:17-19 - So, every healthy tree bears good fruit, but the diseased tree bears bad fruit. A healthy tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor can a diseased tree bear good fruit. Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. (ESV)

> Isaiah 61:1-3 - The Spirit of the Lord GOD is upon me, because the LORD has anointed me to bring good news to the poor; he has sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to those who are bound; to proclaim the year of the LORD’s favor, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all who mourn; to grant to those who mourn in Zion— to give them a beautiful headdress instead of ashes, the oil of gladness instead of mourning, the garment of praise instead of a faint spirit; that they may be called oaks of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that he may be glorified. (ESV)

Isaiah 61:3 (Interlinear) to appoint to mourners in Zion to give to them beauty instead of ashes the oil of joy instead of mourning a garment of praise instead of a spirit of dullness and will be called to them oaks (H352 ’ê · lê) of righteousness (H6664 haṣ · ṣe · ḏeq,) the planting (H4302 maṭ · ṭa‘) of YHWH (H3068 Yah · weh) for His being glorified (H6286 lə · hiṯ · pā · ’êr.)

> Psalms 92:12-14 - The righteous flourish like the palm tree and grow like a cedar in Lebanon. They are planted in the house of the LORD; they flourish in the courts of our God. They still bear fruit in old age; they are ever full of sap and green, (ESV)

The root of the tree we must be in in order to live must be Jesus Christ. To make the tree good we must be in Jesus Christ. We must keep Jesus Christ's commandments to abide in Him (the commandments we need to keep are not exclusive to taking the Lord's supper). The commandment to "Do this in rememberance of me" is one commandment:

> John 6:51 - I am the living bread that came down from heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever. And the bread that I will give for the life of the world is my flesh. (ESV)
> Luke 22:19 - And he took bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it and gave it to them, saying, This is my body, which is given for you. Do this in remembrance of me. (ESV)
> I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)
> John 6:53-58 - So Jesus said to them, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you have no life in you. Whoever feeds on my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. For my flesh is true food, and my blood is true drink. Whoever feeds on my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me, and I in him. As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so whoever feeds on me, he also will live because of me. This is the bread that came down from heaven, not as the fathers ate and died. Whoever feeds on this bread will live forever. (ESV)

The tree of Jesus Christ will not be thrown in the fire. So we must abide in Jesus Christ who is the true vine:

> John 15:1-2 - I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinedresser. Every branch of mine that does not bear fruit he takes away, and every branch that does bear fruit he prunes, that it may bear more fruit. (ESV)
> Romans 11:17-25 - But if some of the branches were broken off, and you, although a wild olive shoot, were grafted in among the others and now share in the nourishing root of the olive tree, do not be arrogant toward the branches. If you are, remember it is not you who support the root, but the root that supports you. Then you will say, Branches were broken off so that I might be grafted in. That is true. They were broken off because of their unbelief, but you stand fast through faith. So do not become proud, but stand in awe. For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. Note then the kindness and the severity of God: severity toward those who have fallen, but God's kindness to you, provided you continue in his kindness. Otherwise you too will be cut off. And even they, if they do not continue in their unbelief, will be grafted in, for God has the power to graft them in again. For if you were cut from what is by nature a wild olive tree, and grafted, contrary to nature, into a cultivated olive tree, how much more will these, the natural branches, be grafted back into their own olive tree. Lest you be wise in your own conceits, I want you to understand this mystery, brothers: a partial hardening has come upon Israel, until the fullness of the Gentiles has come in. (ESV)
> Isaiah 5:4 - What more was there to do for my vineyard, that I have not done in it? When I looked for it to yield grapes, why did it yield wild grapes? (ESV)
> Matthew 3:10 - Even now the axe is laid to the root of the trees. Every tree therefore that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. (ESV)
> John 15:4-6 - Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit by itself, unless it abides in the vine, neither can you, unless you abide in me. I am the vine; you are the branches. Whoever abides in me and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. If anyone does not abide in me he is thrown away like a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire, and burned. (ESV)

God puts a person into Christ, which means their root is good. A branch, as Jesus says, bears fruit John 15:4-6 and if that branch is in Jesus Christ then it will bear good fruit:

> I Corinthians 1:30 - But by His doing you are in Christ Jesus, who became to us wisdom from God, and righteousness and sanctification, and redemption, (NASB)

We are asked by Jesus in John 15:4-6 to abide (G3306 meinēte; remain, abide, stay, continue, dwell, endure) in Him.

Analogy for abiding in Jesus Since Jesus is the Telos of the Law and we're not "under the Law" but "law-abiding" to Christ's law then the person "under the Law" trying to fulfill the whole law might be compared to a person who is walking to a train station but the journey is impossibly difficult. God has done this in Jesus Christ. What is impossible for man to have done, Jesus did. And the other thing God does which is impossible for man to do without God is put us into Christ. According to the metaphor, then, God then puts us at the train station. And the person who is "law-abiding" to Christ's law would be someone who has come to Jesus, someone who Father God has drawn to Christ, and is now at the metaphorical train station (Jesus Christ who is the Telos of the law). God put them at the train station in Jesus. And Jesus asks us to "remain in Him". And so the analogy would be "remain at the train station" (i.e. You're already there, just don't leave the train station). Jesus won't expell you (i.e. no-one can snatch us from His hand) but He asks you to remain (i.e. abide) in Him. Don't go off wondering away. Don't leave the metaphorical train station. We examine ourselves to see if we are in the faith. For example, if we hate our brother then we have left the train station. If we do not believe Jesus is the Son of God then we have left the train station, and like the prodigal son, we must return to God by repentance. If we the branches remain in a place of not abiding in Christ then we wither. And at the end of the age the branches that are not abiding in Jesus are collected and burned.

God puts a person into Christ so that their root is good and so they will produce good fruit. The analogy is that a person is likened to a tree. A person who abides as a branch in Jesus Christ the vine has a good/pure root and so will bear good fruit:

> Matthew 3:10 - Even now the axe is laid to the root of the trees. Every tree therefore that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. (ESV)

If a tree stubbornly doesn't bear good fruit then it is eventually cut down. If a person stubbornly does not abide in Jesus then they are thrown away, wither and are eventually burned:

> Luke 13:6-9 - And he told this parable: A man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit on it and found none. And he said to the vinedresser, Look, for three years now I have come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and I find none. Cut it down. Why should it use up the ground? And he answered him, Sir, let it alone this year also, until I dig around it and put on manure. Then if it should bear fruit next year, well and good; but if not, you can cut it down. (ESV)

> John 15:4-7 - Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit by itself, unless it abides in the vine, neither can you, unless you abide in me. I am the vine; you are the branches. Whoever abides in me and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. If anyone does not abide in me he is thrown away like a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire, and burned. If you abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be done for you. (ESV)

God looks at the heart:

> II Corinthians 5:10-12 - For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil. Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. We are not commending ourselves to you again but giving you cause to boast about us, so that you may be able to answer those who boast about outward appearance and not about what is in the heart.

> 1 Samuel 16:7 - But the LORD said to Samuel, Do not look on his appearance or on the height of his stature, because I have rejected him. For the LORD sees not as man sees: man looks on the outward appearance, but the LORD looks on the heart. (ESV)

A person's faith will produce deeds. It's the faith in Jesus Christ that a person is justified by ”apart from” any corresponding works. So long as a person has the right faith, they are justified irrespective of whatever prior works they had:

> Ezekiel 18:27-28 - Again, when a wicked person turns away from the wickedness he has committed and does what is just and right, he shall save his life. Because he considered and turned away from all the transgressions that he had committed, he shall surely live; he shall not die. (ESV)

If a person doesn't have faith in God, then they are not justified irrespective of whatever prior works they had:

> Ezekiel 18:26 - When a righteous person turns away from his righteousness and does injustice, he shall die for it; for the injustice that he has done he shall die. (ESV)

Without Jesus Christ's atoning sacrifice, it's not even possible to be saved from the death sentence. To be saved, a person must turn away from sin and put their faith in Jesus Christ (by faith obeying Jesus keeping Jesus' commandments) and they, being found ”in Christ” will live. Jesus defeated death and for those in Christ death is also defeated for them. The victory is through Jesus Christ. A person who has Jesus Christ and His words and deeds as their top agape love, will have the devil put under their feet as they are wise for what is good and innocent of evil:

> Genesis 2:17 - but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil you shall not eat, for in the day that you eat of it you shall surely die. (ESV)
> Ezekiel 18:31 - Cast away from you all the transgressions that you have committed, and make yourselves a new heart and a new spirit! Why will you die, O house of Israel? (ESV)
> Isaiah 1:16-17 - Wash yourselves; make yourselves clean; remove the evil of your deeds from before my eyes; cease to do evil, learn to do good; seek justice, correct oppression; bring justice to the fatherless, plead the widow's cause. (ESV)
> Hebrews 10:12-17 - But when Christ had offered for all time a single sacrifice for sins, he sat down at the right hand of God, waiting from that time until his enemies should be made a footstool for his feet. For by a single offering he has perfected for all time those who are being sanctified. And the Holy Spirit also bears witness to us; for after saying, This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, declares the Lord: I will put my laws on their hearts, and write them on their minds, then he adds, I will remember their sins and their lawless deeds no more. (ESV)
> Romans 7:8-25,8:2-4 - But sin, seizing an opportunity through the commandment, produced in me all kinds of covetousness. Apart from the law, sin lies dead. I was once alive apart from the law, but when the commandment came, sin came alive and I died. The very commandment that promised life proved to be death to me. For sin, seizing an opportunity through the commandment, deceived me and through it killed me. So the law is holy, and the commandment is holy and righteous and good. Did that which is good, then, bring death to me? By no means! It was sin, producing death in me through what is good, in order that sin might be shown to be sin, and through the commandment might become sinful beyond measure. For we know that the law is spiritual, but I am of the flesh, sold under sin. I do not understand my own actions. For I do not do what I want, but I do the very thing I hate. Now if I do what I do not want, I agree with the law, that it is good. So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. For I do not do the > good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. So I find it to be a law that when I want to do right, evil lies close at hand. For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. Wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me from this body of death? Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord! So then, I myself serve the law of God with my mind, but with my flesh I serve the law of sin. For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. (ESV)

> Psalms 103:17-18 - But the steadfast love of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting on those who fear him, and his righteousness to children's children, to those who keep his covenant and remember to do his commandments. (ESV)

> I John 3:21-24 - Beloved, if our heart does not condemn us, we have confidence before God; and whatever we ask we receive from him, because we keep his commandments and do what pleases him. And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

> Ecclesiastes 12:13 - The end of the matter; all has been heard. Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man. (ESV)

> I John 3:6 - No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. (ESV)

> Romans 16:19-20 - For your obedience is known to all, so that I rejoice over you, but I want you to be wise as to what is good and innocent as to what is evil. The God of peace will soon crush Satan under your feet. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. (ESV)

God wants us to continue in faith:

> Hebrews 10:37-39 - For, Yet a little while, and the coming one will come and will not delay; _but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls. (ESV)

A person who doesn't "rely on their works" and who has the good faith will produce good deeds. So a person who is justified by faith has a faith that doesn't feign obedience:

> James 1:21-25 - Therefore put away all filthiness and rampant wickedness and receive with meekness the implanted word, which is able to save your souls. But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves. For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks intently at his natural face in a mirror. For he looks at himself and goes away and at once forgets what he was like. But the one who looks into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and perseveres, being no hearer who forgets but a doer who acts, he will be blessed in his doing. (ESV)

We must not be those who rely on being able to execute perfect deeds because then we'd be "under the law". It's not on the basis of works that a person can have the righteous that is through faith in Jesus Christ. It's not on the basis of works. It's on the basis of faith. Remember that faith (what's in the heart) to works (external actions done with the flesh from the heart) is like spirit to body (flesh):

> Galatians 3:2-6 - Let me ask you only this: Did you receive the Spirit by works of the law or by hearing with faith? Are you so foolish? Having begun by the Spirit, are you now being perfected by the flesh? Did you suffer so many things in vain—if indeed it was in vain? Does he who supplies the Spirit to you and works miracles among you do so by works of the law, or by hearing with faith— just as Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness? (ESV)
> Galatians 3:10 - For as many as are of the works of the Law are under a curse; for it is written, "Cursed is everyone who does not abide by all things written in the book of the law, to perform them." (NASB)
> Galatians 3:23 - Now before faith came, we were held captive under the law, imprisoned until the coming faith would be revealed. (ESV)
> Romans 9:31-32 - but that Israel who pursued a law that would lead to righteousness did not succeed in reaching that law. Why? Because they did not pursue it by faith, but as if it were based on works. They have stumbled over the stumbling stone, (ESV)
> Romans 11:6-7 - But if it is by grace, it is no longer on the basis of works; otherwise grace would no longer be grace. What then? Israel failed to obtain what it was seeking. The elect obtained it, but the rest were hardened, (ESV)

And a born-again Christian is given a new heart and a new spirit but still lugs around the flesh until they receive their new resurrection body. A person is "born of woman" first (they receive the flesh), then they are born of the spirit and receive a new spirit from God, then what is sown is flesh, and what is raised is a spiritual body. They receive the resurrection body after the flesh dies. So it's the natural first, then the spiritual:

> I Corinthians 15:42-48 - So is it with the resurrection of the dead. What is sown is perishable; what is raised is imperishable. It is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness; it is raised in power. It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body. Thus it is written, The first man Adam became a living being; the last Adam became a life-giving spirit. But it is not the spiritual that is first but the natural, and then the spiritual. The first man was from the earth, a man of dust; the second man is from heaven. As was the man of dust, so also are those who are of the dust, and as is the man of heaven, so also are those who are of heaven.
> Daniel 12:1-3 - At that time shall arise Michael, the great prince who has charge of your people. And there shall be a time of trouble, such as never has been since there was a nation till that time. But at that time your people shall be delivered, everyone whose name shall be found written in the book. And many of those who sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. And those who are wise shall shine like the brightness of the sky above; and those who turn many to righteousness, like the stars forever and ever. (ESV)

Polycarp 6:3 For every one who shall not confess (G3670 homologeó) that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is antichrist: and whosoever shall not confess (G3670 homologeó) the testimony of the Cross, is of the devil; and whosoever shall pervert the oracles of the Lord to his own lusts and say that there is neither resurrection nor judgment, that man is the firstborn of Satan.

> II Corinthians 5:4-12 - For while we are still in this tent, we groan, being burdened—not that we would be unclothed, but that we would be further clothed, so that what is mortal may be swallowed up by life. He who has prepared us for this very thing is God, who has given us the Spirit as a guarantee. So we are always of good courage. We know that while we are at home in the body we are away from the Lord, for we walk by faith, not by sight. Yes, we are of good courage, and we would rather be away from the body and at home with the Lord. So whether we are at home or away, we make it our aim to please him. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil. Therefore, knowing the fear of > the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. We are not commending ourselves to you again but giving you cause to boast about us, so that you may be able to answer those who boast about outward appearance and not about what is in the heart. (ESV)

As evidence we do not commend ourselves, but rather that God sees our hearts and commends us, take Matthew 25:31-40 where the righteous question when they "did what was required of them" and "saw Jesus and welcomed him", for instance. Now somebody who makes a clam such as "I have faith in the blood of Jesus" or "I have faith in Jesus" might make that claim without God's commendation:

> Matthew 25:31-40 - When the Son of Man comes in his glory, and all the angels with him, then he will sit on his glorious throne. Before him will be gathered all the nations, and he will separate people one from another as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats. And he will place the sheep on his right, but the goats on the left. Then the King will say to those on his right, Come, you who are blessed by my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed me, I was naked and you clothed me, I was sick and you visited me, I was in prison and you came to me. Then the righteous will answer him, saying, Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink? And when did we see you a stranger and welcome you, or naked and clothe you? And when did we see you sick or in prison and visit you? And the King will answer them, Truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brothers, you did it to me.

Abraham was tested to see if He had the fear of God in Him. Our faith must be like that. When we talk about "justification by works", it has to be on the basis of faith, on the basis of what's in the heart (in this case, the fear of God), rather than the external deed, otherwise it's no longer grace, but the exterior deed is an indicator of what is going on inside:

> Genesis 22:12 - He said, Do not lay your hand on the boy or do anything to him, for now I know that you fear God, seeing you have not withheld your son, your only son, from me. (ESV)

Justification is a matter of the heart. Whoever has true faith in Jesus Christ is justified in the heart:

> Romans 10:10 - For with the heart one believes and is justified, and with the mouth one confesses and is saved. (ESV)

Ephesians 2:8-9 mentions "not a result of works", it's talking about "work that you've done" to "earn something from God" on the merits of what you've accomplished. But the salvation is received by faith in Jesus Christ, not on the basis of your own personal achievements/accomplishments but on the basis of faith in the Lord Jesus Christ who is the perfect man, who God rose from the dead and declared to be His Son. When we agree-with, trust-in, love Jesus Christ in the heart, then we can have this righteousness that is independent of our works:

> Ephesians 2:8-9 - For by grace you have been saved through faith. And this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God, not a result of works, so that no one may boast. (ESV)

This man thought it was some good deed he had to do. Jesus tells him to keep the commandments (stop doing evil from the heart) and follow Him (Jesus). But the man clearly coveted His posessions too much:

> Matthew 19:16-26 - And behold, a man came up to him, saying, Teacher, what good deed must I do to have eternal life? And he said to him, Why do you ask me about what is good? There is only one who is good. If you would enter life, keep the commandments. He said to him, Which ones? And Jesus said, You shall not murder, You shall not commit adultery, You shall not steal, You shall not bear false witness, Honor your father and mother, and, You shall love your neighbor as yourself. The young man said to him, All these I have kept. What do I still lack? Jesus said to him, If you would be perfect, go, sell what you possess and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me. When the young man heard this he went away sorrowful, for he had great possessions. And Jesus said > to his disciples, Truly, I say to you, only with difficulty will a rich person enter the kingdom of heaven. Again I tell you, it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God. When the disciples heard this, they were greatly astonished, saying, Who then can be saved? But Jesus looked at them and said, With man this is impossible, but with God all things are possible.

We are instructed to not agape love the world ”possessions”, nor take pride in our ”possessions”:

> I John 2:15-17 - Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world—the desires of the flesh and the desires of the eyes and pride in possessions—is not from the Father but is from the world. And the world is passing away along with its desires, but whoever does the will of God abides forever. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 7:28-35 - But if you do marry, you have not sinned, and if a betrothed woman marries, she has not sinned. Yet those who marry will have worldly troubles, and I would spare you that. This is what I mean, brothers: the appointed time has grown very short. From now on, let those who have wives live as though they had none, and those who mourn as though they were not mourning, and those who rejoice as though they were not rejoicing, and those who buy as though they had no goods, and those who deal with the world as though they had no dealings with it. For the present form of this world is passing away. I want you to be free from anxieties. The unmarried man is anxious about the things of the Lord, how to please the Lord. But the married man is anxious about worldly things, how to please his wife, and his interests are divided. And the unmarried or betrothed woman is anxious about the things of the Lord, how to be holy in body and spirit. But the married woman is anxious about worldly things, how to please her husband. I say this for your own benefit, not to lay any restraint upon you, but to promote good order and to secure your undivided devotion to the Lord. (ESV)

As a born-again Christian, it’s not right to be ”dependent on the world”:

> I Corinthians 7:29-31 - What I am saying, brothers, is that the time is short. From now on those who have wives should live as if they had none; those who weep, as if they did not; those who are joyful, as if they were not; those who make a purchase, as if they had nothing; and those who use the things of this world, as if not dependent on them. For this world in its present form is passing away. (engbsb2020eb)

> I Corinthians 7:29-31 - This is what I mean, brothers: the appointed time has grown very short. From now on, let those who have wives live as though they had none, and those who mourn as though they were not mourning, and those who rejoice as though they were not rejoicing, and those who buy as though they had no goods, and those who deal with the world as though they had no dealings with it. For the present form of this world is passing away. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 7:29-31 - But this I say, brethren, the time has been shortened, so that from now on those who have wives should be as though they had none; and those who weep, as though they did not weep; and those who rejoice, as though they did not rejoice; and those who buy, as though they did not possess; and those who use the world, as though they did not make full use of it; for the form of this world is passing away. (NASB)

> I Corinthians 7:29-31 - And this I say, brethren, the time henceforth is having been shortened–that both those having wives may be as not having; and those weeping, as not weeping; and those rejoicing, as not rejoicing; and those buying, as not possessing; and those using this world, as not using it up; for passing away is the fashion of this world. (YLT)

> Luke 14:16-24 - But he said to him, A man once gave a great banquet and invited many. And at the time for the banquet he sent his servant to say to those who had been invited, Come, for everything is now ready. But they all alike began to make excuses. The first said to him, I have bought a field, > and I must go out and see it. Please have me excused. And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to examine them. Please have me excused. And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. So the servant came and reported these things to his master. Then the master of the house became angry and said to his servant, Go out quickly to the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in the poor and crippled and blind and lame. And the servant said, Sir, what you commanded has been done, and still there is room. And the master said to the servant, Go out to the highways and hedges and compel people to come in, that my house may be filled. For I tell you, none of those men who were invited shall taste my banquet. (ESV)

This makes it it quite clear that we must be law-abiding. The righteous are law-abiding and trust Jesus Christ and are "doers" of His word:

> Matthew 13:38-43 - The field is the world, and the good seed is the children of the kingdom. The weeds are the sons of the evil one, and the enemy who sowed them is the devil. The harvest is the close of the age, and the reapers are angels. Just as the weeds are gathered and burned with fire, so will it be at the close of the age. The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of sin and all law-breakers (G4160 poiountas 3588 tēn G458 anomian; practicing lawlessness), and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear. (ESV)

People who are "in-Christ", abiding in Jesus Christ's commandments (Jesus Christ who is the telos of the Law), they are not counted among the law-breakers.

Fear of God and hoping in God's steadfast love are strongly associated. Hoping in God's steadfast love and having the fear of God (wanting to please God, not wanting to sin against God), are strongly linked together. And because the faith we have is one which loves the truth of God, having the fear of God and having a love for the truth and a hatred of evil are all strongly linked together:

> Psalms 33:18-19 - Behold, the eye of the LORD is on those who fear him, on those who hope in his steadfast love, that he may deliver their soul from death and keep them alive in famine. (ESV)
> II Corinthians 5:9-12 - So whether we are at home or away, we make it our aim to please him. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil. Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. We are not commending ourselves to you again but giving you cause to boast about us, so that you may be able to answer those who boast about outward appearance and not about what is in the heart. (ESV)

The Mosaic law (exterior action this, exterior action this, exterior action this) and you'll live is not of faith. But the law can be pursued by faith, even obediently. How do you pursue the law by faith? Do what Abraham did (John 8:31-47). By faith Abraham obeyed. It wasn't merely the external deeds but that the deeds were done in faith and it's the faith that's essential. It's what's going on in the heart that is essential. It's a here and now heart attitude thing, a justified by grace through faith thing. Faith, hope, love and obedience are all heart attitudes.

> Romans 10:4-11 - For Christ is the end (G5056 telos) of the law for righteousness to everyone who believes. For Moses writes about the righteousness that is based on the law, that the person who does the commandments shall live by them. But the righteousness based on faith says, Do not say in your heart, Who will ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down) or Who will descend into the abyss? (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead). But what does it say? The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart (that is, the word of faith that we proclaim); because, if you confess with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For with the heart one believes and is justified, and with the mouth one confesses and is saved. For the Scripture says, Everyone who believes in him will not be put to shame. (ESV)

I Timothy 1:5 (Interlinear) And the goal (G5056 telos) of [our] instruction is love (G26 agapē) out of a pure heart and a conscience good and a faith sincere

> Matthew 23:26-28 - You blind Pharisee! First clean the inside of the cup and the plate, that the outside also may be clean. Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you are like whitewashed tombs, which outwardly appear beautiful, but within are full of dead people's bones and all uncleanness. So you also outwardly appear righteous to others, but within you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness. (ESV)
> Proverbs 26:23 - Like the glaze covering an earthen vessel are fervent lips with an evil heart. (ESV)
> Proverbs 26:24 - Whoever hates disguises himself with his lips and harbors deceit in his heart; (ESV)

Beware of the teaching of the Pharisees and the Sadducees which is hypocrisy. As opposed to hypocrisy, Paul emphasises that what counts is "faith working through love" from the heart, not relying on 'self-commendation' i.e. because one is outwardly circumcised, for example. God looks at the heart:

> Matthew 16:6-12 - Jesus said to them, Watch and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees. And they began discussing it among themselves, saying, We brought no bread. But Jesus, aware of this, said, O you of little faith, why are you discussing among yourselves the fact that you have no bread? Do you not yet perceive? Do you not remember the five loaves for the five thousand, and how many baskets you gathered? Or the seven loaves for the four thousand, and how many baskets you gathered? How is it that you fail to understand that I did not speak about bread? Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees. Then they understood that he did not tell them to beware of the leaven of bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees. (ESV)
> Luke 12:1 - In the meantime, when so many thousands of the people had gathered together that they were trampling one another, he began to say to his disciples first, Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy. (ESV)
> Galatians 5:5-10 - For through the Spirit, by faith, we ourselves eagerly wait for the hope of righteousness. For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision counts for anything, but only faith working through love. You were running well. Who hindered you from obeying the truth? This persuasion is not from him who calls you. A little leaven leavens the whole lump. I have confidence in the Lord that you will take no other view than mine, and the one who is troubling you will bear the penalty, whoever he is. (ESV)

If we're acceptable to Jesus, abiding in Jesus' commandments then we are acceptable to Father God. Jesus is our High Priest. Holy Spirit is our Advocate:

> John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)
> Romans 14:17-18 - For the kingdom of God is not a matter of eating and drinking but of righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. Whoever thus serves Christ is acceptable to God and approved by men. (ESV)

Have the love of God in you, the love of the Truth, the faith that loves and receives the truth: (John 5:37-42). Believing, trusting, hoping in God with the fear of God. God sees the heart:

> Romans 9:30-32 - What shall we say, then? That Gentiles who did not pursue righteousness have attained it, that is, a righteousness that is by faith; but that Israel who pursued a law that would lead to righteousness did not succeed in reaching that law. Why? Because they did not pursue it by faith, but as if it were based on works. They have stumbled over the stumbling stone, (ESV)

”The one having completed all of these external deeds will live” is probably an accurate way to understand ”the one who does (G4160 poiēsas; having done) them shall live by them”, as if their entire future is dependent on the completion of all of these external tasks.

If God’s commandments for us were merely about the external deeds then couldn’t you just delegate someone else to do all of these ’tasks’? Or even more absurd, delegate them to a robot? No because God’s commandments are not merely about external works. God wants your heart to be sanctified:

> Matthew 5:28 - But I say to you that everyone who looks at a woman with lustful intent has already committed adultery with her in his heart.

Being a ”doer” of the Law is different. And ”doing” is whether or not there is faith, love, obedience, fear of God, trust, hope in God in the heart. It’s not the ”works” that come out of that. Should we perform deeds in keeping with repentance? Yes. But we’re not sanctified by the deeds. But we are sanctified through the faith and the obedience! In Galatians 3:10-13, where the Scripture says, ”The one who does them shall live by them”, the word for ’does’ is poiēsas and more accurately means ’having done’, and so it’s stressing the completion of the works. We must not be those who rely on carrying out perfect deeds. But we still do faith. How many times has a person acted on good will and selfless love but found that despite good intentions, the other person got hurt? This is one reason why we don’t rely on our deeds. It certainly does not mean we should cease to act from faith, love and good intentions:

> Galatians 3:10-13 - For all who rely on works (G2041 ergōn: works, deed, action, task, labor) of the law are under a curse; for it is written, Cursed be everyone who does not abide by all things written in the Book of the Law, and do them. Now it is evident that no one is justified before God by the law, for The righteous shall live by faith. But the law is not of faith, rather The one who does (G4160 poiēsas; having done) them shall live by them. Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law by becoming a curse for us—for it is written, Cursed is everyone who is hanged on a tree— (ESV)

> I John 3:23 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. (ESV)

> Romans 2:13-16 - For it is not the hearers of the law who are righteous before God, but the doers (G4163 poiētai) of the law who will be justified. For when Gentiles, who do not have the law, by nature do what the law requires, they are a law to themselves, even though they do not have the law. They show that the work of the law is written on their hearts, while their conscience also bears witness, and their conflicting thoughts accuse or even excuse them on that day when, according to my gospel, God judges the secrets of men by Christ Jesus. (ESV)

> Jeremiah 17:10 - I the LORD search the heart and test the mind, to give every man according to his ways, according to the fruit of his deeds. (ESV)

God’s power is made perfect in our weaknesses. And so, God, I believe can actually use our shortcomings for His purposes:

> II Corinthians 12:9 - But he said to me, My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness. Therefore I will boast all the more gladly of my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may rest upon me. (ESV)

Judging the law is not the same thing as doing it:

> James 4:11 - Do not speak evil against one another, brothers. The one who speaks against a brother or judges his brother, speaks evil against the law and judges the law. But if you judge the law, you are not a doer of the law but a judge. (ESV)

We need to be doers of the word of God::

> Matthew 23:2 - The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses' seat, (ESV)

Matthew 23:2 saying (G3004 legōn) On (G1909 Epi)

> Matthew 23:3 - so practice and observe whatever they tell you—but not what they do. For they preach, but do not practice. (ESV)

Matthew 23:3 all things (G3956 panta) therefore (G3767 oun) how many (G3745 hosa) if (G1437 ean) they might tell (G3004 eipōsin) you (G4771 hymin) keep (G4160 poiēsate) also (G2532 kai) keep (G5083 tēreite) after (G2596 kata) however (G1161 de) the (G3588 ta) works (G2041 erga) of them (G846 autōn) not (G3361 mē) do (G4160 poieite) they speak (G3004 legousin) indeed (G1063 gar) and (G2532 kai) not (G3756 ou) act (G4160 poiousin)

> Matthew 23:4 - They tie up heavy burdens, hard to bear, and lay them on people's shoulders, but they themselves are not willing to move them with their finger. (ESV)

God looks at the heart:

> II Corinthians 5:10-12 - For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil. Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. We are not commending ourselves to you again but giving you cause to boast about us, so that you may be able to answer those who boast about outward appearance and not about what is in the heart.

> John 2:23-25 - Now when he was in Jerusalem at the Passover Feast, many believed in his name when they saw the signs that he was doing. But Jesus on his part did not entrust himself to them, because he knew all people and needed no one to bear witness about man, for he himself knew what was in man. (ESV)

> Psalms 139:23 - Search me, O God, and know my heart! Try me and know my thoughts! (ESV)

God sees when a person puts His word into practice. But God knows what is in the heart of a person when they do act on His word:

> Matthew 23:3 - so practice and observe whatever they tell you—but not what they do. For they preach, but do not practice. (ESV)

God wanting us to love Him with all our heart, soul, mind and strength really says that He wants us to be putting love into practice, being "doers":

> Luke 10:25-28 - And behold, a lawyer stood up to put him to the test, saying, Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? He said to him, What is written in the Law? How do you read it? And he answered, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind, and your neighbor as yourself. And he said to him, You have answered correctly; do this, and you will live. (ESV)

Love and good works once again means that love is not strictly the works:

> Hebrews 10:24-25 - And let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near. (ESV)

I'm not judging people until the Lord Jesus Christ does (I Corinthians 6:1-20). There comes a day when God judges the secrets of men by Christ Jesus and when we are judged by Jesus Christ (I Corinthians 11:32) He disciplines us in advance that we may not be condemned with the world (I Corinthians 11:32).

> Job 5:17-18 - Blessed indeed is the man whom God corrects; so do not despise the discipline of the Almighty. For He wounds, but He also binds; He strikes, but His hands also heal. (engbsb2020eb)

> I Corinthians 6:1-4 - When one of you has a grievance against another, does he dare go to law before the unrighteous instead of the saints? Or do you not know that the saints will judge the world? And if the world is to be judged by you, are you incompetent to try trivial cases? Do you not know that we are to judge angels? How much more, then, matters pertaining to this life! So if you have such cases, why do you lay them before those who have no standing in the church? (ESV)

> Deuteronomy 8:5-6 - Know then in your heart that, as a man disciplines his son, the LORD your God disciplines you. So you shall keep the commandments of the LORD your God by walking in his ways and by fearing him. (ESV)

I believe I've personally been going through this discipline after getting born-again.

There is a "last day" and we want to have put our faith in Jesus before the last day. But right now, not later, is the right time to put our faith in Jesus:

> Hebrews 3:12-19 - Take care, brothers, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God. But exhort one another every day, as long as it is called today, that none of you may be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. For we share in Christ, if indeed we hold our original confidence firm to the end. As it is said, Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion. For who were those who heard and yet rebelled? Was it not all those who left Egypt led by Moses? And with whom was he provoked for forty years? Was it not with those who sinned, whose bodies fell in the wilderness? And to whom did he swear that they would not enter his rest, but to those who were disobedient? So we see that they were unable to enter because of unbelief. (ESV)

> John 3:18 - He who believes (G4100 pisteuo) in Him is not judged; he who does not believe (G4100 pisteuo) has been judged (G2919 krino) already (G2235 ede), because he has not believed (G4100 pisteuo) in the name of the only begotten Son of God. (NASB)

> Acts 17:30-31 - The times of ignorance God overlooked, but now he commands all people everywhere to repent, because he has fixed a day on which he will judge the world in righteousness by a man whom he has appointed; and of this he has given assurance to all by raising him from the dead. (ESV)

So I hope this testimony can be an extra warning for people that they may come to the obedience of faith in Christ Jesus with a sincere agape love for God and their family in Christ.

> Luke 3:4-14 - As it is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet, The voice of one crying in the wilderness: Prepare the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be made low, and the crooked shall become straight, and the rough places shall become level ways, and all flesh shall see the salvation of God. He said therefore to the crowds that came out to be baptized by him, You brood of vipers! Who warned you to flee from (G575 apo; from, away from, of, by) the wrath to come? Bear fruits in keeping with repentance. And do not begin to say to yourselves, We have Abraham as our father. For I tell you, God is able from these > stones to raise up children for Abraham. Even now the axe is laid to the root of the trees. Every tree therefore that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. And the crowds asked him, What then shall we do? And he answered them, Whoever has two tunics is to share with him who has none, and whoever has food is to do likewise. Tax collectors also came to be baptized and said to him, Teacher, what shall we do? And he said to them, Collect no more than you are authorized to do. Soldiers also asked him, And we, what shall we do? And he said to them, Do not extort money from anyone by threats or by false accusation, and be content with your wages. (ESV)

> I Thessalonians 1:9-10 - For they themselves report concerning us the kind of reception we had among you, and how you turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God, and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, Jesus who delivers us from (G1537 ek; from, out of, by, away from) the wrath to come. (ESV)

> Acts 1:8 - But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you, and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth. (ESV)

Lord Jesus Christ, come:

> I Corinthians 4:5 - Therefore do not pronounce judgment before the time, before the Lord comes, who will bring to light the things now hidden in darkness and will disclose the purposes of the heart. Then each one will receive his commendation from God. (ESV)

It's the 'seeking' to, the 'intention' to (rather than the visible results that we might see) to do what pleases God, the desire to please God, the agape loving of the light in the heart that is key. What I mean is that it's about whether or not the person's heart is right. And if the heart is right then the law is "being done":

> Romans 2:5-11 - But because of your hard and impenitent heart you are storing up wrath for yourself on the day of wrath when God's righteous judgment will be revealed. He will render to each one according to his works: to those who by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, he will give eternal life; but for those who are self-seeking and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, there will be wrath and fury. There will be tribulation and distress for every human being who does evil, the Jew first and also the Greek, but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does good, the Jew first and also the Greek. For God shows no partiality. (ESV)

We must focus on, look to Jesus:

> Hebrews 12:1-2 - Therefore, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us also lay aside every weight, and sin which clings so closely, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, looking to Jesus, the founder and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is seated at the right hand of the throne of God. (ESV)

So let's imagine imagine Peter just looking at Jesus on the sea and by faith obeying Jesus to come to him, but Peter not even being aware that he is standing on water because he's so fixated on Jesus. That's how it should be with us where we "do not let our left hand know what our right hand is doing", where we don't focus on the visible results, but rather we focus on by faith obeying Jesus. Just by faith obey Jesus and focus on Jesus. Come to Jesus. As soon as Peter took his eyes off Jesus and onto the wind (maybe focusing on the results, such as, if he is floating, rather than on Jesus), rather than by faith obeying Jesus, he started sinking:

> Matthew 14:28-29 - And Peter answered him, Lord, if it is you, command me to come to you on the water. He said, Come. So Peter got out of the boat and walked on the water and came to Jesus. (ESV)

To inherit the Kingdom, we must be sanctified (I Corinthians 6:9-12), and that sanctification involves exercising Christ's love and it involves putting on incorruption. It involves sanctification, and putting a stop to sin:

> Ephesians 5:5-6 - For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 15:50-55 - I tell you this, brothers: flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God, nor does the perishable inherit the imperishable. Behold! I tell you a mystery. We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we shall be changed. For this perishable body must put on the imperishable, and this mortal body must put on immortality. When the perishable puts on the imperishable, and the mortal puts on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written: Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is your victory? O death, where is your sting? (ESV)

The righteous here are shown to be ”doers” of the law in the heart and that they don't recall when they ”[physically] saw Jesus hungry and fed him, thirsty and give him drink”, but Jesus says they did, so they must have. This shows that they were not justifying themselves, but rather that God noticed that they were doers of his will and He commended them. They must have simply been led by the Spirit, practicing their righteousness, loving the Truth, (perhaps giving alms out of obeying Jesus by faith), and they served Jesus perhaps without knowing it, but God noticed. This person innocently asks, ”When did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink?” They would've been doing Christ's commandments, though, by faith obeying from the heart. And so it's not the exterior success which a person might see themselves, but God sees the heart and God also sees the outcome of the faithful obedience and the impact it has on others. The truly obedient person (God sees the heart and sees everything) might even not be sure of when they did these specific things for Jesus. But God sees.

> Hebrews 4:12-13 - For the word of God is living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing to the division of soul and of spirit, of joints and of marrow, and discerning the thoughts and intentions of the heart. And no creature is hidden from his sight, but all are naked and exposed to the eyes of him to whom we must give account. (ESV)

Just be obeying Jesus by faith sincerely from the heart and walk by faith and not sight, not focusing on the visible results, but rather seeking to please God who seeks your heart and intentions:

> Matthew 25:33-37 - And he will place the sheep on his right, but the goats on the left. Then the King will say to those on his right, Come, you who are blessed by my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed me, I was naked and you clothed me, I was sick and you visited me, I was in prison and you came to me. Then the righteous will answer him, saying, Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink? (ESV)

The food could be physical food for nourishing the body or it could be spiritual food, teaching people faithfully the word of God at the right time:

> Luke 12:42-44 - And the Lord said, Who then is the faithful and wise manager, whom his master will set over his household, to give them their portion of food at the proper time? Blessed is that servant whom his master will find so doing when he comes. Truly, I say to you, he will set him over all his possessions. (ESV)

> Amos 8:11 - Behold, the days are coming, declares the Lord GOD, when I will send a famine on the land— not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the LORD. (ESV)

> Proverbs 10:21 - The lips of the righteous feed many, but fools die for lack of sense. (ESV)

> Proverbs 14:25 - A truthful witness saves lives, but one who breathes out lies is deceitful. (ESV)

> Proverbs 10:21 - The lips of the righteous feed many, but fools die for lack of sense. (ESV)

God can see what we're actually thinking and cares about the intentions of our heart, and He wants us to seek Him:

> Proverbs 8:17 - I love those who love me, and those who seek me diligently find me. (ESV)

> Acts 17:26-28 - And he made from one man every nation of mankind to live on all the face of the earth, having determined allotted periods and the boundaries of their dwelling place, that they should seek God, in the hope that they might feel their way toward him and find him. Yet he is actually not far from each one of us, for In him we live and move and have our being; as even some of your own poets have said, For we are indeed his offspring. (ESV)

> I Kings 8:39 - then hear in heaven your dwelling place and forgive and act and render to each whose heart you know, according to all his ways (for you, you only, know the hearts of all the children of mankind), (ESV)

After Jesus' resurrection, He met Peter on the shore of the Sea of Galilee and reinstated him as a disciple by asking him questions about his devotion, since Peter had denied knowing Jesus soon after His arrest. As recorded in John 21:15-19, Peter responded with words similar to those of the above song: "Lord, You know all things; You know that I love You." Prayerfully reading or singing this song can be a helpful way for each of us to accept the Lord's forgiveness for our failures, and to reaffirm our commitment to Him.

> I Chronicles 28:9 - And you, Solomon my son, know the God of your father and serve him with a whole heart and with a willing mind, for the LORD searches all hearts and understands every plan and thought. If you seek him, he will be found by you, but if you forsake him, he will cast you off forever. (ESV)

> Acts 8:22 - Repent, therefore, of this wickedness of yours, and pray to the Lord that, if possible, the intent of your heart may be forgiven you. (ESV)

Jesus is the Word of God, and God judges the secrets of men by Christ Jesus:

> Jeremiah 17:10 - I the LORD search the heart and test the mind, to give every man according to his ways, according to the fruit of his deeds. (ESV)
> Revelation of John 2:12 - And to the angel of the church in Pergamum write: The words of him who has the sharp two-edged sword. (ESV)
> Luke 2:34-35 - And Simeon blessed them and said to Mary his mother, Behold, this child is appointed for the fall and rising of many in Israel, and for a sign that is opposed (and a sword will pierce through your own soul also), so that thoughts from many hearts may be revealed. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 3:13 - each one's work will become manifest, for the Day will disclose it, because it will be revealed by fire, and the fire will test what sort of work each one has done. (ESV)
> Genesis 6:5 - The LORD saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every intention of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. (ESV)

God wants our actions to be done with the right attitudes:

> Romans 12:8 - the one who exhorts, in his exhortation; the one who contributes, in generosity; the one who leads, with zeal; the one who does acts of mercy, with cheerfulness. (ESV)

Therefore, we should be obedient from the heart to Christ:

> II Corinthians 10:5 - We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, (ESV)

The reason why Jesus is the source of eternal salvation to those who obey Him (Hebrews 5:8-9) is because people who obey Him are obedient (I Timothy 1:8-9, Romans 6:16-18, Titus 1:16) to Him and a person who is obedient to Jesus has the love of God in their heart (Luke 6:45, John 14:15-17) and it's the love of the Truth that saves (II Thessalonians 2:10):

> Acts 5:32 - And we are witnesses to these things, and so is the Holy Spirit, whom God has given to those who obey him. (ESV)
> Hebrews 5:9 - And being made perfect, he became the source of eternal salvation to all who obey him, (ESV)

It's real truth-trusting, truth-loving faith in the heart which God commends. And a Christian's obedience to God is "from the heart". We should be trusting in Jesus Christ, hoping in Him for Him to save us while also purifying ourselves as He is pure:

> Romans 2:13-16 - For it is not the hearers of the law who are righteous before God, but the doers (G4163 poiētai) of the law who will be justified. For when Gentiles, who do not have the law, by nature do what the law requires, they are a law to themselves, even though they do not have the law. They show that the work of the law is written on their hearts, while their conscience also bears witness, and their conflicting thoughts accuse or even excuse them on that day when, according to my gospel, God judges the secrets of men by Christ Jesus. (ESV)
> Jeremiah 17:10 - I the LORD search the heart and test the mind, to give every man according to his ways, according to the fruit of his deeds. (ESV)
> Romans 6:17-17 - But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, (ESV)
> I John 3:2-4 - Beloved, we are God's children now, and what we will be has not yet appeared; but we know that when he appears we shall be like him, because we shall see him as he is. And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. (ESV)

> Psalms 18:24-26 - So the LORD has rewarded me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands in his sight. With the merciful you show yourself merciful; with the blameless man you show yourself blameless; with the purified you show yourself pure; and with the crooked you make yourself seem tortuous. (ESV)

We want to be overcome by Christ so that we just do the will of God and can't help but do the will of God. To get there we are instructed to keep Jesus' commandments and resist sin:

> II Peter 2:19 - They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 5:14-15 - For the love of Christ controls us, because we have concluded this: that one has died for all, therefore all have died; and he died for all, that those who live might no longer live for themselves but for him who for their sake died and was raised. (ESV)

> Romans 6:17-20 - But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. When you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. (ESV)

We are trusting God when we Trust His words:

> Psalms 18:30 - This God—his way is perfect; the word of the LORD proves true; he is a shield for all those who take refuge in him. (ESV)

> Proverbs 30:5-6 - Every word of God is flawless; He is a shield to those who take refuge in Him. Do not add to His words, lest He rebuke you and prove you a liar. (engbsb2020eb)

> John 6:47 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes has eternal life. (ESV)

> John 5:24 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears my word and believes him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come into judgment, but has passed from death to life. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 4:6 - I have applied all these things to myself and Apollos for your benefit, brothers, that you may learn by us not to go beyond what is written, that none of you may be puffed up in favor of one against another. (ESV)

We have to continue in faith in Jesus, and that means continuing to trust His word:

> II John 1:9 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. (ESV)

> Hebrews 11:6 - And without faith it is impossible to please him, for whoever would draw near to God must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who seek him. (ESV)

Faith is a "way of life":

> Hebrews 13:7 - Remember your leaders, those who spoke to you the word of God. Consider the outcome of their way of life, and imitate their faith. (ESV)

> Hebrews 10:38-39 - but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls. (ESV)

> Psalms 84:11 - For the LORD God is a sun and shield; the LORD bestows favor and honor. No good thing does he withhold from those who walk uprightly. (ESV)

Those who serve God love His Word:

> Psalms 119:140 - Your promise is well tried, and your servant loves it. (ESV)

> John 8:42 - Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. (ESV)

> I John 5:1 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. (ESV)

Loving, trusting in, hoping in the truth (God, God's Word) and having the fear of God, hating evil, not wanting to sin against God are strongly associated:

> Psalms 147:11 - but the LORD takes pleasure in those who fear him, in those who hope in his steadfast love. (ESV)

Fear of God and hoping in God's steadfast love are strongly associated. Hoping in God's steadfast love and having the fear of God (wanting to please God, not wanting to sin against God), are strongly linked together. And because the faith we have is one which loves the truth of God, having the fear of God and having a love for the truth and a hatred of evil are all strongly linked together:

> Psalms 33:18-19 - Behold, the eye of the LORD is on those who fear him, on those who hope in his steadfast love, that he may deliver their soul from death and keep them alive in famine. (ESV)

With some amount of fear of God a person would have some compunction about sinning against God; A person with the fear of God is averse/adverse to sinning against God and so repentance from sin goes hand in hand with the fear of God:

> Genesis 20:11 - Abraham said, I did it because I thought, There is no fear of God at all in this place, and they will kill me because of my wife. (ESV)

> Proverbs 16:6 - By steadfast love and faithfulness iniquity is atoned for, and by the fear of the LORD one turns away from evil. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 5:9-12 - So whether we are at home or away, we make it our aim to please him. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive what is due for what he has done in the body, whether good or evil. Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade others. But what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. We are not commending ourselves to you again but giving you cause to boast about us, so that you may be able to answer those who boast about outward appearance and not about what is in the heart. (ESV)

> I Peter 1:22 - Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, (ESV)

Ultimately, when we sin, we sin against God and we ultimately needed God to have loved us first in sending Jesus Christ while we were all still sinners in order that we might be cleansed from our sin as without the shedding of blood there is no remission of sin:

> Psalms 51:1-4 - Have mercy on me, O God, according to your steadfast love; according to your abundant mercy blot out my transgressions. To the choirmaster. A Psalm of David, when Nathan the prophet went to him, after he had gone in to Bathsheba. Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin! For I know my transgressions, and my sin is ever before me. Against you, you only, have I sinned and done what is evil in your sight, so that you may be justified in your words and blameless in your judgment. (ESV)

> Hebrews 9:22 - Indeed, under the law almost everything is purified with blood, and without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness of sins. (ESV)

Our hearts and minds can be cleansed through faith and obedience to Jesus thanks to what Jesus has done:

> Hebrews 9:13-15 - For if the sprinkling of defiled persons with the blood of goats and bulls and with the ashes of a heifer sanctifies for the purification of the flesh, how much more will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without blemish to God, purify our conscience from dead works to serve the living God. Therefore he is the mediator of a new covenant, so that those who are called may receive the promised eternal inheritance, since a death has occurred that redeems them from the transgressions committed under the first covenant. (ESV)

> Hebrews 10:7-10 - Then I said, Behold, I have come to do your will, O God, as it is written of me in the scroll of the book. When he said above, You have neither desired nor taken pleasure in sacrifices and offerings and burnt offerings and sin offerings (these are offered according to the law), then he added, Behold, I have come to do your will. He abolishes the first in order to establish the second. And by that will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. (ESV)

Jesus’ soul was made an offering for sin:

> Isaiah 53:10 - Yet it was the will of the LORD to crush him; he has put him to grief; when his soul makes an offering for sin ({H7760 tā · śîm; You make} {H817 ’ā · šām; an offering for sin} {H5315 nap · šōw,; His soul}), he shall see his offspring; he shall prolong his days; the will of the LORD shall prosper in his hand. (ESV)

Given Proverbs 16:6 which says that ”steadfast love and faithfulness atones for iniquity” and Jesus saying that ”greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends” and Him saying ”You are my friends if you do what I command you” I believe that as Jesus was walking in love and faithfulness, perfectly obedient to Father God, Jesus’ blood atones for the sins of those who abide in His commandments:

> John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father’s commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)

We are absolutely supposed to be not committing sin. But if we do sin then we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ. That propitiation for sin is available to all people to be received through faith in Jesus Christ:

> I John 2:1-6 - My little children, I am writing these things to you so that you may not sin. But if anyone does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. He is the propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only but also for the sins of the whole world. And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)

There is a righteousness that we can have through faith (imputed righteousness) and there is propitiation for sin that we might commit even after coming to faith:

> Romans 3:21-31 - But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from (G5565 chōris) the law (G3551 nomou), although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. Or is God the God of Jews only? Is he not the God of Gentiles also? Yes, of Gentiles also, since God is one. He will justify the circumcised by faith and the uncircumcised through faith. Do we then overthrow the law by this faith? By no means! On the contrary, we uphold the law. (ESV)

When a person receives Jesus Christ, they are in agreement with God that Jesus Christ is His good Son with whom Father God is well pleased.

> II Peter 1:17-18 - For when he received honor and glory from God the Father, and the voice was borne to him by the Majestic Glory, This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased, we ourselves heard this very voice borne from heaven, for we were with him on the holy mountain. (ESV)

God is still very much pleased with those who do what is good in the sight of Him, and displeased with the wicked. God doesn't delight in the wicked. But God loves those who have faith in and love Jesus Christ His Son. How could that be? All have fallen short of God's glory. So God sent His perfect Son into the world. The fact is that Father God is well pleased with Jesus Christ. Now we have someone (Jesus Christ) who we can look to and be in agreement with God that God is pleased with Him. If a person does not think that Jesus Christ is God's Son with whom Father God is well pleased then they put themselves in God's condemnation because God sent Jesus Christ into the world so we could be in agreement with God over His Son so that we can love the good. If a person agrees with Jesus Christ and receives Him then He is life to them because they agree with the good. We need to agape love the true Jesus Christ, accepting and receiving His words and deeds. Jesus' commandments that we must do are in harmony with having faith in Him.

> Malachi 2:17 - You have wearied the LORD with your words. But you say, How have we wearied him? By saying, Everyone who does evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delights in them. Or by asking, Where is the God of justice? (ESV)

> Psalms 36:1-4 - Transgression speaks to the wicked deep in his heart; there is no fear of God before his eyes. To the choirmaster. Of David, the servant of the LORD. For he flatters himself in his own eyes that his iniquity cannot be found out and hated. The words of his mouth are trouble and deceit; he has ceased to act wisely and do good. He plots trouble while on his bed; he sets himself in a way that is not good; he does not reject evil. (ESV)

God is just when He justifies. God is right when He declares someone is walking rightly. When God justifies a person, then they have His righteousness:

> Romans 3:21-26 - But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from (G5565 chōris) the law (G3551 nomou), although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified (G1344 dikaioumenoi; being justified) by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just (G1342 dikaion;) and the justifier (G1344 dikaiounta; justifying) of the one who has faith in Jesus. (ESV)

> Psalms 103:17-18 - But the steadfast love of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting on those who fear him, and his righteousness to children's children, to those who keep his covenant and remember to do his commandments. (ESV)

Someone who is ”in Christ Jesus” has God's righteousness who is Jesus Christ, and they are abiding in Jesus Christ's commandments:

> I Corinthians 1:30 - It is because of Him that you are in Christ Jesus, who has become for us wisdom from God: our righteousness, holiness, and redemption. (engbsb2020eb)

> I John 3:21-24 - Beloved, if our heart does not condemn us, we have confidence before God; and whatever we ask we receive from him, because we keep his commandments and do what pleases him. And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

We are sanctified through faith and obedience to Jesus Christ.

Faith in Jesus Christ looks like trusting, believing, receiving, accepting, having confidence in Jesus Christ and what Jesus Christ has said. The one who is receptive to, the one who who receives Jesus Christ, the one who loves Jesus Christ, the one who continues to receive Jesus Christ, the one who does not push Jesus away but who accepts Jesus Christ and His words and His deeds, that is the person who has eternal life:

> John 5:24 - Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears my word and believes him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come into judgment, but has passed from death to life. (ESV)

If a person believes what He said and has confidence what would come out of trusting Him above what would come out of, trusting in man's own strength, then they such a person would act on Jesus' commandments and with confidence in God and the outcome of obeying His instructions, they would walk in the light.

> Jeremiah 17:5 - Thus says the LORD: Cursed is the man who trusts in man and makes flesh his strength, whose heart turns away from the LORD. (ESV)

The faith we have is a faith that trusts Jesus Christ in Jesus saying that whoever is trusting in Him has eternal life. The faith is counted as righteousness apart from our works. Previous works don't factor into gaining God's forgiveness so long as the person is presently trusting in, holding their faith in, trusting Christ. Trusting Christ, not something else. So we must believe truly what Jesus Christ says. And if we truly believe the truth then we'll produce good:

> Romans 4:3-8 - For what does the Scripture say? Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness. Now to the one who works, his wages are not counted as a gift but as his due. And to the one who does not work but trusts him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is counted as righteousness, just as David also speaks of the blessing of the one to whom God counts righteousness apart from works: Blessed are those whose lawless deeds are forgiven, and whose sins are covered; blessed is the man against whom the Lord will not count his sin. (ESV)

Romans 4:5 is saying that whoever is simply actively believing (trusting, faithing) in God, even obeying Him, accepting what God has said as true, just like Abraham did, but not ”working for” what God has already promised, as in, accepts that God forgives the one who is presently trusting in Jesus Christ (just as Abraham who simply trusted that God was telling the truth was not ”working for” what God had already promised), that person's faith is counted as righteousness. The type of faith in Jesus Christ that we have believes that as long as we are walking by faith in Jesus Christ, our sins are forgiven. Christ's commandments are a law of faith, not works.

Romans 4:5 (Interlinear) To the [one] however not (G3361 mē) working (G2038 ergazomenō) believing (G4100 pisteuonti) however on the [One] justifying the ungodly is reckoned the faith of him for righteousness

But this faith continues to be correctable by God from His word. If the word of God contradicts a false belief which someone has, then the person who has faith in Jesus receives God's word as correction and comes into agreement with God.

Faith in Jesus Christ looks like by faith obeying Him, just as Abraham did (Hebrews 11:8) and continues to agree with the same Jesus (II John 1:9-10).

So we mere human persons of God's creation are not justified on the basis of our own righteousness (how good we are, even how good we endeavour to be):

> Romans 3:4,20,26-28,31 - By no means! Let God be true though every one were a liar, as it is written, That you may be justified in your words, and prevail when you are judged. For by works of the law no human being will be justified in his sight, since through the law comes knowledge of sin. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. Do we then overthrow the law by this faith? By no means! On the contrary, we uphold the law. (ESV)

But the word of Truth (Jesus' words, the gospel, Jesus Christ Himself) in the heart, when believed, treasured, and trusted and hoped in will make a person good from the inside out:

> Titus 1:15 - To the pure, all things are pure, but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their minds and their consciences are defiled. (ESV)

> Isaiah 40:8 - The grass withers, the flower fades, but the word of our God will stand forever. (ESV)

> Luke 21:33 - Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away. (ESV)

So what matters is who you have faith in because we follow who we have faith in (Matthew 15:13-14; John 12:23-26). A person is justified by their faith in Jesus Christ. We're not justified by having faith in ourself. We need to be found by God as doers of the law of Christ which is a law of faith, and it's faith in Him, Christ:

> Romans 3:26-28 - It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. (ESV)

One's own righteousness is not enough to be saved. It's not enough to rely on one's own righteousness, to rely on "being law-abiding enough". We do need to rely on God that through faith in Jesus we can be forgiven our lawless deeds. Because we all need forgiveness from God in order to be able to move forward with a good conscience:

> Romans 4:4-8 - Now to the one who works, his wages are not counted as a gift but as his due. And to the one who does not work but trusts him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is counted as righteousness, just as David also speaks of the blessing of the one to whom God counts righteousness apart from works: Blessed are those whose lawless deeds are forgiven, and whose sins are covered; blessed is the man against whom the Lord will not count his sin. (ESV)

> I Timothy 1:5 - The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. (ESV)

God purchases, redeems us so that we can love in the Truth / reality, that our faith would be in God, in the Truth:

> I Peter 1:14-25 - As obedient children, do not be conformed to the passions of your former ignorance, but as he who called you is holy, you also be holy in all your conduct, since it is written, You shall be holy, for I am holy. And if you call on him as Father who judges impartially according to each one's deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile, knowing that you were ransomed from the futile ways inherited from your forefathers, not with perishable things such as silver or gold, but with the precious blood of Christ, like that of a lamb without blemish or spot. He was foreknown before the foundation of the world but was made manifest in the last times for your sake, who through him are believers in God, who raised him from the dead and gave him glory, so that your faith and hope are in God. Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, since you have been born again, not of perishable seed but of imperishable, through the living and abiding word of God; for All flesh is like grass and all its glory like the flower of grass. The grass withers, and the flower falls, but the word of the Lord remains forever. And this word is the good news that was preached to you. (ESV)

What is uttely essential is that we have faith in the same God who raised Jesus Christ from the dead, Jesus Christ who was delivered up for our trespasses and raised for our justification. So when holding faith in God we also can also not deny Jesus Christ or that would not be true faith in God. So our faith in God, while it does look like Abraham's faith (by faith obeying God, trusting God's promises, hoping in God, having the fear of God not wanting to sin against God, agape loving God more than anyone or anything), it also is not in disagreement that we have all fallen short of God's glory having committed sin, and have needed Jesus Christ to have been delivered up for our trespasses and raised for our justification. Because we all have sinned and are justified by His grace as a gift, though the redemption that is in Christ Jesus:

> Romans 4:16-25 - That is why it depends on faith, in order that the promise may rest on grace and be guaranteed to all his offspring—not only to the adherent of the law but also to the one who shares the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all, as it is written, I have made you the father of many nations—in the presence of the God in whom he believed, who gives life to the dead and calls into existence the things that do not exist. In hope he believed against hope, that he should become the father of many nations, as he had been told, So shall your offspring be. He did not weaken in faith when he considered his own body, which was as good as dead (since he was about a hundred years old), or when he considered the barrenness of Sarah's womb. No distrust made him waver concerning the promise of God, but he grew strong in his faith as he gave glory to God, fully convinced that God was able to do what he had promised. That is why his faith was counted to him as righteousness. But the words it was counted to him were not written for his sake alone, but for ours also. It will be counted to us who believe in him who raised from the dead Jesus our Lord, who was delivered up for our trespasses and raised for our justification. (ESV)

> Romans 3:23-26 - for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. (ESV)

Justification and propitiation are received by faith in Jesus Christ (by trusting and obeying Jesus Christ). The reason why faith in Jesus Christ is effective for propitiation is because of Jesus Christ's blood:

> Romans 3:21-26 - But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from (G5565 chōris) the law (G3551 nomou), although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. (ESV)

Our faith in Jesus Christ, hoping in Jesus Christ, is not in vain if Jesus Christ was raised from the dead. Believing that Jesus was raised from the dead, we are motivated to follow Him. Jesus is the Way, so we follow Him through faith in Him, trusting Him, hoping in Him, obeying Him:

> I Corinthians 15:14-16 - And if Christ has not been raised, then our preaching is in vain and your faith is in vain. We are even found to be misrepresenting God, because we testified about God that he raised Christ, whom he did not raise if it is true that the dead are not raised. For if the dead are not raised, not even Christ has been raised. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 15:17-18 - And if Christ has not been raised, your faith is futile and you are still in your sins. Then those also who have fallen asleep in Christ have perished. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 15:19 - If in this life only we have hoped in Christ, we are of all people most to be pitied. (ESV)

Faith in the blood of Jesus looks like by faith obeying Jesus Christ as Abraham did (Hebrews 11:8), while also having faith in the passion (Isaiah 53:5), death and resurrection of Jesus Christ (Galatians 2:20). We trust and obey God, trusting and obeying Jesus, not under the old code but in the new life of the Spirit, so we endeavour to please God, but if we sin then we confess them and we have an advocate with Father God, Jesus Christ, the Righteous, and if we abide in Jesus' commandments, we abide in Jesus and have access to propitiation. Jesus Christ's teachings and commandments for us are all spirit and life, grace and truth, and it's not going back "under law rather than grace" to believe we must be "doers of Christ's law", because it's a law of faith, not works. We trust and obey Jesus, but our faith isn't relying on us being able to carry out perfect deeds, but we still have a heart of obedience that desires, even tries to please God with our actions, but like Paul, sometimes what we end up doing isn't what we really want, and indwelling sin is not grounds for condemnation. Rather, those who abide in Jesus Christ, abiding in Jesus' commandments are not condemned. So the intention of the heart is important, even the intention of the heart to obey Jesus out of faith. And Jesus has commanded us to have faith in Him and to love one another as He commanded:

- Trusting that Jesus Christ's propitiation for sin is available to wash away one's sin. This is available even after we have first come to faith
    - Galatians 2:20 - I have been crucified with Christ. It is no longer I who live, but Christ who lives in me. And the life I now live in the flesh I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me. (ESV)
    - I John 4:9-10 - In this the love of God was made manifest among us, that God sent his only Son into the world, so that we might live through him. In this is love, not that we have loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. (ESV)
    - Romans 3:21-31 - But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from (G5565 chōris: "alongside but distinct from i.e. isolated from" rather than "completely without", as used in Matt 14:21. So, "manifested alongside but distinct from. i.e. separate from") the law, although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it— the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, whom God put forward as a propitiation by his blood, to be received by faith. This was to show God's righteousness, because in his divine forbearance he had passed over former sins. It was to show his righteousness at the present time, so that he might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus. Then what becomes of our boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? By a law of works? No, but by the law of faith. For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from works of the law. Or is God the God of Jews only? Is he not the God of Gentiles also? Yes, of Gentiles also, since God is one. He will justify the circumcised by faith and the uncircumcised through faith. Do we then overthrow the law by this faith? By no means! On the contrary, we uphold the law. (ESV)

    - ∗ And by saying ”apart from the law”, it’s talking about the law of Moses (which came in after Abraham). So in talking about the faith being distinct from the Mosaic law, it’s not taking obedience out of the equation because by faith Abraham obeyed. We are to by faith obey Jesus Christ directly.
    - ∗ Matthew 14:21 - And those who ate were about five thousand men, besides (G5565 chōris) women and children. (ESV)
        - · Specifying the number of men, it’s not saying there were only men, but that the count is counting only the men.
        - · So in Romans 3:21-31, the ’righteousness of God ”apart from” the law’ is not saying the law doesn’t exist alongside the faith but that it’s the faith in Jesus Christ that is counted, rather than the works of the law. We shouldn’t rely on the works of the law, though good deeds do naturally come from good faith, and we should certainly strive to trust and obey God better, increasingly, with less failure. Paul himself said sometimes he doesn’t do what he wants to do. So if he wants to do what is right, the heart is right, he has the right faith. Intentions matter. Heart faith, obedience, hope, love, fear of God matters.
        - · Romans 3:28 - For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from (G5565 chōris) works of the law. (ESV)
        - · James 2:26 - For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, so also faith apart (G5565 chōris) from works is dead. (ESV)
        - · Galatians 3:10 - For as many as are of the works of the Law are under a curse; for it is written, “Cursed is everyone who does not abide by all things written in the book of the law, to perform them.” (NASB)
    - ∗ John 15:5 - I am the vine; you are the branches. Whoever abides in me and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from (G5565 chōris) me you can do nothing. (ESV)
        - · So we must ”abide in Jesus”.
    - ∗ John 1:3 - All things were made through him, and without (G5565 chōris) him was not any thing made that was made. (ESV)
    - ∗ Romans 3:28 - For we hold that one is justified by faith apart from (G5565 chōris) works of the law. (ESV)
        - · The faith (trusting, loving, obedient to, the truth) and the works (successfully carrying out intended actions from a desire to please God) are distinct though the faith does try (II Peter 1:5-10, Luke 13:24-27)
    - ∗ Romans 7:9 - I was once alive apart from (G5565 chōris) the law, but when the commandment came, sin came alive and I died. (ESV)
- – I John 2:1-6 - My little children, I am writing these things to you so that you may not sin. But if anyone does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. He is the propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only but also for the sins of the whole world. And by this we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments. Whoever says I know him but does not keep his commandments is a liar, and the truth is not in him, but whoever keeps his word, in him truly the love of God is perfected. By this we may be sure that we are in him: whoever says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (ESV)
- – John 13:7-11 - Jesus answered him, What I am doing you do not understand now, but afterward you will understand. Peter said to him, You shall never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I do not wash you, you have no share with me. Simon Peter said to him, Lord, not my feet only but also my hands and my head! Jesus said to him, The one who has bathed does not need to wash, except for his feet, but is completely clean. And you are clean, but not every one of you. For he knew who was to betray him; that was why he said, Not all of you are clean. (ESV)

- Believing what is said by Jesus' Apostles regarding sanctification and doing the will of God:
  - That we are sanctified by faith (actively trusting in, hoping in) in Jesus Christ
    - Acts 26:18 - to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me. (ESV)
  - That we are sanctified by obedience to the Truth for a sincere love of our family in Christ
    - I Peter 1:22 - Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, (ESV)
    - I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)
    - God has described what this love looks like in several places
      - Colossians 3:8-10 - But now you must put them all away: anger, wrath, malice, slander, and obscene talk from your mouth. Do not lie to one another, seeing that you have put off the old self with its practices and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator. (ESV)
      - Galatians 6:2-6 - Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ. For if anyone thinks he is something, when he is nothing, he deceives himself. But let each one test his own work, and then his reason to boast will be in himself alone and not in his neighbor. For each will have to bear his own load. One who is taught the word must share all good things with the one who teaches. (ESV)
      - Romans 13:10 - Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. (ESV)
      - Mark 10:17-21 - And as he was setting out on his journey, a man ran up and knelt before him and asked him, Good Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life? And Jesus said to him, Why do you call me good? No one is good except God alone. You know the commandments: Do not murder, Do not commit adultery, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honor your father and mother. And he said to him, Teacher, all these I have kept from my youth. And Jesus, looking at him, loved him, and said to him, You lack one thing: go, sell all that you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me.
      - John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)
      - Agape love is definitely valuing, treasuring, preserving
      - Luke 6:45 - The good person out of the good treasure of his heart produces good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure produces evil, for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks. (ESV)
      - I Corinthians 16:14 - Let all that you do be done in love. (ESV)
      - Isaiah 43:4 - Since thou wast precious in my sight, thou hast been honourable, and I have loved thee: therefore will I give men for thee, and people for thy life. (KJV)

Jesus' sacrifice was done once for all (but we still need to recieve it through faith in Jesus Christ):

> Hebrews 9:24-28 - For Christ has entered, not into holy places made with hands, which are copies of the true things, but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God on our behalf. Nor was it to offer himself repeatedly, as the high priest enters the holy places every year with blood not his own, for then he would have had to suffer repeatedly since the foundation of the world. But as it is, he has appeared once for all at the end of the ages to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself. And just as it is appointed for man to die once, and after that comes judgment, so Christ, having been offered once to bear the sins of many, will appear a second time, not to deal with sin but to save those who are eagerly waiting for him. (ESV)

Jesus’ body was made an offering for sin:

> Hebrews 10:5-14 - Consequently, when Christ came into the world, he said, Sacrifices and offerings you have not desired, but a body have you prepared for me; in burnt offerings and sin offerings you have taken no pleasure. Then I said, Behold, I have come to do your will, O God, as it is written of me in the scroll of the book. When he said above, You have neither desired nor taken pleasure in sacrifices and offerings and burnt offerings and sin offerings (these are offered according to the law), then he added, Behold, I have come to do your will. He abolishes the first in order to establish the second. And by that will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. And every priest stands daily at his service, offering repeatedly the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins. But when Christ had offered for all time a single sacrifice for sins, he sat down at the right hand of God, waiting from that time until his enemies should be made a footstool for his feet. For by a single offering he has perfected for all time those who are being sanctified. (ESV)

Jesus’ soul was made an offering for sin:

> Isaiah 53:10 - Yet it was the will of the LORD to crush him; he has put him to grief; when his soul makes an offering for sin ({H7760 tā · śîm; You make} {H817 ’ā · šām; an offering for sin} {H5315 nap · šōw,; His soul}), he shall see his offspring; he shall prolong his days; the will of the LORD shall prosper in his hand. (ESV)

We must trust in Jesus and not in this world:

> I Corinthians 7:24-31 - So, brothers, in whatever condition each was called, there let him remain with God. Now concerning the betrothed, I have no command from the Lord, but I give my judgment as one who by the Lord’s mercy is trustworthy. I think that in view of the present distress it is good for a person to remain as he is. Are you bound to a wife? Do not seek to be free. Are you free from a wife? Do not seek a wife. But if you do marry, you have not sinned, and if a betrothed woman marries, she has not sinned. Yet those who marry will have worldly troubles, and I would spare you that. This is what I mean, brothers: the appointed time has grown very short. From now on, let those who have wives live as though they had none, and those who mourn as though they were not mourning, and those who rejoice as though they were not rejoicing, and those who buy as though they had no goods, and those who deal with the world as though they had no dealings with it. For the present form of this world is passing away. (ESV)

So we should repent and come to love and trust (treasure and trust in, cling/cleave/adhere to and hope in) God and hate (forsake and distrust) sin and desire God in our minds and hearts and trust in, cling/cleave/adhere to God’s promises, and keep doing that so that we are counted with the wheat and not the tares and go to the new heavens and new earth in which righteousness dwells (we want the good future):

> II Peter 3:9-13 - The Lord is not slow to fulfill his promise as some count slowness, but is patient toward you, not wishing that any should perish, but that all should reach repentance. But the day of the Lord will come like a thief, and then the heavens will pass away with a roar, and the heavenly bodies will be burned up and dissolved, and the earth and the works that are done on it will be exposed. Since all these things are thus to be dissolved, what sort of people ought you to be in lives of holiness and godliness, waiting for and hastening the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be set on fire and dissolved, and the heavenly bodies will melt as they burn! But according to his promise we are waiting for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells. (ESV)

> Proverbs 8:13 - The fear of the LORD is hatred of evil. Pride and arrogance and the way of evil and perverted speech I hate. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 10:6-12 - Now these things took place as examples for us, that we might not desire evil as they did. Do not be idolaters as some of them were; as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink and rose up to play. We must not indulge in sexual immorality as some of them did, and twenty-three thousand fell in a single day. We must not put Christ to the test, as some of them did and were destroyed by serpents, nor grumble, as some of them did and were destroyed by the Destroyer. Now these things happened to them as an example, but they were written down for our instruction, on whom the end of the ages has come. Therefore let anyone who thinks that he stands take heed lest he fall. (ESV)

The true fear of God and true faith/trust in God go hand in hand (Proverbs 14:26-27), and so true faith and the hatred of evil are also strongly associated, and impossible to have apart from one another. And repentance needs the fear of God:

> Job 4:6 - Is not your fear of God your confidence, and the integrity of your ways your hope? (ESV)
> Hebrews 3:14 - For we share in Christ, if indeed we hold our original confidence firm to the end. (ESV)
> Exodus 14:31 - Israel saw the great power that the LORD used against the Egyptians, so the people feared the LORD, and they believed in the LORD and in his servant Moses. (ESV)
> Hebrews 11:29 - By faith the people crossed the Red Sea as if on dry land, but the Egyptians, when they attempted to do the same, were drowned. (ESV)
> Proverbs 14:26-27 - In the fear of the LORD one has strong confidence, and his children will have a refuge. The fear of the LORD is a fountain of life, that one may turn away from the snares of death. (ESV)

With the fear of God we should hate evil. Even as concerns the gospel, we should be repentant, seeking God's mercy:

> Luke 23:40 - But the other rebuked him, saying, Do you not fear God, since you are under the same sentence of condemnation? (ESV)
> Psalms 36:1-4 - Transgression speaks to the wicked deep in his heart; there is no fear of God before his eyes. To the choirmaster. Of David, the servant of the LORD. For he flatters himself in his own eyes that his iniquity cannot be found out and hated. The words of his mouth are trouble and deceit; he has ceased to act wisely and do good. He plots trouble while on his bed; he sets himself in a way that is not good; he does not reject evil. (ESV)

Psalms 115:11 literally reads "Those who fear Yahweh trust in Yahweh", but I notice that Bible translators have translated this as "Those who fear Yahweh, trust in Yahweh" as if to tell those who fear Him to additionally trust in Him. But the correct interpretation might actually say (and I lean toward this interpretation) that those who fear Yahweh are trusting Yahweh as if they go hand-in hand, and that if a person has the reverent fear of God then they have the trusting faith. Just like Hebrews 11:7 says with Noah:

Psalms 115:11 You who fear Yahweh trust in Yahweh their help and their shield He [is] (Interlinear)

> Proverbs 14:26-27 - In the fear of the LORD one has strong confidence, and his children will have a refuge. The fear of the LORD is a fountain of life, that one may turn away from the snares of death. (ESV)

> Nehemiah 7:2 - I gave my brother Hanani and Hananiah the governor of the castle charge over Jerusalem, for he was a more faithful and God-fearing man than many. (ESV)

Likewise, geniune love for God involves a hatred of evil:

> Psalms 97:10 - O you who love the LORD, hate evil! He preserves the lives of his saints; he delivers them from the hand of the wicked. (ESV)

Psalms 97:10 You who love (H157 ’ō · hă · ḇê) Yahweh (H3068 Yah · weh) hate (H8130 śin · ’ū) evil (H7451 rā‘) He preserves the souls of His saints out of the hand of the wicked He delivers them (Interlinear)

> Romans 12:9 - Let love be genuine. Abhor what is evil; hold fast to what is good. (ESV)

We need the correct desires. The desires of the flesh are against the desires of the Spirit:

> Galatians 5:17 - For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to keep you from doing the things you want to do. (ESV)

> I John 2:15-17 - Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world—the desires of the flesh and the desires of the eyes and pride in possessions—is not from the Father but is from the world. And the world is passing away along with its desires, but whoever does the will of God abides forever. (ESV)

So in the fear of God we should serve Him, keeping Jesus Christ’s commandments faithfully with all our heart:

> I Samuel 12:24 - Only fear the LORD and serve him faithfully with all your heart. For consider what great things he has done for you. (ESV)

> II Chronicles 19:9 - And he charged them: Thus you shall do in the fear of the LORD, in faithfulness, and with your whole heart: (ESV)

> Hebrews 11:7 - By faith Noah, being warned by God concerning events as yet unseen, in reverent fear constructed an ark for the saving of his household. By this he condemned the world and became an heir of the righteousness that comes by faith. (ESV)

Abraham trusted God and it was counted to him as righteousness (Romans 4:20-25). And Abraham’s works were not ”works of the law” (Galatians 3:17), but were works of faith (Hebrews 11:8):

> Hebrews 11:8 - By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place that he was to receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going. (ESV)

We can have and should have a faith that loves the truth, loves Jesus, even if we haven't seen Him yet. We need to prefer Jesus to sin. God will reward us with Himself. We must not keep on sinning in order to come to see Him and know Him. But Jesus knows His sheep, those who trust in Him and love Him, who prefer Him rather than prefer sin. So we kinda "gravitate" (in a sanctifying way) towards Jesus who we hold faith in and love, who's voice we trust:

> I Peter 1:8-11 - Though you have not seen him, you love him. Though you do not now see him, you believe in him and rejoice with joy that is inexpressible and filled with glory, obtaining the outcome of your faith, the salvation of your souls. Concerning this salvation, the prophets who prophesied about the grace that was to be yours searched and inquired carefully, inquiring what person or time (G2540 kairós, appointed time) the Spirit of Christ in them was indicating when he predicted the sufferings of Christ and the subsequent (G3326 meta, contingent) glories. (ESV)
> Psalms 37:4 - Delight yourself in the LORD, and he will give you the desires of your heart. (ESV)
> Psalms 145:19 - He fulfills the desire of those who fear him; he also hears their cry and saves them. (ESV)
> I John 3:1-11 - See what kind of love the Father has given to us, that we should be called children of God; and so we are. The reason why the world does not know us is that it did not know him. Beloved, we are God's children now, and what we will be has not yet appeared; but we know that when he appears we shall be like him, because we shall see him as he is. And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 8:3 - But if anyone loves God, he is known by God. (ESV)

"Kairós" is qualitative (i.e. a special occasion) and "xrónos" is quantitative (i.e. a length of time):

> Galatians 4:4-5 - But when the fullness (G4138 plērōma) of time (G5550 chronou, xrónos, duration) had come, God sent forth his Son, born of woman, born under the law, to redeem those who were under the law, so that we might receive adoption as sons. (ESV)

G2540 kairós time as opportunity. 2540 /kairós ("opportune time") is derived from kara ("head") referring to things "coming to a head" to take full-advantage of.

G5550 xrónos time (in general), especially viewed in sequence (a "succession of moments"); time in duration in the physical-space world, sovereignly apportioned by God to each person.

In the ESV translation of I Peter 1:11, the word 'subsequent' represents the Greek word 'meta' (G3326 meta, contingent), but I think that an English translation would better translate 'meta' as "contingent" because that opens up to the reader the potential to be understood in a quantitatively chonological timelessness way as 'kairós' is also chronologically quantitatively neither here nor there. So in the original text, I think the Greek word 'meta' fits well alongside the word 'kairós'. It's not 'xrónos' which is in I Peter 1:11, but 'kairós' and so it's talking about the opportune moment in a qualitative way. The issue, I think, with using 'subsequent' is that it introduces into the text subliminally an idea that God had to "wait" for the "xrónos" time in order to commend the righteousness that is by faith, but that's evidently not true, and also in the very same verse, I Peter 1:11, it says there in the text that the Spirit of Christ was in them.

Even with regards the Gospel of the Lord Jesus, God's mercy is for those who fear him from generation to generation:

> Exodus 1:17 - But the midwives feared God and did not do as the king of Egypt commanded them, but let the male children live. (ESV)

> Exodus 1:21 - And because the midwives feared God, he gave them families. (ESV)

God's mercy is for those with the fear of God, the repentant, those who hope in Him and do not want sin against Him:

> Psalms 25:14 - The friendship of the LORD is for those who fear him, and he makes known to them his covenant. (ESV)

> Psalms 33:18-19 - Behold, the eye of the LORD is on those who fear him, on those who hope in his steadfast love, that he may deliver their soul from death and keep them alive in famine. (ESV)

> Luke 1:50 - And his mercy is for those who fear him from generation to generation. (ESV)

We're not justified through the works of the law but we are through faith, and faith involves obedience to Jesus Christ. Being a "doer" of the law of Christ is whether or not a person's heart is right and "doing works of the Law" is different to being a "doer" of the Law:

> Galatians 2:15-16 - "We are Jews by nature and not sinners from among the Gentiles; nevertheless knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the Law but through faith in Christ Jesus, even we have believed in Christ Jesus, so that we may be justified by faith in Christ and not by the works of the Law; since by the works of the Law no flesh will be justified.

> Romans 2:13-16 - For it is not the hearers of the law who are righteous before God, but the doers (G4163 poiētai) of the law who will be justified. For when Gentiles, who do not have the law, by nature do what the law requires, they are a law to themselves, even though they do not have the law. They show that the work of the law is written on their hearts, while their conscience also bears witness, and their conflicting thoughts accuse or even excuse them on that day when, according to my gospel, God judges the secrets of men by Christ Jesus. (ESV)

> Jeremiah 17:10 - I the LORD search the heart and test the mind, to give every man according to his ways, according to the fruit of his deeds. (ESV)

Interestingly, James believes that a person is justified not by faith alone, but by works of faith (I Thessalonians 1:3), and the justification by faith 'alone' is fulfilled when they are justified by works.

So which comes first? Justification by faith or justification by working faith? Abraham's duty was simply to fear God and keep His commandments. The book of Genesis was written later. Abraham believed (trusted) God and obeyed Him. That's what we should do too and leave the doing of the justifying to God. Even though we believe that God commends faith, we don't commend ourselves for that faith.

As evidence we do not commend ourselves, but rather that God sees our hearts and commends us, take Matthew 25:31-40 where the righteous question when they "did what was required of them" and "saw Jesus and welcomed him", for instance. Now somebody who makes a clam such as "I have faith in the blood of Jesus" or "I have faith in Jesus" might make that claim without God's commendation:

> Matthew 25:31-40 - When the Son of Man comes in his glory, and all the angels with him, then he will sit on his glorious throne. Before him will be gathered all the nations, and he will separate people one from another as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats. And he will place the sheep on his right, but the goats on the left. Then the King will say to those on his right, Come, you who are > blessed by my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed me, I was naked and you clothed me, I was sick and you visited me, I was in prison and you came to me. Then the righteous will answer him, saying, Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink? And when did we see you a stranger and welcome you, or naked and clothe you? And when did we see you sick or in prison and visit you? And the King will answer them, Truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brothers, you did it to me.

It's our duty to have faith in God (I John 3:21-24). Our faith should be modelled on Abraham's. Abraham had not read the book of Genesis, nor the letter of James, nor the letters of Paul:

> James 2:21-24 - Was not Abraham our father justified by works when he offered up Isaac his son on the altar? You see that faith was working with (4903. sunergeó) his works, and as a result of the works, faith was perfected; and the Scripture was fulfilled which says, "And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned to him as righteousness," and he was called the friend of God. You see that a man is justified by works and not by faith alone.

> Galatians 2:16-19 - yet we know that a person is not justified by works of the law but through faith in Jesus Christ, so we also have believed in Christ Jesus, in order to be justified by faith in Christ and not by works of the law, because by works of the law no one will be justified. But if, in our endeavor to be justified in Christ, we too were found to be sinners, is Christ then a servant of sin? Certainly not! For if I rebuild what I tore down, I prove myself to be a transgressor. For through the law I died to the law, so that I might live to God. (ESV)

> Romans 4:9-10 - Is this blessing then only for the circumcised, or also for the uncircumcised? We say that faith was counted to Abraham as righteousness. How then was it counted to him? Was it before or after he had been circumcised? It was not after, but before he was circumcised. (ESV)

Yes, God still judges impartially on deeds, but God cares about what was in our heart when we do a thing and Jesus Christ saves us as we hold our faith in Him and we start doing works that are done lawfully, the way God wants them done. While we keep Jesus' commandments, we abide in Jesus' love as He has kept His Father's commandments and abides in His Father's love. And Father God loves us if we have faith in Jesus Christ came from God and love Him:

> I Peter 1:14-25 - As obedient children, do not be conformed to the passions of your former ignorance, but as he who called you is holy, you also be holy in all your conduct, since it is written, You shall be holy, for I am holy. And if you call on him as Father who judges impartially according to each one's deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile, knowing that you were ransomed from the futile ways inherited from your forefathers, not with perishable things such as silver or gold, but with the precious blood of Christ, like that of a lamb without blemish or spot. He was foreknown before the foundation of the world but was made manifest in the last times for your sake, who through him are believers in God, who raised him from the dead and gave him glory, so that your faith and hope are in God. Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, since you have been born again, not of perishable seed but of imperishable, through the living and abiding word of God; for All flesh is like grass and all its glory like the flower of grass. The grass withers, and the flower falls, but the word of the Lord remains forever. And this word is the good news that was preached to you. (ESV)

> Luke 3:16-18 - John answered them all, saying, I baptize you with water, but he who is mightier than I is coming, the strap of whose sandals I am not worthy to untie. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire. His winnowing fork is in his hand, to clear his threshing floor and to gather the wheat into his barn, but the chaff he will burn with unquenchable fire. So with many other exhortations he preached good news to the people. (ESV)

Jesus does use "figures of speech". Not everything should be taken literally but we should seek to understand, and put His word into action:

> John 10:6 - This figure of speech Jesus used with them, but they did not understand what he was saying to them. (ESV)
> John 16:25 - I have said these things to you in figures of speech. The hour is coming when I will no longer speak to you in figures of speech but will tell you plainly about the Father. (ESV)
> John 3:3 - Jesus answered him, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born again he cannot see the kingdom of God. (ESV)

The disciples here could understand Jesus' parables, but those people of the crowd who could not understand the parables could not understand. The more we believe and understand, the more will be able to believe and understand. So we need to hold fast God's word, retain it, and persevere with it and rebuke and refute those who contradict it:

> Matthew 13:9-15 - He who has ears, let him hear. Then the disciples came and said to him, Why do you speak to them in parables? And he answered them, To you it has been given to know the secrets of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it has not been given. For to the one who has, more will be given, and he will have an abundance, but from the one who has not, even what he has will be taken away. This is why I speak to them in parables, because seeing they do not see, and hearing they do not hear, nor do they understand. Indeed, in their case the prophecy of Isaiah is fulfilled that says: You will indeed hear but never understand, and you will indeed see but never perceive. For this people's heart has grown dull, and with their ears they can barely hear, and their eyes they have closed, lest they should see with their eyes and hear with their ears and understand with their heart and turn, and I would heal them. (ESV)
> Titus 1:9-14 - He must hold firm to the trustworthy word as taught, so that he may be able to give instruction in sound doctrine and also to rebuke those who contradict it. For there are many who are insubordinate, empty talkers and deceivers, especially those of the circumcision party. They must be silenced, since they are upsetting whole families by teaching for shameful gain what they ought not to teach. One of the Cretans, a prophet of their own, said, Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, lazy gluttons. This testimony is true. Therefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, not devoting themselves to Jewish myths and the commands of people who turn away from the truth. (ESV)

We must walk in Jesus' commandments and believe that He came from God:

> John 16:25-28 - I have said these things to you in figures of speech. The hour is coming when I will no longer speak to you in figures of speech but will tell you plainly about the Father. In that day you will ask in my name, and I do not say to you that I will ask the Father on your behalf; for the Father himself loves you, because you have loved me and have believed that I came from God. I came from the Father and have come into the world, and now I am leaving the world and going to the Father.
> I John 3:21-24 - Beloved, if our heart does not condemn us, we have confidence before God; and whatever we ask we receive from him, because we keep his commandments and do what pleases him. And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

So we should be walking in obedience to Jesus to be ready for the day of the Lord!

> I Thessalonians 5:1-10 - Now concerning the times and the seasons, brothers, you have no need to have anything written to you. For you yourselves are fully aware that the day of the Lord will come like a thief in the night. While people are saying, There is peace and security, then sudden destruction will come upon them as labor pains come upon a pregnant woman, and they will not escape. But you are not in darkness, brothers, for that day to surprise you like a thief. For you are all children of light, > children of the day. We are not of the night or of the darkness. So then let us not sleep, as others do, but let us keep awake and be sober. For those who sleep, sleep at night, and those who get drunk, are drunk at night. But since we belong to the day, let us be sober, having put on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet the hope of salvation. For God has not destined us for wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us so that whether we are awake or asleep we might live with him. (ESV)

We're disciplined in advance which means we're given the opportunity to get ready before comes judgement day, and what we need on judgement day is a love of the truth in our hearts rather than (G3123 mallon) a love of sin. Jesus Christ has come into the world from God in the flesh and He gave us His words of eternal life, and God humbled Himself and (Philippians 2:8) was obedient to God even to the point of death on a cross, light has come into the world, and people preferred darkness (evil, sin (I Corinthians 10:6-14)), to the light (Jesus (John 8:12)). The fruit of light is all that is good and right and true (Ephesians 5:5-12, Proverbs 13:5)). So we need to love and receive Jesus Christ and have a heart of love of the truth that produces the fruit of light:

> I Corinthians 11:32 - But when we are judged by the Lord, we are disciplined so that we may not be condemned along with the world. (ESV)

> John 3:19 - And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their deeds were evil. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 10:6-12 - Now these things took place as examples for us, that we might not desire evil as they did. Do not be idolaters as some of them were; as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink and rose up to play. We must not indulge in sexual immorality as some of them did, and twenty-three thousand fell in a single day. We must not put Christ to the test, as some of them did and were destroyed by serpents, nor grumble, as some of them did and were destroyed by the Destroyer. Now these things happened to them as an example, but they were written down for our instruction, on whom the end (G5056 telē; ends i.e. multiple ends) of the ages has come. Therefore let anyone who thinks that he stands take heed lest he fall. (ESV)

> Psalms 52:1-5 - Why do you boast of evil, O mighty man? The steadfast love of God endures all the day. To the choirmaster. A Maskil of David, when Doeg, the Edomite, came and told Saul, David has come to the house of Ahimelech. Your tongue plots destruction, like a sharp razor, you worker of deceit. You love evil more than good, and lying more than speaking what is right. Selah You love all words that devour, O deceitful tongue. But God will break you down forever; he will snatch and tear you from your tent; he will uproot you from the land of the living. Selah (ESV)

In this life we are disciplined in this life to walk in faith, love and holiness. It's appointed for man to die once and then there is judgement:

> Hebrews 9:27-28 - And just as it is appointed for man to die once, and after that comes judgment, so Christ, having been offered once to bear the sins of many, will appear a second time, not to deal with sin but to save those who are eagerly waiting for him. (ESV)

> John 5:17-29 - But Jesus answered them, My Father is working until now, and I am working. This was why the Jews were seeking all the more to kill him, because not only was he breaking the Sabbath, but he was even calling God his own Father, making himself equal with God. So Jesus said to them, Truly, truly, I say to you, the Son can do nothing of his own accord, but only what he sees the Father doing. For whatever the Father does, that the Son does likewise. For the Father loves the Son and shows him all that he himself is doing. And greater works than these will he show him, so that you may marvel. For as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, so also the Son gives life to whom he will. The Father judges no one, but has given all judgment to the Son, that all may honor the Son, just as they honor the Father. Whoever does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent > him. Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears my word and believes him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come (2064. erchomai) into judgment, but has passed from death to life. Truly, truly, I say to you, an hour is coming, and is now here, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who hear will live. For as the Father has life in himself, so he has granted the Son also to have life in himself. And he has given him authority to execute judgment, because he is the Son of Man. Do not marvel at this, for an hour is coming when all who are in the tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who have done good to the resurrection of life, and those who have done evil to the resurrection of judgment. (ESV)

Judgement begins with the household of God, but the household of God is disciplined in advance so that they are not condemned along with the world:

> I Corinthians 11:32 - But when we are judged by the Lord, we are disciplined so that we may not be condemned along with the world. (ESV)
> I Peter 4:17-19 - For it is time for judgment to begin at the household of God; and if it begins with us, what will be the outcome for those who do not obey the gospel of God? And If the righteous is scarcely saved, what will become of the ungodly and the sinner? Therefore let those who suffer according to God's will entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 10:9-14 - We must not put Christ to the test, as some of them did and were destroyed by serpents, nor grumble, as some of them did and were destroyed by the Destroyer. Now these things happened to them as an example, but they were written down for our instruction, on whom the end of the ages has come. Therefore let anyone who thinks that he stands take heed lest he fall. No temptation has overtaken you that is not common to man. God is faithful, and he will not let you be tempted beyond your ability, but with the temptation he will also provide the way of escape, that you may be able to endure it. Therefore, my beloved, flee from idolatry. (ESV)
> James 4:4-5 - You adulterous people! Do you not know that friendship with the world is enmity with God? Therefore whoever wishes to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God. Or do you suppose it is to no purpose that the Scripture says, He yearns jealously over the spirit that he has made to dwell in us? (ESV)

G3433 mólis (from mogos, "toil/laborious toil") properly, something happening with great difficulty , i.e. hardly ("scarcely"). Focuses on the prolonged nature of a difficulty. difficulty.]

I am of the mind that I Peter 4:17-19 is mostly talking about genuine difficulty in entring the Kingdom of God (despite not being saved by our own works). Mark 10:23-27 does seem to indicate that it's generally difficult, not just for rich people. But with God it is possible. So God helps us to enter His Kingdom. It's through faith in Jesus Christ, so as we trust and obey and love and hope in Jesus Christ, God works in us to bring us into His Kingdom where we have transformed hearts that love Him and love the truth and love our family in Christ:

> I Peter 4:17-19 - For it is time for judgment to begin at the household of God; and if it begins with us, what will be the outcome for those who do not obey the gospel of God? And If the righteous is scarcely saved, what will become of the ungodly and the sinner? Therefore let those who suffer according to God's will entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good. (ESV)
> Ephesians 2:8-9 - For by grace you have been saved through faith. And this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God, not a result of works, so that no one may boast. (ESV)
> Mark 10:23-27 - And Jesus looked around and said to his disciples, How difficult it will be for those who have wealth to enter the kingdom of God! And the disciples were amazed at his words. But Jesus said to them again, Children, how difficult it is to enter the kingdom of God! It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God. And they were exceedingly astonished, and said to him, Then who can be saved? Jesus looked at them and said, With man it is impossible, but not with God. For all things are possible with God. (ESV)

At the end of the age, the weeds are actually gathered first:

> Matthew 13:24-30 - He put another parable before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a man who sowed good seed in his field, but while his men were sleeping, his enemy came and sowed weeds among the wheat and went away. So when the plants came up and bore grain, then the weeds appeared also. And the servants of the master of the house came and said to him, Master, did you not sow good seed in your field? How then does it have weeds? He said to them, An enemy has done this. So the servants said to him, Then do you want us to go and gather them? But he said, No, lest in gathering the weeds you root up the wheat along with them. Let both grow together until the harvest, and at harvest time I will tell the reapers, Gather the weeds first and bind them in bundles to be burned, but gather the wheat into my barn. (ESV)

> Matthew 13:40-52 - Just as the weeds are gathered and burned with fire, so will it be at the close of the age. The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of sin and all law-breakers (G4160 poiountas 3588 tēn G458 anomian; practicing lawlessness), and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear. The kingdom of heaven is like treasure hidden in a field, which a man found and covered up. Then in his joy he goes and sells all that he has and buys that field. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant in search of fine pearls, who, on finding one pearl of great value, went and sold all that he had and bought it. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a net that was thrown into the sea and gathered fish of every kind. When it was full, men drew it ashore and sat down and sorted the good into containers but threw away the bad. So it will be at the close of the age. The angels will come out and separate the evil from the righteous and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Have you understood all these things? They said to him, Yes. And he said to them, Therefore every scribe who has been trained for the kingdom of heaven is like a master of a house, who brings out of his treasure what is new and what is old. (ESV)

> II Thessalonians 1:7-10 - and to grant relief to you who are afflicted as well as to us, when the Lord Jesus is revealed from heaven with his mighty angels in flaming fire, inflicting vengeance on those who do not know God and on those who do not obey the gospel of our Lord Jesus. They will suffer the punishment of eternal destruction, away from the presence of the Lord and from the glory of his might, when he comes on that day to be glorified in his saints, and to be marveled at among all who have believed, because our testimony to you was believed. (ESV)

God is wrathful against evil. God is a God of justice. Evil people may ”seem to get away with it” but they actually don’t. Don’t join them:

> Ecclesiastes 7:15,8:12-14 - In my vain life I have seen everything. There is a righteous man who perishes in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man who prolongs his life in his evildoing. Though a sinner does evil a hundred times and prolongs his life, yet I know that it will be well with those who fear God, because they fear before him. But it will not be well with the wicked, neither will he prolong his days like a shadow, because he does not fear before God. There is a vanity that takes place on earth, that there are righteous people to whom it happens according to the deeds of the wicked, and there are wicked people to whom it happens according to the deeds of the righteous. I said that this also is vanity. (ESV)

> I Peter 4:19 - Therefore let those who suffer according to God’s will entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good. (ESV)

God wants people to repent not perish, and He is longsuffering, holding out for people to repent, to turn away from the love of evil, and to put their faith in Jesus Christ:

> Ezekiel 18:20-24 - The soul who sins shall die. The son shall not suffer for the iniquity of the father, nor the father suffer for the iniquity of the son. The righteousness of the righteous shall be upon himself, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon himself. But if a wicked person turns away from all his sins that he has committed and keeps all my statutes and does what is just and right, he shall surely live; he shall not die. None of the transgressions that he has committed shall be remembered against him; for the righteousness that he has done he shall live. Have I any pleasure in the death of the wicked, declares the Lord GOD, and not rather that he should turn from his way and live? But when a righteous person turns away from his righteousness and does injustice and does the same abominations that the wicked person does, shall he live? None of the righteous deeds that he has done shall be remembered; for the treachery of which he is guilty and the sin he has committed, for them he shall die. (ESV)

II Peter 3:9-13 - The Lord is not slow to fulfill his promise as some count slowness, but is patient toward you, not wishing that any should perish, but that all should reach repentance. But the day of the Lord will come like a thief, and then the heavens will pass away with a roar, and the heavenly bodies will be burned up and dissolved, and the earth and the works that are done on it will be exposed. Since all these things are thus to be dissolved, what sort of people ought you to be in lives of holiness and godliness, waiting for and hastening the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be set on fire and dissolved, and the heavenly bodies will melt as they burn! But according to his promise we are waiting for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells. (ESV)

Genesis 18:24-26 - Suppose there are fifty righteous within the city. Will you then sweep away the place and not spare it for the fifty righteous who are in it? Far be it from you to do such a thing, to put the righteous to death with the wicked, so that the righteous fare as the wicked! Far be that from you! Shall not the Judge of all the earth do what is just? And the LORD said, If I find at Sodom fifty righteous in the city, I will spare the whole place for their sake. (ESV)

Luke 15:3-10 - So he told them this parable: What man of you, having a hundred sheep, if he has lost one of them, does not leave the ninety-nine in the open country, and go after the one that is lost, until he finds it? And when he has found it, he lays it on his shoulders, rejoicing. And when he comes home, he calls together his friends and his neighbors, saying to them, Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep that was lost. Just so, I tell you, there will be more joy in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine righteous persons who need no repentance. Or what woman, having ten silver coins, if she loses one coin, does not light a lamp and sweep the house and seek diligently until she finds it? And when she has found it, she calls together her friends and neighbors, saying, Rejoice with me, for I have found the coin that I had lost. Just so, I tell you, there is joy before the angels of God over one sinner who repents. (ESV)

Matthew 13:24-30 - He put another parable before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a man who sowed good seed in his field, but while his men were sleeping, his enemy came and sowed weeds among the wheat and went away. Those who are raptured imperishable don't wither:

Psalm 37:1,2 - Fret not yourself because of evildoers; be not envious of wrongdoers! Of David. For they will soon fade like the grass and wither like the green herb. (ESV)

I Corinthians 15:50-54 - I tell you this, brothers: flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God, nor does the perishable inherit the imperishable. Behold! I tell you a mystery. We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For > the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we shall be changed. For this perishable body must put on the imperishable, and this mortal body must put on immortality. When the perishable puts on the imperishable, and the mortal puts on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written: Death is swallowed up in victory. (ESV)

We still hope for the appearance of Jesus Christ, but we hope to be found among the wheat:

> I Timothy 6:13-16 - I charge you in the presence of God, who gives life to all things, and of Christ Jesus, who in his testimony before Pontius Pilate made the good confession, to keep the commandment unstained and free from reproach until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ, which he will display at the proper time—he who is the blessed and only Sovereign, the King of kings and Lord of lords, who alone has immortality, who dwells in unapproachable light, whom no one has ever seen or can see. God is the judge of the living and the dead. I think that it's definitely correct and to do as Peter advises here and put a stop to literally the list of things he's saying to put a stop to:

> I Peter 4:1-5 - Since therefore Christ suffered in the flesh, arm yourselves with the same way of thinking, for whoever has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, so as to live for the rest of the time in the flesh no longer for human passions but for the will of God. The time that is past suffices for doing what the Gentiles want to do, living in sensuality, passions, drunkenness, orgies, drinking parties, and lawless idolatry. With respect to this they are surprised when you do not join them in the same flood of debauchery, and they malign you; but they will give account to him who is ready to judge the living and the dead. (ESV)
> Ezekiel 14:7-8 - For any one of the house of Israel, or of the strangers who sojourn in Israel, who separates himself from me, taking his idols into his heart and putting the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and yet comes to a prophet to consult me through him, I the LORD will answer him myself. And I will set my face against that man; I will make him a sign and a byword and cut him off from the midst of my people, and you shall know that I am the LORD. (ESV)

We need a righteousness sufficient to enter the kingdom of heaven and we can have that righteousness by imputation through faith in the truth. We must abide in the teaching of Christ, though. We need to have faith in the real Jesus Christ:

> Romans 4:11-13 - He received the sign of circumcision as a seal of the righteousness that he had by faith while he was still uncircumcised. The purpose was to make him the father of all who believe without being circumcised, so that righteousness would be counted to them as well, and to make him the father of the circumcised who are not merely circumcised but who also walk in the footsteps of the faith that our father Abraham had before he was circumcised. For the promise to Abraham and his offspring that he would be heir of the world did not come through the law but through the righteousness of faith. (ESV)

> II John 1:9-10 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, (ESV)

But this faith must be a "lawful" faith. The commandment of faith must not violate the 2 Great Commandments. Jesus Christ has to be our greatest agape love:

> I Corinthians 16:22 - If anyone has no love for the Lord, let him be accursed. Our Lord, come! (ESV)

> Galatians 1:8-9 - But even if we or an angel from heaven should preach to you a gospel contrary to the one we preached to you, let him be accursed. As we have said before, so now I say again: If anyone is preaching to you a gospel contrary to the one you received, let him be accursed. (ESV)

> Matthew 22:37-40 - And he said to him, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)

> II Thessalonians 2:9-10 - The coming of the lawless one is by the activity of Satan with all power and false signs and wonders, and with all wicked deception for those who are perishing, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. (ESV)

When we truly love Jesus, we receive the love of God in us that enables us to be law-fulfilling (Luke 7:40-50). Love believes and hopes, and when we are "faithing" in Jesus in reality, we have the love of God in us that means that we do the 2 Great Commandments in reality. God helps us to love Him with our whole heart as we love Jesus Christ (Acts 26:18). Where a person falls short, grace is abounding to heal the person's heart (Romans 5:20-21). There is simultaneously the means made available to love God with our whole hearts and our neighbours as ourselves and a duty for us to do so. The means is Jesus Christ (John 1:17-18).

That we must have love for God to abide in God is reiterated in the Apostle John's words:

> I John 3:23 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. (ESV

> I John 3:24 - Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

> I John 4:16 - So we have come to know and to believe the love that God has for us. God is love, and whoever abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. (ESV)

Also in Jesus' words:

> John 15:10 - If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. (ESV)

Though we understand that we didn't always love God, but that God loved us first:

> I John 4:10 - In this is love, not that we have loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. (ESV)

> I John 4:19 - We love because he first loved us. (ESV)

Jesus Christ has to be our greatest agape love. We certainly must prefer Jesus to sin. But we must also prefer Him to everything else:

> Mark 8:35 - For whoever would save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake and the gospel's will save it. (ESV)

> Colossians 3:4 - When Christ who is your life appears, then you also will appear with him in glory. (ESV)

> Revelation of John 2:1-5 - "To the angel of the church in Ephesus write: The One who holds the seven stars in His right hand, the One who walks among the seven golden lampstands, says this: 'I know your deeds and your toil and perseverance, and that you cannot tolerate evil men, and you put to the test those who call themselves apostles, and they are not, and you found them to be false; and you have perseverance and have endured for My name's sake, and have not grown weary. But I have this against you, that you have left your first (G4413 protos) love (G26 agape). Therefore remember from where you have fallen, and repent and do the deeds you did at first; or else I am coming to you and will remove your lampstand out of its place–unless you repent. (NASB)

> John 3:14-19 - And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than (G3123 mallon, rather/more than, in preference to, instead of) light, because their deeds were evil. (KJV)

> Matthew 10:32-38 - So everyone who acknowledges me before men, I also will acknowledge before my Father who is in heaven, but whoever denies me before men, I also will deny before my Father who is in heaven. Do not think that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I have not come to bring peace, but a sword. For I have come to set a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. And a person's enemies will be those of his own household. Whoever loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me, and whoever loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. And whoever does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me. (ESV)

Every commandment from God depends on the commandment to love God and our neighbour. So without love a person cannot have genuine faith in God or legitimately obey God's commandments:

> Matthew 22:36-40 - Teacher, which is the great commandment in the Law? And he said to him, You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets. (ESV)

If we love Jesus then we will keep His commandment to have faith in Him:

> John 14:15 - If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

> John 14:1 - Let not your hearts be troubled. Believe in God; believe also in me. (ESV)

Love is (G3173 meizōn; greater/older) than faith (i.e. treasuring the truth). So I think what we need to do is "with love for the truth have faith in Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, and by faith obey Him":

> Matthew 11:10-11 - This is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before your face, who will prepare your way before you. Truly, I say to you, among those born of women there has arisen no one greater (G3173 meizōn; greater/older) than John the Baptist. Yet the one who is least (G3398 mikroteros; the least) in the kingdom of heaven is greater (G3173 meizōn; greater/older) than he. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 13:13 - So now faith, hope, and love abide, these three; but the greatest (G3173 meizōn; [the] greatest, most preceeding) of these is love. (ESV)

> Hebrews 11:8 - By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place that he was to receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going. (ESV)

How do we get to having a love for God? We obtain access to grace through faith in Jesus, and God pours His love into our hearts:

> Romans 5:1-5 - Therefore, since we have been justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. Through him we have also obtained access by faith into this grace in which we stand, and we rejoice in hope of the glory of God. More than that, we rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, and hope does not put us to shame, because God's love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us. (ESV)

Receiving forgiveness from Jesus, having faith in Jesus and loving Jesus all go hand in hand. In fact, someone who truly has been forgiven by God must love in the truth and someone who does't love in the truth neither has been forgiven because if they were forgiven they would love. And notice how the woman's faith is linked with the love she has:

> Luke 7:40-50 - And Jesus answering said to him, Simon, I have something to say to you. And he answered, Say it, Teacher. A certain moneylender had two debtors. One owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty. When they could not pay, he cancelled the debt of both. Now which of them will love him more? Simon answered, The one, I suppose, for whom he cancelled the larger debt. And he said to him, You have judged rightly. Then turning toward the woman he said to Simon, Do you see this woman? I entered your house; you gave me no water for my feet, but she has wet my feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. You gave me no kiss, but from the time I came in she has not ceased to kiss my feet. You did not anoint my head with oil, but she has anointed my feet with ointment. Therefore I tell you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven—for she loved much. But he who is forgiven little, loves little. And he said to her, Your sins are forgiven. Then those who were at table with him began to say among themselves, Who is this, who even forgives sins? And he said to the woman, Your faith has saved you; go in peace. (ESV)

The person "doing the will of Father God" is the same who "believes" and is the person who is the "doer in reality" (John 3:21), not merely by lipservice (Mark 7:6-8, 1 Samuel 16:7) and is the person who regardless of performance in the vineyard (I Corinthians 3:11-15, Matthew 25:24-30) does end up "going" to work in the vineyard (Matthew 21:24-32). And "going to work in the vineyard" is "embarking like Abraham" to "do the will of God". Those who have Abraham's faith will embark (John 14:12, Revelation of John 2:5).

Notice how this faith that we must have looks like Abraham's faith. That's because Christians need to be "children of Abraham" (Galatians 3:5-7, John 8:31-47) who have faith in God (Galatians 3:5-7) and love God (James 2:5). When we hear God we need to trust Him (Galatians 3:5-7). So the ones who receive the promise are the ones who receive Jesus and His words:

> Hebrews 11:8 - By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place that he was to receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going. (ESV)

So there is "baseline 'performance'" which is "going to" work in the vineyard but that happens if someone has real faith in Jesus. If a person were unable to move themself physically but had real faith in Jesus Christ in their heart they still have hearing with faith and still do "embark" on this journey of doing the will of God. The will of God is our sanctification (I Thessalonians 4:3-8). A person can embark on that journey by faith and love and obedience for Jesus no matter where they are physically. A person buried alive 6 feet underground in a coffin who is unable to go anywhere physically could embark on the journey of faith in Jesus and still be like the first son who changed his mind and went. Faith believes that Jesus Christ and that His words (John 12:44-48) are trustworthy and that there is reward for seeking God:

> Hebrews 11:6 - And without faith it is impossible to please him, for whoever would draw near to God must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who seek him. (ESV)

Jesus' parable in (Matthew 21:24-32) says nothing about the usefulness of the work done whilst in the vineyard, but it does say about the first son that he went. The disbeliever did not go at all. So that is baseline performance. The believer went to work and their work may have abided or it may have burned up but they are still saved. The disbeliever did not perform at all.

> I Corinthians 3:7-15 - So neither he who plants nor he who waters is anything, but only God who gives the growth. He who plants and he who waters are one, and each will receive his wages according to his labor. For we are God's fellow workers. You are God's field, God's building. According to the grace of God given to me, like a skilled master builder I laid a foundation, and someone else is building upon it. Let each one take care how he builds upon it. For no one can lay a foundation other than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ. Now if anyone builds on the foundation with gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, straw— each one's work will become manifest, for the Day will disclose it, because it will be revealed by fire, and the fire will test what sort of work each one has done. If the work that anyone has built on the foundation survives, he will receive a reward. If anyone's work is burned up, he will suffer loss, though he himself will be saved, but only as through fire. (ESV)

The vineyard is the world and the field is full of believers (wheat) and unbelievers (tares). The wheat bears good fruit. They have a genuine love for God and hatred of evil:

> Matthew 13:37-42 - He answered, The one who sows the good seed is the Son of Man. The field is the world, and the good seed is the children of the kingdom. The weeds are the sons of the evil one, and the enemy who sowed them is the devil. The harvest is the close of the age, and the reapers are angels. Just as the weeds are gathered and burned with fire, so will it be at the close of the age. The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of sin and all law-breakers, and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. (ESV)
> Luke 3:8 - Bear fruits in keeping with repentance. And do not begin to say to yourselves, We have Abraham as our father. For I tell you, God is able from these stones to raise up children for Abraham. (ESV)
> Luke 13:6-9 - And he told this parable: A man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit on it and found none. And he said to the vinedresser, Look, for three years now I have come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and I find none. Cut it down. Why should it use up the ground? And he answered him, Sir, let it alone this year also, until I dig around it and put on manure. Then if it should bear fruit next year, well and good; but if not, you can cut it down. (ESV)
> Isaiah 5:7,20-24 - For the vineyard of the LORD of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah are his pleasant planting; and he looked for justice, but behold, bloodshed; for righteousness, but behold, an outcry! Woe to those who call evil good and good evil, who put darkness for light and light for darkness, who put bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter! Woe to those who are wise in their own eyes, and shrewd in their own sight! Woe to those who are heroes at drinking wine, and valiant men in mixing strong drink, who acquit the guilty for a bribe, and deprive the innocent of his right! Therefore, as the tongue of fire devours the stubble, and as dry grass sinks down in the flame, so their root will be as rottenness, and their blossom go up like dust; for they have rejected the law of the LORD of hosts, and have despised the word of the Holy One of Israel. (ESV)

A person might therefore have said the wrong thing but ended up doing the right thing. Man looks at the outwards appearance. God looks at the heart. God wants us to be the one who goes out in reality. This parable doeosn't mention the quality of any potential work done. But it's saying we must be those who go out in reality to do God's will for us:

> Matthew 21:24-32 - Jesus answered them, I also will ask you one question, and if you tell me the answer, then I also will tell you by what authority I do these things. The baptism of John, from where did it come? From heaven or from man? And they discussed it among themselves, saying, If we say, From heaven, he will say to us, Why then did you not believe him? But if we say, From man, we are afraid of the crowd, for they all hold that John was a prophet. So they answered Jesus, We do not know. And he said to them, Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things. What do you think? A man had two sons. And he went to the first and said, Son, go and work in the vineyard today. And he answered, I will not, but afterward he changed his mind and went. And he went to the other son and said the same. And he answered, I go, sir, but did not go. Which of the two did the will of his father? They said, The first. Jesus said to them, Truly, I say to you, the tax collectors and the prostitutes go into the kingdom of God before you. For John came to you in the way of righteousness, and you did not believe him, but the tax collectors and the prostitutes believed him. And even when you saw it, you did not afterward change your minds and believe him. (ESV)

> 1 Samuel 16:7 - But the LORD said to Samuel, Do not look on his appearance or on the height of his stature, because I have rejected him. For the LORD sees not as man sees: man looks on the outward appearance, but the LORD looks on the heart. (ESV)

God just wants us to take to the plough (Matthew 21:24-32) and not look back:

> Luke 9:62 - Jesus said to him, No one who puts his hand to the plow and looks back is fit for the kingdom of God. (ESV)

Faith is confidently ”embarking to do” (Matthew 21:24-32, Hebrews 11:7) as instructed by God (Hebrews 11:8), trusting God’s word with confidence (Galatians 3:5-7*, Hebrews 11:11) in the end result (i.e. what God has foretold) without knowing how things will take place along the way in achieving that result (Hebrews 11:7).

One must be born-again of water and the spirit and do the will of Father God to enter the kingdom of God:

> Matthew 7:21 - Not everyone who says to me, Lord, Lord, will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the one who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. (ESV)

> Matthew 5:20 - For I tell you, unless your righteousness exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. (ESV)

> John 3:5 - Jesus answered, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God. (ESV)

> Deuteronomy 30:6 - And the LORD your God will circumcise your heart and the heart of your offspring, so that you will love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, that you may live. (ESV)

> Ezekiel 18:31-32 - Cast away from you all the transgressions that you have committed, and make yourselves a new heart and a new spirit! Why will you die, O house of Israel? For I have no pleasure in the death of anyone, declares the Lord GOD; so turn, and live. (ESV)

> John 3:3-8 - Jesus answered him, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born again he cannot see the kingdom of God. Nicodemus said to him, How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother’s womb and be born? Jesus answered, Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Do not marvel that I said to you, You must be born again. The wind blows where it wishes, and you hear its sound, but you do not know where it comes from or where it goes. So it is with everyone who is born of the Spirit. (ESV)

We must continue in the faith, even continue in the faith through ”tribulation”:

> Acts 14:21-22 - When they had preached the gospel to that city and had made many disciples, they returned to Lystra and to Iconium and to Antioch, strengthening the souls of the disciples, encouraging them to continue in the faith, and saying that through many tribulations we must enter the kingdom of God. (ESV)

I believe that real faith necessitates having the fear of God. Real love for Jesus necessitates a hatred of evil because we love God so want to do what is pleasing to Him and do not want to sin against Him.

It’s not possible to cheat Jesus over it. He can see the heart:

> Matthew 18:3 - and said, Truly, I say to you, unless you turn and become like children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. (ESV)

So if a person agrees with Holy Spirit that Father God was just in justifying Jesus and raising Him from the dead for His perfect obedience to Father God while we were yet sinners (i.e. God loved us first before we loved Him), for fulfilling the entire Law and the prophets, for being good as Father God is also good, for practicing perfect righteousness, then that is a very righteous agreement a person is making in agreeing with God over it. I think that righteousness is the righteousness one requires to enter the Kingdom of God. I think that is where imputed righteousness comes from, or at least that is in agreement itself with the Truth. But that’s the intuition of it, I think. If God made a very important judgement that affects the whole of humanity then we better be in agreement with it:

> Romans 1:4 - and was declared to be the Son of God in power according to the Spirit of holiness by his resurrection from the dead, Jesus Christ our Lord, (ESV)

> I Timothy 3:16 - Great indeed, we confess, is the mystery of godliness: He was manifested in the flesh, vindicated by the Spirit, seen by angels, proclaimed among the nations, believed on in the world, taken up in glory. (ESV)

So trusting that Father God was in Jesus doing His works seems to be strongly linked to believing that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, and also trusting that Jesus Christ is the Son of God is agreeing with Holy Spirit and Holy Spirit has testified of this by Jesus’ Resurrection from the dead (Romans 1:4):

> John 14:10-15 - Do you not believe that I am in the Father and the Father is in me? The words that I say to you I do not speak on my own authority, but the Father who dwells in me does his works. Believe me that I am in the Father and the Father is in me, or else believe on account of the works themselves. Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I am going to the Father. Whatever you ask in my name, this I will do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. If you ask me anything in my name, I will do it. If you love me, you will keep my commandments. (ESV)

> John 5:36 - But the testimony that I have is greater than that of John. For the works that the Father has given me to accomplish, the very works that I am doing, bear witness about me that the Father has sent me. (ESV)

> John 3:18 - Whoever believes in him is not condemned (G2919 krinetai: is judged V-PIM/P-3S), but whoever does not believe is condemned already (G2919 kekritai: has been judged V-RIM/P-3S), because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. (ESV)

> John 20:30-31 - Now Jesus did many other signs in the presence of the disciples, which are not written in this book; but these are written so that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that by believing you may have life in his name. (ESV)

Consider the penitent criminal believed that ”Jesus had done no wrong.” and that he appeared to have the fear of God too, which is characteristic of real faith:

> Luke 23:40-43 - But the other answered, and rebuking him said, “Do you not even fear God, since you are under the same sentence of condemnation? And we indeed are suffering justly, for we are receiving what we deserve for our deeds; but this man has done nothing wrong.” And he was saying, “Jesus, remember me when You come in Your kingdom!” And He said to him, “Truly I say to you, today you shall be with Me in Paradise.”

So trusting in Father God involves trusting in His righteous judgement regarding Jesus Christ:

> Romans 4:22-25 - That is why his faith was counted to him as righteousness. But the words it was counted to him were not written for his sake alone, but for ours also. It will be counted to us who believe in him who raised from the dead Jesus our Lord, who was delivered up for our trespasses and raised for our justification. (ESV)

However this faith that we must have is one which accompanies agape love for Jesus. So we also rejoice with the truth (I Corinthians 13:1-8) that God has judged justly and raised our Lord Jesus Christ from the dead declaring Him to be the Son of God, and we agape love Jesus Christ as we hold our faith in Him and in Father God:

> I Corinthians 16:22 - If anyone has no love for the Lord, let him be accursed. Our Lord, come! (ESV)

Now some people distort this idea of ”imputed righteousness” and make it sound like a person can do no wrong after coming to faith because Jesus ”took their place”, where I think that real faith continues (it’s a doing word), and the love we must have for Jesus Christ is abiding in His commandments. So imputed righteousness is a righteousness which we hold while we have faith in and love for the Lord. Naturally, we must prefer Him to sin. We must be repentant from sin to have this imputed righteousness. And the faith is ongoing. Pisteuo is a verb, a doing word. We’ve got to ”do” Christ’s law of faith:

John 3:16 (Interlinear) Thus so (Houtōs) (in this way) did God love (G25 agapaó - value,treasure) the world, that He gave His Only-Begotten (G3439. monogenēs - unique,only begotten) Son that (G2443 hina - in order that) everyone who is trusting/believing (G4100 pisteuo) in Him may not perish, but may have life everlasting

> John 8:31-47 - So Jesus said to the Jews who had believed (G4100 pepisteukotas: having believed ’V-RPA-AMP past tense’) in him, If you abide in my word, you are truly my disciples, and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free. They answered him, We are offspring of Abraham and have never been enslaved to anyone. How is it that you say, You will become free? Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. I know that you are offspring of Abraham; yet you seek to kill me because my word finds no place in you. I speak of what I have seen with my Father, and you do what you have heard from your father. They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham’s children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father’s desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. Which one of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? Whoever is of God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear them is that you are not of God. (ESV)

Clearly we must continue in the faith:

> I Corinthians 15:1-2 - Now I would remind you, brothers, of the gospel I preached to you, which you received, in which you stand, and by which you are being saved, if you hold fast to the word I preached to you—unless you believed in vain. (ESV)
> Colossians 1:21-23 - And you, who once were alienated and hostile in mind, doing evil deeds, he has now reconciled in his body of flesh by his death, in order to present you holy and blameless and above reproach before him, if indeed you continue in the faith, stable and steadfast, not shifting from the hope of the gospel that you heard, which has been proclaimed in all creation under heaven, and of which I, Paul, became a minister. (ESV)
> Hebrews 3:5-6 - Now Moses was faithful in all God's house as a servant, to testify to the things that were to be spoken later, but Christ is faithful over God's house as a son. And we are his house if indeed we hold fast our confidence and our boasting in our hope. (ESV)
> Hebrews 3:14 - For we share in Christ, if indeed we hold our original confidence firm to the end. (ESV)

It's prideful to think that a person does not need to continue on in faith and abide in Jesus Christ's teachings including confessing and forsaking sin after coming to have faith in His blood:

> Romans 11:20-25 - That is true. They were broken off because of their unbelief, but you stand fast through faith. So do not become proud, but stand in awe. For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. Note then the kindness and the severity of God: severity toward those who have fallen, but God's kindness to you, provided you continue in his kindness. Otherwise you too will be cut off. And even they, if they do not continue in their unbelief, will be grafted in, for God has the power to graft them in again. For if you were cut from what is by nature a wild olive tree, and grafted, contrary to nature, into a cultivated olive tree, how much more will these, the natural branches, be grafted back into their own olive tree. Lest you be wise in your own conceits, I want you to understand this mystery, brothers: a partial hardening has come upon Israel, until the fullness of the Gentiles has come in. (ESV)
> Matthew 18:21-35 - Then Peter came up and said to him, Lord, how often will my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? As many as seven times? Jesus said to him, I do not say to you seven times, but seventy times seven. Therefore the kingdom of heaven may be compared to a king who wished to settle accounts with his servants. When he began to settle, one was brought to him who owed him ten thousand talents. And since he could not pay, his master ordered him to be sold, with his wife and children and all that he had, and payment to be made. So the servant fell on his knees, imploring him, Have patience with me, and I will pay you everything. And out of pity for him, the master of that servant released him and forgave him the debt. But when that same servant went out, he found one of his fellow servants who owed him a hundred denarii, and seizing him, he began to choke him, saying, Pay what you owe. So his fellow servant fell down and pleaded with him, Have patience with me, and I will pay you. He refused and went and put him in prison until he should pay the debt. When his fellow servants saw what had taken place, they were greatly distressed, and they went and reported to their master all that had taken place. Then his master summoned him and said to him, You wicked servant! I forgave you all that debt because you pleaded with me. And should not you have had mercy on your fellow servant, as I had mercy on you? And in anger his master delivered him to the jailers, until he should pay all his debt. So also my heavenly Father will do to every one of you, if you do not forgive your brother from your heart. (ESV)

> John 15:10 - If you keep My commandments, you will remain in My love, just as I have kept My Father's commandments and remain in His love. (engbsb2020eb)
> John 8:34-35 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. (ESV)

Persist in trusting and hoping in Jesus. Persist in being corrected by the Word of God. Persist in submitting to God and resisting the devil. Persist in obeying Jesus rather than sin. Persist in loving God and one another as God commanded and Jesus demonstrated:

> I Timothy 4:10 - For to this end we toil and strive, because we have our hope set on the living God, who is the Savior of all people, especially of those who believe. (ESV)
> I Timothy 4:16 - Keep a close watch on yourself and on the teaching. Persist in this, for by so doing you will save both yourself and your hearers. (ESV)

I will just say this here, I think that Father God was always pleased with Jesus Christ, His Son, and the chastisement He received is better viewed as God allowing Him to "take a beating", rather than God's wrath against Him personally (i.e. as if He hated Jesus). Father God did not ever hate Jesus.

> Isaiah 53:5 - But he was wounded for our transgressions; he was crushed for our iniquities; upon him was the chastisement that brought us peace, and with his stripes we are healed. (ESV)
> Proverbs 16:6 - By steadfast love and faithfulness iniquity is atoned for, and by the fear of the LORD one turns away from evil. (ESV)
> I Peter 1:22 - Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, (ESV)

But Father God allowed Jesus who is sinless to receive the chastisement that would have gone to those who are saved in Him. Jesus suffered and died a brutal death so that those who are found in Him abiding in His commandments don't have to experience that. So Jesus gives us life, eternal life in Him.

Jesus bore our sins to enable us to die to sin:

> I Peter 2:24-25 - He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed. For you were straying like sheep, but have now returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls. (ESV)
> Isaiah 53:10-12 - Yet it was the will of the LORD to crush him; he has put him to grief; when his soul makes an offering for sin, he shall see his offspring; he shall prolong his days; the will of the LORD shall prosper in his hand. Out of the anguish of his soul he shall see and be satisfied; by his knowledge shall the righteous one, my servant, make many to be accounted righteous, and he shall bear their iniquities. Therefore I will divide him a portion with the many, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong, because he poured out his soul to death and was numbered with the transgressors; yet he bore the sin of many, and makes intercession for the transgressors. (ESV)

Jesus suffered for sins so that He can bring us to God:

> I Peter 3:18 - For Christ also suffered once for sins, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh but made alive in the spirit, (ESV)

We are cleaned but need to continue on walking in the light:

> II Peter 1:5-11 - For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins. Therefore, brothers, be all the more diligent to make your calling and election sure, for if you practice these qualities you will never fall. For in this way there will be richly provided for you an entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. (ESV)

> I Peter 1:14-19 - As obedient children, do not be conformed to the passions of your former ignorance, but as he who called you is holy, you also be holy in all your conduct, since it is written, You shall be holy, for I am holy. And if you call on him as Father who judges impartially according to each one's deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile, knowing that you were ransomed from the futile ways inherited from your forefathers, not with perishable things such as silver or gold, but with the precious blood of Christ, like that of a lamb without blemish or spot. (ESV)

Being justified by Jesus' blood, we will be saved (delivered from) the wrath that is to come, provided that we continue holding faith in Jesus:

> Romans 5:6-10 - For while we were still weak, at the right time Christ died for the ungodly. For one will scarcely die for a righteous person—though perhaps for a good person one would dare even to die— but God shows his love for us in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us. Since, therefore, we have now been justified by his blood, much more shall we be saved by him from the wrath of God. For if while we were enemies we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, now that we are reconciled, shall we be saved by his life. (ESV)

> Romans 11:21-23 - For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. Note then the kindness and the severity of God: severity toward those who have fallen, but God's kindness to you, provided you continue in his kindness. Otherwise you too will be cut off. And even they, if they do not continue in their unbelief, will be grafted in, for God has the power to graft them in again. (ESV)

Jesus was ”carrying” / ”bearing” our sin, and God hates sin but loves Jesus. Father God allowed Jesus to receive chastisement for those in Christ but God's wrath is coming for the unrepentant:

> I Peter 2:24 - He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed. (ESV)

> Revelation of John 9:20-21 - The rest of mankind, who were not killed by these plagues, did not repent of the works of their hands nor give up worshiping demons and idols of gold and silver and bronze and stone and wood, which cannot see or hear or walk, nor did they repent of their murders or their sorceries or their sexual immorality or their thefts. (ESV)

So if a person is in Christ then they are abiding in Jesus' commandments and they have Jesus' righteousness and Jesus Christ has taken away the sting of death.

> I Corinthians 15:55-56 - O death, where is your victory? O death, where is your sting? The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. (ESV)

I don't think it's right to say that Jesus has taken all of God's wrath ever, because there is still wrath coming for those who remain unrepentant. Hell is certainly the destination for those who hate Father God and for those who hate the Lord Jesus Christ, and also because God still uses governing authorities to carry out His wrath on the evildoer, it's not as if God can't serve wrath. God certainly can still serve wrath:

> I Thessalonians 1:9-10 - For they themselves report concerning us the kind of reception we had among you, and how you turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God, and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, Jesus who delivers us from the wrath to come. (ESV)

God allowed wicked people to crucify Jesus but Jesus was innocent and Jesus in laying down His life was obedient to Father God and the entire time Father God absolutely loved Jesus. Father God never stopped loving Jesus Christ the Son of God but allowed Jesus to take His wrath (the wrath of God) so that all those who are in Christ (abiding in Jesus Christ's commandments) are righteous in God.

In other words, the chastisement due for sin that would have resulted in a person receiving death is what Jesus has taken for the person who is found in Him. If we are found in Christ then we will not receive the wrath that is to come for the evildoer that sends a person to hell. A Christian is still disciplined by God and chastised as they are cleaned up.

Those who are in Christ won't go to hell. Christians still suffer, though, in this life and if Christians suffer for Jesus' sake then they will be glorified in Him. But we must be authentically abiding in Jesus' commandments. It's not possible to cheat God. It's not merely suffering "similarly to" how Jesus suffered, but it's suffering similarly while abiding in Jesus' commandments that enables us to be glorified in Him, as it glorifies Jesus and glorifies God. And God is the one we need commendation from for this. So just be humble and keep God's commandments for us from a sincere heart seeking to please God.

All the while enduring the cross, Jesus maintained love and faithfulness for His friends and perfect obedience to Father God.

> John 8:29 - And he who sent me is with me. He has not left me alone, for I always do the things that are pleasing to him. (ESV)

> John 10:17 - For this reason the Father loves me, because I lay down my life that I may take it up again. (ESV)

> John 15:9-10 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. (ESV)

If anyone is in Christ, they are a new creation and they are a part of the new creation:

> II Corinthians 5:17-21 - Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation. The old has passed away; behold, the new has come. All this is from God, who through Christ reconciled us to himself and gave us the ministry of reconciliation; that is, in Christ God was reconciling the world to himself, not counting their trespasses against them, and entrusting to us the message of reconciliation. Therefore, we are ambassadors for Christ, God making his appeal through us. We implore you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God. For our sake he made him to be sin who knew no sin, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God. (ESV)

I also believe that it's totally biblical that if we do not go on abiding in Jesus' commandments then there is the real consequence of being "grafted out" of Christ.

> Romans 11:19-21 - Then you will say, Branches were broken off so that I might be grafted in. That is true. They were broken off because of their unbelief, but you stand fast through faith. So do not become proud, but stand in awe. For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. (ESV)

Clearly we must continue in the faith:

> I Corinthians 15:1-2 - Now I would remind you, brothers, of the gospel I preached to you, which you received, in which you stand, and by which you are being saved, if you hold fast to the word I preached to you—unless you believed in vain. (ESV)

> Colossians 1:21-23 - And you, who once were alienated and hostile in mind, doing evil deeds, he has now reconciled in his body of flesh by his death, in order to present you holy and blameless and above reproach before him, if indeed you continue in the faith, stable and steadfast, not shifting from the hope of the gospel that you heard, which has been proclaimed in all creation under heaven, and of which I, Paul, became a minister. (ESV)

> Hebrews 3:5-6 - Now Moses was faithful in all God's house as a servant, to testify to the things that were to be spoken later, but Christ is faithful over God's house as a son. And we are his house if indeed we hold fast our confidence and our boasting in our hope. (ESV)

> Hebrews 3:14 - For we share in Christ, if indeed we hold our original confidence firm to the end. (ESV)

It's prideful to think that a person does not need to continue on in faith and abide in Jesus Christ's teachings including confessing and forsaking sin after coming to have faith in His blood:

> Romans 11:20-25 - That is true. They were broken off because of their unbelief, but you stand fast through faith. So do not become proud, but stand in awe. For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. Note then the kindness and the severity of God: severity toward those who have fallen, but God's kindness to you, provided you continue in his kindness. Otherwise you too will be cut off. And even they, if they do not continue in their unbelief, will be grafted in, for God has the power to graft them in again. For if you were cut from what is by nature a wild olive tree, and grafted, contrary to nature, into a cultivated olive tree, how much more will these, the natural branches, be grafted back into their own olive tree. Lest you be wise in your own conceits, I want you to understand this mystery, brothers: a partial hardening has come upon Israel, until the fullness of the Gentiles has come in. (ESV)

> Matthew 18:21-35 - Then Peter came up and said to him, Lord, how often will my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? As many as seven times? Jesus said to him, I do not say to you seven times, but seventy times seven. Therefore the kingdom of heaven may be compared to a king who wished to settle accounts with his servants. When he began to settle, one was brought to him who owed him ten thousand talents. And since he could not pay, his master ordered him to be sold, with his wife and children and all that he had, and payment to be made. And should not you have had mercy on your fellow servant, as I had mercy on you? And in anger his master delivered him to the jailers, until he should pay all his debt. So also my heavenly Father will do to every one of you, if you do not forgive your brother from your heart. (ESV)

> John 15:10 - If you keep My commandments, you will remain in My love, just as I have kept My Father's commandments and remain in His love. (engbsb2020eb)

> John 8:34-35 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. (ESV)

We must continue on in faith in Jesus and not desiring evil:

> Jude 1:5 - Now I want to remind you, although you once fully knew it, that Jesus, who saved a people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed those who did not believe. (ESV)

> Jeremiah 49:12 - For thus says the LORD: If those who did not deserve to drink the cup must drink it, will you go unpunished? You shall not go unpunished, but you must drink. (ESV)

> Jeremiah 25:29 - For behold, I begin to work disaster at the city that is called by my name, and shall you go unpunished? You shall not go unpunished, for I am summoning a sword against all the inhabitants of the earth, declares the LORD of hosts. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 10:1-12 - I want you to know, brothers, that our fathers were all under the cloud, and all passed through the sea, and all were baptized into Moses in the cloud and in the sea, and all > ate the same spiritual food, and all drank the same spiritual drink. For they drank from the spiritual Rock that followed them, and the Rock was Christ. Nevertheless, with most of them God was not pleased, for they were overthrown in the wilderness. Now these things took place as examples for us, that we might not desire evil as they did. Do not be idolaters as some of them were; as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink and rose up to play. We must not indulge in sexual immorality as some of them did, and twenty-three thousand fell in a single day. We must not put Christ to the test, as some of them did and were destroyed by serpents, nor grumble, as some of them did and were destroyed by the Destroyer. Now these things happened to them as an example, but they were written down for our instruction, on whom the end (G5056 telē; ends i.e. multiple ends) of the ages has come. Therefore let anyone who thinks that he stands take heed lest he fall. (ESV)

> Romans 11:21-23 - For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. Note then the kindness and the severity of God: severity toward those who have fallen, but God's kindness to you, provided you continue in his kindness. Otherwise you too will be cut off. And even they, if they do not continue in their unbelief, will be grafted in, for God has the power to graft them in again. (ESV)

So the "substitutionary sacrifice" of Jesus dying in one's place I think has to be seen still through the lens of how the Scriptures say it is appropriated, rather than trying to shoehorn everything else to fit the idea that Jesus took one's place. Salvation is still received through faith and obedience to Jesus Christ, abiding in His commandments. And we must continue to abide in His commandments:

> Matthew 20:25-28 - But Jesus called them to him and said, You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. It shall not be so among you. But whoever would be great among you must be your servant, and whoever would be first among you must be your slave, even as the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many. (ESV)

Getting born-again of the spirit, God's put a spotlight on my heart. Now the time for such "sensuality" is past. I think of everything being like day, all my thoughts and deeds are on full display to heaven, like Candid Camera. Candid Camera isn't really a great example, though. Unlike Candid Camera, where someone may not agree with the humor and could feel harmed potentially just for laughs, God's patience is salvation (II Peter 3:15, Revelation of John 2:21, I Timothy 1:16, Romans 2:4), and as the cloud of witnesses watches (Hebrews 12:1-3) as we "run the race" (I Corinthians 9:24-27, II Timothy 4:7), trusting and obeying Christ, this is for our benefit as it is sanctifying. Or it could be for other's benefit (I Corinthians 4:9-13):

> Hebrews 4:12-13 - For the word of God is living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing to the division of soul and of spirit, of joints and of marrow, and discerning the thoughts and intentions of the heart. And no creature is hidden from his sight, but all are naked and exposed to the eyes of him to whom we must give account. (ESV)

So rather than continuing on behaving as "children of the night", we should be walking as children of the day, soberly, focusing on the Lord Jesus Christ, forsaking sin, forsaking uncleanness, forsaking wastefulness (prodigal son like wastefulness), forsaking debauchery, and instead focus on doing what God wants us to be doing, using the time wisely, hoping in Jesus for that future salvation, for His coming, through the eyes of faith. So we are advised to change to be wise and walk as children of light:

> Ephesians 5:8-21 - for at one time you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light (for the fruit of light is found in all that is good and right and true), and try to discern what is pleasing to the Lord. Take no part in the unfruitful works of darkness, but instead expose them. For it is shameful even to speak of the things that they do in secret. But when anything is exposed by the light, it becomes visible, for anything that becomes visible is light. Therefore it says, Awake, O sleeper, and arise from the dead, and Christ will shine on you. Look carefully then how you walk, not as unwise but as wise, making the best use of the time, because the days are evil. Therefore > do not be foolish, but understand what the will of the Lord is. And do not get drunk with wine, for that is debauchery, but be filled with the Spirit, addressing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody to the Lord with all your heart, giving thanks always and for everything to God the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, submitting to one another out of reverence for Christ. (ESV)

> I Thessalonians 5:5-10 - For you are all children of light, children of the day. We are not of the night or of the darkness. So then let us not sleep, as others do, but let us keep awake and be sober. For those who sleep, sleep at night, and those who get drunk, are drunk at night. But since we belong to the day, let us be sober, having put on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet the hope of salvation. For God has not destined us for wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us so that whether we are awake or asleep we might live with him. (ESV)

Some people heed this advice and some people do not. And to connect with another passage, I want to be counted among the wise:

> Matthew 25:7-12 - Then all those virgins rose and trimmed their lamps. And the foolish said to the wise, Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out. But the wise answered, saying, Since there will not be enough for us and for you, go rather to the dealers and buy for yourselves. And while they were going to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the marriage feast, and the door was shut. Afterward the other virgins came also, saying, Lord, lord, open to us. But he answered, Truly, I say to you, I do not know you. (ESV)

God is the Judge of the living and the dead. The Son will judge. But both the Father and the Son are God, they're both Jehovah:

> Acts 10:41-44 - not to all the people but to us who had been chosen by God as witnesses, who ate and drank with him after he rose from the dead. And he commanded us to preach to the people and to testify that he is the one appointed by God to be judge of the living and the dead. To him all the prophets bear witness that everyone who believes in him receives forgiveness of sins through his name. While Peter was still saying these things, the Holy Spirit fell on all who heard the word. (ESV)
> John 5:21-25 - For as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, so also the Son gives life to whom he will. The Father judges (G2919 krinei: judges) no one, but has given all judgment (G2920 krisin: judgment) to the Son, that all may honor the Son, just as they honor the Father. Whoever does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent him. Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears (G191 akouó) my word (G3056 logos) and believes (G4100 pisteuó) him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come (G2064 erchomai) into judgment, but has passed (G3327 metabain) from death to life. Truly, truly, I say to you, an hour is coming, and is now here, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who hear will live. (ESV)

There is a "last day" and we want to have put our faith in Jesus before the last day.

John 12 seems to articulate that when Jesus came He didn't come to judge. But that there remains a latter judgement if Jesus is rejected and those that reject Him or His words are judged by Him (Jesus, the Son of God) on the basis of what they rejected of Him. The Son of God does judge. So God is the Judge of the Living and the dead. But the Father does not judge but the Son does judge. But if in advance of "the last day" a person puts their faith in Jesus then they are saved by Him rather than judged. And following from that, sanctification would then involve ongoing trusting in the voice of Jesus, and that involves trusting in His words, coming into agreement with His words, as they are heard:

John 12:44-47 (Interlinear) And if anyone [of Me hears] the words (i.e. hears Jesus' words) and not keeps [them] (G5442 phylaxē) I not (G2919 krinō: do judge [Tense: V-PIA-1S. i.e. presently judge]) (G846 auton: him) [.] not for I came that I might judge the world but that I might save the world

> John 12:44-48 - And Jesus cried out and said, Whoever believes in me, believes not in me but in him who sent me. And whoever sees me sees him who sent me. I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness. If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge (G2919 krinō: do judge) him; for I did not come to judge the world (G2919 krinō: I might judge) but to save the world. The one who rejects me and does not receive my words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day. (ESV)

So it follows that if someone is trusting in Jesus and His words as they are heard, then they will be saved and not condemned and that is both a present reality and a later reality. God sees our hearts in advance of the last day.

> John 3:18 - Whoever believes in him is not condemned (G2919 krinetai: is judged V-PIM/P-3S), but whoever does not believe is condemned already (G2919 kekritai: has been judged V-RIM/P-3S), because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. (ESV)

Polycarp 6:3 For every one who shall not confess (G3670 homologeó) that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is antichrist: and whosoever shall not confess (G3670 homologeó) the testimony of the Cross, is of the devil; and whosoever shall pervert the oracles of the Lord to his own lusts and say that there is neither resurrection nor judgment, that man is the firstborn of Satan.

> Romans 14:10-14 - Why do you pass judgment on your brother? Or you, why do you despise your brother? For we will all stand before the judgment seat of God; for it is written, As I live, says the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess (G1843 exomologeó) to God. So then each of us will give an account of himself to God. Therefore let us not pass judgment on one another any longer, but rather decide never to put a stumbling block or hindrance in the way of a brother. I know and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus that nothing is unclean in itself, but it is unclean for anyone who thinks it unclean. (ESV)

I have joy in understanding that God will always be holier than me, and no amount of sanctification will get me to being as holy as Jesus Christ my Master. But there is a way a disciple can be ”like” His Master. Of course, that still comes with commendation from God, rather than self-commendation, and so I believe that while a person may look ”like” Jesus, conformed to His image, they still can’t be as holy as Jesus. Far from equal in holiness, as well, I’d say.

> I Timothy 6:13-16 - I charge you in the presence of God, who gives life to all things, and of Christ Jesus, who in his testimony before Pontius Pilate made the good confession, to keep the commandment unstained and free from reproach until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ, which he will display at the proper time—he who is the blessed and only Sovereign, the King of kings and Lord of lords, who alone has immortality, who dwells in unapproachable light, whom no one has ever seen or can see. To him be honor and eternal dominion. Amen. (ESV)

With an incorrect understanding of theology a person would say that the person born of God commits sin. I’d imagine that with a belief in a false gospel a person may contradict Scripture to ”appear humble” when it actually shows they are unrepentant. For example, they may say that people who are ”born of God” are still sinners by nature. In truth ”born of God” is basically synonymous with ”not a sinner” (like Father, like Son).

> Luke 6:27-36 - But I say to you who hear, Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, pray for those who abuse you. To one who strikes you on the cheek, offer the other also, and from one who takes away your cloak do not withhold your tunic either. Give to everyone who begs from you, and from one who takes away your goods do not demand them back. And as you wish that others would do to you, do so to them. If you love those who love you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them. And if you do good to those who do good to you, what benefit is that to you? For even sinners do the same. And if you lend to those from whom you expect to receive, what credit is that to you? Even sinners lend to sinners, to get back the same amount. But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing in return, and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, for he is kind to the ungrateful and the evil. Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful. (ESV)

So in claiming to another that they are ”born of God”, one is essentially saying that they are not a sinner anymore. Of course we know that it is by the grace of God and through faith in Jesus Christ that a person may become ”born of God”. To say that a person who is ”born of God” is a sinner by nature is not actually true. The truth is that the person who is ”born of God” still may still have ”sin”, but they certainly are not a sinner anymore.

To say that a person who is ”born of God” is a sinner would be to share Satan’s gospel (i.e. to speak what is false about God, to try to get people to disbelieve God’s word) because to say that ”a person born of God is a sinner by nature” says by implication (though perhaps not intentionally) that ”Satan is God” and also says by implication (though perhaps not intentionally) that the Gospel of Jesus Christ doesn’t save a person from committing sin.

> Luke 8:11-12 - Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God. The ones along the path are those who have heard. Then the devil comes and takes away the word from their hearts, so that they may not believe and be saved. (ESV)

The person who is born of God agrees with God (there is an agreeing with who Jesus Christ is, and an agreeing with the words of God).

> John 7:18 - The one who speaks on his own authority seeks his own glory, but the one who seeks the glory of him who sent him is true, and in him there is no falsehood. (ESV)

The person born of God agrees that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, for example. Father God declared Jesus Christ to be His Son. It’s certainly not a sin to believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.

Satan is certainly not God. Satan’s work is literally to steal the word of God from a person so that they can’t believe and be saved. If a person who is following Jesus is not self-justifying but is rather seeking commendation from God then that is pleasing to God. A person who is believing Jesus would affirm the truth that the person who is born of God does not commit sin.

If a person goes around telling people ”I have not committed any sin” (I John 1:6-10) then they’re not acknowledging that God can point out sin in any of us. God knows when we have needed His mercy and needed His grace, even if we don’t know when He did (for example, when He has given us time to repent). It would be self-justifying (i.e. trying to take from God His sovereign prerogative of commending faith) to declare oneself righteous. By declaring oneself righteous, a person would be saying, for example, that there is no room for error in their own understanding even of theology.

If a person goes around telling people ”I am sinless.” then similarly, they’re basically proclaiming themselves to be the lamb of God.

If a person says to others ”I do not commit sin by default”, then they make a claim that they have been ”born of God”, and so I think that such a statement should really be connected with some other assertion of the truth in order to be credible, for example, by saying ”I am not one to commit sin by default because I confess that Jesus Christ is the Son of God” or ”I do not commit sin in declaring that Jesus Christ is the Son of God. In connecting one’s claim to have been set free from sin with a declaration of the truth, the person is making a testimony of their faith in God. Of course, such a person may be still reproved by God in some way, shape or form because God is Holiest, and because we do not claim to be without sin.

If a person says to others ”I do not commit sin”, as in ”at all” / ”generally”, then they are declaring that in that moment they are the one who is ”born of God” but it’s not a credible testimony unless they also connect it with a declaration of the truth about Jesus Christ (Yeshua Hamashiach) (Yahweh Son of God).

A person who has been born of God may still be lugging around the ”body of death” that has ”indwelling sin” in it, and so may still have ”ungodly behaviour” that they must be cleaned from practicing in order to inherit the Kingdom. But it’s the new creation person who is born of God (as opposed to the ”indwelling sin” which cannot submit to God’s law) who doesn’t sin and who loves God and loves God’s law and desires to please God. The person who has been born of God doesn’t commit sin and so they do everything from faith, but they’re also reponsive to correction by God, so if God wants a person to put off some ungodly behaviour, then the person born of God is amenable to that correction.

The person who has been born of God continues on cleansing themself from defilement to bring holiness to completion in order to inherit the Kingdom of God. So we identify not as the indwelling sin but as the new creation. Taking also into consider what Paul is says in II Corinthians 7:1, if a person has bodily or spiritual defilement, they can still be cleansed and the new creation born-again person hope in Jesus Christ and purifies himself:

> I John 3:3-10 - And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God's seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. (ESV)

> Romans 7:15-25 - I do not understand my own actions. For I do not do what I want, but I do the very thing I hate. Now if I do what I do not want, I agree with the law, that it is good. So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. So I find it to be a law that when I want to do right, evil lies close at hand. For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. Wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me from this body of death? Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord! So then, I myself serve the law of God with my mind, but with my flesh I serve the law of sin. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 7:1 - Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God. (ESV)

Perhaps Jesus is refering to the body of sin when using the word corpse. Notice how there are 2 in one bed (is that the one born of God and the one born of woman?). And Jesus refers to 2 women. Likewise is talking about a person born of God who has indwelling sin? It's important to be the person who is born of God, the person who is trusting and obeying and hoping in Jesus Christ. The one who is against trusting and obeying Jesus Christ is the sinful flesh:

> Luke 17:32-37 - Remember Lot's wife. Whoever seeks to preserve his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life will keep it. I tell you, in that night there will be two in one bed. One will be taken and the other left. There will be two women grinding together. One will be taken and the other left. And they said to him, Where, Lord? He said to them, Where the corpse is, there the vultures will gather. (ESV)

> Romans 8:7-11 - For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God's law; indeed, it cannot. Those who are in the flesh cannot please God. You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. But if Christ is in you, although the body is dead because of sin, the Spirit is life because of righteousness. If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you. (ESV)

Though I certainly do not take the Gospel of Thomas as authoratitive, I'm also trying to see if any of it can make sense from a Biblical perspective. That's the main reason why I quote "Gospel of Thomas" here. Because many of the sayings in the Gospel of Thomas do come from Scripture, I'm trying to see if there is way to understand the sayings that are not found in Scripture through the filter of canon:

Thomas 56 Jesus said: He who has known the world has found a corpse; and he who has found a corpse, the world is not worthy of him.

We must test everything:

> I Thessalonians 5:20-23 - Do not despise prophecies, but test everything; hold fast what is good. Abstain from every form of evil. Now may the God of peace himself sanctify you completely, and may your whole spirit and soul and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. (ESV)

There is ultimately a total ending of this present heavens and earth and an entirely new creation, and we have hope for a good future in an entirely new heavens and a new hearth and we prepare ourselves for this by walking in faith, love and holiness. We're instructed to do the will of God. We trust in God's promises through the eyes of faith:

> II Peter 3:10-14 - But the day of the Lord will come like a thief, and then the heavens will pass away with a roar, and the heavenly bodies will be burned up and dissolved, and the earth and the works that are done on it will be exposed. Since all these things are thus to be dissolved, what sort of people ought you to be in lives of holiness and godliness, waiting for and hastening the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be set on fire and dissolved, and the heavenly bodies will melt as they burn! But according to his promise we are waiting for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells. Therefore, beloved, since you are waiting for these, be diligent to be found by him without spot or blemish, and at peace. (ESV)
> Genesis 8:22 - While the earth remains, seedtime and harvest, cold and heat, summer and winter, day and night, shall not cease. (ESV)
> Luke 21:33 - Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away. (ESV)
> Hebrews 11:8 - By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place that he was to receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going. (ESV)
> Hebrews 11:37-40 - They were stoned, they were sawn in two, they were killed with the sword. They went about in skins of sheep and goats, destitute, afflicted, mistreated— of whom the world was not worthy—wandering about in deserts and mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth. And all these, though commended through their faith, did not receive what was promised, since God had provided something better for us, that apart from us they should not be made perfect. (ESV)

I think that the creation itself ultimately gets "born-again" (so to speak):

> Romans 8:19-22 - For the creation waits with eager longing for the revealing of the sons of God. For the creation was subjected to futility, not willingly, but because of him who subjected it, in hope that the creation itself will be set free from its bondage to decay and obtain the freedom of the glory of the children of God. For we know that the whole creation has been groaning together in the pains of childbirth until now. (ESV)

The creation's "old self" also dies. That is the world we find ourself presently in:

> II Peter 3:10-14 - But the day of the Lord will come like a thief, and then the heavens will pass away with a roar, and the heavenly bodies will be burned up and dissolved, and the earth and the works that are done on it will be exposed. Since all these things are thus to be dissolved, what sort of people ought you to be in lives of holiness and godliness, waiting for and hastening the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be set on fire and dissolved, and the heavenly bodies will melt as they burn! But according to his promise we are waiting for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells. Therefore, beloved, since you are waiting for these, be diligent to be found by him without spot or blemish, and at peace. (ESV)

> Galatians 6:15 - For neither circumcision counts for anything, nor uncircumcision, but a new creation (G2537 kainē; new) (G2937 ktisis; creation). (ESV)

And there is an ongoing reign of God’s Kingdom in the ”dying world” (dying field) which will be left behind, but which God’s Kingdom certainly doesn’t seek to ”accelerate the process”, but rather, like salt ”preserves”:

> Revelation of John 11:15 - Then the seventh angel blew his trumpet, and there were loud voices in heaven, saying, The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of his Christ, and he shall reign forever and ever. (ESV)

> Revelation of John 11:18 - The nations raged, but your wrath came, and the time for the dead to be judged, and for rewarding your servants, the prophets and saints, and those who fear your name, both small and great, and for destroying the destroyers of the earth. (ESV)

> Matthew 5:11-13 - Blessed are you when others revile you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on my account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in heaven, for so they persecuted the prophets who were before you. You are the salt of the earth, but if salt has lost its taste, how shall its saltiness be restored? It is no longer good for anything except to be thrown out and trampled under people’s feet. (ESV)

> II Thessalonians 2:7 - For the mystery of lawlessness is already at work; only he who now restrains will do so until he is taken out of the way. (LSB)

> Matthew 13:38-43 - The field is the world, and the good seed is the children of the kingdom. The weeds are the sons of the evil one, and the enemy who sowed them is the devil. The harvest is the close of the age, and the reapers are angels. Just as the weeds are gathered and burned with fire, so will it be at the close of the age. The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of sin and all law-breakers (G458 anomian; wicked i.e. those who hate righteousness, those who prefer evil to > and throw them into the fiery furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear. (ESV)

We are instructed to not agape love the world ”possessions”, nor take pride in our ”possessions”:

> I John 2:15-17 - Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world—the desires of the flesh and the desires of the eyes and pride in possessions—is not from the Father but is from the world. And the world is passing away along with its desires, but whoever does the will of God abides forever. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 7:28-35 - But if you do marry, you have not sinned, and if a betrothed woman marries, she has not sinned. Yet those who marry will have worldly troubles, and I would spare you that. This is what I mean, brothers: the appointed time has grown very short. From now on, let those who have wives live as though they had none, and those who mourn as though they were not mourning, and those who rejoice as though they were not rejoicing, and those who buy as though they had no goods, and those who deal with the world as though they had no dealings with it. For the present form of this world is passing away. I want you to be free from anxieties. The unmarried man is anxious about the things of the Lord, how to please the Lord. But the married man is anxious about worldly things, how to please his wife, and his interests are divided. And the unmarried or betrothed woman is anxious about the things of the Lord, how to be holy in body and spirit. But the married woman is anxious about worldly things, how to please her husband. I say this for your own benefit, not to lay any restraint upon you, but to promote good order and to secure your undivided devotion to the Lord. (ESV)

The earthly body is a ”bare kernel” which is sown a natural body, dies and raised a spiritual body:

> I Corinthians 15:35-49 - But someone will ask, How are the dead raised? With what kind of body do they come? You foolish person! What you sow does not come to life unless it dies. And what you sow is not the body that is to be, but a bare kernel, perhaps of wheat or of some other grain. But God gives it a body as he has chosen, and to each kind of seed its own body. For not all flesh is the same, but there is one kind for humans, another for animals, another for birds, and another for fish. There are heavenly bodies and earthly bodies, but the glory of the heavenly is of one kind, and the glory of the earthly is of another. There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for star differs from star in glory. So is it with the resurrection of the dead. What is sown is perishable; what is raised is imperishable. It is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness; it is raised in power. It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body. Thus it is written, The first man Adam became a living being; the last Adam became a life-giving spirit. But it is not the spiritual that is first but the natural, and then the spiritual. The first man was from the earth, a man of dust; the second man is from heaven. As was the man of dust, so also are those who are of the dust, and as is the man of heaven, so also are those who are of heaven. Just as we have borne the image of the man of dust, we shall also bear the image of the man of heaven. (ESV)

If a person wants to be restored and raised along with the new creation, then they should repent and turn to God in faith:

> Acts 3:19-21 - Repent therefore, and turn again, that your sins may be blotted out, that times of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord, and that he may send the Christ appointed for you, Jesus, whom heaven must receive until the time for restoring all the things about which God spoke by the mouth of his holy prophets long ago. (ESV)

> Romans 8:19-22 - For the creation waits with eager longing for the revealing of the sons of God. For the creation was subjected to futility, not willingly, but because of him who subjected it, in hope that the creation itself will be set free from its bondage to decay and obtain the freedom of the glory of the children of God. For we know that the whole creation has been groaning together in the pains of childbirth until now. (ESV)

> Luke 19:41-44 - When He approached Jerusalem, He saw the city and wept over it, saying, “If you had known in this day, even you, the things which make for peace! But now they have been hidden from your eyes. For the days will come upon you when your enemies will throw up a barricade against you, and surround you and hem you in on every side, and they will level you to the ground and your children within you, and they will not leave in you one stone upon another, because you did not recognize the time of your visitation.” (NASB)

We don’t want to be ”divorced, loosened, broken off, burned”. We want to be set free from bondage to decay:

> II Peter 3:5-14 - For they deliberately overlook this fact, that the heavens existed long ago, and the earth was formed out of water and through water by the word of God, and that by means of these the world that then existed was deluged with water and perished. But by the same word the heavens and earth that now exist are stored up for fire, being kept until the day of judgment and destruction of the ungodly. But do not overlook this one fact, beloved, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. The Lord is not slow to fulfill his promise as some count slowness, but is patient toward you, not wishing that any should perish, but that all should reach repentance. But the day of the Lord will come like a thief, and then the heavens will pass away with a roar, and the heavenly bodies will be burned up and dissolved, and the earth and the works that are done on it will be exposed. Since all these things are thus to be dissolved (G3089 lyomenōn: To loose, to release, to dissolve, to break, to destroy; 1. to ”loosen”; 2. (by usage) to break, destroy, or dissolve; 3. (maritally) to divorce), what sort of people ought you to be in lives of holiness and godliness, waiting for and hastening the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be set on fire and dissolved, and the heavenly bodies will melt > as they burn! But according to his promise we are waiting for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells. Therefore, beloved, since you are waiting for these, be diligent to be found by him without spot or blemish, and at peace. (ESV)

> II Peter 3:15-18* - And count the patience of our Lord as salvation, just as our beloved brother Paul also wrote to you according to the wisdom given him, as he does in all his letters when he speaks in them of these matters. There are some things in them that are hard to understand, which the ignorant and unstable twist to their own destruction, as they do the other Scriptures. You therefore, beloved, knowing this beforehand, take care that you are not carried away with the error of lawless people and lose your own stability. But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To him be the glory both now and to the day of eternity. Amen. (ESV)

There is an entirely new cosmos, and we want to be a part of it:

> II Peter 3:13-14 - But according to his promise we are waiting for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells. Therefore, beloved, since you are waiting for these, be diligent to be found by him without spot or blemish, and at peace. (ESV)

To use some computer science lingo, by the end/close of the age, we want to be ”sorted” (Matthew 13:49) into (counted among) the wheat, not sorted into the tares because the tares are the ungodly people (the children of the devil, people who prefer sin to God) who are destroyed by fire. Annihilated is not the right word I think because the fire is eternal. The children of God go to a new creation (G2537 kainē; new) (G2937 ktisis; creation) where righteousness dwells. Until the day of the Lord where the heavens literally melt with heat, I do believe God does take care of and renew the earth. But there is an entirely new creation which we hope for. I truly think that there is ultimately an entirely new creation which we hope for, not a mere derivative. There is no good future without God. We want to have ”forked” off with the wheat and not with the tares and so not experience the bad future. So we must not continue to desire evil (I Corinthians 10:6-12):

> II Peter 3:5-7 - For they deliberately overlook this fact, that the heavens existed long ago, and the earth was formed out of water and through water by the word of God, and that by means of these the world that then existed was deluged with water and perished. But by the same word the heavens and earth that now exist are stored up for fire, being kept until the day of judgment and destruction of the ungodly. (ESV)
> Matthew 25:41 - Then he will say to those on his left, Depart from me, you cursed, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels
> II Thessalonians 1:5-10 - This is evidence of the righteous judgment of God, that you may be considered worthy of the kingdom of God, for which you are also suffering— since indeed God considers it just to repay with affliction those who afflict you, and to grant relief to you who are afflicted as well as to us, when the Lord Jesus is revealed from heaven with his mighty angels in flaming fire, inflicting vengeance on those who do not know God and on those who do not obey the gospel of our Lord Jesus. They will suffer the punishment of eternal destruction, away from the presence of the Lord and from the glory of his might, when he comes on that day to be glorified in his saints, and to be marveled at among all who have believed, because our testimony to you was believed. (ESV)

Sin is pleasurable for a time but leads to destruction:

> Hebrews 11:25 - choosing rather to be mistreated with the people of God than to enjoy the fleeting pleasures of sin. (ESV)
> Romans 6:23 - For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

God wants us to accept correction from Him because He loves us. So God sent Jesus to us to instruct us (Matthew 28:19-20, Hebrews 12:25) so that we can remember Him (Luke 22:19), look upon Him and live (John 6:40):

> Zephaniah 3:6-7 - I have cut off nations; their battlements are in ruins; I have laid waste their streets so that no one walks in them; their cities have been made desolate, without a man, without an inhabitant. I said, Surely you will fear me; you will accept correction. Then your dwelling would not be cut off according to all that I have appointed against you. But all the more they were eager to make all their deeds corrupt. (ESV)

> Ezekiel 18:32 - For I have no pleasure in the death of anyone, declares the Lord GOD; so turn, and live. (ESV)
> Romans 6:23 - For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. (ESV)

Our hearts are circumcised in order for us to love God with all our heart and soul that we may live. So, yes, we must love God and continue to love God after the surgical operation that God does on our hearts in order that we may live:

> Deuteronomy 30:6 - And the LORD your God will circumcise your heart and the heart of your offspring, so that you will love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, that you may live. (ESV)
> Ezekiel 11:19-20 - And I will give them one heart, and a new spirit I will put within them. I will remove the heart of stone from their flesh and give them a heart of flesh, that they may walk in my statutes and keep my rules and obey them. And they shall be my people, and I will be their God. (ESV)

> Ezekiel 18:30-32 - Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, declares the Lord GOD. Repent and turn from all your transgressions, lest iniquity be your ruin. Cast away from you all the transgressions that you have committed, and make yourselves a new heart and a new spirit! Why will you die, O house of Israel? For I have no pleasure in the death of anyone, declares the Lord GOD; so turn, and live. (ESV)
> Colossians 2:11-14 - In him also you were circumcised with a circumcision made without hands, by putting off the body of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ, having been buried with him in baptism, in which you were also raised with him through faith in the powerful working of God, who raised him from the dead. And you, who were dead in your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, God made alive together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses, by canceling the record of debt that stood against us with its legal demands. This he set aside, nailing it to the cross. (ESV)

Yes, even after receiving Jesus, even after we first come to faith in Jesus, even after we are born-again of the spirit, whatever place we are in as Christains, we are certainly supposed to continue on in the love of the truth, and fulfill the law of Christ, and love who we are commanded to love in the way we are commanded to love:

> Romans 8:3-4 - For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 16:22 - If anyone has no love for the Lord, let him be accursed. Our Lord, come! (ESV)

> Galatians 6:2-6 - Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ. For if anyone thinks he is something, when he is nothing, he deceives himself. But let each one test his own work, and then his reason to boast will be in himself alone and not in his neighbor. For each will have to bear his own load. One who is taught the word must share all good things with the one who teaches. (ESV)

> I John 3:23-24 - And this is his commandment, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as he has commanded us. Whoever keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in them. And by this we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit whom he has given us. (ESV)

> John 14:21 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. (ESV)

> I John 5:1-2 - Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father loves whoever has been born of him. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and obey his commandments. (ESV)

We should bear fruit in keeping with repentance. We repent from sin to trust in God and stop desiring evil and we go to the good future:

> Luke 3:8-9 - Bear fruits in keeping with repentance. And do not begin to say to yourselves, We have Abraham as our father. For I tell you, God is able from these stones to raise up children for Abraham. Even now the axe is laid to the root of the trees. Every tree therefore that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. (ESV)

> II Peter 1:5-10 - For this very reason, make every effort to supplement your faith with virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love. For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they keep you from being ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. For whoever lacks these qualities is so nearsighted that he is blind, having forgotten that he was cleansed from his former sins. Therefore, brothers, be all the more diligent to make your calling and election sure, for if you practice these qualities you will never fall. (ESV)

Satan (the 'god' of this age) has been judged already and tries to stop others from seeing the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ. Satan tries to mind-blind people from seeing Christ and understanding the gospel clearly and accurately and truthfully:

> John 16:8-11 - And when he comes, he will convict the world concerning sin and righteousness and judgment: concerning sin, because they do not believe in me; concerning righteousness, because I go to the Father, and you will see me no longer; concerning judgment, because the ruler of this world is judged. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 4:4 - The god of this age has blinded the minds of unbelievers so they cannot see the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God. (engbsb2020eb)

> John 14:9 - Jesus said to him, Have I been with you so long, and you still do not know me, Philip? Whoever has seen me has seen the Father. How can you say, Show us the Father? (ESV)

We need to be sanctified (cleaned up, I Thessalonians 4:3-8) and thus acceptable to God:

> Romans 15:14-16 - I myself am satisfied about you, my brothers, that you yourselves are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge and able to instruct one another. But on some points I have written to you very boldly by way of reminder, because of the grace given me by God to be a minister of Christ Jesus to the Gentiles in the priestly service of the gospel of God, so that the offering of the Gentiles may be acceptable, sanctified by the Holy Spirit. (ESV)

While a person is loving God and their family in Christ, having their souls sanctified by obedience to the truth, they may and should also be walking in the good works which have been gifted to us to walk in. Chronologically, we may be being sanctified (by obedience to the Truth) at the same time as we are walking in the good works gifted to us. While the good works being done and our faith and obedience may all overlap, the works are not strictly the obedience (I Corinthians 13:1-8), and we're not sanctified by the good works, but rather by the faith and the obedience. We're sanctified by obedience to Jesus (I Peter 1:22). The blood of Jesus cleans us as we walk in the light (I John 1:7).

God will judge those that continue practicing wickedness loving evil:

> Hebrews 13:4 - Let marriage be held in honor among all, and let the marriage bed be undefiled, for God will judge the sexually immoral and adulterous. (ESV)

> II Thessalonians 2:10-13 - and with all the deception of wickedness for those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth so as to be saved. For this reason God will send upon them a deluding influence so that they will believe what is false, in order that they all may be judged who did not believe the truth, but took pleasure in wickedness. But we should always give thanks to God for you, brethren beloved by the Lord, because God has chosen you from the beginning for salvation through sanctification by the Spirit and faith in the truth.

Also, we must love one-another:

> Romans 13:8 - Owe no one anything, except to love each other, for the one who loves another has fulfilled the law. (ESV)

> I John 4:19-21 - We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, I love God, and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from him: whoever loves God must also love his brother. (ESV)

> I John 3:10 - By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. (ESV)

Let it be true that we love Jesus Christ and believe in Him even before having seen Him:

> I Peter 1:6-9 - In this you rejoice, though now for a little while, if necessary, you have been grieved by various trials, so that the tested genuineness of your faith—more precious than gold that perishes though it is tested by fire—may be found to result in praise and glory and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ. Though you have not seen him, you love him. Though you do not now see him, you believe in him and rejoice with joy that is inexpressible and filled with glory, obtaining the outcome of your faith, the salvation of your souls. (ESV)

> Psalms 145:20 - The LORD preserves all who love him, but all the wicked he will destroy. (ESV)

> Psalms 34:19 - Many are the afflictions of the righteous, but the LORD delivers him out of them all. (ESV)

Blessed are those who have believed before having come to see and know for certain:

> John 20:29 - Jesus said to him, Have you believed because you have seen me? Blessed are those who have not seen and yet have believed. (ESV)

Blessed are those who have been taught Christ's doctrine and also practice it in that they love like Jesus Christ:

> John 13:15-17 - For I have given you an example, that you also should do just as I have done to you. Truly, truly, I say to you, a servant is not greater than his master, nor is a messenger greater than the one who sent him. If you know these things, blessed are you if you do them. (ESV)

> I Peter 1:22 - Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, (ESV)

Children of the Kingdom of God purify themselves, but children of the devil do not. The children of the devil are the weeds (they affirm (Psalms 52:1-5) rather than forsake sin). We must be cleaned by obedience to the Truth for a sincere love of our family in Christ that we may see Him. At the end of sanctification is having eternal life and not being able to lose that eternal life and the salvation of our souls. The ”one born of God” (the new creation self) keeps himself (is mindful for obedience to God) and the devil does not harm him (I John 5:18, Proverbs 16:7, Psalms 115:11):

> I John 3:1-11 - See what kind of love the Father has given to us, that we should be called children of God; and so we are. The reason why the world does not know us is that it did not know him. Beloved, we are God’s children now, and what we will be has not yet appeared; but we know that when he appears we shall be like him, because we shall see him as he is. And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. Everyone who makes a practice of sinning also practices lawlessness; sin is lawlessness. You know that he appeared to take away sins, and in him there is no sin. No one who abides in him keeps on sinning; no one who keeps on sinning has either seen him or known him. Little children, let no one deceive you. Whoever practices righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. Whoever makes a practice of sinning is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil. No one born of God makes a practice of sinning, for God’s seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on sinning because he has been born of God. By this it is evident who are the children of God, and who are the children of the devil: whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is the one who does not love his brother. For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (ESV)

> Hebrews 12:14 - Strive for peace with everyone, and for the holiness without which no one will see the Lord. (ESV)

The beholding is a continued beholding while we are believing. We must not be those who lose sight of Jesus. We must be those who continue to behold Him (John 14:19-21):

> John 6:40 - For this is the will of my Father, that everyone who looks on (G2334 theōrōn; is beholding; V-PPA-NMS) the Son and believes in him should have eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 3:18 - And we all, with unveiled face, beholding the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same image from one degree of glory to another. For this comes from the Lord who is the Spirit. (ESV)

> Psalms 52:1-5 - Why do you boast of evil, O mighty man? The steadfast love of God endures all the day. To the choirmaster. A Maskil of David, when Doeg, the Edomite, came and told Saul, David has come to the house of Ahimelech. Your tongue plots destruction, like a sharp razor, you worker of deceit. You love evil more than good, and lying more than speaking what is right. Selah You love all words that devour, O deceitful tongue. But God will break you down forever; he will snatch and tear you from your tent; he will uproot you from the land of the living. Selah (ESV)

When a person rebukes someone that does not mean they do not love them (Leviticus 19:17-18). In fact, Jesus rebukes/reproves those He loves (Revelation of John 3:19, I Corinthians 11:32). But Christians should have hearts that desire God’s will for us (Romans 7:18).

We should not associate with those who are unrepentant from sin:

> I Corinthians 5:11 - But now I am writing to you not to associate with anyone who bears the name of brother if he is guilty of sexual immorality or greed, or is an idolater, reviler, drunkard, or swindler—not even to eat with such a one. (ESV)

God's will for us is for our good:

> Ezekiel 18:32 - For I have no pleasure in the death of anyone, declares the Lord GOD; so turn, and live. (ESV)

It's also important for others' sake that we speak the truth and not affirm error:

> Proverbs 12:17-18 - Whoever speaks the truth gives honest evidence, but a false witness utters deceit. There is one whose rash words are like sword thrusts, but the tongue of the wise brings healing. (ESV)

> James 5:19-20 - My brothers, if anyone among you wanders from the truth and someone brings him back, let him know that whoever brings back a sinner from his wandering will save his soul from death and will cover a multitude of sins. (ESV)

> Matthew 6:22-23 - The eye is the lamp of the body. So, if your eye is healthy, your whole body will be full of light, but if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light in you is darkness, how great is the darkness! (ESV)

> Ephesians 4:25 - Therefore, having put away falsehood, let each one of you speak the truth with his neighbor, for we are members one of another. (ESV)

> Psalms 37:30-31 - The mouth of the righteous utters wisdom, and his tongue speaks justice. The law of his God is in his heart; his steps do not slip. (ESV)

We should not even bear listening to lies. And we should be people who speak the truth in the darkness. It's loving to speak truth to one-another. It's unloving to give ear to liars:

> II Corinthians 10:5-6 - We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, being ready to punish every disobedience, when your obedience is complete. (ESV)

> Ezekiel 13:19 - You have profaned me among my people for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, putting to death souls who should not die and keeping alive souls who should not live, by your lying to my people, who listen to lies. (ESV)

> Proverbs 17:4 - An evildoer listens to wicked lips, and a liar gives ear to a mischievous tongue. (ESV)

The righteous want to be reproved by the truth and will love you for it. So don't be afraid to speak truth to one another:

> Proverbs 9:8 - Do not reprove a scoffer, or he will hate you; reprove a wise man, and he will love you. (ESV)

We are indeed saved by obedience to Christ. Just as we are saved by authentic faith in Christ (John 8:31-47). Just as we are saved by authenthic love for Christ which entails having faith in Him:

> Acts 5:32 - And we are witnesses to these things, and so is the Holy Spirit, whom God has given to those who obey him. (ESV)

> Luke 7:50 - And he said to the woman, Your faith has saved you; go in peace. (ESV)

> Luke 7:47 - Therefore I tell you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven—for she loved much. But he who is forgiven little, loves little. (ESV)

This is just a Bible study. I have just wanted to read the Bible for myself to understand and apply the Scriptures, come into agreement with God's Truth and share my understanding it with others for accountability purposes, and also affirm truth as I am renewed in mind by it. I don't presume to be always right. Also, just because I have quoted some pastors and authors does not mean that I affirm everything they have ever said, but I have selected quotes which I have found to be relevant and helpful.

> Romans 12:9 - Let love be genuine. Abhor what is evil; hold fast to what is good. (ESV)

I want to let the Bible smash bad theology.

I've also added parts of my own testimony. It's my hope that this Bible study helps other people to come to the obedience of faith in God through Jesus Christ.

> Acts 20:25-32 - And now, behold, I know that none of you among whom I have gone about proclaiming the kingdom will see my face again. Therefore I testify to you this day that I am innocent of the blood of all of you, for I did not shrink from declaring to you the whole counsel of God. Pay careful attention to yourselves and to all the flock, in which the Holy Spirit has made you overseers, to care for the church of God, which he obtained with his own blood. I know that after my departure fierce wolves will come in among you, not sparing the flock ; and from among your own selves will arise men speaking twisted things, to draw away the disciples after them. Therefore be alert, remembering that for three years I did not cease night or day to admonish everyone with tears. And now I commend you to God and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up and to give you the inheritance among all those who are sanctified. (ESV)

> Psalms 119:105 - Your word is a lamp to my feet and a light to my path. (ESV)

> Job 42:7 - After the LORD had spoken these words to Job, the LORD said to Eliphaz the Temanite: My anger burns against you and against your two friends, for you have not spoken of me what is right, as my servant Job has. (ESV)

We are accountable to our Lord Jesus Christ for our actions and beliefs youtube.com: Isn't Veganism Closer to God's Original Design?

> Romans 14:4 - Who are you to pass judgment on the servant of another? It is before his own master that he stands or falls. And he will be upheld, for the Lord is able to make him stand. (ESV)

youtube.com: Preaching The Gospel To The Homeless {@thebrycecrawford} @time: 7 min 44 sec And when I look at the history and story of Jesus, Jesus laying His life down on the cross, his love, dying for someone like Gage right now. If I saved your life and shoved you out of the way of a car and I took the hit of a car and I died, would that show you that I loved you? It would. Even though we'd just met? Right. And so Jesus Christ died on the cross, a death that we deserve, because sin is wrong... Like sin, wrongdoing, separates us from God and Jesus Christ dying and resurrecting, He defeats death because He's God and He says, I died the death that you deserve so you can live for Me. So the redemption of the cross was to bring us back into relationship with Him.

youtube.com: Preaching The Gospel To The Homeless {@thebrycecrawford} @time: 9 min 18 sec Did you feel anything when we were praying for you? Yes. Describe it, what did you feel? Washed. Washed? That's biblical, bro. Because sin is washed with the blood of Jesus. The blood of Jesus washes our slate clean. So, actually, anything that we've ever done wrong, if we believe in Jesus' death and resurrection and confess that He is Lord, He wipes our slate clean and says, I see you as pure, holy, righteous and clean. That's sweet. How cool is that? Different. Different, right? Like what if I told you that God isn't just energy. What if I told you that He is a being and listen to this, because we're human and we're finite and our minds are limited in understanding, God took on the form of a human to show us how to live life. He doesn't just tell us how to do it, He showed us and He lived a perfect life and when He died on the cross He was a perfect human being, 100% man and 100% God, God in the flesh, dying for us to show us how to live > and how to love Him, and showing us how to love us. And then He resurrected. Because if He just died and didn't come back to life then believing in Him would be worthless. But because Jesus resurrected from the dead and over 500 people saw Jesus alive after he had died, and walking around the earth, it shows us that He's God and that He loves us and He wants relationship with us.

AMEN!!
Receiving Jesus:

> Matthew 10:40 - Whoever receives you receives me, and whoever receives me receives him who sent me. (ESV)

> Matthew 18:5 - Whoever receives one such child in my name receives me, (ESV)

> Luke 9:48 - and said to them, Whoever receives this child in my name receives me, and whoever receives me receives him who sent me. For he who is least among you all is the one who is great. (ESV)

> John 1:12-13 - But to all who did receive him, who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God, who were born, not of blood nor of the will of the flesh nor of the will of man, but of God. (ESV)

Jesus isn't saying here that the one knocking is not a friend of the one who gets up, but Jesus is saying the friend is impudent/persistent in asking his friend. And so, we should certainly be friends with God, doing what Jesus commands us. And we should persist and ask God for Holy Spirit. So what I'd say is that we should be keeping Jesus' commandments and when we ask God for something, we knock on His door for it, at any time:

> Luke 11:2-13 - And he said to them, When you pray, say: Father, hallowed be your name. Your kingdom come. Give us each day our daily bread, and forgive us our sins, for we ourselves forgive everyone who is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation. And he said to them, Which of you who has a friend will go to him at midnight and say to him, Friend, lend me three loaves, for a friend of mine has arrived on a journey, and I have nothing to set before him; and he will answer from within, Do not bother me; the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed. I cannot get up and give you anything? I tell you, though he will not get up and give him anything because he is his friend, yet because of his impudence he will rise and give him whatever he needs. And I tell you, ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you. For everyone who asks receives, and the one who seeks finds, and to the one who knocks it will be opened. What father among you, if his son asks for a fish, will instead of a fish give him a serpent; or if he asks for an egg, will give him a scorpion? If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will the heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him! (ESV)

When we seek and knock and call upon Yahweh, we need to have the fear of God in us. And a genuine agape love for God, that is recognising that we need God, recognising God's worth, and hating evil, has the fear of God. Genuine faith and love for God hate evil. So we need God and call upon Him:

> Proverbs 1:28-31 - Then they will call upon me, but I will not answer; they will seek me diligently but will not find me. Because they hated knowledge and did not choose the fear of the LORD, would have none of my counsel and despised all my reproof, therefore they shall eat the fruit of their way, and have their fill of their own devices. (ESV)

Friends of Jesus do as He commands:

> John 15:9-14 - As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Abide in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will abide in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and abide in his love. These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. (ESV)

> John 15:13-17 - Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. No longer do I call you servants, for the servant does not know what his master is doing; but I have called you friends, for all that I have heard from my Father I have made known to you. You did not choose me, but I chose you and appointed you that you should go and bear fruit and that your fruit should abide, so that whatever you ask the Father in my name, he may give it to you. These things I command you, so that you will love one another. (ESV)

When we are called by God, what matters is keeping the commandments of God. I disagree with the added word ”conversely” which the BSB translation inserts into I Corinthians 7:22 where it does not exist in the Greek. In fact, the Greek says ”likewise” (G3668 homoiós, likewise, in a similar manner). Whether slaves to men or not, under the Mosaic Law or not, as a new creation (G2537 kainē; new) (G2937 ktisis; creation) in Christ we go on keeping God’s commandments for us, and that counts for something for all of us (Galatians 3:28), not just some of us. We have to continue on abiding in Jesus’ commandments. Everyone who is ”in Christ” is both a freedman of the Lord Jesus Christ and a slave of the Lord Jesus Christ. Jesus sets us free from slavery to sin to serve Him instead. Before we were ”free in regard to righteousness” but no longer:

> I Corinthians 7:17-24 - Only let each person lead the life that the Lord has assigned to him, and to which God has called him. This is my rule in all the churches. Was anyone at the time of his call already circumcised? Let him not seek to remove the marks of circumcision. Was anyone at the time of his call uncircumcised? Let him not seek circumcision. For neither circumcision counts for anything nor uncircumcision, but keeping the commandments of God. Each one should remain in the condition in which he was called. Were you a slave when called? Do not be concerned about it. But if you can gain your freedom, avail yourself of the opportunity. For he who was called in the Lord as a slave is a freedman of the Lord. Likewise (G3668 homoiós, likewise, in a similar manner) he who was free when called is a slave of Christ. You were bought with a price; do not become slaves of men. So, brothers, in whatever condition each was called, there let him remain with God. (ESV)

> John 8:34-36 - Jesus answered them, Truly, truly, I say to you, everyone who commits sin is a slave to sin. The slave does not remain in the house forever; the son remains forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. (ESV)

We want to be overcome by Christ so that we just do the will of God and can’t help but do the will of God. To get there we are instructed to keep Jesus’ commandments and resist sin:

> II Peter 2:19 - They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves of corruption. For whatever overcomes a person, to that he is enslaved. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 5:14-15 - For the love of Christ controls us, because we have concluded this: that one has died for all, therefore all have died; and he died for all, that those who live might no longer live for themselves but for him who for their sake died and was raised. (ESV)

> Romans 6:17-20 - But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. When you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. (ESV)

> Romans 6:17-20 - But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. I am speaking in human terms, because of your natural limitations. For just as you once presented your members as slaves to impurity and to lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves to righteousness leading to sanctification. When you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. (ESV)

> Galatians 3:28 - There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free, there is neither male nor female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus. (ESV)

We must accept that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, to not be condemned:

> John 8:23-24 - He said to them, You are from below; I am from above. You are of this world; I am not of this world. I told you that you would die in your sins, for unless you believe that I am he you will die in your sins. (ESV)

> I John 2:22-23 - Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, he who denies the Father and the Son. No one who denies the Son has the Father. Whoever confesses the Son has the Father also. (ESV)

A quote from "Mere Christianity" by C.S. Lewis. (youtube.com: {@ TruthUnites } @time: 11 min 47 se
All sorts of people are fond of repeating the Christian statement that 'God is love.' But they seem not to notice that the words 'God is love' have no real meaning unless God contains at least two Persons. Love is something that one person has for another person. If God was a single person, then before the world was made, He was not love.

youtube.com: Poll from Outside The Camp I currently believe that YHWH works similarly to a surname. For the members of the Trinity, they're all YHWH.

We must accept that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, to not be condemned. If a person doesn't believe this, then they must repent (change their mind) and believe it:

> John 8:23-24 - He said to them, You are from below; I am from above. You are of this world; I am not of this world. I told you that you would die in your sins, for unless you believe that I am he you will die in your sins. (ESV)

> I John 2:22-23 - Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, he who denies the Father and the Son. No one who denies the Son has the Father. Whoever confesses the Son has the Father also. (ESV)

> Luke 13:3 - No, I tell you; but unless you repent (3340. metanoeó), you will all likewise perish. (ESV)

Jesus at the very least bears God's name (similarly to Exodus 23:20-22). Because Jesus bears Father God's name, we must put our faith in Jesus Christ:

> Exodus 23:20-22 - Behold, I send an angel before you to guard you on the way and to bring you to the place that I have prepared. Pay careful attention to him and obey his voice; do not rebel against him, for he will not pardon your transgression, for my name is in him. But if you carefully obey his voice and do all that I say, then I will be an enemy to your enemies and an adversary to your adversaries.

> John 5:42-47 - But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. I have come in my Father's name, and you do not receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him. How can you believe, when you receive glory from one another and do not seek the glory that comes from the only God? Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father. There is one who accuses you: Moses, on whom you have set your hope. If you believed Moses, you would believe me; for he wrote of me. But if you do not believe his writings, how will you believe my words? (ESV)

That's my current position.

Father, Son and Holy Spirit were all involved in the creation of all created things:

> Nehemiah 9:6 - You are the LORD, you alone. You have made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth and all that is on it, the seas and all that is in them; and you preserve all of them; and the host of heaven worships you. (ESV)

I currently believe, we must accept, we must trust that Jesus is Jehovah, I AM, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob to not die in our sins.

Similary to the way person's surname is used for the other members of a person's family, the name Jehovah (or Yahweh) is shared by the persons of the Godhead. Father, Son and Holy Spirit are all Jehovah.

> Psalms 22:28 - For to Jehovah is the kingdom, And He is ruling among nations. (YLT)

> Ephesians 5:5-8 - For you may be sure of this, that everyone who is sexually immoral or impure, or who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has no inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of these things the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. Therefore do not associate (G1096 ginesthe; be) (G4830 symmetochoi; partakers) wiith them; for at one time you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light (ESV)

> Ephesians 5:7 - Be not ye therefore partakers with them. (KJV)

> Acts 2:36 - Let all the house of Israel therefore know for certain that God has made him both Lord and Christ, this Jesus whom you crucified. (ESV)

> Daniel 7:13-14 - I saw in the night visions, and behold, with the clouds of heaven there came one like a son of man, and he came to the Ancient of Days and was presented before him. And to him was given dominion and glory and a kingdom, that all peoples, nations, and languages should serve him; his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom one that shall not be destroyed. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 15:22-28 - For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive. But each in his own order: Christ the firstfruits, then at his coming those who belong to Christ. Then comes the end, when he delivers the kingdom to God the Father after destroying every rule and every authority and power. For he must reign until he has put all his enemies under his feet. The last enemy to be destroyed is death. For God has put all things in subjection under his feet. But when it says, all things are put in subjection, it is plain that he is excepted who put all things in subjection under him. When all things are subjected to him, then the Son himself will also be subjected to him who put all things in subjection under him, that God may be all in all. (ESV)

> Luke 22:29 - and I assign to you, as my Father assigned to me, a kingdom, (ESV)

We must accept the truth. We must not reject the truth.

Jehovah is God Almighty:

> Exodus 6:3 - I appeared to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, as God Almighty, but by my name the LORD I did not make myself known to them. (ESV)

biblehub.com: Exodus 6:3 Interlinear and I appear unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, as God Almighty; as to My name Jehovah, I have not been known to them;

> Exodus 3:14-15 - God said to Moses, I AM WHO I AM. And he said, Say this to the people of Israel, I AM has sent me to you. God also said to Moses, Say this to the people of Israel, The LORD, the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, has sent me to you. This is my name forever, and thus I am to be remembered throughout all generations. (ESV)

Jesus Christ is I AM. That means that Jesus Christ the Son of God is Jehovah, just as Father God is Jehovah. Saying that Jesus Christ is I AM is still not saying that the Son of God is Father God. But they are both the one God.

> John 4:25-26 - The woman said to him, I know that Messiah is coming (he who is called Christ). When he comes, he will tell us all things. Jesus said to her, I who speak to you am he. (ESV)

For salvation we should be unifying in heart and soul with other believers, with other people who are holding their faith in Christ Jesus. In Christ Jesus, we're all aboard the ark of Jesus Christ:

> Acts 4:32 - Now the full number of those who believed were of one heart and soul, and no one said that any of the things that belonged to him was his own, but they had everything in common. (ESV)

> I John 1:7 - But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 1:9 - God is faithful, by whom you were called into the fellowship of his Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. (ESV)

Journal <2026-08-30 Sun 14:57> Unity with the world is not what we should seek for, nor should pray for it. The world is the "faithless", those who walk in darkness. We should not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. So then we should not be praying for "unity" with the "unbelieving world", but rather should be praying that people turn from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in Jesus Christ:

> Acts 26:16-18 - But rise and stand upon your feet, for I have appeared to you for this purpose, to appoint you as a servant and witness to the things in which you have seen me and to those in which I will appear to you, delivering you from your people and from the Gentiles—to whom I am sending you to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me. (ESV)
> II Corinthians 6:14 - Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what partnership has righteousness with lawlessness? Or what fellowship has light with darkness? (ESV)
> II Thessalonians 3:1-2 - Finally, brothers, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may speed ahead and be honored, as happened among you, and that we may be delivered from wicked and evil men. For not all have faith. (ESV)
> Matthew 15:10-14 - And he called the people to him and said to them, Hear and understand: it is not what goes into the mouth that defiles a person, but what comes out of the mouth; this defiles a person. Then the disciples came and said to him, Do you know that the Pharisees were offended when they heard this saying? He answered, Every plant that my heavenly Father has not planted will be rooted up. Let them alone; they are blind guides. And if the blind lead the blind, both will fall into a pit. (ESV)
> James 4:4 - You adulterous people! Do you not know that friendship with the world is enmity with God? Therefore whoever wishes to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God. (ESV)

Rather, it would make more fitting to pray that the word of the Lord may speed ahead and be honored, the word of Yahweh (Jehovah) God (Father, Son and Holy Spirit), the word of God given through our Lord Jesus Christ who is God's Son, to bring people out of the world, out of darkness, and into Christ, into the light.

> II Thessalonians 3:1-2 - Finally, brothers, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may speed ahead and be honored, as happened among you, and that we may be delivered from wicked and evil men. For not all have faith. (ESV)

We are called to do good to all people, and to be kind and merciful even to those who are evil. But that doesn't mean we should yoke ourselves to them. We should just endeavour to be led by the Spirit, trusting God and His word from a love for the truth, and obeying God out of faith and obedience with a love for God and His Word, obedient and ready for every good work. If we have faith in Jesus Christ, we will do His deeds as He has said. If we love Jesus Christ, we will keep His commandments a He has said.

So I just want to be really clear about this, we should not be praying for praying for unity with the world, but rather we should be praying for the word of the Lord to speed ahead and be honored, and for God to send out laborers into His harvest because we want people to be led by the Spirit. We ourselves don't want to be led by the world, so we should not pray for unity with it. We want people to come into Christ, abiding in His commandments. Christ Himself isn't divided, but those who are not in Christ are not in Christ.

> Matthew 9:37-38 - Then he said to his disciples, The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few; therefore pray earnestly to the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers into his harvest. (ESV)

Those who are in Christ have crucified the flesh along with its passions. Those who are in Christ abide in Jesus Christ's commandments. Those who are in Christ abide in love. Those who are in Christ do not keep on sinning, and so those who are in Christ walk by faith.

> John 14:21-24 - Whoever has my commandments and keeps them, he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and manifest myself to him. Judas (not Iscariot) said to him, Lord, how is it that you will manifest yourself to us, and not to the world? Jesus answered him, If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. Whoever does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me. (ESV)

> I John 3:13-16 - Do not be surprised, brothers, that the world hates you. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. (ESV)

So we should still do good to all, especially the household of faith. After all, Jesus Christ instructed us to be kind and merciful to even evil people. It is mandatory to love our family in Christ, but we don't always know who is in Christ. So we should just do good to all, and love God and our neighbour as instructed, and leave the commending to God.

Do we need to forgive and tolerate everything that people do? No, we don't. I was born-again on 2 April 2022 and for anything which anyone has done against me personally up to that time when I was born-again, I couldn't hold anyone accountable for any perceived wrong done towards me.

That's because of what Jesus Christ has taught in His parable of the unforgiving servant. My debt was cancelled when I was born-again.

As for what happens going forward, I believe that it's right to be compassionate and merciful towards all men, as Polycarp has instructed, but abiding in the teaching of Christ.

I don't think there is any obligation for me to forgive all people for everything they do all the time. For example, I do not "forgive" those who have not repented from practicing child trafficking, but still practice it. I do not need to forgive those who have not repented but go on practicing sexual immorality.

A person who sins doesn't remain in God's house forever.

People who go ahead and do not abide in Christ's teaching are not welcome in my house, and I will endeavour to avoid them:

> II John 1:9-11 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, for whoever greets him takes part in his wicked works. (ESV)

People who are commit idolatry, theft, murder, adultery and falsely witness, or who are not repentant from any abominations which God finds unacceptable are not welcome in my house, and I will endeavour to avoid them:

> Jeremiah 7:8-11 - Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit. Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not; And come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations? Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have seen it, saith the LORD. (KJV)

And forgiveness for sin is only in Christ as well, so in order to have true and lasting forgiveness from God, a person needs to repent and come to faith in Jesus Christ and go on abiding in Him.

But if a brother of mine sins, then I'm instructed to rebuke them! But if they repent, then they can be forgiven.

If a person sins against me personally, then it's possible for me to forgive them for perceived sins done against me personally. But that doesn't mean I'm capable of absolving every sin anyone ever does or has done. And I certainly don't need to tolerate or welcome unbelievers into my life. I certainly do not seek unity with the world, but rather for people to come to know Jesus Christ for themselves.

> Luke 17:3-4 - Pay attention to yourselves! If your brother sins, rebuke him, and if he repents, forgive him, and if he sins against you seven times in the day, and turns to you seven times, saying, I repent, you must forgive him. (ESV)

Polycarp 6:1 And the presbyters also must be compassionate, merciful towards all men, turning back the sheep that are gone astray, visiting all the infirm, not neglecting a widow or an orphan or a poor man: but providing always for that which is honorable in the sight of God and of men, abstaining from all anger, respect of persons, unrighteous judgment, being far from all love of money, not quick to believe anything against any man, not hasty in judgment, knowing that we all are debtors of sin.

youtube.com: Unity in Christ : The Truth That Can Heal a Divided Church // Bishop Robert Barron {
Amen to what Bishop Barron has said here. I commented, ”When the Scripture says that if we walk in the light as He is in the light, we have fellowship with one another and the blood of Jesus cleanses us from all sin, that implies that if we are walking in faith in Jesus Christ, in the love of the Truth, we should gather with Jesus and that doesn't mean gathering in a religious congregation that is divided against other members of Christ, because Christ isn't divided. Walking the in the love of the truth should actually result in us having communion with the saints. So we should have meetings with one another that are orchestrated by God as a result of walking in the light. So therefore, I would say that ”going to church”, though it may have a positive influence, doesn't always result in ”having the love of the truth in us”. Otherwise Judas would have been saved just by ”physical proximity” to the disciples and to Jesus. Rather, it is a Scriptural promise that if we are walking in the light then we will have fellowship, no matter what. Then it's safe to say that even if a person was imprisoned for Jesus, cut of from Sunday fellowship, if they were walking in the light, in the love of the truth they would still have fellowship (they'd still have communion with Jesus Christ and with the saints I Corinthians 1:9, Colossians 1:12). How, well spiritually they would still have fellowship.

I believe there is unity between all of Jesus' sheep wherever they are but I don't think it's under the banner of ”Roman Catholicism” or ”Protestantism” or ”Eastern Orthodoxy”. I think it's under the banner of Jesus Christ. ”

I did not know any Christian. Then after 7 years, I met a young Somali Christian. I told him about me, about my faith. And he trusted me. He welcomed me. I knew that spiritual isolation and lack of fellowship ended and together we were able to start our own fellowship of two people and the Lord added to our number daily.

Even though I left Somalia, um my story did not stop there. I continued serving the Lord. Um I involved in Somali Bible translation, literature development, literacy training. When Somali Christians follow Jesus, one of the first things they need is disciplehip.

youtube.com: Vigil - Who is my Mother and My Brethren ? {@ orthodoxnet } I commented, Something I would add to this sermon is the simultaneous immediate and teleogolical status of the true believer as a son of God. We are disciplined by God into greater holiness as we hold our faith in the Lord Jesus Christ and remain in Him, abiding in His teaching including His commandments. If we hate our brother then we are not abiding in Him.

Scripture teaches in John 8:31-47 that there were some Jews who had believed in Jesus but who Jesus subsequently called children of the devil. Those Jews had believed in Jesus but then went on to want to kill Jesus and to not receive His words. They had stopped having faith in Jesus. So we must continue in faith in Jesus and as we continue, continue to abide in His teachings including His commandments.

I do agree with my Orthodox brothers and sisters that sanctification is a necessary part of salvation (II Thessalonians 2:10-13). Sanctification happens as we are continuing on in faith in Jesus Christ from a love for the truth obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching of Jesus Christ and His Apostles (Romans 6:16-18). God will finish the good work He has started in us. To abide in Jesus Christ is to have life and salvation, but we must go on abiding in Him. God puts us into Him (I Corinthians 1:30) but Christ instructs us to remain in Him. From love for the truth (Psalm 81:15) we need to be obeying the commandment to have faith in Jesus Christ and continue in faith in Him, abiding in Christ's law (all his commandments are grace) to continue abiding in Him. Abiding in Jesus through faith in Him is possible "here and now" (Romans 10:4-11) as our faith must be a present faith which we must also continue in to remain in Him. What does not proceed from faith is sin, after all, which is lawlessness and the slave to sin does not remain in God's house forever. Salvation is teleological; We are cleaned up, sanctified to look like the Lord Jesus Christ as we abide in Him. Those who do not bear fruit in Christ (and in Christ, fruit is always good because Jesus is a good tree) are cast out and wither, but if they return to faith then God may graft them back in (Romans 11). Father God is the vinedresser and takes care of the grafting and pruning. We should just do our duty which is to fear God and keep His commandments for us to have faith in Jesus Christ and to love one another the way we are commanded to.

Now Jesus said that those who have faith in Him will do His deeds, and Jesus did not sin, and Jesus referred to God as His father rather than any man on earth. In fact He has commanded His disciples to call no man on earth 'father' for they have one father who is in heaven. If anyone is brother to Jesus Christ, then their Father is Father God, and their mother, brothers and sisters are those who do the will of God who hear the word of God and do it. Walking by the spirit, this is what a person would be doing. We are sanctified into doing this better and better, and also into controlling our own body in holiness, and loving one another as commanded.

God have mercy. We all fall short of His glory. Let us continue in faith in Jesus, abstaining from evil as we seek to overcome evil with good and put to death the deeds of the sinful flesh.

> I Thessalonians 4:3-8 - For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you abstain from sexual immorality; that each one of you know how to control his own body in holiness and honor, not in the passion of lust like the Gentiles who do not know God; that no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter, because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as we told you beforehand and solemnly warned you. For God has not called us for impurity, but in holiness. Therefore whoever disregards this, disregards not man but God, who gives his Holy Spirit to you. (ESV)

> Romans 7:16-23 - Now if I do what I do not want, I agree with the law, that it is good. So now it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells > in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but not the ability to carry it out. For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I keep on doing. Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells within me. So I find it to be a law that when I want to do right, evil lies close at hand. For I delight in the law of God, in my inner being, but I see in my members another law waging war against the law of my mind and making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. (ESV)

> Romans 6:16-18,7:25,8:1-4 - Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin have become obedient from the heart to the standard of teaching to which you were committed, and, having been set free from sin, have become slaves of righteousness. Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord! So then, I myself serve the law of God with my mind, but with my flesh I serve the law of sin. There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do. By sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. (ESV)

We should never be frightened of perishing if we are unable to attend church on a Sunday. Congregation attendance does not equal church fellowship, and church fellowship flows from walking in the light, in the love of the truth. ”Making sure you get to church” in order to ”ensure you're getting fellowship” for fear of losing salvation is actually trusting in one's own works. That isn't faith. What Christians need to be doing is trusting in Jesus Christ and His teachings and commandments directly (becuase Jesus is trustworthy) and act out of confidence in the Word of God. ”Attendance” is not a commandment of Christ that our abiding in Christ depends on! Fellowship with the brethren flows as a result of keeping Jesus Christ's commandments:

> I John 1:7 - But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin. (ESV)
> John 12:26 - If anyone serves me, he must follow me; and where I am, there will my servant be also. If anyone serves me, the Father will honor him. (ESV)

Meeting together is not a commandment of Christ, but this verse here, it seems, has been misinterpreted by some to be a commandment!

> Hebrews 10:24-25 - And let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near. (ESV)

There is nothing at all wrong with being devoted to meet together! In fact, it's encouraged! But it's not part of Christ's law:

> Acts 1:14 - All these with one accord were devoting themselves to prayer, together with the women and Mary the mother of Jesus, and his brothers. (ESV)
> Acts 2:42 - And they devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching and fellowship, to the breaking of bread and the prayers. (ESV)

youtube.com: What Jesus Commands vs What He Counsels {@ PatristicNectarFilms } What is the difference between a commandment of Jesus our savior and a council or a recommendation? In fact, his teaching can be uh divided into two portions. He gives commandments that are to be adhered to by all. All who follow him are expected by him to follow the commandments. And there are councils that he gives > to particular people in particular circumstances that do not apply to all of his followers. So it's extremely important to make a distinction between the commandments of the Lord and the councils of the Lord and to know how to apply them properly to your life. Making a mistake in this area is a path towards heresy. Be very, very careful. You can't turn a commandment into a council without becoming antinomian. You can't take a council and turn it into a commandment without becoming a, what shall I say, an inventor of new commandments, and someone who attacks freedom

Worship should be done at all times and places:

> John 4:20-24 - Our fathers worshiped on this mountain, but you say that in Jerusalem is the place where people ought to worship. Jesus said to her, Woman, believe me, the hour is coming when neither on this mountain nor in Jerusalem will you worship the Father. You worship what you do not know; we worship what we know, for salvation is from the Jews. But the hour is coming, and is now here, when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and truth, for the Father is seeking such people to worship him. God is spirit, and those who worship him must worship in spirit and truth. (ESV)

> Romans 12:1 - I appeal to you therefore, brothers, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship. (ESV)

> II Corinthians 5:6-8 - So we are always of good courage. We know that while we are at home in the body we are away from the Lord, for we walk by faith, not by sight. Yes, we are of good courage, and we would rather be away from the body and at home with the Lord. (ESV)

If we're putting Jesus' teachings and commandments into practice then we might meet someone out there in the world who professes Jesus Christ, and we might ask them to share some time together to discuss the Scripture or talk about Jesus and perhaps even to take communion with them. That's what church looks like, too! How church fellowship is defined is not a committment to the same regular church Sunday service gathering. That's definitely not what church is defined as.

youtube.com: R . C . Sproul : Your Church Is Making America IMMUNE to Real Christianity {@ daily

> When persecution arose in Jerusalem, we read that all of the Christians were scattered except the apostles and those who were scattered abroad went everywhere preaching the gospel. That was the way the Christian church was born. not simply with the ministry of the clergy or the apostles or even of the deacons, but it was the rank and file Christian that took the gospel wherever they went in the ancient world. And but in our church today, we make a distinction, don't we, between a professional missionary and a layman who is not a missionary. But in biblical categories, every Christian in a sense is a missionary because every Christian is called to participate in the mission that Christ has given to the church.

Jesus actually said that He came to bring a sword and that people would be divided against each other, even in households, and that to be worthy of Him we must love Him more than our father, mother, son or daughter. So it really matters to be following Jesus directly, to be trusting and obeying Jesus directly without any other dependencies! We should be freely confessing Jesus Christ inside and outside of a church building and the fellowship is out there, not just at the church building. God doesn't want us to be "dependant on church buildings". God wants us to trust in Him no matter what our circumstances are (II Corinthians 1:8-9):

> Matthew 10:32-38 - So everyone who acknowledges me before men, I also will acknowledge before my Father who is in heaven, but whoever denies me before men, I also will deny before my Father who is in heaven. Do not think that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I have not come to bring peace, but a sword. For I have come to set a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. And a person's enemies will be those of his own household. Whoever loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me, and whoever loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. And whoever does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me. (ESV)

We shouldn't think that people who are mature in Christ who are not ”committed to attend a regular church gathering” are necessarily doing anything wrong by not committing to attend a regular church gathering. To think so only cultivates a cult-like mentality that is distrusting of Jesus. Like Paul's experiences (II Corinthians 1:8-10), God works in those who obey Jesus out of faith, and trials and tribulations outside of the walls of a church building can help us to trust God more. Experiencing trial and tribulation in following Jesus does not mean a person is doing anything wrong. We are actually called to separate from idolators.

But that's just not the way we should think about it. Was Paul cut off from Christ when he was jailed? No! God remained with him. What about when Jesus' disciples left Him? No, Father God was with Him. Church fellowship is where you meet a fellow believers in Jesus Christ as you are walking in the light, in the love of the truth, abiding in Jesus' commandments. Because God works in those who are by faith obeying Jesus Christ (John 6:27-29). First and formost, we should like Abraham, obey Jesus Christ out of faith, trusting Him and believing His word, placing confidence in God. And the fellowship will follow from walking in the light:

> Matthew 18:20 - For where two or three are gathered in my name, there am I among them. (ESV)

> I John 1:1-3 - That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we looked upon and have touched with our hands, concerning the word of life— the life was made manifest, and we have seen it, and testify to it and proclaim to you the eternal life, which was with the Father and was made manifest to us— that which we have seen and heard we proclaim also to you, so that you too may have fellowship with us; and indeed our fellowship is with the Father and with his Son Jesus Christ. (ESV)

Jesus Himself is the Chief Overseer and Shepherd of our souls:

> I Peter 2:25 - For you were straying like sheep, but have now returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls. (ESV)

I John 2:17-29 should never be used to scare people away from having Jesus Christ as our first and foremost Teacher. If a pastor is teaching in contradiction to Jesus Christ, then we have to go with what Jesus says. It's vital that we have our own personal relationship with Jesus Christ where we are trusting and obeying Him completely. And Holy Spirit will teach us as we do this:

> I John 2:17-29 - And the world is passing away along with its desires, but whoever does the will of God abides forever. Children, it is the last hour, and as you have heard that antichrist is coming, so now many antichrists have come. Therefore we know that it is the last hour. They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would have continued with us. But they went out, that it might become plain that they all are not of us. But you have been anointed by the Holy One, and you all have knowledge. I write to you, not because you do not know the truth, but because you know it, and because no lie is of the truth. Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, he who denies the Father and the Son. No one who denies the Son has the Father. Whoever confesses the Son has the Father also. Let what you heard from the beginning abide in you. If what you heard from the beginning abides in you, then you too will abide in the Son and in the Father. And this is the promise that he made to us—eternal life. I write these things to you about those who are trying to deceive you. But the anointing that you received from him abides in you, and you have no need that anyone should teach you. But as his anointing teaches you about everything—and is true and is no lie, just as it has taught you—abide in him. And now, little children, abide in him, so that when he appears we may have confidence and not shrink from him in shame at his coming. If you know that he is righteous, you may be sure that everyone who practices righteousness has been born of him. (ESV)

I think a believer should not isolate themselves without good reason. Seeking one's own desire when one's own desire is against God's desire seems related to seeking one's own glory when the glory seeking is not glorifying God. The Apostle John on Patmos Island or the Apostle Peter writing letters from prison wouldn't have been ”self-imposed” isolation. And reproving others with Scriptural truths is not ”speaking on one's own authority”:

> John 7:18 - The one who speaks on his own authority seeks his own glory, but the one who seeks the glory of him who sent him is true, and in him there is no falsehood. (ESV)
> Proverbs 18:1 - Whoever isolates himself seeks his own desire; he breaks out against all sound judgment. (ESV)
> I Corinthians 9:8 - Do I say these things on human authority? Does not the Law say the same? (ESV)
> Titus 2:11-15 - For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people, training us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in the present age, waiting for our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, who gave himself for us to redeem us from all lawlessness and to purify for himself a people for his own possession who are zealous for good works. Declare these things; exhort and rebuke with all authority. Let no one disregard you. (ESV)
> Leviticus 19:17-18 - ‘You shall not hate your fellow countryman in your heart; you may surely reprove (H3198 tō · w · ḵî · aḥ; You shall rebuke) your neighbor, but shall not incur sin because of him. You shall not take vengeance, nor bear any grudge against the sons of your people, but you shall love your neighbor as yourself; I am the LORD. (NASB)

We should seek the glory that comes from God (seek God’s commendation), and so we should love and confess Jesus and trust in Jesus Christ and His words, and not be ashamed of Him. We should receive Jesus, agree with Him and confess Him and profess Him and imitate Him out of love for God:

> John 12:35-43 - So Jesus said to them, The light is among you for a little while longer. Walk while you have the light, lest darkness overtake you. The one who walks in the darkness does not know where he is going. While you have the light, believe in the light, that you may become sons of light. When Jesus had said these things, he departed and hid himself from them. Though he had done so many signs before them, they still did not believe in him, so that the word spoken by the prophet Isaiah might be fulfilled: Lord, who has believed what he heard from us, and to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed? Therefore they could not believe. For again Isaiah said, He has blinded their eyes and hardened their heart, lest they see with their eyes, and understand with their heart, and turn, and I would heal them. Isaiah said these things because he saw his glory and spoke of him. Nevertheless, many even of the authorities believed in him, but for fear of the Pharisees they did not confess it, so that they would not be put out of the synagogue; for* they loved the glory that comes from man more than the glory that comes from God.* (ESV)
> John 5:28-29,37-47 - Do not marvel at this, for an hour is coming when all who are in the tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who have done good to the resurrection of life, and those who have done evil to the resurrection of judgment. And the Father who sent me has himself borne witness about me. His voice you have never heard, his form you have never seen, and you do not have his word abiding in you, for you do not believe the one whom he has sent. You search the Scriptures because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness about me, yet you refuse to come to me that you may have life. I do not receive glory from people. But I know that you do not have the love of God within you. I have come in my Father’s name, and you do not receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him. How can you believe, when you receive glory from one another and do not seek the glory that comes from the only God? Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father. There is one who accuses you: Moses, on whom you have set your hope. If you believed Moses, you would believe me; for he wrote of me. But if you do not believe his writings, how will you believe my words? (ESV)
> John 15:23 - Whoever hates me hates my Father also.

If a person is walking in the truth, there are times a person might withdraw or separate, and the promise is fellowship. But if it's some kind of self-imposed isolation that is not based on sound teaching then that is not good:

> II Corinthians 6:14-18,7:1 - Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what partnership has righteousness with lawlessness? Or what fellowship has light with darkness? What accord has Christ with Belial? Or what portion does a believer share with an unbeliever? What agreement has the temple of God with idols? For we are the temple of the living God; as God said, I will make my dwelling among them and walk among them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Therefore go out from their midst, and be separate from them, says the Lord, and touch no unclean thing; then I will welcome you, and I will be a father to you, and you shall be sons and daughters to me, says the Lord Almighty. Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, bringing holiness to completion in the fear of God. (ESV)
> Proverbs 17:4 - An evildoer listens to wicked lips, and a liar gives ear to a mischievous tongue. (ESV)
> Proverbs 27:17 - Iron sharpens iron, and one man sharpens another. (ESV)
> Colossians 3:16 - Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, teaching and admonishing one another in all wisdom, singing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, with thankfulness in your hearts to God. (ESV)
> Proverbs 9:8 - Do not reprove a scoffer, or he will hate you; reprove a wise man, and he will love you. (ESV)
> Leviticus 19:17-18 - 'You shall not hate your fellow countryman in your heart; you may surely reprove (H3198 tō · w · ḵî · aḥ; You shall rebuke) your neighbor, but shall not incur sin because of him. You shall not take vengeance, nor bear any grudge against the sons of your people, but you shall love your neighbor as yourself; I am the LORD. (NASB)

We must abide in Jesus Christ, in Jesus' teachings:

> John 15:4 - Abide (G3306 meinate; Abide) in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit by itself, unless it abides (G3306 menē; it abide) in the vine, neither can you, unless you abide (G3306 menēte; you abide) in me. (ESV)
> I John 2:18-19 - Children, it is the last hour, and as you have heard that antichrist is coming, so now many antichrists have come. Therefore we know that it is the last hour. They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would have continued with us (G3306 memenēkeisan; they would have remained). But they went out, that it might become plain that they all are not of us. (ESV)

This quote from Samuel Rutherford is interesting, but I disagree with it. But what I do think is that if someone is opposing the teaching of Christ then after a couple of warnings then it is justified to then stop associating with that person:

youtube.com: My speech at the Theology Matters conference { of PCUSA pastors and professors } {@ r

> Samuel Rutherford - "The only time it's ever okay to leave an established denomination is if you're forcibly excommunicated."

Rather, it's evident that we must abide in Christ's teaching first and foremost, and there is indeed grounds for not associating with particular people:

> II John 1:9-11 - Everyone who goes on ahead and does not abide in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. Whoever abides in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house or give him any greeting, for whoever greets him takes part in his wicked works. (ESV)

> Titus 3:9-11 - But avoid foolish controversies, genealogies, dissensions, and quarrels about the law, for they are unprofitable and worthless. As for a person who stirs up division, after warning him once and then twice, have nothing more to do with him, knowing that such a person is warped and sinful; he is self-condemned. (ESV)

So similarly to how I believe it's incorrect to take I John 1:7 as meaning regular Sunday meeting church building attendance itself is itself walking in the light, I believe it's also incorrect to take Titus 3:9-11 as saying that someone who has stopped attending a certain gathering is "antichrist" or apostate, since what really matters is the reason they they did because there are legitimate reasons to do so (Proverbs 17:4, Titus 3:9-11). While someone who is truly antichrist would naturally separate from those who are walking in the light, it's still not right to say that in all cases where a person has gone out from a regular assembly that means the person must be an antichrist. That would be a similarly fallacious to saying that because the Sun is bright, all bright things are the Sun.

If one says "A implies B" then that means "whenever A is true, B will certainly be true".

A implies B	B implies A because A implies B (fallacy)
It's the Sun (A), therefore it's bright (B)	It's bright (B), therefore it's the Sun (A)
They were never of us (A), therefore they went out from us (B)	They went out from us (B), therefore they were never of us (A)
Walking in the light (A), therefore have fellowship (B)	Have fellowship (B), therefore must be walking in the light (A)

- Just because Judas Iscariot was hanging out around Jesus, that doesn't mean he was walking in the light.
- Just because a person stops regularly attending a particular religious gathering, that doesn't mean they are "not of them".
- Just because a person stops regularly attending a particular religious gathering, that doesn't mean they are an antichrist.

Though, I have, for example, a memory of a certain time where there was somebody who could not bear to be around me because I was saying that Jesus Christ is my High Priest (as in the person who intercedes to Father God on my behalf).

> Hebrews 7:25 - Consequently, he is able to save to the uttermost those who draw near to God through him, since he always lives to make intercession for them. (ESV)

That is what I believe is a legitimate example of seeing the separation in action.

Notice how we must be those who trust, believe, and love Jesus and His words:

> John 8:41-46 - You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. Which one of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? (ESV)

> John 10:27-28 - My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me. I give them eternal life, and they will never perish, and no one will snatch them out of my hand. (ESV)

We should really be trusting and obeying Jesus directly and let Jesus take us where He wants us to go:

> Revelation of John 14:4 - It is these who have not defiled themselves with women, for they are virgins. It is these who follow the Lamb wherever he goes. These have been redeemed from mankind as firstfruits for God and the Lamb, (ESV)

> John 12:25-26 - Whoever loves his life loses it, and whoever hates his life in this world will keep it for eternal life. If anyone serves me, he must follow me; and where I am, there will my servant be also. If anyone serves me, the Father will honor him. (ESV)

> John 16:2 - They will put you out of the synagogues. Indeed, the hour is coming when whoever kills you will think he is offering service to God. (ESV)

For salvation, we should be confessing with our mouth:

> Romans 10:10 - For with the heart one believes and is justified, and with the mouth one confesses and is saved. (ESV)

> Matthew 10:32-38 - So everyone who acknowledges me before men, I also will acknowledge before my Father who is in heaven, but whoever denies me before men, I also will deny before my Father who is in heaven. Do not think that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I have not come to bring peace, but a sword. For I have come to set a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. And a person's enemies will be those of his own household. Whoever loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me, and whoever loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. And whoever does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me. (ESV)

If a person is good on the inside then they can speak good:

> Matthew 12:33-37 - Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or make the tree bad and its fruit bad, for the tree is known by its fruit. You brood of vipers! How can you speak good, when you are evil? For out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks. The good person out of his good treasure brings forth good, and the evil person out of his evil treasure brings forth evil. I tell you, on the day of judgment people will give account for every careless word they speak, for by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned. (ESV)

> Matthew 7:16-23 - You will recognize them by their fruits. Are grapes gathered from thornbushes, or figs from thistles? So, every healthy tree bears good fruit, but the diseased tree bears bad fruit. A healthy tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor can a diseased tree bear good fruit. Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. Thus you will recognize them by their fruits. Not everyone who says to me, Lord, Lord, will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the one who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. On that day many will say to me, Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and cast out demons in your name, and do many mighty works in your name? And then will I declare to them, I never knew you; depart from me, you workers of lawlessness. (ESV)

> I John 4:1-3 - Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets have gone out into the world. By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses (G3670 homologeó, confesses, acknowledges, agrees) that Jesus Christ has come in the (G1722 en; in [the form of]) flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess (G3670 homologeó, confess, acknowledge, agree with) Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

Jesus sees when we acknowledge Him to others, and we should be acknowledging Jesus to one-another:

> Matthew 10:32-38 - So everyone who acknowledges me before men, I also will acknowledge before my Father who is in heaven, but whoever denies me before men, I also will deny before my Father who is in heaven. Do not think that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I have not come to bring peace, but a sword. For I have come to set a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. And a person's enemies will be those of his own household. Whoever loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me, and whoever loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. And whoever does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me. (ESV)

youtube.com: Faith must ABIDE in the HEART. The nature of faith. {@MarkHemans} @time: 3 min 4
Don't be afraid to confess your faith to others.

Confession with your mouth saves as long as you have the faith:

> Romans 10:8-10 - But what does it say? "The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart"– that is, the word of faith which we are preaching, that if you confess with your mouth Jesus as Lord, and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you will be saved; for with the heart a person believes, resulting in righteousness, and with the mouth he confesses, resulting in salvation. (NASB)

Baptism saves as long as you have the faith:

> Mark 16:16 - He who has believed and has been baptized shall be saved; but he who has disbelieved shall be condemned. (NASB) youtube.com: WHY BAPTISM AND THE SPIRIT MATTER . {@ Voiceoffaith04 } If you want to fulfill righteousness, if you want to walk in obedience to the one that you are saying is your Lord, then yes, you do need to be baptized. Okay?

> Matthew 3:14-15 - John would have prevented him, saying, I need to be baptized by you, and do you come to me? But Jesus answered him, Let it be so now, for thus it is fitting for us to fulfill all righteousness. Then he consented. (ESV)

I think it's not quite true that "baptism doesn't save" as some people say. Salvation is something we "work out" while we are justified by faith in Jesus Christ. People don't need to have the same exact same deeds as each other in order to be justified by faith and to be saved. So water Baptism would be a "means of grace":

youtube.com: What YOU Need To Know About Baptism ? {@ LakepointeChurch } I commented, "I think it's more like faith (trust in, hope in, confidence in, love for) Jesus justifies, and then walking in that faith is receiving salvation. So doing things in faith out of continued obedience to Jesus such as getting baptised, or confessing with the mouth that Jesus Christ is Lord etc. is walking in salvation, walking in sanctification, receiving the salvation. We've got to continue having faith in Jesus and walk in it. I do think that Baptism saves but requires faith."

> I Peter 3:20-21 - because they formerly did not obey, when God's patience waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was being prepared, in which a few, that is, eight persons, were brought safely through water. Baptism, which corresponds to this, now saves you, not as a removal of dirt from the body but as an appeal to God for a good conscience, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, (ESV)

I think that Zaccheaus for His faith in Jesus, was saved also, because he "did what Abraham did". Zaccheaus had faith in God and the deeds to show for it:

> Luke 19:8-9 - And Zacchaeus stood and said to the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor. And if I have defrauded anyone of anything, I restore it fourfold. And Jesus said to him, Today salvation has come to this house, since he also is a son of Abraham. (ESV)

> John 8:37-45 - I know that you are offspring of Abraham; yet you seek to kill me because my word finds no place in you. I speak of what I have seen with my Father, and you do what you have heard from your father. They answered him, Abraham is our father. Jesus said to them, If you were Abraham's children, you would be doing what Abraham did, but now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. This is not what Abraham did. You are doing what your father did. They said to him, We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father—even God. Jesus said to them, If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and I am here. I came not of my own accord, but he sent me. Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word. You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character, for he is a liar and the father of lies. But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. (ESV)

> Galatians 3:7-9 - Know then that it is those of faith who are the sons of Abraham. And the Scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the Gentiles by faith, preached the gospel beforehand to Abraham, saying, In you shall all the nations be blessed. So then, those who are of faith are blessed along with Abraham, the man of faith. (ESV)

> Romans 4:12-16 - and to make him the father of the circumcised who are not merely circumcised but who also walk in the footsteps of the faith that our father Abraham had before he was circumcised. For the promise to Abraham and his offspring that he would be heir of the world did not come through the law but through the righteousness of faith. For if it is the adherents of the law who are to be the heirs, faith is null and the promise is void. For the law brings wrath, but where there is no law there is no transgression. That is why it depends on faith, in order that the promise may rest on grace and be guaranteed to all his offspring—not only to the adherent of the law but also to the one who shares the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all, (ESV)

John 3:19 connects faith with deeds. Evil deeds come from a love of darkness. Luke 6:45 also connects faith with deeds. Good deeds come from a love of the truth.

Abraham's faith being active along with his ”deeds” is a more accurate way to put this, because as He had faith and the fear of God in His heart Abraham was producing good deeds. That doesn't mean ”works” (i.e. as in ”working for”). So the faith that justifies is faith that not only ”believes” but ”loves”. There is an allegiance to the object of the belief:

> James 2:22-24 - You see that faith was active along with his works, and faith was completed by his works (G2041 ergois; works/deeds); and the Scripture was fulfilled that says, Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him as righteousness—and he was called a friend of God. You see that a person is justified by works and not by faith alone (G3440 monon; only). (ESV)

> Psalms 25:14 - The friendship of the LORD is for those who fear him, and he makes known to them his covenant. (ESV)

So if a person is in agreement with Jesus Christ, then they must also have the fear of God in them because Jesus testifies about the world that its works are evil:

> John 7:7 - The world cannot hate you, but it hates me because I testify about it that its works are evil. (ESV)

> I John 2:15-17 - Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world—the desires of the flesh and the desires of the eyes and pride in possessions—is not from the Father but is from the world. And the world is passing away along with its desires, but whoever does the will of God abides forever. (ESV)

God gives us His Spirit so that we are then ”able to” walk by the Spirit, in faith, and please Him. God gives us His Spirit so that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, so we should then walk according to the Spirit to have the righteous requirement of the law fulfilled in us. If we are ”in the Spirit”, we should then set our minds on the things of the Spirit so that we please God. If we are ”in the Spirit”, then we should put to death the deeds of the sinful body.

> Romans 8:8-13 - Those who are in the flesh cannot please God. You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. But if Christ is in you, although the body is dead because of sin, the Spirit is life because of righteousness. If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you. So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh. For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. (ESV)

> Colossians 3:1-10 - If then you have been raised with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated at the right hand of God. Set your minds on things that are above, not on things that are on earth. For you have died, and your life is hidden with Christ in God. When Christ who is your life appears, then you also will appear with him in glory. Put to death therefore what is earthly in you: sexual immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry. On account of these the wrath of God is coming. In these you too once walked, when you were living in them. But now you must put them all away: anger, wrath, malice, slander, and obscene talk from your mouth. Do not lie to one another, seeing that you have put off the old self with its practices and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator. (ESV)

Walking by the spirit and walking by the flesh seem to be orthogonal to one-another. Jesus’ yoke is easy if we go ”all-in” with walking by the Spirit. The decisions we make should be trusting and obedient to the word of God. God will supply all our needs for us to be able to carry out good works. Jesus has a yoke. It’s not non-existent. We still have to do stuff. We still have to walk by the Spirit. Walking by the spirit is doing something. Walking by the spirit is walking in trusting the truth, and loving one another in reality and hoping in God in reality:

> II Corinthians 9:6-8 - The point is this: whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. Each one must give as he has made up his mind, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver. And God is able to make all grace abound to you, so that having all sufficiency in all things at all times, you may abound in every good work. (ESV)

> Galatians 5:16-18 - But I say, walk by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the flesh. For the desires of the flesh are against the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are against the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to keep you from doing the things you want to do. But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. (ESV)

> II Chronicles 16:9 - For the eyes of the LORD move to and fro throughout the earth that He may strongly support those whose heart is completely His. You have acted foolishly in this. Indeed, from now on you will surely have wars.” (NASB)

Limited analogy According to my very limited and oversimplified understanding of physics, time appears to slow down as something approaches the speed of light, since space and time are considered dimensionally orthogonal to one-another. Something that is travelling through space at the speed of light would be stationary in time (i.e. time would have come to a halt). On the other hand, something that does not travel through space (i.e. a completely stationary object) would be travelling through time at the maximum rate. And so, simlarly, since the desires of the flesh are against the desires of the spirit and the desires of the spirit are against the desires of the flesh, if we walk by the spirit with the desires of the spirit, being led by the spirit, then we will not walk by the flesh and not gratify the desires of the flesh. After all it’s not possible to > do both at the same time. So a person should go "all in" with walking by the spirit, trusting and obedient to Jesus and hoping in God's promises and relying on God, and doing works of righteousness will be easy. But it will be very difficult to do works of righteousness if a person makes compromises and obeys the flesh.

Salvation, I believe, not only requires being "in the Spirit" but also "walking by the Spirit". We are given the Spirit in order to be able to please God by walking by the Spirit.

> Romans 8:4-7 - in order that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. To set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God's law; indeed, it cannot. (ESV)

God can both save and destroy:

> James 4:12 - There is only one lawgiver and judge, he who is able to save and to destroy. But who are you to judge your neighbor? (ESV)

I believe that we must continue walking by the Spirit (continue in faith) even after receiving the Spirit. Grace can, apparently, be received and perverted. See how God can "save" a people but then "destroy" some of them (the ones who did not believe):

> Romans 11:20-21 - That is true. They were broken off because of their unbelief, but you stand fast through faith. So do not become proud, but stand in awe. For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. (ESV)

> Jude 1:4-5 - For certain people have crept in unnoticed who long ago were designated for this condemnation, ungodly people, who pervert the grace of our God into sensuality and deny our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ. Now I want to remind you, although you once fully knew it, that Jesus, who saved a people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed those who did not believe. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 10:7-12 - Do not be idolaters as some of them were; as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink and rose up to play. We must not indulge in sexual immorality as some of them did, and twenty-three thousand fell in a single day. We must not put Christ to the test, as some of them did and were destroyed by serpents, nor grumble, as some of them did and were destroyed by the Destroyer. Now these things happened to them as an example, but they were written down for our instruction, on whom the end of the ages has come. Therefore let anyone who thinks that he stands take heed lest he fall. (ESV)

There is a distinction between being "in the Spirit" (living by the Spirit) and walking by the Spirit. God makes us born-again of the Spirit so that we are now "able" to please God.

Through the gospel, God's living Word causes us to be born-again (receive a new heart and a new spirit):

> I Peter 1:3-5 - Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! According to his great mercy, he has caused us to be born again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance that is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading, kept in heaven for you, who by God's power are being guarded through faith for a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. (ESV)

> I Peter 1:23 - since you have been born again, not of perishable seed but of imperishable, through the living and abiding word of God; (ESV)

> I Peter 1:13-25 - Therefore, preparing your minds for action, and being sober-minded, set your hope fully on the grace that will be brought to you at the revelation of Jesus Christ. As obedient children, do not be conformed to the passions of your former ignorance, but as he who called you is holy, you also be holy in all your conduct, since it is written, You shall be holy, for I am holy. And if you call on him as Father who judges impartially according to each one's deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile, knowing that you were ransomed from the futile ways inherited from your forefathers, not with perishable things such as silver or gold, but with the precious blood of Christ, like that of a lamb without blemish or spot. He was foreknown before the foundation of the world but was made manifest in the last times for your sake, who through him are believers in God, who raised him from the dead and gave him glory, so that your faith and hope are in God. Having purified your souls by your obedience to the truth for a sincere brotherly love, love one another earnestly from a pure heart, since you have been born again, not of perishable seed but of imperishable, through the living and abiding word of God; for All flesh is like grass and all its glory like the flower of grass. The grass withers, and the flower falls, but the word of the Lord remains forever. And this word is the good news that was preached to you. (ESV)

So we must continue walking by faith trusting, loving, hoping in and obeying Jesus Christ to please Him after being given grace to be able to do so.

If living by the Spirit, we can please God, but to do that we should walk by the Spirit:

> Romans 8:8-13 - Those who are in the flesh cannot please God. You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. But if Christ is in you, although the body is dead because of sin, the Spirit is life because of righteousness. If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you. So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh. For if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. (ESV)

> Galatians 5:25 - If we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit. (ESV)

> Hebrews 11:6 - And without faith it is impossible to please him, for whoever would draw near to God must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who seek him. (ESV)

> Hebrews 10:37-39 - For, Yet a little while, and the coming one will come and will not delay; but my righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls. (ESV)

> Titus 2:11-14 - For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation for all people, training us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in the present age, waiting for our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, who gave himself for us to redeem us from all lawlessness and to purify for himself a people for his own possession who are zealous for good works. (ESV)

> Luke 13:27 - But he will say, I tell you, I do not know where you come from. Depart from me, all you workers of evil! (ESV)

Faith is a ”way of life”:

> Hebrews 13:7 - Remember your leaders, those who spoke to you the word of God. Consider the outcome of their way of life, and imitate their faith. (ESV)

> Ephesians 4:17-24 - Now this I say and testify in the Lord, that you must no longer walk as the Gentiles do, in the futility of their minds. They are darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, due to their hardness of heart. They have become callous and have given themselves up to sensuality, greedy to practice every kind of impurity. But that is not the way you learned Christ!— assuming that you have heard about him and were taught in him, as the truth is in Jesus, to put off your old self, which belongs to your former manner of life and is corrupt through deceitful desires, and to be renewed in the spirit of your minds, and to put on the new self, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness. (ESV)

As Christians we endeavour to be justified in Christ as we trust and obey Him:

> II Corinthians 10:5,7,11-12,18 - We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ, Look at what is before your eyes. If anyone is confident that he is Christ's, let him remind himself that just as he is Christ's, so also are we. Let such a person understand that what we say by letter when absent, we do when present. Not that we dare to classify or compare ourselves with some of those who are commending themselves. But when they measure themselves by one another and compare themselves with one another, they are without understanding. For it is not the one who commends himself who is approved, but the one whom the Lord commends. (ESV)

If we are "in the Spirit" then what other people confess or refuse to confess identifies whether or not the spirit working through them is from God. The principle can and should be used to test dreams, visions, angels, demons and human beings to see if we can trust them. I would never trust someone completely who refuses to give me the testimony that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh, as the Apostle John speaks of in I John 4:2-3.

I John 4:2-3 doesn't say that if a spirit speaks the name "Jesus" then it's from God. It doesn't say that at all. Rather, this word confess (G3670 homologeó) surely means that "confess Jesus" is agreeing with, agreeing with Jesus. The spirit must agree that Jesus has come in the flesh and the spirit must agree with Jesus. Now if a spirit does say to me that "Jesus Christ has come from God into the world in the flesh", then that gives me confidence that the message is from God:

> I John 4:2-3 - By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the (G1722 en; in [the form of]) flesh is from God, and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already. (ESV)

Polycarp 6:3 For every one who shall not confess (G3670 homologeó) that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is antichrist: and whosoever shall not confess (G3670 homologeó) the testimony of the Cross, is of the devil; and whosoever shall pervert the oracles of the Lord to his own lusts and say that there is neither resurrection nor judgment, that man is the firstborn of Satan.

> Romans 8:9 - You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. (ESV)

> I Corinthians 12:3 - Therefore I want you to understand that no one speaking in the Spirit of God ever says Jesus is accursed! and no one can say Jesus is Lord except in the Holy Spirit. (ESV)
